The seminar which began June 18 will continue through Aug. 10. Dr. Gresham M. Sykes, chairman of the sociology department at the University of Virginia, is seminar chairman.

Subjects to be discussed during the seminar will include an examination of changing perspectives on crime and trace the development of the penitentiary and the rise of the reformatory movement.

Other themes will include rehabilitation, the "politicizing" of crime and correctional institutions and the rise of the therapeutic state.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Skylab tumbled toward destruction in Earth's atmosphere today and late estimates indicated charred pieces closer to North America, Skylab coordination chief Richard Smith said he was satisfied with what had happened.

"Right now," he said at 8 a.m. EDT, "all indicators are that it is going to move a little farther downstream into the big water area."

As the world watched and waited, Skylab's predicted orbital path crossed mainly oceans — with North America and Australia the only significant land masses under it. NASA said the risk of personal injury from the expected 26 tons of debris was remote.

The estimated final ground track over North America starts near Seattle, crosses into southern Canada, passes north of the Great Lakes and cuts southeastward over central Maine before entering the Atlantic over the southern tip of Nova Scotia.

A prediction from the North American Air Defense Command issued at 10:02 a.m. EDT estimated that Skylab would fall between 11:09 a.m. and 1:09 p.m. EDT, with 12:09 p.m. the midpoint.

If Skylab's debris hit exactly at the center of the two hour period of uncertainty, the largest pieces would drop in the South Atlantic west of Angola, with the 100-mile-wide impact zone reaching northward 300 miles and southeastward 700 miles — all over water.

It appeared earlier in the day the sightings in the North Atlantic include parts of southern Canada and Maine.

But a final maneuver that sent Skylab tumbling in its last hours in space apparently added minutes to the estimated debris zone into the South Atlantic Ocean.

In Augusta, Maine, a Civil Emergency Preparedness official, Leslie Higgins, said authorities have been in contact with Region 1 civil defense officials in Boston, and they've kept us abreast of the situation.

He said the remains of Skylab "could land on Maine or Canada, but is strictly one of potentials. It doesn't make much difference where people are at that time. The possibility of getting hit by pieces of the craft are still more remote than getting trampled by a dinosaur."

The Federal Aviation Administration regional air traffic control center in Nashua, N.H., closed a 150-mile wide airspace path centered on a line from Kennebunk, Maine, to Skylab was launched in May 1973 and when its third and last three-man crew abandoned it in February 1974, the 118-foot orbiting laboratory had returned a wealth of scientific information about the sun and Earth's resources as well as priceless medical data.

Because of the uncertainty over where debris would land, many state and local civil defense command centers across the nation were manned during the final hours of Skylab's flight, receiving position reports on the national emergency warning network.

The Federal Aviation Administration said it would turn airlines away from U.S. airspace that might be endangered by falling debris. The Turkish airline Turk Hava Yollari canceled all flights today because of Skylab.

Economy Leaders Talk with Carter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter, having ruled out decontrol of gasoline prices and, apparently, a tax cut, today brought business, labor and urban leaders to Camp David for their ideas on how to help the economy.

Heading the guest list were the board chairmen of some of the nation's largest corporations and unions, civil rights leaders and Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall.

Also on hand was the chairman of the Senate Employment Committee, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Press secretary Jody Powell said Tuesday Carter believes removal of gas price controls would be too inflationary.

He also said the prominent non-government economists invited to the presidential retreat Tuesday agreed that Carter should not heat up the economy now with a tax cut, even though a recession is in sight. Some of the economists said the nation is in a recession now.

There were indications Carter would return to the White House Thursday afternoon, and it was understood that some of his speechwriters already are at work at the Catoctin Mountain hideaway on a — See Page Eight

Prediction Reversed Housing Authority Has Enough Money

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter
MANCHESTER — The executive director of the Manchester Housing Authority feels the town may be able to complete an additional 40 units of housing for the elderly even though an $86,500 grant will not be received.

Dennis Phelan, the MHA's executive director, wrote to Town Manager Robert Weiss and said the 40-unit project on Spencer Street possibly could be funded with the present amount of money set aside for the work.

Phelan's letter is a dramatic shift from previous comments, which had indicated additional funding would be needed to do the work.

"After serious discussion with our architect, we feel that we can build this project with the money available, provided we begin immediately," Phelan wrote to Weiss.

The Town Board of Directors discussed the matter briefly at its Tuesday night meeting. It asked Phelan to attend its next meeting, Aug. 14, to discuss the matter.

The Capitol Region Council of Governments had approved an $86,500 grant of bonus Community Development money for the housing project. But, the town would have had to meet the same requirements to accept the bonus grant that would have paid part of the housing project cost.

Phelan had indicated previously that the $86,500 would be needed to meet the cost of the project. Even with that funding, the town might have to provide additional money to pay the entire cost of the work, he had said.

The Board of Directors, however, rejected the grant and also said it could not vote for town funding at this time because voters also had rejected a proposal to provide town money for any project that had been slated to receive Community Development funds.

Board members had suggested another referendum vote, probably in November, to ask voters specifically about providing town funds for the housing for the elderly. Now, the additional funding might not be needed, according to Phelan.

He could not be reached for comment this morning, but Pascal Mastrangelo, MHA chairman, said the matter will be discussed at the authority's next meeting next Wednesday. He expects the authority will vote to proceed with the project.

The MHA has received an $800,000 state grant for its project — $80,000 for construction and the rest for fees and other costs. It also has received $131,000 included in a special bill passed this year by the state General Assembly.

This gives the authority about $200,000 per unit for construction of the 40 units. It means electric heat, which is much cheaper to install initially, will have to be used instead of gas heat, Mastrangelo said.

Gas heat, however, is cheaper to maintain and also is less costly for the tenant, who has to pay the monthly heating bill.

Bids will be sought on the project and some cuts in the plans may have to be made to stay within the actual funding level, Mastrangelo said. He did not know when bidding would start — although planning of the project still has to be done — or what cuts might eventually be made.

By JAN ZIEGLER
HARTFORD (UPI) — While the rest of the nation faces a worsening economic picture, a record $4.8 billion in defense contracts could keep the state from following the nationwide slide, according to a University of Connecticut economist.

Prof. David Pinsky said Tuesday a boost in contracts for aircraft engines, submarines, helicopters and tanks would boost Connecticut to second only to California in 1978 defense work.

And although experts say the nation is exhibiting signs of decline, in case contracts are cut back, but Pinsky said reductions were unlikely.

"The world is such that we're going to get more and more," he said of defense contracts. "They'll be there as long as we're around — and they may end us."

In total jobs, the nation went up by 3.4 percent between March 1978 and March 1979, while Connecticut rose by 5.3 percent, Pinsky said. Among the 50 states, Connecticut ranked ninth in total employment gains.

"There's no sign of any economic slowdown," he said. "We may have a recession (nationally), but there's no indication of it" in Connecticut.

Some officials are helping defense factory areas plan for diversification

in case contracts are cut back, but Pinsky said reductions were unlikely.

Factory jobs increased by 25,000 in Connecticut between March 1978 and March 1979, while Connecticut rose by 5.3 percent, Pinsky said. Among the 50 states, Connecticut ranked ninth in total employment gains.

Total personal income for Connecticut residents also increased by 12 percent during the first half of 1979 over the same period a year ago, exceeding the 10 percent inflation rate by 2 percent.

The number of paid wanted ads in state newspapers is a record high, about 10 percent above a year ago, he said.

But Pinsky said problems do exist, particularly in unemployment among youths and minorities. For the Hartford area, the unemployment rate among minorities was 97 percent.

Her urged agencies responsible for conducting youth training programs to increase their efforts.

Directors Doubt $20,000 Will Finish New Center

MANCHESTER — Members of the Town Board of Directors toured the Green School Tuesday night and seemed surprised by the barren walls and uncovered floors.

The school is being converted for use as a new senior citizens center. Those who took the tour expressed doubts that the new center could be completed with an additional $20,000 grant or that it could be opened by September.

September has been the target date for relocating from the present center at 83 Linden St. But, funding for painting, carpeting and floor tiling probably will not be available until after that.

Wally Fortin, director of the town's senior citizens program, led the 45-minute tour and explained what the different rooms will be used for.

He showed the directors the woodworking room and said, "There are a lot of men who we don't see otherwise that are waiting for this."

That room, like others in the school, had its basic framework completed, but it lacked paint on its walls and any floor covering.

"I was extremely disappointed to

Board Will Study Uses For Old Senior Center

By GREG PEARSON

MANCHESTER — What do you do with an old brick building that will be vacated soon and lacks parking space but is located in the center of town?

Many said use it for Crossroads and the Manchester Area Conference of Churches. Some said sell it, and others had other ideas.

The Town Board of Directors will make the final decision, and it decided Tuesday night to appoint a subcommittee to review the fate of the building at 83 Linden St. Directors Stephen Cassano, Betty Intagliata and William Diana were named to the subcommittee.

The building now is used as the town's senior citizens center, but the Green School is being converted for a future senior citizens center.

Town officials originally had said the Linden Street building would be vacated by September, but that date now looks doubtful because of the amount of work to be done at Green School. (See related story.)

The board will start its review of possible future uses for the present center now.

The most-discussed proposal Tuesday night was to provide the building's space for two service organizations — the Manchester Area Conference of Churches and Crossroads.

MACC would use the site to locate its human needs departments, including its clothing and food banks. Crossroads, a counseling service, would occupy the building's top floor.

The idea was supported by representatives of both service groups who spoke. It also received the backing of Pat Schardt of the Manchester Community Services Council and Robert Faucher of the Manchester Citizens for Social Responsibility.

Jonnie Mikoliet, who works for MACC, said the organization provides needed services.

She mentioned that the town has reduced the budget for its Human Services Department and said, "We are picking up where the town is not providing this service."

The present MACC services are scattered in several locations in town. Crossroads expects that it will have to leave its present site in a St. Mary's Church building.

Another resident who spoke for the needs of these services is one who lives near the Linden Street building — Howard Turkington of 25 Garden St.

"A lot of these people wouldn't think of going through a door of a church. They would think of going to a place where help is available," he said and received a round of applause.

Another resident who lives even closer, Robert Gorman of 62 Linden St., asked the board to act with caution.

"This building should never have been built in the first place," he said and mentioned the lack of parking.

Two speakers — Frank Lupien of 21 Sunset St. and Eugene Sierakowski of 101 Strawberry Lane — both said the town should sell the building.

Director Stephen Cassano recommended formation of a subcommittee.

Home Fire Is Doused

VERNON — A fire at the home of Dale Carlow, 38 Russell Drive, caused extensive damage to a hallway and burned wall partitions and part of a bedroom.

Vernon Fire Department officials said.

The Wednesday fire also caused smoke damage in the rest of the house and forced a temporary shutdown of electrical power and telephone service.

Anthony Patrizi Jr., spokesman for the department, said.

The Vernon department was assisted by the Rockville and Bolton Fire Departments and the fire was brought under control in about 10 minutes.

Patrizi said. Firemen remained at the scene for about an hour.

The cause of the fire hadn't been determined and no cost estimate of damages was available.

"What's left to do is all cosmetic," he said.

Despite the disappointment of some with the building's appearance, there were some light moments during the tour.

While the directors looked at a garden in the rear property, Penny compared a row of slow-growing tomatoes to a row of plants already in bloom.

"This must be the Democratic row," he said as he pointed to the healthy ones. "And this must be the Republican ones," he said, pointing to the deficient tomatoes.

"We're just late bloomers. Wait until November," Republican Carl Zinsner responded.

Women Captured

NIANTIC (UPI) — State police have charged two women with first-degree escape for fleeing the Niantic Women's Prison.

Antoinette Cassino, 20, and Migdali Rivora, 23, were both in jail on manslaughter charges, state police spokesman Adam Berluti said.

A state police radar team stopped a car which had picked up the women in Groton.

U.S. Under Economic Assault By Oil Sheiks

WASHINGTON — President Carter cannot cope effectively with the oil catastrophe until he recognizes it for what it is. In simple English, the United States is under economic assault, and the American people are victims of unarmaged robbery on a scale hitherto unknown.

The perpetrators are a few desert sheiks, with neither military power nor international law on their side. Yet in their conclaves, they have spoken boldly of using their oil as a weapon to punish the United States for arming Israel and promoting the Israeli-Egyptian peace pact.

For months, we have been warning that the oil gouge is simple financial manipulation but outright economic aggression. We have cited secret intelligence reports, which quote Saudi Arabia's late King Faisal and Libya's expressed relief over the modest nine percent increase in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries announced. We were alone in warning that the secret agreement would send prices soaring far beyond the oil cartels, meanwhile, have continued their economic offensive—tearing up contracts, imposing unilateral cutbacks, adding "inflation penalties" and conducting political blackmail in defiance of the industrial powers and in violation of international law.

In another age, Americans battled the British over an unfair tax on tea. Today, their descendants passively paying tribute for a commodity far more essential than a favorite drink.

Agreed — Jimmy Carter, James Schlesinger and Hamilton Jordan are no George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry. But how long will the American people submit to a royal gouge that is draining off their hard-earned wealth into the coffers of a few avaricious Arabs who, by geological accident, happen to have settled stop an underground sea of petroleum?

The American voters will begin, most likely, by changing the leadership at the top. Three presidents and four Congresses have failed to provide effective leadership and legislative results. What happened to Richard Nixon's energy independence by 1980? Gerald Ford's WIN program and Jimmy Carter's "moral equivalent of war"?

All three presidents stood by listlessly and watched petroleum prices skyrocket over 500 percent. The lackadaisical leaders of Congress were immobilized by stupidity, demagoguery and the fear of inconveniencing the public.

How? Sell the old senior center. The town should seek out a buyer who will convert the building into a use that will put it back on the tax rolls. I.e., professional office space.

The money realized from the sale of the old center should be put into the new center. This not only will permit the completion of the finishing touches; but also will leave some extra money for furnishings.

In summary, when one buys a new home, you take the equity from the old and put it into the new. The Board of Directors should follow the same philosophy.

The Supreme Court rule that a private employer may legally give special preferences to black workers to combat the years of discrimination has set off another round of questioning as to what the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title VII really says.

The case directly before the court involved charges by Brian F. Weber against the Steelworkers, and the Kaiser plant where he worked in Gramercy, La., over a special training program which enrolled blacks and whites on a 50-50 basis.

In the case of Allan P. Bakke last year, the court struck down a quota system which was being used for admission to a California medical school, but didn't totally rule out affirmative action in some instances.

The Weber case appears to be just such an instance. But, while we do see many people have been discriminated against in the past and that should certainly stop, we fail to see the line being made by the five Supreme Court justices who ruled against Weber.

In a dissenting opinion, Associate Justice William H. Rehnquist wrote that Title VII prohibits all racial discrimination in employment, without exception for any particular employees.

He went on to quote Sec. 703 which reads, "It shall be an unlawful employment practice for any employer, labor organization ... or committee controlling apprenticeship or other training programs to discriminate against any individual because of his race, color ..." and stated the Kaiser admission quota is prohibited by Title VII.

And it did not speak clearly in the Weber case saying that although quotas are usually wrong, but we feel the ruling of the Supreme Court is still ambiguous and will not end the matter of quotas or discrimination and we see a long line of complaints asking for a response to many more cases in the future.

A Cloud Over Solar Energy

WASHINGTON — A cloud of disappointment fell over many solar enthusiasts when President Carter recently announced the national goal of getting 20 percent of the country's energy needs from the sun by the year 2000.

Ever since Carter ordered an interagency review of the government's plan for solar development in May 1978, solar supporters have been waiting breathlessly for the president to make a major push to develop the sun's infinite energy.

But after the announcement and a carefully contrived White House media event where Carter dedicated a new solar hot water heating system on top of the West Wing, solar advocates quickly saw the light.

The 20 percent goal is no more than a challenge goal, said Dick Munson, a solar lobbyist. "It's euphemism for a program without teeth."

However, supporters of sun-powered energy were pleased at a new 20 percent investment tax credit for industries that use solar equipment, effective until 1989; and a 20 percent tax credit (up to $2,000 per home) for solar equipment in new homes through 1988. Tax credits were not extended to utilities.

Stuart Eizenstat, the president's chief domestic advisor, is confident the tax will pass. When asked what happens if it doesn't, he replied, "We'll have to cross that bridge when we come to it, and I don't anticipate coming to it."

The House recently passed a 10 percent windfall profits tax, 10 percent above what Carter proposed. A weaker tax is expected in the Senate.

Carter's "tid funding of the solar bank" is the energy security fund, which is a good political ploy because it's questionable whether the fund will be approved by Congress, Munson told The Herald.

Sen. Gary Hart (D-Colo.), a strong solar supporter, said the fund "is so controversial it may not pass, and these (solar) initiatives should not go down with it."

Carter's "tid funding of the solar bank" is the energy security fund, which is a good political ploy because it's questionable whether the fund will be approved by Congress, Munson told The Herald.

Sen. Gary Hart (D-Colo.), a strong solar supporter, said the fund "is so controversial it may not pass, and these (solar) initiatives should not go down with it."

Eizenstat admitted putting the solar initiatives in the fund "makes the energy security fund even more attractive."

A solar bank is not a new administration idea. It's been kicked around Capitol Hill for the last six months in a bill sponsored by Rep. Steve Neal (D-N.C.) and has at least 70 co-sponsors. Neal's bill would fund the bank from the general revenues paid to the government by taxpayers.

Carter's claiming the solar bank to be his cornerstone, when last year he opposed the idea," said Munson. "My hunch is Neal's bill would have passed Congress and be funded by general revenues anyway."

Neal is still pushing his idea since it would get government subsidies for solar equipment to the public in 1980 rather than waiting for the administration's bank, which wouldn't go into effect until 1981.

Waiting for the bank until 1981 could "have a similar effect to what happened with the solar tax credit when it was just an idea," explained Munson. "People very logically postponed investing in solar system until the credit was in effect. That had a devastating effect on the solar industry."

Although Carter's announcement was expected to bring more money, it brought no new money, just a repackaging of already proposed initiatives. The $1.03 billion in initiatives for solar funding government-wide was already proposed last January when the fiscal year 1980 budget was presented to Congress.

The good news for solar advocates is that Carter plans to direct the Office of Management and Budget to increase solar spending by $100 million in fiscal year 1981.

Letters Center Sale Is Suggested

To the Editor: Recent articles in the paper have stated that the work on the new Senior Citizens Center has been completed by the contractor, but that some $25,000 in finishing touches still need to be done.

It is time that the Board of Directors stopped playing political games and took action to finish the new senior center.

Sell the old senior center. The town should seek out a buyer who will convert the building into a use that will put it back on the tax rolls. I.e., professional office space.

The money realized from the sale of the old center should be put into the new center. This not only will permit the completion of the finishing touches; but also will leave some extra money for furnishings.

In summary, when one buys a new home, you take the equity from the old and put it into the new. The Board of Directors should follow the same philosophy.

District Taps Fire Officers

MANCHESTER — Six new officers have been picked from Co. 1 and Co. 2 of the Eighth Utilities District fire department.

The elections were held at recent annual meetings of the fire companies, according to Fire Chief Ted Lingard.

At Co. 2, Paul Gworek was elected to a ninth consecutive term as captain. He is a 16-year veteran and also emergency medical coordinator for the department.

C. Victor Le Geyt was elected to a fourth consecutive term as first lieutenant and Kenneth Roback was elected second lieutenant.

At Co. 1, Thomas Tomkunas, a 23-year-veteran of the force, was elected to his ninth straight term as captain.

Robert Eschman and Garry Albert were chosen first and second lieutenants, respectively. Lingard said the officers were chosen from the floor by the men of the two fire companies. The fire chief and three assistants are appointed by the Board of Directors.

The outstanding firefighter awards were also presented each company.

The Edward R. Coleman Cup, in memory of the 14-year fire chief who died in 1938, was presented to Gary Ladaboune in Co. 1.

The Merz award, in honor of John Merz, a former fire chief for 13 years, went to Leland Watts of Co. 2. Lingard said the awards were "going cups to outstanding men who did more than the ordinary work during the year."

Cheaper Driving

NEW YORK (UPI) — Driving a car farther than ever before is cheaper because the original cost of the car is spreading over more miles, according to a recent study by the Hertz Corporation.

If you purchased a new car in 1977 and will drive it 100,000 miles a year until 1987, a subcompact would be 25 cents a mile the first year, 19 cents a mile the fifth year, and a bargain 10 cents a mile the 10th year.

If Skylab Landed Here, Most Wouldn't Be Ready

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — If Skylab had come down in the area, it would have caught many residents by surprise.

Many talked and joked about the spacecraft this morning, but few expected the speeding vessel to crash into their home or lawn.

Marjorie Kelsey, an Autumn Street resident said she had been exchanging Skylab jokes with a neighbor who was visiting during the morning.

"It really isn't funny," she said between chuckles. "We just haven't taken it that seriously."

She said she was baking three cakes for visitors who are coming this week.

"If it falls and my cakes fall, I'll be upset," she said.

Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., was not too concerned about the whole thing.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Bench, who missed election to the All-Star team for the first time in 10 years, was named Tuesday as a reserve on the National League squad.

In making the team for the 12th consecutive year, the star of the Cincinnati Reds became one of the three catchers named, the others being Bob Boone of the Philadelphia Phillies and Gary Carter of the Montreal Expos.

One will start in place of the injured Ted Simmons of St. Louis, who was named Tuesday as the starting first baseman for the first time since he has ever done so.

Pete Rose of Philadelphia, Lou Brock of St. Louis and Lee Mazzilli of the New York Mets are included in the interesting mixture that will represent the league against the American League July 17 in Seattle in the 50th renewal of the rivalry.

Other reserves include second baseman Joe Morgan of Cincinnati; third baseman Royce of Los Angeles; shortstop Garry Templeton and Dave Concepcion of Cincinnati; and outfielders Jack Bruce of San Francisco, Darrell Johnson of the Chicago Cubs and Gary Matthews of Atlanta.

Bench, owner of a .385 batting average and three home runs as an All-Star, finished second to Simmons in the voting. Boone will be joining his third All-Star team and Carter his second.

Rose, narrowly defeated by Steve Garvey of Los Angeles for the starting berth, nevertheless can become the first man ever to participate in All-Star games at five different positions. He previously played left and right fields plus second and third base.

Brock, the all-time base-stealing champion, has rebounded from an off-year to earn selection to his fifth team. Mazzilli, the glamorous center fielder of the Mets who is batting .328, is an All-Star rookie.

In the American League, flamethrower Tom Seaver, lost out to New York Yankees ace Steve Carlton in the 50th renewal of the rivalry.

The unusual combination, announced Tuesday by AL president Lee MacPhail after weekend consultations with Manager Bob Lemon, includes four starters, four relievers and one pitcher who does both.

The starters, in addition to Guidry and Ryan, are Tommy John of the Yankees, who is 13 victories lead the league, and Dave Lemanczyk of Toronto, who has a 7-4 record.

The relievers are Rookie of the Year candidate Mark Clear of the Angels, Jim Kern of Texas, Don Stanhouse of Baltimore and Sid Monge of Cleveland.

The All-Star who doubles as a starter and reliever is Bob Stanley of the Boston Red Sox. The nine-man staff has a composite 78-58 won-lost record for a .600 winning percentage this season.

Seattle Pitcher Outduels Guidry

SEATTLE (UPI) — New York's Ron Guidry was named to the American League All-Star team Tuesday, but it was Seattle lefthander Rick Honeycutt who looked like the All-Star Tuesday night.

Honeycutt fired a two-hitter as he outduelled Guidry and led the Mariners to a 5-1 victory over the Yankees.

The Mariners collected five extra base hits and all five runs off Guidry in the sixth inning. Meyer singled home Facionek, who had doubled, for Seattle's final run.

New York Manager Billy Martin said he relieved Guidry after the sixth because he wanted him well rested for a scheduled start against California at Anaheim Saturday.

Perhaps the unappreciated Yankee was left fielder Lou Pinella, who showed a flash of temper in reacting to the antics of Ted Giannolas, the San Diego catcher.

Pinella, who threw his glove at Giannolas in the fourth inning, said afterward, "If the people want to pay to see a chicken fight, they should dress up the players in chicken suits. He should stay off the field and away from the dugouts."

Reggie Jackson, who had one of New York's two hits, was also impressed by Honeycutt's control. "He kept the ball in. He kept the ball down and he moved it around. It was an outstanding performance."

Jackson scored the only Yankee run in the second, singling and then coming home on Graig Nettles' triple.

Angels Fatten Up On Eastern Foes

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The California Angels continued to dismantle the class of the East.

The Angels won two-of-three from Baltimore over the weekend and Tuesday they defeated the Boston Red Sox for the second consecutive night. In Monday's game, Nolan Ryan simply overpowered the Red Sox in a 6-0 victory. Tuesday night it was Brian Downing blooped a run-scoring single to left center to cap a two-run eighth inning rally to give California a 4-3 victory and a 4½ game lead in the American League West.

With one out in the eighth, Dan Ford and Don Baylor binged to chase Bob Stanley, 10-6. Tom Burgmeier came on and got Willie Aikens to hit a grounder to first, but Jim Dwyer booted the ball allowing Ford to tie the score as Baylor moved to third. Dick Drago came on and Downing hit a 3-2 pitch for the winner to give the Angels their 10th win in the last 12 games.

"I haven't hit the ball real hard recently," said Downing. "So I'll try to hit it hard. I want to give the fans a nice to dunk one in when you're going like that."

Dwyer replaced Watson at first base in the seventh inning when the starting first baseman aggravated a muscle pull in his rib cage. Dwyer was playing Ford to hit down the line and the ball smacked by him on the other side.

"On Ford I was playing close to the line and I just couldn't get to the ball," Dwyer said. "It was a tough ball to handle and I knew it was going to be a tough play. I went the first short pop. If I let it bounce once more it would have been over me."

The Red Sox took a 3-0 lead in the first on an RBI single by Fred Lynn — his 72nd RBI of the season — and Bob Watson's two-run double off Jim Barr, 6-4. Barr settled down and allowed just two hits after the first and five over in eight innings.

Lynn's hit was a chopper that went over Aikens' head, scoring Rick Barleson from second. Jim Rice followed with a single and Carl Yastrzemski hit a liner to Dickie Thon at second which the rookied dropped for an error. Watson followed with his double.

Unser Homer Spree Sets Baseball Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's nothing quite like a father and son talk. Just ask Del Unser.

Unser hit a three-run home run — his third consecutive pinch homer — with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning, capping a five-run rally and lifting the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-5 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"My dad, who has been in baseball all his life, talked to me about pinch-hitting over the winter," Unser explained. "He said as a pinch-hitter look for something that looks good and be ready to swing. You can't be waiting."

And wait he didn't.

The shot broke the record of two consecutive pinch homers, set by many players with Jerry Martin, then of the Phillies, the last to do it, in 1978.

On June 30th, Unser had the first pinch homer of his streak, tying a game against St. Louis with two out in the ninth. The Phillies eventually won in 10 innings. On July 5, he hit a two-run homer against New York, but the Phillies lost that one 3-2.

"Well, I guess I got a little more of the record books," Unser said.

In other NL games, San Francisco outslugged Montreal 11-7, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 7-3, Los Angeles outslugged New York 7-4, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 4-2 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 4-3.

Pirates 7, Astros 3

Spot starter Jim Bibby scattered six hits over eight innings-plus and Dave Parker singled a two-run homer. The Pirates hand the Astros their fourth straight loss and fifth in six games.

On June 30th, Unser had the first pinch homer of his streak, tying a game against St. Louis with two out in the ninth. The Phillies eventually won in 10 innings. On July 5, he hit a two-run homer against New York, but the Phillies lost that one 3-2.

"Well, I guess I got a little more of the record books," Unser said.

In other NL games, San Francisco outslugged Montreal 11-7, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 7-3, Los Angeles outslugged New York 7-4, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 4-2 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 4-3.

Pirates 7, Astros 3

Spot starter Jim Bibby scattered six hits over eight innings-plus and Dave Parker singled a two-run homer. The Pirates hand the Astros their fourth straight loss and fifth in six games.

Little League Title Won by Boland's

Superlative pitching on both sides was on display as Boland Oil nipped American Legion, 1-0, last night at Leber Field to capture the Town Little League Tournament championship.

Boland's Pete Frankovitch hurled a one-hitter, striking out 12 and walking only one. Losing hurler Larry Stanford was generous in comparison, tossing a two-hitter.

It was a scoreless duel with Boland, which won the International League title as well, breaking through for the only marker in the fourth.

Billy Anderson broke up Frankovitch's no-hit bid in the sixth and final frame with a single to left centerfield.

Thompson was also a defensive standout for Boland in rightfield.

Legion Win Skein 13, Down South Windsor

Sooner or later the streak will end.

But for now it will be later.

Manchester's American Legion baseball team continued on its lengthy winning streak last night with a 7-3 triumph over South Windsor in Zone Eight play at Eagle Field.

The Post 106 crew is now 13-2 in the Zone Eight play and has a half of the streak. Its last setback was June 23 when it blew a six-run lead and bowed, 10-9, to Bloomfield.

Manchester returns to action tonight at Stafford at Stafford High at 6 o'clock. It is a Zone encounter.

The locals opened the scoring in the top of the first (South Windsor the home team). Dave Blake ripped a double, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ken Brass's line single to right.

They added two more in the second. Dave Bottaro walked and Brad Cabral rapped into a fielder's choice. Cabral scored as Howie Furlong's liner to centerfield was misplayed.

South Windsor got a run back in the fourth on Bill Freeman's sacrifice fly to right.

It was a scoreless duel with Boland, which won the International League title as well, breaking through for the only marker in the fourth.

Billy Anderson broke up Frankovitch's no-hit bid in the sixth and final frame with a single to left centerfield.

Thompson was also a defensive standout for Boland in rightfield.

Add Bench To NL Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Bench, who missed election to the All-Star team for the first time in 10 years, was named Tuesday as a reserve on the National League squad.

In making the team for the 12th consecutive year, the star of the Cincinnati Reds became one of the three catchers named, the others being Bob Boone of the Philadelphia Phillies and Gary Carter of the Montreal Expos.

One will start in place of the injured Ted Simmons of St. Louis, who was named Tuesday as the starting first baseman for the first time since he has ever done so.

Pete Rose of Philadelphia, Lou Brock of St. Louis and Lee Mazzilli of the New York Mets are included in the interesting mixture that will represent the league against the American League July 17 in Seattle in the 50th renewal of the rivalry.

Other reserves include second baseman Joe Morgan of Cincinnati; third baseman Royce of Los Angeles; shortstop Garry Templeton and Dave Concepcion of Cincinnati; and outfielders Jack Bruce of San Francisco, Darrell Johnson of the Chicago Cubs and Gary Matthews of Atlanta.

Bench, owner of a .385 batting average and three home runs as an All-Star, finished second to Simmons in the voting. Boone will be joining his third All-Star team and Carter his second.

Rose, narrowly defeated by Steve Garvey of Los Angeles for the starting berth, nevertheless can become the first man ever to participate in All-Star games at five different positions. He previously played left and right fields plus second and third base.

Brock, the all-time base-stealing champion, has rebounded from an off-year to earn selection to his fifth team. Mazzilli, the glamorous center fielder of the Mets who is batting .328, is an All-Star rookie.

In the American League, flamethrower Tom Seaver, lost out to New York Yankees ace Steve Carlton in the 50th renewal of the rivalry.

The unusual combination, announced Tuesday by AL president Lee MacPhail after weekend consultations with Manager Bob Lemon, includes four starters, four relievers and one pitcher who does both.

The starters, in addition to Guidry and Ryan, are Tommy John of the Yankees, who is 13 victories lead the league, and Dave Lemanczyk of Toronto, who has a 7-4 record.

The relievers are Rookie of the Year candidate Mark Clear of the Angels, Jim Kern of Texas, Don Stanhouse of Baltimore and Sid Monge of Cleveland.

The All-Star who doubles as a starter and reliever is Bob Stanley of the Boston Red Sox. The nine-man staff has a composite 78-58 won-lost record for a .600 winning percentage this season.

Whelan Named

Joe Whelan, former East Catholic and University of Connecticut basketball standout, has been named varsity basketball coach at Wetherfield High. He succeeds Jack Kennedy who resigned.

Program Discontinued

The weight lifting program at Manchester High has been discontinued for this week only because they are sealing the floors.

The program will resume Monday.

Seattle Pitcher Outduels Guidry

SEATTLE (UPI) — New York's Ron Guidry was named to the American League All-Star team Tuesday, but it was Seattle lefthander Rick Honeycutt who looked like the All-Star Tuesday night.

Honeycutt fired a two-hitter as he outduelled Guidry and led the Mariners to a 5-1 victory over the Yankees.

The Mariners collected five extra base hits and all five runs off Guidry in the sixth inning. Meyer singled home Facionek, who had doubled, for Seattle's final run.

New York Manager Billy Martin said he relieved Guidry after the sixth because he wanted him well rested for a scheduled start against California at Anaheim Saturday.

Perhaps the unappreciated Yankee was left fielder Lou Pinella, who showed a flash of temper in reacting to the antics of Ted Giannolas, the San Diego catcher.

Pinella, who threw his glove at Giannolas in the fourth inning, said afterward, "If the people want to pay to see a chicken fight, they should dress up the players in chicken suits. He should stay off the field and away from the dugouts."

Reggie Jackson, who had one of New York's two hits, was also impressed by Honeycutt's control. "He kept the ball in. He kept the ball down and he moved it around. It was an outstanding performance."

Jackson scored the only Yankee run in the second, singling and then coming home on Graig Nettles' triple.

Fast Surface Possible Problem For McEnroe

NEW YORK (UPI) - In case you didn't know, the Forest Hills Invitational is being played on clay.

Well, Har-Tru, actually, a dark green artificial surface that's a little faster and more slippery than a traditional red European stuff, but it seems to be close enough for the 12 professionals vying for shares of the hefty $300,000 purse at the West Side Tennis Club this week.

On Tuesday two clay-court specialists from Florida and a brother act from New Jersey capitalized on that fact and today it might be Victor Pecci's turn.

Harold Solomon, the 5-foot-4 master of the moonball, routed Sandy Mayer, 6-1, 6-2, for a 2-0 record and Eddie Dibbs, Solomon's 25-year-old lookalike, notched a 6-4, 7-6 triumph over the 17-year-old and his record to 1-1 in the 12-man, round-robin singles action.

Formal's women's team also came out a winner but not without a struggle last night in South Windsor. The locals came home with a 2-1 triumph, both runs coming in the third inning.

Elm City Leads Way In Anti-Arson War

By JAMES HEALON

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — They are turning the tables in this arson-plagued city and the cooperative methods making it possible may lead the way or similar efforts in cities across America.

Fire Chief John Reardon is convinced a principle accelerator in New Haven recently in what was believed to be an arson. The statistics keeps growing even as the full city is mobilizing to beat arson back.

The city moved quickly to bridge the communications gap between the concerned departments after Levine appeared before the grand jury. Within a month, Mayor Frank Legare ordered formation of a joint arson squad.

"We now have a unique situation in New Haven," Chief Reardon said. "We have policemen and firefighters who talk to each other. They work together in an arson squad."

The squad is supported by a computer-based records and information system. It is facts on certain buildings by various city agencies.

The city's early warning system for arson-prone buildings was pioneered by the fire department, the office of the mayor, and the city's Office of Policy Analysis.

Doss Sauerweig, the woman in charge of the warning program, said it was based on the premise that fires can be predicted through the presence of variable such as small fires, vandalism, inflated insurance coverage and housing code violations.

The information is shared with bankers and the insurance industry as well as the building's owner. Nobody is saying the building is going to burn down. They are merely saying it could happen.

Statistics showed there were 39 suspicious and incendiary structural fires in New Haven in 1974, a figure that jumped to 80 in 1974; 106 in 1975; 159 in 1976; and 196 in 1977. The dollar loss went from $2 million in 1973 to $4.1 million in 1977. Three children perished in New Haven recently in what was believed to be an arson. The statistics keeps growing even as the full city is mobilizing to beat arson back.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been miserable and depressed for the last seven months - ever since my only brother wrote me of his life.

The reason is still unbelievable. After eight years of marriage and no children, my husband and I adopted a beautiful baby girl. My brother and his wife were her godparents and seemed so happy for us.

A few months later my brother told my husband that he wanted nothing more to do with us because our baby is of a different heritage than ours. She is Mexican. We are of Swedish and Irish descent.

I could not believe it, so I phoned my brother. He hung up on me as soon as he heard my voice. We have spoken since. His wife, who was like a sister to me, agrees with my brother's thinking and will have nothing to do with us. Abby, he is my only brother and we were so close. We were not raised with hate and prejudice. I cannot imagine what has come over him. In 10 years to come, how do I explain to my child that the only aunt and uncle she has don't want to know her - or us?

My husband and I do not speak of this. I want so desperately to talk to my brother and resume friendly relations with him. What can I do to change his outlook? Or am I hoping for something that is out of reach?

BROKENHEARTED SISTER

DEAR ABBY: Your brother and his wife have shown themselves to be despicable characters unworthy of your friendship. (Maybe they've both flipped their lids in a fit of rage, judging from their behavior toward you, and particularly toward me. If I believe you to be lying, I believe that if he should ever recover from his "sickness" to let you know. In the meantime, write him off - and good riddance.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that people who don't work always choose the lunch hour to do their shopping? Our town is not very large. The noon hour congestion around the few shopping places we have is absolutely unreal.

We working people MUST shop on our lunch hour. Parking places at that time are almost impossible to find. We do get into the stores, we find them crowded with little old ladies and non-working mothers with small kids. Abby, is it asking too much of mothers who have all day to shop to reschedule their shopping time?

Frustrated in RUSSELLVILLE, ARK.

DEAR FRUSTRATED: No, you have a legitimate gripe. And may I suggest that those who can do their BANKING at another time please do so?

Good going. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Partnership arrangements should prove very fortunate today. In fact, something very pleasant could occur which might benefit you materially. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your willingness to be of service will obligate others to do something nice for you in the future, although this won't be your reason for aiding them. Berry's World - Jim Berry

DEAR ABBY: I used to think you made up some of the letters in your column. I just couldn't believe that people could be so dumb. Now here I am, with a problem so unreal it sounds like a soap opera plot. I am 23 and have been married for five weeks to a girl I've known for a year. This girl is my second marriage. I have three small children. Joe never mentioned that he had been married before. Now I find out that he has been married twice and has five kids! His mother is taking care of them. I found out only yesterday and I am ready for a nervous breakdown. When I told Joe I knew about the five, he said he didn't know he had five kids. He didn't know how much longer he could keep it from me - and, as long as I know, I will mind taking his five kids to raise since his mother was in very poor health. Abby, I'm a night-shift waitress. I have enough with my own three. I can't raise eight kids. All the love I had for my dear Joe. I have grounds for divorce.

SHOCKED IN BENO

DEAR SHOCKED: Talk to a lawyer. You might even have grounds for an annulment.

AGRICULTURE (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something important you want to have finalized today can be accomplished by using the right spell. Lay on the charm. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Co-workers will be extremely cooperative today, because they'll know you are willing to do more than your fair share in any endeavor. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Keep a weather eye peeled today. There is financial opportunity about you. Something good could develop from an unexpected source. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Your leadership qualities are very strong today, because you lead by example which others are eager to emulate. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Let your heart, rather than your head, guide you today. The results will benefit everyone, including yourself. Taurus (April 20-May 20) Friends will be looking out for your best interests today. In fact, something very pleasant could occur which might benefit you materially. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your charm and wit are your greatest assets today. Properly used, they could help you easily outdistance your competition. Smile and say nice things.

Air Permit Not Needed

MANCHESTER — As expected, the town learned Tuesday it will not need an indirect source permit for a road-widening project near the Burr Corners Shopping Plaza.

Work had started on the widening of Tolland Turnpike when the state Department of Environmental Protection last week said the town should have obtained such a permit for the project.

The permit is issued only after tests are done to determine the effect on air quality caused by traffic generated by the changes. Such a permit is needed for highway projects that might generate an increase of more than 1,000 vehicles per hour in any direction.

DEP officials said the Tolland Turnpike widening might result in such an increase. Town officials and engineers for the project challenged this and said the work actually would smooth traffic flow through the area.

The state and town officials and engineers for the project met last week, and the town had been told Friday it probably would not have to acquire a permit to complete the work.

That was confirmed Tuesday. The work on Tolland Turnpike is being done in connection with the nearby Buckland Industrial Park work, which includes the huge J.C. Penney Co. catalog distribution center.

There is another road improvement planned by the state in the area. The intersection of Tolland Turnpike, Buckland Road and New State Road will be upgraded, and that project probably will require an indirect source permit.

Coventry Manager Granted Pay Raise

COVENTRY — Following an executive session Monday night the Town Council unanimously approved a raise for the town manager and also voted to give him an additional week's vacation.

Frank Connolly, town manager, has served in that position for three years. Before being named manager he was town planner.

The pay increase of $1,500 a year brings Connolly's salary to $22,000 and reflects a 7.3 percent increase.

It was agreed in executive session, council members said, that Connolly has been overextending himself and deserves the raise. The raise is in line with raises given to other town employees and in keeping with guidelines set by the council.

In regular session the council agreed to give the Parks and Recreation Commission interim use of a building at the former Salvation Army Camp on Coventry Lake. The building will be used for storage of recreation equipment.

The town now owns the Salvation Army property and is making plans to conduct an auction of some of the items at the camp such as desks and lockers. An inventory will be taken first, council members said.

Rewards Increased In 2 Slaying Cases

EAST HARTFORD — Gov. Ella Grasso has approved an increase in the reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for two unsolved murder cases which have occurred over the past six years.

Police Chief Clarence A. Drumm, who announced the increase, said the governor was increasing the award from $3,000 to $20,000, the maximum allowed under the law.

Police are still looking for the person or persons who murdered Janet Couture on Oct. 13, 1973 and Maria L. Pina on July 25, 1975.

Drumm said both crimes remain unsolved.

Any person who has any information concerning either case is asked by the department to call the police detective division at 528-4401, Drumm said.

Four-Day Week Smooth

DANBURY (UPI) — An experimental four-day work week for city employees which officials hope will save energy appears to be working well.

Mayor Donald Boughton said things went "smoothly" Tuesday on the city's first day off four-day work weeks, aimed at conserving gasoline.

He said he was "overwhelmed" by news media attention and public response to the switch for municipal workers.

Tuesday was the first day back to work for about 300 public works and city hall employees who enjoyed their first three-day weekend in an experiment that will run until September.

Boughton said "things went smoothly. There were a few citizens who didn't realize City Hall was closed Monday but aside from that it worked out well."

"I didn't anticipate all the publicity. I've gotten calls from officials on Long Island, from Westchester County corporations in the state have also called to inquire about the plan."

The Republican mayor said the intent of the shorter work week was "to influence local businesses. However, the rippling effect has been faster than we expected." One Danbury firm, Grollier Enterprises, has already put its employees on a four-day work week to save gasoline.

Boughton said the plan received the blessing from the Teamster local that represents public works employees and the union for city hall employees. Excluded from the four-day plan are police, firefighters and library and senior center workers.

The mayor also presuming the workers used only one gallon of gasoline to get to work and go home, "that's 300 gallons saved," he said, not counting the fuel consumed in delays during rush hours.

East Hartford Council Reviews New Code Book

By CHRIS BLAKE
Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD — A three-year review of the town's Code of Ordinances has produced a new code book which the Town Council will review tonight in a workshop at Town Hall.

Ordinance Committee Chairman George A. Dagon, who is also the council chairman, said the new code is designed to address local matters not covered by state and federal laws.

The committee decided to revise the code when it discovered that many of its ordinances were out dated or covered by state and federal statutes.

He said the code is the result of three years of often painstaking, often interesting work by the three-member committee, which also includes council Republican Esther B. Clarke and Democrat Henry J. Genga.

Proposed ordinances include a requirement for municipal employees, regulations on tag sales and restrictions on itinerant peddlers.

A proposed ordinance would limit the number of tag sales homeowners could hold at their home to two a year. The ordinance would also limit the number of consecutive days for each tag sale to no more than three days.

Another ordinance would prohibit hawkers and peddlers from setting up a station to sell their wares within 500 feet of stores which sell similar items.

Dagon said peddlers take business away from local businesses which pay taxes and must pass inspections and pay permit fees to locate in the town.

The committee submitted two proposals dealing with residency of municipal employees. One would require new municipal employees to become residents of town within a year. It would not cover those who now work for the town, but live elsewhere.

Another proposal would give town residents a three-point advantage on town personnel exams, but would not require an employee to live in the town.

Dagon said the committee couldn't decide which proposal to support, so it will leave it up to the full council. He said both proposals are good, adding he believes town employees who live in the town are more sensitive to the community and its needs.

Other proposed ordinances would require smoke detectors in rooming houses or hotels, give tax credits for installing solar heating or cooling, establish a line of succession for public officers in emergencies and give an advantage to local businesses in bidding.

The smoke detector proposal would also require homes with two or more families to have detectors.

Also, any new building with solar heating or cooling would be exempt from paying the difference, if the amount is higher, between the assess valuation for solar heating and the valuation for conventional heating systems.

Another proposal would require the mayor, Town Council members and other public officials to designate three emergency successors to their office in the event of an emergency where the deputy officer is unable to take over.

The emergency successors would discharge the duties of the officer without actually taking over the office.

The proposal would give the council the power to designate emergency successors to the police and fire chiefs and the Director of Health.

A proposed ordinance would give a three percent advantage to local businesses who bid for municipal projects.

Dagon said local businesses should be given some advantage because they have chosen to locate in the town and employ local persons.

Dagon said the "bottom line" of many of the ordinances is "to make East Hartford a more attractive community in which to live."

For example, one ordinance would require residents to grow their lawns no longer than six inches, he said.

Another would bar residents or businesses from accumulating refuse in an unsightly or unsanitary manner.

Another ordinance would fine residents who fail to clean up waste from their pets on another person's lawn. Fines would range from $20 to $100, he said.

A proposed ordinance would ban any new billboards from being constructed, but would permit existing billboards to stand, he said.

The thick, blue-bound ordinance document also contains an ordinance which would ban industrial waste from the Hockanum River unless the waste has been treated according to strict guidelines.

Also, the committee has proposed an ordinance which would prohibit homeowners from parking cars on their front lawns, he said.

Dagon said several proposed measures did not make the ordinance book, but may be proposed before the book goes to public hearing.

Councilman Richard Torpey has proposed creating a permanent auxiliary police force and a patriotic commission to coordinate and propose patriotic programs for the town.

Dagon said he would like to see a permanent youth advisory commission with representatives from each high school in town.

He said he would also like to see a noise abatement ordinance similar to one which Pittsfield, Mass., adopted.

The Pittsfield ordinance sets decibel levels for noise and requires town permission for a temporary waiver of the requirements.

Dagon said he hopes to bring the code book before the council at its August meeting. He said he will urge the council to set a public hearing in August so the book can be adopted by the end of August.

Carbone Invited To Carter Summit

HARTFORD (UPI) — Deputy Mayor Nick Carbone has been invited to attend a Camp David summit meeting today on ways of dealing with the energy crisis.

"I appreciate this opportunity to share with the president our concerns about the availability and affordability of home heating oil in Hartford next winter," Carbone said in announcing his invitation Tuesday.

DINING AL FRESCO

...Easy, Fancy and Fun

Long summer evenings create the perfect atmosphere for enjoying great, inventive al fresco meals. Entertaining outdoors is easy, fun and delicious when you serve delicate Alaska Snow crab, luscious canned Bartlett pears and turkey roasted to juicy perfection.

Turkey today can be selected as a whole bird, just the right size for your family's needs, or as turkey parts if you prefer. Economical, nutritious and simple to prepare, turkey can be barbecued to perfection on a spit, in a covered grill, or in the oven.

Alaska Snow crab offers convenience and gourmet appeal for easy summertime meal preparation. Frozen packs include clusters (body portions with several legs attached) and crab claws, ideal for hors d'oeuvres and entrees, and packaged crab meat. Snow crab meat is also available canned. All forms are fully cooked and ready to use.

For versatility in summer menus, canned Bartlett pears are an excellent choice. Their mellow sweetness is a refreshing complement to meat, poultry or fish entrees. They add sparkle to salads and are spectacular in a wide variety of desserts. Three can sizes are available — 29 ounce, 16 ounce and 8 ounce — to provide the right quantity for any use.

For sheer drama, nothing tops a turkey spit roasted and basted with a savory barbecue sauce. This special recipe combines soy sauce and canned pear syrup to produce a turkey with golden color and rich taste.

SWEET SOY BARBECUED TURKEY

For Outdoor Spit Roasting: 6 to 12-pound turkeys are best. If turkey is frozen, thaw and remove from bag. Remove neck and giblets; rinse turkey and wipe dry. Brush inside of cavity with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce (below). Tie wings securely by breast and drumsticks to tail with twine. Do not stuff turkeys for roasting.

Insert spit rod in front of tail, run diagonally through breast bone. Fasten tightly with spit forks at both ends and test for balance. Cover of grill. Cook turkey over medium-low coals according to timetable below, adding more coals to edge after 1 hour, and basting occasionally with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce.

Cook according to timetable below, basting occasionally with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce.

For Covered Grill: Shape a drip pan from aluminum foil about 2 inches larger than turkey. Place foil drip pan in grill with hot coals around it. Place turkey on grill rack over drip pan. Close cover of grill. Cook turkey over medium-low coals according to timetable below, adding more coals to edge after 1 hour, and basting occasionally with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce.

For Oven Barbecuing: Place unstuffed turkey on roasting rack in a shallow pan, brushing inside of bird with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of thigh, making sure thermometer bulb is not touching bone. Roast at 325°F, according to timetable below, basting occasionally with Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce.

Sweet Soy Barbecue Sauce

1/2 cup soy sauce
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1/2 cup pear syrup

Combine all ingredients; brush on turkey occasionally as it cooks.

APPROXIMATE TIMETABLE FOR ROASTED WHOLE TURKEY

Weight	Approximate Cooking Time
6 to 8 pounds	3 to 3 1/2 hours
8 to 10 pounds	3 1/2 to 4 hours
10 to 12 pounds	4 to 5 hours

Turkey is done when meat thermometer registers 180° to 185°F.

While you wait for the turkey, enjoy a splendid appetizer — cracked Alaska Snow crab clusters served on ice and accompanied by two made-ahead dips. One is a zippy mixture of catsup and horseradish with a good dash of lemon juice. Green mayonnaise gets its cool tinge from chopped spinach, parsley and watercress.

CRACKED CRAB APPETIZER

3 pounds frozen Alaska Snow crab clusters, thawed and drained
Cracked ice

Zippy Tomato Horseradish Sauce (below)
Green Mayonnaise (below)

Break crab clusters into sections, cutting legs into 2 or 3 pieces. Crack with nutcracker, crab cracker or mallet. Arrange in bowl on cracked ice. Supply small forks or picks for removing meat from shell. Accompany with Zippy Tomato Horseradish Sauce and Green Mayonnaise. Makes 8 servings.

Zippy Tomato Horseradish Sauce: Combine 1/2 cup catsup, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/2 teaspoon onion powder. Chill at least 30 minutes to blend flavors. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Green Mayonnaise: Combine 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup dairy sour cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/8 teaspoon dried tarragon, crushed, and 1 clove garlic, crushed. Stir in 1/4 cup each finely-chopped spinach, parsley and watercress. (If watercress is unavailable, increase chopped spinach to 1/2 cup.) Cover and chill at least 30 minutes to blend flavors. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

For a most refreshing accompaniment to the turkey, serve Sunburst Pear Salad with Pineapple-Yogurt Dressing. Sweet canned Bartlett pear halves are filled with juicy crushed pineapple, grated carrots and celery.

SUNBURST PEAR SALAD

1 can (80 oz.) Bartlett pear halves
1 can (8-1/4 oz.) crushed pineapple
1/4 cup grated carrots
1/4 cup thinly-sliced celery

1 teaspoon grated orange or lemon peel
Lettuce
Pineapple-Yogurt Dressing (below)

Drain pears, reserving 2 tablespoons syrup. Drain pineapple; set aside 2 tablespoons pineapple for dressing. Combine remaining pineapple with carrots, celery and orange or lemon peel. Arrange pears on lettuce-lined platter. Spoon pineapple mixture into pear centers. Pour Pineapple-Yogurt Dressing. Makes 8 servings.

Pineapple-Yogurt Dressing: Combine 1 cup plain yogurt with reserved pear syrup, reserved pineapple and 1/4 teaspoon grated orange or lemon peel. Chill until ready to serve. Garnish with additional grated orange or lemon peel, if desired. Makes about 1 cup.

An easy "second-day" menu is special enough for another casual outdoor gathering of friends, and is suitable for either lunch or a light supper.

SNOW CRAB VICHYSOISE

6 to 8 oz. Alaska Snow crab, frozen or canned
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-1/2 cups peeled, diced russet potatoes
1 cup chicken broth

1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash white pepper
1 cup half and half
Dash bottled hot pepper sauce
Lemon wedges
Minced chives

These crab if frozen; drain and dice. Cook onions in butter or margarine over low heat until tender but not brown, about 5 minutes. Add potatoes, broth, parsley, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, over low heat 15 to 20 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Puree in blender or food processor. Cool completely. Fold in crab, half and half and hot pepper sauce. Cover and chill thoroughly, 4 to 6 hours. Serve in chilled bowls; garnish with lemon wedges and chives. Makes 5 or 6 appetizer servings.

CURRIED TURKEY PEAR SALAD

1 can (80 oz.) Bartlett pear halves
1 cup uncooked rice
Curry Dressing (below)
3 cups diced cooked turkey

1/2 cup chopped celery

Chop remaining pears and add to cooled rice along with turkey, celery, green onions and chutney. Garnish with reserved pear slices. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Curry Dressing: In covered jar or shaker, combine 2 tablespoons pear syrup with 1/4 cup salad oil, 3 tablespoons white wine vinegar, 3 teaspoons curry powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and dash pepper. Mix well.

Weekend Tours Slated Of Farms, Milk Plants

The Connecticut Farm Bureau has a special idea for persons who might want to save gasoline and spend next weekend in the state.

It is sponsoring tours of 14 farms and two milk processing plants Saturday and Sunday. One of the tours will be the Maple Leaf Farm, a dairy farm in Hebron.

The tours are for free and will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Last year, they attracted 13,500 persons.

"The farm are a great learning experience," Diane Lentz, state publicity chairman for the event, said. "The tours to see what the farmers' costs are in producing their food," she said.

Along with Hebron's Maple Leaf Farm, the following farms will be included in the tours: Memory Lane Farm, Sherman, Arabian Horses; Dairy Dart Farms, Ellington, milk processing plant; Tulimeadow Farms, West Simsbury, dairy, poultry and sawmill; Yankee Milk, Newington, milk processing plant; Simon Poultry Farm, Durham, poultry.

Museum Will Explore 'Good Will' of Cheneys

MANCHESTER—It's been 25 years since Manchester's Cheney Silk Mills closed, driven out of business by the newer "miracle fabrics." Yet looking back, we can see the real miracle fabric was the tight knit of the mill community. South Manchester enjoyed a nationwide reputation for the good will between the Cheney family and their mill workers. Was this reputation earned, or manufactured like fine silk?

The Laiz Museum will explore that question when it presents "The Miracle Workers," a new slide-show, on Thursday, July 19, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Manchester Community College.

The show, developed for use in area schools, features old and new photographs of the historic mill district as well as a narration by some of the people who worked there.

This program is a follow-up to the museum's popular walking tour of the district conducted last May. Both activities have been funded by a grant from the Connecticut Humanities Council, the state committee of the National Endowment for the Humanities. It is open to the public free of charge.

South Windsor Among State's Safest Towns

FAIRFIELD—South Windsor ranks as the seventh safest town in Connecticut in a study of small-town and country crime published by Connecticut magazine in its July issue.

The study was based on the October 1977 through September 1978 Quarterly Crime Indexes of the State Police Department, a compilation of figures reported by 81 towns.

Towns that ranked the 10 safest of the 81-town total were Stafford Springs, Jewett City, Naugatuck, Granby, Wilton, Weston, South Windsor, New Milford, Suffield and three towns in 10th place: New Canaan, Simsbury and Windsor Locks.

On the other end of the scale, the 10 least safe towns were New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport, East Hartford, Waterbury, Norwalk, Vernon, Westport, Orange and Meriden.

Connecticut Magazine points out that you're still less likely to be murdered, raped or in New Haven, the state's "least safe" town, than in New York. In the magazine study, only eight of New Haven's crimes per thousand were violent crimes, while New York had double that number per thousand in 1977. But you are more likely to have your home burglarized, your pocket picked or your car stolen in New Haven than in New York.

Steven Albert, Kristin Q. So long as my car runs fine, I can forget about tune-ups, right? A. Wrong, according to Shell's Tune-Up Book. Even if your car exhibits none of the symptoms discussed in Shell's book, it is recommended that you have it tuned periodically, as specified by the car maker. As a rule of thumb, do it every 12 months or 12,000 miles if you use leaded gasoline, every 24 months or 24,000 miles with unleaded. It's a good investment in preventive maintenance that pays off in your having a reliable, smoothly-running car. Q. Isn't a tune-up just changing the points and plugs? A. No. A thorough tune-up is a four-step process, of which "changing the points and plugs" might be only one step. Here's what a tune-up might include: 1. Checking cylinder compression first, which determines whether a mechanical problem exists that a tune-up couldn't help. The ignition, carburetor and pollution systems are checked against specifications (usually found on the underhood label). Engine idle speed, ignition timing, vacuum and mechanical advance, points and dwell, plugs, condenser, distributor cap and rotor, ignition coil, spark plug wires and PCV system should all be checked with engine testing equipment. Air and PCV filters, battery, automatic choke and vacuum hoses are checked visually. 2. Replacing points, plugs, condenser and those parts that cannot be brought up to specifications by cleaning and adjustment. 3. Adjusting slow and fast idle speeds, idle mixture, ignition timing, point dwell (or gap) and automatic choke. (Note: I always spray-clean the carburetor before making adjustments.) 4. Road-testing to make sure the car really runs as it should.

Vegetables, in Season, Are Best Nutrition Buy

STORERS - Take advantage of what the earth has to offer in the summer and feast on fresh fruits and vegetables. They're your best nutrition buy right now while they're in season. They're low in calories and full of vitamins, minerals and fiber essential for your health. And when you pick your own or buy vegetables from a roadside stand or farmer's market, you know that they're as fresh and as nutritious as possible.

According to Dr. Janina M. Czajkowski, nutritionist with the University of Connecticut Cooperative Extension Service, Americans have been missing out on the low calorie, high quality nutrition fresh produce provides as they've been using more convenience, packaged, and highly refined foods. Just what makes vegetables so nutritious? One reason is they're high in nutrients and low in calories. Totten To Head EHCAG

EAST HARTFORD - The East Hartford Citizen Action Group elected new officers Monday night at a meeting of the Board of Directors. Officers for the 1979-80 year are: Patricia Totten, president; Bruno Krzyk, vice president; Eileen Driscoll, secretary; and the Rev. Alphonse Labieniec, treasurer.

"I have seen first-hand what citizen involvement can do," said Mrs. Totten, a resident of Veterans Terrace.

"EHCAG is a strong voice for positive change in our town and also in the state," she said.

Mrs. Totten said she hopes to work with the group to see that it continues to grow and address the major concerns of residents.

The new officers have been involved in the group's activities in the past. Mrs. Totten led EHCAG's tenants coalition to Gov. Grasso's office last winter to protest rent increases at four student housing complexes in town.

The coalition gained a seven-month delay in the rent hike, which was scheduled to go into effect last fall. The delay saved tenants $35,000.

Krzyk, a resident of Chickasaw Drive, has been a spokesperson in the Connecticut Citizen Action Group's utilities coalition and has worked locally on issues ranging from neighborhood schools to crime prevention.

He is attempting with others to establish a statewide coalition to fight off the heating oil shortages and price increases.

Mrs. Driscoll, of Forest Street, has been active in meetings on neighborhood issues, utility rates, crime prevention and day care.

The Rev. Labieniec, who is a priest at St. Christopher's Church, led EHCAG in a petition drive to get the city on police protection. The conference launch a drive to reinstate neighborhood centers in town.

Schortman of Vernon and Arthur Glaeser and Roselle Schulte of Manchester. Local association representatives who attended the conference were Thomas Association.

The Connecticut delegation was part of the 3,000 delegates from East Hartford; Jean Lefebvre, Richard Goss, and burgundy Anne Gauvin, John Gessay and LeRoy Hay of Manchester; Greg Kupfer of South Windsor and Jeanette Gaskill and Cunningham of Glastonbury, Maxine

Soldier Assigned Duties With Army Recruiters

EAST WINDSOR - Army Private Craig S. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Taylor of 58 Prospect Hill Drive, has been assigned to temporary duty here as part of a nationwide "recruiter aide" program which allows recent enlistees to return home to get a firsthand account of military service.

Pvt. Taylor will work at the Army's Manchester and East Hartford offices until July 24. He is one of 11 Connecticut soldiers serving as aides.

Nominated by their local recruiters, all aides work in their hometowns for 30 days before reporting to their first permanent duty stations. More than 400 soldiers throughout the country participate in the aide program each month.

Pvt. Taylor is a 1978 graduate of Manchester High School, where he was active in baseball and track. He also attended Manchester Community College, and worked for both the East Windsor Police Explorers and the East Windsor Volunteer Ambulance Service.

Enlisting in March as a military policeman, Pvt. Taylor trained at Fort McClellan, Ala., and studied basic law, search and seizure procedures, and weapons use and criminal investigation.

While in the area, the soldier will be available to discuss Army training opportunities with high school students and community groups. He leaves Connecticut at the end of July for assignment at Arlington Hall Station, Va., with the Intelligence and Security Command, an organization which provides communications and electronics support to Army units throughout the world.

On March 11, 1954, Joyce & Joseph Garman opened a quality Ladies Specialty store under the name, Coret Casuals of Connecticut. The store featured some designer dresses, fine Coats and Suits, imported sportswear, blouses, accessories, imported sweaters etc.

For the next three years the business grew, and Joe Garman, sensing a need in Manchester for a men's store of like quality, opened a small part of the basement as a men's shop. It was known as J. Garman Men's Wear.

Both departments grew, and over the next few years, as the store became established, customers fell into the habit of referring to it as "Garman's", so the name was changed to incorporate both departments under one name, and the sign now read, as it does today, J. Garman, Clothier.

The years passed and with each year, changes come about with expansion within the store. Today, 25 years later, J. Garman, Clothier is the same family owned store, in the same location, with a fully expanded line of quality Ladies and Mens' clothing.

Another interesting expansion took place in the rear of the Men's department some years ago. Joe Garman's hobby of fly fishing and his interest in fine quality cane fly rods, evolved into a small but nation-wide mail business. At least once a week, classic cane rods and reels, arrive or are sent from the "back room", all over the country. The same "back room" has become a meeting ground for fly rod and fly fishing aficionados.

Assisting J. Garman as women's wear buyer and store manager for the past 18 years is Mrs. Ellen Schmedding. Alan Cashman assists in the men's wear purchases, and Mary Ketch has charge of the office. Ellen, Alan, Mary and Joe as they are known to customers and friends, make J. Garman, Clothier, the warm friendly store that it has become.

Worth's Smiling Service has clothed and accessorized its customers for sixty years.

To keep abreast of the needs of changing society we frequently add new departments and to serve more people we open new stores. Our 11th store will be opening in Southbury in August.

One of our very successful new departments is our "Petite Miss" Dress Department. It fills the need of the five foot four and under woman with dresses designed for and proportioned to fit her height.

Some of our personnel have been involved in ladies ready-to-wear for over forty years. That experience, plus a direct wire to our inventory room in Waterbury and lines to all our stores aids us in getting our customers what they want.

Save your precious gas — we'll do the "shopping around" for you. It's our pleasure.
