

Pioneer reports first half gains

Pioneer International Corporation (OTC) has announced that it had achieved substantial gains in sales and earnings for the first half of its fiscal year 1978. Unaudited operating results showed that net sales for the period climbed to $8,815,000 compared to $6,485,000, a 36 percent higher level than the comparable period in 1977. Net income rose 75 percent to $959,000, equal to 33 cents per share, compared to net income of $547,000, equal to 20 cents per common share in the prior year.

Pioneer International Chairman David N. Abrams said that the corporation's record for the first half of the year is extremely encouraging and that the company intends to enlarge and broaden its present market base.

Through its operating divisions Pioneer is noted as the world's leading manufacturer of parachutes, recovery systems and related equipment. The Feuer Gage division provides gauges for use in the precision metals industry.

Indians sue

BANGOR, Maine (UPI) — Suit has been filed in U.S. District Court by a Maliseet Indian seeking $150 million and title to approximately one third of the state.

Loomis Sappier said Thursday he filed the suit on behalf of 3,000 tribe members living on a reservation in New Brunswick, Canada. Sappier said, however, he is not an elected representative of the New Brunswick Maliseets.

In addition to the money, the suit demanded all land north of Fallowen in northern Penobscot County, roughly the northern third of Maine.

BOSTON (UPI) — Parts of New England will face serious clean water shortage by 1990 unless strong conservation measures are adopted.

Work on courthouse to begin this year

Conversion of the old Marshall's department store in Manchester to a courthouse could begin by the end of this year, a spokesman for the state Public Works Department said.

The state recently signed a contract for the purchase of the building, which is located near the intersection of Center and West Center streets. The purchase will cost the state $410,000, the spokesman said.

The proposed courthouse will service East Hartford, Manchester, South Windsor, Glastonbury and Marlborough. It is seen as one step to alleviate the overcrowded conditions that now exist in area courts.

Public works employees reject East Hartford pact

By CHRIS BLAKE Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD — The public works union rejected a two-year contract offer calling for salary increases of 5 percent each year by an 87-21 vote Friday.

Town officials and representatives of local 1174 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees had met on Tuesday with a state mediator and reached a tentative agreement.

However, union officials said the workers wanted more dental and optical benefits along with the salary increase and the same benefits and a cost-of-living salary hike.

The town did not offer such benefits in its proposed first-year pact. The second year of the proposed contract included a prescription rider and an increase in medical coverage.

"The whole thing was the money," said Ronald Durler, president of the local 1174. "They told me right after the meeting that they couldn't live with the five percent increase."

"Maybe if the other fringe benefits were there I could've accepted it," Durler said.

Durler said the union would have settled for the pact if it had included a cost-of-living increase clause. However, the town was not receptive to the idea of a clause at Tuesday's mediation session.

Durler said he believes the union would accept a cost-of-living clause in a contract if the town were to offer one.

U.S. seeking promise of free world trade

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — The United States, defending its own record on economic growth but backed against the wall on the energy question, seeks a firm commitment to free trade from the Bonn summit, diplomatic sources said Friday.

President Carter will urge the seven-nation economic summit to throw its collective weight behind the tariff-cutting "multilateral trade negotiations" going on in Geneva, the sources said.

He wants them to spell out clearly that the benefits of the any agreement on tariffs must also be extended to developing countries, particularly those such as Mexico, Brazil and South Korea, which are in the process of industrialization, the sources said.

Other countries at the summit, particularly Britain and France, are more likely to stress the needs for safeguards to protect their basic industry such as steel and shipbuilding against the increasingly fierce competition from low-wage developing countries.

The diplomatic sources said Carter feels that only by having firm international endorsement will he be able to "sell" a tariff-cutting package to Congress.

At the same time, the European countries point to America's increasing energy consumption and its $15 billion oil import bill as a principal drag on world economic growth.

Administration officials concede the energy record is not good, and is only prevented from looking worse by the influx of Alaskan oil.

"But no one is in a position to throw bricks," one official said. "We kept the promises we made at last year's London summit on economic growth, and other countries did not threaten to pass $30 billion this year."

The tariff bill could face stiff domestic opposition since it will expose manufacturers of thousands of items to industrial tariff cuts ranging up to 40 percent.

On the other hand, the United States is seeking major concessions from Europe and Japan on agriculture exports. If these are obtained, American farmers would have an expanded market for their surpluses, and this could help bring down the U.S. trade deficit which threatens to pass $30 billion this year.

Ford says 'differences' brought Iacocca's firing

DETROIT (UPI) — Henry Ford II said Friday the ouster of Ford Motor Co.'s "Golden Boy" President Lee A. Iacocca, resulted from "substantial differences" between the two over a recent power shakeup which saw Ford's brother moved ahead in the firm's hierarchy.

Iacocca, a flashy salesman who gave Ford the Mustang in 1964 and then pushed his way to the company's inner circle, called his departure after 22 years a resignation. He said he would leave both the presidency and the company's board of directors on Oct. 15, his 54th birthday.

Company insiders, however, said Iacocca fell from grace with Henry Ford II in recent months, and Ford, who, as chairman, runs the company with an iron fist — personally demanding his resignation at a board of directors meeting this week.

The board approved the ouster.

According to Friday's New York Times, Iacocca, in a discussion with Henry Ford, asked why he was being fired.

"I've been with the company for 32 years. What did I do wrong?" Iacocca asked.

"I just don't like you," Ford responded.

Ford, in a statement released by the company Friday, praised Iacocca for his "distinguished record of achievement" with the firm.

"Over the past 15 months, however, substantial differences have arisen on the subject of how Ford should be organized at the most senior level," Ford said. "In the circumstances, I believe Mr. Iacocca's resignation is in the best interests of the company and himself."

Iacocca, in the same statement, said he was leaving the firm because he was "not in complete accord" with the changes Ford ordered a month ago.

Ford's younger brother, William Clay Ford, was elevated into the company's inner circle and Iacocca was demoted to No. 3 man behind Vice Chairman Philip Caldwell.

William Clay Ford, recently named chairman of the automaker's executive committee, confirmed Iacocca's ouster was decided by the firm's board of directors.

The board considered Iacocca's dismissal Wednesday night and again Thursday before the action was approved, William Ford said.

In an interview with the trade publication Automotive News, Iacocca said he was told by Ford that his firing "was just one of those things."

"There was no reason," Iacocca told the publication. "He and Bill (William Clay Ford) and I sat there and he just said he came to that conclusion and that's it."

Congressmen furious over trials in USSR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of Congress expressed fury Friday at the "outrageous" outcome of the Soviet dissident trials, and some demanded limited retaliation such as refusing to sell Moscow any more computers and oil rigs.

But the president made clear he will not allow such events to disrupt U.S.-Soviet relations.

Even those who urged caution conceded that the imprisonments of Anatoly Shcharansky and Alexander Ginzburg have created "tremendous rancor" and the feeling something must be done in response.

"There comes a time when indignation will do in the face of crudeness, barbarism and injustice," Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said.

He rejected warnings that hard-line reaction could revive the Cold War, saying:

"Sometimes the human heart cries out with such indignation that such risks must be run."

Despite the unanimous outrage expressed in both houses of Congress, however, calls for retaliation were carefully limited.

"There seemed to be no fresh momentum toward breaking off the strategic arms limitation talks or

GOP to get resolution over trials

A South Windsor delegate will introduce a resolution today at the First Congressional District Republican Convention condemning the outcome of the Soviet dissident trials.

Kevin Rennie will introduce the following recommendation:

"The Republican delegates of the First Congressional District of

Mrs. Ida P. Milgrom, mother of convicted Soviet dissident Anatoly Shcharansky, raises her umbrella as rain begins to fall outside the Moscow court. Her son was later found guilty of spying for the United States and sentenced to 13 years in prison. Mrs. Milgrom thanked President Carter for supporting her son when he condemned the trials of the "courageous dissidents."

Filmeter

HEAVEN CAN WAIT (PG) — Warren Beatty, Julie Christie, Bryan Cranston. Comedy. A cheerful, gentle fantasy about a Heavenly mistake concerning the death of a pro football player. So he gets another chance — and another body. This time, he's a tycoon, but he still wants to be a quarterback. Even the heavens are livable in this upbeat film. GRADE: B-plus.

INTERNATIONAL VELVET (PG) — Tatum O'Neal, Christopher Pennamer, Nanette Newman, Anthony Hopkins, Drama. Frankly sentimental, this belated Oscar-winning "National Velvet" has velvet, now 40-ish, adopting her orphaned niece and overcomes Olympic equestrienne. Fine for family viewing, but tending to be a bit over-sweet. GRADE: B.

AMERICAN HOT WAX (PG) — Tim McIntire. Musical. The '50s, and the beginnings of rock 'n' roll are the setting for this small-scale offering. It is supposed to be the story of disc jockey Alan Freed, who first made rock 'n' roll big. If you like the music, you'll like this, because there are many musical numbers that really jump. GRADE: B.

BIG SLEEP, THE (R) — Robert Mitchum, Sarah Miles. Mystery. Another try at Philip Marlow, the prototype private eye, but this one misses. The direction is heavy, the acting over-emotional and the plot so convoluted you'll need a road map to stay even. Still, Mitchum makes a fine Marlowe. GRADE: B.

