

Merit Taste Key To Success!

'Enriched Flavor' cigarette sparks whole new taste era in low tar smoking.

A few years ago, most smokers agreed: low tar meant low taste. Then along came MERIT and a whole new taste idea called 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And the "low tar, low taste" theory was exploded. Exploded with proven taste in a new low tar cigarette. No other new cigarette in the last 20 years has attracted so many smokers as quickly as MERIT! It's clear: MERIT taste is changing attitudes towards low tar smoking.

Economy at a Glance

New York: Chrysler Corp.'s directors Thursday voted to omit payment of its common stock dividends for the third quarter as a result of this week's announcement that the No. 3 automaker lost $207 million in the second quarter.

Detroit: General Motors Corp. Chairman Thomas Murphy Thursday scaled down GM's earlier optimistic forecasts for domestic car sales in the 1979 model year but predicted the economy would rebound from a short and relatively mild recession.

Washington: Some administration staff economists are forecasting a major rise in the unemployment rate to as high as 8.2 percent before the end of 1980, but officials warned those views had not been reviewed by top economic advisers.

Washington: The Senate Thursday formally confirmed the nominations of Paul Volcker as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and William Miller as secretary of Treasury.

New York: Despite aggressive institutional buying, stocks snapped a two-session rally by finishing mixed Thursday as profit-takers cashed in on recent gains. The Dow Jones industrial average lost 2.30 points to 647.95. The New York Stock Exchange index shed 0.01 to 59.35.

New York: Standard & Poor's Corp. reported Thursday that despite generally good earnings gains in the second quarter, 34 fewer U.S. companies increased dividend payouts in July than the same month last year.

New York: Mirroring consumer resistance to new spending at the retail level, major retail chains Thursday reported July sales gains that were substantially lower than gains in previous months. Giant Sears reported a decrease in sales.

Tokyo: The U.S. dollar turned slightly lower against the Japanese yen in slow trading on the foreign exchange market today. After opening at 216.90 compared with Thursday's close of 216.40, the dollar finished the week at 216.87.

Washington: The White House said Thursday the House bill on gasoline rationing is unacceptable to the president and the Senate rejected the measure outright, sending it to conference committee for a compromise solution.

Washington: Skyrocketing oil prices and frantic demand for smaller, foreign-made cars is making it more difficult for the United States to reduce its trade deficit, new government statistics showed Thursday.

Washington: President Carter will be hurt politically if he fails to win a boost in domestic oil production before the next election, Sen. Russell Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said Thursday.

Houston: Gulf Oil Corp., a major supplier of home heating oil to the Northeast, is tightening credit terms in a move that could force dealers to demand cash payment on delivery from residential consumers, industry sources said Thursday. The change could cost homeowners almost a penny a gallon.

Washington: The Three Mile Island nuclear accident was clearly preventable, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Thursday, and the NRC may charge the plant's operator with 35 violations.

Hong Kong Citizens Return

HONG KONG (UPI) — Hong Kong's millions ventured back to the typhoon, which struck with debris-chattered streets today as a weakened Typhoon Hope moved on into China, leaving a toll of eight dead in the colony and fears that hundreds of Vietnamese boat people may have perished on the stormy sea.

The typhoon, which struck with lightning speed and smashing 150 mph winds, injured at least 260 people in Hong Kong and left it looking like a war-torn city.

Trees were uprooted, huge glass

Vietnam Refugee Tells Of Murder by Thai Pirates

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — A Vietnamese woman has told refugee officials she is the only survivor of 100 refugees who were raped, clubbed and drowned by Thai pirates roving unchecked through Southeast Asian waters, diplomats said today.

The 28-year-old woman said she swam to shore and reached refugees and children after she was tossed overboard near the Thai coast from the pirate ship, whose captain kept her in his cabin and raped her repeatedly.

It was the second time in a week lone survivors of attacks at sea have reached Thailand.

A 16-year-old boy, Nguyen Van Phouc, survived three days on the open sea after his refugee boat — also with 100 people aboard — was purposely rammed and sank by a Thai fishing trawler that made no attempt to pick up survivors.

Diplomats familiar with the cases said the two incidents were separate.

"There is just an awful lot of this going on," said one source. "It's just a slaughter out there right now."

The woman said the boat carrying her and about 100 other men, women and children was rammed in the South China Sea last month by a large Thai fishing trawler.

She said more than 60 people drowned immediately, many of them trapped in the hold of the small Vietnamese fishing boat.

The armed pirates then dragged some survivors from the water.

Women were raped and tossed overboard, she said. Men were beaten with iron bars, clubs and axes and then thrown into the sea.

The surviving woman was taken prisoner and sexually assaulted by the Thai captain until the pirate boat neared the Thai coast, where she, too, was tossed overboard.

Diplomats said they found her after she swam to shore and kept her under protection in the southern Thai town of Haadyai.

The refugees officials who fear the pirates may attempt to kill her.

"There seems no doubt she is telling the truth," said one diplomatic source. "She is very fearful."

Reports of refugees being killed and robbed by pirates have become more frequent in recent months.

Most pirate ships appear to be fishing trawlers. Police have said fishermen claim they carry weapons to protect themselves from pirates, and conviction of pirates in court is virtually unheard of.

Coast Guard Gearing Up To Contain Oil Spill

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (UPI) — The Coast Guard is preparing to move two 1,500-pound U-shaped booms off the Texas coast this weekend to catch huge pancakes of oil surging ever closer to U.S. shores from the world's largest oil spill.

Current calculations project the spill could hit beaches near Brownsville, Texas, Tuesday, with bits of oil reaching U.S. waters by Sunday.

Mexico's government oil monopoly, Petrosol Mexicano, said it will place the Coast Guard for use of the containment booms and the work of six guardmen in the battle to contain the 20,000-barrel-a-day flow of oil from its runaway Itoc 1 well in the Bay of Campeche.

Two Canadian planes hired by Pemex sent oil dispersants into the record slick Thursday and Mexican officials said if any oil hits U.S. beaches, it will be a "very small amount."

