Begin Shuffles Cabinet Posts

JERUSALEM (UPI) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin today began the politically dangerous task of reshuffling the major posts in his cabinet with a replacement for

Moshe Dayan the centerpiece of his strategy. Begin also aimed at circumventing the supreme court decision to dismantle the Jewish settlement of Elon

More by moving it to another site in the occupied West Bank that would not involve the seizure of private Arab land. The landmark ruling of the Israeli high court Monday gave the government 30 days to move the 100 houses, including 40 children, from the 200 acres of private land near the Arab city of Nablus.

Speculation on Dayan's replacement as foreign minister centered on Interior Minister Josef Burg, head of Israel's delegation to Palestinian autonomy negotiations, and Deputy Prime Minister Yigael Yadin, a world-renowned archaeologist.

Yadin, 62, suffered a mild heart attack last week and was still in Hadassah Hospital. But his health was not deemed a factor in whether he would get the foreign minister's post that kept Dayan working 16 hours a day.

Burg, 70, is the leader of the National Religious Party, the major partner in Begin's coalition government. The NRP has been clamoring for a cabinet reshuffle in order to get a major post.

Begin's aides said it would be "logical" for Yadin to get the foreign ministry post, but they said no decision has been made.

Fire Destroys Canadian Club

OTTAWA (UPI) - A fierce blaze that raged out of control for several hours gutted Canada's most famous and influential private club and damaged the adjacent offices of Prime Minister Joe Clark's basement.

The U.S. Embassy building was protected by a combination of wind and tons of water that were poured onto the blazing five-story Rideau Club, whose members included the most prominent figures in Canadian history and spread to the roof of the Langevin Building that houses Clark's office.

Two Officials Plead Guilty

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) - Two more New Britain officials have pleaded guilty to corruption charges in an alleged payoff scheme involving municipal promotions and the sale of city property.

John Argazzi, the city's former second-ranking personnel official, pleaded guilty Tuesday to one count of perjury for lying to a one-man grand jury called to investigate the alleged corruption in the central Connecticut city of 80,000.

Argazzi had denied accepting $300 and $1,500 from Paul Camatta, a former city official, to influence the promotion of a city employee.

Argazzi, who lost his personnel post to budget cutbacks in 1976, was later named the city's safety director under a federal grant program. He was reportedly one of the first city officials to disclose irregularities in hiring practices to authorities.

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Wednesday, Oct. 24, the 297th day of 1979 with 68 to follow. The moon is moving toward its first quarter. The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Venus. Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio. American playwright Moss Hart was born Oct. 24, 1904. On this day in history: In 1861, the first telegram was transmitted across the United States from California Chief Justice Stephen Field to President Abraham Lincoln in Washington. In 1959, women's history made of nylon went on sale for the first time. In 1945, U.S. Secretary of State James Byrnes announced the United Nations charter had gone into effect following Soviet ratification. In 1976, fire swept a social club in the Bronx, a borough of New York City, leaving 25 dead and 24 injured. A thought for the day: American novelist William Faulkner said, "I believe that man will not merely endure; he will prevail."

Mayor Byrne Wants to Chat

A smartaleck Chicago cop has a date with Mayor Jane Byrne - if she can find him. He responded to her call for a little traffic control during the city's marathon run Sunday by saying over the police radio, "Let the mayor come out and direct traffic." Since her limousine has a police radio, she heard it, grabbed the mike and demanded, "Who said that?" Back came the voice "I did." The mayor says she'd dearly like to know who that voice belongs to, and if she finds out, she won't take much of his time. Says she, "I'd like to talk to him. I'd just have him come in for a moment."

Trick or Treat

Why shouldn't George Burns toy with the idea of expanding his career. After all, he's only 83. He figures he has as good a chance on the country scene as anyone - so he'll be in Nashville on Halloween to record some down home music in the hope of getting himself a hit. Singing is nothing new for Burns. "I started singing at a very early age in saloons and on ferry boats. Sometimes the people would throw pennies in our hats and sometimes they'd throw us overboard. I got so I could sing better with water in my mouth." Just to keep busy, he's working on the final editing of a new film in Hollywood.

Medic

It's a good thing for John Chancellor that Tom Brokaw once saw the Heinrich "hearing" demonstrated on NBC's "Today" show, which he hosts. He applied it Monday in New York to keep Chancellor from choking to death. The two were interviewing Republican presidential hopeful John Connally at a luncheon when Chancellor suddenly choked on a piece of cheese. Brokaw leaped to the rescue, seizing his anchorman from behind and pressing sharply just below his rib cage. It was over almost before it began, and the interview proceeded with no further interruptions.

Auld Lang Syne

Neither Dane Clark nor John Houseman is willing to date himself by saying exactly when it was that Houseman hired Clark for his first job in show biz - in a play called "Panic" - but it had to be at least 30 years ago. Tuesday they were back together for the first time since then to film "The French Atlantic Affair" - which costars Telly Savalas in the role of an evil cult-leader who holds 3,000 cruise ship passengers hostage for $70 million in gold. The ABC-TV miniseries contains a bit of its own ship - $15 million in computer hardware for the sake of realism.

Famed Fan

Anne Murray never knew it, but while Elvis Presley lived he was her most famous fan. That's the word from Linda Thompson - the rock 'n' roll King's girlfriend in the last years of his life. Said she, last week on a Los Angeles radio show, "I guess her recording of 'Snowbird' was his favorite record. We used to listen to it all the time. He loved the depth of feeling that Anne has - and her vocal range." Says Miss Murray of the revelation, "It shocked me because you never think of yourself as anyone's favorite singer, and also because of who he was and the impact he had. I'm very flattered."

Glimpses

Philanthropist William Black will make a rare public appearance Friday at the annual "April in Paris" charity ball at New York's Waldorf-Astoria on behalf of the Parkinson's Disease Foundation which he co-founded. Soul singer James Brown may or may not turn his talents from disco to gospel, but he was baptized Sunday by the Rev. A.A. Bush at the newly built St. Peter's Baptist Church in Williston, S.C. The first queen of the annual Tournament of Roses in Pasadena, Calif., is 18-years-old Pasadena City College freshman Deanne Raatz.

Board Runs Buses But Stops Sewage

MANCHESTER - The Board of Directors said keep those buses rolling, but put a halt to any sewage flow from South Windsor. At a special meeting Tuesday evening, the directors gave their commendation to proposals which could double bus service in town and provide runs of 20-minute intervals during peak hours. But a crucial sewer agreement between the town, the Eighth Utilities District and the Town of South Windsor was delayed again because of another language problem. The directors will try again Thursday at another 5 p.m. pow-wow. A liaison committee consisting of representatives from both the district and the town had given general approval to the sewer pact last week. They left it to their respective town attorneys to hammer out final details. However, Mayor Stephen Penny, who is also an attorney, balked at the agreement because he said the town of Manchester would be saddled with the responsibility of building sub-stations in South Windsor who would somehow breach the agreement. The drafted agreement directs the town "but not the district" to provide the pumping stations or sewer lines back to South Windsor if the sewage treatment plant cannot handle the extra sewage. However, Penny said, the district could conceivably refuse to let South Windsor construct sewer lines in its area of jurisdiction and the town would be forced to remedy the situation. Although Spaulding said the commissioner has the ultimate decision, he asked if the directors had any objections. They were elated at the prospect of expanded service and unanimously commended the work. In other matters, the directors tabled a motion by Democrat John FitzPatrick to defer "a portion or all" real estate taxes on retired or totally disabled residents until their death. Republican Director Carl Zisser said, "All of a sudden, we're bogged down. We should send it back to committee. This is going to get us nowhere." However, another director's motion to send it back to committee was defeated and the directors agreed instead to have the town attorneys reward it. "It's imperative we get moving on this," said Penny. "If we wait until after the election, you might have a new council in South Windsor who could say, 'I don't know anything about this. Let's go back to the beginning.'" After that decision was made, the directors heard a presentation from John J. Spaulding of the state

There are six students, including two in kindergarten. The school board had adopted an administrative decision directing the

Smith Says New Money Gas Heat Cut Down on Mill Rate Favored By Zinsser

SOUTH WINDSOR - "Facts concerning the mill rate. The must be explained more completely," Jackie Smith, Democratic candidate for re-election to the Town Council said Tuesday. Mrs. Smith said it's unfair to the residents of South Windsor to give the impression that Town Council policy made it possible to increase services and at the same time, reduce the cost of government. Mrs. Smith said that there are three major factors responsible for the reduction in the mill rate. She referred to the amount of new money granted by the state due to School Equalization funding which was in excess of $20,000. A surplus of $50,000 was used in compiling the budget. She said that in addition, the Grand List increased in excess of $10 million and this increase generated about $400,000 in new revenues. The total of these items alone amounted to $11 million, Mrs. Smith said. "The new money, in excess of $1 million is the main reason why the council was able to add needed services and still reduce taxes. A reduction of 1.8 mills was not a difficult matter even with increased expenditures amounting to almost $70,000," Councilwoman Smith said.

