NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Cuban President Fidel Castro is paying his first visit to Africa in more than a year at a time of rising tensions and escalating warfare in the southern part of the continent.

Addis Ababa Radio announced Castro would take part in celebrations today by the Marxist government of Ethiopia marking the 1974 overthrow of Emperor Haile Selassie and his ancient regime. The broadcast did not indicate whether Castro, whose government maintains an estimated 30,000 combat troops on the continent, would visit other African nations on his tour.

But it disclosed that Robert Mugabe, co-leader of Rhodesia's Patriotic Front guerrilla alliance, whose forces have received Cuban training, had arrived in the Ethiopian capital.

Postal Pact Deadline Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unable to break a deadlock in contract negotiations for 500,000 postal workers, a special mediator assigned to avert a nationwide mail strike today faced a growing possibility he must settle the dispute himself.

James J. Healy, Harvard University labor relations expert serving as mediator, summoned representatives of the Postal Service and three unions for another face-to-face bargaining session with only three full days left in a special mediation process.

Healy was expected to alert the two sides later today that he was beginning to prepare an arbitration decision that would end the dispute, sources close to the negotiations said.

Such an imposed settlement is unprecedented and it was uncertain whether the union rank-and-file would accept an unfavorable ruling or attempt a nationwide wildcat strike.

JFK Death Panel Calls Experts on Trajectory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Assassinations Committee today called on the grips with the central question about the murder of John F. Kennedy: Was there more than one gunman?

Trajectory experts were called to trace the path of the bullets fired in the Kennedy motorcade in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Barger, using an array of complicated charts and mathematical formulas, also said the four shots were fired at a rate the FBI had told the Warren Commission was impossible for a Mannlicher Carcano rifle such as Lee Harvey Oswald is said to have used for the assassination.

He was supported by the committee's chief counsel, G. Robert Blakey, who said new tests in the past few days had shown that even a "relatively untrained" person could get off four, well-aimed shots from that type rifle much faster than the FBI had said.

Carter Still Waiting For Action by House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter will have to wait a couple more days before the House serves up his cherished Civil Service reform legislation, and even longer to learn the outcome of part of his energy package in the Senate.

The House worked until just before midnight Monday night on the Civil Service package and seemed on the verge of passing it, but ran out of steam and gave up on it until Wednesday.

The bill is just about what the president wants, but for one key element. The House rejected a 222-140 provision that would have limited federal hiring preference for veterans.

The Senate, meanwhile, has only one item on the agenda this week: debate on the natural gas pricing compromise, a key portion of Carter's 1977 energy package.

The Senate did take time out to approve a bill that would provide federal grants to help defray the cost to states of compensating victims of crime. The three-year, $150 million authorization still must be reconciled with a similar measure passed by the House. Today, House-Senate negotiators are trying again to find some agreement on the federal budget for fiscal year 1979, which begins Oct. 1.

Under its budget act, Congress has until Sept. 15 to work out an agreed budget resolution, but the negotiators' first two sessions failed to produce compromise on the portions dealing with jobs, education, veterans and taxes.

The House Commerce subcommittee on Communications continues hearings today on a proposed wholesale revision of the 1934 Communications Act.

On Monday, Chairman Charles Ferris of the Federal Communications Commission testified the new legislation goes too far in eliminating FCC power in assuring equal employment opportunity in the media, and not far enough in loosening the agency's authority over obscenity, indecent language and lotteries.

Firemen Reject Contract

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
The union representing Town of Manchester firefighters Tuesday night rejected a contract proposal because it lacked a clause that would provide time-and-one-half payment for routine overtime work.

When we got called to work overtime, we'd like time-and-one-half like everybody else," Robert Martin, president of the union, Local 1579 of the International Association of Firefighters, said this morning.

A total of 45 of the union's 63 members met for about two hours Tuesday night before voting to reject the contract proposal that town and union representatives had agreed to Friday.

"It wasn't unanimous, but it was overwhelming," Martin said of Tuesday's vote. Even with the strong vote against the package, Martin feels that the town and union are close to an agreement.

Charles McCarthy, assistant town manager, said this morning that he had no comment on the matter because he had not spoken in detail with any union representatives.

The economics of the package, approximately six percent raises in both years, seem agreeable to both sides.

The only opposition from the union was the lack of time-and-one-half pay for overtime, Martin said.

The union does not expect to get paid when members are called to fires while off-duty. But, it does expect time-and-a-half pay when a members fills in on a regular shift and works more than 42 hours in a week, he said.

Both sides now will begin again in the negotiation for a new contract. The last contract expired June 30.

Local Democratic supporters of Gov. Ella Grasso Tuesday night were pleasantly surprised by the wide margin of victory in her primary against Lt. Gov. Robert Killian.

Killian backers attributed the more than 2-1 defeat to Killian's comments on an inevitable income tax Sunday. The total Manchester vote was 11,732 in favor of Grasso and 4,058 for Killian.

The local Democratic leaders were nearly evenly split in the support of the two candidates, but both sides expressed confidence that the two groups can unite easily in support of the entire Democratic state ticket for the Nov. 7 election.

Mary LeDuc, co-chairman of the Grasso committee, said she did not expect such a wide margin of victory for the governor, but she said it on the governor's record and performance.

Grasso Still Winner After Rough Scraps

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella Grasso has proved she is still the driving force in Connecticut's Democratic family by emerging victorious from a rough and tumble scrap with one of her own.

But it remains to be seen if her resounding 2-1 primary victory Tuesday night over upstart Lt. Gov. Robert Killian will leave bruises and scars on the Democratic clan too tender to heal by November.

That's what Mrs. Grasso, the 59-year-old daughter of Italian immigrants, faces Republican gubernatorial nominee, Ronald Sarasin, a silver-haired, three-term congressman who relies more on charisma than the kind of tough talk that became Killian's campaign trademark.

Mrs. Grasso, the first woman elected governor without the aid of her husband's name, has never lost an election. She kept that record intact Tuesday by rolling over Killian, who quickly announced he was retiring from politics.

Mrs. Grasso bested her challenger in 187 of Connecticut's 189 communities, by a large margin in most cases.

When all the polling places reported in, Mrs. Grasso had an official tally of 137,466 — or 68 percent of the vote. Unofficially, Killian had 65,038 votes or 32 percent.

"It was a wonderful victory," a beaming Mrs. Grasso told a small group of reporters in the den of her Windsor Locks home, only minutes after her second-in-command telephoned to say he was throwing in the towel.

His concession came only 45 minutes after election officials began counting ballots when the polls closed at 8 p.m.

"The Democrats quarrel and they get together and they move ahead to party victory," she said.

Asked if her upcoming battle against Sarasin will be as tough as her tussle with Killian, Mrs. Grasso said, "I think it will be much less painful. Family quarrels are always painful."

Tuesday's primary was the first time Connecticut's registered Democrats were asked to choose their party's nominee for governor in a primary. About a third of the state's 630,000 Democrats responded by endorsing Mrs. Grasso for a second term.

Killian, the first lieutenant governor in state history who dared to challenge a sitting governor, took his defeat in stride. He said his unsuccessful candidacy would eventually improve Connecticut's political health by producing a direct primary system.

"It put an end for all times to the convention system which is designed to beat down challengers, to beat down people who have the courage to stand up against the machine," he said.

In July at the party's topsy turvy state convention, Killian managed to scrape together only six more votes than the 20 percent he needed to force the historic primary against Mrs. Grasso.

Four years ago, Mrs. Grasso, then a two-term congresswoman, and Killian, Connecticut's attorney general for seven years, battled for their party's nomination.

By CHRIS BLAKE
Herald Reporter
EAST HARTFORD — Mayor Richard H. Blackstone received word this morning that the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development has rejected the town's fourth-year application for $843,000 in Community Development funds.

Blackstone said he is mulling over a possible suit against HUD by the town, but he will not make that decision until about a week from now.

Federal officials had asked for more data two weeks ago on the town's housing assistance plan and the town is still compiling the data.

However, the grant denial was expected by town officials.

By CHRIS BLAKE
Herald Reporter
HUD Nixes Grant Bid
Blackstone said two major points of contention are the "expected-to-reside" figures, which HUD has disputed, and the town's updated figures on those who work in East Hartford.

He called the denial "almost idiotic" because new HUD regulations which take effect next year support the town's position.

"Our position has always been, 'If you're going to say that there are people who live in West Hartford and work in East Hartford, that's fine. But it isn't one-directional. There are also people in East Hartford who work out of town. If it's one-directional, you're going to over-estimate housing by three- or four-fold. Federal officials say the town's figure of 350 workers it expects to reside in town if housing were available is too low. They say the figure is closer to 960 persons, Blackstone said.

Blackstone said the town did its own survey of employers and businesses in East Hartford and was able to update the 1970 census figures. The 1970 figures are outdated," he said.

Referring to the idea that the town's position is not now acceptable, but would be acceptable next year, he said, "There's no logic to that."

Killian Says 'Last Hurrar' Leaves Mark

HARTFORD (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Robert Killian and politics apparently have parted company. But he says his "last hurrar" will leave an indelible mark on Connecticut's political scene.

Just 45 minutes after the polls closed Tuesday at 8 p.m., Killian called Gov. Ella T. Grasso to concede defeat in the Democratic gubernatorial primary — the first in Connecticut.

The former attorney general then strode to the platform at his campaign headquarters, his wife by his side, and told supporters what they already knew.

"I think it's very obvious, ladies and gentlemen that Mrs. Grasso has won by a substantial margin," Killian, who will be 59 Friday, told the crowd of 75 or so campaign workers.

The admission of defeat brought no tears or looks of surprise. Few had paid much attention to the early returns posted on cardboard markers. It was clear early that the concession speech was only a matter of time.

But Killian cushioned the loss by saying it was not without its measure of success.

"One thing we've done is put to an end, for all time, a convention system that is designed to beat down challenges to incumbency, to beat down people who have the courage to stand up against the machine," he said to loud applause.

"Whether we win or whether we lose, politics in Connecticut will never be the same again," the first lieutenant governor in state history to challenge an incumbent governor told reporters earlier in the evening.

Killian told reporters he had his "run" in politics and will return to the Hartford law firm he left in 1963.

He attributed his defeat to the difficulty in overcoming the power of an incumbent.

Ella Waited By Telephone

WINDSOR LOCKS (UPI) — The telephone jangled beside Gov. Ella T. Grasso as she waited Tuesday night in the den of her home for a call from Robert K. Killian, conceding defeat in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

She said "Hello," but it wasn't Killian, a man she once asked God to forgive for what he did to her family

Maryland Upset Dumps Governor

Maryland Democrats dumped the state's acting governor Tuesday in one of the year's biggest primary upsets, but palace revolt fizzled in New York.

Blair Lee was the political victim of the day as 14 states and the District of Columbia held party primaries to choose candidates for the Nov. 7 general elections.

Lee, Marvin Mandel's running mate in 1974 and acting governor since Mandel was convicted on corruption charges, lost to Harry Hughes, who resigned as state transportation secretary claiming he had been pressured to play favorites in awarding Baltimore subway contracts.

Lee joined Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe as the only other state chief executive ousted in 1978 primaries. Hughes' Republican opponent in Maryland will be former Sen. J. Glenn Beale.

In New York, Hugh Carey beat Lt. Gov. Mary Anne Krupsak and will face Republican Assembly leader Perry Duryea in November.

One of the most heavily populated and lavishly financed primaries was held in Florida, where drugstore magnate Jack Eicher beat Rep. Lou Frey for the GOP gubernatorial nomination. Former Sen. Edward Gurney came back from acquittal on slash fund indictments to win the GOP primary for Frey's seat — which he held 16 years ago.

Attorney General Robert Shevin and state Sen. Robert Graham led the Democratic field and will meet in a runoff Oct. 5.

Another contest that drew a crowd was in Nevada, where Lt. Gov. Robert Rose won the Democratic nomination and Attorney General Robert List the GOP nod to seek the office being vacated by retiring Democratic Gov. Mike O'Callaghan.

Other primaries where incumbent governors and senators turned back primary opposition: Minnesota — Sen. Wendell Anderson easily won the Democratic primary and will face Harold Boschitz, who beat Harold Stassen in the GOP primary. Democratic Gov. Rudy Perpich won his primary to stand against Rep. Albert Quie, the Republican candidate.

Rep. Donald Fraser beat businessman Robert Short for the Democratic nomination to seek the Senate seat of Hubert and Muriel Humphrey. Dave Durenberger won the Republican nomination for the four-year term.

New Hampshire — GOP Gov. Meldrim Thomson beat former Gov. Wesley Powell and will face Democratic State Sen. Hugh Galen. Democratic Sen. Thomas McIntyre handily disposed of Ray Caughan and will run against the GOP's Gordon Humphrey.

Rhode Island — Sen. Claiborne Pell won the Democratic nomination without trouble and will be opposed by Republican James G. Reynolds. Wyoming — Democratic Gov. Ed Herschler beat Margaret McKinstry, who won a close race for the GOP nomination. Alan Simpson, son of a former senator, won the GOP nomination for the Democratic race.

Wisconsin — College administrator Lee Dreyfus upended Rep. Robert Kasten for the Republican nomination to oppose acting Gov. Martin Schreiber, who beat David Carley in the Democratic primary.

In Colorado, Rep. William Armstrong beat former astronaut Jack Swigert for the GOP nomination to oppose Sen. Floyd Haskell, who had no primary opposition.

In Vermont, state Rep. Edwin Graan won the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Gov. Richard Snelling, who was unopposed.

In New Britain, Rep. Marcus Bordiere, involved in the so-called "book scandal" in the Legislature, won the Democratic nomination for the 6th Senatorial District over Paul Desmond.

Bordiere and Rep. Brian Desmond, D-New Britain, were asked to explain how Desmond's vote was cast when he was absent from the House one day towards the end of the 1978 Legislature. Bordiere explained that a book had been accidentally pushed up against the voting button on Desmond's desk and inadvertently recorded several tallies.

Desmond, who failed to gain the party nomination in the 23rd District, was last in a three-way race won by William Candelori, who finished ahead of Anthony Cervoni. Candelori was one of the New Britain officials implicated in the "Ella and Eddy" campaign advertising before the city's May 2 primary.

The two Democratic representatives in Waterbury who were denied party endorsements were successful Tuesday. Rep. Natalie Rapoport overcame Claire Preziioso and Maurice Mosley defeated William Verrier.

Another Democrat who was unable to be nominated for his Senate seat in the 13th District, Anthony Miller, lost to the endorsed candidate, Amelia Mastone.

HARTFORD (UPI) — Here's the final unofficial tally for the Republican and Democratic legislative primaries held Tuesday around the state:

Democratic — Senate Districts: 5th — Clifton Leonhardt 4,809, Gerald Rolman 4,540, 6th — Marcus Bordiere 4,818, Paul Amenta 2,500, Steven Hondzinski 3,001, 9th — William Curry Jr. 6,006, Joseph Marcelino III 4,108, 13th — Amelia Mastone 3,512, Anthony Miller 2,509, 30th — Joseph Ruggiero 2,311, Harold Hansen 1,858, Democratic — House of Representatives Districts: 1st — James Kennedy 1,334, Robert Buckley 877, 2nd — Richard Lawlor 1,151, Arthur Brouillet Jr. 1,063, 4th — Abraham Giles 379, Ronald Armstrong 385, Bruce Barlow 316, 5th — Robert Carragher 1,037, Edward Moore 695, 7th — Thirman Milner 697, Clyde Billington Jr. 651, John Allen 74, 8th — A. ## Osprey's Plight Topic Of Land Trust Meeting

The plight of the osprey, a large fish hawk related to the eagle, will be the subject of the first fall meeting of the Massachusetts Audubon Society with the Trust Inc., Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. in the Martin School in Manchester.

Gil Fernandez, an award-winning wildlife photographer, and his wife Jo, a zoologist, will present a 60-minute color documentary describing their work with a colony of the high-nesting birds in Westport, Mass. The couple lives in Dartmouth, Mass.

Ten years before Congress passed the Endangered Species Act of 1973, which now offers a degree of protection to the ospreys, the Fernandezes were making field studies and photographs and giving physical and structural assistance to the beleaguered birds in the Chesapeake Bay area as well as in Westport.

In 1969 they won the journalistic award in national competition for nature photo-essays sponsored by the Photographic Society of America.

The following year they were honored by the Massachusetts Audubon Society with the "A" award.

Fernandez is district representative in Eastern Massachusetts of the photographic society, and is also vice president and "Bulletin" editor of the New England Camera Club Council. His publication has just been awarded third place in world competition in its class. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fernandez are on the staff of the Manomet Bird Observatory on Cape Cod Bay, and Mrs. Fernandez is active with the Children's Museum of Dartmouth, Mass.