Overflights of the spill area by the Coast Guard, the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration and Navy aircraft placed the oil late Thursday from 45 miles south of Brownsville to 60-80 miles southeast of the coastal city.

A national strike force of teams from North Carolina, Mississippi and California has been mobilized to fight the slick.

Thousands of pounds of oil slick fighting equipment streamed in by truck and plane today at Coast Guard stations at Brownsville and Port Isabel, Texas, in preparation for arrival of the slick.

"It's not going to be an all-engulfing mass of black heavy oil that is going to take over everything in sight. It will be more like black streamers, patches and pancakes washing ashore spaced from each other," Roger Meacham, a spokesman for the various agencies involved, said.

Portions of the slick have, however, stained Mexican beaches about 60 miles south of Brownsville, where the slick remained Thursday.

Tourism, fishing and environmental interests are playing a waiting game in the meantime.

"There's nothing we can do but wait," said Ralph Thompson, vice president of the South Padre Island Tourist Bureau. He said business was normal on the resort island with all hotels full and nearly 700 fishermen in town for the week.

"It's kind of like a hurricane," he said. "We don't know what it might do, when it might hit, how severe it might be or if it will get here."

Shrimpers, meanwhile, put their trust in nature and prayer to prevent their industry from being wiped out by the slick.

"I think praying is going to do more good than the Coast Guard," said Carl Dayman, part-owner of Gulf Shrimp Processors in Brownsville and a 55-foot boat.

Meacham said various environmental agencies had no plans to move any more wildlife, such as the endangered brown pelican, from threatened areas and believed containment equipment easily could protect salt marshes and mangroves. Thousands of rare turtles were moved to safety earlier.

and numerous abandoned cars. Hong Kong Marine Police said early today there was no word on a boat with 400 Vietnamese refugees which reportedly was forced away from Macao, the Portuguese territory 40 miles west of Hong Kong, and was headed for Hong Kong just before the storm struck.

A Marine Police spokesman said, "If they are out to sea in that kind of boat, it will be a miracle if they have survived."

Hope, the most powerful typhoon to hit Hong Kong since Typhoon Rose which killed 130 persons in 1971, had moved over to Guangdong province in China by midnight Thursday and weakened enough to be downgraded to a tropical storm. There were no reports of casualties or damages from Chinese authorities.

Public transport which was completely halted during the height of the storm, was gradually resuming full operations today. Flights in and out of Hong Kong's international airport also were back to normal.

Hope's terrific winds tossed freighters in Hong Kong's harbor around like toys, causing 17 of them to collide with each other. One of the ocean-going vessels rammed into the Star Ferry pier, leaving a huge hole.

At least 89 fishing junks in a typhoon shelter were sunk but there were no deaths in those particular incidents. Numerous pleasure craft were also damaged.

Farmers reported thousands of dollars worth of crops destroyed and the prices of some local food products were increased today.

The fatalities in Hong Kong included a 3-year-old girl who drowned when swept off her family's fishing junk, an electrician killed by an electric cable knocked down in the storm, a 66-year-old man whose house collapsed on him and a 52-year-old woman buried alive in a landslide.

Also killed were two 70-year-old men who were drowned in a river, an elderly man struck by a flying piece of metal and a man who drowned after his sampan capsized and sank in a waterfront typhoon shelter.

Congress Prepares For Its Vacation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For some it's time to go home and mend political fences. For a handful, it's time to survey presidential chances. Some will find good reasons to travel abroad, and a few will stay in Washington and work.

But for most of the 535 members of Congress, the biennial August recess beginning today is a chance to go on vacation with their families.

The House adjourned Thursday night and the Senate planned to quit today after seven months of activity unparalleled for sluggishness in recent years — perhaps reflecting a perceived message from the voters that Washington has been doing too much lately.

Congress will return Sept. 5 to a full agenda, including consideration of President Carter's multifaceted energy package and the SALT II treaty in the Senate.

The energy package was postponed until September when the two houses failed to reach agreement on gasoline rationing and conservation, the Senate Finance Committee did not complete hearings on the windfall profits tax on oil companies, and work has barely begun on the multibillion-dollar effort to produce synthetic fuels.

The president also wants action on a bill to limit hospital cost increases, and the Senate probably will grapple in the early fall with an ethics committee report on financial misconduct charges against Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga.

The Senate did move fast in the past 10 days to confirm most of President Carter's new Cabinet appointments.

Thursday, the Senate confirmed Paul Volcker as Federal Reserve Board chairman and G. William Miller as Treasury secretary to complete action on all of the administration officials who were transferred or promoted in the reshuffle.

City Officials Arrested, Charged

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UPI) — New Britain's police chief, fire chief, and another top city official have been indicted and arrested in the wake of a grand jury investigation into alleged municipal corruption.

A police sergeant and a deputy fire chief were also taken into custody Thursday and a warrant was issued for a police captain, who has been on indefinite sick leave.

The investigation reportedly centers on the alleged sale of promotions in the police and fire departments and the alleged misuse of public property in the central Connecticut city of 80,000, about 10 miles southwest of Hartford.

Authorities said the probe was continuing, but declined to say whether further indictments would be forthcoming.

Arrested on a variety of counts were Police Chief Thomas Ormsby, Fire Chief Raymond Galati, police Detective SWI. George Sabadi, Deputy Fire Chief Robert Hackett, and Civil Service Commission Chairman Frederick Haddad.

Chief State's Attorney Austin McGuigan said a warrant also was issued for the arrest of Edward Kilduff, captain of detectives. He said arrangements for his surrender were being made with Kilduff's lawyers.

Ormsby was charged with one count of perjury, Hartford Superior Court Judge Brian O'Neill released him on a written promise to appear in court next Tuesday, eliminating a $3,000 bond set earlier by Superior Court Judge John Wrennan. No plea was entered.

The other four were all arraigned earlier in the day in New Britain Superior Court. Judge Joseph Adorno transferred their cases to Hartford Superior Court pending Tuesday hearings and maintained bonds set by Brennan earlier in the day. No pleas were entered and all were later released after posting bail.

