

State Accepts Traffic Plan

BOLTON—State Police Trooper Mark Coleman's plan to accept traffic through the Bolton Notch area has been approved by the Department of Transportation (DOT) and should be started by the end of the year.

The plan was presented to local and area officials and residents earlier in the year and to the DOT in May. Trooper Coleman's proposal included the elimination of the crossover (opposite Notch Road) barriers to force eastbound traffic into one lane, signs and illumination.

A letter from Frank D'Addabbo, deputy commissioner of the Bureau of Highways said the DOT has been "obtaining data necessary to analyze traffic conditions at this location. We have studied accident experiences, traffic counts, geometric conditions and recorded speeds in the area."

D'Addabbo said, "It has been determined that immediate action is required to correct the very serious operation deficiencies at this location."

The DOT plans to close the crossover road, reduce the two lane approaches to the Notch to one lane throughout the entire area, possibly provide a bituminous concrete overlay for the entire area, install permanent plastic pavement markings to determine the proper path of travel, remove stop signs and revise and relocate directional and warning signals.

Although the DOT said it still wants town concurrence to close the crossover it is in light of accident experience it will "definitely seek to close this connector road immediately."

D'Addabbo said, "You may rest assured that Commissioner Arthur Powers considers this situation to be one of utmost urgency and he has instructed me to insure that all department personnel involved in this project act expeditiously as possible."

First Selectman Henry Ryba met with Robert Tworowski and Vincent Abino of the DOT Wednesday to discuss the situation. Resident State Trooper Robert Peterson was also at the meeting.

Ryba said particulars about the project are being studied by the DOT. He said they are getting cost figures so they can decide whether to do the project with their own maintenance men or to contract it out.

Ryba said, "The DOT people apparently were not aware that Routes 6 and 44A were one road with Route 6 branching to the right and Route 44A branching to the left. They thought they were separate roads."

He said, "As the various groups in the department started compiling their reports and pinpointing everything into one survey they realized it's a bad, bad area."

Ryba said, "I'm glad, I hope they do get started. Seriously, I'm very concerned about the number of injuries, fatalities and property damage itself. Whenever the firehorn goes off, it scares me."

Study Begins For Firehouse

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

VERNON — In answer to a request of Mayor Frank McCoy and the Town Council, the Permanent Municipal Building Committee, Wednesday night, started to gather information concerning construction of a proposed new firehouse.

The mayor and the council voted on July 18 to accept the Tillinghast property on Birch Street as the site for the new fire station.

The property was bequeathed to the town some time ago and the mayor told the committee that at this time necessary documents are being processed to convey the land from the estate of Waldo Tillinghast to the town.

The mayor has asked the town engineer to submit an engineering report relative to estimated costs of site development and such for consideration at the next council meeting scheduled for Aug. 14.

The council also voted to ask the building committee to start consideration of a plan for developing cost estimates selection of an architect and such, for the construction of the new station. A fire study committee recommended that the station be built south of Interstate 88 and Birch Road is just off that highway.

The Tillinghast property was not the site favored by the building committee but it was listed number two on the priority list. Another plot near that area was selected as top priority but town officials felt they could save $40,000 by using town-owned land.

The building committee members had concerns about the railroad right-of-way in conjunction with the town property but Eugene Pinto, chairman of the committee (later in the meeting John Fiske was elected chairman) said the mayor feels with some work on the area the fire trucks will be able to bypass the railroad right-of-way.

Committee members agreed to send a letter back to the mayor asking him to have the town engineer decide what type of station the town wants, the concept and size of the station and how it will be situated on the land.

The committee also will ask the town to give it an updated survey map of the area and to get further information about the railroad right-of-way plus a rough estimate of how much the town expects to spend on construction costs.

MANCHESTER — For the next three weeks, the Town will be running an "Historical Photograph Contest" for Manchester residents.

Anyone with an old photograph or drawing of a building, street or scene, such as the Cheney Homes or Mills, may enter the contest by sending their photos to the Manager's office, Town Hall, c/o Steven Werber. The photos or drawings should be in reasonably good condition and should be in black and white.

Winners of the contest will have their photographs displayed in this year's Annual Town Report.

State To Scrape To Meet Contracts

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state will be scraping the bottom of the fiscal barrel to cover state employee contracts and anything else that will come up over the next year, a legislative fiscal leader is forecasting.

"Next year could be an absolute disaster," Rep. Gardner Wright, D-Bristol, said Wednesday after the Legislature's Appropriations Committee had an informal hearing on five state employee contracts.

"There's a real possibility of major tax increases next year unless cuts are made," he said.

Wright, who is co-chairman of the committee, said Connecticut may well be faced with declining tax revenues plus added costs just to keep the state operating.

Anthony Milano, secretary of the Office of Policy and Management, told the committee state employee contracts might cost $18 million to $18 million more than the $9.4 million appropriated in the budget.

Milano said the added expense might be covered with the state's surplus or by the $30 million Gov. Ella Grasso has ordered held in escrow by trimming 3 percent off all state agency budgets.

"But if we put a number higher or lower in the budget, then we would be prejudicing the negotiations in one way or another," he said. "The negotiations are an issue between the governor and the Legislature."

The state is negotiating 24 separate contracts with state employees. Legislative leaders have refused to say when they will come back to vote on the pay packages, saying a set date might tip the scales at the bargaining table.

Area Police Report

South Windsor
Scott S. Susco, 20, of 477 Griffin Road, South Windsor, was charged Wednesday night with breach of the peace in connection with the investigation of a disturbance in the parking lot at the Colony Shops Plaza.

He was released on his promise to appear in court in East Hartford on Aug. 6.

Police Plan Set

BOLTON — The State Police north sector unit's selective enforcement program for the Bolton Notch area will be on full scale operation for the first week of August.

The north sector troopers, assisted by the State Police Traffic Division radar squad, will be working the area. Sgt. Anthony Kalkus, north sector supervisor, said specifically the troopers and traffic division people will be on Interstate 84 in Bolton and Manchester to slow traffic down, reduce injuries and conserve energy.

Celebrate our new ways to save!

The Savings Bank of Manchester automatically increases interest on Regular Savings Accounts by 1/4%.

Something to celebrate! Starting right now, the interest on all SBM Regular Savings Accounts is boosted from 5 1/2% to 5 3/4% (for an effective annual yield of 5.72%) — the highest such interest rate available.

If you don't presently have a Regular Savings Account at the Savings Bank of Manchester, this is the perfect time to open one. If you do have a Regular Savings Account with us, you don't have to do anything: we'll automatically start crediting your account with that extra 1/4% interest.

