New Complex

BRANFORD (UPI) — Connecticut may be able to boast of having the second largest shopping center in the world, according to plans revealed Friday by developers.

The proposed $215 million shopping mall would be spread over a 250-acre tract on land near Interstate 95, according to developer Ron Pasqualino.

The completely-enclosed mall would cover more than 2 million square feet of store space and house six major retail stores and 400 smaller stores, he said. Pasqualino, executive vice president of Rudy Galto and Associate Development Corp., said ground breaking ceremonies are scheduled for September and developers hope to open the complex in August 1981.

About 4,800 jobs would be required to build the proposed mall that would be the second largest in the world, Pasqualino said.

The world's largest mall is the DeBarito Mall in Cincinnati, Ohio, he said.

Right Turn

HARTFORD, (UPI) — The state Department of Transportation is kicking off a $55,000 campaign to educate motorists ahead of time on the new right-turn-on-red law that goes into effect July 1.

Transportation Commissioner Arthur Powers said Friday the biggest point his agency wants to get across is that drivers have to stop before turning right. The turns will be legal at some 6,300 different traffic light approaches. The message which will be advertised is — "Stop before you turn right on red. It's common courtesy. And it's the law."

Areas where right turns cannot be made on red lights are where the driver's sightline is not adequate for prevailing speeds; where "Walk" and "Don't Walk" signs are operating; at intersections with five or more approaches that have restricted geometry and may cause unexpected conflicts; and at school and other crossings used frequently by children, the elderly, the handicapped and other pedestrians.

The campaign will be geared toward television, radio and newspapers, Powers said. It also will include publication of a brochure in braille; posters at elderly housing complexes and a pamphlet which explains the new law in English and Spanish.

The ad drive is being funded by the state, the federal Department of Energy, and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Students Told Work Needed For Liberty

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — There are few times when a person feels as free-spirited as the night of high school graduation.

Graduates of Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School were told Friday night that maintaining such freedom and liberty requires work.

"How often we take for granted the freedoms we enjoy in this country. We may well throw them away," Mayor Stephen Penny told the group of 92 graduates, which included Cheryl Wasik of Glastonbury, the first female graduate in the school's 25-year history.

Penny, who two years ago became the youngest mayor in Manchester's history, talked of the importance of young persons becoming involved.

"You will make the world what it is tomorrow," he said.

He mentioned the country's dismal and decreasing record of voter turnout at recent elections. Those who fail to vote often continue to complain.

"If you fail to vote, you can be sure there will be much more to complain about," he said, referring to possible losses of the freedoms we know enjoy.

"Take sides, then, young friends. Get involved and chart your course," he told the class and the 300 friends, family and faculty members who attended the ceremony, which was held outdoors at the school.

Penny added some lighter notes in his speech. He said failure to become involved in government could result in the same fate as the now extinct "Mugwump" party.

"That party usually sat on the fence with its mug on one side and its wump on the other, Penny said.

The 92 seniors exhibited some of their free-spiritedness as they lined up inside the school and prepared to march out to the ceremony.

Several shouted "Let's go" and pounded nearby lockers and friends. They laughed and talked as they headed out the door for the final time as Cheney students.

The weather was warm, but a cooling breeze helped make the hour-long ceremony a comfortable one. The wind occasionally kicked up and blew a few mortarboards from the heads of the graduates receiving their diplomas.

John Garofalo, director of the school, spoke with pride about the accomplishments of the class and the school.

"Those who think teens don't produce don't look at Cheney Tech," he said.

Other remarks also were made by Gerald Blanchard, the school's guidance coordinator, and John E. Toffolon, chairman of the state Board of Education.

And class member Graham F. Warner reminisced about some of the accomplishments of the class and school during the past four years. These included winning seasons in sports, academic honors, and, perhaps best of all, a free concert by the group "England Dan and John Ford Coley." The school won the concert when it submitted more entries than other schools in a contest sponsored by a gun company.

Garofalo announced awards to several of the graduates, including David Marshall of Ellington, who was given the outstanding senior award.

Two others — Michael Pelletier of Manchester and Richard Oellers of Vernon — received awards for perfect attendance for all four years of school.

U.S.-Russian Summit Begins

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — President Carter and Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev met for the first time Friday and the American leader agreed the encounter was a "good beginning" to the SALT II summit.

The leaders of the two most powerful nations in the world greeted each other with a simple handshake. When a reporter asked afterwards, "Was it a good beginning?" Carter replied, "Yes, it was."

A U.S. official said the meeting went well "under the circumstances." He did not elaborate.

The handshake launched four days of summitry scheduled to climax Monday with the signing of the SALT II restricting nuclear arsenals.

The two men sat in baroque, high-backed red chairs, separated by a small table and accompanied only by interpreters. They talked for two minutes alone before being officially received by Austrian President Rudolf Kirchschlaeger.

There were no introductions. Carter arrived first at the 13th century Hofburg Palace and waited in the ornate Rose Room. Brezhnev arrived five minutes later and the two men simply shook hands.

After their short initial meeting, they met with Kirchschlaeger for 25 minutes.

The signing of the treaty limiting strategic weapons is scheduled for Monday.

The treaty becomes effective only after approval by the Supreme Soviet and the U.S. Senate. Carter faces a tough selling job in winning the necessary two-thirds ratification from a skeptical Senate.

The treaty imposes the first numerical limits on the strategic arsenals of the two superpowers. The SALT I treaty signed in 1972 froze existing arsenals for five years.

Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met separately for an hour to discuss the agenda and specifics of the next two days of talks.

According to the protocol schedule, Carter was to have arrived three minutes ahead of Brezhnev. Traffic and two wreath laying ceremonies delayed the Kremlin leader two minutes and Carter had to wait five minutes for their historic encounter.

Police Probing Drinking Reports

MANCHESTER — The administration of the Police Department announced Friday it is investigating an alleged incident where off-duty officers drank alcoholic beverages in the department building.

The announcement was made by a press release. Police Chief Robert Lannan had left his office and was unavailable for comment Friday afternoon. No other department officials, including Patrol Capt. Henry Minor and Detective Capt. Joseph Brooks, would comment on the incident. Other patrol officers contacted on the matter also had little to say.

Gary Wood, an official in the Manchester Police Union, Local 1495, did say the union had been asked to issue a statement on the matter. It decided to take no such action, he said.

Lannan also was unavailable for comment at his home. He is in charge of the investigation.

"All officers believed to be involved were off duty at the time and at this point, the investigation is incomplete," the brief press release said.

Charles McCarthy, assistant town manager, did offer some comment on the situation. He said he believed the incident involved the consumption of some beer that had been confiscated during a police call.

He labeled the incident "a minor matter, a disciplinary matter."

McCarthy said some disciplinary action, probably suspensions, can be expected.

He became a sergeant in 1972.

Contacted at home, Smith said he has no other job lined up at this time but added, "I can do several things."

He and his family expect to move to Florida, he said.

When asked why he resigned, Smith said he had too long to go before retirement, so he decided to leave the department now.

Sergeant Resigns

MANCHESTER — An 18-year veteran of the Manchester Police Department announced his resignation Friday.

Sgt. Lawrence Smith is leaving the force for personal reasons, according to a press release issued Friday by the department.

Smith joined the department in December 1960 as a patrol officer.

He became a sergeant in 1972.

Contacted at home, Smith said he has no other job lined up at this time but added, "I can do several things."

When asked why he resigned, Smith said he had too long to go before retirement, so he decided to leave the department now.

Purolator Money Ordered Returned

WATERBURY (UPI) — Judge Walter M. Pickett Jr. Friday ordered the loot taken from a Purolator Security Inc. garage two months ago to be returned to the company — which claimed it was losing $75,000 a month in interest.

Pickett said keeping the money in a bank vault so it could be used as evidence in the case was placing an "unreasonable burden" on Purolator.

He ordered $905,998.49 returned to the company by June 22. That was the amount of coins and cash taken in the nearly $1.9 million robbery from the Waterbury garage the day bandits gunned down three guards in a daring pre-dawn raid.

All of the loot was recovered at the homes of four suspects in the case less than 24 hours after the robbery.

While Pickett ordered the stolen money returned to Purolator, he upheld the claims of one of the defendants, Donald Couture, 26, that $3,500 of Couture's own money was mixed up with the other funds.

The judge ordered the $3,500 placed in a bank account for Couture.

Couture and Lawrence J. "Buddy" Pelletier, 36, have been indicted on single capital felony murder counts — which carry the death penalty — and three counts of felony murder.

Couture's wife, Donna, 24, and Pelletier's common-law wife, Evelyn Vega, 26, face three felony murder charges.

Pickett awarded the money to Purolator over strong objections by state's attorney Francis M. McDonald, who said the money had to be kept as evidence.

"Our interest in this money is simple as evidence in the murder of the three murdered guards. I don't want to do anything or agree to do anything that would jeopardize the successful prosecutions of these very serious cases," he had argued.

The money taken from the garage included $857,998.49 in seven bags of currency and approximately $48,000 in 60 bags of coins, which have not been counted for actual amounts.

Guide Dogs Honored

By RUSS MacKENDRICK
The stamp "Seeing For Me" honors the services of guide dogs to the blind. The first day of issue was yesterday at Morristown, New Jersey.

those here who want a chance at a new life.
From this came the Seeing Eye Inc., founded in 1929 at Morristown. As of 1977 there were nine training centers in the United States, from New Jersey to Hawaii, and thousands of persons have been able to make their way in business and in professional life with the aid of a companion such as seen on the stamp.

There have been some remarkable stories of the way these seeing-eye dogs can cope with the unexpected.
Morris Frank tells how they are trained to point with their noses toward latches or doorknobs or bells. The owner can run his hand along the nose and just reach out to a bell further. On one occasion Morris and his dog Buddy approached an elevator. Buddy stopped but would not point.

The stamp will be in five colors, 50 to a pane, with five plate numbers.
For first-day covers it is suggested that you get the stamps locally and affix to envelopes of your choice. Send these in a larger envelope to First Day Cancellations, Postmaster, Morristown, NJ 07980, on or before June 30.

Home Owners Get Markers

MANCHESTER—Members of the Manchester Historical Society presented historic house markers to owners this week.

The society's project to identify historic homes in Manchester and mark them with a plaque was based on the architectural survey made by Michael Perotto and Priscilla Lippincott from the former Arts Encourager. The survey has been resumed by the society. Owners of historic homes have furnished supplemental material which helps to establish the date and original owner of the house.

The society will mail applications in August to another 50 owners of historic homes which will complete the more than 100 houses on the society's list. Recipients interested in having their home identified by a plaque designating the original date of the building may reply to the society. Recipients may become members of the society, or make a donation if they wish.