CAPRICORN ONE (PG) — James Brolin, Hal Holbrook, Brenda Vaccaro. Action-adventure. Plenty of action here and something to think about, too. This suggests that the space program makes a Mars landing — the astronauts are really in a Martian mock-up on Earth — and builds a great chase and survival thriller from that. GRADE: B-plus (last counting).

CAT AND MOUSE (PG) — Michele Morgan, Serge Reggiani. Romantic mystery. A wily Frenchman dies under unusual circumstances, and his wife appears to be the most likely murderer. Of course, she insists otherwise. Fans of French director Claude Lelouch ("A Man and a Woman") find this film one of his best, but others may find it substandard offering a bit difficult to follow. GRADE: B.

CHEAP DETECTIVE, THE (PG) — Peter Falk, Ann-Margret and a cast of dozens. Comedy. This is Neil Simon's take on "Murder by Death." It's a spoof of all those old Bogart movies. Most of it works, some of it doesn't, but you'll smile most of the way. The plot has more twists than a roomful of disco dancers, but don't worry about it. Just enjoy the gags and funny situations. Grade: B-plus.

COMING HOME (R) — Jane Fonda, Joe Voight, Bruce Dern. Drama. One of the new wave of Vietnam war pictures, this is a strong, emotional story about a shattered man, the woman who waited for him, and another man. It is very strong stuff, but will leave you queasy. GRADE: A-minus.

DAMNED WHEN IT RAINS — William Holden, Lee Grant. Thriller. Sequels seldom live up to the original, but this one is even worse than that usual. Where the first "Dopey" was scary, this one is ludicrous. The boy — the devil's son — is now in military school and everybody who ferrets out his secret dies in a gruesome way. Caution: There are grisly scenes, but the rest of it is more funny than frightening. GRADE: D.

(Film grading: A — superb; B — good; C — average; D — poor; F — awful)

Our Outdoor-Craft Festival, a community craft group, will present an exhibition of arts and crafts Saturday morning viewing. The spinach-gobbling old star will be less violent than in the old days, but he will look and sound the same.

Popeye's voice for the past 44 years has been Jack Mercer, a meek, mild-mannered New Yorker who seems to have more in common with J. Wellington Wimpy than the scrappy little sailor. Mercer, in fact, also provided Wimpy's voice in the old TV and movie cartoons.

As closely associated with Popeye as he is, Mercer was not the original voice of the sailorman. In the beginning the raspy vocalizations were done by an odd-ball singer named "Red Pepper Sam" Costello.

Actually, Popeye's voice was a switchover from Costello's voice to a voice actor named Fred Wadsworth. "When Costello quit, the producers grabbed me and I've been doing Popeye ever since. But I also did the voice for 20 "Felix the Cat" cartoons. I did the two other major characters in Felix films, too — the Professor and Rock Bottom, the villain."

The last Popeye cartoon was done 16 years ago, but Mercer kept his voice limber and his pocketbook heavy by doing Popeye's voice for television commercials and on records.

DEAR DETECTIVE (PG) — Annie Girardot, Philippe Noiret. Mystery. Delightful romances between a reclusive classic professor and a hard-nosed, yet feminine, woman police inspector makes up for an average murder plot.

DIFFERENT STORY, A (R) — Perry King, Meg Foster. Romance. Boy meets girl with a twist: they're both homosexuals. Soon they need each other and they "go for it." A beautiful, lyrical, and touching love story. The film falls flatter than the cake. Overall effect is amusing and superficial, but the film has its comic and touching moments. Some touching, some nudgy, some language. GRADE: B-minus. (O'Brien)

END, THE (PG) — Burt Reynolds, Don DeLise, Sally Field. Comedy. Sonny (Reynolds) is dying of a bloody disease. He'll die in a year, or less, if he can swing it. As his lovingly mad "helper," DeLise is enchanting. In fact, the touch in all areas — writing, acting, directing — is a first-class effort. A witty, touching, and funny film. More laughs than one would imagine. GRADE: B-plus. (Grossman)

F.L.S.T. (PG) — Sylvester Stallone, Rod Taylor. Drama. Basically, this is the story of the rise and fall of a Hoffa-like labor leader. The early part — dealing with his start and the problems in organizing the men — is more fascinating than the second half. It's far too long, but contains some very strong scenes. GRADE: A.

GREASE (PG) — John Travolta, Olivia Newton-John. Musical. Not much plot, but plenty of fun, energy and music. Travolta can't sing, but who cares? — he's a star. Fun direction, stellar cast, some of the musical numbers, but overall this has a very enjoyable quality, and it builds up to a great musical climax. It's all fine summer stuff. GRADE: B-plus.

JAWS 2 (PG) — Roy Scheider. Action-thriller. Here we go again, but this time it misses the mark. The story is poor, the direction is weak, the shark looks fishy. Some moments of excitement but generally pretty dull. Compared to the first one, this sequel is strictly a sinker. GRADE: C.

OUR WINNING SEASON (PG) — Scott Jacoby. Comedy-drama. Another "American Graffiti" copy, this film about high school kids growing up in the '60s is slow and manages to find itself in the last reel. Mostly, it's about a young punk star trying to find himself. The beginning is so cliché-ridden it's embarrassing, but the last part is OK. GRADE: C.

PRETTY BABY (R) — Keith Carradine, Susan Sarandon, Brooke Shields. Drama. Set in New Orleans, this is a Storyville brothel area. This is a beautifully photographed look at a family of prostitutes. The subject matter may be objectionable, but director Louis Malle has handled it tastefully, or as tastefully as possible. Good performances all around. GRADE: B-plus.

SERVANT AND MISTRESS (R) — Victor Lanoux, Andrea Ferrer. Psychological drama. She was the servant, he the arrogant nephew. Rich uncle dies; now is even worse than usual. Where the first "Dopey" was scary, this one is ludicrous. The boy — the devil's son — is now in military school and everybody who ferrets out his secret dies in a gruesome way. Caution: There are grisly scenes, but the rest of it is more funny than frightening. GRADE: D.

That's entertainment

By Allen M. Widom

The death of Carl Bixby, at 83 in downstate Southbury, was duly reported in the media. His name probably meant little to the general public, but to the entertainment field Carl Bixby was a veritable giant of creativity.

For one thing, he was the writer who developed the long-running daytime radio drama, "Life Can Be Beautiful," and later was responsible for the script of the television soap opera, "Edge of Night."

What's more, he was author of one of radio's first serials — "Dangerous Paradise" — back in 1930. In the same decade, he turned out dialogue and sound for such radio serials as "Big Sister," "Second Husband" and "Life Can Be Beautiful."

Talks and Walks, native grew up in Richmond, Va., got interested in the expressive arts at an amateur theatrical place, acting, directing and writing. Somewhere along the line, Carl Bixby, one of a particular breed of American talent, convinced himself that writing was for him, for him well beyond the obvious immediate response of acting/directing.

Carl Bixby, we must add, worked for a time in New York advertising; he suggested the phrase, "Good to the last drop" as slogan for Maxwell House Coffee. He said years later that he had remembered President Theodore Roosevelt saying those same words.

Somehow, hearing of Carl Bixby's passing brought back sharply etched memories to this paragraph of a time and tempo in Hartford: WTIC, then and now the only 50,000-watt broadcaster in Connecticut, produced a number of locally originating shows on a regular basis.

Allen Ludden, of course, went on from WTIC's "Mind Your Manners" to network status, later married Betty White, who was a mainstay of the top-rated CBS-TV series, "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" (she played the Sue Ann Niven, "Happy Homemaker," role with alacrity and aplomb). Ludden had started at WTIC as a writer, segued into production. He's still an excellent network emcee.

Paul Lukas, who's gone now, was a dynamo of a writer at WTIC. We were young then and fascinated, endlessly fascinated, to watch the redoubtable Lukas sit down at a typewriter at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and churn out a script for that evening's WTIC series, "The Wrightville Clarion." He co-starred with Fred Wade and Eunice Greenwood.

The only writers, per se, abounding in broadcasting in Connecticut nowadays are, in the main, assigned to news departments. Sure, there are sporadic "specials," as well as "min."-style needful of screenwriters, too, but the talent that was Carl Bixby, a Paul Lukas, cannot be found in plentitude, circa 1978, and broadcasting.

A vote for Green School

To the editor: There has been a great deal of publicity, pro and con, on the subject of a new home for the Senior Citizen Center. As a citizen and a taxpayer, I felt that I should know the truth about what is going on.

On Tuesday, July 11, I had the opportunity, with other members of the Connecticut Chapter 604, AARP, to visit Green School and find out the possibilities.

It would seem that anyone making an inspection, with an open mind, would feel as we did — that there is no place in the entire town which can offer what that building can.

The rooms are spacious and any remodeling could be done gradually. There is ample room for crafts, for woodworking shop, electrical shop, for a health clinic, reading room, office space, a large auditorium and a large cafeteria room.

It seems that much of the concern expressed was for the handicapped members who cannot use the present location because of the steps. Local architects have drawn their time and talent to do them.

sketches of the proposed renovations such as ramps, elevators, partitions, etc.

