

Gaming commission asks immunity for witnesses

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — The state gaming commission will ask the Legislature to adopt immunity laws to fully protect witnesses summoned to talk about illegal gambling in Connecticut.

The commission decided Wednesday to go to the Legislature instead of asking a judge's ruling that the agency's immunity laws are unconstitutional because they do not provide adequate protection to witnesses.

The commission passed a resolution directing its counsel draw up new immunity regulations to fully guarantee witnesses protection. They will be submitted to the 1979 Legislature when it convenes in January.

Last spring, a Newton gambler, Harvey Ziskis, refused to testify before the commission about allegations of players at the Hartford Jai Alai arena. Ziskis, a former employee at the arena, said he would not testify because the gaming panel's immunity statutes did not fully protect his rights.

Superior Court Judge Mary F. Aspell last week ruled Ziskis was right and he could not be forced to testify.

The gaming commission's counsel, Assistant Attorney General Richard Sheridan, told the panel Wednesday they could appeal the decision. But he recommended "the appeal not be initiated" because it could take more than a year before it could be resolved.

"It would be better to ask the Legislature for the tools necessary" to provide adequate statutes, Sheridan said.

Judge Aspell ruled the commission's immunity statute protects a witness from federal prosecution but does not ensure "that the state would be prohibited from using leads from a witness's testimony to prosecute him or others."

Ziskis, who attended the public session, said outside the meeting room he still wants to testify before the commission.

Ziskis, who said he does not gamble now and has a full-time job, said it is "important the commission hears me to expose the illegal goings on at tracks all over the country."

He said the commission "has been misguided and biased against me" in the proceedings involving him. He said he wanted to testify with full immunity in order to tell the "whole truth."

But his lawyer, Alexander Goldfarb, said later he won't allow Ziskis to testify before the commission and plans to file suit against anyone who accused his client of being a witness to the alleged player-pitying scheme.

Goldfarb said the commission's immunity clause doesn't guarantee Ziskis wouldn't be prosecuted later.

"This puts an end to the proceedings as far as Ziskis is concerned," he said.

Ziskis first went to the commission in October 1977 to claim that professional gamblers received help from jai alai officials in winning heavily through a mathematical betting system.

PANNE, WEBBER, JACKSON & CURTIS, INC.
Investment Securities

ROBERT C. HEAVIBIDES
Inquiries Invited

278-2100
10 Constitution Plaza
Hartford, Conn.

TOY LADIES

Party Plan Needs Dealers In This Area To Show Toys & Gifts Now To Nov. Earn $50 or More An Evening. No Experience or Investment Needed. Call Collect (814) 266-8721.

Connecticut news briefs

Xerox damage limited
HARTFORD (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge Jon O. Newman has reduced the total amount of damages SCM Corp. can collect in its antitrust suit against Xerox Corp. to $114 million.

SCM had sought $1.5 billion from Xerox in its suit, charging Xerox monopolized the office copier market. A nine-member federal jury last week found Xerox had violated some antitrust laws, but did not uphold all of SCM's claims and limited possible damages to around $220 million.

Newman reduced that figure to $114 million Wednesday. SCM could win additional damages in a separate hearing.

'Sambo' to stay
MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Sambo's Restaurant has no plans to change the name of the fast food outlet in this town despite opposition by some who say the name has racial connotations.

"Once we're open and operating, by and large, people have indicated it's kind of silly to make such a to-do about the name," David Severson, spokesman for the chain, said Wednesday.

The Sambo's Restaurant chain based in Santa Barbara, Calif., has more than 1,000 outlets in 47 states. The company says the word Sambo was derived at from the names of the firm's founders — Sam Battistone and F. Newell Bonhet.

To reveal income
HARTFORD (UPI) — The president of Bridgeport Jai Alai Inc., which made $2.8 million in the Iron's first year of operation, has agreed to provide the state with copies of his federal income tax returns.

Detroit lawyer A. Robert Zeff went along with the state gaming commission's request in the panel's effort to enforce the financial disclosure law, said Randall Garry, the commission's chief financial examiner.

WATERBURY (UPI) — An Arizona developer who family owns six dog tracks in Arizona and another under construction in Las Vegas has proposed building a $25 million domed track in Waterbury.

David Funk Wednesday claimed the domed building would be the largest enclosed structure in the Western Hemisphere at 682 feet in diameter — two feet larger than the New Orleans Superdome.

Funk told the Waterbury Zoning Commission he would not seek a license from the state gaming commission until zoning on the 106-acre site is changed from residential to industrial.

Killed in crash
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Two men, one from Connecticut, were killed Wednesday en route to South America when their twin-engine Aerostar crashed just short of Jacksonville Airport.

Thomas Joseph Gordon, 47, of Shoreham, N.Y., and Peter Frank Motta, 27, of Stamford, Conn., both experienced pilots, were on their way to South America to pick up and repair another plane.

Charged in fraud
WALLINGFORD (UPI) — Roger A. Palmer, 25, has been charged with assuming the identity of Conrail co-worker and using it to obtain thousands of dollars in credit in the other man's name.

Assistant State's Attorney Warren A. Gower said Wednesday investigators in the state's Economic Crime Unit were still trying to determine the dollar amount that Palmer allegedly stole in the scheme.

Palmer, a West Haven resident, was charged with larceny and forgery and fined in $1,000 bond.

Drug destroyed
HARTFORD (UPI) — Agents for the Department of Consumer Protection have complied with a court order and destroyed 30,000 tablets of Calcium Pangamate 15, better known as Vitamin E.

The tablets, bottled in 230 containers, were recently discovered in the possession of the Total Fulfillment Corp., a mail order company in Stamford, Attorney General Carl Aiello and Consumer Protection Commissioner Mary Heslin filed suit against the company, claiming Total Fulfillment was illegally attempting to distribute and sell the drug.

Says Ella losing
HARTFORD (UPI) — Republican State Chairman Frederick Biemel says Gov. Ella Grasso's credibility has dwindled to the point where she's lost support of at least one state Democratic official in her bid to win renomination.

Biemel referred to an announcement Monday by Democratic National Committeewoman Mary Sullivan, who said she would not support Mrs. Grasso at the state Democratic convention July 29-30.

"The governor's credibility has declined to the point that she no longer has the confidence of her own party's leadership," Biemel said Wednesday in Detroit, where he is attending a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

Mrs. Sullivan said, because of campaign advertisements in the May 2 New Britain delegate primary, she would vote for Lt. Gov. Robert Killian.

DOORBUSTERS

you've seen bedrooms like this for hundreds more!

CHOOSE CONTEMPORARY OAK SALE $399

You can now fill your bedroom with streamlined beauty at fantastic low prices. A contemporary suite built with oak veneers, oak solids and wood products. Features serpentine shapes on drawer fronts, transitional styling headboard and mirror.

Includes triple dresser, vertical mirror, chest and headboard. Night stand optional.

ALL BEDDING NOW ON SALE! $399

7 pc. set
EARLY BIRD SPECIALS TWIN SIZE SET $77 SET

catnapper
The Perfect Relax-ur Chair

GROUP INCLUDES TRESTLE TABLE $399

36"x80" Table extends to 76" with 2-3" Leafs

- TWO FALMOUTH ARM CHAIRS
- FOUR FALMOUTH SIDE CHAIRS
- TABLE TOPS AND LEAVES ARE HIGH PRESSURE LAMINATE STAIN
- HEAT AND SCRATCH RESISTANT.

Wall Hugging Convenience. NOW $158

Peter's of Manchester Furniture Showcase

1115 MAIN ST. MANCHESTER • 643-4036
OPEN TUESDAY & THURSDAY NITES TIL 9P.M.

SAVE WHILE STOCK LASTS! Please Shop Early!

Manchester Evening Herald

A Family Newspaper Since 1881
Vol. XXVII, No. 247 — Manchester, Conn., Friday, July 21, 1978

The weather
Continued hot and humid with hazy sunshine today. Highs in the 80s. Probability of precipitation 10 percent today and tonight 30 percent Saturday. Southwesterly winds 10 to 15 mph today tonight and Saturday.

Agents picket Hancock office
During the picketing of the John Hancock Insurance Co. office at Manchester Parkade this morning, agents Gerald Allen, left, John Hayes, office chairman, and Gus Samiotis, alternate negotiator, display the posters they have been carrying. (Herald photo by Richmond)

Hancock agents picket in town

John Hancock Insurance Co. was struck by 6,000 unionized agents today.

The members of the Insurance Workers International Union, AFI-CIO, voted Thursday, 2,243 to 1,478 against a new contract. Agents in most major U.S. cities voted, but agents in several Southern states with a no-strike clause did not.

Manchester agents, carrying signs with such slogans as "1989 paycheck can't match 1978 prices," started picketing in front of the John Hancock office at the Parkade this morning.

Gus Samiotis, alternate negotiator and a member of the firm for more than 15 years, said "the company refuses to acknowledge the fact that inflation is eroding everybody's paycheck." "I'm sure they realize this but when they negotiate with the union they won't acknowledge it. They feel that if an agent wants to make more money, he should just sell more," Samiotis said.

Another complaint, Samiotis said as spokesman for the other local agents, is that the firm is behind the times with fringe benefits. The only dental insurance John Hancock offered its agents was a mandatory 1989 rate of $3 a week for a family which was to be taken out of the agents' pay. There was no guarantee that the rate would remain the same, and if the cost of the insurance rose, the agents would have to pay 50 percent of the cost, Samiotis said.

No rate schedule on what the insurance would pay for various dental services is available. The dental insurance is so mandatory that agents with dependents still have to participate in the plan, he said.

In Boston, home office of the giant insurance company, most other employees including underwriters and bookkeepers will not strike.

Rick Campitelli, public relations spokesman for the union based in Washington, said in an interview there are several reasons for the proposed agents strike.

"We're basically working on a commission," Campitelli said. "We feel our agents are being compensated enough." Agents want more bonuses for better casualty loss ratios, a better dental plan and better health benefits.

The last Hancock agents strike in 1969 took three weeks before their representatives and management got together to negotiate.

The men want to stay out as long as they have to, in order to get what they want," Campitelli said.

He said the strike will have immediate effects. People who want coverage for the company won't be able to buy any insurance, and delays could be seen in existing claims.

But a spokesman for John Hancock noted that the strike affected only the 6,000 district agents of the company, not agents selling group insurance or independent agents.

John Feeley, director of the company's public information, said management personnel would staff the district offices around the nation.

"We don't expect any real serious disruption in service," Feeley said.

The union and company negotiators had reached a tentative agreement June 29 after a month of contract talks. No new talks have been scheduled, Feeley said.

Carter disclaims vendetta on USSR

By HELEN THOMAS
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Despite tough talk on both sides, President Carter says he has not 'embarked on a vendetta' against the Soviet Union over human rights and plans no further reprisals for the time being.

But during a prime-time televised and broadcast news conference Thursday, Carter defended the cutoff of a Sperry-Rand Univac computer to the Soviet news agency Tass to protest the recent conviction and prison sentences given dissidents Anatoly Shecharansky, Alexander Ginzburg and other dissidents.

"We have taken all the action that I intend to take for the time being," Carter said.

"We have expressed our displeasure in a very moderate way," he said. "I have not embarked on a vendetta against the Soviet Union. We cannot interfere in their internal affairs."

Despite his moves to cut off computer sales and closely scrutinize further transmission of oil-search technology to the Kremlin, Carter stressed several times that the United States would "like to have better relations with the Soviet Union."

But at the same time he repeated: "We have a deep commitment to the enhancement of human rights, not only here, but around the world."

Carter said the Soviet Union had signed the 1974 Helsinki Agreement, yet now is punishing and jailing dissidents who monitor compliance with

Agreement averts post office strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postal Service and union negotiators agreed today on a new contract for 570,000 postal employees.

The tentative pact provides for wage increases of 2 percent, 3 percent and 5 percent over three years.

The wage issue was the only major one that was still unresolved when negotiators "stopped the clock" to extend the contract, which expired at 12:01 a.m. today, while the talks continued.

Union workers had promised for days to stage a major strike if they did not have a new contract when the old one expired.

The tentative agreement came about at 4 a.m. EDT. Postmaster General William Bolger had joined the negotiations about 2:30 a.m.

"This wage package is respectable. It is not inflationary," said Jim Lapenta, secretary of the coordinating committee for the unions negotiating the pact. He described the wage package as "a slight improvement over the last one."

The negotiators had resolved an array of major issues Thursday afternoon and evening, coming to agreement on some issues that previously stalled negotiations and officials to manage their operations.

The threat of a rash of regional strikes, if not a nationwide walkout, had appeared serious enough before these breakthroughs for the Army to make contingency plans to help carry the mail.

But the newly stalled negotiations that had been under way since last April began to move again late Thursday when Postal Service negotiators agreed to continue a "no-layoffs" clause contained in the old contract.

Union negotiators declared they would sign no contract without it. They also signed a Postal Service agreement to continue a provision for cost-of-living increases on the same formula as the old contract.

"Every single one of the employers' take-away demands were withdrawn," Lapenta said. He also said the work rules still allowed postal officials to manage their operations.

Four major unions represented the Postal Service's 570,000 craft employees. The Postal Workers, Letter Carriers and Mail Handlers negotiated jointly and the Rural Letter Carriers conducted parallel but separate negotiations.

Union leaders, who had at no time joined publicized strike threats by their locals, had already sent word to the locals not to call for walkouts unless they had a contract.

Inside Today

Area towns	8
Classified	15-19
Comics	9
East Hartford	7
Editorial	1
Entertainment	14
Family	16
Manchester	2, 10, 20
Obituaries	6
Sports	11-13
State news	5

Timing questions plague water improvements study

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter
The mayor's Water Study Committee is best with unanswered questions and the fear that the projected $14.8 cost of the town's water distribution system may rise with inflation, and the possibility the item may not make a November referendum.

A review of the draft report submitted by the consulting engineering firm of Weston & Sampson in Boston revealed that the estimated cost doesn't include an expected inflation rise.

At one point, committee member John Rivosa, chief of the Manchester Fire Department, asked, "If we get all these improvements, will this take care of everything?"

