

Stevenson and Gelinas Coordinate Democrats

MANCHESTER — Herb Stevenson, registrar of voters, and Mary Gelinas have been named to coordinate the Democratic campaign in the November elections.

Democratic town Chairman Ted Cummings said, "Their primary role will be to coordinate door-to-door efforts and absentee ballots. They will also handle fundraising and the events the democratic candidates will attend so they can be met by the voters."

Two former mayors will be honorary chairmen of the election effort. "Matt Moriarty Jr. and John Thompson will provide an overview on the record and democratic majority has established during the past eight years," said Cummings.

Town Clerk Ed Tomkiewicz will serve as finance chairman. Al Siefert and John DiGiuseppe will handle advertising, and Mary LeDuc will have overall charge of headquarters.

Cummings said, "We have gotten off to a good start with Mayor Penny giving an enthusiastic talk to set the theme for our campaign at the Sept. 13 opening of party headquarters."

Cummings said the opening, at the old Pine Pharmacy on Center Street, was attended by 125 people. "The opening was very successful in terms of turnout and enthusiasm," said Cummings.

Puzzle Prize Rises to $150

There were some tough ones in last week's Prizeweek Puzzle and no one got them right, so the prize goes up another $25 as The Herald's contest enters its third week.

Several hundred entries were received by The Herald, but there were no correct solutions. To make the challenge more interesting, the prize for this week's puzzle, which appears in the TV Spotlight section of today's Herald, has been increased to $150.

There is a prize bonus of $25 if a winning entry is submitted by a home subscriber of The Herald.

Guards Demand

SOMERS (UPI) — Prison guards demanded Thursday that state correction officials hire 200 more officers to eliminate "almost daily" assaults on guards by inmates in what they say are overcrowded Connecticut institutions.

At a news conference outside Somers Correctional Institute, the state's largest prison, representatives of the guards' union said the 11 institutions were "100 percent above capacity" and they can no longer ensure "a safe environment for inmates or safe working conditions for themselves."

The almost daily assaults are intolerable, union president James Burke said.

The guards, members of Local 30 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said they planned to meet Monday with officials of the state Department of Correction.

Tentative Pact

NEW BRITAIN (UPI) — A tentative contract agreement was reached Friday between negotiators for the Fatber Bearing Co. and 187 striking machinists, clearing the way for the possible end of a 21-week strike by 3,500 workers.

The International Association of Machinists Lodge 1249 members will meet Sunday in Kensington for a ratification vote, a union spokesman said.

Another union representing 3,300 production workers at Fatber's New Britain and Newington plants ratified a 3-year contract Wednesday. But most of the 900 United Auto Workers Local 133 members scheduled to return to work Thursday for the first time since April honored IAM picket lines.

State Construction Firms Appeal for Female Help

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut women aren't flexing their muscles in the heavy construction industry, so good paying jobs are going wanting and the state's largest construction association said Friday it is in a ditch.

Heavy construction in the state is riding high, with about $400 million in federal contracts providing work for an estimated 50,000 workers, mostly in highway construction, Connecticut Construction Industries Association spokesman William Heubner said.

But he said the problem is meeting the federal requirement that 5 percent of the heavy construction jobs be filled by women.

"We have now only 1 maybe 2 percent women in the industry, despite a heavy recruiting program. We also

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter announced Friday Mexico and the United States have reached agreement on the purchase of Mexican natural gas, calling it "a breakthrough" for relations between the two countries.

Carter said the agreement, which capped seven months of negotiations, "represents an important first step toward a deeper and broader relationship between our two countries."

The final agreement, reached in Mexico City late Thursday, comprises by pegging the export price to an index of alternative fuels, including home heating oil and residual fuel oil.

The current export negotiations began soon after President Carter visited Mexico last February, but broke off in an apparent stalemate over pricing mechanisms last month.

They resumed unexpectedly late Wednesday when Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher flew to Mexico with a U.S. team to talk with negotiators led by Mexican Foreign

More Uranium Reported Lost

ERWIN, Tenn. (UPI) — Federal inspectors searching a nuclear fuel processing plant for 20 pounds of missing uranium revealed Friday the plant has lost about 25 pounds of the bomb-grade material since 1968.

Officials of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission would not rule out a permanent shutdown of Nuclear Fuel Services Inc., which makes fuel for the Navy's nuclear submarines.

It is important to point out that is the only plant of its type," he said. "It does have the highest inventory differences on record. It appears the inventory differences are caused by the process — not the plant."

Burnett would not discuss the process for security reasons and did not explain where the uranium would go if it were lost in the process. A ground and air search of the 2.3 acre plant site and surrounding areas with radiation detection equipment has so far turned up no trace of it.

