

Meeting Set On Turn Law

HARTFORD—State Transportation Commissioner Arthur B. Powers said a meeting to discuss the "Right Turn On Red" program will be held Oct. 12 at the Connecticut Police Academy in Meriden at 10 a.m. Powers said the meeting will be held with local traffic authorities and state legislators. Manchester Police Chief Robert Lannan said he will attend the discussion. "I'm going to hear what's being said," Lannan declared, noting that several "No Turn On Red" signs were taken down from intersections in town. According to Powers, communities have asked permission from the state Traffic Commission to remove signs at some of the 1,950 approaches which have the "Right Turn On Red" sign. The figure represents 60 percent of the approaches on local roads, he said. Powers said an estimated 700 of the proposed 1,950 signs that were to be posted on state-maintained roads were either removed or never installed in the first place.

Hebron Board OKs Pay Hike

HEBRON—The Board of Finance has voted to appropriate $2,183 from the General Fund to provide additional pay increments, a 3 percent increase, for all town employees. The increase will become effective on Jan. 1, 1980. The finance board also appropriated $3,000 for the Town Office Building Study Committee for schematic drawings. Of this amount, $2,500 is for the actual drawings and the remaining $500 is for printing of the drawings and other related expenses. The money will come from the surplus funds account. First Selectman Aaron Reid also asked the finance board to transfer $1,667 back to the first operating expense account, from the general fund, upon receipt of an insurance claim check. The claim was filed when a volunteer fireman, operating the department's newest vehicle, was unable to safely negotiate the door when leaving the building in response to an emergency call.

Lecture on UFOs Planned Thursday

MANCHESTER—Manchester attorney Robert Bletchman, who has been a student of the Unidentified Flying Object phenomena for 14 years, will lecture on the subject Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Memorial Library. Bletchman will repeat his Adult Education course at Manchester High School entitled "UFOs: An Attorney Looks at the Evidence." He has talked to about 150 eye-witnesses, and 10 percent of them have presented evidence he says proved conclusively that spacecraft from other planets have visited Earth. Between 1948 and 1969, when the Air Force kept a dossier of UFO incidents, 110 sightings were reported in Connecticut, including Coventry and East Hartford. Before passing the ordinance, the public is invited to attend the illustrated lecture.

Another Term
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, 79, the father of the nuclear submarine and oldest serving American military officer, was reappointed by acting Navy Secretary James Woolsey for another two-year term to continue directing the Navy's nuclear propulsion programs. Just two months ago, at 79, he underwent hernia surgery at Bethesda Naval Medical Center but returned to the Pentagon almost immediately. White-haired and frail looking, Rickover shows no signs of giving up the work that has revolutionized shipboard power plants and won him extraordinary support from Congress.

Cleveland Vote
CLEVELAND (UPI) — Mayor Dennis Kucinich hung on for a second-place finish in Tuesday's non-partisan mayor primary election to qualify for a runoff in the Nov. 6 general election against Ohio's Republican Lt. Gov. George Voinovich, who defeated him by 47,743 votes to 35,515. Kucinich, referring to the November election, told a crowd of supporters Tuesday night, "we'll defeat the profit people of downtown, you can be sure of that." The others in the race were City Council Majority Leader Basil Russo who had 21,962 votes and State Sen. Charles Butts with 19,431. Socialist Workers Party candidate Thabo Ntweng trailed with 1,546 votes.

Tour Canceled
MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry Tuesday announced a tour to Sweden by the 70-member Sovremennik theater group was canceled, but apparently only after the group failed to arrive in Stockholm, where local organizers waited in vain for the Russians at the airport. However, the ministry said the cancellation was not because of the fear of defections, and directed all questions to the company directors. The company directors were unavailable for comment.

Energy Update
Washington: The Senate Tuesday began debate on a bill to cut red tape for important energy projects, but Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, is worried clean air and clean water might be shunted aside by the need for more funds. Washington: Confusing information clogged an undisciplined Nuclear Regulatory Commission emergency response center following the Three Mile Island reactor accident in March, causing staffers to ignore key indicators of low seriousness the malfunction really was, a Senate subcommittee was told Tuesday. Tokyo: Decisions by Iran and Indonesia to raise oil prices paid by Japan could foreshadow large price hikes for the United States and other oil consumers at the OPEC meeting in December, Japanese officials said Tuesday. Washington: The Senate Finance Committee refused Tuesday to exempt independent and small oil producers from the windfall oil profits tax. Washington: The oil industry may be wise to accept some sort of windfall profits tax as a way to defuse public suspicions sparked by rising energy prices, the co-author of Harvard Business School's best-selling energy study said Tuesday. Red Wing, Minn.: A water-tube rupture leaked small amounts of radioactive gas from the Prairie Island nuclear power plant Tuesday, but officials said it appeared to pose no significant danger.

Report Suggests Senator Perjury
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Ethics Committee today urged that Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., be denounced for financial misconduct and suggested he may have perjured himself when he denied knowing that unreported campaign contributions were being diverted to his personal use. In a report submitted to the Senate, the committee said it found numerous instances of conflicting testimony by the witnesses — including Talmadge — who were interviewed during its 15-month investigation, and asked the justice department to consider perjury action. "Furthermore," the committee said, "the statements made by certain witnesses, if true, and the content of certain documents, if authentic, would indicate that other serious violations of law have occurred." Talmadge's office said the senator

John Paul's Visit Thrills New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Smiling through a steady rain, Pope John Paul II walked to St. Patrick's Cathedral for a prayer service today and drove into Madison Square Garden for a pep rally with 20,000 wildly enthusiastic teen-agers. Cheers of "long live the Pope!" rocked the sports arena as the pontiff arrived, standing and waving about his special "popemobile." The teen-agers presented the pope with a series of gifts including a pair of blue jeans, a guitar and t-shirt decorated with a big red apple and "Welcome Pope John Paul II." The pope's entrance was greeted with a cheer of "Long Live the Pope!" echoed around St. Patrick's Cathedral and the smiling pope answered them: "You're right." The crowds waiting to glimpse the pope and ignoring the rain sang "You are my sunshine." John Paul smiled and waved as he walked past. An aide held an umbrella overhead to keep the rain from the pope's hair. The pope sat at the head of the congregation, mostly priests and nuns, during the prayer service. The cathedral service of quiet prayer, psalms and hymns was a moment of solitude after the joyful celebrations of Tuesday, which were interrupted by a rainstorm with John Paul and 80,000 of his flock at Yankee Stadium. The pope's exuberance was evident as he left the cathedral. He lifted his face and raised his arms to the cheers of construction workers who clung to the rafters of a building across the street. Just as the drizzle turned into a steady rain, the pontiff stood up through the open roof of the limousine and waved his red pastoral hat to the cheering and whistling throng. As he rode downtown to Madison Square Garden, the pontiff ignored the rain and stood and waved to the crowds. The youth service at Madison Square Garden featured a sound-and-light show. Color pictures of the American young people flashed on a large screen accompanied by songs and commentary. The teen-agers packed into the arena, more often a scene for rock concerts than prayer services, yelled greetings to the pope, waved banners and sang at the top of their lungs. The overwhelming reception left the pope at a loss for words. "Wow! Wow!" he said into his microphone a dozen times after the youngsters showered him with gifts. He seemed touched by the depth of the youngsters' emotion, which appeared to endorse his stern lecture to American Tuesday night not to ignore its poor or leave them "just the crumbs from the feast." During his whirlwind day, the pope bore his message of peace and love and service to the needy from the United Nations to the splendor of Fifth Avenue, from the abject poverty of Harlem and the South Bronx to Yankee Stadium, a glistening jewel in a setting of blight and decay. "I just want to see his little smiling face," said Viola Morrison, 68, as she surged against the police barricades in the South Bronx. "It's just like seeing Jesus."

Exchanges Limit New 911 System

By LANEY ZUBOFF
MANCHESTER—The town officials have expressed concern that the emergency 911 phone system will not cover everyone in Manchester, Michael McCann of Southern New England Telephone said Wednesday. Complete coverage is impossible because "our exchange boundaries do not coincide with given town boundaries." "Everyone in the state is working toward a universal 911 number said McCann, who said it's unfortunate that SNET cannot provide that service now. There are several areas in Manchester that cannot use the 911 emergency number. Residents of Fountain Village and part of Beacon Hill have a 528, Hartford, exchange. An area in Manchester bordering South Windsor also cannot use 911 because it has a 644, South Windsor, exchange. And some have a 633, Gloucester, exchange. Out of 21,000 people served by SNET in Manchester, 7,700 can't use the 911 number because they don't have one of four phone number prefixes. Those who can use the system have either a 646, 647 or 649 prefix. Town Manager Robert Weiss said Wednesday the problem was that the board of directors did not remember the phone company saying the 644 exchange would not be serviced by the 911 system. "They did tell us some areas close to South Windsor, the Fountain Village area, would not be serviced," he said. Weiss said the board would be looking into how the problem could be resolved. Board member Thomas P. Connors, said at the Tuesday night Board of Directors meeting the board would not accept the lack of total coverage in Manchester. McCann said SNET can't do anything about it right now. "It's a statewide problem," said McCann. He said in the very distant future there may be one central office to dispatch 911 calls and provide total statewide coverage. "It's being talked about but it's still very far away," he said.

