Low tar MERIT proven major alternative to high tar smoking—see results below.

Can low tar MERIT packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco measure up to the taste of high tar cigarettes?

Read the results from a nationwide research effort involving smokers who actually tested MERIT against leading high tar brands.

Results Confirm Breakthrough
Confirmed: Majority of smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers?

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking
MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy!

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first real taste alternative for high tar smokers.

Shots Fatal

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Food chain tycoon Julius Kravitz, who along with his wife was kidnapped and shot in an unsuccessful $1.5 million ransom plot, died today as law enforcement authorities searched the Cleveland area for the two kidnapers. Kravitz, 67, chairman of the board of First National Supermarkets Inc., and his wife, Georgina, 56, were abducted Tuesday morning from their apartment in the fashionable Fairmount Circle section of Shaker Heights. Police said the kidnapers were disguised as police officers. Kravitz was shot three times in the chest and once in the back. He underwent surgery Tuesday but died about 8:15 a.m. today. Mrs. Kravitz was shot in both arms and was in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital.

Prison Swap

If the Justice Department frees four Puerto Rican nationalists as it has been considering, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro has said he may release four Americans who are jailed in Cuba. The jailed nationalists are Lolita Lebron, Irving Flores Rodriguez and Rafael Cancel Miranda, who shot up the House of Representatives in 1964, and Oscar Collazo, who tried to kill Truman on Nov. 1, 1950. The Americans jailed in Cuba—all but one on espionage-related charges—are Lawrence Lunt, a former U.S. Air Force man, Juan Tur, Claudio Rodriguez Morales and Everett Jackson, a former U.S. paratrooper.

Murder Case

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Stephen T. Judy, 22, faces murder charges in connection with the killing during the weekend of Terry Lee Claxton, 21, and her three children, 5, 4 and 2. At a preliminary arraignment in Martinsville Tuesday, he buried his head in his hands and sobbed. Officials in Indiana and Illinois deny responsibility, but admit Judy somehow slipped through the justice system.

Aspirin Helps

CHICAGO (UPI) — In the past studies have shown daily doses of aspirin can decrease the incidence of recurring heart attacks and strokes, but studies by Michael Reese Hospital researcher Dr. Ruth Pick published in the Journal of Clinical Investigation, now indicate the daily doses may prevent such problems from occurring in the first place. "It would be nice to be able to prevent heart attacks and strokes by taking an aspirin a day from childhood," the research scientist said, but warned, "we are not there yet."

Seven Blasts

PARIS (UPI) — Seven bomb blasts, all occurred within an hour on the Right Bank of the Seine today and in the western suburb of Boulogne-Billancourt, and although police said damage was extensive, there were no injuries. It reportedly was one of the worst nights of sabotage since the final days of the Algerian War in 1962. The bombs damaged government buildings, businesses and a bank, although no immediate estimate of financial loss could be made. A previously unknown group called the "Coordination of Revolutionary Action" claimed responsibility for the explosions, the latest in a string of violent, and in some cases bloody, incidents that rocked Paris on May Day.

Bring on the Clowns

Maybe being a clown isn't all that much fun, at least one wouldn't think so looking at the expression on the face of Noel Densmore. Noel is being made up as a clown during May Day celebrations at the Hockanum Valley Day Care Center in Vernon Monday. The artist is Elaine Mezzo. ## Guarantees of Funding May Doom School Plan

HARTFORD (UPI) — The very thing that helped pave political passage of the new school finance law — a $250 per pupil guarantee to every town — could prove to be the plan's undoing when it reaches the courts. If that turns out to be the case, John Toffolon, the chairman of the State Board of Education, can say "I told you so."

Over the expressed wishes of Toffolon's board, the Legislature put a provision in its five-year, $381 million school finance package that guarantees every Connecticut town, no matter how rich, at least $250 per student. Through the lengthy and frequently tedious debate on school finance, political realists kept saying the plan would never make it through the legislative process unless the state's most affluent communities were given at least some slice of the educational pie.

They reasoned that lawmakers from rich towns would learn up with enough Republicans to form a majority in the House, blocking passage of the bill. The School Finance Advisory Panel, a special task force created to deal with the sticky funding issue, banked on this possibility when it drew up its plan late last fall. The members of that panel voted for the $250 per pupil guarantee. But the State Board of Education, which got its hands on the formula next, voted unanimously to remove the per pupil grant.

"Critics of the (board's) plan appear to ignore the primary purpose of the proposal, which is to equalize school funding in Connecticut, and to preserve the status quo," Toffolon warned at the time.

Eventually, the Legislature chose to ignore his advice and put the money — $10 million — back in the plan. The school finance law is now on a certain collision course with Senior Superior Court Judge Jay Rubinow — the man who five years ago declared Connecticut's system of funding unconstitutional in the now famous Horton vs. Meskill lawsuit.

The state Supreme Court later upheld Rubinow's historic ruling and last fall, Rubinow ordered law-

Separate Plans Due for Budget

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — This year's budget-setting process has drawn a complaint from a Republican member of the Board of Directors and praise from the Democratic chairman. These differing opinions apparently will result in the two political parties presenting two separate budgets at Monday's session when the budget for 1979-80 will be set. The board has been reviewing the $28,149,341 budget proposed by Town Manager Robert Weiss for the past month. This year's sessions have been quieter than those in the past with little bickering about where to cut and only a few reductions being made so far.

Because of this, Republican Director Carl Zinsser said he feels all of the actual budget work will be done by the Democratic directors in caucus. "All that talk about all these public meetings is just propaganda," Zinsser said. Because he feels the Democrats will make all of the proposed changes in the budget during a private caucus, Zinsser said the Republicans will have a separate budget to present Monday.

Stephen Penny, chairman of the board, praised this year's method of setting the budget.

The Democratic directors set a six percent limit on the amount of increase Weiss could recommend in his budget. Weiss' proposed budget is slightly below that six percent increase figure.

"The fundamental decisions were made by the administrators of the town. That's why these budget sessions have been—at least on the surface—less productive," Penny said. Last year, for instance, Weiss' budget represented more than a 12 percent increase over the previous year. After weeks of line-by-line review, the board reduced the budget to a 6.5 percent increase, he said.

This year, they are starting work on a budget that is only a six percent increase over present spending, he said. Thus, there is less excess money in the manager's proposal. Still, Penny does expect further cuts to be made in the budget Monday night.

He said he feels this year's budgeting procedure is "a much better way of doing things," the board received a request for funding for two items—the MCC Relays and the town's pensioners. Bruce Watkins, director of the Board of Directors of the relays, asked that the town consider providing funding or in-kind services needed for the track and field event. He said the relays have brought much publicity for the town. "It's become a part of Manchester. It's typical of what Manchester does," Watkins said. Town Manager Robert Weiss said the town annually pays for police coverage at the Thanksgiving Day Roadraces. Fred Geyer, chairman of the town's Pension Board, made a request that a five percent cost-of-living increase granted last year for pensioners be made a permanent increase. The board took no action Tuesday on the MCC Relays or pension request. The directors also met in executive session but apparently made no decision about a salary increase for Weiss. That decision will be made Monday night.

Smith was hired last summer and his responsibilities have included establishing an educational program about fair housing. He also handled complaints about discrimination related to housing. The position was created by the town to meet federal requirements for the receipt of present-year Community Development funds. Town residents voted April 17 to withdraw from the program. One of the reasons the opposition against the program formed. Smith, however, has said this has been used as an excuse for the opposition. He has said racism is a major reason for the vote to withdraw from the program for two years. Smith is a former state senator and has been active in Hartford politics. In all sincerity, I have enjoyed the opportunity to work for and with you, Charles McCarthy (assistant town manager) and other members of your staff," Smith wrote to Weiss.

Smith Leaving For State Job

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Wilber Smith, the town's equal opportunity coordinator, has resigned and will take a job with the state Office of Policy and Management. Smith's position in town was funded with Community Development monies, so the job was to be discontinued at the end of June. His resignation becomes effective Friday, May 18. "As you know, continued employment with the town past June 29 is tenuous at best," Smith wrote in a letter to Town Manager Robert Weiss. "It is for that reason alone that I have sought and will have received an offer of employment that continues continued career advancement."

Smith will take a job with the Office of Policy and Management that apparently will involve working with affirmative action programs. He said this morning, however, he is not sure what the full scope of the new job will include. Smith was hired last summer and his responsibilities have included establishing an educational program about fair housing. He also handled complaints about discrimination related to housing. The position was created by the town to meet federal requirements for the receipt of present-year Community Development funds. Town residents voted April 17 to withdraw from the program. One of the reasons the opposition against the program formed. Smith, however, has said this has been used as an excuse for the opposition. He has said racism is a major reason for the vote to withdraw from the program for two years. Smith is a former state senator and has been active in Hartford politics. In all sincerity, I have enjoyed the opportunity to work for and with you, Charles McCarthy (assistant town manager) and other members of your staff," Smith wrote to Weiss.

Area Manager Quits

GLASTONBURY — The Town Council will consider tonight who will replace Town Manager Donald Peach during the interim period.

Peach, Glastonbury's first and only town manager since 1960, handed in his letter of resignation to the council Tuesday night at a budget workshop. "It's the end of an era in Glastonbury," said Council Chairman Henry Kinne this morning. Kinne said the council "informally discussed" who might serve in the interim period and hopes to make a formal decision tonight. "He has done an outstanding job," Kinne said. "He felt it was time for a change. You can get so emotionally involved and don't put his whole heart in the town." Peach is being considered for posts in Hartford and Bennington, Vt. One town official said he is being pushed hard to take the Hartford job, particularly from former staff members who are working in Hartford. The 48-year-old town manager has expressed a desire to leave during private conversations over the past year. He has faced citizen opposition on the Nye Road housing site, the block grant funds, a rising mill rate, and the village centers in east Glastonbury.

Plan May Solve Nightmare at Notch

By DONNA HOLLAND
Herald Correspondent

BOLTON — A plan to rechannel traffic at Bolton Notch, which has been called an "engineering nightmare," was presented to the Board of Selectmen Tuesday and was received favorably. The plan would eliminate the crossover at the bottom of Notch Road and it would slow and merge eastbound traffic approaching Route 6 and Route 4A.

The proposed solution to the traffic problem in and around Bolton Notch was prepared by Trooper Mark Coleman of the Colchester State

Police, Troop K, north sector unit. Trooper Coleman said, "An inherent engineering problem is the main cause of accidents in this area. It's an engineering nightmare."

He said, "People coming off the highway are immediately into a crossover. The accidents are not intentional. It's something people are forced into."

Sgt. Anthony Kalkus, sector supervisor, said, "It shall be several years before Interstate 84 is extended and relieves the traffic in this area so we are proposing a change now."