Robert Young, water treatment manager, replied that Manchester will have a better circulation system and better water, "but we'll probably have future expenses."

As the committee studied maps prepared by Weston & Sampson which showed the new water distribution system, members were concerned that the maps didn't show the distribution lines that serve Manchester water customers in Glastonbury.

The committee also was concerned as to how the $1.5 million cost to replace the wooden water pipes into Glastonbury will be funded.

"I think we have to go to Glastonbury with enough money included on the referendum to take care of Glastonbury," Jay Giles, director of public works, said.

There are about 250 families in the Cedar Ridge area of Glastonbury who receive water from the Buckingham Reservoir before it is filtered in the Line Street plant.

Giles also recommended that before residents are asked in a November referendum about whether to approve issuing bonds for the improvements, they should be told of anticipated rising costs in the next five years that would cover such things as water main replacement.

Committee member Philip Rubin also said that the Weston & Sampson report should contain a listing of the pipes that may need replacement in the next few years.

With the various requests for additional information and clarification from Weston & Sampson, and the time it will take to prepare it, committee chairman Harry Reinhorn warned the committee not to be pressured because of a late report.

"I would be almost a full-time job for me if I tried," he added, evoking

Grasso seeking votes to preclude primary

HARTFORD (UPI) — For the first time in the state's history, Connecticut Democrats came to their state convention today in the uncomfortable position of having to choose between a sitting governor and her former running mate.

But Gov. Ella T. Grasso, one of the nation's two women governors, will be trying for more than a mere victory over her bitter rival, Lt. Gov. Robert K. Killian. The incumbent will be out to win four votes for every one her second-in-command can muster.

To avoid a September primary and end Killian's candidacy, Mrs. Grasso must garner more than 80 percent of the votes cast by the 1,357 delegates who will attend the party's nominating convention.

She says she can do it. Killian, the first lieutenant governor in Connecticut history to challenge a sitting governor of his own party, says she can't.

And while the state's No. 1 and 2 Democrats will be vying for their party's gubernatorial endorsement, at least 10 candidates will be battling to secure the lieutenant governor slot on the ticket.

About half that number — all women — will be fighting to become the secretary of the state nomination.

There appears to be little competition for the treasurer, comptroller and attorney general nominations. But that could change when the delegates get down to serious wheeling and dealing on the convention floor.

There was never any love in Mrs. Grasso's political marriage to Killian, a former attorney general who unsuccessfully challenged her for the Democratic nomination four years ago.

The partnership was arranged by the late Democratic State Chairman John M. Bailey, probably the most powerful man ever to wield influence on Connecticut's political scene.

After Mrs. Grasso, a two-term congresswoman, soundly defeated Killian in a primary in his hometown of Hartford in 1974, Bailey convinced the loser to step aside and take the No. 2 spot on the Democratic ticket.

But Bailey died shortly after Mrs. Grasso, the daughter of Italian immigrants, took office as the first woman ever elected governor in her own right. Ever since, Mrs. Grasso and her second-in-command have been fighting.

The seamy dispute peaked last month when Mrs. Grasso was forced to take the witness stand to testify about campaign advertisements preceding the May 2 New Britain Democratic primary that linked her name to a popular local lawyer who had nothing to do with the election.

A Superior Court judge ruled the advertisements were deceptive, but did not warrant the new primary.

Killian was seeking. Later, Mrs. Grasso said, "I pray to God to give me the strength to forgive him (Killian) for what he has tried to do to me and my family."

Killian, who says his boss has not spoken to him in over a year, is convinced he has considerably more than the 20 percent — or 272 votes — needed to force a statewide primary in the next registered Democratic voters on Sept. 12.

The lieutenant governor is so sure he has already started taking out radio and television ads for August.

But Mrs. Grasso is equally convinced she will have enough support at the two-day convention at Hartford's Bushnell Auditorium to stave off a primary challenge for her second-in-command.

The gubernatorial balloting should be wrapped up rather quickly Saturday. But the fight for the number two slot on the Democratic ticket could take all day.

Mrs. Grasso recently broke with tradition and announced she would not endorse any of the candidates running for lieutenant governor.

The early favorites in the crowded race are Democratic State Chairman and House Majority Leader William O'Neill, Senate Majority Leader Joseph Lieberman and State Comptroller J. Edward Caldwell.

None of them is expected to have enough support to see up the nomination on the first ballot.

Others hoping to win the party's second slot include John Dempsey Jr., Mrs. Grasso's campaign manager and the son of a popular former governor; James Kennedy, House Speaker and Bailey's son-in-law; Sen. Robert Houley, co-chairman of the Legislature's Appropriations Committee; John Downey, an ex-CIA agent who spent 20 years in a Chinese prison; and three mayors, Edward Bergin of Waterbury, Robert Johnson of West Haven and Arthur Power of Berlin.

There is also a crowded field of candidates hoping to become the secretary of the state nominee.

FREE REMOTE!

Curtis Mathes
The Most Exciting Television Set in America — and One Well Worth It.

TAKE YOUR PICK! 25" TWIN SPEAKER COLOR CONSOLES

4 YEAR WARRANTY
FREE REMOTE CONTROL ($100.00 VALUE)
PLUS 100 TRADE IN SAVES YOU $200.00!

Turnpike
273 W. MIDDLE TPK
OPEN WED. 9-5
THURS. 9-5
FRI. 9-5
SAT. 10-5
BUDGET TO 36 MONTHS

Town and CHIF dicker contract

The Town of Manchester and a firm it expects to hire to monitor the local rental market have not reached a contract agreement.

The town's hiring of a firm to monitor the rental market is one step it must take to receive its $483,000 Community Development grant.

The town had proposed to hire the Connecticut Housing Investment Fund for $5,000. A contract agreement between the town and CHIF has not yet been reached.

If CHIF decides not to monitor in Manchester, it is not clear what steps the town will take to keep its Community Development funding.

The Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development has given Manchester $50,000 of that grant, but the remainder is being withheld and will not be given to the town unless certain steps are taken by July 31.

These steps include the monitoring of the rental market and the hiring of an equal opportunity coordinator for housing. That position is expected to be filled soon, town officials have said.

Bloodmobile will visit South Church Wednesday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Manchester for its monthly visit Wednesday from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. at South United Methodist Church.

Donors who have made appointments are asked to keep them. Walk-in donors will be welcome.

Donors are asked to use the parking area across Hartford Road from the church. Parking in the driveway off Main Street is not permitted.

In a cooperative effort to help increase blood donations during summer months when collections are traditionally at a very low level, members of North United Methodist Church and the United Methodist Church of Bolton, along with members of South Methodist, are being encouraged to support the blood program by being donors.

Current blood supplies at the Red Cross Blood Center are at a very low level and it is imperative that each community do its part to help meet Bloodmobile quotas, Red Cross officials said.

Appointments for the Bloodmobile may be made by calling the Manchester Red Cross office, 643-5111.

Camp, these youngsters, celebrate 11th birthday

The 60 children from Hartford and Manchester along with their teenage counselors at Manchester's Interfaith Day Camp celebrated the camp's 11th anniversary Thursday with a birthday party. Two campers, Lee Lester, left, and Vincent Westberry, who became 11 yesterday blew out the candles on the large birthday cake. The party, including gifts, was made possible by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patten of 33 Mather St., who donated funds for the party as a 30th wedding anniversary gift to each other, and Leo Juran of the Fairway store on Main Street, who also contributed to the party. (Herald photo by Pinto)

News briefs

U.S. protests

MOSCOW (UPI) — The United States has filed a "strong protest" over the attack of an American diplomat by a Soviet policeman on the grounds of the U.S. Embassy.

Second Secretary Raymond F. Smith, the American observer who stood outside the courtroom during the trial of dissident Anatoly Shcharansky, was jumped from behind Thursday by a policeman after entering the embassy grounds.

Smith was not injured but during the scuffle a sleeve was ripped from his coat.

American sources said Smith, 37, of Philadelphia was entering the north wing apartment complex of the embassy when one of the five Soviet militiamen normally stationed outside ran after him, jumping him from behind.

"The entire incident occurred on embassy property and therefore constituted an intrusion into embassy grounds," the U.S. Embassy said. "A strong protest is being lodged with the Soviet Foreign Ministry."

Mitchell paroled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unless the U.S. Parole Commission changes its mind, former Attorney General John Mitchell will spend Christmas in a federal prison in Alabama — the last Watergate figure to be freed.

The commission Thursday granted parole for Mitchell effective Jan. 19, 1979, which would mean a 18-month term.

The nation's former chief law enforcement officer was convicted of conspiracy and obstruction of justice for attempting to cover up the 1972 break-in at the Democratic National Committee's headquarters in the Watergate complex.

The commission, in a rare statement explaining its decision, said Mitchell must stay in prison until January because he spent five months on furlough for an operation to correct a ballooned artery and replace a disintegrated hip.

Wins $250,000

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Laura O'Neill, a Miami airline employee, Thursday won a $250,000 jackpot, believed to be the largest slot machine payoff in the history of Nevada.

Casino employees at the Las Vegas Hilton said Mrs. O'Neill, 32, appeared to be slightly dazed when she first learned the size of the jackpot, murmuring in astonishment.

"A quarter of a million dollars... a quarter of a million dollars... a quarter of a million dollars. I can't believe it."

"I never played too much — mostly just nickels."

Disagree on talks

Egypt and Israel, disappointed over the lack of progress at the Leeds Castle conference, say they have not yet agreed to the follow-up round of talks urged by Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

After returning to their respective capitals Thursday following the two-day meeting with Vance at a castle outside London, the Israeli and Egyptian foreign ministers both disputed Vance's assertion that new talks would be held in the Middle East in two weeks.

Asked about Vance's announcement he would be returning to the Middle East in two weeks for the talks, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan replied, "this is Vance's problem."

"We did not fix a time, nor make suggestions nor announce a new round of talks in two weeks," Dayan said.

Water main break fixed

A water main break occurred Thursday during reconstruction of American Legion Drive in Manchester.

The break occurred at about 2:30 p.m. and was repaired by 8 p.m., Frank Jodanis, water and sewer administrator, said.

Water was shut off at the American Legion building, the Atlas-Bantley Oil Co. building at 331 Main St. and the Dillon Ford building at 319 Main St. while the repair work was done.

The town is reconstructing the road, a small one off Main Street. Subsurface material apparently has settled in the past, causing the road and sidewalks to crack. Dillon Ford also has reported that it has had problems with the wall of its building splitting.

The water line on Legion Drive also has broken in the past, also apparently because of this settling of subsurface.

The town is hoping to correct the problem by rebuilding the area, a job that is expected to take a couple of more weeks.

The water break apparently occurred when a piece of town equipment accidentally struck the water line.

Blood pressure clinic set

The monthly blood pressure clinic of the geriatric program sponsored by the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association will be Tuesday from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Cronin Hall, Mayfair Gardens, North Main Street. It will be held right after the noon meal is served there. No appointment is needed.

Every Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon at Mayfair Gardens, Pippilis Stach GNP, and Margaret Mills, CHA, will see people over 60 years of age by ap-

Manchester police report

Manchester Police Thursday arrested a town resident who had escaped from the Norwich State Hospital.

William T. Shillington, 35, of 875 Main St. was charged with escape from custody, police said. He was reported missing from the hospital July 12.

He was under arrest at the time of his commitment, police said. Court date is Aug. 7.

Manchester Police also reported the following arrests:

- Gordon M. Derby, 21, of 12 Vernon St. charged with second-degree failure to appear.
- Ted M. Williams, 20, of 125 Main St. charged with improper use of registration plates and operating a motorcycle without a motorcycle license. Court date is Aug. 1.
- Robert J. Ahern, 62, of 869 Main St. charged with breach of peace. Court date is Aug. 7. Police said that he found a man on the ground on Main Street. He was brought to the hospital and then told by an officer to go with a doctor. When this happened, the man tried to hit the police officer, police reported.

Stealing was secondary

The thief or thieves who entered a Locust Street home Thursday apparently were more interested in eating and cooling off than in stealing.

The break into the home was reported to Manchester Police at 8:48 p.m. by the owner.

But, nothing of value was taken, the owners told police.

The owners did find the air-conditioning unit on. They also told police that it appeared the shower theft of gas from a Colonial Road address.

A home on Adelaide Road was broken into and two bank books were taken, police reported. A jar of quarters, also reported missing, was found outside the home by police.

Police reported an attempted break into a Canfield Road residence, but no entrance was gained.

A check was stolen from the mailbox of a Durant Street home, police said. A bathing suit, valued at $20, was taken from the clothesline of a Cornell Street home.

Police also reported an attempted theft of gas from a Colonial Road address.

Siltation basin relocation started off Briarwood Drive

Neighbors have complained about odor and mosquitoes at the present basin. These problems are apt to develop in a stagnant body of water but can be controlled, Giles said.

He has recommended that the developer, Society for Savings, consider also creating a detention basin at the new site.

Jay Giles, director of public works, said today that he has asked the developer of the subdivision to consider also creating a detention basin at the new site.

Neighbors in the area, however, are concerned about the proposed plan and expressed displeasure that they are not being kept posted about what is happening.

The Manchester Board of Directors originally approved a detention basin on town-owned property behind some of the Briarwood Drive homes. Neighbors later protested the proposal and said that it would be a safety hazard, particularly for children in the area.

A new siltation basin is being built because the present basin, also behind the same group of homes on Briarwood Drive, is no longer effective, Giles said.

The old basin either will be filled in or used as a backup to the new one, he said.

A siltation basin must have water in it all the time to allow silt to drop out.

"That's just something that has to be done to control siltation in a subdivision," Giles said.

Neighbors have complained about odor and mosquitoes at the present basin. These problems are apt to develop in a stagnant body of water but can be controlled, Giles said.

He has recommended that the developer, Society for Savings, consider also creating a detention basin at the new site.

Jay Giles, director of public works, said today that he has asked the developer of the subdivision to consider also creating a detention basin at the new site.

Neighbors in the area, however, are concerned about the proposed plan and expressed displeasure that they are not being kept posted about what is happening.