Ken Clark of the NRC's Atlanta office noted that 245 pounds of uranium is "a lot of material," and agreed it could have been lost in the process "or it could have been stolen."

In 1975, the NRC temporarily shut down the plant to check the amount of enriched material on hand amid reports workers may have stockpiled enough uranium inside the facility to cover accounting shortfalls.

Last month, the NRC reported an "unexplained release" of radioactive materials from the smokestack.

The plant, privately owned but government regulated, was fined $53,000 in 1977 for failing to provide adequate security measures.

Carter To Get Even With His Opponents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter, declaring himself "a fighter," told members of Congress outright he keeps their voting records in his desk and will withhold favors and "perks" from those who often oppose his programs, officials said Friday.

White House and congressional officials said the president made his get-tough talk Thursday night at a meeting with 85 House Democrats — and the response was enthusiastic.

"The overwhelming reaction of the members present was one of strong approval of both the tone and content of the president's said," House Democratic leader Jim Wright reported.

Officials said Carter made clear he was not talking about withholding support affecting a congressman's district, such as aid to cities or other vital projects.

Instead, he dangled before them such Washington status symbols as White House social invitations, and important home-front things like patronage jobs and first family campaign help.

One official said a congressman with an anti-Carter voting record set the president off by complaining he never gets invited to White House social functions.

"At that point, a second congressman got up and said he thought we should reward and punish people, do more of a job separating the sheep from the wolves."

"Carter then looked back at the members and explained he had agreed that we need to do more" to reward and punish, the official said.

"It's grants for a city, then it is not proper to consider a congressman's voting record," Carter was quoted as saying, but things involving a member of Congress personally are fair game.

"We keep our voting records on computer (printouts) in my desk drawer in the Oval Office."

Pulaski Cavalry Chief On Third Postal Card

By RUSS MacKENDRICK Brigadier General Casimir Pulaski is shown as Chief of Cavalry on a postal card to be issued at Savannah, Ga., on Oct. 11. He was a Polish patriot who joined Washington's army in 1777 at the recommendation of Benjamin Franklin.

Casimir Pulaski, Savannah, 1779

The Pulaski name should ring a bell with philatelists because it was one of the 15 little red two-cent commemorative stamps issued from 1927 to 1932. The first was the Green Mountain Boy (in carmine rose), and the last was for Arbor Day. (Anyone aspiring to set up an exhibit of these for a backward glance at the two-cent letter rate, perhaps for next year's MANEX, will meet with only one minor snag. The 1929 Scott number 656, Edison coil stamps, is listed in Harris at $21.50 unused; all the others are somewhere under two dollars.)

How Terribly Technical!

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of 15 articles exploring "Connections: Technology and Change." This series was written for Courses by Newspaper, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

By Derek de Solla Price

The force of science and technology controls much of the modern world. It holds the purse-strings of civilization, forms the basis of military might, and dominates the quality of life and the possibilities of the future for every person on earth.

Coeffrey Moss - political illustrator syndicated with the Washington Post Writers Group the basic problem of availability of knowledge to grow another stage.

New Technologies

Around 1800 there was another crucial growth in science: Galvani and Volta, looking for the secrets of life, found current electricity. Within a single generation, electricity transformed chemistry into a wealth of new substances and new understandings. The 19th century saw such new technologies as fertilizers and soil chemistry, dye chemistry and explosive, steam engines and locomotives, as well as electrical energy.

Why then does it seem beyond the control of the people, beyond their comprehension? Why do scientists talk learned gobbledegook and behave like an elite power group, protecting their mysteries and the basis of their power? At the same time, why does the mass of humanity seem herded into a world of nuclear rebellion, megadeaths, food additives, conspicuous technological consumption, and mindless computerization?

Two Revolutions

In the course of history two great changes in technology caused scientific knowledge to become more elite. Around 1500 AD came the Gutenberg Printing Revolution. The book very quickly changed the entire society. Presses were built and run by craftspeople in the cities rather than by scholars in monasteries and universities, and both the writers and the readers of the new books were a new class.

For Experts Only?

The rapid growth of science has created a widening gap between scientists and the general public, despite efforts at communication by some experts, such as Professor Paul

Drainage Problems Reported

MANCHESTER - A directors comment session Thursday evening brought a complaint about improper drainage due to the pitch of a town street. One person complained the problem was especially severe during the winter, but that flooding occurred this past summer. The citizen said last year the home furnace did not go off and oil leaked into a flooded basement. Elizabeth Intagliata, a member of the Board of Directors, was in charge of the session. John FitzPatrick had been scheduled to preside at the session but instead had to attend a meeting between Manchester, South Windsor and Eighth District officials concerning sewers. The comment sessions are held twice a month to permit residents to talk to a member of the Board of Directors about any matter that involves the town government.

