In late March, The Travelers will offer "It's Your Move," a public service bicycle safety training program drawing on the findings of the study by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, "Bicycle-Motor Vehicle Accident Types.'

The study concluded that motor vehicle drivers often do not see cyclists on the road and that cyclists are not always alert to potentially hazardous road situations. Each year, nearly half a million people are injured in bicycle-related accidents, the majority being children uner age 14, according to the National Safety Council.

The highlight of the program is a 16mm film designed to help make youngsters more aware of the dangers of riding bicycles in traffic and to teach them how to anticipate and respond to some of the most common types of traffic hazards.

"It's Your Move" will be available from The Travelers Film Library, One Tower Square, Hartford, CT 06115. The film will be offered on a free-loan basis with free supplementary printed materials.

Useful Classes Stressed

Present day trends in educational thought all lead toward a basic core tance in the three R's (Reading, Writing, and 'Rithmatic' and a cut back in optional and elective courses are stressed. Many people, in their attempt to remain abreast of these "new" developments, have downplayed all deviations from the core curriculum They have drawn hasty conclusions oncerning classes that should be cut from the program of studies and have advocated stricter educational guidelines. These people should take a closer look at the needs of the peo-

The pursuit of such classes has much greater contemporary significance for students than Chaucer or Shakespeare, no doubt members of the core program.

Perhaps MHS, instead of reducing the number of classes offered should update or throw out present classes tain more modern usefulness and relevance to the MHS students. Certainly a practical course in rhetoric should be added to the curriculum as well as a basic money management class, to name a few These classes could be easily developed and would not hinder the objectives of the core curriculum; an

Yes, I-would agree that we may need a move back towards a core Prevalent program, yet we must not allow ourselves to jump head-first into the change. We must first consider the needs of the students to be educated and must then design an appropriate slate of courses. We must keep up, educationally, with our changing society, but we must not lose sight of the basic three R's of education. -

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Every year housands of persons are injured by exploding car batteries, something experts think could be avoided. The National Society to Prevent Blindness says some injuries occur when people use matches or cigarette lighters to check the fluid level in the battery. How To Buy A Used Car

NEW YORK (UPI) - The soaring costs of new cars may drive 13.5 million Americans into the used car market this year. Experts at Hertz, the nation's largest retailer of used cars as it rotates vehicles from its rent-acar fleet, offer these suggestions to reduce the odds on winding up with a "lemon"

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) - Contrary to popular belief, letting air out of your tires will not increase traction in snow or sand. It will make them sink even deeper instead, says Howard D.