The Manchester Board of Directors originally approved a detention basin on town-owned property behind some of the Briarwood Drive homes. Neighbors later protested the proposal and said that it would be a safety hazard, particularly for children in the area.

A new siltation basin is being built because the present basin, also behind the same group of homes on Briarwood Drive, is no longer effective, Giles said.

The old basin either will be filled in or used as a backup to the new one, he said.

A siltation basin must have water in it all the time to allow silt to drop out.

"That's just something that has to be done to control siltation in a subdivision," Giles said.

Water main break fixed

A water main break occurred Thursday during reconstruction of American Legion Drive in Manchester.

The break occurred at about 2:30 p.m. and was repaired by 8 p.m., Frank Jodanis, water and sewer administrator, said.

Water was shut off at the American Legion building, the Atlas-Bantley Oil Co. building at 331 Main St. and the Dillon Ford building at 319 Main St. while the repair work was done.

The town is reconstructing the road, a small one off Main Street. Subsurface material apparently has settled in the past, causing the road and sidewalks to crack. Dillon Ford also has reported that it has had problems with the wall of its building splitting.

The water line on Legion Drive also has broken in the past, also apparently because of this settling of subsurface.

The town is hoping to correct the problem by rebuilding the area, a job that is expected to take a couple of more weeks.

The water break apparently occurred when a piece of town equipment accidentally struck the water line.

Ready for occupancy Aug. 1

Several of the new elderly housing units in Spencer Village are shown before tenants are expected to move in Aug. 1. Several construction repairs and adjustments are being made before tenants may move in. (Herald photo by Chastain)

Several of the new elderly housing units in Spencer Village are shown before tenants are expected to move in Aug. 1. Several construction repairs and adjustments are being made before tenants may move in. (Herald photo by Chastain)

Science today

Old medical tool resurrected by psychiatrist

By MARY ELLEN HASKETT

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Johns Hopkins Hospital psychiatrist has resurrected an old medical instrument and remodeled it for use in screening psychiatric patients for preliminary indications of the causes of their psychological problems.

Dr. Marshal Folstein, with the help of Dr. Neil Pauker, took a 60-year-old old medical tool, called the hand-held tachistoscope, and refashioned it with a modern camera shutter.

Folstein's device is a simple-looking tool with a wooden handle that supports the large camera shutter. The shutter opens and closes quickly while patients are asked to determine in what direction the letter E pasted in the back of the lens is facing.

Folstein, director of general hospital psychiatry at Hopkins, has used his new tool to help distinguish between psychological symptoms of psychiatric disorders, drug-related delirium and brain damage resulting from strokes, tumors or other diseases.

"We don't know why it works, but this test of perception can tell you whether people are, or are not, in touch with normal speed and clarity, or that emotional problems may be related to brain disorder," he said.

Folstein has crafted four of the devices and tested its validity in clinical tests on 170 psychiatric and neurological patients.

The tests confirmed the remodeled tachistoscope's ability to distinguish patients according to symptoms of depression or schizophrenia and delirium, and between two types of brain disorders — cortical and sub-cortical neuropathology.

"The thing that we're interested in is methods of psychological screening," Folstein said. "Blood tests and Pap smears are used in medicine to screen patients for further testing, but in psychiatry we don't have many tools."

He said his instrument indicates early signs of various psychological disorders because visual perception is slowed in patients with such diseases as delirium, strokes, hallucinations, and memory lapses.

"If perception is slow, the problem is probably related to some structural brain disease or intoxication," Folstein said. "For instance, you can feel fairly certain it is hallucinations and not schizophrenia."

He said the device also is economically important to hospitals because it can be used by people who have never seen patients.

For instance, a first-year medical student at Hopkins has been testing emergency room patients with the device.

Folstein said a number of physicians and psychiatrists in the United States and Australia have expressed interest in the device. But he expects a wait of about five years before it is widely used while doctors decide whether they find it as useful as he does.

Various models of the tachistoscope have been used in psychological research concerning perception for 60 years.

However, its use as a clinical tool has been limited due to the expense and large size of earlier models and the needs for a controlled laboratory setting.

Folstein found a reference to a hand-held tachistoscope in literature from 1898 and reconstructed it to meet modern demands, resurrecting it from the obscurity into which it had fallen.

"It's not patented, anyone can make one," he said. "We're using it now in research and the emergency room while we collect more data."

perception for 60 years.

However, its use as a clinical tool has been limited due to the expense and large size of earlier models and the needs for a controlled laboratory setting.

Folstein found a reference to a hand-held tachistoscope in literature from 1898 and reconstructed it to meet modern demands, resurrecting it from the obscurity into which it had fallen.

"It's not patented, anyone can make one," he said. "We're using it now in research and the emergency room while we collect more data."

Restaurant Guide

The Country Squire
TEL. 872-3727
ROUTE 51 • BALWINGTON
Steaks-Seafood-Italian American Specialties
1 1/2 lb. LOBSTER $6.95
VEAL CORDON BLEU $5.75
Above Items Include Sautéed Beef
WARRANTY FACILITIES FOR 25 TO 40 PEOPLE

Thursdays
(Ladies Night - Drink 1/2 Price)
Thurs. - David Abington
ALSO FRI. & SAT. "CORONA"

KENNEL CLUB RESTAURANT
THE DRINK AND COCKTAILS IN A COUNTRY ATMOSPHERE
WED. THRU SAT
RESERVATIONS
649-0079

AT VANNEK KENNELS, IN MAULE EAST OF P.O., BOLTON LAKE RD. #46, BOLTON, CT.

LA STRADA WEST RESTAURANT
Pizza & Grinders
471 HARTFORD RD. (COR. MAULE ST.) MANCHESTER
643-6165

THIS AD IS WORTH
25¢ OFF HALF GRINDER OR SMALL PIZZA
50¢ OFF WHOLE GRINDER OR MEDIUM PIZZA
Good Thru July 29

GOOD FOR ORDERS IN THE RESTAURANT ONLY
Breakfast 5:30 AM Italian Restaurant Opens 11:00

ONE COUPON PER PARTY
OPEN SUNDAYS TIL 9 PM
CUT OUT COUPON CUT OUT BY 08

The Islander
CHINESE-POLYNESIAN & AMERICAN CUISINE
Our Specialties Include
SEAFOOD • POULTRY
STEAK DISHES
LUAU DINNERS

COCKTAIL LOUNGE • EXOTIC ISLAND DRINKS
LATE DINNERS AND SNACKS

Special Family Dinners Every Sunday
Businessmen & Shoppers
Special Luncheons 11-3 Daily
(except Sunday and holidays)

WE CATER TO PARTIES, BANQUETS AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS.
FOR RESERVATIONS AND TAKE OUT ORDERS
CALL 643-8828

OPEN MON.-THURS.
11 AM - 11 PM
FRI. AND SAT.
11 AM - 2 AM
SUNDAY 11 AM - 10 PM

Mr. Steak
AMERICA'S STEAK EXPERT

SUNDAY DINING at Mr. STEAK

AT Mr. Steak we offer a complete line of aged U.S.D.A. Choice Steaks. Sea Food? Fresh seafood dinners are also our specialty as well as combination dinners of your favorite seafood and steak. Our children's menu contains a wide selection of quality foods.

FOR THE MONTH OF JULY
WE ARE OFFERING THIS SUNDAY SPECIAL

THIS COUPON OFFERS A SAVINGS OF ONE HALF DOLLAR PER PERSON ON ANY REGULAR PRICED DINNER.
OFFER GOOD ANY SUNDAY FOR THE MONTH OF JULY
Excluding Childrens Menus, and Specials.

Exclusively At
Mr. STEAK of Manchester
244 CENTER STREET

market restaurant
FRI., SAT., SUN. SPECIAL

FRESH SALMON
WITH RICE PLAT
THREE OF SOUP
EXTENSIVE SALAD BAR
ASSORTED BREADS

$7.45 COMPLETE

HAPPY HOUR DAILY WITH COMPLIMENTARY HORSE DRESSING ENTERTAINMENT IN OUR LOUNGE

GLEN LOCHEN
NEW LONDON TPK • GLASTONBURY
OPEN DAILY accommodations for food parties 633-3832

TOMMY'S PIZZARIA

QUALITY QUANTITY

THAT'S ALL WE NEED TO SAY

206 W. CENTER 267 E. CENTER
646-6661 646-2550
MANCHESTER

Raffa's
Chef's specials for the week...

TORTOLINI BOLOGNESE4.95
Cooled 11 Brie and covered with a rich thick bolognese meat sauce.

OSSO BUCCO MILANESE5.50
Meat tender young veal shanks cooked in seasoned tomato sauce with rice.

BAKED SCALLOP SAUTEE5.95
Cooled 11 Brie and covered with a rich thick bolognese meat sauce.

RAINBOW TROUT ALMONDINE .6.50
1 lb. broiler trout served with sliced almonds in a butter sauce.

TENDERLOIN TIPS PIZZOLLA ...6.75
Chunks of tender beef marinated with fresh mushrooms, onions, green peppers with cherry sauce.

BROILED SKORDFISH STEAK ...6.95
Fresh scordfish steak dipped in butter and broiled golden brown.

2815 Main Street, Glastonbury 633-1691

ENTERTAINMENT IN OUR LOUNGE NIGHTLY
Happy hour daily from 4-8:30, all bar drinks 1/2.

All items served with salad, potato and vegetable, or salad and side of spaghetti

Featuring Authentic Polynesian and Cantonese Specialties

ENJOY DINING IN THE NEW "Peacock Room"

Luncheon Specials
from $1.95
Weekdays 11-2
Also
EXOTIC POLYNESIAN DRINKS
SPECIAL FAMILY DINNERS and TRY OUR FAMOUS PUPU PLATTER

HOUSE OF CHUNG
Featuring Authentic Polynesian and Cantonese Specialties
649-4958
363 BROAD ST. MANCHESTER

21 JULY 21

Manchester Evening Herald

Member, Audit Bureau of Circulation... Founded Oct. 1, 1881... Published by the Manchester Publishing Co., Herald Square, Manchester, Conn. 06040. Telephone (203) 643-2711.

Opinion

Zeroing on terrorism

Although Italy seems to be the favored battleground of terrorist groups at the moment, they also are active in a half dozen other European nations and throughout the continent of Africa.

Free societies frequently find themselves ill-equipped to defend against the terrorists particularly vicious brand of attack. There are positive measures which can be taken.

Other editors say:

A few short years ago a president named Richard Nixon fled Washington in disgrace, a direct result of the Watergate scandal. He was roundly despised by the vast majority of Americans.

The conflict between smokers and non-smokers gets hotter. Latest fuel to this spreading fire comes from a government study that says the smoke from other people's cigarettes can be a hazard to the health of those with certain physical disorders.

Andrew Young:

Carter's unguided missile

By LEE RODERICK WASHINGTON — Andrew Young has dishonored his country and the cause of freedom everywhere. He should resign as U.N. Ambassador or be removed from office.

But the burden of his removal lies not with Congress, which attempted to impeach him following his incredible remark that there are "hundreds, maybe even thousands of people I would call political prisoners in U.S. jails."

The responsibility for the conduct of Ambassador Young rests with the president of the United States, noted Rep. Charles Wiggins (R-Calif.) in floor debate. "If we are to heap criticism on Mr. Young, we should perform first that some criticism on that individual who maintains Mr. Young in office and fails to supervise his conduct."

Feelings are running high against Young, however, and some members of the House were in no mood to wait if, as they have in the past, to see if Carter would take action to defuse his unguided missile. A motion to impeach Young was killed on a procedural vote of 293-62 tabling it.

In Connecticut, Congressmen William Cotter, Christopher Dodd, Robert Giamo, Ronald Sarasin and Toby Moffett voted to kill the impeachment motion. Congressman Stewart McKinney did not vote on the motion.

The bill of particulars against Carter's close friend and fellow Georgian is long. Shortly after his nomination in 1977 he called the Cuban forces a "stabilizing influence" in Angola—a remark he has never retracted.

Rather than cement relationships with allies, Young has gone out of his way to insult them. Britain, according to him, "almost invented racism." The Swedes are "terrible

The robot revolution

By DON GRAFF Robot Revolution. Within the next few years, Delphi advises, new generations of robots and other mechanical devices with sensory sophistication approximating human capabilities in assembly work will be developed and introduced into basic manufacturing processes.

We have it on the president authority of the Delphi Forecast, a look into the near future of employment trends by a joint research team of the University of Michigan and the Society of Manufacturing Engineers. In just 12 years, the study predicts a 32-hour workweek will be standard in unionized industries. And it will be in large part because of the advent of a new stage in industrial development which might be called the robot revolution. By 1990, at least half of the direct labor presently involved in small parts assembly will have been replaced by programmed automation. Production patterns also will have been changed to eliminate repetitive simple tasks by workers. Instead, individuals in a streamlined workforce will perform a variety of tasks that have not or cannot be automated, in some cases following the production of an item from start to completion.

The new industrial era isn't likely to be trouble free, however. Delphi foresees a shortage of technicians with the skills necessary to service all the new computer-controlled robots and automated equipment. The 32-hour workweek could thus turn out to have some un-programmed and not so desirable characteristics, such as a high rate of robot absenteeism and a lot of overtime for their human repairmen on those long-three-day weekends.

By HELEN THOMAS UPI White House Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter has made promises at the Bonn economic summit he hopes he can keep. But Congress holds all the cards. Carter convinced the leaders of the giant industrialized nations that he expects to cut down oil imports and to raise the value of the dollar on the world market. He says he gave no formal commitments on his other options if Congress again fails him.

On the personal side, there is no question that the five-day journey to West Germany, which included a state visit, was exhilarating for him. He felt good about it and was satisfied that he had made points while at the same time not conceding the economic weaknesses and a liability that he drew a crowd of what was estimated as one-third of Berlin when his motorcade passed slowly down fit on the occasion of Carter's visit. Also, unlike John F. Kennedy's famous trip to Berlin in 1963, an estimated 85 percent of the East Germans were able to catch Carter's visit on television.

Perhaps the highest compliment on Carter's give-and-take performance at the town meeting came from West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, who has been very sparing in his praise of Carter in the past. Schmidt told an interviewer that if Carter had been running for public office in Berlin, he would have been elected.

