

Basketball Court Bids Come in Low

MANCHESTER — The prices bid for improvements to the outdoor basketball courts at Washington School are lower than the town had estimated.

"That's good," Jay Giles, director of public works, said when told of the prices bid for the work.

The apparent low bidder for the job is Boutin & Sons Construction Co. Inc. of Broad Brook. It bid $3,925 to do the work, which includes resurfacing and painting lines for the outdoor courts.

The courts have been cracked and deteriorated and in need of repair for some time.

Giles said the town had set aside about $5,000 for the project, so the bid is well within the budget for the work.

A total of five firms bid on the job. The prices ranged from the $3,925 bid by Boutin to $6,500.

Awarding of the contract and starting the work should be done soon.

Weiss Budget Adds 6 Jobs

By GREG PEARSON
 Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — The $28,149,341 budget proposed by Town Manager Robert Weiss includes six new positions and funding for completion of Progress Drive and the purchase of two new Highway Department trucks.

Weiss listed the proposed six new positions, two of which are old positions being reinstated, in his budget message. The message is the first part of his budget package, which has to be completed today according to the Town Charter.

Town employees were working busily this morning printing and collating copies of the entire budget. Weiss had announced last week the amount of his budget, which is a 5.93 percent increase over the present year.

The entire budget package being prepared today includes detailed accounts of proposed department expenditures.

Weiss outlined some of the significant increases in his budget message.

He has recommended a total of new town-funded positions — a clerk II for the controller's office, a clerk II for the assessor's office, a junior engineering aide for the Engineering Department, a heavy truck driver for the Highway Department, a custodian for the Police Department and a custodian for the Recreation Department.

Two of the positions — the truck driver and the custodian previously had been town-funded but had been eliminated in recent years. Weiss now wants them reinstated.

Some of the other proposed new positions now are funded through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). Weiss is recommending they be funded with town monies once the present federal CETA funding expires.

The recreation director would be in charge of the West Side Rec program. The Police custodian, which would be the second custodian for the department, is needed because of expansion of the police building, Weiss said.

Weiss said he is "extremely concerned" about the Capital Improvement budget proposal. He has recommended $150,000 for that budget, which would fund completion of the Progress Drive construction and the purchase of two new highway trucks.

The manager's request for this budget is reduced sharply from what he has asked for in past years. He had been asked by the Democratic members of the Board of Directors to stay within a six percent increase for the 1979-80 budget request. This undoubtedly led to the sharp reduction.

Weiss said he fears the lack of Capital Improvement expenditures "in the long run may prove costly."

The budget's contingency account also includes some funds to continue CETA positions that might be deemed necessary if CETA funding is not continued, he said. Present funding runs out Sept. 30.

Arab Leaders Meet; Radicals Hit Targets

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — As Arab leaders met today to mete out punishment to Egypt, Israel and the United States for making a separate peace, Arab radicals took matters into their own hands and struck at Egyptian and Jewish targets around the world.

Terrorists bombed a market near Tel Aviv and a Jewish restaurant in Paris. Others stormed the Egyptian Embassy in Bangladesh and held the ambassador hostage for several hours. Hundreds marched in front of Egyptian embassies in Arab capitals as well as Athens, Belgrade, Madrid and Moscow.

Conference sources said a separate session of Arab foreign ministers, which ended late Tuesday, agreed on political sanctions aimed at isolating President Anwar Sadat's regime, including suspension of Egypt's membership in the Arab League and the removal of the League's headquarters from Cairo.

The sharpest words Tuesday were reserved for, in Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat's words, "the snake's head — the United States."

"Taking punitive measures against (President Anwar) Sadat are not enough. We must punish the engineer of the Egyptian-Israeli treaty — we must punish Carter," Arafat told the Arab ministers meeting in Baghdad today to plan strategy in response to the Egyptian-Israeli treaty.

"We must not just strike at the tail of the snake," Arafat said. "We must strike the snake's head — the United States," he said.

Conference sources said Arafat — aware of the negative reaction he faces from Arab ministers —

Oil Price Hike Will Affect All

By United Press International

Americans get it in the gas tank again. And in their home heaters, electric meters, shopping carts and unemployment checks.

That's the dismal consensus of economists reacting to the OPEC decision Tuesday to hike oil prices by 9.05 percent and allow members of the international oil cartel free rein to tack on any extra "surcharges" they want.

"The OPEC hike will affect every nook and cranny of our economy since oil is the basis of almost everything we use in our daily life," said Vincent Sgro, publisher of the Oil Buyers Guide in Lakewood, N.J.

Every nook and cranny includes at least 2 cents more on gasoline, at least 3 cents more on home heating oil, 5 percent more on domestic plane flights, higher electric and gas bills, a bigger trade deficit and more expensive vacations.

Economists predicted the OPEC action would add almost 0.5 percent this year to the nation's already heated inflation rate. And in Washington, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the OPEC increase would erode the purchasing power of the average American household by $50 in 1979 and reduce employment by 100,000 jobs.

The increase is likely to show up first in gas prices. U.S. energy officials said the OPEC move could boost gasoline prices by 2.4 cents per gallon by mid-May and by 5 cents at summer's end.

"By Labor Day when the OPEC increase has passed all the way through the system, it could easily add a nickel to the pump price of gas."

Americans also will find the higher cost of OPEC oil reflected in bigger prices for imports, Tovey said. Economists said the OPEC boost would widen the nation's trade deficit by about $2.4 billion, based on the rule-of-thumb that a rise of 10 cents in foreign oil prices is equivalent to about $200 million at current import levels.

The Judiciary Committee "boxed" the measure, meaning it's dead for this year. Ms. Gray speculates, like the spouse-roommate rape bill, it was just before its time.

"There was little discussion, so we don't know the exact reason. I suspect it's because people don't really understand the concept yet. Sometimes, it takes two or three years before it permeates the atmosphere enough."

The commission does have a number of proposals pending.

The organization's bill to provide shelters for battered spouses sailed through the Human Services Committee. Now, it's before the tight-lipped Appropriations Committee, which most likely will examine the measure's $317,000 price tag very closely.

The Human Services Committee is redrafting a related commission bill to require emergency room personnel and police to report instances of spouse abuse.

Another proposal Ms. Gray said may no longer be ahead of its time is one to help out women suddenly forced to earn their living due to divorce cases.

Women's Status Triumph Hopeful

HARTFORD (UPI) — It's too early to keep score, but Connecticut's Commission on the Status of Women believes it might come out on the plus side by the time the Legislature wraps up this year's session.

So far, two bills in the commission's package — which includes sleepers and headliners — have been killed. But, a number of others are still steaming or creeping their way through the legislative process.

One big disappointment, says spokeswoman Fredrica Gray, was a proposal to make it illegal to rape your spouse or roommate. The bill made for interesting newspaper copy but was buried by the Judiciary Committee.

"It's a touchy kind of issue," she said. "The argument it's hard to prove seems to carry a lot of weight, although that can be said for a lot of other kinds of criminal offenses. It's just coming out of the closet — the same way domestic violence was something that was just whispered about before."

Another proposal that never made it through the talking stage was one which would have required judges to look at couples' written or implied contracts in dividing property in divorce cases.

He's in Charleston, W.Va., as a visiting professor at Morris Harvey College. He calls rock 'n' roll fans, "a plague... a swarm of locusts... a blight that has fallen on civilization." According to Parish, today's kids really don't enjoy rock 'n' roll... they're just "conditioned to accept it." Says he, "They're hypocrites. I don't own their thing. Mason To Take Leave Before Quitting Position

By GREG PEARSON Herald Reporter MANCHESTER - Alan Mason, the town's director of human services, will take a leave of absence next month before his resignation becomes effective. This means Mason will be on leave during April, including the time of the town's annual meeting. The resignation was announced in a letter to Town Manager Robert Weiss. Town voters will decide April 17 on a proposed ordinance that would ban town participation in Community Development program for two years. The program has been the subject of much discussion in recent weeks. Community Development funding - about $500,000 annually - provides money for projects and programs in

Globe Pool Improvements Dependent on April Vote

By JUNE TOMPKINS Herald Reporter MANCHESTER - Any proposed plans for the improvement of Globe Hollow swimming pool are in a "holding pattern" until after the April 17 water referendum, Mel Siebold, town recreation director, told the Advisory Board of Health Tuesday. He said if the referendum is passed, there are a few alternatives to consider to purify the pool, such as pumping the water to the Cooper Hill Plant and back. He said that treatment of Globe Hollow pool will be the same this year as last. He said between $120 and $130 a day is spent on chemicals. The pool is hand chlorinated off the back of a boat by persons wearing goggles and a gas mask. "If they're caught without them, they lose two days' pay," he said. He explained that no one is allowed in the water for 45 minutes after. The chlorinating is usually done during lunch hour, he said. Dr. Alice Turek, Town Health

New President Sees Challenge

WEST HARTFORD (UPI) - The University of Connecticut's new president, Dr. John A. DiBiaggio, says the school has to be more effective in reaching the public and becoming a "greater force in the community at large." The decade ahead is a very challenging one for this university, DiBiaggio, a 45-year-old dentist and the first member of his immigrant family to attend college, said Tuesday upon being named UConn's tenth president. At a news conference at the university's West Hartford campus, Gov. Ella Grasso introduced DiBiaggio and said his unanimous selection by the UConn trustees reflected the "confidence and respect" with which he is held. ### Transit Plan Airs Tonight

MANCHESTER - A public hearing will be held tonight on a long-range transportation plan developed by the Capitol Region Council of Governments.

The session will start at 7:30 in the Municipal Building's Hearing Room and Mayor Stephen Penny will preside.

The Trans Plan has attempted to identify the transportation problems in the region and has proposed methods for meeting those problems.

Possible solutions include combination of rail, bus and highway systems in varying degrees.

"The advice that citizens of the region give their elected officials will aid in the important transportation decisions that lie ahead in 1979," a CROC announcement about the meeting said.

There is more than $200 million available for mass transit capital investment and the hearings about Trans Plan could help decide how that money is spent in the region. That money is from highway projects that were not built.

Health Board Seeking Funds to Keep Nurse

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - The Advisory Board of Health will ask the Board of Directors to use state money to maintain the position of a staff nurse in the Town Health Department.

Luis Ann Beckwith has been filling this position the past year as a CETA employee.

Tuesday, Ms. Beckwith described her duties to the health board. She told how she is involved with new employee physicals, screening programs, supervisors' training sessions, family health, immunization clinics, and early intervention programs for families of alcoholic drinkers.

She said that with preventive health being the "coming thing," the health department will need more than one person with health education background for it to be effective.