Banjo Band To Perform

MANCHESTER—Walter Kaye Bauer and his Band of Banjos will perform Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Manchester Bicentennial Band Shell on the Manchester Community College campus of Webster Street. Organized 24 years ago, this group of amateurs with professional ability gives about eight concerts each year. The band has its own soloists who will be featured on the various stringed instruments.

Wings of Morning Look Closely at the Nearby

I have been interested to hear people speak of how much more they see and enjoy now that walking, jogging, and bicycling are so popular. Instead of whizzing along at a high speed, the slower pace has allowed the observer to see new areas of observation.

Their experience well might be an example for us to follow and also to take time deliberately to look, examine, and enjoy. Isn't there a song that advises us "to stop and smell the roses?" Michael Novak, under the title of "Amazing Grace" has expressed it this way:

"Holding a twig in one's hand, or a flower,
I find myself absorbed in its singularity,
In its own inexpressible beauty ...
Suddenly the world seems opening up around me ...
Nothing is too simple, too ordinary, too routine,
To escape one's wonderment."

The same philosophy emerges in the older sermon illustration about the boat that had exhausted its supply of fresh water. The thirsty men could go no shore, but finally another boat came into view to which they signaled for help. "We are desperate and dying of thirst. Can you spare some water?" The surprise answer came back, "Dip down where you are." And behold, the water was fresh. They had sailed into the very mouth of the Amazon River.

Each of us can "dip down where we are" and find much to educate us to, interest us, to delight us, as well as to increase our awe and deepen our sense of the mystery of life. I have on occasion made the suggestion that someone with an eye for beauty and the unusual go about our community taking pictures that will surprise us and reveal how good it is to live in Manchester.

I first thought of this when I read the legend of the ancient king who commissioned two knights to ride through the kingdom, one was to collect all the beautiful flowers, grasses, shrubs he could find, while the other was to do just the opposite bring back all ugly and unpleasant things he encountered as brambles, briars, prickles, and thorns. You can imagine the different stories each knight told about the same country. "Wonderful" and "horrible."

There is something fundamental about this legend that can help us separate the two pictures four different colored streams mingling into a mighty river and imagine how the colors would intermingle, then it will be easier to understand more clearly the questions that arise in the minds of the thoughtful reader.

A Chuckle
A story that comes out of the "good old days" when a nickel was a nickel, little Wendy off for Sunday School dressed in her best bib and tucker. In her hand she clutched two nickels, one for the collection plate and one for an ice-cream cone on the way home.

As she skipped merrily along, one of the coins slipped out of her hand and rolled into a drain. She stopped abruptly, looked woefully at the hole, and then said before she continued on her way to church, "Gosh darn. There goes the Lord's nickel."

What Chains are Holding You?
The truly great preacher, Clarence Macartney, writes of this in one of his books:

"Once after the evening service, as I was passing down the steps of the church to the street, I saw quite a crowd assembled on the sidewalk, as if waiting for me. When I drew near to it, I noticed that whenever one of them moved there was the sound of the clanking of fetters. When one of them put up his hand to his hat to greet me, again I heard the clank of fetters. In amazement I asked them, 'Who are you? And what mean these clanking chains on your arms and ankles?'" unbelief, some with the chain of lust and unclean desire. But there was a time when in the church we saw a light, and heard a Voice, and the Angel of God smote us and said, 'Arise and follow me.' But we did not heed his light, or his blow, or his voice. One hour has passed, our opportunity disappeared. Still, tonight, who might once have been free are in the prison and wear these chains and fetters."

Lisa Shepard Steel Shortage Predicted for 1985

NEW YORK — Although there is now an abundance of steel on the world market, industrial officials predict a worldwide steel shortage beginning in 1985 — which can only mean higher prices for automobiles, televisions and other steel-using products.

Currently the industry is experiencing a 12 percent world overcapacity, which steel analysts expect will level off by 1985 with increased demand. "There is at least a good possibility of a world steel shortage beginning in 1985 and growing thereafter," said George Stinson, head of National Steel Corporation.

Stinson said steel companies have spent over $3.7 billion on cleaning up the environment between 1951 and 1978. The industry expects to spend almost $1 billion on pollution devices in the next couple of years.

"Our concern is that environmental expenditures have drained much capital that could have modernized facilities and added to capacity," said Stinson. "They also have increased our operating costs and reduced steelmaking efficiency."

Recently U.S. Steel Corp. made a landmark agreement with the Environmental Protection Agency to spend $400 million by 1983 on pollution abatement. The company's head, David Roderick, said new pollution controls will make some plants more energy efficient.

Another problem addressed at the trade meeting was the intractability of the Trigger Price Mechanism, which alerts the government to foreign steel being sold below a set price. Last year, steel imports rose to a level not reached in six years, said a Commerce Department spokesman who follows steel.

"It depends on how much steel is used. Consumption's been slower recently than in the past. Whether the slow down will change or continue is a big question."

He added that 1985 is too far away to predict a shortage without also knowing what the producers will do. "Some developing countries, like Korea, have been increasing their capacity rapidly."

Letter to the Editor
The editor:
Whatever has happened to Jay Giles, our congenial public works director, always such a nice person, helpful and efficient?

Suddenly he has turned sour. Who has been putting him through the wringer?
Could it be our "good friend" Bob Weits? Or maybe all of our "good friends" on the Board of Directors. Or perhaps it was a combination of both with a little bit of Ted Cummings thrown in for good measure.

In the controversy with South Windsor, Mr. Giles makes it sound like the Eighth District is standing in the way of an agreement.