He said, "The changes recommended will be of nominal cost to the Department of Transportation since there is no new roadway recommended but only changes in the existing roadway."

Trooper Coleman's proposal includes closing the cross-over at Notch Road, thereby eliminating stop and go traffic, crossing paths traffic and turning traffic. The proposed plan will cause the eastbound traffic on Interstate 84 to merge to one lane coming into the Notch so that it feeds with greater ease and less speed onto Route 6 or Route 4A.

The median crossover between Interstate 84 eastbound and Interstate 84 westbound (opposite Notch Road) would be eliminated. In its place there would be a guardrail.

The changes recommended to better facilitate the flow of vehicular and pedestrian traffic in and around the Notch include new route signs, barrier to merge traffic, guardrail and blinking lights.

Trooper Coleman said, "The worse times are at 4 a.m. with traffic going west and at 4 p.m. with traffic going east. It's a 40 mile per hour zone with an average speed of 50 to 65 miles per hour now." Selectman John Carey said, "It might deter a little business from the Notch but it's a super plan."

The proposal will be presented to the Department of Transportation later this month.

Subsidy Program Asked For Retarded Renters

MANCHESTER - The director of the Manchester Housing Authority Tuesday night asked the Town Board of Directors to approve a program that would provide rent subsidies for mentally handicapped persons. Dennis Phelan, executive director of the MHA, made his presentation to the board on behalf of the state, which is seeking the Section 8 rent subsidies to help with its plan to detotalize mentally handicapped persons. The program would provide rent subsidies to the residents who qualified. As in the regular Section 8 program, the subsidies would insure that a person does not pay more than 25 percent of his or her salary for rent.

For period ending 7 AM EST 5/3/79. During Wednesday night, rain or scattered showers will be found across the lower half of the Plains into the mid-Mississippi Valley and Lakes region. Generally fair weather is slated elsewhere except for some possible snow or snow flurries in parts of the northern Rockies.

Highway Safety Funding Sought for Area Towns

By DONNA HOLLAND Herald Correspondent BOLTON - Federal funds allotted to the State Department of Transportation for highway safety are being sought for a highway safety program in Bolton, Andover and Columbia. Sgt. Anthony Kalkus, supervisor of State Police, Troop K, north sector, is making the request. The program is called "OPERATION SAFE," (Selective Activity for Violation Enforcement). It would provide funding for patrol by north sector troopers on Route 6 in the three towns. Sgt. Kalkus, who would be the program's director, said patrol would be provided by the troopers on an overtime basis on the days, and at the times and locations accidents are at their peak, based on research of past years. Sgt. Kalkus said, "Budgetary constraints do not allow us to conduct a sustained enforcement program which we all know is needed on Route 6." Federal funds are allocated to the state for highway safety programs with 60 percent earmarked for state law enforcement and 40 percent earmarked for municipal law enforcement. He said, "Basically what I am attempting to do is reduce the number of accidents on Route 6 in the three towns. There is an extremely high rate of accidents on this highway that result in injuries and death." Sgt. Kalkus said, "The media would also be used to help us educate the public in an attempt to alleviate the problem instead of just issuing tickets." The proposed program, presented to the Board of Selectmen Tuesday, received the boards' endorsement. The effect of the town's decision to drop out of the Community Development program was reflected in a couple of items mentioned at Tuesday night's meeting of the Town Board of Directors. The board approved a bid waiver for the purchase of playground equipment by that date or it will not be able to pay for the purchase with the federal Community Development funds. Weiss said only one company has the full equipment needed by the town, so the bid waiver is for purchase from that firm. Any other method of ordering would require involvement of more than one firm and probably would delay the arrival beyond June 30, he said. Weiss also read a letter from the state Historical Preservation Commission that said funds for a plan for the Cheney Mills Historic District must be appropriated by the town by next week. The town had planned to use $23,000 in Community Development funds to match a $23,000 appropriation from the state. But, because of withdrawal from the Community Development program, the town will not provide the $23,000 matching grant and will lose the state funding for the project. Weiss also read a letter from Crossroads, which is interested in using the present senior citizens center on Linden Street for its operation. The senior center is being relocated to the Green School, which is being renovated with Community Development funds. Weiss said the town will not need the Linden Street building for its office operations in the future.

New Sewer Charge Rules Set for Vernon Hearing

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

VERNON—A new ordinance to establish sewer charges and an additional category to allow a savings for small businesses, will be aired at a public hearing scheduled for May 15 at 7:15 p.m., at the Middle School, before the annual town meeting on the budget.

The proposal was explained to the Town Council Monday night by Joseph Belanger, chairman of the Sewer Authority.

Belanger emphasized that the proposed ordinance covers charges for the current fiscal year but cautioned that he would be very surprised if there isn't a 10 percent increase in the charges for the next fiscal year.

Belanger said the reduction in charges, from those imposed several weeks ago, is possible because of a decreased operating cost of the plant. It had been estimated that the operating cost would be $804,000 rather than the $850,000 now figured, because the plant was put into operation later than expected. He also said he doesn't have a report on the complete cost of chemical costs or power costs for the plant.

He said it would cost $400,000 just to run the plant without any sewage running through it.

The proposed ordinance establishes a yearly rate of $47 per dwelling unit or dwelling unit equivalent. The existing ordinance called for a charge of $70 a year. Users have already been billed.

Section VII of the proposed ordinance states that users who have paid that bill in whole or in part will be given credit for such payment against the new charge but those who haven't paid will still be subject to interest and penalty payments.

For all users other than residential users, and out-of-town users, the charge will be based on the number of gallons discharged per day. Those discharging up to 500 gallons a day will be charged $53 a year; 500 to 1,000 gallons, $119; 1,000 to 5,000, $756;

5,000 to 15,000, $2,530; 15,000 to 25,000, $5,040; and in excess of 25,000, $5,040 plus $252 per thousand gallons for each additional thousand or part of a thousand in excess of the 25,000.

The first ordinance charged at the rate of $280 per 1,000 gallons.

Provision is also made in the proposed ordinance for apartment owners who can prove that a dwelling unit hasn't been occupied for at least two years.

Belanger said that the reduction in the residential charge was proposed based on a look at all meter readings that the authority could get its hands on. He said it appears that the average residential use is about 200 gallons a day. He said the authority is working toward continued refinement of the residential charge.

Solar System on Display

HARTFORD—A new highly efficient solar collector will be a feature display of the Health and Nutrition Symposium of the National Health Federation Saturday and Sunday at the Hartford Hilton Hotel.

The patented solar heating system is being shown in from Nebraska. The National Health Federation, New England Chapter, is searching for a Connecticut firm interested in manufacturing the collectors locally under license from the patent holder.

The new collector is claimed to be 90 percent efficient, or about double that of the existing flat plate design. It has been installed in Connecticut homes for less than $2,000.

The display will be open for the public free of charge during the symposium Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. It is one of 60 other exhibit booths at the regional convention.

Also on Saturday at 11:45 a.m., Ernest Sternglas, director of the department of radiology at the University of Pittsburgh Medical School will speak on "The China Syndrome." Sternglas is an authority on the harmful effects of chronic, low-level radiation toxicity. He first urged an evacuation of all pregnant women and children from the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant in Pennsylvania.

Other topics to be addressed during the convention will include "The Death of Cancer," "Arthritis Care," "The Miraculous Power of Herbal Healing," and "How to Slow the Aging Process."

DAR Meeting
TOLLAND—Captain Noah Grant, Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Savings Bank of Tolland. A program on Connecticut Indians will be presented.

Student Gets Scholarship

ELLINGTON—Charles B. White Jr. of Sumner Road, Ellington, a student at Ellington High School, has been selected to receive a college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarship.

The Scholarship is being awarded by Washington University which offers undergraduate degree programs in the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, architecture, business administration, engineering and fine arts.

White's field of study will be systems science and math. He was a 1978 representative to Connecticut Boys State; won Ellington High's 1978 chemistry award; was a semi-finalist in the Connecticut Scholarship competition; is a member of the National Honor Society and served as treasurer; was a school representative to the annual Yale Symposium; and has a varsity letter in cross country and track.

Firm Appeals Assessment

VERNON—Carabeta Enterprises Inc., owners of an apartment complex on Hartford Turnpike (Route 30) has filed a suit in Tolland County Superior Court challenging the town's assessment of an apartment complex.

The property is assessed at $947,800 which, based on the current mill rate of 60, would mean that the complex owners would have to pay $56,873 for the 1979-80 tax bill.

The suit states that the October 1978 assessment of the Sleeping Giant Apartment complex, which contains 106 units built about 10 years ago, "fails to consider the true and accurate market value" of the property.

The Board of Tax Review, also named in the suit, denied the assessment appeal of the owners, last February.

The owners contend that the town is forcing them to bear a disproportionately high share of the tax burden.

Another suit filed this week against the town, was filed by D & G Construction Company of Talcottville Road. That firm is challenging its sewer assessment of $3,629.

Day Camp Signup Slated

VERNON—Registration cards will be available starting May 7 for those wishing to register their children for Camp Newhocs, the day camp operated by the Vernon Parks and Recreation Department.

Forms will be available at the department office, 26 Park Place and the Police station on West Street.

This will be the third season for the camp which is located on 29 acres on Middle Bolton Lake. Boys and girls age 6-12 are eligible to sign up for one, two, or three of the two-week sessions. A full camp program will be offered.

The three sessions are scheduled for July 2-13, July 16-27, and July 30 through August 10. The camp operates from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Bus transportation is available for those who need it. Convenient stops are made throughout the town.

There is one optional overnight camp during each session. Children carry their own lunches but milk will be provided each day.

The cost for each session, per camper, is $45 for the two weeks with discounts available if there is more than one camper from a family and also for campers who sign up for more than one session.

Scout Fund Drive Starts

MANCHESTER—The 1979 Algonquin District Boy Scout fund drive was launched recently at a meeting in the community room of the First Federal Savings.

The drive, which solicits financial help from scout families and the business and professional communities in eight area towns, is called Sustaining Membership Enrollment.

Overall chairman is David Torstensen. Algonquin District Finance Chairman is Malcolm Barlow. Clarence Wogman, and Andrew Gibson are co-chairmen of the scout family portion of the drive.

Proceeds of the drive, which supplement the support provided by the United Way, are used to maintain scout camps, and to provide program materials, service centers and professional staff support.

Slave Sale Under Way

BOLTON—The Bolton High School Latin Club's annual slave sale is under way. High school students are available to do yard work, wash windows, and similar jobs for donations.

Anyone interested in booking slaves is asked to call Maria Stoppelworth at 643-4427 or Donna Smith at 742-8128.