The president's appearance was a spectacular showcase for democracy. With the people asking questions which had not been censored beforehand, Carter's candid answers — even the "I don't know" on the question of when the wall would come down — was impressive. He had been primed beforehand to look out for booby trap East-West questions. State Department officials said openly that they were nervous over the prospect of questions coming from left field which might cause international repercussions. But Carter was at home with the press conference style format which he has used so often.

On such occasions, Carter displays a flair for handling tough questions and gives articulate responses. He also has a chance to project his personality and at times displays a quick sense of humor, which does not come across in his prepared addresses. Thus, in people contacts abroad, Carter seems to have touched a chord. The German people, no matter what Schmidt's attitude may be, reacted favorably to the visit by an American leader.

Get a slice of the pie

By ANDREW TULLY WASHINGTON — To play soothsayer is to live dangerously, but it seems reasonably safe to predict that Congress ultimately will pass legislation substantially reducing the tax on capital gains.

President Carter made a mistake by indulging in demagoguery to denounce a stiff capital gains tax cut as a gift for the rich. In fact, although millions would benefit, so would a lot of moderate-income Americans, and Congressional mail reflects hefty support from that sector for such a tax break.

These correspondents make the point that the wealthy are not the only people who invest money for profit. Millions of non-rich citizens own stocks and bonds and otherwise have stakes in the economy. They pay capital gains taxes, too.

Thus they don't much care what a capital gains tax cut would do for millionaires so long as they also get a slice of the pie, however thin.

There is another point. Profits on investments, whether in Wall Street or in real estate, are not buried under the cellar. They are banked, reinvested, or spent. In any case, this money provides capital to stimulate the economy. And when the economy is stimulated — when there are more jobs and increased productivity — everybody benefits.

To be sure, people invest capital in hopes of making money. They don't ask for condolences if they suffer losses, but they would like to retain more of their winnings when they're lucky. And the more money Uncle Sam lets them keep, the better the chances they'll invest it in savings or General Motors.

Most economists now agree that lowering capital gains taxes would dampen inflation. Many others claim that reducing them eventually would increase tax revenues by creating more jobs and boosting productivity. A working man pays taxes, a jobless man doesn't. Similarly, a health economy boosts the take from sales and other taxes.

On that subject, another viewpoint is submitted by William Bonner, executive director of the National Taxpayers Union. Bonner notes that there are some groups whose positions are improved by high capital gains taxes, namely, the biggest businesses and the biggest banks.

Says Bonner: "To big business, high capital gains taxes provide a way to cut off competition. Up-and-coming entrepreneurs are not able to get the equity financing they need. As a result, big businesses stay big and little businesses stay little."

"Not only does the situation help protect big businesses from competition, it also provides a considerable boost to the big banks. While taxing capital gains and doubly taxing dividends, tax laws allow businesses to deduct interest on borrowed money. This makes debt financing relatively cheaper to businesses than equity financing. In 1976, businesses received six times as much in borrowed money as in equity capital."

"Generally, banks will not lend to entrepreneurs. Instead, the money goes to large, well-established companies, already rich enough to guarantee repayment. The banker, like the bureaucrat, is a risk-averse."

As any small businessman or would-be small businessman can testify, Bonner is right on the mark. But a capital gains tax cut at least would encourage the small investor to gamble some of his profits on the prospect of that entrepreneur's seeking to expand, say, his small machine shop. If enough investors are found, that machine shop can provide new jobs — and more income taxes for the Treasury.

There is a very beautiful song which says: "Be not afraid; I go before you always. Come, follow me, and I will give you rest."

How often we all need to remember those words! There are so many situations in our lives when we are timid, fearful, hesitant, unsure... Then we need to recall how often, how regularly the Lord reassured those he called: "Fear not, for I am with you." (Isa. 43:4)

The patriarchs, the prophets, the apostles and disciples of Jesus: all heard and heeded the loving voice of the Lord.

"The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom should I fear? The Lord is in my life's refuge; of whom should I be afraid?" (Psalm 27:1)

Sister Katherine Panalitis, CND St. Bartholomew Convent

25 years ago his eighth term in Eighth District. This date was a Sunday; The Herald did not publish.

Planning Board blocks liquor law changes. Fire Chief John Merz is named for his eighth term in Eighth District.

Yesterdays

Thoughts

Hartford city architect resigns after criticism over roof collapse

HARTFORD (UPI) — Hartford's city architect has resigned a few days after a report criticized him and several other officials for failing to have the Hartford Civic Center coliseum roof inspected. The roof collapsed in January.

The head of the city's troubled Comprehensive Manpower Program, which funnels millions of dollars in federal funds, also resigned Thursday. City Manager James Daken said the resignations were not related or requested.

Walter Reed, city architect for eight years, said in his letter of resignation he felt it was in his best professional interests to quit. "Although my future plans are indefinite, unless I leave now, they will be severely limited," Reed said. His resignation is effective Aug. 18.

A City Council committee investigating the cause of the Jan. 18 roof cave-in issued a report last week after six months of hearings. The roof collapsed a few hours after 5,000 sports fans had left the arena. No injuries were reported.

The report was critical of Reed for his role in not hiring an independent inspector to keep watch while the roof was under construction. The inspection was left to the construction managers, the William L. Crow Construction Co. An engineer for the firm, Philip Dalrymple, testified the company thought its job was only to supervise testing by other firms.

Reed was critical of Reed for his role in not hiring an independent inspector to keep watch while the roof was under construction. The inspection was left to the construction managers, the William L. Crow Construction Co. An engineer for the firm, Philip Dalrymple, testified the company thought its job was only to supervise testing by other firms.

he said. "But if we do not feel the complaints are handled fairly, we will go to court." Assistant Attorney General Robert Langer said the questionnaires were in effect subpoenas and failure to respond could mean legal action or forfeiture of charter rights of the companies to sell their products in Connecticut.

Laboratory tests show the vitamin C content in pure orange juice and orange juice concentrate in ready-to-drink containers "decreased dramatically over the shelf life of the products," said Consumer Protection Commissioner Mary Heslin.

If the vitamin C content of a container of orange juice is low, Mrs. Heslin said Thursday, it could adversely affect consumers who rely on the product to obtain the daily minimum requirement of vitamin C.

She also is worried about possible misleading or deceptive advertising by the industry about orange juice's effectiveness in treating flu and colds.

Mrs. Heslin said 18 leading orange juice producers and processors have been sent questionnaires or "investigative demands" that must be returned by Sept. 22.

She did not name the 18 producers, but said they were the leading producers and processors of orange juice in the country. The investigation does not include frozen orange juice because tests show "nutrient values don't diminish as rapidly as in fresh and pasteurized juices," Mrs. Heslin said.

Track delay asked MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Race track developer Ronald H. Mooney's attorney has requested more time for his client's plans for a $55 million horse race track in Middletown.

Attorney Harold F. Keith Thursday asked the Planning and Zoning Commission approval for the track. He said Mooney has countered unanticipated delays in making financial arrangements.

Mooney's delays, caused by his inability to line up financing so far, have cost him his state gaming license and state Traffic Commission certificate for road work on the project.

Track delay asked MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Race track developer Ronald H. Mooney's attorney has requested more time for his client's plans for a $55 million horse race track in Middletown.

Attorney Harold F. Keith Thursday asked the Planning and Zoning Commission approval for the track. He said Mooney has countered unanticipated delays in making financial arrangements.

Mooney's delays, caused by his inability to line up financing so far, have cost him his state gaming license and state Traffic Commission certificate for road work on the project.

Track delay asked MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Race track developer Ronald H. Mooney's attorney has requested more time for his client's plans for a $55 million horse race track in Middletown.

Attorney Harold F. Keith Thursday asked the Planning and Zoning Commission approval for the track. He said Mooney has countered unanticipated delays in making financial arrangements.

Mooney's delays, caused by his inability to line up financing so far, have cost him his state gaming license and state Traffic Commission certificate for road work on the project.

Track delay asked MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Race track developer Ronald H. Mooney's attorney has requested more time for his client's plans for a $55 million horse race track in Middletown.

Attorney Harold F. Keith Thursday asked the Planning and Zoning Commission approval for the track. He said Mooney has countered unanticipated delays in making financial arrangements.

Mooney's delays, caused by his inability to line up financing so far, have cost him his state gaming license and state Traffic Commission certificate for road work on the project.

Connecticut news briefs

Pleads innocent HARTFORD (UPI) — Hassan Janmohamed, 36, of Middletown, former competitor of the Bushnell Memorial, has pleaded innocent to charges he embezzled $90,000 from the concert hall.

Janmohamed was released Thursday in Hartford Superior Court on $3,500 bond pending a jury trial.

Demands raised HARTFORD (UPI) — Fifty-five Superior Court reporters are demanding their $18,000 salaries be upgraded because under the July 1 court merger they now have to work five instead of four days a week.

A spokesman for the Connecticut State Employees Association said Thursday the reporters, who transcribe court proceedings, were able to earn an average $7,000 extra a year by doing free-lance work on the fifth day.

Strikers arrested NORWICH (UPI) — Two of 150 oil company employees picketing service stations that use fuel from their firms were arrested Thursday for allegedly throwing unidentified objects at an oil truck from an overpass.

James Irons, 34, of Volantown, was charged with reckless endangerment, throwing an object at a motor vehicle and criminal mischief. Louis Michael, 36, of Bozrah, was charged with conspiracy to commit the same crimes. They were released pending a hearing Monday in Norwich Superior Court.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

In testimony, Queveiras admitted he hit Alberto Romero, 36, over the head with a bat July 10, 1977, but said Romero was threatening him with a knife. Romero fell downstairs after he was hit in front of the door of the third-floor apartment where Queveiras was living with Romano's sister.

Bat slaying HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford Superior Court jury has convicted Aristarco Queveiras, 45, of Hartford, of negligent homicide for killing his girlfriend's brother with a baseball bat after an argument.

The jury Thursday acquitted Queveiras of first degree and second degree manslaughter charges in connection with the slaying.

GIGANTIC MID-SUMMER SALE

Tougher than a New England winter. Jennite J-16 is the driveway sealer proven tough from Alaska to the Sahara.

REGULAR MIX Reg. 8.50 NOW 7.70 SAND MIX Reg. 9.80 NOW 8.80

OWENS CORNING FIBERGLASS CEILING TILES

Table with 3 columns: Product Name, Price, and Description. Includes items like 2'x4' White Lay-in Panels, Prefinished White Grid System, and Prefinished Wood Grain Grid System.

FLUSH DOORS

GO TAPELESS!

TO END TAPING PROBLEMS FOREVER!

W. H. ENGLAND Lumber COMPANY

ROUTE 44A, BOLTON NOTCH OPEN MON.-FRI. 7:30-5:00, SAT. 7:30 TO 4:00

$500.00 REWARD ON TUESDAY JULY 18, 1978 BETWEEN 8:30 & 9:30 P.M. SOMEONE IN THE PORTER ST. OAKROVE AREA SHOT AND CRITICALLY WOUNDED A GERMAN SHEPHERD.

WAREHOUSE SALE SAVINGS ON USED EQUIPMENT AND FLOOR MODELS

KINGS YOUR EARS PIERCED

ONE DAY ONLY! 11 am-5 pm SAT. JULY 22

storage chests $1.22

FAIRWAY

YOUR EARS PIERCED

PLUS A Pair of Hypo-Allergic Earring Studs

PLUS A Pair of Pearl Hypo-Allergic Earrings

FLUSH DOORS

GO TAPELESS!

W. H. ENGLAND Lumber COMPANY

ROUTE 44A, BOLTON NOTCH OPEN MON.-FRI. 7:30-5:00, SAT. 7:30 TO 4:00

PLUS A Pair of Pearl Hypo-Allergic Earrings

21 JULY 21

21

21

Henry-DesRosier

Elizabeth Jayne DesRosier and Kenneth Joseph Henry, both of Mansfield, Conn., were married June 18 at St. John's Catholic Church in Mansfield, Conn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton DesRosier of Mansfield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry of 54 Amott Road.

The Rev. John Marshall of St. John's Catholic Church officiated.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress. Mike Andrews of Reno, Nev., was soloist and Marge Oland of Auburn, Calif., was organist.

Best man was Tom DesRosier and Charles DesRosier, both of Mansfield and brothers of the bride. Joe Ricchetti of Mansfield, Leonard DesRosier of Killeen, Texas, the bride's brother, and Bobby Rodgers of Mansfield, junior bridesmaids were Miss Anna Miller and Miss Tammy Miller, both of Mansfield. Miss Bobbi Miller of Mansfield was flower girl.

Kevin Dougan of Mansfield served as best man. Ushers were Tom DesRosier and Charles DesRosier, both of Mansfield and brothers of the bride. Joe Ricchetti of Mansfield, Leonard DesRosier of Killeen, Texas, the bride's brother, and Bobby Rodgers of Mansfield, junior bridesmaids were Miss Anna Miller and Miss Tammy Miller, both of Mansfield. Miss Bobbi Miller of Mansfield was flower girl.

The bridegroom's parents and his paternal grandparents attended the wedding.

A reception was held at the Old Opera House in Auburn, Calif., after which the couple left for Waikiki Beach and Kona in Hawaii. They will reside in Mansfield, Conn.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Henry are serving as airman first class in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Beale AFB, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Henry

Wives prefer to go it alone

Dieters don't need 'help'

By Dr. Richard Stuart

DR. RICHARD STUART is psychological director of Weight Watchers International, Inc., and author of "Act This-Stay Thin" (Norton).

Wives would rather go it alone than have their husbands' help in losing weight. This is the conclusion of a recent survey I conducted of attitudes toward weight-control programs.

More than three-fourths of the women who reached their goal weights through participation in a weight-control group said their dieting was simplified by their husbands not being involved.

Moreover, the women ranked the desire to please their husbands first in a list of seven reasons for wishing to lose weight. The list was headed by desire to improve personal appearance and health and to prove to themselves that they could do it.

While only one-third of the wives who succeeded in losing weight said they would have wanted their husbands to attend weight control classes with them, more than a half said their husbands had been helpful during their dieting. One-third of the women said they had also received help from their children.