For the third program the Land Trust is again offering special family tickets and reduced rates for senior citizens and students. Tickets may be obtained from any Land Trust member, or by contacting the MLCT Office, 287 E. Center St., 646-2223, by Sept. 18. For Land Trust members, admission is free. Refreshments will be served.

Town's Zoning is Good, Sieffert Writes to HUD

By GREG PEARSON, Herald Reporter

The Town of Manchester's Planning and Zoning Commission has sent a letter to the local office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) defending the town's zoning regulations.

The PZC responded to what it called "unfounded and unjustified" comments that the zoning regulations are a cause for the lack of low to moderate cost housing in Manchester.

The commission believes that the current zoning regulations are suitable and appropriate and provide for development of residential, commercial and industrial uses in a balanced mix," Alfred Sieffert, chairman of the PZC, wrote in the letter, which was sent to Larry Thompson of HUD's Hartford office.

Sieffert referred to a recent study by the state Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities that ranked Manchester in the middle range of zoning restrictions.

Nearly 75 percent of Connecticut's communities have a restriction similar to Manchester's prohibiting mobile homes. Also, Manchester's zoning regulations do not limit the type of multi-family dwellings permitted, he said.

"The report notes that zoning in Manchester is not as restrictive as in at least 69 other Connecticut communities," Sieffert wrote.

He also mentioned some of the types of housing permitted under Manchester's zoning regulations. These include the following:

- Elderly housing with a density of up to 40 units per acre.
- Two-family houses.
- Conversion of single-family homes to three- or four-family homes.

Sieffert also said that changes have been made to the regulations to permit additional housing types not previously provided for in the regulations. He mentioned the amendment to allow housing for the elderly and handicapped in nearly every zone.

The Residence M Zone permits the construction of housing on a multi-family basis, he said. Some criticism has been made that Manchester's requirement for granite curbs increases the price of public streets and not on private drives that often service multi-

Addiction Seminar Set

The Greater Hartford Council on Alcoholism, the Educational Community of Manchester, and Rockville General Hospital are sponsoring a seminar, "Love and Addiction," Saturday, Oct. 7 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Educational Community, 645 Birch Mountain Road.

Stanton Peele, author of the best-selling book, "Love and Addiction," and co-author Archie Brodsky, will present the seminar.

The objectives of the day of Love and Addiction workshops are to separate the term "addiction" from an association only with drugs and show how it may describe relationships between people.

There is a charge for the seminar. Reservations may be made by calling the Educational Community, 646-0711. The public is invited.

News for Senior Citizens

Hi, everyone!
This is Gloria back at writing this column again while Wally is at the Cape with a busload of seniors.

When I arrived at work Monday morning there was a big sign in the main hall saying "Yankees Go Home." You know, all season the Red Sox rosters have kidded Wally about the Yankees playing ball so I think this was his way of getting a little revenge.

Last Friday we had 68 playing bingo and 10 tables gross scores were: Ivan Gartside, 36; Joseph Grinaway; Vince Porter, 44; Tony Lamburno, 46; Jack Dupont, 39; Dick DeMartin, 46. Low net scores: Jim Fee, 30; Willbur Hadden, 31; Paul Desjeunes, 31; Pardy Parkman, 30.

We were saddened to learn that our gal Friday Helen Marino's sister died. We also heard that Mrs. Rose Freeman, a former bridge player here, is at Laurel Manor and would appreciate cards and visits.

A happy note is that our Nellie Moran will be 99 years young on Sept. 27. She is now living in Manchester Manor. If you want to send a card you can drop it off at the center and Mike Haberman has offered to bring them to the Manor.

Paul Desjeunes dropped by with the golf scores and here are the results: There were 40 players and the low gross scores were: Ivan Gartside, 36; Joseph Grinaway; Vince Porter, 44; Tony Lamburno, 46; Jack Dupont, 39; Dick DeMartin, 46. Low net scores: Jim Fee, 30; Willbur Hadden, 31; Paul Desjeunes, 31; Pardy Parkman, 30.

He also mentioned that next week will end the Golf League for this year. The Golf Banquet is Oct. 2 and you can bring your spouse. Contact Joe Dupont for further information.

Norm Fendell stopped by to tell us about a new program that will be offered to the seniors at ROTC. It is a carpentry and woodworking class sponsored by the Adult Evening Department of the Board of Education. This course is free to the seniors. It will start Sept. 28 and run for nine weeks. Contact Gloria Benson at the center if you are interested.

You folks who are going on the November fly cruise are reminded that your final payments are due Sept. 15. Paul is setting up plans for a short briefing meeting a few days before take off and we'll tell you the exact story a little later.

There are only two double cabins left and so if you'd like to hop aboard you'd better contact Paul Ryan or our office this week.

Monday afternoon we had 13 1/2 tables playing pinocle with the following winners: Catherine Gleason, 817; Violet Dion, 817; Rene Maire, 805; Ann Fisher, 800; Bill Stone, 778; Al Gates, 778; Joe O'Connor, 778; Paul Willbur Hadden, 759; Arvid Peterson, 750; Bess Moanan, 737; Joe Windsor, 736.

By the way, some seniors have asked me if the buses will be running on Thursday. The big bus will pick its regular route starting at 10 a.m. The minibus will make up by calling in 24 hours in advance.

We have a couple of day trips planned for you folks. On Oct. 5, we will go to the Danbury Fair. We will register for that one next Monday, Sept. 18. The price is $9, which includes the bus and your admission ticket.

The following Monday, Sept. 25, will be registration for a foliage trip going on Oct. 19. We will be going to Vermont and eat at the Country Kitchen in Brattleboro. The price complete is $14.

Next week also, our oil painting and crewel classes start on a first come basis as space is limited. Oil painting is Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 10 a.m. Crewel is Sept. 20 from 10 to noon.

I would like to have your remembrance one date in closing. Nov. 16 for our Holiday Fair. So get those fingers working so it will be bigger and better than ever. Any questions, call me at the office.

Bolton Man Appointed To Interim UConn Job

Edward Hanna

Edward Hanna, a controller and assistant vice president for finance and administration at the University of Connecticut, has been appointed acting vice president for finance and administration.

A native of Manchester, and a Bolton resident, Hanna received his bachelor's degree in accounting from Bryant College and his master's of business administration degree from Hensseler Polytechnic Institute (The Hartford Graduate Center).

Hanna, whose appointment was announced by acting president Edward V. Gani, fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Harry M. Hartley, who has given up his administrative duties to return to full time teaching and research. Hartley, a former dean of the School of Education, is a UConn professor of education.

Controller at UConn since 1961, Hanna was named assistant vice president in 1974, after previously serving as acting vice president. He will retain the duties of controller and assistant vice president while serving as acting vice president.

Hanna joined the UConn staff in 1964 as an internal auditor and later became director of the internal budget and in 1962 was named chief accountant. He also served as assistant controller for six years.

David M. Call

Call Named Chairman Of Swensson Campaign

David M. Call has been named chairman for the political campaign of Mrs. Elsie "Biz" Swensson, Republican candidate for state representative in the 13th Assembly District.

"Biz will be a fine representative because she cares deeply about people. She is totally committed to reducing our runaway state spending because she is concerned about our pocketbooks. Biz listens, cares and responds in a way that have made people love and respect her for a long, long time," Call said.

Call is an attorney with a Hartford law firm. He lives at 43 Thayer Road with his wife and three daughters. He has been active in Manchester Republican politics and is currently serving as a member of the Citizens

Advisory Committee and the Human Relations Commission. He was a candidate for the Board of Directors in 1977.

Key members of Mrs. Swensson's campaign include Mrs. Faye Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. Janet Reinhorn, assistant treasurer; Joseph Reynolds, finance; Thomas Damron, issues; Vivian Ferguson, publicity; Dudley Bostick, signs; Mrs. Flavia Dolchin, secretary; Miss Mary Mistretta, mailing.

District coordinators for Mrs. Swensson are Peter DiRosa, District 1; Mrs. Mary Lou Pjero, District 4; Peter Sylvester, District 6; Mrs. Ellen Bickford, District 8; Mrs. Cheryl Hadley and Mrs. Beverly Malone are co-chairmen for the coffee hours.

Grange Installs Master

Edith Schoel of Manchester Grange was installed as master of East Central Pomona Grange by Frank Ruff, chairman of the Connecticut State Grange Executive Committee, at the September meeting of the Grange. Thus Mrs. Schoel becomes the 57th master of this Grange, which was organized in 1887.

Other officers installed were overseer, Rita J. Schaefer, Hillstown Grange; lecturer, Hannah Williams, Wapping Grange; steward, William MacMurtry, Hillstown Grange; assistant steward, Kenneth Herbele, Manchester Grange; lady assistant steward, Kathryn E.A. Ruff, Hillstown Grange; chaplain,

Charlotte Hutchins, Manchester Grange; treasurer, Gertrude A. ## Water Was Bad as Usual

August normally is a bad month for water quality, and last month was no exception in Manchester.

Bob Young, water treatment manager for the town's Water Department, reported a number of water quality violations during August.

The most serious were six water samples that had high bacteria counts. The total number of samples that exceeded the standard bacteria levels should not exceed five percent. Manchester took 107 samples during August, and the six samples, or 5.6 percent, exceeded the bacteria standard.

The six bad samples, however, were scattered and were not a repetitive problem, Young said. Two of the bad samples were at the public works garage and there was one each at Baldwin Road, Helaine Road, Weaver Road and 903 Center St., Young said.

The six violation samples were high enough to also create a violation of the average coliform density per sample.

The average for the 107 samples was 1.83. Young said. Anything over 1.0 is considered a violation.

There also were turbidity violations at three reservoirs -

Lydall Street, Porter and Howard, he said.

August and September normally are months when water quality will deteriorate because of warm weather and lack of rain, Young said.

During August, for instance, Manchester had only eight-tenths of an inch of rain. This caused a drop in the water level below some of the reservoir spillways, which can lead to stagnation.

The town has increased the use of chlorine to control bacteria in the water supply, Young said.

Hard Water Lowers Heart Disease Rate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Residents of west Texas may have a harder time washing clothes than other Americans, but they also reportedly have the lowest death rate from heart disease in the United States.

The Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology reported on a recent study which suggests there may be a link between the hard water and low heart disease rates. It indicates that hard water may protect the heart and arteries from high sodium levels.

The report from a group headed by Dr. Earl B. Dawson at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston looked at metal levels in urine samples and in the drinking water of 24 west Texas communities and compared those levels to cardiovascular mortality rates.

The Upper Rio Grande Valley has the hardest water with the highest lithium content in the United States," Dawson said in a telephone interview. "It also has the lowest cardiovascular mortality rate in the United States."

The Texas report, earlier printed in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, was another in a number of studies from around the world searching for a relationship between water hardness and heart disease. The previous reports have been conflicting.

The Texas group hypothesized that high levels of lithium, magnesium, strontium and silicon in the west Texas water help protect residents against heart and circulatory disease by removing excess water, sodium and potassium from the body.

"Lithium, which seems to have the greatest effect on cardiovascular disease, judging from the number of significant correlations with disease rates, has been recognized for years as a diuretic," said the report.

The researchers noted that excess sodium intake has been associated with excess water retention. A diuretic promotes the excretion of urine and body salts.

To much sodium, which we get from eating salt, is considered harmful to heart disease patients and clinical studies imply that excessive body sodium can adversely affect heart tissue in humans, the federation said.

Dawson noted that Finland, which has some of the world's softest water, also has the highest cardiovascular death rate.

"The highest cardiovascular death rate in the country is around Washington, D.C., New York and the Piedmont Plateau stretching from southern Virginia, down through North Carolina, covering virtually all of South Carolina and into the southern half of Georgia," he said.

"These are very soft water areas."

Many Americans crave soft water because, for one thing, it makes better soap suds for washing hair and clothing.

Although Dawson said hard water may help remove sodium from the body, he did not suggest that Americans begin adding chemicals to soft water in order to help rid their bodies of high amounts of salt.

"It would probably be easier to remove sodium from soft water than to add, say, lithium, calcium and magnesium," he said.

Owners of Rec Vehicles May Face Parking Curbs

The Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) is going to consider ways to regulate parking of recreation vehicles on private property.

The town has received complaints from residents about unsightly parking of recreation vehicles. Town Planner Alan Lamson said that information from surrounding towns indicate that they all had some way regulations that governed the vehicle parking.

PZC member Ronald Gates reminded the PZC that they had tried to draw up regulations in the past but had no success after a public hearing. Lamson said he will draft a proposed regulation on recreational van parking.

Attorney Dominic Squatrito, representing the Vernon Corporation, requested a sidewalk waiver in a portion of the Knollwood subdivision near Crestfield Conventhouse home on Vernon Street saying that the sidewalk would not justify the expense nor serve any useful purpose as there are other sidewalks in the area nearby.

Hayden Griswold asked the PZC to reconsider a request for a waiver or detourment of sidewalks in a nine-lot subdivision on Hilltown Road. The subdivision has a total of six lots. Griswold said he and the tree warden had looked over some of the older trees in the subdivision. Kenneth Irish, assistant tree warden, said that there was a lot of life left yet in some of the old trees, according to Griswold.

Also, there will be a cul-de-sac in the subdivision which means there will be no through-traffic, Griswold said.

The PZC has received three new applications. They are from: (1) Lydall, Inc., requesting a special exception for more than 60 parking spaces to go with an additional 10,000 square feet of office building; (2) Society for Savings in the Manchester West subdivision requesting change of a sedimentation basin to a detention basin; and (3) Fred and Dorothy Annulli requesting a subdivision approval for property on Broad Street.

Moffett Knocks Plan on Statistical Remap

HARTFORD (UPI) — Some federal bureaucrats want to lump Bristol and New Britain into a region with Hartford for statistical purposes. Rep. Toby Moffett says that would be a mistake.

Combining Bristol and New Britain with Hartford would have an adverse impact on the two smaller cities, he said, "at the thought of having to shovel 150 to 200 feet of sidewalk."

Commission member John Hutchins said he didn't understand how a developer can request no sidewalks when he begins the development that sidewalks are required.

Griswold said that he and the tree

The Litchfield Hills Regional Planning Agency has suggested that the towns in northwestern Connecticut should be combined in one statistical unit of their own.

At issue is how the map of Connecticut should be drawn to divide the state into regions so that the Census Bureau and other federal agencies can determine income rates, business figures and similar data.

The statistics are then used to decide which areas are eligible for grants and other benefits paid for with federal monies.

"Urban strategy presently directed at both cities would instead be directed to Hartford," he said.

Diana Joins Democrats In Disputed Appointment

The Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night made its long-awaited appointment of James Murphy to the Manchester Housing Authority.

Murphy replaces Dr. Joseph Danyliw, whose five-year term expired in July.

The replacement of Danyliw was pegged to the MHA's failure to appoint Roger Negro as its executive director. Negro is an active Democrat and presently serves as town treasurer.

Two Republican and one Democratic directors abstained from the vote.

"I feel that Dr. Danyliw has done an excellent job. I feel this is a political decision and thus will abstain from voting," Vivian Ferguson said. Directors John FitzPatrick and Carl Zinsser also abstained.

The third Republican on the board, William Diana, voted in favor of the appointment.

"I believe you're entitled to your appointees, and we're entitled to our appointees," he said.

Democrat Betty Intagliata said that each Board of Directors should have an opportunity to make its own appointments rather than routinely reappointing members to boards and commissions.

Four other Democratic directors joined Mrs. Intagliata and Diana in voting for the appointment.

Murphy has been active in local Democratic politics and resides at 21 Stone St.

He has been an employee of the Connecticut Real Estate Commission since 1969 and instructs a real estate course at the University of Connecticut.

But, for a Democratic election volunteer in the fifth voting district, it was just another day at the polls.

Rose M. DeMonte, the election moderator at the Silver Lane School, has been working elections for 20 years.

As moderator at the Silver Lane School, Mrs. DeMonte must be sworn in early in the morning by Town Clerk John J. Barry. The town clerk gives the oath to moderators in all of the voting districts in East Hartford.

Once they receive the oath, the moderators go to their polling places and are empowered to give the oath to the election workers at their polling stations.

The moderators' responsibilities include picking up the roster of registered voters, coordinating the shifts of election workers to make sure their nation is covered and checking the names of voters who claim they are registered with the town clerk's office.

The moderator is also responsible for transporting the election results (which is never done over the phone) to the Town Hall and checking the final count with their sheets to make sure every vote is accounted for.