Galati was charged with 21 counts of extortion, attempted extortion, conspiracy to commit extortion, bribery, forgery, and conspiracy to commit bribery and forgery. His bond was set at $15,000.

Sabadi, who lives in Southington, was charged with seven counts of bribery, forgery, and conspiracy to commit bribery and forgery. His bond was set at $5,000.

Hackett was charged with five counts of extortion, conspiracy to commit extortion, bribery, forgery, and conspiracy to commit bribery and forgery. His bond was set at $2,000.

Haddad was arrested on five counts of conspiracy to commit bribery and forgery, and conspiracy to commit bribery and forgery. His bond was set at $5,000.

McGuigan said the latest report released by former Chief Justice Howard Alcorn, who is serving as a one-man grand juror in the case, was not the final report. He said the investigation was continuing and he anticipated Alcorn will be presented evidence "for some time."

McGuigan would not comment on whether there will be additional warrants issued.

The arrests Thursday were made following an investigation by state police, the Special Investigations Unit of the chief state's attorney's office and the grand juror.

 Famed World War II correspondent Ernie Pyle and actress Dolores del Rio were born on Aug. 3 — he in 1900 and she in 1905.
 On this day in history:
 In 1492, Christopher Columbus set sail from Spain for the "New World" with a convoy of three small ships — the Santa Maria, the Nina and the Pinta — and fewer than 100 men.
 In 1914, Germany declared war on France. The following day Britain declared war on Germany and World War I was under way.
 In 1958, the American nuclear submarine "Nautilus" completed the first voyage under the North Pole.
 In 1975, a chartered airliner carrying workers from France crashed in a thick fog in southern Morocco, killing all 129 people aboard.
 A thought for the day: Ernie Pyle was one of America's best read correspondents during World War II. A battlefield example of his style, "If you go long enough without a bath even the fleas will let you alone."

Here's Johnny In Burbank

Late night TV-watchers across the land know about "Beautiful downtown Burbank" from Johnny Carson. For years Carson has made the Los Angeles suburb — home of his "Tonight Show" studio — the butt of jokes such as "Burbank leads the United States in the number of squirrel suicides," or "Burbank Airport has 94 departures a day — and no arrivals."
 To show there's no hard feelings, guess whose beaming face adorns the cover of the latest Burbank telephone directory. That's right. Hey-ooo.

Now They Tell Me

Entertainer John Davidson says he's learned more about buffalo since his encounter with a ton of poeved bison two weeks ago. Davidson is still under a doctor's care for rib injuries and a gashed leg, received when a buffalo tossed him on Santa Catalina Island, just off the Southern California coast.
 Fellow singer Kenny Rogers sent Davidson a stuffed buffalo head. Davidson's former agent, Ken Kragen, sent a book on bison, which Davidson read. The book taught him, he said, that "You just can't play tag with a buffalo. They're very dangerous."

Flash Meant Something Else

An unexpected character shows up in the Buck Rogers film being made by NBC TV. Gil Gerardo, playing the spaceman of the 25th century familiar to readers of Sunday comics of the 1930s, is aided by an aged rocket ship pilot. "Good shooting," says Gerard-Rogers. "I was doing this before you were born," snaps the old timer, identified as "Brigadier Gordon."
 And so he was. That's Buster Crabbe, who 40 years ago played both Buck Rogers and that other space hero, Flash Gordon, in serials. Crabbe, now 71, said Thursday was the first time he had been on Universal Studios' lot since he last played Gordon — in 1940. As Gordon explains to that whippersnapper Rogers in one scene: "I come from another era."

Nixon Taxes

Richard Nixon's few visitors at his San Clemente estate are usually prominent persons he knows as president. But earlier this week, he played host to a group of 21 teen-agers and six adults from a Denver-based summer camp.
 He "was very friendly," one guest said, even scratching several campers with a 2,500-year-old jade back scratcher given him by China. He also discussed his plans to move to the East Coast, said Glenn Wallace, a child psychiatrist on the "America's Adventure" camp staff. "He told us he was concerned about the high taxes in New York and that he might move to Connecticut."

Father Works

Singer Melissa Manchester got her start in music from her father and is paying back the debt. Her first exposure to music was at the Metropolitan Opera in New York, where father David was a bassoonist.
 Now, where Melissa sings, daddy plays, even though anti-nuclear rock music benefits in Hollywood, one of his last outings, are a change of pace from the Met.

Quote of the Day

Jesse Bishop, convicted murderer, on his decision not to resist execution this month in Nevada: "If you plan on being a robber, you must accept this as an occupational hazard... It will be one of the most unpleasant events of my life, but I'll cope with it."

Glimpses

Camille Weicker, wife of Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., gave birth in Washington, D.C., Thursday to a son, to be named Lowell P. Weicker III. — The fire that burned off the roof of the 10-room San Marino, Calif., mansion of Dennis J. Tanfill, chairman of the board of 20th Century-Fox, apparently was ignited by a rocket fired by his son, fire department officials said.

Now You Know

The deadliest typhoon on record was Typhoon Vera. It ravaged Kosho Island, Japan, on Sept. 26-27, 1959 claiming 4,466 lives.

Wicks Worrying Ahead About Heating for Poor

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — With hot weather being the most frequently discussed topic these days, it is difficult to think about heating one's home.
 But, that subject is very much on the mind of Diane Wicks, who wants to make sure all town residents will be able to obtain heating fuel through the winter months.
 Ms. Wicks, director of human services, has scheduled a meeting next week to discuss home heating problems that are expected this winter for elderly and low-income residents.
 Representatives of town governments and local service organizations have been invited to the meeting, which will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Municipal Building.
 This winter is expected to be accompanied by large increases in the cost of home heating fuel.