These findings suggest that, while constructive input from family members may help some women to lose weight, others may prefer a lack of this support. Indeed, many of the women in the survey indicated that their husbands actually interfered with their weight-loss efforts.

The survey, summarized in my book "Act This-Stay Thin" (Norton), offers some insight into how and why many husbands were not helpful.

Husbands are far more likely to comment on their wives' dieting failures than to praise their dieting successes. They are also unlikely to curb their own overeating to aid their wife's food-management efforts.

Few husbands deliberately try to sabotage their wives' efforts. Rather they are often unaware of what they are doing and of the impact of their behavior upon their wives. Some husbands simply enjoy overeating with their wives and do not wish to lose weight.

Other husbands feel that excess weight prevents their wives from widening their social and work opportunities. They fear the stability of their marriages will be threatened if their spouses lose weight.

Still other husbands have entered into unspoken contracts with their wives. The husband is permitted his personal excess, such as heavy social drinking, in exchange for granting his wife permission to overeat.

When the wife curbs her excessive eating, the husband often fears he will be expected to forego his self-indulgent pleasure.

Finally, some husbands seem to enter into undercover battles to subvert their wives' self-improvement efforts. The husbands are attempting to insure that they will not be surpassed by their spouses in personal success.

Births

Pozzato, Jessica Anne, daughter of Gary J. and Lynne Cornell Pozzato of 8 Strong Ave., Vernon. She was born June 23 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cornell of 11 Piano Place. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Pozzato of 1 Echo Drive, Vernon. Her paternal great-grandparents are Mrs. C. Pierce of 1 Echo Drive, Vernon and Mrs. Maryann Pozzato of West Palm Beach, Fla. Her maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. Neri of Hartford and Anthony and Carmeli of Rocky Hill. She has a sister, Amy Elizabeth, 18 months.

50th wedding anniversary

LeBlond, Mary Frances, daughter of Richard and Joan Legas LeBlond of Willington. She was born July 11 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Legas of Storrs. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul LeBlond of Tolland. Her paternal great-grandmother is Mary Prachnik of Rockville. She has two brothers, Richard, 7, and Corey, 5, and a sister, Patricia, 2½.

Burkamp, Teresa Lynn, daughter of Kenneth Burkamp Jr. and Linda Harvey of 108A McKee St. She was born July 10 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Her maternal grandmother is Christine Pelletier of Enfield. Her paternal grandmother is Virginia Burkamp of 122 Park St. She has a brother, Rocco, 3.

Sharpley, David James, son of James D. and Jane French Sharpley of 125 South St., Bolton. He was born July 11 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice French of 82 Ridge St. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Sharpley of Prince Edward Island, Canada. His maternal great-grandmothers are Ruth French of Ridge Street and Raymond Bowen of Burnham Street, South Windsor.

Jamatis, Jon Joseph, son of Lawrence J. and Emilie Jane Heisserer Jamatis of 20 Linwood Drive. He was born July 11 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Linus A. Heisserer of Scott City, Mo. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Jamatis of 45 Westwood St. His maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Lovia Diebold of Oran, Mo. His paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Mary-Jamatis of Manchester. He has a sister, Teri Marie, 5½.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Female hormone cream

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 53 and just had my yearly check-up. Everything was fine, except a small amount of the female hormone and can be applied locally with relief of the condition. That is what your doctor is trying to do for you.

You should know that the amount of female hormone in the cream is relatively small. Therefore, it is comparatively safe. If you have itching and burning caused by a deficiency in female hormones this mild treatment will prove to be of considerable benefit to you.

If you're worried about your medicine I think you should talk to your doctor about it. I'm sending you the Health Letter number 5-12, Menopause and Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of the Manchester Evening Herald, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

SLRB agent would bar secretarial complaint

EAST HARTFORD - An agent for the state Labor Relations Board has recommended that the board dismiss a secretarial union's complaint against the Board of Education.

Ruth DeCenzo, president of the Local 435 of the Office of Professional Employees International Union, said Thursday that the union will appeal the decision. The union will ask for a full hearing before the state Board of Labor Relations, she said.

The union had objected because it said the Board of Education acted in bad faith. The union said the board used to bargaining sessions with the state Labor Relations Board has recommended that the board dismiss a secretarial union's complaint against the Board of Education.

Police report

East Hartford

Edward Goss, 19, of 55 Admiral St. in Hartford was charged with second-degree larceny and third-degree burglary Thursday. Goss allegedly stole a bicycle from a garage on Elmer Street, police said.

He was held on $500 bond. Court date is Aug. 7.

Clement J. McCullough, 31, of 43 Miles St. in Hartford was arrested Thursday on charges of disorderly conduct, threatening and interfering with a police officer.

Police said McCullough was hickling when a police officer stopped and an officer told him to move along. Police said he became loud and threatened the officer, while refusing to move along.

He appeared in court Thursday and had his case continued until Aug. 7. He was released on a written promise to appear.

Hillside St., East Hartford, was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging him with violation of probation. He was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance at Superior Court 19, Rockville, July 25.

Steven Cohen, 16, of 28 Seneca Drive, Vernon, was charged Thursday with failure to obey an official's order, driving an unregistered motorcycle, driving a motorcycle without a license and failure to carry a stop sign.

His court answer date is Aug. 4.

Harry Masichok, 52, of Hartford was charged Wednesday with disorderly conduct in connection with a disturbance and an arrest. He was released on his promise to appear. No court date was given.

Laurie A. Lewis, 17, of 52 Kingsbury Ave., Tolland, was charged Wednesday with reckless driving. She was involved in a two-car accident on Route 83. Her court date is July 25 in Rockville.

There was a burglary in the Farm Drive area. Police said the thief cut a screen on a bathroom window and reached the latch. It happened during the past two weeks when the family was on vacation. A coin collection worth $25.50 was reported missing.

Vernon

Joseph Delaurentis, 22, of 30

Gift from class of '78

If you happen to be driving eastbound on Burnside Avenue, you may notice this new sign identifying East Hartford High School. The wooden sign stands in the front driveway of EHHS. It was a gift from the class of '78 to ensure that everyone will know where East Hartford High is located. (Herald photo by Blake)

C&W Catering gets restaurant license

By CHRIS BLAKE

Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD - A catering firm which has drawn the ire of Robert's Street residents who charge it with illegally operating out of the Mt. Carmel Hall was granted a restaurant license by the town's Health Department for an office at 29 Frances St.

According to Clem Waver of C&W Catering, the firm was granted a restaurant permit by the town's Health Department for an office at 29 Frances St.

Waver said the firm, run by his daughter, Margaret Waver, stores all of its equipment in a truck. He said, "We do the job on the premises."

"If we were going to cater a party at the Elks Club, we would bring the equipment there and cook the food there," he said.

He said his daughter has run the business since 1971.

"This is a lot of business that operates out of his truck," said Mrs. Susan Knep, who lives at the Elks Club. Mrs. Knep is one of the residents who has said the firm has operated out of Mt. Carmel Hall for the past two years.

Blackstone supports Marcella

EAST HARTFORD - Mayor Richard H. Blackstone Thursday clarified comments made during an interview by saying he supports the bid of Democrat Marcella Fahey for the Third District state senate seat.

In an interview with The Herald, Blackstone had said about Mrs. Fahey, "I haven't labeled her. I make no judgment at this point."

He added, "I am not a liberal. And I'm more comfortable with people who are not. I'll have to wait until Mrs. Fahey has presented herself to the public on the issues before I decide."

Blackstone said the question he was asked was, "Do you believe Marcella Fahey is a liberal?" He said he was quoted accurately in his answer.

He said his answer, however, does not mean he does not support Mrs. Fahey's bid for the state senate. He means he would like to hear Mrs. Fahey speak on the issues before he decides whether or not she is a liberal.

Mrs. Fahey is running against Republican Minority Leader Esther B. Clarke for the state senate seat.

Carnival will open on Monday

EAST HARTFORD - St. Rose Church will have its sixth annual carnival with rides, games and contests Monday evening, July 24, at 6:30.

The carnival will be held every night next week from 6:30 to 11 p.m. in the church parking lot, with an added matinee from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday.

There will be 10 amusement rides and 37 parish-staffed booths, offering food, arts and crafts, tag sale articles, plants, home-made baked goods, bingo, and other games of chance.

Nearly 500 parishioners have volunteered their services to help make the carnival a success.

The conclusion Saturday night will include the raffle drawing for a 1978 Mercury Monarch and other large prizes.

Ben Jurawiec and Edward Hattie are the general chairmen for the carnival.

They are aided by a staff which includes Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sann, accounting, Mr. and Mrs. Dan DeLamastro and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cleary, accounting, Mrs. Ann Carotolano and Mrs. Luis Barvato, arts and crafts; Mrs. Judy Burke and Mrs. Doris Frazier, baked goods; Jack Pelligrinelli, bingo; Anthony Donnan and Edward Hattie, raffle; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lucier, soda; Nathan Cyr, donut machine.

Dotie Welch, food booth; Frank Coffey, food booth; Jared Fogel, smash-a-beer-can; Bill Moffett, ice cream; Ray Lejeunesse, maintenance; Bob Emerick and Joe Cyr, electrical; Bogis Langlais, construction; Dick Corsole and Jack Griffen, game wheels; Rick Lazaren, penny push.

Maryann DiCiccio, pick-a-number; Linda Leone and Jan Sheehan, pictures; Mary Muro, pizza; Carol Gabriele and Mrs. George Cullen, plants; Sally Donaldelli, Mrs. Barbara Magnotta and Mrs. Johanna Nagle, sponsors; Meg and Denise Archambault, sponsor signs; Bill Geary, Bill Foley, and Mr. Geary, supplies and inventory; Mary Junevick and Arden Hodgdon, tag sale.

Linda Gillis and Teresa Kelly, tickets and advance sales; Jean Kietlyka and Barbara Magnotta, carnival worker coordinates; Bob Donahue, Judy Donahue and Rob Donahue, publicity.

The carnival is held each year (with proceeds going to St. Rose Church and school).

Three will face vandalism counts

VERNON - Three Rockville High School students, two of them juveniles, were arrested Thursday on Superior Court warrants charging them in connection with the acts of vandalism discovered at Rockville High School early Wednesday morning.

Gerald A. Santos, 16, of 27 Old Town Road was charged with second-degree criminal trespassing and released on a $1,000 non-surety bond for appearance in Superior Court 19, Rockville, July 25.

The other two juveniles were charged with first-degree criminal mischief and third-degree burglary. They were referred to juvenile court authorities.

Lt. Edwin Carlson of the special services unit of the Vernon Police Department and Harold DeLise, juvenile officer, made the arrests following an intensive investigation.

The incident happened on the morning. The vandals smashed about 90 windows, and also broke light fixtures, door knobs, ceiling tiles, and other items. Police said the office was ransacked and papers strewn about. A baseball bat was found at the scene, but police could not determine if it was used in the crime, they said.

Health Dept. OK'd it

Mrs. Knep said that Robert Schultz told Mrs. Knep that the director of the department of health, told her Thursday that Waver's equipment was inspected at Mt. Carmel Hall.

Schultz told Mrs. Knep that the catering business was given a permit to operate a restaurant, but not at Mt. Carmel Hall.

Robert's Street in the Mt. Carmel area is zoned R-3. It is a residential zone and business use is prohibited unless a special variance is obtained from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Waver applied for such a variance and was denied in March. He said in April he would move his firm out of the hall and continue to cater parties that take place there.

The neighbors say he still operates the catering firm out of the hall.

Mrs. Knep said the health department inspected the firm's equipment there last week.

"Who does he know in the Town Hall to get away with this?" Mrs. Knep said. "Who knows him?"

Would mayor like it?

"Other citizens who live on other streets in East Hartford should realize that the same thing can happen on their street," Mrs. Knep said.

"Would the mayor like it if someone living next door to him was operating a restaurant?"

Mrs. Knep said the next step for the Robert's Street neighbors is to show their displeasure with the situation at the polls next year.

"We were considering getting a writ of mandamus against the town," she said, "but why should we spend money out of our own pockets to take the town to court?"

Mrs. Knep said the town is not enforcing its own ZBA ruling.

"We were considering getting a writ of mandamus against the town," she said, "but why should we spend money out of our own pockets to take the town to court?"

Ben Jurawiec and Edward Hattie are the general chairmen for the carnival.

Skylab doomed to fall to earth

HOUSTON (UPI) - The director of the Johnson Space Center says the 84-ton Skylab space station is destined to fall to earth as early as next spring because of equipment failures and lack of funding.

"Unfortunately, I think that Skylab is going to die," said Dr. Chris Kraft, a copyrighted interview in today's edition of the Dallas Morning News.

"We are going to have to live with the fact that Skylab is going to die a natural death."

NASA has tried with mixed success since June 11 to keep the orbiting laboratory in a flight profile minimizing the outer atmosphere's drag on its 240-mile-high orbit, which has deteriorated faster than expected.

Officials hoped to keep Skylab from slowing down and burning up in the Earth's atmosphere until a space shuttle crew next year can boost it higher or crash it harmlessly.

However, Kraft said the craft may not maintain its orbit long enough to allow a shuttle crew to guide it to a soft crash landing.

He said NASA's policy has been to allow the craft to fall to Earth in an uncontrolled way.

The likelihood that it is going to hit something or someone is very low," Kraft said. "That's sort of like being hit by lightning or as Dr. (Robert) Frosch, the administrator of NASA, has said, it's sort of like being hit by a meteorite - and that doesn't happen very often in man's lifetime."

"It's not a good situation, we accepted that risk when we put it up there, and now we're making a good college try."

Kraft made his assessment after scientists, using onboard computers, expended some of the space vehicle's precious maneuvering propellant Thursday to control the lab's roll.

Fire calls

East Hartford

Thursday, 10:26 a.m. - Medical call to 82 Burnside Ave.

Thursday, 10:50 a.m. - Brush fire at 197 Plain Drive.

Thursday, 10:55 a.m. - Medical call to 282 Burnside Ave.

Thursday, 11:24 a.m. - Medical call to 45 Smith Drive.