The club is raising money for a May 30 trip to New York to see the Pompeii exhibit at the Museum of Natural History. The group will have a buffet lunch and see a Broadway play.

Brisson Is Guest Speaker

VERNON—Charles Brisson, administrative assistant in the Vernon school system, will be the featured speaker at the annual conference of the Hartford Association of School Business Officials, scheduled for May 11.

Brisson's topic will be, "Zero Base Budgeting: A Practitioner's Approach to Implementation."

Brisson, along with his other duties, is responsible for putting together the annual budget book for the Board of Education.

Survey Worker Needed

MANCHESTER — The town's Water Department is hopeful a permanent town employee to help complete two surveys required by federal law.

Bob Young, water treatment manager, spoke to the Town Board of Directors Tuesday night and asked that a land and soil analyst position, now funded through CETA, be made a full-time town employee.

Young said there are two surveys required by the federal Safe Drinking Water Act that the town has started but has not finished. The full-time land and soil analyst could handle both of these, Young said.

One survey would be of the town's watershed area, which includes 3,400 acres surrounding reservoirs. Young said. This property must be checked to make sure there are no chemicals, septic tank problems or other contaminants that are running into the town's reservoirs.

The other survey would be to check on cross connections in town. Such cross connections involve links between the water system and other substances. These can cause problems if the other substance is something that might damage the water system, and industries are supposed to be checked regularly to insure such dangerous situations are avoided.

Tom Ferlazo presently works as the CETA employee who handles the land and soil analyst job. CETA funding for the job expires in September, so the town would have to fund about three-quarters of the $12,256 salary in the 1979-80 budget.

The board took no action on the proposal. The Water Department also is seeking a second full-time position, a water and sewer analyst, that also is now funded through CETA. A recommendation on that change probably will be made to the board at a later date.

Men's Dormitory Fire Causes $35,000 Damage

NEW BRITAIN (UPI) — A one-alarm blaze at a Central Connecticut State College men's dormitory sent 370 residents fleeing to the streets early today and caused an estimated $35,000 damage, fire officials said.

School administrator Richard Judd said no one was injured at Robert Vance Hall in the fire which broke out around 2:45 a.m. in a second-floor study and typing room located in a wing that housed about 60 students.

Fire officials said an internal alarm that rang at the dorm was also connected to fire headquarters. About 30 firefighters from seven companies battled the flames, bringing them under control at about 3:30 a.m. Officials said the second floor received heavy fire, smoke and water damage and the rest of the 7-story structure had smoke damage.

Judd said the dormitory will remain closed until an investigation into the cause of the blaze has been completed by the state fire marshal's office. In the meantime, he said students will be relocated to other housing facilities on campus.

Classes at the college were to proceed as usual today, Judd said.

Bonding Plans Advance

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Legislature's Finance Committee will put the finishing touches on its $77 million state bonding package today after cutting an estimated $1.9 million from Gov. Ella Grasso's recommended capital program.

The committee Tuesday voted an estimated $12 million from the governor's recommendations to other programs, ending up with the estimated $77 million bond bill.

The panel also froze already authorized bond funds for a new Manchester Community College campus and most of the funds the governor sought for a Waterbury higher education center.

But the largest single item in Mrs. Grasso's program, a $12 million urban action funding request for economic development, housing and education, was left intact.

The committee approved only $2 million of the governor's proposal to finance a $10 million plan to provide low cost loans to homeowners to conserve energy and chipped her rental housing plan for the elderly from $7 million to $5 million.

But putting together its own package, the committee agreed to bond $5 million for elderly housing projects, including cost overruns.

The panel decided to put only $2 million toward the state's farm preservation program instead of a proposed $10 million.

It also agreed to give the city of Bridgeport $1 million instead of the $5 million sought to build a civic center in the Park City.

Bonding also was approved in the amount of $1.3 million for additional construction at the Bridgeport Mental Retardation Center.

The committee rejected attempts by Waterbury area lawmakers to add a $21 million bonding plan for continuing development of the Central Naugatuck Valley higher education center in Waterbury.

Another proposal to bond $10 million in construction at Manchester Community College was rejected, and the panel nixed a $7 million school repair proposal that would have aided in removal of asbestos from school buildings.

Surplus Estimate Rises
HARTFORD (UPI) — The Grasso administration has raised its surplus estimate for the fiscal year to $51.9 million, an increase of $32,000 over last month's estimate.

State Comptroller J. Edward Caldwell said Tuesday a unanticipated increase in tax revenues outpaced a reduction in budget lapses to account for the surplus revision.

Hebron Finance Board Eyes Two-Mill Tax Cut

By PATRICIA MULLIGAN
Herald Correspondent
HEBRON — The Board of Finance Tuesday night predicted a 43-mill tax rate for the fiscal year 1979-80, based on its recommended budget of $2,945,420.

This reflects a two-mill decrease from the current 45 mills. No changes were made in any recommended budget figures from those tentatively approved last week.

Before going into executive session to finalize its recommendation, the board was asked by Joseph Pelletier, chairman of the Board of Education, and Robert Owens, a board member, for additional funds for education.

Richard Grant, chairman of the finance board, told the two men that they had the opportunity to make their request at the public hearing.

Pelletier asked the finance board to reconsider the effect the budget, which reflects a 4 percent increase over the current budget, would have on the educational program.

Owens echoed Pelletier's thoughts and said, in looking over the budget, "It seems to be too little to continue educational programming."

William McPartland, finance board member, said that the areas indicated by the finance board as to where cuts could be made were not in programs.

McPartland said he told the school board that its requested budget reflecting a 9 percent increase "wouldn't fly." He said he told the board that a 6 percent increase might be acceptable if anticipated surplus is returned to the town.

The recommended budget for the school board totals $1,142,579, an increase of $43,926 over the current year. The recommended general government budget is $713,185, an increase of $94,817.

Revenues over budgeted figures result in an anticipated $78,944 surplus in the current year. The available cash surplus from the previous year is estimated at $37,157.

While predicting a mill rate of 43 mills, the finance board plans to use $60,000 in surplus to meet the budget expenditures, leaving about $55,000 in surplus.

An expenditure anticipated for the coming school year, but not included in the proposed budget, is a new roof for the Gilead Hill School. Also, if the town votes to establish a Water Pollution Control Authority, some unbudgeted expenses will be incurred.

On recommendation of the town's auditor, the finance board suggests removal of the Reserve Revenue Sharing Funds in the reserve account and proposes using them for a new truck. This would eliminate a $5,600 reserve for office expansion and $2,500 for land acquisition.

Instead, the land acquisition amount will be replaced in the 1979-80 budget with another $500 added to the reserve account. The annual town meeting on the budget is scheduled May 14 at 8 p.m. at Hebron Elementary School.

Ahearn Pushes Measure To Restore Rail Links

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

HARTFORD — House Bill 7685, calling for the restoration of the missing link in the Manchester-Wilimantic railroad line, has been passed by the Finance Committee because there is a question of its feasibility and because it will cost millions of dollars. An amended bill will ask the Bonding and Finance Committee for an appropriation of $150,000 for an engineering study. The bill would have to be approved by the House of Representatives. State Rep. Aloysius Ahearn, of Bolton, representing the 55th District, introduced the bill. Ahearn and Vernon Mavor, Frank McCoy were among those who protested the ripping up of the track several years ago. Ahearn said the total cost of reinstalling the missing link would be about $6 million. The line goes through part of Vernon, Bolton, Andover and Coventry. At the time Penn Central was trying to remove the track it also offered to sell the line to the state Department of Transportation (DOT) but the state decided not to buy just the railroad bed for $150,000. The cost for the whole thing would have been just $300,000. The last train ran on the track in 1970, Ahearn said.

Conflict Charge Levied Against Town Director

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Tuesday night showed that members of the Town Board of Directors regularly face criticism while carrying out their duties on the town's governing body. One member of the board, Carl Zinsner, was charged with conflict of interest by a town resident. Two other directors, Stephen Cassano and Thomas Connors, said they have been criticized for their liberal leanings. Zinsner was charged with a conflict of interest by James Newton, a Squire Village resident. Newton said that Zinsner, who is a Realtor, was in conflict because he has taken action while on the board that affects housing, particularly low-income units in Manchester. Newton said his complaint has been sent to the town's Ethics Commission, which was formed recently to handle charges of conflict of interest.

Budget Panel Ends Job

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Legislature's budget-writing panel has wrapped up its business for this session by voting to replace the existing gaming commission with a gambling czar and a five-member unpaid advisory board. The Appropriations Committee also approved bills Tuesday to set aside extra money for abused spouses and children, judges and sheriffs, and a new state housing agency. The panel voted 27-11 to double their expense accounts to $2,000 beginning July 1, 1981. That measure is headed for the Senate. No appropriation would be needed until the next budget. At the same time, the committee voted to eliminate Connecticut's coroners. The committee brought the appropriation for their shelters for battered women up to $275,000 — $225,000 of which is included in the fiscal 1981 budget already signed by Gov. Ella Grasso. Another $50,000 was set aside for the treatment and prevention of child abuse. The $100,000 for a state Department of Housing promised by Mrs. Grasso during the 1978 campaign, — cleared 33-2 with little debate. Sen. Nancy Johnson, R-New Britain, said she is disappointed because the Department of Housing needed to sustain the agency.

Town Reveals Fire Tax Inadequate for Service

By SUSAN VAUGHN Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Town officials revealed in court Tuesday that the fire tax for the Special Taxing District does not cover all expenses of the Town Fire Department, and that some special services are paid out of General Funds. The Fire Department transfers some money from its account to pay for legal costs, tax collection, labor negotiations, administration, parking and other costs but Town Finance Director Thomas Moore conceded that it "doesn't cover all expenses." The testimony was given in Superior Court Tuesday where the Eighth Utilities District was attempting to get a temporary injunction against the town's allotment of federal Revenue Sharing Funds to the Town Fire Department. The testimony added fuel to District Counsel John D. Labelle's argument that the use of the federal funds for the Town Fire Department is illegal because of the Special Taxing District for fire services. Since the federal Revenue Sharing funds are deposited in the town's General Fund, the Eighth District has contended that the funds should be used for other purposes, including the Eighth District, rather than one separate taxing district. Labelle told Judge William D. Graham that the issue in the case is low taxes are raised. He said the reason for the Special Taxing District was to ensure that "the people receiving the services were the people paying for it." He said the rate should be sufficient to cover the cost of service. An allotment of $65,000 has been set aside from the federal funds for the Town Fire Department in the current fiscal year. Town Manager Robert B. Weiss also said in court that he has proposed a contingency fund for that amount in case the money is withheld by court action. Weiss also stated in court that the town would not have received the $65,000 without the inclusion of the Special Taxing District in its application for the funds. He said indications from the Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington were that the town could use the tax effort of the Town Fire Department and the General Funds could be used to support the department. The town attempted to include the Eighth District in its application for the funds, but the District tax amount was removed from the total.

