Rivers and streams, glutted by unrelenting rains, gushed into residential areas in Kansas and Missouri Friday, forcing hun-dreds of families from their nomes and isolating towns. Two people were missing and feared drowned.

Snow pushed across the Rockies and rain doused much of the Plains. Scattered showers flitted across the Ohio Valley and the Appalachians. Rain also fell on the eastern Gulf Coast and pushed north along the southern Atlantic Seaboard.

More than a half foot of rain sent floodwaters from the Walnut River gushing into northern and eastern parts of Eldorado, Kan., and forced hundreds of persons from their homes. Some areas were under 15 to 20 feet of water.

Marches Set

DECATUR, Ala. (UPI) Authorities in Alabama and neighboring Mississippi shifted state trooper forces Friday i preparation for Saturday demonstrations reminiscent the 1960s.

Extra state troopers were moved into the Decatur area, and the National Guard was placed on standby for rival marches scheduled here by the Ku Klux Klan and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the group founded by the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. In Mississippi, Gov. Cliff Finch said additional troopers were being posted to Okolona where

Range Fires

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) Unseasonably gusty winds fanned hundreds of range fires in California Friday, and the biggest, roaring at 2,000 acres an hour, blackened 51,000 acres in the San Joaquin Valley near Mendota. The big blaze, called the Ciervo fire, was started by the hot exhaust from a pickup truck in grass and light brush in 100-degree weather. The truck driver was unsuccessful in extinguishing the fire by turning up dirt with a shovel, and 50-mile-an-hour winds whipped it up quickly. Fast-moving flames eventually surrounded seven shepherds who saved their lives by crawling under a tarpaulin. An aerial tanker bombed them with retardent chemicals, and the fire burned over them, leaving them hot and frightened but uninjured. Hope of containment of the Ciervo fire depended on an expected drop in the wind. State forestry crews, setting back fires in some spots, developed 50 miles of containment line without e

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The White nuclear attack - a move officials said should help persuade the Senate to ratify SALT II.

Deputy press secretary Rex Granum said Carter decided in favor of the huge MX - which will cost $30 billion over 10 years - because "in his best judgment, we need to take this action to maintain our strategic security."

Defense officials said Carter plans to build 200 of the missiles and equip each one with 10 warheads. Each warhead will have 25 times the explosive power of the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima. Officials said the MX will give the United States for the first time the ability to threaten large numbers of Soviet land-base missiles, and at the same time, will protect the 1,054 American land-based missiles now in

Tell Children That Disability Isn't Inability

DEAR ABBY: A repairman who was obviously crippled y multiple sclerosis or cerebral palsy came to my home to lay. My 4-year-old daughter asked loudly, and in front of the man, "Mommie, why does that man walk so funny?" I was terribly embarrassed and totally unprepared for her question, so I said, "The man wasn't as lucky as Mommie and I didn't mean to sound patronizing or condescending. out I didn't know what else to say. Later I told my daughter that it wasn't nice to mention a person's handicap in front of him or her. My question is, what do you tell children when they ask what is wrong with crippled or disfigured person in the person's presence?

DEAR AT: You tell them the truth in language they can anderstand. ("The man has a sickness that made his leg crooked. It's a little harder for him to walk, but he can still o his job as well as anybody else".)

Very young children will not understand why it isn't mention the obvious. They are naturally curious, eager to learn and shouldn't be discouraged from asking Bless those disabled who anticipate a child's curiosity and ome right out with why they are in a wheelchair, wear a brace, or have difficulty talking, seeing or hearing. DEAR ABBY: I'm 22 and my husband is 25. We've been married for three years. When I was first married I weighed 30. Now I weigh 180! My problem is my sex life. My husband refuses to touch ne until I lose 40 pounds. I'm trying, but it's not easy. What if he'll kiss you if you lose 25. DEAR ABBY: I had to make an emergency trip and ouldn't get a confirmed reservation on a plane, so I went to the airport and took my chances on a standby. Fortunately, I got on a flight. Unfortunately, I was placed in the smoking ection and I am allergic to smoke. I was so grateful to have gotten a seat on that plane I wasn't about to make any waves. Well, my seat partner was a chain smoker. After her third cigarette, I asked her politely if she could please cut down on her smoking. Her answer was, "I wish I could, honey, but I'm a nervous wreck when I fiv. and I have to smoke. What would Dear Abby have done in my place? ALLERGIC

DEAR ALLERGIC: She would have sent up smoke signals to the flight attendant who said on take-off, "If there anything I can do to make your flight more enjoyal please let me know.