Thursday, 12:46 p.m. - Medical call to Gorman Park.

Thursday, 4:40 p.m. - Water pipe burst at 402 Burnside Ave.

Thursday, 4:54 p.m. - Car accident on Route 2 westbound.

Thursday, 9:10 p.m. - Medical call to Marlton Park.

Thursday, 9:58 p.m. - Medical call to Eggleston Co. 2.

Thursday, 9:58 p.m. - Medical call to McCallie Park.

Today, 2:25 a.m. - Medical call to 55 Tolland St.

Today, 2:36 a.m. - Medical call to the police station.

Today, 7 a.m. - Medical call to 34 Burnside Ave.

Today, 8:25 a.m. - Medical call to 1227 Burnside Ave.

Bell Street Stables Wooded and Open trails and turn out areas
Box stalls for rent with complete care
Hayride Parties Available, with or without buffet lunch.
Pair of White Parchers available for parties and shows.

Full-time scheduled lessons with Ex-Lippizan Stallion Rider as instructor: "Carl J. Workhouse"
Talk to Bob or Carl 659-0221
After 8 p.m. call 659-0201

524 Bell St. Glastonbury

Nature Has A Gift For You...

PLANTS YOU CAN PLANT ANYTIME ANYWHERE

If they're potted, they're plantable, even in Mid-Summer. The plants you want in CONTAINERS are "IN SEASON" any season...

• BIRD BATHS
• CONCRETE PLANTERS
• BLUEBERRY NETTING
• CACTUS SELECTIONS
• INSECTICIDES

MUMS
PLANT NOW FOR FALL DISPLAY
Only $1.59
3 for $4.82

PLANT LATE CARNAGE & CAMELFLOWER & MIMOSILLA
OPEN DAILY & SUNDAY 9 AM TO 5:30 PM
WHITMAN NURSERY
"GROW WITH US"
Route 6 Bolton 643-7802

Stop the pots
Stop next winter's potholes and erosion now with the finest super-rubberized Latex-ite Super-seal, the hi-test driveway sealer that out-performs the high-priced brands while it costs you less money! This weekend... GO GET THE TOUGH ONE!

Latexite
COPELAND DRIVEWAY SEALER
SUPER-RESISTANT

For Cracking or Rupture - MARLOW'S Has Just The Luggage For You! Choose from these Famous Brands: Samsonite (we carry a complete line), Atlantic, Ventura, Airway and more!

MARLOW'S For Every Season Since 1911!
DOWNTOWN MAIN STREET, MANCHESTER, 649-2521
McGuinnis, Maureen Menly
CORINA MEIJERS, JAMES
MONTEIRO, KATHY MORTYR,
KIMBERLY MORROW, BARRY
NEWTON, NINA NORYK, PATRICIA OCCIN.

D-L
all D&L stores
CLOSED SUNDAY
July 23rd
for INVENTORY

shop D&L Saturday and Monday for summertime savings!

Obituaries

Mrs. Lawrence S. Greene
Mrs. Clara Green, 60, of South Gate, Calif., formerly of Manchester, died July 2 at St. Francis Hospital, Lynnwood, Calif. She was the wife of Lawrence S. Greene.
The committal service was July 5 in Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier, Calif.
Mrs. Greene was born in Massachusetts and had lived in Manchester for many years before moving to California.
She is also survived by two sons, William L. Greene of Whittier and Phillip C. Greene of Norco, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Doris Tasker of Rockville and Mrs. Laurel Miller of Long Beach, Calif.; two brothers, Charles Spiewak of Rockport, Mass., and Anthony Spiewak of Worcester, Mass.; four sisters, Genevieve Hensenski, Elizabeth Szymak and Ann Ducharme, all of Webster, Mass., and Celia Mroczek of Dudley, Mass., and 10 grandchildren.

Mrs. Evelyn M. Otto
VERNON — Mrs. Evelyn Marie Rosenberg, 84, of 325 Kelly Road died Thursday at a Manchester convalescent home. She was the widow of Joseph J. Otto.
Mrs. Otto was born in Watervliet, N.Y., and had lived in the Greater Hartford area for the past 21 years.
She is survived by a son, William J. Otto of Clearwater, Fla., a daughter, Mrs. Irene C. Parison of Troy, N.Y., a sister, Mrs. Bertha Marks of Schenectady, N.Y., eight grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.
The funeral is Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Taylor and Morden Funeral Home, 135 S. Main St., West Hartford. Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford.
Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Joseph Martineau
EAST HARTFORD — Joseph Martineau, 75, of 101 Connecticut Blvd. died July 19 at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center.
He was born in Quebec, Canada, and had lived in East Hartford for the past 25 years. Before his retirement, he was a machinist at Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp. He was a member of St. Mary's Church in East Hartford.
Survivors are his wife, Germaine (Beaulieu) Martineau, and four children: Raymond Hebert of East Hartford, Roland Hebert of Manchester and Donald Hebert of Southington, four brothers and two sisters in Quebec, Canada, and eight grandchildren.
The funeral services will be Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Newark & Whitney Funeral Home, 318 Burnside Ave., East Hartford, with a mass of Christian burial in St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m.
Burial will be in Mount St. Benedict Cemetery in Bloomfield.
Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.
Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Mabel Berry
VERNON — Mabel Smith Berry of 23 Reservoir Road, formerly of Avon and Simsbury, died Thursday at a Vernon convalescent home.
She was born in Portland, Maine, and resided in the Rockville area for two years.
Survivors are a son, Joseph S. Berry of Conway, Maine, and two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Babcock of Rockville and Mrs. Bertha MacDuffie of Newbury, Mass.
Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Hay & Peabody Funeral Home, 749 Congress St., Portland, Maine.
Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Maine.
Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.
The Burke-Fortin Funeral Home, Rockville has charge of local arrangements.

Patriek J. Shea
Patriek J. Shea, 89, of 94 Carman Road died Thursday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of the late Elizabeth Heger Shea.
Mr. Shea was born May 4, 1889 in Ireland and had lived in this country for 64 years, coming from West Springfield, Mass., to make his home in Manchester seven years ago. Before retiring in 1954, he had been employed for a number of years at the Gilbert and Barker Mfg. Co., West Springfield. He was an Army veteran of World War I.
He is survived by a daughter, Jerome Shea of Manchester; a sister, Mrs. Hannah Bass of Springfield, Mass.; and five grandchildren.
The funeral is Saturday at 11:30 a.m. from the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., with a mass at St. Bridget Church at noon. Burial will be in St. Bridget Cemetery.
Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday morning before the time of the funeral.

Mrs. Caroline H. Addison
EAST HARTFORD — Mrs. Caroline H. Addison, 76, formerly of 1252 Silver Lane, died Thursday at a Manchester convalescent hospital after a long illness. She was the widow of Charles Addison.
Mrs. Addison, who her husband operated Charlie's Fruit and Vegetable Stand on Silver Lane from 1935 until his death in 1955. She then went into the nursery business and owned and operated the East Hartford Nursery until her illness in 1968.
She was born in Hartford and had lived in East Hartford most of her life. She was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church.
She is survived by one son, Charles J. Addison of Bolton, a daughter, Mrs. Beverly L. Feeney of Manchester, three grandsons and two granddaughters.
The funeral is Saturday at 11 a.m. at Newark & Whitney Funeral Home, 318 Burnside Ave. Burial will be in Hillside Cemetery.
Friends may call at the funeral home today from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Joseph L.A. Lagace
Joseph L.A. Lagace, 66, of 209 Hillside St. died Thursday at his home. He was the husband of Mrs. Lena Dubreuil Lagace.
Mr. Lagace was born March 26, 1912 in Brookline, Conn., and had lived in Manchester for many years. Before retiring, he was employed at Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp., East Hartford, and was a member of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Club. He was a communicant of St. Bridget Church.
He also belonged to the American Association of Retired Persons.
He is also survived by three sons, Daniel Lagace of Tolland, Gerald Lagace of Saratoga, Fla., and Philip Lagace of Dayton, Ohio; two brothers, Hector Lagace and Theodore Lagace, both of Manchester; four sisters, Sister Imelda Lagace of the Daughters of the Holy Spirit, who is associate pastor of St. Martin de Porres parish in Gadsden, Ala., and Mrs. Beatrice Wilkins of Worcester, Mass.; and four grandchildren.
The funeral is Saturday at 9:30 a.m. from Fitzgerald Funeral Home, 225 Main St., with a mass at St. Bridget Church at 10. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Putnam.
There are no calling hours.
The family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to the American Cancer Society, 237 E. Center St.

Joseph L.A. Lagace
Joseph L.A. Lagace, 66, of 209 Hillside St. died Thursday at his home. He was the husband of Mrs. Lena Dubreuil Lagace.
Mr. Lagace was born March 26, 1912 in Brookline, Conn., and had lived in Manchester for many years. Before retiring, he was employed at Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp., East Hartford, and was a member of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Club. He was a communicant of St. Bridget Church.
He also belonged to the American Association of Retired Persons.
He is also survived by three sons, Daniel Lagace of Tolland, Gerald Lagace of Saratoga, Fla., and Philip Lagace of Dayton, Ohio; two brothers, Hector Lagace and Theodore Lagace, both of Manchester; four sisters, Sister Imelda Lagace of the Daughters of the Holy Spirit, who is associate pastor of St. Martin de Porres parish in Gadsden, Ala., and Mrs. Beatrice Wilkins of Worcester, Mass.; and four grandchildren.
The funeral is Saturday at 9:30 a.m. from Fitzgerald Funeral Home, 225 Main St., with a mass at St. Bridget Church at 10. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Putnam.
There are no calling hours.
The family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to the American Cancer Society, 237 E. Center St.

Lottery
HARTFORD (UPI) — The winning number drawn Thursday in the Connecticut Daily Lottery was 386. The winning weekly numbers are 12, 14, and 14783. The lucky color is green.

Texans cool to 99 degrees
DALLAS (UPI) — The Weather Service reported the temperature reached only a gracious 99 degrees Thursday, breaking a 10-day spell of 100-degree readings. But then the pampered life of the weather bureau's thermometer must be considered.
Texans should have it as good as that thermometer. It's located at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport on a grassy knoll to avoid heat rebounding from concrete. It sits in a ventilated shelter that is painted white to reflect the sun and a fan supplies a 15 mph breeze.
In that carefully conceived environment, the temperature reached only 99 degrees. But at the Love Field airport a reading of 100 was recorded and Dallas-Fort Worth residents found no relief in the 1-degree difference.

DRIVEWAYS AMESITE OR HOT MIX
ALL WORKSMANSHIP AND MATERIALS GUARANTEED
CALL NOW FOR FREE ESTIMATE
OVER 30 YEARS EXPERIENCE
OUT OF TOWN CALL COLLECT
646-0437
DAVIS CONSTRUCTION CO.
MANCHESTER

Al Sieffert's gas grill DISPLAY MODEL CLEARANCE SALE
FREE 20 lb. PROPANE TANK with every grill
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28

Fire calls
Manchester
Thursday, 12:54 p.m. — fire at 72 Tolland Turnpike (Town)
Thursday, 3:48 p.m. — false alarm at Parker and Lyall streets (Eighth District)
Thursday, 8:49 p.m. — false alarm at 78 Allen St. (Eighth District)
Today, 9:09 a.m. — accidental alarm, Box 48, Hilling Junior High School (Town)
Today, 11:19 a.m. — truck fire at 59 Bissell St. (Town)

Postal
Continued from Page One
less directed.
A federal judge earlier in the day refused to issue a temporary restraining order against a threatened strike, but federal officials said they were prepared to meet scattered walkouts if they occurred.
Postmaster General William F. Bolger, in a letter to workers this week, warned strikers would be committing a crime and could face felony prosecution, lose their government jobs and forfeit health and life insurance coverage.
Vincent Sombrotto, head of the New York City letter carriers, called Bolger's warning a "clumsy attempt to coerce and intimidate postal employees."
Army officials confirmed that up to 80,000 troops could be ordered to keep the mail moving should President Carter declare a national emergency.
But no troops or units were put on an alert status.

Al Sieffert's gas grill DISPLAY MODEL CLEARANCE SALE
FREE 20 lb. PROPANE TANK with every grill
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28

Al Sieffert's gas grill DISPLAY MODEL CLEARANCE SALE
FREE 20 lb. PROPANE TANK with every grill
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28
* stainless steel burner
* 34000 BTU's
* cast aluminum case
* Redwood stand
SAVE $28
* aluminum shell
* 25,000 BTU
SAVE $28

She'll wear it nine weeks
Actress Judy Carne is at home with her parents, Har and Kathleen Botterill, in Chapel Brampton, England, near Northampton. Judy broke her neck in a car crash in Pennsylvania a month ago and has a 20-pound steel brace bolted into her temples, and has to wear the steel cage for another nine weeks. She made her name on the American television show, "The Rowan and Martin Laugh-in." (UPI photo)

Fire damages old courthouse
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — A smoky fire of uncertain origin ripped through the third floor of Rhode Island's century-old Family Court building today, collapsing part of the floor and injuring two firemen.
The three-alarm fire was discovered shortly after 8 a.m. by employees arriving for work in the five-story courthouse, a block away from the Statehouse on Capitol Hill. The blaze was brought under control in about one hour.
Fire Chief Michael F. Moise said the fire apparently began within third-floor offices of the state Department of Education.
The Manchester Property Owners Association will have their picnic Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Coventry Lake. For information and reservations, call 742-7100.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Convention
Continued from Page One
Connecticut's current Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer has been nominated for a post on the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.
Those who want to take her place include Barbara Kennedy, a Hartford City Councilwoman and the House speaker's wife, Rep. Patricia Hendel, co-chairman of the Legislature's Government Administration and Policy Committee; Rep. Natalie Rapoport, an assistant House majority leader; Sen. Audrey Beck, co-chairman of the Legislature's Finance Committee; Gloria Clark, Fairfield County sheriff and Barbara Weinberg, a former campaign worker for President Carter.