In general elections, moderators must get up at 5 a.m. because the polls open at 6 a.m. However, primaries are a little easier — the polls are only open from noon to 8 p.m.

Elections are serious business and every precaution is taken to make sure all those who vote are registered to vote. In Tuesday's primary, only registered Democrats could vote.

Voters must have their names checked against a master list of all registered voters in the district. Lists are updated in May of each year through door-to-door canvasses.

When their names are checked, voters can proceed to the voting booth.

Mrs. DeMonte said some voters never have trouble with the levers, but others seem to get nervous once inside. Should the machine malfunction, a mechanic must be summoned immediately to fix it as quickly as possible.

"It was a secret poll — we weren't even permitted to see the questions on it," Mrs. DeMonte said.

Putting the historic nature of the primary and the secret nature of the ballot survey aside, Tuesday was just another election day for Mrs. DeMonte. There will be another one in November.

The early afternoon turnout was heavy at the Silver Lane School with 70 voters casting ballots in the first hour of voting, said moderator Rose M. DeMonte. Mrs. Arlene Quinn of Willowbrook Road leaves the voting booth after casting her ballot. Thirteen polling places were open Tuesday in East Hartford, where Gov. Ella Grasso showed an 800-vote edge over Lt. Gov. Robert Killian. (Herald photo by Blake)

Boucher, Town Argue Pay

Representatives for both the Town of Manchester and a town employee seeking pay for time he served as laboratory director presented their case to the state Department of Labor Tuesday.

The employee, Richard Boucher, a laboratory technician, filed a grievance because he said that he was not paid the salary of a laboratory director when he filled in at that position from Oct. 9, 1975 to May 10, 1976.

The hearing Tuesday started at 11 a.m. and lasted until about 3 p.m. Both sides presented their arguments.

In July, the state Board of Mediation and Arbitration ruled that an arbitration hearing should be scheduled in the matter. The town had challenged the right for such a hearing because the union involved took more than a year to file the request for an arbitration hearing.

The union's delay, however, resulted from the town's failure to perform a promised evaluation of the employee.

East Hartford's Killian Backers Change Course

By CHRIS BLAKE
Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD — Local Democrats who spearheaded the East Hartford campaign for Lt. Gov. Robert Killian will change their course in light of Killian's defeat Tuesday by Gov. Ella Grasso in the Democratic primary.

Mrs. Grasso defeated Killian by about 800 votes with 37 percent of the 16,313 Democrats in town casting ballots.

"I don't know what we could have done differently," he said.

Meanwhile, Democratic supporters of Gov. Grasso expressed confidence today about the November election against Republican candidate Ronald Sarasin.

Mayor Richard H. Blackstone called the governor's victory "a very fine win." He said he is expecting a Gov. Grasso victory in November.

"The public has recognized Mrs. Grasso as an outstanding governor and a capable administrator of state affairs," Blackstone said today.

Blackstone and other top Democratic officials in East Hartford endorsed the governor in the primary election.

Other supporters of Mrs. Grasso included Fitzgerald and Eugene Paganetti, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The following are the primary results in East Hartford: District 1, Grasso 447, Killian 411; District 2A, Grasso 269, Killian 182; District 2B, Grasso 150, Killian 156; District 3A, Grasso 114, Killian 74; District 3B, Grasso 206, Killian 216; District 4, Grasso 302, Killian 276; District 5, Grasso 228, Killian 197; District 6A, Grasso 278, Killian 175; District 6B, Grasso 342, Killian 196; District 7, Grasso 435, Killian 299; District 8A, Grasso 212, Killian 167; District 8B, Grasso 182, Killian 136; and District 9, Grasso 281, Killian 221.

Workshop Scheduled On Testing

EAST HARTFORD — The Board of Education will hold a workshop session concerning competency testing Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Media Center at the Center School.

Dr. Thomas Andreoli, math supervisor and member of the State Board of the Literacy Committee, will present the report on ninth grade proficiency testing. They are expected to relate the history of the project including the 1977 pilot program, the 1978 testing and the results of both tests.

Competency testing was researched at the suggestion of the school superintendent three years ago. Since then the state has mandated all Connecticut schools administer competency tests in 1980.

After two years of study, the local committee designed math and reading instruments to test 13 math objectives and basic reading objectives. The pilot test was given to the freshmen at Penney and East Hartford High Schools in 1977. Last April, the present sophomore class members were tested.

According to Dr. Andreoli and Mrs. Klein, 87 percent of the freshmen tested this year passed reading test and 84 percent of the 885 ninth graders tested achieved a passing grade on the math test.

Plans for remedial work developed in a summer workshop will also be shared with board members. Because the committee chose to test at the ninth grade level, secondary school staffs will have three years to assist failing students.

The school board will study and discuss the reports and recommendations before making final decisions on competency testing.

Landlord Faces Prison Term

HARTFORD (UPI) — A New Haven landlord convicted of conspiring to set fire to six of his buildings to collect his insurance faces a prison term after losing an appeal to the state Supreme Court.

Samuel Daniel, 60, free on bond while the appeal was pending, had been sentenced to six to 12 years in prison in November 1975 by the New Haven Superior Court. His conviction was upheld in a high court decision made public Tuesday.

McDaniel's attorney, John R. Williams, had argued the prosecution prejudiced McDaniel's right to a fair trial by withholding the identity of an FBI informer who first tipped off police about his arson conspiracy.

EAST HARTFORD — Boy Scout Troop 238, located in the southern part of East Hartford, will have registration Friday at 7 p.m. at the Hookman School cafeteria for all boys who have reached the age of 11 or older.

Fahy Finance Head
EAST HARTFORD — Joseph Egan of 120 Skyline Drive, East Hartford, has been named finance manager for Democratic State Senate candidate Marcella Fahy.

Egan will be responsible for coordinating all fund-raising efforts in Fahy's campaign for the Third District seat. Egan is an attorney with the Travelers' Insurance Co. and is a member of the East Hartford Democratic Town Committee.

Square Dancing
EAST HARTFORD — The Circle 8 Square Dance Club will be offering lessons starting Thursday at the Silver Lane school in East Hartford. John Provin will be the instructor.

The first evening will be "free fun" for those interested with the actual lessons to begin in the following weeks.

Sheehan said the existing system is undersized and there is a flooding problem in the area. By extending the system, he said, it could take the discharge away from the problem area and alleviate the flooding. The area is classified as wetlands only because of its soil content, and not because it has any significant ecological value.

The commission gave its approval to applications by Donald A. Martin of KLI Associates, for replacing pipe structures at 1150 Burnside Avenue, and by Hilda Q. Esteves, for a subdivision in a regulated area east of Woodmont Drive.

Both activities were seen as improvements to their respective areas and this paved the way for unanimous approval from the seven-member board.

KLI Associates, which owns Top Notch Foods, asked to replace existing pipe system with a new facility on 4.6 acres of land along the east property line. Martin made it clear that the developers would be changing the facilities but not the volume of water through the system.

The new facilities also involve discharging some water into a state system, which would require approval from the state before the developers can begin operations. Commission members gave their preliminary acceptance of the plans on condition that the developers get the state's permission. The developers were also asked by Town Engineer Charles Sheehan to provide some more specifics on the blueprints and to screen a deserted catch basin to make sure an animal or small child wouldn't crawl in.

After the first developers got the OK, the commission allowed construction of a 150-to-200-foot road in a regulated area south of Jeffrey Drive. The 8.8 acres of land is a 20-lot extension west of Timber Trail and located east of Woodmont Drive.

The road construction would include all drainage, utilities and sanitary sewers. At the suggestion of the town, the developers will construct a 36-inch pipe and tie into an existing 54-inch structure along Woodmont Drive.

Commission members gave swift approval to the applicant after Sheehan said the system "provides a timely solution to a drainage problem which is doing property damage."

In other matters, the commission welcomed Elizabeth Squares as the newest regular member after serving for many years as an alternate. Mary Dowden was also appointed as the alternate.

The commission also voted to join the Connecticut Association of Conservation and Environment and the Inland Wetlands Commission, a joint association of volunteers. The commission voted to pay the $20 fee and Mrs. Squares was selected as the representative.

Retirees Group
EAST HARTFORD — The Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Club Retirees Group will hold its next meeting Sept. 20 at the Club Facilities on 200 Clement Road, East Hartford, at 10 a.m. A flea market prior to the meeting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. The group is planning a Christmas party for Dec. 8 and a shopping trip to Boston by bus for Nov. 8. The meeting date is also the last chance for retirees to sign up for the trip to Montreal.

Guys and Dolls Audition
EAST HARTFORD — Auditions will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon for "Guys and Dolls" and are open to East Hartford residents. The production is sponsored by the Chancel Choir of South Congregational Church.
 The performances will be held at East Hartford High School on Nov. 3 and 4.

Church Schedule
SOUTH WINDSOR — The Avery Street Christian Reformed Church has returned to its regular schedule of 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship services on Sundays. Nurseries are available from both services.
 The Sunday School is now in session for children age 4 through adult. It starts at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday.

Installation
VERNON — Deacons and deaconesses who were elected at the annual meeting of the First Congregational Church of Vernon in June will be installed Sunday during the church's 10 a.m. worship service.
 Those to be installed are Jane Kuhnley, Bernice Taylor, Judy Derbes, Carol Black, Robert Lippman, Brian Tiedt, Weller Dugan, Edwin Hutchinson Jr. and John Kozlowski.

Registration Session
ANDOVER — Registration for Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts will be Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Andover Elementary School all purpose room.

BOLTON — The Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct a public hearing on Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Tolland County Agricultural Center, Route 30.
 The forum will be sponsored by the Extension Council. Dr. Elsie Fetterman, family resource management specialist from the University of Connecticut will lead the forum with an update on what's happening to food prices.

High Prices
VERNON — Are food prices going up or coming down? This controversial topic will be the focus of a public forum on Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Tolland County Agricultural Center, Route 30.
 The forum will be sponsored by the Extension Council. Dr. Elsie Fetterman, family resource management specialist from the University of Connecticut will lead the forum with an update on what's happening to food prices.
 A film report on the status of food production in the U.S. will feature the late Congressman Jerry Litton. Dr. Donald Stitts, Agricultural Economics Specialist, also from UConn, will explain local production and a grocery distributor will discuss aspects of food retailing.
 All three speakers will then answer questions posed by those attending, about the buying and selling, growing and transporting of foods.

Mixed Emotions
SOUTH WINDSOR — The state's consideration regarding a lane divider and pedestrians has met with "mixed emotions" by members of the local Mass Transit Commission.
 Town Manager Paul Talbot issued a letter to the commission explaining the state's proposal to paint a yellow line on each side of the bridge, primarily for the use of bicyclists.
 The bridge is closed to both bicyclists and pedestrians.
 Several commission members said they feared such a painted area would create a traffic problem for motorists. Others said they feared the bicyclists would be overrun by bicyclists.
 Commission Chairwoman Dorothy Corcoran said the commission would send a letter to Talbot stating the members were divided on the issue.

Antiques Festival
WETHERSFIELD — The Wethersfield Historical Society will sponsor an antiques festival Sept. 16 on the grounds of the Solomon Waller House overlooking the Wethersfield Cove. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., rain or shine. Some 150 dealers from Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Vermont, Pennsylvania and North Carolina, will have a variety of items for sale. Items will include such things as early country and formal furniture, oriental and hooked rugs, early iron tools, coverlets and quilts, pewter, glass and many others. Funds raised will be used for the general maintenance and continued operation of the four properties maintained by the society.

Legion Adopts
The Jones-Keefe-Batson Unit #6, American Legion Auxiliary, will continue to adopt two veterans for the 1978-79 year.
 The two are David Blanchard, a patient at Rocky Hill Veterans Home and Hospital and Patrick Kelly, a resident of Salmon Brook Convalescent Home.
 Members of the unit visit the two veterans from time to time and remember them with gifts and cards on holidays and other special occasions.
 Plans are being made to sponsor a picnic for the residents of the Barracks at Rocky Hill. Last year the unit took a group of about 25 veterans for a picnic at Hurd State Park using funds donated by the Mission Society of the Gilead Congregational Church to finance the project.
 Local delegates to Girls State will be invited to attend the November meeting of the auxiliary to report on the past summer's session.
 Dues payments of members should be sent to Lydia G. Simons, treasurer, or Lorraine Nicolo, vice president and membership chairman.

Bysko Fights Rent Increases; Backs Tenants in Complexes

By CHRIS BLAKE
 Herald Reporter
EAST HARTFORD — Peter Bysko's role as representative for the tenants at four state-owned housing complexes is a story filled with ironies.

Bysko, 54, is leading a fight for tenants at Daley Court, where he lives, and three other housing complexes which face rent increases of $12 to $20 in the months ahead.
 His story is ironic because the role he has played with such enthusiasm and energy is one he never sought. The story is also ironic because the organization most responsible for giving Bysko his role is the same one he is fighting against.

That organization is the Housing Authority. Bysko became an unofficial representative of the Daley Court tenants a year and a half ago. The Housing Authority had asked him if he would hold a master key in case anyone got locked out of their apartments at Daley Court.

Bysko said "little by little" he got involved. He started talking to tenants, collecting literature from the Housing Authority and reading stories about other Housing Authority tenants in other towns in the newspapers.

In June, the Housing Authority asked Bysko to attend a meeting along with eight other tenant representatives. They told him to come armed with any complaints the tenants had. He did.

"I had more complaints listed than the other people combined," he said.

The Housing Authority had called the meeting to let the representatives know what they were mulling over in a section telling the tenants the state Department of Community Affairs told the Housing Authority it had to do something to stem the rising costs of fuel, utilities and rent.

"They were talking about a rent increase," he said. "I told Mr. Lavey Raymond Lavey, authority chairman that the elderly can't afford another rent increase."

Soon after the June meeting, Bysko went to the Town Hall and got the Health Department to send its inspectors to Daley Court.

He wanted to know if there were any health code violations, so he could tell the authority and get action before the rent increase was announced.

Bysko said there are many little things that don't get fixed at Daley Court.

He took out a small notebook which he has quoted from in numerous speeches before the Housing Authority commissioners.

"There are cracks in the sidewalks, holes in the ground, paint peeling on the doors, poison ivy growing on the property," he said.

 "The emergency switches are no good because you have to keep your finger on the switch," he said. "How can you keep your finger on the switch while you're passing out?"
 Bysko is also preparing a loose leaf book with photographs which he shot himself. He calls the book "Daley Court, 1982 - present." The book illustrates some of the complaints Bysko lists in his notebook.

"I'm not finished putting this together yet," he said. He has about 10 pages of photographs, but he hopes to have many more by the time he and a group of tenants and citizens make a visit to the state DCA office in Hartford.

The DCA has the final say in any rent increase. Right now, the DCA is reviewing the complaints made during a formal public hearing held in Hartford. Bysko said the state is reviewing the comments made during the hearing. He said a rent strike is a possibility, but it is too early to decide that right now.

"I'm going to consult with CCAO on that before we decide anything," he said.

He does plan to challenge what he said was an illegal technicality in the review of the complaints. He said the state has finalized procedures for the special education administrative review process.

In explaining the letter, Dr. Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent in charge of special education, said he recommended direct involvement by the full board of education when necessary in reviewing certain cases.

He said up to this point the only members to be involved in such reviews are Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, Mrs. Beverly Cochran, school social worker, Mrs. Nancy Garabedian, speech therapist, Anthony Magliocco, supervisor of special education, a school psychologist, and Dr. Kerkin.

He said not all will be used at any given time. The specific situation would govern who would attend, he said.

Dr. Shedd said that under Public Act 78-224, the local boards of education are required to grant an administrative review within 10 days of a written request by a parent. A decision letter regarding the outcome of the review must be sent to parents

Board of Education Notified Of State Board's Procedures

By BARBARA RICHMOND
 Herald Reporter
VERNON — The Board of Education has received a letter from Mark Shedd, commissioner of education, advising members that the state has finalized procedures for the special education administrative review process.

In explaining the letter, Dr. Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent in charge of special education, said he recommended direct involvement by the full board of education when necessary in reviewing certain cases.

He said up to this point the only members to be involved in such reviews are Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, Mrs. Beverly Cochran, school social worker, Mrs. Nancy Garabedian, speech therapist, Anthony Magliocco, supervisor of special education, a school psychologist, and Dr. Kerkin.

He said not all will be used at any given time. The specific situation would govern who would attend, he said.

Dr. Shedd said that under Public Act 78-224, the local boards of education are required to grant an administrative review within 10 days of a written request by a parent. A decision letter regarding the outcome of the review must be sent to parents within 10 days of the review, together with a statement of the right to a hearing and the option to request mediation.

