Downtown People Mover To Be First of Its Kind

Business

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Downtown People Mover, a nearly 3-mile long automated transit system to serve part of the city's core area, would be the first major central city transportation system of its kind. Electrically-powered cars would move automatically, several to a train, along elevated guideways. The cars would be designed to carry from 30 to 100 passengers each. Terminals, adjacent to or within stores or other buildings, would be reached by elevators, escalators or stairs.

Clean, silent and efficient, it has futuristic attraction and unarguable virtues. It has been the dream of some urban planners for years. It would ride above downtown traffic, produce no pollution and replace some of the street traffic.

Its detractors have another version. "It's a regional obstruction it gets in the way of solving broader regional needs," an urban planning professor said.

"It has a Disneyland quality about it," an attorney said. "It's silly. In 10 years it will be a dinosaur. Who's going to take it down?"

Similar People Movers are in operation in about 17 communities, but operate at shopping centers or airports and at West Virginia University in Morgantown.

The federal government, through the Urban Mass Transit Administration, allocated the money in 1976.

Currently they all have a captive public. The real test, a public transportation People Mover where alternatives are present, will most likely be Los Angeles in the 1980s.

It's needed, according to Daniel Townsend, the project manager for the city's Community Redevelopment Agency.

"It evolved from a 1969 realization that two things were happening: The city was dying and if it lived, we're going to have more traffic problems."

Some concept was needed to eliminate the number of autos entering the downtown area, he said.

"If we just built the number of parking facilities downtown, we wouldn't have a way of getting the cars to them. We have to have a way of leaving the cars outside."

"People Mover was picked up in about 1970 and adopted by the City Council," he said.

"We wouldn't have the drivers involved, the pollution, the labor and all the other good things a democracy programs."

The federal government, through the Urban Mass Transit Administration, allocated the money in 1976.

Cobalt, Chromium Found In New Guinea Jungle

NEW YORK (UPI) — American and Australian geologists believe they have found huge surface deposits of cobalt and chromium in Papua-New Guinea that in time could relieve the world's dependence on South Africa, Rhodesia and the Soviet Union for these strategic metals.

Exploratory drilling is under way on a concession on the Ramu river near the New Guinea deep water port of Madang by the Nord Resources Corp. and a partnership, in which Nord Resources Corp. of Albuquerque, N.M. is top partner.

Dr. Edgar H. Cruft is chairman of Nord Resources, a company that also is in oil and gas, titanium pigment ore and kaolin, the clay used for paper coating. He told UPI the Papua-New Guinea deposits contain upwards of 5 percent cobalt, 1.3 percent nickel and perhaps 0.2 percent chromium. Because of the high price of the cobalt, it might prove the most valuable.

The minerals are found in alluvial soil, Cruft said. His company has spent about $1 million drilling shallow holes — 150 feet or less — to test the deposits.

Cruft said only a limited area has been tested so far and several thousand square miles remain to be explored.

Although many persons think of chromium only in terms of shiny trim on automobiles, buildings and many manufactured products, it is essential for making stainless steel, which is 16 percent chromium. The high technology of modern industry could not survive without stainless steel. Cobalt also is a highly important steel alloying element.

Cruft said no estimates have been made for the

Christmas Countdown Shops Crowded, Roads Hectic

By United Press International

Last-minute shoppers jammed shopping districts, street-corner Santas stepped up pitches for charities and Christmas kettles sharply off. Singing firemen joined Salvation Army bands in the Loop to raise money for the group — which provides, among many other services, an emergency canteen service that keeps fire victims and firemen supplied with hot coffee and other comforts during major fires and disasters.

Chicago wasn't the only city where charitable groups were hard hit. Major charities across the country reported contributions sagging from anticipated levels. Most blamed the disappointing showing on inflation help make up for a little of the deficit.

Street-corner Santas in the nation's second city also were hit by the strike — with contributions to their Christmas kettles sharply off. Singing firemen joined Salvation Army bands in the Loop to raise money for the group — which provides, among many other services, an emergency canteen service that keeps fire victims and firemen supplied with hot coffee and other comforts during major fires and disasters.

Police across the country stepped up patrols on major highways as millions of motorists took to the road, heading for family gatherings. The National Safety Council estimated 450 to 550 persons could be killed during the four-day Christmas weekend, which begins at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ends at midnight Tuesday. Last year, 48 people were killed in traffic mishaps during a three-day Christmas weekend.

The council said snowy weather and alcohol posed the greatest threat to holiday drivers.

The National Weather Service reported much of the nation had fair weather for driving Friday, with snow and ice confined generally to the Northeast and far western mountains, though damp fog left roads slippery in the Dakotas.

Forecasters reported downright balmy weather in much of the heart of the Midwest, where prospects for a white Christmas were dim but prospects for clear highways were excellent.

Trade Sanction Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter appealed to the United Nations Friday to impose trade sanctions against Iran in answer to the revolutionary Islamic regime's "arrogant defiance of the world community."

In a major escalation of America's efforts to free the U.S. hostages in Tehran, Carter said the time has come for "concrete action" to end Iran's "irresponsible attempt at blackmail."

"We have decided to ask for an early meeting of the United Nations Security Council to impose international economic sanctions upon Iran," Carter said in a nationally televised speech.

U.S. officials said the council's rejection of sanctions — a move that seemed likely — could justify unilateral American military action to end the 48-day-old hostage ordeal.

"The Security Council must act to enforce its demand that Iran release the hostages," Carter told the American people. "The credibility of the United Nations is at stake."

The president said the United States has "pursued every legal channel available to us" to win release of the 50 Americans held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

"Yet Iran today still stands in arrogant defiance of the world community," he said.

The initial reaction on Capitol Hill was favorable.

Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd, who met with Carter before the announcement, said the Senate "stands behind and with the president in seeking to bring this episode of international blackmail to an end."

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., ranking GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, warned that the United States will "go it alone" if other nations fail to join in the struggle for freeing the hostages.

Administration officials later briefed reporters on Carter's sanction plans, saying the United States intends to insist on "measured and meaningful" trade restrictions against Iran.