After going over the property very carefully, it was pointed out that many economies could be exercised, for instance: instead of building a ramp along the side of the building and up the stairs for $5,000, a small ramp could be built to the front door for a few dollars; instead of installing an elevator to transport the handicapped downstairs, costing many thousands of dollars, a chair lift could be substituted for a few hundred dollars.

Another excellent feature is the wall-to-wall carpeting throughout the building, which is an asset for older people.

The outside is attractive with a large clear area, in the rear, for picnics, shuffleboard, etc. Parking is ample with space for at least 25 cars, and this could be expanded as needed.

Why are they having such a difficult time trying to convince the Board of Directors that this place is tailor-made for them?

May I respectfully remind the Board of Directors that it was these same citizens who have been paying the taxes for decades to build and maintain schools, since long before most of the Board of Directors were born and they are still paying although most have not had a child in school for 30-40 years. Don't they deserve something for their taxes?

The board recently OKed a swimming pool for handicapped persons but it is doubtful that many senior citizens will be using it. Why not give them an opportunity to come to the center and mix with their peers, enjoy the social life, participate in the crafts and make friends?

I would like to leave you with one thought: Always remember you will all be senior citizens some day and we shall hope that when that day comes, the younger generation will be as kind to you as you are to those who now are in their golden years.

Hunting, fishing American favorites

Scripture League Newspapers WASHINGTON — Hunting and fishing continue to be major pastimes as Americans spend a record $229 million on licenses, tags, permits and stamps last year — up $10 million from 1976, according to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

However, the actual number of fishermen declined slightly from 1976. Total income from all states for fishing licenses was $156 million — up $1.6 million over 1976 — and $172.2 million for hunting licenses — up $9.2 million more than in 1976.

Sportsmen in Connecticut spent $707,850.50 on fishing licenses and $372,331 on hunting licenses last year. Connecticut had 185,635 fishing license holders and 82,534 hunting license holders in 1977.

Last year the number of fishing license holders decreased by 484,000 to 27.3 million while the number of hunting license holders increased by 86,000 to 16 million.

"The slight decrease in fishing license holders is not significant," said Lynn A. Greenwalt, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "It can be attributed to some states eliminating the license requirement for senior citizens. The 1977 drought also had an impact on outdoor activities, especially in California."

Greenwalt added that these figures are conservative estimates since some states don't require licenses for ocean fishing or children under 16.

Hawaii had the fewest licensed hunters and fishermen.

"The revenues derived from these license sales enable states to conduct their fish and wildlife conservation and management programs," noted Greenwalt.

the warmth of understanding and beauties and graces, hitherto unsuspected, will blossom forth in them.

The world needs nothing so much today as the life and love of Christ poured through human hearts and hands upon lives that are bleak and bare. It is not more churches that we need, more money gifts, but more living Christians, with the mind of Christ, who will go about among men and repeat the lowly blessed ministry of Christ himself, giving themselves in personal, self-forgetful service.

Will psychosurgery be accepted?

By SAMUEL CHAVKIN, SAMUEL CHAVKIN, a medical editor and publisher is author of "The Mind Stealers."

Is lobotomy making a comeback? Is this brain operation again being received with an open mind? The emotional ill, despite its legacy of some 50,000 Americans who remained in a vegetable-like state for life?

Not only is there a likelihood of its regaining medical respectability but further research as to its efficacy is expected to receive the backing of the government. Joseph A. Calliano Jr., secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is currently weighing a decision as to whether to accept or modify a series of proposals toward that end from a special congressional commission.

Lobotomy now has another name, psychosurgery. Doctors who perform this procedure claim that because of new insights regarding brain function and advances in electronic surgical instrumentation, the results are good, and the undesirable side effects are no longer menacing.

Basically, however, both the objective and the medical rationale remain the same. Psychosurgery is designed to alter a person's behavior, his or her thoughts and emotions. Unlike conventional neurosurgery which deals with organic processes — brain tumors, blood clots, Parkinsonism and the like — psychosurgery is performed on the assumption that there are brain cells that have a direct relation to specific forms of behavior. Destroy or cut this type of tissue, the psychosurgeons maintain, and you will remove the causes of a variety of aberrant behaviors — impulsive aggressiveness to hyperactivity in children.

Critics reject this approach contending that there is no demonstrable pathology in the region where the brain cell destruction takes place. Indeed, the National Institute of Mental Health defines psychosurgery as "surgical removal or destruction of brain tissue with the intent of altering behavior, even though there may be no direct evidence of structural disease or damage in the brain."

Psychosurgery is a rather awesome ordeal. It is done by implanting electrodes (thin wires) into various regions of the brain and then activating them with a mild electrical current. If these stimulations produce brain wave activity which in the opinion of the surgeon is indicative of abnormal patterns, he will shoot through a more powerful bolt of electricity, thus burning out brain sites which he considers to be the cause of the person's social behavior. Once damaged or destroyed, brain tissue will not regenerate. And, therefore, the accompanying changes in performance of the individual are irreversible. As one neurophysiologist put it, a brain cell will neither forget nor forgive.

There is apprehension in some quarters that the elasticity of the definition of "deviance" could make it applicable to political dissidents, as well as to anyone who may be out of step with those powerful enough to sit in judgment as to what constitutes the criteria for appropriate social conduct.

Following the civil disorders of the late '60s that rocked so many of this country's cities, three Harvard professors launched the theory that some of the participants in the street demonstrations might have been sparked into such action by faulty brain cells. "Brain dysfunction," is what they called it. While opponents of this view warned against the idea of "biologizing" what basically for discontent (unemployment, under-privilege, etc.), some regulators on the assumption that there are brain cells that have a direct relation to specific forms of behavior. damaged or destroyed, brain tissue will not regenerate. And, therefore, the accompanying changes in performance of the individual are irreversible. As one neurophysiologist put it, a brain cell will neither forget nor forgive.

There is apprehension in some quarters that the elasticity of the definition of "deviance" could make it applicable to political dissidents, as well as to anyone who may be out of step with those powerful enough to sit in judgment as to what constitutes the criteria for appropriate social conduct.

Following the civil disorders of the late '60s that rocked so many of this country's cities, three Harvard professors launched the theory that some of the participants in the street demonstrations might have been sparked into such action by faulty brain cells. "Brain dysfunction," is what they called it. While opponents of this view

Undeveloped beauty

A woman who is always watching for beautiful things, brought from the mountain side, one autumn day, a sod of moss. She put it in her kitchen and soon in the general warmth, there sprang out from that moss a multitude of sweet, delicate spring flowers. No eye had seen them before in the moss. The needs had been there waiting for the warmth to bring out their lovely possibilities.

There are many lives just like that bit of moss. Living in the chill, loveless atmosphere of the world's hard work, its selfishness, its sorrow, unloved by true friendship, the best things in them are never brought out. Yet they need only to be touched by the warmth of understanding and beauties and graces, hitherto unsuspected, will blossom forth in them.

The world needs nothing so much today as the life and love of Christ poured through human hearts and hands upon lives that are bleak and bare. It is not more churches that we need, more money gifts, but more living Christians, with the mind of Christ, who will go about among men and repeat the lowly blessed ministry of Christ himself, giving themselves in personal, self-forgetful service.

Separatism brings irreversible changes to Quebec and Canada

By JOHN F. SIMS, United Press International

Even if Quebec's referendum on greater autonomy from Canada is defeated, and even if the pro-independence Parti Quebecois is voted out of office in three years, the separatists will have changed Quebec and Canada irreversibly.

The Parti Quebecois took power in Quebec province in November 1976 and has since then introduced a number of measures designed to promote the French language and culture.

It has promised a referendum, probably to be held next year, in which the people of Quebec will be asked their views on whether Quebec should seek greater autonomy while maintaining an economic association with the rest of Canada.

Polli has indicated that if the PQ sought a mandate to separate Quebec from Canada altogether, it would lose. The polls say only about 20 percent of Quebec's voters want to go that far.

But while the PQ is working out how to pose a question that won't be rejected, it is going ahead with the "francisation" of Quebec.

The rest of Canada, including the federal government in Ottawa, is watching with some concern and, in some areas, increasing anger.

Outside of the PQ the general feeling is that the referendum result will be "no" and that the PQ either will be forced to call a losing election or, in any event, will be voted out when its term expires in 3 1/2 years.

But there is equally a general feeling that even if the PQ sustains both those losses, it will have wrought changes in both Quebec and Canada that will remain.

The PQ has already gone a long way to making Quebec look like an independent, single-language state. Language laws that have gone into effect change the outward look of Quebec business and services — advertising, company names and services all have to be in French first.

These laws also have made obtaining an education in English more difficult. The PQ government exhibits greater assurance, even cockiness, in its dealings with both the rest of Canada and the outside world.

Quebec's representative offices overseas act as though they were embassies or consulates and the PQ cabinet contains a minister for inter-governmental affairs (instead of federal-provincial affairs as it used to be).

The PQ also has proposed a wide-ranging program to promote French culture and to improve the quality of the French spoken in Quebec. Posters proclaim, "Le Français, je le parle par coeur," which translates "I speak French (by, with or from) the heart."

Trains delayed
NEW YORK (UPI) — Power problems all but halted service on Conrail's New Haven line for two hours today, stranding perhaps as many as 10,000 commuters on 15 trains inbound from Connecticut and southeastern New York.

