Major Theft

WATERBURY (UPI) — Three security company guards were found shot to death and at least $1 million stolen from a bullet-riddled brick garage of the Purolator Security Inc. today, police said.

At least one body was found inside a white armored car parked inside the small, one-story garage by workers reporting for the 7 a.m. morning shift after the Easter weekend. The other two guards also were shot inside the building. None were immediately identified.

The garage was punched with bullet holes.

Pope's Greeting

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John Paul II told 300,000 faithful jammed in St. Peter's Square on a sunny Easter Sunday that true peace is based on faith, justice and an end to the suffering of "little children."

The 58-year-old pontiff proclaimed Eastern greetings in a record 32 languages to the cheering crowd that completely filled the square and much of the side streets. It was John Paul's first Easter mass and message since becoming the first non-Italian pope in 45 years last October.

In his "Urbi et Orbi" speech to the city and the world, the pope said mankind needed true peace found on Christ and built on truth, justice, freedom, love and end to the misery of hunger.

Carter Fishing

SAPELO ISLAND, Ga. (UPI) — President Carter, who celebrated Easter Sunday with hymn-singing, foot-stomping descendants of Civil War-era slaves, arranged a fishing expedition with friends today on nearby Blackbeard Island.

Carter and members of his family have been vacationing on secluded, sunny Sapelo Island off the coast of Georgia for the past five days. The president and his wife will remain there until Friday, but daughter Amy, 11, who has to be back at school, was returning to Washington today.

Mummy Home

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Rhode Island's oldest resident, a 2,300-year-old mummy, is back in his glass-enclosed museum case after X-rays which scientists hope will yield valuable knowledge about ancient Egypt.

The mummy, Nes-Min, was loaded into an ambulance Saturday for the trip from Rhode Island School of Design's art museum. It was his first outing in four decades.

At Rhode Island Hospital, doctors examined the fragile, linen-wrapped body for four hours. They used a $1 million computerized X-ray system, known as a CAT scanner, which provides detailed cross-section X-rays of the entire body.

Woman Mayor

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jane Byrne, who became a political star virtually overnight by whipping the last of the big city machines, becomes Chicago's first woman mayor tonight.

Mrs. Byrne, 44, will be sworn in at 7 p.m. at the 42nd mayor of the nation's second largest city.

Her administration — the first one not handicapped by Chicago's Democratic machine in nearly 50 years — has listed as its first objective the cleaning up and rebuilding of the city's neighborhoods.

A huge crack divides the street in Bay of Notor, Yugoslavia, after an earthquake hit the Yugoslav southern Adriatic coast Sunday, killing at least 150 and injuring more than 600. (UPI photo)

Quake Devastates
Yugoslavian Coast

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — The strongest earthquake to hit Yugoslavia in 75 years struck the Adriatic coast Easter Sunday, wiping out towns and villages and killing as many as 235 people and leaving tens of thousands homeless.

Geologists said the main quake, felt in Bulgaria, Hungary, Austria, Italy and southern areas of West Germany, measured 7.2 on the open-ended Richter scale and was followed by more than 100 aftershocks — some of them with a magnitude of between 4.2 and 5.3. Yugoslav authorities confirmed at least 150 deaths and president Josip Broz Tito, who was in the area of the quake when it struck, said 200 people were killed, but stressed that figure was unofficial.

Authorities said more than 600 people were injured along Adriatic coastal areas of Montenegro. Preliminary reports said about 70 percent of all buildings in Yugoslav towns and villages from Dubrovnik to Ulcinj were destroyed.

Many Flee
River's Havoc

By United Press International
The rampaging Pearl River, approaching a record crest, drove more than 15,000 residents of the Jackson, Miss., area to high ground on Easter Sunday, and the Mississippi River expanded its mighty girth in the lower Midwest today.

While most of the nation enjoyed sunny Easter skies and a respite from last week's violent weather, Jackson's worst flood in modern history pushed toward a record crest of 42.5 feet.

The Pearl reached 41.9 feet by mid-afternoon Sunday — well above the old high water mark of 37.5 feet set in a 1902 flood — and the National Weather service predicted it would crest today.

Gov. Clif Finch called on President Carter to declare the entire state of Mississippi a disaster area as a result of widespread flooding following two days of torrential rains last week.

Four people drowned in a boating accident on the rain-bloated

Tennessee River in northeast Mississippi Sunday, bringing to at least eight the drowning casualties of the Mississippi flooding since last week.

The Red Cross and other volunteer groups set up six emergency relief centers in the Jackson area, but most refugees apparently were moving in with friends or relatives of into motels.

Mayor Dale Danks said the volume of water being released from the Barnett Reservoir, located along the Pearl just northeast of the city, was steadily increasing and predicted it would "almost surely cause the river to rise above the levee" near downtown Jackson. That area also was evacuated.

The Mississippi River, in flood stage for hundreds of miles in the lower Midwest, was expected to crest today in southeastern Missouri. Officials of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said it would take several days before the river and its tributaries return to their banks.

Young Drinkers Will Cross Border

ENFIELD (UPI) — Northern Connecticut package store owners are likely to see an increase in profits as of today — thanks to the Massachusetts Legislature's move to raise the drinking age in the Bay State to 21.

But police in the border communities complain that the expected influx of 18 and 19-year-olds will create more headaches for them.

From today on it will no longer be legal for Massachusetts teen-agers to drink or buy alcoholic beverages. Enfield Police Chief Walter Skower says he's sure there "will be an increase in incidents of drunken driving. He also fears there will be more accidents, disorderly conduct and property damage as side effects of the law. "I'm sorry to see that all six New England states couldn't adopt a uniform drinking age," Skower said.

"It seems we're not very stable in legislating rules and laws pertaining to how people can behave," he said. "This only makes it harder for the kids to understand. The lawmakers gave them a taste of it and now they're rescinding the right."

John Gallerani, an Enfield package store owner, says there ought to be a federal drinking age law to protect businesses in border states where a neighboring state has a lower age. "If the age of majority is 18, then they should be able to drink," he said. "Personally, I don't think raising the age to 21 in Massachusetts will help curb drinking by teen-agers. If they want it they'll find a way to get it."

Gallerani predicted he'll see an increase in business, but he said it was too early to say exactly how much.