If this cost increase is coupled with bitterly cold weather, it could be difficult for many persons to pay their heating bills. But, the problem is intensified for those persons living on low-income or fixed-income budgets, such as the poor and elderly.
 The town hopes to establish some type of contingency program so that all such persons receive heating oil during the cold winter months, Ms. Wicks said.
 "We want to see what alternatives we can offer to people," she said.
 She expects an increase in the number of persons seeking assistance to pay heating bills this winter.
 The town participated in an energy assistance program last year that helped residents pay bills if they met the program's financial requirements.
 It will take part in that program again this year, but even that is not enough to meet some needs.
 "People would come in with $600

Fitzpatrick Named To Building Post

MANCHESTER — James Fitzpatrick of 215 Briarwood Drive has been promoted to assistant chief building inspector for the town.
 Fitzpatrick, who has been with the Building Department since June 1974, will fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Al Hayber.
 Born and raised in Manchester, Fitzpatrick attended local schools and graduated from Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School. He also is a graduate of Central Connecticut State College.
 Since joining the Building Department, he also has continued his education in construction by enrolling in correspondence courses and by attending seminars.
 He has served for the past two years as vice president of the Connecticut Municipal Electrical Inspectors Association. He also is a member of the Building Official's Association of Connecticut and the local chapter of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors.
 In January, he received his state certification as a building official.
 He and his wife, Frances, have two children — James, 8, and Jennifer, 5.

Joyner Reviews Year As Freshman Lawmaker

MANCHESTER — Rep. Walter Joyner, R-12th District, has submitted a review of his first year in the state Legislature—a session that had topics ranging from abortion to the requirements for non-smoking sections in restaurants.
 The abortion issue was one of the toughest of the entire session and will remain in upcoming sessions, the Manchester legislator said.
 Regulations were established this year for abortion clinics.
 This review also listed a number of other bills passed during the session, including ones prohibiting discrimination of pregnant women working in hazardous occupations and another requiring simpler language for sales and insurance contracts.
 "This year's budget, at 5.5 percent increase, represented a reasonable attempt to keep the spending level down," Joyner said. But, state spending has increased by more than 20 percent in the past two years, he said.
 He said Republicans were disappointed at the failure of a proposal to increase allocations to the state's community colleges.
 Joyner also said the formation of the state's Department of Housing should improve the housing situation. Also, non-smokers who visit a restaurant that seats 75 or more persons will be guaranteed a non-smoking section for dining.
 The paisley motif no longer will have to worry about the use of decompression chambers, which were banned as a method of disposing of unwanted animals.
 Joyner's three-page report also discusses some of the bills he supported, including an unsuccessful one to increase the state's minimum wage to $2.50 an hour, and some of those backed by the Republicans and passed.

Reforms Suggested For Senate at Rham

HEBRON — Last May, the Student Faculty Senate of Rham authorized formation of a Special Investigative Committee to review the nature, function and structure of the student government at the high school. The committee, under the chairmanship of faculty member Ronald P. Ouellette and Barry MacLachlan, a sophomore from Marlborough, has proposed broad sweeping changes in format and policy of the Senate. The Senate was formed five years ago and the students and staff felt a health re-evaluation of the organization was warranted at this time.
 A major area of concern for the committee was the level of involvement of students and faculty in the Senate and the general political awareness of both groups. The committee, after making changes and suggesting new policies which must be approved in the fall by the entire senior high school, has formulated a special Summer Leadership Training Workshop. The workshop, which any senior high student may register for, will be held in mid-August at the Windham Tolland 4-H Camp in Pomfret and will stress areas such as: leadership development, interpersonal communications, verbal skills, role playing, group dynamics, Parliamentary procedures and the history of student government at Rham.
 Rham is one of a few schools in Connecticut that has the Senate form of government as opposed to the traditional student council format. The conference lasts for three days. Transportation will be provided. Students interested in serving on the Senate in September would like to attend the workshop are asked to contact Mr. Ouellette in Columbia, Connecticut, 06027. Registration deadline is Aug. 10. Forms may be obtained in the Rham office.

Paisley shirts, neckties of jade and moonstone, handcrafted goods and a unique shawl woven from the soft feathers of birds were but a few of the exciting fashions, Tehmina Khan, designer from Islamabad, Pakistan, showed during a recent visit to Manchester.
 At the home of her hostess, Rhea Talley Stewart of Boulder Road, the attractive designer displayed many handcrafted original garments, shirts and skirts of pure cotton, Georgetown evening blouses, and gowns fit for the Governor's Ball, all items featured Amos Boutique in Islamabad.
 In the United States for a limited visit, Tehmina recently chatted with buyers in New York and Washington, D.C.
 "Last summer, I visited boutiques in McLean, Va., Washington, D.C., and Alexandria, Va. Boutique items are very popular and even some of the larger department stores have set aside a little niche just for boutique," she said.
 In Pakistan, many of her clients are wives of members of the Diplomatic Corps. "I especially enjoy it when we hold our National Day party and I can see many of the women wearing my fashions, she said.
 "People are very enthusiastic about the fabric I use. The cottons are very cool. In my boutique, we even make silk flowers to match the gowns. We also offer a 24-hour tailoring service."
 "In Islamabad, which was designated as the new capital 15 years ago, we have a party and buffet each year for more than 500 people at a local hotel and show our fashions. It's a very international gathering and one we all look forward to."
 He and his wife, Frances, have two children — James, 8, and Jennifer, 5.

Shawl made from the feathers of birds and then intricately woven with silk threads of various colors is modeled by Tehmina.

her brother, Tehmina will be in New York and Washington for a few weeks before returning to Pakistan to work on next year's collection. The much-traveled Mrs. Stewart had met Tehmina in Pakistan and invited her to visit her when she came to the United States. Those of us fortunate to meet with the charming young designer and view her fashions were delighted.

Ex-Nazis Reportedly Supervising 'Exterminations'

WASHINGTON - Are the horrors of Nazi Germany being revived in South America through an unholy alliance between right-wing totalitarian regimes and war criminals from Adolf Hitler's Third Reich? A top-secret Senate report raises this disquieting possibility.

Over the years, we have reported eyewitness accounts of the unspeakable methods of torture used by the military dictators of Latin America against political opponents and their suspected allies.