Pereda backers attempt coup

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Followers of Gen. Juan Pereda led a coup attempt today in the cities of Santa Cruz, Cochabamba and Sucre to install Pereda as president-elect in what they called a nationalist rebellion aimed at international communism.
The government of President Hugo Banzer proclaimed a state of siege throughout the country, suspended civil rights and all student activities. There were no immediate reports of fighting.
The Taracapa armored regiment, one of the most powerful in the country, sent tanks and armored personnel carriers to strategic sites in La Paz and to the La Paz International airport.
Army units in the capital surround the presidential palace, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Pereda be recognized as President, head of a "nationalist movement" determined to respect the results of the presidential elections, closing off access to the public. Other soldiers surrounded the general army headquarters in the Miraflores of the city.
Despite the general excitement the city appeared calm.
Banzer called an emergency session of his cabinet and loyal ministers to consider the situation. There were rumors he had offered to resign but these could not be confirmed. As yet, the national radio network repeated every hour its announcement of the state of siege.
Pereda won 50 percent of the vote in presidential elections July 9 — the first presidential election in 12 years and one aimed at restoring democracy in Bolivia. The National Election Board cancelled the election results Wednesday night on grounds of widespread fraud. Pereda himself asked for the cancellation on grounds of opposition fraud would lead the country into "chaos and violence."
Pereda's closest opponent was former President Hernan Siles Zuazo, who received 22 percent of the vote. Rebel broadcasts demanded he be deported and accused him of trying to form a pro-Communist coalition government in Bolivia.
The permanent La Paz garrison apparently was remaining loyal to Banzer but in the city of Santa Cruz, the second largest city in the country and the apparent center of the rebellion, armored units and the most important garrison of combat troops in the city appeared to have united with civilian and political groups to back Pereda.
Pereda was believed to be in Santa Cruz but none of the frequent broadcast by his backers identified him personally as the leader of the coup attempt.
Both army and air force units were involved in Santa Cruz, newsmen reported from the city. They said the units occupied all public buildings and strategic sites and the Aviation Military Academy, the strongest in the country.
The Santa Cruz forces were joined by the powerful Manhego armored regiment which rolled into the city from Montero, 30 miles away, to join the rebellion.
Pereda followers seized radio stations in Santa Cruz and the other rebel cities and broadcast demands that Per

The Herald

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

PHONE 643-2711
FOR ASSISTANCE IN PLACING YOUR AD

ADVERTISING DEADLINE

12:00 noon the day before publication
Deadlines for Saturday and Monday at 12:00 noon Friday.

PLEASE READ YOUR AD

Classified ads are taken over the phone as a convenience. The Herald is responsible for only one incorrect insertion and man only to the side of the original insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by an additional insertion.

ADVERTISING RATES

1 day...11¢ word per day
3 days...10¢ word per day
5 days...8¢ word per day
15 words $2.00 minimum
Happy Ads...$2.50 inch

Business Opportunity 14

TO FULFILL the last stage of our expansion program, we will be looking for 2 full-time real estate salespeople. Call F.J. Spivek Inc. Realtor, 643-2121.

FACTORY OPENINGS

Established growing company needs machinists, engravers, N.C., and Bridgeport operators. We make specialized machinery that offers challenge and variety. Good starting rates and company paid fringe benefits. Call us for the best opportunity.

NOBLE & WESTBROOK

20 WESTBROOK STREET
EAST HARTFORD
An Equal Opportunity Employer

SECOND SHIFT PRODUCTION OPERATORS

We are growing fast, and are now starting a second shift. Applicants must have previous production metal working experience, using drill presses, millers, lathes, grinders, etc. Hours are 3:30 to 12 p.m. Air conditioned, ample parking and good fringes.

HIGH STANDARD, INC.

31 Prestige Park Circle
East Hartford
Manufacturing/Marketing Sporting Firearms

IMMEDIATE OPENINGS

ON SECOND AND THIRD SHIFTS

For the following positions:
DRILLING SCREENING
PLATING QC INSPECTION FABRICATION

Apply
50 HARRISON STREET
MANCHESTER
between 10 am and 4 pm

Situation Wanted 10

WILL CARE FOR Convalescents, days or weekends. Experienced, with references. Please call 672-2785.

RESPONSIBLE Mother will care for children in my home

Call 646-1976 • 5 to 8 p.m. only

MEDICAL SECRETARY

Seeking employment in Manchester area, after August 1. AS Degree, 7 years experience in medical field. Call 649-9974, after 5 p.m.

Private Instruction 19

REMEDIAL READING and math; individualized work program. (1st-8th grade) by master's degree teacher. 968-8075.

Schools-Classes 19

FOR THE BEST Manchester Gymnastic School 3 to 5 pupils per teacher. FREE introductory lesson with this ad. Call 646-6206, or 646-3549.

Homes For Sale 23

MANCHESTER - 7 room, 3 bedroom Cape on large lot in nice residential area. Fireplace den, garage, garden space. Call Katherine Bourne, 782-8464. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

THREE BEDROOM Condominium

2 full baths, 2 half baths, family room, all appliances, air conditioned, walk-to-wall. Fully decorated. Choice location. $44,900. Principals only. 646-7729.

COLUMBIA-We have just listed a clean 2 bedroom, 5 room ranch near center of town with a country setting for $39,900. Pictures Real, 782-8270 or 223-3777.

NO CONSERVATORY - or TENNIS COURT - It's all yours. Just square honest value. 6 rooms, 1 car attached garage and large landscaped lot. Ranch on bus line. Convenient to schools church, shopping 3 bedrooms and a snug Den with fireplace. Bonus: stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, disposal and 400 lb. capacity freezer to the Quick-to-Jump buyer. $46,900 for the whole works! Group 1, Keith Real Estate 646-4126.

ANDOVER - Six-room Contemporary under construction. Fireplaced living room, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, garage, spacious lot. Quick occupancy. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

HEBRON AREA - Impressive 7 room colonial. First floor plan or office. Screened porch, garage, additional attached, oversized garage. Approximately 8 acres, taxes $964. Robert Associates, 226-9274.

Homes For Sale 23

TWO BEDROOM COLONIAL RANCH - Quality home, double landscaped lot. Excellent location. $45,000. No realtors please. 646-2626.

MANCHESTER - 9 rooms, 5 bedroom Colonial. First floor family room, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage. $72,900. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

MANCHESTER - 6 Room Cape Oil fired hot air heat. Fireplaced living room, porch, 1 bath, detached 1 car garage, small lot, convenient location. Owner 633-8227 or 281-4232.

WATERFRONT - 3 bedroom home. Oil fired hot air heat, fireplace, porch, double lot (100' x 100'). Lake Chaffee in Ashford, 40 minutes Northeast of Hartford. Excellent for year round living or vacation home. Owner: 633-8227 or 281-4232.

MANCHESTER - Garrison Colonial in Forest Hills area. 9 rooms, 5 bedrooms, fireplace, family room, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

MANCHESTER DEAL FELL through. Must sell 8 room older Colonial with loads of charm. Painted and carpeted. Make an offer. Only $41,900. East coast realty 629-2668, evenings 528-4918.

EAST HARTFORD - Quiet neighborhood surrounds this tastefully decorated 5 room Colonial. Fireplaced room. East Coast Realty 528-2668, evenings 646-7603.

Homes For Sale 23

MANCHESTER - Eight Rooms Raised Ranch. Beautifully decorated. Many extras! Edwards Realty 644-9009.

MANCHESTER VICINITY 5+room, Aluminum Sided Ranch. Large lot for garden and privacy. Fireplaced living room. Full cellar, 3 bedrooms. Only $44,900. Group 1, Keith Real Estate, 646-4126.

MANCHESTER - 8 room Ranch aluminum siding, 4 appliances. Immediate occupancy. Convenient to shopping. $43,500. Call 644-0727.

Investment Property 25

ALL CASH For your property, within 24 hours. Avoid Red Tape. Instant Service. Hayes Corporation, 646-0131.

Investment Property 25

SELLING your house? Call us first and we'll make you a cash offer! T.J. Crockett, Realtor, 643-1577.

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Homes For Sale 23

MANCHESTER - 8 room Colonial. First floor family room, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage. $72,900. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

MANCHESTER - 6 Room Cape Oil fired hot air heat. Fireplaced living room, porch, 1 bath, detached 1 car garage, small lot, convenient location. Owner 633-8227 or 281-4232.

MANCHESTER - 9 rooms, 5 bedroom Colonial. First floor family room, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage. $72,900. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

WATERFRONT - 3 bedroom home. Oil fired hot air heat, fireplace, porch, double lot (100' x 100'). Lake Chaffee in Ashford, 40 minutes Northeast of Hartford. Excellent for year round living or vacation home. Owner: 633-8227 or 281-4232.

MANCHESTER - Garrison Colonial in Forest Hills area. 9 rooms, 5 bedrooms, fireplace, family room, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage. Call Arthur or Suzanne Shortt, 646-2323. J. Watson Beach Co., Manchester Office, 647-9139. Equal Housing Opportunity.

MANCHESTER DEAL FELL through. Must sell 8 room older Colonial with loads of charm. Painted and carpeted. Make an offer. Only $41,900. East coast realty 629-2668, evenings 528-4918.

EAST HARTFORD - Quiet neighborhood surrounds this tastefully decorated 5 room Colonial. Fireplaced room. East Coast Realty 528-2668, evenings 646-7603.

MANCHESTER - 8 room Ranch aluminum siding, 4 appliances. Immediate occupancy. Convenient to shopping. $43,500. Call 644-0727.

Investment Property 25

ALL CASH For your property, within 24 hours. Avoid Red Tape. Instant Service. Hayes Corporation, 646-0131.

Investment Property 25

SELLING your house? Call us first and we'll make you a cash offer! T.J. Crockett, Realtor, 643-1577.

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

Real Estate Wanted 28

EAST OF THE RIVER REAL ESTATE MARKET

EQUAL HOUSING

SPACIOUS RANCH

3 or 4 bedroom home with a first floor family room, formal dining room, fireplace, lots of wall to wall carpeting, chain link fence, vinyl siding, plus

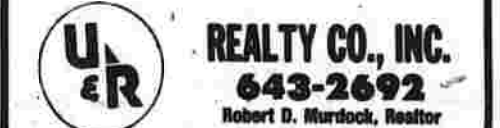

BLANCHARD & ROSSETTO

REALTORS
646-2482

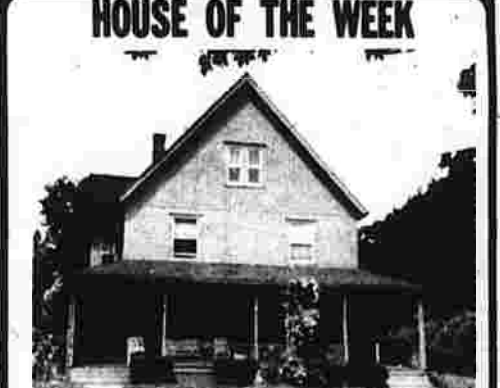

FOREST HILLS

Quick occupancy on this immaculate U&R built 8 room Colonial, with many fine features such as a 1st floor family room with huge stone fireplace, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen with plenty of cabinets, and canned good closet, 4 large bedrooms, all with double closets, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car garage, lovely tree lot. Asking $77,900.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

6-6 DUPLEX

Very large rooms, excellent starter home. Good income potential. Priced to sell in $40s.

Dick Zimmer 647-1139

REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATES INC.

646-1980

Let Us Feature Your House Here

WHERE ELSE???

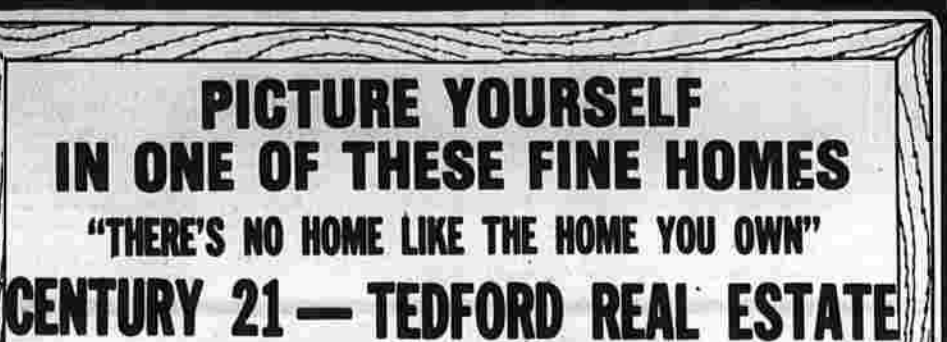

Can you find a three-bedroom Cape with a beautiful yard located in a desirable neighborhood for only $39,900. Walk to school, shopping and bus. Call for appointment today.

CHINETTE ASSOCIATES

GALLERY OF HOMES
453 BURNSIDE AVENUE
EAST HARTFORD, CT 06108

Helping the Greater Hartford Area. Members of National, Vermont, and Manchester Multiple Listing Service.

(203) 525-9081

PICTURE YOURSELF IN ONE OF THESE FINE HOMES

"THERE'S NO HOME LIKE THE HOME YOU OWN"

CENTURY 21 - TEDFORD REAL ESTATE

Now that the hot days have arrived the thoughts of everyone seems to be the best ways to stay cool.

If you've got your own pool or a cottage on the lake you're all set. If not here are some suggestions to keep in mind when the temperature rises.

1) Whenever possible turn your air conditioner on before your rooms heat up. This will keep them cool & will reduce the work your unit has to put out.

2) Keep shades & curtains pulled on the sunny side of the house.

3) Keep your windows & door closed to keep out the heat and the cooler air in.

4) Try to keep the house ventilated - either by using an attic fan or keeping vents open.

5) Try and cook-out to avoid heating up the house from the stove.

6) And if all else fails - think cool!

"EXCEPTIONAL"

Seeing is believing. Call today for an appointment. One of the nicest spots in Bolton. Ten gorgeous acres, 3 ponds, 4 bedroom Colonial, 2 fireplaces, sun room, plus a three room rental home for income, too. Lots of privacy, too. Asking $108,500.

"DON'T PASS ME BY"

Because you'll be sorry. U&R built Raised Ranch, 2 fireplaces, 2 or 3 bedrooms, set on 1 1/2 acres of professionally landscaped grounds, with great privacy and a view. $66,500.

