WHAT'S NEWS

Early Closing

MANCHESTER — Public schools closed early today because of the snowstorm. The schools dismissed after a four-hour morning schedule and afternoon kindergarten was cancelled, the superintendent of schools of the city reported.

Clinic Tuesday

MANCHESTER — The free monthly walk-in blood pressure clinic sponsored by the geriatric program of the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association will be held Tuesday from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Cronin Hall at Mayfair Gardens.

Gloria Weiss, registered dietitian, will present a program on "The Advantages of Homemade Mixes."

Case Closed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today refused to review the case of Myron Farber, the New York Times reporter who spent 39 days in jail for refusing to surrender to a judge his notes and records on a murder case.

The justices let stand contempt convictions imposed on Farber and on the newspaper, which paid a total $285,000 in fines in the highly publicized fair-trial, free-press case.

Today's action sets no national legal precedent. But many free press advocates consider it a blow since, among other things, it leaves intact a New Jersey ruling that a state law giving journalists a privilege to protect confidential sources must yield to a criminal defendant's right to a fair trial.

Traffic Toll

The traffic toll for the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend, grimly aided by dangerous weather conditions during the homeward rush, today pushed well past the minimum number of deaths predicted and past last year's total.

The National Safety Council predicted 480 to 570 travelers would die in traffic accidents during the period.

Early today, a UPI survey showed at least 505 people had been killed in traffic accidents. That compared to 498 killed during the same period in 1977.

Iran Protests

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The shah's Muslim-led opposition shut down Tehran Sunday, sent 1.4 million demonstrators into the streets and issued detailed allegations that Iran's elite have siphoned off $2.4 billion of the nation's oil revenue. Troops killed 13 demonstrators.

The outpouring of anti-government fervor shook the shah's attempts to re-establish stability and pacify his opposition.

Pope Challenge

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John Paul II has openly challenged the forces of religious oppression in a landmark speech that church observers said was aimed at the rulers of his native Poland and other Soviet-bloc countries.

The 58-year-old former Archbishop of Krakow, his voice loud and sometimes trembling with emotion, issued a powerful world-wide appeal Sunday for freedom of religion and human dignity.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher Monday in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which gained 3.12 points Friday, was ahead 0.86 point to 810.98 shortly after the opening. It gained 12.39 points overall last week.

Carter Will Limit Money for Cities

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — President Carter today told the nation's top urban leaders the 1980 budget will put "severe limits" on federal programs for their cities and will "disappoint those who do not take inflation seriously."

Speaking to members of the National League of Cities, the president twice declared the "the 1980 budget will be very, very tight" and he bluntly told his audience that meant more limits on federal aid "without starving useful programs."

"For the cities, the impact will be clear," said the president. "We will do as much as we can within the necessarily severe limits ... there will be little money for new initiatives next year."

The president said his budget sets as a goal a reduction in the federal deficit to $30 billion and he warned his spending blueprint "will disappoint those who do not take inflation seriously ... It will disappoint those who expect constantly expanding federal aid and a constantly expanding number of new programs and agencies."

After the speech, the president was due to fly to Salt Lake City to accept a "Family Unity" award from the Mormon church.

Women's groups — including a group called Mormons for ERA — have protested vigorously Carter's acceptance of the award, arguing that the Mormons, have vigorously opposed the Equal Rights Amendment and have succeeded in preventing ratification in three states — Utah, Nevada and Arizona — where their influence is extensive.

On Sunday, an administration spokesman said the White House Office of Management and Budget is considering a plan to reorganize two Cabinet-level agencies, possibly abolishing the Commerce Department.

The reorganization staff is studying a plan to trim down 12 economic development programs administered by six different agencies that could involve shifting the Economic Development Administration from the Commerce Department to a new, expanded department.

Christmas Shoppers Fill Parking Spaces

MANCHESTER — Parking spaces were few and far between at the Parkade the weekend after Thanksgiving. With Thanksgiving dinners out of the way, residents turned into shoppers and took advantage of the good weather to get a head start on their Christmas shopping.

A "very fine day" was experienced by the businesses at the Parkade, according to Bob Schwartz, president of the Parkade Association. "Friday and Saturday were better than last year," he said, and added that he foresees a good Christmas season.

Downtown on Main Street was both "spotty" and good according to Philip Harrison, owner of Harrison's Stationers. He said that traffic was not so heavy, but sales were good. With the combination of higher prices and tightening of purse strings, he said he anticipates his business will be as good as last year with a 10 percent increase allowing 6 percent for inflation.

Business at Regal's Men's Store on Main Street was "excellent," Bernard Apter, owner, said. He added that although people are spending, they are spending cautiously.

The day after Thanksgiving was "extra busy on sales and layaways" at Farr's, owner James Farr said. He said there's every indication there will be a lot of shopping activity this year. He said his holiday shopping business is already running ahead of last year.

Despite the end of the clean-up operation, there was a growing list of mysteries surrounding the stunning events that began late Saturday afternoon, Nov. 18, at the People's Temple jungle commune.

Tim Carter, who described himself as a public relations specialist for the cult, told reporters that he, his brother Mike and a third man were given guns and a suitcase containing $500,000 and walked past the death temple even as their friends were collapsing from cyanide poisoning.

Carter said he, his brother and Michael Prokes were told to take the suitcase to an unspecified embassy. The suitcase later was found to contain a letter to the Soviet Embassy.

Cash Found as Body Shipments End

U.S. Graves Registration teams finished bagging the bodies Saturday and cheered, shook and slapped hands as the U.S. Air Force helicopter took off with the final corpse — at least the last one they could find.

At Georgetown's Timehra airport Sunday, the U.S. Recovery Task Force sent the last 184 bodies back to Dover Air Force Base, Del., aboard a C-141 transport plane. For health reasons they burned their uniforms, boots, gloves and tents and anything that came into contact with the body remains or fluids of the cultists.

The final shipment of 184 corpses was carried in 83 aluminum transfer cases.

"That means there were a hell of a lot of children in the last shipment," said one U.S. officer at the Georgetown airport.

"Picking up the bodies of the children was the one thing that really got to me," said an exhausted soldier, trying to sleep in the shade of a firehouse. "I'll remember that forever."

For the record, the cold numbers were 914 members of the People's Temple sect dead. These included 908 Americans and one Guyanese citizen who died at Jonestown, three of them — including Jones — of gunshot

Egypt May Extend Interim Withdrawal

By United Press International

An Israeli report from Cairo said today that Egypt may offer to extend Israel's interim withdrawal from the Sinai from nine to 12 months if the Israelis agree to a timetable for settlement in the occupied West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

The Jerusalem Post said in a dispatch the proposal is part of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's reassessment of Cairo's position following Israel's rejection of a demand to include a timetable in the peace treaty.

The report followed a statement by Sadat that peace negotiations may drag beyond the Dec. 17 target date for an agreement but that "sooner or later" a treaty will be signed.

Quoting a source close to Sadat, the Jerusalem Post said Egypt was prepared to draw up a provision in the treaty ensuring against abolition of the pact if the autonomy plan cannot be fulfilled within a year.

"The source also pressed the idea of applying the autonomy plan first to the Gaza Strip — as a model for its subsequent application to the West Bank," the newspaper report said.