Region Foliage Viewing Best in North Sections

WELLESLEY, Mass. (UPI) - If you're anxious to take an early fall foliage viewing trip this weekend, you'll need to go to the far corners of northern New England, the ALA Auto and Travel Club said Thursday. Viewing routes in Vermont include Route 105 from Derby Center towards the New Hampshire border, and Route 114 north of Lendenville. As for Maine, you will see the most foliage color in the Allagash Wilderness area east of the St. John River, which is showing close to 65 percent color change, and through the Moosehead Lake region, where 40 percent color change has taken place. Suggested viewing routes include this part of New Hampshire are U.S. 3 north of Colebrook, and Route 26 east of Colebrook, through scenic Dixville Notch toward Errol and the Maine border. Vermont's foliage color is most developed through the northeastern part of the state - between St. Johnsbury and Newport. Although only at the mid-stage, the color could improve there by the weekend.

Coventry Sets Meeting On Rev-Share Fund Use

COVENTRY -- The Town Council has set Monday at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall for a town meeting on Revenue Sharing Funds. The Town Council conducted a workshop on Revenue Sharing last week mainly to allocate funds. The Booth Dimock Library asked for funds totaling $2,100 for painting, and storm windows and doors; the Board of Education submitted a list totaling $2,558; and the general government, $12,125. The total requests came to $175,843 and the total allocation was $122,383 with the amount to be cut totaling $53,460. At a hearing on the funding it was suggested that some money could be used to reduce the mill rate next year. The council decided that a portion of the amount of funds in 1980 could be used for this purpose. Suggestions were also made to use some of the money to build a town garage but because no immediate plans or costs estimates were available, the council said the use of revenue sharing money isn't recommended and that long-term borrowing would be required for construction costs. Another suggestion was to use some of the money to make temporary repairs to the Pucker Street Bridge. But the council said this project is already underway and it didn't recommend using revenue sharing funds for it. A suggestion to use some of the money for air conditioning for the police station was turned down by the council. Members said with cold weather approaching air conditioning isn't needed now so the request for money for this can go in next year's budget. Other suggestions were made to repair the town's tennis courts. The council said this is being considered by the Board of Education and the estimated cost is already in the current budget plus the project might be eligible for a 75 percent reimbursement grant. As to making improvements to Lake Park property with the funds, the council said proceeds from the sale of surplus property, at the park, can be used for this. And the town is also receiving 75 percent reimbursement on the purchase price of the property. Garage Proposal To Air The Town Council has set Oct. 1 at 7:30 as the date for a public hearing on a town garage proposal. This will be the same night that a public hearing will be conducted on Revenue Sharing Funds. The hearings will be conducted in the Town Hall.

The measures are:
• strengthening of the Board of Education's fiscal management. The firm urged a review of the present fiscal management systems and procedures to help provide more timely and accurate information.

• expanding the general ledger to include all funds, not just general fund activities. Such an expansion would serve as a permanent record of all town financial transactions and would facilitate the preparation of interim and annual financial reports.

• greater control over student activity and principals' funds in the school district. The report said there are "certain weaknesses" in the control of cash receipts from the point of collection to the point of deposit in the bank. The board could place controls, like reconciling ticket numbers to cash deposited and other measures.

• verification of contractor records by the Board of Education. The report said the board's fee to Interstate United for the school lunch program is based on reimbursement of cost plus a fee based on revenues. The firm recommended the board exercise its right to perform periodic examinations of Interstate because the firm is representing the town in the case.

One attorney with the firm, Richard W. Dyer, is also asking whether there is an conflict in his serving on the Human Relations Commission in view of the firm's role in the case.

MCC Officials Oppose Another Funding Delay
MANCHESTER - A state education committee's report to delay funding for the proposed $115 million permanent campus at Manchester Community College will be opposed by MCC officials at a meeting next June if there is no delay.

The full board will act on the committee's recommendation at its 3 p.m. meeting.

State education officials have said there is intense competition for the capital improvement funds and that the General Assembly will be unable to release all the money.

The appointments were made to fill vacancies caused by recent resignations.

Werbner, assistant professor and coordinator of Real Estate Education at Manchester Community College, joins the commission after a 10-year hiatus. He served as its chairman from 1984 to 1988.

A Manchester native, Werbner has served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Realtors and the local Kiwanis Club.

Finnegan, a licensed real estate broker in Connecticut, has extensive experience as an Appraiser. Weiss said he brings "a variety of local experience and talents that will be of considerable assistance to the Commission."