He noted the new law will also affect Connecticut teen-agers, who must purchase liquor before 8 p.m. when Connecticut package stores close. Previously, they could drive to

Voters Face
4 Questions

MANCHESTER — Voting begins at noon Tuesday. Eight hours later, town residents should know the outcome of a proposed $20 million bond issue for water improvements and a proposed two-year ban on town participation in Community Development.

All 10 polling places in Manchester will be open from noon to 8 p.m. Tuesday, and all registered voters are eligible to vote.

There are four questions on the ballot — one about water and three about Community Development.

The first asks voters about a proposed $20 million bond issue for improvements to the town's water system. The improvements, including a new filter treatment plant and water line repairs and replacements, are needed to meet stricter standards for drinking water quality.

The second question asks about a proposed ordinance that would ban town participation in the Community Development program for two years.

The third and fourth questions also are about Community Development. They ask about the use of town funds to pay for projects designated for Community Development funding if the ban in question two is approved.

Both the water and Community Development questions are explained in more detail in stories on page 3. Statements from both proponents and opponents of the CD Block Grant referendum are found on page 2.

The 10 polling places in Manchester are — Voting District One — Howell Cheney Regional Technical School, 791 W. Middle Turnpike; District Two — Robertson School, 45 N. School St.; District Three — Church of Christ, 394 Lydall St.; District Four, Martin School, 140 Dartmouth Road; District Five, Buckley School, 250 Vernon St.

Also — District Six, Nathan Hale School, 160 Spruce St.; District Seven, Waddell School, 163 Broad St.; District Eight, Verplanck School, 128 Olcott St.; District Nine, Keeney Street School, 179 Keeney St.; District 10, Manchester High School gymnasium, Brookfield Street.

The property voters' machine will be at Cheney Tech. That machine is used by all those persons who own property in Manchester but are not residents. These persons still must own property with an assessed value of more than $1,000.

The Herald will answer telephone calls Tuesday night from persons seeking results of the election. Callers are asked to call the office at 643-2711 after 8:30.

Foundation Gets Challenge Grant

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving has awarded the Manchester Scholarship Foundation a $5,000 challenge grant.

Under the terms of the grant the foundation will match dollar for dollar, up to $5,000, any increase in public support of the Manchester Scholarship program over that raised from the public last year.

John A DeQuattro, chairman of the Manchester scholarship Foundation, said last year $5,153 was raised from the general public.

The challenge has been accepted and George Eagleson of 75 Steep Hollow Lane is heading the drive for scholarship funds, DeQuattro said.

The Hartford Foundation offered the challenge in recognition of the importance of the community-based scholarship program, and to give the all-volunteer effort a boost in its goal to increase the support from the public.

Last year the Manchester Scholarship Fund, including income from all sources, civic organization, business and memorial funds, awarded $22,700 to 34 students.

Bond Peril Seen
In Road Closing

HARTFORD — Robert Weiss, Manchester's town manager, testified today there is a possibility a court order to keep Burnham Street open might jeopardize the town's bond issue for the Buckland Industrial Park.

Weiss was the first witness today in the resumption of the Burnham Street closing case.

Richard Rittenband, South Windsor's town attorney, said, however, he understands the bond counsels for both towns have said there would be no such possibility of jeopardizing the bond issue. But, Manchester officials indicated the marketing of bonds might be difficult if a lawsuit was filed because Burnham street was ordered to remain open.

The case involves Manchester's and South Windsor's dispute about dead-ending Burnham Street near its intersection with Croft Drive.

Manchester has sought such a dead-ending. South Windsor has opposed such a move because it feels the closing would increase traffic elsewhere.

Young Drinkers Will Cross Border

Massachusetts and buy liquor until 11 p.m. Massachusetts teen-agers who drink and drive in Connecticut may also pay a penalty in increased traffic deaths.

Trooper John McLeod, public information officer for the Connecticut State Police, says the increase in traffic from the north will likely cause more accidents and probably more deaths.

"When the drinking age was 21 in Connecticut and 18 in New York, there used to be a lot of deaths in the northwestern part of the state," McLeod said. "But it's only a guess, We'll just have to wait and see what the impact will be."

"As long as they're not driving under the influence, they're not breaking any laws here," he said. "Once they get over to Massachusetts with the stuff, that's their problem."

Trooper Thomas Ferrari of the Sturbridge, Mass., state police barracks says there will probably be one or two extra cruisers on

But Ferrari said a recent Supreme Court ruling prohibits police from random car searches unless a violation has been committed.

Penny Explains Stand on CD Referendum

MANCHESTER — The following statement has been written for Stephen Penny, Manchester's mayor and chairman of the Town Board of Directors. Penny has been an active supporter of the Community Development program and believes the town should reject the proposed ordinance that would ban town participation in the program for two years.

Some of the reasons for that stand are explained below.

The Community Development Block Grant program is a program whereby the federal government awards block grants to local governments to fund a wide range of community development activities. Spending priorities are determined at a local level.

The primary objective of the act is the development of viable urban communities by providing decent housing, a suitable living environment and expanded economic opportunities primarily for persons of low and moderate-income.

The program's requirements for participation are that a community submit a three-year spending plan and how it will spend the money allocated to it, as well as a three-year Housing Assistance Plan which identifies housing needs and how the community proposes to meet those needs. The community also must agree to carry out certain assurances — i.e. not discriminate, follow the Davis-Bacon Act for construction, do environmental assessments, further fair housing, maintain financial records according to federal guidelines and have citizen participation in program planning.

Manchester has participated in the program since June 1975. It has received $1,483,333 to date, along with a recently approved $6,000 grant for site improvements at the Spencer Street housing for the elderly.

The money has been used to benefit low- and moderate-income persons in the older parts of Manchester in the following ways: $250,000 to help 128 families fix up their older homes; $200,000 towards our elderly housing project on Spencer Street, $90,000 for a day care center, $60,000 for the Kathan Hall playground, $200,000 for East Cemetery, $70,000 for Globe Hollow and Verplank swimming pools, $100,000 for Charter Oak and $200,000 for the senior citizens center, $63,000 for our Health Department, $170,000 for fire apparatus, legal aid, Nike site, downtown Cheney Mills study and other worthwhile projects that have been and will continue to be of benefit to our community.

