WHAT'S NEWS

Storm Moves

A massive snowstorm that killed at least 17 people in eight states moved through the northern Plains and into Canada

But the National Weather Service said another storm - less intense than its predecessor - could hit the southern Rockies today. The deaths from the first major storm of the season included three children in a school bus that was rammed from behind by a large gravel truck during a pea soup fog in southeastern Missouri Monday. The dead also included a 12year-old Arizona hunter, a young member of a boy scout troop snowbound in the California Sierras, six plane crash victims and numerous motorists involved in accidents on snowpacked highways.

TV Campaign

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A coalition of consumer, medical, abor and public interest groups today announced a nationwide "watch TV and write-in" campaign to involve the public in the proposed crackdown on children's levision advertising

The groups said they will urge parents and other "concerned adults" to watch one hour of commercial children's television write one letter to the Federal Trade Commission on their perception of advertising directed

The FTC has set Nov. 24 as the closing date for public comment on its staff's controversial proposal to ban all TV ads lirected at children under the age of 8 and to ban commercials for highly sugared foods, including some cereals, aimed at children between the ages of 8 and 12.

Center Springs Park.

MANCHESTER - Loitering by ouths in the town's park is not a new henomenon and a proposed curfew may not solve the problem, but it will give police another means to help alleviate some of the situations. Patrol Captain Henry Minor of the Manchester Police Department, Minor said "Kids hung around in the park when I first came on the force in 1966 and they are still there." The large group of loiterers in Center Park was one thing that prompted the proposed curfew ordinance which will be the subject of a public hearing before the Board of Directors tonight. However, last week, at least one director and a Main Street businessman who supported the curfew for the park were surprised to learn that the new ordinance would not apply to the park near the center of town.

The ordinance will apply to other park areas such as Center Springs Park, Cake Mountain, Globe Hollow Slater's Pond and recreation area, the Northview Ski Slope and the Oak Grove Nature Center, all of which have had various incidents of vandalism, littering and loitering. Board Discusses Class Size Cuts

EAST HARTFORD - The Board of Education Monday night agreed to meet with a group of parents in January to discuss the reduction of class size in East Hartford

The board agreed to hold one of its workshops on Jan. 8. Under this format, the board devotes the entire evening to one specific school issue. In the past two months, it has had workshops on competency testing at the high schools on the Dale Avenue curriculum at Center School. The request for the meeting came from the Parents for Quality Education in East Hartford, a group which has met since May to study the impact of reduced class sizes on students. Joyce Octigan, spokesperson for the group, said it would like the board to study in detail the facts accumulated by the parents. She said every elementary school in town has participated in the evaluation. Mrs. Octigan added the meeting would provide a "hands across the table atmosphere" in getting the school board and community members together. Board chairman Lawrence DelPonte welcomed the meeting and suggested two dates to schedule it. Mrs. Octigan said Dec. 11 would be acceptable but Sam Leone, assistant superintendent for personnel, asked for postponement until Jan. 8. He said an elementary school task force is looking into the area as well and would like to have its recommendations.

Teachers P Ask Seat On Board

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

VERNON - A request from the Vernon Education Association (VEA) to have representation on the Board of Education was made at the board meeting Monday night. The board tabled action and turned the matter over to its general policies committee for a recommendation. This was not the first time that the VEA had made this request. About two years ago the same question was raised and was turned down by the Mimi Bouley, president of the teachers' association, asked the board to reconsider, noting it would make things easier for the VEA and for the board. She said the representative from the group would no be used to foist the VEA's opinions on the board but rather to serve as an additional source of information. Several years ago the board voted to have student representation on the board and since then three Rockville High students have been allowed to

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Richard Crenna leads an ambivalent professional life, swinging from directing to acting, with equal facility and without preference. This year the multi-talented Crenna will have starred in four TV movies and two feature films as well as directing a half dozen television shows, including a pair of Directing, he finds, demands more time and responsibility than acting but it pays a tenth of what Crenna commands as an actor. The difference creates a definite ambivalence in his practical considerations. The reason for the disparity in monetary rewards is clear. Few moviegoers and even fewer television viewers pay heed to the director credit. A familiar face, however, may influence Neilsen ratings and box-office receipts. According to Crenna, however, the rewards for directing cannot always be counted in dollars. The artistic contributions of the director almost invariably outweigh those of the actor, he believes. He derives more personal satisfaction behind the camera "The big difference involved is creativity." he said. "The director has much more creative input and is more artistically involved. The actor makes only a fragmen-

Crenna illustrated the difference with his appearance in chapter five of "Centennial" on NBC. He played Col. Frank Skimmerhorn, a villainous militarist who conducted a vendetta against Indians in the west. He would much rather have directed "Centennial" than acted in the 26-hour series.

"There's more pride involved in putting it all together than simply being a part of the cast," he said. "Anyway, I've always wanted to direct an historical drama and a western. 'Centennial' is both.'