Under the terms of the draft treaty, Israel is to pull out of the Sinai desert in two stages, the first to be completed nine months after the signing of the pact.

Israel agreed to this but rejected a proposal that autonomy be set up in the West Bank and Gaza in nine months. Israel argued linking the treaty to a timetable could mean Egypt would withhold other provisions of the pact until autonomy was achieved.

Israel offered instead to begin negotiations on a timetable after the treaty is signed.

In Cairo today a high-level committee, headed by Vice President Hosni Mubarak, met for two hours to complete a report on the latest Egyptian position in the deadlocked peace treaty negotiations with Israel.

The report will be submitted to Sadat Tuesday and then sent to President Carter through diplomatic channels.

Sadat, speaking Sunday to journalists on the lawn of his rest house on the Nile north of Cairo, said a report to President Carter on the Egyptian position would be delayed two days until Tuesday because certain changes had to be made.

"I cannot set a date, but I am sure of one thing, sooner or later we shall be signing an agreement," Sadat said. "How long it will take, I do not know."

"This does not mean that I am pessimistic, not at all, but there are problems which will take some time."

The negotiations are deadlocked over Egypt's demand for a timetable for establishing Arab autonomy on occupied lands. The dispute could delay the conclusion of a peace pact beyond the Dec. 17 target date mentioned in the Camp David agreements.

Begin told his Cabinet Sunday he saw no need to reopen the Washington talks if Egypt does not approve the American draft endorsed by Israel, government sources in Tel Aviv said.

They said Begin endorsed Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan's view that sending negotiators back to the U.S. capital to discuss "finely honed" sections of the proposed agreement might torpedo the entire package.

But Israeli officials said Israel was willing to take any steps that will lead to peace so long as this does not mean giving in to excessive Egyptian demands.

At the Cabinet meeting, Begin supported Dayan against a storm of criticism for his remark that Israel had approved an American draft of a treaty and now Egypt should "take it or leave it."

Plan Would Bill for Snow Removal

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Negligent snowshovelers may have to pay the town for clearing of their sidewalks if a proposed ordinance is approved by the Town Board of Directors.

The town ordinance will be one of three ordinances developed by the Department of Public Works that the Town Board of Directors will conduct public hearings for at its Dec. 5 meeting.

The others would permit the town to temporarily close roads being repaired and would establish a prohibition against the draining of water onto town streets. All copies of the ordinances may be seen at the town clerk's office.

As the town today geared for its first major snow of the year, Jay Giles, director of public works, explained the proposed ordinance about the removal of the white stuff.

Presently, town ordinances provide for a fine if a property owner fails to shovel a sidewalk after a snowfall.

The proposed revised ordinance would permit the town to take over the snow shoveling duty if the property owner fails to do so and then charge the owner for the service.

Giles said the town might either use town workers to clear the walks or hire persons to do the shoveling. "It all depends on how much other work the town has to do," he said. If persons are hired to do the work, the town will have to pay additional money available to pay them until payment is made by the property owner.

Giles is hopeful the change can be approved and enacted in time for most of this winter's major snows.

The town also is seeking permission to be able to close temporarily any road that is being repaired or reconstructed.

This would lessen the town's liability for any damage that occurs to automobiles using roads during the repair work.

The state, for instance, has the authority to close roads legally for a temporary period while work is being done. The town does not have such authority, but Giles feels it would be a useful step for the town to eliminate damage claims from automobile operators.

The proposed town ordinance is patterned after the existing state ordinance, Giles said.

Another ordinance would prohibit the draining of water onto town streets.

Presently, the ordinance prohibits the discharge of water through a pipe onto sidewalks. Some property owners, however, have run a pipe under the sidewalk and are draining water directly onto the street.

"If this is going on a cold day, we wind up with a big sheet of ice," Giles said.

Thus, the change is being sought to eliminate this problem. It also would establish a system of charging persons who might spill or leave items on a road that the town has to clean up.

Giles mentioned a recent example of an out-of-town concrete contractor who cleaned his truck and left the remains on the street, which was stained by the debris. Under the new ordinance, that contractor would have been charged by the town for the ensuing cleanup.

HUD Confirms Zoning Policy

MANCHESTER — The town has received a letter that confirms what a federal Department of Housing and Urban Development official said at a meeting last week. HUD will ask Manchester to review zoning regulations only if they infringe on existing housing goals. Certain statutory requirements are part of the Community Development block grant program, John McLean, director of HUD's Hartford office, wrote to Manchester. "These include the development and adoption of a realistic Housing Assistance Plan and performance in accordance with that plan," McLean said.

Ticket Refunds Become Problem

HARTFORD, (UPI) — A growing number of Connecticut citizens are getting burnt by promoters who refuse to refund advance ticket sales for canceled performances. Susan Nichols, an executive aide to the Consumer Protection Commissioner Mary Hess, said the problem has become so acute that she thinks legislation may be needed to protect the consumer. The department recently received 28 complaints from Connecticut residents who said they couldn't get refunds for advance tickets they purchased to a production at an Ivory-

Storm Blasts Upper Midwest

By United Press International The season's first major snowstorm blasted through the upper Midwest today, snarling stragglers from the Thanksgiving weekend's homeward rush and promising a rough return to work for thousands of commuters. The storm, which grew out of rains over Missouri and Kansas Sunday, blanketed the Chicago area with more than 2 inches of snow by midnight. City officials declared a snow emergency and dispatched every available plow and salting truck to the city's streets and expressways, crowded with holiday travelers. "We're getting bombarded with ac-

Municipal Liability To Be Reconsidered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today ordered a U.S. appeals court to reconsider its June 5 ruling that municipalities can be sued directly, under the Constitution, for some civil rights violations by their employees. Previously, municipalities were believed immune from damage suits by people charging violations of their constitutional rights, and only individual employees could be sued in federal court for such infractions. The 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in a precedent-setting decision on a suit against West Haven, Conn., decided last summer that a city in certain instances may be sued for money damages directly under the Constitution's 14th Amendment. By a remarkable coincidence, its 5-4 ruling was issued just one day before the Supreme Court decided a separate case with a similar result — but with an important legal difference. The high court, overruling a 1961 decision, said local government bodies may be sued for money damages under a Reconstruction-era civil rights law for depriving a citizen of constitutional rights through an official adopted policy, ordinance or regulation. The high court never has said, however, whether a broader form of relief could be found directly under the Constitution as the 2nd Circuit held.

West Haven argued it to hold that there was no implied right to sue a city for money damages directly under the 14th Amendment, which says no "state" shall "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor... the equal protection of the laws." It also noted that federal courts like to decide cases on a statutory basis whenever possible and avoid a broad constitutional issue. Today, the Supreme Court set aside the 2nd Circuit ruling, and ordered the appeals court to reconsider the case in light of the justices' June 6 decision on the issue. The appeals court could change its mind this second time around or possibly could come to the same conclusion as before and once again hold there is a constitutional right to sue a city as well as a right under the old civil rights law.

Area Police Report

Vernon
John Lambert, 46, of 85 Goldspring Drive, Vernon, was charged Saturday with driving while under the influence of liquor or drugs and driving while license is under suspension. Police said he was involved in a two-car accident on Route 30. The driver of the other car was Louis Paradis, 69, of East Hartford. No injuries were reported. Lambert is scheduled to appear in court in Rockville on Dec. 5.