Area Police

Vernon Karen Oakes, 18, of 26 N. Park St., Rockville, was charged Tuesday night with first-degree criminal trespassing after she allegedly entered a restricted area of the Vernon Police Department. Police said she entered the restricted area after she was told she could not see a prisoner. She was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance in court in Rockville on Oct. 30. Robert C. Corson, 21, of Ft. Mead, Md., was charged Tuesday night with breach of the peace. Police said he was charged in connection with the investigation of a complaint of a disturbance in the Dart Hill Road area. He was released on a $200 non-surety bond for appearance in court on Oct. 30. Anthony S. Angeloni, 25, of Ellington, was charged with driving with defective brakes after investigation of an incident on Tunnel Road Tuesday. Police said the truck rolled backwards and jackknifed across the road. No injuries were reported. The truck had to be towed from the scene. Angeloni has a court date of Oct. 30. Richard Santini, 18, of 12 Fredrick Road, Vernon, was charged Tuesday with riding a motorcycle on the sidewalk and driving a motorcycle without a cycle license. His court answer date is Nov. 2. South Windsor Police are investigating the theft of a CB radio valued at $110, from one car parked at the 10-Pin Bowl on Route 5 and a tape player, CB radio and tool box, valued at about $465 taken from another car. Police also said aerials were removed from two cars parked in the same parking lot.

Officials Discuss Merger

By DONNA HOLLAND, Herald Correspondent. BOLTON - Only two people, Stanley Bates, park director, and Ernest Shepherd, former selectman, attended a special Board of Selectmen's meeting Tuesday to discuss the possibility of consolidating the park and recreation departments. Selectman John Carey said, "One problem we face is that we need a charter revision before we can consolidate the two groups and we need a charter revision committee before we have a charter revision. Carey said he favors the idea of consolidating the two departments. Shepherd said the board could appoint an advisory park and rec committee for 18 months to see if it would work out. Carey said the experience of having a separate advisory committee for both groups showed there wasn't the enthusiasm or commitment there would be with a full commission status. Bates said he favors consolidating the two departments and said the key to success is in the guidance. He said...

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) - An insurance company and the federal government are kicking in funds to set up a firm to promote carpooling among employees in the Hartford area. Connecticut General Insurance Corp. announced Tuesday it will contribute $75,000 to help establish the nonprofit corporation. Gov. Ella Grasso and Robert Kilpatrick, president of the Bloomfield-based insurance company, told a news conference the federal government will provide an additional $75,000 to get the project off the ground. Mrs. Grasso said Connecticut General was to be commended for "its responsiveness and spirit of public service" in offering the funds for the pilot project.

Herbst Proposes Plan To Improve Government

VERNON - Mrs. Marie Herbst, Democratic candidate for mayor, proposes a seven-point program that she feels will "improve efficiency, increase productivity and help morale in all town departments." Mrs. Herbst who now serves on the Town Council, said that in recent weeks it has become clear that Vernon needs a charted course for the future. "Too often we have been forced to deal with local problems on a crisis basis and this leads to hasty decisions that do not work in the best interests of good government," she said. Her seven-point program calls for the appointment of permanent consultants to act as liaisons between such departments as Police, Public Works and Fire so that the council will be continually aware of the status of all major departments. It also calls for supporting the programs of the juvenile officer and the Youth Services Department, productive youth activities to be explored and implemented; and urging the school system to expand and publicize its work-study program and to seriously consider an alternate educational program. Mrs. Herbst also wants to see all accounting and bookkeeping procedures updated so that funds can be immediately identified and the surplus or deficit in the budget can be easily recognized. She wants to maintain a close working rapport with state and federal officials to be sure that mandated programs are not paid for out of local funds and that any type of federal or state programs that help Vernon are implemented immediately. Her program also calls for the implementation of a capital improve-

Man Sought in Kidnapping Killed by Southington Cop

BRISTOL, Conn. (UPI) - A man being sought on a kidnap charge was killed by a Southington police detective as he attempted to resist arrest Tuesday night, police said. The dead man was identified as William S. Perron, 25, of no certain address. Police said Perron was struck by a single shot "fired in self-defense" by Police Detective Clifford Saucier after he allegedly attempted to stab the detective. Perron was spotted by Saucier and two Bristol policemen outside a bar on Divinity Street and as they approached him, the suspect jumped into a friend's car. The unidentified driver then allegedly tried to run the officers down with the car. Lt. David R. McGivney said, but Saucier managed to open the passenger door. At that point, Perron allegedly attempted to stab Saucier and he opened fire, McGivney said. Perron was being sought on a warrant charging him with first degree kidnaping, second degree assault and conspiracy to commit kidnaping in connection with the abduction of a 23-year-old Bristol woman earlier this month, police said. Officials also said no charges had been filed against the driver who allegedly tried to run down the detectives. The driver was not identified. Perron was taken to Bristol Hospital for emergency treatment about 7:30 p.m. and was pronounced dead at 8:20 p.m., a hospital spokesman said. Bristol Police Chief John F. Oliver said both police forces and the state's attorney's office were investigating the incident.

Views On Dental Health
By JACK BYNES, D.M.D.
GRINDING IN THE NIGHT
An estimated one in 30 adults and three in 20 children unconsciously grind their teeth at night. It is the sound of bruxism. While the noise may disturb spouses or children, it has a far more distressing effect on the sleeper. Nocturnal grinding can exert thousands of pounds of pressure per square inch on the surfaces of teeth. It can be rough not only on teeth but on the supporting bone, the gums and jaw joint. Herbst Not Changed Says GOP Councilor

VERNON - Charging Marie Herbst, Democratic candidate for mayor, with "taking a firm stand - on both sides of the issue," Jane Lamb, Republican candidate for re-election to the Town Council, said "this is nothing new." Mrs. Herbst, who is presently serving on the council, will be running against incumbent Republican Frank J. McCoy in the Nov. 6 elections. Mrs. Lamb said that a couple of weeks ago Mrs. Herbst attacked McCoy alleging that he had no energy program and that energy was the most pressing issue facing the town. "At a recent Village Street Neighborhood Association meeting she (Mrs. Herbst) stated that McCoy's program of reducing the use of gasoline in town cars was unnecessary because gasoline is now plentiful," Mrs. Lamb said. "She's also been on the attack for a capital improvements budget. Yet, two years ago, with a Democrat mayor running for reelection, she seconded and voted for a motion to all but eliminate the capital improvements budget," Mrs. Lamb said. Mrs. Lamb said that Mrs. Herbst was chairman of the pay plan subcommittee of the Town Council and that the committee submitted a pay plan which was adopted by the council. At the council budget meetings she harangued about the pay plan being no good. She later discovered she had made a mistake in interpreting the numbers," Mrs. Lamb said. Mrs. Lamb also credits Mayor McCoy with employing judicious administrative procedures enabling this administration to maintain existing services and to initiate new programs while maintaining a stable tax rate. "Despite pressures from the opposition to spend, spend, spend, the Town Council voted to use state money for reducing the tax burden on the taxpayer - the purpose for which the money was appropriated," Mrs. Lamb said. She added that the McCoy administration was one of the few in the state which didn't cut the Board of Education budget. She said that there are still areas within the town which need attention but added that in these days of spiraling costs and rampant inflation, it's necessary for town administrators to set priorities, eliminate frills and help the taxpayer balance his personal budget by keeping taxes in line. "Frank McCoy and the Republican incumbents on the Town Council and the Board of Education have worked together to bring these things about. We deserve to be returned to office," Mrs. Lamb said.

Candidate Claims Town Should Share in Repairs

MANCHESTER - A Democratic candidate for the Board of Directors said today the town should share homeowners' costs to fix problems with sewers. James McCavanagh said a situation where the roots of trees located on town land are strangling a property owner's sanitary sewer pipe line, the town should share the cost of repair work. Democratic Director Joseph Sheeney said he had been concerned about the problem. He said since he is retiring from the board, McCavanagh has agreed to bring up the subject of a cost-sharing arrangement before the next board. "Sweeney said there is precedent for this. When sidewalks are repaired, the town pays two-thirds of the cost, with the homeowner picking up the rest of the cost." McCavanagh said fairness to the homeowner calls for the town to change its policy of having the taxpayer shoulder the full cost of repairing tree-root sewer line problems.

Fitzpatrick Authors Plan For Elderly Tax Relief

MANCHESTER - Director John FitzPatrick said Tuesday he has proposed a real estate tax deferral program for the elderly, which he hopes the new Board of Directors will consider. FitzPatrick's proposal calls for deferring a percentage of taxes, possibly 50 percent, until after a person dies. The money would then be obtained by the town from the deceased's estate. "What happens to my estate when I'm gone is not something I'm too concerned about. This proposal would allow those on a fixed income to have more money to spend while they are alive. The money could be spent on something other than taxes," said FitzPatrick. He said he was putting the item on the agenda for the 5 p.m. board meeting today. It will be his last opportunity to place an item on the agenda, since this is the last board meeting before the election. FitzPatrick is not running for re-election. The new board will have the time to study the proposal. FitzPatrick said he expected at least six months research is needed. "It's like my saying lets go to the moon. Then the technicians set out to get there. The new board will be the technicians." FitzPatrick said he planned to move to table the proposal when it comes up at tonight's meeting.

