UTC Scholarships

HARTFORD - United Technologies has announced a $1,000 increase in the amount of college scholarship awards made to children of employees to cover tuition and other academic fees.

The company said it is raising to $3,000 from $2,000 annually the amount of support for each of four years' of full-time study leading to a bachelor's degree at an accredited college or university chosen by the recipient. The increase is effective with this fall semester, and reflects the current and future scholarship winners, and reflects the escalation in the cost of college education, the company said.

At present, there are some 167 UTC scholars entering college for the 1979-80 academic year and the process for selecting 1980 winners is about to begin. Children of all employees, who will have had two years of continuous service with the company by Nov. 1, 1979, except children of elected corporate officers, are eligible to compete for the awards.

Since the scholarship program was initiated in 1953, UTC has awarded about $2 million to employees' children.

The Almanac

By United Press International. Today is Wednesday, Sept. 19, the 262nd day of 1979 and 103 to follow. The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Venus. Those born on this date are under the sign of Virgo. Irvin Weisheimer, who founded the Big Brothers movement in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1903, was born on Sept. 19, 1879. On this date in history: In 1777, American soldiers won the first Battle of Saratoga in the Revolutionary War. In 1863, Union and Confederate soldiers met in the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., during the Civil War. The rebels won the following day. In 1881, President James Garfield died in Elberon, N.J., of gunshot wounds inflicted by a disgruntled office-seeker on July 2. In 1960, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and his staff were ousted from a New York City hotel because they had discovered phucking chickens for cooking in their rooms. The Communist delegation was in New York to attend a United Nations' meeting. A thought for the day: James A. Garfield, 20th president of the United States, said: "This great nation is too great to look for mere revenge but for the security of the future I would do everything."

Carson Will Pay To Feel at Home

When Johnny Carson goes to Framingham, Mass., for his three-night dinner theater next month, he wants to feel at home — so he's ordered an out-spelling-out requirements for the theater. He says it should be on an acre or more, within 30 minutes of the theater, have four bedrooms and three baths, "luxurious furnishings" and a tennis court. And, adds the ad, "a heated pool would be nice."

Do Not Disturb

Leonard Nimoy is fascinated with Vincent Van Gogh — but Van Gogh, it doesn't reciprocate the feeling. Nimoy says when he recently did a feature on the great French impressionist for his television series "In Search Of," he went to Paris for shots of the room in which Van Gogh died. When he entered, however, he felt the artist was disturbed — "angry at being bothered."

Role Reversal

It's not often that an actress steps into the role of an actor, but Mary Tyler Moore is up to the challenge. She'll take over the character played by Scottish actor Tom Conti in the Broadway play "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" It's the story of a paralyzed Englishman demanding to be allowed to decide for himself if he is to live or die.

High Noon

Nobody would take Sarah McKenzie for a gunslinger. She's a petite singer and fashion model, so she must have looked like easy pickings to the burglar who crept into her Los Angeles apartment and was in the act of decamping with several thousand dollars' worth of her wardrobe.

Glimpses

Jeanette C. Riley, of "Harper Valley PTA" fame, will be featured on the cover of the December issue of Saturday Evening Post in the magazine's "Salute to Christian Motherhood." Laotian Students Learn English at Nathan Hale

By LANEY ZUBOFF Herald Reporter. MANCHESTER — Last September the Nathan Hale School didn't have any Laotian students; now it has 32 who spoke little, if any, English when they arrived. Most of them are eager to learn, however, and because of a supplemental curriculum they are learning our language and acclimating themselves quite well to the school system.

Nathan Hale reading consultant Mary Ann McAdams along with Pamela Gidez, teacher of grades one and two, and Mark Sullivan, teacher of grades five and six, worked two weeks before school started in September to prepare special curriculum aides for the Laotian students. One sixth grade Laotian boy has been instrumental in helping both the other students and the teachers. His name is Nithakone Pathamavong. "His father learned English when enlisting in the armed forces for his country," said Robinson.

Regulatory Chief's Acts Need Some Regulating

By JACK ANDERSON WASHINGTON - Evidently hoping to win friends on Capitol Hill, or at least gain some badly needed expertise on Congress for his new administration, Jimmy Carter picked a staff member of the Senate Commerce Committee, Richard Daschbach, to head the Federal Maritime Commission.

The danger in such an appointment, of course, is that a savvy congressional pro, accustomed to political wheeling and dealing, will carry his old habits over to the quasi-judicial functions of the regulatory agency.

out one glaring example of such inappropriateness by Daschbach in a case involving the lease of a New Orleans port facility. According to the memo, Daschbach expressed displeasure with a memorandum from the commission's general counsel on the New Orleans case, saying it had "caused him great personal problems."

Officials familiar with Daschbach's style suggest that his experience on Capitol Hill - where political clout and mutual back-scratching are the order of the day - rendered him unskilled to the subtle exercise of authority on a federal commission.

A Papal Journey Catholic Church Alive and Well

By DAVID E. ANDERSON WASHINGTON (UPI) - Pope John Paul II's trip to the United States will introduce him to a Roman Catholic Church wracked by the reforms of Vatican II but which many believe has turned the corner toward a new prosperity and energy.

And the early national period of the United States that the basic pattern of the church was set. "The Revolution transformed the church's legal and psychological situation to such an extent that Roman Catholics could participate with few legal restrictions in a free democratic society such as the world had never seen," writes the religious historian Sydney Ahlstrom in his classic "A Religious History of the American People."

The church reforms restated by some at the beginning are taking hold," Ely said. "By comparison with other denominations our churches are filled."

Library Expands Programs

MANCHESTER—Some libraries in the state are evolving from a book-lending place to a community center. The Whiton Memorial Library on North Main Street is no exception. The library will host a series of events this fall for the citizens. "We've never done much programming before," said Shirley Sarkis, program director for the Manchester public libraries. "We'll try to do a weekly program. We'll have three live events and a film series."

The fall programming begins Thursday night with a lecture and demonstration from Julia Hays of Coventry, who specializes in French cuisine. She and Gerry Hardy, authors of "Fifty Hikes in Connecticut," will discuss their hiking experiences Sept. 27 at the library. On Oct. 3, attorney Robert Bietzman will speak on UFO's, Mrs. Sarkis said.

Other events include three comedies, all starting at 7 p.m., and then afterwards, two episodes each week of Civilization. The program on western culture and art ran on the services program and urging residents to call Professional when they need emergency ambulance service.

The state Office of Emergency Medical Services later ruled the advertising campaign violated state EMS regulations. OEMS threatened to take legal action if Professional continued the campaign. The letter campaign resulted in 219 requests for services for Professional in the past 40 days, Kagan said.

Kagan said he is stepping up the advertising campaign. He said he is considering placing ads on billboards.

Connally Clambake FAIRFIELD (UPI) — Former Texas Gov. John Connally will be in Connecticut later this month for a $100 per person clam bake and barbecue to benefit his presidential campaign committee.

The 5-p.m. clam bake will be Sept. 29 at the Fairfield home of Harry Seggerman.

Blackstone Says Patients Unable to Pick Ambulance

By CHRIS BLAKE Herald Reporter EAST HARTFORD — In about 90 percent of emergency medical cases requiring ambulance service, the patient does not have the opportunity to exercise the right to choose an ambulance firm, Mayor Richard H. Blackstone said last week. Blackstone made the comment in response to a threat from Harvey Kagan, president of Professional Ambulance. Kagan said last week he was considering suing the town because he claims the town's paramedics automatically call Manchester Ambulance, the town's designated carrier, in emergency cases. Kagan said this violates the patient's civil right to choose whichever ambulance the patient wants.

"I'm sure Mr. Kagan's lawyer appreciates his naivness; it makes him an excellent client," Blackstone said last week.

However, Blackstone said the medics often cannot ask the patient which ambulance the patient would prefer because the patient is often in no condition to exercise any options. "Our function, which he loses track of, is to save a life and get the patient to a hospital," Blackstone said. "He may conclude that's a violation of civil rights, but no one else will," he said.

Moreover, patients do have the right to exercise their option to choose another ambulance if they do not wish to ride a Manchester ambulance. In 1976, the state ordered the town to choose a designated carrier for patients requiring hospital treatment. The town chose Manchester Ambulance over Professional, sparking a lawsuit by Kagan against the town. A Superior Court judge upheld the town's right to choose Manchester last year.