Please be informed that, at no time, has the Town of Manchester or the Town of South Windsor approached the district for permission to have South Windsor sewage flow through district territory. And that is the truth.

Colombian Gold Glittering

WASHINGTON — The good guys are losing the narcotics war to the bad guys. The United States is losing the narcotics war to the bad guys. The United States is losing the narcotics war to the bad guys.

Colombian gold is a favorite of millions of American pot smokers. The United States is losing the narcotics war to the bad guys.

Colombian soldiers have seized 41 aircraft and 62 ships since the crackdown began, and have confiscated more than 4,000 tons of marijuana worth nearly $2 billion.

The impact of imports on individual markets was extremely damaging, particularly in the West, where imports took 40 percent of the available market in 1978, said U.S. Steel's Roderick.

However, government officials say trigger pricing is successful and profitable. The impact of imports on individual markets was extremely damaging, particularly in the West, where imports took 40 percent of the available market in 1978, said U.S. Steel's Roderick.

It would respectfully remind our "good friends" in the Town Hall that the taxpayers of the Eighth Utilities District pay all their salaries proportionately with all other taxpayers in the way of an agreement.

It need not be noted I am a district director. This article I am writing as an individual taxpayer, who is fed up with the Shenagans in the Town Hall and wants to see the Town of Manchester restored to its former peaceful state.

The Eighth District has been most cooperative in giving the town permission to cross district boundaries to sewer the industrial park and the Baldwin-Concord-Tolland Turnpike area.

Millions in federal aid earmarked for 42 states will be cut off beginning in July unless the states set up strict guidelines to curtail medical costs. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is threatening to stop certain federal health funds in the states involved unless legislation requiring strict supervision of capital expenditures by hospitals, nursing homes and other long-term care facilities is enacted by the states.

Pennsylvania illustrates the political difficulties involved in the health-care squabble.

Nineteen members of the state health committee approved the bill which received campaign contributions from the association. The chairman of the health committee was Richard McClatchey, who owns a nursing home. He now heads the appropriations committee.

A tougher bill was recently defeated in the state senate, which is now working on one quite similar to the House bill. The bill would meet HEW requirements, its backers hope.

Meanwhile, HEW is working with members of Congress to modify the draconian punishment for states who miss the federal deadline. More flexibility would give the agency time to force state compliance without endangering many health-care programs by a total cutoff of funds.

"They want to put on a play, nothing revolutionary — strictly historical," the spokesman said. Language classes, for which students pay $100 for books and a 14-week term, are still co-ed. But this may change soon as male and female students are to be segregated according to Islamic tradition.

Now they mix freely on the small campus. The cafeteria is one of the few public places in Tehran where one can hear country and western music.

The Lighter Side

The Reciprocal Blame Thrower
By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission tells Congress it is joining the hunt for someone to blame for the gasoline shortage.

The next step, if all goes according to form, will be for someone in Congress to blame the FTC.

What this country needs obviously is a new, improved blame thrower. The current model, which has been in use since the Vietnam war, proved woefully ambiguous in the Three Mile Island and the DC-10 investigations, and has been rendered completely ambivalent by the gasoline shortage.

These deficiencies are hardly surprising, however. The darn thing never did work very well.

During the Vietnam fighting, you'll recall, the blame thrower developed a bad malfunction in its retro-scope. Keep throwing the blame backwards. Blamed by Jane Fonda for America's involvement, the Nixon administration blamed the Johnson administration, which threw it on the Eisenhower administration.

At one point, the blame thrower was retro-specting all the way back to Millard Fillmore during whose administration Commodore Perry "opened" the Far East to U.S. interests.

That should have been the signal to recall it. But it was kept in service, which explains why it took so long to throw the blame for Watergate in the right place.

Now, with the advent of the gasoline shortage, the blame thrower's dispersal nozzle has gone absolutely haywire and has started throwing blame in all directions.

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Un-touched by protesters who descend often upon the U.S. Embassy a score of blocks down, the only surviving Iranian-American cultural center in Iran is cautiously picking up activity.

"We're looking very carefully at what we could show — something that fits in with the revolutionary spirit of Iran," said an Iranian spokesman for the 54-year-old Iranian-American society who asked he not be identified.

The society's modern complex of theaters, a cinema, classrooms, art galleries, restaurant and the Abraham Lincoln library in north Tehran was crowded with Iranians and Americans until the revolution.

Up to then, American not only had a surplus of gasoline, most of it was thrown away as a useless by-product of kerosene.

Recruitment experts say the key to developing a blame thrower capable of getting to the bottom of the gasoline shortage lies in improving the guidance system.

Cheney Students Compete Sunday

MANCHESTER — A trip to the famed Indianapolis Motor Speedway and a chance to win college scholarships is on tap for a pair of high school seniors from Cheney Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School.
Kenneth Plourde, 18, of 80 Bayberry Trail, South Windsor, and Robert Harrington, 18, of 33 Sherman Road, Glastonbury, will represent Connecticut at the 18th Annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting contest to be held Sunday through Wednesday in Indianapolis. The two young mechanics earned the honor by winning the state Trouble Shooting championship in Marlboro, Mass., in May. Their instructor at Cheney Tech is Ralph S. Catalano.
At the state finals, the talented team found and repaired all the mechanical defects that had been deliberately implanted in their assigned cars. Their perfect performance earned each of them a $1,000 scholarship to Chrysler Corp.'s MoTech Automotive Center in Livonia, Mich.
The Cheney Tech team will be among the best high school mechanics selected from each of the 50 states to determine a national champion. The purpose of the contest is to encourage mechanically talented students to further their education and to enter the increasingly sophisticated and challenging field of automotive service.
At the national finals in Indianapolis, state teams will be competing for $21,500 in scholarships and the right to represent the U.S. at the International Trouble Shooting contest in San Francisco in July. The first-place winners will win $2,500 college scholarships, a trophy for their school, and a set of auto mechanic's tools for their school's auto shop.
Trouble Shooting is sponsored by Plymouth and the Plymouth Dealers of America, with the cooperation of the various state departments of education.