The following plan has been developed for the use of Community Development funds during the next three fiscal years: Housing rehabilitation loan program, 1979-80, $180,000; 1980-81, $200,000; 1981-82, $200,000; housing code enforcement, 1979-80, $24,000; 1980-81, $25,000; 1981-82, $25,000; site development at housing for the elderly, 1979-80, $13,000; Main Street neighborhood center, 1979-80, $20,000; 1980-81, $10,000; 1981-82, $10,000; sidewalk repair and construction, 1979-80, $65,000; 1980-81, $40,000; 1981-82, $40,000.

Also, a planner to coordinate studies and plans affecting Main Street, 1979-80, $6,000; funds for Main Street and downtown area program, 1980-81, $50,000; 1981-82, $50,000; funds for Cheney Mill District proposals, 1980-81, $100,000; 1981-82, $100,000; equal opportunity coordinator, 1979-80, $20,000; 1980-81, $20,000; 1981-82, $20,000; legal aid assistance, 1979-80, $5,000; 1980-81, $5,000; dental clinic, 1979-80, $70,000; administration, 1979-80, $40,000; 1980-81, $42,000; 1981-82, $42,000; contingency, 1979-80, $32,000; 1980-81, $32,000; 1981-82, $37,000.

Before receiving funding for the present year, Manchester, in keeping with the assurances it had given since the first year of the program, was required to implement an affirmative fair housing program.

The town chose to meet this requirement by distribution of a fair housing brochure and the hiring of an equal opportunity coordinator.

Other communities have been subjected to similar requirements. Most communities participating in the program have hired an individual to promote fair housing in a variety of ways.

Withdrawal from the program would eliminate appropriated funding for a number of projects. These would include the housing rehabilitation loan program, the value of which has been recognized by all.

It would also eliminate some funding designated for the 40 additional units of housing for the elderly on Spencer Street. A bond issue might be required to complete that project.

Other funding losses would affect the consultants for the Cheney Mills

District and Main Street planning, the Pitkin Street sewer project and the Charter Oak Park improvement project.

Withdrawal from the program does not guarantee that the federal government will not finance the construction of low-income housing in Manchester. HUD is free to give developers housing funds regardless of whether or not a community is receiving Community Development funds.

The two lower-income projects in town were funded by HUD giving grants to private developers.

Manchester has not utilized Community Development funds to build public housing except about $250,000 for housing for the elderly.

The town would have an opportunity at a later date to withdraw from the program if the federal government imposed requirements on the community that were unreasonable.

We are informed of any requirements the town has to meet to receive that year's funding. We have the option to withdraw if we determine those requirements are unreasonable.

What disturbs me is that the opposition's position is based entirely on speculation as to what might happen in the future. I don't think there is any foundation for their fears about what has happened to date.

I challenge anyone to read the fair housing brochure and conclude that there is something in that to fear. We hired Wilber Smith, the equal opportunity coordinator, and even Joe Sweeney (a Democratic director who supports the ban) has stated that there is nothing in his performance over the past year that should cause alarm.

They also have said the application for Community Development includes a Housing Assistance Plan, which establishes figures the town should reach for providing housing for low- and moderate-income residents.

Many of the opponents have expressed concern about such housing and fear that the town will be forced to build such units.

Supporters of Community Development, however, have said that the Housing Assistance Plan just sets goals, and not firm commitments, for the number of units. The town has to make a "good faith effort" to reach the goals, but it does not necessarily have to reach that number, they have said.

The goals also can be met through existing programs, such as Section 8 rental subsidies and the housing rehabilitation loan program.

Also, low-income housing can be built in Manchester whether or not the town participates in Community Development, the supporters have said.

They also have said that other steps the town has taken to receive the money have not hindered the town's independence. Such steps are reasonable to take considering the amount of funding received by the town.

Community Development funding has been designated for use for a number of projects, including the senior citizens center, the housing for a senior citizens center, the housing rehabilitation loan program, site improvements at the Spencer

Zinsser Cites Conditions of CD Grants

The following statement was written for Director Carl A. Zinsser concerning the upcoming CD referendum.

"I think it is fair to say that most people in Manchester would not argue about the way the CDA funds have been spent, with the possible exception of the brochure and the hiring of an Equal Housing Coordinator. And, indeed, the proponents keep making us aware of all that federal money and what we have done with it and what we can do with it.

But in order for Manchester, or any other town that participates in the Community Block Grant Program, to receive these funds, they must agree to certain conditions. These conditions are contained in the Housing Assistance Plan for HAP is, and I quote from the federal regulations, 'The HAP serves as a measure of the conditions of the applicants housing stock and the needs of lower income persons for housing assistance.' The regulations go on to say that 'All actions which are expected to share in providing expanded housing opportunities for lower income persons and to participate in area-wide solutions of housing problems through such promotions of spatial deconcentration of housing opportunities for lower income persons.

When the town submits its Housing Assistance Plan, it establishes goals that it must meet to be in compliance. For example, in Manchester, applications for the next phase of the block grant program, which covers years 5 - 6 - 7, are due by March 15. The HAP will include, over the three years, 200 new rental units and 190 rehabilitation of rental units — to name but two specific areas. Now, what if Manchester does not fulfill the goals that it has established? Demonstrating that it has established the HAP is only a goal, it is not a contract. But Democratic Director Sweeney, who is an attorney and is very knowledgeable in these matters, disagrees with Mr. Cassano.

In fact if one would check the federal regulations he would find on page 8466 of the regulations under responsibility of application — 'Applicants are responsible for implementation of the housing assistance plan in an expeditious manner. This includes the timely achievement of all goals for assisted housing and particularly those which address the needs of families and large families requiring rental assistance. Applicants are expected to take all actions within their control to facilitate the implementation of an approved housing assistance plan including those actions specifically in 570.306 (b) (3) (iii) and (b) (4) (ii) as well as the development of Section 8 housing when notifications of funding availability are not responded to by private developers.'

Also, in trying to achieve these goals, what happens if, because of zoning, Manchester is unable to achieve its goal for new construction? Mr. Black, who is the assistant area manager for HUD, stated last Monday, April 9, 1979, 'We will never ask Manchester or any other town in Connecticut or the United States to change its zoning.' This however runs contrary to the federal regulations. On page 8469 under local actions to implement goals, it is stated that 'An applicant shall make all efforts to meet the goals in its housing assistance plan. When actions such as acquisition of land, rezoning are necessary for the purpose of housing, such actions should be accomplished as expeditiously as possible under local laws and regulations. On page 8489 under local actions to implement goals of the three year housing program — 'I would also like to point out that Mr. Black's remarks are not consistent with communication received by the town from HUD. For example, on June 23, 1978, Mr. Lawrence L. Thompson, Area Director for HUD, stated in a letter to Manchester officials the following: 'With regard to this last point concerning possible obstacles in achieving HAP goals, we expressed our opinions during our meeting of June 1, that present zoning regulations are not responded to by private developers.'