A spokesman for the rail system said the principal problem was a defective transformer located near Pelham, N.Y., which began operating erratically by toward the end of the rush hour. Trains were backed up from Woodlawn, N.Y., to New Rochelle, N.Y.

Students enrolled in arts

Two students from East Catholic High School and one from Manchester High School are among the participants in a five-week art appreciation program.

A total of 24 high school students are participating in the program, Center for Creative Youth, being held at Wesleyan University in Middletown. Joanne Weiss, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Edward M. Weiss of 323 Gale St., is one of 16 participants in the creative writing section of the program. She will be a junior at Manchester High School.

Angela Zocco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zocco of 7 Rosemary Place, and Karen Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson of 51 Mohagan Trail, South Windsor, are taking part in the visual arts program. Both will be juniors at East Catholic High School.

Also participating from the area are two Tolland High School students who are in the visual arts program.

They are Allison Collins, daughter of Ruth Collins of 41 Mountain Spring Road, Tolland, and Andy Skutnik, son of Carol Skutnik of Stuart Drive, Tolland. Ms. Collins will be a senior and Skutnik will be a sophomore.

Senior citizens

HI folks! Well, at this writing Thursday morning, we need 18 more to sign up for the Lake George trip in order to take the second bus.

Our gamblers' spent Thursday at the races but we'll have to wait until Wednesday's column to find out who the winners were.

Pinchle
News here at the center starts with our Wednesday morning pinocle games. We had 40 players and the following winners: Marge McLain, 642; Elaine Reuther, 582; Grace Windsor, 575; Helen Silver, 568; Rene Mair, 562; Paul Schuetz, 558; Audrey Durey, 557; Vincent Borrello, 555; Tom Tompkins, 554; Nadine Malcolm, 544; Ann Thompson, 544.

At noon we had over 80 for our lunch, and because it was such a nice day we served the meal over in Center Park.

Next Thursday we will have a cookout in the park and after we will be playing bingo and outdoor shuffleboard games. In the morning, you'll be able to enjoy sitting in the park, playing cards and shuffleboard. Lunch will be served from noon to 12:30 p.m.

Vacation over
Well, vacation time for Gloria has run out for the time being and she'll be back in action this coming Monday. When she returns, she'll be looking for some help to go over all the ceramic tiles. We wish to take this time to thank Mel Siebold, recreation director, for donating some models to us. Come September, we will be able to have a few new models to choose from.

This has been quite a busy month as far as birthdays go. On July 4, it was Mama Fortin's and Ed Schuetz's birthday. On July 8, it was Paul Schuetz followed on the 9th by Madeline Gale. Now on July 16, someone else will be celebrating their 49th birthday but this is all the information there is to report.

Schedule for week
Monday: 8:30 a.m., golf at the East Hartford course. 10 a.m., kitchen social games. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., pinocle games. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m., return trips at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday: 9:30 a.m., bus for shopping. 1 p.m., summer bowling league and return from shopping. Wednesday: 9 a.m., health clinic by appointment. 10 a.m., pinocle games and Friendship Circle meeting. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., craft class. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m., return trip at 12:30 p.m.

Thursday: 10 a.m. to noon, outdoor shuffleboard games. Cookout in the park at noon followed by bingo.

Friday: 10 a.m., kitchen social games. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., setback games. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m. Return trips at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Rev. Swank's book to be published

The Rev. J. Grant Swank, former associate pastor of Manchester's Trinity Episcopal Church, has published a new book, "The Nazarene will have a new book. It is the third he has published by Beacon Hill Press. The first was "Which Way?—Now and Forever" and his second book, "Mentors to Go."

The third publication is subtitled "Finding Courage, Control and Constancy." The Rev. Mr. Swank said the "theme is that of growing in Christ on a day-by-day basis."

He has also had several articles published in the denomination's periodicals by Beacon Hill Press, which is the trade name for the Nazarene Publishing House.

The Rev. Mr. Swank, who has pastored the Fishkill, N.Y., church since October 1972, has also pastored churches in Indianapolis, Ind., and Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

The parents of his wife, the former Priscilla Caroline Anthony, live at 44 Sterling Place in Manchester.

Trantolo brothers dispute claims of bar presidents

VERNON—Vincent Trantolo, one of the founders of the Hartford Law Clinic which has opened a Vernon Circle office, has issued a statement rebutting comments made earlier this week by the presidents of the Tolland and Manchester County Bar Associations.

Martin B. Burke of the Tolland Association and Vincent L. Diana of the Hartford Association, issued a joint statement. The two said the members of their associations believe that the Trantolo brothers made an unfair indictment claiming that they said that bar associations do not have an attitude that the "public be damned."

They also charged that the Trantolo brothers said that "the middle class people are not receiving excellent legal service in this area."

Trantolo said no claim had ever been made that middle class people are not receiving excellent service in this area, "nor was it implied," he said.

He said a UPI story stated that he and his brother Joseph said, "middle income persons have less access to lawyers than the rich and poor because prices are high."

He said their clinic, which advertises its rates, is designed to make the client aware of what he can expect to pay before he sees a lawyer.

In their statement, Burke and Diana said the clinic's fees aren't private law firms in the area.

While the Trantolos advertise $30 for a simple will, $175 for an uncontested divorce and $250 for a bankruptcy filing, Trantolo said he can't comment on Burke and Diana's criticism "because they don't publicize their fees and I don't know what they are."

Trantolo brothers opened their law clinic in Vernon about 2 1/2 weeks ago and the main office in Hartford has been open since March.

Trantolo said that the response locally has been good so far. "Let our clients attest to our fair prices and services," he said.

Trantolo further pointed out that Burke and Diana, in their statement, said that the Hartford County Bar Association is investigating the Trantolos but Trantolo said this is no longer true.

He said the grievance committee has investigated a complaint filed against the clinic which related to a completed and no action has been taken against them to date.

"Our services are no different from any other law office," Trantolo said, in response to the claim made by Burke and Diana that the law clinic offers mass production service, geared for quick turnover.

"There are no erroneous statements in the clinic's advertisement," Trantolo said. He added that he and his associates agree that consumers should shop around for legal services. "The public should be able to investigate our office as well as others in terms of price for services," he said.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

A most exciting temptation in our life is to be "liked" at all costs. People in public positions often find these pressures overwhelming. Yes, with to be accepted. Yes, I know that truth often offends, and alienation may be the price of truthfulness. (Gal. 6:16).

Jesus warned his disciples: "Who unto you, well of you! For in the same manner did I also speak unto you, but ye received it not, because ye would not be offended." (John 8:7).

This column may disturb you because it may even arouse resentment. It may be inaccurate, for I claim no infallibility. It is, however, assured I can accept loving correction. But if it is true, your negative response reflects a luxury you cannot afford—vain price.

Police report
Manchester
Manchester police arrested Frank James Duchesneau, 19, of no certain address and charged him with burglary in the third degree Friday afternoon.
Police said a witness saw a man trying to force entry into a residence on Woodbridge Street. When police appeared on the scene in response to the witness's call, the man began to run, but was caught.
When the owner of the residence arrived home Friday night, he reported to police that his home had been burglarized.
Duchesneau's court date is July 24, East Hartford.
In other arrests, police charged:
• David Marshall, 18, of 110 Columbus St. with failure to obey a traffic control signal and operating a motorcycle without a motorcycle license. Court date July 21, East Hartford.
• Troy Cook, 18, of 3158 E. Beckley St., Beckley, W. Va., with misuse of registration plates and operating a motor vehicle without a license. Court date July 25, East Hartford.
• Stanley J. Gembala, 52, of 92 Vernon St. with breach of peace in connection with a traffic violation committed by another person at the witness's call, the man began to run, but was caught.
Cleveland Mayor Dennis Kucinich obtained a temporary restraining order from a state court, ordering the officers back to work. But police ignored the order.
A haggard-looking Kucinich told a news conference that police were "acting like hoodlums" and have "shown a contempt for the law."
"I have asked for the assistance of the Ohio National Guard, the Ohio Highway Patrol and various military police that can be afforded," Kucinich said. "I made this decision after a great deal of consideration."
Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said he would send National Guard "observers" to Cleveland to provide him with first-hand information on the strike, but declined to order the guard into the city immediately.
Police walked off the job in protest to the firing of 12 fellow officers who had refused to patrol the city's crime-ridden public housing projects along on foot beats.
In Louisville, the city's 600 non-unionized firefighters struck in a pay dispute and the city immediately shut down all but seven of its 23 firehouses.
Kentucky Gov. Julian M. Carroll indicated he was prepared to send National Guard troops into the city if necessary to help fight fires. The governor's office said the guard was on "telephone standby."
The members of Louisville Arts Encounter's free public relations workshop will be held every Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. during July, August and September at its workshop on Purnell Place.
Special guests, active in public relations, will speak at the workshops.
Further information is available by calling 649-3230.

Memorials
In sad and loving memory of our father and grandfather, Edward C. Carter Sr. who passed away July 10, 1977.
Always in our hearts because we love and miss you so.
Life must go on, we know it's true, but it's not the same since we lost you.
Edward, Bruce, Pamela, Laura, Edin, Gene
The memory of you will stay in our hearts forever.