Priests To See Hostages

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini stepped into a dispute between his government and the militants at the U.S. Embassy Friday and said that Roman Catholic and Protestant priests would be invited to Tehran to help the 50 American hostages celebrate Christmas "in complete peace."

But Khomeini and the militants repeated they would not free the hostages unless Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi were returned.

"The hostages for the shah. We start from there," a spokesman for the militants said.

From his headquarters in Qom, Khomeini directed the Tehran militants to allow clergymen — especially black clergymen who he said have opposed "American crimes" — into the embassy to hold Christmas services for the hostages, now in their 48th day of captivity.

The militants at the embassy, who had rejected a similar request by Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, immediately agreed and said that "clergymen of all faiths" would be allowed to spend Christmas with the hostages.

"They can include Catholics, Protestants, Armenians and rabbis. Yes, certainly rabbis," said a spokesman for the militants, who added there were several Jews among the hostages. "They will all be allowed to visit the hostages for Christmas," he said.

Inflation: It's Been Bad Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices jumped another 1 percent in November, assuring 1979 of being the worst inflation year since World War II, the Labor Department reported Friday.

Energy prices rose at the lowest rate of the year last month, the report said, but that improvement was offset by burgeoning costs of buying a home.

And R. Robert Russell, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, told Congress' Joint Economic Committee. "I don't see a possibility of substantial relief over the next several months."

Russell said the figures for December are likely to be similar to November's, as home mortgage rates continue reacting to the Federal Reserve's Oct. 6 money tightening and as latest international oil price hikes reach consumers.

Over the first 11 months of the year, consumer prices advanced at a 13.1 percent annual rate — the worst inflation since 1946 when World War II price controls were removed.

That year's rate was a whopping: 18.2 percent.

Russell said inflation should "abate a little" next year, barring a new international crisis.

Housing accounted for more than half the November rise in consumer prices, the Labor Department said. Home mortgage rates rose 1.8 percent. House prices rose 1.9 percent. Thus the cost of buying a home rose 3.7 percent and was 33 percent higher than a year ago.

Energy prices rose only 0.1 percent, their slowest increase of the year and a big improvement over 1.1 percent the month before. But Labor Department economist John Layng said some of that improvement may be more statistical than real and "it may not last."

Gasoline prices rose 1.7 percent, about the same as October and considerably below the 4.4 percent monthly average for the first nine months of this year.

Home heating oil prices rose only 0.4 percent, compared to 1.3 the previous month and a monthly average of 5 percent during the first nine months of the year.

Economy Better, Tax Cut Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The economy has performed better than expected during the fourth quarter, government sources said Friday — a development which may assure President Carter will seek no tax cuts in 1980.

According to the sources, the government's preliminary estimate of economic activity during the October-December quarter showed the inflation-adjusted Gross National Product expanded at an annual rate of "about 1.5 percent."

The main reason for the surprise gain, the sources said, was that consumers continued to spend money at a fast pace. Consumer spending accounts for about two-thirds of total GNP.

Although consumers' incomes have been badly eroded by inflation, the spending spree has continued because Americans are drawing down their personal savings in order to maintain their standards of living, the sources said.

The Consumer Price Index rose by another 1 percent in November, and this will end up being the worst inflation year since 1946.

The anticipated fourth-quarter gain in the output of goods and services will be studied closely by White House and administration budget planners, who are nearing final economic policy recommendations for next year.

The current increase was below the third quarter's 3.1 percent rise. Nevertheless, it meant the economy is continuing to grow enough to keep unemployment — currently 5.8 percent — from surging out of control.

Until the last few weeks, most government officials had predicted a slowing of economic activity during the fourth quarter.

Some believed tax cuts would be needed to stimulate the economy in 1980. But Carter has opposed any reductions because they would fuel inflation.

The fourth-quarter strength probably will end any remaining internal debate on the tax cut subject.

Update

Congress Home

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of Congress Friday headed home for the holidays and, barring an emergency in Iran which would bring them back sooner, will return Jan. 22 to take up the SALT II treaty and windfall profits tax bill.

In a late night session, which lasted until 3:37 a.m. Friday for the Senate, Congress completed work on the $3.5 billion aid package needed to salvage Chrysler Corp., but left several other items, including SALT and the windfall profits tax, on the back burner.

Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd said that when the new session begins the "top priority" for the Senate will be the arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

Consideration of the pact was pushed into 1980 by the slow pace of

Judge Takes Oath

NEW HAVEN (UPI)—Former Yale University counsel Joseph A. Cabranes was sworn in as a U.S. District judge Friday, becoming the first native-born Puerto Rican to serve on the federal bench on the nation's mainland.

Cabranes, 38, was sworn in by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., before a packed crowd in the ornate auditorium at the Yale University Law School where he earned his law degree 14 years ago.

A simple 15-minute ceremony in the ornate splendor of London's Lancaster House formalized the "solemn and binding agreement" that the British Foreign Secretary Lord Carrington hailed as an example to a troubled world that there is still "a genuine alternative to conflict."

Price Hike Feud

Kennedy said that the administration stood by and let oil-rich sheikhs bilk the United States and the western democracies out of billions of dollars.

Sen. Edward Kennedy insisted Friday that the administration, despite bitter denials by the White House, did nothing to prevent—and in fact invited—OPEC to increase the price of its oil.

The Kennedy-Carter feud over the OPEC price hike grew more acrimonious as the president's press secretary, Jody Powell, charged the senator was playing "fast and loose" and suggested that Kennedy's statements showed he didn't learn very much at Harvard.

He challenged Kennedy to provide proof of his charges.

The OPEC question produced the most bitter feud in the contest between Kennedy and Carter. In charges that he has refined since first stating them Thursday,

Trudeau Stumps

TORONTO (UPI)—A Conservative government will make low and middle income earners bear the nation's economic hardships and voters must re-elect the Liberals to give Canada a chance, Liberal leader Pierre Trudeau said Friday.