One of their reasons for taking this action was to have Manchester 'place a higher priority on promoting the construction of new rental units.' Who are we to believe? 'What they forget to tell you is that "good faith effort" is only a good faith effort if HUD says so — not if Manchester says so.'

This was made crystal clear over the last week when, on April 9, 1979, Mr. Black stated 'It's not new construction.' Black said, responding to concerns that the program could pave the way for new low-income housing projects, 'but we haven't had the way that Manchester needs new construction.'

And then on the following Friday to read in the press that the State Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities has recommended that the town's $500,000 federal community development grant for next year be withheld.

Said Linda, "Governor who? I don't know him, really I don't... would you marry somebody you'd know for just two years?" Then, pointing to a photographer — "Anyhow I can't — I'm engaged to this photographer. After all, I've known him for the whole of five-hour flight."

Voters Decide Tuesday On Continuing Program

MANCHESTER — After months of discussion, the decision will be made Tuesday whether or not the town continues the federal Community Development program.

Question two on Tuesday's ballot asks voters if they support a proposed ordinance that would place a two-year ban on town participation in the program. A "no" vote means the voter supports the ban to drop out of the Community Development program. A "yes" vote means the voter wants to have the town continue in the program.

Community Development annually provides about $500,000 to the town. The money is to be used primarily for projects that assist low- and moderate-income residents.

Opponents of the program started their work for a townwide vote on last year. In January, a group called Concerned Citizens for Manchester, which led the opposition, submitted a petition to the town clerk.

That petition had enough signatures to force a townwide vote on the proposed ordinance forbidding the town from participating in Community Development for two years.

Tuesday, the town's registered voters will decide whether such a ban goes into effect.

Opponents of Community Development have said the town has to meet too many requirements of the federal government before it receives the funding each year. They point to last year when the town agreed to hire an equal opportunity coordinator and distribute a fair housing brochure.

They also have said the application for Community Development includes a Housing Assistance Plan, which establishes figures the town should reach for providing housing for low- and moderate-income residents.

Many of the opponents have expressed concern about such housing and fear that the town will be forced to build such units.

Supporters of Community Development, however, have said that the Housing Assistance Plan just sets goals, and not firm commitments, for the number of units. The town has to make a "good faith effort" to reach the goals, but it does not necessarily have to reach that number, they have said.

The goals also can be met through existing programs, such as Section 8 rental subsidies and the housing rehabilitation loan program.

Also, low-income housing can be built in Manchester whether or not the town participates in Community Development, the supporters have said.

They also have said that other steps the town has taken to receive the money have not hindered the town's independence. Such steps are reasonable to take considering the amount of funding received by the town.

Community Development funding has been designated for use for a number of projects, including the senior citizens center, the housing for a senior citizens center, the housing rehabilitation loan program, site improvements at the Spencer

Water Project Bonding First Question on Ballot

MANCHESTER — The first question on Tuesday's ballot will ask town voters to approve a $20 million bond issue for improvements to the water system.

The proposed improvements to the system include the construction of a filter treatment plant, repairs and replacement to the water lines and an upgrading of the distribution system.

The changes would improve the quality of drinking water in the town. They also would improve water pressure in some areas, which would increase fire protection capabilities.

The federal government has established stricter regulations for drinking water quality. To meet these standards, town officials have said the improvements included in the bond issue are needed.

The proposed spending plan for the $20 million would include about $7 million for construction of the new filter plant and related changes, $11.5 million for line improvements, replacements and upgrading of the distribution system and $1.5 million for improving service to Glastonbury.

The Glastonbury expenditure might not be necessary if a new method, such as the Metropolitan District Commission, is approved for servicing those 270 customers now served by Manchester.

The water treatment plant would be about 100 percent of the proposed improvements. It would be located north of Spring Street at one of two proposed locations. Both would be situated west of Mt. Nieto.

Originally, the site of the plant had been the subject of some discussion. One of the four possible sites reviewed for the plant was the Globe Hill swimming pool.

Many opposed losing the pool for such a plant, so the decision was made not to locate the plant at the pool site. Instead, the plant would be located across the street and would not interfere with the popular swimming area.

The plant would provide treatment for all drinking water used by customers of the Town Water Department. Presently, much of the water that goes into Manchester's homes does not receive any filtering treatment.

The present filtering system for water consists of the Cooper Hill treatment plant, which treats water for about 10 percent of the town's customers, and the antiquated Lane Street plant.

Improvements to the distribution system would include a number of line repairs and replacements of lines that are too old or too small.

The bond issue will be paid for entirely from Water Department revenues. Water rates are expected to increase. Town officials have said the rates could go up as much as three times the present rate, but such an increase would be under the worst circumstances, they said.

The increase would be a gradual one spread over the next five years, town officials have said. Also, the rate increase for water would not affect the rate charged for sewer use.

The sewer charge, which is included on the same billing as the water charge, will not increase because of the water improvements.

The sewer rate used to be based on the amount charged for water use, but this is no longer true.

If the town does not provide proper treatment for water by 1981, it could face fines of up to $1,000 per day per violation.

If the bond issue is defeated, the town would have to seek other alternatives. It could receive water from the MDC or it could come back to town voters with a reduced water bond issue.

There are few residents in the town who would be in the present bond issue, however, town officials have said.

Service from the MDC also could be more expensive in the long run because the town still would have to make a number of system improvements.

Massage Law Hearing Set

VERNON — The Town Council meeting tonight will be preceded by a public hearing at 7:30 on proposed amendments to Ordinance 99 dealing with the operation of massage parlors. The meeting and hearing will be in the Memorial Building, Park Place.

In a memorandum to council members, Mayor Frank McCoy said, "There are numerous changes but probably the most important ones are as to the fees which I am recommending to be increased to $750 for the permit to operate the business and $125 as a permit for the massagists."

The mayor said that due to the fact there was no mention of fees in the previous ordinance, Section 4(c) should be corrected to read "A fee of $750 of which $75 shall not be refundable to defray the cost of administration," and in Section 5(e), "A fee of $125 of which $25 shall not be refundable to defray the cost of administration."