School Good Barometer

VERNON - One might not go as far as to say, "As Sykes goes, so goes the nation," but students at the Sykes School on Park Street (Grade 6) are considered a pretty good barometer as to how local elections go. Lawrence Colvin, teacher at the school and also head of the school's Government Club, said that results at Sykes, in past years, seem to indicate that the "thermometer" at Sykes indicates a pretty good idea of the feeling in Vernon. He said this is probably because the school, which houses all Grade 6 students from all over the town, has a good cross section of the voters. He said Grade 6 students probably emanate the feelings of their parents. In the 1978 state elections the students went for Ella Grasso for governor, so did the town; and so did Connecticut. In the local elections, two years ago, Sykes went for Frank McCoy and McCoy won over his Democratic opponent, Thomas Benoit.

Pension Funds Return Queried

MANCHESTER - Peter Sylvester, the Republican challenger for the office of town treasurer has questioned the 5.6 percent return on investment of a portion of the town's pension funds. United Bank and Trust was directed by the Pension Board to invest its $1.3 million portfolio with an eye toward growth. They came back with a 5.6 percent, or $71,094 gain. At the Sept. 25 meeting of the board, chairman Fred Geyer said, "I have a feeling we are standing still as far as this portfolio goes. We need our investments to provide equity." To that end, Town Treasurer Roger Negro said today, "We will be holding a workshop to discuss different goals. We are not considering replacing United Bank with another investment firm. Sylvester said, "Negro has flatly declined my invitation to debate in an open forum. People have questions about pension funds. United Bank came in with a 5.6 percent return, while we are living in a period of 15 percent inflation. Negro had declined Sylvester's offer to debate, citing the shortness of time before the election and the time his job and public office demands.

Werbner's Job Praised As Well as Criticized

By LAUREN DAVIS SHEA Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER—The position has not won its holder any popularity contests. But is the negative reaction to a personnel officer inherent in the office itself, or does the man in the job determine whether the respect of workers are won?

Steven Werbner rose within a span of two years from an unpaid intern, to a staff CETA worker and finally to his current title of personnel supervisor.

His meteoric rise generates sparks among union members who call his promotions "disturbing" and "demonizing."

Said Werbner, "When a job deals with people all day, it is unreasonable to expect to satisfy everyone. You can't go into this job thinking you're going to come out looking like a good guy."

Werbner is a Manchester native, whose parents still live in town. He graduated from Drew University with a BA in Political Science and went on to George Washington University to gain his masters degree in Public Administration.

He said he entered the job market with an abundance of college training but no job experience. "I came back here to find an entry level position and see what it's like to work for local government."

In the process of working for the town he has gained support at the management level and made enemies at the workers level.

Assistant Town Manager Charles McCarthy said, "I can't say enough good things about Steve. I think he has done a hell of a good job."

But Betty Tighe, president of the municipal clerical workers union said, "We worked on our contract negotiations for a year and one half and got nowhere with Werbner. When Mr. Weiss became involved, we got a contract."

"This makes me think Weiss could have done a better job and we should have been working with him instead of Werbner from the beginning." Werbner said he finds labor relations the most intriguing of all the personnel functions he performs. He said this is because he is interested in law.

"Negotiations are the adversary process. It is as close to the legal process as possible, without being a lawyer," Werbner said as he explained his interest in labor relations.

The job of personnel supervisor is not the position Werbner aspires to. He said someday he would like to be a town manager.

His "office" is a small crowded desk in the Manager's office. He pitches in answering phones if the secretary is out and says not having his own office has its benefits.

"I sit through various meetings. I watch how the manager works," Werbner explained. He has learned how to find his way through the maze of federal and state employment regulations.

This knowledge was gained while he was an unpaid intern. McCarthy said, "In my career I've worked with hundreds of interns. Steve may well be the most skillful."

McCarthy cited Werbner's educational background. He said this educated Werbner to the concepts involved in the job. But he said Werbner is a quick study, picking up state and local regulations peculiar to this area.

Werbner's response to the personnel section of the town's recent management report illustrates his grasp of Manchester's employment needs.

The report said the personnel staff, which consists of Werbner alone, is understaffed. But the report stated, "what is done, is done well."

Suggestions for improvements in the personnel system included classifying jobs to accurately reflect the work an employee performs.

Tighe said many workers are working far beyond what their job description covers. She said of a reclassification, "I am willing to bet that personnel would downgrade the positions."

She added the downgrading of positions seriously harms morale. The management report had stated morale was generally good in town, except for a few departments. Tighe disputed this.

She said CETA workers are often hired when town employees retire. The position of the retiree is often downgraded, thus discouraging town employees to try to better themselves by getting the job.

She questioned why Werbner was able to advance so rapidly and said workers gripe about it informally. "Why did Werbner go up the ladder? It is a nonunion position so we can't do much about it but the membership sees they can promote whoever they want."

Deputy Mayor Stephen Cassano said, "His position was made permanent by a unanimous vote of the Board of Directors. We also waived advertising the position due to the experience he had developed as a CETA employee and as an intern."

Werbner said when he came to work for the town as an intern he wasn't necessarily looking to get picked up by the town.

He said town audits for the past several years had recommended that a full time position be funded, since for several years there was no official personnel supervisor. McCarthy had been doing the work along with his other duties.

"People always recognized the need for a personnel officer. I know the manager has. Possibly by being there as a CETA worker I showed the things that could be accomplished," Werbner said as he explained why he thought his position was made permanent.

Werbner said, "I'm dealing with people and constantly having to respond on my feet. It is challenging but it can be frustrating."

"It takes time to work out problems. If the boss and the Board of Directors are satisfied, that is satisfaction enough."

Murrin Backs Charter Change

SOUTH WINDSOR — Thomas Murrin, Republican candidate for Council, today proposed the Town Charter be changed to provide that "any capital expenditure in excess of $250,000 must be approved by voters in referendum. This would guarantee that no major project in town could be built against the will of the people," Murrin said.

Murrin noted that the charter now requires referendum approval in order to borrow money, but that there is no such restriction on capital expenditures if the funds are obtained from another source. "This is contrary both to the will of the people and the intent of the framers of the Town Charter who wanted any major project subject to the approval of the voters regardless of the source of money," Murrin said.

Murrin added that "most major projects requires bonding anyway and consequently a referendum; but this charter change would guarantee that in the unusual situation where money could be obtained elsewhere, the project could not proceed and the money could not be expended without the approval of the voters."

Durkin Hits Oil Profits

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Sen. John Durkin, D-N.H., citing huge oil company profits, says it is time for the administration to stop the "unending victimization of the American public" by the multinational petroleum producers.

"It is time for the administration to come to the aid of the citizens of this country," Durkin, a close ally to undecleared presidential hopeful Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., said Tuesday.

Durkin cited Exxon's third-quarter profits, up 118 percent over a year ago. Amoco's profits were up 49 percent and Atlantic Richfield's increased 45 percent, he noted.

He said the profits have sent "big oil executives laughing all the way to the banks."

"There is no family in New Hampshire that realized a cost of living or wage increase of that dimension," Durkin said in a statement released from his Washington office.

"The victimization of the American public by the major multinational oil companies must be stopped."

Fire-Damaged Church To Start Fund Drive

VERNON — Union Congregational Church Tuesday kicked off its Building Fund Drive to provide funds for the restoration of the church facilities which were severely damaged by an Aug. 30 fire. The Rev. Paul Bowman, pastor of the church, said the goal established by the church is to restore the facility to as near its original condition as possible. He said, however, "In light of the age of the building, such a task is near impossible. The maintenance of the building's historical character and recognition of the heritage with which the facility is endowed, have been of utmost concern in planning the restoration. Pastor Bowman said. He said that at the same time every attempt has been made to utilize the most efficient and energy saving materials.

Town May Invite UofH To Give Local Courses

MANCHESTER — It's conceivable the University of Hartford could be coming to Manchester next fall. That's if a Citizens Advisory Committee on adult education in town sees a need for course offerings from the university. The Board of Education Monday night unanimously approved the formation of the committee, although stopping short of committing itself to the idea at this time. According to the administration, the committee would be composed of Manchester residents from business, civic, cultural, religious and social organizations at the invitation of the superintendent of schools. The administration gave assurances to the board members that the proposed courses would not compete with the Community Services Division of Manchester Community College. "We're not looking to compete with existing programs," said J. Gerald Fitzgibbon, assistant superintendent for instruction and curriculum. "We want to supplant existing subjects and expand opportunities."

Vermont Turns To Wood, State Facing Shortage

MONTELEONE, Vt. (UPI) — Vermonters are increasing their reliance on wood heat and this winter will burn between 400,000 and 500,000 cords of wood, the state Energy Office predicts. "The increase might be even higher except that we've got an inadequate supply of wood this winter," Alan Turner, the office's wood energy specialist, said Tuesday. "Some people won't be able to buy wood at least at a price they can afford." Turner said preliminary results of an Energy Office study show nearly two-thirds of all Vermont homeowners now burn firewood, about the same percentage found in a similar study two years ago. Therefore, Turner said the rapid increase in wood-burning expected this winter reflects the fact that homes already using wood are adding additional stoves and increasing their reliance on wood heat. If rented apartments and houses are added, then 50 percent of all Vermont households get at least a portion of their heat from wood, he said. Turner said the predictions are based on a study by the Energy Office of 552 homes in the state. The results are now being analyzed by the U.S. Agriculture Department and a final report should be available later this month.