Town Files Charge On Promotion Issue

MANCHESTER — The town has filed an unfair labor practice charge against a municipal union because of continued complaints dealing with promotions.
The union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, Local 991, has filed grievances on several promotions.
The union says the promotions should be based on seniority because of provisions in its contract.
The town says town and state ordinances overrule this and such promotions should be based on merit.
Steven Werber, town's personnel supervisor, said the complaint was filed so that an answer on the matter will be issued by the state's labor board.
He said state ordinances prohibit the negotiation of certain aspects of the merit system. This voids some of the provisions of the union contract, he said.
He also said a town ordinance establishing a merit system for promotions was approved in 1973. This also supercedes the union contract, he said.
Union officials, however, feel that the contract's language is permissible and provides a fair system for employee promotions.

Sunday is Big Day For Glastonbury Dad

GLASTONBURY — Sunday is an important day for all fathers, but for Joseph A. Zimmermann of 169 Knollwood Drive, it's Father's Day could be the most memorable one of all.
Not only is he celebrating Father's Day, but will also be named president of Rison Manufacturing in Naugatuck. If that is not enough, Sunday is his birthday.

Trinity Covenant

MANCHESTER — The color film "Master Controlled" will be shown Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Trinity Covenant Church on Hackmatack Street, sponsored by Search Ministries.
The film tells the story of a man who could sell four million dollars' worth of insurance premiums in a given year, but found it hard to talk to others about Christ. A simple concept changed his life.
The program and the coffee hour following are open to the public.

To Avoid X-Rays

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To avoid excess X-rays and keep track of the ones you've been exposed to, the government is offering a free record card designed to fit wallets.
To order the X-Ray and Vaccination Record Card, write Consumer Information Center, Dept. 651G, Pueblo, Colo.
The center also offers these tips on avoiding excess X-Ray exposure:
—Don't decide on your own that you need an X-ray and don't insist on one.
—If your doctor orders an X-ray, ask how it will help with the diagnosis.
—Tell the doctor about any similar X-ray exams you've had.
—Ask if gonad (sexual organ) shielding can be used — for children as well as adults.
—If you think you are pregnant, tell your doctor before having an X-ray test.

Independent Drivers Agree To Stop Diesel Blockade

MILFORD (UPI) — Independent truckers, who had blocked pumps at Connecticut's two major road truck stops for four days, agreed Friday afternoon to end their blockade.
The truckers, angry over rising diesel fuel prices, agreed Friday afternoon meeting with operators of the two stops located on Interstate 85 in Milford to announce an end to the siege.
Howard Merk, owner of the Mayflower truck stop, said the agreement also called for dropping all charges against nine drivers arrested earlier this week for blocking the pumps.
Still angry drivers at the Union 76 truck stop in Branford, where about seven trucks blocked pumps, reluctantly said they had no desire to press charges against the nine drivers arrested for blocking the pumps Tuesday night. "All charges will be dropped," he said.
Joe Verdone, a spokesman for the Independent Owner-Operators Association, said, "The trucks will be leaving their post at 5 p.m. but I don't know where they will be going from there."

Both parties said they planned to meet with state officials in Hartford Monday to discuss the matter further.
A total of about 50 pumps at the Mayflower and Second Bros. truck stops, adjacent to each other on the busy Connecticut Turnpike, had been blocked by dozens of trucks since Tuesday.
The decision came on the heels of a federal government order to regulate carriers to compensate the drivers for the rising cost of diesel fuel by adding a 5.6 percent surcharge on shipped goods.
But Merk said the order wasn't the major factor in reaching a settlement. And the drivers said the

Nuke Plant Remains Closed

WATERFORD (UPI) — Connecticut's largest nuclear power plant will remain out of production — at a cost of $500,000 a day — until Tuesday because of a broken auxiliary water pump, Millstone II officials said Friday.
Plant officials had originally thought the pump's shaft could be replaced within 48 hours, but spokesman Clifford Hill said that estimate was revised after engineers inspected the system Friday afternoon.
Millstone II went into cold shutdown — when the water temperature is reduced to below the boiling point — after a valve broke last Sunday and sped slightly radioactive steam in the plant's primary cooling system.
That problem was repaired and the plant was being tested before going back into full production when a large shaft in a steam system pump malfunctioned late Thursday.
The reactor had not been brought on line when the pump in the turbine building broke. There were no incidents of water or steam escaping from the pump.
Hill said it costs Northeast Utilities, the plant's owner, $500,000 for each lost day of production. That would mean a total loss of $4.5 million if production is resumed Tuesday.
Northeast spokesman Emmanuel Forde said most of that cost will be covered by contingency funds provided for in the current customer rate structure. The remainder would be picked up by Northeast shareholders, he said.
Earlier Friday, Hill had predicted the latest problem would be corrected in two days, but later in the day he said "it looks like it's going to be a little later."
"We won't know until Monday morning exactly what the schedule of events will be," Hill said. "Now, from talking to the engineer, it looks like it might be Tuesday."
He said a 2.5 foot long section of

Just Shake It and Let It Fall Into Place. The Precision Haircut.