He explained that an administrative review is a review by a local board of education of a child's records, including a summary of their position for the board's consideration. Parents should be informed of this right at the time that they request the administrative review. The summary should be submitted before the administrative review and should be included in the child's records.

"It should be remembered that any parental disagreement should, in any event, be included in the notes of the Planning and Placement Team meeting," he said.

He also said it would, of course, be possible for a local board to form a committee to hold the administrative review. He said that committee could meet within the required 10 days and take its recommendation to the full board before the next 10 days during which the decision must be mailed," he said.

He said this approach might offer the benefits of increased flexibility and the development of expertise on the part of the committee.

Dr. Shedd cautioned the board that such proceedings often touch on sensitive issues. He said that the board should take care to exercise discretion by invoking its power to meet in executive session whenever appropriate.

Ahearn Victorious in 55th

By BARBARA RICHMOND
 Herald Reporter
BOLTON — An elated Aloysius J. Ahearn of Bolton won the 55th District Democratic primary hands down Tuesday and will run for state representative next in the Legislature.

During his previous term in the house Ahearn introduced the Bottle Bill which, after being defeated three times, was passed by the Legislature last year.

Ahearn said the law is to go into effect in 1980 but he feels opponents of the bill may try to rescind the law which calls for the banning of flip tops and would put a deposit requirement on beverage bottles and cans.

Ahearn said last week that there are rumblings that opponents are gearing up for a public relations and legislative attack on the bill.

Ahearn is a campaign coordinator in the district towns were: Betty Kowalski, Margaret Juravaty and Brenda Somerset in Andover; Ivi Porter and Marcia Eaton, Hebron; Rogers, and Charles Holland in Bolton; Joyce Fox and Noreen Steele in Columbia; Dennis Shea, Howard Ahearn, and William Williams in Vernon; Richard and Linda Reznick and Edward Meyers, Vernon; and Richard Harrison, Robert Henderson; and John Duchon in Marlborough.

Ahearn defeated Louis Matsikas and Dr. Edward Williams, both of Hebron. He served one previous term in the house, defeating Mrs. Miller in 1974.

The 55th District is made up of the towns of Andover, Bolton, part of Vernon, Columbia, Hebron, and Marlborough.

In Vernon the race was much closer. Ahearn received 80 votes and Matsikas and Williams receiving 81 each.

In Hebron, Williams was the top vote-getter with 171 votes, followed by Ahearn receiving 123 with Matsikas receiving 99.

Ahearn was also the top vote-getter in Andover, receiving 83 votes to 37 for Williams and 25 for Matsikas. In Marlborough 144 for Matsikas, 134 for Ahearn; and 43 for Williams.

The final total votes were Ahearn 759; Matsikas 570; and Williams, 410. At the convention in July the delegates were deadlocked thus making the primary necessary.

While he won in 1974 against Mrs. Miller he lost the fight against her in 1976. Mrs. Miller has served six terms, not consecutively, in the Legislature.

Ahearn said last night that he thanked all who voted for him and also thanked his opponents who he said fought a clean issue-oriented campaign.

He expressed the hope that everyone could join together to give the 55th District the kind of representation it deserves. He said he will fight a hard campaign to win in November.

Square Dance
SOUTH WINDSOR — The South Windsor Square Dance Club will hold its annual "Fun Night" tonight from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. at the Wapping Elementary School.

An open invitation has been issued to all couples who would like to try Western square dancing. CHIL Broeder and Don Swift will be in charge. Admission will be free and refreshments will be served.

Microwave cooking
VERNON — The Tolland County Extension Service will sponsor a three-part series on basic cooking with microwave ovens, starting Sept. 25 and continuing on Oct. 2 and 9.

The morning program will be at 10 a.m. and there will be repeat programs at 7:30 p.m. on the three days.

On Sept. 25, Joan Hogger will speak on "What's Behind the Scenes." On Oct. 2, Esther Shupp, extension home economist, will speak on "Cooking Cool Oven Meals," and on Oct. 9, Paula Brancotti will speak on "Food Specialties — Get Your Oven to Work for You."

Those interested in attending the series should make a reservation by Sept. 20 by calling the extension office. The number will be limited to 60 people. A small donation will be requested to cover the cost of food.

Installation Ceremony
VERNON — On Sunday at 3 p.m. the new chaplain for Rockville General Hospital will be installed in a ceremony in the hospital cafeteria.

All area congregations and clergy have been invited to attend the ceremony. The chair of the Union Congregational Church will officiate.

This event marks the beginning of a permanent chaplaincy program at the hospital. The public is invited.

Hospital Rates
VERNON — A semi-private room at Rockville General Hospital will cost $8 a day more starting Oct. 1.

The hospital's $9.1 million budget for 1978-79 calls for a 1.42 percent increase in room rates and an 8 percent increase in x-ray, laboratory and operating room rates. The budget was unanimously approved by the Board of Trustees on Sept. 14 at Rockville General Hospital.

The town of South Windsor supported Grasso in an 884-654 vote. Andover gave Grasso 125 votes to 48 for Killian. Bolton went 180 for Grasso and 123 for Killian, and Hebron, 261 for Grasso, 158 for Killian.

ZBA Approves Four Variances, Allows Keeping of Horses

HEBRON — The Zoning Board of Appeals has voted to approve four variances, to deny one, and to table another.

Paul Ranzazzo of Marlborough, was granted a variance to keep two or three ponies at 439 Wall St., Hebron.

Linda White of 41 Burnt Hill Road was granted a variance to keep one horse on the same property.

A request by Marshall L. Dressler for a variance to change the zoning of property at 218 Deepwood Dr. was tabled until the board can view the classification of surrounding property owners and the Amston Lake Study Committee report with respect to the request.

In other action the board denied the request of Robert Cafazzo, 75 Hope Valley Drive, Amston, asking to appeal the decision of the board which disallowed the use of property located at 70 Main St. as a caretaver.

Frederick Nelson of 51 Carolyn Drive was granted a variance to allow the construction of a porch and a one-car garage closer to the side line than permitted.

Herrick and Virginia Peterson were granted a variance to allow the renovation of the old Orange Hall, 667 Gilead St. which is on an undersized lot. The Petersons intend to keep the building within its historical period.

Legion Adopts
The Jones-Keefe-Batson Unit #6, American Legion Auxiliary, will continue to adopt two veterans for the 1978-79 year.
 The two are David Blanchard, a patient at Rocky Hill Veterans Home and Hospital and Patrick Kelly, a resident of Salmon Brook Convalescent Home.

 Dues payments of members should be sent to Lydia G. Simons, treasurer, or Lorraine Nicolo, vice president and membership chairman.

Public Seminar Scheduled On Energy, School Budgets

EAST HARTFORD — The energy problem and its relationship to school budgets will be the topic of a public seminar on Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Langford School auditorium at 61 Alps Drive.

The seminar will include a discussion of an energy audit of the Langford school, one of 20 chosen across the nation in a cross-section survey of the schools. The Langford school was chosen because it is a new building and is fueled primarily by natural gas.

A designer and an engineer will inspect the school on Sept. 18 and make a thorough investigation of its energy use. The audit team will consist of Roger Rasbach of Roger Rasbach Associates, a designer of energy-efficient buildings, and Dr. Calvin M. Wolf of Northrop Services, Inc., an engineer.

Their recommendations will be aired at the public meeting the following night to educators, parents and community leaders. The program is sponsored by Tenneco, Inc. of Houston, which first tested the idea of advising schools on fuel conservation last May in Garland, Texas.

Rasbach will be one of the featured speakers at the meeting. The 50-year old designer has received several awards from building trade journals for his work and is the author of "The Proved Planner: A Blueprint for Homes, Communities & Lifestyles."

The Tenneco analysis program has been endorsed by eight educational associations across the country. Since the 1973 oil embargo by Arab nations, school energy costs have tripled and costs squeeze have forced school boards to eliminate other services.

The East Hartford Board of Education even reduced this year's fuel budget three percent from last year, hoping teachers and students would exercise conservation measures.

The audit team will make recommendations on energy management and improvements in equipment to save fuel.

PZC Will Hear Four Requests

SOUTH WINDSOR — The Planning and Zoning Commission will meet Sept. 19 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers of Town Hall to consider the following applications:

- Hobby Horse Farms, David Sullivan and Edward Finnelly, Newtonington, for a subdivision into four lots of property owned by Edward Bancroft Jr., located south of Strong Road and west of Kent Road in an A-40 and I zone.
- Application of Hobby Horse Farms for a site plan of development for commercial keeping of horses on property south of Strong Road and west of Kent Road.
- Application of LaCava Construction Co. for subdivision of about 10 acres of land, known as Tudor Hill Street, Manchester, for a subdivision of about 42 acres of land located south of Dart Hill Road on Tumblebrook Drive and Fairview Drive in an A-40, A-30 zone, known as Timber Ridge.

Organizational Meeting
 Cub Pack 389 of the Orchard Hill School will hold its fall organizational meeting and uniform exchange on Friday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. in the school gym. All new and returning scouts should plan to attend, accompanied by at least one parent.

Boys in the third, fourth and fifth grades may apply for membership. The pack has adopted the system placing boys in the Wolf, Bear and Webelos programs according to age levels.

Boys will have an opportunity to be registered for the coming year and parents will be able to sign up to help in the area of their choice. It is also hoped that dens will be set up during the meeting.

Dancing Should Be A Part Of Every Child's Education

Have you ever wished children who have been given the advantage of proper dance training? If so, you will immediately have noticed the effect of such training, especially in youngsters of pre-adolescent age. Their instinctive response in music and motion muscular co-ordination can be accomplished through the development of an individualized program which can only be arranged by a trained and experienced professional. Only here in the stimulating atmosphere of dance class will they develop a sense of rhythm, individual accomplishment as well as the positive, rhythmic and poetic that makes a youngster into a better socialized, more developed person.

There are many children in poorly scheduled programs for dance who are not getting the most out of their dancing. It is important that, in a parent, dancing is a healthy, fun, and important part of a child's development. The development of a vibrant, firm, healthy body.

School Board To Meet To Act On Study Committee Report

By DONNA HOLLAND
 Herald Correspondent
BOLTON — A group of about 20 interested townspeople attended a meeting in August to learn more about the findings of the Advisory Planning Committee for the Future of Bolton Schools.

The committee's report is expected to be accepted by the Board of Education at its meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Bolton Center School library. The board is expected to discuss the report. No action will be taken at that informational meeting.

The meeting in August was attended by the study committee members, school board members, Joseph Halaburda, school board chairman, and interested townspeople.

He said, "Make your wishes known. You can't afford the luxury of sitting back and saying nothing and then criticize the responsible party's decision."

John Roberts, committee member, said, "The school board now has the necessary data from which a decision will have to be made and has it four years in advance."

He said, "I hope you people are equal to the task. I don't envy you."

Wallace Kelly, committee member, said, "Some people have a great amount of fear that the school could die on its own."

He said it should be a last resort to send kids out of town for their education.

Ernest Shepherd, committee member and selectman, said, "I have a strong concern for the school as a community wide institution and maintained as an institution on a 'community wide basis.'"

Halaburda said it is not known what the school board will do but it "could make a decision to do nothing."

He said people shouldn't look so much at the per dollar cost.

Joan Teller, committee member, urged townspeople to participate in the decision that has to be made by the school board.

She said, "Make your wishes known. You can't afford the luxury of sitting back and saying nothing and then criticize the responsible party's decision."

John Roberts, committee member, said, "The school board now has the necessary data from which a decision will have to be made and has it four years in advance."

He said, "I hope you people are equal to the task. I don't envy you."

Area Towns Support Governor Grasso

Area towns came out in support of Governor Ella Grasso in Tuesday's gubernatorial primary with Mrs. Grasso winning in each town. The town with the closest vote was Grasso County with 259 for Grasso and 219 for her opponent, Lt. Gov. Robert Killian.

In Vernon the vote was better than 2:1 with Mrs. Grasso receiving 905 votes to 439 for Killian.

The Town of South Windsor supported Grasso in an 884-654 vote. Andover gave Grasso 125 votes to 48 for Killian. Bolton went 180 for Grasso and 123 for Killian, and Hebron, 261 for Grasso, 158 for Killian.

Tolland Man Given Sentence In Rapings of Vernon Girls

VERNON (UPI) — A Tolland man has been sentenced to 15 to 30 years in prison for raping two Vernon girls in their homes last year.

Peter Lurtsema, 20, pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of first-degree sexual assault, third-degree sexual assault and two counts of first-degree burglary stemming from the incident.

Police said Lurtsema broke into a Vernon home about 4:40 a.m. Aug. 19, 1977, where he raped and abducted a 7-year-old girl. He also broke into a nearby home about 4:13 a.m. and raped a 9-year-old girl.

Two trials on a first-degree kidnaping charge were discontinued. The first ended when Lurtsema, free on bond, approached a juror. The second ended when State Attorney Donald J. Caldwell agreed not to prosecute the charge in exchange for guilty pleas on the others.

Batting Practice Pitcher Label Removed for Gura

NEW YORK (UPI) - The Larry Gura, who once was ridiculed by Billy Martin as nothing more than a batting practice pitcher has vanished, and in his place is a stylish left-hander who has been one of the more consistent pitchers in the American League this season.

And Tuesday night, Gura gave the Kansas City Royals' pennant hopes another boost by tossing a five-hitter and stopping the Oakland A's, 8-1, for his 14th victory.

It was the sixth complete game—a career high—for Gura and he lowered his earned run average to 2.70, the sixth best in the league. His 14-1 record also figures out to be the third best winning percentage at .778.

Hiller Likes Chances Of Milwaukee in AL

DETROIT (UPI) - John Hiller still has a surprise or two up his left sleeve—and one of them is the Milwaukee Brewers in the American League East Division title chase.

"It was a betting man," he said with a grin Tuesday night. "I bet on Milwaukee. For two reasons: they have an easier schedule and you could get some pretty good odds."

The Detroit Tigers' veteran left-handed relief pitcher was asked his opinion because he'd just combined with rookie Kip Young and a few home runs to cool off the hot New York Yankees, 7-4, and keep the AL East Division in a state of semi-combustion.

Boston was a tenuous first, New York has lurking just a half-game back and Milwaukee was right there only six games behind after all three lost.

Hiller had another twist to chew on in addition to his surprise pick of Milwaukee. He thinks the New York newspaper strike has helped the Yankees in their recent hot streak.

New York had won six straight until meeting Detroit. The Yankees still have won 16 of 19, 21 of 27 and are 39-15 since July 19, including a 3-14 record since Bob Lemon replaced Bret and Hal McRae. LaCock drove in 90 runs in two-run homer and Jim Sundberg's three-run double sparked a five-run fifth inning that gave the Rangers their victory.

White Sox 6, Twins 1. Lamar Johnson batted in four runs with a pair of singles and Rich Hinton, 2-4, pitched a complete game in his 11th start of the season to lead the White Sox.

Mariners 6, Brewers 5. Tom Paciorek of Seattle hit a two-run single in the ninth inning to keep Milwaukee 4½ games behind the first-place Boston Red Sox in the AL East.

Pirates Still Alive On Parker Homers
NEW YORK (UPI) - One thing has remained constant in the 1970s - the Pittsburgh Pirates' contention for the National League Eastern Division title.

Tuesday night, the Pirates beat first-place Philadelphia, 5-1, behind a pair of two-run homers by Dave Parker, moving within four games of the Phillies with 18 games remaining for both teams.

Since the four-division realignment in 1969, the Pirates have never finished lower than third place in the NL East and only once have they failed to win at least 88 games.

Parker, 25, is heir apparent to 37-year-old Willie Stargell as the Pirates' captain, and the 6-foot-5 right fielder was the overwhelming choice of major-league general managers in a recent poll to name the game's best player.

But Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner says his main man is basking in the glow of his 29th birthday. "He's tired, he's playing with a lot of hurts... I think the pressure really has him tired."

Optimism Reigns In Indians' Camp

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Staff Writer

Is Manchester High ready to reclaim the CCIL soccer championship, last won in 1974? Optimism abounds in the Indian camp but it is tempered somewhat with the thought of the arduous opening four-game stretch against all the top contenders.

"I think we can take the league," veteran Indian Head Coach Dick Danielson stated with guarded optimism three days before the 1978 opener against Hall High Friday afternoon at Memorial Field. "I'm looking forward to it and the kids are starting to talk league championship and that's good."

Following Hall into Memorial Field are defending champ Conard, Wethersfield and Simsbury. "We have the toughest schedule in the league," Danielson acknowledged. All have to be met a second time on the road.