SBM introduces an all new 4-year Bond Market CD — pays very big interest to smaller savers.

We can now offer you a very high yielding CD called a Bond Market Certificate. There is no minimum deposit.* It pays interest at a rate permanently fixed for the four-year term just one percentage point below the four-year U.S. Treasury Security rate, which changes monthly. This month that rate is 8.85%. So our current rate is 7.85% — for an effective annual yield of 8.28%. No other savings bank can top this rate. No commercial bank can pay as much!

If ever you've envied the big money saver, who's able to invest $10,000 in a high yield, 6-month Money Market Savings Certificate, this is for you. Our new Bond Market CD — requiring no minimum deposit — is obviously more affordable for more savers. And it does provide a high yield for a longer term.

We've eliminated all minimum deposits on all other Long-Term Savings Plans.

Also worth celebrating: we no longer require any minimum deposits on new or renewed long-term SBM CDs!† It's up to you to decide how little (or how much) you want to invest in one of these savings plans. But be prudent about your decision. The more you invest, the larger your return will be over a long period of time.

We've even reduced the early withdrawal penalties on new or renewed term accounts.

As with any CD, FDIC regulations require a substantial interest penalty be imposed for premature withdrawals. But even that penalty has now been eased in most cases. Come in and we'll supply you with all the details.

Obviously, The Savings Bank of Manchester now makes it easier for you to save money. Has more different ways for more people. Come in, see how we can turn your savings plans into a celebration!

Partial Opening Planned

HARTFORD (UPI) — City officials told the scheduled reopening of the Hartford Civic Center Coliseum could be delayed nearly two months, say they hope to get the arena's doors partially open on time and salvage some events.

Washington: Consumer prices jumped another 1 percent in June and the rate of inflation during the first half of 1979 — at 13.2 percent — marked the biggest six-month jump in 28 years, the government reported Thursday.

Washington: The Labor Department said soaring energy and housing costs last month more than offset an encouraging cooling of retail food prices which went up only 0.2 percent for the smallest rise in 11 months.

Washington: Alfred Kahn, the administration's chief inflation fighter, Thursday told Congress the oil producing nations are primarily to blame for U.S. inflation woes, saying, "Except for OPEC, we would clearly be out of the double-digit rates by now."

Washington: The Labor Department said home heating oil was up 8.4 percent during the first half of this year and gasoline prices climbed 5.6 percent, marking an annual rate of surge at nearly 61 percent.

Washington: The Labor Department said the buying power of the typical family of four decreased by 0.8 percent last month and was down by 3.5 percent over the past year.

Tokyo: The U.S. dollar rallied moderately against the Japanese yen today to close the week up 1.10 points at 215.45 yen on buying-led by traders waiting for the release of U.S. trade figures. Trading was moderate.

Water Curbs Put in Effect
MANCHESTER — Some residents of town, accustomed to the odd-even rationing plan for their car's gasoline, will now face such a scheme for the use of their water.

Due to high demands for water in the area north of Middle Turnpike, the Water and Sewer Department will institute a partial alternating water ban there to maintain adequate pressure for all users and to maintain fire protection.

The partial ban also affects the Glastonbury users of the Manchester Water Department.

The alternating ban will affect even numbered houses on even numbered days and odd numbered houses on odd numbered days between the hours of 5 a.m. and 9 p.m. If a customer has an even numbered address, he or she can water their lawn, wash their cars etc. on even numbered days.

The department is requiring residents in this area to comply with the ban because of overloading of the distribution system and actual situations are entirely without water. The department will continue its flushing program in areas where there is adequate distribution capacity.

Spain Captures Top Terrorists
MADRID, Spain (UPI) — Two of Spain's most-wanted terrorists, captured in their explosive-laden bomb factory, have confessed to a series of attacks and assassinations that killed 16 people, police said.

Police today hunted for nine other top members of GRAPO, a Spanish acronym for the Oct. 1 Anti-Fascist Revolutionary Groups, following Thursday's arrest of Maria Lopez del Angula and Alfonso Rodriguez Garcia, both in their 20s.

Police sources said authorities believe the nine are dispersed about Madrid in cells of twos and threes.

Police initially withheld news of the arrests, hoping to capture all 11 suspects. But a raid on another flat netted only a large cache of arms and millions of pesetas in terrorist funds.

Neighbors said the plump, bespectacled Miss Lopez del Angula and the "intelligent-looking" Rodriguez Garcia had moved into the flat three months before.

Police had posted photographs of the two as well as the other nine all over Spain, offering rewards totaling $144,000, but next-door neighbors said they had no idea who they were.

The couple was picked up at midday in an apartment in the busy Pilar district and bundled away, handcuffed and hooded. Eight hours later police said they confessed to a long list of terrorist attacks including the murder of an army general and seven policemen and the bombing of a cafe in which eight people died.

Police said the couple used the apartment as a clandestine bomb factory. The area was evacuated of shoppers as police sappers removed a large quantity of explosives and hauled them away in vans.

Authorities said that in spite of the reward offers, police had received no help from the public. Passersby said, however, they saw police walking into the building with a man who kept his head covered with his jacket.

Police said Miss Lopez del Angula and Rodriguez Garcia were veterans of GRAPO, an organization which has claimed responsibility for 19 political killings in Spain this year.

Economy
New York: Despite gloomy inflationary news, the New York Stock Exchange rallied Thursday to post a small gain in which the Dow Jones Industrial Average — down nearly 3 points at midday — gained 0.25 point to close at 839.78.

Behind Schedule
The city of Hartford received bad news Thursday from the builders of the Hartford Civic Center Coliseum. The roof won't be repaired until late February 25, 1980. It was scheduled to re-open on January 1, 1980. The roof collapsed under tons of ice and snow in January 1978. (UPI photo)

Big City Mayor Chosen By Carter To Head HUD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter has selected Moon Landrieu, former mayor of New Orleans, to be the new secretary of Housing and Urban Development, according to administration sources.

Landrieu met at the White House with Carter Thursday evening and sources said he was urged to accept the position to replace HUD Secretary Patricia Harris, who has been nominated to succeed HEW Secretary Joseph Califano.

Press secretary Jody Powell declined to comment on the reports Thursday, indicating the formal announcement may be made today.

Filling the position would leave the Cabinet with one vacancy — transportation secretary — to be filled before the Cabinet is intact again after Carter's stunning purge of five members last week.

Landrieu is former president of the Conference of Mayors, and served for eight years as mayor of New Orleans — the first mayor of that city to "bring blacks into the city government."