In July, Kagan sent out 20,000 letters to residents and businesses criticizing Blackstone's management of the town's Emergency Medical

Favor Likely For New Pact

NEW BRITAIN (UPI) — Union officials predict 3,300 striking Fafnir Bearing Co. production workers will overwhelmingly accept a tentative three-year agreement today and end their 12-week walkout. The United Auto Workers Local 133 members, who struck Fafnir's New Britain and Newington ball bearing plants April 23, were scheduled to vote on the tentative pact at a membership rally today.

Union leaders said they would recommend full acceptance of the agreement, which was hammered out last Friday during an intense bargaining session in state Labor Commissioner P. Joseph Peraro's office. Details of the settlement have not been released, but UAW local president Bernard McInnon said it was "the best in the history of organized labor in the city."

"There is enough equity there that everyone will be able to accept it and to live with it. During the life of the agreement, it will more than make up for the loss of wages" incurred during the strike, McInnon said. Meanwhile, negotiators for Fafnir and union representing 187 striking skilled tradesmen continued talking Tuesday in an attempt to reach a settlement. The tradesmen, represented by the International Association of Machinists, walked off the job April 25.

Fewer Jobless in Area

HARTFORD — Unemployment in the Hartford area declined in July to 4.5 percent from 4.9 percent in June, and six of seven area towns followed suit, the state Labor Department announced Tuesday. The unemployment rate in Coventry was 4.6 percent, which was an increase from the 4.4 percent mark in June. However, all other area towns showed decreases. Andover had the biggest decline when its rate dipped from 5.3 percent in June to 4.5 percent in July. A Labor Department spokesman said it was the lowest unemployment rate for Andover this year. Bolton's rate declined from 4.3 percent to 3.7 percent, the second lowest rate for the town this year.

Other towns showing decreases were East Hartford, 4.7 from 4.8 percent; Glastonbury, 3.3 from 3.8 percent; Manchester, 4.3 from 4.9 percent; and South Windsor, 3.4 from 4.1 percent. In Manchester, unemployment declined by 1,183 workers and employment reached 26,202. For the Hartford area, the Labor Department said, unemployment declined by 1,800 workers in July, reflecting in part the acquisition of jobs by recent college graduates and summer workers. The jobless rate was equal to that of a year ago and below the state's 5.4 percent rate. It was also below the national unemployment rate of 5.8 percent.

Oil Charge Plan Coming

HARTFORD (UPI) — A group of 300 independent fuel oil dealers and Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. are working on a proposal to let customers say "charge it" when home heating oil bills arrive this winter. Dorothy Rhodes of the Independent Connecticut Petroleum Association said Tuesday that under the proposed plan, a CBT charge customer's current credit limits would apply to oil bills. She added that a relatively low credit limit, such as $300, "wouldn't go very far with today's fuel bills."

Historically, banks have not allowed credit cards to be used for necessities such as groceries, rent and heating oil but have now begun to explore alternatives due to soaring fuel costs. The New England Fuel Institute, an organization of independent fuel oil dealers, has said it reached a tentative agreement with Chase Manhattan Bank of New York to set up a charge account system. The institute's board of directors was expected to vote on the plan this week in Boston. In a related matter, Hartford officials said Tuesday at least 2,500 housing units in the city are likely to experience heating problems this winter unless substantially more federal or state fuel aid becomes available.

Bolton Cruiser Ready Except for Its Radio

BOLTON — The town's first police cruiser will be on the road patrolling as soon as a radio is installed in it. The radio will be hooked up to Troop K of the Colchester State Police. For the initial patrols two men will be on duty until they get used to the equipment and patrolling. Currently there is no place to house the vehicle. First Selectman Henry Ryba said he writes to the Board of Education asking use of the garage at the elementary school where "only junk is stored." Ryba said he never received a written answer but was told verbally "no way."

Park Still Not Accepted Selectman Douglas Cheney told the board that he doesn't yet know when Indian Natch Park will be completed. Cheney, who also is a member of the Public Building Commission, said the town owes contractor $8,000 but it won't be paid until the work is done. He said, "Windham Sand and Stone Inc. has very little work left to do so you would think he would do it so he can get his money."

Cheney said the contractor wrote a letter saying he would complete the work but "I haven't seen any action yet."

Funds Available Larry Steinhilber, coordinator of the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program will attend a special meeting of the board Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Community Hall. Steinhilber will explain the requirements of the program and advise the board as to what it can do. Bolton is eligible for about $10,000 under Title I programs and $10,000 under Title VI. In other business, at its meeting Tuesday, the board:

Dam Called Unsafe

The rods that connect the old dam with the concrete cap installed on the dam in 1970. The Corps was concerned about possible erosion. The Corps said the badly damaged gatehouse sitting on the dam should be barred from trespassing as it is dangerous. The report said the right sluice gate must be fixed. Giles said the town is already working on this. The waste gate at the dam's bottom must be maintained so it can be easily operated to empty the pond completely of mud and silt.

Giles said "whatever it is going to cost we are going to have to ask the Board of Directors for an addition to the budget. We can handle minor things within the budget but some of these recommendations require expensive work."

The report said in the interim between permanent corrections to the dam and the current status of the dam, a detailed emergency operation plan and warning system should be developed. During periods of unusually heavy precipitation, round-the-clock surveillance should be provided.

Giles said the public works department and the department of civil defense will develop an emergency plan. He said in the event of heavy precipitation the highway department will make hourly checks on the dam.

Vernon Holdups Probed

VERNON - Police are investigating two robberies that took place within a short time each other Tuesday night and police said they believe they were committed by the same person.

The first incident happened at the Mt. Vernon Dairy Store on Route 83 at about 5:28 p. m. Police said they were told that a white male walked into the store, bought a pack of cigarettes and then demanded the rest of the money in the cash register. Took the money and left the store.

At about 6:15 p. m. police said it is believed that the same person went to the Grove Street Mobile Service station at Grove and East Main streets, again bought a pack of cigarettes, demanded the money from the register, and left.

Police said in neither case was a weapon shown and it is not known whether a vehicle was used. An undetermined amount of cash was taken in both cases.

The alleged robber was described as being a white male, 20 to 25 years of age, about five-foot 10 to 11 inches tall, with long brown hair and a mustache. At the time he was said to be dressed in a plaid shirt, jeans and wearing a blue bandana on his head.

Man Held in Burglary

MANCHESTER - Police arrested a 26-year-old Hartford man in connection with an early morning burglary Tuesday at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 60 Church St.

Donald S. Tilson was charged with third degree larceny and third degree burglary, police said. A record player and some lawn trimming equipment were taken from the church.

Tilson was released on bond and ordered to appear in East Hartford Superior Court Oct. 1.

Burglars forced their way into an upstairs Pearl Street apartment and took a man's brown leather jacket and some books early this morning, police said.

In an unrelated case, another burglary was reported Tuesday at a Keeney St. residence. Thieves took a stereo system valued at $650, including two speakers, a turntable and cassette tape deck. There was no sign of forced entry, police said.

Both incidents are under investigation.

I-86 Section To Open

HARTFORD - State Transportation Commissioner Arthur B. Powers announced today that the eastbound section of Interstate 86 in Vernon and Tolland will be opened to traffic on its entirety tomorrow.

Motors will use the present crossover ramp in the Dobson Road area and continue eastbound to the project's easterly limit where a second crossover ramp east of Exit 99 in Tolland will allow the motorists to revert onto the adjoining projects' eastbound Interstate 86 travel lanes. Along with this move, all Interstate 86 eastbound exit and entrance ramps will also be opened.

The section of Interstate 86 to be opened was undertaken by Savin Brothers of Newington, and is part of the total reconstruction project being performed in the towns of Vernon, Tolland and Willington at a cost of $24,390,000.

Hospital Charges Agency Broke Open Meeting Law

By LANEY ZUBOFF
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - Manchester Memorial Hospital Tuesday filed a complaint with the state Freedom of Information Commission charging the State Commission on Hospitals and Health Care with illegal practices.

Paul Knag, the hospital's counsel, of Cummings and Lockwood Law Associates in Hartford, said the commission held closed executive sessions in violation of the state Freedom of Information law and failed to give proper notice of health care commission meetings. He said the Connecticut Hospital Association has joined Manchester in the complaint.

Marmen, who has said repeatedly the hospital cannot operate properly with the budget cut, said hospital officials have not met formally to discuss alterations in the hospital's operation should they have to implement the cut.

"We would have to eliminate a major service, such as mental health, or several minor services. Or we could shrink the entire system and make the whole hospital smaller by cutting out a floor or reducing surgery. Another option," said Marmen, "is to reduce the quality of health care and arbitrarily take off one RN from each patient every shift. That is an option that won't receive much support," Marmen said.