Board member Irene Smith, R.N., said she really believes in these programs. "We're going toward preventive health which will toward stopping rising health costs," she said.

The town's housing code inspections may have to be curtailed if federal Community Development funds are no longer available after an April 17 referendum.

Health Administrator Ronald Kraatz told the Advisory Board of Health if the residents vote for a two-year moratorium on HUD funds that the housing code inspections would be curbed by more than half.

Kraatz said that there is $24,000 in CD funds for the housing code enforcement, which combined with the town's money toward the program makes a total of $40,000.

Weiss Will Negotiate Land Deal with WINF

MANCHESTER - The town Board of Directors Tuesday night authorized Town Manager Robert Weiss to begin negotiations on the sale or lease of town property to local radio station WINF.

The town property under consideration is 10 acres on Love Lane. Weiss said Tuesday night that WINF likes the location for a new broadcast studio because it is close to its transmitter.

Weiss said he feels the radio studio would be a suitable use for the property as it has not attracted residential development because of shallow lots and lack of utilities.

Weiss said he will negotiate a price for the sale or lease of the property. The Planning and Zoning Commission will then have to make final approval on construction plans.

WINF is presently located in offices at 257 E. Center St. and is interested in expanding its studio space, possibly to accommodate an FM frequency.

The station was bought by Broadcast Management Corp. of Ohio in January.

Barry Votes in Minority On Eva Hudak Nomination

HARTFORD - For the first time in memory, a panel of legislative leaders has rejected a gubernatorial nomination - Eva Hudak's nomination to the State Board of Education.

The Executive Nominations Committee, without debate, Tuesday voted 8-3 against the nomination, which still must be acted on by the House and Senate.

One of the legislators voting for the nomination, Sen. David M. Barry, D-Manchester, said after examining evidence he concluded the majority of the sentiment expressed about Mrs. Hudak was a reaction to her outspoken conservative stands on several controversial issues.

Barry said he believed the nomination seems to have polarized support and opinion based, not on the intrinsic value of the women herself, but rather on her viewpoint and style.

Mrs. Hudak, from Torrington, a state bail commissioner, is a devout Roman Catholic who adamantly opposes abortion, sex education, gay rights and the Equal Rights Amendment.

Barry said while he does not share her views on many, if not most of the issues to which she has addressed, he said he believed she has a right to the views and she should not be disqualified from membership on the State Board of Education.

"Her viewpoints on these subjects are shared by a substantial segment of Connecticut's population, and if we practice the minority representation that we preach, we ought to be able to find room for a different point of view on the board," Barry said.

Eva Hudak

Barry was joined in the vote for Mrs. Hudak by Senate President Pro Tem Joseph Paulino, D-Hartford and Rep. John Groppo, D-Winsted.

Veteran political observers, some with 30 years of experience at the Capitol, said it was the first time they could remember a legislative committee rejecting a gubernatorial nomination.

Barry, in supporting his vote for Mrs. Hudak, said, "Another reason that I support the Hudak nomination is because I feel that the legislature has created a double standard for admission to the State Board of Education."

"Mrs. Hudak has little formal education and much has been made of the fact that she had not heard of 'The Scarlet Letter.'"

Barry said he has suggested to some committee members that queries should be made into the literary knowledge of other education board members if this is going to be used as evidence of Mrs. Hudak's lack of qualifications.

"One of its members now has an opportunity to serve at the policy-making level. If the legislature denies her this nomination, it is telling her that she does not fit in as an acceptable nominee, or that she does not meet the elitist standards conjured up by legislators who are themselves as diverse and heterogeneous a group as exists anywhere on the face of the earth," Barry said.

Barry said he sees the Hudak nomination as a challenge to the legislators to see whether or not they can subordinate their own views on controversial issues to the broader and timeless principle that all views must be heard, even those with which we disagree.

"Bell Abzug can scream from the left," Barry said, "If the Abzugs can be heard then the Eva Hudak's should be heard also."

Rockville Group, Mayor Unsure on Redevelopment

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

VERNON - Members of the Northwest Rockville Neighborhood Association wondered Tuesday night, along with Mayor Frank McCoy, if the redevelopment project was the best thing for the Rockville section of town.

The association is made up of a group of residents of the Rockville section who are dedicated to the improvement of the area.

Mayor McCoy, who was the guest speaker last night, complimented the group for its work saying it played a very important role in the community.

He said as a rule public officials are always a little afraid of "neighborhood groups." He said they fear they might be an active, negative group but must be now formed to correct some problems and are a thinking of the betterment of the community.

He recalled that when the Rockville association was formed, the members talked about problems in the area and one of the major ones was the sidewalk situation. As a result of their concern, the town adopted a sidewalk ordinance.

McCoy said when he first ran for mayor there was a big question as to how sidewalk construction would work in the rural area of town. He said the residents of Skinner Road petitioned for sidewalks and when they found that abutting property owners would have to pay some of the cost for them, they voted almost 3-1 against having them.

Since that time, an ordinance was adopted which allows the town to pay the cost of putting in sidewalks in areas where it is deemed it's dangerous for children walking to school. Skinner Road now has sidewalks in the school area.

Later the ordinance was amended to include reconstruction of sidewalks and the town embarked on a five-year program which was bogged down, after the first year, due to the lack of funds. The town is now getting Community Development Grant money to continue the program in Rockville.

"This is one instance where this association acted positively from the beginning," the mayor said.

He also cited the association for its work in the area of zoning and the changes that more or less barred fast food restaurants in certain zones. They have to come in by special permit.

The mayor said the curbing of the number of massage parlors, through ordinance, was another problem abated through zoning.

Referring to the more recent formation of the Village Street Area Neighborhood Organization, McCoy said he thought the Rockville Association encouraged the formation of that group and the reactivation of the long-standing, but dormant, Belton Lake Association.

The mayor said the Village Street Organization is becoming important and the town recognizes the problems in that area. "I think it will be taken care of."

Robert Hurst, head of the association, expressed the fear that the proposed Buckland Commons shopping area will draw stores from the Vernon Circle area.

The group also touched on the matter of the proposal made by Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, to close the Spikes School in Rockville and all expressed the hope that people will forcefully work to keep the school open.

Witnesses Return
From Conference

MANCHESTER - Fresh from a two-day Bible conference in Massachusetts, members of the Manchester Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will hear the local presentation this Sunday of a special lecture that is being given throughout the United States.

The talk, "Happy Though Hungry - How Can It Be?," will be given at 9:30 Sunday morning at the local Kingdom Hall, 647 Tolland Turnpike. It will be delivered by George T. Chappell, an elder in the Manchester Congregation. The talk, based on material provided by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, is being given in almost 7,500 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the United States this week.

The local Witnesses were at the Natick, Mass., conference last week along with more than 1,000 Witnesses from congregations in Hartford, Warehouse Point, Enfield, Rockville and Williamam. The program consisted of eight hours of Bible lectures and discussions built around the theme, "Keeping Clean and Zealous For Fine Works." The peak attendance was 1,241 on Sunday afternoon when D. Rafopoulos, a representative of the Watchtower Society, delivered the public address, "A Cleaned Earth - Will You Live To See It?"

Councilmen To Resign Charter Revision Unit

VERNON - Because the Vernon Fire Department, through its attorney, questioned the makeup of the new Charter Revision Commission, specifically the fact that three Town Council members are on it, two of the councilmen have said they will resign from the commission.

Councilmen Stephen Marcham and Morgan Campbell have said they will resign but the third council member, Jane Lamb, will remain.

William Breslau, town attorney, said that he feels that the complaint about the number of public officials on the commission was legitimate. The firemen said the council members will also be voting on the recommendations.

Other members of the commission are members of other town boards, and some are firemen; they are not considered public officials and therefore can remain on the commission. Mr. Lamb was chairman of the study group and wants to see the matter through to the end.

It is expected the mayor, on approval of the council will appoint two other persons to fill the vacancies created by the resignations of Campbell and Marcham.

Directors Differ on CD In Talk at Their Church

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - Two differing viewpoints about the Community Development program were expressed by two members of Center Congregational Church who also serve as members of the Town Board of Directors.

Democratic Director Stephen Cassano, who supports continuation in the program, and Republican Director Carl Zinsner, who wants the town to drop out of the program for two years, discussed the issue Tuesday night at a forum held by the church and attended by about 20 persons.

Town voters will decide April 17 about an ordinance that proposes a two-year ban on town participation in the Community Development program. The program annually provides funds to the community, and the money is to be used primarily for programs that benefit low- and moderate-income residents.

Opponents feel, however, that the federal government has established too many restrictions for the town to meet before it receives the funds. Zinsner is one who feels that way. He said supporters of the program have argued they will drop out of the program as soon as federal demands become unreasonable.

"I think we've arrived at that point," Zinsner said.

He referred to two steps the town had to take to receive present-year funds - the distribution of a fair housing brochure and the hiring of an equal opportunity coordinator.

Cassano, though, said those two steps are a small price to pay to receive $500,000 per year. The fair housing brochure is comparable to a Chamber of Commerce pamphlet telling about the good things in Manchester, he said.

The town already has been told it will have no further obligations to meet to receive next year's funds, Cassano said.

Zinsner questioned what might be future requirements to continue in the program. He said, for instance, that if Manchester has failed to meet its Housing Assistance Plan (HAP) figures, the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development might try to find reasons why the figures were not obtained. (The HAP sets figures for low and moderate-income housing units in town.)

This could include a review of the town's zoning regulations, Zinsner said.

Cassano responded that no member of the Town Board of Directors would support a proposed change in zoning if such a step was recommended by HUD.

"HUD has not even read our zoning or reviewed it," Cassano said. "They have simply asked questions they ask in every community."

He also said the HAP figures are goals for housing units in town. "That's a goal, not a contract," he said of HAP, and he said such steps as the housing rehabilitation loan program can help meet those figures. The loan program, funded through Community Development, provides funds for improvements to existing residential units.

The differing view of the two directors was evident when they discussed the need for the Community Development money.

Cassano mentioned several projects funded through Community Development, including the loan program, and Urban Development. "We don't realize how much we've depended on these dollars. We do not pay a high tax rate. One of the reasons has been we've been enterprising," he said. The town's receipt of the federal funds has helped keep the tax rate in check and also has funded programs that would have been funded with town tax dollars or just would not have been done, he said.

Zinsner disagreed on two points.

"I think our taxes are in a shambles," he said, stepping into the usual Democratic-Republican budget debate.

"Most of these things are nice to have," Zinsner said of the programs funded through Community Development. "But, when you have to spend tax dollars on it, you have to look at it again."