Manchester had a good pre-season performance and was given credit to Jayvee coaches Joe Erardi and Mike Saimond for getting his club going and setting the tempo.

"They got the kids going from the first day and the attitude through the entire season (63 on varsity and 100 on JV)," Danielson lauded.

The Silk Towners will start seniors Tom Roach, Joe Foran and Pete Krupp and junior Jeff Lombardo up front. The latter led in scoring a year ago with 12 goals.

"This team can score. They're not afraid to shoot. We'll take more shots than last year. I guarantee it. And that's why I think we'll score more," states Danielson.

shape yet according to Danielson. Junior Bart Pina also should see some action.

On the fullback line juniors Ed Kennison and Rich Koepsel are definities with seniors Don Keller and Dave Grinik also in the running. Senior Mark Copeland has the nod in goal but Ron Apter, also a senior, looked very good in a recent scrimmage and is challenging. Sophomore Tim McCarthy should gain experience on the jayvees. He has made an impression between the pipes in pre-season.

"This is a nice club to work with," Danielson praised. "It's a good bunch of kids. They're pulling for each other and that can take you a long way."

"I feel overall we have better depth. Those not starting are ready to play. I think we're ready. I just hope there isn't an early lull (in the Hall game)."

Schedule: Sept. 15 Hall H, 19 Conard H, 23 Wethersfield A 10 a.m., 25 Simsbury H, 28 Enfield A, Oct. 3 Fernald A, 6 Windham H, 10 Fenney H, 13 East Hartford H, 17 Hall A, 20 Conard A, 24 Wethersfield A, 28 Simsbury A, 30 Fernald H, Nov. 1 Windham A. Most games 3:30 p.m.

Senior Bill Frattaroli (4 goals in 7) will be one of the first forward reserves while juniors John Moran, Dan Collins, John Kelly and Jim Glushko form a second line.

Tom Hausman
NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Mets' righthander Tom Hausman was admitted to Roosevelt Hospital Tuesday, suffering from what was diagnosed early as an attack of gastroenteritis, an inflammation of the stomach.

Hausman, 33, was scheduled to pitch today's game against Montreal. He will be replaced by Nino Espinosa.

Charlie Finley
OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — The Oakland Tribune reported Tuesday Charlie Finley is agreeable to selling his Oakland A's to a local group if he can pay his price.

"The price of the team is $12 million," Finley told the newspaper. Sam Berovchik, an Oakland businessman, heads a group of local people who want to buy the team. The Tribune quoted Berovchik as saying he has $9 million in cash and will meet with Finley next week to see if a deal can be worked out.

Ryan Walter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington Capitals officials said Tuesday center Ryan Walter is undergoing tests to determine the extent of a tear in the cartilage of his left knee. Walter, the Capitals' first pick in the 1978 amateur draft, tore the cartilage playing lacrosse in his backyard.

Capitals' officials said team physician Dr. Pat Palumbo should know by today if Walter needs surgery on his knee. If an operation is necessary, Walter would be lost to the Caps for about six weeks, they said.

Larry O'Brien
NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knicks and Seattle Sonics must agree on the Marvin Webster compensation case by late Friday or NBA President Larry O'Brien will step into the picture.

Webster signed with the Knicks on Aug. 28 and the teams have been bargaining ever since without reaching an agreement. If there is no agreement by the end of the business day Friday, the teams will be prohibited from further negotiations.

Rough Test For Eagles

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston College football Coach Ed Chlebek has no promises to make about his team's opener Saturday against the Air Force Academy.

"Playing against each other makes it hard to evaluate talent," said the Eagles' rookie mentor. "Air Force is a disciplined team and anytime you play someone who has been under fire, it's that much tougher."

The untested Eagles will have to stop Air Force pass-master Dave Ziebart and crew. The Falcons won their opener last weekend, rolling to a 27-0 lead over Texas-EI Paso and finishing with a 34-25 win.

BC has won its last eight games against service academies, but Chlebek says the first-game jitters may be more of a problem than the opponent.

Air Force Coach Bill Parcells, also in his first season, said he rated BC as a much tougher opponent than UTEP. He said the Falcons were going into the game in good health, but the unknown factor might make a difference.

Boston University opens its season at home against Maine, who lost to Dayton last weekend. BU Coach Rick Taylor said the Terriers should be

FISHING

Know your fish
Want to impress a fellow angler with your knowledge of fish? Ask him to describe the last largemouth bass he caught, and when he says it was so long, or weighed so much, press him for details about the fish's anatomy.

Largemouth bass are one of the most popular sport fish in America today, yet many anglers know one when they see it only because it looks like all the other largemouth bass they've ever seen. Ask them to describe the physical features of the largemouth, and they'll likely be unable to do so.

Knowing the difference between largemouth spotted and smallmouth bass is important because state fish and game departments impose different possession limits or size limits before a fish can be kept.

The most distinctive feature of a largemouth bass is the length of its lower jaw. With the mouth closed, imagine a vertical line which touches the back edge of the fish's eye and crosses the lower jaw. A largemouth bass' lower jaw always extends beyond this imaginary line.

A smallmouth bass' lower jaw goes only to the mid-eye position with the exception of the Neosho smallmouth, which extends to the back edge of the eye.

Complicating matters some is the spotted bass whose lower jaw extends to the back of the eye, except for the Alabama spotted bass which goes only to mid-eye. Fortunately, both the Neosho smallmouth and Alabama spotted bass have very limited ranges and are seldom encountered by the majority of fishermen.

Another easily recognized difference between species is the appearance of the dorsal fin. Largemouth bass have two dorsal fins with no connection between them, while smallmouth and spotted bass have two which are connected.

Other differences exist between these popular fish. For more information, Mercury outdoors' angling department suggests you contact local fisheries biologists for information, or look up the various fish in angling encyclopedias.

Class Guy With Red Sox Big Man Behind the Plate

Long and Short of It
Shortstop Harry Chappas of the White Sox is the smallest player in the major leagues at 5 feet, 3 inches. Here he sits with Chicago pitcher Lerrin LaGrew who stands 6-5. (UPI Photo)

BOSTON (UPI) — He sat on the table, sipping occasionally from a cup of beer, the eyes drooped and black-shadowed, the face trying to hide the body's obvious pain.

He talked about his team, his condition and did so endlessly, it seemed, until there were no more questions to be asked. Then he showered and left in the dark, alone.

Carlton Ernest Fisk is what class is all about. He oozes it from every pore of his 6-foot-2, 220-pound frame. His honesty and candor are refreshing in a world of high-priced egos which bristle as easily as overripe fruit.

The Red Sox had just been blown away two straight nights by the New York Yankees. Several Boston players did not talk, others did but with a style less than accommodating. Then there is Fisk. Fisk has the uncanny ability to answer more than what the reporter

Anderson Understood Statements by Bench

NEW YORK (UPI) — No major-league manager will ever tell you which one of his players is his personal favorite any more than any father or mother will tell you which one of their kids they like over the others.

Sparky Anderson, the Red Sox manager, is no different.

He will tell you he loves all his players and he probably does. He likes to think of them all as his friends. For nine years now, or ever since he became Cincinnati manager, Anderson has considered Johnny Bench that way.

"That's why it came as a surprise to him when a Cincinnati writer called his attention to a recent newspaper story in which Bench suggested that he, meaning Anderson, should be taking part of the blame for the lackluster showing of the Reds this season. They're disappointing third baseman and Bench was quoted as saying, 'Our manager is too low key. This is one man's opinion, but Sparky has withdrawn from it all. Intimidated isn't exactly the word, but it's close. He's too hurt, perhaps in awe of us." When he was shown the story, Sparky Anderson did not overreact. He wanted to hear Bench's side of it, so he called him into his office.

Bench did not say he was misquoted. He told Anderson the quotes were his, but that they did not convey the actual sense in which he said them by the way they were written.

"I said those words," Bench said to Anderson, "but the reason I did was to get us going, to stir us up. I've told you many times that you've swirled me up to go. I never meant to imply anything derogatory to about your managing. I was only trying to shake the guys up, including myself!"

Sparky Anderson understood what Johnny Bench was saying. He understood him so well that there wasn't an ounce of anger or resentment in him.

"John was right in what he said and I know exactly why he said what he did," the Red Sox manager says. "He has had a lot of problems with injuries. That can get you down mentally and when that happens, it makes you feel frustrated. There's no doubt in my mind or anyone else's that he's the greatest catcher of our time. He's tremendously capable but when you can't perform at the level you're capable of, it eats at you and you flare up and say things."

In his own way, Johnny Bench was trying to help Sparky Anderson. The Red Sox manager says he knows that he also knows he's still a good manager. He doesn't have to say that because the record says it for him. Since taking over the Reds in 1970, he's led them to two world championships, four pennants and five division titles. Anderson is the most successful manager Cincinnati has ever had and only nine other managers in major-league history show a better winning percentage.

"I'm the same guy now as when I first took over as manager of the Reds," he says. "I've won my way and I've lost my way and I don't want any sympathy because I've had it too good and I'll be back there again. This season we've been horrible. We've played poorly. But if the Dodgers beat us again this year, then they're the better team. I still think we have a chance."

Ed Miller Winner In Herald Contest

Correctly predicting the winner in the 14 National Football League games last weekend, Ed Miller of 14C Ambassador Dr. topped the first football contest of the season in the Herald.

Herald readers are invited each Tuesday to match wits with Sports Editor Earl Yost in selecting the NFL winners in the Sunday and Monday game. Entry blanks appear in every Tuesday edition during the football season.

Weekly winners of $15 will be eligible for the $50 grand prize at the end of the season.

The tie-breaker number of 42 was used in this week's contest.

Bolton Bulldogs Topple Tolland

Getting off the mark on the right foot last Sunday was the Bolton Bulldogs with an 18-0 win over the Tolland Eagles in the Eastern Connecticut Pony Football Conference.

Greg LeBlanc scored twice on passes from Steve Holcombe of 15 and 11 yards. Holcombe added a third six-pointer on a quarterback sneak.

Holcombe completed 9 of 16 passes for 92 yards and returned an interception 40 yards.

Mike Ouellette was outstanding, returning four punts for 110 yards.

Coach Steve Narsavage was pleased with the defense and the play of Greg Mahon, Mike Holbrook, Scott Spear, Bob Murphy, Jim Vatteroni, Dave Bogner and Randy Simmons.

Saturday morning at 11 the Bulldogs will face Manchester High in a full-scale game at Memorial Field.

TV Review 'Roots' Was Tops Again

By JOAN HANAUER
NEW YORK (UPI) — The rerun of "Roots" has proved the huge popularity of the limited series was no fluke, no flash in the pan of a moment. It probably will return again. In its first time around, "Roots" was watched at least in part by about 130 million viewers, giving ABC a record percent share of the audience for the week. It averaged a 66 share for its eight nights — a show's share represents the percentage of the viewing audience tuned to a specific show. That means that 66 percent of the people watching television during "Roots" time period in its initial showing were watching "Roots."

This time, "Roots" was shown in five segments during the weekend ending Sept. 10 and on the first three nights the program drew shares of 38, 42 and 43.

The national tallies from the A.C. Nielsen Co. are not yet in, but judging by the New York-Chicago-Los Angeles figures, just about every episode of "Roots" will be in the top 10.

No 'Runaways'

The "Runaways" will not open the fall season on NBC as originally planned, but the producers say they are completing the first 13 episodes of the series this month and that it will probably go on the air in November. The show was previewed last spring but then it was called "Operation Runaway" by Robert Reed, and had a psychological slant. Now not only has the name been changed, but it stars Alan Feinstein and the slant is what the producers call "hard-hitting." That means the drug scene on the street, hard time in the slammer and questions of sexual orientation.

Whatever, NBC decided it wasn't fit family viewing for the original 8 p.m. (Eastern time) slot. Quinn Martin Productions says it will go on in November at 9 p.m., while NBC leaves "Runaways" future up in the air.

Note of Interest

There's been an interesting change in where the television programs you watch are coming from — not the city, but the company. Almost all television comes from Los Angeles — except the daytime dramas, most of which still originate from New York. What is interesting is that at least half of the programs used to come from those wonderful folks who gave you the movies — Universal, Columbia, Paramount, Twentieth Century-Fox, MGM. Now, the independent producers are supplying the bulk of the programs, although there's still plenty of business for everyone. Particularly, there is plenty for Universal. The movie studio turned television factory remains the top supplier of television product.

For Older Viewers

"Over Easy," the series for older Americans produced by public television station KQED here for the Public Broadcasting Service, has received a $700,000 underwriting grant from Sun Company, Inc. Airing on 254 PBS stations across the country (more stations, commercial or non-commercial, than any other TV show), "Over Easy" is directed at the "prime generation," the 42 million Americans over 55. The series, which begins its second season of daily half-hour shows Nov. 13, will continue the magazine format which features host Hugh Downs interviewing celebrities on their experiences on growing older. "Lifestyle," the on-location documentary segment, will be developed to include a variety of people who have found interesting ways of coping with the needs and problems of later years.

Connelly Is Writer For Next 007 Film

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Sean Connery hasn't yet said whether he will take another turn as James Bond, but the former screen 007 shares writing credit on a new script, "James Bond of the Secret Service," to be produced by Kevin McClory for Paramount Pictures. McClory, who produced the 1965 Bond feature "Thunderball" starring Connery, said shooting would start next spring from a script written by himself, Connery and novelist Len Deighton. Connery originated the James Bond screen character with "Dr. No" in 1962, but after "Diamonds Are Forever" in 1971 yielded the role to Roger Moore, Moore has since completed three features about the invincible British secret agent and has started his fourth. McClory's right to film a Bond feature had been contested by Albert Broccoli and Harry Saltzman, producers of most of the 11 pictures inspired by novels of the late Ian Fleming. McClory successfully argued his "Thunderball" contract entitled him to remake that picture after 10 years. Broccoli, who retains rights to other future Bond films, began filming a new one with Moore, "Moonraker," in Paris Aug. 14. Connery said in an interview last year he might consider starring in another Bond picture if he were satisfied with the script. The actor contributed to the script of his own Bond features, but "James Bond of the Secret Service" will mark his debut as a credited screenwriter of a Bond film.

Mary Tyler Moore tackles a tough TV format in her new musical variety series airing this fall on CBS-TV.

Mary Tyler Moore Tackles Tough Show

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mary Tyler Moore suffered attacks of cabin fever during a five-month break in her television activities before plunging into the most perilous project of her career. "Everyone seemed to like Mary Richards but I don't make the assumption they will feel the same toward Mary Tyler Moore. However, I hope that viewer affection is transferred to me."

Mary says her new show won't be a traditional, flashy, razzle-dazzle TV variety show. The only well-known member of her cast is the resident comedian, Dick Shawn. Nor will her show feature guest stars that troop of familiar faces which has appeared, round robin, on variety shows for 25 years. "Our is an intimate repertory show with the production values of a splasher show," she said. "I'm aware that the recent history of variety shows has been bad. The odds are it won't succeed. And we're in against tough competition, 'Battle Star Galactica' and 'Central.' I'm told a weekly variety show gets easier as you go along. At least that's what Carol said when I conferred with her about the show. 'She was a big help. We share a lack of confidence when it comes to singing. She said the worst moment is doing the dress rehearsal in front of the death watch — that's when the producers, the director and the writers sit down to study what we're doing.'"

"She was right. I wanted to open a vein. But by the second dress rehearsal I was much better. When we actually did the show, I became a real singing person. I worked out just great. Mary has a different look about her. The long hair has been clipped to give her a gain appearance. She no longer looks like the Mary Richards of the old 'Mary Tyler Moore' sitcom. Not that Mary is making a conscious effort to destroy the image she established on that show and as Laura Petrie in the "Dick Van Dyke Show." To the contrary, Mary likes to think people who enjoyed her work in both series will enjoy her in this new format. Carol was wonderful at doing that."

Negotiators Can't Agree On Federal Budget Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate negotiators cannot agree on a federal budget and the Senate Finance Committee is in the same quandary over tax cuts, but another priority issue, the natural gas compromise, is headed toward its first showdown. A broad-based coalition from far right to far left is expected to make a motion Thursday to send the natural gas bill back to committee. Unofficial vote counts indicate the bill's supporters can fend off the motion, but may not have the 60 votes needed to block a filibuster. It takes only a simple majority to send the bill back to committee. Meanwhile, House and Senate negotiators working on the budget for fiscal 1979, which begins Oct. 1, have been unable in three days of sessions to resolve fundamental policy differences over jobs, tuition assistance and tax cuts. The Senate Finance Committee canceled its session today after four days of discussions over tax-cut legislation in which no decisions were made. One major reason for the panel is waiting to see how much room the new congressional budget leaves for tax cuts. In other developments Tuesday, the House voted to give President Carter authority to lift the U.S. arms embargo against Turkey and, possibly, to end sanctions against Rhodesia after the end of the year. The ground rules for both actions were spelled out in a compromise $2.8 billion bill providing arms and economic assistance to U.S. allies and friendly nations. The Senate approved the compromise Monday. And Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, announced he will call off his threatened filibuster against extending the time for states to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment if ERA supporters will agree to two conditions: "To decide the question in the Senate by a two-thirds vote instead of a simple majority. That in states that ratify ERA, legislators may later rescind their ratifications."