Planners Reject Buckland Zoning

SOUTH WINDSOR—The application of MAP Associates, of Houston, Texas, asking for a zone change of 53 acres to accommodate a portion of the proposed Buckland Commons project, was denied by the Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday night. While explaining that the commission did not oppose planned development of the land, commission members said they denied the application of MAP Associates to give the commission more time to enact regulations to protect the town from developments which would adversely affect it. MAP was asking to change the zoning of the land, near the Manchester line in Buckland, from Rural Residential to General Commercial. Commission members, who voted unanimously against the change, said they knew they were taking a chance that MAP may decide to build the entire development in Manchester. Townspeople have had mixed emotions about the project, feeling that the town would inherit traffic problems and other problems they feel might be associated with the large development but wouldn't gain any of the tax benefits, if part of it isn't in South Windsor.

New Hope Manor Will Get $18,000

MANCHESTER — New Hope Manor, the drug rehabilitation center for girls, is expected to receive a donation of about $18,000 from the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving, to make needed exterior renovations to the facility located on Hartford Road. In the past the foundation has given the facility other grants. In 1974 a grant for $20,000 was received and used to renovate the interior of the facility which is part of the former Cheney estates complex on Hartford Road. It was also used to buy some furnishings. A $21,000 donation made by the foundation in 1976 was used to buy a 12-passenger van, to hire a social worker and a part-time secretary. It is expected that the latest grant will be used for such jobs as pointing the outside, and for insulation and other energy-saving measures. The facility, in the 19th century Jessie Lee House, will accommodate up to 15 girls.

Hoagy's Temple To Be Restored

Hoagy Carmichael once called it a "randy temple smelling of socks, wet slickers, vanilla flavoring, face powder and unread books." But the Gables restaurant—in Carmichael's day, The Book Nook—was good enough to be the birthplace of his immortal "Stanford."
Carmichael, now 79, wrote the classic 50 years ago at an old upright piano in the Indiana University student hangout. The Gables has been closed for three months now, but it won't pass from the scene. The University Foundation is taking it over.
Officials aren't sure what they're going to do with it, but presumably they won't restore it to its original "randy temple" condition.

Bank Shot

First it was a build-your-own H-bomb story. Now it's a crack-your-own bank computer yarn—and the National Banking Association in Washington isn't happy about it.

Target of the bankers' ire is the film "A Man, A Woman and a Bank," costarring Donald Sutherland and Brooke Adams. It's all about funny bank robbers who use a computer instead of a gun for their dirty work—but the association isn't laughing.
Huff, a spokesman, "revealing confidential bank data-processing methods in the name of entertainment is antisocial and, in the long term, costly to the consumer." The association wants film distribution halted.

Tenor Pitch

Operatic superstar Placido Domingo is a long-time friend and fan of Cincinnati Reds' superstar Tom Seaver, but he had to turn him down Tuesday. At Seaver's behest, Domingo was asked to sing the national anthem at the Reds' opener against Pittsburgh.
Domingo wired: "...sorry I can't be there tonight but tenors, like pitchers, can only perform every four days and unfortunately tonight while you are pitching I am singing 'Otello' at the Met. In operatic terms we say 'in bocca al lupo.'"
Translated, that means "go get 'em." Domingo was slated to open the second game Wednesday.

Pope's Presents

Pope John Paul II won't leave Philadelphia empty handed. When the pontiff visits Charles Borromeo Seminary, Mayor Frank Rizzo will present him with two rare gifts—a 175¢ copper engraving of Benjamin West's painting "William Penn's Treaty with the Indians" and a Douay Bible printed in the city in 1790.
Fewer than 1,000 copies of the Bible—the first English-language translation of the Latin Vulgate, America—were made, and by 1940 only 18 could be found. City officials hope their gifts will wind up in the Vatican museum.

Quote of the Day

Sabena Pintia, one of 50 little Polish American girls chosen to welcome Pope John Paul I to New York Tuesday with flowers: "I think he should be elected our leader... He would solve all our problems. Just look at him. Isn't he beautiful? I'm sure he could solve anything—even the most difficult question at school."

Glimpses

Bolshoi Ballet defector Alexander Godunov has joined American Ballet Theater for the 1979-80 season and will appear with the company during its Dec. 4-30 season at Washington's Kennedy Center.
Singer-actress Judith Cohen has just been signed for a part in Woody Allen's new and as yet untitled film and she'll debut her new night club act Nov. 6 at the Bolshoi in New York.
Lillian Gish has just wrapped up a series of concert and television appearances in Australia... Françoise Sagan this week celebrates the 25th anniversary of "Bonjour Tristesse" with release in London of her autobiography "Responses."

Council Votes Roof Funds

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter

VERNON — The Town Council, Monday night, agreed to appropriate up to $5,000 to replace the roof on the town garage, provided the Permanent Municipal Building Committee agrees it is needed.
The council, two weeks ago rejected the request of Ronald Hine, director of public works, for the money for the new roof, a request for money to replace a standard sedan, and a teller's counter for the tax collector's office.
Last night, in a memo directed to the council, Hine asked council members to reconsider the request for the roof and for the car.
Mayor Frank McCoy said he had reviewed the situation since the last meeting of the council and it seemed to him that Hine's main contention is that he needs the car to replace one damaged by fire.
The mayor told the council that the Police Department will be getting new cruisers as soon as they can be delivered from the factory, probably next spring, and that one of the old cruisers could be assigned to public works.

"I feel that it's not fiscally sound to buy another car to turn over to public works at this time," the mayor said.
Councilwoman Jane Lamb questioned why all of the town cars are not marked as such and the mayor said that a memo has gone out to department heads stating that all town-owned cars should have the town insignia on them.
Concerning the roof for the town garage, Hine said it is imperative that this be done before cold weather. He said he had asked three roofers to give their opinion as to whether the roof could be patched and they all agreed it couldn't. He said the roof was leaking last winter and it is leaking worse now. He said last winter a piece of sheet rock fell from the ceiling and hit a department worker on the shoulder.
Hine also, on request of the council, submitted a list of all town owned cars, with the exception of the police cruisers, the departments using them and the mileage on them.

The public works department has three cars, a 1978 one with 17,500 miles on it used by the director; a 1975 with 38,000 miles for the deputy director; and a 1974 with 70,000 miles used by the foreman.
The recreation department has a 1976 with 106,879 miles on it and a 1979 with 5,996 miles on it plus a 1973 with 134,193 miles used by the Parks department.
Others include: Filtration plant, 1975, 108,975 miles; dog warden, 1975 with 121,248 miles; health department, 1976 with 89,000 miles; housing code, 1976 with 117,831 miles engineering department, 1975 with 124,981 miles; and the building department, 1976 with 104,565 miles on it.
Council members also called for a report as to who takes town-owned vehicles home and as to their other uses.

Smoke Tests To Detect Leaks into Town Sewers

MANCHESTER — In an effort to determine how much rainwater is getting into the sewer system, where the water is getting in, and what the most cost effective method would be to correct the problem, the town Department of Public Works is conducting smoke testing of the sanitary sewer system this month.

Jay Giles, director of public works, said, "This is the first time we have used smoke testing. As a result of a sewer facilities plan done by Metcalf & Eddy we found a significant amount of water was getting into the system through illegal, or 'mistake,' connections."

Giles said this is wasteful, because the water coming in is clear, and yet the town is paying to treat it. He said the smoke program will show where the water is entering the system. It will help officials determine whether the leaks should be fixed en masse, or whether it would be cheaper to expand the present sewage treatment facilities to treat the rainwater.

The Environmental Protection Agency and the Department of Environmental Protection are the agencies forcing the town to do these tests before the agencies will provide funds for a portion of the construction costs involved in fixing the problems.

Giles said a secondary benefit to the program will allow homeowners to find defects in the plumbing of their homes that could create a safety and health hazard if not corrected.

News for Senior Citizens

Hi there! Here's what's happening here at the center this coming Friday afternoon at 1 p.m. we will have a short but important briefing for the Bermuda cruise, which is scheduled for Sunday, October 14th.

While on trips, we are all set for the foliage trip on October 11th and all indications are that the colors will be super. We'll tell you Saturday about the time the buses will be leaving for this trip.

First bit of news here starts with our Friday afternoon Setback games. We had 48 players: Archie Houghtaling, 13; Marge Reed, 13; Al Chellman, 13; Beatrice Mader, 12; Josephine Schuetz, 12; Helen Silver, 12; Bill Stone, 12; Bob Schubert, 12; Joe Mattino, 12; Martin Bakstan, 11; Michael Desimone, 11; Azilda Gilverth, 11.

In the evening we held our annual Golf League Banquet at the Army and Navy Club. Some 100 men and women attended and all enjoyed a delicious dinner. It was great to have Joe DuFont on hand after a long sojourn of not being able to participate in the League this season.