Because your hair is unique, the way your hair grows is equally unique. Really quite different from every one else's.
Precision haircutting is a technique for cutting the hair in harmony with the way it grows. Your hair eventually grows out but it doesn't lose its shape with a precision haircut. Consequently your haircut will look as good after five days as it does after five minutes. And because the hair falls naturally into place you won't have to keep fussing with it. Usually a shake of the head does it.
At Command Performance we shampoo, precision-cut and blow dry your hair for fourteen dollars, whether you're a gal or a guy. And no appointments are ever necessary.
We also offer permanent waves, coloring, frosting and conditioning. But we really shine with precision. And so will you.

Sandy Goes Home For Award

NEWINGTON, Conn. (UPI) — Sandy, the curly-haired canine star of the Broadway musical "Annie," returned to his roots Friday to receive the American Humane Association's highest award for animal actors.
The mutt, who was adopted from the Connecticut Humane Society's kennels in Newington, returned to the society's state headquarters to receive the award.
He took the honor in stride, jumping up to a table to get a closer look at the large metal bowl and then sniffing the water.
"I bet he wishes it was full of water," said the dog's owner, William Ariason, as the Broadway star and his human companions sweltered under 90 degree temperatures.

Sandy had to be kept on a leash for much of the ceremony because he had been barking loudly at a newspaper photographer.
Berlioz theorized the dog — who performs on the stage and not before movie or television cameras — just wasn't used to having his picture taken.
Sandy received the American Humane Association's Richard C. Craven Award, a special award given in conjunction with the annual Picture Animal Top Star of the Year (PATSY) presentation.
The PATSY kudos are reserved for merchials. Since the dog's performances are on stage, it wasn't eligible for any of the regular awards.

So the Association gave him its special award, which is not presented on an annual basis.
A Connecticut Humane Society spokesman said the Craven Award "is only awarded in special instances and the board of judges, after a great deal of deliberation, selected Sandy for this special award."
The honor is named for the man who established the American Humane's Hollywood office in the 1930s and is given "to animals who have given exceptional performances outside the usual PATSY motion picture criteria."

MCC New England Relays Under Way June 23-24

Relays

Pat Mistretta, athletic director at Manchester Community College, at left, discusses plans for the college's New England Relays set for Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24 with Christie McCormick.

By BETTY RYDER
Lifestyle Editor

When the wisdom of age and the energies of youth get together, you usually come up with a winning combination.
At least that's what happened at Manchester Community College.
It was 87-year-old Christie McCormick of Vernon, formerly a long-time resident of Manchester, who first suggested to Pat Mistretta, MCC athletic director, that a local relay just might work.
It took a few years to get it working, but on Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24, MCC will present its fourth annual New England Relays.
McCormick drew from his experiences back in 1910 when he was a freshman at Drake University in his hometown of Des Moines, Iowa.
"Drake had relays, and while I was studying for a liberal arts degree there, I helped. Later, I went back to get a law degree," he said. "John Griffith was the athletic director at Drake then and later he went on to become athletic director of the Big 10 Conference."
It was in 1976, when plans were being formulated for the Bicentennial celebration, that McCormick and Mistretta seriously put their heads together and the first MCC relay was born.
"We had about 500 entries that year," Mistretta said. "In 1978, there were nearly 1,500. As for this year, it's too soon to know."
Back in 1973, a survey was sent to all the colleges and high schools in the state to determine if they would have any interest in such an event. The response was rewarding.
"Relays have appealed over the years to so many different types of people, high school to post graduates, young and old alike," McCormick said. "We've had people in their sixties participate."
"At MCC, at the time the relay was inaugurated, there was nothing like it in New England," he said.
The "Missouri Valley Conference, 1922 Freshman Coach — Champions, would like to see the relays encompass even more events. "Why, someday we could have golf, tennis, equestrian events — many other facets of exercise," he said.
A smiling Mistretta, who says it all has come to fruition through the efforts of the many MCC and community volunteers, is willing, but admits each year it becomes a more time-consuming project.
"If it weren't for the help we get from the students here, and the support of the community, it would never become a reality," he said. Mistretta, who lives with his wife and four children in Manchester, assumed his present position in 1971. Since that time, he has seen interest in field and track events grow steadily, and envisions even greater things for MCC.
"We hope, one day to have an all-weather track not only for use by MCC, but for community use as well."
Currently, the relays are held at the Pete Wigren Track at Manchester High School.
McCormick cited the community involvement and said, "There's a togetherness. There are nearly 400 volunteers helping to put this event together."
McCormick, who says Travelers Insurance Co., brought him to Connecticut from Des Moines in 1929, when with his legal background, he was supervisor of claims, retired in 1957.
But, sports are still in his blood and he speaks highly of his young counterpart, Mistretta.
"He's doing a marvelous job. He doesn't have enough help — but he's still doing a great job."
Many community activities have been added to this year's program, including a poster contest among grammar school, junior high school, high school and ROTC students; and art and photography contests which will be conducted at both the Saturday track meet and the Sunday road races.
McCormick, who was wearing a gold football tie clasp, engraved "Missouri Valley Conference, 1922 Freshman Coach — Champions, would like to see the relays encompass even more events. "Why, someday we could have golf, tennis, equestrian events — many other

News for Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN
Hi! The big news is that on Monday morning we register for the Boston Red Sox Game. The game is Thursday, July 26 and the seats are $5.75 box seats along the first base line. We have only 88 tickets, and as always sign-up is on a first come basis. The price is $13 which includes the box seat, ticket and bus ride. We'll stop to eat on the way home. We'll be going to the horse races at Rockingham Park Aug. 2 and will register for this trip on June 25.

The deadline for the Vegas-Grand Canyon is this coming week, so if you're interested drop by and pick up a flyer. Well, let's get on with the action at the center. This past Tuesday some of our members who participated in our latest variety show got together and we put on a mini show at the Army and Navy Club as we helped in the Club's Sixtieth Anniversary Celebration. It was a fun evening and everyone really did a super job to the delight of the audience. Wednesday was sort of a mixed-up day, because many of our members who ride our bus were not made aware that the bus was not making pick-ups. The bus was in action, however, as it was the day we took all of the students who have worked in our kitchen this year on a well deserved outing to Mystic.

We did have 27 players for our pinocchio games and the winners were: Martin Bakstein, 595; Jennie Fogarty, 589; Bess Moonan, 577; Archie Houghaling, 575; Arvid Peterson, 559; Bob Schubert, 552; Helen Silver, 551.

In the afternoon it was Bridge games and the lucky prize winners were: Alice Allison, 3,990; Nadine Malcolm, 3,710; George Last, 2,890; Kay Ellsworth, 2,420. Don't forget that next Saturday is our day of the Super Big Tag Sale and Food Sale. It will be at the Green School grounds, and believe me when I tell you we have some very nice items for sale. You folks have been great in coming through with some exceptional nice things. So we know we have things for everybody. Make your plans now to attend because you'll find some real goodies and we'll make some money. All monies will go for furnishings for our center. We need more tables, chairs, draperies, sound system and many other things to spruce up the new building. We will take articles up until Thursday and we'll take your home made food right up to and during the sale on Saturday.

Things at the school are moving along and we have quite a bit of work for our members. Later along with the men we have had two ladies pitch in with some painting. If we can get more ladies and men to help with the painting of our windows as well as men are needed to do a little carpentry work. We'll have the place looking great by the end of July. However, there will still be work for us to do. I was in hopes that we would be able to move into the building around the end of August, but we have run into a snag. We need close to $30,000 to put the finishing touches to the building. We need professional help in painting the many walls and ceilings, we need carpeting in many rooms, we need some repairs to the floor in the main hall including sanding and sealing it. We also need some insulation in the attic. So, although our seniors

Ross Costars
HOLLYWOOD (UPH) - Katharine Ross will costar with Kirk Douglas in "The Final Countdown," an action drama in which the actress will be the only woman in a film with a cast of 1,000 men. Much of the action will feature the crew of the U.S.S. Nimitz nuclear aircraft carrier which is a major part of the story.

have been working hard at the center and in fact have saved the Town at least $15,000's just a shame we can't find funds enough to complete the building to something we can all be proud of. We'll just have to hope the monies needed will come along, and until then we'll keep working along and we'll wait a little longer to move in. I have some good news to report that starting Monday, June 25 our food program will be back in action. Thanks once more to our adopted friends from UNICO whose generosity makes it possible for us to continue for at least five more weeks: Schedule for the Week: Monday through Friday signing for Red Sox game; 10 a.m. kitchen social games, 1 p.m. pinocchio games. Bus pick up at 8:15 a.m. return trips at noon and 3:30 p.m. Tuesday: 8:30 a.m. bus for shopping; 9:15 a.m. Women's golf at Red Rock; 9 a.m. square dancing and round dancing. Wednesday: 9 a.m. health clinic by appointment, 10 a.m. pinocchio games and friendship circle, 12:45 p.m. bridge games, 1 p.m. craft class. Bus pick up at 8:15 a.m. return trips at noon and 3 p.m. Thursday: Open shuffleboard and games. No Bus. Friday: 9 a.m. ceramics class; 10 a.m. kitchen bingo games, 1 p.m. set-back games. Bus pick up at 8:15 a.m. return trips at 8:15 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Wilson Most Exciting

Willie Wilson, in this man's book, is the most exciting baseball player to reach the major league scene since the Kansas City Royals can fly, as anyone who witnessed his performance against the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox in the last 10 days can attest to.

Wilson may not be the best base stealer in the majors, but he is the fastest, and he drives opposing pitchers and catchers crazy when he gets on base.

Notes Off the Cuff

Up and around following major surgery is Fran Mahoney, long active on the local sporting and political scene.

Blalock Out Front After Two Rounds

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Jane Blalock shot a 3-under-par 70 Friday to take a one stroke lead over the charging Pat Bradley after two rounds of a $100,000 LPGA tournament.

Mets Get Hassler From Sox for Cash

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets, looking to improve their woeful pitching staff, Friday obtained lefthanded pitcher Andy Hassler from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for cash.

End of the Line

Coach Larry Morrison will take his Hartford Road Dairy Queen women's softball team to York, Pa., this weekend.

Purtzer Sets Pace in Open, Watson, Nicklaus Fall Back

TOLEDO, Ohio, (UPI) — While Tom Purtzer took the lead he admittedly doesn't deserve, Tom Watson and Jack Nicklaus set themselves out of contention Friday with second round play continuing in the U.S. Open.

Sportball

Looking Glass II didn't have any trouble finding ways to score runs last night and the result was a 15-5 success over Martinizing at Keeney Field.

Old Bones' Ashe Outlasts Mitton

LONDON (UPI) — Fourth-seeded Arthur Ashe, the 35-year-old veteran affectionately called "Old Bones" on the circuit, outlasted South African Bernie Mitton in a third-round marathon lasting six hours 13 minutes Friday to reach the quarter finals of the $125,000 Wimbledon Grass Court Championships.

Davis Family Athletes Entered

With the MCC New England Relays ready to get under way June 23-24 at Manchester High, there are some people who wonder why the event isn't called the "Davis Family Relays."

Reading Program Topic of Meeting

By CHARLIE MAYNARD
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - A meeting between school officials and parents of the city's remedial reading students was held at 1 p.m. Monday in the Board of Education building.

Parents requested the meeting with the administrative learning of a possible expansion of the program to include the students of Dr. J. Gerald Fitzgibbon, assistant superintendent for instruction, said Friday the expansion in scope is being considered to address the needs of students with math deficiencies.

Some parents, however, are concerned that the math program will be introduced at the expense of the reading students.

"We have nothing against the math program," said Joan Sauls, a volunteer aide in the reading program and mother of a remedial reading student, "providing you have the funds to do it correctly."

Fitzgibbon said he wants to explore ways the math program could proceed with existing or available resources and denied that he would jeopardize the quality of the reading program.

"This is conditioned on the availability of resources," he said. "We are not robbing Peter to pay Paul."

The "concentration grant" for school districts in Hartford County could become available, he said, which would be a source of funds for the program.

Mr. Sauls said the funds are of questionable status and would not be enough to

Flushing of Mains Scheduled

MANCHESTER - The town's Water Department will flush water mains in the southwest section of town starting Monday.

Streets to be flushed are: Kenney Street, Leland, Linwood, Nutmeg, Curry, Garden Grove, Erie, Strawberry, Huckleberry, Briarwood, Lampighter, Heather, Ledgester and Valleyview roads.

There may be discoloration of water and reduced pressure during the flushing. If water appears discolored, the homeowner should try to avoid using it until it clears.

If sediment gets into a home's soft water tank, the homeowner should wait until the water clears, then drain the collected material, which will settle at the bottom.

If a load of wash is done with discolored water, the load should be done again after the water clears. Four ounces of cream of tartar should be added.

It normally takes a couple of hours for the water to clear. If water appears discolored for an extended period, call the Water Department at 647-3115.

OUR GIFT TO THE FATHERS OF MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT

"IS SUNDAY SCHOOL IMPORTANT, DAD?"

Daddy had a little boy.
His soul was white as snow
He never went to Sunday School,
Cause Daddy wouldn't go.

He never heard the Word of God,
That thrills the childish mind
While other children went to class,
This child was left behind.

As he grew from babe to youth,
Dad saw to his dismay
A soul that once was white
Became a dingy gray.

Dad even started back to church
And Bible study too
He begged the preacher, "Isn't there
A thing that you can do?"

The preacher tried, failed, and said
"We're just too far behind;
But you wouldn't pay no mind."

And so another soul was lost,
That once was white as snow
Sunday School would have helped
But Daddy wouldn't go.

Signed: A few of Manchester's
Christian Mothers.

WHAT WAS THE PART
AND THE SERIES

ANSWER:
MR. BOYNTON, BOYFRIEND OF OUR MISS BROOKS

Burger break

The first major breakthrough in corporate funding for the U.S. Olympic Training Centers can be attributed to Burger King Corporation.

The hamburger chain has pledged $1 million annually during the next two years to cover operating costs of the recently created training facilities in Squaw Valley, Calif., and Colorado Springs, Colo.

The money will help to house, feed and train the athletes and defray the costs of building, repairing and maintaining the facilities, he said.

TV Dial-ogue

MORE MOORE - I would like to know what became of Garry Moore, who used to have the TV program, "To Tell The Truth"? Is he retired or has he been sick? I know I have not seen him on TV for some time. Where can I write him? - Mr. Augustine Viveiros, Fall River, Mass.

Garry Moore, who was born Thomas Garrison Morfit, ceased production on "I've Got A Secret" in 1977. He has since retired from television. You can reach him at 430 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022.

MUSCLEMAN - I have a new kick - gladiator and muscleman movies. And I have only recently caught up with Gordon Scott, who played in "Romulus and Remus" with Steve Reeves. Both Reeves and Scott played in other movies, I know, but what else can you tell me about him? - Lydia Chase, Atlantic City, N.J.

The onetime Gordon Werschkul began his working life as a fireman, later cowboy, then lifeguard before he was spotted and signed to play Tarzan in the 1955 biggie, "Tarzan and the Hidden Jungle."

He went on to do four more ape man movies, then worked for the most part in Italy and Spain in such pictures as (you'll love these) "Maciste Against the Vampires," "Zorro and the Three Musketeers," "Goliath and the Black Hercules," "Arm of Fire," etc.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH - I have been a big fan of "Eight Is Enough" since it went on the air, but I have some questions. How old are each of the kids supposed to be? Did they ever say on the show what Diana Hyland died from? - Laura Lee Corey, Fort Dodge, Iowa

When the show went on the air in March of 1977, the kids were supposed to be the following ages: Nicholas, 8; Tommy, 14; Elizabeth, 15; Nancy, 18; Susan, 19; Joannie, 20; Mary, 21; David 23. The late Ms. Hyland actually appeared in only four episodes. Following her death in the first season, the scripts merely said she was "away." When the show came back in the fall, she was described as having died, but no cause was ever given.