Vernon Police Patrols Sought on Ecker Land

VERNON - Vernon Police have been asked to step up patrol of the Ecker property in the area of the Middle School since two councilmen noticed that someone has been chopping down some of the trees in that area.

Councilmen Stephen Marcham and Morgan Campbell, both expressed concern, at Monday night's council meeting, because they had noticed that someone had chopped down 10 large trees.

Marcham said, "It bodes ill for a precedent if we allow our public resources to be taken in such a manner."

Mayor Frank McCoy and the councilmen asked William Breslau, town attorney, to research the matter and see if there is anything in the town's parks ordinance which would cover this offense.

Breslau said that if a person is caught cutting down the trees on the town property then this would be considered trespassing or larceny or both.

Zinsner said of the programs funded through Community Development. "But, when you have to spend tax dollars on it, you have to look at it again."

Coventry School Staff Keeps Cafeteria Union

COVENTRY - Despite the fact that after two years they still do not have a contract, school cafeteria workers in the Coventry school system, voted Tuesday, 9-6, to remain unionized.

The cafeteria workers voted in May 1977 to join the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, but a year later they still didn't have a contract.

During negotiations the wage scale has been frozen except for the increase in minimum wage.

There was a question as to whether or not four workers, who were not employees when the workers petitioned to vote again on whether or not to stay unionized, were legal. However, they were allowed to vote and three voted in favor of the union and one against.

It is expected that negotiations will continue soon. Both sides are awaiting a report from a state fact finder. According to officials, if both sides accept the report, this would be a basis of a contract.

Church, Club Start Group

VERNON - The First Congregational Church of Vernon, in cooperation with its Community Singles Club, has started a support group for divorced and separated persons of area towns.

The group meets each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the homes of members.

Paul Davis, president of the Community Singles Club, who initiated the support group and arranges for professional counselors and psychologists to take part in some of the sessions, is encouraging divorced and separated persons to join the group and to find support from others who have gone through similar problems or are facing them.

The Rev. John Lacey, pastor of the church, serves as a resource person and advisor. The club provides social activities on weekend evenings and a monthly informative meeting on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

For more information about the club or the support group call Ms. Davis, 875-1791 or Pastor Lacey, 875-9411.

TOWN OF MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT

March 23, 1979

TO: BOARD OF DIRECTORS
FROM: R. B. WEISS, GENERAL MANAGER

SUBJECT: Recommended Budget Fiscal Year Beginning July 1, 1979

In conjunction with the preparation of the budget for this year, the Board of Directors changed their normal practice of entering the process after the presentation by the Manager of his recommendation by stipulating that the Manager should come forth with a maximum expenditure increase of 6% overall. This goal setting approach while very helpful in some ways, was difficult to achieve due to the uneven effect of inflation and fixed costs on various portions of the budget. This is indicated in the General Fund Summary below.

	ADOPTED 1978-79	RECOMMENDED 1979-80	PERCENT INCREASE	DOLLAR INCREASE
Board of Education	$15,582,756	$16,517,934	6.0%	$935,178
Insurance & Debt Serv.	1,672,926	2,015,536	20.5%	342,610
Balance of General Fd.	2,318,622	2,615,871	3.2%	297,249
	$26,574,304	$29,149,341	5.9%	$1,575,037

As you review this budget you will note severe reductions in most departments - some of which represent lowered levels of service. I am particularly concerned with the reduced level of Capital Improvements which in the long run can prove costly. Due to extremely tight control of expenditures in the present year by management and the cooperative efforts of operating departments, most of the salary adjustments anticipated to be funded from the Contingency Account have been absorbed within departmental budgets. I am therefore recommending that $100,000 from Contingency be transferred in the current year to Capital Reserve to help ease this problem.

On the reverse side of the budget - the overall amount to be raised by taxation shows an increase of approximately 6%. Fortunately, we have had a healthy increase in the Grand List, as well as a substantial surplus from prior years available for appropriation. While the phase-in makes comparisons on a year-to-year basis difficult, without phase-in considerations - we would probably have required no tax rate increase to meet this budget. The phase-in does of course represent a significant savings to most residential taxpayers over the five-year period.

The General Fund Budget as recommended will require a tax rate of 46.41 mills - subject to any adjustments by the Board of Tax Review.

The Fire District recommended budget anticipates a 3.6% increase in expenditures and a rate of 637 mills. Unfortunately the loss of the increased tax rate. Funds are also in this budget pending a possible legal action by the Eighth Utilities District to remove will require a 16% rate increase and the Sewer Budget a slight decrease for residential users and an increase for large users, all of whom will now pay at the same rate. The Data Processing Center Budget is down 20%.

Former Official Got No Respect New Youth Programs Include Job Service

SOUTH WINDSOR - Peter Santarpia, director of the Social Services department resigned because of "a parent lack of respect for the professional nature of our operation," according to a recent statement.

When Santarpia resigned two weeks ago, effective April 13, he refused to state specific reasons for his decision, however, some local officials felt the controversial aid given to a local family, victims of a Christmas Eve fire, was possibly one of the reasons for the surprise resignation.

Santarpia said that "certain local officials" showed a "lack of consideration and respect" for the department's salary levels and other budget requests.

Santarpia said, however, that he would possibly reconsider his resignation if local officials could give him some guarantee that autonomy would be granted his department and there would be more responsiveness to budget requests.

Santarpia's reasons for resigning were challenged by Town Manager Allan Young and Mayor Nancy Caffyn however, who said they felt the Social Services Department receives the "same autonomy" as any other department.

Young said that the proposed 1979-80 budget shows a 25 percent increase over the present year's allocations. "I don't call this too restrictive," said Young.

Mrs. Caffyn said she believed the Social Services Department proposed budget "shows strong support from the town manager."

Although Young has not publicly commented on whether or not he would like Santarpia to reconsider his resignation, he said that he felt he and Santarpia "had worked well together."

Young said that he and the director had "disagreed on small funding points" during budget deliberations but had no major differences.

New Fashion Attention For Men of Dimension

If you (or the men in your life) are accustomed to walking into a fine men's store and buying a 40 regular suit or jacket, pass this by.

However, if you, along with countless other men who above six feet three inches tall or who have broad shoulders and a narrow waist for that matter, who have narrow shoulders and a larger waist; if you have ever wanted to buy off-the-rack, without countless alterations that make tailors go blind, take heart.

Along with 20 percent of American men — you are an "extra size" and yes, there are fashion oriented companies who understand your specific needs and problems. Best yet, these firms are turned in to what is happening in the fashion front and are making suits and sportcoats that compare favorably with anything those more ordinarily proportioned types are being offered.

Being a larger size does not have to be an anathema. Style and comfort are possible.

Women have known for years that all bodies are not created equal — some of us get more or less in one place than another. And women's designers have made fashion inroads to reach those tall, fat, thin, short Men, it is your turn. One firm, V-Line, founded in the 1890's, is run by the same family who began in the late 1930's to specialize exclusively in extra sizes.

The specialization has paid off. They are represented in growing numbers of fine stores.

Each season they have growing number of handsomely dressed customers. The president of the firm, (the parent company of which is well-known After Six, Inc.) Jim Etelson said at a recent fashion conference, "too many times we have all stood in front of mirror holding in our breath or trying to stand taller or squat lower to make a garment fit.

"Don't bother, it will never fit — even if you continue to stand there for fitting after fitting. The balance is wrong. Extra sized men have extra sized postures — they hold their entire bodies differently and every line of a suit should be modified to their physique — rather than the suit being sewn and resewen to fit them."

On the subject of current fashions, Etelson told his audience, "Aisance means 'comfort' in French. It is the name an important new fabric to us. This modern Dacron-worsted blend, in a tropical weight for spring and summer, has a built in comfort factor — 11 percent stretch. No one appreciates a little give more than a big man!"

He continued, "Our sole purpose is to offer a capsule view of the most important trends in men's fashions. Therefore, spring will be colorful and it will have more surface interests. There is a lot of use of the natural fibers and the Dacron blends with textures.

"If an extra sized man were to buy only one garment this spring, it should definitely be a blazer. Blazers come in a whole range of soft colors and can go with many slacks to create several looks. A blazer will also be more usable and more comfortable than any garment currently hanging in his closet."

Suit may not make any of us physically thinner or shorter or taller or even heavier.

A blazer cannot order a chef salad instead of more apple pie and trousers can't exercise all alone but how great to know a well-tailored garment can and does make extra-sized men look their very best for a fashionable '79 spring!

Unbeatable Appeal

Inflation-fighting Should Sell Dresses

Ellie Grossman

NEW YORK — Diogenes didn't know where to look. If he'd nosed around New York's garment center, he would have found his honest man — Joel Kaufmann, president of R&M Kaufmann which makes Vicky Vaughn junior dresses and Tom Todd missy dresses.

He flew in from Chicago the other day and did some straight talking about gimmicks, sales and patriotism. "We did the 'Inflation Fighters' as a door opener, to get the buyers in," he said. "We never would have done them if we expected to sell just them and not the rest of the lines."

"Them" are 13 dresses — seven Vicky Vaughns, six Tom Todds — originally designed to retail for $40 but which Kaufmann and his brain trust engineered to go for $30 each instead.

Kaufmann's reasoning — back in October, in the Dallas Apparel Mart — went like this. Buyers are laying up our spring lines. What can we do for summer to start them clapping their order pads together? What, in short, has unbeatable appeal? Inflation and the aroma of mom's defrosted apple pie — otherwise known as patriotism.

Well, then we'll take seven of the 100 styles inflate planned for summer and deflate them — for the good of the uh, country.

Cut down on detail (pockets, for instance) but keep enough for interest, a little smocking a little stripping, a V-neck here, a keyhole collar there. Buy polyester in bulk and "save a nickel or a dime a yard which is reflected in the retail price," make a couple of sundresses, some easy two-piece outfits.

That's what Kaufmann Kluge did and come March and April in 10,000 outlets across the country.

The consumer will be pleased. Carter will grin, and Mrs. Kaufmann will wipe away a pridel tear because Sonny is not only a good businessman, he's a patriot.

Adele Simpson's Spring: Sleek, Sophisticated

Slim, sleek and sophisticated are the three words that best describe the new silhouette from the Adele Simpson collection for spring.

To quote Adele: "Women are leading the way in the American culture explosion — cultivating their bodies, participating in sports, moving up in business, developing the arts and becoming leaders of change in American living."

Daytime looks have shoulders that are padded and padded, skirts that are slim and slit, and there is a waistline focus to complete the total picture. All are done in luxurious combinations of fabric and color.