Also a word of praise to our two very hard working men Harvey Leach and Norm Larhey who did a super great job in handling the paper work and handling the League. Also to Paul Desjardins and Joe Diminco for their part in keeping the League going.

Prizes rounded out the evening and were awarded as follows: First our Annual Tournament winners: In Class A, W. Hooker, 31; H. Provost, 32; and E. Fitzpatrick, 32. Second, G. Seegerberg and R. Giacomini tied with 34. Class B, P. Buettner, 31; A. Call and I. secur, 34. Class C, T. Tolos, 35; J. Gleason, 36; and L. Fuller, 37.

Other awards went for the best average for the season: Class A, H. Leach and E. Scott, 36.52; R. Bidwell, 36.55; M. Dickinson, 36.56; H. Provost, 36.70; Class B, F. Windors, 36.58; P. Duette, 36.68; H. Gibson, 37.11 and T. Lang, 37.12. Class C, L. Lewis, 37.05; E. Hindle, 37.06; L. Monast, 37.04. W. Haddad, 37.73 and W. Frederickson, 37.81.

Last Thursday I had the pleasure to be a guest of the number one member, Nellie Moran as she celebrated her 100th birthday. It was a most memorable event and one that I will cherish forever.

Mayor Hit on Police Study

VERNON — Charging Republican Mayor Frank McCoy with handling a situation with the police department in a dictatorial manner, Democratic Council member Lena Therault, said she was "disappointed, but not surprised," by the way the mayor implemented a Police Study Committee.

She said the mayor complained about the Police Department during the last campaign and said he has had two years since then to correct whatever he felt was wrong.

"Now, one month before election, we have a grandstand play by the mayor in his appointment of the committee with a completion date of its findings months away," Mrs. Therault said.

The mayor, last week, appointed the study committee to make a complete study of the operation of the police department. Several members of some Rockville area neighborhood groups had asked the mayor for more police coverage and this led to the appointment of the committee.

"His dictatorial manner of handling the situation, points to his lack of leadership and lack of concern for the people of Vernon. With time and effort on the mayor's part, a crisis situation with another major department in our town may have been averted," Councilwoman Therault said.

She said as chief executive of the town he should have taken the initiative to sit down with Police Chief Herman Fritz and to discuss the objectives and make-up of the study committee. "A united effort to resolve problems is usually more fruitful," she said.

She added that, "Instead, we are placed in a position of confrontation rather than cooperation. How many times must we be exposed to this 'one-man rule' before we say enough — no more?" she asked.

Mrs. Therault said that the way to make the town work is by constructive criticism and cooperation by the mayor and the various departments and she expressed the hope that "we can look forward to this in the future."

Test Set For Oct. 27

MANCHESTER — Juniors and some seniors at Manchester High School will be able to join over one million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this fall, Anne L. Beechler, MHS guidance director, announced Tuesday.

The test is scheduled for Oct. 27 at the high school. Students should register for the PSAT/NMSQT in Room 110 from Oct. 9 to 23. The registration fee of $4.25 must be paid at this time.

The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude — two abilities important in doing college work — and gives students a familiarity with the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

By taking the PSAT/NMSQT, students can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. They can also ask to participate in the College Board's Student Search Service, which gives students an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise know about.

Convenient Court Urged

HARTFORD (UPI) — Attorney General Carl Ajello says the state should allow residents charged with simple motor vehicle violations the convenience of having their day in court at night or on Saturday.

Ajello called on the state's chief court administrator Tuesday to schedule the session in wake of Connecticut's new speeding law, which is expected to flood already long jammed court dockets with new cases.

"My principal reason is that it appears to be an unjustified imposition upon our citizens to require their attendance at a regular court session for what is, after all, a relatively minor offense," Ajello said in a letter to the court administrator, Associate Supreme Court Justice John A. Spziale.

"I am aware of the objections from an administrative viewpoint," the attorney general said, "but I simply believe that the courts of the people ought to be more conveniently available in this kind of circumstance."

Ajello said he "long thought" motor vehicle offenses which did not involve collisions should not be on the criminal docket, a point furthered by adoption of the new speeding law. The measure, which went into effect Monday, requires all motorists charged with exceeding the 55 mph limit to appear in court.

Under previous law, motorists clocked at up to 70 mph received traffic violations and could pay fines by mail while those clocked over 70 mph had to appear in court.

Motorists required to appear in court and then convicted under the old law faced an automatic 30-day license suspension. The new law sets an automatic suspension for a fifth conviction.

Ajello said the state's former municipal courts held evening and Saturday sessions and "provided an efficient and convenient disposal of such minor cases without imposing in any way the dignity or efficacy of the court system."

A spokesman for the attorney general said the new law was "the prime force" behind the proposal and Ajello may include a bill to set up the evening and Saturday sessions in his legislative proposals to lawmakers next year.

The flood of speeding arrests which is predicted, however, has not come about — at least not yet.

State police spokesman Adam Bertuli said Tuesday an "about average" number of 278 speeding tickets were issued Monday by the state police Traffic Division. The figure did not include tickets handed out by the 12 state police barracks.

Public Safety Commissioner Donald Long has vowed to strictly enforce the new speed limit, a position which has drawn criticism from some legislators.

Olin Talks Unsuccessful

HARTFORD (UPI) — State Labor Commissioner P. Joseph Peraro says no progress was made during a four-hour negotiating session aimed at ending the 11-week strike at an Olin Corp. arms manufacturing plant in New Haven.

The company, meanwhile, said it would ask a judge today to overturn New Haven Mayor Frank Logue's order which shut down the factory for two days.

Negotiators for Olin's Winchester Group and the union representing 1,350 striking workers met with state and federal mediators at Peraro's office Tuesday, but talks broke off at about 5 p.m.

"We couldn't overcome the issues between us. If it appeared we had found the kind of movement we were aimed at Tuesday, possible violence, the plant was virtually shut down Monday and Tuesday.

Union officials said the meeting with Peraro, which Logue had requested, was a preliminary session and no contract offers were to be discussed.

The company issued a back-to-work ultimatum to the striking Victory Lodge 609 of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, warning that replacement workers would be hired if the strikers did not return to their jobs by Monday.

Logue said he visited the gates where workers were picketing Tuesday.

Building Panel Hears School Work Reports

MANCHESTER - The Town Building Committee heard a pitch for a new type of roofing, instructed the school maintenance department to build a catch basin and accepted the renovations at the Bentley School.

The committee met Tuesday night to hear the progress reports for two projects its oversees. It discussed a new roofing system for flat roofs.

The committee is investigating ways to repair a 25-year-old roof at Manchester High School.

A sales representative and a roofing contractor presented the Trolac system to the committee and explained why they think it is ideal for re-roofing.

Trolac is a loosely laid sheet of polyvinyl chloride plastic, which has been used on European roofs for the past 10 years.

"We have never removed one stitch of roof," he said. "Most of our roofs go right over the existing one."

Committee Chairman Paul Phillips promised to contact Ken Fairweather, a contractor who has done several jobs in Connecticut and western Massachusetts, and review a construction site.

Fairweather in turn agreed to look at the MIS roof sometime and give an estimate for the job.

In other matters, the committee heard progress on the Bentley School and Police Department renovations.

Patrol Capt. Henry Minor said the general contractor has started on the "punch list" of final items to complete.

He said the heating and ventilating system is operating, the doors have been put in and the painters have completed their work.

The only problem, he said, was getting the TV monitor and intercom system to operate.

Minor said the electronics sub-contractor, Liberty Electronics of West Springfield, has not completed its work, which has irritated the department and the building committee.

"We should get better service," said Phillips. "This has been dragging on and on."

Phillips said he would see the town attorney for possible legal action against the sub-contractor if the work isn't done shortly.

The police department received a two-year Economic Development Act grant for the renovations and Minor said he faces a December deadline.

The committee also accepted the completed work at the Bentley school, freeing $1,056 to the general contractor.

To alleviate a storm drainage problem, it instructed Wilfred Dion, superintendent of school buildings and grounds, to install a catch basin on the school property.

However, the committee directed him not to go out into the street with any pipe. Most members said that was the responsibility of the Town Highway Department.

Captain Back On Job

MANCHESTER - Detective Capt. Joseph Brooks of the Manchester Police Department is back on the job this week after a three-month stint at the FBI Academy in Quantico, Va.

Brooks was one of 251 law enforcement officers from 48 states and five foreign countries to attend what Police Chief Robert Lannan called "the most prestigious law enforcement academy in the free world."

Brooks is the 10th officer from the Manchester force to attend the seminar.

Brooks attended the seminar from July 1 to Sept. 14 and studied management and investigative skills as well as lab and forensic procedures.

The academy is affiliated with the University of Virginia and Brooks received the equivalent of 16 semester hours for the courses.

Brooks said the instructors of the courses were FBI agents. "This is the epitome of education for police," Chief Lannan said.

The instructors are drawn from every police department in the nation. The workshops present solutions to common crimes that plague our cities.

As well as take courses, Brooks said the students participated in a rigorous daily physical education program.

Mayor Penny, in an attempt to explain the Democratic position said the old system wasn't cost effective. He then rebuked Zinsner for interrupting him and went on.