Crenna, who began acting as a child in radio, and who starred as juvenile Walter Denton in "Our Miss Brooks" and as Luke McCoy in "The Real McCoys," began direc-

Don't put another dime into savings without talking to us.

It isn't so easy to save money these days. What used to be a matter of simple interest has been compounded to such a degree you need quite an education to figure it all out. Now, in addition to the usual savings plans, banks offer many unusual ones. With varying interests, rules and regulations, penalties and rewards.

You need help.

Obviously, some savings plans are more appropriate for you than others. Long Term Investments are ideal if you have the money and can afford the time. But a Short Term arrangement might be more practical. Regular Passbook Account interest compounds differently from that of a Statement Savings Account. But the two types of accounts differ in other ways, as well. How can you make sense of it all?

Talk to an expert. Our Savings Investment Specialists have many of the answers you need. They've been trained in the applications of all the savings services we offer. So they can help you make the choices that are right for you.

Come in today and sit down with a Hartford National specialist. Or call for additional information.

Protection Fight In Crucial Stage

By CHRIS BLAKE Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD - The fight for better police protection and a return to foot patrols and cruiser beats is in the "crucial stage," according to Denise Benoit, a member of the East Hartford Citizen Action Group EHCAG met Monday night and much of the discussion centered on the battle the group has waged against police Chief Clarence A.

The groups plans to pursue the matter of police protection today when it meets with Mayor Richard H. Blackstone at 3 p.m. and next Tuesday, when it will appeal to the Town Council. "I feel very strongly that we are on our last leg with this thing," Ms. Benoit said. We've worked hard on this and I think we're going to get somewhere. "I just think the Town Council has to listen to the people of East Hartford. These are not just isolated citizens," Ms. Benoit said. In preparation for its council appearance, the group has circulated a petition. The petition calls for a return of neighborhood cruiser beats. foot patrols in the downtown area and "other areas to deter crime." EHCAG President Alvin Levie said the group's crime committee has gotten 2,000 signatures on the The group plans to go to shopping centers and other areas this weekend to try to gain more signatures. "If we double this or get 5.000 signatures, I don't see how the Town Council can ignore us." Levie said.

"Five thousand signatures in a town of 50,000 is quite a lot." Ms. Benoit said she has written to U.S. Rep William Cotter asking for his assistance to the FBI in gaining the release of crime records for 1974 asking how much of the 52.8 percent increase in crime in East Hartford during 1974 was caused by the new record-keeping system the police department instituted.

"We haven't gotten any answers to this questions from the police administration or the town administration," she said. Meanwhile, EHCAG member Gary LeBeau presented a pair of letters to the group Monday night.

In one letter, the FBI asked Drumm to explain why the crime rate had jumped so high in 1974. Drumm replied in a letter dated Jan 27, 1975 the difference in crime levels can be attributed to the reassignment of record maintenance He said a single person was put in charge of keeping crime counts because this system was more precise, LeBeau said. "That does not jibe with his previous statements about why the

Dear Abby

Hubby Can't

Put On Heirs

DEAR ABBY: Gary and I have been married for a year, during which time he's been a perfect husband. I'm 24 and he's 26. Last week I learned that Gary had a vasectomy before we were married. He didn't tell me. I found out accidentally when I came across his medical records fore we were married he promised me a family. How hould this be handled?

DEAR WANTS: Unfortunately, your husband's credibili-ty is consistent with his fertility. (Imagine promising you a rose garden when he knew he had no needs!) I need more information. Why did Gary have a vasoc-temy? (If he dislikes children, he'd probably make a poor Is his vasectomy irreversible? (Some are not.) WANTS CHILDREN

This world needs responsible parents more than it needs DEAR ABBY: While flying from Los Angeles to Chicago recently, I was rudely awakened from a much-needed nap by a booming voice that came over the loudspeaker with: "THIS IS YOUR CAPTAIN SPEAKING! We are now flying over the Grand Canyon ... etc." Abby, this was not a chartered flight carrying a load of sight-seeing hicks who had never flown before. I'm sure most of the passengers had already seen the Grand Canyon

Be a friend to those of us who fly the friendly skies frequently and print this. It might help. DEAR J.E.: I also fly the friendly skies frequently, and concur. (Captain, oh, captain, are you listening?)

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago a man we employed for many years in our retail business left us to open his own store—in competition with us. No particular ill will was involved, but we were not overjoyed since we had taught him the business from the ground up. We continue to do well, but this man has done even better pecause he has a better location.

A friend of ours seems to take a perverse pleasure in constantly pointing out our competitor's ads in the newspaper, and talking endlessly about what a fantastic success he has nade in such a short time. We are bewildered and somewhat Are we overly sensitive? We feel very uncomfortable havng to listen to this subtle form of needling every time we're