The proposed amendments eliminate the words "limited massagists" and the mayor said he hopes this will remove Vernon as the training grounds for operators. They will also call for massage parlors to close down operations during the hours of 11 p.m. and 8 a.m.

The proposed amendments also prohibit any contact with the sexual or genital parts of another person or the exposure of these parts to another person.

Massagists are also prohibited from administering a massage on an outcall basis, only within an establishment which is licensed to carry on such business under the ordinance.

Council Meeting
During the regular council meeting there will be a discussion concerning the proposed closing of Sykes School, the Hartford Area CETA Consortium Agreement, the municipal insurance account, the allocation of funds for the Community Development Block Grant for 1978-79, police station funds, and requests for tax refunds.

The council, if time permits, will continue its budget deliberations following the meeting. The main topic of discussion will be the salaries and the pay plan.

The council agreed to discuss salaries after the budgets are all reviewed. It also agreed to discuss a capital improvements budget.

Women's Fellowship
VERNON — "Self Protection for Women" will be the topic to be discussed at the April 18 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of Union Congregational Church. The meeting will start with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. at the church, 200 Main St., Vernon. The speaker will be Sgt. Frederick Bird of the Connecticut State Police and Officer William Robert and Carl Hecney. Those planning to attend the event are asked to call 696-8402 or 643-5710 to make reservations for the evening.

Annual Meeting
VERNON — The annual meeting of the Tolland County Extension Center is scheduled for April 20 at 8 p.m. at the Tolland County Agriculture Center, Route 20.

The guest speaker will be Hilton Kaderli, weather reporter for WFSB Channel 3 television. He will talk about how news and weather reports are prepared and how feature stories are chosen.

Congregators to Meet
BOLTON — The Congregators will meet April 20 for a potluck supper and scavenger hunt. Host couples are Harold and Barbara Smith and Robert and Carl Hecney. Those planning to attend the event are asked to call 646-8402 or 643-5710 to make reservations for the evening.

Israel Warns Jordan to Stop Guerrilla Infiltration

By United Press International
TIRAT, Zair near Beer Sheva in the south, Israel's national referendum on the pact with Israel. He predicted 99 percent of Egyptians will approve the treaty.

In Israel's tense northern border with Lebanon, Israeli-backed Christian militia shelled Palestinian, U.S. and Lebanese army positions, zeroing in on the Palestinian controlled port of Tyre.

Israeli forces killed four armed guerrillas in the fields of Kibbutz Tirat Zair near Beer Sheva in the Jordan valley Sunday and warned Jordan its military forces would cross the border to clean out the guerrillas as they did in Lebanon last year.

It was the second time in a month Israeli troops killed a band of four Palestinians trying to penetrate across the Jordan. A commando group was stopped March 10 shortly before President Carter's dramatic peace visit to the Middle East.

"It can be assumed that if Jordan turned the guerrillas over to Israel, it would not be free from the type of thing we have done in Lebanon during the last year," the Israeli army's northern commander, Avigdor Ben-Gal, said.

An army spokesman said the guerrillas carried rifles, grenades and rifle grenades. They also had posters and literature, he said.

In Beirut, Lebanon, the PLO continued the guerrilla war by attacking the kibbutz. A spokesman claimed the Israelis suffered heavy losses.

Hassoun drove the PLO out of Jordan in 1970 after a 10-day civil war in which 3,500 guerrillas were killed. But he has been trying to improve his relations with the hard-line Arab states and the PLO since the Egyptian-Israeli agreement.

key source of aid in retaliation for signing a peace treaty with Israel. In Egypt, President Anwar Sadat banned extremist political activity by Muslim students opposed to the treaty and he had "issued orders to police that anybody attempting to sabotage the state or private property should be shot on sight."

In a speech at the University of Assiut, 200 miles south of Cairo, Sadat warned, "I will tolerate no sub-

Oil Hike Sought By Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Iran is expected to press for yet another increase in the price of oil at the next meeting of the OPEC oil cartel in June, government sources said today.

Despite Sunday's announced 13 percent oil price rise as well as increases production to near pre-revolution levels, one official said, "Iran's chief resource still is under-priced and the revenue from resumed oil exports is steadily being eroded by inflation and costs of industrial goods."

Tehran radio said today Foreign Minister Karim Sanjabi has resigned protesting that he could not get anything done, but still had to share responsibility.

Revolutionary courts executed three more officials of the Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi's regime, including a general, Ahmad Hamidi, a physician. The latest killings brought to 142 the total of known executions since the revolution.

The 13 percent increase effectively raises prices to $18.57 from the April 1 rate of $14.67 for the low sulfur Iranian light crude and to $16.04 from $14.24 for the heavy crude.

Moreover, the new surcharge of $1.90 on each barrel of Iranian light — almost 50 percent of total Iranian production — represented an increase of 70 cents a barrel over what Iran said it would charge at the end of the OPEC meeting in Geneva.

Industry sources said the surcharges were designed to help Iran ease severe cash problems that followed the February revolution, which shut down hundreds of industries and caused widespread unemployment.

The radio said Sanjabi, leader of the National Front political movement that helped Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini oust the shah, offered his resignation in a letter to Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan, but added it was not known if Bazargan accepted it.

Observers believed Sanjabi's resignation may be linked to the continuing row over the arrest of two sons and a daughter in law of Ayatollah Mahmoud Taleghani, 72, a close friend and political aide of Sanjabi and Khomeini's influential deputy.

Regarding further oil price increases, the revolutionary government has set a budget of $8.5 billion for the three months ending June 12 and hopes to pay for it with oil exports.

Current exports total up to 4 million barrels a day. But Iranian oil industry officials hope to push the output further to reach an average maximum of 4.5 million barrels a day of exports during April-June to have enough funds to pay government workers' salaries, continue work on essential public projects and keep some money for recurring expenses.

Industry sources said Iran's oil was still being sold for $20 a barrel on the spot market but they could not tell how much of the 4 million barrels a day loaded on super tankers went to spot customers.

Letters to the Editor Continued Use of CD Funds Opposed

To the editor: We in Manchester are faced with two very important referendum questions on Election Day April 17, 1979.

Question #2 whether to continue in the Community Block Grant program under the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) poses threats of a permanent nature.