School Enrollment Projections Indicate Accuracy

VERNON — While individual grade level enrollment predictions may have been off quite a bit in enrollment projections made by the school system, the overall projections have tended to be very accurate, school officials said in a report to the Board of Education. The report, prepared by Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, and Charles Brisson, administrative assistant, represents their best estimates of future enrollments through the 1982-83 school year. They said that estimates beyond this point would depend on estimated birth rates. Figures for the 1978 births are still not available from the state Department of Health Bureau of Vital Statistics, they said. They added that when the local figures show 4,920 pupils against a state figure of 5,096. The present enrollment figure is 5,797 which is some 276 less than the previous year. The state predicted 5,577 for 1980-81; 5,397 for 1981-82; 5,214; and 1982-83, 4,920. The local officials had predicted an enrollment of 5,809 for the current school year and the state had predicted 5,827. The state predicted 5,577 for 1980-81; 5,397 for 1981-82; 5,214; and 1982-83, 4,920.

Class, Staff Adjustments Not Costing More Money

VERNON — A change in class sizes and staffing adjustments makes classes more equitable but isn't costing the school board any additional money, Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, told the board Monday night. The changes were accomplished with the switching around of instructional aides and regular staff members. At the Center Road School there was an average of 20 pupils in four fourth grades when schools opened in September. With a teacher being moved from the Skinner Road School an additional Grade 4 was established making an average of 24 students in five fourth grades. In September, there was an average of 200 in each of four first grades. With the transferring of the teacher to Center Road, this created three

Ski Trip Request Tabled; Learning Value Doubted

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter. VERNON — The Foreign Language Department of Rockville High School was granted permission to plan a trip to France during the spring vacation in April. But the Board of Education tabled action on a request for a ski trip the weekend of Feb. 8-12. The board moved to table action on the ski trip request after it briefly debated whether or not such a trip could be classified as educational because it will require the students to have a school-day off. Richard L. Tingley, supervisor of physical education, made the request for the trip which will be to Waterville Valley, N. H. The group would leave Friday Feb. 8, after school and wouldn't return until Tuesday night. While Monday is a regular school day, the schools will be closed Tuesday in observance of Lincoln's birthday. The students will pay their own way and the estimated cost per student is $159. Tingley said that to date

Jack Anderson Drug Traffickers Purchasing Florida Property

WASHINGTON — A new real estate boom has hit Florida, and it has federal officials worried. They are convinced that Latin American drug traffickers are buying up seashore property, not only as an investment for their illicit millions, but as an aid to their smuggling operations. "Buying beachfront property means they can avoid the attention of the Colombian marijuana right up their private property," a knowledgeable source told us. The drug traffic into the United States is largely controlled by organized crime, which rakes in $200 million in cash deposits totaling in excess of $5 billion in a six-month period, including a one-month total of more than $20 million. The banks provide a respectable and useful front for drug dealers, who unload their cash and then draw on their accounts to buy real estate and legitimate businesses. One DEA report notes that "the wife of a prominent trafficker" actually purchased a bank for $4 million in 1977. So much money flows into Florida banks from Colombia that the Miami branch of the Federal Reserve Bank accepts direct deposits of U.S. cash from the Central Bank of Colombia.

"No other foreign Central Banks make direct deposits to the Miami Branch," a DEA report states. The deposits from the Colombian central bank make up almost 15 percent of the total cash receipts at the Miami Federal Reserve branch. Much of the money is then transferred by wire to the Colombian bank's account at the Federal Reserve in New York. Some of the drug profits are in turn transferred to banks in countries that offer tax exemptions and other advantages to depositors who want no questions asked — or answered. One trafficker had $5 million transferred by TELEX from the Miami account to a bank account in Panama, a DEA report noted, adding: "Other transfers from bank accounts in involved banks in Switzerland, the Bahamas, Venezuela and the Grand Caymans." But a healthy chunk of the modern-day drug profits goes to Miami real estate con-

News for Senior Citizens

Hi Folks! Well, the Bermuda cruise is now history and it turned out to be a super success. The weather was great, the meals, and plenty of them, were super, and everyone really had a good time. We only encountered one problem and that was that nobody wanted the trip to end. Speaking of trips, we have a real neat one coming up, which won't be until Dec. 6th. However, in order for us to get reservations, we must register for it this coming Monday. It's our Christmas Party at Restland Farms where you'll be treated to either a roast sirloin of beef or baked boneless breast of chicken, egg nog, candy canes, singing and dancing along with other entertainers and you'll even be treated to a visit by none other than Santa himself. The complete package is $13. Now because of the early registration, we will allow you to pay as little as $3 to sign up. You can pay the rest on Monday, Nov. 5th.

Our Holiday Fair is just around the corner now and we are still in need of more articles to sell. You can drop off your homemade articles as well as articles that can be sold at our White Elephant table or our "What's New" table. We hope you'll also remember to take a little time to do some baking of your favorite pie, cakes, cookies or candy as we expect to have a bake sale table as well. So now here's a chance for you, folks, who for good reasons aren't able to participate in our programs to drop off some of the above mentioned items, and believe me anything at all will be sincerely appreciated. Oh, yes, the Fair is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 8, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and we will be serving a nice lunch of homemade vegetable soup or clam chowder, grinders and assorted desserts, for a nominal fee of $1. We are also counting on

Washington Window The Kennedy Aura

By HELEN THOMAS UPI White House Reporter. WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter does not think it is good for the presidential election campaign to get such an early start. The question of whether a knock-down, drag-out fight is divisive to the Democratic Party is long past debate. Both sides have chosen the battleground, and may or may not unite afterwards. When asked if he would support whoever gets the Democratic nomination, Carter appeared to hesitate for a moment during his news conference Oct. 9. Then he said, "I have always voted Democratic." Taking the view that the 1980 campaign is getting a premature start, Carter will not formally announce his intention to seek re-election until Dec. 4. Kennedy is expected to announce his bid for the nomination a few days after Thanksgiving. For several weeks now, perhaps months, the White House has been working on its strategy. The administration has been doling out federal funds in a big way to cities and regions where the Carter candidacy is crucial. Political appointees on all levels have been warned that any show of support for Kennedy will cost them their jobs. The White House has signed on some 40 new "advance" persons to prepare the way for all-out campaigning. White House staffers are under an edict to do their regular 40-hour a week to collect their federal paycheck. Then, they are free to plunge into politicking. And many have. The president's top aides swarmed all over Florida. The president's strongest sup-

Cotton Program Full of Bugs

By LISA SHEPARD The Herald's Washington Bureau. WASHINGTON — Where is Eli Whitney now when the cotton industry really needs him? In the last decade cotton growers have been reaping the rewards of a promotion and research program, which they fund by a federal tax assessing them about $1.10 per bale of cotton. They've seen the ascendancy of cotton back into the retail spotlight with 100 percent "no iron" cotton shirts and sheets. They've seen cotton rise from being dominated by synthetic fibers to being a neck-in-neck competitor. They've seen U.S. cotton corner a market share of the European mill market as exports expand. But in the last year, they've also heard the U.S. cotton industry severely criticized as a result of a controversy surrounding Cotton Inc., the program set up to revive cotton's popularity and improve its production. It began with allegations of wrongdoing by the 13-year program's president, J. Duke Wooters. The Agriculture Department, which loosely supervises Cotton Inc., told Wooters in 1975 if Cotton Inc. wanted

Andrew Tully Russian Films A Lesson in Boredom

WASHINGTON — A friend who lately joined the Washington press corps from a small midwestern city reported the other day that he had been invited to attend the showing of a Russian-made film at the Soviet Embassy. "What are Russian movies like?" he asked. "I hear they're pretty classy these days." Alas, my friend, unless Russian movies-making has changed overnight. Usually the film is pure propaganda, but occasionally it turns out to be what the Russians describe as a "romance." The effect on the viewer of these epics is something akin to a sudden encounter with an overripe mackerel. Largely, the fault lies in the structure of Soviet actresses, who are inclined to dullness and who dress like babes of cotton. Their

Thoughts

One of the most common moods in life is that of futility — "What's the use?" attitude. Many people feel this attitude all of the time. The reason for most of our futility is that we have not been living for anything big enough or deep enough to satisfy our hearts. There is something in all of us that will not be content with merely doing little tasks. God has something very big on hand in which He wants us to share. He is seeking to change people. He wants to fill the world with love instead of hate, to build bridges of fellowship, to bring in His Kingdom. That purpose we can share just where we are. It may be that God in Christ is too big for our small hearts. But, if we trust Him in our obedience, He will make us equal to what He asks.

Even small businessmen have cash flow problems.

