Energy Talks

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — Higher gasoline prices and lower thermostats — these were the likely outcomes of a meeting of top-level energy and economic experts at Camp David today.

President Carter, spending a long weekend at his mountaintop retreat, sent for his chief energy and economic advisers to consider plans that would lift oil price controls and impose consumption limits such as curbs on thermostat settings.

The president was described by sources as "virtually certain" to propose deregulating oil prices, probably over a two-year period, and to couple that move with proposals for a new tax on oil companies to prevent windfall profits from the move.

The panel also was expected to consider additional conservation steps as mandatory limits on non-residential thermostat settings and the closing of gas stations on Sundays.

Hearings Due

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella Grasso said today four public hearings will be held around the state to determine how Connecticut citizens feel about proposed energy conservation and gasoline rationing plans.

The federal plan, submitted to Congress last month by the Department of Energy, includes proposals to restrict gasoline sales on weekends, to curtail advertisement lighting by businesses and to reduce heating and air conditioning requirements in buildings.

Another facet of the plan calls for gasoline rationing coupons in the event of an energy emergency.

The first hearing is scheduled Thursday at the Capitol. The other hearings are scheduled March 26 in Bridgeport, March 28 in Waterbury and March 29 in New London.

Sewage Backup

MANCHESTER — Backed-up sewage caused damage to a large amount of clothing at the Two Legs store in the K-Mart Shopping Plaza off Spencer Street late last week. All the other stores in the plaza were also affected by the backup which apparently originated in the Pizza Wagon restaurant.

The backup into floor drains at the Two Legs store and the Heritage Savings branch office was first noticed Thursday night, according to Kim Prell, employee at Two Legs. Ms. Prell said the sewage problem was not solved until late Saturday afternoon when a private firm was called to do the work.

The Town Health Department was called and found that the sewage backup was not from the line on Spencer Street.

Ms. Prell estimated the value of the shirts and other clothing which were damaged at $640. The clothing was stored in boxes on the floor.

Policeman In Training

Officer Gary Frost, at the wheel of the police cruiser, checks out the radio equipment with Edward Wilson as part of his training as a new officer in the Manchester Police Department. Wilson, a native of Manchester, and three other police officers recently graduated from the state Police Academy and began 80 hours of on-the-job training. The department tries to provide the new officers exposure to a variety of activity in the patrol division, said Sgt. Richard Thurston supervising officer. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Poll Results Favor Ending CD Program

MANCHESTER — Response to a question in a poll conducted by The Herald last week indicates, of those persons contacted, more were in favor of the town stopping the use of CD and HUD funds that those desiring to continue the funding.

The question, one of five in the Poll, asked, "Do you think CD and HUD funding should be continued or stopped?"

The results showed 124 persons stating they were in favor of stopping the funding and 97 persons were in favor of continuing the programs.

The survey was conducted last Monday and Tuesday nights and a total of 400 persons were contacted for their response to five questions concerning the CD question.

Of the 400 persons contacted, a total of 390 persons agreed to answer the questions.

The first question, "Are you aware of the controversy here in Manchester on this subject?" drew a response from 253 persons that they were aware of the controversy while the remaining 137 said they were not aware.

The percentage of persons not aware of the controversy is 35 percent of those who responded.

The response of people who said they are not aware could be interpreted as poor publicity on both sides of the question or poor communications.

The second question, "Do you have any feelings on this matter, one way or the other?" drew a total response of 311 persons who said they had feelings one way or the other and 79 persons who did not commit themselves.

Of those who responded 156 persons said they did have feelings on the question and 155 persons said they did not have feelings on the subject.

The fourth question asked, "Are you aware there will be a town referendum on this subject and the voting will be held April 17.

A total of 238 persons said they were aware of the referendum which represents 61 percent and 152 persons, or 39 percent said they were not aware of the referendum.

The fifth question asked persons if they expected to vote resulted in 240 persons, or 61 percent, saying they would vote and 101 persons, or 26 percent, said they would not vote. The remaining 49 persons contacted said they were not sure if they would vote in the referendum.

The final two questions showed 61 percent of the people would vote in the referendum which is an extremely large percentage for a town vote.

It has been estimated by voting officials and other persons that the referendum vote will probably attract about 25 to 30 percent voter turnout.

Dentist Group Protests Low-Cost Care Program

MANCHESTER — A group of local dentists has challenged the propriety of a low-cost dental service program that has been started in town.

Because of this protest, Town Manager Robert Weiss has asked the Health Department to stop making any referrals for the service until the town attorney's office rules on the matter.

Weiss today received a petition from 27 dentists in town who said the program may be improper or even illegal.

For years, persons in town have been seeking a dental clinic or some similar program that would provide dental service at lower costs for residents who cannot afford to visit a dentist regularly.

A dental clinic nearly was approved last year, but the idea died when renovation costs for such a clinic turned out to be much higher than expected.

Then, recently, the Advisory Board of Health and a group of local dentists agreed to establish a low-cost interim dental clinic at the Tolland Turnpike office of five dentists.

The Town Health Department had started accepting calls and applications from persons who felt they would qualify for the program.

The clinic is planned for the dental offices at 452 Tolland Turnpike which are occupied by Drs. Michael Goodman, Winfield Danielson Jr., Richard Freiheit, Joseph Shinn and Kathleen Kowalski.

Persons must have incomes below certain limits to qualify for the proposed program. A family of four, for instance, must make $12,660 or less. One person must make $6,530 or less.

The entire idea, though, is being challenged by the 27 dentists who submitted the petition to Weiss.

"They said they are concerned about the apparent loss of freedom of choice" for the patients, who would be required to go to this particular office to receive the low-cost service.

They also questioned the use of town funds, services and staff in assisting with such a program. Applications for the program were to be processed and reviewed by the Health Department.

The petitioning dentists said the use of the town department in such a program might be improper or illegal.

They also questioned whether a town department could refer a prospective patient to one particular dental office because of the program.

Weiss has asked that the Health Department make no such referrals and not participate in the program until the town attorney's office rules on these questions.

He submitted the petition to the office today.

Path Clear For Treaty

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The cabinet today overwhelmingly accepted the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, giving its approval to the first pact of its kind between Arab and Jew and clearing the way for its presentation to parliament where endorsement seemed certain.

The Israeli radio said the treaty will be signed in Washington next Monday.

The cabinet vote accepting the nine-article treaty was 15-2, including that of Defense Minister Ezer Weizman who was in Washington, Cabinet Secretary Arye Naor said.

Voting against the pact were Agriculture Minister Ariel Sharon, the hero of the 1973 October war who is responsible for Jewish settlement in the occupied territories, and Transport Minister Haim Landau, Naor said.

The cabinet voted less than 24 hours after Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan urged an early first concrete step in implementing the first Arab-Israeli peace agreement — opening the border between Egypt and Israel a month after the treaty signing instead of nine months.

The open borders, Dayan said, would facilitate Egyptian participation in negotiations for Palestinian autonomy.

But he stressed the right of movement across the international border would have to be mutual. In essence, it meant Israelis would have the right to drive across Sinai to Cairo if they wanted.

The favorable cabinet decision did not come as a surprise and was made during a five-hour special session.

The treaty will go before the Knesset (parliament) Tuesday and its debate was scheduled to go through Wednesday following an overnight break. Nearly 90 of the 120 Knesset members were expected to vote for the document.

The cabinet decided in addition to establish a committee to draw up proposals for Palestinian self-government in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip prior to negotiations with Egypt on the plan, Naor said.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin will head the committee and it will start work following the treaty signing, Naor said. He said no concrete decisions were made at the session about the autonomy plan.

Deputy Prime Minister Yigael Yadin said several problems remained in bilateral relations, apparently between the United States and Israel, and said they will be solved.

"The road is clear provided the Knesset will approve the treaty, and I hope it will," he said.

The army will resume its withdrawal from Sinai Sunday, defense ministry sources said. The military began withdrawing non-combat equipment in the fall but halted the operation when the treaty negotiations ran into a deadlock.

With Knesset approval all but certain, the government already made final plans for the ceremony in Washington where President Carter, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Begin are to put their signatures to the treaty. Begin and an Israeli delegation are to leave for Washington Friday.

Mission Returns Without Success

National Security Advisor Zbigniew Brzezinski ended an apparently unsuccessful Middle East mission today without the Saudi Arabian and Jordanian support he had sought for the proposed Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty.

Brzezinski's party split up before leaving Cairo, where the American mission arrived Sunday to report to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on its talks with the kings of Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

While Brzezinski flew to Washington, Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher went to Rome aboard a U.S. Air Force jet for the first leg on a European tour to brief American allies on the peace treaty.