Arson Cases Probed For National Link

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Federal officials are investigating a series of suspicious fires in Connecticut as part of a nationwide arson crackdown.

Investigators from the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms are looking into several Hartford area nightclub and discotheque fires for possible connections to organized crime, special agent Charles H. Stone said Thursday.

Also under scrutiny are a shopping center fire in West Hartford, a restaurant fire in Willimantic and about 20 fires in the Stamford area, he said.

Agents are checking to see if the Hartford area restaurants might be linked through secret ownerships. Possible motives in the fires include insurance fraud and elimination of competition, Stone said, adding the investigation will probably result in indictments.

The West Hartford fire caused more than $1 million in damage to a block of stores in February. A Hartford federal grand jury has subpoenaed the stores' financial and long-distance telephone records.

Investigators say fairly sophisticated steps were taken to make it appear to be an electrical fire.

There is a chance that one of the fires, which destroyed the Shell Chateau in Willimantic July 14, didn't involve arson. Some investigators have said it might have been caused by a short circuit.

Officials are concerned about the Stamford area because an unusually high number of suspicious fires have occurred there over the past two years. Stone said agents are investigating the possibility they are connected to an arson ring.

Place in Hall of Fame Was Goal of Munson

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — He wanted to be in the Hall of Fame, to be remembered as a man who played with drive, enthusiasm and pride. He was, misunderstood, ornery, compassionate, moody — and exceptionally talented.

If you watched Thurman Munson play, if you saw him consistently come through with the big hit when it counted and if you saw him well respected by another announcement to the quick release in the game, then you appreciated him for the quality player he was.

Munson, a seven-time All Star and captain of the New York Yankees, died Thursday afternoon when his two-engine Cessna-Citation crashed 1,000 feet short of the runway and burst into flames at Akron-Canton Airport at 4:02 EDT.

"The Hall of Fame is something I've always wanted to think about," Munson said last week. "It's something I'd really like to be remembered that way. I think I've got a chance but I'd like to have a few more good seasons."

There will be no more good seasons for the only Yankee to ever win both the Most Valuable Player and MVP awards. Munson was 32 and had played 14 years in the majors.

He was a quiet, thoughtful man who was a good person to know. He was a good friend to his teammates and a good player. He was a good person to know.

Crash Injures Five

MANCHESTER — Five Windsor residents suffered minor injuries Wednesday when the car they were riding in hit a storm drain on Chapel Road, police said.

The road runs through the western section of the Buckland Industrial Park and still is under construction. Police said the road was absent of warning signs about construction being in progress.

Richard B. Zak, 11; Michelle D. Christensen, 11; and Dori A. Christensen, 13 — suffered injuries. The car was driven by Conrad J. Rioux, 31. He is along with four passengers — Darlyn A. Rioux, 31; All had minor contusions and abrasions except Mrs. Rioux, who also had a lacerated leg, a spokeswoman for Manchester Memorial Hospital said. All five were treated at the hospital and discharged, she said.

Kessinger Resigns As Chisox Manager

CHICAGO (UPI) — Don Kessinger, whose noble experiment as a player and manager ended in his resignation as both, says he will take his time deciding what is left for him in his baseball career.

Kessinger, 37, resigned Thursday as player-manager of the Chicago White Sox, mirroring a fifth place in the American League West and in the throes of a six-game losing streak. He said he would return to Memphis to be with his family before he makes a decision.

The White Sox replaced Kessinger who was named to the unique managerial position only last October, with Tony LaRussa, 34, skipper of the Sox' AAA Iowa farm team. LaRussa was to manage the White Sox today in Toronto.

Kessinger told a news conference the resignation was his idea and he discussed it at lunch with Sox President Bill Veck. It was obvious from the team's recent performance.

"I'm going home and spend some time with my family," Kessinger said. "I'm going to think it over."

Veck confirmed the resignation was Kessinger's idea, but indicated he did not try to change his manager's mind.

"Don't feel it would be helpful to the club and to Sox fans if we'd try to shake up some of the athletes with a different management," Veck said. "I'm not sure."

"That's correct," said Kessinger. "I haven't been playing very well, and there are a whole lot of all-stars on this stage of the season."

His resignation ends an experiment which produced, at best, mixed results on both sides of the coin.

As a player, Kessinger was hitting barely over .300 for the season in spring action. And the Sox — after

NEW YORK (UPI) — The shocking news of Thurman Munson's death brought tears to the eyes of New York Yankees Manager Billy Martin and the rest of the baseball world praised the All-Star catcher as one of the game's great competitors.

Munson, 32, was killed Thursday when the Cessna Citation he purchased at the start of the summer crashed 1,000 feet short of the runway and burst into flames while he was practicing landing maneuvers near his home in Canton, Ohio.

"He was a great man," said Martin. "For his family, friends and all the people that knew and loved him, my deepest sympathy. We not only lost a great competitor but a leader and a husband and a devoted family man as well. He was a close friend. I really loved him."

"For the people who never knew him and who like him, I feel sorry for them," continued Martin, who was "crying like a baby" for hours after learning of the news, according to a team spokesman.

Philadelphia's Pete Rose, known as baseball's most aggressive player, paid tribute to Munson and his dedication to the game.

"When we watch the World Series in 1976," said Rose, who was then a member of the Cincinnati Reds, "Thurman was one of my favorite players because he played the game like me. He used to talk to you when you were at bat and he could sure make you smile. We're all going to miss him."

Yankees owner George Steinbrenner was at a loss for words when he learned of Munson's death. Munson was at the controls of the plane attempting to land at Akron-Canton Airport. Two other persons were injured and the cockpit was destroyed.

"There is very little I could say to express my feeling at this moment," said Steinbrenner. "I've lost a dear friend, a pal, and one of the greatest competitors I've ever known. We've spent many hours together talking baseball and business. He loved his family. He was a good friend to most, just about every one of us on the team. I'm going to miss him."

"I'm deeply saddened," said New York outfielder Lou Piniella. "I really don't want to believe all this. You hear about his grumpiness but I thought of him as a friendly guy with a lot of wit. He was a good friend to me. I was at my World Series ring and I know he was the cause of it all. It's a tragedy to lose a great ballplayer like him."

