Park Lights Vote Tabled For Bolton

BOLTON - The Board of Finance has delayed action on a request for lights for Herrick Memorial Park because of some technicalities con cerning the request.

The request for an appropriation of $1,950 to buy and install the lights was made by Gil Boisoneau, recrea-tion director. But the Finance Board said the request must come from the park director and be approved by the Board of Selectmen before it goes to the finance board for action. Because the finance board just ap-

$5,000 or more is to be approved it has to go to a town meeting. The two requests total more than the $5,000. The first appropriation was needed for labor at the town parks because the money was inadvertantly omitted from the current budget.

Boisoneau said that the 10 mercury lights currently at Herrick Memoria Park are effective for only two-thirds of the field, and one end is dark, He said that in June three poles were erected at the park and the new lights are to be installed on these poles. Boisoneau said that the lights would enable the football program to use the current unlighted space for practice and thereby save the field for regular games. He said the lights completion from Acting President Robert Miller during Monwould also allow night softball and

Rice and Lynn Waging Tight Battle To Run Away with Hitting Titles

BOSTON (UPI) - They are as devastating a one-two punch as the American League has produced in a half-century - hitters who can beat you with the long ball, the base hit or even with the great catch.

Fred Lynn and Jim Rice are waging a personal battle this season which has the Boston Red Sox tandem threatening to run away with nearly every American League hitting category.

The Boston bookends have played together for seven years, going back to their minor league days, but neither has any explanation for the ongoing tear.

"We do nothing but root for each other for the simple reason that the better we do, the better the team does," says Rice. "And that's what we're all here for,

Lynn was leading the American League in hitting with a .344 average going into Monday Lynn has 36 homers to lead the league with Rice right behind with 33. Lynn's 104 RBIs are se-cond to Don Baylor's 106. Rice is third with 100.

If they can keep up their awesome hitting in these three Triple Crown categories, they could be the first in the American League to place 1-2 in each area since Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth for the 1927 New York Yankees.

"Right now, we're as hot a twosome as you can find," says Lynn, who hits third in the batting order just before Rice. "It's pretty tough on a pitcher to face us back to back."

When they first arrived for good in Boston in 1975, the two rookies helped the Red Sox to the pennant. Lynn walked away with the postseason awards, but was pressed all season long by his teammate until Rice broke his hand late in Lynn's next three years were plagued by injuries, a contract dispute and late-season fades. Rice emerged as one of the league's most feared hitters and last year by leading the circuit in homers and RBIs, and becoming the first AL player in 41 years to hit for more than 400 total bases.

On the last Boston homestand, a 13-game set, the two hit a com-bined .440, had a slugging percentage of .990, hit 15 homers and drove in 31 runs.

What has prompted the sizzling streak is the emergence of Lynn as a power hitter. The centerfielder has always hit for average and has been productive driving in runs. But prior to this year, his season high was 22 homers.

Lynn worked hard in the offseason on a Nautilus weight program, primarily to keep him strong in the second half of the season. The result is that for the first time in his career, he is hitting the ball with authority in August.
"August has always been my worst month. But now, I feel as strong as I've ever felt," Lynn says. "My only thought this year was to stay strong in August. I'm hitting the ball harder than in 1975. I've kept up the average and now I have the power. If I knew what it was, I'd bottle it, sell it and Bo home and teach.

Lynn also is a good bet to win his third Gold Glove for defensive excellence. He has made several diving catches reminiscent of his rookie year. And Rice, whose fielding has been a question mark to some, also is coming into his own as an outfielder.

"I feel I'm a better center fielder now because I know the hitters better," Lynn says. "And Jim has come a long way in the outfield. I really don't have to worry about left field any more."

Boston Manager Don Zimmer thinks Lynn's home run total is the biggest offensive surprise of the year for the team. "I don't think I've seen anything like what they've been doing together," he

Who Was at Fault?

Catcher Gary Allenson of the Red Sox pulled a rock when he held the ball too long in a rundown play against Chicago last Sunday at Boston and the runner eventually scored what proved to be the winning run in a 3-2 decision.

But, was Allenson fully at fault? Wasn't the ball hit by Jorge Orta to Carl Yastrzemski playable at first base for a sure out and in plenty of time for a throw bome to cut down Ralph Garr who was on third heading home? If Yaz tagged first it would have been the second out of the in-

Attendance Up

NEW YORK (UPI) - At the earliest date in league history, each of the 14 American clubs has passed the 1 million mark in road attendance, it was announced Monday by league President Lee MacPhail.

"The Toronto Blue Jays at California over the weekend and the Minnesota Twins earlier in the week at Boston passed the million mark in road attendance, all of our clubs having accomplished this on the earliest date in the league's history," said MacPhail. American League attendance reached 17,652,580 through Sunday's games, a 5.8 percent increase over last year's pace.

tight race has developed between Joe and Phil Niekro to see who will become the first 20-game winner in the National League and they're pulling for each other almost harder than they are for themselves.

Joe, pitching for a pennant con-tender, notched his 17th victory in 24 decisions Monday night when he tossed a two-hitter and pitched the Houston Astros to an 8-1 victory over the New York Mets.