State Leads Slowdown

By SUSAN VAUGHN Herald Reporter

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut appears to be leading the dramatic slowdown in state and local government spending, forecast through the next decade, the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council reports. The CPEC, a private group that monitors state spending, said Tuesday once inflation is subtracted, Connecticut has had almost zero growth in government expenditures since 1971. The previous 15 years showed 4.5 percent annual growth. The CPEC quoted findings by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in explaining the slowdown — fewer children in schools; a decrease in the need for higher education; completion of highway projects; and rejection of new programs.

Accolades

By SUSAN VAUGHN Herald Reporter

Ms. Betty Emerson and Manchester Community College deserve to be congratulated. Ms. Emerson has been selected as the recipient of a 1979 Truman Scholarship, the only recipient in Connecticut. The selection of Ms. Emerson for the prestigious award truly reflects her academic achievements. The fact she is a student at MCC points out the importance of the role of the community college. Ms. Emerson has earned a grade point average of 3.8 while attending the college. For the past 18 months she has been a student member of the board of trustees of regional community colleges. Ms. Emerson became only the second student at MCC to be nominated for a Truman Scholarship. She became the only student at MCC ever to receive the award. The naming of Ms. Emerson as a recipient is a tribute to her hard work and perseverance. It is also a tribute to Manchester Community College and proves without a doubt its value in the educational system of the community and the state.

Finding happiness is a goal that we all have in life. We want so very much to feel a sense of purpose in our work, at home, and in all of our experiences. Many books have been written on the subject of getting more out of life. There are numerous opinions regarding what makes life meaningful. What do you think about this? Does it take money or good looks to make one happy? Do you need a lot of things to entertain yourself? Let me suggest that seeking to know yourself and to feel good about who you are is fundamental to living a meaningful life. "We can be our own worst enemies." Is an expression that holds a lot of truth? If we feel uncomfortable with ourselves, wishing may be that we could be someone other than who we are. Life will likely pass by us and we will be unhappy. God made us as one of a kind. You are precious in His sight! Believe in yourself and remember that you are entitled to be a person. Let us pray: We pray this day, dear God, that we might become the person we really want to be, not facing life with fear and doubt, but instead with courage and anticipation. Amen. Rev. Dr. James D. MacLachlin Second Congregational Church

The Town as Debtor

If an individual does not pay a bill which is justly owed, after a while he can be in trouble. The same could hold true for municipalities. A local case in point is the bill which is owed the Eighth Utilities District by the Town of Manchester. The bill is about $200,000. The fairness of the bill should not be questioned because it resulted for a court decision regarding the collection of taxes for fire protection in the Buckland section of the town.

To our knowledge at the present time, one payment of a little more than $25,000 has been made. Considering the total it amounts to about twelve-and-one-half percent of the total. The judgment rendered by the state Supreme Court last August stated the district is the fire authority in the Buckland section. The decision ended a two-year court battle during which time the town continued to collect fire taxes in Buckland. The amount presently owed represents the monies collected during the two-year fight. Some of the money will be used to reimburse Buckland residents because fire taxes in the district are lower than those charged by the town. According to the court, the money is owed to the district. In essence the money is owed to Buckland residents.

Letter to the Editor: Referendum Is True Democracy

The signers of the Declaration of Independence are probably making 300 degree turns in their graves as they listen to the recent suit brought against the Town of Manchester for leaving the HUD program. It is my understanding that the suit is based on the claim that the referendum should never have been held. The decisions on the program would have been made by elected officials in accordance with federal and state law. If my memory serves me correctly, the United States of America is a democracy, a form of government in which the people rule, either by voting directly or by elected representatives to manage the government and make the laws. If the board of directors are elected officials representing the people, why is the referendum — a vehicle used to show the will of the people — being declared illegal? Am I to believe that when I vote at the polls, I must vote in accordance with the will of the government or my vote will be rendered invalid? We have condemned counties who have held mock elections and yet to some extent, we are guilty of the very same thing. If the people of the Town of Manchester (and I am sure every member of the board of directors will agree) exercised outstanding judgment in electing our present board of officers, then how did these very same people who exercised said judgment suddenly have no capacity to decide whether or not the HUD program would be beneficial to the town and townpeople? What better way to get the consensus of the people than through a referendum? If those in favor of HUD wanted it to continue, they should have worked to get the voters to the polls. Why is it that those who serve what they get must run around and give it away to those who are not willing to work, but expect to be handed everything? We are being accused of racism. There are minority taxpayers in Manchester who voted against HUD. Are they racist? If Hartford has a problem, then perhaps the people there should look to straightening out their own government, not to dumping their problems on the suburbs. In my opinion, Mr. Carbone has bungled the government of Hartford and his participation in the suit against Manchester is ludicrous. It appears he would like to have the surrounding towns relieve Hartford of its problems, thereby exonerating his own mismanagement. To those people who are bringing suit against the people of the Town of Manchester for wanting out of the HUD program, I can only say you lost fair and square. The majority of the taxpayers of this town do not want HUD. To the big brothers of government who are interfering in the process of democracy. To the City of Hartford, clean up your own mess, and, if you can't, let someone into office who can. The buck has to stop somewhere. Janet L. Sala, 385 Olcott St., Manchester

Working under the late Drew Pearson, I produced two columns, dated March 3 and March 7, 1967, on the plot to kill Castro. CIA officials grudgingly refused to comment. But President Lyndon Johnson demanded a full report from the CIA after he read our stories. We have obtained a still-secret report by the CIA's inspector general confirmed the essentials of the columns, conceded that the disclosures had caused "much distress" at the spy agency and discussed the ways in which the government could minimize the embarrassment. "Drew Pearson's column of March 7, 1967 refers to a reported CIA plot in 1963 to assassinate Cuba's Fidel Castro," the inspector general wrote. "Pearson also has information, as yet unpublished, to the effect that there was a meeting at the State Department at which assassination of Castro was discussed, and that a team '(of three men) actually landed in Cuba with (poison) pills to be used in an assassination attempt.'"

It is still not known whether the "capability" program, code-named with ominous prescience "ZRRIFLE," was requested by the Kennedy administration or developed by the CIA on its own. Our story raised the question whether then-Attorney General Robert Kennedy had approved the assassination plot. The secret report confirmed only that Kennedy "was fully briefed" on May 7, 1962. "A memorandum confirming the oral explanation, O'Leary also used to occasion to praise as 'entirely prudent' the major oil corporations' decision to 'husband and safeguard' large oil inventories. Industry critics suggest that the companies actually were hoarding their stocks while awaiting higher market prices — and bigger profits. Item: Schlesinger regularly told congressional committees during January and February that the loss of Iranian production could require mandatory service station shutdowns on Sundays or even entire weekends. However, a study commissioned by Schlesinger's own department showed that closing gas stations on weekends was the most wasteful of eight possible energy-saving measures under consideration. While Schlesinger was telling a Senate committee that such closings "may be a necessity by summer," DOE officials were reading a report which concluded that the measure would only produce longer service station lines on other days of the week and would conserve little gasoline. Item: Only two weeks after Schlesinger castigated Americans for consuming oil at a record rate of 21 million barrels daily, O'Leary acknowledged that the country's oil use actually had declined by an average of at least 700,000 barrels a day. That 4 percent decrease is close to the Carter administration's target of a 5 percent reduction. Moreover, DOE's own figures show a slight decline in domestic demand during the first two months of the year. Schlesinger lost much of his credibility and his respect long before the Iranian crisis. Almost two years after its creation, his department remains incapable of providing critically needed organization, leadership and vision. A brusque and officious man notorious for his patronizing attitude toward those he deems inferior, Schlesinger has failed to earn the faith and confidence of the American people. His continued tenure serves only as an obstacle to resolving the country's energy problems.

What measures might be taken to lessen the damage? The rhetorically curious inspector general asks. A classic cover-up was discarded as impractical. "We cannot now suppress the story because it is already out," he concluded. "If we were to approach any of the participants and urge discretion upon him, and if this became known, it would merely lend credence to a tale that now sounds somewhat improbable." The agency maintained a stone wall of silence. BUREAUCRATIC BROUHAHA: When federal bureaucrats get on million barrels per day. The most notable endorsement of that estimate came from the multinational oil corporations, which said the figure actually was 2½ million barrels daily. But by late March, after Iran resumed oil exports, DOE officials were privately circulating — and endorsing — Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) figures showing that worldwide oil production actually increased during the first two months of 1979. According to the CIA estimates, total oil production rose from 57.3 million barrels a day in 1978 to 61.1 million barrels a day this year. Item: Schlesinger also repeatedly claimed that the halt in Iranian exports produced a shortfall in the United States amounting to 500,000 barrels a day and creeping toward 800,000 barrels a day. But in late March O'Leary told a House committee that there actually hadn't been any Iranian-induced oil shortage in this country. Schlesinger was referring only to a mythical "statistical shortage," his deputy explained. O'Leary also used to occasion to praise as "entirely prudent" the major oil corporations' decision to "husband and safeguard" large oil inventories. ## The Schlesinger Obstacle

The Department of Energy (DOE) and its two highest ranking officials, Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger and Deputy Secretary John F. O'Leary, have become objects of a scorn and derision in this capital. Much of the contempt toward them unfortunately is justified. Consider their performance during the most recent energy crisis, the political instability in Iran during the initial months of this year. Item: Schlesinger repeatedly claimed that the temporary cessation of Iranian oil production during January and February was producing a world petroleum shortfall of 2

Robert H. Fenn

Fenn Quits MCC Post

MANCHESTER — Robert H. Fenn has resigned as dean of academic affairs at Manchester Community College.

The announcement of the resignation was made at a meeting of the Faculty Senate at the college Tuesday afternoon.

Fenn has accepted an executive position with the Computer Processing Institute of East Hartford.

A spokesman for the company confirmed the appointment today, but said the company is not ready to make a formal announcement.

Fenn was not available for comment this morning because he is on a temporary partial assignment for the community college system.

Fenn has been with the college for 16 years and in the position of dean of academic affairs for 10 years.

Herbert Bandes, dean of administrative affairs, who has worked closely with Fenn for 10 years, said this morning that Fenn's absence will be felt at the college.

Bandes described Fenn as a "joy and delight to work with" and an "extremely able man with a confidence and loyalty of the faculty."

In his position, Fenn has been directly responsible for supervision of the faculty, for recruiting and selecting new faculty, for scheduling of classes and budgeting of instructional costs.

Fenn was a general science and biology teacher at Manchester High School from 1948 to 1952. He was one of the promoters of a community college in Manchester.