Your newspaper carrier depends on his collections each week to pay his bill, whether or not he has received payment from his customers. When he doesn't get paid, he has to dip into his pocket to make up the difference. You can help make a small businessman from going under if you pay your carrier when he calls to collect. Thank you.

tender passion but deliver themselves of such phrases as "put the wheels on three tractors today" and "The Soviet peoples must be on guard against the cosmopolitan deviationist criminals and the running dogs of capitalism." Presumably, the eloquent Russian males and females talk like that because they — and the script writers — know what's good for them. Should an actress dare to collapse in her hero's arms and declaim "I'm yours, Borish Borisovitch O'Molotov," a swarm of secret police probably would descend on her, snarling, "Like hell you are baby! You're the State's!" At any rate, Westerners must resign themselves to an evening of shattering boredom, especially when a Soviet invitation announces the film will be shown before the drinks. I expect that Russians are taught as children that humor, necking and self-satire are un-Communist. And yet, there is a paradox. Russians in Washington devour comedy shows on television, especially those that portray American fathers as self-conscious idiots. They love Archie Bunker for that quality — and Lawrence Welk because he's so safe. (Well, will never get off a gag that eludes me.) Meanwhile, most Russians complain that there isn't enough "culture" on American television. TV, they feel, should feature more ballets and symphony concerts. At the same time, the males are fascinated by professional football, and the women by those ineffectual guessing games. Anyway, my midwestern expatriate dutifully showed up for his first Russian movie. "How was it?" I asked. He shrugged. "Well, there was an awful lot of landscape and some good shots of steel mills, but I was disappointed in the ending. The guy got a medal for exceeding his quota at the blast furnace instead of eloquating with the girl."

Dionne on Goal Spree, Lives Up to Nickname

NEW YORK (UPI) — Marcel Dionne, a star hockey player with the nickname of "Beaver," may soon have his opponents chewing on their sticks.

"Dionne got 50 goals last year and he looks like he's on the track again," Colorado Coach Don Cherry said Tuesday night, after Dionne fired in four goals to lead the Los Angeles Kings to a 7-4 victory over the Rockies.

Dionne entered the game tied with linemate Charlie Simmer for the league lead with 14 points. But he pulled into the lead with his performance.

Assisted by Simmer, Dionne gave Los Angeles a 2-0 lead at 7:10 on the first period. He snapped a 3-1 tie at 8:11 of the second period then increased the lead to 5-3 at 15:14. His final goal came at 7:38 of the third period, just 20 seconds after Nelson Phyll cut the lead to 5-4.

"I thought the turning point was when they made it close, then we got the goal right back," Los Angeles Coach Bob Berry said.

Cherry said the Rockies, who have won just one game this year, missed too many chances in front of the net. In other games, Edmonton tied the

32 Baseball Players In Free Agent Draft

NEW YORK (UPI) — If the past two years are an indication, about $25 million - not to mention the services of several quality athletes - will change hands on Nov. 2.

That's the date for this year's baseball reentry draft for free agents, and 32 players have declared themselves eligible for the proceedings.

Last year, 14 players were signed in 1978 for a total of $24,219,249. Although such clubs as the Kansas City Royals, St. Louis Cardinals and New York Mets have, in the past, rejected the reentry draft as a means

Morgan Looks Ahead To West Coast Club

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Cincinnati Reds' second baseman Joe Morgan has decided to play his career on a West Coast ball club, to be nearer his family in Oakland, Calif., his attorney says.

Tom Reich, representing Morgan, told UPI in a telephone interview Tuesday night the two-time National League Most Valuable Player has made up his mind to participate in the Nov. 2 free agent draft.

Although Morgan hasn't indicated which club he'd like to play for, Reich said he would be West Coast teams.

"Joe made this decision totally on his own," Reich said from Phoenix, Ariz. "He and (Reds' President Dick) Wagner have absolutely nothing but mutual respect for each other. The Reds tried to determine where that left him."

Reich said "I'm sure it is very difficult for the Reds to evaluate Joe economically."

"When he was well (physically), he played extremely well. When he wasn't, he didn't," Reich said.

Morgan could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

Although Morgan wasn't officially listed as a free agent Tuesday night, he is expected to be spoken for by Marvin Miller, executive director of the Baseball Players Association, presumably about signing the Nov. 2 free agent draft.

The 5-foot-7 Morgan was part of a trade in which former Reds' pitcher Tom Howard helped three popular Reds players - power hitter Lee May, Bobby Jimenez and Jimmy Stewart - to Houston for Morgan, Dennis Menke, Jack Billingham, near Gonzo and Ed Armbrister.

Morgan is the third free agent this month from the Cincinnati Reds. Pitcher Fred Norman and outfielder Paul Blair also have put their names in the Nov. 2 reentry draft.

Bird Learns Fast But Celtics Lose

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (UPI) — Boston rookie Larry Bird showed the expected promise against the San Antonio Spurs Tuesday night - no one argued that.

But there was also agreement that Bird is still learning.

Bird contributed 22 points but he learned that in the NBA one man can't win the game as the Celtics felt, 129-120, to Spurs.

"We had no plus off the bench," said Boston Coach Bill Fitch said. "The subs were way off."

"The defense was terrible and Bird got a lesson and a half tonight."

"He's a great player but he wasn't a factor tonight," Moe said of Bird. "I like the way he plays. He's slow, but he works hard and he moves and he's not selfish."

Spurs' guard James Silas agreed Bird has potential.

"Bird is all they say he is," Silas said. "He's a great player. He's going to be tougher - he's the best rookie to come into the league in a long time."

San Antonio outrebounded Boston 50-42, a rare performance for the Spurs. Center Billy Pauls had a season-high seven rebounds.

Cooper Provides Magic Lifting Lakers to Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — With Earlvin Johnson resting his ailing knee, reserve guard Michael Cooper decided to provide a little magic of his own.

Cooper, subbing for the injured Johnson, scored 17 points Tuesday night to lift the Los Angeles Lakers to a 102-87 victory over the Utah Jazz. Cooper also contributed seven assists and pulled down four rebounds in his second successive start.

Michael has been a pleasant surprise. He's a player-coach this season, released by the Astros after he scored 17 points, and Jamal

John Drew, who had been hitting just 38 percent from the field, scored 27 points and Steve Hawes added 24 to spark Atlanta. The Hawks hit 59 percent from the field in breezing to a 91-84 halftime lead.

Clippers 132, Nuggets 127

Lloyd Free, the NBA's leading scorer, collected 32 points in San Diego over winless Denver. It was

Frazier Prepared for Shock

By MILT RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt Frazier is all prepared for it. So it won't come as that much of a shock.

This is the day he's likely to find out, officially, nobody else in the NBA wants him and that in all probability his playing days are finished - unless some team battling for a playoff berth later on decides to pick him up near the end of the season.

The Cleveland Cavaliers asked waivers on Frazier last Friday and those waivers cleared yesterday.

Up to now, nobody has put in a claim for him. The chances are nobody will, either, when you consider he was out practically all last four losing men named Ace Miller who works in the city recreation department. He should be the deal later for you. You'll have to wait, however, until he comes back from South Africa, where he has been working in the contract for a weight title (WBA version) contender John Tate. He's the man that Tate first came to when he got interested in boxing, too.

Q. In baseball history, has there ever been a pennant contender with a shorter playing time than that of the Oakland A's? At the bottom of this barrel of bean bag tossers (Don) Aase. A manager who would put this man on the pitching mound is guilty of felonious assault. My condolences to Gene Astry, a hardworking multi-million-dollar infield and outfield hitting for a penny-a-pitching staff for the U.S. Fan Am Games team, Jackson, Wis., where, where, — Fred Chadock, Ventura, Calif.

There's "The Angels" who were the division of the American League and made a stirring run at the Orioles in the playoffs, with Aase in relief winning their lone division. And I know a lot of clubs would like to have Nolan Ryan, Frank Tanana, Dave Frost, et al.

Q. Could you please tell me the schools the 12 high school basketball players selected in 1979 for the Naismith Hall of Fame will be attending this year? Sam Bowie, Derrick Hord, Earl Jones, Clark Kellogg, Ricky Ross, Ralph Sampson, Steve Siposovich, Isaiah Thomas, Dominique Wilkins, James Worthy, Antoine Carr and Raymond McCoy? — Richard Shiffers, Sacramento, Calif.

To give you an idea where the power in college basketball will be in the future, I think it's safe to say that the Kentucky, Kentucky, Kentucky, Ohio State, Ross, Kansas, Sampson in (Bowie's class), Virginia, Siposovich, Missouri, Thomas and P. T. U. Fan Am Games team, Jackson, Wis., where, where, Worthy, North Carolina, Carr, Wichita State, McCoy, San Francisco, Earl Jones has another year of high school.

Q. What do you think of the two-tight-end offense that the Oakland Raiders are running? Since they were winning with it, why don't other teams use it? — Bob Colvin, Alameda, Calif.

Other teams don't have Dave Casper and Raymond Chester — merely two of the finest tight ends in football, now or ever. As a staple offense, however, I think it's restrictive. Almost all teams in pro football have used it in recent years on short yardage drives. Casper and Chester give it added dimension by their ability to go deep. I think, however, the Raiders will start splitting Chester wide in obvious passing situations.

Q. What is Brooks Robinson, the former star third baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, doing now? Has he ever been offered a job as manager with a major league club? B.C. Knoxville, Tenn.

Robinson stays in touch with the game as a broadcaster for the Orioles. He also works in marketing for a Baltimore oil company. Brooks says a couple of teams have contacted him about his interest in becoming a manager, but there has been no firm offer.

I would like to know how a boy of my age, 14, could get involved in boxing. I like to box but have never known how to get into a boxing organization. If you have a few suggestions, please send them to me. — R. Wilson, Coalfield, Tenn.