"We can argue about who decided what when, but the thing is, this board gets things done," Penny added. "If God is a Democrat, there will be no blizzard in November (so the program could succeed)."

Republican Peter Dirosa replied, "I thought God was bi-partisan."

Leaf Debate Not Resolved

By LAUREN DAVIS SHEA Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER - The leaf pickup issue sparked prolonged debate at last night's Board of Directors meeting. The subject is still not resolved.

Democratic Director John FitzPatrick presented his recommendation on the leaf pickup program which he said he'd been working on since the May vote, at which the directors decided to eliminate the vacuum program from the highway department's budget.

FitzPatrick said the new proposal involves using five vacuum machines instead of the two used previously so the time that town crews will be involved in the project will be cut from nine weeks to four weeks.

FitzPatrick said the new proposal would eliminate the problems of the past. Those problems were: leaves being picked up too soon or too late; the leaves kept in the vacuum trucks for the winter; and the town had been paying to rent the vacuum machines but sometimes couldn't find the manpower to do the job, thus the town was paying for idle equipment.

Representatives from United Appraisal will conduct informal hearings by the end of November. There will be a sufficient number of hearings conducted at various times to ensure that everyone having a grievance (about their assessment) will be heard.

Hutchinson said, "Property values have increased dramatically since the last revaluation in 1969. The purpose of a major revaluation is to reflect these values as well as to equalize assessments and also to shift the burden of taxation where in many cases some properties have appreciated in value far more than others."

Hutchinson said the review of all property in the town of Bolton is about 90 percent complete - all structures, houses, garages, sheds, pools, etc. have been measured.

He said there are a small number of structures that have not had an inside inspection because either the owner was not home or refused the revaluator entry.

Anyone who owns a residence and has not had the inside inspected should call the assessor's office at 649-9784 for an appointment.

All exempt property has been listed and priced. All commercial property has been measured and a review of it is now being conducted.

Hutchinson said a representative from United Appraisal is now listing and placing values on all commercial furniture, fixtures and equipment (personal property).

Big Increase Forecast In Bolton Assessments

By DONNA HOLLAND Herald Correspondent

BOLTON - The assessment of improved property in Bolton are expected to increase in value from two to five times more than the assessment figures from the 1969 revaluation.

Calvin Hutchinson, assessor said, "Improved properties are those on which a house or other building is situated."

The assessments of unimproved or vacant properties are expected to increase in value from five to 12 times since the 1969 revaluation.

The revaluation is being done by United Appraisal Company of East Hartford.

New assessment notices will be sent to all property owners early in November. Representatives from United Appraisal will conduct informal hearings by the end of November.

There will be a sufficient number of hearings conducted at various times to ensure that everyone having a grievance (about their assessment) will be heard.

Moore Backs Candidates

By JAMES MOORE, chairman of the Committee on Public Education (COPE) who said he has been closely associated with the educational climate in Vernon in recent years, has named three persons, coming up for election, who he feels will work for education, if elected.

Moore is giving his support to Mrs. Marie Herbst in her bid for election to the office of mayor on the Democratic ticket. Mrs. Herbst, who is now serving on the Town Council, served on the Board of Education in past years.

Moore said of Mrs. Herbst, "She is a woman who continually applies intelligence and creativity to seek out solutions to problems. She doesn't hesitate to speak her views. This natural ability is a quality of leadership that has application to the office of mayor."

He also supports the election of Janet Daley, a Republican, as a member of the Board of Education. Mrs. Daley is now completing an unexpired term on the board.

He described her as being "An outspoken, often criticized woman because of her frankness, she is one of the most dedicated people I know on educational topics. She supports 'School Should be Right for the Children' and would do an excellent job on the Board of Education and I recommend your support of her. Her goal of spending education dollars effectively will be of particular value to all of us."

The third candidate Moore is supporting is Jean Hopkins, former Republican on the Board of Education who is now running as an independent candidate for the board.

Moore said Mrs. Hopkins has "taken a precarious step to do what is right for our children." He termed her a woman who wishes to be free of political influence to concentrate on "educationally correct" decisions for enhancing Vernon's educational community.

"Jean is a woman who is easy to talk to, listens, and acts. Jean deserves your consideration," Moore said. He said it is the voters choice in the voting booth on Nov. 6 but he urges voters to consider what they believe is best for education when they are voting.

DiBiaggio Says UConn Needs Outside Money

STORRS (UPI) - The future of the University of Connecticut relies on stepped up efforts to raise outside funds for the state institution, says school President John A. DiBiaggio.

DiBiaggio told the Connecticut Daily Newspapers Association Tuesday night the university must continue drawing additional financial support in order to keep up with inflation and maintain "our margin of excellence."

"While our accomplishments have been significant in attracting additional dollars, the record cannot compare in any dimension with that of our sister private institutions," he said. "Perhaps it never should completely, since they rely entirely on private funds, but the disparity is so significant at this time that it does reflect a need for us to intensify our efforts in order to assure the future integrity of our university," the school president said.

The university had been able to maintain quality education even though it "has suffered through a decade of declining support," DiBiaggio told about 75 newspaper editors who held their fall business meeting on the campus Tuesday.

But he said inflation caused a decrease in real dollar support so the university has had to expand its search for funding.

He said the ability to offer quality education has clearly depended "upon the support that we have received from other sources which have served to supplement our state funds."

"It is equally clear that such additional support must not only continue but must be expanded in the years ahead if we are to maintain our margin of excellence," DiBiaggio said.

DiBiaggio said he was encouraged by his informal discussions with the state's business leaders, "for it is clear to me that they look to our colleges and universities for leadership and that they have great trust and faith in the talent of the faculty."

Bottle Bill Rules Set - HARTFORD (UPI) - The Legislature's Regulations Review Committee has adopted regulations that will also be the beverage container deposit law, often called the bottle bill, to be enforced Jan. 1, 1980.

The law requires a refundable deposit of at least five cents on each beer and soda container, both metal and glass, sold after Jan. 1. The regulations adopted unanimously Tuesday included definitions of a beverage and a container, set rules for redemption of containers and describe the condition empties must be in to be eligible for a refund. The deposit law was passed in 1978 after six years of debate.

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Jack Tighe's comments may not have helped the Pittsburgh Pirates take a one-game lead over their old playoff nemesis, the Cincinnati Reds, in the first game of the National League championship series, but they sure as heck didn't hurt.

"It's definitely not over," said Reds' Manager John McNamara, trying to downplay the importance of having lost the first game. But Dave Concepcion, pitcher with the Reds, and the double-play combo of Tim Lincecum and Bill Madlock doing likewise for Pittsburgh.

Reds now have just four games left in which to take three of the best-of-five series and only one will be played at friendly Riverfront Stadium. And today's matchup of young Cincinnati right-hander Frank Pastore against veteran rightie Jim Bibby, the Pirates' hottest starting pitcher, does not shape up as evenly on paper as did the duel Tuesday night between Seaver and John Candalaria.

Bitter Feelings in Soccer Defeat

By IEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Writer

There were some bitter feelings and harsh words exchanged at the end after Simsbury High maintained its unbeaten record with a hard-fought 1-0 win over Manchester High in CCIL soccer play yesterday in Simsbury.

The homecoming Trojans kept abreast with equally unbeaten Hall High with their sixth win in as many starts. Manchester, meanwhile, slips to 2-3 with two games to be played this week, Thursday a make-up against East Hartford High on the road and Friday at Memorial Field against Windham High.

Some of contention was a swipe taken by Simsbury's Jeff Williams, a clever midfielder, at Manchester's face-down Jeff Lombardo after the pair tangled for a loose ball. The incident was undetected by the men in the striped shirts with Indian Coach Dick Danielson angrily voiced his displeasure to the officials and Simsbury Coach Jack Wilson.

"Don't ever say he didn't do it," Danielson scolded Wilson after the game as voices were raised. "I'm saying they (Manchester) don't play fair," Wilson, after the impromptu debate, stated, "They knock people down. They push us off the ball but it was just aggressive soccer," he added, noting the 22 fouls whistled on Manchester against 11 called on his side.

It was Williams, who displayed fine ball control, who set up the 11-0 goal with a left-footed instep on a corner kick. It landed in an muddy spot on the field with reserve striker Chuck DiPace putting it into the cage at the 18:53 mark of the second stanza.

"No, I wasn't pleased at all," a still angry Danielson responded, "We didn't have enough go to get the ball," he added striding towards the team bus.

Manchester finished in third place for the first time since 1976, thanks to some debilitating injuries, inconsistent pitching and a red-hot Baltimore Orioles team. They were out of the elbow, an assemblage of ice, tape and adhesive seemingly large enough to shield a six-pack.

"This season seemed like a century — at least for me it did," said Fisk, who started just 35 games behind the plate, with 35 winning 23 of them.

It wasn't much better for his teammates either. The Red Sox finished in third place for the first time since 1976, thanks to some debilitating injuries, inconsistent pitching and a red-hot Baltimore Orioles team. They were out of the elbow, an assemblage of ice, tape and adhesive seemingly large enough to shield a six-pack.

"I think change comes after an adverse year, like we had the last two months," Sullivan said. "It demands it. If we have to, we'll trade hitting for pitching — if that's the only way to acquire it."

The Red Sox have already announced Don Zimmer will return for the 1980 season. He will be assisted by Johnny Pesky, Johnny Podres will be the new pitching coach and former outfielder Tommy Harper will be the first base coach.

"Our baserunning was horrible all season. Bill Campbell, one of the big question marks entering the year, never regained his 1977 form when he returned 31 saves.

Scholastic Cross Country Roundup

DeValve Paces Indian Triumph

Joe Neubelt

With Tim DeValve running the fifth fastest time ever at the Center Springs Park course, injury-riddled Manchester High boys' cross country team downed yesterday Hartford Public by a 22-43 count.

The Silk Towners, 5-0, were without No. 2 and 3 runners Doug Meek and Jim Grzymkowski, both injured. Their status for Friday's meet against cross-town East Catholic and Xavier in Middletown is doubtful.

DeValve turned in a 13:51 clocking over the 2.5 mile layout, only 16 seconds away from the course mark.

Joe Neubelt, in his best race of the year, took third place with a 14:37 clocking while Harry Veal cemented seventh place with his best performance of the campaign for Manchester.

"Everyone (healthy) will be running for East (Catholic) and Xavier and it will take our best effort to beat them," stated Manchester Coach George Saitor.

Public drops to 4-1. Results: 1. T. DeValve 13:51 for 2.5 miles, 2. Vazquez (HP), 3. Neubelt (M), 4. Laurino (HP), 5. Johnson (M), 6. Wickwey (M), 7. Veal (M), 8. D. DeValve (M), 9. Murphy (M), 10. Parrott (M).

Scholastic Soccer

Hall 6, Penney 1

Three goals by Yuri Fishman, a transfer student from Russia, and a pair by Glenn Hubert powered unbeaten Hall past Penney High, 6-1, in CCIL soccer action yesterday in East Hartford.

The Warriors are now 6-0 while the Black Knights slip to 1-4. Next action for Penney is Saturday morning at 10:30 at cross-town East Hartford High.

Jim Merrick opened the scoring for Hall with Fishman making it 2-0. Hubert with a header made it 3-0 at the intermission with Fishman twice and Hubert once adding to the lead in the third quarter.

Earl Brown scored on a penalty kick in the third stanza for Penney's lone score.

"We started to move the ball well as soon as we got used to the surface," stated Hall Coach Dave Deacon, who made special note of the talented Fishman. "When you can get a guy like him it adds a dimension to your team for sure," he stated.

Penney was without co-captains John Costello and Jeff DeAngelis and lost Joe Lombardo during the contest to injury. Ken D'Aiello played well defensively for the Knights.

Cheney 2, Portland 2

Doubling its output of the previous five games still wasn't enough as the Cheney Tech soccer team had to settle for a 2-2 tie with COC foe Portland High yesterday in Portland.

The Beavers are 0-3-1 in the conference and 0-4-2 overall while the Highlanders are 0-2-2 in COC play and 1-4-2 overall.

But defensive lapses in the second 40-minute segment cost the Beavers dearly as Bob Kapitka in the 30-minute mark and John Williams five minutes later tallied for Portland to earn the host club the draw.

Cheney had a 15-11 edge in shots with Highlander keeper Matt Feldman making 11 stops and Tim Mainville and Paul Nowak splitting the chores between the pipes for Cheney with six stops.

Minnows are some of the most interesting fish in the world. Nearly 2,000 species have been identified by biologists. The fish live in almost any kind of water that will support fish life, and are found on every continent except South America, Canada and Australia.

Newington 1, Glastonbury 0

Behind the stellar goalkeeping of Dave Clayton, Newington High bested previously unbeaten Glastonbury High, 1-0, in a CVC soccer outing yesterday in Glastonbury.

The Tomahawks, stand 5-1 in conference play and 6-1 overall while the win by the Indians boosted their CVC record to 1-2-1 and aggregate docket to 25-25.

Dan Williams' goal at the 25:55 minute mark tallied.

But defensive lapses in the second 40-minute segment cost the Beavers dearly as Bob Kapitka in the 30-minute mark and John Williams five minutes later tallied for Portland to earn the host club the draw.

Catholic Boys in Romp

The top five jogged leisurely as East Catholic boys' surpassed CCC foe Northwest Catholic, 15-45, yesterday at Wickham Park.

Steve Funk, John Clifford, Steve Kirtledge, Ken Colton and Dave Kirtledge all turned in a 15:51 clocking over the 2.8 mile course for East, which ran a very relaxed race from a team standpoint.

"The time was not impressive because of the extensive workout over the last couple of days," cted East Coach Jack Hull. "The team is very keyed up for Friday's meet against Xavier and MHS," he added.

The Eagle thunders are now 9-0 for the season. Results: 1. Funk (EC), Clifford (EC), 2. Kirtledge (EC), Clifton (EC), D. Kirtledge (EC) 15:51 for 2.8 miles, 3. Deenee (NW), 4. O'Callaghan (NW), 5. Fitzgerald (EC), 6. Curley (NW), 7. Evans (EC).

Tribe Girls in Narrow Win

A close meet was predicted and that's what it was as Manchester High girls' cross country team barely staved off Glastonbury High, 27-30, yesterday in Glastonbury.

Impressive showings by Jeanine Murphy and Bette Sheldon kept the Indian thunders unbeaten at 7-0, while Tribe Coach Phil Blanchette.

"Glastonbury has to be one of the best in (Class) LL this year. It has always been tough to beat in the past and proved it again today," Blanchette spoke of the Tomahawks, now 3-0 for the season.

Glastonbury's Carolyn Conigliaro took top honors with a 17:30 clocking over a 2.5 mile course. Manchester's Sue Green was second, 26 seconds in arrears, with Indian teaming with Sue Couette third.

"Tomahawk harrides," Sue Haught and Sue Edmonds took fourth and fifth placements but Murphy and Sheldon secured sixth and seventh places to "save us from near disaster," noted Blanchette.

Next outing for Manchester is Friday at the Simsbury Invitational. Results: 1. Conigliaro (G) 17:30 for 2.5 miles, 2. Green (M), 3. Couette (M), 4. Haught (G), 5. Edmonds (G), 6. Murphy (M), 7. Sheldon (M), 8. Tenenman (G), 9. Wright (M), 10. Kargen Scott (M).

Arico Establishes Second Record

With Cindy Arico paving the way for her second straight course-record performance, Penney High girls' cross country team whipped CCC foe Ferni High, 15-50, and host Windham High, 19-42, yesterday in Windham.

Arico turned in a 14:34 clocking over Windham's 2.5 mile layout to shatter the old standard of 15:44 held by Conard High's Mary Hungenford.

Kathy Abbott and Sherie Arico took 2-3 for Penney, now 5-0-1 for the season, and were much closer to Cindy than before noted a pleased Black Knight Coach Dick Brimley. Diane Grejdas showed good progress from her injury and secured sixth place for the Knights.

Results: 1. C. Arico (P) 14:34 for 2.5 miles (new course record), 2. Abbott (P), 3. S. Arico (P), 4. Diederich (W), 5. McCaulay (W), 6. Grejdas (P), 7. Stent (P), 8. Molmuphy (P), 9. Kirwin (P), 10. Maxfield (W).

East Girls Upended by Northwest

Led by Mary Cobb, Northwest Catholic tripped East Catholic, 23-35, in girls' cross country action yesterday at Wickham Park.

The Eagletes are now 5-3 with their next action Friday against Fish and host E.O. Smith in Storrs. Cobb turned in a 15:41 clocking over the 2.5 mile course as she cruised to victory by a whopping 88-second margin. East's Kathy Kirtledge and Linda Reddy each were clocked in 17:18 to take second and third respectively. Northwest secured the next five placements to lock up the decision.

Sue Ferrari was ninth and Mary Evans 10th for the Eagletes. Results: 1. Cobb (NW) 15:40 for 2.5 miles, 2. Kirtledge (EC), 3. Reddy (EC), 4. Coffey (NW), 5. Bazzano (NW), 6. Shea (NW), 7. Schiffer (NW), 8. Davern (NW), 9. Ferrari (EC), 10. Evans (EC).

MHS Spikers Drop Third

After opening the season with three successive victories, the Manchester High girls' volleyball team has fallen on hard times. The Indian spikers yesterday dropped their third in a row, 15-3, 15-13 and 15-11 to Simsbury High at Clarke Arena.

Manchester salvaged the jayvee match, 5-15, 15-7 and 15-12. Mitchell Schardt and Carol Donovan played well for the Tribe jayvees, now 4-2. Next outing is Thursday at Enfield High at 3:30.

Bennet JV 2, Edwards 0

Bennet's jayvee soccer team moved its record to 2-0 with a 4-2 victory yesterday over Timothy Edwards of South Windsor.