He also has been a leader in pushing for federal revenue sharing and was a strong supporter of aid to New York when the city was financially strapped.

Landrieu has been a longtime friend and supporter of Carter.

It was understood Carter wanted a mayor who understood big city problems to take on the HUD post.

The president has moved with deliberate speed to name replacements and wipe out the last vestiges of his startling Cabinet purge.

Carter planned to leave in mid-afternoon for a quiet weekend at Camp David after several days of bruising upheaval.

Powell told reporters he "wouldn't be surprised" if more new faces were added to the White House staff, but said it was not likely there would be any more appointments this week.

The first newcomer to be named, Hodel Donovan, former editor-in-chief of Time Inc., plans to come on board around Aug. 15.

Powell said he knows of no fundamental change in his press role as a result of the domestic summit deliberations.

Richford Public Works Director
Jordan Rich, after getting word the new projected date was Feb. 25, 1980, said city officials will work with builders to try for a "partial opening" so some of the scheduled events can be saved.

City officials had planned around a Jan. 1 reopening — and had gone so far as to schedule several lucrative events at the coliseum after that date.

Rich, who is supervising the project, said the delay was "certainly going to have an effect on revenues."

The Hartford Whalers, who had scheduled home games at the coliseum for the bulk of their first National Hockey League season, also were optimistic about shooting for an earlier opening date.

Rich said the facility could open with some seats and other features missing if items required in building codes are installed.

"We'll be trying to work out a better construction schedule," Rich said. "But I can't say yet whether it (an early opening) will be possible."

"The schedule of events that has been in place includes some very lucrative events and if we are unable to hold them, it will substantially and adversely affect the budget of the Civic Center Authority. It might require a subsidy from the city," he said.

James F. Murphy, a spokesman for the construction management firm George A. Fuller Co., told the committee "the earliest, realistic opening date will be Feb. 25, 1980." He said nearly 1,000 changes in design plans had caused most of the delay.

The builders will not jeopardize the safety of their workers and the public by doing substandard work despite pressure to finish the job, he said.

Murphy told the City Council's Planning and Development committee the massive $72 million reconstruction project was only about 40 percent complete and the roof was about 80 percent complete.

He said the design changes, a strike and poor spring weather had delayed the project 118 days behind schedule, but "at this point, the project is 40 offices, hotel and food services, instructional rooms, a nurse's room and the office of the Dean of Student Activities.

Officials expect a contract to be signed next week. Acting President Robert E. Miller said Wednesday the Janage expects occupancy of the new center by Nov. 1.

On other matters, also at the request of Gov. Grasso, the commission approved $66,538 for the installation of about 1,200 feet of main line track along the Manchester-Williamantic corridor to serve the Manchester Industrial Park.

The line will not restore the entire corridor, but is expected to open up with the main line which runs in that area of the town.

State Okays Bond For Student Center

MANCHESTER — The State Bond Commission today approved a $278,747 appropriation for reconstruction of the student center at Manchester Community College.

The old student center was destroyed in a fire last April 7.

The commission approved the amount at the request of Gov. Ella Grasso. The total cost of construction, based on bids received July 20, is $977,887. The difference of some $700,000 will be picked up by the college's insurance settlement.

The difficult part for the request was getting onto the commission's agenda. Once it makes the agenda, its tantamount to approval.

The new student center is slated to be a 25,000 square foot building which will house the student lounge, bookstore, cafeteria, student senate

Teenager's Steps Are Big Strides

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Michael Southerland's tiny, labored steps were great strides for the Miami teenager and the medical profession.

A lot has to do with Michael's own willpower and drive," Dr. Beatrice Lampkin said. "He knows I'm proud of him."

They were the first steps Michael, 14, a bone-cancer victim, had taken since he underwent an unprecedented operation five months ago in which doctors replaced one of his Michael's vertebra with sections of metal and rib.

They have been amazed at his progress and today, he was planning to make a trip home with his mother, "I feel pretty good, right now," Southerland said Thursday. But it hasn't been easy.

"The first time I got up, when they tilted me up, I passed out," said Michael, managing a grin. "I didn't expect that."

In a week, however, Michael was standing and walking on crutches, pleasantly surprising doctors with rapid progress.

Michael is the fourth member of his family to suffer from cancer. His younger brother died of leukemia, his brother had a leg amputated because of cancer, and his father had a cancerous brain tumor removed.

Michael credits his family for encouraging his progress against what could be discouragingly hard times.

Following months of being confined in a cast to the knees, Michael returned to the hospital in June for a shorter cast and intensified physical therapy.

Plane Crash Was Result of Unfixed, Known Defects

WASHINGTON - On April 4, 1975, an American C-5A transport plane carrying Vietnamese orphans and other refugees to the United States crashed shortly after takeoff from Tan Son Nhut near Saigon. More than 200 of those aboard, including American crewmen, were killed.

The shocking truth about the tragedy was that it need never have happened. The mechanical problem that caused the crash was known to the Air Force and the C-5A's manufacturer, Lockheed-Georgia, at least four years before the Saigon disaster.

Two months after the Saigon tragedy, an internal Air Force memo stated: "The most recent C-5A accident stands as grim justification for a thorough evaluation and redesign of the rear ramp and pressure locking and latching mechanism of the aircraft."

What, if anything, was done is not clear, but we have obtained a document indicating that after the Saigon crash a top Lockheed official, N.C. Appold, telephoned Air Force Gen. Warner Newby and apparently urged him to play down the C-5A's locking problems to the accident board.

Lee Roderick 'Carter Cut Down the Trees, Kept the Monkeys'

WASHINGTON - "Good grief! They're cutting down the biggest trees and keeping the monkeys!" That reportedly was the reaction of one member of Congress, Rep. Charles Wilson (D-Texas), as President Carter pushed or nudged five of his 12 Cabinet officers out the door last week.

Republicans and Democrats was overwhelmingly negative, and hyperbole cheap: "This makes the Ayatollah look innocent," said Rep. Thomas L. Ashley (D-Ohio). The No. 2 Republican in the Senate, Republican Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas said "once again official Washington has proven that competence is a disqualifier."