In its first year, 1953, Fenn served as a part-time biology teacher, then began working full time for the college in 1964.

Fenn's first administrative position at MCC was chairman of the science department. In 1957, he became MCC's director of arts and sciences and his duties included staff recruiting and budget work.

In 1960, Fenn worked for the state Board of Trustees for Regional Community Colleges as its first associate academic officer. He was in charge of program development and coordination among the colleges.

In 1969, Fenn returned to MCC as its first dean of faculty, a title for the position he still holds. His resignation becomes effective July 1.

Bonds Denied For MCC Work

MANCHESTER — Gov. Ellis Grasso's recommendation of $10.5 million in bonds for the construction of the first permanent building at Manchester Community College was voted down Tuesday by the state legislature's Finance, Revenue and Bonding Committee.

An architect for the design of the new construction has been selected by the state Public Works Commission. The state Property Review Board must now act on the recommendation and the college officials hope they will act soon.

Herbert Bandes, dean of administrative affairs at MCC, said today that the denial of the bonding money by the legislature will have impact only if the architectural plans are completed and approved before the money for construction is available. The project cannot be put out to bid before the bond money is in place, Bandes said.

Boy Held in Breaks

MANCHESTER — Russell J. Armstrong, 18, of 63 Union St. was arrested Tuesday on warrants charging him with several counts of burglary, larceny and robbery in connection with several burglaries in recent months.

The 22 charges against Armstrong include nine counts of third-degree burglary, five counts of second-degree larceny, four counts of third-degree robbery, two counts each of theft of firearms and first-degree robbery and one count of fourth-degree larceny.

The robbery charge was in connection with an armed holdup at the Cap 'n Cork Package Store on North Main Street in March.

Other burglaries in connection with the charges since last September included Bentley School, One-Hour Martingale, the VFW hall, Holywood Shell station, Silk City Package Store, Agency Co., Copy Equipment Co., Mida, Muffler and Brown's Tire shops and the American Legion hall.

Senior Citizens Center To Be Finished in June

By JUNE TOMPKINS

Senior Citizens Center To Be Finished in June

MANCHESTER — The new Senior Citizens Center at the former Green School should be done on schedule in June, according to the Town Building Committee.

Paul Phillips, committee chairman, said he can't see any problem in getting it done before the June 30 cutoff date for Community Development funds. He told the committee Tuesday night that it's "fantastic how much work has been done."

Richard Mankey, architect for the building is just about complete. In another update on the renovation and new construction at the Manchester Police Department, Capt. Henry Minor, who is in charge of the project, said that "hopefully" the project will be completed by June 15.

Work on the upstairs area in the old building is just about complete. Minor said. Downstairs, the main problem now is moving the personnel around to get the interior jobs done. Minor said. He said this weekend carpeting will be installed and Monday, telephones will be relocated.

architect, Richard Lawrence said, there isn't too much left to be done. "It's awful close, but I think we can swing it," Phillips said.

Hartford Not Plaintiff

MANCHESTER — The City of Hartford will not become a plaintiff but will support the attempt to stop the Town of Manchester from withdrawing from the Community Development program.

Also, the attorney representing the three plaintiffs who have filed the suit said he will seek a 10-day extension of the restraining order issued by U.S. District Court Judge J. Joseph Blumfeld.

The lawsuit was filed by three low-income Manchester residents—Carol Anzell, Lucy Demingian and Lillian Rutick—and seeks to prevent the town from withdrawing from the Community Development program.

Town attorneys approved such a withdrawal for two years on April 17. After that vote, the Hartford City Council passed a resolution to enforce the rule.

's Relievers Stop RSox

OAKLAND (UPI) — There's a little bit of the Old Oriole in Oakland A's Jeff Newman, Dave Heaverlo and Bob Lacey. All three could have sat back and taken the night off Tuesday and no one would have said a word. Newman's case, he was so sick before the game with the Boston Red Sox that he had to be scratched from the lineup.

Heaverlo and Lacey had pitched three straight days in relief and were ticketed for seats on the bench instead of the bullpen.

"I wasn't going to use either unless it was a real emergency of they asked to pitch," said A's Manager Jim Marshall. "There is only so much you can expect or have a right to expect from your short relievers."

Before the night was over, Newman, Heaverlo and Lacey played prominent roles in a comeback 7-5 victory over Boston, Oakland's second in as many games against the Red Sox.

Newman spent almost two hours in the Oakland clubhouse nursing a sore ache. But he volunteered to pitch an inning each.

Marshall said he could pitch hit if there was no one else.

The A's, down by three runs in the seventh inning, suddenly came to life on consecutive singles by Wayne Gross who had a two-run homer in the fourth, Jim Eastian and Davey Wayne Murphy's hit was a solid smash to right which filled the bases.

At that point, Marshall sent a messenger into the clubhouse for Newman, whose homer in the ninth and single in the 11th had beaten the Red Sox the night before. Newman fell behind on the count 1-2, then laced a double to left-center to score two runs. Larry Murray went in to run as Newman left the park.

An controversial infield hit by Mitchell Page a little later in the inning and a two-out single by Dave Revereing chased across from Gaudin in the 11th had beaten the Red Sox the night before.

Newman played a fine three-run homer in the fifth which put the Red Sox in front 4-2, plus a solo homer by Dwight Gooden in the top of the seventh.

"When you get as many hits as we did," said Zimmer, "you have to score a lot more than five runs."

Bob Stanley, who blew the 5-2 lead, was the loser.

Yanks Check Slide

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The New York Yankees snapped a five-game losing streak Tuesday night by beating the California Angels 12-8, but it wasn't easy.

It took 11 innings, after the Angels came back from a 7-0 deficit, and it took Tommy John, making a rare relief appearance, to throttle the Angels in the final 2-3 innings.

John, the former Los Angeles Dodger who was signed by the Yankees as a free agent, ran his record to 5-0 with the victory.

The slim left-hander entered the game in the ninth with one out and struck out Rod Carew and Don Baylor with the potential winning run on second base.

John made three relief appearances last year with the Dodgers. He was in the bullpen throwing in the late innings in his normal routine to warm up for 20 minutes between starts when Yankee manager Bob Lemon called him in.

He said he had told Lemon more than once, "If you need me, I'm ready."

That offer became more important after the Yankees lost ace reliever Rich Gossage, who injured his hand in a scuffle with teammate Cliff Johnson last week.

John told reporters, "Coming in a spot like that, what can you do? Thurman (coach) Munson called them and I just threw them. I threw all curves to Carew and Baylor. All I was thinking was throw strikes."

John added, "Pitching was not my mind when I came to the ballpark tonight. Sometimes the Lord puts you in certain situations. It was a test of my character."

Lemon, who had seen the Yankees drop four of their last five losses in their opponents' last at-bat, said, "I've been there before. We were pitching good, but they were just hitting everything we threw up to the plate — sliders, fastballs, curves. Tommy struck out two pretty good hitters — I wanted to try to get away without using him. He said this spring, 'Anyone you want me to relieve, I'll be ready.' I don't like to play many games like this — it's like a playoff game."

He has dropped the Angels from first place in the American League West to a half-game behind Minnesota. The Yankees are three back in Baltimore in the American League East.

Co-Players of Week

NEW YORK (UPI) — Montreal's Gary Carter and Warren Cromartie, who combined for 22 hits in 41 at-bats, were named National League co-players of the week ending April 29. NL President Club Feeney announced Tuesday. It was the first time two players on the same team have won the award.

Cromartie was 11-for-22 in five games. He scored eight runs, had four doubles and a triple and knocked in three runs. Carter, who went 11-for-19 for a .571 average last week, hit four homers and two doubles. The Montreal catcher drove in eight runs and scored eight times.

Expos Flying High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Williams isn't talking pennant yet, nor is his team, but the Montreal Expos are going and they know it.

With the highest winning percentage in baseball (.750), the Expos closed out their latest home stand with a two-game sweep of the National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers in Game Six of the Expos seven straight victories, all at home.

Williams couldn't have been more pleased with the Tuesday 7-3 win. But he's already looking at the West Coast road trip for what lies ahead.

"You're always ready for a good home stand and we had 11 in a row. That's the only thing I can say. You're always ready for a good home stand and we had 11 in a row. That's the only thing I can say."

Attendance Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the Philadelphia Phillies, Los Angeles Dodgers and California Angels showing the way, major league baseball attendance has risen nearly 10 percent over 1978 at a corresponding point in the season.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office said Tuesday that attendance for the 26 teams during the first two openings compared to the equivalent number of home dates for each club opening year.

Thomas Tops in AL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Milwaukee Brewer outfielder Gorman Thomas was unanimously selected Tuesday as the American League Player of the Week after hitting .342 and belting five home runs.

Thomas, who went 13-for-24 for the week of April 29-29, broke out of an 0-3 slump at the start of last week. He had a slugging percentage of 1.208 and an on-base percentage of .607. He also had nine RBI and nine runs scored.

Perry Handcuffs Mets

NEW YORK (UPI) — When baseball's re-entry draft comes around next November, the best pitcher available may just be a balding, 41-year-old right-hander with a lifetime's supply of petroleum jelly.

Gaylord Perry has made it clear that he will test the free-agent market unless the San Diego Padres meet his contract terms, and he is using this season to showcase his talents for prospective buyers.

"I want to win 300 games before I retire, but if they (the Padres) don't give me a contract I'll have to do it with somebody else," said Perry Tuesday after combining with reliever Rollie Fingers to beat the New York Mets, 10-5, for career victory No. 270. "I'd my own negotiating but I stopped talking to them two weeks before spring training."

Perry is not asking for the moon either. He is willing to sign for $200,000 a year (peanuts by today's standards) if the Padres will guarantee him a two-year contract. However, of his age, however, the Padres aren't willing to give him more than a one-year contract.

"If they don't give me a contract, I may have to try the re-entry draft," said Perry. "I know I can still win."

Perry won his third game in four decisions Tuesday night with six innings of masterful, if not overpowering, pitching.

Hickey No-Hitter Wins for EHHS

Pitching was supposed to be East Hartford High's strong suit.

That point was further reinforced yesterday as sophomore Kevin Hickey fired a no-hitter in leading the Hornets to a 12-1 drubbing of home-standing Wethersfield High in CCIL play. The hard-throwing right-hander fanned 13 and walked six in evening his record at 1-1.

East Hartford improved its league mark to 5-3 and overall record to 6-3 with the win while the Eagles slip to 3-5 in the CCIL and overall.

Wethersfield got its only run in the sixth inning on a walk, sacrifice, wild pitch and an infield groundout.

Hickey, who had control problems in earlier starts, was in command with his good fastball. East Hartford's solid defense supported him well and didn't have to come up with a spectacular play to save the no-hit bid, according to team statistician Steve Bellingham.