West Hartford
Wayne Buxton, 23, of 90 Seaman Circle, East Hartford, was firing Saturday with first-degree criminal trespassing and third-degree criminal mischief. Police said he refused to leave 2 West St. when asked to do so. The criminal mischief charge came in connection with wiring being damaged at the police station. Buxton is to appear in court on Dec. 5.

East Hartford
Paul C. Monnelly, 17, of 193 Goodwin St., East Hartford, was charged early Saturday morning with third-degree criminal mischief, unlawful discharge of a firearm, discharge of a firearm from the highway, and carrying a loaded rifle in a vehicle. Police said Maneeley was firing the gun at the Aarco Station on Sullivan Avenue. The shots were heard by a police officer on patrol. Maneeley was released on a $1,000 nuncupatory bond for appearance in court in East Hartford on Dec. 4.

Restaurant, Housing Need Zone Changes

MANCHESTER — A fast-food hamburger restaurant is being proposed for a Spencer Street lot that will require a zone change from the town's Planning and Zoning Commission. Also, a developer now is seeking a Residence M Zone for a property at Bidwell Street and Hartford Road. CNE Ltd. has applied for a zone change at 195 Spencer St. for a 5.1-acre parcel. Attorney Bruce Latik, who represents the applicant, said a fast-food hamburger restaurant, Cindy's Hamburgers, is planned for part of the parcel if the zone change is granted. The restaurant chain is new to the area, he said. Plans for the remainder of the parcel have not been set, he said. The PZC will hear the application at its Dec. 4 meeting. The PZC also will hear the application for a change to Residence M

Middletown Drive in Wethersfield, has denied that he was "a disgruntled customer who took the law into his own hands" and, through his attorney, declined to comment any further on the incident. DeMarco was arrested at 10 a.m. Sunday morning after police had traced his registration number. The complainant who called the police said his wife heard the sound of a smashing at the Nationwide Safe-Brake Center, 16 Tolland St., at about 7 a.m. DeMarco was granted accelerated rehabilitation for six months on the condition he pay the owner restitution for the broken window. Accelerated rehabilitation means that all criminal charges will be dismissed if the individual can stay out of trouble for a specific length of time.

Iling Students Learn About Building Design

MANCHESTER — Students at Iling Junior High School are learning to build sheds and small barns from plans which they design themselves. Their services are available free to interested residents. Architectural design is a new course being offered this year at Iling by Michael Zarolinsky. Included in the course is the study of architectural drawing standards that comply with local building code requirements. The materials will be paid for by the students. All labor is provided by the instructor under the instructor's supervision. Most of the building would be prefabricated with assembly on site. Anyone interested in ordering a shed or receiving more information may contact Zarolinsky at Iling during school hours, telephone 647-3423.

Zoner Asks Churches To Pave Parking Area

MANCHESTER — Ernest Macell, the town's zoning enforcement officer, has asked Churches Motors to pave a recently expanded section of its parking area or remove the vehicles parked there. The firm, located at 90 Oakland St., received a special exception in September 1977 from the town's Planning and Zoning Commission. The exception permitted the firm to expand its parking area to property at 56 and 60 Oakland St. Macell said, however, that two conditions of the PZC's approval have not been met. The PZC said the expanded parking area must be paved and necessary

East Hartford Police Report

Wayne A. Charest, 27, of 228 Woodlawn Circle, East Hartford, was charged with third-degree burglary early Saturday morning in connection with an incident at Peddler II, 345 Burnside Ave. Police said an officer on patrol received a call about a suspicious male at the Peddler II. Upon checking, the officer said he found the front window smashed by a cement block and Charest lying on the floor inside. Charest was held on $500 bond. He was scheduled to appear in court today.

Abuse Policy On Agenda

VERNON — The General Policies Committee of the Board of Education will discuss a proposed process for handling child abuse cases in the public schools at the meeting Wednesday at 7:30 in the Middle School. The suggested procedure for reporting suspected child abuse cases was prepared by a special committee of the Connecticut state Department of Children and Youth Services (DCYS), the state Department of Education and Dr. Douglas S. Lloyd, commissioner of the state Department of Health. In preparing the procedures, the organizations said alert school personnel are a critical component of early identification efforts in cases of suspected abuse or neglect. Teachers, guidance counselors, registered nurses and such, who suspect a case of child abuse, should call the DCYS office serving the area, immediately. The concerned staff members should also bring the matter to the attention of the school principal immediately. The principal should then confer with the school nurse and social worker or other appropriate personnel because records may contain pertinent information they may become involved in the case at a later date. The school principal or social worker may inform the parent of referral if they feel the parent won't punish the child with further abuse. Other alternatives would be to ask the parents to come to the school for a conference, to take the child home and confer with the parent or, if indicated, take the child for medical care. The school personnel also have been told to look for signs of child abuse and neglect. These would include such things as bruises, burns or injuries of suspicious origin or a repetitive pattern of injuries in one or more children in the same family. Principals are being asked to alert their staffs as to the appropriate procedures to follow.

Leader Denies China Schism

TOKYO (UPI) — Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping said publicly the late Mao Tse-tung was wrong when he presented at Mao's funeral that the "time is ripe" to correct the error, Japanese reports said today. But Teng, the architect of China's post-Mao turn toward the Western world and its drive for economic development, denied there was schism in China's leadership and discounted fears that new political convulsions would sweep China. The Japanese reports quoted Teng as saying Mao was too ill to make correct judgments and it is ripe for correcting these mistakes. They quoted Teng as telling visiting Japanese socialists in a 90-minute meeting that Hua played no part in the decisions, an indication that no rift exists between the two top Chinese leaders. "The party central leadership at present is united 100 percent on the need for stability and unity to promote the country's modernization programs," Teng said Sunday. Referring to the party resolutions passed following a mass demonstration in Peking's Tiananmen Square April 7, 1976, in honor of the late Premier Chou En-lai, Teng said: "All decisions made in connection with the Tiananmen incident were wrong and the time is ripe for correcting these mistakes." Japan's Kyodo news service Sunday quoted a source in Hong Kong as predicting an announcement would be made from Peking today on the transfer of the premiership from Hua to Teng, with Hua continuing as Communist Party chairman.

More Viets Seeking Refuge

By United Press International Another 20,000 Vietnamese refugees today sought refuge in Malaysia, whose refusal to accept 2,500 Vietnamese from the freighter Hai Hong prompted an international rescue effort. The first group of refugees from the Hai Hong began new lives in Canada today after a Canadian military plane flew them from tropical Southeast Asia to wintery Montreal. More of the Hai Hong's 2,500 refugees were to be flown to Canada, West Germany and France. But Malaysian authorities said some 1,000 other Hai Hong passengers still had no place to go and would be towed out to sea if the United States refused to take them. An American humanitarian official visiting Kuala Lumpur today urged President Carter to quickly airlift the refugees to unused U.S. military bases "as was done after the Vietnam war." Stanley Mooneyham, president of World Vision International said, "Otherwise, we predict a tragic loss of many lives from drowning as boatloads of refugees are turned away because of overtaxed facilities (in Malaysia) and unsanitary conditions during the monsoon season." The new wave of refugees arrived in Malaysia aboard a flotilla of 35 boats. Many made their way to beaches after scuttling their vessels to keep marine police from forcing them back to sea. They were expected to join some 40,000 refugees already in makeshift camps, police said. Canada has agreed to take 604 refugees from the Hai Hong. West Germany will take 550. France will fly 221 to Paris Wednesday night. Belgium has indicated it might take 150. That leaves some 1,000 of the Hai Hong passengers with no place to go. The United States has made no definite commitment to the Hai Hong passengers but offered to take 2,500 refugees from those already in Malaysian camps if Malaysia granted temporary asylum to the Hai Hong refugees. Germany originally agreed to take 1,000 Hai Hong passengers but the German freighter Tom Jacob picked up 450 Vietnamese refugees from their boat off Thailand over the weekend. The German Embassy said those refugees would be accepted, reducing the number of Hai Hong passengers it would take to 550. Temperatures were well below freezing when the 161 Vietnamese refugees arrived in Montreal Sunday. "Seven cases had to go to hospital but nothing serious," an official said.