Persons must have incomes below certain limits to qualify for the proposed program. A family of four, for instance, must make $12,660 or less. One person must make $6,530 or less.

The entire idea, though, is being challenged by the 27 dentists who submitted the petition to Weiss.

"They said they are concerned about the apparent loss of freedom of choice" for the patients, who would be required to go to this particular office to receive the low-cost service.

They also questioned the use of town funds, services and staff in assisting with such a program. Applications for the program were to be processed and reviewed by the Health Department.

The petitioning dentists said the use of the town department in such a program might be improper or illegal.

They also questioned whether a town department could refer a prospective patient to one particular dental office because of the program.

Weiss has asked that the Health Department make no such referrals and not participate in the program until the town attorney's office rules on these questions.

He submitted the petition to the office today.

In Israel, Prime Minister Menachem Begin called his Cabinet into session today to approve the full text of the draft peace treaty amid signs of dissent by three ministers pressing for a tough stance on what autonomy will mean for the 1.1 million Arabs on the West Bank of the Jordan and Gaza Strip.

Political sources said the ministers, members of Begin's coalition partner, the National Religious Party, want the government to commit itself to no Palestinian state in the territories, calm control of public land and water sources there, declare continued Jewish settlement and make Jewish settlers subject to Israeli law.

China Nixes Bid For Peace Talks

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — China turned down Vietnam's proposal to begin peace talks this week and proposed instead that negotiations should begin in about nine days in Hanoi.

Responding to Vietnam's proposal for talks to begin Friday either in Hanoi or at site on the border, Peking's official New China News Agency said the negotiations should begin "about March 28" and held alternately between Hanoi and Peking.

There was no initial reaction by Hanoi to the Chinese proposal, which came at the end of a day of harsh rhetoric by Vietnam against Peking.

Vietnamese Deputy Chief of Staff of the Army, Maj. Gen. Cao Van Khanh, told a Hanoi news conference that Vietnamese troops had killed or wounded 62,500 Chinese in 30 days of fighting that ended Sunday.

Hanoi news media called Chinese leaders "liars" for claiming China had completed a withdrawal of its army from Vietnam. Hanoi said Chinese still occupied Vietnamese territory today, a claim backed by Western intelligence sources.

"The Chinese government specifically proposes that Sino-Vietnamese negotiations at the level of vice-foreign ministers start about March 28," the Chinese Foreign Ministry note to Vietnam said.

"To show the sincere desire of the Chinese side," Peking proposed negotiations open in Hanoi, then switch to Peking for the second round, NCNA quoted the note as saying.

Peking said the negotiators could "discuss measures for the restoration of normal relations" between Vietnam and China.

Vietnam's call for peace talks, made Saturday, was unclear on whether it would negotiate if Chinese forces remained on territory claimed by Hanoi.

Western intelligence sources said today some of China's invasion army remains up to a mile inside Vietnam, with other forces on war alert across the border in China.

Western analysts would not say how many Chinese troops remained inside Vietnam or just where they were stationed.

Iran Battles Tribes

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Kurdish tribesmen took over a radio-TV station and a police post today in intense fighting with army troops in West Iran that killed at least three and wounded 200 others, newspaper reports said.

In the capital, immigration authorities deported American feminist Kate Millet, putting her aboard a flight to Paris.

On the streets of the capital, units of the former army of the shah paraded in the new government's first display of force since it took power last month.

Iranian newspapers said armed Kurds seized the radio and television station and the police post in the Kurdish capital city of Sanandaj after bloody clashes with troops and police that began Sunday afternoon. At least three people were reported killed and 200 wounded.

The attacks, apparently stemming from recent tension between Moslems of the Shia and Sunni sects in Sanandaj, was sparked because the military refused to supply residents with weapons in what appeared to be an attempt to control the tense region.

The area was infested with firearms even before the military arsenals were emptied by forces of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini during the takeover of the country in mid-February.

Khomeini issued a statement over Tehran radio denouncing the attacks and called on the army to "strongly defend the interests of the Moslem people and foil any attack against them and against the people's honor."

Ms. Millet last week paraded alongside Iranian women fighting the Khomeini's orders for women to wear the veil. Although no official reason was given for her deportation, her part in the demonstration was believed to have been the cause.

In Tehran, units of the shah's former army demonstrated their loyalty to the Ayatollah, carrying rifles decorated by flowers.

Ms. Millet was arrested by immigration authorities early Sunday and ordered expelled for having joined Iranian women in protesting

Cher Not Promiscuous

Cher says her "gigantic reputation" for sexual promiscuity is not true. "In my adult life I've only been involved with about six men and two of those I've married," she says in the April issue of Ladies' Home Journal. "With each of them I had a good relationship. We could sit down and talk. I don't want to flirt about making love with everybody I meet. I don't care about that. I think it's totally wrong. Promiscuity is not good for the mind. Not mine anyway."

IRS Refunding More, But Reducing Audits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With one month to go before the annual filing deadline, the Internal Revenue Service has two pieces of good news for taxpayers still struggling with their returns. The IRS says the average refund paid out by the Treasury so far is a record $300.28. And the percentage of 1978 returns selected for audit is less than last year.

So far, the IRS has received 40.8 million returns — 1 million less than at this same time a year ago. Of the total, 17.7 million taxpayers used the 1040 "long form" and 23.1 million took advantage of the 204A "short form." The IRS predicts that up to 90 million returns will be filed this year, compared with 87 million last year. Government refund checks have averaged $500.28 so far — $100

A Closer Look
Insanity, Law Change
Makes Acquittals Easier

By ANDREW NIBLEY
HARTFORD (UPI) — Before 1969, it was almost impossible to plead insanity in Connecticut and win an acquittal. But now, experts say a lot of people are playing the "bughouse bit" and getting away with it. Ten years ago, the Legislature moved to make Connecticut's treatment of mentally ill criminals more humane. "At the time, a lot of very sad, disturbed people who needed help were going to jail," said Dr. Eric Plaut, Connecticut's mental health commissioner. "To remedy the problem, lawmakers expanded the legal definition of insanity, ostensibly to cover more mentally disturbed people who commit crimes through no fault of their own."

Early Morning Blaze
Claims Five Victims

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Five people were killed early today in a three-alarm fire which swept through a six-unit apartment building on Dorchester Street. Fire officials said the victims, all adults ranging in age from 20 to 80, were dead at the scene. Officials were unable to immediately identify the victims. Fire Chief Edward Hackett said eight other tenants escaped and that one firefighter was slightly injured in the blaze which started at about 5:30 a.m. Hackett said all of the victims' bodies were found near doors or windows, indicating that they were trying to escape when the flames of undetermined origin struck.

Flood Preparations

Workmen fill and pass sand bags to stop flooding at the Maple Grove Dam and Reservoir in Wheat Ridge, Colo., early Sunday. The small water control dam collapsed late Saturday, sending flood waters surging through streets of this Denver suburb and forcing about 2,000 residents out of their homes into the cold and snow. Weather
Snow Smothers Rockies

By United Press International
A late winter snowstorm smothered the Rockies and western Plains with up to a foot of snow today, closing highways and schools and stranding cross-country travelers. Spring fever replaced cabin fever in the upper Midwest. As the mercury climbed to 70 degrees, Chicago park officials reported a summer-like turnout at parks and conservatories, even though the first buds of spring have yet to appear. With spring just two days away, the record-setting Winter of '79 lashed out at the Colorado and Wyoming foothills with heavy accumulations of wet snow that closed many highways, including Interstate 80, a major East-West route, and I-25 between Cheyenne and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Rubin Challenges Panel

MANCHESTER — Ben Rubin has written another letter challenging the makeup of the town's Community Development Advisory Committee and has asked the appropriate agency to insure there are enough low- and moderate-income members. Rubin wrote this time to Nancy London of the Capitol Region Council of Governments. For the past couple of months, Rubin, who is head of the Manchester Tenants Association, has questioned whether the town's Community Development Advisory Committee has enough low- and moderate-income members as required by federal regulations. He has written to local officials to challenge the Republican appointment. There was no attempt by the Democratic majority at either meeting to use its controlling votes to challenge the Republican appointment, there apparently existing an informal pact between the two parties to accept each other's appointments without protest. Rubin wrote to Ms. London.