Decals available for handicapped
Stickers that can be pasted on the window of a home identifying a handicapped resident are available from the Town Fire Department, Barry Bernstein, chairman of the Commission for the Handicapped, told commission members recently.
In case of an emergency such as a fire or other catastrophe, rescue of the handicapped person could be expedited when an identifying decal is visible.
Also, Bernstein said that similar stickers are available from the Motor Vehicle Department for pasting on a car window indicating that there is a handicapped passenger in the car. Bernstein said anyone wanting one of these stickers can call the Motor Vehicle Department, and they will deliver them.
The commission is checking with the Manchester Police Department to see if they will put tow-away notices on the parking places designated for the handicapped to discourage other drivers from using those spaces.
Also, the commission wants to work with the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce in checking out stores that could use special decals indicating rest rooms for the handicapped.

Five tested for position in housing
The Town of Manchester Friday tested applicants for its equal opportunity coordinator position.
Five persons took the test, and the final selection may be made next week, Charles McCarthy, assistant town manager, said.
The position is one that was proposed by the town to meet requirements for receiving federal Community Development funds. The person will oversee housing programs in Manchester to insure that fair housing goals are being met.

On Capitol Hill, Sens. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Javits urged Carter to start putting teeth into his human rights crusade by cancelling an agreement to sell the Soviets a Sperry-Univac computer.
Noting that Schcharansky is a computer technician, Moynihan said: "When you send a computer expert like Schcharansky to Siberia for 13 years, it means you've got to import computer technology from a place that doesn't put such men in prison."
"And we are calling on the president to... say, 'No, all right, you're not going to have that computer.'"

Public workers strike in three major cities
Municipal strikes hit three major cities Friday. Cleveland's mayor called on striking policemen "hoodlums" and pleaded for National Guard protection. Louisville firemen refused to work, and Philadelphians faced mounds of garbage in a massive city workers' walkout.
The wildest walkout by 2,000 Cleveland police officers and supervisory personnel late Thursday left only a handful of high-ranking police officials to guard the city of 800,000.
Other city workers, with the exception of firemen, honored police picket lines and the city immediately. Police walked off the job in protest to the firing of 12 fellow officers who had refused to patrol the city's crime-ridden public housing projects along on foot beats.
In Louisville, the city's 600 non-unionized firefighters struck in a pay dispute and the city immediately shut down all but seven of its 23 firehouses.

Arts Encounter cancels Lutz dramatic workshop
The Arts Encounter's dramatic workshop scheduled to take place at the Lutz Junior Museum July 23 through Aug. 4 has been cancelled. However, Arts Encounter is offering a free weekly course in play production for persons 10 to 16 years old. Classes begin Thursday at Arts Encounter, 48 Purnell Place, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Pre-registration is required by Wednesday.
Registration forms are available at contact 649-3230.

Your neighbors' views: What does Main Street, Manchester, need?
Richard Piffer, Vernon — "It needs trees but, they would perk up the place. The street is too wide, too wide open."
Kay Witke, 5 Bank St., Manchester — "It needs maintenance on the planters and a personal touch rather than a town effort."
Neil Johnson, Conway Road, Manchester — "Parking is not bad, but it could stand a greater variety of businesses to bring people down here."
Vic Kovas, 80 Main St., Manchester — "Merchants should get together and bring prices down and not pick on the public so much. They ought to make less profit and give the buyers a chance."
Helen Silver, 10 1/2 Church St., Manchester — "There are too many young children around with their skateboards and things. Main Street is used mainly by the elderly."
Yvonne Waterschoot, Windsor Locks — "It needs new buildings. Working inside, you can see that they are not in the greatest shape. Not much else needs to be done."
Leonard Anderson, 701 Hartford Road, Manchester — "Rejuvenation. A little more parking and enterprising effort on the part of the merchants. The place to buy is on Main Street, the guarantees are much better than places where you have to deal with many people."

DESSERTS

Whether it be in a small cafe on the Left Bank, the Savoy Grill in London, Valentin's in Madrid or the celebrated Tsentralnaya restaurant in Moscow, classic fruited desserts are among the most popular items on menus. Fresh fruits may appear as toppings for waffles, as ingredients in trifles or as glorious garnishes for molded artistry. These adaptations of four traditional European favorites know no language barriers and fit in readily with our life-style.