France will fly 221 to Paris Wednesday night. Belgium has indicated it might take 150. That leaves some 1,000 of the Hai Hong passengers with no place to go.

Authorities Don't Know Guyana Survivors' Fate

CHARLESTON AIR FORCE BASE, S.C. (UPI) — Charleston Air Force Base, home of the military's most sophisticated transport planes, is awaiting the survivors of the Peoples Temple suicide pact, with no one apparently knowing who is coming or when or exactly what will happen to them.

Word first came Friday night that the survivors would arrive during the weekend at the South Carolina base, home of C-141s and C-5As, the world's largest transport planes.

However, Guyanese officials suddenly balked at allowing the Americans to go home, saying their investigation into the mass deaths at the South American jungle settlement of Jonestown was not completed.

District Attorney Thomas S. Lydon Jr., who is coordinating return efforts at Charleston, said Sunday he had no idea when the survivors, believed to number about 80, would return.

Late Sunday, A.B. Albritton of HEW's Atlanta regional office said it will be Tuesday "at the earliest" before the survivors arrive in Charleston.

U.S. officials, while saying the survivors will be interviewed by several federal agencies, would not say what else will happen to them. Charles J. Devic, special agent in charge of the FBI in South Carolina, Sunday hinted that some of those returning might face criminal charges.

But Devic said he could not make a definite statement about possible arrests because the FBI has not been told exactly who the survivors are.

FBI involvement is limited to the murder of Rep. Leo Ryan, D-Calif., under a law giving the agency authority to investigate the death of a congressman.

"Our objective is to identify the murderers of Congressman Ryan," Devic said, adding the FBI is not investigating the Peoples Temple itself and would do nothing to abridge the constitutional rights of freedom of religion.

There is confusion concerning the FBI's assessment of fears expressed by survivors that they will be the targets of "death squads" made up of Peoples Temple members who had returned to the United States.

Devic indicated his agency was not totally discounting such reports.

"I have no factual knowledge of this other than what I have read myself and, based upon what has happened and what we have read about, apparently there must be something to it. But I have no factual information to indicate that."

The revised policy on employees accepting gifts was presented last month after the conflict of interest question arose when William Dion, supervisor of buildings and grounds, accepted some gifts from a chemical company. The policy is to be acted on tonight will state that employees can accept no gifts, including nominal gifts, Kennedy said.

The board will also hear a report on the Title I federal remediation program from Carol Hill, supervisor of the elementary reading program. Most of the funds from Title I are used for remedial reading programs in target area schools.

The credit evaluation committee of teachers, board members and administrators will present its recommendations of teachers who are eligible to move ahead on the salary schedule. A total of 39 teachers will be recommended, including 16 with a bachelor's degree plus 15 hours; 12 with bachelor's degree plus 30 hours, eight with master's degree plus 30 hours and two others.

Funding for the airlift from Guyana is being provided by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under the "temporary assistance for reparations" program. The returnees will have to repay the money.

South Carolina Gov. James B. Edwards, while expressing sympathy for the survivors, has made it clear the state expects to be reimbursed for any expenses it incurs.

Fire Department Rules Provide Hiring Options

EAST HARTFORD — The new fire department job descriptions will allow town officials to look for a fire chief from outside the department and outside the town.

Previously, candidates for fire chief had to have at least five years of service in the fire department above the level of fire captain.

New job descriptions passed last week by the Town Council give the town options when hiring a fire chief:

- Five years of experience as a deputy chief or above in the East Hartford Fire Department and a minimum of seven years of experience as a supervisory officer.
- A college degree in fire service management, public administration or a related field and five years of experience in supervisory and administering fire services.
- Any equivalent combination of training and experience which would indicate the ability to do the work.

Educators Mull Policy Revisions

MANCHESTER — The Board of Education will hear policy recommendations on smoking, immunizations and employees receiving gifts tonight at 8 at its regular meeting at Keeney School.

The policy recommendation on smoking in the schools is a response to a request by board member Carolyn Becker about nine months ago. She recommended that smoking be banned in the schools for students and teachers. The new policy is not expected to be that prohibitive.

The immunization statement will put the new law which goes into effect in January in policy form and establish due process procedures and provisions for exclusion from the policy. School Superintendent James P. Kennedy said.

The revised policy on employees accepting gifts was presented last month after the conflict of interest question arose when William Dion, supervisor of buildings and grounds, accepted some gifts from a chemical company. The policy is to be acted on tonight will state that employees can accept no gifts, including nominal gifts, Kennedy said.

Patrol Risk Can Be Cut

VERNON — While stating that there is no definitive law on the subject of school liability in connection with safety patrols, acting town attorney Joel M. Fain, said if the administration follows established guidelines it should help to reduce this risk.

The safety patrol program is expected to start in the early spring and to go into full operation during the next school year.

Mrs. Claire Albon, director of physical education for the school system, will coordinate the program and she asked the town attorney for an opinion concerning the school board's potential liability in connection with safety patrols.

Fain said in writing his opinion that he was assuming that this would include both liability to one injured through the action or inaction of a safety patrol member as well as liability for injury to a safety patrol member. Grade 5 students will be trained for the program.

Fain said there doesn't appear to be any reported cases in the United States definitively ruling on this subject. He added, "Although at least one court has held that a school has no duty to protect pupils by providing a safety patrol, there are cases holding a school liable for failure to provide adequate protection against traffic hazards near school grounds."

"It is my opinion that potential liability problems can be reduced by carefully establishing and then following standards for the selection, training and operation of safety patrols," Fain said.

He told Mrs. Albon that the American Automobile Association has established guidelines of this type in connection with its national safety patrol program which should be adhered to as a minimum.

As an example he said under AAA standards a safety patrol member never attempts to control traffic and does not enter the street and "it would be inviting a finding of negligence to provide otherwise."

He said he spoke with Frank Kenel, the national director of AAA's safety patrol program, who reports that he knows of no cases finding school liability where these standards are followed.

Fain further suggested that it would be prudent, on the part of the school board, to require written parental permission for students selected to act as members of the safety patrol program.

The town's insurance agent told Fain that the safety patrol program is covered under the Vernon Board of Education Comprehensive General Liability insurance based on the fact that the program is sanctioned by the Board of Education as one of its approved programs.