Backers heard Ford praise

Clements and Reagan liken President Carter's foreign, economic and defense policies to abstract art. "It doesn't make any sense no matter how you look at it."

Dawgner General

What do you give a dawgner queen who has everything? Why another title, of course, and the one bestowed Tuesday on Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth is a cherished antique indeed. She's now Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports — a job that used to involve spirited defense of seaports in the English Channel with headquarters at Dover Castle. Nowadays, it's an honor reserved for retired distinguished citizens. The late Winston Churchill once held it and the last lord warden was Sir Robert Menzies, former prime minister of Australia. Queen Elizabeth's mother is the first woman ever so honored.

Fall-Down Comic

Felvy Chase, who won fame for falling down on "Saturday Night Live," says he has absolutely no desire to be a stand-up comic. Not that he objects to working on his feet sometimes, but he recently told an interviewer he doesn't have the temperament to do the kind of nightclub comedy that depends on polished delivery of a set routine.

Somoza Claims Guerrilla Loss

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — President Anastasio Somoza says his troops have defeated Sandinista guerrillas on all fronts and pursued insurgents into Costa Rica in an effort to stamp out Nicaragua's bloodiest revolt in 50 years. But reports from battle tones around the country and signs of resistance in the capital indicate continued fighting. Guerrillas in Esteli, 80 miles north of Managua, down to their last bullets but still control half the town. Masaya, Nicaragua's fourth largest city, has been turned into a no-man's land of gutted buildings by prolonged combat. Somoza told a news conference Tuesday his U.S.-trained National Guard troops have retaken all important towns across the Central American nation of 2.4 million people, and were involved only in cleanup operations against pockets of resistance. "This operation is going to last about a week," Somoza predicted. "What you might compare to a Tet offensive in Vietnam has been defeated." Somoza acknowledged his warplanes and troops had pursued about 50 insurgents into neighboring Costa Rica. He said international law allows such intrusions. Costa Rican President Rodrigo Carazo denounced the raid, which penetrated five miles into his country, and said several Costa Rican citizens were injured while traveling on the Panamerican Highway. "We won't let Nicaragua get away with this," Carazo vowed. He said he filed a protest with the Nicaraguan government and ordered his ambassador in Washington to request an emergency meeting of the Organization of American States.

Schaffer Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nomination of Connecticut Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer to the Civil Aeronautics Board was confirmed by the Senate Commerce Committee without even holding a formal meeting to vote. Committee Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., pulled the committee members by telephone Monday and Tuesday and reported the nomination to the Senate floor. He said there was no opposition. The Senate must now approve the appointment. Mrs. Schaffer, secretary of the state since 1971, was recommended for the job by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Soviet Dissidents Say U.S. Embassy No Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of Russian Pentecostals who have been seeking sanctuary in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow have charged in a secret letter to President Carter embassy officials are trying to expel them, UPI learned today. However, the State Department's top human rights officer, Patricia Derian, said the embassy has invited the group to the United States, but cannot give them American visas as long as the Soviet Union refuses to grant exit visas. The letter was sent through embassy mails to two American students in College Park, Md., who spoke with the Pentecostals during a visit to the embassy in August. UPI obtained a copy of the letter. The students took the letter to the White House, then met with Ms. Derian at the State Department Tuesday. Ms. Derian, assistant secretary of state for human rights, said the Pentecostals are staying in the embassy's visitors' apartment, and acknowledged they have been asked to leave. She said embassy officials have not pressed for the group's departure nor threatened to expel them. In the letter, the Pentecostals charged that Ambassador Malcolm Tom and other embassy aides are seeking to force them to leave the embassy even though the officials acknowledge they do not know what the Soviets would do to the families. "Officials are demanding that we leave," the letter said. "Today, the 27th of August, 1978, and yesterday, the 26th, we were read a message from Ambassador Tom that we should leave the embassy immediately, with God."

"When we asked Mr. Combs (an embassy official) what would happen to us he replied, 'The embassy cannot help you and this is not a hotel. We gave you all the necessary things you needed while you were here, but now you have to leave, with God. We don't know what will happen to you.'"

The letter concluded: "We are asking you, Mr. President, if it is possible to help us at all. We are ready to go to any country together with our families. May God help you make a wise decision."

The dissidents are Peter Vashchenko, 51; his wife, Augustina; their three daughters, Lilia, 27, Liubov, 26, and Lilia, 21; Mari Chymkhalov, 36, a family friend; and Timofei, 17, her son. They are from the Siberian town of Chernogorsk.

Germ War Experts Study Exile's Death

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard has called in German warfar specialists to study the death of a Bulgarian exile and broadcaster for Radio Free Europe who said an assassin poisoned him with a jab from a needle-tipped syringe. Detectives working with the aid of agents of MI-5 — Britain's counter-espionage force — said they have called in a variety of forensic scientists to investigate the death of Georgii Ivanov Markov. A post-mortem Tuesday failed to fix a precise cause of death for the 49-year-old writer, who had frequently complained Bulgarian agents were following him since he fled to the West in 1969. Earlier reports said he died of blood poisoning. Markov, who was sentenced a 6 1/2-year prison term in absentia in Bulgaria after he defected, also had told his English wife, Anabel, 34, he had received private tips from contacts behind the Iron Curtain that he was marked for elimination. Commander Jim Nevill, head of Scotland Yard's anti-terrorism squad, said Markov's death "does not seem to be from natural causes at this stage."

Writing Another Book

Bill Unenforceable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Department of Energy officials view the proposed natural gas bill now being debated in the Senate as unenforceable without a large increase in regulatory personnel, Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., says. Moffett said Tuesday he has received a copy of the first-draft memo on enforcement problems that says as many as 30 categories of natural gas regulation will be created by the bill. Moffett said that later drafts, prepared by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's enforcement office, were changed to soft-pedal the enforcement problems, apparently to support the Carter administration's interest in seeing the bill passed.

White Collar Criminals FBI Campaign Target

CHICAGO (UPI) — The FBI will begin extensive campaigns to thwart the top echelon of white-collar criminals and to monitor spying by foreign governments, says Director William H. Webster. Expressing confidence the agency is doing "exactly what the American people want," Webster said the FBI also will begin assigning a volunteer cadre of special agents to root mob arson activity. "The FBI is no longer interested in picking away at the lower echelons of white-collar crime," he said Tuesday as guest speaker at a Rotary Club luncheon. "We are now going to utilize undercover agents in the field. There's no reason we cannot bond together to keep our secrets from them."

School children cheer their support as a van carries the 13 striking Bridgeport teachers from courthouse to jail after refusing to return to classes Tuesday. (UPI photo)

Bridgeport Judge Jails 26 Striking Teachers

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — A Bridgeport Superior Court Judge today sentenced an additional 26 striking teachers to jail, bringing the total of imprisoned educators to 39, as the strike entered its sixth day. Bridgeport officials said the city's 25 schools were closed for the first time today because there were not enough administrators, volunteers or substitute teachers to oversee the school system's 23,000 students. Judge James Henery had expected to appear in court later today for contempt hearings. There are 1,250 teachers in the Bridgeport Education Association.

New Jersey Uncovers Drug Smuggling Ring

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — New Jersey authorities, following up leads that led to the seizure of a vintage DC-8 cargo plane with nine tons of marijuana in July, have uncovered a multi-million dollar drug ring that smuggled shipments from the jungles of Colombia to small airports in the East. "The amount of cash that changed hands was almost mind-boggling," Attorney General John J. Degnan said Tuesday in announcing the indictment of 24 defendants, including a number from Connecticut. He said the ring spent $400,000 on airplanes, as much as $275,000 to hire a pilot for one flight and $120,000 to bribe Bahamian officials who arrested two of the defendants.

Holding Pattern Seen in Summit

CAMP DAVID, Md. (UPI) — The Camp David summit, in its second week, is in a brief holding pattern as the Egyptians consider a series of ideas on the future of the West Bank. Conference officials say the final outcome of the summit is in the hands of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat. Conference spokesman Jody Powell said the discussions have become "more intense and more detailed" and original predictions of an end of the summit by Tuesday or Wednesday have changed. Officials now consider it likely the conference will end by Thursday at the earliest. The first meetings of the principals began last Wednesday.

Israeli sources said it is not true, as reported by television reporters, that the Israelis have put forward new proposals for a Palestinian question. But the Israelis, Americans and Egyptians agree the Israeli delegation had put forward a series of new ideas on the West Bank, and Sadat has checked those ideas by telephone with King Hussein of Jordan.

The conference sources said the holding pattern, a series of continuing dialogues between the delegations, has turned the tightly sequestered Camp David meetings place into kind of a Middle East bazaar, with ideas being changed and modified constantly in the informal contacts which are possible in the presidential retreat.

The security remains apparently perfect. Powell has described several reports as "uninformed speculation" but since he is the only authoritative official source, there can be no determination of the accuracy of the reports until the participants leave the compound. It is expected that both Sadat and Begin will spend two or three days in the United States after the conclusion of the conference.

Among the most reliable sources of information continue to be the carefully selected official photographs that are put out by the delegations in Camp David. They show the atmosphere to be relaxed and informal. Carter and Sadat met for 1 hour and 35 minutes Tuesday and the Egyptian and American delegations met later, but there has been no meeting involving the Israeli delegation in the last 24 hours, indicating the pending decision must be made by the Egyptians.

Court Orders New Trial
HARTFORD (UPI) — The state Supreme Court has ordered a new trial for a New Britain man convicted of manslaughter, ruling he should have been allowed to introduce evidence of the victim's tendency toward violence. In a ruling released Tuesday, the high court overturned the Hartford Superior Court conviction of Miguel Miranda, 28, in November 1976 for fatally shooting a neighbor, Daniel German, 51.

Citizens To Get Chance To Speak on Housing Goal

Manchester's Board of Directors will conduct a public hearing Tuesday on the proposed housing policy goals that were prepared by a subcommittee of the Community Development Advisory Committee. Another public hearing also will be held Tuesday, Sept. 26 for the sewer project in the Bryan Farms area and the Upper Hockanum River trunk sewer. The hearing was scheduled because project costs have increased and probably will increase the assessment to adjacent property owners. The housing goals outline steps that the town can take to reduce the cost of housing in Manchester. Proposals range from setting up a department for overseeing housing programs to reviewing the town's regulations for zoning and subdivisions.

Both hearings will begin at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building's Hearing Room. A public hearing held in June by the Community Development Advisory Committee drew several speakers critical of the proposed goals. A group of residents opposed to the plan already has indicated that it will attend Tuesday's hearing. Along with the public hearing on the housing goals, the Board of Directors plans to handle some other matters at next Tuesday's meeting. It did not complete its September agenda last night and could finish it next week. Some items were tabled specifically to Tuesday, including reconsideration of the town's application for federal funds to purchase Hilliard Pond.

The board has approved proceedings with work on the application, but it has not yet given final approval for filing the application for the federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation grant. The judge imposed a $350 per day fine against each teacher and a $10,000 per day penalty against the union for disobeying his back-to-work order. Repeated court-ordered negotiations on the contract were stalled. Only 3,300 of the city's students attended classes Tuesday. The city is staffing the schools with administrators, substitute teachers, parents and volunteers. In the event of mass arrests, Corrections Commissioner John Manson alerted the Connecticut National Guard to prepare barracks at Camp Hartel in Windsor Locks as makeshift jails. The 150-bed barracks, originally built to house migrant tobacco workers, were used as jails in 1975 during the New Haven teachers' strike.

Toxic Waste Dumping Alleged in Plainfield

PLAINFIELD (UPI) — The former president of a Plainfield trucking company has been arrested in connection with the illegal burial of more than a thousand barrels of toxic chemical waste. State Police Tuesday charged Richard Trayner Jr., 35, of Canterbury with violating state pollution laws. Charges include collection and disposal of waste products without a permit and conspiracy to commit those two offenses. Trayner is the sixth person to be charged in the dumping last year of about 1,700 barrels of chemical waste in two privately owned Plainfield pits owned by a prominent Plainfield businessman. State investigators say the barrels were buried by men and equipment from Trayner's firm, Dick Trayner and Sons Trucking, which has been disbanded.