Classic suitings with meticulous tailoring in the Adele Simpson tradition are done in linen and silk shantung. These new dressed up suits doubles as perfect executive looks that go right into evening.

Jackets are fitted and have satin trimmed collars, and blouses are silk crepe, or charmeuse.

For the more adventuresome, there are strapless dresses in linen with cinched-in waistlines and short cropped jackets.

Sleek dresses are done in silk crepe de chine and have exciting patterns of stripes or dots. Gone are the murky tones. Colors are brilliant and crisp, with reds, blues, strong tobaccos and violets.

For cocktail and evening Adele Simpson embraces the return of the black dress. A sexy wrap dress on a sheer dotted georgette with a deep neckline and tulip skirt provides the glamour for cocktail and dinner dressing.

In addition, charmeuse disco dresses in electric blue and shocking pink complete the Simpson emphasis on the important cocktail dress.

Sensational evenings are ahead in draped silk chiffon ruffled georgette and daring one shouldered Qiana jerseys in shocking pinks and vibrant navy blues.

Leggy slits and cummerbund beltings make this body-conscious attitude into pure Adele Simpson fashion excitement.

Fashion Notes

High Rise Helps
High rise jeans help "lengthen" short legs by drawing the eye upward.

Bag It Yourself
Make your own belt bag from some brocade or satin, using silk cord for the belt.

Hat Hint
Don't wear a hat if you're afraid to crush your hair. Either tuck the hair in neatly, or go hatless.

Pale With Pearls
Always look at pearls in natural light and against a pale background to see how the light sets them off.

Wrap Caution
Make sure a wrap skirt wrapped in the back doesn't compromise you by flying open and revealing a slip that's too short or a strikingly different color.

Block That Hat
If hats are your thing, keep them in shape by blocking them from time to time.

A Hue to Have
Judge pearls by their color, luster, origin, size and shape. Those with a rosette hue are worth having, for instance.

Swan Illusion
If you're full-breasted, a V-neck will help provide the illusion of a swan neck.

Soften for Spring
Severe man-tailoring is out for spring, so soften that suit with a V-neck short-sleeve sweater.

Denure Dials
The yellow ribbon around a petite bottle of perfume and wear it for decoration around your neck and for occasional dab.

Cooperation Urged as CD Solution

We have witnessed the Community Development funding program develop into a highly emotional affair. Many people lose sight of the benefits which accrue to the town of Manchester.

Faithful friends

There is no reason on earth why Idi Amin should have a friend on earth. But he does, and a very useful one. The Ugandan tyrant, facing the most serious threat yet to his reign in an invasion by Tanzania, is the beneficiary of military equipment and according to some reports troops from Libyan leader Col. Muammar al-Qaddafi.

Cooperation Urged as CD Solution

We can't see a resolution of the problem unless people are made aware of the facts. It is stressed that HUD is too restrictive, but so far these restrictions haven't materialized and refusal of the funds will eliminate future benefits. If, God forbid, our foreign (enemies) have their way, we would be pushed back to square one.

Burn victims require long hospital stays and significant amounts of intravenous fluids and antibiotics in their treatment, as well as extensive medical care. The auditors point out matter-of-factly, "During the initial phase of a war, medical resources would be extremely limited. An unusual number of burn victims will have a serious impact on our medical treatment capabilities."

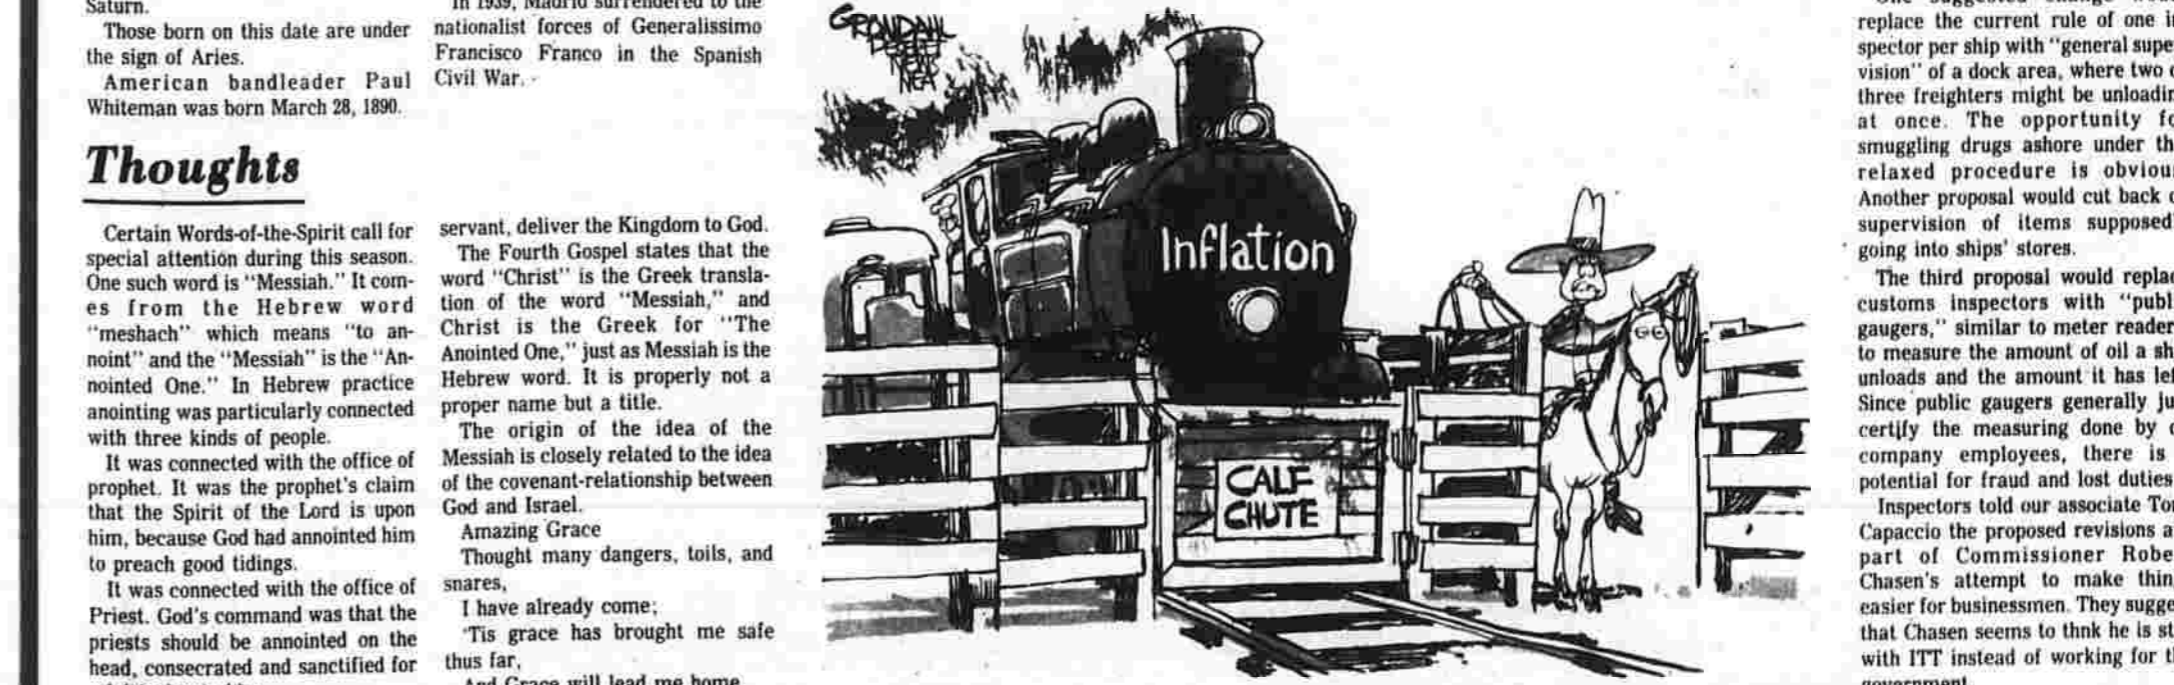

FALSE ECONOMY?

A move by the Customs Service to save money on ship inspections may prove to be false economy. Inevitably, this will make it easier to smuggle drugs into the country and to evade legitimate duties on other products.

HARTFORD - An engineer for a Manchester firm has testified that most traffic now using Burnham Street would switch to a new road through the Buckland Industrial Park if the street is closed.

John Thompson, an engineer for Fuss & O'Neill of Manchester, took the stand Tuesday during the second day of a court case between Manchester and South Windsor. The case involves Manchester's proposal to close Burnham Street just past its intersection with Croft Drive.

It is such a step is taken most drivers now using Burnham Street would instead travel on the recently constructed road through the industrial park in Manchester, Thompson said in response to questions from William Shea, assistant town attorney for Manchester.

South Windsor officials oppose closing Burnham Street to through traffic. They have said such a step would increase traffic on Windsor street streets, particularly Clark Street and Pleasant Valley Road.

A second engineer from Fuss & O'Neill, Walter Foss, also testified Tuesday. He said he had no opinion about whether or not Burnham Street should be closed off, and he made no such recommendation to the Town of Manchester.

Manchester promised to defend between two routes - one through South Windsor, the other down industrial park road - if the street is closed.

Thompson, who continued his testimony today, said that most traffic would use the industrial park road and Tolland Turnpike as a substitute

Don't shed any tears for the New England Whalers, when and if all bridges are crossed and the four World Hockey Association entries merge with the National Hockey League.

Howard Baldwin, managing general partner of the Whalers, is optimistic that the move, if approved, will provide New England with better personnel than the club now boasts.

Baldwin indicated that the Whalers would not lose many front liners and stood an excellent chance to pick up some equally good performers in the proposed draft which would include players not protected by NHL clubs.

If the Whalers gain admittance to the NHL, it would be long overdue to change the name of the Connecticut-based entry from the New England Whalers to the Hartford Whalers. It would also give Hartford a little more identity.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Another major league baseball season opens in one week, but the games may go on with substitute umpires since a federal judge has ruled that he can't order regular umpires to return to work.

U.S. District Judge Joseph McElynn said Tuesday he had no authority to end the umpires' walkout, since they had refused to sign individual contracts for the 1979 season.

McElynn said by agreeing with attorneys for the American and National Leagues by signing the 51 umpires were acting in "a concert of action" with attorney Richie Phillips but all walking out at the same time, but added umpires were not acting illegally.