Hugh Downs Scuttles Coast-to-Coast

By DAN LEWIS

Hugh Downs, who thought he had gone into semi-retirement several years ago, commutes cross-country as easily as some people travel cross-

Like clockwork, Downs boards a New York-to-San Francisco flight each Friday morning. There, he tapes six episodes - two a day - of his PBS series, "Over Easy," a weekday strip on PBS.

Monday morning, Downs is back on a commercial York. For the next three days, he prepares himself for his now-weekly stint as host of ABC's "20/20," the Thursday night, prime time news magazine. Downs appears live on the show, which means he can't get a flight to San Francisco until the next morning.

Ironically the cross-country flights may traverse the area some 40 miles north of Phoenix, Ariz., where Downs officially resides, but rarely visits. Instead, he and his wife maintain two apartments one in New York the other in San Francisco.

The man who thought he was in partial retirement three years ago finds himself today on more television stations than any other performer, series or game-show host. His "Over Easy" series, which is geared to the interest of elderly citizens, appears five afternoons a week on 272 PBS stations. "20/20," in prime time, reaches the 200-plus affiliates of the ABC network.

In addition, Downs hosts three other specials a year. titled 'American Lifestyle," which are syndicated to 54 stations.

"There is almost no overlap," Downs says with justifiable pride. "I'm on more stations than anyone in the history of televi-

As host of "Over Easy" and "20/20," Hugh Downs is on more stations than anyone in the history of television.

This is his 40th year in broadcasting, and he's done everything in the business, including round-byround coverage of a boxing match in Lima, Ohio, back in 1939, when he first started out.

"I'd love to hear that tape," he reflects with a broad grin. "But I've really done everything. I've acted, sung with Perry Como, I even danced years ago on a network daytime show called 'The Home Show. Now, he has found his Utopia in broadcasting -

"If anyone had asked me last June 5 what would be my Utopia in broadcasting I would have said a primetime commercial network magazine of the air show."

The date was significant. After a number of delays created by a busy schedule, Downs was able to accept a standing offer from ABC to host the "Good Morning Armeri-ca" show in place of a vacationing David Hartman. He came to New York June 4 to start a week's replacement run.

television."

going to sit in the studio and just do lead-ins.

The following night, June 5, ABC premiered "20/20." The executive producer left shortly thereafter, and two hosts departed even sooner - the next day, in fact. Downs was signed to take over, starting with the second show, as the anchor.

"I had even considered, before that, to finance a pilot for a magazine show, using my own money. Downs recalled. "And here, it fell out of the sky and into my cap."

Downs adds that he wasn't looking, at the time, for any network shows but when it happened it was wonderful. The problem was, and still is, the traveling between the two coasts.

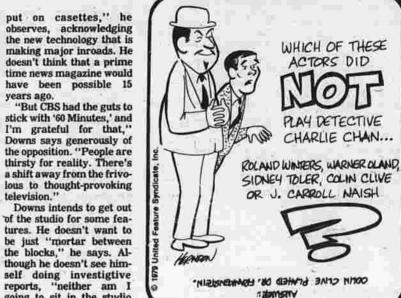

'More than once I've awakened in the middle of the night and bumped into walls - not realizing for the moment where I was," he notes, then continues, "but I feel better working.'

He'll continue this grueling schedule through Dec. 16. By that time, he will have completed the year's production of "Over Easy." Then he hopes that, with "20/20" continuing, of course, he can consolidate and do both shows in New

"Over Easy" is a production of San Francisco's Public Broadcasting station KQED, which owns the title. The station may transferred to New York.

He believes the news magazine is where television is going in prime time. "Entertainment can be
