Armed Holdup

EAST HARTFORD - Police are investigating an armed robbery that occurred Friday at 8:05 p.m. at Mary's Luncheonette,

Police said a man, described as thin and about 5 feet, 9 inches, entered the restaurant wearing a nylon stocking over his face and a black skull cap. He had a handgun, police said.

The man asked an employee to put money in the cash register into a brown paper bag. He then took the bag and was last seen running north on Main Street, Other details about the incident were not yet available Friday

Two Courses MANCHESTER - Non credit courses in advanced medical terminology and unidentified flying objects are being offered this month by the Community Services Division of Manchester Community College. In "Medical Terminology II," a continua-tion of the introductory course that was offered earlier this semester emphasis will be given to building an extensive medical vocabulary. This course is intended for persons who have taken an introductory course in the subject. The first meeting of the class will be devoted to a test and review of the students' knowledge of medical terms. Classes will begin Nov. 30 and will continue on Thursdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. for three more weeks.

Students in "UFO henomena" will explore the subject through readings, films and dis-cussions in the classroom. Several lecturers fron NICAP, the National nvestigating Committee on Aerial Phenomena, will visit the class. Classes will begin Nov. 30, and will coninue on Thursdays from 7:20 to 9:50 p.m. for three

Town Seeks Bond Rating Improvement

MANCHESTER - The town, hoping to improve its bond rating, is expecting a visit during the spring from Moody's Rating Ser-

Moody's, which rates municipalities for the ment, now gives Manchester an A-1 rating, its Town Treasurer Roger Negro said in his annual report released Friday that plans are being worked out for a tour of the town in the spring by the rating service.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said the town is hoping to move up to an AA rating, which is the service's second-highest rating. The highest category, AAA, seldom is used in rating municipalities, Weiss said. Weiss said the town usually goes to New York to provide information to Moody's about Manchester's fiscal matters. He feels a visit here will provide a further in-depth look into financial matters in the town. "We think it will make a big difference," he said. Such items as money management, tax collection effort and whether past fiscal years have ended with a surplus are looked at to determine the rating. Weiss also said that something like the recently completed townwide citizens survey might also have an effect. The survey showed general satisfaction with town government

An improvement in the town's rating could mean a decrease in interest paid on long-term

But, even with the A-1 rating, Weiss said the town has received favorable rates in the past. "We feel we've been getting bids (from bond investors) as if we were AA," he said.

successful from the start. If you want an answer why, two parties point out Coach Donna Tedford.

"She maintains good discipline and instills a winning spirit in the kids," notes Ginny Lind, physical education teacher at Illing, "She instills pride in themselves and in the team." "She has done an excellent job." states Manchester Head Coach Mary Faignant, "She teaches them the fundamentals and has built up enthusiasm in field hockey.

"We don't have to reconvert them from other sports. She's built enthusiasm and has helped us at our level. As varsity coach here, I see Donna's results in that many of her players have played either varsity or jayvee." It was noted by Lind that 11 of the 16 on this year's high school varsity were from Illing.

Illing recently capped off a fine unbeaten 10-0 campaign. The Rams scored 23 goals and allowed only two, finishing up with nine consecutive shutouts. The first year Illing had girls' field hockey a 5-3-2 mark was logged followed by seasons of 7-1-2

Four Area Students In Music Festival

SOUTH WINDSOR - Four musicians from Timothy Edwards School have been selected to participate in a chamber music festival at the University of Connecticut

The students, who perform together as a string quartet, are Larry Kean, Amy Champagne, violinists; Adam Murray, viola; and Robert Conde, cello.

The New England String Quartet, in residence at the university, hosts a chamber music weekend each year. In order to be chosen for this event, interested groups must submit an audition tape. This year the South Windsor group was the only one chosen from Connecticut. The concert will be Sunday at 3 p.m. at von der Mehden

DEAR ABBY: I am studying for the ministry. My father low deceased) was also a minister. Some years ago my father read a letter from the pulpit hat he had clipped from your column. I was a very young then, but I recall that it made a big impression on me. thad to do with a 13-year-old boy who didn't want to go o church with a bunch of hypocrites. Can you find it and run it again? Thank you

DEAR READER: Is this it? DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old, and my parents force me to go to church every Sunday.

I hate going to church because I see people there who I know are drunkards, goosipe, liars and cheats, and they are right there every Sunday saying their prayers and singing the hymns. I don't have any respect for hypecrites and our church is full of them, my own parents included.

I am only 13, so maybe my opinion doesn't count, but I on't see any sense in my going to church with a bunch of ONLY A BOY

DEAR ONLY: Christ became a man at 13, and you are not too young to become a man either. One goes to church to learn about the Bible and the word of the Lord, although God dwells in one's heart, and it's not necessary to go to church to communicate with Him. And as for the hypocrites

DEAR ABBY: I'm a telephone operator for a rather large and busy company. We have two nice young fellows who do a good job. But they could do better if their wives would quit I can understand emergency calls, but these wives call up to say, "We got a letter from your mother—should I read it

Abby, I know both these wives and I wouldn't hurt their feelings for the world, and I certainly wouldn't say anything ands, and if you print this, they may get the hint. Besides, it's not fair to call a person at work to just gab about nothing on company time. VERMONT READER

DEAR READER: Your point is well taken. And may add that when a man comes home from work and asks hi wife, "What's new?" it gives them semething to talk about The Flintstones — Hanna Barbera Production

Bible week saga

Some of the greatest stories ever told, plus some great stars combine in a three-part "Stories from the Bible" (Nov. 19-25 on NBC). Lew Ayres, John Carradine and Robert Culp are a few of the names playing in Noah and the Ark, Moses and the Exodus of the Israelites. The special is part of National Bible Week, and the sets incude a wooden ark and a sprawling battle sequence, complete with hundreds of chariots and thousands of Roman soldiers.

LASSIE COME BACK -Could you please tell me what happened to the Lassie show? It seems every time a good family show is aired it somehow disappears. How do we get it back on? — A Concerned Family TV Viewer, Morris. Conn.

I'm afraid you're barking up the wrong tree on this one. The Lassie show I think you're referring to was not meant to be a series, simply a special presentation. The original series which began in 1955 lasted much longer than most starring humans, so some family shows do make it. If you would like them to give your canine friend another chance, write to your local ABC affiliate or to the network