The umpires have refused to report for spring training in a demand for more money. They claim they are negotiating their contracts individually through Phillips and are not conducting a concerted strike.

There is a concert of action under maestro Richie Phillips, but I have no authority to order the umpires back to work because the collective bargaining agreement is triggered only when the umpires are under contract," McElynn said.

In a statement released Tuesday night, Phillips said the umpires were "jubilant over what they consider to be the most significant victory in the history of their long, arduous and heretofore unfortunate negotiations with baseball."

American League President Lee McPhail said the leagues would abide by the judge's ruling and attempt to locate other umpires to work opening games on April 4, 5 and 6.

"If these umpires don't want to work for us, we'll have to find other umpires who do," he said. "We'll have umpires when the season begins."

Phillips claimed that substitute umpires would be an attempt by the leagues to "to fast upon America an inferior product, a product whose integrity is no longer above reproach."

Phillies Needed Pitching, Hebner Traded to Mets

NEW YORK (UPI) - Philadelphia General Manager Paul Owens was forced to do something he hated to do Tuesday, and New York Mets Manager Joe Torre loves him for it.

"I tried to give up Richie Hebner and I hired not to, but Danny (Phillies Manager Ozark) and I both felt we had to have a pitcher," Owens said about the deal that sent the 31-year-old Hebner to the Mets for 25-year-old right-hander Nino Espinosa. The Mets also received minor league infielder Jose Moreno.

Espinosa has a lifetime record of only 25-33 in a little over two years with the Mets, but Torre is counting on the Dominican to fill in immediately for Larry Christenson, currently sidelined with a broken collarbone. Another right-hander, Dick Rutten, is ailing with knee chips in his elbow.

Espinosa was 11-15 with a 4.72 ERA in 204 innings for the Mets in 1978. The left-handed Hebner, who will probably play third base for New York, batted .283 with 11 home runs and 71 RBI last season. He has a lifetime average of .278 and 156 homers over 10 major-league seasons with Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Most of the other news also took place off the field Tuesday. St. Louis shortstop Garry Templeton, displeased with Cardinals management, said he would not put out a full effort for the team this season and demanded to be traded. Templeton, 28, who is in his third full year, was paid $100,000 last year and was boosted to about $130,000 this year. However, he became angry two-run home run in the 15th inning to break a scoreless tie and power Montreal to victory over Baltimore.

Amos Ohts' fifth-inning grand slam homer ignited Kansas City past Pittsburgh.

George Foster's third spring home run lifted the Reds past the White Sox as Ray Knight, heir to Pete Rose's third base job, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and boosted his spring average to .35.

Jim Sundberg homered to pace a 5-hit attack as Texas swapped Minnesota's Mike Norris, Dave Hamilton and Jim Todd combined to pitch the A's to a 2-0 victory over the Indians.

Cecil Cooper, Gorman Thomas, Robin Yount and Dick Davis all homered as the Brewers battered the Cubs.

Rod Carew had a three-run homer, a single and two walks to lead California to a wild triumph over Seattle after the Angels signed veteran outfielder Willie Davis. John Montezuma allowed only one run in six innings while hurling the Giants past the Padres.

Greg Luzinski hammered two homers and Mike Schmidt, Bake McBride and Todd Cruz hit one each to power the Phillies past the Tigers.

Barry Bonds had three RBI, Gary Matthews four hits and Jeff Burroughs a two-run homer as the Braves outslugged the Mets.

when New General Manager John Campbell suggested a 10 percent pay cut because of Templeton's drop to a .280 average from .322 the previous year.

In Philadelphia, a federal judge ruled he had no authority to order major-league baseball umpires back to work since they had refused to sign individual contracts for the 1979 season.

Guy Lafleur scored once and assisted three times in the first period, helping the rebounding Canadiens to score a victory over Atlanta. Steve Nappier added two goals and Mark Shutt added two goals to Montreal's 4-1 lead 2:12 after the opening faceoff.

Bob Murray scored a short-handed goal with 22 seconds left in the second period to enable Chicago to tie Colorado. Murray's goal came just two minutes after Ray Coenau had given Colorado a 1-0 lead.

Vancouver scored three goals in the second period and easily went on to defeat Detroit. The three goals, scored by rookies Carl Frieser and Stan Smyl and captain Don Lever, enabled Vancouver to take a 4-1 lead into the third period. The win moved Vancouver 11 points ahead of the St. Louis Blues and virtually assured the Canucks of the final playoff spot in the NHL.

James Mullin has been appointed varsity baseball coach at Bolton High, it has been announced by Mike Landolph, director of athletics.

Mullin, 25, is a seventh semester student at the University of Connecticut majoring in physical education. He is from New London currently residing in Willington. He served as an assistant basketball coach at UConn this past season.

Mullin succeeded Bob Muro, who vacated the post after two fruitless campaigns. The Bulldogs were directed for two seasons by Muro and were winless in 35 outings, gone 0-19 a year ago.

Bolton, probably the smallest high school in the state, has fallen on its times in most recent years in all sports. In 1976, though, the baseball team logged a 7-1 record under Landolph.

Rangers Blow 4-0 Lead, Tie; Esposito May Have Broken Toe

NEW YORK (UPI) - A lot more than a valuable point in the standings may have been lost. Phil Esposito might have broken a toe and the collective confidence of the upstart New York Rangers may have been shaken beyond repair.

Philadelphia, a team that does not understand the meaning of a lost cause, turned a 4-0 deficit into a 4-4 tie by scoring three times in the third period Tuesday night, the last goal coming off the stick of Mel Bridgman with 2:54 remaining.

A crowd of over 17,000 saw it and found it difficult to believe. Entering the game with a one-point lead over the Flyers for second place in the Patrick Division, the Rangers struck early when Mike McEwen slipped a sassy 45-footer by a startled Wayne Stephenson at 1:42 of the first period.

When Don Murdoch rifled in a wrist shot from 20 feet at 1:07 of the second period, the Flyers kicked out 37 shots and the Penguins moved within one point of making the Stanley Cup playoffs by stretching their undefeated string to nine games. Tom Bladon, Jacques Coussa and Ron Stackhouse, Orest Kidrichuk and Peter Lee scored for the Penguins while Tim Young managed the final period when his weak shot stopped him from in front. The Flyers continued to swarm and finally Bridgman, gathering up a rebound of Rick Lapointe's slapshot, drilled a 15-footer into the net at 17:06.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Pittsburgh outscored Minnesota 5-1. Montreal downed Atlanta 6-4, Colorado tied Chicago 1-1, and Vancouver defeated Detroit 5-2. In the WHA, Birmingham topped New England 3-1, Penguins 5, North Stars 1.

Manchester Police Report

MANCHESTER - Thomas J. Kibbie, 47, of 21 St. John St. was arrested on several charges in connection with an assault and vandalism near Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School Tuesday.

Kibbie was charged with conspiracy to commit fourth-degree larceny, third-degree assault and third-degree criminal mischief. A 19-year-old youth complained that a youth siphoned gas from his vehicle in the school parking lot and was seen running from the area by two witnesses.

When the youth and two witnesses approached a van which was struck boarded near the lot, one of the witnesses was struck in the face, and the original victim's car was hit with a tire iron, police reported. Kibbie was arrested later in the evening in connection with the incident. He was released for court April 9.

Nancy E. Brown, 20, of 165 St. John St. was arrested on a charge of third-degree larceny in connection with a shopping incident at the D&L store in the Parkade Tuesday afternoon. Later she was charged with possession of a controlled substance when 12 pills were found in her handbag. She was also charged with fourth-degree larceny by possession when a stolen driver's license and majority card were found in her purse. She was held in lieu of $1,000 bond and taken to Hartford police lock-up.

Robert L. Mahoney, 28, of Hartford was charged with third-degree burglary and third-degree larceny in connection with a February break-in at Manchester Pipe and Supply. Some stereo equipment was taken in the break-in. Court date is April 16.

Richard J. Kenney, 61, of 1083 Tolland Turnpike was charged with storing and scavenging junk vehicles and operating a motor vehicle junk yard at the same address. He was arrested on a zoning summons issued by Ernest

Michigan State Looms As Cage Power Again

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — NCAA basketball champion Michigan State — losing only one senior — automatically becomes one of the favorites for next year's Final Four at Indianapolis.

But the Spartans and consolation winner DePaul once again proved that college basketball domination was swung away from UCLA the 10-time national champion.

MSU will lose forward Greg Kessler. But if sophomore Earvin Johnson returns to East Lansing, Mich., the Spartans will have the power, size and speed to make a run for the national crown in 1980.

Johnson was voted the tournament's outstanding player after he led Michigan State to a 101-47 thrashing of Penn in the NCAA semifinals and a 76-65 win over Indiana State in Monday night's championship game.

But Johnson is rumored to be on his way to the NBA as a hardship case. The MSU "Magic Man" scored 53 points in the two tournament games and was part of the NCAA zone defense that caged collegiate players of the year Larry Bird in the championship game, limiting Bird to just 19 points — 10 below his average — just two assists. While the rest of the Spartans return, Bird's graduation will take the heart out of ISU's offense and defense. Bird led the Sycamores in scoring and averaged 15 rebounds per game.

Michigan State's NCAA title is the fourth straight for a team other than UCLA. Kentucky won in 1978, while Marquette took the crown in '77 after Indiana broke the Bruins' stranglehold with the title in '76.

UCLA had won 10 NCAA crowns between 1957 and Indiana's victory. And the Bruins had been in the Final Four in every year during that stretch except 1966 when they lost to Utah in the Western Regionals.

But UCLA has been unable to make it out of the West for three straight years, losing this season to DePaul, 95-91, at Provo, Utah.

DePaul, led by freshman scoring sensation Mark Aguirre, 6'03 in the Final Four for the first time since 1943. And the Blue Demons' 65-year-old coach, Ray Meyer, says, "If we get the three recruits we're after, we'll be back next year."

Aguirre joined Johnson, Kessler and Bird on the national all-tournament team by scoring 34 points in the Bruins' 86-83 consolation win over Penn in overtime. DePaul also returns guard Clyde Bradshaw and center Jim Mitchen. But Penn — the first Ivy League school in the Final Four since Princeton in 1965 — will also likely be one of the favorites for next year's Final Four at Indianapolis.

The Sycamores were unbeaten in 23 games going into the final, only the 11th team in tournament history with such a record.

ISU fell behind early, 16-8. And the Sycamores were never able to get closer than six in the second half.

"It's hard to come from behind all night," Hodges added. "But we gained it our best shot."