Windsor Compo

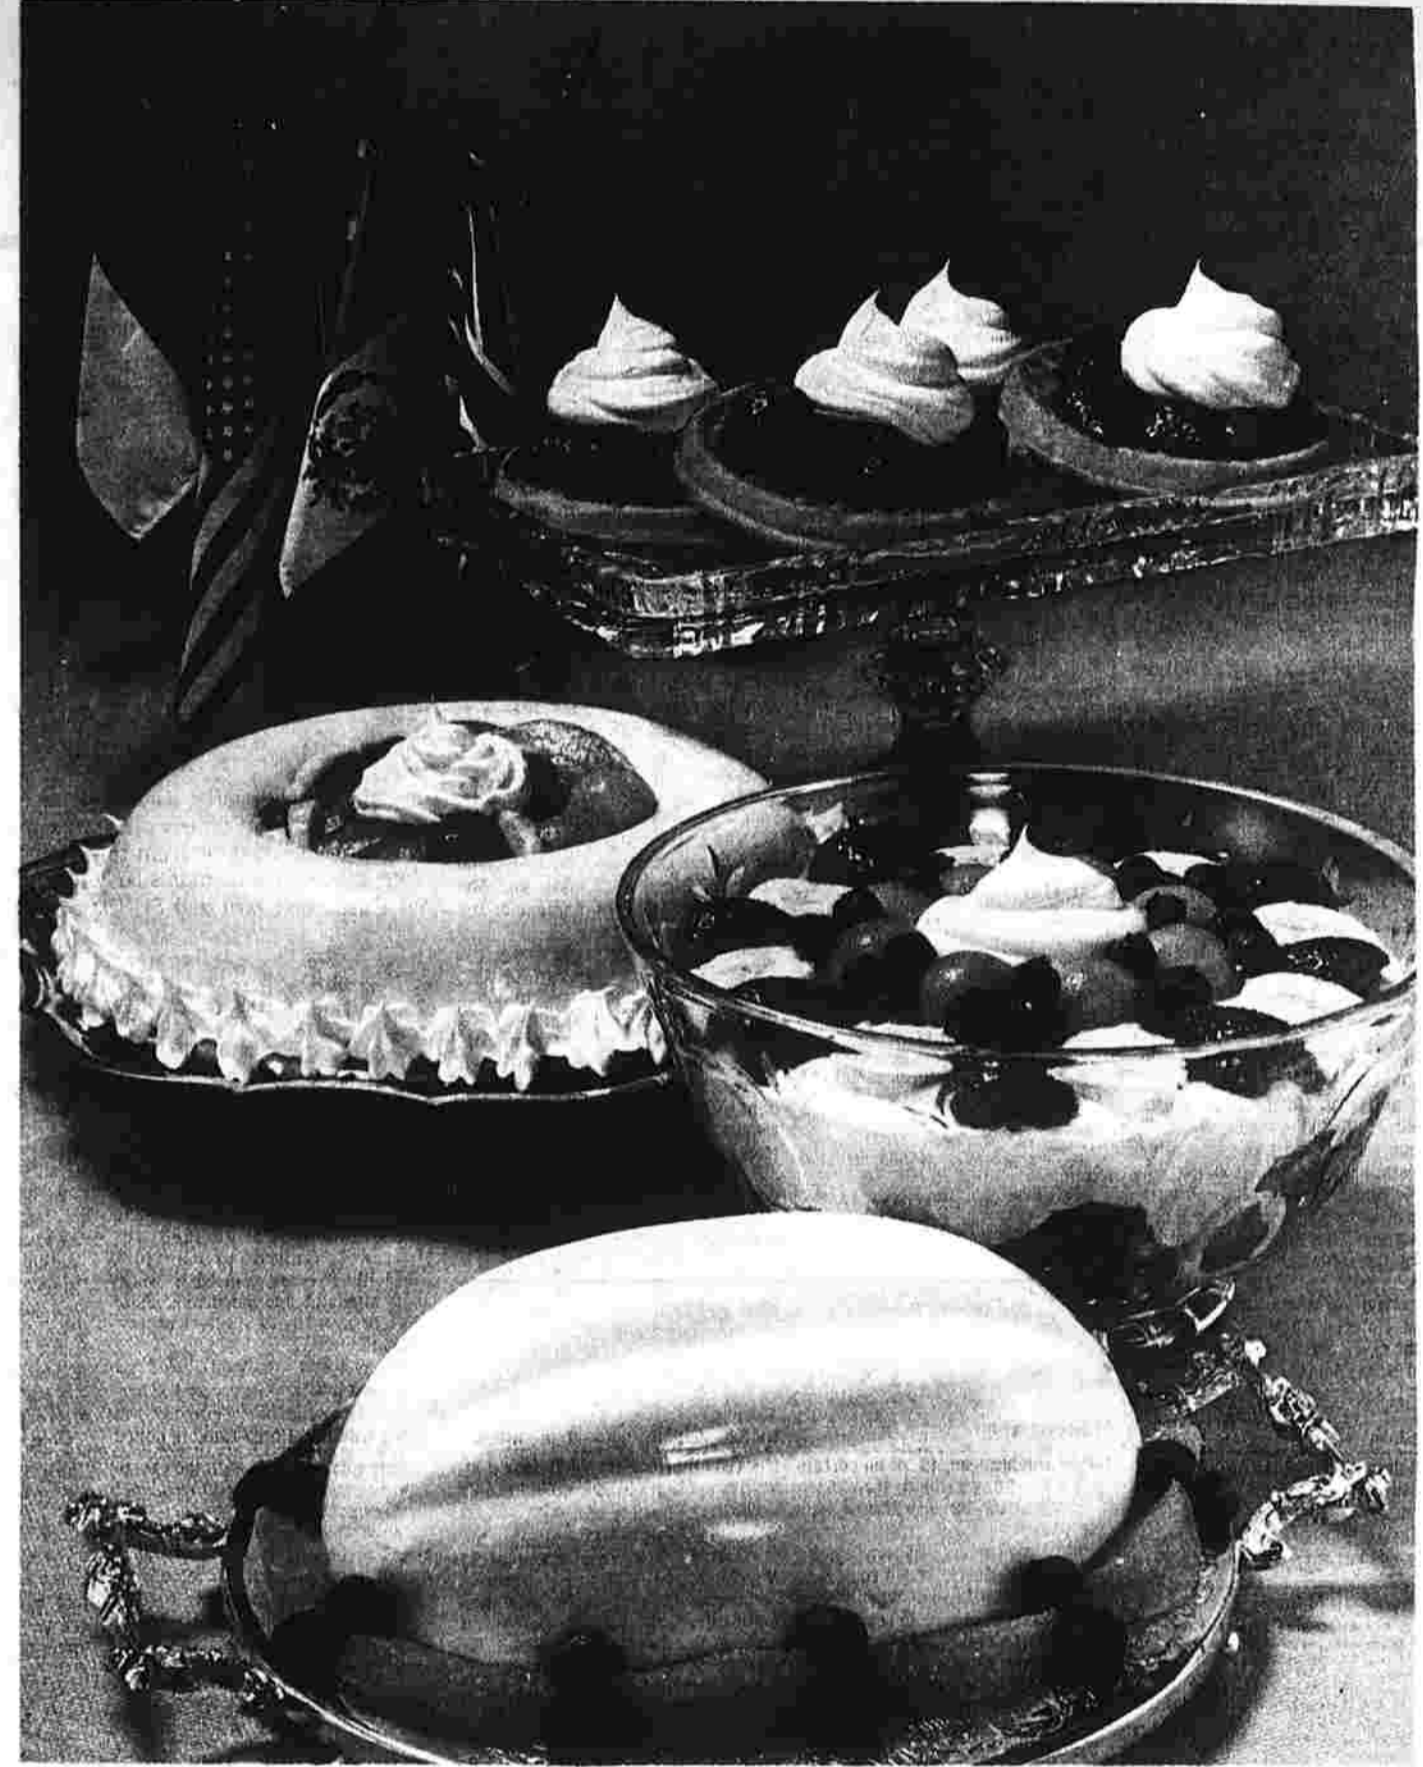

1-3/4 cups cold milk
1 tablespoon orange liqueur or orange juice
1 package (4-serving size) vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling
1 container (4-1/2 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed
6 cups fresh fruits (blueberries, melon balls, raspberries and sliced strawberries, bananas and peaches)
Pour milk and liqueur into a bowl. Add pudding mix. Beat slowly with hand beater or at lowest speed of electric mixer for 1 minute. Add 1 cup of the whipped topping and beat 1 minute longer just until blended. Arrange half the fruit in a large serving bowl. Add the pudding mixture and top with remaining fruit. Garnish with remaining whipped topping. Makes 8 cups or 16 servings.

Spanish Ring Mold

1 package (6-serving size) egg custard mix
3 tablespoons sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
3 cups milk
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup thawed frozen whipped topping
Combine custard mix, sugar and gelatin in saucepan. Blend in milk and egg yolk. Cook and stir over high heat until mixture comes to a boil. (Mixture will be thin.) Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. Pour into a bowl and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in whipped topping. Spoon into a 4-cup mold. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Unmold. Garnish with fresh fruit and additional whipped topping, if desired. Makes 4 cups or 8 servings.

Belgian Waffles

4 frozen waffles
1 pint strawberries, hulled and halved
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind (optional)
1 cup thawed frozen whipped topping
Toast waffles as directed on package; place on dessert dishes. Combine strawberries, sugar, orange juice and rind. Stir until sugar dissolves. Spoon on waffles and top with whipped topping. Makes 4 servings.

Russian Cream

3/4 cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1-1/2 cups water
1 cup (1/2 pt.) sour cream
1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup thawed frozen whipped topping
Mix sugar and gelatin in saucepan; stir in water. Heat gently, stirring constantly, just until sugar and gelatin are dissolved, about 5 minutes. Gradually blend into sour cream in bowl; add vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Blend in whipped topping and pour into 4-cup mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Unmold. Garnish with orange sections and blueberries, if desired.

"During my visit to Toronto, we had an opportunity to visit Kleinburg, which is located about 20 minutes from the Toronto International Airport and within an hour's drive from the center of the city of Toronto.
There we had a delicious champagne brunch at The Doctor's House & Livery, followed by a tour of the McMichael Canadian Collection.
Unfortunately, I had to catch an early flight, but other members of the media visited the collection housed in a 32-room gallery located on a green-belt area of thousand acres of wooded terrain overlooking the Huron River Valley.
The McMichael Canadian Collection had a very personal beginning in the country home of Robert and Signe McMichael. After two decades it comprises Canada's largest public display of the art of Tom Thompson and the Group of Seven together with outstanding works of their contemporaries Emily Carr, Clarence Gagnon, David Milne and J.W. Morrice. Art of the limit, Northwest Coast and Woodland Indian people is displayed in dramatic settings appropriate to their honored place in Canadian artistic expression.
The gallery is open for the public daily, except Monday, from noon to 5:30 p.m. and is open on holiday Mondays. Admission is free as is the parking.
The Doctor's House & Livery, located nearby, is a beautiful facility, owned by John Machleben. The house and livery have been refurbished in keeping with the charm and decor of yesteryear.
Before departing, I had a brief moment to talk with John and he assured me he'd send me some of the restaurant's recipes. Sure enough, last week his letter arrived and he wrote, "As promised, I've enclosed two Early Canadian recipes which I find particularly mouth-watering even though they're not from France — the land of classical cuisine, American and Canadian pioneers still had a lot going for them in culinary terms."
Here are recipes for Peach Sour Cream Pie and Rhubarb Ducking.
Peach Sour Cream Pie
1 cup sour cream
Healthy squeeze of orange half
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 well-beaten egg yolks
1 8-inch pie shell
5 tablespoons flour
2 1/2 cups sliced peaches
Blend sour cream, brown sugar, salt, then stir in egg yolks. Sprinkle pie shell with 2 tablespoons flour. Pour in peaches and sprinkle with remaining 3 tablespoons flour. Pour sour cream mixture over all. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake for 30 minutes. Let cool.
Rhubarb Ducking
1 duck
2 teaspoons ginger
6 cups of diced rhubarb
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup honey
1 cup cold water
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup apple juice
1 tablespoon honey
Salt and pepper
Mix rhubarb, cinnamon, sugar and honey. Use 1 1/2 cups of this to stuff duck. Place the duck in a deep cast-iron saucepan. Pour the water on top and fill the pan with rhubarb mixture. Be sure to cover the duck at least one-inch deep. Add rhubarb if necessary. Cover tightly. Place in 375 degrees oven for 1 hour. Lower heat to 350 degrees after 1 hour.
When done, remove duck to a hot platter. Melt the butter, add the flour and stir together. Add apple juice, honey, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring all the time until creamy. Pour into the rhubarb mixture in the pan. Simmer together for 10 minutes. Pour some over the duck. Serve rest of sauce in a bowl.

Peaches are in season and Peach Sour Cream Pie is a sure crowd-pleaser. Try it soon. (Herald photo by Chastain — courtesy Highland Park Market)

Collectors' Corner

George Michael Cohan belongs to another era, of course, actually two or three eras back, but anyone who has produced 80 Broadway shows...

Cohan's life was filmed by Warner Bros. as 'Yankee Doodle Dandy' in which James Cagney earned an Oscar for the Best Actor of 1932.

There are those who would say that Cohan was a little too fond of the ending, where the character wakes up to find it was all a dream and so forth. One of these (Madeline and the Movies) was described by Woodcut as 'something of an eighth act play'.

Shakespeare in Toyland

The Armageddon shell game

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI) - The East-West arms race, which already has undergone more twists than a Harpo Marx haircut, may be about to take an ominous new turn.

According to press reports, President Carter is on the verge of approving an abrupt increase in the number of holes from which intercontinental missiles can be launched.

Theoretically, the proposal makes sense. The more holes we have, the more difficult it is for the Russians to keep track of where our missiles are.

Let's say, using purely arbitrary figures, that the United States is permitted under the SALT agreement to have 100 ICBM missiles ready for firing.