Reminder on Refuse

SOUTH WINDSOR — The Public Works Department reminds residents that cardboard boxes are not to be substituted for refuse containers. Present collection procedure requires that refuse be placed in suitable containers with handles, or in plastic bags. Empty cardboard boxes will be collected, however, large appliance-type boxes must be crushed or cut into small sections not to exceed three feet on a side. Public works officials said cardboard containers are difficult to manipulate and when the cardboard becomes wet, the bottoms give way and cause the refuse to be strewn around the streets.

Fuller Shelves Called
Way to Fight Inflation

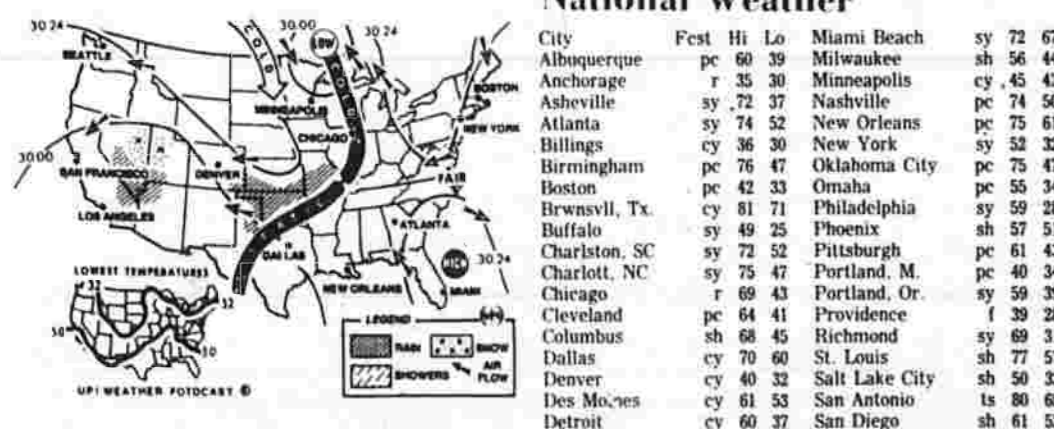

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of the congressional Joint Economic Committee propose a new way to fight inflation — by putting more goods on the shelf instead of discouraging people from buying. Democrats and Republicans on the committee joined in the committee's annual report proposing a marked departure from economic policies followed in this country for the past 30 years. The report was issued Sunday and marked the first time in 20 years that Democratic and Republican members of the committee have agreed on a joint report. Members say that's because inflation is such a clear-cut No. 1 issue and both sides believe "a lot of old solutions are just not working." That explanation came from Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, the panel's chairman, who described the proposed new policies to fight inflation by "putting more goods on the shelf rather than policies that discourage people from buying those goods." For three decades, the report said, economists have focused on the "demand side" of the economy, pumping in money to encourage people to buy more during recessions, pumping money out to fight inflation — and ending up with both high unemployment and inflation. Now, the report said, the emphasis must be on the "supply side," expanding the ability of the economy to produce goods and services efficiently. Greater incentives, it said, are needed to increase new investment, promote productivity and stimulate research and development. The report proposed less government spending and less government regulation, and suggested it might be time to end federal revenue-sharing to the states, which it says are in "sound fiscal health." Employment and training programs should be targeted more at the disadvantaged, it said. In the field of energy, it recommended speeding up research on clean use of coal and safe storage of nuclear wastes, along with substitution of Mexican and Canadian supplies for those overseas, greater conservation and possible standby gasoline rationing. It criticized the administration for moving too slowly toward the goal, contained in the Humphrey-Hawkins act, of 4 percent unemployment in 1983. The act was approved by Congress and signed by the president last year. Committee members did not agree on everything. Republicans said the report should have proposed personal tax reductions and a specific target to cut another $10 billion from the president's projected $29 billion 1980 deficit. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Rep. John Rostenko, R-Calif., urged a balanced budget in 1980.

Memos Show CIA Tests
Of Enemy Spy Weapons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As recently as 1970, enterprising souls at the CIA set out to develop an assortment of non-lethal super-weapons to konk, flash and shock enemy agents into line. In the line of work, they subjected a few cadavers to explosions, conked them with a cage or two of monkey and even developed a human butterfly net. That's the story revealed in CIA documents made public through a Freedom of Information Act request by American Citizens for Honesty in Government — a group sponsored by the Church of Scientology. "Take a Dec. 31, 1970, memo about using 'the principle of controlled electroshock' to provide the appropriate long-awaited 'solution to personnel incapacitation problems.' The matter-of-fact note quoted an investigator as saying an electric net that sends five shocks a second into the arms of an enemy agent out to sea, incapacitate, but not kill, healthy subjects. "Such a result seems reasonable, but it would be nice to see the report of this experimental procedure," the memo said. The note called for "extensive field test results of the system" despite the danger of fatal heart attacks in "electrically sensitive" subjects. And then there's an undated, bare-bones legible memo suggesting development of a "flash blindness incapacitation" device to create "disorientation, confusion and impaired vision." The note — using bureaucratic, polysyllabic euphemisms — proposed sophisticated primate studies to advance warning of functional damage threshold of the blindness device. The note said experimenters already had built a secret laboratory in the field of CIA funds for unidentified experimental programs. The story ends with an undated memo urging funds for 12 months of experiments beginning Feb. 1, 1966, into "the mechanism of brain concussion." The note said experimenters had built a secret laboratory in the field of CIA funds for unidentified experimental programs. Area Police Report

VERNON
Gary G. Elderkin, 23, of 38 Village St., Rockville, was charged Friday with third-degree criminal mischief and first-degree criminal trespassing. He was released on his promise to appear in court in Rockville on March 27. Scott Maxwell, 18, of Willowstream Drive, and Michael Lanzieri, 19, of Susan Drive, both of Vernon, were charged Friday with first-degree criminal trespassing. Possession of alcohol on school property, after a complaint was received from officials at Rockville High School. Both were released on their promise to appear in court on March 27. Peter J. Moulin, 62, of 69 Campbell Avenue, Vernon, was charged Sunday with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) on complaint of the K-Mart Store, Vernon Circle. He was released on his promise to appear in court on March 27. Brian J. Clout, 37, of 929 Burnside Avenue, East Hartford, was charged Saturday with reckless driving. He was involved in an accident on Route 53. Police said Clout was operating a motorcycle and while "doing a wheelie," lost control and crashed. He and a passenger on the cycle, Joel Clout, 27, of the same address, did not claim injuries, police said. Court date is March 27. William T. Schimansky Jr., 22, of 655 Talcottville Road, was charged Saturday with breach of the peace and was also accused of "repeated" trespassing from the Newtonville Police for failure to appear in court. The Newtonville charge was first-degree criminal trespassing for an incident that occurred on Dec. 6. His court date for the Vernon arrest is March 27. He was released to the Newtonville Police Department. James M. Connelly Jr., 17, of 60 Tumble Brook Drive, Vernon, was charged Saturday with discharging of fireworks and breach of peace. Police said the breach was made after they received numerous complaints from residents in the area of Route 83, Sunset Terrace and Overbrook Drive concerning fireworks being shot off in the area. Connelly was held in lieu of posting a $250 surety bond. His court date was not given. Matthew L. Neal, 24, of 38 Village St., Rockville, was charged Saturday with disorderly conduct in connection with the investigation of a disturbance at his home. His court date is March 27. South Windsor David Downs, 20, of 98 Edgewood drive, South Windsor, was charged Friday night with possession of narcotics, possession of ten ounces of marijuana, possession of a cannabis-type substance with intent to sell, risk of injury to a minor, and delivery of liquor to a minor. Police said Downs was stopped on a motor vehicle infraction and that he had two juveniles in his car and beer bottles. Police said a further search for the beer revealed the car also contained suspected marijuana and cocaine. Downs was released on a $1,500 surety bond, for appearance in court in East Hartford on April 2.

ALL AUTO POLICIES ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL

While all auto policies have the same basic coverages, some cost more than others - perhaps as much as $90 to $100 more each year.

ARE YOU PAYING TOO MUCH?

Some auto policies are written for 6 months with additional finance charges for installment payments. However, we can offer you an auto policy written on a yearly basis with a quarterly or semi-annually paid premium and no finance charges.

ARE YOU PAYING FINANCE CHARGES?

Some auto policies are not carefully reviewed each year. The result can be incorrect premium charges due to the use of outdated driver information. You could be entitled to credits for carpoos or driver training, good student discounts or savings because of higher collision deductibles.

ZBA To Hear Eight Items

MANCHESTER — The Zoning Board of Appeals meets tonight and will consider applications to permit a mobile home, a carnival and a farmer's market.