"I was really stunned by the whole thing," said Roy White, who played with Munson in each of the catcher's nine years with the Yankees. "I couldn't believe that it happened. I kept waiting for another announcement to come over the radio or TV that it was all just a mistake."

"It's a hard thing to believe," said Boston's Mike Torrey, a former teammate of Munson's, had vivid memories of the Yankee catcher.

"I'm very hurt," said Torrey. "When I heard it, I just kind of froze all over. He caught my two World Series games against the Dodgers. After I caught the last out of the '76 season, I remember him embracing me. I was at my World Series ring and I know he was the cause of it all. It's a tragedy to lose a great ballplayer like him."

"I was really stunned by the whole thing," said Roy White, who played with Munson in each of the catcher's nine years with the Yankees. "I couldn't believe that it happened. I kept waiting for another announcement to come over the radio or TV that it was all just a mistake."

Regrettably, there was no mistake. Munson, one of three people aboard the aircraft, was the only casualty. Co-pilot David Hall, 32, and Jerry Anderson, 31, a friend of Munson's, were both listed in fair condition at nearby hospitals with burns and bruises. Upon impact, both wings separated from fuselage and the engine caught fire.

Munson will be buried Monday morning at Sunset Hills Burial Park in Canton.

The Rev. J. Robert Coleman of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in Canton will preside over the burial. Munson, who had his pilot's license and was considering running a commercial airline one day, purchased the Cessna this summer and frequently flew home to visit his family. The No. 15, which adorned his Yankee uniform also appeared on the sides of his plane.

He won the Rookie of the Year award in 1970 and was named MVP in 1976. He batted over .300 in five of his nine seasons and was the American League's third leading hitter in 1975 with a career high .318. He also set a World Series record in 1976 for the highest average by a player on a losing team, .529.

Munson batted over .300 for three consecutive seasons before dropping to .297 last year, an average that ranked ninth in the American League. Munson, known for his fierce intensity, ranked among the top clutch hitters in the game with eight game-winning hits last season and a .303 average with men on base.

Last season Munson played with bad knees, was hit in the head by a line drive, and suffered a throat by a foul ball, but still appeared in 154 games as the Yankees won their third straight pennant, their second straight world championship. He had off-season surgery on his right shoulder.

rookie Tony Brizzolara buried an eight-inning lead for the Braves. Loser Gaylord Perry, 10-7, hurled the first 1-3 innings to move past Hoss Radtke, who had led the league in all-time innings pitched last with 4,548.

Cardinals 5, Pirates 4. Keith Hernandez stroked an RBI single to cap a four-run eighth inning lift the Cardinals past the Phillies, 7-1, New York 4-2.

Frank Taveras lined a two-out, seventh-inning double to snap a 1-1 tie, pacing New York over Philadelphia and ending the Phillies' four-game winning streak. In the opener, Greg Luzinski drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a single to lead the Phillies.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The middle-aged woman slipped past the policemen as Willie Mays emerged from a cluster of news media representatives and stood in the path of the new Hall of Famer who had stopped en route to Cooperstown for a visit to the scene of his early triumphs at Harlem's old Polo Grounds.

"I liked you as a young man," said Mrs. Rose White, with a firm handshake. "I got six sons just like you."

Mays, turning from the astonished Mays, said to the newsman, "This man, I like him for coming through. He came from hard times. He didn't go to college. I like him because he gave his all. I liked Willie Mays and Joe DiMaggio."

Mays himself has never been able to explain the special charisma which is reflected, five years after his retirement, with his identification with both adult and young fans. That the charisma still glowed was clearly evident Thursday when Mays returned to the site of his early triumphs with the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds in the 1950s.

The Polo Grounds Housing Association — a group of high-rise, low-income apartment houses — now stands on the site and includes Willie Mays Field (an enclosed playground area with a concrete surface) where the ceremonies were conducted.

"Induction into the Hall of Fame is a single event — and it means a lot to me," said Mays. "But identification with the kids means the Willie Mays story will be repeated. One generation will tell it to the next. That's what makes it so important."

Mays was accompanied to the site of the old Polo Grounds where the New York Giants played when Willie was a rookie, by Leo Durocher, his first manager, and former teammates Bobby Thomson, Dusty Rhodes, Monte Irvin and Sal Yvars.

Windsor Blanks East Hartford Legion, 4-0

By KEVIN CASEY
Herald Correspondent

It took two nights to decide who would face Manchester in the Legion Zone 8 championship and in the end Windsor overcame East Hartford, 4-0, behind the strong four-hit pitching by Tom Sharos last night in East Hartford, to set up tonight's encounter with the Silk Throwers.

Sharos did not issue a walk, fanned six to go along with some sparkling defensive plays by his teammates. "Tom pitched a very strong game and had good control. He doesn't rattle too much and throws strikes," commented a happy Windsor coach, John Liptak.

Craig Steurnagel, who came up short to take the loss, still pitched a good game. The southpaw whiffed 13, walked 2 but did not receive any offense from his mates. Steurnagel finished the year at 5-2.

After retiring the first eight batters, all on strike outs, Steurnagel gave up a triple to Sharos. Wayne Dobrutzky followed with a blood single to bring Sharos around and gave Windsor the run it needed. "We hit the ball in the right spot today and gave us runs," voiced Liptak.

Windsor came ready to play, they played good defense, and they hustled. The best team won," spoke East Hartford coach Wally Widholm.

Windsor came up with another run in the fifth inning. Maurice Narcisse doubled and was knocked in by Sharos who collected his second hit, another double.

After Windsor scored in its third of the inning, East had a three-run lead. Matt Proctor laid down a bunt single. Ron Durier followed with a strike out to bring up pitcher Steurnagel with two outs. Steurnagel hit the ball deep in the hole to shortstop Dobrutzky and when he saw he had no chance of getting Proctor at second for the force out he rifled it over to first and got Steurnagel by a foot.