Marmen said the hospital is having its efficiency "penalized." "The fact that the Willimantic Hospital's average semi-private room rate per day is $125 and ours is $98 is proof," said Marmen.

The $2.2 million requested by the hospital would increase patient rates by 8.8 percent.

Marmen said the FOI commission should hear their complaint and act on it before the new budget is to take effect Oct. 1, but the hospital hasn't yet received a hearing schedule.

Panel Opposes Extension Of Action Plan Deadline

By LAUREN DAVIS SHEA
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - Reversing an earlier stand, the Human Relations Commission decided Tuesday night to oppose an extension of the deadline for meeting the goals of the town's Affirmative Action Plan. In other action the commission explored methods to help the personnel department recruit minority candidates for town positions.

Initially, affirmative action goals were set to take place in 1982, with more complete action taking place in 1987. When this plan was sent to the Board of Directors, it was not approved. The Human Relations Commission, in an effort to win approval of the goals and timetables from the board, moved the timetable back. This too failed to win approval from the board.

At last evening's meeting, the commission decided to stick to the initial proposal. Said member Mary Ann Roy, "An affirmative action can only be achieved by the combination of setting fairly ambitious goals, and aggressively recruiting minority candidates at a time acceptable to the board. Because the board did not approve even after we moved the dates back, our commission decided to return to the initial plan."

Gundersen said, "We decided we would be optimistic, and if we err because the early goal's probability of success is low then we can opt for the date of optimism concerning affirmative action."

Said Commission member Frank Livingstone, who dissented from the majority decision said, "We are setting goals we just are not going to reach. If we had floods of candidates it would be different, but we do not have the source to supply the town's needs."

Replied member Carl Chadburn, "I would rather determine why we have not met the goals in the past, rather than changing the goals."

In discussion to determine why the goals have not been met, four issues were found to be the crux of the matter: Transportation, low salaries, delays in the hiring process, and the availability of low income housing in town.

Member Mary Ann Roy presented a report on the transportation issue. She said she had spoken with seven agencies and many people in each agency. "The problem of moving people from Hartford to Manchester, is a problem. There are buses. Van pooling is an idea. The problem is getting people to want to travel the necessary distance, since commuting makes the workday longer."

Personnel Director Steve Werber said, "Many unskilled beginning jobs require second and third shift work." Roy said the buses would only work on an 8:30-4:30 basis. This would effectively deny jobs to those who ride the bus in the police, fire and sewage treatment areas, since these jobs require shift work.

Werber said there is also a problem with interviewing, since applicants must make two or three trips to obtain a job.

Members Chadburn and Roy suggested opening a satellite interviewing location, perhaps in the Urban League.

Werber said that had not been tried. He added, "The Urban League discourages this because if a person wants a job badly enough they should be able to deal with the transportation hassles of interviews."

Three Sought in Holdup

MANCHESTER - Police are searching for three black males believed to have taken $106.60 from Little Dave's Sanoce, 18 McNally St., Tuesday night.

According to police, a 17-year-old gas station attendant said the three pulled into the station in a sky blue foreign car and asked her to check the oil.

The suspects fled westbound on Interstate 86, police said.

One asked her where the men's room was, police said, and he apparently swiped the money from the cash box while the attendant was occupied.

The attendant told police she suspects were nearly out of sight when she discovered the unbolled door to the service area and the empty cash box.

Vernon Man Indicted

PUTNAM (UPI) - A Vernon man serving a prison sentence for setting fire to a state courthouse has been indicted on murder charges in the shotgun death of a man believed to have also been involved with the fire.

The indictment against Wayne B. Alexander, 24, of Rockville, was returned this week by an 18-member grand jury in Windham County Superior Court. Alexander will now stand trial for the slaying of Vern. Cook, 19, also of Rockville, whose body was found March 22 off Interstate 86 in Hartford.

Alexander is serving a prison term on arson and burglary charges for the July 23 fire which damaged the Tolland County Courthouse in Rockville, a section of Vernon. Police believe Cook also was involved in the crime.

'Sue Attack' Paces Win

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Reporter

Some would call it a "Sue Attack."

Conard is defending state Class LL champ and was, along with Manchester, tabbed a favorite in the CCLL.

"The feeling is unbelievable," expressed Manchester Coach Phil Blanchette. "It took four years but we finally got it." He spoke of the win over the three.

The three Sues came through. The whole team came through. (Betty) Shotton was a surprise but there were surprises all over the place. I was surprised he was my place in the top 10," Blanchette added.

Manchester took seven of the top 10 places and 10 of the top 15 placements.

Green, a sophomore as is Donnelly, took individual honors with a 17:38 clocking over the 2.5 mile layout. Conard's Jenny Little warded off Donnelly to take second place. Both were caught in 17:11.

Conard's Nancy Hungerford and Lynn Carlson were sandwiched around Conaette, who took fifth place with a time of 17:39, but the next five positions were locked up by Silk Town's barriers. Senior Lynne Wright led the local chorus line followed by Sheldon, a senior who was on the swimming team the past two years. Karen Scott, Pat Adams and Jeanine Murphy.

"Conard has to be the toughest team we'll face all year. The strategy was to go out as hard and as long as you could. You can't ever let up against Conard," Blanchette stated.

"I'm real happy for Phil," voiced Tribe boys' Coach George Saitor. "He has a couple of tough races coming up in the CCLL but he's in the driver's seat."

"You never feel secure in the CCLL," Blanchette looked down the road a bit. "Some teams have a stab at us. But we have the depth this year and we proved that today."

"It wasn't a case that they (Conard) lost a lot from last year but rather we gained," Conaette cited.

Results: 1. Green (M) 17:08 for 2.5 miles, 2. Little (C), 3. Donnelly (M), 4. Hungerford (C), 5. Conaette (M), 6. Carlson (C), 7. Wright (M), 8. Sheldon (M), 9. Karen Scott (M), 10. Adams (M).

Bolton on Map

Bolton is on the map thanks to the Hartford Whalers of the National Hockey League who selected the Bolton Ice Palace as its home pre-season training home.

Every story out of Bolton placed on the wire services carries the Bolton point of origin as the Whalers prep for their first NHL campaign.

The Whalers have been a "life-saver" for the Palace injecting new life into the complex and drawing thousands of hockey buffs to the area to see the pre practice. For many, it's their first trip to the Ice Palace.

The top attraction with the Whalers is the 51-year-old Gordie Howe, the all-time great who may finally decide to hang up his stick due to periods of dizziness.

The ageless veteran, only a shell of his former self with the Whalers in the WHA last season, is still the biggest public relations investment the club ever made.

Howe is never too busy to meet the public, exchange pleasantries or to sign his autograph.

While Howe's decision is up to the Ice regarding his playing status, he took part in workouts Monday and Tuesday at Bolton.

Tribe Field Hockey Team in Deadlock

Facing its second of three tough foes in succession, the Manchester High girls' field hockey team battled defending CCLL champ Simsbury High to a 0-0 stalemate yesterday at the Indians' field.

A year ago Manchester and Simsbury battled to a pair of regular season ties with the Trojans taking a 2-0 duke in tournament action.

Both teams came ready to play but the Silk Towners looked flat in the opening half, reported Tribe Coach Mary Faignant. Not until near the intermission break did the locals start exerting some offensive pressure.

Simsbury hammered at the Manchester goal the first half but sophomore keeper Wendy Felletier had the answer and turned all balls aside. The Trojans appeared to have a goal early but it was nullified by an offside.

The Indians played better offensively the second half, and appeared

MCC Soccer Team Opens

Getting off the mark today under second year coach, former pro player, John Fitzgerald, Manchester Community College's soccer team hosted the Southern Connecticut Jayvees at Cougar Field.

Last year the Cougars suffered their second losing campaign in 19 years with a 3-11 record.

"Last year, I didn't have the opportunity to recruit players and we were really inexperienced. This season we will have many more players with experience, and we should be much more competitive. I feel that our front line will be strong," Fitzgerald said.

Looking at the roster, one sees former Tolland High All-Star Dave Skowronek, and 1979 all-league selections, Al Costa of Glastonbury and Bobbie Kruek of Ellington. They should anchor a front line that features speed and skills. Two exchange students, Jorge Fernandes of Brazil and Emmanuel Gaiacos of France, have also impressed Fitzgerald.

Parker, Stargell Pace Pittsburgh

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Parker and Willie Stargell are the National League's answer to Starksy and Hutch. If one doesn't get you, the other one will.