A total of eight public hearings have been scheduled for the ZBA meeting, which starts at 7 o'clock in the Municipal Building's Hearing Room.

One hearing will be for Sam Nussdorf, who is seeking a variance to permit a mobile home at 545 N. Main St.

The location is in an industrial zone, and the home would be occupied. Occupied mobile homes are not permitted in any zone in town, and the variance would have to be granted for Nussdorf to locate one at the site.

Edward Bobigan has applied for a special exception to permit a "farmer's market" at 261 Broad St. The exception would allow him to sell produce from trucks on Sundays only at the Broad Street address, which is in a Business IV Zone.

St. Bridget Church is seeking a special exception to conduct a church carnival in the parking area adjacent to the church. The exception also seeks permission to serve beer at the event.

The carnival, which is an annual event, would be held from June 11-16.

A special exception from the ZBA is required to conduct any carnival event in town.

Other public hearings scheduled tonight include the following:

- Barney T. Peterman Sr. and Barney T. Peterman Jr. have applied for a variance to erect a four-unit residential addition to an existing dwelling at 404 N. Main St. A variance also is requested to use the existing dwelling for a real estate office.
- Merrill J. Whiston of Multi-Circuits Inc. has applied for a variance to reduce the side yards at the northwest corner of Pearl and Harrison streets to 13 feet on the west and five feet on the east.
- David T. Haddock is seeking a variance for a side yard to permit an addition at 1109 E. Middle Turnpike.
- Harold R. Mattson and William E. Mattson have applied for variances to divide a parcel of land with two existing dwellings on it. The property is at 73 Cooper St. and 154 Walnut St. and variances also are needed for side yards, front yards, rear yards, lot frontage and lot area.
- Donna Townsend and Eleanor H. Parks are seeking a variance to divide a parcel of land into two lots. The property is at 4 Oakland St.

Youth Panel Bill Voted by Solons

MANCHESTER — A bill proposed by a Manchester High School student has been approved by the General Assembly's Human Services Committee.

The bill would require three persons between the ages of 15 and 22 be appointed to the state advisory council on Children and Youth Services. Presently, the 15-member council includes three members between the ages of 18 and 25, but the bill would reduce that age.

State Sen. David Barry of Manchester, who submitted the bill, praised Michael Pohl, the MHS student who suggested it.

"It is exciting to see a 15-year-old such as Michael who is interested in the affairs of his state government and who is concerned about serving and helping members of his peer group," Barry said.

"At a time when many find it easy to criticize our young people, who should all pause a moment to tip our hats to Michael Pohl," he said.

Barry, who is chairman of the state's Juvenile Justice Commission, said the change in the law would help guarantee that the younger members of the council can understand and accurately reflect the feelings of young people around the state.

The council works with the Department of Children and Youth Services to plan programs, recommend legislation and draw up a budget.

The bill now will be submitted for a vote in the state Senate and House of Representatives.

Park Faces Quizzing By Passman's Lawyer

MONROE, La. (UPI) — Tongson Park, the South Korean rice merchant who testified he gave former Rep. Otis Passman, D-La., almost $200,000 in cash, today faced a week of what promised to be grueling cross examination by Passman's lawyer.

In his testimony last week, the second week of the trial, Park — smiling, often jovial — told of meeting Passman in hotel rooms in Hong Kong and Baton Rouge, La., and in the ex-congressman's Washington office to deliver cash campaign contributions in plain manila envelopes.

But in his opening statements, defense lawyer Camille Gravel said he would probe that Park lied about all illegal payoffs made to U.S. congressmen in order to blik his government out of expense money.

Park has been granted immunity and is the government's key witness in the conspiracy, bribery and tax evasion case against Passman. The former con-

Vernon Getting $431,000 For 18 More Workers

VERNON — The Town of Vernon will have 18 additional workers in its Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program through a $431,000 grant.

Recent approval was also given to hire 13 other persons under the CETA program bringing the total to 31 and these positions are expected to be filled by the first of April.

The 18 new positions will be in the areas of health, police and public works. Funding for them will be guaranteed at least through Sept. 30 and indications are that additional money will be available by Oct. 1 so the positions can be filled for another year.

The town also has some 20 workers that have carried over from the past federal fiscal year but because they will have

School Budget Woes Blamed On State

NEW HAVEN, (UPI) — New Haven School Superintendent Gerald Tirrozi says the state is to blame for most of a $500,000 school budget deficit facing the school system.

Tirrozi said the deficit, first projected at $800,000, has been cut by $150,000 through cost-saving measures implemented by school officials. He said there are a number of options still open to cut the remaining shortfall, including going back to the city for more money.

Referring to a bill in Ashford to close that town's schools early because of budget problems, Tirrozi said New Haven would consider an early closing "only as a last resort."

Ashford officials had planned to shut down the town's only school because taxpayers hadn't approved a new budget, but a Superior Court judge struck down the proposal.

School system staff will meet to discuss further efforts to cut the deficit.

Road Death Toll Rises Despite Speed Checks

By United Press International

Connecticut's highway death toll rose to 112 for the year after at least 10 people were killed in traffic accidents this week.

The deaths followed State Public Safety Commissioner Donald Long's announcement Friday that police would crack down on speeding and drunken drivers to combat the mounting fatality rate.

As of Friday, 102 people had died on Connecticut highways since Jan. 1, compared to 82 in 1978. Long said use of alcohol was linked to nearly half of the fatalities.

All of the victims this weekend were in their late teens or 20s, including two teenage brothers, and the seven accidents occurred in the early morning hours.

Timothy Blaney, 19, of Norwalk, died Sunday after he was thrown out of a van which went out of control on Interstate 95 in Darien shortly after 2 a.m., a state police spokesman said.

The driver, Nathan J. Vass, 20, of Norwalk, was charged with negligent homicide, operating a vehicle under suspension, and failure to turn in his suspended license in connection with the accident, the spokesman said.

In Greenwich, a New York man was killed and three others were injured Sunday when the victim apparently fell asleep at the wheel on Interstate 95 westbound about 6 a.m., state police said.

The car went off the road for more than 210 feet, authorities said. The victim was identified as Thomas V. Proctor, 19, of Floral Park, N.Y., driver of the car.

Bill Hammond, 19, also of Floral Park, was thrown from the car and was ad-

MACC NEWS

By NANCY CARR

Bill Rice, chairman of the MACC Auxiliary to Convalescent Homes, is filled to the brim with exciting possibilities for volunteer work in the convalescent homes. In addition to the cheer carts and one-to-one visitation we mentioned in last week's column, Bill has arranged for movies to be shown every 3rd Friday of the month in the three units at Meadows and at Crestfield and Fenwood.

Bill is picking the free films up from HELCO but, again, volunteers are needed to help patients in seeing the films from their rooms to the lounge where the films will be shown. The movies have already been scheduled through 1979. If you have some time on the 3rd Friday of the month, either morning or afternoon, why not call Bill at 649-4697?

"Everyone wants to attend church services," Bill tells me. But again the major problem is transportation. Clergy are there and services are being held but many patients need help in getting to the chapel.

Volunteers are needed just to walk beside a shaky patient, help in or out of bed and into a wheelchair or walker. One of the volunteers described a blind patient in one of the homes who very much wanted to attend services being held in the building. The volunteer helped her dress, and then down to the chapel. The patient over and over told him what a comfort it had been to be at "church." A few weeks later, the patient was permanent resident in the everlastingly home and source of the comfort she was so grateful for. Little touches but sometimes great rewards.

A New Wrinkle — Youth Subcommittee

The auxiliary is looking for young people who are willing to come in particularly on Sunday to help patients get to services. Four students from Church of the Assumption have already come in the past two Sundays to transport patients to the mass offered by our chaplain, Mr. Nicholas.

The patients, particularly the elderly, love the presence of young boys and girls, so full of life and enthusiasm. Again, Bill Rice is the person to call. If you can't reach him, and four out of five days he is at the convalescent homes, we would be happy to hear from you at the MACC office.

Thank You's

—A most heartfelt thank you to Robert Martin and the firm of Local 1579, International Association of Firefighters for their check of $300 to be divided between our Emergency Pantry and the food bank operated by Center City Churches, Hartford.

—Dr. Abraham Kurien for his donation to FISH of Manchester.

—to all those who participated in the CROP walk last October. We've just received our portion of those contributions ($97.32) from Church World Service. These funds will be channeled to our Human Needs Fund.

—Arthur and Ruth Deane for their contributions to the fuel bank.