Denver's sixth straight loss of the season. Bucks 114, Suns 108. Marques Johnson scored 32 points and Brian Winters clipped in with 24 for the Bucks. The game was close all the way but the Bucks held on to notch the victory.

Bucks 108, Nets 103. David Greenwood scored 20 points and Sam Smith 19 to help Chicago send the Nets to their fourth straight loss. Ricky Sobers added 18 points for Chicago.

Knicks 136, Pacers 112. Toby Knight scored 34 points, including 22 in the first half, and Bill Cartwright added 24 to power New York. Alex English scored a career-high 37 points to lead Indiana.

George Allen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington Redskins' President Edward Bennett Williams and his former coach, George Allen, met face to face Sunday for the first time since Williams fired Allen 20 months ago.

Washington Star writer Morris Siegel reported the exchange, which occurred before the Philadelphia-Washington NFL game, in Monday's edition. Siegel said Allen wished Williams good luck with his purchase of the Baltimore Orioles and, in jest, offered himself as a possible baseball manager.

Julius Erving

NEW YORK (UPI) — Philadelphia's Julius Erving was named the National Basketball Association's Player of the Week Monday after leading the 76ers to five consecutive victories in the season's first week scoring four times, including his NBA career-high of 44 points against Houston Oct. 13. He is now third in the NBA in scoring with a 29.2 average and third in steals with 3.20.

Boston Rookies Earning Spurs

BOSTON (UPI) — Not since Jim Rice and Fred Lynn came on the scene in 1975 have New England sports fans been able to witness a pair of rookie talents like Raymond Bourque and Larry Bird.

Bourque is just 18 — he turns 19 in December but the rookie Bruins defenseman already has fans buzzing since his opening night debut.

"I noticed a few murmurs in the stands when he had the puck," remarked Bruins Coach Fred Creighton. "The first time I saw him, I was so excited it was like..."

Creighton's analogy hardly has a place in a family newspaper, but it was extremely complimentary.

And, hereby aside, the fans are even comparing Bourque to a previous 18-year-old defenseman who came to Boston in the late 1960s and who shall remain unnamed for the simple reason he was — and is beyond compare.

While Bird came to Boston steeped in publicity, Bourque was a virtual unknown to all but the real hockey aficionados. He toiled last year for the Verdun, Quebec, Black Hawks, where he was rated one of the best defensemen in junior hockey.

That Bourque would be drafted high was the eighth pick in the first round) was understood. But his agent, Rodrigue Lemoine, also owned the Black Hawks and is a combination of Ray Kroc, John Y. Brown and P. T. U. Fan Am Games team, Jackson, Wis., where, where, Lemoine threatened the Bruins with compensation demands, grandstanded Bourque's sizeable talents, then backed off and allowed his star to move into the limelight.

Bird, of course, is the most celebrated — and expensive — rookie to come into pro basketball since Bill Walton. In the five Celtics contests, he has played a cerebral game which is rubbing off on his teammates.

Boston is skillfully playing the ball, looking for the open man, hustling, diving after loose balls. It's a situation Bird created by mere presence and one he relies on.

"All you need on a team," Bird says, "is guys who want to win. That's what we all want. We had last year at Indiana State."

Creighton has prepared us, says Celtics sub Rick Robey. "Guys now even look forward to going to practice. Everybody is happy and though we paid the price in practice, it's paying off on the court. Coach Fitch is the difference."

Fitch is substituting regularly, and is getting glibly performing from everyone. Probably the key to the Celtics fast start is the re-emergence of Tiny Archibald at the playmaking guard the Celtics so desperately need.

But the seasons are far from over and so are the verdicts on the rookies and the new coaches.

NATURE'S MARSHMALLOW TIPS
The common puffball mushroom is one of many fall mushrooms that are edible, according to Mercury outdoors' outdoor recreation department.

Puffballs are common to every state and are easily recognized by their shape. They prefer moist, shaded areas.

Look for them in fields, old pastures and where open spaces exist in timber. They prefer light air.

Puffball sizes vary from as large as a pound or more down to those which resemble small marbles.

The outside texture may be perfectly smooth, or it may have small, soft spines, depending upon the kind of fungi you've cultivated.

A few simple precautions before eating will assure you of a tasty, safe treat.

After gathering puffballs, slice them longitudinally, slice them horizontally, slice them vertically. They prefer moist, shaded areas.

Discard any which show signs of rot. As they grow, they may be immature Amanita which are poisonous.

Wash the mushrooms in cold water, peel, slice into small pieces and fry them in butter. Lightly season with salt and pepper from the skillet and eat.

Puffballs are also good when used in place of commercially grown mushrooms in other recipes.

Action!

When you go to a park, watch the player carefully. See how he "sets" the ball, the player ball right into the center ball. See how he returns the ball, time after time, till suddenly he sees his opponent out of position then slams the ball to the side and from wall for a corner "kill" shot — and makes the point.

That's a tough and when he's in, you win with him. Where else can you catch a quoniam or racket when you favor sports player comes through? I miss the action, the speed and danger of an alala at Hartford.

Schools Plan Map Program

MANCHESTER — Don't be surprised if your fourth grader comes home bragging about the whereabouts of La Junta or Tucumcari, which are genuine U.S. cities despite their foreign sounding names.

For that matter, grades three through six will be more enlightened about geography. The Manchester school district introduced a new Map Skills program into its elementary school curriculum. The Board of Education got a sampling of its objectives Monday night.

This represents a major single expenditure by the district, said James Kennedy, superintendent of schools. "We try to consolidate the materials and text dollars in any one year."

J. Gerald Fitzgibbon, assistant superintendent for instruction and curriculum, said a committee of social studies teachers developed the use of the map skills. The program includes pre-diagnostic testing of students to determine the level of ability.

Instructional materials include maps, globes and other resource materials. All of it is located in the respective schools' media centers.

Board members learned how to use reference points to find La Junta, Colo. or Tucumcari, N.M., two of six obscure cities fourth graders are required to locate. As the narrator on the cassette tape indicated, those who knew where the cities were located without having to resort to the reference point were either "very lucky or you happen to live there."

Young Voters Lack Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In 1978, the Census Bureau found more than 12 million eligible voters in the 18-to-20-year-old age bracket. Barely a fifth of them voted in that year's congressional and local elections.

In 1978, when Jimmy Carter defeated Gerald Ford by a margin of just over 2 million votes, only 38 percent of those 18 to 20 went to the polls.

The national voting age limit has been 18 since 1972 (when 48 percent of that age group voted), but the bureau's "Voter Participation Report for Federal Elections" shows high schoolers and those just starting college are making less and less of their new responsibility.

The 1978 federal elections illustrate the problem. There were 12,161,000 eligible 18-to-20-year-old voters in 1978, the bureau said, but only 29.1 percent voted that year. The bureau considers anyone over 18 to be an eligible voter.

Officials cite a number of reasons for the downturn, starting with lower voter registration and ending most likely with general apathy.

There is now an effort to reverse that trend. Together with the Democratic and Republican National Committees, the NAACP and the League of Women Voters, the National Association of Secondary Schools Principals today started a nationwide campaign to boost young voter awareness and participation.

Republican Party Chairman Bill Brock, his Democratic counterpart John White, and NAACP President Benjamin Hooks have been invited to attend a new conference to describe the move.

Green Hofmann of the Federal Elections Commission said in an interview that registration is down throughout the country for all voters, but most notably for those 18 to 20 years old.

They comprise what she called a potential "swing vote" — a bloc that might have reversed the 1976 outcome.

Coalition Critical Of Road Ruling

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — A coalition of environmental organizations has sent a telegram to U.S. Transportation Secretary Neil Goldschmidt critical of his decision to let Connecticut go ahead with designing the Interstate 94 project.

David Burwell, an attorney for the National Wildlife Federation, said the organizations want to know whether Goldschmidt has decided to counter an environmental directive issued by President Jimmy Carter in August.

"We don't know if Secretary Goldschmidt is going to do anything to change transportation policy and we want to see if he is serious about it," Burwell said.

Carter's memo urged officials to conserve energy and promote mass transit rather than new highways. Interstate 94 would connect Hartford, Conn., with Providence. The project has been approved by the Federal Highway Administration and Gov. Ella T. Grasso of Connecticut and J. Joseph Garry of Rhode Island.

But the Environmental Protection Agency has decided the highway would damage the rural northeast Connecticut and northwest Rhode Island areas. The EPA also said the highway would pollute the Schuette Reservoir in Rhode Island, water supply for nearly half the state's population.

The groups signing the telegram included the wildlife federation, the Urban Environment Conference, Natural Resources Defense Council, National Clean Air Coalition, Sierra Club, National Audubon Society, Highway Action Coalition, Environmental Defense Fund, Continued Action on Transportation and Environment, Friends of the Earth and the Conservation Law Foundation of New England.

U.S. Postal Service Under OSHA Regs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Letter carriers still may be at the mercy of rain, sleet, snow and gloom of night, but Congress is going to make sure their indoor working conditions are safe.

The House approved legislation Monday to make the U.S. Postal Service subject to the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the same as private businesses are.