The dynamic duo of the Pittsburgh Pirates showing the young Montreal Expos exactly how earned reputations.

Parker beat the Expos with a pair of run-scoring singles Monday night and Stargell was the hero Tuesday night. He belted a two-run homer in the 11th inning to end the rain-soaked marathon and give the Pirates a key 4-2 triumph over Montreal.

The victory, which came after a pair of rain delays totaling three hours and three minutes, boosted the Pirates' lead over the Expos in the NL East to two games.

Pirates' Manager Chuck Tanner was cheered by the fact that Stargell did it.

"Stargell has come through for so many times, but to see him do it the way he did, it tonight really gives us a hit," he said.

The game was played under protest by Montreal Manager Dick Williams, who argued that after the first rain delay the umpires started the game while it was still raining.

However, he would not blame the bad weather for his team's failure to win.

"We are having trouble hitting runners along and that has been hurting us in the key games. But the race is far from over."

Elsewhere in the NL, San Diego blanked Houston, 4-0. San Francisco topped Cincinnati, 3-1. Chicago swept a double-header with New York, 2-0 and 2-1, in 11 innings. Philadelphia nipped St. Louis, 5-3, in 10 innings.

Angelos Win, Boost Lead

NEW YORK (UPI) — The California Angels took advantage of first-inning wildness by Kansas City's Rich Gale Tuesday night to score four runs, then held on for a crucial 6-1 victory that boosted their lead in the American League West to three games over the Royals and four over Minnesota, which lost to Chicago, 1-0, in 10 innings.

"Our experience is that with a big rally that fell short, as Darrell Porter, who had doubled in a run in the seventh, singled in two more. In the Twins' game, Chicago's Ken Kravec pitched a no-hitter for seven innings, then settled for a three-hitter while Tody Bosley singled in the winner for the winning run in the 10th inning.

"We're thrilling the ball out of these people hitting foul balls," laughed the Detroit outfielder. "Leaving over the front step of the dugout, LeFlore batted to the rookie outfielder hitting in the batting cage."

"Who was that guy Babe Ruth?" "Up at the plate, 25-year-old Kirk Gibson, Michigan State's All-American flanker who passed up professional football a year ago to sign with the Tigers, kept swinging and the fans kept yelling. He straightened out his drives after awhile so some of them hit the right field fence in fair territory and some of them went over it."

"We spent a lotta time together in spring training," LeFlore said, still watching Gibson. "I think he's a great player. At first, he was a little in between baseball and football. But I think that's all settled now."

Martin Denies Latest Reports

NEW YORK (UPI) — The season is pretty much over for the New York Yankees this year, but the future of at least one player remains to be seen.

Although Yankee owner George Steinbrenner and outfielder Reggie Jackson have both alluded to the possibility of Jackson's being traded, Yankees Manager Billy Martin vehemently denied published reports that he twice demanded such a trade, according to a newspaper account published Wednesday.

Martin told a New York Daily News reporter in Cleveland Tuesday that a story claiming he had repeatedly asked General Manager Cedric Tallis to trade Jackson was an "untruth."

"Reggie has played hard for me this year," Martin added. "The manager, who has feuded with Jackson over the years, conceded that the slugger's name had been mentioned in trade possibilities. "I can't say that," he said. "I would like to improve ourselves, but I never went to George to demand that he be traded."

According to the report, Jackson refused to comment on the matter and laughed off unrelated reports that Steinbrenner said he was broke.

Indians Change Tactics in Win

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Indians changed their game plan Tuesday night.

After coming from behind to post victories with ninth inning heroics several times in the past few weeks, the Indians led wire to wire and won going away in an easy 16-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK (UPI) — The tremendous roar coming from the fans in the right field sector grabbed Ron LeFlore's attention and made him look toward home plate to see who was hitting.

LeFlore was standing in the Detroit dugout talking with Manager Sparky Anderson and the Tigers' extra men were taking batting practice.

"Once again, the fans in right field set up a volley of noise as the left-handed hitter at the plate rocketed a long drive that curved foul only a few feet from the pole."

"We're thrilling the ball out of these people hitting foul balls," laughed the Detroit outfielder. "Leaving over the front step of the dugout, LeFlore batted to the rookie outfielder hitting in the batting cage."

Sleeper of Sleepers

Mark down the name, Kirk Gibson. He's the sleeper of all sleepers.

Anderson raved. "He'll either be one of the top stars in this game or nothing. He won't be in between, that I guarantee you. Look at the size of him. Six-three and 215 pounds. You go get the fastest runners you know ... Ronnie (LeFlore) here or anybody else. I'll take Gibson and he'll stay right with them. He's a Mantle type. By that I mean, he'll strike out 150 times a year, but he'll make our ballpark in Detroit look like a sand-bag. That's how many home runs he'll hit."

Fish Parasites Harmless

Fishermen continue to be puzzled by the appearance of parasitic grubs on the skin of some of the fish they catch.

Fortunately, considerable research has been done into the problem of fish parasites in North America, and Mercury outboards' fishing department has compiled some information which should answer the questions most anglers have about fish grubs.

Heated Words on RSox Bus

TORONTO (UPI) — It's been a frustrating season for the Boston Red Sox and riding on the team bus has seen its happier days.

Boston's 15-13 loss to the high-flying Baltimore Orioles Sunday was apparently the last of a flurry of heated words as the team rode a bus from a downtown Baltimore restaurant.

Reporters traveling with the team say words were exchanged between second baseman Ted Sizemore and Manager Don Zimmerman, with Sizemore making comments about his teammates and Zimmerman.

After an uneventful flight here, he was at the point that Zimmerman called team meeting Monday night to clear the air.

Before it was over team captain Steve Niekro, who was wearing a Baltimore dinner while the wine had flowed freely, with Sizemore reportedly telling Red Sox traveling secretary Jack Rogers, "Thanks for the wine. I haven't gotten a contract, but the wine was great."

Later, Sizemore reportedly said to veteran pitcher Steve Renko, "Hey Renko, where are you going to pitch next year? Poor guy has only been there once in a month."

Sizemore reports were made about pitchers Bob Stanley and Mike Torchio also blowing some steam.

"Maybe they were," Zimmerman said. "But it's not their fault. They're going to get them to act like men and not kids."

Yastrzemski was quoted as saying: "If you can't drink, at least act like ballplayers. Accomplish something (on the ballfield) and then you can pop off."

Sizemore later telephoned Zimmerman to apologize about the whole incident.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some of the most heavily promoted jogging shoes are really "cheap imposters" which could cause injuries to persons using them, a group of running experts charged today.

Buckley Rules Out Run

HARTFORD (UPI) - Former U.S. Sen. James L. Buckley says family considerations rule out any chance of his running for the Senate in Connecticut next year.

"I'm not interested in running," Buckley said at a fundraiser in Hartford Tuesday. "I've got responsibilities and you simply can't switch your family around every few years. I've been in the Senate for six years and I know what kind of life it is."

Some Connecticut Republicans had hoped the former conservative Senator from New York would run when Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., retires in 1980.

Though he firmly rejected any speculation on a run for the Senate, Buckley admitted he had been approached by state GOP leaders asking him to become a candidate.

"An awful lot of people have brought pressure to bear," he said. "Whispers of a possible Buckley candidacy began in August when he changed his voting residence from New York to Connecticut. While maintaining an apartment in New York City, he has owned a home in Sharon, Conn., for many years."

When asked Tuesday if there were any circumstances which would change his mind, Buckley quipped, "I can't imagine any, unless I'm given the Democratic nomination."

He said he would come out to support candidates if he could help them in Connecticut races.

"If anyone feels I can be useful I'd be willing and happy to do it," Buckley said.

presidential race, saying any of a number of party members now campaigning could be elected. He declined to single out a favorite candidate.

Buckley said he attended the Tuesday evening fundraiser to support Republican candidates for municipal offices in cities across the state.

"We (Republicans) have to start rebuilding at the city level," said Buckley. "The numbers are extraordinarily against Republicans in Hartford."

He said he would come out to support candidates if he could help them in Connecticut races.

Rham Board Votes Test

HEBRON - After conducting a poll of its members, the Regional District Board of Education voted to initiate a minimum competency testing program in the second semester of the sophomore year.

The program provides remedial help for students who fail any or all of the three-part test and it will be indicated on the diplomas, at graduation time, whether or not the students passed the test.

The board debated at length as to whether or not successful completion of the test would become a requirement for graduation. It was finally agreed that it would not be.

David Cattanch, superintendent of schools, and Diana Vecchione, principal of Hebron, were both opposed to making it a requirement for graduation. Cattanch said that he couldn't philosophically agree that a minimum competency could be that important.