While Joe was in the process of snapping the Astros' four-game losing streak, Phil was leading the Atlanta Braves to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies for his 16th triumph in 32 decisions. Phil went eight innings and allowed only four BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) - Ken Landreaux of the Minnesota Twins likes it hot.

Landreaux, who drove in six runs in the Twins' 10-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox Monday night, said this is the time of year he likes best.

"All I can say is that every year right about this time I really get going. I'm a warm weather player. When it gets warmer I get stronger," said Landreaux.

"This is what you have to do against Boston," he said. "You have to get as many runs as you can and try to get their morale down, because they have such great hitters you can never be sure you've won until it's

Twins Manager Gene Mauch was especially pleased with the perfor-mance of right-hander Roger Erickson, who won his first game in Landreaux doubled in a run in the first inning, drilled a three-run homer in the sixth and added a tworun triple in the ninth. It was only the Twins' second victory in 10 games with the Red Sox this season

Erickson, 1-7, retired the first 11 batters before yielding a double to Lynn in the fourth. Lynn spoiled the utout with a single in the sixth and Jim Rice followed with another RBI

Erickson, who had a 6.37 ERA entering the game, needed relief help from Mike Marshall in the ninth when the Red Sox scored three runs.

Is Willie Mays Feuding With the Giants?

Willie Mays was not only all wrong in lambasting the San Francisco Giants at his Hall of Fame induction for not providing his old uniform (they already had given his uniform to Cooperstown), but he was a-Mays-ingly crass in his demands to the team when it wanted to stage a day in his honor this summer. First Willie demanded all the gate receipts for that day. When that was turned down, he asked for a simple $10,000 annually for the next 10 years. Result: no Willie Mays Day.

Besides, I still stand by my allegation that his hitting leats, in a completely favorable hitter's park, are symptomatic of the dilution of baseball's talents. WINDSOR LOCKS (UPI) - The last of America's original "flying bananas" has flown its final trip perhaps not on its own power, but at least by air. The 20-year-old white and orange YCH-1A helictoper was moved Monday from Westover Air Force Base in Chicopee, Mass., to Bradley Air Museum, dangling by cable from a giant Sikorsky S-64F Skycrane, another copter resembling a giant olive-green praying mantis. The older copter was hauled almost all in one piece; the only things missing were the blades. It hung gracefully from its younger counterpart in the trip across the northern Connecticut countryside.

The two-hour maneuver took about 30 minutes in the air, carried out by the state Army National Guard's sixmonth-old beavy lift 208th Transportation Co. It was an easy way for the Windsor Locks museum to get its newest

O'Keefe said he believed the copter was used by NASA for tests at Hanscom Air Force Base in Bedford, Mass. where it had been until it was flown to Westover last

The historic copter, built at a price of about $250,000 in Morton, Pa., is on permanent loan to the museum which will put it on outdoor display. Maj. Gen. John F. Freund, adjutant general of Connecticut, noted the promising future of his Skycrane unit. Connecticut has 11 of the Army's 29 largest-make

SAM Concert Rescheduled

MANCHESTER -The concert by "Foxx," sponsored by Summer Activities in Manchester, and scheduled for Saturday night at Mt. Nebo has been rescheduled. The concert will be from 8 to 11 p.m. Wednesday at Mt.

The original date was changed because of rain.

Hers Is a Sterling Silver Anniversary

DEAR ABBY: I will soon celebrate my silver wedding anniversary and consider myself the luckiest woman in the world to have been married to this wonderful man for 25 I want to express my appreciation to my husband for all his kindness and understanding, but I'm not very good with words. A friend told me that you published a beautiful tribute to your husband on your 25th wedding anniversary. Please print it again. I could use some ideas.

me on my 40th wedding anniversary, and because those words are as true today as they were 15 years ago, I repeat

July 2, 1964 Captain Easy Today is a very special day for me. It's my 25th wedding nniversary and I have this to say: I had a mother and lather who really loved each other, so I I've prayed, and my prayers have been answered, so I And I've had by my side for 25 beautiful years, the indest, gentlest, most considerate human being I've ever nown, so I know what happiness is.

DEAR ABBY: My 3-year-old son and two neighbor boys BEAR ABBY: My 3-year-old son and two neighbor boys his age were playing in our small pool in the backyard. Since I'm always within earshot when children are in the pool, I heard my son say, "Let's play like babies without any clothes!" Then they all giggled and took off their swimming trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. It was a very hot day and I saw no harm in letting trunks. hem play in the pool for a while unclothed. Suddenly an older sister of one of the boys appeared, and when she saw her brother naked she raised a big fuss. My son quickly admitted it was his idea. The girl ran home, horrified, and returned with her mother who was practically in hysterics. By that time I had already dressed her son, but the mother dragged him home screaming that he was never to play here again, and spanking him every step of the way.

Abby, is it wrong for small boys to play naked together?

Or am I raising a pervert? What do the experts say about children and nudity? CALIFORNIA MOM

DEAR MOM: The experts say that to make a big deal out of nudity tends to give children the impression that their bodies are "dirty" and something to be ashamed of. Further-more, it's normal for children to be curious about the bodies of their friends, and it's reassuring to discover that when they've seen one, they've seen 'em all.

IN TOWN, HE HAS TO PICK THIS ONE TO WAIT ON If you need help in writing letters of sympathy, con-gratulations or thank you letters, get Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for all Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132