New Testing Course Offered in Bolton

BOLTON — On recommendation of the Board of Education, Bolton High School will be offering a course to students in "Test Taking," starting March 22 and continuing through March 29. There will be 10 sessions on Thursdays from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. A late bus will be provided for students who wish to participate.

The purpose of the course, school officials said, is to help the students gain confidence and improve their skills for all types of test taking in the classroom as well as the PSATs and the SATs.

Teachers who have been hired for the course have much expertise in their fields of math and English. School officials said that a comparable course, offered outside the school, would cost about $5.

Waste of Time And Money

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The governors and state legislators clamoring for fiscal responsibility in Washington would enjoy more credibility if they weren't simultaneously promoting one of the least justifiable boogies in the federal budget.

Lee Roderick

WASHINGTON - President Carter's breakthrough in the Middle East is without a doubt a monumental personal triumph. But it remains to be seen whether the apparent peace agreement between Egypt and Israel will also be a triumph for peace in the region as a whole, or will ensure continued Western access to Middle East oil.

Jacks Anderson Judges Too Pressed

WASHINGTON - Each year some $12.5 billion in disability benefits is paid out by the Social Security Administration to 5 million claimants.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The Four Corners Regional Commission, in the Southwest, purchased $4.72 million of bailout pens and felt-tip markers. A former Connecticut governor used funds provided by the New England Regional Commission to pay for newspaper subscriptions ($1,461), hotel bills ($8,800) and advertising agency fees ($15,500).

Thoughts

Perhaps there is no better time than during these weeks of lent to reflect upon our attitudes - attitudes toward others. Lent is a good time to take a look at ourselves and maybe resolve to make a few changes.

Watch On Waste

Defense industry profiteers are holding their breath, waiting to see if the government's excess-profit watchdog, the Renegotiation Board, will be put quietly to sleep on March 31.

The board has been working frantically on a backlog of $162 billion in defense contracts. Based on an analysis of the board's work over the 17 months ending in February, about $4 of every $1,000 in defense contracts constituted excess profits.

HUD To Increase Grant

MANCHESTER - The town today received an increase of $22,000 in its proposed Community Development grant for next year.

The town, of course, may not be participating in the federal funding program next year pending the outcome of the April 17 townwide vote.

If it does participate next year, however, it will receive $22,000 more than it had expected.

The town's grant for next year through the Community Development program has increased from $465,000 to $487,000, a letter from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development said.

The letter was received today by town officials. The increase in the grant to the town is due to changes in information about the town's population, the letter said.

The town already has approved spending plan for the $495,000 it had expected to receive for next year. The additional $22,000 can be added to programs already approved for funding, or it can be used for new spending plans.

The entire use of Community Development funds for next year is indefinite, however.

On April 17, town voters will decide whether or not to approve an ordinance which would allow the town to participate in the program.

Approval of the ordinance would mean the town would withdraw from the program and receive no money instead of the $517,000.

Big Test for Alabama Tonight with Purdue

NEW YORK (UPI) - C.M. Newton, coach of Alabama, must feel like a haberdasher at a nudist colony. He's got a product to sell, SEC basketball, but everywhere he looks he knows nobody's going to buy.

That's because Newton is surrounded by teams with the Big Ten conference tonight when the National Invitation Tournament switches to Madison Square Garden for the semifinals.

Newton's club meets Purdue, the Big Ten co-champion, in the first game of the double-header and two more Big Ten clubs, Indiana and Ohio State, tonight.

Flyers Have New Look In Penalty-Free Tilt

NEW YORK (UPI) - The Philadelphia Flyers have a new look. And it's not bad at all.

The Flyers, who defeated the St. Louis Blues 5-3, Sunday night to post their fifth straight victory, did something they had never done before - they played an entire game without taking a penalty.

But that's probably only a part of the reason the Flyers have closed in on the rest of the Patrick Division, moving just two points behind the second-place New York Rangers in sole possession of third place.

Coach Pat Quinn and goalie Robbie Moore, two new additions, are probably bigger parts.

In other NHL games, Detroit topped Chicago, 4-2; Pittsburgh beat the New York Rangers, 5-1; Washington tied Buffalo, 3-3; the New York Islanders downed Minnesota, 5-3; and Vancouver defeated Atlanta, 2-1.

In the World Hockey Association, Cincinnati stopped New England, 4-1; Quebec stopped Edmonton, 7-2; and Winnipeg overcame Birmingham, 4-2.

Cruz, who was suspended by the stewards while still on the track, was released from the Arcadia City Jail late Saturday on $5,000 bond. He made a preliminary appearance Sunday morning before the stewards in connection with his suspension and arrest Saturday on charges of using an illegal electrical device in winning a race at Santa Anita.

Pre-Tournament Favorites Ousted

NEW YORK (UPI) - The final four of the NCAA Basketball Tournament isn't quite what the television people had in mind.

There's no UCLA, no Notre Dame, no Duke and no North Carolina. In short, it's not what you'd call an advertiser's dream.

In fact, a final four of DePaul, Indiana State, Pennsylvania and Michigan State more closely resembles a field for one of those sundry Christmas tournaments than in does for the semifinals of the nation's most prestigious basketball tournament.

But, at least the college basketball experts were right when they said there was no clear-cut favorite for the NCAA tournament this season.

None of the four finalists was expected to survive its regional tournament. Penn, the first Ivy League semifinalist since the Bill Bradley-led Princeton team of 1965, won the East Regional by edging St. John's, 64-62 Sunday and Michigan State whipped Notre Dame, 80-58, in the Midwest Regional to end the Irish's hopes of reaching the semifinals for the second year in a row.

Indiana State, the nation's No. 1 ranked team but still considered an unproven commodity in some circles, nipped Arkansas, 73-71, Saturday in the Midwest Regional and DePaul upset the nation's second-ranked team, UCLA, 96-91, in the West Regional to reach the final four for the first time in Coach Ray Meyer's 37 years at the Chicago-based school.

Of this year's semifinalists, only Michigan State has been to the final four before and that was 22 years ago.

Michigan State will meet Penn and Indiana State will play DePaul next Saturday in the semifinals at Salt Lake City, with the winners meeting.

Indiana State got 31 points from Larry Bird, college basketball's player of the year, but it took an off-balance, left-handed shot by Bob Heaton with five seconds remaining for the Sycamores to defeat Arkansas. Bird was supposed to take the last shot for Indiana State but he was covered and Heaton fired up his desperation loss from 10 feet out. The ball bounced off the rim twice before falling through.

DePaul got 24 points apiece from Gary Garland and Curtis Watkins in the second round, but the Quakers were led by 17 points at the half, but UCLA got within two points with less than 30 seconds remaining only to have Garland wrap it up with a layup with 10 seconds left. All-American David Greenwood had 37 points for the Bruins.

Phil Ford and Bob Nash, Lucas Allen, Otis Birdsong and Ron Behagen each scored 18 points. San Diego routed New Jersey, 110-88. New Orleans nipped Phoenix, 121-117, and Los Angeles stopped Boston, 122-111.

James McElroy scored 33 points in pacing the Jazz to victory over the Suns. The Suns trailed by only two points with 22 seconds remaining but Spencer Haywood's two free throws three seconds later gave the Jazz a four-point lead and put the game away.

Clippers 110, Nets 98. Loyd Free scored 31 points in lifting San Diego to victory over New Jersey. The Clippers have won 13 of their last 14 games. Winford Boynes led the Nets with 18 points. Lakers 122, Celtics 111.

Jamaal Wilkes scored 24 points and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar grabbed a season-high 25 rebounds to lift Los Angeles over Boston. Abdul-Jabbar scored 16 points, had seven assists and blocked four shots in addition to his 25 rebounds. Norm Nixon added 23 points and 10 assists. Rookie Rick Robey scored 24 points to lead the Celtics.

NEW YORK (UPI) - Pete Rose finally made a hit ... and that's a lot more than the world champion New York Yankees can say about their plight.

Rose, the Philadelphia Phillies' millionaire first baseman, singled in the fifth inning for his first hit of the spring Sunday, but it wasn't enough to prevent the Phillies from losing to the Toronto Blue Jays, 12-4. Rose had gone to the plate 16 times without a hit before connecting off reliever Jesse Jefferson. However, he went hitless in his next two trips to the plate and is only 1-for-19 in the Grapefruit League competition.

Toronto unloaded three home runs as part of a 12-hit attack off Steve Carlton and Rawly Easkew. Rick Rosetti and Otto Velez hit three-run homers and Dave McKay added a solo blast for the Blue Jays. Richie Hebner, who lost his first base job to Rose, homered for the Phillies.