He said that it could become a serious problem if a number of students earned their required credits for graduation but failed the competency test.

Cattanch said he would also question the determination as to whether special education students or any students with learning disabilities would be given the test.

Board member Chris Dreyer, who is a minimum competency testing proponent, said that if a student obtains the required 20 credits and fails the test then there is something wrong with the school.

Irene Dean, another board member, felt differently. She said it would be "offensive" to have a student earn credits and then to have it on the diploma that the competency test was failed.

Bruce Gallant said, "We are afraid to challenge the student, if the student fails the minimum competency test then the student should obtain a differentiated diploma."

The matter of the differentiated diplomas resulted in failure to pass a motion to this effect.

In other action the board voted to authorize the Junior High School Building Committee to prepare specifications for the purchase of a computer for the new school.

Gallant, who is chairman of the Building Committee, said the construction is progressing on schedule and that the committee has been talking with the administration to prepare specifications for other equipment.

The board also accepted several staff resignations and made some appointments.

The following resignations were accepted: Judy Bergeron math teacher; Cheryl Wadsworth, math teacher; Nancy Sullivan, custodian; and Nina Zachman, assistant bookkeeper.

The board also authorized Ms. Vecchione to start looking for a part-time math teacher to relieve the overcrowding in the junior high school sessions. The board said that two math groups and one science group exceeded the anticipated enrollment.

East Hartford Company To Fight NLRB Order

EAST HARTFORD (UPI) - A manufacturing firm's attorney says it will appeal a National Labor Relations Board order to reopen a division which closed in 1977 on the grounds it was shut down to eliminate union activity.

Barclay Robinson Jr., who represents Beacon Industries of East Hartford, said Tuesday the company would fight Administrative Law Judge Thomas R. Wilks' highly unusual decision.

Wilks ruled that Beacon, which owns Smyth Manufacturing Co. of Bloomfield, committed unfair labor practices by closing the division in 1977 to quash labor activity and later hiring in non-union workers.

The NLRB hearing officer ordered the parent company to reopen Smyth, give 20 machinists a chance to return to their former jobs and pay union employees for lost wages and benefits since the time they were un-successfully dismissed.

"A major dispute is the finding that the shutdown was motivated by anti-union motive rather than pure economics. That leads to his [Wilks'] conclusion on damages. Adding insult to injury is the order to reinstate operations," Robinson said.

A spokesman for International Association of Machinists District 26, which represents the workers, said it was "in the midst of delicate negotiations with the company, trying to resolve this and get a settlement in place."

In 1976 Beacon took over the financially troubled Smyth Manufacturing Co., which makes bookbinding and machinery parts.

League Plans Talk

EAST HARTFORD - Changing Roles of Women and Men in the modern world will be explored by two University of Connecticut faculty members at an open meeting of the League of Women Voters of East Hartford on Thursday, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the community room, Raymond Library.

Myra Ferree, author of an article on the "Confused American Housewife" in Psychology Today, is an assistant professor of sociology and one of the speakers. She is studying the effects of women's employment on their view of themselves.

Anne Sutherland, who is lecturing at UConn on changing worldwide roles of women and men, is a native of Texas. She spent several years in England working for the British Broadcasting Corp. on a series of anthropological documentaries. She is the author of "Gypsies: The Hidden Americans," and she speaks the Romyani languages in addition to Portuguese and Spanish. She has also done research in Brazil.

Bag Your Leaves For Trash Pickup

MANCHESTER - Because there will be no towne-wide leaf collection this year, town officials are asking residents to bag their leaves for pickup in the normal trash collection.

Residents can also dispose of the bagged leaves at the landfill area, but a permit is required to use the landfill. There is no charge for the permit.

Plastic bags can be purchased at stores or at the Sheltered Workshop in Lincoln Center.

The leaf collection was eliminated this year as a budget saving measure.

BOLTON - Certificates of achievement were presented to 22 local children recently for completing their goal of reading 20 library books during a five-week period this summer. The "Hooked-on-Reading" summer reading club was sponsored by Bentley Memorial Library and Friends of the Library.

Peg Barrio, an organizer of the program, said she was pleased so many parents actively participated in selecting books for their children and helped them reach their goal.

Recipients of the awards were: Seanna Frier, Greg Owens, Shelley Sutherland, Jennifer Richardson, Kevin Kilpatrick, Melanie Giesen, Robert Sidur, Kim Kilpatrick, Kristen Kozicki, Jennifer Blewit, Jill Silverstein, Paul Sauer, Brian Jernsko.

Also: Suzanne Linder, Kraig Kilpatrick, Jonathan Wieden, Susan Metcalf, Amy Silverstein, Robert Blewit, Kristie Kiekota, Paula Stockart, Donna LaChapelle, Scott LaChapelle, Bonnie Manegga, Kim Crocker, Peggy Kiekota, Michelle Maheta, Cheryl Brook, Tonya Pospisil, Lenny Rivers, Linda Rivers and Kathleen Lessard.

Guidelines Correction

VERNON - The Women, Infants and Children (WIC) supplemental food program, administered by Rockville General Hospital, does not require that the applicants be receiving state aid.

Hospital officials said that information they released earlier this month indicated that applicants had to be eligible for reduced fee medical care and had to be receiving state aid. Further information concerning program guidelines is available by contacting the WIC office at the hospital, 875-6692.

Toward Tomorrow

How America's corporations stack up in investing their own money in future growth through research and development was the subject of a recent survey by Business Week magazine. Of the 683 companies analyzed, United Technologies was ranked sixth, with R&D expenditures last year totaling $439 million.

The five companies ahead of us are all much larger than we: General Motors, Ford Motor, IBM, AT&T, and General Electric.

The survey pointed up something of special significance: Of the top ten corporations in outlays for research and development last year, United Technologies was No. 1 in such spending as a percentage of sales. We earmarked seven cents out of every sales dollar for R&D. That compares with a composite of 1.9 cents for all the industry groups covered.

The composite R&D investment per employee was $1,371. At United Technologies it was more than double that - $2,883 per employee.

For the sake of our business future, we've always invested heavily in research and development. That's the only way we know to stay in the forefront of the technologies from which we'll shape our products for markets around the world in the years ahead.

Here's what we invested in R&D and earned in profits in each of the last five years:

	R&D	Net Income
1974	$298 million	$105 million
1975	$324 million	$117 million
1976	$358 million	$157 million
1977	$368 million	$196 million
1978	$439 million	$234 million

Our R&D expenditures for the five years added up to about $1.8 billion. Our net income during the same period totaled a little more than $800 million. So we invested some $1 billion more on R&D than we made in profits during the five years ended in 1978.

We're pumping back a large chunk of our earnings into research and development each year so that we can realize future returns in new and improved products, expanded markets, and greater job opportunities for our people. We want to be in the competitive position with technology and products long before we actually have to vie in the marketplace.

When it comes to R&D, our target is tomorrow.

Council Postpones Several Purchases

VERNON - The Town Council Monday night delayed action on buying a new car for the public works department, a new counter for the tax collector's office, and repairs to the roof of the public works garage.

The requests were all made by Ronald Hine, director of public works. But Hine was granted permission to sell as junk seven non-useable town vehicles.

Hine said he made the request for the replacement vehicle in the current year's budget proposal but the council eliminated it. Monday night he asked the council to transfer $4,000 from the General Fund for this purpose. He said he will receive $600 from the sale of the junk vehicles.

Mayor Frank McCoy suggested that the council table action on the request, noting that he didn't feel the town should be buying another vehicle while it is trying to economize on emergency.

The committee again discussed the idea of the town buying land on the edge of development but did not resolve anything. However, some committee members seemed to feel that it will be inevitable that at some point the town will have to buy land for this purpose. They said they feel otherwise that the entire process is an exercise in futility.

Hine said his department presently has three first-line cars which are used by him, the deputy director, and one foreman. The oldest of these is a 1975 car with 70,000 miles on it. Hine said it is in fairly good condition, but that he would like to take it and use it as a spare and replace it with a new car.

Hine said that the request for money to repair the garage roof had been in the budget for the past three years but each year it has been eliminated.

He said the rear portion of the flat roof has been leaking for about two years. He cautioned that if the leaking continues it's going to rot out the two-inch rock decking and ruin the insulation underneath it and eventually cause the sheet rock ceiling under that, which was installed as a fire barrier, to collapse due to the weight of the water and constant saturation.