Both men are graduates of Manchester High School and members of the Manchester Board of Realtors.

The commission's chief function is oversight of the Backland Industrial Park. Helen McMillen, president of the Pressure Blast Manufacturing Company, resigned after citing conflict of interest because her firm is purchasing property in the park.

Lawsuit Challenges Vote for Subdivision
By DAVE LAVALLEE
Herald Reporter
GLASTONBURY - Joseph Cronin of 124 Babberly Road filed suit Friday against the Town Plan and Zoning Commission for approving a developer's plans to build a 75-lot subdivision in the Bell Street area.

Cronin, president of the Salmon Brook Association, a group that was formed three weeks ago to fight the subdivision, said the suit was filed because public notice was not sufficient before the TPZ accepted changes in the original plan. The changes were accepted by the TPZ and it subsequently approved the subdivision.

The suit challenges TPZ approval of the application by the LaCava Construction Co. for the 75-lot subdivision.

In July, the TPZ rejected the developer's original proposal for an 81-lot subdivision. Members said the application did not follow regulations for an open space subdivision.

The public hearing for the subdivisions was held July 17 and more than 70 citizens gathered to protest the LaCava proposal and another 56-lot subdivision.

Cronin said his group has found that John A. Coccone, developer of the 56-lot subdivision, has followed no regulations. No suit is being brought in connection with the Coccone plan.

Originally, Commission Chairman Robert Knickerbocker said that the open space provisions allowing the developer to squeeze more homes in a smaller area.

The original proposal would have put 86 lots on 68 acres of land, with 42 acres being deeded to the town as open space.

After a subcommittee meeting with the TPZ, LaCava resubmitted his plan Sept. 4.

The new plan, which calls for 75 lots, doubled-up several lots. The roads were not altered and sewers will be provided.

Case Cited Incorrectly
MANCHESTER - A story in Friday's Herald about the forthcoming meeting of the Ethics Commission incorrectly described the legal case of Angel vs. Zinsner.

The case is one in which Carol Angel, a resident, is suing the town and town officials because of the town's withdrawal from the Community Development funding program.

Zinsner (Town Director Carl Zinsner) is merely one of the town officials named as a defendant.

The law firm of Bayer, Phelon and Squatrito is defending the town in that case. The firm is asking the Ethics Commission for an opinion on whether there is a conflict of interest when firm members appear before the town's planning and zoning agencies because the firm is representing the town in the case.

One attorney with the firm, Richard W. Dyer, is also asking whether there is an conflict in his serving on the Human Relations Commission in view of the firm's role in the case.

Two Vernon girls put their summer to good and profitable use. Teresa Sullivan and Lori Hany, both 16, and juniors at Rockville High School, recently completed their second painting project — a window at Ev Murphy's Italian Spaghetti House on Oak Street in Manchester.

The young artists, whose first job was painting the window at The Stylers on Route 83 in Vernon in June, became involved in this form of art when Beverly Bergerson, owner of The Stylers, called the girls inquiring if any students did that type of painting.

"Mrs. Bergerson drew a sketch of four heads and asked us if we could handle it. We were happy to have the job," Teresa said.

"I'm glad I was able to give them their first break," Mrs. Bergerson said. "They did a beautiful job."

"When the opportunity came up to do a window at Murphy's we jumped at the chance. Mr. Murphy's son, Michael, did a sketch and we painted the window giving it a stained glass effect," Lori said.

Teresa, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sullivan of 45 Gerald Drive, Vernon, hopes to go to art school.

Lori, whose preference is doing portraits in pastels, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hany of 105 Tracy Drive, Vernon. However, she did paint a sign for her father's company, Hany Bros. Plumbing & Heating in Rockville. She also hopes to attend art school after graduation.

Both girls agree that a lot of credit should go to their art teachers at Rockville High School. Mrs. Margaret Goldfarb and Mrs. Alice Welt.

"It was through their help and encouragement, that we got started," they said.

If anyone has a project for the young artists, they have paint brushes and will travel. You may contact Teresa at 875-8825 or Lori, 875-1412.

A Country of Challenge

Enjoying Life in Israel

By BETTY RYDER
Lifestyle Editor

Why are bright, young people being attracted to the lifestyle in Israel? One reason, Mark Glat, formerly of New York City and now a resident of Tel Aviv, says is "They made me an offer I couldn't refuse."

But, there's more, according to Glat, who was here recently visiting his brother-in-law, Richard Goldwasser of Glastonbury.

"It's a very exciting country. There are new frontiers and it's a challenge for people who want to participate in the building of a nation."

Glat, who was in the United States to attend a Political Science Convention in Washington, D.C., teaches political science at Tel Aviv University.