Dobrutzky also saved a possible single in the seventh inning with runners at second and third. He called off his hot trotter, Mike Anderson, and trotted around Wally Hugbue to make the catch on a tricky fly ball near the outfield grass in back of third. "If I had to do it again aging I would choose Wayne Dobrutzky for the Zone 8 all-star team. I made a bit mistake," voiced coach Liptak of his shortstop. Dobrutzky ended the playoffs with East Hartford, Windsor pitcher Dana Farrow pulled off two pickoff plays and was aided by a doubleplay in the second inning in the 2-1 tie. It seemed even when East was in scoring position Windsor would come up with the big play to end it. East finally caught up Wednesday on Dino Perucci's two-out, two-run single but could not catch up last night.

"We owed them one after all they beat us last year when we won the regular season championship and then tied us on Wednesday," said Liptak.

East ended the year at 18-8-1 overall. Windsor was led by stellar shortstop Dobrutzky who was two for four and winning pitcher Sharos who was two for three. Dobrutzky ended the year batting .534 against East Hartford. He also was first for seven with two RBIs in the playoff series.

Green, Don January, Jerry Pate, Graham Marsh, Bruce Litke, David Graham, Ben Crenshaw and Arlie McNeill were the other players named in late May, came away from Thursday's first round bursting with confidence.

A slight altering of his take-away, which he made with success during his final practice round Wednesday, got the 27-year-old, 4-under-par 66 over the challenging 70.4-yard Oakland Hills Country Club course.

It was good enough for one-shot lead over Rex Caldwell and two better than the scores shot by Jay Haas and Ron Streck, but more importantly, it helped the year's leading money winner regain some of that lost confidence.

"I've been trying to build some confidence in my swing and to do that, you have to find something mechanical," said Watson.

Claiming "it's nice to be back," he said he is now "excited about playing again."

Defending champion John Mahaffey had a 72, two-time champion Dave Stockton was in the group with 78, while 67-year-old Sam Snead, a three-time winner of the PGA, had a 73.

Frank Conner, one of those at 70, hit his second career hole-in-one. The field of 150, which is seeking a $60,000 first prize, will be cut to the low 70s and ties following today's second round.

Watson Regains Winning Touch

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI) — If Tom Watson gets any more confident, the race in the 61st PGA Championship could be for second place.

Watstrzemi will be 40 on Aug. 22 and around that time should become the first American League player to collect 3,000 hits and 400 homers.

Saddled with the tag as Ted Williams' replacement, Yaz waited nearly 15 years before sharing the super star spotlight with the two hitters.

"I never liked being the next Ted Williams. I never liked those years when everything seemed to get centered on me. Rice and Lynn coming to this team was the greatest thing that ever happened to me," he says.

And Yazstrzemi admits with all candor he might not be playing today were not the Red Sox involved in the pennant race.

"Fortunately, for the past few years, I've been able to play on a good team, a team with a chance at the pennant. If I wasn't on a pennant-contending team, I don't think I'd be playing. When you're in this kind of situation, you don't think of personal goals," he says.

The personal goals, the 400 homers and 3,000 hits, graphically illustrate his versatility as a hitter. He can hurt you with power or with finesse.

Yaz Never Finds It Hard Getting Up for Ball Game

BOSTON (UPI) — He grew up on an isolated potato farm on Long Island, a simple life in a cultural backwater compared to the frenetic world of line drives, diving catches and pennant pressure he now inhabits.

Where earlier there had been a half-decade of boos, looks of suspicion from hard-cruised New England baseball fans, there now stands a bearded folk hero, a subject of incessant idolatry.

He's nearing 40 years of age. He's closing in on 3,000 base hits to go with his 400 home runs. Carl Yazstrzemi won't stop and has no plans to do so.

He amazes the young with his age, the aged with his youth.

"I have to be proud of all my accomplishments. I've worked hard at this game all my life. I know that I won't look back when I retire and say I could have done this or that," says the Boston Red Sox outfielder, first baseman, captain and general manager.

Formal's Inn Rally Nets Softball Title

Trailing 7-4 with one inning remaining, Formal's Inn reached back for that little extra and it produced six runs and a 10-7 win last night over Windsor for the 1979 Central Connecticut Women's Fast Pitch Softball League championship at Fitzgerald Field.

Ellen Donadio's bases loaded triple in the top of the seventh keyed the late uprising.

Formal's jumped off to a 3-0 first inning lead, upped the count to 4-0 after three at bats but Windsor came alive with three runs in its half of the third and moved out front with another three-run scoring frame in the fifth. A single tally in the sixth found the invaders leading 7-4 with three outs remaining. Then the roof veed in.

Wendy Warren walked to launch the uprising. Kathy Klotzner singled up the middle and Kathy Masterson walked to load the bases to set the stage for Donadio's triple which hugged the leftfield line to knot the count at 7-7. Following a walk to Lisa Schwartz, Donadio scored what proved to be the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Rachel Rosen. Another walk and RBI hits by Dawn Pawlich and Klotzner closed out the inning.

The Inn's were outlit, 12-8, but a double walk proved to be Windsor's downfall.

Karen Kachnowski hurled the distance in winning her seventh game. She issued one base on balls and struck out six. Kachnowski's triple accounted for the first two Manchester runs and it was 3-0 when Pich closed out the inning.

Warren's leadoff triple was followed by three straight walks to give Manchester a 4-0 edge before Brad got untracked and entered the scoring column.

The Inns will compete in the Portland Invitational next week.

Names in the News

Bobby Hull
HARTFORD (UPI) — Hockey legend Bobby Hull may be playing for the National Hockey League Whalers this season.

A spokesman for the Winnipeg Jets, the team Hull is currently under contract with, was quoted as saying a deal sending Hull to the Whalers has been ironed out and only his approval is needed to complete the trade.

Hull, 41, retired last season for personal reasons but is still under contract with the Jets for the next two years.

Don Baylor
NEW YORK (UPI) — California Angels outfielder Don Baylor, the major league leader in RBI, was named American League Player of the Month for July, the league announced.