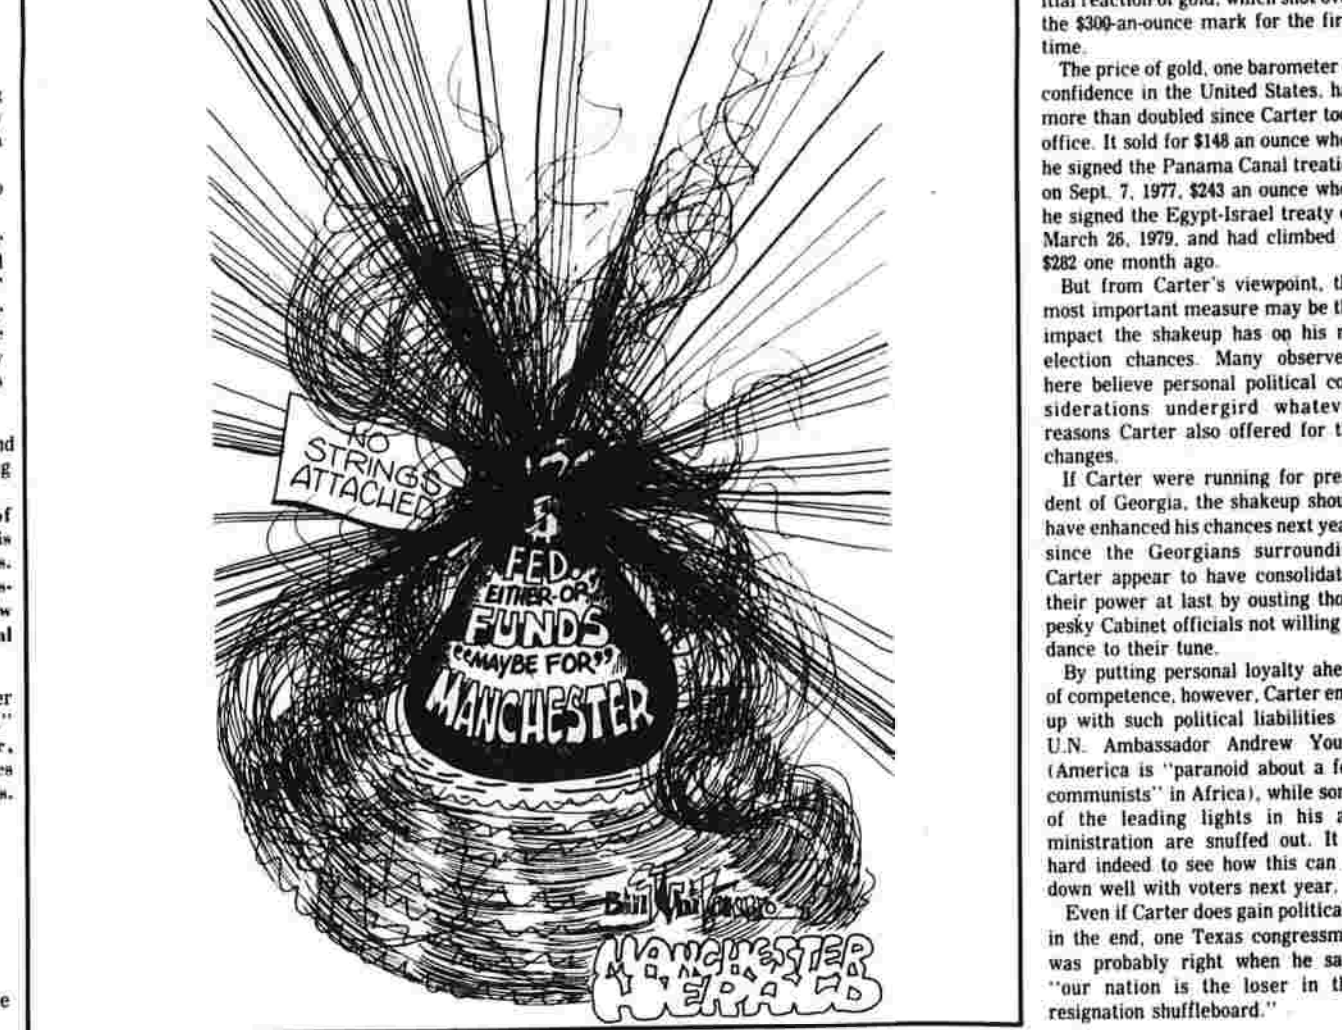

Thoughts: The graves of the dead in Christ someday will be open - those who are resurrected and those that will be translated.

Members of Congress could sink their teeth into. Now they're chewing on Carter instead. "A victory for mediocrity," Rep. David Obey (D-Wis.) called the firing of HEW Secretary Joseph Califano.

However, at the same time, the chief and Police Lt. Edwin Carlson, cited several reasons as to why the road should be there. They also emphasized that it would be used only in cases of emergency, not as a regular means of access to or egress from the station.

Planned Police Access Road Still in Limbo

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter VERNON - An emergency access and egress road from the new Vernon Police station, on Center Road, proposed when plans were being made for the station, is still in limbo.

Committee member John J. Guilietti said the corner of Route 30 and Center Road is more dangerous should the cruiser have to go around that on an emergency call. Fritze said the problem with dispensing a cruiser to an emergency would probably only be at shift changing times which are 7 a.m. and 3 and 11 p.m.

he had had the state do a traffic count in the area. He said the survey was made on July 5, a Wednesday, and between 3 and 4 p.m., 1,080 cars passed the intersection, going east and west. From noon until midnight, 10,908 cars passed in both directions.

Bendza-Jerome

Brenda Jean Jerome and James Stephen Bendza, both of Andover, were married July 14 at Andover Congregational Church in Andover. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jerome of 120 Lakeside Drive, Andover. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bendza of New Britain. The Rev. David Reese III performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Drann Brown of Andover was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Bonnie Debusk and Carol Lindsay, both of South Windsor and Laura Whipple of Coventry. Mandie Brown of Andover, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

Edward Bendza of New Britain was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ernest Montie of Saline, Mich., and Michael Jerome and Bruce Jerome, both of Andover and the bride's brothers-in-law. Eric Nyquist of Stratford, the bridegroom's cousin, was ring bearer.

A reception was held at Mama Mia's Restaurant in Manchester, after which the couple left for St. Crux, Virgin Islands. They will reside in Andover.