The Hornets got all the runs they needed in the first inning. Bob DeSainier singled, stole second and moved to third on Tyler Jones' two-out single. Jones got caught in a rundown but escaped, reaching second as DeSainier scored. Ron Durkin then unranked a two-run homer to left centerfield.

Durkin, who was 3-for-2 with four RBI, added a two-run single in the fifth inning. DeSainier also had three hits in a 16-hit Homer attack while Jones, Joe Kohler and Andy and Matt Proctor each added a pair.

The latter got his safeties from each side of the plate.

Southview Paul Fitzsimmons hurled the first 6 1/3 innings for Wethersfield and absorbed the loss. It was his first decision. He walked three and pitched four while being raked for 13 hits and 10 runs.

Tech Golfers In Twin Losses

Dropping two matches yesterday was the Cheney Tech golf team, both times by 5-0 counts to Rocky Hill and Bolton High in COC play yesterday at Manchester Country Club.

The Beaver linksmen are now 1-4 for the season. Rocky Hill's Len Clement took medalist honors with a 78. Bolton's Chris Ursin carded an 86.

Jal Alai Entries

Wednesday Evening

Cheney vs. Bolton — Ursin (15) def. Tom Henken 7-6; Randy Thornton (B) def. Todd Shelby 6-5; Dave Hooper (B) def. Bob Johnson 3-2; Marty Ferguson (B) def. Neil Czakowski 5-4; Bolton won medal point, 388-428.

Cathy Boljo turned in a record-setting performance in the 46-yr-old run for the Black Knight trophy in a 1:02.2 clocking. Kathy Schmidt won the hurdles with a 1:32.3 clocking. Ernie Wilson and Diba Eastwood took 1.21 in the shot put with tosses of 34-feet, 11-inches and 34-feet, 9-inches and Cathy Barr won the javelin with a heave of 95-feet, 9-inches for Penny. The Knights are now 3-2 for the season.

Coventry Nine Stops Cheney

With a two-run lead going into the final inning, Cheney Tech couldn't hold the advantage and suffered a heart-breaking 5-4 setback to Coventry High in COC baseball action yesterday in Coventry.

The Patriots' winning run was unearned as the Techmen were committing their sixth miscue. Coventry is now 4-5 in the conference, 5-5 overall, while the Beavers are also 4-5 in COC play and 5-5 overall. Cheney hosts Bolton today at 2:15.

Cheney had a 4-2 lead going into the seventh inning but disaster struck in the finale. Chip Styrachuk and Jeff Beach singled sandwiched around an out. When Beach's hit got Ken Pitts in right, he dashed to third with Styrachuk scoring. That was all for Coventry starter Bob Pomroy.

Reliever Ed Lackerd got Kevin Green on a tap back to the box for the second out. Mike Loughlin singled to left to knot it. He stole second and proceeded to third as the catcher's peg went into centerfield.

Mark Morse walked and Kevin Lane grounded to shortstop Mike Pinkin. He fumbled it momentarily, but recovered and flipped to second shortstop Ed Lackerd for an out. Lackerd then grounded to second baseman Tom Pomroy for an out. Lackerd then grounded to second baseman Tom Pomroy for an out. Lackerd then grounded to second baseman Tom Pomroy for an out.

Eastern Jayvees Trouponce MCC, 11-6

Bowing in its regular season finale yesterday was the Manchester Community College baseball team, 11-6, to Eastern Connecticut State College Jayvees in Willimantic.

The Jayvees, who considered it only a workout before the COCAA Tournament which begins Friday at Cougar Field with their top seed, finished 11-6.

MCC had an early 4-1 lead courtesy of 11 walks issued in 3 1/2 innings by Mike Moss, former East Hartford American Legion starter.

Cougar Coach Skip Olander pulled starter Kevin Martin, who is slated to pitch one of the weekend fills, in the fourth inning for relievers Gino Zerio and Gary Oliveira.

Former East Hartford High standout Gregg McGowan hurled the

News for Senior Citizens

"Hi Folks! I hope you were able to take in our variety show last weekend. If you didn't see it, you missed a real treat."

A couple of notes of interest: Those who attended Friday's show wondered where Charles Terjima was. Well, Charlie took sick Wednesday and for a couple of days he could hardly talk. He did show up Saturday night, quite weak. But being the real trouper he is, he hung in there and added that little extra to the show. Also, I might add that Henry Corrier has been quite ill for the past week and a half, and wouldn't stay home. He was determined to hang in there and he, too, did a super job.

Many folks probably never heard of William Gess until the night of the show and not too many had an idea that Bill is blind. When Bill decided he'd like to be in our show, we were delighted. Bill went to the Hartford library, got a book on Will Rogers in Braille and spent countless hours studying. Those of you who saw the show know what a super job he did as Will Rogers and how natural and composed he was.

By the way, it is the custom of the cast each year to give the director a cash donation. This year we gave our director, Manny Shoop, a $50 check. He announced that he was turning it right back to us to be used for our Furnishing Fund for the Green School. Also, Roger and Marci Negro donated last year's $50 donation for the same purpose.

One last note is that as soon as we receive our final bills for the expenses in the show, we'll be able to tell you just how much we will have for our Meals Program.

I want to personally thank Howie Miller, Russ Nettleton, Joe Karvelis, Ernie Dowd, Gerry Bowler, Andy Lamontreaux, Al Christensen, Ed Bushnell, and Neil Patterson for the many hours they spent working on scenery, setting it up, and taking it down. Also to Jerry Miller, who not only donated the use of his sound equipment but was right there each night to work the controls.

Now for the happenings here at the center. This coming Monday morning we will sign up for the June 28 Gloucester-Rockport trip. This trip includes an air-conditioned bus, the menu is one-pound lobster, steamed clams, baked corn, steamed hot dogs, corn on the cob, watermelon, coffee or soft drink, a boat ride around the harbor, other sight-seeing, taxes and tips. The cost is $23.

Speaking of trips, we are headed for the Coachlight Theatre this coming Wednesday. We'll be leaving for the show at 10:45 a.m., meaning folks should arrive by 8:30 a.m.

The action starts with setback Friday afternoon. We had 44 players and the winners were Andy Noske, 130; Tom Regan 126; Ann Fisher, 126; Archie Houghtaling, 126; Betty Jennis, 124; Mike DeSimone, 120; Bea Mader, 119; Bill Stone, 118.

Presbyterian MANCHESTER — A prayer meeting is scheduled for tonight at 7 at the Presbyterian Church, 43 Spruce St. The Christian Brigade and Pioneer Girls will also meet at 7 at the church.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

Like Weeds, Bad Kids Flourish in Neglect

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live in a very respectable neighborhood and, although our children are still toddlers, we are deeply concerned about the rise of juvenile delinquency among youngsters from "better" homes. All around us, minors—some as young as 10—have been convicted of violent crimes. They include armed robbery, beating up the elderly and handicapped, knifing and even rape. These kids have never known hunger, poverty or discrimination. They come from respectable homes and have gone to the best schools. Yet more and more children from so-called privileged class are turning to crime and violence. Why?

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-month-old nephew whose feet turn outward when he walks. So severely, in fact, that the child walks sideways. My sister knows him and keeps talking about her pediatrician to put the child in corrective shoes. But that's as far as it goes. I've mentioned this to her several times. I don't want to bring it up again for fear she'll think I'm putting my nose where it doesn't belong. Please don't say that if my sister wants her child to grow up with turned-out feet, it's her business because it isn't my sister who will have to stumble through life in deformed feet. I see her pediatrician quite often. Would it be unethical of me to say something to him about it?

DEAR ABBY: Tell him you can't afford to play for such high stakes.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Basically, it's lack of discipline. (Discipline, meaning "to teach"—not necessarily "to punish.") For a better understanding of this growing social problem, get the May issue of PARENTS magazine and read "Bad Kids" by Lori N. Andrews, a Chicago lawyer. It will open your eyes.

She says, "Unfortunately, only after a child has committed a violent crime are the roots of his behavior exposed. A peek inside the middle-class home will reveal a child who lives with two adults—but has no real parents."

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who loves to play gin rummy. When HE wins he says it's 90 percent skill and 10 percent luck. When the other fellow wins he says it's 90 percent luck and 10 percent skill.

When he loses he always wants to play one more hand—double or nothing. I get uptight and usually lose that hand. How can I get out of going along with his double-or-nothing challenge without looking like a poor sport?

DEAR ABBY: Tell him you can't afford to play for such high stakes.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: You're right. It's not necessary to "punish." For a better understanding of this growing social problem, get the May issue of PARENTS magazine and read "Bad Kids" by Lori N. Andrews, a Chicago lawyer. It will open your eyes.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

We could discuss the two club opening bid for many reasons. Today we will discuss it from the point of view of an expert, but the bid does not come up often enough to warrant that amount of discussion. As for the weak bids of two spades, hearts and diamonds we recommend the hand have 7-10 high-cards points with the understanding that you can go up to 11 or down to 6 if the spirit moves you. The suit should be 5-8 cards and should have some entry to it and the preferred distribution is 6-5-2 with 6-5-3-1 coming second.

The two-club response to a weak two bid is artificial and forcing. Opener rebids his suit with a minimum 17 or 8) and shows a feature with a maximum 19 or 10). The South hand is a maximum for a weak two bid so he rebids three diamonds to show his side ace. North's three hearts is a general continuation of the force. South's raise to four hearts is a raise. For all he knows North was showing a real heart suit.

At this point North knows that there was enough ammunition for 12 tricks. His five-spade bid confirmed South's suit and told South to bid six if he held second-round club control. South might have held just one club. He did have two, no trick. The defense took two club tricks and South took six.

Health Care Office Open

MANCHESTER—Preventive and Supportive Health Care Associates announces the opening of offices at 1049 Main St. in the Manchester State Bank building. The Association is staffed by Certified Nurse Practitioners who are prepared to offer primary health care, evaluation of health-illness status, by means of a complete physical exam and other health screening procedures, and teaching and counseling persons about all health and illness problems.

A staff physician is available for consultation on, and treatment of all medical problems. The client, after a complete health screening exam is completed, may be referred back to his/her own primary physician for follow-up care with a report of the association's findings.

As part of the association's education program, the group is now offering a program of weight reduction and control utilizing the new combined concepts of behavior modification and assertiveness training, through both individualized and group therapy, without the use of medications of any type.

Mrs. Gloria S. Martin, R.N., C.A.N.P., director of the Association, says, "If you are afraid to say 'no' to others, and 'yes' to yourself; if you feel guilty when you consider yourself before others; if you eat to resolve or suppress your anger; if you are looking for a safe, healthy way to lose weight and keep it off, then consider our program."