Trudeau said the Liberals and New Democratic Party had no choice but to bring down the Conservative government Dec. 13 over its budgetary measures because they would have laid a devastating effect on low and middle income earners.

Fish Die at Nuke Plant

HADDAM (UPI)—More than 1,000 tiny fish died this week after being caught on screens that remove debris from water circulating through the Connecticut Yankee nuclear power plant, Northeast Utilities said Friday.

The utility said the dead Connecticut River minnows, discovered about 8:45 p.m. Thursday, didn't hamper operation of the plant.

Northeast spokesman Clifford Hill said the utility had no guess how the fish became caught on the rotating cleaning screens. "It happens sometimes, but this time it was considered unusual because of the extraordinary quantity of fish," he said.

"Ordinarily there's a lot of water flow, but low pressure along the plant," said Hill. "The fish generally sense the currents and avoid them before they become trapped. I guess they just didn't do this time."

Later, in an official statement, Northeast said it considered the incident "a minor event."

But the utility said it notified the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the state Department of Environmental Protection and reporters Friday because it believed the incident was "worthy from an environmental point of view."

The incident occurred three days after a control valve at the plant malfunctioned and radioactive gases '40 percent above federal limits' escaped into the atmosphere for about 45 minutes.

The utility was criticized on several fronts for waiting too long before notifying state officials and the public about the gas release.

Utility spokesman Everett Perkins said the screens "keep any type of debris or foreign material" from entering pipes.

Support Agency Cuts Threaten State Farms

HARTFORD (UPI)—Connecticut's productive agriculture industry could go out of business if its support agencies are hit with further budget cuts, the president of the Connecticut Farm Bureau Association said Friday.

Mary Porter said the state's farmers rely heavily on the Department of Agriculture and the University of Connecticut School of Agriculture and Natural Resources for research, inspection and quality control programs.

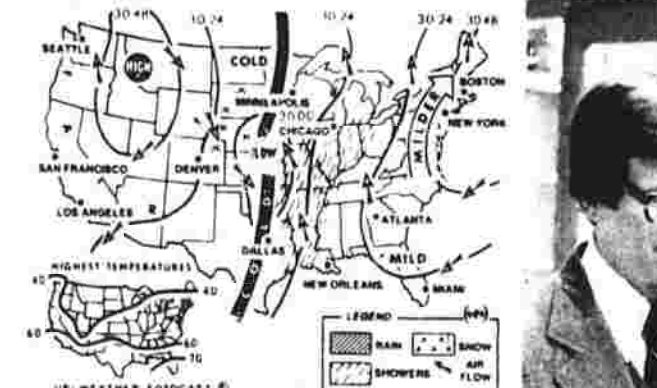

"You can't have viable agriculture without these support agencies. They are all necessary for us to stay in business," Mrs. Porter said before a meeting with representatives of statewide farm organizations.

"What agriculture is furnishing is a basic need—food. We cannot live and exist without it," she said.

The Connecticut Agriculture Experiment Station in New Haven, which runs on state and federal funds, was also a major support system, Mrs. Porter said.

A decade of increasing budget cutbacks combined with inflation are "really beginning to show" and have reached serious proportions, she said.

The representatives who attended the meeting agreed to form an ad hoc committee to further study the needs of the three major support agencies.

Rhody Official Says Jury Will Clear Him

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—House Speaker Edward P. Manning Friday predicted he will be "totally vindicated" when a federal grand jury finishes investigating a Connecticut firm's unsuccessful effort to obtain Rhode Island's motor vehicle inspection business.

In a copyrighted story last Saturday, the Pawtucket Evening Times said Manning, D-Cumberland, and Sen. James Costello, D-Lincoln, were targets of the investigation.

"There was no wrongdoing on my part at all in this matter," Manning told a Statehouse news conference.

"Any grand jury, if it gets complaints, has an obligation to thoroughly look into them. I'm sure when they are done, I will be totally vindicated," he said.

The newspaper said Manning's law-firm was hired by Hamilton Test Systems Inc., of Windsor Locks, Conn., before a bill was introduced in 1976 to revamp the state's mandatory inspection system.

Manning took issue with several points in the story.

He said the law didn't mandate adoption of one company's system.

Fare Increase Slated On Glastonbury Ferry

GLASTONBURY—Fares for the Glastonbury-Rocky Hill Ferry will be increased substantially, according to a letter from state Deputy Transportation Commissioner Joseph Trantino.

Trantino met with Town Manager Richard Borden to discuss the price increases.

Trantino said the cost per car and driver will go to 75 cents. The cost was 25 cents per car.

"No effective date for the fare increase has been announced, Borden said. However, the Department of Transportation has increased the rate when the ferry resumes crossings in the spring, he said.

Trantino said in the letter that rates are being increased in order to avoid a $100,000 budget deficit. The state also operates a ferry between Chester and East Haddam. Even with the proposed increase, the state will still be suffering a $30,000 deficit, according to Trantino.

A Test on 'Connections'

Editor's Note: This Test-by-Newspaper prepared by the College Board is a special feature of "Connections" and is offered as the concluding installment of the series. The test is designed to enrich your learning experience and increase the value of this 15-part series on technology and change. The series was prepared by Courses by Newspaper, a program of University Extension, University of California, San Diego, that is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. Copyright 1979 by the College Board. The test-by-newspaper that is offered below provides you with an opportunity to evaluate what you know about technology and change.

Many of you have just completed reading in this newspaper the 15-part series entitled "Connections." This series was linked to a television series of the same title that appeared for 10 weeks on PBS stations across the country. Perhaps you watched this series hosted by James Burke in addition to reading the articles in your local newspaper.

We trust that you found this combined media presentation of information on technology enjoyable and informative. But, now you have an opportunity to find out how much you retained from this experience.

The College Board, a non-profit educational association serving students, schools, and colleges, for $1 will grade the answer key, mail you an evaluation, give you the answer to each of the questions.

In addition, by return mail you will receive a package of information about adult learning opportunities. The test may also be taken at home, or in the office, among friends, colleagues or relatives, just for the fun of it.

In addition, you might participate actively in this national program by filling out the coupon below and mailing in your opinions of technology and change. If you do, the College Board will send you information about adult learning opportunities. This is all free-of-charge. Now, see how well you do on this first-ever national test-by-newspaper.

6. York and Greb ("Wars: Hot and Cold") state all but one of the following. Identify the exception

- the relationship between national security and technology did not emerge with the nuclear age.
- while technology has produced weapons in the past and will continue to do so, it also provides the means for arms control.
- Vietnam was an example of a war in which technological superiority did not work to the advantage of the state.
- all of the scientists who worked on the A-bomb, supported the development of the H-bomb.
- In his article on "The Influence of Societal Values," Edwin Layton argues that societal values
 - have little influence on technology.
 - are powerless compared to technology.
 - definitely influence technological change.
 - act as a brake on technological change.
- Derek de Solla Price states that one of the two great changes that caused scientific knowledge to become more elite was the
 - disappearance of Latin as a universal language.
 - breakthrough in physics and chemistry.
 - 17th century Scientific Revolution.
 - 20th century Computer Revolution.
- When the overall impact of the automobile is considered, we find that it
 - is one of the most important causes of air pollution and urban decay.
 - meets important needs of society.
 - eliminated a major problem of horse pollution.
 - all of the above.
- The modification of the natural world by technology is generally
 - increasing with each new technology.
 - unimportant, as other technologies will be developed to halt or reverse current adverse modifications.
 - dependent on the culture of the people using the technology.
 - all of the above.
- Studies of innovation demonstrate that
 - historical precedents have had insignificant impact on the emergence of an invention.
 - concern for safety has been paramount in the search of a new technique or product.
 - advances are usually made by accidental discovery or "happy chance" by engineers.
 - most inventions result from systematic attempts to solve specific problems.
- The "irrigation city" evoked a religious bureaucracy in Egypt, the Confucian concept of social harmony in China, and the development of political philosophy as we know it in Mesopotamia. These responses indicate that
 - technology "determines" society and culture.
 - social and cultural mores define the effects of technological change.
 - the Chinese possessed a more advanced civilization than those of Egypt and Mesopotamia.
 - there is no discernible link between the evolution of civilization and technological innovation.
- Evolution of the factory system has generally
 - been strongly supported by the current work forces.
 - produced anxieties among workers fearing technological displacement.
 - had no effect upon attitudes of workers.
 - reduced the requirement for conformity in the work force.
- The great difference in size and appearance of the domestic and imported automobiles in the '60s and early '70s was largely due to the - import duties placed on the weight and size of foreign cars.
 - scarcity of major raw materials in other countries.
 - the modification of the natural world by technology that shipped cars to the United States.
 - value placed on size and appearance by the majority of U.S. citizens.
- Which of the following statements best reflects the role of technological assessments?
 - technological assessment can create a risk-free technology.
 - technological assessment represents a democratic means for dealing with technological change.
 - technological assessment is the most effective post-World War II mechanism to arrest arms-weaponry production.
 - all of the above.

By WALLY FORTIN
Hi, and how are you all making out with your shopping and cooking as you prepare for Christmas? Things sure keep moving along, and soon all the excitement will be over for another year.

Next bit of excitement will be our gala Holiday Dance Thursday evening, Dec. 27. The action starts at 7:30 p.m. and ends between 10:30 and 11 p.m. Lots of dancing to the tunes of Lou Joubert and his band. Also card playing in the basement. Lots of goodies to munch on, plus punch and beverages along with lots of door prizes. Tickets are available at our office and I suggest you pick one up soon because we will only have a limited number to sell at the door.

Because of the holidays we will be closed this Monday and Tuesday. Also no meals will be served this week. We are also canceling our ceramic class and exercise class until Jan. 8.

Joe regrets that golf lessons are over until spring but suggests you practice the exercises and swing around the house.

Now that we are getting a touch of cold weather, maybe some of you would like to get away from it for about 13 days. If so, why not join our group which will be going in February. Because of the size of the bus, we can still accommodate a few more. Call our office 647-3211 for information.

While I think of it, because we are closed next Monday and Tuesday the only columns we will have is next Saturday.

The happenings at the center start with the results of our Tuesday afternoon Senior Bowling League at the Parkade Lanes: Class A high triple, Celeste King, 431; Paul Desjardins, 525; high single, June Fuller, 169; Harvey Dupin, 200; Class B high triple, Nellie Golas, 432; Ted Gaderowski, 427; high single, Nellie Golas, 118; Ted Gaderowski, 165.

On Wednesday morning it was pinocle games and the winners were: Billy Stone, 397; Marge Hall, 594; Helen Silver, 578; Ed Scott, 573; Bob Hill, 568; Robert Schubert, 557; Art Johnson, 556; Glenn Gibbs, 551.

In the afternoon bridge games and the prize winners are Rene Maier, 5,580; Key Ellisworth, 4,440; George East, 3,810; Billy Stone, 3,560.

Well, folks, you all know the price of stamps nowadays, and it therefore makes it just about impossible to send cards to all of you. So on behalf of myself, Gloria, Ruth, Pauline, Joe, Jim, Ray and myself, we wish to sincerely extend our best wishes for a very Merry Christmas and a Happy Hanukkah to all our seniors. We want especially you folks who visit with us and participate in our programs, and those of you who volunteer your services, that we really very much appreciate having you as our friends. So please enjoy the holidays and plan on continuing to be a part of us during the New Year. God bless you. Schedule for Week:
Monday and Tuesday: Closed for Christmas.
Wednesday: 9 a.m., health clinic by appointment. 10 a.m. pinocle games and Friendship Circle. No lunch today. 12:45 p.m. bridge games. 1 p.m. craft class. Bus pickup at 8:15 a.m. Return trips at 12 o'clock and 3 p.m.
Thursday: No official meeting and no lunch served today. Open for visits and business from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Holiday Dance, 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Bus pickup starting at 6 p.m., return trip after dance.
Friday: 10 a.m., kitchen social games. No lunch served today, 1 p.m. set-back games. Bus pickup at 8:15 a.m., return trips at 12 o'clock and 3:30 p.m.

Supermarket Shopper

Manufacturers Refunds Should be Accessible

By MARTIN SLOANE
DEAR MANUFACTURERS—We enjoy your products. Especially those that are colorful, tasty and nutritious without being over-dyed, over-spiced, over-sweetened or over-priced.

We appreciate that your products save us time and energy—and that some mothers-in-law can be led from scratch. We also know that we pay less for many of your products than we would if we made them ourselves from scratch.

For all these things we thank you.

That's the good news. Now here's the bad news: You spend millions of dollars promoting your products with refund offers, but lose much of the potential good will through some very thoughtless practices. Millions of your customers do much of their supermarket shopping across state lines. If you refund offers are limited to certain states, why not say "out of area" and your refund form didn't show a geographic limitation?

Every refund offer should have an expiration date. Pads of refund forms often remain in the store manager's drawer for many months. Why should shoppers have to guess whether an offer is still valid?

Most important, it isn't fair for you to advertise a big refund offer and require a refund form that you know relatively few shoppers will be able to find. If you aren't publishing the refund form in newspapers or magazines or if your salespeople aren't posting new supplies at stores at least once a week, you should accept our proofs of purchase without the forms.

Those who purchase your products should have a reasonable opportunity to participate in any refund offer that is current and valid in their area.

If you feel differently, please let us know. We would be more than happy to discuss this matter with you.

Last but not least, eight to 10 weeks is much too long to have to wait for a refund. After four weeks we become edgy. After six weeks we become angry. After eight weeks we often change brands!

Group Urges Legislature To Enact Oil Profits Tax

HARTFORD — The Connecticut Citizen-Labor Energy Coalition has urged the state Legislature to enact a windfall profits tax on oil companies doing business in the state. When a subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee held public hearings at the state Capitol Thursday, a petition bearing signatures of more than 12,000 persons from around the state was presented to its chairman, Sen. Joseph A. Ruggiero, D-Litchfield. Roberta Eschelson of East Hartford, who presented the petition, said Friday it called for "a tax on the gross receipts of the oil companies." She said the petition practically reiterated the proposed version of the Senate bill. The issue of taxing oil company profits has received national attention and some politicians have said the money should be used for energy research and the development of other fuel sources. However, Ms. Eschelson said funds could not be earmarked that way in Connecticut. When asked why the coalition is supporting the tax, she said the group is "looking for a greater amount of

Poll Reveals Feelings On Capital Punishment

STORRS (UPI) — The majority of Connecticut residents believes capital punishment is appropriate in murder cases — and the second-largest group favors life in prison for convicted killers, a poll shows. The survey said 52 percent of those questioned felt death was appropriate for a person convicted of cold-blooded murder while 30 percent believed life imprisonment was the proper sentence.

But when asked whether they favored the death penalty, 62 percent of the 500 persons questioned in the University of Connecticut poll responded yes with the support spread across all age, educational and income groups. The survey said respondents favored the death penalty more strongly in rape cases where the victim was slain, murders of children and law enforcement officers slain in the line of duty. Connecticut has a limited death penalty which allows for death in the electric chair in cases involving murder for hire, killing a police officer or killing someone during the commission of a felony. The status of the law has been placed in doubt, however, by a Hartford Superior Court judge's ruling last week which ruled the procedure for imposing the death penalty unconstitutional.

The poll also showed 48 percent of those questioned believed crime was a serious problem in the state, while 82 percent didn't believe criminals were treated "harshly enough" by the courts. Of those giving an opinion, 47 percent said they would be afraid to walk alone at night with that feeling more prominent among the poor, the old and women. Among the other findings in the series of surveys: —Half of those questioned said they were very satisfied with their personal lives while 38 percent were "somewhat pleased." The biggest complaint with life in Connecticut

Moffett Heads Mideast Junket

HARTFORD (UPI) — Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., was named Friday to head a six-member congressional delegation that will visit Lebanon, Syria and Israel next month with hopes of influencing unity in the war-torn nation.

Moffett, of Lebanese descent, said the primary reason for the trip was "to focus directly on the problems in Lebanon" with hope it will lead the United States to develop a separate policy toward the country. "Recently there has been much talk about the Middle East situation, and rightly so," he said. "But it is time to focus on Lebanon itself and on emphasizing assistance to that war-torn people."

Moffett had proposed the trip to House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., a year ago, but was turned down for security reasons. The speaker agreed to the trip Friday and named the delegation of congressmen of Lebanese descent or whose districts included large Lebanese-American populations. Moffett's office refused to give the itinerary for the trip Friday and named the delegation of congressmen of Lebanese descent or whose districts included large Lebanese-American populations.

Moffett's office refused to give the itinerary for the trip Friday and named the delegation of congressmen of Lebanese descent or whose districts included large Lebanese-American populations.

The delegation also will attempt to meet with other factions in the Lebanese civil war, but will not meet with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"He as a Lebanese American wants the PLO out of Lebanon," the spokesman said. Moffett noted there had been several trips to the Middle East but none by a group of Lebanese Americans centering on Lebanon.

"Quite honestly we want to be an influence toward unity," he said. "We also want to educate ourselves. I don't want to see Lebanon dealt away as a small chip in a large Mid East poker game."

Moffett also said he believed the Israeli officials the group planned to meet with wanted to hear the Lebanese-American viewpoint on Lebanon. Israel is involved in southern Lebanon where the PLO has forces, and Moffett said he wanted to hear suggestions from Begin and Peres on how the PLO threat to Israel can be eliminated.

The Moffett spokesman said the trip had the backing of former Carter administration Middle East envoy Robert Strauss and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. Moffett said his long-range hope on the visit was the development of "a separate U.S. policy on Lebanon as we have with Israel and Egypt. Lebanon has been a long-standing ally and like Israel a good friend to the U.S. but it is being devastated," he said.

Also named to the delegation were: Rep. Mary Rose Oakar, D-Ohio, of Syrian and Lebanese descent; Rep. Nick Joe Bahari, D-W. Va., a Lebanese American; Rep. Bob Carr, D-Mich., whose district has the nation's largest Lebanese American population in the U.S.; Rep. Harold Hollenbeck, R-N.J., whose district also has a large Lebanese American population; and Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif.

Loving wife and children

Police Report

MANCHESTER — Police charged Thomas Dunn, 18, of 814 Vernon St. with driving under the influence of alcohol Friday evening. Police said he was heading east on Center Street at 7 p.m. when the arrest was made. Dunn was ordered to appear in East Hartford Superior Court Jan. 8.

VERNON — Police charged a 21-year-old Tolland man with driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs after a two-car collision on Route 30 at 4:48 p.m. Friday. Gregory Lanz of 374 Tolland Stage Road was released on a promise to appear in Rockville Superior Court Jan. 8. He was also cited for failure to grant the right-of-way in a private drive. No injuries were reported in the accident, police said.

Correction

MANCHESTER — It was incorrectly reported in Wednesday's Herald that alterations to the work being made at the 56 Wells St. home of David and Ingrid Lefebvre. The work is actually being done at a house they are building elsewhere. The Herald regrets the error.

Vacation Day Programs Have Spaces Available

EAST HARTFORD — The East Hartford YMCA still has spaces available in its three vacation day programs. On Wednesday, the "Y" will feature the full-length movie, "Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon," as well as a treasure hunt, crafts, cooking and indoor-outdoor games.

On Thursday, the "Y" will be transformed into a "Christmas Kids Casino." All children will get "chips" at the door and be able to play bingo, checkers, cards, and other games of chance and skill. There will also be special craft movies and projects on this day. Friday will be Sports Day at the Y. There will be tournaments in kickball, tag, floor hockey and relay races. Movies about skiing and other activities will also be featured.

Each Vacation Day program will have a central part to the day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with extended hours in the morning and afternoon for the working parents. Breakfast may be purchased, but persons are urged to bring their own bag lunch. Each day's program must have a minimum of 20 persons and a maximum of 30. To register, call the Y at 289-4377.

Police said Joseph J. Sullivan Jr., 45, died Thursday after his car slammed into the rear of a disabled tractor-trailer truck parked alongside Route 68 with its emergency flashers on and reflectors placed on the roadway. The driver of the truck, Donald Pauley, 44, of Westfield, Mass., was not injured, police said.

At the Lawrence Smith Home Christmas All Through the House

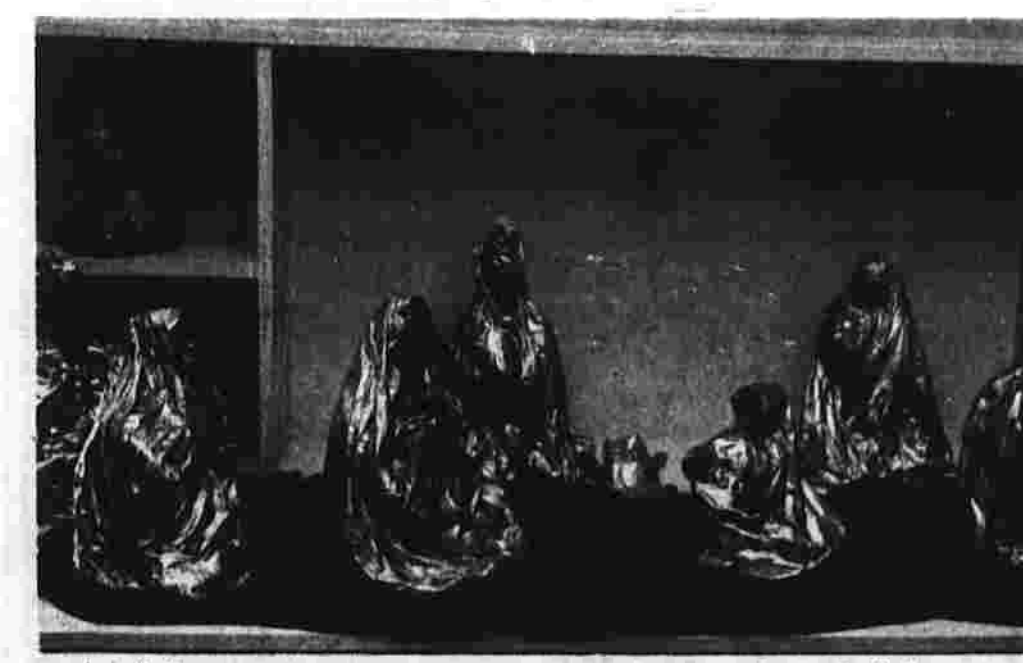

Larry Smith and his daughter, Holly, pause on the steps of their home on Porter Street, Manchester, as they prepare to check out the door wreath.

Barbara pauses on the stairway which is decorated with garlands of pine, snowballs and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Claus.

Barbara Smith finds room for just one more ornament on the giant Christmas tree.

A nativity scene all sprayed in gold is arranged on a table in the Smith home.

The stockings are hung by the chimney with care and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus join young Larry as he tries to guess the package contents.

Christmas Ornaments Include Angel Chorus

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

Back again by request is the Christmas Angel chorus that had its last engagement here in 1977. The owner, Pauline Trian, has not been idle in the meantime. Her collection now includes a series of angelic Christmas ornaments, more angels in stained glass, and some additions to the antique items to join the 18th century Volksted cherub previously noted.

Expanded Newsletter

Members of the Cardinal Spellman Philatelic Museum are enjoying their expanded newsletter. It has well-reproduced photos of the members of the Vatican Club, the Young People's Stamp Group from Sudbury, the Philatelic-Numismatic Group and a view of Walpex '79, besides pictures of stamps and covers.

There is a Calendar of Events, Report of January withdrawals by the USPS, Christmas gift ideas, and discussion of the 21-cent Olympics Postcard. The section called British News gives the story of the stamp designs and values for Britain in the coming year. There is a note about the Cook Island contributions. The POD of this far-off place has always kept the museum supplied with its new issues. The Mickey Mouse 50th Anniversary is being celebrated by expensive stamps from Grenada, Dominica and the Turks & Caicos Islands.