Mrs. Bendza is employed at the Mansfield Training School. Mr. Bendza, a veteran of four years in the U.S. Navy is a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department. He is also employed at the Mansfield Training School. (Laramie photo)

Prices May Rise for Talkers

WASHINGTON (UPI) - No matter where you live, the days may be coming when you pay for local telephone calls by the same method as you're charged for long-distance - by how long you talk and how often you talk. The industry contends the approach is only fair. People who use the telephone the most should pay more, and those who hardly ever lift the receiver should pay less. Opponents of the approach say it's deceptive because it is touted as a voluntary option to current flat rate billing. In reality, they say, flat rate billing will eventually get so expensive that it will disappear and everyone will be left with the pay-by-the-call system. The local measured approach is not new. New York city, for example, has had a message unit system for years based on the amount of time the user is on the telephone. Chicago has had a variation of the same system. Most of the country, however, has been a flat rate system for local calls. American Telephone and Telegraph says the system - called local measured service - is being offered in one form or another in most states. About 50 percent of the Bell system's business customers have it and about 13 percent of the firm's residential customers, a spokesman said. "It's a matter of fairness," he added. "At the present time low and moderate users of telephone service are in the position of subsidizing higher users because they all pay under flat rate service the same amount." "Optional measured service gives the customer a chance to select the kind of service that appears to be most useful and best for him or her," he added. "In a time of rising prices, it enables them to select a service where, by the way they use their phones, they can control the amount they pay." He added that a random survey earlier this year showed 20 percent of Bell's local customers make 50 percent of all local calls, while another 20 percent make only 5 percent of all the calls. "One person who has been raising questions about the trend is Lee Richardson, an assistant to Esther Peterson, President Carter's consumer adviser. "It's not really voluntary," he said in an interview. "It's being promoted in a voluntary way and I feel that's deceptive." "People who benefit, people who use the telephone less, will switch in an effort to try to cut the bills. And they can cut the bills in varying degrees," Richardson said. "But that means the telephone company gets less revenue. "What they have to do then is raise the flat rate. The price flat rate is that will result is that the market because the people remaining on it will be higher and higher users. It would start a spiral," he said. Richardson said he believes the telephone industry wants to get rid of flat rate entirely. If that's what they want, he added, "they ought to be up front about it. But they won't admit it publicly." The ATT spokesman said, "We don't expect that flat rate service is going to be terminated within the immediate future. As for long-range prospects, that will depend on the customers and what they indicate they want." Richardson also questions the measured service approach because "it introduces uncertainty for consumers." efficient information or were misleading. Holocaust Poems Basis for Dance

NEW LONDON - Terenin was a fortress town near Prague that was converted by the Nazis in 1941 into a "model" concentration camp that was used to show visitors from the International Red Cross that Jews were being resettled, not exterminated. During Terenin's existence 15,000 children passed through its gates on their way to Auschwitz and their death. Only 100 children survived this ordeal as well as a collection of poems written by the children of Terenin. Their poems were rescued and published in an anthology by the Jewish State Museum in Prague called "I Never Saw Another Butterfly."

Corky May at Riverside

AGAWAM - Corky May's Coalition of five musician-entertainers, is setting the pace at Riverside Park these nights. Making his first appearance at the amusement park, Corky May's Coalition is appearing daily in the International Plaza Dome through Aug. 5. Show times are 7, 8, 9 and 10 p.m. After over 15 years of professional experience in his group, he has studied and played music since he was six years old. May is one of the finest young trombonists in the country plus an excellent arranger as well as a singer and emcee.

Sacred Concert Set

MANCHESTER - A concert of sacred music will be presented Sunday, July 29, at 7:30 p.m. in Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St. The program will feature music by Bach, Schuetz, Handel and Day - all Lutherans. Gordon Smith, trumpeter, early music scholar and piano technician, will play recorder accompanied by David Almond at the harpsichord in a performance of two sonatas by Handel. A quartet from the Concordia Choir will perform two vocal works by Heinrich Schuetz. Singers are Judith Rodwell and Martha Freimuth, sopranos. Robert Rodwell, tenor, and John Cori, bass. Almond, director of music at Concordia, will conclude the program with several organ selections. The public is invited to the free program. A free-will offering will be received. A nursery will be provided for infants and younger children. A fellowship hour will be held after the concert.

Brash Coleman Top Child Star

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Kid actors are a breed apart, each different in his own way, each with one foot in the adult world and the other in childhood, never really belonging to either. Juvenile stars grow up in the spotlight which often is inimicable to normal psychological growth. Some survive to become adult stars. Some don't. Today's premiere TV child star in Gary Coleman, a tiny 11-year-old whose "Diff'rent Strokes" has been NBC's highest rated show of the season. Gary is a precocious black, 3-foot-9, 49-pound extrovert who is starting in his first TV movie, "The Kid From Left Field." He's also lalkative, brash and brimming with kinetic energy. He's cute. A thoroughgoing ham, little Gary was born with the natural timing and comedic instincts of a Milton Berle. He is the only son of W.C. and Edmonia Coleman of Zion, Ill., some 60 miles south of Chicago. His parents are quiet and dignified. W.G. is an inspector for a pharmaceutical company. The Coleman family makes its home in Zion but is looking for a temporary residence in Hollywood to accommodate their son's acting career. Mrs. Coleman remains with Gary at all times. It is necessary to give her son daily medication. He underwent a kidney transplant 3 1/2 years ago which has inhibited his growth. It is the only inhibition in the youngster's makeup. During lunch the other day Gary did most of the talking as his patient parents lifted their eyebrows and shrugged their shoulders in resignation. But the elder Coleman did manage to explain that Gary climbed out of his crib when he was only two months old and has been on the move ever since. He began talking at 13 months, entertaining his grandparents and everyone else. "When he was five, we found an agent in Chicago," Coleman said. "We knew from the time he began to talk that he had a special quality about him. He was a natural entertainer." Gary did about 30 TV commercials. We brought him to Hollywood for the pilot of "The Little Rascals," a Norman Lear project that didn't become a series. The Mr. Lear took Gary into his office for a conference. Not long after that he signed Gary to a contract put him in "Diff'rent Strokes."

Festival Premiers

LENOX, Mass. - The 1979 Festival of Contemporary Music at Tanglewood will take place on Saturday, Aug. 4 through Aug. 5. This summer's festival, the 16th at Tanglewood, will feature a number of American premieres, several world premieres, and a program of work by Shostakovich and Britten - names not usually associated with avant-garde music festivals. The point of this festival is to perform compositions that encompass all ages and geographical lines," said Gunther Schuller, Artistic Director of the Berkshire Music Center, which presents the Festival together with the Fromm Music Foundation at Harvard. "Shostakovich and Britten are probably the two most important composers of the last 20 years, yet they are unjustly neglected by most avant-garde music festivals." The August 6 Shostakovich - Britten concert, featuring both early and late works, is a memorial performance. Both composers died within the last three years. Gary, wearing a Spider Man T-shirt, said, "Everybody thinks we are Arnold Jackson, the kid I play in the show, or alike. But we aren't. "I'm more subtle and playful than Arnold. He's a little bit funny, but California people will laugh at anything." His mother said, "You and Arnold are one and the same boy. Neither one of you keep your room straight." "I'll get you for that," Gary replied. "I like a messy room. I like junk. Sometimes I like acting and sometimes I don't. It's no fun going to work at 7:30 in the morning. "And I don't like being famous or being interviewed. Being famous is no fun. It's too much trouble because I can't be myself. Whenever I go people pick me up and try to kiss me. Blah! I hate to be picked over."