In event of a nuclear strike, our Minuteman missile emplacements obviously would be prime targets. But if we have 400 underground silos, and keep moving the missiles from one to the other, the enemy could wind up bombing a lot of empty holes.

Imagine the Tass dispatch: "MOSCOW - Heretofore Soviet missile crews in a surprise attack today scored direct hits on 29 American holes in the ground."

"Satellite reconnaissance confirmed that the targets were totally obliterated. All that remains of the 29 holes is 29 bigger holes."

Prices effective Sunday, July 15 through Saturday, July 21.

FTC settles price dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has announced a retail price-fixing settlement against the makers of Florsheim Shoes and London Fog raincoats which it said could save consumers millions of dollars in lower prices for those products.

The agency said Intero Inc., St. Louis, had agreed not to try to fix or control the resale prices of its products, police the way dealers are reselling, or cut off its sales to any dealer because of the prices charged at the retail level.

In addition to the shoe and raincoat line, the company, which had sales of $1.4 billion in 1976, also makes Thayer McNeil shoes, and Devon College-Town and Queen Casuals wearing apparel.

Loyal Yankee fan Supporters of the New York Yankees have been seen in fewer numbers this season than in recent years but one died-in-the-family is the Dave Barrys.

The current state senator was an office visitor bright and early Wednesday morning and his six-year-old son, Ryan, lagged along.

The handsome youngster was wearing a blue baseball cap with the letters NY on the front to signify his interest in a certain baseball team.

Asked who his favorite baseball team is, the youngster said, "The Yankees," adding in the same breath, "and the Red Sox stink."

His nattily-attired father appeared ill at ease with the remark but admitted the Barry family was supporters of the Yankees.

"Monday night while at the Marlborough Tavern for a party with Governor Grasso, there was a severe electrical storm which cut off the power," the senator said.

"When I had a chance to get to a phone and call my family at the cottage in Niantic, my 10-year-old son Michael answered and said, 'Dad, you would never guess what happened!'"

"I didn't know what to expect," Barry said.

"Lou Piniella of the Yankees is spending his All-Star break here and I talked with him," the boy informed his father.

"And I got his autograph, too," Flynn Barry added.

Auerbach persuaded to stay, turns down big New York bid

BOSTON (UPI)—Red Auerbach, who built the Boston Celtics into one of professional sports' greatest dynasties, Friday ended speculation he would jump ship and signed a multi-year contract to help rebuild the club.

Auerbach said earlier this week he had decided to join the New York Knicks. But he said the people of Boston changed his mind and he would remain as the Celtics' vice president and general manager.

Auerbach told reporters he had decided Tuesday to accept "the most flattering offer in my NBA career" from the Knicks.

The speculation surrounding Auerbach's departure was that he could not work with Brown, who engineered a seven-player deal with former owner Irv Levin without consulting Auerbach.

"His (Brown) not calling me during his negotiations with Levin is indicative of how ethical he is since Levin denied him permission to talk to me, Brown said, but would not discuss the details.

"I was primarily an emotional thing. It really wasn't anything but that," said Auerbach.

In his 28 years with the Celtics he produced 13 NBA championships, all but four as coach. The Celtics won eight consecutive championships between 1958 and 1966 under his tutelage.

"I'm all right physically," Auerbach said when asked if last year's 32-50 record had any role in his decision.

"I was primarily an emotional thing. It really wasn't anything but that," said Auerbach.

Red Sox toppled

BOSTON (UPI)—Bobby Bonds doubled home two runs in the sixth inning and Bump Wills knocked in what proved to be the winning run with an eighth-inning single Friday night to lead the Texas Rangers to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Bonds doubled home Mike Hargrove, who had singled, and Toby Harrah, who had singled, to hand Mike Torres his fifth loss in 16 decisions and send the Red Sox down to their third straight defeat.

The Rangers passed across what proved to be the winning run in the eighth when Hargrove doubled, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Wills' single past a drawn-in infield.

Ferguson Jenkins, despite being tagged for three homers, went eight innings to win his ninth game in 13 decisions. Jenkins walked four and struck out three before being replaced by Reggie Cleveland in the ninth after yielding a leadoff homer to Fred Lynn, his 15th.

Boston opened the scoring in the third on the first of two solo homers by Dwight Evans, but the Rangers tied the score in the fifth on Bert Campaneris' first homer of the season. Evans' 18th homer, a career high, gave the Red Sox a 2-1 lead in the fifth.

Each side had three hits but Civitan had what counted in the run department for an upset 10-3 win over previously unbeaten Dairy Queen in the Town Farm Little League Tournament last night at Wadfield Field.

Burleson disabled

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox Friday placed shortstop Rick Burleson on the 15-day disabled list effective July 10 and called up outfielder Gary Hancock from their AAA farm club in Pawtucket, R.I. to fill his place on the roster.

Burleson tore ligaments in his ankle while sliding into second base last Sunday in Cleveland. The injury forced him out of the All-Star game.

Hancock, 24, was obtained in a trade with Cleveland last December for Jack Baker. He has played 83 games with Pawtucket this season and is batting .301 with eight home runs and 43 RBIs.

Gatto named

Mass. (UPI)—Vic Gatto, a former star running back at Harvard and most recently coach at Bates College, has been named head football coach at Tufts University. Athletic Director Rocky Carzo said Thursday.

Only one league, the National League, will be represented in the Town Little League Tournament finals as last night the Medics ousted Army & Navy, 9-8, at Leber Field.

The Medics will face league foe Carter Chevrolet today at Leber Field at 5 o'clock. A win by Carter's unbeaten team in the double elimination play, would give it the title. A triumph by the Medics, however, would force another game Monday night.

Nicklaus looms near

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Tom Watson, an enthusiastic young man with the credits of an old-timer, has been here before.

The setting was elsewhere, his co-star was a different man, but the basic scenario was the same: Watson, 21, and Jack Nicklaus, 37, were duking it out in the final round of the British Open.

Watson, starting the third round Friday two shots behind Ben Crenshaw and Isao Aoki, surged to the front by sinking one birdie putt from 50 feet and two more from 20 feet for a 2-under-par 70 and a 54-hole score of 211.

"For the first four holes I felt I didn't now what I was doing out there," said Watson, who was fortunate to pick up only one bogey in that stretch.

Massengale, Regalado scheduled to play here

Two touring golf professionals on the PGA circuit, Rik Massengale and Victor Regalado will stop off and sharpen up their game Tuesday, July 25 at the Manchester Country Club before taking part in the GHO.

Regalado two up after two rounds

COAL VALLEY, Ill. (UPI) — Victor Regalado shot a 7-under-par 64 — one stroke off the course record — to lead the field with a 131 Friday after the second round of the $150,000 Quad Cities Open.

Fuzzy Zoeller shot a 63 at the 6,561-yard Oakwood Country Club in 1976 and Sam Adams tied the record last year. Regalado, who was tied for the lead after the second round last year but finished tied for second place, played without a bogey during the second round but wasn't entirely thrilled. "I've been playing well this year but my problem has been my putting," he said. "I changed my putter the first of the year and have had only two rounds where I've broken 30 puts."

Softball

Two runs in the fourth inning and five more the next stanza broke open a close contest as Zembrowski's trimmed DeMolay, 9-3, last night at KofC Field. John Greene singled twice and tripled. Paul Lucas and Bob Oberg each stroked two hits and Jerry and Dave Bajacius each socked two home runs for Zembrowski's.

Pair shares lead in LPGA Classic

DUBLIN, Ohio (UPI) — Veteran Kathy Postlewait and rookie Janet Anderson fired 4-under-par 68's Friday to share the first round in an $85,000 LPGA Classic.

The co-leaders, both looking for their first tour wins, are only one shot ahead of a cluster of seven players who came in at 3-under 69 on the par-72, 6,285-yard Riviera Country Club course.

Anderson, from West Sunbury, Pa., labeled her round her best ever and credited a recent improvement in her game to "experience and confidence, knowing you can do it."

Martin's health major concern

NEW YORK (UPI) — Billy Martin's health is of major concern to principal owner George Steinbrenner and he is willing to extend the contract of the New York Yankees' manager and keep him in the organization if the pressures of managing become too strenuous.

Steinbrenner said it was brought to his attention that Martin's health has deteriorated this season. The Yankee owner also said Thursday night he had not, contrary to a published report, made Martin a settlement offer but would give him a front office job if he desired to step down as manager because of his health before the season ended.

Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, a division of United Technologies was selected by United Airlines to provide engines to power its new fleet of commercial jetliners at a contract cost of $200 million. Thirty Boeing 707 aircraft (top is a model) will be powered by PWA JT9D-7R engines a related version of JT9D-7, shown below.

UTC engine contract put at $200 million

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — United Airlines said Friday it will buy 60 commercial jetliners from the Boeing Co. and the engines will be built by Pratt & Whitney for a whopping $200 million. The airline order to Boeing in Seattle was the largest aircraft order in history, a spokesman said, and the engine order to Pratt & Whitney, an aviation pioneer, was the largest in the annals of the Connecticut company.

It surpasses Pratt & Whitney's own record set last May when the East Hartford plant and Singapore Airlines concluded agreement for $120 million in engines. Boeing competed in the race for the business with a number of firms, including a Franco-German consortium which produces the European A-300 Airbus. Pratt & Whitney won the nod over Rolls Royce and General Electric for the engine business.