"LOVELY, LARGE, LIVEABLE, LUXURIOUS"

Located in Bolton, just a couple of minutes from 184. Features 3 bedrooms, fully appointed kitchen, fireplace, huge family room, deck, 2 car garage. You owe it to yourself to see this beautiful home, set back from the road for privacy. Asking $88,900.

"GOOD GRACIOUS I'M SPACIOUS"

Four bedroom Dutch Colonial Ranch, large paneled fireplaced living room. Very unique with many unusual features, set on a nice lot of matured trees. Located in Bolton just a couple of minutes from 184. Only $48,900.

"UNUSUAL FIND OFFERED"

Rarely will you find a home with the breathtaking beauty and quality that this home possesses. In addition to 4 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, 3 fireplaces, 2 garages, 2 patios with a wrap-around porch, and professional landscaping, this home features a 1.6 acre, winding brook, in-ground pool, 4 room in-law suite and privacy. The total of something special at $98,500.

"OWN YOUR OWN BUSINESS"

Greenhouse 23x50, w/workshop & furnace, in Andover on 3 gorgeous acres. Custom built Ranch featuring 3 bedrooms, 3 car garage, fully appointed kitchen, pantry cabinets, unusual offering and priced to sell at $63,900.

"THE PERFECT BUSINESS SPOT"

In East Hartford, 2,500 sq. ft. floor space, with 12 ft. garage doors, 18 ft. ceilings. Great potential for a small factory, woodworking, printing, or shop of your choice, plus a second floor that's perfect for office rentals. Asking $105,000.

"INVESTORS TAKE NOTICE"

A gorgeous piece of property on state highway, with a high traffic count. Features large building presently rented for package store, over 4 acres of land with 50 feet easement to the three back lots. Priced to sell at only $55,000.

"GREAT INVESTMENT PROPERTY"

Three Family Colonial, 3 car garage, large lot. New heating and water systems. Asking $41,500.

"GREAT INVESTMENT PROPERTY"

Three Family Colonial, 3 car garage, large lot. New heating and

PAGE EIGHTEEN — MANCHESTER EVENING HERALD, Manchester, Conn., Fri., July 21, 1978

Articles For Sale 41
IMMEDIATE Cash for your property. Let us explain our fair proposal. Call Mike Bellone. 647-1413.

MAY WE BUY your home? Quick, fair, all cash and no problems. Call Warren E. Howland, Realtors, 643-1108.

WOULD LIKE to buy four bedroom older Colonial - Preferably in the Porter area. Please call private party. at 647-1567.

LOTS WANTED - Private party offers a 3 zone lots in Manchester. Quick cash. Call price paid 643-0012 after 5 p.m.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS 40
REFRIGERATORS - Washers, ranges, used guaranteed and clean. New 31 year old damaged. GE and Frigidaire. Low prices. B.D. Pearl and Son, 549 Main Street, 643-2171.

LOVE SEAT like new condition, orange background with white floral print. Call after 4 p.m. 646-1186.

DO YOU SEW? BHARD RIGGS' New fabric remnant sale for $5.99 really a bargain. In shopping bag, 81 Main Street, Manchester, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

WE BUY & SELL Used Furniture. One piece or entire household. Cash on the line. Furniture Barn, 646-0885.

GE ELECTRIC STOVE - Single cooking, excellent condition. $250. Rejuvenator refrigerator, frost-free, good shape. $150. Matching Washer & Dryer, excellent condition. $150 each. 569-6323.

SEARS will sell with complete financing. Excellent condition. $250 or best offer. Call 643-1846.

1981 AMERICAN DINING ROOM SET - Table 72" x 48" leaves 2 Captain's and 2 Side Chairs. Hartzel base. All solid maple. Can be seen at 184 Farmham Road, South Windsor, Route 5 to Sullivan Avenue, first left. Rye Street, left at stop sign. Furniture Barn Saturday or Sunday, 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. 3560 Asking $1500.

WE BUY & SELL Used Furniture. One piece or entire household. Cash on the line. Furniture Barn, 646-0885.

MISC. FOR SALE
ALUMINUM sheets used in printing. 807 thick. 23x27. 25 cents each or $1 for $1. Phone 643-2711. May be picked up A.M. only.

Articles For Sale 41
UNIFORMS WANTED - Cub Scouts, Boy and Girl Scout. Brownie, call Mike Bellone, 647-1413.

TWO 300 AMP Rectifiers - Good condition. Good for plating or welding. Call 646-3439 from noon til 6:00 p.m.

NCR CASH REGISTER - Reconditioned, with many totals. Call after 5:30 p.m. 228-3957.

MOLDED FORMICA top and paneled bar with two shelves and four stools $175. 646-0228.

TWO PAIRS of buckles from a suitcase. 1 pair red, 1 pair white. Excellent condition. $30 pair. 633-0131.

SCREENED LOAM - Gravel, sand, stone, fill, processed gravel. For deliveries, call George H. Griffin, Inc. Andover, 646-7888.

DARK LOAM Filtered - 5 yds. $34 plus tax. Also sand, gravel and more stone. 643-5268.

ONE PAIR ANTIQUE Sain drapes - Australian valance. Jade, 14x24, $45. Touch and feel. 646-1186.

REWEAVING burns, holes, zippers, underlays repaired. Window shades, venetian blinds. Keys $1.00 for 100. HomeWork Get you down? Get your cleaning, steam extraction carpet cleaning, floor waxing & stripping, window cleaning, carpet & upholstery shampooing. Professional service. Free Estimates. Call 643-1943.

ODD JOBS Done - Cellars, attic, garages, yards cleaned, gutters cleaned. Free Estimates. Call 646-3745, after 5 p.m.

COMPLETE CARPET & Tile Installation and repairs. Free Estimates. Call 646-3745, after 5 p.m.

ED'S LIGHT TRUCKING - At-Home Trucking. Reasonable rates. Call 646-1943 or free estimate.

ROTATING - Established business. Call 646-7544, after 5:30 p.m.

BRICK, BLOCK, STONE - Fireplaces, concrete chimney repairs. No job too small. MATURE WOMAN available to babysit one child in Meryberry Village area or early evenings.

ELDERLY WOMAN willing to babysit for working mothers in South Windsor area. 528-2478.

GRAVELY TRACTORS - Sales, Parts, Repairs. Free Estimates. Call 643-6353.

WILL HAUL away free of charge all scrap metal and old furniture. We also clean cellars and attics. 644-0229.

EVEREST JENNINGS - Premier Wholesale. Excellent cost $676. Excellent condition. A good buy at $300. 646-2678.

THAINS - Complete set TRK. TWIN English Hot Model railroad, 5 engines, tenders, 30 freight cars, cabooses, plenty of track and switches. many buildings. 500 takes it all. 649-3976. 14 p.m.

VEGETABLE WASHING MACHINE with motor. Wash 4 to 5 bushels of turnips at one time. 643-4676.

NATURAL STONE for retaining walls, veneers, patios. Pick up by the load or delivery by the ton. Bolton Notch Stone Quarry, 640-3163.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

Articles For Sale 41
BUILDING Maintenance and Repair Service - painting, remodeling, carpentry, or whatever, commercial and residential. 667-2267.

COMPLETE LAWN CARE Service - Mowing, edging, shrubbery trimmed, weed and pest control. Reasonable rates. Free estimate. Call Steve at 646-1352.

SCREENED LOAM - Gravel, sand, stone, fill, processed gravel. For deliveries, call George H. Griffin, Inc. Andover, 646-7888.

DARK LOAM Filtered - 5 yds. $34 plus tax. Also sand, gravel and more stone. 643-5268.

ONE PAIR ANTIQUE Sain drapes - Australian valance. Jade, 14x24, $45. Touch and feel. 646-1186.

REWEAVING burns, holes, zippers, underlays repaired. Window shades, venetian blinds. Keys $1.00 for 100. HomeWork Get you down? Get your cleaning, steam extraction carpet cleaning, floor waxing & stripping, window cleaning, carpet & upholstery shampooing. Professional service. Free Estimates. Call 643-1943.

ODD JOBS Done - Cellars, attic, garages, yards cleaned, gutters cleaned. Free Estimates. Call 646-3745, after 5 p.m.

COMPLETE CARPET & Tile Installation and repairs. Free Estimates. Call 646-3745, after 5 p.m.

ED'S LIGHT TRUCKING - At-Home Trucking. Reasonable rates. Call 646-1943 or free estimate.

ROTATING - Established business. Call 646-7544, after 5:30 p.m.

BRICK, BLOCK, STONE - Fireplaces, concrete chimney repairs. No job too small. MATURE WOMAN available to babysit one child in Meryberry Village area or early evenings.

ELDERLY WOMAN willing to babysit for working mothers in South Windsor area. 528-2478.

GRAVELY TRACTORS - Sales, Parts, Repairs. Free Estimates. Call 643-6353.

WILL HAUL away free of charge all scrap metal and old furniture. We also clean cellars and attics. 644-0229.

EVEREST JENNINGS - Premier Wholesale. Excellent cost $676. Excellent condition. A good buy at $300. 646-2678.

THAINS - Complete set TRK. TWIN English Hot Model railroad, 5 engines, tenders, 30 freight cars, cabooses, plenty of track and switches. many buildings. 500 takes it all. 649-3976. 14 p.m.

VEGETABLE WASHING MACHINE with motor. Wash 4 to 5 bushels of turnips at one time. 643-4676.

NATURAL STONE for retaining walls, veneers, patios. Pick up by the load or delivery by the ton. Bolton Notch Stone Quarry, 640-3163.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

FOR SALE - Siamese kittens, $25.00 call 647-8988.

DOG-CAT BOARDING - bathing/grooming/Obedience. Complete services. Complete modern facilities. Clean, bright, Holiday lane, 200 Sheldon Road, Manchester. For reservations, call 646-2971.

POODLES - Guaranteed tiny puppies and stud services at fair prices. 1-423-8789.

Articles For Sale 41
REALE REALTORS IS A HOUSE SOLD WORD DANIEL F. REALE, REALTORS 646-4525

KEEP SMILING KEEP HAPPY AUTOMOTIVE

1977 PONTIAC FIREBIRD 4-cylinder. Automatic. Air conditioning. 12,000 miles. Perfect condition. Call 228-0861.

CHEVY IMPALA WAGON. 1962. 283 engine, runs best offer. Call 646-7530 after 5 p.m.

1979 CHEVY WAGON. Automatic. Power brakes/steering, air hitch, air shocks. Does not burn oil, and brakes. electric rear window dragger, standard shift. Must be seen to be appreciated. 649-9866.

TOYOTA 1969 - Some repairs. Best offer. 1979 Chevy Vega. 1950. Moving, must sell! Call 646-8382.

FOR SALE 1967 DODGE CONVERTIBLE, needs wiring harness, front windshield, first 100 takes it. 1974 VEGA WAGON excellent condition. $1000. Call 646-1478.

1972 JEEP CJ-5 - in good condition. May be seen at 41 Homestead Street, Manchester.

BUICK LE SABRE 1973-1974. 4000 miles on rebuilt V-8 engine. New shocks and exhaust. $1200 or best offer. 646-2522.

1970 FORD TORINO SQUARE WAGON. Very good condition. $850. 642-7624.

1971 MERCURY Monterey, V-8, good running condition, $350 or best offer. Call 646-2946.

1972 COLT Automatic. Needs work. Make offer. Call 649-3704 after 5 p.m.

1973 PINTO WAGON. Automatic. Radio. 50,000 miles. Call 646-2209.

1976 DODGE DART. 2 Dr. Sport Coupe. V-6, automatic, P.S., 4 new tires, 44-104 steering with top, 30,000 miles, gold metallic, matching interior. Stock #2118-1.

1976 MUSTANG II. 2 Dr. Sport Coupe. V-6, automatic, P.S., 4 new tires, 44-104 steering with top, 30,000 miles, gold metallic, matching interior. Stock #2118-1.

1976 MERC. MONARCH. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

Articles For Sale 41
REALE REALTORS IS A HOUSE SOLD WORD DANIEL F. REALE, REALTORS 646-4525

KEEP SMILING KEEP HAPPY AUTOMOTIVE

1977 PONTIAC FIREBIRD 4-cylinder. Automatic. Air conditioning. 12,000 miles. Perfect condition. Call 228-0861.

CHEVY IMPALA WAGON. 1962. 283 engine, runs best offer. Call 646-7530 after 5 p.m.

1979 CHEVY WAGON. Automatic. Power brakes/steering, air hitch, air shocks. Does not burn oil, and brakes. electric rear window dragger, standard shift. Must be seen to be appreciated. 649-9866.

TOYOTA 1969 - Some repairs. Best offer. 1979 Chevy Vega. 1950. Moving, must sell! Call 646-8382.

FOR SALE 1967 DODGE CONVERTIBLE, needs wiring harness, front windshield, first 100 takes it. 1974 VEGA WAGON excellent condition. $1000. Call 646-1478.

1972 JEEP CJ-5 - in good condition. May be seen at 41 Homestead Street, Manchester.

BUICK LE SABRE 1973-1974. 4000 miles on rebuilt V-8 engine. New shocks and exhaust. $1200 or best offer. 646-2522.

1970 FORD TORINO SQUARE WAGON. Very good condition. $850. 642-7624.

1971 MERCURY Monterey, V-8, good running condition, $350 or best offer. Call 646-2946.

1972 COLT Automatic. Needs work. Make offer. Call 649-3704 after 5 p.m.

1973 PINTO WAGON. Automatic. Radio. 50,000 miles. Call 646-2209.

1976 DODGE DART. 2 Dr. Sport Coupe. V-6, automatic, P.S., 4 new tires, 44-104 steering with top, 30,000 miles, gold metallic, matching interior. Stock #2118-1.

1976 MUSTANG II. 2 Dr. Sport Coupe. V-6, automatic, P.S., 4 new tires, 44-104 steering with top, 30,000 miles, gold metallic, matching interior. Stock #2118-1.

1976 MERC. MONARCH. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.

1975 DATSUN B210. 4 cyl., 4 sp., AM, radio, Gold.