Entertainment Falk Career Shows Little Theater Value

By ALLEN M. WIDEM The years are spinning swiftly away. Two decades ago-plus one Peter Falk was working in an administrative capacity for the state of Connecticut in Hartford.

He got involved in community theatre, in his instance the prestigious Mark Twain Masquers of Hartford, among the ranking semi-professional groups in the state. (The Little Theatre of Manchester has enjoyed an excellent reputation, too, but the Masquers, using the Avery Memorial in Hartford for years, and, presently, the Roberts Theatre on the Kingswood-Oxford School West Hartford campus, has drawn more of a statewide audience.) From his "base" with the Masquers, Falk set his sights on professional status, initially in New York and, inevitably, in Hollywood. He has played straight drama, comedy, but his forte, as superbly demonstrated previously, is in comedy, broad, wide-ranging farce, sharply-defined satire.

In his latest screen romp, Warner Bros. "The In-Laws," Falk projects a comedy sense that is at once engrossing and enjoyable. Engrossing in that each scene - an underdog man for what is unmasked as the CIA is instrumental in bringing down another international syndicate of sorts, this one dealing in counterfeit cash. Enjoyable in that each scene - the gestures, the gesticulations, the grimaces, the grunts, the groans are credible. More than a handful of "names" got their career beginnings in this portion of Connecticut - Katherine Hepburn, Ed Begley, Louis Nye, Mike Kellin, Ted Knight, the Hartford Kern sisters, and still others, in the thespian ranks. State Approves Funds For Farm Preservation ANDOVER — The state Bonding Commission today approved funding of $129,000 for farm land preservation designation of a 123-acre dairy farm in Andover. The farm is owned by Stanley Gasper and is on Hebron Road. Gasper said today that the state is buying development rights for the farm and this means that the land will always be used for farming. Governor Ella Grasso asked the commission to approve the bonding for the project. Her press secretary Larry DeBeare said the total costs figures out to about $1.65 per acre. Gasper said that the transaction won't change anything as far as operation of the farm is concerned and the transaction doesn't involve his home, just the land. He will still be owner of the property and can farm it as long as he wants to but if and when the land is sold it must be sold to be used as farm land. This will hold true no matter how many times the land exchanges owners.

Mr. Gasset will be required to sign papers to that effect when all transactions are completed. Having the bond issue approved is just one of the steps in the process. Gasper said it took state appraisers eight months to appraise the land and said it still has to be surveyed and he doesn't know how long that may take. Gasper describes himself as "an old bachelor farmer who has been farming for 35 years." He said he plans eventually to take in a young family to farm the land. "I haven't decided yet whether to remain farming myself. What I want to do is get new blood in," he said. Gasper applied for the farmland preservation designation some time ago. DeBeare said the Andover application and one from a Watertown farmer are the first two such applications of this type to go to the Bonding Commission. The Watertown request also went before the Bonding Commission this morning.

MANCHESTER — The town's Ethics Commission unanimously yet halberately, approved a set of rules and regulations governing the misconduct of town employees and officials. After a public hearing, set for Aug. 10, the commission is expected to formally approve the rules and regulations which might influence the officials' performance of their duties. The commission also wanted to change the definition of "immediate" after a public hearing, set for Aug. 10, the commission is expected to formally approve the rules and regulations which might influence the officials' performance of their duties.

Commissioner Paul Willhide said he feels submitting them to the public is a farce, "after he heard a ruling from the town attorney's office that the commission didn't have the power to change one word of the Charter Revision Commission. The ethics panel wanted to change some of the rules, which they thought were too broad and would allow abuses. The commission wanted to change the definition of "immediate" family, which is described as being the spouse residing in the persons household or dependent children, to include other children, parents, brothers, and sisters and other relatives. This change was important, because the rule that no town officials or members of their "immediate" families may solicit or receive gifts that might influence the officials' performance of their duties.

Mourners Protest

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Followers of slain Palestinian guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat today held a protest in Beirut, shouting and firing shots into the air to mourn their fallen leader. Members of the Saiga Palestinian guerrilla group, which Arafat headed, roamed the streets of downtown Beirut brandishing their Soviet-made AK-47 rifles. The Chinese invented paper money, first circulating it in A.D. 910. The first bank notes, however, were not issued until 1861, in Stockholm.

Strong Guidry Showing Cause for Martin Smile

BOSTON (UPI) — He has been the one hitting star for the lowly Oakland A's in the days of gloom and doom since Charlie Finley forced his championship team to disband and seek greener pastures. Mitchell Page has been the leading Oakland player the last two years. But this year he finds himself mired in the 230s and relegated to the designated hitter role. "I don't like it. I only made six errors last year and they gave me my job away," said Page, who had four hits.

Guarded Optimism Rule

NEW YORK (UPI) — In Detroit, guarded optimism is the rule when it comes to rookie Dan Pety. Too many promising young pitchers — including Mark "The Bird" Fidrych, Dave Rozema and Kip Young — have burst upon the scene for the Tigers — only to be felled by arm injuries. Pety tossed a seven-inning Thursday night, registering his second complete game and third victory in four decisions since beginning his brief major-league career earlier in the month. Jason Thompson's three-run homer was enough for the 20-year-old right-hander as the Tigers posted a 5-2 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Grid Hall of Fame To Induct Foursome

CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Two football superstars, elected within their first year of eligibility, an American Football League great of the 1960s, and a National Football League star of the 1950s will be inducted Saturday into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Johnny Unitas, the Baltimore Colts passer who performed electrifying under pressure, and Dick Butkus, the awesome Chicago Bears' middle linebacker who picked apart many an offensive unit, this year became eligible for Hall of Fame membership. Unitas, chosen in 1969 by a Hall of Fame committee as football's all-time passer, has statistics that are hard to beat — passing 8,186 times, he made 2,830 completions, gained 40,238 yards and threw 290 touchdowns passes. He threw at least one touchdown in every game for 47 straight games.