Baylor, who also captured the award in May, batted .349 in July with six doubles, a triple, and 11 home runs. He slugged at a .725 pace and set a club record of 34 RBIs.

Ken Griffey
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Knee surgery is inevitable for Cincinnati Reds' outfielder Ken Griffey. Whether the surgery will be performed in the immediate future or at the end of the season is a decision that Griffey will have to make, according to his lawyer and contract consultant Tom Reich of Pittsburgh.

An arthroscopy test was given to Griffey Wednesday by Dr. Robert Heidt, a Cincinnati orthopedic specialist at Christ Hospital, Reich said. "The tests did show that there was a wearing away of a bone in Griffey's knee that only surgery can correct. The process of corrosion has taken place over a number of years."

Shelby Jordan
FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — The New England Patriots early today came terms with tackle Shelby Jordan for an extension of his existing contract, a team spokesman said.

Terms and length of the contract with the 260-pound fifth year veteran were not disclosed, but Pats General Manager Bruce Kiffin termed the agreement "an equitable arrangement for both sides."

Arthur Ashe
NEW YORK (UPI) — Tennis star Arthur Ashe underwent diagnostic tests for a possible heart ailment Thursday at New York Hospital in Manhattan. He was reported in good condition at the hospital's intensive care unit.

His physician, who asked not to be identified, said Ashe "does not have a definite diagnosis of heart attack or any other specific heart problem. Tests are still going on." The doctor said Ashe "is feeling fine and has no pain. He is in intensive care as a purely precautionary measure. He is not receiving any unusual treatment, just the tests."

Arnold Palmer
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, dependent over virtually shooting himself out of the $50,000 PGA award to shoulder round 81, hinted Thursday he might curtail his play if he continues to shoot bad golf. "I'm not going to go out and shoot 80s very often and continue to play," he said. "That's out of the question."

Palmer, who is 51st on the tour money-winning list with earnings of only $7,643 and has not won in the United States since 1973, still gathered an army of fans as he shot a round of 41-40-81. That was 11 shots over Oakland Hills' par.

Softball Watson Regains Winning Touch

EASTERN Two out single in the bottom of the seventh inning by Phil Duff drove in the tie-breaking run last night at Mt. Notre as Dean Machine stopped Second Congo, 9-8.

Gary Richards paced the winners with three hits and Duff had a pair. Best for the Churchmen tangle was in the fifth inning. Maurice Narcisse doubled and was knocked in by Sharos who collected his second hit, another double.

After Windsor scored in its third of the inning, East had a three-run lead. Matt Proctor laid down a bunt single. Ron Durier followed with a strike out to bring up pitcher Steurnagel with two outs. Steurnagel hit the ball deep in the hole to shortstop Dobrutzky and when he saw he had no chance of getting Proctor at second for the force out he rifled it over to first and got Steurnagel by a foot.

Windsor added insurance runs in the sixth inning. Chris Maher walked and Jeff Bourdon hit off Perucci's fastball over centerfielder Mark Anderson's head and trotted around Hugbue to make the catch on a tricky fly ball near the outfield grass in back of third. "If I had to do it again aging I would choose Wayne Dobrutzky for the Zone 8 all-star team. I made a bit mistake," voiced coach Liptak of his shortstop. up Wednesday on Dino Perucci's two-out, two-run single but could not catch up last night.

Whether the surgery will be performed in the immediate future or at the end of the season is a decision that Griffey will have to make, according to his lawyer and contract consultant Tom Reich of Pittsburgh.

An arthroscopy test was given to Griffey Wednesday by Dr. Robert Heidt, a Cincinnati orthopedic specialist at Christ Hospital, Reich said. "The tests did show that there was a wearing away of a bone in Griffey's knee that only surgery can correct. The process of corrosion has taken place over a number of years."

Shelby Jordan
FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — The New England Patriots early today came terms with tackle Shelby Jordan for an extension of his existing contract, a team spokesman said.

Terms and length of the contract with the 260-pound fifth year veteran were not disclosed, but Pats General Manager Bruce Kiffin termed the agreement "an equitable arrangement for both sides."

Searchers Find Nothing In Woods at Burlington

BURLINGTON (UPI) — State police say a search by more than 1,000 town residents looking for clues in connection with the brutal murder of a 12-year-old girl last week has turned up no new leads. A volunteer searcher Wednesday found the knife in woods near where the girl's body had been discovered four days earlier. But Crowley said tests hadn't yet determined whether the knife was the murder weapon. "The bicycle's the main thing they're looking for," he said. "But they're also looking for a murder weapon. A knife was found yesterday, but it may or may not be the murder weapon." He said state police were also looking into the possibility someone had found the girl's bicycle abandoned alongside a road, taken it home and then been afraid to tell

Devine Takes Hard Look At Gaming Violations

HARTFORD (UPI) — Several fronton and dog track employees, including one Milford Jai Alai player who allegedly didn't perform up to par, were named in complaints last month, says Executive Gaming Director John Devine. He said Thursday that an employee for the gaming agency alleged the unnamed fronton player violated the "best effort" rule requiring players to perform to their maximum ability. Devine said a meeting is still pending on the matter, but that 15 other Plainfield dog track and fronton employees and those who made allegations have been called to compliance meetings since he took over as director July 1. Devine said the complaints ranged from customers who claimed they had been shortchanged at the cashiers' window to a cashier who was cited for not wearing the required badge. The increased vigilance came as nine people, including a fronton owner and four players, were indicted this summer by a Connecticut grand jury investigating alleged game-fixing at Milford Jai Alai in 1977. The nine indictments were the first made for betting corruption in the 45-year history of jai alai in the United States. "We're taking a more aggressive posture as far as compliance,"

Plane Checked

GROTON (UPI) — Federal officials are inspecting the fuselage of a twin-engine plane that crashed with three aboard while trying to make an instrument landing at Groton-New London airport earlier this week. Searchers Thursday recovered the fuselage near Pine Island, a small piece of land off Groton's Jupiter Point section, but called off their search for the body of the pilot. Groton City Police said they will decide today whether to continue