"When I finished by studies in this country, I received an offer there that I couldn't refuse. I had been to Israel twice previously, so the idea of settling there was not out of reason," Glat said.

Living in Israel is quite a bit different from living in the United States. "Getting a house is probably the most difficult. The cost of housing is astronomical and there is no rental market. An apartment with three or four rooms costs about $250 and the average salary is only $500 a month."

"When my wife, Esther, and I first arrived in Tel Aviv, we couldn't find a place to stay. We were really alone and went to an Immigration Absorption Center for a little while just to survive. Later, with the Center's help, we were able to locate an apartment."

Mrs. Glat works for the American Embassy dealing with Israel.

American Education funding. She is a secretary and does counseling work with Israeli students interested in applying for Fulbright Scholarships. The couple has an infant daughter, Ruchel Sara.

Glat's first visit to Israel was in 1972, when he went as a tourist. "The standard of living has been upgraded considerably since then. In fact, there has been a dramatic rise."

He will complete his second year of teaching at the university in October and believes the status of academics is a bit higher there.

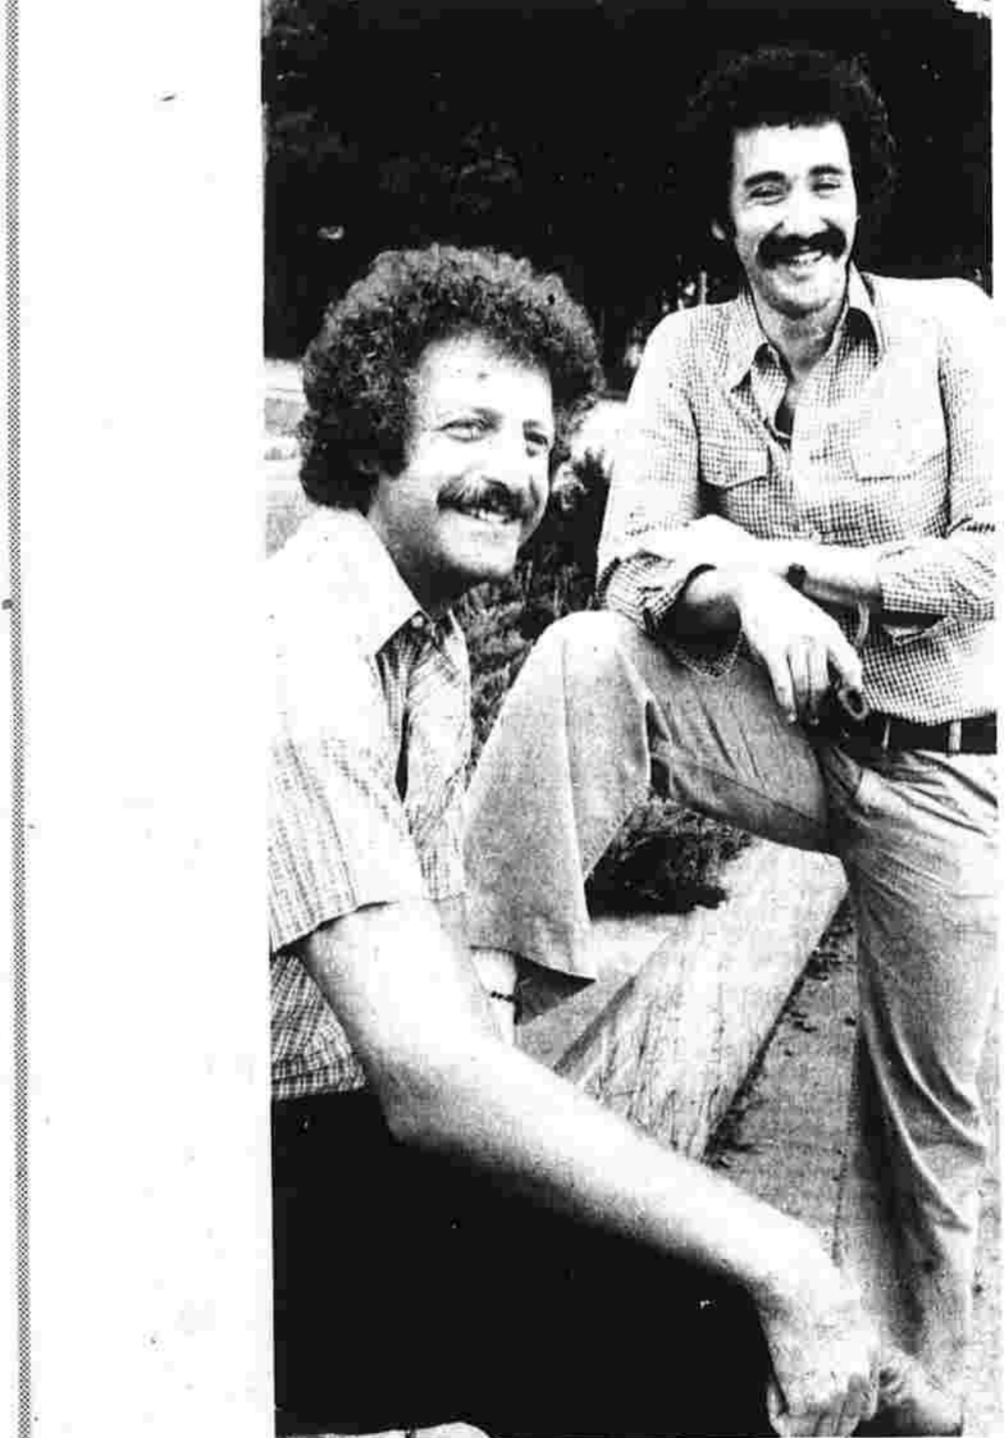

Commenting on the transportation there, he said, "Gas is approximately $2.50 a gallon, but 70 percent of the cars are economy-size. The public transportation is good. I can get from the center of Tel Aviv for 25 cents on the bus and it takes me only 15 minutes to get to work. My wife drives a car, as she has a further distance to travel."

Who are the people being attracted to Israel? "Professionals, business administrators, doctors, etc., are all coming to Israel," Glat said.

"One needn't have a job waiting for them in Israel in order to immigrate there. The immigration authorities are most helpful in trying to find a job commensurate with a person's skills."

Back home in Tel Aviv, the temperatures range from 88 to 90 degrees, but Glat found the humidity here uncomfortable.

Would he encourage young people to give thought to living in Israel. "It's entirely up to the individual," he said. But, breaking into a smile, he added, "It certainly is a fascinating country."

Richard J. Coar Frank W. McAbee

Senior Posts Filled At Pratt & Whitney

EAST HARTFORD—Two appointments to new senior positions have been announced by Robert J. Carlson, United Technologies Group vice president-power and president of its Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group.

Richard J. Coar was named executive vice president of the power group, and Frank W. McAbee Jr., was named vice president and special assistant to the president of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Group.

Coar, who has held a succession of senior technical and managerial positions in his 37 years with the company, had been executive vice president in charge of technology and strategic planning. Before that, he was vice president of engineering.