Scott Gorman scored twice and Dan Guachione and Tom Finnegan one apiece for the Bears. The latter's Mike McCarry on a penalty kick, Mike LeTourneau and Jay Hedlund tallied for the Bears, now 3-0 for the season. Sean Kearns, Shann Hoppestead, Tim Carmel, Mark Coulter, Mike Roy, and Roger Greenwood also played well for Bennet.

Field Hockey Win Preserves Slate

After two postponements, Manchester High girls' field hockey team got its chance to play Conard High. And the Indians were glad they did as they clipped the Chieftains, 3-1, in CCIL play yesterday in West Hartford.

The Silk Towners are 4-0-1 for the season while Conard drops to 3-2 in the league, 3-5 overall.

Manchester was the aggressor from the start and was constantly in the Conard circle. It did it 18 minutes into the first half as Nancy Curtin received the ball on a penalty corner and sent a long pass to right winger Georgeanne Ebersold.

The latter stroked it into the cage for a 1-0 lead, which stood at the intermission.

Outstanding goalkeeping by Kathy Shirer kept the Chieftains in the contest with Holly Hungenford knotting it at the 22-minute mark of the second half.

Manchester salvaged the jayvee match, 5-15, 15-7 and 15-12. Mitchell Schardt and Carol Donovan played well for the Tribe jayvees, now 4-2. Next outing is Thursday at Enfield High at 3:30.

While most minnow species seldom reach a size greater than an ounce or so, and some grow to weigh nearly a pound, many carry out their spawning habits in very shallow water.

They are also found in many parts of the world, and squawfish, resident only in streams of the northwest United States, often weigh 40 to 50 pounds and grow to be several feet long.

Squawfish grow as large as 80 pounds.

Minnows have strange and varied spawning habits. Some species are so frivolous that they use the nests of other fish as their spawning sites.

Others simply scatter fertilized eggs wherever they happen to land and swim away contentedly hoping the best for their abandoned offspring.

Greek and hornhead chubs are a little more concerned about what happens to their spawn. The male digs a nest in gravel where the female lays the eggs.

After fertilizing them, the male sizes small pebbles in his mouth and, one-by-one, places them in the nest.

Presumably this is done to camouflage the spawning site from predatory fish.

Minnows play an important role in nature by providing a plentiful and available source of food for many other species of fish plus many kinds of birds and reptiles.

Judge Rules Home Videotaping Is Legal

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - A federal judge has ruled it is legal for private citizens to videotape television shows at home, rejecting a legal challenge important to the rapidly growing videotape market by annoyed movie-makers.

The decision Tuesday also upheld the legality of tape-recording music and other material from the radio.

U.S. District Judge Warren Ferguson said Congress never intended the copyright laws to apply to such home recordings, commenting that in any case it is too late to halt the revolution in viewing habits spreading throughout the country.

Any other ruling would be unenforceable, the judge said.

"Home recording simply cannot be controlled. Nobody is going to anybody's home to prevent it," the judge said.

With billions of dollars at stake, the film industry plaintiffs said they would appeal.

"Both sides knew going into this case that ultimately it would have to be decided by the (U.S.) Supreme Court," said Sidney Sheinberg, president of MCA Inc.

The judge agreed, saying "the ramifications of this new technology are greater than the boundaries of this lawsuit," suggesting Congress or a federal commission look into the developments.

Walt Disney Productions and MCA - the giant of the entertainment industry and parent corporation of the Universal movie studios and Universal Television - brought the landmark suit against the Sony Corp., makers of the Betamax video cassette recorder, and several related companies and retailers.

Although only two film studios and one video recorder manufacturer were directly involved, the ruling was looked to as a precedent applying to the rapidly growing industry.

The moviemakers sought a court order banning the manufacture, sale and use of the machines, on the ground they allow users to circumvent the copyright laws that protect the property rights of film makers and program creators, unfairly reducing the value of the companies' motion pictures.

In the basic ruling, Ferguson declared "neither the Copyright Act of 1909 nor the revised act of 1976 gave copyright holders monopoly power over an individual's off-the-air copying in his home for private non-commercial use."

He said it was his understanding Congress did not intend to ban tape recording of radio shows and music, and so videotape recordings of television signals also should be legal.

He noted, however, he was not deciding whether the copyright laws prohibit copying of pay television shows or "off-the-air recording by individuals or groups for use outside the home."

The ruling climaxed three years of litigation that led to a five-week trial last spring.

Moscow Pops Remarkable

By PETER B. GRAM

The opening of the Symphony Series at the Jorgensen Auditorium Tuesday night, featuring the Moscow Pops, closed with a thunderous ovation from the capacity crowd. Under the baton of the youthful director, Nicolai Nekrasov, the Russian Folk Orchestra marched in wearing Kosak embroidered shirts, with some 50 balalaikas and demars, as well as an accordionist, two pianos, and a variety of colorful percussionists.

The singing was delivered by three stars of the Blizoi Opera, consisting of a theatrical tenor, a buxum blond soprano and a bass. They sang under enormous control, without microphones, unequal musicianship and with enough brio to stir the audience to many standing ovations.

Two dance numbers performed by two principles of the Kiev Ballet similarly drew wide appraisal. Their pas des deux seemed more remarkable since a tiny space was left for them in front of the stage. The program was drawn mainly from old folk songs, that brought nostalgia for the Russia of the Zarist Era, with two lieder songs by Schubert and Moussorgsky, at which point the baton flew off the sweeping hand of the conductor.

It was rather disappointing that Gypsy songs were omitted, since they possess enormous expression and nostalgia, much more than the "Romansa" song.

Also the more contemporary songs of the 20th century were untouched. My memory is vivid of the thunderous Red Army songs, heard in Europe at the end of World War II by the troops.

However, a remarkable fusion was brought about by the performers and the audience, creating a spirit of affection and understanding between the two great countries, and obviously much more successful than the brigade stationed in Havana.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You said we should open our doors to the "best people," because we all came from other countries and were made welcome, right?
Wrong! When our country was new, we had plenty of wide open spaces and needed help from the immigrants to build our nation.
We needed the Chinese to build our railroads, the Scandinavians to work our forests, the Finns to work in our mines, and the Germans to work in our factories. We needed the Jews to teach us business, the Italians to teach us how to make wine, and the Irish to teach us how to fight!
I hope I didn't leave out anybody.
AL IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR AL: How about the French who taught us to make love? And the Austrians who taught us to make strudel? And what did we learn from the Hungarians, the British, the Slavs, the Scotch, the Russians, the Spanish, the Swiss? Readers?

DEAR ABBY: This problem is mine only indirectly, but because I love the person whose problem it is, I am asking for your help.

The lovely lady has met with a terrible tragedy. She lost her dog. It wasn't just an ordinary dog. Abby, it was a shih-tzu, and a more lovable and intelligent dog I've never seen. It was almost human, and my friend couldn't have loved her own baby more.

She placed ads in all the local newspapers, and begged the TV broadcasters to mention it, offering a large reward for its return. (They refused.) She even called a service in San Francisco whose business it is to find lost pets. Nothing has worked.

My friend hasn't been able to sleep or eat since she lost her dog, and I am afraid of what might happen to her. Can you help?

CONCERNED FOR CAROL

DEAR CONCERNED: Only one who has lost a loving pet can know how Carol feels. But she must accept the fact that she may never see her precious dog again, and learn to deal with her grief. I suggest she quit looking for the dog and find a therapist instead.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for CONSIDERING IT - the 64-year-old woman who is considering surgery to enlarge her breasts.

I am 21, and have always had a very small bosom. For years I was ashamed of my terrible "handicap" and wouldn't be caught dead without my padded bra.

Last year I fell in love with a wonderful man and agonized over the fact that one day he would learn the truth about my bosom.

Well, that day came, and never in my entire life have I been so embarrassed! But this sweet and loving man just smiled kindly, and told me that he had suspected it for a long time, but it didn't make a particle of difference to him!

He let me know then, and has every day since, that he loves me just the way God made me - small bosom and all. With his love and reassurance, I have thrown away all my padded bras (after 12 years) and I am no longer the least bit ashamed of being flat-chested.

I hope that CONSIDERING IT will realize how little difference the size of one's bust really makes.

If someone as wonderful as my man loves me the way I am, why should I despise myself?

FLAT BUT FULFILLED

DEAR FULFILLED: Thanks for giving all those flat-chested girls a much-needed lift. Their 34 AA-cups runneth over.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long delayed $25 cent self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif.

defeated the contract, but West had no way of realizing this. He led from his strong spade holding and South was in control.

Before playing to trick two, declarer realized that his club loser could be discarded on dummy's fourth heart and that his spade loser could be trumped in dummy.

The immediate problem was how to play the trump suit.

Normally, such a holding requires a trump finesse. Declarer saw however that if the finesse lost and a club was returned he would not be able to make the contract because of the block in the heart suit.

Declarer found a much better play. By cashing the ace and king of diamonds, assuming trumps broke 3-2 (a 68 percent possibility as opposed to the 50 percent possibility of a successful finesse), the contract was assured.

Trump did break 3-2. Declarer played his ace, king and queen of hearts (not caring if the master trump ruffed in), ruffed a spade in dummy and pitched his club loser on the jack of hearts.

DUCKLING LAUREL

1 frozen duckling (4 1/2 to 5 pounds), defrosted and quartered
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 small bay leaves
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup water

1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 chicken bouillon cube, crushed
2 tablespoons Catfish or other orange liqueur
1 tablespoon shredded orange rind

Wash, drain and dry duckling. Combine salt and 2 bay leaves finely crushed, and rub over surfaces of duckling quarters. Arrange quarters, skin side up, on rack in roasting pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) until meat on drumstick is tender, about 2 hours. Turn quarters often, ending with skin side up. Prepare sauce. Combine orange juice, water, sugar, cornstarch and bouillon cube; stir until free of lumps. Add remaining bay leaf. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Simmer uncovered about 5 minutes. Add orange liqueur and rind; heat thoroughly. Serve with sauce. Serves 4.

UP-SIDE DOWN VEGETABLE LASAGNA

A typical Lasagna is lasagna macaroni layered with cheeses and/or vegetables and topped with tomato sauce. Following are detailed directions for cooking and layering.

1 package (13-7/8 oz.) Chef Boy-ard-dee® Complete Lasagna Dinner
5 or 6 asparagus stalks, fresh, frozen, or canned
1 carrot, sliced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups Ricotta cheese
1 egg, beaten
dash nutmeg
6 mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 teaspoon oregano
4 oz. shredded Mozzarella cheese

Prepare lasagna macaroni according to package directions; drain. Meanwhile, blanch fresh or frozen asparagus and carrot slices in boiling water for 1 to 3 minutes; drain. If using canned asparagus, drain. Butter 6"x10"x2" baking pan. Arrange several asparagus spears and carrot slices in floral design on bottom of dish. Spoon about three teaspoons of lasagna sauce from package over asparagus arrangement.

Place one layer of drained lasagna macaroni on top. Combine Ricotta cheese, egg, nutmeg and cheese from package; spread one-half of mixture on lasagna. Place another lasagna layer on cheese mixture. Sauté mushrooms and onions; add salt, basil and oregano. Arrange on top. Add another lasagna layer and spread with remaining Ricotta mixture. Place final lasagna layer on top; pour remaining sauce from package over it; sprinkle with shredded Mozzarella cheese. Bake in 425°F oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Allow to stand for 5 minutes. Cut around edge with knife or spatula to loosen any baked on cheese. Place large flat platter on top of baking dish and turn upside down. Serves 4 to 6.

ZESTY BUTTERMILK SALAD DRESSING

2 cups buttermilk
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon soy sauce

Combine all ingredients, mixing well. Makes about 2-1/2 cups low-calorie salad dressing.

1/4 cup sugar
1/3 cup cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits

Drain fruit cocktail, saving syrup. Cut cake into halves crosswise to form two layers. Refrigerate. Sieve the cheese, then blend well with sugar, cream, vanilla and almond extract. Add chocolate, almonds and drained fruit. Place bottom layer of chilled cake on serving dish and top with filling. Top with second layer. Sprinkle with rum or rum extract combined with fruit syrup to make 2 tablespoons.

3/4 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup butter
5 cups (3/4-inch) Italian bread cubes with crusts
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon basil
1 egg, beaten

Add bread cubes, herbs and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt; toss lightly. Fill neck and body cavities loosely. Skewer neck skin to back. Cover opening of body cavity with aluminum foil and tie legs together loosely. Place on rack in roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven (350°F) until meat on drumstick is tender, about 2 1/2 hours. Serves 4.

Indian flavor with American ease. Curried chicken, an early international favorite in this country, is a simple way to add new interest to a meal for family or guests.

Curried Chicken International Favorite

Almost everybody in the world loves chicken and almost every country has a favorite way to prepare it. Among the earliest of the "international recipes" to become a part of American cuisine were the curried dishes of India. British soldiers serving in India brought the exotic taste back to England. Early homemakers in New England and the South found it easy to serve curried foods in the New world as trading vessels frequently brought spices to the seaports of the east coast.

Spices have been a part of Indian cooking for several thousand years and chicken has been and continues to be a cherished food. Curry seasoning adds a new interest to the natural flavor of chicken. However, Indian cooking, like American, varies from region to region so there is no one "authentic" way to prepare it. And modern American cooks, like their forebears, are inclined to improvise — using ingredients at hand and often improving on the original recipe.

Today's nutrition-conscious homemakers, who know the value of chicken's high protein, low-calorie content and are adventurous in planning their families' menus, will appreciate the two recipes below created by the National Broiler Council. They have all the excitement of international dining but are easily prepared with readily-available ingredients.

"Do-Ahead Chicken Curry" is so simple you can make it a family regular yet it is special enough for a buffet supper (just double the recipe). And because so much of the preparation is done the night before, there's little left to do at serving time but to heat and enjoy.

"Easy Curried Chicken Breasts" has all the essentials of true Indian curry — spices, yogurt, almonds and thickening without use of flour or starch — yet it, too, is prepared with American ease. In the unlikely event that there are leftovers, it's just as good when re-heated and served another day.

Traditionally, chicken curried dishes are served with rice and chutney. An assortment of side dishes such as chopped nuts, raisins, coconut, bacon bits, crushed pineapple and slivers of lemon peel also enhance the flavor and add to the fun of trying a new dish that originated in a far-away land.

Easy Curried Chicken
1 broiler-fryer chicken cut in parts
4 tablespoons butter (60 ml)
2 4-ounce cans mushrooms, drained (224 ml)
2 teaspoons curry powder (40 ml)
1 teaspoon powdered ginger (1 ml)
2 10-oz. cans cream of chicken soup (330 g)
1 cup unflavored yogurt (240 ml)
1/4 cup toasted whole almonds (120 ml)
Melt butter in large skillet over medium-high heat. Brown chicken parts about 15 minutes. Remove and arrange in casserole dish. Add onions and mushrooms to remaining butter in skillet. Sauté until onions are clear, not brown. Remove excess fat. Add curry powder, ginger and cream of chicken soup to onions and mushrooms. Mix well and pour over chicken parts in casserole. Bake uncovered in preheated 300 degrees F. or 175 degrees C. for 1 hour. Remove chicken parts and mix in yogurt. Replace chicken and sprinkle with toasted almonds. Serve immediately on fluffy saffron or white rice. Side dishes of chutney, crystallized ginger, coconut, fried raisins and chopped green pepper may be served with this curry. Makes: 4-6 servings.

Do-Ahead Chicken Curry
1 large broiler-fryer chicken cut in parts
2 cups water (600 ml)
1 rib celery
1 teaspoon salt (5 ml)
1 tablespoon butter (45 ml)
1/2 cup chopped onion (125 ml)
1/2 cup chopped celery (125 ml)
1/2 cup grated or flaked coconut (125 ml)
1 apple, chopped (1-1/4 cups) (250 ml)
1 tablespoon curry powder (15 ml)

Phillip's Is Last Place
Philadelphians have lower incomes than the residents of the rest of the country's top 10 cities. The Conference Board notes. A typical Philadelphia family earns less than $16,650 a year. Only 18 percent of all households there make over $25,000 annually. But the cost of living in Philadelphia is only slightly above the U.S. urban average, with housing, transportation and clothing cheaper than in most other places.

Say Hello to The Nutritious Papaya

Papaya is popping up in produce departments around the country. Improved shipping techniques bring this Hawaiian gold mine of nutrition and flavor within reach of more shoppers each day. The papaya is a fruit worth getting to know.

Most of us first try papaya served simply by the half with a squeeze of fresh lime. The flavor is described as a cross between a ripe peach and a juicy Cranshaw melon.

Your taste buds will find it sweet, juicy flavor of a perfect combination with cottage cheese, yogurt or ice cream. Papaya also makes a great breakfast shake: just puree it in a blender with milk and serve.

Papaya is one of the fruits that can be bought while still green. Leave it at room temperature for three to five days until the skin has turned yellow-gold.

A ripe papaya will keep for a week in the refrigerator. Since it doesn't turn brown once cut, it is ideal for make-ahead desserts and salads.

Poly-ness
Chesapeake
2 cups macaroni cookie crumbs (16 cookies)
1/2 cup melted butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup boiling water
1/3 cup white or light brown sugar
2 egg yolks
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 cup ice cubes (about 7)
1 ripe papaya
Combine cookie crumbs and melted butter. Mix well. Press mixture into a 9-inch pie plate to form a crust. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, put lemon juice and gelatin into a blender container. Pour in boiling water. Blend on high speed for 40 seconds. Add sugar, egg yolks, cream cheese and sour cream. Whirl 10 seconds. Add ice cubes, 1 at a time, blending until smooth.

Pour into a bowl. Refrigerate 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, peel, seed and puree half of papaya. Slice remaining half for garnish.

Spoon cream cheese mixture into cooled crust. Swirl pureed papaya on top of pie. Garnish with reserved papaya slices. Chill until firm. Cut in wedges to serve. Makes 8 servings.

Top Celery With Cheese

Baked celery with a cheese topping makes a tasty side dish that helps to fill the family's protein needs — and to cut down on the expensive beef you might serve otherwise.