Enrollment is limited. For further information or appointments, call Mrs. Martin at 646-1922 between 2 and 5 p.m.

Promoted

HARTFORD—Bertha E. Varela of 67B Ambassador Drive, Manchester, has been promoted to operations analyst in the personal lines department of The Travelers Insurance Co. in Hartford.

A native of Cuba, she is a graduate of the University of Havana and joined The Travelers in 1971 at the Hartford field office.

Engineering Meeting Set

HARTFORD—An all-day symposium on clinical engineering, the uses of modern medical technology in hospitals, will be held on Thursday, May 10 at Trinity College. The event is sponsored by the Greater Hartford Center for Clinical Engineering Education and the Stone Foundation.

The symposium, which is designed for hospital administrators, clinical and hospital engineers and other persons responsible for managing the technical resources of the hospital, is free and open to the public. Among the issues to be discussed are the growing federal regulation in health care and the creation of clinical engineering departments in hospitals.

Speakers will include Drs. Joel Noble, and Neil Miller of the Emergency Care Research Institute in Philadelphia; Dr. Ernest Guignon, director of clinical engineering at the University of Connecticut's Health Center; Dr. Thomas Hayes, director of clinical engineering at St. Francis Hospital; and Dr. Joseph Bronzino, director of the Biomedical Engineering Program at Trinity College.

For reservations, contact Dr. Joseph Bronzino, Trinity College, by May 4.

Delicious Soups for Summer Days or Nights

THICK AND GOOD, this special soup combines fresh Western winter pears, fresh Golden Delicious Washington apples and canned sweet cherries. They are bested in a sauce spiced with cinnamon and cloves. This warm soup is a delightful finishing touch to a meal.

SCANDINAVIAN FRUIT SOUP
3 fresh Western winter pears 1/4 cup lemon juice
3 fresh Golden Delicious apples 1 stick cinnamon
2 cans (17 oz. each) dark sweet cherries 6 whole cloves
1 orange, peeled and sliced 2 cups water
1 lemon, thinly sliced 2 tablespoons cornstarch

Combine orange and lemon slices with lemon juice, cinnamon, cloves and water. Bring to a boil; cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Remove cinnamon and cloves. Core and slice pears and apples, add to liquid with cherries and sugar. Blend cornstarch with a little water and add to fruit. Cook, stirring gently until thick and clear. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

This dessert soup is ideal for those in a hurry. It combines canned Bartlett pears with a convenient pudding mix. A touch of almond flavoring is added for that "something extra," while sliced almonds cover canned pears that are floated in the soup.

PEAR CUSTARD SOUP
2 cans (16 oz. each) Bartlett pears, chilled 1/2-3 cups cold milk
1 package (4-1/2 oz.) instant vanilla 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Sliced almonds
Nutmeg

Drain 1 can pears and set aside. Place remaining can pears, undrained, in blender container with vanilla pudding, milk and almond extract. Blend until smooth. Pour into chilled pots. Top each serving with a pear half. Sprinkle with almonds and dust with nutmeg. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

A little rose sauce and sour cream combine with fresh frozen raspberries for this elegant dessert soup. Top it with a dollop of sour cream and a raspberry for a festive look.

RASPBERRY WINE SOUP
2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen raspberries 1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon cornstarch 1/2 cup dairy sour cream

Combine cornstarch and water in saucepan. Add wine. Bring to boil. Lower heat and simmer, stirring, for 5 minutes or until mixture has slightly thickened. Add raspberries and stir to blend. Cook, then stir in sour cream. Chill well. Serve with a dollop of sour cream for a garnish. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SALMON BISQUE
Salmon Bisque is an appetizer soup that features fresh vegetables sautéed and blended together with butter and 4-6-tablet canned salmon. It's a great child for the perfect beginning for a meal.

1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon 1 cucumber, peeled and chopped
1/2 cup chopped green pepper 1-1/2 cups chicken broth
1/2 cup grated carrot 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped Sweet Spanish onion 1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 tablespoons butter 1/8 teaspoon white pepper
1 teaspoon curry powder 2 cups buttermilk
Sliced cucumber for garnish

Sauté green pepper, carrot and onion in butter. Add curry powder and chopped cucumber and cook a minute or two longer. Reserve small amount of salmon for garnish. Place remaining undrained salmon, vegetables, chicken broth, lemon juice, salt and pepper in blender container and blend until smooth. Add to buttermilk and chill thoroughly. Serve, garnished with cucumber slices and flakes of salmon. Makes 6 appetizer or 4 main dish servings.

When breakfast will be a special occasion—perhaps on Mother's Day—a beautiful homebaked sweet bread will make it memorable.

Since time is at a premium in the morning, these three breads start with refrigerated crescent roll dough. Interesting shaping makes each of them look like a pastry shop creation, but they are easy enough for kids to bake for Mom.

Pecan Breakfast Bread slices into flaky layers that look almost like Danish pastry. Only you need know how easy it is to achieve that effect. Crescent roll triangles are sprinkled with sugar, cinnamon and pecans, rolled as you would to make crescent dinner rolls and baked in a loaf. The baked sweet bread is enhanced with a delicious caramel topping and more pecans.

Orange Coconut Crescent Ring is even easier to make. The crescent dough is cut into slices just as the rolls come from the can. These are dipped in margarine or butter, then in an orange-coconut mixture and baked in a fluted tube pan. An orange-flavored cream cheese frosting adds the crowning touch.

Melt-Away Marshmallow Loaf is first cousin to the $25.00 BAKE-OFF® roll. Crescent Marshmallow Puffs. This new loaf version has the same gooey cinnamon-marshmallow filling that everyone loves but is quicker and easier to make.

These sweet breads also are good to remember for occasions later in the day when you want to serve something sweet with a beverage. It's more convenient, you can make up the bread as long as two hours ahead and refrigerate it until time to bake.

Since crescent dough carries a "use by" date on every can, you can keep it on hand in the refrigerator for spur-of-the-moment treats, as well as for special occasions.

Orange Coconut Crescent Ring
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup coconut
2 to 3 tablespoons grated orange peel
2 (8-oz.) cans refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
1/3 cup margarine or butter, melted

Frosting
8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup powdered sugar
2 to 3 teaspoons orange juice

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Using solid shortening, grease 12-cup fluted tube pan (non-stick finish pan, too) or 2 1/2-quart ring mold. Combine sugar, coconut and orange peel. Remove crescent dough from cans in rolled sections; do not unroll. Cut each section into 4 slices. Dip both sides of each slice in margarine; then in coconut mixture. Stand slices on edge, slightly overlapping, around greased pan. Sprinkle any remaining sugar mixture over slices; drizzle with any remaining margarine. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until deep golden brown. Cool in pan one minute; turn onto serving plate. Cool slightly. Blend frosting ingredients until smooth; spoon over ring, 8 to 10 servings.

Melt-Away Marshmallow Loaf
8-oz. can refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
1 tablespoon margarine or butter, melted
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/3 cup powdered sugar
1 to 2 teaspoons milk
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Grease 8 x 4 or 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Separate dough into 3 long rectangles. Slightly overlap long sides to form 12x7-inch rectangle; firmly press perforations and edges to seal. Brush dough with margarine. Combine sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over margarine. Distribute marshmallows evenly over cinnamon-sugar mixture. Starting at shorter side of dough, loosely roll up; seal long edge. Place in prepared pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 26 to 30 minutes or until deep golden brown. Combine glaze ingredients; drizzle over warm loaf. 1 loaf, 8 servings.

Pecan Breakfast Bread
2 (8-oz.) cans refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
2 tablespoons margarine or butter, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1 to 2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/4 cup chopped pecans

Topping
1/2 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons margarine or butter, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup pecan halves

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Grease 9x5-inch loaf pan. Separate crescent dough into 16 triangles. Spread each triangle with softened margarine. Combine sugar, cinnamon and pecans; sprinkle over triangles. Roll up each triangle; start at shortest side and roll to opposite point. Place rolls point-side-down in prepared pan forming 2 layers of 8 rolls each. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan immediately. In small saucepan, combine all Topping ingredients except pecans. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Stir in pecans. Cool slightly. Drizzle over loaf.

Serve warm. 1 loaf, 6 to 8 servings. To reheat, wrap in foil; heat at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

Make breakfast a special occasion with Pecan Breakfast Bread and Orange Coconut Crescent Ring.

Overcoming the Fear of Flying

GORDON SAKAMOTO
SAN MATEO, Calif.
(UPI) - Roughly 25 million people in the United States fear flying, according to aviation industry statistics. Two women pilots have made a small start at changing that.

Through the Fear of Flying Clinic - it has nothing to do with Erica Jong's sexy novel - Fran Grant and Jeanne McElhatton, in a span of 2 1/2 years, have helped some 200 northern Californians.

The women, both members of Ninety Nines, an international organization of women pilots, described their 10-week classroom course. It runs the gamut of overcoming phobias, accomplished with the help of a behavioral counselor, to an actual "graduation" flight to Los Angeles and back.

The course includes lectures by qualified airline and Federal Aviation Administration personnel - in most instances, people who will be with the class during its first flight - films, tours of airline and FAA facilities and demonstrations.

By the end of the course, the group not only has its fears licked, but will have a valuable working knowledge of the total picture of the functions involved in the flight of an aircraft.

"Basically, our program is based on education and relaxation," said Mrs. McElhatton. "We try to expose them to as much knowledge - from the ground crew to the aircraft crew to the people who man the control tower - as we can. We cover all the areas step by step."

"To date, our program has been effective for 96 percent of those who have flown before and 100 percent for those who have never flown. We've had 22 babies who hatched out of the 'graduation flight' at the last minute, but no one has ever dropped out of the class."

So anxious are some of the participants to overcome their phobias that it is not uncommon to find someone traveling more than 200 miles, once a week, for the three-hour class.

"The first session is the most dramatic," said Mrs. Grant. "That's when people get together and discuss something they normally won't talk about with other friends. Suddenly, there's a whole roomful of people who are in the same situation. They know they're not alone. It's quite a moment for all of them." The women have pinpointed seven areas that cause flight fright - not being in control, claustrophobia, acrophobia, turbulence, noise, separation from loved ones and dying.

"Each is dealt with one way or another during the course of the program," said Mrs. Grant.

To give the program credibility, the women go directly to the source for their lecture series.

"We bring in the people who are in charge," Mrs. Grant said. "Pilots, who by the way, accompany us on our 'graduation flight,' will come in and explain how an airplane flies. They'll talk about what creates lift, weather phenomena, radio communications, radar - the whole works."

"Then we have flight management personnel lecture the class on what takes place on the ground in preparation for a flight. We also tour the maintenance center where aircraft testing is observed and explained. We also board an aircraft briefly.