Kennelly joins race; willing to be speaker

HARTFORD (UPI) — Speaker of the House James J. Kennelly Friday announced he is seeking the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. If he wins the lieutenant governor nomination, he would be the first third-term speaker in Connecticut history. Kennelly said the race for lieutenant governor "represents the most complex political mosaic I've ever been involved with."

He said the 15 or so Democratic candidates, the two strongest ones other than himself, are Senate Majority Leader Joseph Lieberman of New Haven and Democratic Party Chairman and House Majority Leader William O'Neill of East Hampton.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso early this week said she will not direct the convention toward any particular politician, leaving the candidates to fend for themselves.

Kennelly said he expects the fight to be "tough and bitter" but he thinks it is possible for all the candidates to remain friends and keep the party together.

"This isn't the first political fight we've been in and we still have great respect for each other and are friends," Kennelly said.

Two indicted in slaying of five in Boston pub

BOSTON (UPI) — Two men were indicted Friday on five counts each of first degree murder for the slaying of five men at a downtown pub last month.

The two, William N. Ierardi, 32, of Lynn, and Robert Italiano, 36, of Revere, were scheduled to be arraigned Monday before Suffolk County Court Judge Arthur Mason.

"The investigation isn't over by any means," Byrne said, shortly after the Suffolk County grand jury returned the indictments.

You-Growing Old Or Growing Up!

One week from right now, will you be wiser than you are at this moment? Will you have learned something? Will you have done something you never did?

"Yes" answers to these questions are a good sign that you are not just growing older, you're growing up. Here are a few tips on how to become a more interesting and vital person.

SEKING NEW EXPERIENCES can enrich your life. Occasionally read a newspaper or magazine with an eye for an eye. This will help you become more flexible and tolerant.

Seek new experiences. These may be anything from a summer trip to Europe to getting a motorcycle. When you ride a motorcycle, such as a Suzuki TS-100, for example, you'll not only get a thrill but also transportation that does double duty as a woods and trail companion, but you may discover you're self in the process.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: What is a widow to do? I'm only 44 and I'm not ready for a rest home yet. I have two attractive, well-behaved children, a nice home, no debts and a good steady income. No worries, except where to find a decent man who wants a decent woman.

I'M SURE THIS LETTER IS FROM MY BROTHER SPIKE IN NEEDLES...
IT MUST BE IMPORTANT... IT HAS A THIRTEEN CENT STAMP ON IT!
THE NAME ON THE STAMP SAYS CARL SANDBURG...
THAT'S GOTTA BE PANCHO GONZALES!

Astro-graph

Your Birthday
July 16, 1978
Some important, desirable changes are likely this coming week. You will find your effort to bring them about. However, you'll have every thing at hand to do so successfully.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): Promising little and delivering a lot is better than planning a lot and producing nothing. Bear this in mind before you open your mouth today. Having trouble selecting a career? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 669, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): In spite of your better judgment today, you may repeat an action that once cost you a pretty penny. Keep you on the red side of the ledger.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If you get off on the wrong foot with your loved one today, don't try to buy your way back into her good graces. You're better off to more careful initially.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Instead of hiding your true feelings today, if someone you're fond of annoys you, put all your cards on the table. Iron things out at once.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22): You won't like yourself very well today if you gush over persons who stand for a prestigious position. Your heart won't!
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): Diplomacy and tact are your assets today. If you're left at home, you may find yourself in an embarrassing position.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your attitude could be a bit ambivalent today, wavering between liking yourself and concerning about your ability.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A business matter you might be glad to handle today, but you'll get the better part of the deal. The smiles could vanish after each closer scrutiny.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Be cautious and tactful with persons who require that kind of treatment. Failure to differentiate could cause problems.
Aries (March 21-April 19): You want people to cooperate and comply with your wishes today, but you may not be willing to reciprocate. Remember the Golden Rule.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Be sure to give your attention to the person who is a strong possibility of being a true love today, while you are still in the market.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Don't be overly attentive to one who strikes your fancy today, while you are still in the market. One who loves you, your mate or sweetheart is appreciative today.

Bugs Bunny - Heimdel and Stoffel

SATURDAY

FOUL PLAY?

David Groh is the devoted husband, Brent, and Michele Lee is the nervous and suspicious wife, Denise, in the "Help, Murder" segment of ABC's hit comedy series "The Love Boat," airing Saturday, July 22.

When Brent enlists the help of cruise director Julie McCoy in planning a surprise birthday party for Denise, Denise overhears part of their conversation and mistakenly believes she has heard a lovers pact to murder her.

SEIKO

THE SEIKO LC DIGITAL QUARTZ ALARM CHRONOGRAPH.

The watch that truly expands the boundaries of timekeeping.

No. FB008M-295. LC Digital Quartz Alarm Chronograph features electronic alarm bell. Continuous readout in hours, minutes, seconds, and day of week. At the push of a button, month, day and date appear. Yellow leaf stainless steel back, brown dial frame.

No. FB007M-250. LC Digital Quartz Alarm Chronograph features electronic alarm bell. Continuous readout in hours, minutes, seconds, and day of week. At the push of a button, month, day and date appear. Stainless steel, silver-tone dial frame.

How could a watch so smartly compact do so many things with such incredible ease? Because it's made by Seiko, the world leader in quartz technology. It tells the time, day, date and month, turns into a stopwatch, and functions as a wrist alarm, too. And does it all with such impeccable elegance. A watch to give to someone very special—if you can part with it yourself. Seiko Quartz.

SUNDAY

NO ANGEL

There's nothing angelic about Jaclyn Smith's role of a bank robber in the comedy-mystery, "The Whiz Kid and the Carnival Caper" on NBC-TV's "The Wonderful World of Disney," Sundays, July 16 and 23.

Normally Jaclyn Smith sleuths as Angel Kelly to track down criminals. For a change of pace, she'll operate on the wrong side of the law and turn her pretty head to the illegal business of grand larceny in this two-part Walt Disney Production.

TUESDAY

PUPPY LOVE

When Fonzie's dog, Spunky, comes down with a case of the blues, Fonzie (Henry Winkler) prepares to send him off for a respite in the country at a doggy dude ranch - complete with a cowboy hat and a Fonzie-type leather jacket - in "Spunkless Spunky," on the ABC Television Network's "Happy Days." Tuesday, July 18.

The Fonz sheds his sheer veneer in this episode and goes all out to insure that his pup is pampered in a style befitting Fonzie's best friend.

THREE FACES OF TV - Can you tell me if any of the networks will ever broadcast "The Three Faces of Eve," starring Joanne Woodward? I read the book, "I'm Eve," and I'm very interested in seeing the movie. I think it was last shown on television in the '60s, but I missed it. - Carol Merty, Mytheville, Ark.

I'm afraid none of the three networks are likely to show the film again. It's simply too old and has been aired too many times. But Joanne Woodward's Oscar-winning performance is not lost to you. The film still shows up on local stations. Write to yours, ask if they have the movie, then request an airing.

FRIDAY

SADDLE-UP

Lynda Carter, as Wonder Woman, demonstrates her equestrian skills, in "The New Adventures of Wonder Woman," Friday, July 21 on the CBS Television Network.

In her guise of Diana Prince, Wonder Woman is married to presidential aide Christian Harrison as the first move in her effort to find and seal off the source of leakage of confidential U.S. diplomatic information to foreign officials. Celeste Holm appears as a diplomat's wife.

THURSDAY

GOOD LIFE

NBC News correspondent Edwina Newman will examine the unusual life styles and curious values of the people who live the "good life" in Marin County - the wealthiest county in California.

"I Want It All Now," an NBC News Report on San Francisco's utopian suburb, reveals how these people's manners and morals are influencing the American way of life. Airdate is Thursday, July 20 on the NBC Television Network.

DEAD RINGER — When I was going to high school (1934) I had a friend by the name of Eddie Hermann, who lived in the North Park area of Buffalo, N.Y. I would like to know if this could be Charles Bronson, the movie actor? He is certainly a dead ringer for him. — Floyd V. Boundy, Lancaster, N.Y.

I don't know what became of your pal Eddie Hermann, but he didn't become Charles Bronson. Bronson's real name is Charles Buchinsky, and he grew up in the mining area of Pennsylvania. He was 12 years old in 1934. How old was Eddie?

GRIZZLY MUSIC — Please tell me who to write to in order to obtain a copy of the music to "The Theme of Grizzly Adams" — Mrs. Robert Kelly, Erie, Pa.

Neither a recording nor commercial music sheets have been produced for the very popular theme song. And now the series has been cancelled for next season. But you can still try writing to the composer in care of the studio. His name is Thom Pace, and the address is: Sunn Classic Pictures, 556 E. Second So., Salt Lake City, Utah 84102. Pace might be able to help you.

KEEP ON TRUCKIN? — Can you tell me how old Kris Kristofferson is, and will he be making more pictures like "Convoy"? —

Amy Benjamin, St. Louis, Mo.

Kris is 42, if a very well put together 42. I doubt if he'll make another movie soon like the truckers epic since he has described it as being totally "mindless." That's the Rhodes scholar in him coming out.