LEGAL NOTICE

Proposed Charter Amendments approved August 14, 1978 and August 29, 1978, by the Board of Directors, Manchester, Connecticut.
ITEM NO. 1
Sec. 2-2. Officers Appointed by the Board of Directors.
There shall be appointed by the Board of Directors for the Town a General Manager, a Planning and Zoning Commission consisting of five members, a Zoning Board of Appeals consisting of five members, and alternates as provided by Statute, a Library Board consisting of six members, a Board of Tax Review consisting of three members and a Planning and Zoning Commission consisting of five members, an auditor or auditors, and an Advisory Board of Health. The Town may, by ordinance, provide for other officers, departments, boards and commissions and the duties and terms thereof and methods of appointment thereof. All of the officers appointed by the Board of Directors under the provisions of this Section, except the General Manager and auditor or auditors, shall be elected by the Town at the time of their appointment, and shall hold office until the Tuesday after the third Monday in November in the year in which their term expires. Their successors shall have been appointed and qualified. If any officer appointed by the Board of Directors under this Section, who is required to be an elector during his term of office, shall cease to be an elector during his term of office, then his office shall automatically become vacant and the Board of Directors shall appoint a successor. Sec. 2-7 (a). Official Bonds.
The Treasurer, Collector of Revenue and Town Clerk shall, before entering upon their official duties, execute to the Town and file with the Town Clerk a surety company bond in a penal sum to be fixed by the Board of Directors conditioned upon the faithful performance of his official duties, in the form to be prescribed or approved by the Town (Council) ATTORNEY. Premiums for said bonds shall be paid by the Town. Sec. 2-7 (b). Blanket Bonds.
The Board of Directors shall purchase two blanket bonds, one conditioned for faithful performance of duty which shall include the General Manager, (Controller), Purchasing Agent, and such other officers and employees as may be designated by the Board of Directors, and one conditioned to protect against loss occasioned by an employee's own or other dishonest act and to include those eligible officers and employees not included in the faithful performance blanket bond. The penal sum of these blanket bonds shall be fixed by the Board of Directors and to be in a form to be prescribed or approved by the Town (Council) ATTORNEY and filed with the Town Clerk. Premiums for said bonds shall be paid by the Town. Sec. 3-10. Petition for Enactment.
Whenever a petition signed by not less than five per cent of the electors of the Town, as determined from the latest official lists of the Registrars of Voters, proposing any lawful appropriation, ordinance or by-law and including the complete text of such ordinance or by-law is filed with the Town Clerk requesting its passage the Town Clerk shall within ten days thereafter, certify such petition and proposed ordinance or by-law to the Board of Directors for their consideration. If, within forty-five days from such certification, the Board of Directors shall not have made such appropriation or passed such ordinance or by-law, or one substantially similar thereto, the Town Clerk shall submit such proposed ordinance or by-law to the Town (Council) ATTORNEY who may, without materially changing its meaning and effect, correct the wording to avoid repetition, illegality and unconstitutional provisions and assure accuracy and clarity. The Town Clerk shall thereupon file the same to the General Manager and such special Town election shall be called and held in accordance with the provisions of the General Statutes and this Charter for calling and holding Town elections. The General Manager shall advertise such proposed appropriation, ordinance or by-law in the same manner as provided for giving notice of a public hearing in Section 3-3 of this Charter. If such approval or rejection by the Board of Directors is not by electors at a Town election if said Town election occurs within ninety days of the filing of said petition.
Sec. 11-1. Town (Council) ATTORNEY: Powers and Duties.
The Board of Directors shall appoint a Town (Council) ATTORNEY, whose compensation shall be fixed by the Board of Directors, and when the need exists the Board of Directors shall appoint a Bond Counsel. The Town (Council) ATTORNEY shall be the legal advisor for the Town, the General Manager, Board of Directors, Board of Education, and all departments, boards, commissions, bureaus and other officers and all matters affecting the Town or relating to their official duties. He shall appear for and protect the rights and interests of the Town in all actions, suits and proceedings brought by or against it or any of the departments, boards, commissions, bureaus, or officers or account of matters involving the performance of their official duties or affecting the Town, and discharge other legal duties as may be prescribed by law or by ordinance. He shall have power, subject to the approval of the General Manager, to appeal from orders, decisions and judgments in which the Town, or any department, commission, board, bureau or officer is a party and with the approval of the Board of Directors, to enter into any agreement, compromise or settlement of any claims against the Town as to which compromise or settlement may be submitted to him by law, provided he may compromise or settle any claim against the Town in the amount of two hundred dollars or less without such approval, and provided, within the amount of two hundred dollars without approval of the Board of Directors. He shall prepare or approve all forms of contracts and other instruments to which the Town is a party or in which it has an interest. He may, with the approval of the General Manager, employ special counsel to assist him in the conduct of important cases or proceedings to which the Town is a party or in which it has an interest. Except on behalf of the Town, the Town (Council) ATTORNEY shall not act as counsel before any board, commission, officer or other agency of the Town.
Sec. 18-2. Options.
The Board of Directors and General Manager, Board of Education and Director of any department, commission, board, bureau or officer, or committee appointed pursuant to law or ordinance, may request in writing and the Town (Council) ATTORNEY thereupon shall render his written opinion upon any question of law involving their respective powers and duties.
The Town (Council) ATTORNEY may appoint such assistant or assistants as the Board of Directors may authorize to aid him in the discharge of his duties and any such assistant shall perform such duties as may be imposed upon him by the Town (Council) ATTORNEY, and shall receive such compensation as the Board of Directors shall provide. The Town (Council) ATTORNEY may remove any such assistant at any time.
ITEM NO. 2
Sec. 3-4(a)(NEW). Standards of Official Conduct.
(1) Definitions. As used in this section:
(a) "Business" means any corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, firm, enterprise, franchise, association, organization, self-employed individual, holding company, joint stock company, receivership, trust, investment property, or any legal entity through which business is conducted for profit.
(b) "Financial interest" means the Town's Ethical Commission.
(c) "Financial interest" or "Ethical interest" in a business or securities shall not include an interest in a business arising solely out of ownership of securities issued by any corporation whose securities are publicly traded.
(d) "Gift" means a payment, loan, subscription, advance, deposit of money, services, or anything of value, unless consideration of equal or greater value is received.
(e) "Marital family" means a spouse residing in the person's household and dependent children.
(f) "Income" means any money or thing of value received, or expected or to be received, whether in the form of interest, salary, expense, allowance, forbearance, forgiveness, dividend, royalty, rent, capital gain or any other form of compensation, or any combination thereof.
(g) "Ministerial action" means an action that a person performs in a given state of facts in a prescribed manner in obedience to the mandate of legal authority, without regard to the merits of the person's own judgment upon the propriety of the acting being taken.
(h) "Person" means a business, individual, corporation, union, association, firm, partnership, committee, club, or other organization or group of persons.
(i) "Town agency" means any department, commission, board, bureau, committee, legislative body, agency, or other establishment of the executive or legislative branch of the Town, including the Board of Education and any provision of this section may lawfully apply to the Board of Education.
(j) "Town employee" means any individual who receives income as a weekly or annual rate from the Town or who is responsible for taking or recommending official action of a non-ministerial nature with regard to:
(I) contracting or procurement; (II) administering or monitoring grants or subsidies; (III) planning or zoning; (IV) inspecting, licensing or regulating any person; or (V) any activity where the individual has an economic impact of greater than a de minimis nature on the interests of any person.
(k) "Town official" means an elected or appointed official in the executive or legislative branch of the Town, excluding members of purely advisory boards and other boards that have no authority to expend public funds, or to otherwise exercise the powers of the Town.
(l) Standards of Official Conduct.
(1) Except as hereinafter provided, no Town official or Town employee, and no counsel on behalf of a Town official or Town employee, shall represent anyone other than the Town, or be employed by any other person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other organization, or appear before a Town agency when the matter concerns a house occupied or to be occupied by the official or employee as his principal residence, or concerns buildings accessory thereto, or concerns a vacant lot of land intended to be the site of the principal residence of the official or employee.
(2) No person shall offer to give to a Town official or Town employee, or a member of his immediate family, and no Town official or Town employee shall solicit or accept such offer to influence the official or employee in the performance of his official duties.
(3) No Town official or Town employee shall accept any benefit or income, in addition to that received in his official capacity, for having exercised his official powers or performed his official duties.
(4) No Town official or Town employee shall use or disclose information gained in the course of, or by reason of, his official position or activities to further his own financial interests or those of anyone else.
(5) Any Town official or Town employee who has a financial interest, distinct from that of the general public, in any decision of any Town agency shall disqualify himself from voting on that decision. Any decision made in violation of this provision shall be voidable, at the option of the Town.
(6) No Town official or Town employee shall knowingly have or acquire any financial interest or beneficial interest, direct or indirect, in any business that is incompatible with the proper discharge of his official duties and that may tend to impair his independence of judgment in the performance of his official duties.
(7) Town Ethics Commission.
(a) There is created a Town Ethics Commission consisting of seven members. Appointments to the Commission shall be made by the Board of Directors. No more than three of its members shall be members of the same political party. Any vacancy occurring on the Commission shall be filled within 90 days in the manner in which that position was originally filled.
(b) Members of the Commission shall serve for three-year staggered terms, each to commence on the Tuesday after the third Monday in November. Of the first members appointed, three shall be appointed for terms of three years, two for terms of two years, and two for terms of one year. Thereafter, all appointments shall be for a term of three years.
(c) The Commission shall elect a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. In the absence of the chairman or in the event of a vacancy in that position, the vice chairman shall assume the duties of the chairman.
(d) Any action by the Commission shall require the affirmative vote of five of its members and five members shall constitute a quorum.
(e) The chairman or any three members of the Commission may call a meeting provided that at least three days advance notice of the meeting is given.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I commend you for devoting an entire column to document the dangers of smoking. It was a noble effort, but those who need it won't listen. I have a long cancer. I smoked nearly three packs a day for 25 years. I was told more than once to stop. I cut down a couple of times, but I never really stopped. I just couldn't kick the habit. The most important message in your column was, "If you don't smoke - don't start!" Those words should be written on every grammar school blackboard in the country. Hang in there, Abby. I love ya!
NEWTON N.J.
DEAR NEWT: Thanks. But not all my readers appreciate that column. Read on:
DEAR ABBY: I used to enjoy reading your column, but lately you seem to be out to reform the world. Your column with all those statistics on smoking was a big bore. I smoke and enjoy it. Everybody has to die of something, and if I die because of my smoking, it will be my funeral, not yours. So I say off, will you?
SAM
DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is having a bad effect on my marriage. This is the second marriage for both my husband and me. We got along very well, and he is an excellent husband in every way but one. One week he takes his children out to eat, and he always invites their mother to go along. He says there is absolutely nothing between them anymore, and I am inclined to believe him, but knowing he is with his ex-wife bothers me. I have let him know how I feel about this, but he continues to include her with the children. Every time we picked her up, my wife and I had to listen to a recital of her aches and pains. She also wanted to know why we couldn't go to a later mass so she wouldn't have to get up so early, and why we didn't sit in a different place in church. But the last straw was when she asked my wife to sit in the back of the church "because she was younger". That was her last ride in our car.
UNPAID CHAUFFEUR
DEAR UNPAID: You don't say how long you served as an unpaid chauffeur for the church-goer, but if it was over a month or so, you were either a slow learner or had the patience of Job.
If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters For All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) envelope to Abby: 122 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Government Spends Billions to Promote Itself

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is spending at least $1 billion a year solely to promote, communicate and sell its programs and sometimes itself to the American people.

Each year, hundreds of millions of tax dollars are spent to run an "army" of nearly 20,000 public information and public affairs workers, moviemakers and broadcasters, writers, editors and advertising specialists. This army gets larger and more expensive every year.

Salaries for top government press officers — some of whom have been elevated to the rank of assistant secretary — now peak at $50,000 a year. Most make more than $30,000 a year.

Despite numerous audits and surveys, no one in the government knows precisely how much is being spent for all public information programs.

However, officials in several sectors of the government, including the Office of Management and Budget and the Civil Service Commission, privately maintain the annual cost is now between $1 billion and $1.5 billion.

The estimates include $500 million for audio-visual programs, over $200 million for advertising, and about $400 million for all other public relations and public information programs, including the salaries of the employees to operate them.

While much of the government's public information function fulfills necessary and often vital educational and communication needs, a large proportion of it appears extravagant or unnecessary.

Literally hundreds of "news" releases are issued daily to promote statements and speeches by agency officials. Costly exhibits are placed in federal office buildings displaying larger-than-life pictures of department and agency heads.

Agencies are providing news broadcasts and voice feeds to radio stations around the country, implementing expensive video-tape and playback systems, and running ambitious film and audio programs as well.

Virtually no agency of government, no matter how tiny it may be, is without a public relations program. Even President Carter's government reorganization task force, formed to cut waste from a "bloated" bureaucracy, has a press officer and regularly issues material touting its accomplishments.

The Defense Department has one of the largest public information and public relations forces in the government, costing more than $25 million a year (excluding advertising for recruitment). Within its operation is a press and public affairs staff of 316 persons in the Pentagon, plus more than 1,200 military and civilian workers scattered among the services and Defense agencies.

Despite its smaller size, the Department of Agriculture virtually matches Defense with a 1,000-worker information-media force costing $26 million a year.

USDA's information army includes 311 public information officers and specialists, 90 writer-editors, 50 general information officials, 19 illustrators, and 59 film specialists.

USDA writers turn out a mountain of material each year — everything from the annual USDA Yearbook (often used as a giveaway campaign item by members of Congress who get allotments of the book each year) to literature on "How to Grow Strawberries" and suburban lawn care.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department, Washington's largest department in terms of expenditures, has a "public affairs" staff of 659 whose salaries and activities cost $25.4 million a year.

The total includes 96 media information specialists, 57 writers who turn out speeches, articles and statements, 90 who work full time on HEW publications, plus 44 who handle film and broadcasting projects.

The Commerce Department, which surrounds many unrelated agencies like the U.S. Travel Service and the Census Bureau, has a yearly public affairs budget of $5.6 million.

Movies Big Biz For Feds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Perhaps the most criticized yet most persistent form of government public information activities is the film making a governmentwide expenditure that President Carter's media adviser, Barry Jagoda, says is a $500 million a year enterprise.

The government owns more than $1.5 billion in film, television and other audio-visual equipment and has in the past 40 years produced thousands of films to communicate various messages to the public — everything from how to brush your teeth to the thrill of hydrofoil racing.

While some government films serve important educational and training functions, a great number of them are made solely to glorify an agency's accomplishments — such as a 14-minute film on the skills of the Navy's bobbed team.

Jagoda, who investigated federal movie making for President Carter, says that within a two-year period there were 52 films produced by the government's drug abuse agency — many of which were duplicative.

"We found persistent agency self-promotion in these films," Jagoda said in an interview.

How did the government's film "industry" grow so large?

Jagoda says that "When Congress legislates certain programs it also says there will be public information programs about these government efforts and that becomes the basis for making films and disseminating information about the program."

Salmon Salads ...from around the world

Long before 56 B.C., when the Romans named it The Leaper, salmon was a highly prized food source for peoples of the world fortunate enough to live near the waters where it was plentiful. Today, thanks to modern canning methods, this delicious food can be enjoyed in many different dishes by people all over the world, no matter how far inland they live.

Few foods are as rich in nutrients as salmon. Not only is it an exceptionally good source of complete protein, containing all the essential amino acids, but it also contains Vitamins A and D as well as niacin and riboflavin from the B-complex group. Appreciable amounts of calcium and iron, as well as zinc, magnesium and phosphorus are also contained in canned salmon. Because the fat content in canned salmon is the polyunsaturated type, it is recommended for those on low cholesterol diets. There is no waste to canned salmon because the liquid, skin and tiny bones are not only edible, but contribute flavor and texture as well as nutrients.

All five varieties of salmon which are canned are equally nutritious, so your choice of salmon depends on its use. When color is important, as in salads and appetizers, choose Red or Sockeye salmon. When combining salmon with other ingredients in casseroles, soups and sandwich fillings, the less expensive Pink or Chum salmon is ideal.

Canned salmon is available in 15-1/2 oz., 7-3/4 oz. and 3-3/4 oz. cans. It is delicious used just as it comes from the can, or in countless varieties of main dishes, salads, soups, sandwiches and appetizers.

The versatility of this succulent seafood is evident as canned salmon takes a tour of the world in a variety of exciting main dish salads.

Canned salmon and rice are seasoned with curry and garnished with fresh fruit in this attractive East Indian salad. From a selection of condiments such as steamed hard-cooked eggs, chopped peanuts and crisp bacon bits. This hearty salad is a complete meal in itself.

CURRIED SALMON SALAD

1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon
3 cups steamed rice
1/3 cup chopped green onion
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 teaspoons curry powder
3 tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons vinegar

3 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon garlic salt
Lettuce
Cantaloupe & honeydew melon wedges
Green grape clusters
Parsley, for garnish

Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Flake salmon and combine with rice and reserved salmon liquid. Saute green onion in 2 tablespoons salad oil with curry powder added. Blend in lemon juice, vinegar, olive oil and garlic salt. Pour dressing over salmon-rice mixture and blend thoroughly. Refrigerate several hours to blend flavors. Spoon salad into center of lettuce-lined bowl or platter. Arrange fruit around salad. Garnish with cucumber, sliced hard-cooked eggs, chopped peanuts and crisp bacon bits. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Steamed Rice: Place 3-1/4 cups water and 3 chicken bouillon cubes in saucepan. Bring to boil. Slowly add 1 cup rice. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes. Cool slightly.

SALMON RIGATONI SALAD

1 can (15-1/2 oz.) salmon
8 ounces fresh string beans cut
8 ounces rigatoni
3 tablespoons olive oil
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
1/2 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese (optional)
1/2 cup chopped green onion
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste
2 medium tomatoes, sliced

Drain and flake salmon, reserving one tablespoon liquid. Cut beans diagonally into strips. Cook rigatoni in boiling salted water 6 minutes. Add beans and cook an additional 6 minutes, or until pasta and beans are tender. Drain. Four cold water over pasta and beans; drain thoroughly. Combine reserved salmon liquid with olive oil, vinegar, basil, garlic salt and Parmesan cheese. Toss with rigatoni and beans. Add salmon, green onion and chopped parsley and toss gently. Add salt and pepper to taste. Arrange tomato slices around edge of plate or serving platter. Mound salad mixture over tomatoes. Serve at room temperature. Makes 6 servings.

SALMON CHALUPAS COMPUESTAS

4 flour tortillas, crisp-frité
1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon
5 cups shredded lettuce
3/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

2 avocados, cut in wedges
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup chopped green onions
1/4 cup pitted ripe olives, sliced

Fry one tortilla at a time in 1-inch oil heated to 350 degrees. Turn frequently with tongs until it puffs slightly and is delicately brown. Drain on paper towels. Drain salmon and break into chunks with a fork. Mound half of lettuce on four salad plates. Arrange crisp tortilla on top of greens and top with a layer each of shredded Cheddar cheese and remaining shredded lettuce. Arrange salmon, avocado wedges and egg slices over lettuce. Spoon sour cream over top and sprinkle with chopped green onions. Garnish with sliced olives. Makes 4 salads.

Your neighbor's kitchen

By Betty Ryder

When John and Barbara Richmond of Saipic Lake Road, Ellington, can get away, they usually head for Sea Cliff, L.I., N.Y., to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Barbara and Julian Mates and their grandson, one-year-old Ethan.

Mrs. Mates was a full-time consultant for the Children's Television Workshop, producers of Sesame Street and the Electric Co. She also taught psychology for two years at Fordham University and has now opened her own office for the practice of psychology for children and young adults.

She attended elementary schools in Manchester and Ellington and Oakwood Preparatory School in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. She graduated from Barnard College with a bachelor's degree in psychology and from Yeshiva University in New York with a master's and a doctor's degree in psychology.

Her husband is dean of the School of Fine Arts at C.W. Post College on Long Island.

The Mates have a small garden which includes basil and other herbs Mrs. Mates uses in her cooking.