The Yankees, meanwhile, continued to unimpress the boys, George Steinbrenner. The world champions lost to the New York Mets, 5-2, and Steinbrenner wasn't happy about the latest setback, the Yankees' 10th in 11 exhibition games.

"There's going to be some tightening up in some areas of discipline," said Steinbrenner. "The fun of spring training is over."

Trailing 2-0 after five innings, the Mets scored twice in the sixth and pushed across the deciding run in the seventh on an RBI single by Elliott Maddox. Tommy John was the victim of all three runs and suffered the loss.

In other Grapefruit League action, Minnesota trimmed Boston 6-4, Atlanta edged Houston 7-6, St. Louis topped Cincinnati 6-5, the Chicago

McCumber Notes St. Patrick Weekend

MIAMI (UPI) - Mark McCumber's "take 'em one at a time" approach to the PGA Tour proved successful Sunday when the power-hitting Irishman celebrated St. Patrick's Day weekend with his first tour win, collecting $45,000 for the Doral Open Golf Tournament title.

"The thing that I feel the most gratified about - of course it was nice to win the tournament - is that it is my sincere goal to isolate each shot as well as I could, to play only one shot at a time," he said.

"I can't believe it, but I did it." McCumber's dedication to his plan underwent its most severe test on the 18th hole, when he nearly double bogeyed, which would have forced a playoff with Bill Rogers.

The slubby 27-year-old's second shot flew over the green, through a gap in the grandstand and came to rest about a foot from a hot dog stand. There was no room to swing under-par 279 for the tournament. Rogers, who shot 72 Sunday, finished with a 280 while Rod Curl carded a 68 to move into third at 281.

Alan Tapie led by a shot over McCumber going into the final round but met with a disaster, shooting a 76 on the par-72 Doral Blue Monster course, including a double bogey on the 12th hole.

Tapie finished at 282, along with Mike McCullough, Gibby Gilbert and Kermit Zarley.

Jack Nicklaus said his game was still improving as he finished with a final round of 72 despite a double bogey 6 when he found the water twice on the 18th.

He also said he felt "super" physically despite some problems with his back on the 15th hole Friday.

Nicklaus was 6-over-par at 294 for the four rounds. Defending champ Tom Weiskopf shot a 71 Sunday to finish at 297.

McCumber jumped into the air and hugged his caddy. Then he had to wait for Rogers, but the slender Texan hit the grandstand and had to scramble for pair, making McCumber the GA's third first-time winner in a row.

Bruins, Celts Eye Suburbs

BOSTON (UPI) - The Boston Bruins and Celts may move to the suburbs under a plan by a business syndicate to build a $35 million, 20,000-seat sports and entertainment complex on the Wilmington-North Reading line.

The $35-million complex would include a concrete, steel and stained-glass coliseum for the Bruins and Celts; a $7 million, 350-room motor inn; $10 million international trade center, and a parking garage.

Former Boston Mayor John Collins Saturday said he was projecting the Bruins and the Celts. North Reading Town Administrator Chester Spinney added he had talked with the development group about the project.

Celics Vice President Jeff Cohen said he had heard about the proposal. "We are very interested, but we can't say what stage the plan is in or how realistic it is," Cohen said.

Bruins' President Paul Murphy reserved comment saying he didn't know very much about the proposal. The Bruins own the Boston Garden, which is a new Boston Garden in the South Station area.

There have been six proposals since 1972 to build a new sports complex in the Boston area. Currently, city officials are backing a proposal to construct a new Boston Garden in the South Station area.

Mike Norris allowed only one hit in six innings as the Cubs downed the A's. Jack Clark hit a two-run homer in the third inning to help the Giants beat the Mariners ... rookie Jeff Yurak hit a grand slam homer to give the Brewers victory over the Angels ... and the Padres had 14 hits, including a three-run triple by Ozzie Smith, in defeating the Indians.

Money Fails to Satisfy Smith-Lutzs Team

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Stan Smith and Bob Lutz were pleased with their performance in winning Sunday's doubles final on the Washington stop on the Men's Pro Tennis tour. They were just sorry it was in the coaches' pool.

Smith and Lutz captured their third straight Washington title with a 7-5, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, (7-0) win over Australian Bob Carmichael and former UCLA All American Brian Teacher.

"The doubles almost seemed like an afterthought," said Lutz. "I know we were going to win."

The prize money, compared to singles, is all out of kilter. If we have to play three-out-of-five sets, we should be paid for it. The singles only go two-out-of-three."

The doubles final was Sunday's only match except for a mixed doubles exhibition and drew less than 2,000 fans to George Washington University's Smith Center.

Both teams held service to a 6-4 tie in the fourth set, forcing the tie-breaker. Smith held his serve, Teacher was broken twice, Lutz held

Final Round 69 Wins for Carner

SAN DIEGO (UPI) - LPGA veteran JoAnne Carner said Saturday it would take a final-round 69 for her to win the $160,000 tournament and earn $22,500 plus a new car.

"She was tight. Carner, who left behind an illustrious amateur record for the pro tour at the age of 30, fired her second consecutive 69 over a rain-drenched course since Par for a 7-under-par 281 to win this week's LPGA tour stop by three strokes over Pat Bradley and Sandra Post at the Rancho Bernardo Country Club. It was her 25th career win on the tour.

Bradley and Post earned $12,600 each. For Post it was her third second-place finish in four events this year.

Bradley, who opened the day with a 1-stroke lead over Carner, bogied the second hole to even and never got under par, finishing her erratic round at one-over 73.

"I didn't leave anything short today, I'll tell you that," said Carner. She said she played both aggressively and conservatively over the 6,212-yard course to force Post "to have to make birdies."

The 145-yard 13th hole proved to be the turning point of the round. Carner, playing in the group ahead of Post, hit a 7-iron to within four feet of the pin and calmly made the putt for a birdie. Post followed with her "first bad swing of the day" and bogeyed.

On the 17th hole, Post hit a good drive but it drifted into the left rough. "When I asked the marshal where it was he said it was just three feet in front of me," Post said. "That's when I knew I was in real trouble. The grass just ate that ball up."

She muffed her shot out of the rough and took a double bogey on the hole.

Justice hit a grand slam homer off Sitek for a 10-4 win. Rusty Faciono collected a single and homer and Sitek also homered in the nightcap.

Seven games remain on the southern trip, including two games today in Asheville.

"I've been using my pitchers a bit longer than I'd like but I sense they're going to be coming around quite favorably by the time we return," Olander said. "For most of them, it's their first experience on the mound this year."

Before heading south, MCC worked indoors at the Manchester Armyory.

Scoring goals for New England were Roger Gibbins at 31-48 and at 43-29 in the game, and Steve Reid at 46-10.

Condition Serious For NBA Referee

SAN DIEGO (UPI) - Veteran NBA official Don Murphy, stricken with a heart attack during a weekend game between the San Diego Clippers and Golden State Warriors, was in serious but stable condition today at Doctors Hospital.

According to the Clippers' team physician, Murphy "died twice on the court," during Saturday night's game.

Murphy, 48, a 16-year NBA veteran and the third-ranking official in the league, collapsed near midcourt with 9:23 left in the first half of the game. He staggered and toppled onto his back.

Six cardiologists who were spectators at the game, along with San Diego team physician Dr. Jay Malkoff and the Warriors' team doctor, rushed onto the court. The cardiologists worked feverishly over the stricken referee, pounding his chest repeatedly in an attempt to get his heart beating again. He was taken from the court on a stretcher and was conscious during the trip to the hospital.

"Murphy died twice on the court," Malkoff said, "but the cardiologists revived him."

Murphy, from Cincinnati, is the father of seven children.

Tomkiel, Bissell Place in Swim

Competing in the girls' 10 and under age bracket, Stacey Tomkiel and Jennifer Bissell gained placements in the AAU swim meet last weekend in Branford.

Tomkiel was third in the 100-yard individual medley in 1:26.5, third in the 50-yard backstroke in 39:2 and third in the 50-yard butterfly in 38:34. Bissell gained a fourth place in the 50-yard breaststroke with a time of 45:09.

Both girls are members of the Manchester Rec. Swim Team and coached by Ron Anderson.

Huskie Hockey Team In Semifinal Round

Weekend proved fruitful for the Manchester Midget Huskies who advanced into the semifinals of the Northern Connecticut Hockey League with a win and a tie.

The locals blanked ninth ranked New Britain, 3-0, and dead-ended second ranked Glastonbury, 2-2.

In the victory, the Huskies were outshot but goalie Bob Carlson was superb in gaining the shutout.

Dan Weinbaum's first period goal staked the Huskies to a lead that was maintained. Willie Simon kept the margin to 2-0 in the second stanza and with 11 seconds left in the middle period, Weinbaum lallied again for the final margin, at Bolton.

MCC Looks Better In Second Twinbill

Still looking for win No. 1 on its southern preseason spring exhibition trip is the Manchester County baseball squad.

The locals, whitewashed in their opening twinbill, 11-0, 11-1, returned to the wars Saturday and dropped a second doubleheader but showed marked improvement in suffering 7-6, 10-6 losses to North Greenville College Saturday.

Greenville bunched three hits in the last inning to score twice for its one-run come-from-behind decision. Dan Sitek took the loss in relief of Larry Kelley.

"Kelley had struck out 11, but pitched the other day and had gone further than I expected," MCC Coach Skip Olander reported. "Sitek wasn't sharp because he's been concentrating on other positions."

Greg Fenner's homer in the second inning came after Greenville led, 2-0. Down 4-1 after two innings, MCC rallied for four runs in the fourth frame for a 5-4 edge. Each side tallied one in the fifth and then came the fatal last inning for the Nutmeggers.

Trailing 8-5 in the second game, Greenville knotted the count and Carl

Two HCC Schools Cop Hoop Crowns

Two of the four CIAC State Boys' Basketball Tournament titles went to Hartford County Conference (HCC) schools last weekend.

St. Thomas Aquinas captured the Class M crown last Friday night with an 84-71 win over Masuk of Monroe at Central Connecticut State College in New Britain.

South Catholic led by 6-foot-10 John Pinone's 37 points took the Class L crown Saturday night with a 73-63 win over defending champ Harding of Bridgeport. It was the Rebels' second state championship in three years.

A third HCC school, Northwest Catholic, saw its bid for the Class LL title go by the boards as Wilbur Cross of New Haven took a 74-73 decision Saturday afternoon.

Cromwell High broke a drought as it captured its first title since 1971, taking the Class S crown Saturday night with a 56-54 decision over Litchfield High. The Panthers, a member of the Charter Oak Conference of which Cheney Tech is a member, swept the Class S title from 1967 to 1971 but had been blanked since.

Whaler Home Jinx Continues

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) - The way the New England Whalers see it, they'd be better off playing the rest of their games on the road.

The Whalers lost their fifth straight game at home Sunday afternoon as Reg Thomas scored one goal and added two assists to lead the Cincinnati Stingers to a 4-1 victory at the Springfield Civic Center.

Bill Gilligan gave Cincinnati a 1-0 lead in the first period. Whaler Larry Plean tied the score with a shorthanded goal in a wild second period during which referee Peter Moffat whistled 50 of the game's 80 penalty minutes.

Peter Marsh led Cincinnati's three-goal surge in the final stanza with a power play tally at 4:08. Thomas then added an insurance goal and Robbie Fforek scored into an empty net.

The Whalers outshot Cincinnati 31-27 but were frustrated several times by Stingers netminder Mike Lut.

"I can't fault the effort of our guys," said Whalers Coach Bill Dineen. "But there was no consistency at all in the penalties."

Dineen said Lut has played well in the every game against New England. "We're just missing too many scoring chances," he said.

The Whalers have 14 games left and Dineen said "we'd be better off playing all 14 games on the road." They have won eight out of their last 10 points on the road.

Off-Court Upset Affects Barker

BOSTON (UPI) - Sue Barker already had ousted Chris Evert and Virginia Wade and was hoping for one more upset when she met second-seeded Dianne Fromholtz in the finals Sunday of the $150,000 Boston stop on the women's pro tennis tour.

The upset came, but 12 hours too early.

"I spent the whole night in the bathroom," said the 22-year-old Englishwoman after dropping a 6-2, 7-6 decision to Fromholtz. "It must have been something I ate. I wasn't able to stay in a rally long enough to do what I had to do. I wasn't able to shrug it off."

Wade, who had lost to the unseeded Barker in the semifinals, was so sick she could not play her consolation match against Wendy Turnbull.

Fromholtz had no problems with her health, though she said she avoided the lemonade during the match. "Because of my funny, like penicillin," Her main problem was avoiding a de ja vu.

"I had been in the finals before (at Florida and had) called this time I was complacent, kind of happy to be there. I didn't want to do that this time. I made sure I was going to concentrate and get psyched."

Fromholtz, who said she would use her $30,000 winnings to pay off the mortgage on her farm in Sydney, won the first set rather casually. Using her powerful ground strokes, she broke Barker twice to take the set in about 35 minutes.

"We both played very deep. I tried to keep the attack going so I wouldn't have to go to the net," Fromholtz said.

Barker was troubled by stomach cramps, but was also suffering from a lull in the fifth set.

By beating the fifth-seeded Wade Saturday night, after earlier knocking the top-seeded Evert out in the quarterfinals, she had earned her way to the final night in the championship playoffs which start Wednesday.

Barker added she started playing "negatively" when she had the big lead.

"I was hoping Dianne would make the mistakes, instead of attacking like I had done all week. I knew I was in trouble when I was broken at 9-2."

Barker, who was making her first appearance in a final round this year, earned $15,000. She added $2,500 when she and partner Ann Kiyomura won 6-4, 6-2, to Turnbull and Kerry Reid in the doubles final.

THINK OF VOLKSWAGEN AS PART OF THE FAMILY.

Volkswagens are true family cars. The John Murray Seniors had their VW for eight years.

Then they gave it to John Murray Junior when they bought their new one. The John Murray Seniors are happy with their new VW, and you can see that Junior is certainly happy with his "new" VW.

When a car drives through two generations, that's quite a car. That's a Volkswagen.

Michigan Is Fighting Over Beer

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan appears to be fighting a border war over beer.

The state's new law requiring deposits on all beverage containers is boosting beer prices, sending border residents into neighboring states where they can save nearly $6 a case in some instances.

The loss of business is compounded by the loss to the state of 46 cents a case in excise taxes. Adding to the whole problem is lax enforcement of laws banning importation of beer into Michigan without state approval.

Beer brewers say they've been forced to raise prices to cover the cost of new containers required under the law, plus the machinery and workers required to clean the empty deposit bottles.

Distributors say they also must hike prices to cover the added cost of picking up and storing the empty containers. The increases are passed on to retailers, and then to consumers.

"There's just no way I can compete," said one party store owner in Niles, near the Indiana border. "I'm paying my distributor $7 a case for Stroh's. With my markup and the deposit, I've got to sell it for $11.80."

But many customers can drive three miles down U.S. 31 into South Bend and buy it for $9.99," he said.

Down the road, South Bend liquor store manager Mark Keller said Michigan residents now make up a substantial portion of his customers. The same appears to be true for liquor stores across the Ohio and Wisconsin borders.

"People come in and ask me if they can get arrested for taking beer across the state line," he said. "I haven't heard of anyone getting busted — and we've got Michigan people coming in here and buying 10 or more cases."

"They say they're taking orders from people in their neighborhood," Keller said. "Michigan's killing itself."

Enforcement of anti-import laws generally is left to local authorities, and their activities have been less than stringent. Adm. Lorne Henderson of the State Liquor Control Commission's enforcement division.

Henderson said his agency is preparing an "informational brochure" to distribute to retailers on both sides of the state line, but is planning no beefed-up border surveillance.

"There's a tendency to be some bootlegging taking place," said state police spokesman Paul Hill. "It's really too early to tell if this is going to be a major problem."

But Hill said troops aren't considering creating a special unit to deal with beer bootleggers. Such a squad now exists to handle cigarette bootleggers.

Importing alcoholic beverages is a misdemeanor carrying up to a $500 fine and six months in jail.

Spring Reminder

All the flowers, trees, and grass at the 108th New England Spring Garden and Flower Show in Boston are beautifully alive and growing reminders of approaching spring. Penny Triba of Thompson, Conn., however, finds two interesting additions to the show, Balhazar and Tar, two live Macaws, in the Boston Zoological Society's jungle exhibit. The show runs through Sunday at the Commonwealth Pier Exhibition Hall. (UPI photo)

Dance

American Honored By British Critics

LONDON (UPI) — When Britain's top theatrical figures made their first award recently for outstanding achievement in ballet it went to Robert Cohan. He's an American.

During his company's latest season at Sadler's Wells theater, the Brits' top ballet critic rhapsodized over "what Robert Cohan is doing for the dance in this country."

It has earned him, said critic Clement Crisp, "immense public admiration and what I hope will be a lasting place in any Hall of Fame of the dance." For Cohan has created "an entirely new way of dancing for British artists and their audience."