The Spartans hit a low when they were 44-41 in the Big 10, after losing 83-65 to Northwestern in the conference's last-place game. But MSU then won 10 straight to tie for the league title. And in the NCAA playoffs they were awesome. State marched through Lamar 95-64, LSU 77-74 and Notre Dame 80-68 to win the Midwest Regionals.

Kessler, MSU's career scoring leader with 2,013 points, summed it up: "It's a dream come true." Kessler said during the season he had to fight off some adverse situations. We played with lots of character through the Big 10 and through the tournament.

Fisk Injury Big Problem

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Boston Red Sox catcher Carlton Fisk extended his right arm slowly and grimaced.

"When I get it out here," he said, "it feels like somebody is screwing a nail into the elbow. When I throw it feels like the elbow is going to snap off the wrong way."

Fisk attempted to throw a ball Tuesday, missing the Red Sox 4-1 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers at Vero Beach. He gave up after lobbing the ball about 30 feet a couple of times, saying, "It's killing me."

The setback is even more serious than the one that resulted from his re-injuring the sensitive elbow trying to throw out Houston's Jeff Leonard. It likely means Fisk won't be on the ballfield for opening day eight days from now, and perhaps for quite a while after that.

"I just don't know what to do for in 1974 I was discouraged. I didn't even know if I would play again. But it likely means Fisk won't be on the ballfield for opening day eight days from now, and perhaps for quite a while after that."

Manager Don Zimmerman says he doesn't want to put Fisk on the disabled list if he can at least hit. He's devising all sorts of combinations for the field.

"I might have to go north with four catchers because if Fisk can hit we will not put him on the disabled list. If that happens I might go with only nine pitchers and perhaps only six infielders along with five outfielders," Zimmerman said. "If Fisk can't catch, Bob Montgomery will catch opening day. If Monty can't catch the ball is sailing with a stiff neck, Mike O'Rourke will."

Montgomery was reportedly making progress after traction treatments, said trainer Charlie Moss, but he's still not able to catch. "Monday he could't even walk. He's a thousand percent better," Moss said.

If Montgomery doesn't recover by opening day, the job will be left to O'Rourke, 24, who hit two clean line singles in Tuesday's game with the Phillies.

On the surface, it would seem the Phillies improved tremendously with the signing of free-agent Pete Rose because of a hamstring pull but still hit 28 homers and drove in 79 runs.

Weaknesses — Pitching. Franks is banking on the bullpen who won only seven games last year, and Holtzman, who was 1-3 combined with the Yankees and Cubs, to make comeback checks. If they don't, it will be a long season for long-suffering Cubs fans.

New Face — Martin, Foote, Sizemore, Seane, infielder Ed Putman and outfielder Kari Page and Scott Thompson. Like Seane, the latter three are rookies.

Outlook — pick a spot anywhere from fourth to first starting from the bottom up.

Surging 76ers Defeat Bullets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clinching the Atlantic Division title was apparently just the signal the Washington Bullets needed to do what people have been expecting them to do ever since they ran into injury problems several weeks ago.

The defending champions, who clinched the crown Sunday without the services of Kevin Grevey, Tom Henderson and Mitch Kupchak, had super-sub Kapchak back Tuesday night, but that didn't help.

They finally let down, and the surging second-place Philadelphia 76ers jumped on the opportunity to practice beating the Bullets, taking advantage of four straight Washington turnovers in the closing minutes to post a 109-97 victory.

"We played very lethargically," said Bullets Coach Dick Motta. "Motta, who had ironically suggested Sunday that his team should not try to fight their own altitudes and that the lack of manpower might help keep the Bullets from becoming overconfident, changed his tune after Tuesday's loss."

"I hope we're not feeling sorry for ourselves because of all the injuries. We probably won't have those guys back until the playoffs," he said.

The game was close throughout with the Bullets taking the game's biggest lead — six points — in the third quarter before Julius Erving scored four of his 20 points in the last 36 seconds, putting the 76ers on top 88-85 midway in the fourth quarter.

Washington led again, 94-91 with 3:12 to play, but its only field goal of the way came on a goaltending call against Philadelphia's Caldwell Jones. Meanwhile, Henry Bibby tied it up with 1:25 remaining and Eric Money now Erving, who scored four of his 20 points in the last 36 seconds, put the game away.

Money also had 20 points and Bibby scored 18. For the Bullets, Elvin Hayes tallied 23 points and Wes Unseld had 20.

Elsewhere, Cleveland snapped its losing streak with a 110-107 triumph over the Celtics.

On Nov. 18 the Cavs snapped a six-game losing streak with a victory over Boston, and Tuesday night they ended an eight-game losing streak with a 111-109 triumph over the Celtics.

Austin Carr's three-point play with 1:48 left gave the Cavs a 110-107 bulge and Chris Ford's jumper from the corner bounded off the rim to the buzzer to send the Celtics down to their 10th loss in the last 13 games.

"I feel good and I wish everybody would stop talking about my leg," said Carr, who topped the Cavs with 22 points on 8 of 11 from the field.

"I can change movement quickly and it's been three years since I had leg problems. My leg is strong and I play my best game when the ball is really moving," added Carr.

While Carr was leading the Cleveland offensive attack, Bob McAdoo continued his hex on the Cavs by losing in 42 games for the Celtics.

"I have been playing only 10-11 minutes per game lately and this is the most points I've ever scored as a Celtic," said McAdoo, who has flipped in over 40 points against Cleveland six times in his pro career.

After Curtis Rowe hit a 15-footer to cut the Cleveland lead to 111-109 with 1:31 left, McAdoo missed a bank shot with 35 seconds remaining that would have tied the score.

"They played good defense on me on that play. I was set to drive toward the hoop but Elmore Smith stopped me and I took an off-balance shot," added McAdoo, who also pulled down 12 rebounds and dished out five assists.

The Celtics got a final chance when the Cavs were called for a 24-second violation with 12 seconds remaining, and Ford got the final shot.

"The final play was called for me to get the ball but it never developed," said McAdoo. "We just couldn't stop their easy layups. They caught us napping and it hurt us."

The Cavaliers, who blew a pair of 12-point leads, also got 19 points from Jim Chones, 17 from Butch Lee and 12 from rookie Harry Davis, who played his high school ball at the Cleveland Cathedral Latin.

"I haven't played too much before the hometown crowd and it felt great to get into the game in the first period," said Davis.

"I got into the flow of the game quickly and I was happy my mom was here to see me," added Davis, who dropped in his first four shots and added a pair of jumpers in the second period in logging 18 minutes of action. Cedric Maxwell, field in on only two of 10 from the second half, earned six straight from the floor in the second 20 minutes of action to finish with 21 points for the Celtics. Nate Archibald added 17.

It was Archibald's alley-op pass to McAdoo that put the Celtics on top 107-106 with 2:32 left, before Elmore Smith and Carr took over.

"I don't want to get involved in his contract problems," says the young Indians' manager of Bonds. "All I know is our club and I want to use him where he can help the most."

What Torberg means that I that Bonds will hit leadoff. The idea is to take advantage of Bonds' ability to steal bases — 37 last year, for instance. When you consider the Indians stole only 41 bases as a team in 1978, you can understand Torberg's thinking.

Bonds is in disagreement but he doesn't plan to make an issue of it.

"I think I should bat in the middle of the order," says Bonds, "but if he (Torberg) wants me to lead off, I will. He's the boss."

Bonds and Len Barker came to the Indians from Texas in a trade last October. Also picked up from the Rangers was Tony Harrah. Torberg is pleased with both trades. He envisions Harrah batting in the middle of the order with Andre Thornton and Gary Alexander.

"We'll score some runs," says Torberg. "If we develop any consistency in the field and our pitching improves, we will be a better team than we were in 1978."

The big problem is the pitching, where the Indians do not have a standard starter. Torberg is hoping for continued improvement from former Texas teenage whiz David Clyde, who seemed to prove himself as a major league last season.

Strengths — Solid pitching staff, anchored by 18-game winner Earl Richardson, good overall batting attack.

Weaknesses — Not enough power to light a front porch; shaky defensive infield; very little depth.

NEW FACES — Reynolds and Ashby will join regular lineup; rookie Jeff Leonard should stick as extra outfielder.

Outlook — If Indians were in AL West it might be an interesting season for them, but they're in AL East and don't appear strong enough to compete against New York, Boston, Baltimore and Milwaukee.

WEAKNESSES — No power to speak of outside of Mitchell Page and Dave Revereing. Both, though, have defensive shortcomings — Page in left field and Revereing at first — so they might be used mostly as designated hitters.

NEW FACES — Pitcher Craig Minetto, infielder Mickey Klatts and outfielder Ricky Henderson. The latter stole 81 bases for Jersey City last year and also batted .310.

STRENGTHS — Five fairly good starting pitchers in John Henry Johnson, Steve Ott, Mike O'Rourke, Steve Ott, Mike O'Rourke, Steve Ott, Mike O'Rourke.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Marathoners may not only be slowing their aging process by long-distance running, they also may be helping to cure depression, a University of New Mexico neurology professor reports.

Otto Appenzeller, a long-distance runner for nine years and professor at UNM medical school, has been studying changes in levels of certain hormones in marathoners.

"We found a tremendous increase in the presence of a group of hormones released by the sympathetic nervous system," said Appenzeller after taking blood samples of runners during a marathon race.

"Hormonal levels of 600 percent above normal were recorded in all participants, including the winner and people who took twice as long to complete the race," he said.

"These hormones are known to be low in patients suffering from depression," Appenzeller also said.

State Tournament Tech Baseball Goal

By LEN AUSTER Herald Sports writer

A year ago the Cheney Tech baseball team compiled a 7-10 record. That was the best record logged since 1969.

This year "the goal of this team from day one is to make the (state) tournament," expressed second-year Beaver Coach Aaron Silvia.

The Techmen, who swing into action at home April 2 against Prince Tech at 3:15, "have enough power to throw the ball (pitchers) and I feel we'll have people who'll hit the ball."

Silvia states optimistically, "but I don't know if we'll field the ball," he cautions.

Cheney had defensive woes in '78, charged with a whopping 92 errors which resulted in use of 118 runs being unearned. "There were physical errors and mental mistakes," Silvia points out.

Junior Chuck Dumez, the only left-hander on the staff, senior Dave Gustamachio and junior Bob Pomeroy are expected to form the starting rotation with senior Ed Lackard, Mike Pinkin and Phil Walter and junior Wally Collops available for relief duty.

"I feel we have three very capable starting pitchers and some relievers," Silvia assessed.

Dumez, who has tendinitis, will be brought along slowly, according to Lackard. Mike Pinkin and Phil Walter, who has been in the rotation, Silvia hopes the new alignment will work; if not, the pair will probably be switched back to their original positions.