Coar joined Pratt & Whitney Aircraft in 1942, after earning his mechanical engineering degree summa cum laude at Tufts College. In 1961, he became chief engineer at what was then P&W's Florida Research and Development Center in West Palm Beach, became engineering manager there in 1962, and the Center's assistant general manager in 1970.

In 1971, Mr. Coar was named vice president of engineering at the P&W division headquarters in East Hartford. As the company's chief technical officer, he was responsible for engineering activities in both military and commercial aero-propulsion. He assumed his most recent position in 1976.

McAbee is a veteran corporation employee, who joined P&W in 1954 and has served in increasingly important engineering, marketing and management posts. For the past two years, McAbee directed P&W's legislative liaison activities as head of its Washington office.

He is an engineering graduate of the University of Alabama, and served for 18 years in engineering and marketing assignments before becoming assistant to the corporate vice president in charge of United's Washington office.

He later served two years as executive assistant to United Technologies Chairman and President, Harry J. Gray, and held a senior management position with the Controls Division of UTC's Essex Group in Logansport, Indiana. He rejoined P&W in 1977 when he returned to Washington to head P&W's Washington activities.

Market Association Elects Vernon Man

STORRS—Dr. Peter J. LaPlaca, associate professor of marketing at the University of Connecticut, has been chosen vice president-elect of the Northeastern Region of the American Marketing Association.

He will hold that post for the year 1979-80, after which he is scheduled to become vice president. During both years he also will serve on the group's national board of directors.

A resident of 24 Quarry Drive, Vernon, he joined the UConn faculty in 1974 after teaching two years at the University of Hartford. He earned his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in management from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y.

LaPlaca has edited several books on marketing and strategic planning, and currently is working on a textbook in marketing research. He is editor of "Connecticut Marketer," a statewide newsletter for marketing professionals.

In addition to publishing articles in many leading business journals, LaPlaca has been a consultant to many national and Connecticut firms.

In the public sector, he has served both the Connecticut and New York Departments of Consumer Protection, the Connecticut Commerce Department, and the National Science Foundation.

He has held top offices in the Connecticut Chapter of the American Marketing Association, and has been vice president of the Academy of Marketing Science and the Northeastern Region of the American Institute for Decision Sciences.