A film technician, Robert J. Groden, presented Saturday a newly uncovered movie that he said shows "beyond question" two persons at the generally accepted sniper site minutes before the assassination of John F. Kennedy. (UPI photo)

Movie Confuses JFK Death Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At about 12:24 p.m. on Nov. 22, 1963, an amateur photographer casually shot eight seconds of film in Dallas to try out a new movie camera.

Now, 15 years later, Oklahoma Charles Bronson's film is complicating the closing weeks of the House Assassination Committee's investigation into the death of John F. Kennedy. Film technician Robert J. Groden gave reporters a look at the movie Sunday afternoon and then took it to Capitol Hill to show the committee's experts.

Groden, an assassination buff who has testified before the committee, said the film unquestionably shows at least two persons at the generally accepted sniper site minutes before the fatal shooting.

But reporters who viewed the film — and blowups of key frames — saw only blurred, unconvincing images at the sixth floor windows of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

"The fact that there's movement in two windows that are separated by a good eight feet ... indicates beyond question that there was more than one person up there," Groden said.

The Hope Lawn, N.J., photo specialist, an avowed believer in a conspiracy to kill Kennedy, called on the House committee to arrange for computer enhancement to bring out more details of the film.

The panel, which is winding up a two-year, $5 million investigation, appeared headed — at least until now — toward endorsing the Warren Commission's conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald alone killed Kennedy.

Witnesses already have explained away an assortment of suspicious film images — including one pointed out by Groden — as shadows and tricks of light.

The newly uncovered 8mm film — shot with a wide-angle lens by Bronson, an Ada, Okla., metallurgist six minutes before the assassination — shows what appears to be movement involving vague images at three sixth floor windows.

"We have here photographic evidence ... this is new ... that there were indeed two people there," Groden said.

The sharpest of the images — and they were far from clear — were at the window from which the Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald gunned down Kennedy as the presidential motorcade crossed Dealey Plaza.

The vaguest images — some reporters failed to see them at all — were at a window eight feet away in the sprawling room that takes up the entire sixth floor of the book depository.

Groden said the film, which shows "with such clarity the probability of a conspiracy," pictures at least two persons — one in a magenta shirt and he other in olive drab or tan.

The movie, which was never used in an assassination investigation, was viewed by an FBI agent in 1963 but rejected as too blurred for identification purposes.

The film was mentioned in secret FBI documents made public under the Freedom of Information Act early this year. The Dallas News tracked the movie down two weeks ago and commissioned Groden to analyze it.

CCAG Says Air Review Based on Absurd Data

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Department of Environmental Protection's review process for air pollution impact of new highways is based on "absurd" traffic projections, according to an internal memo released by a consumer group.

The Nov. 21 memorandum, released Sunday by the Connecticut Citizen Action Group, was written by two engineers in DEP's Air Compliance unit to principal air pollution control engineer Brian J. Kenny.

It charges DEP is forced to rely on traffic projections supplied by the state Department of Transportation.

"Recent permit reviews indicate that this present policy is seriously undermining the credibility of DEP's review process," wrote engineers John P. Donlon and Stephen T. Thorick.

The engineers said the department's air pollution review staff "finds itself with having to accept (DOT) traffic projections which in some cases border on the absurd, and with performing equally absurd air quality analyses whose outcomes can only be valid as the traffic data on which they are based."

The two cited DEP's recent approval of widening I-94 in Danbury, where air pollution projections are identical whether the expressway is widened or not.

Donlon and Thorick labeled the projections "judicious," claiming the expanded highway would promote new development that would increase pollution.

"In conclusion, the indirect source staff feels that the ... program, as presently administered, is a sham on the public and an embarrassment to the department," the engineers wrote.

CCAG director Marc Caplan said DEP Commissioner Stanley Pac should require his department to review accuracy of DOT's traffic projections. He also suggested Pac make the permit program a "real one, rather than a paper-shuffling, prolonged, bureaucratic exercise with a foregone conclusion."

The two engineers said a meaningful review could only be accomplished if DEP alone has responsibility for it. The alternative, they said, is for DOT to perform air quality analysis so DEP would not have to stand behind analyses "which herald the construction of highways as the answer to clean air."

East Hartford Police Hold Slaying Suspect

EAST HARTFORD — Police are holding a 53-year-old New Britain man on $75,000 bond on charges in connection with the fatal shooting of an East Hartford woman Saturday afternoon.

Avellino Silvares was scheduled to appear in court today on charges of fatally shooting Irene Norton, 32, of 144 Smith Drive in the rear parking lot of the apartment complex where she lived.

A spokesman for the state Medical Examiner's Office in Farmington said Sunday an autopsy showed the victim died of a single gunshot wound that penetrated her back, spine and right lung.

Police Chief Clarence A. Drumm said today the police put out a description of the suspect's car soon after 4:30 p.m. Saturday, when the shooting took place.

Officer Norman Tacey of the Hartford Police Department heard the description and recognized that the car belonged to a New Britain man he had known for 12 years.

Tacey said he tracked down the registration of the car and joined other authorities in the search.

Tacey said Silvares' ex-wife told him two weeks ago he was depressed over breaking up with the victim, who had been his girlfriend.

Tacey said Silvares' ex-wife told East Hartford Police the suspect showed up at her 238 Jefferson St. home in Hartford. The officer and others then offered their assistance.

The policeman said he called the Silvares from a neighbor's phone and asked him to surrender. He received an invitation to come up for coffee.

Tacey entered the home with Drumm, Commander Joseph Leone of the East Hartford Police and officers from the Hartford Police Department and arrested Silvares at 6:45 p.m.

The alleged murder weapon — a .357 magnum revolver — was recovered in the home of the suspect's ex-wife, he said.

Tacey said he met Silvares 12 years ago when he patrolled Charter Oak Terrace in Hartford, where Silvares had worked as a maintenance man.

Letters to the Editor

Police Sick Time Defended

To the editor: This letter is in reference to statements made by Asst. Town Manager Charles McCarthy concerning alleged abuse of sick time by police officers.

while a doctor tries to pump the drugs from his stomach that have him near death? Have you ever responded to a domestic situation, where a battered wife is screaming that her drunken husband is upstairs with a gun?

Well I am and I along with every other officer on the force have to cope with these things all too often.

Not only that, you expect us all, regardless of age, to run like a track star one minute and then play the role of father confessor the next.

Opinion Washington Criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington properly takes a lot of heat from the rest of the country. The national capital is often described as the seat of incompetence, confusion and corruption.

It will assume they are equipped with at least average wisdom and probity, no matter how wild the ideas or crude the campaign tactics they used to win office in November.

Martha Angle and Robert Walters Democrats Question Restraints

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A simmering rebellion by grass-roots activists could blow the lid off the Democrats' midterm conference in Memphis next month unless party leaders agree to relax the procedural constraints they have put on the agenda.

issues and resolution, with little chance that any proposal not cleared in advance by party leaders can win approval on the floor.

seeking enough petition signatures from Memphis delegates to force a showdown with the DNC over the conference rules and agenda.

delegates have assembled in Memphis; it is much easier to collect them in advance by mail. But even if the dissident coalitions succeed in obtaining the necessary signatures, their proposals will be the last order of business at the conference — on Sunday afternoon, when most delegates will be rushing to catch plane home.