Although she still works as a part-time consultant for CTW and also works one day a week at a Long Island clinic, she still enjoys cooking

Pesto a la Genovese

2 cups coarsely chopped fresh basil leaves
1/2 cup snipped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons coarse salt
1 1/2 teaspoons freshly ground pepper

Turkey Salade a la Suisse

4 cups skinless, boneless turkey meat cut into small pieces
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
Juice of half a lemon
Salt to taste
1 tablespoon drained green pepper-corns or fresh ground pepper to taste
1 cup corn or vegetable oil
1 cup diced celery
1 1/2 cups peeled and diced apple
1/4 cup walnut pieces
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

Prepare turkey meat and set aside. Place the egg yolk in a mixing bowl and add the mustard and lemon juice, salt and pepper. Add oil gradually, stirring rapidly with a wire whisk. When blended and smooth, add turkey and other ingredients and fold into mayonnaise to taste.

Broccoli Casserole

4 cups turkey
1 bunch broccoli
Salt to taste
5 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk

Drain. Place in a bowl and toss with juice of half a lemon, salt and pepper and 1/3 cup vegetable oil.

Heat 2 tablespoons of butter in pan, add flour, stir with wire whisk, add milk stirring rapidly with whisk. When blended and smooth, add salt and pepper. Remove from heat and add yolk and stir rapidly. Add touch of Tabasco. Set aside.

Heat the turkey of butter and add the turkey. Add cream, nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste.

Heat remaining 2 tablespoons butter and add broccoli and heat. Put broccoli over bottom of baking pan. Spoon turkey over this and the sauce over all. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in 400 degree oven for 10 to 15 minutes.

All in the (Hospital) Family

When Patricia A. Fortier, a registered nurse in Manchester Memorial Hospital's Emergency Department, was sworn in as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Reserve Medical Service Corps, it turned into a hospital family affair. Administering the oath was Edward M. Kenney, hospital administrator and a retired lieutenant colonel in the Medical Service Corps. Looking on was Dr. J. Robert Galvin, a physician in the Emergency Department and also the lieutenant colonel in command of the unit to which Lt. Fortier will be assigned, the 819th Station Hospital (USAR).

Social Security

Apply Early, Bring Proof

Need a Social Security number for that first job? Or perhaps one was requested from you for tax purposes, a bank account, for a driver's license, or for government benefit? If so, here are some facts you should know.

1. Apply early! It takes about six weeks for a card to be issued, so you should apply for one at any Social Security office before you actually need it. It takes only a few minutes to complete the small application, Form SS-5. If an employer wants proof that you applied for a Social Security card before being hired, ask at the Social Security office for a receipt, Form SSA-5028. Then when you later receive the card, take it to the employer so he can copy the number for his records.

chemical explosion. It will be a year or more before he can return to work. I've arranged for Social Security to have a representative help him apply for disability benefits; but he wants me to find out how he can get rehabilitation services to help him recover. Where can I get information about these services?

A. All people who apply for Social Security benefits are considered for vocational rehabilitation services. Even if a person doesn't meet the requirements for disability payments, he or she may still be eligible for rehabilitation services. Services which may be offered include counseling and guidance, medical examination and medical, surgical, or hospital services, and physical aids such as artificial limbs, braces, hearing aids, eyeglasses, or other devices. The Social Security representative can give you more information.

2. Have necessary proofs. New rules require each Social Security card applicant to provide evidence of age, identity, and U.S. citizenship or residency status. This helps assure that each person has only one Social Security number during his or her working lifetime. It also helps prevent a person from misusing a number not his or her own.

Q. I recently applied for an auto loan from a finance company. The person who took my application asked for my Social Security number. I didn't want to give it to her, but she said the company uses Social Security numbers for filing purposes. Is this practice right?

A. Some non-government organizations use Social Security numbers for record-keeping purposes. Such use is neither required nor prohibited by Federal law. Knowing your number, however, allows these organizations to get information from your Social Security records.

3. If you were born in the United States, the proof needed is an identification document, such as a driver's license, voter's registration, or marriage record is also needed as evidence of identity. All proofs will be returned to you after they have been examined.

Q. My neighbor is no longer able to work because of a spinal condition. I suggested he apply for disability benefits, but he doesn't think he has enough Social Security work credit. How long does a person have to work under Social Security to be eligible for disability payments?

A. The amount of work needed for disability benefits depends on the person's age when he or she becomes disabled. A worker who becomes disabled before 24 needs credit for 15 years of work in the three-year period ending when the disability begins. Workers who are 24 through 30 need credit for having worked half the time between 21 and the time they became disabled. At 31 or over a worker needs credit for at least 5 years of work out of the last 10 years ending when he or she becomes disabled. Workers 45 or older need additional credit depending on their age and when their disability began.

4. If you were born outside the United States, an additional proof is required. What that must submit depends on whether or not you are now a U.S. citizen.

Q. My wife and I are leaving next month on a tour in Europe. We'll be gone for about 10 weeks. Can we arrange to have our Social Security retirement checks forwarded to us?

A. Special rules apply to Social Security beneficiaries while they are outside the United States. If you go outside the country for 30 days or more, your absence may affect your right to checks. For more information contact any Social Security office and ask for the pamphlet "Your Social Security check while you're outside the United States."

5. U.S. citizen — You need proof of citizenship such as a U.S. passport, naturalization certificate, or similar document.

* Not a U.S. citizen — You need to show one of the following: Alien registration card I-151 or I-551, or U.S. Immigration Form I-94, AR2a, I-198, I-185, SW-434, I-95a, or I-184. (Do not mail these documents.)

If you lose your Social Security card, you can get a replacement with the same number. However, you must identify your self with a driver's license, voter registration card, or other proof.

If you change your name due to marriage or other reason, apply for a new card at any Social Security office. The new card will show your married name but will retain the old number.

VA news

Veterans separated from military service may not hear from the Department of Defense until they finish their reserve commitment and receive a discharge — but during the first six months following separation, veterans will certainly hear from the Veterans Administration.

VA cranks up a major information reinforcement effort as soon as DOD sends word of a veteran's separation.

In its first letter to a veteran, VA encourages him to contact the nearest VA regional office — or a representative of a vocational-training, and employment goals — and how to apply.

Follow-on mailings continue for six months. These tell the veteran how to get a GI home loan, condominium and mobile home loans, plus information on insurance and educational programs.

Then, at the end of the six month period, the VA sends a round-up letter, reviewing and reminding the veteran of benefits. This is the timetable VA uses to inform new veterans and VA Administrator Max Cleland hopes it will be the timetable veterans themselves follow in making the transition back to civilian life. He feels it is an excellent chart for setting and pursuing individual educational, vocational-training, and employment goals.

Here's a checklist for new veterans:

- * On arrival at home tell the veteran how to get a GI home loan, con-
- * Within one year from date of notice of VA rating on disability — apply to VA for service-disabled veterans' insurance (RH) based on qualifying service-connected disability.

- * Within one year apply to VA for dental care.
- * As soon as possible apply to VA for GI education or training. Eligibility extends 10 years beyond separation from military service, but not later than Dec. 31, 1989.
- * There are no time limits for veterans to:
  - * apply for GI loan guaranty to buy, build or improve a home;
  - * file claim with VA for disability compensation for service-connected disability or disease, or apply for hospital care;
  - * seek assistance from local state employment offices in finding work or entering Labor Department job-training programs.

Karen Blaker Ph.D.

Indispensable Baggage

DEAR DR. BLAKER—I am 62 years old. My friend, Alice, is about the same age. Two weeks ago, she started staying in her apartment instead of sitting on the bench where we usually talk and take in the sun. I hesitated to knock on her door because I didn't want to disturb her privacy. A mutual friend told me that Alice had been in a car accident and is very depressed. I don't know what to do. Will it be intruding if I call her and suggest that we visit?

But he ran out of food and had no radio on which to send SOS signals. He perished somewhere above the ocean, too high to be seen and perhaps rescued. Like the balloonist, many people panic in times of crisis. Their rejection of indispensable sources of support can lead to deadly isolation. Your friend, for example, may be withdrawing from you because she does not want the added burden of being seen in a helpless, depressed state. But she really needs you. Friends are a lifeline during times of desperation. Take a chance and give her a call. You would never forgive yourself if you found out later that she had been waiting and hoping you would visit.

When you call, come directly to the point by telling her you heard about her son's death. Explain that you want to express your sorrow and find out how she is doing. That will relieve her of the anxiety of not knowing why you are calling.

No matter how she responds, suggest that she come to your apartment for a visit. She may not want to sit outside, where she could feel conspicuous her started to cry. If she says she can't talk, suggest that you get together anyway to read, sew or just watch television. The idea is to provide her with human companionship. Don't worry. If she really wants to be alone, she will let you know that she needs privacy right now. But even if she cannot accept your invitations, she will appreciate your concern.

Write to Dr. Blaker in care of The Manchester Evening Herald, P.O. Box 475, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

U.S. balance of payments deficit, according to the National Food Processors Association. Domestic seafood processors are seeking U.S. government protection against what they term unfair competition from foreign factory ships operating inside the 200-mile offshore zone, says Charles J. Hypoglycemia and Milk

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have been having so much trouble with gas I decided to use the lactase enzyme in my milk as I drink quite a bit and I have low blood sugar (hypoglycemia). I wonder if it is all right for a hypoglycemic to use the lactase as it splits the sugar in milk into single sugars.

I wrote to the Sugar-Low Company, 3540 Atlantic low blood sugar. Milk intolerance certainly can cause gas troubles but it is only one cause for them. To give you more information about gas I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-8, Controlling Gasousness. Other readers who want help with this problem can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for this issue in care of The Manchester Evening Herald, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10101.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My mother, age 86, has to take water pills. These keep her up all night long. During the day she is all worn out and can't stay awake. Aldactazide is the name of the medicine she is taking. This makes her practically an invalid. She is all right other than this. Is there any way besides this medicine that you know of to solve her problem?

DEAR DR. LAMB - My mother, age 86, has to take water pills. These keep her

True, it will provide immediate single sugars for the body to act on in the amounts usually found in milk, but the same thing happens with any milk that you use anyway if you form lactase enzyme, whether you're a diabetic or have

The only real answer is to go to your doctor and talk to him about your mother. He might wish to use a different diuretic agent or decrease the amount she is taking, depending on what her basic medical problem really is.

MVD Info

Q. You're following another car in a stream of traffic. The driver ahead of you stops suddenly. You jam on your brakes, too late to prevent a crash! What's the best defense?

A. The National Safety Council says:

- 1. Stay Alert. Expect the driver ahead of you to brake at any time without warning or apparent reason.
2. Stay Ahead of the Situation. Watch as far ahead of you as you can. You may see trouble develop in front of the other vehicle, something that may cause the driver ahead to slow or stop suddenly. Be ready!
3. Stay Back. Don't underestimate your stopping distance. Even with good brakes, it takes a lot of room. Stay behind at least one vehicle length for every 10 miles per hour of speed. Going 50? Then stay back five lengths. On wet or icy roads, allow an even greater safety margin.
4. Start Stopping Sooner. When you know you'll have to brake, slow down gradually. Don't wait until the last moment. Delayed braking is dangerous. Start slowing down at once!
(Questions may be sent to MVD INFO, Department of Motor Vehicles, 60 State St., Westchester, Conn. 06109. Motor Vehicle Department offices are open Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; and Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.)

Ice Facts And Fancies - An iceberg larger than Belgium. That was the world's largest iceberg sighted 150 miles west of Scott Island in the South Pacific Ocean by the U.S.S. Glacier on Nov. 12, 1880. It was over 12,000 square miles (208 miles long and 60 miles wide).

Best 'Garage Sales' Held by Giant Corporation

By LeROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI) - The "garage sale" flourishes in almost every residential neighborhood in the land, but the really big garage sales are held by giant corporations. With the big fellows it's a highly organized operation. Companies like DuPont, Cyanamid, Allied Chemical, Monsanto and many others belong to the National Industrial Salvage Conference, which exchanges lists of machinery, plants and materials that have become white elephants to the company that owns them but may be quite valuable to other companies.

Business

demeralizers, big motors, large flame arresters. Even buildings come on the block to be torn down for salvage of the steel and sometimes even the brick and concrete work, which can be useful for landfill or for putting low retaining walls and jet-ties in bays, lakes and rivers. A typical operation of this kind is run by Bruce O'Connell of Cyanamid, Wayne, N.J. He has a astounding title as manager of the Investment Recovery Section of the Materials Planning and Procurement Division. "It just means I'm the company junkman," he explained.

Selected

James B. McCandless of Life Insurance Co. has been selected to attend the Connecticut's executive development program at Dartmouth. The three-week program, uniquely designed by Connecticut Mutual's human resources development division, is scheduled this month at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. Through an intensive series of lectures and workshops, participants will address urgent management and insurance industry issues. The faculty members include educators from Columbia University, the Harvard School of Business, Yale University, Dartmouth's Amos Tuck School of Business, Stanford University and several business consulting firms. McCandless, a graduate of Oklahoma State University, joined Connecticut Mutual in 1975. He serves as an investment officer with the company's agricultural investment division. McCandless is a member of the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers. He, his wife Mary Ann and children live in Manchester.

Promoted - Eleanor Miner has been promoted to branch manager of the East Hartford office of the Glastonbury Bank & Trust Co., bank president John H. Hamby Jr. announced. Mrs. Miner, who joined the bank as a secretary in 1969, has served in several areas, including the mortgage servicing department. Before her recent promotion, she was in the lending and support function at the bank's Colchester office. Mrs. Miner, a resident of Marlborough, has been active in community organizations. She was treasurer for the 1973 Colchester American Cancer Society crusade and for five years served on the Marlborough Board of Education.

Payout Set - Akzona Inc. has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share, payable Sept. 29 to stockholders of record Sept. 15. Brand-Res Co., with headquarters in Williamstown, is one of the six operating companies of Akzona.

Two Businesses Expanding in Main Street Mall

Two Manchester businesses that began as home hobbies and opened a year ago as small Main Street business ventures, are now expanding.

The Aquatic World and Five Star Trading Co. are doubling their present floor space at the Manchester Mall at 611 Main St.

This will be the second expansion in the mall for Aquatic World, operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Shuttleworth.

Business

Mrs. Shuttleworth said that having tropical fish in her home was a hobby until she and her husband decided to open up a small business at the Main Street mall. They stocked their small space first with a limited assortment of tropical fish and a few accessories.

In their newly expanded area, Mrs.

Shuttleworth said they expect to have 75 tanks of tropical fish including salt water fish, and, hopefully, a baby octopus. They will also carry small animals such as guinea pigs, gerbils and hamsters, and a variety of small birds.

The grand opening of the remodeled Aquatic World will be on or about Oct. 1.

George Atkins, owner of the Five Star Trading Co., has been collecting coins, mostly American and Canadian, for about 25 years. He started a year ago marketing some of his coin and coin products at a flea market in town and later moved into a small space in the Manchester Mall.

With his wife, Genevieve, the Atkinses have expanded their business so that they are doubling their original floor space. They now sell assorted coin supplies, coin jewelry, and have enlarged their inventory to include imported items made from onyx brass and wood. There is a variety of paintings by Atkins is for sale.

Atkins said his new expanded shop will be open by the end of this week.

Referring to the Manchester Mall as a place that caters mostly to business, just getting started, mall owner Kenneth Burkamp said there have been other businesses that started there and have since outgrown the limited quarters of the mall.

The mall now features Thursday night specials including free travel films (free coffee and doughnuts), and free ice cream sundaes to the first 10 senior citizens presenting their "free" tickets, which are available at the mall and at the Senior Citizens Center. The mall also features a hot dog stand boasting the longest hot dog on Main Street, according to Burkamp.

Partner

Kenneth H. Rabinowitz has become a partner and assumed the position of assistant vice president of Wolff-Zackin & Associates, Vernon.

Rabinowitz, a graduate of the University of Connecticut, joined the agency in October 1972. He started his insurance career with the Aetna Casualty and Surety Co. in 1968 and advanced to the position of senior underwriter before joining Wolff-Zackin.

Joins CofC

Jack R. McVeigh, owner of The Bike Shop at 180 Spruce St., has joined the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

McVeigh has been in business six years since taking over for his father, John F. McVeigh, who started the bicycle business in 1958 at his home and later moved it to 257 Spruce St.

The shop has new bicycles and accessories and does repairs and custom bicycle and wheel building.

The Bike Shop has three employees in addition to McVeigh.

Pioneer Wins Army Contract

A contract totaling $498,311 has been awarded to the Pioneer Recovery Systems Inc. of Manchester by the U.S. Army Troop Support and Aviation Material Readiness Command, St. Louis, Mo. The contract is for the purchase of personal parachutes.

Initial delivery on the contract is scheduled for Feb. 28, 1979, and the final delivery will be on March 28, 1979.

The Defense Contract Administration Services at Hartford will administer the contract.