Senior incumbent Lew LaBree a battle with junior Mike Nicholson for the second base job while senior Ken Ostrinsky down the fort at first. The latter hit on a 300 clip last year and drove in 10 runs, two less than Pinkin's team-leading figure.

As far as talent goes, what we put on the field will be the best Cheney I've seen. If they win or not ... Silvia stated realistically. "Wins may be tougher to come by."

Defending champ Bacon Academy and Cromwell are pre-season picks in the Charter Oak Conference while Silvia believes, "we should be closer to those teams than ever before."

How close is still a question. "Pitts hit .300, Pinkin .306. Vann hit .280. Gustamachio will hit. Dumez will hit. LaBree will hit. We averaged just under five runs per game last year and I feel we'll do better this year," Silvia lists on the positive side with his pitching staff.

Spoletto Festival Bigger

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — The third annual Spoletto Festival USA will feature more than 50 chamber music concerts as previously, tributes to Bachmannoff and Gerahwin, four dance companies, an 18th century opera masterpiece, and the world premiere of a British play.

The 17-day festival scheduled for May 25 to June 10 is budgeted for $1 million, according to general manager James T. Kearney, but will probably cost more.

Spoletto USA is now the most comprehensive arts festival in the United States.

It will feature a new production of "The Medium," an opera by Gian Carlo Menotti, the festival's founder and artistic director. The other opera production will be the American premiere of Cimarosa's "The Desperate Husband," first performed in Italy in the 1700s.

Due to the popularity of the festival's noon chamber music concert at the historic Dock Street theater, these will be increased to 10 programs, each to be performed three times. Also to be presented at the theater is the world premiere of "Hayworth," a play by Brita's Beverly Cross about the British sisters.

The festival will emphasize dance. The Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater and the Ballet Repertory Company, an affiliate of the American Ballet Theater, will make their debuts. Two additional companies — the Bill Evans Dance Company and Douglas Norwich and Dancers — will be in residence.

A Rachmaninoff gala will have Russian pianist Mark Zeltser as soloist and the festival's gala finale will include a Gerahwin concert on the grounds of Middleton Place plantation. The Left Bank Jazz Society will provide jazz programs, the Kent State Chorus will perform a 13th century French mystery play, and the Westminster Choir will sing several programs.

Colorful mini-festivals coordinated by Charleston's cultural affairs division will be used to present young talent at the South and the West.

'Mikado' Director Uses Puppet Show

MANCHESTER — The director of the Manchester Gilbert & Sullivan Players' production of "The Mikado" has added a new note to this year's performance which plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday in East Hartford High School.

Sarah Ketter, the director, who calls "The Mikado" a Japanese light British opera, is complementing the performance with a puppet show performed by the University of Connecticut Puppet Theatre.

Ms. Ketter says that because "The Mikado" is really English in Japanese garb, "It is difficult to be totally traditional, therefore, the style tends itself to emotional and visual inferences of the authentic, with respect for the original and traditional. The presentation is intended to spark mental associations with oriental life and customs."

As part of the theme and basis for the stylization, she has developed a relationship between this comic opera form and a very old traditional form of drama in Japan called Bunraku, or puppet theater.

Tuesday Payday for ABC

By JOAN HANAUER
NEW YORK (UPI) — For ABC, Tuesday night is payday.

ABC was the top network for the week past and continues its dominance of the ratings for the season — and Tuesday night plays a big role in that success.

ABC did it again last week with "13 Queens Blvd.," along between "Three's Company" and "The Ropers." The premiere of "13 Queens Blvd." ranked seventh for the week in the Nielsen ratings.

ABC practiced similar programming, but the CBS example also illustrates pitfalls. A couple of years ago the network put "One Day At A Time" into the spot following "M-A-S-H," and the new show prospered.

More recently, ABC had a couple of new shows to try out on the public. One was "The Ropers," a spin-off of "Taxi" for that enviable spot — and had another winner.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

Has Panty Problem: Aren't His Wife's
DEAR ABBY: Last summer I found a pair of worn pantyhose under the seat of my husband's pickup truck. When I asked him whose they were and what they were doing there, he said they were probably mine and he uses them to clean his windshield. I knew they weren't mine because I don't wear that kind, but I let it go to avoid a fight. I forgot all about the incident until yesterday when I came across a pair of fancy panties in the glove compartment of his pickup. I knew for sure they weren't mine because this pair had "Friday" on them. Now I'm really suspicious. Be a pal and print this, Abby. I want that chick who's been fooling around with my husband to know what happened to "Friday".

SUSIE IN SPOKANE
DEAR SUSIE: If your husband continues picking up in his pickup he should warn his friends to pick up after themselves. Daily - Monday through Sunday!

DEAR ABBY: When people yawn, does it mean they're tired or sleepy? Or is it a sign that they are bored?

DEAR ABBY: I have two teenagers, 14 and 16. Their father and I divorced five years ago and remarried. For years, the children have been begging me to let them live with their father because they felt that their stepmother and I were too strict. Also, their real father promised them the moon. Last year, I let them go on the condition that they keep their grades up (both were honor student and continue their confirmation classes). Well, they are flunking in school and practically dropped out of confirmation class. They also let four years of music lessons go down the drain!

DEAR ABBY: I know they prefer living with their father because he doesn't discipline them at all. When they came home, my daughter had so much makeup on I hardly recognized her. Should I let them go back with their father, or should I insist that they stay with me until they finish high school? My husband has been a wonderful stepfather, although they never showed him the proper respect. He is willing to have them back if I say so. I know it will be difficult if they return, but I hate to see them ruin their lives because I know they will regret it later. Please advise me. MOM

DEAR MOM: Bring them home. Their grades alone are sufficient to justify it. These are important years. They desperately need a firm hand, guidance and discipline. They'll thank you later. And if they don't, at least you'll know that you did all you could for them.

Who sold the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know" write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Your Birthday
March 28, 1979
This coming year you should set about to establish new goals and change the direction your life has been taking. Keep your dreams high. Success can be yours.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You're a bit too protective of your self-interests today. Adopt a philosophical view of the things and let your better instincts take control. You'll be happier. Getting along with other signs is one of the sections you'll enjoy in your new Astro-Graph Letter. Get yours by mailing $1 for each to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 889, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth sign.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)
Find yourself a cozy corner to tuck yourself away today. You won't be in the mood for people bustling around you, and might find their activity irritating.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Fact and diplomacy can achieve things for you today that flexing your muscles or raising your voice could never do. Try it, you'll like it!

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Stick to your high standards in an honorable and responsible matter today. Don't be tempted to try underhanded methods. Let your others can be a source of inspiration to you.

If you could make the necessary efforts to evaluate and your goals for the coming week. Assign priorities. Stick with them.

You'll only become more confused if you try to unravel the threads that have been holding your budget together. Wait till tomorrow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
You can make a fine impression today if you're willing to forego your own interests and try to do things others would like to do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
Your instincts send a warning signal about another person, heed them, especially if the situation involves money. Double-check before becoming involved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Being around large groups today will not generate the excitement it usually does. You'd be happier with close, intimate friends.

Win at bridge
West's opening lead was excellent, and East took the first two tricks with the ace-king. At trick three East should have returned a trump, putting South in the position of having to make an uncomfortable guess. Instead East made a passive diamond return into dummy's ace-queen.

South won the trick in his hand with the king and led his jack of hearts, which he overlooked with dummy's king. East was with the ace and returned a heart, and declarer won with the queen. Declarer then made the play that had West shaking his head, although it really was quite obvious.

Declarer led the ace of spades, dropping the king and claimed the contract. South knew West had to have the king of spades. East had passed in second position and had shown up with two aces and a king. He could not have the king of spades, nor a void in the suit. Odds favor a two-one split, and happily for declarer, West held the singleton.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sonsteg
When this hand was over, West was certain declarer had seen his hand. How else could declarer know to avoid the finesse and drop his singleton king?
If all good players know, the bidding can be very revealing. But so too can be a player's passes.

News for Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN
Hi Gang! Man, have I got some super news for you. I've been taking lately about organizing a committee to work on a fundraising and fund-raiser and that we would soon kick things off. Well, before we could officially start the ball rolling, we were receiving personal donations, some for as much as $50 each. Then one of our members, Florence Anderson, stopped by and told me her son, who owns A.B.A. Tool and Die Co., has donated $500. How about that!
When tallying up all donations and I might add we're grateful for any donation, no matter how small. We have $225. We started the official drive Monday when we registered for a day at the dog track. By filling the three buses, we will be able to add a little better than $300 to our project.
As I mentioned, we started registering for the dog track and for the Washington D.C., trip. We started signing about 7:30 a.m. and by 8:45 we had two full buses and twenty on the waiting list for the dog track. By noon we completed the third and final bus. For the Washington, D.C., trip, we have a waiting list.
Our new man, Joe, has set up a fishing trip. We have a chance to visit a fish hatchery and then a chance to do a little fishing. There are two stocked ponds at the hatchery, one for regular fishing and the other for fly casting. You'll be allowed to keep one fish.
The trip is scheduled April 14. You must have a fishing license which may be secured at the Town Hall and is free. We will be signing up for this trip Monday starting at 8:30 a.m. The only charge will be $1 at the hatchery for fishing.
Joe is also ready to start a garden at the Green School and is looking for a few volunteers and a few plants, preferably tomatoes and peppers. It will be an experiment to see just what kind of soil we have. He would like to plant a variety of

Just Shake it and Let it Fall Into Place. The Precision Haircut.
Because your hair is unique, the way your hair grows is equally unique. Really quite different from every one else's.
Precision haircutting is a technique for cutting the hair in harmony with the way it grows. Your hair eventually grows out but it doesn't lose its shape with a precision haircut. Consequently your haircut will look as good after five days as it does after five minutes. And because the hair falls naturally into place you won't have to keep fussing with it. Usually a shake of the head does it.
At Command Performance we shampoo, precision-cut and blow dry your hair for fourteen dollars, whether you're a gal or a guy. And no appointments are ever necessary.
We also offer permanent waves, coloring, frosting and conditioning. But we really shine with precision. And so will you.