Publisher's Death Still Unsolved

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — The murder of an opposition publisher that threw Nicaragua into turmoil still has not been solved 10 months after it happened.

Also destroyed in the rioting was a textile plant owned by President Anastasio Somoza Debayle, as well as a branch of Citibank, one of the few American companies attached during the Nicaraguan crisis.

The journalist was arrested several times by the Somoza regime, once for alleged involvement in the 1956 assassination of Somoza's father, Anastasio Somoza Garcia.

Cuban-born U.S. citizen, Pedro M. Ramos, as the intellectual author of the murder — the man who ordered it.

Grogan Scoring Passes Help Pats Increase Lead

BALTIMORE (UPI) — To quarterback Steve Grogan, the New England Patriots made a false start Sunday but then regrouped, extending their lead in the AFC East to two games with a 35-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

Both teams ran back interceptions for touchdowns in the first six minutes Sunday before Grogan threw two touchdowns passes that sparked the Patriots to avenge an early-season loss to Baltimore.

"It was crazy those first interceptions that made the game 7-7," said Grogan, who completed nine of 20 passes for 247 yards and ran four times for 58 yards. "Then, it seemed like we brushed it all aside and started the game over again."

The Patriots, 10-3, learned about the field that earlier Sunday the Miami Dolphins had lost to the New York Jets, 24-13, and that a victory over Baltimore would give the two-game Patriots lead with three games to play.

"We were keyed up before the game and then when we heard that Miami lost we were that much more excited," said Grogan. "We had something to prove that the Colts had just been lucky earlier in the season."

The Colts, 5-8, had beaten New England the third game of the season, 24-27, by scoring three touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

In the first period, Patrick cornerback Mike Haynes picked off Baltimore quarterback Bill Troup's first pass and ran 38 yards for a touchdown.

After Baltimore's next series of plays, the Patriots took over and three plays later Grogan threw a pass into the arms of Baltimore safety Lyle Blackwood, who returned it 21 yards for a tying score.

Grogan said, "The Colts were keying on our running game after that interception and so I just kept on passing."

The strategy paid off in the second quarter when Grogan hit Harold Jackson on a 23-yard scoring pass and in the third quarter when Stanley Morgan pulled in a 75-yard touchdown pass.

The Patriots added touchdowns when Andy Johnson scored on an 11-yard run in the third quarter and Stan Cunningham went in from four yards out in the fourth quarter.

Buffalo's Miller Comes of Age
ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — Buffalo Bills rookie running back Terry Miller may have come of age.

Miller, the Bills' No. 1 draft choice from Oklahoma State, gained 208 yards and scored two touchdowns Sunday to pull Buffalo out of a four-game losing streak with a 41-17 win over the slumping New York Giants.

Miller, who carried the ball 21 times for a season total of 88 yards, became the first Bills' rookie since O.J. Simpson in 1969 to gain over 100 yards in a game. He also becomes only the third Bills player to gain more than 200 yards in a game, joining Simpson and star fullback Cookie Gilchrist of now-defunct AFL.

"I was first up," Miller said after the game. "I'm not an emotional person as such, but I just felt good and that's the way I have to be to play football."

"I haven't had that feeling all year," he added. "All this week, I felt confidence in myself and the offense line did the job."

The running back's first score came on a 39-yard dash around right end with 3:30 left in the game to give the Bills a 17-7 lead.

Ten minutes later, after Miller had gained his 158th yard of the day and came off the field, the fans cheered as he ran the ball.

"We set up the game plan to run," said Knox. "This was probably, by far, the best game we have played all year."

USC Outscores Notre Dame In Greatest Game of Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — There wasn't a great deal at stake. Not like Friday when Penn State put its national title dream on the line against Pittsburgh. Not like Saturday in Columbus, Ohio, where Michigan and Ohio State battled for the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Or in Lubbock, Texas, where Houston tried to wrap up the Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl berth.

College Football

But all that was overshadowed by the dramatic outcome of a game in Los Angeles between Southern Cal and Notre Dame. USC, ranked No. 4, had already clinched the Pac-10 Conference crown and a Rose Bowl spot. Notre Dame, No. 8, had accepted an invitation to the Cotton Bowl. The game buildup conceived the historic rivalry between the schools and Southern Cal's slim national championship hopes.

UMass Impresses Trouncing Eagles

Bullets Within Points of Pace-Setting 76ers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The defending world champion Washington Bullets pulled to within a percentage point of the Philadelphia 76ers in the Atlantic Division Sunday night when they scored a 110-102 victory over Golden State for their seventh straight win.

Pro Hockey

Pittsburgh 8-2, Detroit beat Los Angeles 4-2 and Buffalo dumped Colorado 4-1.

NBA

Clippers 105, Celtics 103. Randy Smith scored 6 points in the final minute, including the game-winning basket with two seconds to go, to lift San Diego. Smith, who finished with 22 points, hit a 4-footer in the last two seconds to cap an comeback in which San Diego rallied from an 11-point deficit late in the third period. San Diego's Lloyd Free led all scorers with 28.

Touch Champions

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Jim Brockhoff passed for five touchdowns Sunday to give Quasimodo's Lounge of New Orleans a 37-6 victory over the Montreal Panthers and the National Touch Football Tournament champion.

Maple Leafs 8, Penguins 2

Duke, UCLA Fives Live Up to Notices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Duke and UCLA appear to be everything the pre-season college basketball reports said they were, but Indiana and Louisville may have been somewhat overrated.

With top-ranked Duke and second-ranked UCLA all showing their strength with easy season-opening victories, 11th-ranked Indiana was treated rudely and suffered back-to-back losses to unranked opponents Pepperdine and Texas A&M while Louisville suffered a stunning 72-66 loss to No. 9 North Carolina State in the finals of the Seawall Classic in Anchorage, Alaska Sunday night.

Louisville, which had been considered the quickest team in the nation, had posted victories over Penn State and Lamar before losing to NC State.

NC State's Clyde Austin, the tournament's MVP, teamed with Kendall Pinder to lead the team with 15 points apiece in the final game which saw 17 lead changes. NC State held a one point lead, 34-33, at halftime but Austin led Duke to a 41-38 lead shortly thereafter with an eight-point spurt.

Playing tenacious defense which forced 18 Cardinal turnovers, NC State battled back and pulled out a 10-point lead midway through the second half. The Cards closed to 70-64 with 45 seconds remaining, but Austin led the win with two free throws.

Indiana, which was beaten by Pepperdine 59-58 Friday night, was snapped again 34-49 by the Aggies Saturday night. David Britton scored 11 of his team's last 13 points to spark the Texas A&M triumph.

Duke handled the burden of being No. 1 rather smoothly by easily disposing of Western Kentucky 78-53. Jim Spanakel scored 25 points and Mike Gminski added 24 to pace the Blue Devils' victory.

The Blue Devils look the lead for good on a layup by guard Bob Bender moving through the first half. Leading 36-24 at the half, Duke outscored Western Kentucky 16-8 at the beginning of the second half.

UCLA looked awesome in disposing of Boise State 79-59 and DePaul 108-85.

All-America David Greenwood scored 28 points to spark the Bruins' victory over DePaul. DePaul, hitting on 10 of its first 27 shots, broke to a 39-28 lead, but the Bruins slowly wore the Blue Demons down and took command of the game in the second half.