In these days of watching the food dollar, it helps to plan enjoyable meals without busting the budget. Since most of us enjoy celery, this baked dish will be a welcome variation in family meals.

Celery With Cheese and Sesame Topping
1 large stalk (bunch) Florida celery
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1/4 cup boiling water
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon sesame seed
Separate celery into ribs. Trim end leaves. Cut ribs into pieces 4-inches long by 1/2-inch wide. (Makes about 2 quarts.) Set aside.

In a large skillet, dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Add celery. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until celery is crisp-tender, about 10 minutes.

Remove celery from casserole. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Sprinkle cheese over celery.

Bake, uncovered, until cheese melts, about 5 minutes. Makes 6 portions.

Fifth Food Group is Like Fifth Wheel: Unnecessary

By JEANNE LÉSEM
UPI Family Editor

The USDA's fifth food group is a fifth wheel in American eating patterns. That is to say, unnecessary. And, unless consumed in moderation, downright dangerous.

In the first of a new series of publications, the Agriculture Department has added a fifth group to make this point:

The traditional four food groups "supply the vitamins, minerals and protein, the nutrients the body needs, as well as calories (energy). The fifth group, Fats-Sweets-Alcohol, provides mainly calories and little in the way of nutrients.

That's about the only new thing in "Food," a slick magazine-format nutrition publication aimed at improving American's eating habits.

The points it makes about nutrition labeling, smart shopping, diet, fitness and health and related topics have been made repeatedly, not just in other USDA publications, but also in newspapers and magazine — particularly since the fitness craze began building.

The first issue of the new booklet includes articles on "The Hassle-Free Guide to a Better Diet," breakfasts and snacking, plus 60 recipes and color photographs that look good enough to eat.

It provides a few sample menus for 1,200-, 1,800- and 2,400-calorie a day diets and a chart showing the minutes of activity needed to burn up food calories at different levels of activity, from sedentary to strenuous.

The authors and editors omitted a guide for reading the time elements on the chart, apparently assuming any reader would realize the red circles stand for an hour if one color or fraction of an hour in two colors.

The recipes appear to have been chosen for broad general appeal. There's no fancy cooking, unless you count such things as roasted almonds coatin'g crushed rosemary, cranberry tea is a combination of homemade spiced tea and cranberry juice cocktail), french-toasted tuna sandwiches, a quiche, a 3-cheese fondue and macaroni and cheese soufflé.

It's easy to see from the recipes why many Americans over-do their consumption of sweets, sodium and fats. There's 1/4 cup of sugar in the mixture for pickling six eggs. The beef and cheese log is mainly cheddar cheese, cream cheese and pressed beef, all high in sodium. Ditto the quiche, which contains dried beef, swiss cheese and half-and-half, a blend of half cream-half milk.

Among the sweets are carrot-raisin brownies, squash and pumpkin breads, oatmeal freezer cookies, homemade toaster pancakes and peanut butter sundae.

Calorie count per serving is provided for each recipe. Almost all make six servings, which is not likely to appeal to the estimated 52.7 percent of American households made up of one or two persons.

In the past, the federal government has been criticized for the lack of appeal of its nutrition information.

"Food" is intended to counter that image, said agriculture secretary Bob Bergland at a news briefing introducing the first issue.

No formal schedule has been prepared for future issues, said Ted Crane, director of the USDA's special reports division. By telephone from Washington, D.C., Crane said topics that may be covered later include vegetarianism, weight control and low-fat, low cholesterol diets.

He said 400,000 copies of the first issue will be given away singly in an introductory offer. To obtain one free copy, write for "Food," G-228, to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 684-C, Pueblo, Colo. 81009. Copies are also available in any number for $3.25 each from the superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Waldorf Salad Reappears

Perhaps it was the inspiring sight of fresh, colorful apples this fall that caused more chefs unexpectedly to begin whipping up Waldorf salads again.

This refreshing salad based on the classic created for patrons of the New York City's Waldorf-Astoria many years ago is a delight with many dishes. Serve a Waldorf grape salad with a hearty soup and crunch rolls for a complete luncheon. Or use the salad as a side dish with quiche, chili or poultry.

For best results, select crisp, tart apples and dice them unpeeled. Although this recipe calls for walnuts, it is also tasty with Spanish peanuts or your favorite dry roasted nuts.

Waldorf Grape Salad
1 cup California seedless grapes
1 cup diced apples
1 cup sliced celery
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup diced Swiss cheese
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
Lettuce cups

In a large salad bowl, gently toss together the first five ingredients. Whip cream in another bowl. Beat in remaining ingredients, except lettuce. Fold dressing into salad. Serve cold on lettuce cups. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Turkey is No Longer Just For Holidays

Turkey, once a holiday-only treat, is becoming a favorite for family meals and for entertaining. It is still inexpensive compared with most beef, fish and seafood.

You can buy turkey in smaller amounts. Or you can buy a small roast that can be used in different ways for several meals.

Taking a cue from other countries, here is a turkey plus served with rice and a Szechuan turkey with pungent seasonings that make it a perfect companion for rice and stir-fried vegetables. These are ideal recipes for leftover turkey. If you prefer, you may substitute chicken or pork.

Turkey Pilau
6 slices bacon
1 large pepper, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 package (10 ounces) whole tomatoes
3 cups diced, cooked turkey
Crumk bacon until crisp. Cook and reserve. Remove oil but 2 tablespoons of bacon drippings from skillet. Add vegetable mixture, bacon and tomatoes. Simmer, covered, about 22 minutes or until liquid is absorbed. Toss with turkey. Makes 6 servings.

Szechuan Turkey
3 tablespoons peanut oil
2 tablespoons sliced scallions
1 clove garlic, sliced
1 tablespoon minced ginger root or 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1 cup sliced green pepper
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1/2 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons ketchup
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Poor Man's Omelet is Bayou Favorite

Americans constantly on the move from city to city and state to state take their favorite recipes with them. A recent note from a friend who has lived for many years on New Orleans' Long Island tells of a "down-home" recipe's journey.

She explains that as a New York bride with a Swedish background, she had no idea what her husband meant by a "poor man's omelet."

Q: I read that motorcycle fatalities in the state through the middle of September almost equaled the record fatality rate set in all of 1978. It seems to me that if motorcyclists were helmeted, there would be less fatalities. But I've heard arguments against wearing helmets by motorcyclists. Does wearing a helmet hinder vision?

A: It does not. According to the Motorcycle Safety Foundation (MSF), when standing still a person has peripheral (side) vision of about 110 to 115 degrees. When a helmet is put on, the peripheral vision remains the same because certified helmets provide a minimum peripheral vision measuring 120 degrees. This is standing still. Once the cyclist starts riding his area of vision decreases, BUT this is caused by increasing speed (not the helmet) causing a tunnel effect on the cyclist's vision. This happens with all moving vehicles, motorcycles as well as cars. The faster you go the smaller the tunnel, and the less you see.

Q: Does wearing a helmet impair hearing?

A: What a helmet does is provide a screening effect, MSF says, but it screens all sounds to the same degree. Thus, noises that the cyclist doesn't need to hear, such as wind blast, are screened along with other sounds. The cyclist wearing a helmet hears all critical sounds at the same time relative strength as the rider without protection... except at higher speeds. Then the rider with the helmet hears better! At highway speeds wind noise becomes a critical factor in the cyclist's hearing. Because the helmet acts as a windscreen, the helmeted cyclist actually hears better at high speeds than the bareheaded rider.

Q: Does wearing a helmet cause neck injuries?

A: The common argument is that the added weight of a helmet contributes to whiplash injuries; however, whiplash injuries don't happen to cyclists. If a cyclist is hit, the entire body is free to move, but when a car is hit only the driver's head and neck move violently over the back of the front seat. This snapping action is what causes whiplash. Whiplash injuries are peculiar to car accidents. And, yes, a helmet does add extra weight. BUT only for a day or two, then the neck muscles adjust and you don't feel any "weight problem."

The chances of taking a direct blow on the neck during a fall are pretty slim, but the chances that you'll hit your head are over fifty percent. Most neck injuries occur when the rider's head gets bounced on the pavement, or hits a guardrail or cracks somebody's windshield. If the rider isn't wearing a helmet, a neck injury is the least of his problems. It's common knowledge that your head sits on your neck, so if a helmet absorbs the impact that would be taken by your head, it also absorbs the impact that would be taken by your neck. Helmets don't cause neck injuries.

Mama Mia, It's a Potato Pizza!

If your family has a hearty appetite and a special affinity for things Italian, you'll want to make at least two Italian potato pies for your next family get-together.
The whipped-potato crust is filled with Italian sausage (or your favorite sausage), topped with mozzarella cheese. You may want to add more or less of the garlic and other seasonings traditionally used in Italian dishes depending upon your family's preferences.

Consumer Report

Millions of Americans from the class of 1980 will take advantage of a testing service which will help determine whether they should be admitted to the high schools, colleges or professional schools of their choice.
Most, however, won't ever learn how their tests were graded or exactly what their scores meant. Except in New York state.