Fox Agrees To Contract

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (UPI) — Free safety Tim Fox of the New England Patriots Thursday agreed to a new contract with the NFL team, a pact reported to be in the vicinity of $140,000 a year over four seasons. The Patriots did not release any figures, but it was believed the salary was commensurate with the top wages for NFL safeties. Fox was on the option year of his contract and had been a hold-out at training camp until the pact was settled. "I wanted to get the contract thing settled first," Fox said, explaining why he decided to bypass workouts at the Patriots College training camp. "I wouldn't have felt comfortable playing here knowing the team could just let me go when the season is over." Fox negotiated the contract with Patriots General Manager Bucko Kilroy. He was not represented by his agent (Howard Slusher) in any of the negotiating sessions.

Hot Dodgers Rampaging

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have been on a rampage that has produced seven victories in eight games since the All-Star game, including a 6-5 thumping Thursday night over the NL West Division-leading Houston Astros. The Dodgers still trail the Astros by 14 games, but there has been a surge of renewed optimism on the club and with two months to go there is a growing feeling that although it seems almost impossible, Los Angeles may still make a run for the division title. "I don't think there's any way in the world you can count the Dodgers out," said Derrel Thomas, who sparked Thursday night's victory with three runs batted in. Even pitcher Joe Beckwith, a Dodger for only seven days, senses a change. "I think the Astros are scared of us," said Beckwith, who notched his first major league victory with 2 2/3 innings of relief. "I feel good about this game before the game." Thursday night the Astros acted as if they were trailing the Dodgers as is usually the case, committing two errors which cost them three runs.

Torn Achilles' Tendon

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Tampa Bay punter Dave Green — one of only two players to appear in every regular season game for the Buccaneers — suffered a torn Achilles' tendon in his left leg Tuesday and underwent surgery to repair the injury. Officials said Green will be in a cast for at least six weeks and will need at least four weeks to rehabilitate the leg after the cast is removed. Green suffered the injury while working on an agility drills with defensive linemen.

Kramer to Start

MANKATO, Minn. (UPI) — Tommy Kramer will start at quarterback for the Minnesota Vikings in the preseason opener in Seattle, Vikings' Coach Bud Grant said Wednesday after the first day in training camp. The Vikings meet the Seahawks Aug. 2. Minnesota has not yet signed veteran quarterback Bob Lee — a 10-year pro with free-agent status, but he is still negotiating his contract. Kramer hit a hanging slider served up by Hausman in the fourth. Bill Buckner followed with a triple to center field, and then scored on Larry Ditter's sacrifice fly.

Bob McAdoo Wants Out

BOSTON (UPI) — Bob McAdoo says he doesn't think he'll ever fit into the Boston Celtics system and wants to be playing elsewhere next season.

"After the way I was treated last year — it was terrible. I don't want to stay," McAdoo told the Boston Herald-American.

"It's impossible for me to do what I can do for Boston. I don't think the Celtics' style of play would ever fit me. I like a fast-paced game. The Celtics use a lot of patterns and picks," he said.

McAdoo came to Boston Feb. 12 in a controversial trade engineered by former Celtics owner John Y. Brown without the consent of Celtics General Manager Red Auerbach or then-coach Dave Cowens.

The Celtics have discussed trades with other teams. Boston desperately needs a playmaking guard and among the names mentioned are Eddie Jordan of New Jersey, James Silas of San Antonio, Freeman Williams of San Diego, Ron Lee of Utah and John Lucas of Golden State.

Detroit Pistons coach Dick Vitale also has demanded the Celtics surrender McAdoo as compensation for the signing this week of M.L. Carr.

"I'm in limbo. I hear about trade discussions. I hear my name a lot. I hear that maybe coach Bill Fitch is interested in keeping me. But I know I can never be in the right frame of mind in Boston," McAdoo said.

McAdoo is spending the summer at his family's home in Greensboro, N.C. He runs the McAdoo League, whose participants include NBA players such as Paul Ford, Walter Davis and the Celtics' Cedric Maxwell.

Sherk Four Under, Lopez Struggling

STE. JULY DE VERCHERES, Quebec (UPI) — Nancy Lopez is trying to cope with a season that is only slightly less brilliant than her record-breaking rookie tour last year.

Lopez shot a 3-over-par 76 Thursday to finish seven strokes off the pace set by Canadian Cathy Sherk in the first round of the $150,000 Peter Jackson Classic.

Sherk, ranked the top amateur golfer by Golf Digest last year, sank five birdie putts to take a 3-stroke lead over 50 golfers vying for the $2,500 winner's purse at the par-72 Rouville course near Montreal.

Lopez' less than brilliant play was the last straw in a season that has suddenly become frustrating.

"Stupid," she exclaimed after blasting her second shot into a lake to take a double bogey 7 at the 12th hole.

"I think I'm concentrating too much on my swing. I putted better than I should have today. I have been putting too pretty."

Two Hold Classic Lead

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Bill Rogers has taken four of the last five weeks off from the PGA tour for some fishing around his home area of Texarkana, Texas.

But he returned to the links with bang Thursday to shoot a 6-under-par 65 to tie for the first-round lead with David Graham, in the rain-plagued Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Half the 156-player field in the $250,000 tournament was unable to complete their first round this morning and then proceeded to the second round.

Morris Hatahsy led the later group at 5-under-par through 15 holes while Barry Jaecel and Mike McCullough were at 4-under. Defending champion Jack Nicklaus was even-par through 12 holes.

Of those who finished, Bob Byman, aided by a 6-under-par 30 on the front nine, joined Mark McCumber, Forrest Feiler, Tommy Valentine and Bobby Watkins at 67.

Former U.S. Open champion Lou Graham paced four players at 68 and Ben Whitmarsh Valley Country Club layout.

But he missed a shot at sole possession of the lead when he rushed a potential four-foot birdie putt on his 14th hole just as showers prompted officials to suspend play for nearly two hours in the early afternoon.

Graham, who hasn't won on the PGA tour since 1976, picked up seven birdies in five, coming on putts of four feet or less. At one point, he birdied three straight holes, two with putts of less than two feet.

follow pro Bruce Lietzke's lead in Oklahoma.

"I played 12 straight tournaments at the beginning of the year and I got in good shape money-wise," the 27-year-old Rogers said.

"The summer is my favorite time of year because I go bass fishing. It's a good time to take time off for me, and I had a lot of fun."

Of those who finished, Bob Byman, aided by a 6-under-par 30 on the front nine, joined Mark McCumber, Forrest Feiler, Tommy Valentine and Bobby Watkins at 67.

Champs of the Midget South Division

Securing the crown in the junior soccer Midget South Division were the Comets.

Organizers of the 1980 Winter Olympics have opened the floodgates for ticket applications, but fewer than half of the ducaus will go directly to the general American public.

Organizers said Monday that more than 85 percent of the tickets for the Games — 470,000 — are reserved for Americans.

Women Softball Players Seeking Major Status

MERIDEN (UPI) — The world's best women softball players, led by fireballing Joan Joyce and her dominant Connecticut Falcons squad, are considering a move designed to elevate the image-struggling league into the national sports eye.

And it's Joyce, perhaps the greatest woman softball pitcher, who will be the face of the new league.

Salerno said the league was negotiating with an unidentified company to sponsor the Golden Apples now based in Mt. Vernon, N.Y., and launch a major exposure drive in the nation's largest city.

It succeeds, it will be a major boost for the IWPSA. But the real problem could be convincing Joyce to stay on the diamond and forget the links.

When she teamed with tennis star Billie Jean King in 1976 to create the first women's tennis tour, Joyce needed five years to become a thriving operation. She's still com-vincid it can click. The league started out with 10 teams, each one with a $250,000 budget. The budgets and teams were trimmed. The six teams now average budgets of between $100,000 and $125,000.

The rest of the league is made up of franchises in Buffalo, N.Y., Edmonton, Alta., San Jose, Calif., and St. Louis. Two other teams may be added next year with sites being either New Jersey, Springfield, Mo., or Montreal.

The six teams average about 1,100 fans per game so far in the season but the largest attendance comes in August. While they draw slim crowds here, the Falcons played before huge audiences during a spring tour of China. They played before 50,000 people on one occasion and won all six of the games on the tour.

Russians Unveil New Gymnast Star

MOSCOW (UPI) — The nation that gave you Olga Korbut and then Nelli Kim has done it again.

At the Spartakade Summer Games Thursday, the Russians made clear who they considered to be their new gymnastics star and Moscow Olympic hope next summer.

Unfortunately her name doesn't roll of the tongue like her predecessors' but for grace, strength and agility, Natalia Shaposhnikova will be the girl to watch in Moscow.

Such is the march of time that the 18-year-old Russian, who weighs just 81 pounds, said after winning her overall gold medal she was turned on to gymnastics watching Korbut on television in 1971.

She was 10 then and by Eastern European standards a late-comer to the gymnasium.

Standings Junior Legion Nine Takes Home Victory

Behind the three-hit pitching of southpaw Gary Shaw, the Manchester Junior Legion bested Sports Inn of Wethersfield 4-1, last night in a Jaycees Courant Web Junior High in Wethersfield.

The victory improved the locals' league mark to 8-4 and overall standard to 12-8. Manchester has an exhibition tilt tonight at 6 o'clock at Middletown.

Shaw improved his Junior Legion record to 2-1 in the contest shortened to five innings by darkness by mixing his pitches well and keeping the batters off stride. He also picked a Wethersfield runner off first.

Manchester scored in the first inning when Scott LaBrec led off with a walk, stole second, on the next batter walked and scored on a single by Tim Ellis.

Ellis had two hits and an RBI and walk, stole second, on the next batter walked and scored on a single by Tim Ellis.

Humid Weather Foreign To Visiting Germans

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — It was a hot, humid day when we met Gerd and Christa Wienholz (pronounced Veen-holz) at the home of their hosts, Bob and Pat Wilson of 51 Westminster Road.

"It isn't hot like this back home," Gerd said. "It gets hot, but there isn't this humidity."

Home is Lubeck in north Germany, southeast of Hamburg. They can see the borderline that separates East and West Germany about a half a mile away.

"If it reaches 80 degrees Fahrenheit back home, school closes and the children go home," Gerd, a school teacher, said.

Gerd and Christa both teach English in high school. Gerd also teaches geography, and Christa includes in her schedule classes in gymnastics, hand ball, and other physical education activities.

Speaking of physical exercise, the young couple described the family custom of taking a Sunday walk.

"Young people of all ages most always accompany their families when they go out walking," Christa said. "They have a choice, but they usually go along with their parents."

In fact, the youth even drink with their families. Christa said the young family members are taught how to drink beer and wine, beverages which commonly accompany the family meals.

"There is little excessive drinking among the youth," she said. Teenagers don't always like the taste of beer and wine but will prefer a

Former Mad Bomber Now Lives Quiet Life

By JAMES V. HEALON
Herald Reporter

WATERBURY (UPI) — He's 75 now, and he still goes to church every Sunday and smiles at fascinating people who walk into the garage and make his first pipe bomb.

Ever so patiently, he spent hours clipping the ends off 22-caliber bullets and emptying the powder into a steel can. He put the charge into the pipe — most of his time-bombs were no bigger than salt shakers — capped both ends, and hooked it up to a cheap watch mechanism. Then he slipped it into a red sock, which became his New York calling card.

He stuck the bomb on a window sill in an Ed power plant when it was found Nov. 18, 1940. It was a dud. He stopped his bombing during World War II and resumed his role as model citizen.

Then on March 29, 1951, a bomb exploded in Grand Central station. Experts found the remnants of another red sock. Metesky would play his cat-and-mouse game for the next five years, leaving bombs in places like the New York Public Library. But then police asked news organizations for their help and the Journal-American, flagship of the Hearst fleet of newspapers, responded.

Choose Wallcovering To Suit Room's Needs

There are some interesting wallcovering ideas. If you plan to have wallpapering done keep these tips in mind when deciding on patterns.
 -Use a stimulating pattern in a lively color in playrooms, kitchens, or in adult areas such as hallways.
 -Use a quiet and serene pattern in living rooms, dining rooms and bedrooms, where people spend a lot of time and want to feel relaxed.
 -Large-scale patterns make large rooms appear more intimate. To add perspective, try an open pattern on a light background.
 -Create an illusion of spaciousness using medium to light colors to open up crowded areas.
 -Drape hems on the wall with a lively floral pattern or a featured wallcovering.
 -Create a focal point by covering one wall with a bold pattern, with a smaller scale companion pattern on the other walls, for an interesting effect.
 -Drape unattractive doorways by covering them with the same wallcovering you're using on the walls. Cover a small bathroom - all walls & the back of the door for a new perspective.
 -For a decorator's touch, use the companion fabric for bedspreads, draperies and pillows.
 -The room together by using intensive wallcovering in new ways. Line shelves, cover kitchen cupboards, touch up a wicker shade, cut out patterns for your headboard, or give new life to an old piece of furniture with a bright new wallcovering pattern.
 Use your imagination when redecorating. And don't be fearful to ask advice from decorators.