Stock Split Slated

NORWALK—The board of directors of Caldor Inc., a major regional discount department store chain, today voted a 4-for-3 stock split. The newly issued split shares will be distributed on Nov. 9, 1979 to stockholders of record Oct. 12, 1979. The quarterly cash dividend policy of 12 1/2 cents per share was not changed.

Carl Bennett, Caldor chairman, said the stock split was approved to provide wider distribution and improved marketability by increasing the company's stock float. Caldor will have approximately 8,300,000 shares of common stock outstanding after the stock split becomes effective.

On July 10, 1979, the company increased its quarterly cash dividend from 10 cents per share. The next quarterly dividend is payable in December 1979. Caldor also paid an extra cash dividend of 10 cents a share and a stock dividend of five percent on June 15 and July 9 of this year, respectively.

Bennett said the series of special dividends, dividend increases and stock distributions, indicates the board of directors' confidence that the company will continue to achieve further earnings gains.

Caldor opened two stores in August to bring to 52 its total number of units. The company plans to open four additional stores this fall.

Dividend Increases

HARTFORD—CBT Corp. has announced today that its board of directors has approved a 10 percent increase in its quarterly dividend, from 50 cents to 55 cents per share. The new quarterly dividend will be payable Oct. 20 to shareholders of record Sept. 28. On an annual basis, this is an effective increase in the dividend from $2 to $2.20 per share. There were 2,818,919 shares outstanding of CBT Corp. stock on June 30, 1979.

In announcing the dividend increase, CBT President Walter J. Connolly Jr. said, "We are delighted to be able to share our increased earnings with our shareholders. The 10 percent increase in our dividend is meant to help them combat the destructive effect of the current rate of inflation."

CBT Corp., the holding company whose major subsidiary is the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., had assets on June 30, 1979, of $2.5 billion. The Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. operates 85 branch offices statewide and had deposits of $1.9 billion on June 30, 1979.

Appeal for Workers

WETHERSFIELD (UPI)—A construction association and a labor group say they are having trouble finding women interested in heavy construction work.

The Connecticut Construction Industries and the Connecticut Laborers' District Council Wednesday issued an appeal for women to take the jobs.

Federal law mandates that 5 percent of the heavy construction work force be female. That figure will rise to 6.9 percent by 1980.

Both groups are seeking women to attend a training center where a course leading to full-time employment in heavy construction will be held.

"Initial response to the recruiting campaign has been less than anticipated, but understandable given the special nature of the work," CIA executive Arnold Beizer said.

New CofC Member

MANCHESTER—Look's Oriental Shop, 691 Main St., Manchester, has recently joined the greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

David Look is the owner of the store, and he has been in the retail business for 17 years. He opened up his Manchester store in July after moving from Hartford.

The shop specializes in oriental arts and gifts and garments and fashion gowns from India.

Jobless Claims Drop

WETHERSFIELD—Weekly filings for unemployment benefits dropped to 29,590, a low for this year, during the two weeks ending September 15. State Labor Commissioner P. Joseph Peraro said. The mid-September total was the lowest average since last November.

Initial (new) claims decreased from 3,475 to 3,266 and continued claims were down from 28,829 to 26,423. Benefits expired for an average of 305 claimants.

The insured unemployment rate (continued claims filed during the 13-week period) remained at 2.2 percent which compared with 2.5 percent last year when weekly claims were nearly nine percent higher at 32,423.

Sixteen local offices recorded fewer claims. Ansonia had an increase of three. Meriden 90 and Bridgeport, 173.

TV DIALOGUE

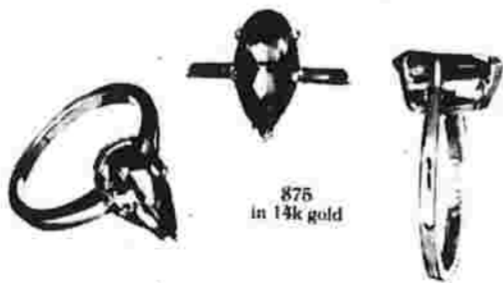

FOR EFFECT -- I saw "The Golden Voyage of Sinbad" on TV not too long ago, and I have a few questions about the special effects in the movie. Was there a man inside the statue that came to life to fight Sinbad? How exactly was that done? -- Lou Bruskan, Framingham, Mass.
 There wasn't a man inside the statue, but there was a man behind it, in the sense that it was special effects whiz Ray Harryhausen who created the effect. It was a product of his imagination and an animation technique he developed called "Dynamation." Another terrific showcase of this effect is in the movie "Jason and the Argonauts," which was made in 1963, 11 years earlier than "Sinbad."
 LOOKING FOR LUKE -- Whatever happened to Richard Crenna, the one who played Luke on "The Real McCoys"? Also, how old is he now? -- C.W. Spencer, N.C.
 Nothing has happened to him. If you haven't seen him on television or in the movies since "The Real McCoys" went off the air, I'd say you haven't been doing much viewing. The 53-year-old actor has done two series and more than a dozen motion pictures since then. Just keep watching, you'll see him.