However, on recommendation of

Panel Raps State Agency For No Patient Follow-Up

HARTFORD (UPI) - Patients discharged from Connecticut state hospitals to receive care in less restrictive surroundings often are left to fend for themselves, says a legislative committee.

The Legislative Program Review and Investigations Committee, in a report released Tuesday, criticized the Department of Mental Health for not following up on former patients, but had no idea where the added money could be found.

Commissioner Eric Plaut, in his reply to the 120-page report, said he thought it was fair and accurate, but he was sorry the committee didn't attach any fiscal notes to some of the 36 recommendations.

Rep. Astrid Hanzalek, R-Suffield, co-chairwoman of the committee, said the report only was intended to be "small steps in the right direction."

She said some money might be saved by lowering admission and readmission rates at Connecticut's three state mental hospitals.

The department, like similar agencies around the country, is working with a timetable to release patients from mental hospitals and treat them in non-institutional settings.

In 1955, there were a total of 8,668 patients at the Connecticut Valley Hospital, Fairfield Hills Hospital and Norwich State Hospital. The average stay is five months and nine days.

But "they have de-institutionalized people without enough follow up," said Mrs. Hanzalek.

The committee said that the department hasn't shifted enough of its budget from institutional care to community treatment. The report showed the budget for state hospitals is $51.4 million, while only $20.7 million is spent for community and regional mental health centers.

Among the recommendations in the report were that the agency establish guidelines for discharge and follow-up care; develop more minimal care community residential facilities; try to obtain more federal funding; convert some state hospital buildings to minimal care units and re-examine how grants to non-profit agencies are distributed.

Mrs. Belcher Heads Effort

She is on the executive board of the Republican Women's Club, on the administrative board of the South Methodist Church Day Nursery School and on the executive committee of the Martin School PTA.

She is also a member of the Manchester Civic Chorus and a past member of the Citizen's Advisory Committee. Mrs. Belcher is employed part time by the Manchester Board of Education. She lives at 347 Spring St. with her husband and two children.

Firehouse Cost Higher

VERNON - Town Engineer Leonard Szeszney has revised his estimate of the cost of a proposed new fire station from $140,000 to $200,000.

The new fire station, which will replace the small station on Route 30 near Dobson Road, will be built on land the town hopes to own completely by the end of October.

The Tillinghast property on Birch Street, south of Interstate 86, is being sold to the town and Mayor Frank McCoy said it is in probate now and he expects the town to take ownership by the end of October.

The property, left to the town by the Tillinghast estate, had originally been earmarked for a recreation area but the town has the right to use it for any purpose it wishes.

The town's Fire Study Committee has recommended that the new station

Talks Set on Salty Water

VERNON - Mayor Frank McCoy and Town Engineer Leonard Szeszney will meet Sept. 26 with representatives of the state Department of Environmental Protection and Department of Transportation and health officials to discuss problems concerning pollution of the Campbell Water Company well.

The 20 families served by the well have been plagued with problems due to salt deposits seeping into the well making the water unfit to drink and laundry difficult to do without using a water softener.

The salt deposits reportedly first appeared in the well around 1963. Earl Campbell, who has since died, was the owner of the well at that time and he went to the state and the state moved the salt barn which bordered the well but did nothing more.

With the high calcium ion concentrations in the water, people using the well water resorted to using water softeners to make the water useable.

McCoy is investigating the possibility of state and federal funding to sink another well for the town-owned Vernon Water Company and eventually taking over the Campbell Water Company.

News For Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN
First bit of news is that we are now back into full swing of programs and hope you'll find some of the programs to your liking. Just check Saturday's column and come on down and join the rest of your friends.
For instance, tomorrow we start our Thursday Fun Day programs and there's no better way to start than have our own very talented Sunshiners ready and willing to entertain us.
So now you drop in for a delicious sit-down breakfast of chicken dinner and then you'll be on hand for some super entertainment. Along with the Sunshiners we will also have Ronne Reynolds who will give us a little talk on the Bushnell Memorial.
By the way, we need about 20 more to sign up for the foliage trip in order to take the third bus. The trip is scheduled Oct. 11 and includes a nice meal as well as a stop in New Hampshire. Call our office at 647-3211 for more information.
Here's some good news. Our good friends the students at the ROTC are set to do odd jobs such as housecleaning, raking, lawn mowing, window washing, and snow shoveling. If you're interested contact Jim Mulready at 647-3455. The students are supervised by an adult.
Just received word that Sue Bidwell is a patient at the Manchester Hospital. Cards would be appreciated. Here's something special for you. We have a special member who now resides at the Manchester Manor who will celebrate her 100th birthday on Thursday, Sept. 27. Oh, yes, it's Nellie Moran and believe me she is a super lady and we hope to help her celebrate her birthday. One way would be for everyone to send cards which I'm sure she will enjoy. Last Saturday I put in a call for the need of men to give us a helping hand at the Green School during the morning from 9:30 to noon. While we are waiting for funds to complete the main floor, we are doing some work in the lower rooms. We paint, build shelves and are blocking out some windows and really could use some help.

The action here starts with last Friday afternoon's setback games. We had 56 players and the winners are: Archie Houghtaling, 141; Mike Desimone, 134; Bill Stone, 131; Paul Schuetz, 131; Arthur Bouffard, 129; Clara Hemingway, 126; Arvid Peterson, 125; Martha LaBate, 120; Floyd Post, 119.
Then on Monday morning we had our Senior Golf League Tournament at the East Hartford Course and the prize winners are: Class A, 1st, W. Hooker, 62-12+1 equal 31; 2nd, H. Provost, 44-12 equal 32; 3rd, E. Fitzpatrick, 45-11 equal 34; E. Seegerberg, 45-11 equal 34; D. Diacimini, 45-12 + 1 equal 34; J. Quinn, 43-10 + 1 equal 34; Class B, 1st, P. Bastner, 46-15 equal 31; 2nd, I. Secor, 49-15 equal 34; 3rd, J. Gibson, 49-14 equal 35; Class C, 1st, T. Golis, 57-23 + 1 equal 35; 2nd, J. Gleason, 55-20 + 1 equal 35; P. Fuller, 54-17 equal 37; J. Jasowski, 62-25 equal 37.
The winners of each class will be awarded their prizes at the Golf Banquet to be held at the Army and Navy Club Monday, Oct. 6.
In the afternoon it was pinocchle and we had 48 players and the lucky winners are: Ernestine Donnelly, 805; Audrey

Small Buildings To Be Auctioned

COVENTRY - Small buildings located on the Coventry Lake Park property, owned by the town, will be auctioned off to the public in late October or early November. The Town Council Monday night appropriated $1,800 for auctioneer's fees and other miscellaneous professional services to be incurred in connection with the auction. The money for the expenses was taken from the unencumbered cash surplus. Proceeds from the sale of the buildings will go to the town's general fund.
The lake park property is the former Salvation Army property which was bought by the town. The town received 75 percent funding toward the purchase cost of the property. Funds came from both the federal and state governments.
Council members said these small buildings may be ideal to use for storage sheds. Beds, desks, chairs, bureaus and other items in the buildings, which were part of the Salvation Army's summer camp, will also be auctioned off. All property will be cleaned before the auction, town officials said.
Several of the larger buildings will be turned over to the Board of Education and the board will be responsible for the upkeep of them.
The council also authorized the extension of the services of Warren Little as caretaker of the property for an additional month, at his existing salary of $300 per month. Little will also be present at the auction.

Salute Autumn with America's Best

People/Food

The reds, oranges, golds, bronzes and rusts are everywhere as Mother Nature salutes autumn with splashes of brilliant color. All America celebrates, too, for that spectacular display announces that the harvest season is here. In our country, as in Europe, this occasion long has been heralded with special feasts and festivals giving thanks for the bounty of foods produced from the latest crop.
Porkfest, inspired by the German "Oktoberfest," is a popular American table celebration that pairs pork with native food favorites. It provides an excellent opportunity to enjoy seasonal foods at attractive prices while paying tribute to our culinary heritage with a feast that will be remembered long after the last leaf has fallen.
After months of spiraling food prices, the current excellent supply and attractive prices of all pork cuts are indeed reasons to celebrate. What a pleasure it is to ease budget tension with fresh loin roasts, chops, steaks and ribs as well as smoked hams and shoulder roils!
An appropriate partner for pork is a salute to fine foods of America is corn meal. This native food is recognized as one of the major contributions to America's culinary art. While savoring corn meal's old-fashioned goodness and full-bodied taste, modern consumers also appreciate its convenience and economy.
For a Porkfest meal as colorful as the season, bring to the table a handsome pork roast accompanied by a casserole brimming with Double Corn 'N Bacon Dressing. The pork, accented with a rosy Spiced Crab Apple Sauce and Garnish, and the hearty dressing make a most complementary partnership that boasts preparation convenience. The roast, which requires little or no attention, shares the oven with the masterfully-seasoned dressing. In a final crowning tribute to fall, end the meal with a warmly-spiced Apple-Walnut Harvest Cake.
Autumn signals more hearty meals, and you'll be in step when you serve Bountiful Pork and Vegetable Medley, a homey and wholesome braised entrée. It is doubly delicious since both cubes of pork and pieces of smoked sausage combine with a levy of fresh vegetables. Corn meal again offers the perfect accompaniment, this time as Country Cheese 'N Chive Spoon Bread, a delightful adaptation of a traditional American creation.
For still another variation of the popular pork and corn meal theme, prepare Savory Sausage Scramble. Ideal for an autumn breakfast, brunch or supper. A bit of forethought can make this a last-minute meal as the corn meal and sausage mixture can be chilled overnight before cutting into wedges and browning for a quick and delicious meal.