If one examines the multitude of government give away programs, with the resulting loss of Constitutional freedom and eventual government bankruptcy outlined by professional economists of national repute, the conclusion one reaches is that our democracy, our freedom and our constitution are gravely threatened.

Man's own self-government and self-determination which they feel they are losing both to HUD and CROG. Many feel that HUD's policies will over-burden the town's resources and future tax structure.

Block Grant Funds Favored

To the editor: I am pleased to see that the minds of many Manchester residents, as the April 17th referendum approaches, is our town's ability to keep its image as a city of village charm.

Water System Referendum

To the editor: On April 17, all eligible voters of the Town of Manchester should exercise their right and cast a vote on the referendum questions. Only by having a large turnout can a true consensus be had on the issues involved.

In order to meet these relatively new federal and state mandated standards, water from each of our seven surface reservoirs must be piped into one central water treatment plant and put through a sophisticated series of treatments before being sold to anyone for human consumption.

Zoeller Had Reason for 'Fling' After Winning First Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The millions of television viewers watching Fuzzy Zoeller become the first modern day rookie to win the Masters never saw what happened after he sank that $50,000 birdie six footer on the second hole of sudden death and flung his putter ecstatically in the air.

No one ever saw it come down — at least no one among those watching on the tube. And sharp-eyed Vin Scully, who did such an excellent job on the final wrap-up for CBS, laughingly suggested the club might eventually be sighted spinning over nearby Atlanta.

Actually, the putter did come down out of sight of the camera, but Fuzzy Zoeller never did.

That's perfectly all right, too, because he's having the time of his life up there in outer space somewhere. And he doesn't care if he never sets both feet back on the ground again after the way he beat Tom Watson and Ed Sneed in Sunday's playoff to capture a title everybody kept telling him he couldn't possibly win.

"I'm still on cloud nine and probably still will be for another three or four weeks," confesses the affable first-time Masters' starter from New Albany, Ind. "There are so many who would like to be in my position, so why shouldn't I enjoy myself. Listen, I have a lot of fun playing golf. It's such a pleasure to be outdoors."

Zoeller, 27 years old, looked at the reporters congregated around him. "I could never do what you guys do," he said. "You have to be indoors too much."

That's the reason he may have felt that way could have been because he had won only one professional tournament previously, the San Diego Open, this past January. In his four years on the circuit, every where he went he kept hearing he had not chance in such a blue ribbon event as the Masters.

Even after his first three rounds of 70, 71 and 69, which preceded his final round of 70 that put him in a 72-hole tie with Watson and Sneed, nobody gave Zoeller much of a chance.

"Everybody kept telling me you're playing awfully well — like I was doing something wrong," he said following his victory. "Before I won at San Diego, I was getting a whole lot of the same thing. People back home were saying to me 'when you gonna win? When you gonna win? Like if you don't win, we don't want to talk to you.'"

Zoeller, 27 years old, looked at the reporters congregated around him. "I could never do what you guys do," he said. "You have to be indoors too much."

Zoeller got $50,000 for winning the Masters. That vaulted him into second place on this year's money list at $151,720 — more than $42,000 more than he made all last year. Watson and Sneed each got $30,000, enough to keep Watson at the top of the money list at nearly $176,000.

Actions of Winner

Rookie Can Win Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — No one was more surprised than Fuzzy Zoeller.

As he heard enough during the week of his first master, "Hookies don't win at Augusta. And, anyway, he never really appeared to be in contention until the last minute.

"It was a round that started out slow and ended quick," Zoeller said Sunday after coming from six shots off the pace and then beating Tom Watson and Ed Sneed on the second hole of a sudden death playoff by sinking a six-foot birdie putt.

"I didn't think I had a chance," he said. "Not when I was sitting at 7 under and Ed was at 11 and we had only three holes left to play."

Zoeller is the first rookie to capture the tournament in 44 years. Gene Sarazen did it in 1935. A 27-year-old resident of New Albany, Ind., Zoeller said he thinks he won because he was so relaxed.

Sneed, who had started the day five strokes ahead of the field, still isn't sure what hit him after finishing regulation play with three straight bogeys.

White Sneed's game was collapsing. Zoeller, who got into his first Masters by winning at San Diego for his initial PGA victory in four years on the tour, picked up the stroke he needed to catch playing partner Watson and former leader Sneed by making a 19-foot birdie putt at the next to last hole.

Watson, Masters runner up for the second straight year after winning at Augusta in 1977, said it never crossed his mind that he could catch Sneed until the lanky Virginian missed a six foot putt on the final hole.

Jack Nicklaus, making a last minute challenge for what would have been an unprecedented sixth Master championship, missed the playoff by a single stroke.

Zoeller, Watson and Sneed all wound up 72 holes at 8 under par 280

THINK OF VOLKSWAGEN AS PART OF THE FAMILY.

Volkswagens are true family cars. The John Murray Seniors had their VW for eight years.

Then they gave it to John Murray Junior when they bought their new one. The John Murray Seniors are happy with their new VW, and you can see that Junior is certainly happy with his new VW.

When a car can drive through two generations, that's quite a car. That's a Volkswagen.

They're two reasons Volkswagens can last so long. The first is the way we build them. We put in the finest quality features like fuel injection. Our system gets you great mileage on regular gasoline. It's also why we build the most economical car engine in America for our Diesel Rabbit — delivering 55 EPA est. mpg, 50 mpg est. highway! And we have the finest, firmest handling package. It makes driving a real joy instead of a real job.

Add to that special features like negative steering roll radius, balanced designed braking, fully independent suspension, and a passive restraint seat belt system* that

That's the way the new Masters champ talks. Completely naturally. He acts the same way.

When he made that super clutch putt of his on the 11th hole, which was the second extra one in the first sudden death playoff ever held here, after Watson and Sneed both had missed chances for birdies, Zoeller jumped high and threw both hands in the air.

He hugged his caddy, Jeriah "Jerry" Beard, who helped him all week long because of his unfamiliarity with the course — "I felt like a blind man with a seeing eye dog," — and bubbled over to such a degree, you would've thought he had just been crowned the new world heavyweight champ.

One of the reasons he may have felt that way could have been because he had won only one professional tournament previously, the San Diego Open, this past January. In his four years on the circuit, every where he went he kept hearing he had not chance in such a blue ribbon event as the Masters.