Later, another on-board tour is used to explain the various functions of specific, visible parts of the aircraft - from flaps, stabilizers and the plane's auxiliary power to inflating an air vest and use of call buttons. Relaxation exercises also are practiced, and a fantasy flight is introduced.

Another session takes the class to an Air Traffic Control Center for a first-hand explanation of its operation.

Then, on "graduation day," the group - it's a voluntary flight - meets 90 minutes before flight time and boards the commercially scheduled flight before the rest of the passengers.

"For that, we use the sights, sounds and feeling of getting on an aircraft," said Mrs. McElhatton.

One flight volunteer or a member of the Ninety Nines will sit between two class members and hold hands on takeoff and landing.

After a celebration dinner in Los Angeles, the return trip is made at night. The initial flight is made during the day, giving the class an opportunity to do both day and night flying.

frequency of alcoholism, between 5 and 10 percent, has been seen in females related to alcoholism.

But this does not mean alcoholism is inherited, he said in a report in a recent issue of the medical journal, Archives of General Psychiatry. Speaking Chinese also runs in families, he said, but not because of genes.

Is There An Inherited Link to Alcoholism?

AL ROSSITER JR.
WASHINGTON (UPI) - Alcoholism tends to run in families but if there is an inherited link to the disease, a Kansas University psychiatrist suggests it might be "a lack of tolerance for alcohol."

"At this point, we are not certain that anything is inherited," said Dr. Donald

W. Goodwin. In reviewing evidence for a familial connection to alcoholism, Goodwin noted that numerous studies have found a high prevalence of alcoholism among relatives of alcoholics.

He said most studies have found at least 25 percent of adult male relatives are alcoholic. And a higher than expected frequency of alcoholism, between 5 and 10 percent, has been seen in females related to alcoholism.

But this does not mean alcoholism is inherited, he said in a report in a recent issue of the medical journal, Archives of General Psychiatry. Speaking Chinese also runs in families, he said, but not because of genes.

Goodwin said that studies of twins, however, also suggest heredity might be a factor in alcoholism.

Another approach to try to separate biological influences from acquired influences in alcoholism is to compare children separated from their parents soon after birth and raised by foster daughters were inconclusive.

All the evidence put together, Goodwin said, at least suggests the possibility of some kind of an inherited link to alcoholism.

That's where a "lack of tolerance" to alcohol might fit in the picture.

Goodwin said there is a wide range of innate variations in the way people respond to alcohol.

He said Orientals are the most conspicuous. Three separate studies have shown that small amounts of alcohol cause the skin to flush and produce other unpleasant reactions in about three quarters of Orientals.

Goodwin said the low rate of alcoholism in the Orient has usually been attributed to social factors.

"Now it appears that a large number of Orientals are physiologically intolerant of alcohol and this to some extent protects them from alcoholism."

Other groups with relatively low alcoholism rates similarly may be protected by an innate sensitivity to alcohol.

He said, for example, fewer women are alcoholic than men and informal surveys suggest many women experience unpleasant physical effects such as nausea and headache after modest amounts of alcohol.

Goodwin said there have been reports that more Jews than non-Jews have adverse physical reactions to alcohol "which conceivably may contribute to the low prevalence of alcoholism among Jews."

"In any case, it obviously is essential to be able to drink large quantities of alcohol to be alcoholic," he said.

"To summarize, large numbers of people are more or less 'protected' from becoming alcoholic because of genetically determined adverse physical reactions to alcohol."

"Possibly, if anything is inherited in alcoholism, it is a lack of tolerance for alcohol."

2 Dip artichokes into bottle of boiling salted water and the lemon juice; cook or steam for about 40 minutes, or until tender.
3 While artichokes cook, combine the bread crumbs, cheddar cheese, olive oil, and garlic.
4 Slice cooked artichokes in half lengthwise; cut out choke (fuzzy part) to save about 1/2 inch; fill each cavity with stuffing; drizzle with olive oil.
5 Place the artichokes on butter pan; broil about 4 inches from heat for 15 to 20 minutes, or until stuffing is golden. Makes 4 servings.

124 Cities in $2.5 Million Run for Life Day

MICHAEL SHALIN
NEW YORK (UPI) — National Run For Life Day, Saturday May 19, is a "marathon" for any runner, novice in particular, to help raise money to fight heart disease while running for their own health.

From Waterville, Me., to Chico, Cal., to Honolulu to Anchorage, Alaska, runners will jog or run 10 miles or less, their friends and neighbors pledged to donate to The Heart Fund on the basis of the miles run by each runner.

The events are neither competitive nor does it matter whether runners finish.

Run for Life got started last year in Erie, Pa., and they would be telling people they were present at the inception of this incredible joint venture, the largest ever of its kind.

Despite some minor problems plans for the Day have far exceeded expectations.

Shorter points out that the whole thing should just be a national day of fun.

"The real beauty of National Run For Life Day will be its participatory nature," he says. "There will be no competition. The object will be to run no farther than 10 miles. Our real winners will be the runners and the Heart Fund."

In addition to Shorter, other athletes involved in the "Day" are former pro football player John Huard and ex-baseball first baseman Mike Hegan. Huard will coordinate the efforts in Maine while Hegan directs the proceedings in Milwaukee.

Model-television commentator Cheryl Tiegs was involved in the program quite a bit last year. In fact, Tiegs, an avid runner, and Shorter adorn the cover of Run For Life, the magazine of the organization. Tiegs' involvement this year has been limited to television interviews done with Shorter.

"The credit for the idea of 'running for life' goes to Peter Moore, a public relations man for the insurance company. Moore had taken a weight reducing course and thought there should be some effective way of staying fit and from there developed run for life."

"It's a 'thon' not a race," said Wachtel. "It's not targeted to veteran runners. There will be many young people and entire families participating. It'll be a 10-mile course and people will pledge money per mile. We're looking for an average of 1,000 runners in each locale."

"The great thing about this is that 75 percent of the money raised in each area stays right there in the area. It's a Middle America type of thing and we're hoping to do very well."

In addition to the runathon, Connecticut Mutual has set up running clinics and schools where the novice runner is taught how to run and what type of program best suits the individual.

"Yankee Doodle" is unknown, but it is believed to have been composed in England in the 1700s and used to deride American colonials. It became instead a patriotic American air.

The first known American printing of the song was as part of Benjamin Carr's "Federal Overture" in Baltimore in 1798.

Are Eyeglasses On Way Out?

DIEL F. GILMORE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A visiting Soviet eye surgeon predicts eye glasses one day will follow horses and buggies and end up as museum oddities.

Syatoslav N. Fyodorov, 52-year-old director of the Moscow Research Laboratory of Experimental and Clinical Problems of Eye Surgery, says "man has been held in bondage to spectacles for the last 500 years — they help overcome but do not correct the underlying handicap."

A husky, barrel-chested man in a yellow leather jacket over a bright orange shirt, Fyodorov said at a news conference at the Soviet Embassy that a simple five to ten minute operation can eliminate the need for eyeglasses or contact lenses for many people suffering from myopia, or near sightedness.

He also was optimistic about the use of plastic lens implants for people who have cataracts removed.

Dr. Carl Kupfer, director of the National Eye Institute which is part of America's National Institutes of Health, said it was his opinion that studies are necessary to see if the myopia surgery produces any long-term adverse effects. He also questioned the need for such surgery when eye glasses correct near sightedness so easily.

Fyodorov talked about his work in almost colloquial English and used slides to show how he had implanted artificial lenses by microsurgery, and how he corrected vision distorted by myopia.

He said American and other doctors are now using his surgical techniques.

In a prepared statement, he said that eye glasses and contact lenses are an unnecessary inconvenience.

"When one considers that about 1 billion people already wear glasses and every case got ulation needs them, and in

Social Security

Q. My husband and I are going to take our disabled son to a Social Security office next week to apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments. What information should we take?

A. You should take a record of the child's Social Security number, if available; a birth certificate or oldest available proof of age; information on dates of treatment or examination for the child's disability or blindness; information about the child's income and assets and the income and assets of you and your husband; and information about the child's living arrangements. But don't delay applying if you don't have all this information. The people at the Social Security office can help you obtain whatever is needed.

Q. When I retired last year, I arranged to have my Social Security checks deposited directly into my bank account. I'm going to move in a couple of months. I've already notified the bank. Should I notify Social Security too?

A. Yes, you should, so that you will get any correspondence Social Security sends you. It's also a good idea to notify the post office and ask them to forward your mail. That way, you'll be assured of getting all your mail.

Q. I'll be using my Medicare coverage for the first time when I go into the hospital next month. I know that a benefit period starts when I enter the hospital. When does it end, when I'm discharged?

A. A benefit period ends when you have been out of the hospital (or other facility primarily providing skilled nursing or rehabilitation services) for 60 days in a row, including the day of discharge.

Q. Is there anything you can do to speed up the process of getting a card? Suppose I get the job before I get my card?

A. If an employer wants proof that you applied for a Social Security card, ask the nearest Social Security office for a receipt, Form SSA-9028 when you apply for a number. When your card arrives take it to the employer so he or she can copy the number to make sure you get credit for all your earnings.

Legion Teams Gain Support

To the strains of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" baseball boosters offered their support to the Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post, American Legion's junior and senior baseball teams at a dinner-dance at the post home recently. Discussing plans for the opening game against Enfield set for June 11 at 6:30 p.m., at East Catholic High School's Eagle Field, are, from left, Cmdr. C.A. "Skip" Mikoleit, team manager and co-ticket chairman for the dinner dance; Robert Donahue, baseball committee chairman and program co-chairman; and Strat Kane, program co-chairman. Thirty engraved baseballs commemorating the 50th anniversary of Legion baseball were awarded as door prizes. Moriarty Brothers has sponsored the local teams for many years.

Recruit Training Ends

Navy Seaman Recruit Martin C. Nelson, son of Mrs. Arthur W. Nelson Jr. of 96 Norton Lane, South Windsor, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

A 1978 graduate of Rockyville High School, he joined the Navy in April 1978.

Navy Seaman Recruit Brian K. Douglas, son of George Douglas of Gardner Road, Vernon, and Yvette Douglas of Terrace Drive, Vernon, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif.

A 1976 graduate of South Windsor High School, he joined the Navy in February 1978.

College Notes

Catherine Ann Mohan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Mohan of Coventry was recently elected president of the Class of 1980 at Wheaton College, Norton, Mass.

She is a junior at the college.

Paul Strand, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Barton Strand of 141 Ralph Road, Manchester, is a member of the cast in Michael Weller's "Moonchildren," being presented by the Augustana Players at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. The play deals with the lives of eight college students during Vietnam War years.

Strand is a senior at the college.