"I didn't ever try and deliberately change the style of what we were doing," Cohan said in an interview. "I figured that if it was strong, and if I grew by itself, it would take by itself. And it did."

It happened during the 10 years Cohan has been director of the London Contemporary Dance Theater, Britain's foremost modern dance organization. But Cohan has devoted 20 years to the form of dance he first discovered in a studio in New York just after the war.

To look at him now you'd think he must have been barely old enough to walk. In fact he was 21, just out of the army and "knocking around New York, not knowing what to do."

During the war he had seen the Sadler's Wells Ballet in London, and other companies in the United States. But lightning only struck when he discovered that studio and its teacher, the legendary Martha Graham.

"I happened to be showing a girl friend from California around New York," Cohan recalls. "She had come to study with Martha Graham, and I had never heard of Martha Graham. She said to me that from

Scott's World Man With the Power

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bob Daly is one of the most influential men in the country today. He determines what you watch in 22 of the 66 hours of weekly prime time television.

As president of CBS Entertainment, Daly affects the lives of most people who own TV sets — for better or worse.

It is his responsibility, based on advice and counsel of dozens of other CBS executives, to put shows on the air, be they "60 Minutes" or the soap opera, "Dallas."

It is his responsibility, based on advice and counsel of dozens of other CBS executives, to put shows on the air, be they "60 Minutes" or the soap opera, "Dallas."

Inasmuch as Daly — unlike such controversial network powers as NBC's Fred Silverman — keeps a low profile, one is compelled to inquire what sort of man is this who dictates what we watch? What are his qualifications?

Daly, 42, is a church-going Irish Catholic of medium height. He is dark-haired, quiet-spoken but ardent. He has been a CBS employee since 18. He was born and reared in Brooklyn, attended Brooklyn College and Hunter College.

He and his wife, the former Nancy MacNeil, and three children live in Los Angeles — the only network programming president based on the West Coast.

Before assuming his powerful programming job in 1977, Daly was involved with network business affairs. He worked with Silverman when the latter was a CBS executive. Daly is thoroughly indoctrinated in CBS standards and attitudes, reflecting the network's traditional reputation for stability. While ABC and NBC have had dramatic ups and downs, CBS retains its cool and, by TV standards, a relatively high quality of programming.

Daly showed his class earlier this season by renewing "The Paper Chase" when the series was dead last in the ratings. He deemed it a quality show deserving of a chance. Daly may have been mistaken, but he didn't hit the panic button.

CBS was perennially No. 1 in the ratings until four or five years ago when ABC — a chronic third in the Nielsen — launched an onslaught of pen-brained sitcoms that knocked CBS off its throne.

Today CBS finds itself mired in second place, comfortably ahead of NBC, uncomfortably trailing ABC. Daly's goal is to put CBS back on top. To do so he must come up with popular youth-oriented comedies.

"Comedy is the essence of TV today," he said. "The backbone of our success in the ratings. You have to strike against youth without youth-oriented shows."

"Our company was built on Jack Benny, 'Amos n' Andy' and others. Even in recent years we succeeded with 'M-A-S-H,' 'All In The Family,' 'The Mary Tyler Moore Show' and other hit situation comedies.

"We do well with dramatic series — 'Lou Grant,' 'White Shadow,' 'Kaz' — but we're having trouble with comedy. ABC has the hot hand. You know by history that youth-oriented comedy will die out. In the meanwhile, you have to go with it."

"It's difficult to project how new shows will do. We don't put anything on the air we think will be unsuccessful, but the attrition rate is high."

According to Daly, CBS receives 2,000 idea submissions a year, 200 of which reach script form. Fifty pilot films are made with 10 of them making it to the air. Only three of the 10 return for a second season.

He added that TV is regularly judged by the public and critics in its entirety, a rare phenomenon in the other arts. Daly suggests weighing the success ratio of movies, Broadway and book publishing where the percentage of bombs is far greater than on the tube.

"My personal hangup is hearing about the golden age of television," he said, referring to the 1950s and the old live dramas out of New York. "I think the golden age is right now on all three networks and PBS.

"There is no 'Playhouse 90.' But in retrospect, not all those old shows were really that good. Compare them with current TV movies and you'll see that overall we're better off today."

"Viewers are offered more quality shows than ever. A lot of stuff is too good, but it's canceled fast. TV is too defensive about its bad shows and does a terrible job of merchandising itself because of network competition."

"People complain about the competitive scheduling of 'One With The Wind,' 'One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest' and the Elvis Presley special against one another. But look at it this way: they were on the air."

Daly thinks his best accomplishment this year was "maintaining some sort of sanity at the beginning of the season" when CBS was under attack for falling into third place behind NBC in the ratings.

"In the first four weeks we had some movie failures and disappointing new shows," he said. "We were attacked in the press. Rumors had us all getting fired because of our poor start. But we stayed with our standards and backed our judgment. And so far it's paid off."

Budget Airing Set By Panel

SOUTH WINDSOR—The South Windsor Town Council will begin discussion of the $8.24 million Board of Education budget, presented to the council March 15, at a workshop Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The budget, which was adopted by a 6-3 board vote, represents an increase of $889,705, over last year's budget.

The largest increases are in amounts slated for personnel, modifying buildings for the handicapped according to state law, and for administration functions.

Republican board members Frank Denney, Fred DeGiacomo and Sally Kucinas voted against the budget explaining they were against the extended Health Education and Human Development Program.

Some of the increases in costs in the 1979-1980 budget are a direct result of the drastic cuts made in last year's budget by the Town Council. Some of the cuts were absorbed, but are catching up with this year," according to one board member.

The second workshop is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. The council has set March 29 as a joint meeting with the Board of Education for budget discussion.

A time and place for the public hearing on the board budget and on the general government budget will be scheduled when the council meets in regular session April 2.

Meetings scheduled for all budget deliberations are as follows: March 20 and 22, work session on Board of Education budget; March 27, work session on general government budget; March 29, meeting with Board of Education on budget; April 3, work session with boards and commissions on budget; April 12, finalization of Board of Education budget; April 17 and 18, work session on general government budget; April 26, tentative date for public hearing on Board of Education budget; April 30, tentative date for public hearing on general government budget; May 3, work session to review results of public hearings; May 14, adoption of Board of Education budget; May 21, adoption of general government budget and setting of new tax rate; June 18, appointment of rate-maker.

All work sessions on both the Board of Education or general government budgets will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the caucus room of Town Hall. The public hearing on the Board of Education budget will be held at Timothy Edwards Middle School.

Board Will Consider School Study Results

BOLTON—Dr. Mark Shibles, consultant to the Board of Education, will meet with the board in open session Thursday to detail the results of his study of the Bolton school system.

The board will also meet on March 29 to take action on the recommendation of Raymond A. Allen Jr., superintendent of schools. Allen has recommended that the school system be kept K-12 as it is now.

Much thought has been given to closing the high school and to have high school students go to another school system on a tuition basis.

Town residents have received copies of a survey as to their thoughts about the school system. Allen said, "It is most important to the Board of Education to have as many residents as possible complete the survey."

Allen said the direction the Bolton school system is to take in the future is perhaps the most important issue to be considered in the town in the last 20 years. The questionnaire focuses on the present program as well as future educational alternatives. Information provided by residents will help the school board make decisions about present and future programs for its students, Allen said.

He said the board is particularly interested in the views concerning Bolton High School.

Besides a series of questions concerning the programs in the Bolton school system, the questionnaire also specifically asks for opinions concerning the high school. One concerners whether the cost of educating a student on the high school level is an important factor in deciding whether or not the school should be kept open.

It also asks if the high school should be closed if the respondent would prefer that the students be sent to Manchester, Rockville, or E. O. Smith high school. Respondents are also asked if they would favor other towns/sending their students to Bolton High.

Dr. Edward L'Amoreaux of the University of Connecticut will collate information contained in the survey and present a report, to the Board of Education.

Public Hearing Set On Two Subdivisions

SOUTH WINDSOR—The Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing Tuesday at 8 p.m. on the Council Chambers of Town Hall to consider the following applications:

Fifty Acres Limited, for an open space subdivision, consisting of about 40 acres located 1400 feet north of Miller Road between Nevers and Abby Road in an RR zone.

South Ridge Estates for an open space subdivision of about 60 acres, located on the west side of Nevers Road in an A-40 and A-20 zone.

Copies of the applications are on file in the Town Clerk's office. Interested persons may come to the meeting to speak for or against the approval of the application.