The lure of the West worked for pretty Joan Ellis, a native of Putnam, Conn., who together with her airline pilot husband, Robert, operate the Mark West Vineyards & Winery in Forestville, Calif.
Chatting with her during a recent wine-tasting seminar held at the Corner House Restaurant in Farmington, hosted by World Wide Wines of Meriden, the lady winemaker said she left Connecticut 20 years ago settling in the town of Alamo. The increase in population there soon had the Ellises eager for a change and after checking out possibilities from New Mexico to Washington, they settled on a 116-acre former dairy farm on the Trenton-Healdsburg Road near Forestville, about one mile east of the Russian River.
"As our interest in wine grew, I took several enology courses and we began planting 60 1/2 acres of vines," she said.
Bob, who is with Pan Am, continues to fly 11 to 12 days a month, and had enrolled in several viticulture classes at Santa Rosa Junior College.
"We started with a small grape vineyard and produce now about 5,500 cases. This will increase to approximately 15,000 cases when the vineyards reach maturity in three years," she said.
One of the wines from Mark West Vineyards which we especially enjoyed was Gamay Beaujolais with its full body and strong color.
The seminar included representatives of 12 California vintners and one from Washington State.
Bob Betz of Chateau Ste. Michelle in Washington introduced us to his award-winning wines including the Zinfandel which is light, slightly tart and very fruity.
The vineyard also produces a delicious Johannisberg Riesling 1977 which is suggested for use for the cocktail hour, as a picnic wine and as an accompaniment to light foods in creamy sauces.
One wine which we also favored in Gerwurztaminer 1977 produced by Clos Du Bois, which was established in 1976 at Healdsburg (Sonoma County), California.
It was our first sampling at the seminar and one that we remembered throughout.
The Clos Du Bois representative explained that the white wine grapes were left on the skins during fermentation giving the wine a floral quality. It really is delicious.
There were, of course, many other vineyards represented including Napa Valley's Rutherford Hill, Dry Creek in Healdsburg, Chateau St. Jean and others.
For many years, most of us believed the best wines came from Europe. But, we might well look homeward and try the California and Washington State wines which are equally delicious and should be available at your local liquor outlet.

Weiss, president of World Wide Wines of Meriden, at left; Joan Ellis of the Mark West Vineyards and Winery in Forestville, Calif.; and Mario Zacco, proprietor of the Corner House Restaurant in Farmington; compare notes during a wine tasting seminar held at the restaurant recently. ### Social Security

Q. My wife died several weeks ago. I know I'm supposed to file an application for security survivor's benefits, but I don't know what papers to take with me. Can you tell me what I'll need?

A. Some of the proofs you may need to apply for survivor's benefits are your Social Security number and deceased worker's number; proof of your age; proof of marriage; the children's birth certificates, if they are applying for benefits; and the deceased worker's income tax forms or returns for the year before death. The people at the Social Security office can suggest other proofs that can be used.

Q. My grandson has been living with me since his parents were killed in an auto accident 4 years ago. He cannot get benefits since his parents had no work covered by Social Security. Can he get Social Security benefits when I retire in a few months?

A. A grandchild may be eligible for Social Security benefits on a grandparent's work record if the natural parents are dead or disabled and if the grandchild is living with and is supported by the grandparent.

Science Today

AL ROSSITER JR., UP Science Editor WASHINGTON (UPI) — Doctors and engineers at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., are developing a massive computerized X-ray "scalpel" to visually slice the body in any direction for study by specialists looking for disease or studying an organ's operation.

If doctors are interested in just one organ, such as the heart, the computer can be told to disregard all other body structures that appear in the cross-sectional X-ray views and display on television tubes desired slices of the heart at any angle.

"It's as if you cut the heart out of the body, put it in front of an X-ray machine and took a picture of it," said Dr. Richard Robb, chief scientist on the project at the Mayo Biodynamics Research Unit.

The machine, called a dynamic spatial reconstructor (DSR), is an outgrowth of technology that produced the now widely used computerized scanning devices that are able to produce cross-sectional views of the brain and other areas of the body.

But each scan by today's machines takes at least a few seconds. This means they are too slow to generate clear views of moving organs like the heart.

The DSR will add a fourth dimension — time. It will take its X-ray pictures in a 100th of a second to essentially produce stop-action images of a single heart beat.

Dr. Earl H. Wood, senior consultant on the project, described the machine at a recent American Heart Association seminar and said a prototype should be in experimental operation within a year.

He said it should be valuable for studying many parts of the body in addition to the heart. One major potential use, he said, would be in the early detection of lung cancer.

The machine will use 28 rotating X-ray tubes to produce practically instantaneous two-dimensional images on a fluorescent screen. These images are scanned in up to 240 angles by television cameras and the resulting information is relayed mathematically to the computer.

A doctor then can direct the computer to call out of its memory to display on a television screen a wide variety of views of the organ in question.

"The structure of this volume can be sectioned mathematically in any direction or manner that the biologist or physician requires to explore a biologic process or possible clinical diagnosis," Wood said.

Although the patient would be examined by 28 separate X-ray bursts, Wood said the radiation dose would be minimal because of such a short exposure.

The machine, now being built with government support by the Raytheon Co., will be 15 feet in diameter, 25 feet long and will weigh 25 tons.

It also will be expensive. Wood estimates commercial models might cost between $1 and $2 million.

"I predict there will be a machine of this type in five to 10 years in every big medical center," Wood said.

Love Lingo Is Unique

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Love has its own language all its own, reaffirms a Valentine survey by Hallmark Cards, more than half of the people questioned on their romantic preferences chose names other than Sweetheart, Darling, Dear and Honey as nicknames for their special Valentines.

Names included Love, Pooh, Sugar and Babe. Certain wives volunteered terms like Killer, Doodle-Bug, Bear and Wuvver, while some husbands preferred expressions like Twenty, Pumpkin, Dingbat, Squaw and Fat Cat.

Single girls, the survey showed, often favored "special names" for friends over conventional ones. Among the special names were Creep and Rabbit.

Q. When my first child was born, I quit my job as a dental hygienist. Now that I return to work, you can earn additional credits you need to get benefits.

Q. When I became eligible for Medicare, I decided not to take the medical insurance plan. Now, I've changed my mind. Isn't there a special time when people can enroll in medical insurance?

A. Yes. People who turn down Medicare medical insurance during their initial enrollment period and then decide they want it later can sign up during the general enrollment period — now through March 31 of this year. If you enroll during a general enrollment period, your protection won't start until the premium will be 10 percent higher for each 12-month period you could have been enrolled but weren't.

Safety Club Teaches the Young

SHARON RUTENBERG
CHICAGO (UPI) — Joy Lynch's 18-month-old son was injured when he slipped in a puddle of water, fell and hit the bathtub in their home in suburban Naperville.

Mrs. Lynch doesn't want that to happen to her other children, 3-year-old twins Brian and Brent. So she enrolled them in the new Child Safety Club of the National Safety Council.

The council says accidents killed 4,692 children under age 5 in 1978, the most recent year for which statistics are available. More than 1,500 of the deaths resulted from automotive mishaps; 922 from fires and burns; 720, drowning; 455, ingestion of foods or objects; 201, falls; 148, poison; and 61, firearms.

Bachelor Switches to Apartment Living

FRED T. FERGUSON
NEW YORK (UPI) — Oh, the shock of it. Tangierine walls — three of them.

And a chocolate bedroom wall with a batik bedspread and matching curtains.

Life has never been the same since the advent of Erald Parker Harrington. Surprise! It's all been for the better. Erald is a savior. A jewel, as women would say, a true gem.

And besides, he's a decorator. The essentials: Divorced father of two, raising the kids, boots them out to college and private school.

His stalwart, ever-reliable older sister rushes up from Florida to the rescue. She takes a quick look around, half-heartedly spreads three sheets of self paper, breaks out in tears and, before dashing off to a classy lunch, cries: "I give up. You need more help than I can give. Throw it all out or try a decorator."

Throw out my inheritance? All those tin horne show trophies? The broken-legged living room couch even my ex-wife wouldn't take? The early depression, gold gilt mirror, mother's best friend unloved on us as a wedding gift?

Never Better a friend for what they buy for you. I found out later there are other arrangements.

CALDOR PLAZA - MANCHESTER

Some operate by set fee, others by the hour. But her suggestion gave me hope — except she didn't know any decorators any more.

Friend Help: I resorted to a kind and wonderful woman friend even smarter than his sister.

"Well," she said, "I don't know. I think he's wonderful but you might not and I'd hate to recommend anyone like this and have you wind up mad at me."

"Recommend," I said. "By that time I was desperate. Stacks of furniture threatened to topple and bury me every time I tried mountain climbing to the bathroom."

In walked Erald, a dapper little man with a part in the middle of his forehead. He was entranced by the challenge presented by a place so dark you have to turn on the lights at noon to find the hall door.

"Never mind," said Erald. He wore pool table green blazer, gold buttons, green plaid slacks and some sort of gold pendant at his neck.

"Not to fear," said he. "I was leaving on a two-week business trip and needed the place livable on my return when the children would descend for holidays."

But there was the matter of money. I'm grossly underpaid. "Erald, there is the matter of money," I said. "Never fear," said Erald. "I'll make mine."

"But it won't cost you. I take the difference between retail and wholesale. A sometimes there also is a fee. But for now, we'll do the commission route."

"But I've got to use all this junk," I said. "I can't buy much." "I know," said he. "Leave it to me. I'll have a proposal and an estimate for you when you get back. We'll proceed from there."

"Leave me your key," he said. "My associate and I will straighten the place out while you're gone."

On my return, the black hole was no longer so black. Pictures were hung, but artistically, with flair. Furniture was arranged so you could move around. It looked spacious.

"No bill," said Erald. "I'll get mine." "That bothered me. 'What this place needs,' he said, 'is warmth and color and a highlight and depth and brightness and light.'"

"Exactly," said I. "That's when I got hit with the larger walls for warmth, the orange, yellow, rust and green rug for brightness, the ceiling, high mirror for depth, the silver and glass coffee table for a highlight and the tailored gold curtains with orange border and sheers plus green and orange slip covers on three ragged armchairs for warmth. And new shades on the lamps to brighten things."

Erald just happened to have a second hand shag rug for the hall, a red one for the dining area, a large green one for one bedroom and two young men who would cut and lay both it and the old living room rug into wall-to-wall carpet in both bedrooms. He also found a hand-me-down armchair — "but with good lines" — for the living room.

I painted the walls with paint Erald had mixed to get the right shade. Erald found or arranged just about everything else and it took about six months. We'd do one thing. Erald would survey its effect and propose the next stage in the transformation while I scrounged up enough cash to finance it.

The old building's drainage and heating pipes extruded through the little dining area. Erald had them encased in cabinets surrounding the one window and in a suspended translucent ceiling that was fluorescent lighted. A friend and I spent several weekends painting the cabinets. The bathrooms were done in black and white graphics wallpaper.