Continuing with titles: On Exhibit at the Gallery; Stamps Needed; Farley's Epistles; 30th Anniversary of the Araba Cultural Centre; 5th Anniversary of Kingdom Charter (Netherlands); Cachet & Philatelic Service for Domestic Inaugural Flights; One Stamp Run Off Three Ways (the John Paul Jones); New Oliver Wendell Holmes Die; Topical News; Dentists on Stamps.

The publication closes with a note about advantages of membership and a page of books from the County Store specially priced for members.

Art Exhibit Set

HARTFORD - The Assylum Hill Artists Cooperative will sponsor "Self Portrait," an open, juried, multi-media exhibition at Artworks Gallery, 94 Allyn St. Hartford from Jan. 24 through Feb. 10. The juror will be Alice Neel. Ms. Neel has been acclaimed by "Newsweek" and "Art News" for her probing, often disturbing portraits of art world figures and family. Her work is represented in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney Museum of American Art. In 1974 the Whitney exhibited a major retrospective of Alice Neel's work.

Any professional area or regional visual artist is welcome to submit one work in any media. There will be no registration for entry fee. Work must be delivered in person to Artworks Gallery Jan. 14-16 from 9 to 5.

The seated figure, evidently soothing the Christ Child with a harp-like, is a Gobel Hummel. The wide-skirted angel in an attitude of prayer, can be wound up to play Brahms Lullaby. The musical movement was made in Switzerland. The fifth from the left, the angel with the harp, is part of a set of three plastic figures from Hong Kong. The last performer, shown patting a drum, is inscribed "Angel of Africa."

Besides the three-dimensional type of angels, Mrs. Trian also keeps up with world-wide postage stamps having angelic pictorials. This is a longtime interest that brought her first into the membership of the Manchester Philatelic Society. Beyond these, though, for angels in the flat, there is now a collection of picture postcards. This new tangent, launched upon in 1977, has resulted in some 800 cards from the years 1800 to 1915, with depictions of angels, cherubs and cupids.

And so it goes - another example of the insidious nature of collectingitis.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need an objective view of a complicated problem. My husband and I recently had our second child - a healthy baby boy. We wanted a little girl because we already had a boy, so, of course, we were very disappointed. Now I want to try for a girl, but my husband is opposed to the idea. He says two children are enough for the time being, but maybe later on, if we still want a third, he'd consider it.

Well, I'm 30 and have an infertility problem which gets worse as time goes on, so I think if we're going to try for a girl we'd better do it now.

Also figuring in our decision is the fact that my husband and I are both extremely tall and quite plain-looking - even honey - and if we were to have a daughter and she inherited our worst physical feature it would break my heart. EKA and women I'm not withstanding, a woman makes it or breaks it on her looks, Abby.

Please help me make the right decision. My heart says to have one more child, but my head says for it.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed BEEN THROUGH A LOT from a 13-year-old girl who thought she had VD has prompted this letter. She said she suffered in silence for weeks, then finally decided to tell her mother, even though her friends said she was "crazy" to tell them. My mom writes to say that telling her mother was the wisest decision she ever made.

My story is a little different. I'm an 18-year-old girl who was into drugs and sex. Last June I discovered I was pregnant - I was scared and confused, but I told my parents. Not only did I tell them about being pregnant, I told them about the drugs, lies, drinking, etc. They were hurt and upset, but their main concern was my welfare. I decided to have an abortion. It was MY decision.

My mom and I went away for a little while afterwards to help our grief. While I was away I met and fell in love with a wonderful young man. I was honest with him, and he was understanding, loving and forgiving. I also prayed to God for strength and forgiveness. Now I can sleep nights.

Thank you Mom, Dad, my fiance, and God. And thank you, Abby, for listening.

ALSO LEARNED

DEAR LEARNED: And thank you for assuring young women that in time of trouble their parents are their best friends.

DEAR ABBY: We, the participants of the Long Beach Senior Day Center, feel as you do that flowers should be given to the living. We think this poem expresses our feelings.

I would rather have a little rose from the garden of a friend.

That flowers strewn around my casket when my days on earth must end.

I would rather have a living smile from one I know is true than tears shed round my casket when this world I bid adieu.

Bring me all the flowers today, whether pink or white or red.

I would rather have one blossom now than a truckload when I am dead.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Someone who has admired you from afar may make his or her feelings known today. You have much in common and a good friendship could result. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You should be wary of any lull in usual loyalty concerning your ventures. Someone you know involved in will yield desirable results. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Being attentive to the way others feel today is a big job in helping you to get along with them. Head for the stars! LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An opportunity could arise today which will permit you to help another sort out a tangled web. They couldn't help it. You've picked a better partner for the job. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's not that you're not wanting for attention today, but you are a delightful person to be around. You are a good companion. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) If there are any extra holiday touches you want to add to your home, now is the time to do it. You may not have the opportunity in the days ahead. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) The way you deal with friends today will reflect favorably on you. You'll be liked about what you've done and what you'll be glad to do for you. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today's happenings will be unique in that things you do for others will be returned in ways about as beneficial for you as well.

Your Birthday

December 22, 1979

You will be intensely motivated to improve your status in the community and receive your just due this coming year. The desire will spur you to find innovative and unique ways to attain your ends.

He says two children are enough for the time being, but maybe later on, if we still want a third, he'd consider it.

Well, I'm 30 and have an infertility problem which gets worse as time goes on, so I think if we're going to try for a girl we'd better do it now.

Also figuring in our decision is the fact that my husband and I are both extremely tall and quite plain-looking - even honey - and if we were to have a daughter and she inherited our worst physical feature it would break my heart. EKA and women I'm not withstanding, a woman makes it or breaks it on her looks, Abby.

Please help me make the right decision. My heart says to have one more child, but my head says for it.

MANCHESTER HAS IT!

Business-Directory Guide For Manchester and Surrounding Vicinity

featuring this week...

Optical Style Bar - "25 Years of Service"

We have created one of the most respected, dependable and most complete optical laboratories and visual care centers in Connecticut. For many years our motto was "If It's Made of Glass We'll Grind It." With the advent of plastic lenses it became necessary to amend our motto to include plastic. We fully intend to incorporate our laboratory to accommodate additional lens materials as they are developed. We stay on top of research and development in the field of visual care. We have patterns for over 3,000 different shapes of frames, plus over 1,500 eyeglass frames on display, hard and soft contact lenses, sunglasses galore, plus hearing aids. Optical Bar has two convenient locations to serve you: 763 Main Street and 191 Main Street, both in Manchester. Between the two stores, one store is always at your service six days a week.

- #### CONTEST RULES
1. Solve the puzzle by filling in the missing letters to make the words that you think best fit the clues. To do this read each clue carefully for you must think them out and give every word its true meaning.
 2. You need not be a subscriber to this newspaper to enter. You may submit as many entries as you wish. No mechanically produced (printed, mimeographed, etc.) copies of the entry blank will be accepted.
 3. Anyone is eligible to enter except employees (and members of their families) of the Evening Herald.
 4. ALL ENTRIES MUST BE MAILED IN SEPARATE ENVELOPES NO LATER THAN MONDAY OF NEXT WEEK, AND BEAR A POSTMARK.
 5. The Herald will award the cash amount shown above to the contestant who sends in an all-correct solution. If more than one all-correct solution is received, the prize money will be shared equally.
 6. IF NO ALL-CORRECT SOLUTION IS RECEIVED, $25 WILL BE ADDED TO THE FOLLOWING WEEK'S PRIZE.
 7. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges decision. All entries become the property of this paper. Only one prize will be awarded to a family unit.
 8. Everyone has the same opportunity to win, for every entry will be checked, and the winner announced. No claiming is necessary.
 9. The correct solution to this week's Prizeword will be published the following Saturday.
 10. The Herald reserves the right to correct any typographical errors which may appear during the puzzle game.
 11. The sealed correct solution will be kept in the personal custody of Nat's Agostinelli, President Manchester State Bank.

After being injured in an auto accident, a bandaged David Banner (Bill Bixby) develops amnesia and doesn't realize he is spending time with his longtime antagonist, on a two-part episode of "The Incredible Hulk," to be rebroadcast on Fridays, Dec. 28 and Jan. 4, on CBS.

TV DIALOGUE

CHILDHOOD DREAM — I have followed the work of former Beatle, John Lennon, for the past 15 years. Now that I have completed my education and am pursuing my career as a reading specialist, I would like to write the only fan letter I will probably ever write. My problem is that I do not have his address. I was hoping that you might have some advice that would be helpful in my fulfillment of a childhood dream. — Laura Finamore, Warren, Pa.

You must have been studying too hard to become a reading specialist and missed one fact all Beatlemaniacs know — that Lennon has been alive and well these past years and living in The Dakota, the apartment building you may recall from "Rosemary's Baby." He accepts all correspondence there (and often sends out dispatches of his own). The address is: The Dakota, 1 West 72nd St., New York, NY 10023. I try to make at least one childhood dream come true a week.

HARMON DUO — I just finished watching a "Chips" program about car racing, hot-rodding youths and a runaway little girl. In it was a girl named Candi, played by Kelly Harmon. Could this actress possibly be the sister of Mark Harmon, from "240-Robert"? — Sally May, Wheeling, W. Va.

Not only could it be his sister, but it is in fact his sister. Bad news on the side, if you're a "240-Robert" fan, the show's been axed.

FEARLESS FRED — I would really like to write a letter to Fred Astaire to let him know how I appreciate his continuing to work in order that his fans might still see a little class on the screen. Can you give me his address? — Mrs. Lauren Kalamian, Santa Rosa, Calif.

Send all kudos to Mr. Astaire at 1155 San Ysidro St., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90210

WHO? — Can you tell me if the group that was featured in the movie "Blow-up" was The Who? I have $10 riding on this bet, so try and be right — Mark Kaufman, Neptune, N.J.

Before I try, maybe I better know which side of this bet you're on. It wasn't The Who; it was The Yardbirds.

LATIN LOVER — Can you tell me who played Ramon on the ABC movie, "The Streets of L.A." that starred Joanne Woodward. — Marcia Rotman, Lincoln, Neb.

Fernando Allende played the illegal Mexican alien.

BUFFALO BILL — What is the name of the movie that starred Charlton Heston as Buffalo Bill Cody? Also, who are some of the other actors that have played Cody? I know Paul Newman did recently. — L. B. Baxter, Fargo, N.D.

Heston played the famed Indian scout and showman in "Pony Express," in 1952. Others who've worn his buckskin include Joel McCrea in "Buffalo Bill," James Ellison in "The Plainsman," Louis Calhern in "Annie Get Your Gun," Clayton Moore (prior to the Lone Ranger) in "Buffalo Bill in Tomahawk Territory" and Guy Stockwell in the 1966 version of "The Plainsman."

R.I.P. — Is Bett Field still alive? My wife thinks she's dead, and I would like to know because she was always someone I enjoyed in the movies for many years. — Ben Loftus, Greensboro, N.C.

I'm afraid your wife is correct. The character-actress whose career spanned 30 years died in 1973.

SOMETHING EXTRA — I know Sally Field was in "Gidget" and "The Flying Nun." But what was the other series she did? She did do another one, didn't she, where she had extra-sensory perception or something? — Linda Moffett, Concord, N.H.

You don't need extra-sensory perception to remember "The Girl With Something Extra." For some of us, the problem is trying to forget it.

MAJOR MAJORS — Please tell me what Lee Majors is doing now. Where can I write to him? This is the third time I've written. — Marjorie Duquette, Santa Rosa, Calif.

Lee is alive and well, though no longer bionic. He's working on "The Last Chase," with Burgess Meredith and Chris Makepeace, the young actor from "Meatballs." They're filming the adventure tale at the moment in Toronto. You can write in care of the film production office, at Suite 310, 100 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5H3K6.