Pork Loin Roast
4 to 6-pound pork loin roast
Spiced Crab Apple Sauce and Garnish*

Place roast, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part. Make certain bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water; do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325°F) until the thermometer registers 170°F. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for a center loin roast; 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a half loin; 40 to 45 minutes per pound for a smaller blade or sirloin roast.

NOTE: Have the meat retailer loosen the chine (back) bone by sawing across the rib bones. When roasting is finished, the back bone can be removed easily by running the carving knife along the edge of the roast before the meat is placed on the platter to be carved.

Spiced Crab Apple Sauce and Garnish
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground cardamom
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 jar (16 ounces) spiced crab apples
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup golden raisins, plumped
1/4 cup ground cardamom
1/4 cup raisins, plumped
1/2 cup milk

Combine cornstarch, sugar, cardamom and salt in saucepan. Drain crab apples; stir syrup into cornstarch mixture. Add orange juice, lemon juice and orange rind (if desired); cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Reduce heat and cook slowly 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in raisins. Garnish platter with crab apples and serve sauce with pork. Yield: 2 cups.

Apple-Walnut Harvest Cake
1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 eggs
2-3/4 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup enriched corn meal
1 tablespoon baking powder
2 teaspoons cinnamon
Beat together brown sugar, butter and vanilla at medium speed on electric mixer about 3 minutes or until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add combined flour, corn meal, baking powder, cinnamon, salt and nuts. Spoon into well-greased 9-cup Bundt pan; bake in moderate oven (350°F) about 1 hour or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool on wire rack. Yield: one 9-cup Bundt cake.

NOTE: Substitute 9x5-inch loaf pan for 9-cup Bundt pan, greasing bottom only. Bake at 350°F. about 1 hour and 20 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Yield: one 9x5-inch loaf cake.

Browned Butter Icing
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup confectioners sugar
4 to 6 teaspoons milk

Jeannette and Les Shapiro of 90 Steep Hollow Lane, Manchester, found a little bit of the Old West in all places, West Berlin.
Serving as ambassadors for the Friendship Force's recent people-to-people exchange to West Berlin, the Shapiros were hosted by Heinz Krall, later to be affectionately known as "Der Berliner Cowboy."
Hospitality abounded during their visit and Jeannette acquired a recipe for Cheese Cake which she says is delicious.
"A friend of our host made this for us and served it in her charming apartment at coffee time, 4 p.m. in Berlin. I am leaving it in the grams and centigrades just as she gave it to me. I feel it will be a challenge to your readers to figure it out - just like I had to."
Urnsula's Cheese Cake
500 grams Philadelphia cream cheese
110 grams sugar
1/2 lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
15 grams of sour cream
5 yolks of eggs
Beat above ingredients together
Cream
100 grams of Zwickback ground up
400 grams butter
20 grams sugar
Mold together and fit into plate or baking dish, not too large. Grease pan with butter first. Bake 75 minutes at 190 degrees centigrade - check farenheit for comparison.
Perhaps the Shapiros biggest surprise came when they strolled through their host in his garden and discovered a small wooden structure - a miniature ranch house. It was built of old logs with a porch-type overhang, and wooden planks for a porch and wagon wheels on the sides.
A yoke was fashioned on the front door bearing the inscription "Ben-Joe Ranch."
Jeannette inquired, "I am Ben and Yo (that is how he pronounced it) is a friend of mine who is also a member of this Western Club."
On entering the ranch house, the guests were delighted to see a small ranch-type saloon with swinging doors, a bar with a brass rail, chairs with cowhide covering, dart boards, knives, genuine Colt pistols, kerosene lamps, Billy the Kid posters and a poster of their host, with his cowboy name, Ben McCrall. The name Ben, he informed them, was through the courtesy of the television show "Bonanza."
Changing into jeans, a cowboy shirt, boots and neckerchief, Ben entertained them in the Ben-Jo Ranch.
"Through the years, Heinz had discovered other men who had an interest in the old West and they get together every Thursday, talk, drink a little beer and discuss the good old days when men were men and little Heinz Krall sat entranced in the old movies houses of Berlin and watched them on the screen."
"He had been to America in 1974 and headed for Colorado," Jeannette said.
The night before the Shapiros joined the other Friendship Force ambassadors for their return to Connecticut, they were hosted at a garden party - western-style.
"It was catered with real western chuck wagon food down to a cook who dished it out. Beer, cola, whiskey, you name it, he had it. Western music from his stereo, sung in German drifted over the night air."
As an extra touch of Americana, Jeannette said their host invited some U. S. Army families quartered in the Berlin area who joined in the square dancing.
Time passed, and the Shapiros reluctantly left their host.
"We truly felt as if we had not just said we were representing the Friendship Force, we really became the Friendship Force, forged at the Ben-Jo Ranch, 80 Schlosserweg Berlin 100 West Germany, home of Ben McCrall nee Heinz Krall - Der Berliner Cowboy."

The Ben-Joe Ranch located in the backyard of Heinz Krall's home in West Berlin.

Choose Cheesecake Mocha or Pear

Cheesecakes are such favorites, there seems to be no end to the kinds and flavors that people like. They're especially good to serve for dessert when the rest of the meal is on the light side, since cheesecakes are both filling and delectable. A Mocha Cheesecake appeals to coffee and chocolate buffs because it contains both flavors. Chocolate cookie crumbs blend with melted butter for the crust, while ground nuts and still another flavor plus. This is a smooth, creamy textured cheesecake, as it's made with both cream cheese and whipping cream. The mocha flavor derives from sweet chocolate melted in coffee. Pear-Honey Cheesecake is moist and has a slightly open texture since it's made with cottage cheese.

Dates and nuts add some crunchiness. There are several "waiting" periods in making Pear-Honey Cheesecake. After baking, let it sit in the oven until that cooks. Refrigerate the cake for several hours or overnight. Top with sliced poached pears, then drizzle part of the syrup over the pears. Chill again before serving.

Mocha Cheesecake
Yield: one 9-inch cake
Crust: 1 1/2 cups chocolate cookie crumbs 1/2 cup ground nuts 1 1/2 cup butter, melted
Filling: 6 ounces sweet chocolate 2 tablespoons instant coffee powder dissolved in 3 tablespoons hot water 3 eggs 1/2 cup sugar

Consumer Report

Bees Myerson, a consumer activist, columnist and author, would like to see a department of consumer affairs in every city — so people who feel intimidated communicating by telephone or letter could have face-to-face interviews.

A government department lets them do just that.

A government department can also find companies and individuals for complaining consumers, hold hearings and revoke licenses.

"It's quite different outside government," the former New York City consumer affairs commissioner said in an interview.

Non-governmental agencies such as the Better Business Bureau and the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel can often help, but they cannot take legal action.

When complaints involve local businesses or individuals, small town and rural residents are better off than city people, Ms. Myerson said.

"They're more familiar with local business people, who are not likely to foot around. They can't afford to lose business."

The best thing, of course, is comparison shopping to prevent buying mistakes. Comparison shopping may be out of the question if your car breaks down away from home.

If you must have repairs made at an unfamiliar filling station or garage, Ms. Myerson suggests, "Stay close to your car if possible until service is completed."

This is among the many tips in her recently published buyers' guide, "The Complete Consumer Book (Simon and Schuster $9.95).

She also recommends: Get a written estimate and make sure both the estimate and your credit card receipt or bill is legible and the charges correct.

"Make sure you have the name and address of the repair shop and the mechanic who did the work."

"Ask for the old parts if they have to be replaced. Your own serviceman back home can tell if it was adequately damaged."

Ms. Myerson has accepted assignments from companies such as Bristol-Myers, a drug manufacturer, and the Direct Mail Marketing Association to prepare consumer information brochures.

She emphatically does not feel such work affects her credibility as a consumer advocate.

"I don't work inside companies. I've been offered jobs as consumer affairs directors. I'd be locked in."

She does accept assignments as a consultant who can be in direct contact with top officials.

Even then, "You win some, you lose some. They are not going to accept every suggestion you make. Even in government that doesn't happen."

Her busy schedule also includes chairmanship of the Consumer Credit Counseling Service. It is a nationwide non-profit network that helps people who are, in Ms. Myerson's words, "literally drowning in debt. We help people who are about to go bankrupt, who are credit drunks, addicts may over their heads."

"We have a system of counseling that works out a budget for you. We will help renegotiate loans. A counselor will talk with stores and utilities so services won't be cut off (while debtors pay off their obligations)."

Woman's World " ... More to Sex Than Doing It!"

PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Health Editor

A ninth-grader came up to Dr. Mary Steichen Calderone, who was winding down two days of a talk on human sexuality and answering students' questions - the kind kids don't ask parents.

"You really taught me something," she said.

"You taught me there is more to sex than doing it."

Dr. Calderone, acknowledged "mother of sex education," said the other day the boy provided the theme song for her campaign for enlightenment about sexuality - under way since the early 1950s.

Federation of America. She has been called courageous.

"I don't feel courageous," she said. "I just see what needs to be done and do it. But I alone and the army of sex educators can't take the next step that needs to be taken. It's for parents."

As a part of this, Mary Calderone thinks some sort of walk-in library or sex information centers would be helpful. These would be places where people could get straight information, she said.

She says parents need to let their children know that genital sex is pleasurable, that science knows ways to keep egg and sperm apart.

Parents also, she says, need to let their children know when genital sex is bad from a moral standpoint; when it is exploitative; when it runs the risk of starting another human being when there is no deliberate intention to have a baby.

That means, she indicated, children must understand about contraception. She says she subscribes to the Planned Parenthood campaign that contraception means the dawning of the "era of the wanted child."

Mary Calderone covers 100,000 miles a year, keeping speaking and workshop dates. She always flies at night to make more efficient use of time.

The year 1964 marked the first major victory in her campaign to take the hush-hush out of talk about human sexuality and focus bright lights on sexual behavior.

"That was the year the American Medical Association House of Delegates made it official policy that the medical profession accept family planning as a part of responsible medical practice.

The AMA said human sexuality is a part of human health. That took it out of law and church and put it where it belongs.

That was the year SIECUS came into being. "We realized there was this huge vacuum out there and it needed to be filled," she said.

"Now there is an army of sex educators. There are national and international congresses of sexology and, well, the human sexuality movement aren't something that just happens to boys."

SIECUS believes that:

-Freedom to exercise personal sexual choice is a fundamental human right.

-Such freedom of sexual choice carries responsibilities to self and others.

-These responsibilities call for acquiring knowledge and developing a personal ethical code, in order to provide a rational basis for decision-making in all human relationships.

SIECUS position statements reflect the position of a majority of the board composed of a braintrust of experts on human sexuality. The statements include these:

-Sex Education: Free access to full and accurate information on all aspects of sexuality is a basic right for everyone, children as well as adults.

-Masturbation: Sexual self-pleasuring ... is a natural part of sexual behavior for individuals of all ages. It ... is a legitimate source of enjoyment. It can also help in the release of tension in a way harmless to the self and to others and provides an intense experience of self as preparation for experiencing another.

Dr. Calderone is president of the Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S. Carl Sandburg, the poet, was her uncle. Her father, Edward Steichen, was a famous photographer. But Mary Calderone has made it on her own. The way a meteor does.

She turned 75 this year. Men say she still is strikingly beautiful. She is tall and thin, with traces of a model's figure.

Her gray hair offsets her olive-colored skin. Her piercing, quick-to-smile, gestures like the actress she once was - in her early 20s. She runs up subway stairs, instantly falls flat on her abdomen to reach anything that falls under a table, desk or sofa.

She controls her life the way she controls her movements. One example: Mary Calderone disconnects her phone when she wants to nap.

Her only "secret" to having tapped the fountain of youth is this:

"I live life intensely.

"How can it be bad? Look at me."

Mary Calderone is unusually frank.

"What no glasses?" a visitor to her New York office asked the other day.

"Oh, I wear bifocal contacts, have for years," she said.

Next subject: A face that doesn't seem to age.

Mary Calderone pushes herself back from the conference tables, throws back her head, turns her palms up and laughs. Then she tells you:

"I had my face lifted."

Her visitor remarks that another important and unpretentious American female, Helen Hayes, legendary first lady of theater, has resisted facelifts. In fact, Helen Hayes staunchly has defended her right to age naturally.

"Well," answers Mary Calderone, "I'm on television a lot. I make many speeches and appearances. It's important for me to look human.

"But the main reason, I think, was that my face didn't match my body anymore.

Top doctors, educators, religious leaders, psychologists and some "just folks" will tell Dr. Calderone No. 29 at $100 a plate dinner.

The fundraiser will help get a community learning center off the ground. It is a pilot project and Dr. Calderone doesn't know how it will work out - or if it will work out.

One of the goals is to see if non-professionals can have access to the same information on human sexuality that's available, to those who make their living in the field.

"I would like to see ordinary people in the street as warm, happy and comfortable in their sexuality as I feel I am - and also as some professionals in the field are."

"This includes thousands of men and women in the religious field and in the health professions."

Mary Calderone's aim has been to take sex out of the gutter, wringing dirt and giggles from it. She has battled ignorance, fear and unhappiness, starting, she says, in the early '50s when she was medical director of the Planned Parenthood

Fruit salads once were served only on the hottest of days. With increased concern about weight and nutrition, however, salads have become an important part of today's style of eating.

The fruit featured in this tuna-nectarine salad can be changed with the seasons. Serve with homemade bread or muffins.

Food For Americans Ideas With Cheese

Americans are eating more cheese! In 1978 the per person consumption rang the bell at 17.3 pounds, which is up from 16.4 pounds in 1977. Cheese consumption has doubled since 1961!

Ever tried Funaburgers? Prepare a tuna filling with onion, celery, green pepper and sour cream to moisten. Here's the recipe: add one-half cup of cubed cheddar cheese for each seven ounces of tuna. Spoon into sandwich buns, wrap in aluminum foil and heat for 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate (350° F.) oven.

When the youngsters come lying home from school, they're hungry. Give them a bowl of dip with vegetables. Here's a good Smokey Beef Dip: beat two cups of cottage cheese on high speed of mixer until smooth. Fold in a two-ounce one-half ounce package of thinly sliced smoked beef, chopped, one tablespoon of instant minced onion, one or two tablespoons of prepared horseradish and a few drops of hot pepper sauce. Cover, refrigerate for an hour or more, allowing flavors to blend. This provides two cups.

Like dressed-up baked beans? That means adding chili sauce, brown sugar and mustard. Top the casserole with thick onion slices, bake until bubbly, then top with a cup (four ounces) of shredded Cheddar cheese for each two pounds of prepared beans and heat for five minutes more.

Like some sandwich ideas for the brown bagers? Provolone ("smoky flavor") cheese with hard salami is good on French or Vienna bread; Muenster cheese goes well with salami for beer on a butter Kaiser roll, while Monterey Jack cheese teams nicely with olive loaf on egg twist bread.

If you have a child who occasionally refuses to drink his quota of milk, you may substitute one and one-half ounces of Cheddar cheese for one (8 oz.) serving of milk.

All cheeses do well with the same number of calories. Cheddar cheese has 114 calories per ounce; Swiss: 105; Blue: 100 and American pasteurized process: 106.

You'll like Parmesan Biscuits as an accompaniment to a salad, soup or main dish. Melt three tablespoons butter in pie or cake pan. Place 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese on a flat pan or waxed paper. Roll one package (10 or 12) refrigerated butter milk biscuits into sticks about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, then dip each one in butter, then in cheese. Place on lightly buttered baking sheet. Bake in a preheated 400° F. oven for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. This will provide 10 soft and cheesy "sticks".

Fontina is a robust, rather salty cheese which has a variety of uses as an appetizer, in cooked foods or with fruit as dessert. It's especially good with honeydew melon, pineapple, pears, apples or green grapes.