Even after his first three rounds of 70, 71 and 69, which preceded his final round of 70 that put him in a 72-hole tie with Watson and Sneed, nobody gave Zoeller much of a chance.

West's Career Remains Alive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was tired, Jerry West's coaching career was on the line. It also came down to that for the Los Angeles Lakers in Denver Sunday.

Thanks to his big man, West's career is still alive.

"I thought I was going to keel over," West said after Abdul-Jabbar hit a 16-foot hook shot with 12 seconds left to give the Lakers a 112-111 victory over the Nuggets and a 2-1 win in their Western Conference preliminary playoff series.

"Towards the end Jerry took a couple of extra timeouts," said an exhausted Abdul-Jabbar. "But if we lost this one there wasn't going to be any more season anyway."

West has told his team his tenure as Laker coach will end along with this season. He preferred not to talk about that Sunday, choosing to look ahead to the next round of the NBA playoffs which begins Tuesday night in Seattle.

"I just hope by Tuesday we've got a little bit left," West said. "We don't have much time to prepare."

Abdul-Jabbar led the Los Angeles attack with 26 points. Adrian Dantley added 25 and Jamaal Wilkes 23. David Thompson, who missed the final shot of the game, led Denver with 28 points and Dan Issel had 24.

The win was the first ever for the Lakers in Denver. "In the third period of every game there they bury us in the third quarter. They didn't do that tonight," said West and may have ended Donnie Walsh's brief coaching career. Hired as interim coach this season, Walsh has said he'll be going back to his law practice in North Carolina.

In the other preliminary round game, Phoenix ousted Portland, 101-91.

The league's quarterfinal round also got under way Sunday in the Eastern Conference with defending champ Washington and San Antonio scoring relatively easy opening victories. Washington beat Atlanta, 103-89, and the Spurs defeated the Philadelphia 76ers, 119-106.

NBA 101, Trailblazers 91.

Walter Davis, who scored 23 points, led a Phoenix rally which brought the Suns from eight points down in the fourth quarter to victory over Portland. Phoenix now opens the Western Division semifinals at Kansas City Tuesday night.

Davis led the surge which saw the Suns move from a 76-68 deficit to an 82-76 lead with eight minutes left. The closest Portland got after that was five as Phoenix took the best of three qualifying series, two games to one.

Paul Westphal led all scorers with 26 for Phoenix.

Hulkies 103, Hawks 89.

Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge scored 20 points each and the defending NBA champion Bullets scored 12 straight points in the fourth quarter to take a 1-0 lead over Atlanta in their best-of-seven series. The Bullets erupted from an 85-85 tie with 5:39 to play to take a 97-85 lead with 1:36 left.

Hayes scored 20 of his 30 points in the second half and Dandridge had 12 in the fourth quarter as the Bullets erased a 76-71 third-quarter Hawks lead.

Spurs 119, 76ers 106.

George Gervin with 31 points and Larry Kenon with 30 teamed up to spark San Antonio past Philadelphia and a 1-0 edge in that best-of-seven series.

The fired-up Spurs took control with less than three minutes gone in the first quarter and led 31-22 after one period. The 76ers never got any closer, despite a third-quarter rally led by Darryl Dawkins' 13-point outburst.

Dawkins led Philadelphia with 23 points, 20 in the second half.

San Antonio's guards picked up Philadelphia's guard at midcourt, forcing the Sixers into 27 turnovers and resulting in 17 steals for the Spurs.

Elite Long Distance Runners Answer Gun In Boston Race

HOPKINTON, Mass. (UPI) — The toughest threat, ran the fourth fastest time of 1978 in winning world, led by record holder and defending champion Bill Rodgers, was to break away from a horde of thousands today when the Boston Marathon surged through Eastern Massachusetts for the 33rd time.

The runners were expected to be greeted by overcast skies and temperatures in the 40s with a 40 percent chance of rain.

The field included 7,840 official entrants from the United States and 26 foreign countries. Up to 2,000 unofficial entries were expected to take part in the world's most famous foot race before the usual millions of spectators who will line the 26-mile, 385-year route from Hopkinton to downtown Boston.

The conditions favor the serious runners and could lead to a new Boston mark if the precipitation holds off. Rodgers set the old mark of 2:09:55 in 1975.

Rodgers and Fukuoka winner Toshiko Seko, who leads a 45-member Japanese delegation, head a group of 90 runners who have completed a marathon in 2:20 or less, an unprecedented group of talent in the history of the sport.

Gretzky Too Much for Whalers

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — Edmonton Oilers' Coach Glen Sather says rookie sensation Wayne Gretzky is always lucky on the ice at the Springfield Civic Center.

Sunday night was no exception. Gretzky netted a hat trick and assisted on a fourth goal to power the Edmonton Oilers to a 4-1 World Hockey Association victory over the New England Whalers.

"He's had a lot of luck here," Sather said of Gretzky after the game. "It seems that every time we come here, he takes off."

...because he's had a lot of ice time. We've been trying to rest him for the playoffs," Sather added. "But when he gets out there he just goes wild."

The loss was the Whalers' 10th in their last 12 home games, and was also their final regular season game.

The 18-year-old Gretzky, picked up by the Oilers after the Indianapolis Racers folded, scored Edmonton's first goal at 19:50 of the first period on a 45 foot slap shot that eluded New England goalie Joli Garrett.

Canadiens Ready for Leafs

NEW YORK (UPI) — In case some of the National Hockey League hopefuls have forgotten, the Montreal Canadiens still own the Stanley Cup. And they can get mighty testy about giving it up, too.

"Throughout the week we have worked real hard," forward Mario Tremblay said Sunday, discussing Montreal's quarterfinal series with the Toronto Maple Leafs that begins tonight.

"We had good workouts and we used them to revise our plays and especially the power play," he continued. "We also had four team meetings and we are ready."

Tremblay, though not classified with superstars like Guy Lafleur, Larry Robinson, Jacques Lemaire and Ken Dryden, nevertheless can play hockey. He scored two goals in the Stanley Cup clinching victory over Boston last season. He represents a constant reminder that everyone in the Canadian lineup can play to championship level.

Kyle's something for all clubs to keep in mind when they open their respective quarters. Chicago will be at the New York Islanders, Pittsburgh at Boston and the New York Rangers at Philadelphia in the other best-of-seven series.

Montreal must find a way to neutralize the aggressiveness of its traditional rival, which swept Atlanta in two games to advance to the quarterfinals.

Montreal's Montreal engages the Maple Leafs. The Islanders will remain busy trying to establish a clear superiority over Chicago.

That, of course, amounts to what the Islanders felt about the Leafs last season. And then came a seven-game tail ending with Lanny McDonald's goal in overtime. But the Islanders resolved to do better this year, and they did.

Center Bryan Trottier led the league in points and right wing Mike Bossy scored 69 goals, most in the league. Denis Potvin became only

Mayor Asks Return Of Assessed Fines

VERNON - Mayor Frank McCoy has asked the Department of Environmental Protection to "assign and turn over to the Town of Vernon, the $31,000 in fines" assessed to LaPointe Industries Inc. of Rockville.

The fine has been imposed, apparently because of LaPointe's failure to install pollutant control with the alleged resultant discharge of chemicals and chemical particles into the town's sewage system.

The mayor said these discharges cannot be handled by the sewage treatment plant and have caused damage and considerable expense in the operation of the plant.

In his letter to Stanley A. Pac, commissioner of Environmental Protection, the mayor said, noting he was not attempting to pass judgement on the justification for the fines, that he was asking consideration of some facts.

The mayor explained that the treatment plant, which started operation in the fall of 1978, has still not been accepted, but has resulted in doubling of sewer user charges.

He said the increase in charges has involved the town in several lawsuits by industrial and multi-residential users because of the large increase.

He said these suits have reduced the town's ability to finance the operation of the plant and the suits themselves will be lengthy and expensive. "In constructing the plant the Town of Vernon complied with all of the requirements of the state and federal agencies. Neither the state DEP or federal agencies suffered damage

QUESTION #3 YES NO

QUESTION #4 YES NO

We do need water improvements but question the price and method of paying. If it is turned down now, it will be put to vote again in Nov. for 7 million for water plant alone. We will not be forced to join the MDC at this time. -Your Choice-

To protect the future of Manchester to save taxes and keep property values safe, to preserve our zoning and stay free of federal control. You have to vote yes to mean no. Remember it could be your neighborhood chosen for low-income housing. -VOTE YES-

This is an advisory question and the Board refused to give an advisory referendum on HUD saying it was their job to make decisions. The people had to force the question by legal petition. So let the Board make the decision. -VOTE NO-

The Democratic Board of directors have deliberately tried to confuse the issue with these questions. How can you trust them any further to do what is best for Manchester. Put your trust in your vote. -VOTE NO-

You get an Energy Savings Payback of between $169 and $212 with a new Pilotless Gas Range

What is ESP? It's the Energy Savings Payback you get based on the cost of operating an appliance over its lifetime. Most people buying a range consider only features and price, not the cost of operation. But it's the Lifetime Operating Cost (LOC) that can cut dramatically when you replace your electric or conventional gas range with a new energy-efficient gas range.

The average life of a range is 13 years. In 13 years of average use, an electric range uses 15,860 kilowatt hours of energy. A conventional gas range uses 1,356 thermal units of energy. A new pilotless gas range uses only 923 thermal units. Based on these averages and current gas and electric rates in CNG's service area, here's how the ESP works:

New Gas Range Compared to Electric Range
Electric Range LOC	$699.00
New Energy Efficient Gas Range LOC	387.00
Your Energy Savings Payback	$212.00

New Gas Range Compared to Conventional Gas Range
Conventional Gas Range LOC	$566.00
New Energy Efficient Gas Range LOC	387.00
Your Energy Savings Payback	$179.00

With the purchase of any new major gas appliance, CNG is offering free the new Saver Shower showerhead. The Saver Shower cuts hot water consumption without decreasing pressure or cleaning power. It's a $9.95 retail value, and it could give the average family an ESP of up to $100.00 a year.

What could be more down to earth than saving $169? Not much, except for saving $212.

Annual Fishing Derby Planned for Saturday

VERNON - The 15th annual Children's Fishing Derby, sponsored by the Vernon Recreation Department, is scheduled for April 21, the opening day of the fishing season, at Valley Falls Park.

The derby will start at 10 a.m. and end at 3 p.m. and the pond will be closed to all fishing until the start of the derby. In the event of rain, the derby will be rescheduled for Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

The Recreation Department, headed by Donald Berger, will stock the pond with more than 300 trout ranging in size from 10 to 14 inches. In the event of rain, the derby will be rescheduled for Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

Area Tournament Slated

VERNON - Area basketball teams will participate in a tri-club tournament starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Rockville High School gym. All proceeds will go to the heart fund.

Graduation Requirement Increased

HEBRON - The Regional District Board of Education has voted unanimously to increase the graduation requirements for graduation from 18 to 20 credits, effective with the class of 1982.

The board agreed to have make the two extra credits for elective courses. Dr. Diana Vecchione, principal of Rham High School, said that the majority of the Rham faculty members supported the increase in requirements.

However, Raymond Dyson, guidance counselor, disagreed with Dr. Vecchione, saying that the change will make it more difficult to graduate. He said should a student fail a course it will be necessary to take six credits the following year to make it up, he said.

Dyson suggested that the board adopt the five and one-quarter credit system of the junior and senior high schools. He said that the present is only an administrative policy and therefore not binding on the students.

Although the board did not discuss its proposed budget, the school administration is in the process of preparing revenue figures for all towns as well as estimating what the leaves for the member towns to finance the budget proposals.

The board was told that Rham students of the junior and senior high will be attending an industrial arts convention in Tennessee June 16-22. The students pay their own way for this trip.

The board also voted to reinstate a weighted grading system, but tabled action to set a time to initiate the change. Weighted grading was first introduced at Rham in the 1972-73 school year but was dropped in the 1973-74 school year.

The board also voted, but not unanimously, to approve the school calendar for the 1979-80 school year with just one change. The board recommended a vacation from March 31 to April 4 in place of the week off in April, following Easter.

This proposal provides for school to close June 1980, in six snow days. As a special attraction, there will be a Hat Shot Shoot out involving town officials from Vernon and Ellington. This will be about 6:45 p.m.

Team winners of the Tolland County Championship held last weekend in Vernon will take on the National Division team. In the finale at 8:30 p.m., the Senior League All-Stars from Vernon will play the Ellington All-Stars. Ellington, in a recent tournament, won the championship by one point.

There will be five age groups for boys with a first and second prize for each. The categories will be 8-years