The Committee on Post Office and Civil Service reported the Postal service is ridden with job-related injuries and illnesses. The committee recommended passage of the bill in order to persuade the Postal Service to provide safer and healthier working conditions for its employees.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

Event Fuses Jazz, Dance

Rodgers, one of America's leading black choreographers, explains his and Owens "Jazz Fusions" project as follows:

"While early modern dancers took pride in developing their improvisational skills, many of today's professional dancers are so seldom called upon to 'express their own ideas' and feelings through movement that they are rarely capable of creating movement statements that have the kind of substance and cohesiveness jazz musicians achieve."

He adds, "In collaboration with

He has played with many great jazz ensembles, including those of Lionel Hampton, Charles Mingus, Billy Taylor, Dizzy Gillespie, and Duke Ellington.

He has several records and articles on jazz to his credit, and is one of the founders of the service organization Collective Black Artists, Inc.

Performing with him for this concert will be Eric Johnson on guitar, Jerry Jemot on bass, and Warren Bealow on drums.

Maher Says Nursing Care Not His Agency's Field

HARTFORD (UPI) — Income Maintenance Commissioner Edward Maher, the man who sets nursing home rates in Connecticut, says looking into charges of patient abuse are not his department's responsibility.

Maher told the Public Health Committee's subcommittee on nursing homes Tuesday it was up to the state Department of Health Services to determine whether conditions at the homes met public health codes.

"Essentially the quality of care at institutions is the responsibility of the health department," Maher said.

The commissioner said his agency was responsible for "the level of care," or ensuring that a patient was placed in a nursing home which offered the appropriate services.

The health department has said there are 10 to 15 nursing homes which had chronic violations.

Maher said his agency was notified of nine such homes, which were then

Dark Horse Republican Predicts Primary Wins

HARTFORD (UPI) — Republican Benjamin Fernandez looks on the ranks of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former Texas Gov. John Connally.

"Coming in on the back seat is a guy called Fernandez, the dark horse," he said, also predicting victory in primaries in Massachusetts and Connecticut next year.

"I'd develop a head of steam from New England that can't be stopped," he said.

Fernandez, born in a converted boxcar as the son of Mexican immigrants, predicted Carter will use "the three personal scandals, in the life of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to win the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination."

He outlined a conservative Republican philosophy of a balanced federal budget and said he planned to visit Mexico next month as other GOP contenders have.

Fernandez, who was interviewed in Spanish by a Hartford Spanish speaking radio station, said he will discuss oil exports to the United States from Mexico during the campaign.

"I can't think of better man than Fernandez to deal" with the Mexican government, he said of his background.

N-Energy Workshop Offers Two Views

EAST HARTFORD — A workshop at the state PTA convention Friday, Oct. 26, at 2 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, East River Drive, will feature both sides of the controversy surrounding the use of nuclear energy.

Dr. Ernest Sternglass of the University of Pittsburgh will be a participant and Gary Doughty of Northeast Utilities will also take part.

The convention will be held Friday and Saturday at the Ramada Inn. It will feature workshops on national and state PTA projects including TV violence, school lunch and nutrition and adolescent pregnancy.

State Fuel Plan Called Too Weak

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Citizen Labor Energy Coalition planned to meet with Gov. Ella Grasso today to express concern over her fuel emergency assistance plan.

The coalition Tuesday charged that the state's plan to prevent residents from freezing this winter was just plain "inadequate."

Spokesmen for the group said they would meet with Gov. Ella Grasso today and outline their proposals to help the "whole new group of people" who will be struggling to pay skyrocketing fuel oil prices this winter.

"The state plan is quite inadequate," said Al Diacioli, the citizen co-chairman of the CLEC. "The plan implies you need energy assistance only if you happen to be eligible for federal programs."

He said CLEC's rally last week, which drew more than 600 people for a march up to the Capitol, showed the average citizen was fed up with big oil and soaring prices. The coalition will put pressure on legislators in order to introduce the three Rs as the best possible chance for survival this winter, Kiefer said.

The three Rs are a rollback in fuel oil prices, "recontrol" of the price of domestic crude oil, and rebate overcharges by way of a 1.5 percent tax on Connecticut oil company sales, he said.

Kennedy Phones, Grasso Unchanged

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella Grasso has received an earful of plans from President Carter's chief Democratic rival but she's still committed to the president's reelection.

The governor got a phone call Tuesday from Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and told her his plans regarding the 1980 Democratic presidential campaign.

Grasso would not reveal what Kennedy told her during the phone call about whether he planned to seek the Democratic nomination.

"He informed me as to his plans with regard to the campaign. I expect that he will be making his own announcement," the governor said.

"I told him that I have made my commitment, as he knew to President Carter. It was a very friendly conversation," she said, adding that Kennedy "understood" her position.

When asked if he had tried to convince Kennedy not to run, Mrs. Grasso said "I would not be so presumptuous."

"He called me," Mrs. Grasso said. "We're good friends."

A Kennedy spokesman in Washington confirmed Mrs. Grasso's comments and said Kennedy did not ask her for an endorsement.

The governor also said she had chosen Hartford attorney Alexander Goldfarb to serve as special counsel when she becomes chair of the Credentials Committee for the 1980 Democratic National Convention in New York City.

Mrs. Grasso Monday agreed to chair the committee, which will consider disputes over the seating of delegates.

Goldfarb was a long-time counsel to the state Democratic Party on party and election rules.

New Masters Voted For Southern State

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Southern Connecticut State College has received approval to set up a master's degree program in social work despite opposition by the University of Connecticut.

The State Board of Higher Education voted 63 Tuesday to approve the program for Southern which still must gain a license and accreditation from the National Council on Social Work Education.

UCon is now the only institution in the state that offers a master's level program in social work and its president, John A. DiBiaggio, said placing a graduate professional program in a state college "creates a university out of Southern."

Rocco Orlando, dean of professional studies at Southern, said the college now has the largest undergraduate program in the state for social work study. "We have it all" and "there is a need," he said.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren DEAR ABBY: After reading your column on gay spouses, I just had to write...

Straitlaced Gay Spouses

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently joined a tennis club. On our first day at the club, I was terribly embarrassed when my husband, who was wearing dark-colored street clothes instead of the usual white shorts or pants and white shirt...

Dear MAMA

To you it is "unthinkable." But to those who have studied bisexuality and realize that one's sexual preference is rarely a matter of choice, it is understandable.

DEAR NAMELESS

On joining a club, members should be familiar with the club rules. If regulation tennis attire is required, then your husband was out of line. I had a feeling why while it traditionally wears tennis, but it certainly looks better. And it's cooler.

DEAR ABBY

I have a very dear younger sister who frequently infuriates me by revealing my age. She does this subtly by telling HER age, then adding that I am nine years older than she is.

DAVID C. WOODBURY

Owner of David's Restaurant cordially invites you to a pleasant relaxed lounge ... "pass it on to your friends"

PASS IT ON!

THE SPECIAL "FRIDAY HAPPY HOUR"

Each Friday from 4 to 7 P.M. offers loads of free hors d'oeuvres and a special 6 piece shrimp cocktail for only 99¢

The new lounge is tastefully done in a plush Spanish decor accented with stucco archways and an overhanging Spanish tile roof.

El Hombre is reserved for people 24 and over — complete with its own separate canopied entrance, its separate parking and it offers a completely separate lounge seating 76 people.

NO COVER

NO MINIMUM

Tucked away in the Manchester Parkade behind King's, or to be more exact, behind David's Restaurant is a brand new lounge call El Hombre!

El Hombre is a bit different for a few reasons. Its creator, David C. Woodbury, owner of David's Restaurant in the Manchester Parkade for the past 10 years, has decided that it's about time Manchester had a lounge that was geared, not for the 18 to 23 year old crowd but for the 24 to 54 year olds who have always said, "I'd like to find a place that's not over-run with the younger set."

The atmosphere is relaxed and the frosty cocktails are served in beautiful stemware glasses. It should be noted that all cocktails are made with NATIONALLY KNOWN AND PRESTIGIOUSLY ACKNOWLEDGED BRANDS. The usual bar brands are not found at El Hombre.

"You Must Be 24 To Enter"

The simplest directions: 1. Go to the Manchester Parkade 2. Find Kings (department store) 3. Drive around to the back of Kings 4. Look for the El Hombre sign and the gold canopy. When you find "El Hombre" I think you'll also find something that the Manchester Area has needed for a long time.

El Hombre is open from 4 p.m. till closing Monday thru Saturday. In addition to cocktails, selective wines will be served by the glass or carafe. To satisfy "The Munchies" assorted cheeses are featured in a tempting cheeseboard along with ham, roast beef and corned beef, deli style sandwiches on hard rolls.

El Hombre DOES NOT allow jeans and dress should be neat casual attire. A large 7-foot Advent T.V. System is present for all major sporting events with the signal being cable fed. Prices are reasonable and Master Charge, Visa, Diners Club and American Express cards are honored.

SAN FRANCISCO SPECIAL

A quick NEW way with fish 'n chips

Nowhere in the world is seafood prepared in so many different ways as in San Francisco. Fisherman's Wharf boasts a multitude of fish, prepared to please everyone. They know how to prepare fish—and the secret's simple. Start with a good product, and cook it quickly.