Freeman Mark Aguirre scored 29 points for DePaul.

In other Saturday games involving top-ranked teams, No. 13 Syracuse trounced Whittier 116-52. No. 15 Alabama trounced American University 110-87. No. 16 San Francisco beat Santa Barbara 91-68 and No. 19 Minnesota dumped Idaho 78-57.

Pete Rose Bids Adieu

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Pete Rose broke off final talks with the Cincinnati Reds Sunday, ending any hopes the 37-year-old slugger would remain with the club he began his pro career with.

Rose's agent Reuben Katz said: "Reds President Dick Wagner wished Pete well and Pete wished the Cincinnati Reds well and that's the end of the negotiations with the Cincinnati Reds. It's a final decision. Now, Pete will go on and negotiate with other teams."

The third baseman said he hopes to pick his new team by the time the annual winter baseball meetings begin Dec. 1, but refused to name any front-runners in the bidding for his services. In the recent free agent draft, Rose was named by 12 teams interested in signing him.

However, Rose did drop some hints, saying the New York Yankees and the Texas Rangers don't seem too interested, but "Atlanta gave me a tremendous offer." Pittsburgh Pirates team owner John Galbreath invited him to his Columbus farm to talk contract.

Also interested are the Cardinals, the Phillies, the Mets and the Dodgers.

The Reds retained their rights to negotiate with Rose in the free agent draft, but failed to keep him in the Queen City, because, according to Katz, of an "honest difference of opinion between the Reds on one hand and Pete on the other as to Pete's worth and what he should be paid."

"The offers of the other teams, Katz added, were closer to Rose ideas of his worth.

Duchess Defends Honor

It was the love story of the century — King Edward VIII of England abdicating to marry American divorcee Wallis Simpson.

Never mind that it all happened 42 years ago — it's still a hot topic in Britain, and the former Mrs. Simpson says she'll publish her old love letters now in defense of her honor.

The 82-year-old Duchess of Windsor is upset over a London TV series her Paris lawyer says portrays her as "a cheap adventuress" who became the king's mistress before their marriage.

Says attorney Suzanne Blum, "The king did not want a mistress and he had, no doubt he would not have abdicated." Expect publication of letters purporting to prove that within a year.

Another Abdication
At 35, she's considered the "Old Lady" of pro tennis, and Billie Jean King finally is buying the title.

She says after this season, she's through.

Ms. King told UPI, after a weekend match in Sydney, Australia, she's quitting because "I am sick and tired of all the surgery I have been through."

That includes major operations on both knees, with another coming up on her left foot, which was heavily taped for Australian action.

Trigon Names Director

HEBRON — Dennis O'Connor has been appointed drama director for the Trigon Players of Rham High School for this school year.

The group put on its first play of the season last weekend.

Mrs. Marjorie Porter has been appointed assistant drama director and international thespian advisor and Mrs. Agatha Hoover, technical director.

More than 80 students in Grades 7-12 appeared for the first meeting of the players group for this season.

Two other productions are planned for this year.

The students who were members of the group last year are being asked to be inducted this year so that they may again be active members.

Through a misunderstanding last year, students were first told to attend at the induction ceremony was mandatory in order to be inducted into the society and were told by someone else that they did not have to attend the ceremony in order to be members.

In clarifying the issue with the International Thespian Society in Chicago, it was learned that as soon as the names are sent in to this society they automatically become members of the society.

Clean House To Sell Fast

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — It rarely makes sense to put a lot of money into home improvements for a quick sale or a higher price, says housing specialist Ardie Hutchins, but some minor improvements may be worthwhile.

For example, it pays to paint a house inside and out if it clearly needs it, says the extension specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She recommends neutral colors or white for interiors.

New carpeting may also be worthwhile, she adds, because frayed or worn floor coverings can make the whole house look run down.

Before showing a house, she also advises sellers to mow the lawn, trim bushes and hedges and give the house itself a thorough cleaning.

Scott's World
Superman Flies Again

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Christopher Reeve, the new Superman, is a cocksure 26-year-old who does few interviews to avoid overexposure before the $40 million "Superman" movie is released next month.

Reeve is tall, handsome, articulate. His father is a professor and novelist, his mother a newspaper reporter. He attended Princeton Day School, graduated with honors from Cornell and did graduate work at Juilliard.

He's been an actor since he was 15 and has worked on Broadway — with Katharine Hepburn in "A Matter of Gravity" — and in the TV soap opera "Love of Life." He studied acting in London and Paris.

Reeve is a deadpan serious actor who blanches at the thought of playing Superman when first approached for the role. A young man with a background in Shakespeare didn't want to play a cartoon character.

But the smooth, fast-talking Reeve discovered that producer Ilya Salkind and director Richard Donner weren't tossing $40 million into a wind.

"They were looking for a new 'comer' role," said Reeve. "Nobody would believe Robert Redford flying around in a red cape."

"But a lot of big stars clamored for the role. I took the part for a lot of reasons. I didn't want people to think I was a guy they found on Muscle Beach with sweat in his hair and a Superman costume complete with muscles. I absolutely refused to play the role the way they wanted it."

"Instead I got an instructor, Dave Prowse who played Darth Vader in 'Star Wars,' and set out a physical regimen for myself. I spent two hours a day, seven days a week working out with heavy weights in a gym.

Thereby signed away a full year and half of his life to star in the title role. He was confronted immediately by the almost insurmountable fact that he was built more like Don Knotts than Superman. His facial features were fine for the role, his blond hair could be dyed black. But what to do about his physique?

"I'm 6-foot-4 and I weighed 185 pounds," he said. "I reported to London for the picture eight weeks early and found they had constructed a Superman costume complete with muscles. I absolutely refused to play the role the way they wanted it."

"Instead I got an instructor, Dave Prowse who played Darth Vader in 'Star Wars,' and set out a physical regimen for myself. I spent two hours a day, seven days a week working out with heavy weights in a gym.

Zinsser Elected Head Of Board of Realtors

MANCHESTER — Carl A. Zinsser, Realtor, with offices at 750 Main St., has been elected president of the Manchester Board of Realtors Inc. and the Manchester Multiple Listing Service Corp. He succeeds Joseph S. Lombardo.

The election took place at a luncheon meeting of both corporations held at Willie's Steak House, with more than 100 in attendance. Preceding the election, 47 were inducted into membership in the board. William E. Belfiore conducted the ceremony.

Other officers elected are Paul W. Dougan, first vice president; Barbara B. Weinberg, second vice president; Lillian G. Grant, secretary; and Norman S. Hohenbichl, treasurer.

Directors for a three-year term are William E. Belfiore and Robert D. Murdoch; and for a two-year term, Francis J. Spilecki.

Elected also for a one-year term, to serve as state directors as well as for the two local corporations, were Norma Tedford, Daniel F. Reale, Robert I. Wolverton, Joseph S. Lombardo, and William R. Rodd (representing the Realtor-Associates in the board). The terms of G. Jeffrey Keith, Gerald P. Rohman and Robert F. Blanchard remain current.

Zinsser, who joined the board in 1967, was associated with the William E. Belfiore Agency until 1973 when he opened his own agency. He has served both corporations as first and second vice president and given much time to a number of corporation committees. He holds membership in the state and national association of Realtors.

Educated in local schools, he has long been interested and active in town affairs and has served the town in various capacities including membership on the Human Relations Committee and the Manchester Housing Authority. He is in his seventh year as a member of the Town Board of Directors.

He is a past president of the Manchester Jaycees, and treasurer of the Congregational Church Men's Club (since 1968).

He resides at 176 Ralph Road, Manchester, with his wife Ellen and their three children: Sandra, Eric, and Pamela. The new officers and directors will assume their duties Jan. 1 and will be installed later that month.

Republican Governors Meeting to Talk Shop

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — Meeting just up the street from where men like Washington and Jefferson learned their trade, the newly reinforced Republican Governors Association met today to talk shop: state government and national politics. Eleven of the 12 incumbent GOP governors and six of the nine new Republicans elected Nov. 7 were listed as participants in the first major party gathering since the midterm elections. It was appropriate that the Republican governors should be the first to show — their 50 percent increase to 18 in membership led what was otherwise a modest Republican showing. The outcome obviously encouraged the governors to start thinking about 1980. While only one of their number, James Thompson of Illinois, is regarded as a potential candidate for the nomination, the possibility of throwing some political weight in the selection process was on the minds of several governors. The veteran William Millikin of Michigan came to Williamsburg talking about a new strength among

Yule Tree Growers Say Demand Exceeds Supply

By United Press International
Many Americans want a real live tree in their living room this Christmas — so many, in fact, there may be a shortage of trees by the time Santa Claus arrives next month, growers say. They also claim the shortage also means that the trees available will cost more than years past. Ralph Ingalls, owner of Ingalls Christmas Tree Farm in Brooklyn, Conn., and president of the Connecticut Christmas Tree Growers Association, says prices are up 5-10 percent over last year and 100 percent over 10 years ago. That means a six or seven-foot tree will cost from $15 to $20. Ingalls said this year's shortage is expected to be one to two million trees nationwide, twice last year's shortfall. He said he can't predict how severe Connecticut's situation will be, but he advised consumers Sunday "not to wait until the last week before Christmas."

As many as 200,000 trees are being trucked into the state from Vermont, Maine and Canada to help meet the shortage, he said. In addition to the demand for natural trees, Ingalls said many shoppers are getting to be more choosy than they've been. "They just want a better tree. That takes time and a lot more work to grow," he said. "I could have sold twice the number of quality trees this year," said grower William Weir of East Colebrook, N.H., who cut about 7,000 evergreens this year. "The trend is back toward natural Christmas trees, and population growth also increases demand."

"Everything I have spoken for by August, and one fellow has already come around to inquire about next year's crop," added Leighton Cree of Colebrook, N.H. Louis Day, president of the New Hampshire-Vermont Christmas Tree Growers Association, said advance orders for cultivated trees have run so high that there will be an unusual number wild trees on the market this year. Tree prices will be up by 50 cents to $1 this year, running from $4.50 for wild trees to up to $1.50 per foot for premium cultivated trees, he said. New Hampshire's yearly crop of 300,000 trees is worth about $2.1 million. One of the reasons for the lower supply and costlier price of trees from New Hampshire is that high winds and sand damage two years ago wiped out 90 percent of state nursery seedlings, Day said.

MACC News Carol Sing Set At Center Park

By NANCY CARR
Executive Director
The triumphant brasses of the Salvation Army Band will open the annual MACC Christmas Carol Sing Sunday evening. All of us who love the beautiful and traditional Christmas carols will gather at 6 o'clock beside the nativity scene in Center Park. I would remind you to bundle up the children and yourselves in warm socks, sweaters, hats and mittens and don't forget the flashlight. Our Round Table Singers from Manchester High School will be there to inspire us and lend their voices to ours. Boy Scout Troop 25 from Center Congregational will be on the spot passing out song sheets. One of the most delightful Christmas memories I have of Manchester is the picture of a young mother and father, standing side by side with two of their young children, both wrapped in the snow. On the father's shoulder was the third, a toddler almost invisible except for a bright red nose and a wide open, rosebud mouth, singing at the top of his lungs with family and the rest of us. We cordially invite you and your family to join in celebrating the birth of our blessed Lord Jesus. After the carol sing we'll move over to the Salvation Army Citadel across the street to warm our toes, have a hot cup of cocoa or coffee and a doughnut, and continue fellowship. See you Sunday evening after dinner. Gold medals to the students and student council at Manchester High School who sponsored a hometown competition (congratulations Room 209) and collected 1700 items of non-perishable food for the Emergency Pantry and for donating all the proceeds from the alumni dance to the MACC Seasonal Sharing Fund. ## Free Phone Number Helps in Recycling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some Americans are losing their reputation as the throwaway generation. They earned $46 million last year by recycling 6.1 million aluminum beverage cans. To increase both figures, the aluminum industry has started a nationwide 24-hour-a-day toll-free number people can call to learn the location of their nearest recycling center. More than 2,200 such centers exist in 49 states, excluding Alaska. Some areas have mobile vans that stop periodically at neighborhood shopping malls. Most centers are run by aluminum companies, but some are operated by local civic and environmental groups. Most pay up to 17 cents per pound — the equivalent of about 23 all-aluminum beverage cans. Recycling aluminum cans is a particularly big energy saver, says the Aluminum Association. It takes 95 percent less energy to produce the metal from used cans than from ore. Even unmarked aluminum cans are easy to identify. They have a rounded bottom edge and an indented bottom and a magnet will not stick to them. The toll-free number for collection point information is 800-222-8830, except in New York State, where calls should be made collect to 212-765-9000.

We'd rather see the Davis family eat than pay our bill.

Now is the time people need and use greater amounts of power. And some people, like the Davis family, can't always pay a winter electric bill when it's due. That's why Northeast Utilities' "Winter Service Policy" makes sense for our customers who qualify. Whenever we are notified of a true hardship, electricity will not be shut off. Arrangements can be worked out with Northeast Utilities to have these changes more conveniently paid, for service to continue. And that's a promise. If you know someone who could benefit from our "Winter Service Policy," suggest they write for more information to: June Fiordella, Northeast Utilities, P.O. Box 1953, Hartford, Connecticut 06144. Or call their nearest electric company office. This winter, if we can help it, nobody will feel left out in the cold.

Insects May Provide Food

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Eating an ant sandwich instead of a hamburger may seem farfetched, but one Mexican researcher thinks it could be a solution to world hunger. Insects could be one of the best food sources in the future because of their high content of protein and minerals, according to a Mexican researcher Julieta Ramos Elorduy Blazquez de Conconi, an investigator at the Biology Institute of the National Autonomous University of Mexico. She said insects contain the largest amount of protein in any form of animal life that is currently not used by man as food. The researcher added they would make an ideal food source because of their ease of reproduction and industrially processed.

"A better way of banking means lower cost loans for higher education"

Kathy Blackmore is a loan counselor at Heritage Savings. Part of her job is helping Heritage see to it that each qualified young man or woman in our community has the opportunity for a higher education. And because of people like Kathy, we send more kids to college than most anyone else. We do it with a low cost, deferred payment State Guaranteed Education Loan. A simple interest loan at only 7% that need not be repaid until after graduation. Give Kathy a call. Odds are she can arrange one for you.