 GRANGER STRANGERS -- Are Farley Granger and Stewart Granger related? Also, did Stewart Granger ever do a TV series? I seem to recall him in one some years ago. -- Mrs. O. Baxter, Atlantic City, N.J.
 The two Grangers are not related, and Stewart Granger is really James Stewart. But, no, he's not related to Jimmy Stewart either. It was because of his first claim on the name that Stewart Granger came into being. Back in 1970, he starred in a later variation of "The Virginian" called "The Men From Shilo."
 OUTFOXED -- I used to be a fan of Robert Foxworth when he played a lawyer on TV. What's he been up to? -- Shirley Corley, Canton, Ohio
 Last I saw him he was being chased by an ugly, overgrown Smokey the Bear in "The Prophecy."
 SWAN DIVE -- It's been over a year since ABC announced a movie to star David Soul of "Starsky & Hutch." I think it was about skiing. What's happened to it? Have they abandone it for good? -- Diane Simonelli, Palo Alto, Calif.

 The movie is "Swan Song" and it is about a downhill racer. The problem was Soul did a swan dive on his skis during the early filming and production was halted until he could get back on skis, then production of the last season of "S & H" got in the way. But the good news is filming was finally wrapped and ABC has scheduled the show for early this season.
 BUZZ WORD -- Who IS Buzz Kulik? -- Freddie Mitchell, Reno, Nev.
 Huh? Professionally, he's a top television director. Beyond that I'm not in a position to answer. But then who is Freddie Mitchell?
 AGES -- I have been a fan of Burgess Meredith for a long time, especially in the two "Rocky" movies. Can you tell me the gentleman's age? -- Mrs. Campbell, Provo, Utah
 He was born George Burgess in 1908, making him at last count 71.

Superb Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- President Carter thinks his administration has "a superb record" and its character will be more important in next year's election than transitory public opinion polls.

In speaking to a group of visiting editors, Carter also said it is "almost impossible" today for any president to rank high in the polls. He attributed his own slump to "uncontrollables" like inflation and unpopular stands he took, such as seeking the Panama Canal treaties, which he called "patently a losing proposition."

Cancer & Beer

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- New Food and Drug Administration test results show at least 28 beers -- 17 domestic and 11 imported -- contain detectable levels of cancer-causing nitrosamines, with Schlitz leading the list. Both the FDA and the brewing industry have said they are confident the nitrosamines can be eliminated through changes in the brewing process and expect a clean-up within a few months.

The highest reading for an American beer -- 7.7 parts per billion -- was found in Schlitz. The lowest -- no detectable level -- was Coors, with Stroh's a close second. The highest reading among imports -- 3.6 ppb -- was found in a Heineken sample, and the lowest was Guinness Stout, with no detectable level.

New Policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- Under pressure from the Senate Judiciary Committee, more than a dozen nominees for federal judgeships have agreed in recent months to resign from all-white social clubs. At the same time, Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti has committed himself in writing to ask candidates before they are nominated for judgeships to resign from or suspend their memberships in segregated clubs.

Committee sources say Chairman Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., is the main force behind the new policies. The changes could prod the Judicial Conference of the United States, comprised of top federal judges, to tackle an even thornier side of the issue: whether sitting judges also should be asked to resign from all-white clubs.

Visit Planned

TOKYO (UPI) -- Japanese Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira probably will visit Peking in early December for a one-week visit, Foreign Ministry sources said. The sources, quoted Sunday by Tokyo's Asahi Shimbun newspaper, said the date of Ohira's first visit to China as prime minister will be arranged through diplomatic channels after Japan's Oct. 7 general elections.

No agenda of talks between the Japanese and Chinese leaders during Ohira's visit has been announced, but observers believe Ohira will announce his government's decision on a Chinese request for a $5.4 billion loan.

Severe Storm

HONG KONG (UPI) -- Severe Tropical Storm Mac battered Hong Kong with 90 mph winds and almost 10 inches of rain Sunday night and early Monday. A 45-year-old man was killed by head injuries sustained in a fall in Hong Kong harbor and at least 48 others were injured, mostly by flying objects.

The British colony's normally busy streets and harbor were virtually deserted as residents stayed indoors. Air and surface transportation was halted, except