Crispy Fish 'n Chips
1 package (1 lb.) frozen North Atlantic Cod or Haddock filets
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon lime juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup crushed potato chips
1 tablespoon butter
Potato chips
Allow frozen fish to stand at room temperature 15 minutes. Cut fish into 3 or 4 equal portions. Combine milk, lime juice and salt. Dip fish in milk mixture, roll in chips to coat. Place on greased shallow pan; dot with butter. Bake in 450 degree oven until fish flakes, about 25 minutes. Serve with chips. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Sizzling Fish 'n Chips
1 package (1 lb.) frozen North Atlantic Sole/Flounder filets
1/4 cup sour cream
1 cup crushed potato chips
1 tablespoon each butter or margarine and vegetable oil
Lemon Butter Sauce (recipe follows)

Parsley
Allow fish to stand at room temperature 30 minutes. To slice into eight thin diagonal portions, cut from end to end holding large knife with flat or blade almost parallel to fish. Spread fish filets on both sides with sour cream; coat heavily with chips. In large skillet, heat butter and oil to sizzling. Add fish filets. Lower heat. Sauté about 10 minutes, turning once, until fish flakes easily. Transfer to heated serving platter; drizzle with hot Lemon Butter Sauce; garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Lemon Butter Sauce
In small saucepan, melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine; stir in 1 tablespoon lemon juice, dash liquid hot pepper sauce and 1 green onion, sliced. Heat through.

Cardamom Tea
2 quarts water
12 teabags or 1/4 cup loose tea
1/2 teaspoon cardamom seeds (remove from white outer shells before measuring)
1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
1/4 cup sugar

2 tablespoons lemon juice
Bring water to a full rolling boil. Pour over teabags or loose tea and spices. Cover, let stand for 5 minutes. Strain into chafing dish, teapot or serving container. Stir in sugar and lemon juice. Garnish with clove-studded lemon slices.

Note: Or use 1/4 cup instant tea. To prepare, steep spices in boiling water for 5 minutes, then add instant tea, sugar and lemon juice. Makes 10 servings.

A new cookbook on the market is aptly entitled "Be a Gourmet Cook With a Flair—When You're Flat." Written and illustrated by Lucielle J. Gustafson of Manchester, the recipes, cooking and shopping hints all with the homemaker's pocketbook in mind, cover a span of 29 years. Lucielle's husband, Lloyd, a graphic arts teacher at Enfield High School and formerly a consultant for Reader's Digest magazine in Milan, Italy, designed the book and its layout.

In this inflationary era, keeping the food budget down is not easy, but Lucielle believes by serving several courses, less meat will be consumed—and that's got to be a saving.

A woman of many talents, Lucielle is a painter and a sculptor and her artistic talent is evident in the more than 76 charcoal sketches in the book. An active community volunteer, she also is a floral designer and makes silk roses for Artistry in Roses and does interior landscape design. The Gustafsons have two children, both married. Their daughter, Lynda Hennigan, is the proprietor of The Front Parlour, a beauty salon, in Manchester and son, Lloyd, is an elementary teacher in Hardwick, Vt.

"Be a Gourmet Cook With a Flair—When You're Flat" contains 160 pages, printed in large type and has a spiral binding. Books may be purchased at Reeds, Lift the Latch, Gatherings, Antiques and at The Front Parlour.

Here are a couple of Lucielle's recipes:

Mushroom Cheese Biscuits
2 1/2-cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
1 can (1 1/4 cup) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup shredded milk American cheese
Sift flour and baking powder together; cut in shortening. Add soup; mix well. Divide dough in half; roll each half on a lightly floured board until about 1/4 inch thick. Sprinkle one-half with cheese; place other half on top of cheese. Cut in squares or with a biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 15 minutes or until brown. Makes 18 biscuits.

Sicilian Beef Pie
1 1/2 pounds ground chuck or round
1/4 cup chopped onions
1 clove garlic (minced)
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup cold water
1 beaten egg
1/4 cup bread crumbs
One 16 oz. can plum tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese
1/4 cup red wine

Saute peppers, onions, beef, garlic until done. Mix and spread into a greased 11-inch pie pan, dry ingredients. Add meat mixture and bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Pour off fat. Mix tomatoes and wine; spread over pie, sprinkle with cheese and bake for 20 minutes longer.

Apples, Pumpkin Make Delectable Holiday Cakes

With so many of us trying our hands at gardening this past summer, we can feel a kinship with earlier Americans who looked forward to autumn as the time to store the harvest, ending with a great Thanksgiving celebration.

- 1 cup pumpkin, reserve half for sauce
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup margarine or butter, softened
3 eggs

Children Bearing Children Makes Couple Sick at Heart

Patricia McCormack UPI Health Editor
The mother-to-be, 12, told Charles Riker and his wife, Audrey: 'My boyfriend said he was using an IUD and we could do it and I wouldn't get pregnant.'

Riker thinks that's when he got missionary zeal about making sex education in the schools mandatory by grade seven. An IUD - for intra-uterine device - is not something boys use, but no one ever told the girl about IUDs. All she knew she got from friends, from the mother by piecing things together.

Her street-wise sex education hadn't gotten to her yet. There were other 'horror' stories that spurred the Rikers into the missionary column among sex educators. The evidence came from pregnant teenagers among hundreds they talked to during a nine-month, fact-finding tour of 33 states.

Dr. Riker is a professor at Purdue University's School of Consumer and Family Sciences in West Lafayette, Ind. His wife is a psychologist at Lafayette's Washburn Center for the Learning Disabled.

Make Breakfast Appealing

Even breakfast skippers admit that from a health standpoint, eating a morning meal is a good idea. Nutritionists agree wholeheartedly. According to one university study, only one child in five goes to school without breakfast gets an adequate diet from the rest of the day's food.

Finding from a nutrition computer exhibit that has been used nationwide by thousands of people who punch in a day's diet for analysis confirm that it takes special planning even for adults to get their recommended daily allowance of key nutrients without eating breakfast.

But that doesn't mean eggs have to sit down to a traditional bacon and egg meal. Since lack of time is one of the main excuses for not eating breakfast, it's good to know that even a minimal meal on the run can be nutritious, as long as the right foods are available.

Quick breads that contain fruit, nuts, whole grains and enriched flour and other good-for-you ingredients can be a breakfast staple. They are always popular and easy to have on hand. These moist loaves will keep well for several days in the refrigerator, or they can be made ahead and frozen.

These three recipes also are fast to make, because the start with Pillsbury

Nut Quick Bread Mix. Oats and raisins are added to oatmeal Nut Quick Bread, an especially nutritious version, includes grated carrots, lemon peel and orange juice. Cheese Nut Bread is extra quick to put together, using shredded cheese for more protein and excellent flavor.

For an on-the-go breakfast, cut heavy slices of quick bread. Set out a pitcher of milk and citrus fruit or juice. Cheese is delicious with quick bread, too, and easy to eat out of hand.

Even if your teen-agers claim they can't eat a thing so early in the morning, they can carry a couple of pieces of the bread and some fruit to school and eat at their break with milk from the cafeteria or vending machine.

For family members who want to relax with a real sit-down breakfast, all of these quick breads are made with cereal or an egg.

Health Department Cookbook a Best Seller

By Jeanne Lescem

The recipes often have funny titles: bugs-on-a-log, sneaky meatloaf and mosquitoes.

But the book is no joke. In fact, "Wic and You and Recipes Too" is one of the finest works we have seen on the subject of nutrition.

The Minneapolis Department of Health, which published it, has a runaway best seller on its hands.

"Orders from all over the United States) are becoming more than we can handle," Mrs. Elizabeth S. Holey said in a telephone interview.

Mrs. Holey, senior nutritionist for the department, said demand was touched off by a U.S. Department of Agriculture news release telling how the cookbook was developed and edited by two Twin Cities dietitians, Lois Peterson and Lois Schmitt.

Mrs. Holey said the Minneapolis and St. Paul health departments wanted to help families who are participating in the federally funded supplementary feeding program called "Women, Infants and Children's - WIC for short."

"So many WIC mothers have no recipes and no cookbooks," Mrs. Holey said. "We wanted to provide low cost recipes using practical foods that would be nutritious."

Some recipes were contributed by health department staff members. Many others are from a contest with eyes means high vitamin A content; capital

The cookbook introduces them to such things as broccoli, winter squash, sweet potatoes, pumpkin and tomatoes, all rich in vitamin A, and to nutritious snacks: bugs-on-a-log consists of celery ribs filled with peanut butter or cottage cheese and sprinkled with raisins, sunflower or sesame seeds, for one; walking salad, for another. The salad consists of cheese slices or code slaw wrapped in lettuce or raw spinach leaves.

The meatloaf is sneaky because it contains not just beef, but also crushed, iron-rich flake cereal, egg, grated carrots and spinach. Mary Hubbard, the recipe contributor, suggests using spinach cooking liquid instead of water to make it moist.

Mooseles is a variation on fasnachts, made by freezing 1 1/2 cups of fruit juice in six plastic or paper containers with plastic spoons for handles. They become mooseles when you substitute 1/4 cup of milk or plain yogurt for 1/4 cup of the milk.

In addition to recipes, the book explains in simple, straightforward language why a balanced diet is important from infancy onward. It provides easy to follow charts for planning just that.

It also advises on food and kitchen safety, tells how to recognize food-borne illnesses and what to do when symptoms appear: Call your doctor. It contains shopping tips, and advice on how to get a balanced meal at a fast food restaurant:
