PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Twin planetary probes Voyager 1 and Voyager 2, which gave the world a spectacular look at Jupiter and its largest satellite in 1979, are bound for more discoveries this year.

Voyager 1 reached Jupiter first last March and radioed back the best pictures yet of Jupiter, banded with pastel hues. It took the first closeup photographs of Jupiter's system of Galilean satellites, as brightly colored as Christmas tree bulbs.

The instrument-packed spacecraft, drawing energy from nuclear generators, swept within 123,000 miles of Jupiter's cloud tops March 5, sailed past volcanic Io, and ice-covered Ganymede and a day later went past heavily cratered Callisto.

Voyager 2 made a similar approach in July, adding more information and pictures on the planet's system of moons. Both of the American space probes were hurried by Jupiter's gravity onward toward Saturn.

More than 32,000 pictures were sent back to Jet Propulsion Laboratory along with volumes of science data for study.

Voyager 1 will rendezvous with Saturn and its moons next November. Among its satellite targets will be Titan, a massive moon with an intriguing hydrocarbon atmosphere.

Voyager 2, nine months behind by then, will make its pass of the yellow, ringed planet in August of 1981.

More than 50,000 photographs will have been sent back to Earth by the time the two spacecraft finish their survey of the Saturnian system and continue on to the outer edge of the solar system.

The information already gathered on the Jovian system is still being compiled and scientists at JPL have said it may take years to absorb it all. But the initial discoveries were startling.

To bright orange and red, the Galilean moons to Jupiter, was found to have active volcanoes spewing material more than 100 miles into space. Its surface is scarred by volcanic features.

Europa, the next moon out from Jupiter, was found to be icy with a lacwork of trenches. Cream-white and tan in color photos, no feature higher than about 1,500 feet was found by scientists.

Ganymede had two distinct types of terrain, cratered and grooved. Callisto, fourth of the Galilean moons out from the planet, appeared to have the most heavily cratered body in the solar system.

Jupiter was found to have a ring of particles, and pictures taken through the ring showed another body in the system is still being compiled and scientists at JPL have said it may take years to absorb it all. But the initial discoveries were startling.

million miles from the sun, has 10 known moons and a spectacular ring system that appears to consist of chunks of ice and snow.

Most of its satellites are believed to be icy. But Titan with its atmosphere is different and had been thought to be a possible shelter for life. But Pioneer 11 spacecraft passed it in September and found that temperatures there are apparently too cold to support life.

Voyager 1 will make its closest approach to Saturn, 126,646 miles, on Nov. 12, 1980. Voyager 2 will fly by from the sun and Jupiter at 102,000 miles Aug. 27, 1981, and its current schedule assumes an encounter with distant Uranus in January of 1986.

lightning bolts on the planet's dark side.

It was already known that Jupiter was larger than everything else put together in the solar system except the sun. But the Voyagers found that the planet's magnetic field was larger than the sun also, stretching millions of miles into space.

Jupiter and Saturn, the two major targets of the Voyagers, are both giant gas balls composed mostly of hydrogen and helium with no apparent solid surfaces. They radiate more energy than they receive from the sun and Jupiter and its satellites form a kind of miniature solar system.

Saturn, nearly 900

million miles from the sun, has 10 known moons and a spectacular ring system that appears to consist of chunks of ice and snow.

Dems Review Plans For Annual Caucus

MANCHESTER — The Democratic Town Committee met in executive session Wednesday night to review plans for its Jan. 23 caucus and to plan a party to celebrate the November election.

Chairman Ted Cummings said today the Democrats had "a near sellout for our Appreciation Night party for the winners and workers in the Nov. 6 municipal election."

Cummings called this "an exciting, unmitigated delight."

In other matters, the committee heard from each election district on the status of caucus plans, as many votes as you can — and that's it," he said.

Filing begins Jan. 11 and closes Jan. 17. The voting takes place Jan. 23 at each regular voting place except in District 3 which will vote at Buckley School.

Some districts have concluded their efforts, but they are all wrapping it up" for Saturday," Cummings said.

Cummings explained the caucus method saying a slate is a convenience for incumbents, but that any Democrat can run. "Just come to the registrar's office and file, then you get as many votes as you can — and that's it," he said.

Filing begins Jan. 11 and closes Jan. 17. The voting takes place Jan. 23 at each regular voting place except in District 3 which will vote at Buckley School.

Group To Air Plans For Historic District

HEBRON — The Hebron Historic District Study Committee is making plans to meet later this month with someone from the Old Lyme Historic District Study Committee, to discuss various steps to be taken when establishing an historic district in the town.

Fred Wythe, committee member, said he will continue to research the ownership issue and report back to the next meeting of the commission.

The committee is also continuing work on preparing an outline of questions and answers which they will present in final form at a subsequent meeting.

First Selectman Raymond Burt has been asked, by the committee, to have the town attorney rule on the voting procedures concerning the districts.

Program Seminar Set

SOUTH WINDSOR — Parents of high school juniors who plan post high school education, are invited to attend a seminar in the high school auditorium on Jan. 24 at 7 p.m.

The counselors will discuss school and college search, resources available, testing programs and financial aid.

Counselors will meet with junior year students in a daytime assembly but students are also invited to accompany their parents to the seminar.

Firefighters Respond To Smoky Tire Fire

By PATRICK REILLY
 Herald Reporter

EAST HARTFORD — A tire fire at the East Hartford town dump required six units to squelch and shot black clouds of smoke into the sky for more than an hour Friday afternoon.

Fire department officer Jack Donovan said the cause was undetermined. There were no injuries.

The first fire truck was called to the dump at 2 p.m., Donovan said. Within five minutes five additional units were called. No other town fire departments were called.

The fire started along the north edge of a massive pile of discarded tires. One police officer present said the town was lucky the wind was blowing from south to north. If it had been blowing the opposite direction he said, it might have spread over the entire area of old tires.

The firefighters used bulldozers, dump trucks loaded with dirt, water hoses to combat the blaze. Public works employees operated bulldozers pushing the extinguished tires away from the scene.

As the tires were extinguished, dirt was dumped on top of them to prevent the fire from being rekindled. The smoke stopped after about an hour.

Donovan said two pumper trucks stayed at the scene until about 6 p.m. to ensure there was no surface fires.

Another tire fire at the dump happened in the winter of 1973, Donovan said. That fire took three days to extinguish, he said.

Gasoline Prices Puzzling

MANCHESTER — Gasoline prices continue to rise dramatically and local dealers are unable to explain to steady by illogical jumps.

Since the beginning of the new year, prices have increased by as much as 14 cents at some pumps.

Dealers set their prices according to the wholesale prices established by the major oil companies.

Earl Crooks of Earl's Middle Turnpike Texaco said, "I can't figure out myself how they (the major oil companies) do it. They can say all they want about the Arabs but, there doesn't seem to be any rhyme or reason to it."

John Vichi of Moriarty Brothers added, "We are forced to pass on increases to consumers. There appears to be no real system on how the increases occur."

Moriarty Brothers buys from the Mobil Oil Company. Oil companies point to the loss of Iranian supplies, drastic increases in world oil prices and the increasing cost of refining crude oil. As local dealers attest, the price fixing practices of the major oil companies are puzzling.

Consumers feel the price increases almost weekly. There is practically no lag between the time oil companies set new prices and motorists pay higher prices.

An average gasoline station, one pumping 30-50,000 gallons each month, receives a new shipment at least once a week.

Along with it comes the increased price which the consumer will feel.

Recent prices at some stations have risen by as much as three cents a week. As a rule, smaller volume businesses receive fewer shipments and are able to keep their prices lower for longer periods.

Stations are being held to 75 percent of their February 1978 allocations and expectations are the situation will worsen before it improves. Consumers can expect shorter station hours and erratic but constant price increases.

Dealers report low levels of consumer anger. According to Mr. Crooks, few customers are openly angered by the frequent increases.

He said, "They usually check the different stations in town and find that prices are not much different."

U.N. Blasts Soviet Acts

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Country after country Friday condemned the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan and voiced support for a resolution urging the immediate withdrawal of foreign troops from the small Moslem nation.

Kuwait's Ambassador Abdalla Yacoub Bishara strode first to the rostrum when the General Assembly resumed its emergency debate on the Afghanistan crisis and he rejected the new Kabul government as "window dressing."

"No government can claim legality if it is propped up by foreign troops," he said.

Foreign Minister Agha Shahi of Pakistan, Afghanistan's fellow-Muslim neighbor, said the Soviets "massive military intervention" set a dangerous precedent.

"Today, it is Afghanistan which is the victim," he said. "Tomorrow, it may be its neighbors and the small countries of the Middle East."

Shahi rejected Soviet accusations that China, the United States and other foreign countries were training Afghan guerrillas to resist the Kabul government.

"The Afghan resistance is rooted in the people's devotion to Islam and their glorious tradition of never to submit or yield to foreign conquerors," he said.

Ambassador William Barton of Canada rejected Moscow's argument that Soviet troops were invited by the Afghan government to intervene late last year to help fight "external aggression."

"Such claims are difficult to reconcile with the facts of the situation, which show nearly 100,000 Soviet troops — larger than the total armed forces available for the defense of Canada — to repress an 'external aggressor' who is nowhere to be seen," he said.

Soviet Ambassador Oleg Troyanovsky said "Western powers" and China conspired to overthrow the Afghan government.

"A major springboard for the anti-Afghan action was Pakistan," he said. "Rebels had been trained there and prepared for infiltration into Afghanistan."

Troyanovsky said United Nations consideration of the "so-called situation in Afghanistan was wrong and a flagrant violation" of Afghanistan's sovereignty.

Troyanovsky vetoed a resolution last Monday in the Security Council that condemned foreign intervention in Afghanistan and he subsequently opposed the council's successful request to move the debate to the assembly, where there is no veto power.

A provisional draft resolution proposed in the assembly Friday by 17 Third World countries — including Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Singapore — "strongly deplores the recent armed intervention in Afghanistan."

Miss Della Fera Reaches the Top

By MARY KITZMANN
 Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — For 45 years, Mary Della Fera kept climbing, but she never reached the top.

Five months before the director of social services retires, the Board of Directors is considering giving Miss Della Fera a salary increase so she retires at the top of her pay scale. After all her years of service, she was still one step below the top.

The reason is Miss Della Fera's timing was off. Everyone she was near the final step of the town promotion plan, the plan was updated.

The top step Miss Della Fera was on, became the bottom step of the new plan as inflationary adjustments were made.

Miss Della Fera never asked for any type of special allowance. "I'd never do that," she said. "I suppose a town pays its department heads what it can afford to."

"I didn't mind not receiving the increases; others didn't receive them either. But I did feel bad that I would retire without reaching the top of my scale."

Department head salaries do not fall within union guidelines which governs the other town employee's pay.

Miss Della Fera should have reached the top last year. But the Board of Directors mandated department head salaries would be frozen. They are considering the same measure for the 1980-81 budget.

"I appreciate the fact they're giving me a raise," Miss Della Fera said. "I'm sure no one else will receive on this year."

When Robert Weiss, town manager, requested the special measure Tuesday, he noted the raise was more of a commendation than a reward.

"The committee's program will attempt to stimulate the revitalization of business in what is termed the central business district. This area extends beyond the Main Street area. The plan will call for the cooperation of businesses, property owners, the board of directors and the manager's office in a capital renovation project."

In speaking of the soon to be released plan, Mr. Harrison said, "some controversial options are expected in its wake, nevertheless, we feel it is the ultimate route we must travel if we are to effect any positive changes in the downtown area as we enter the decade of the 80s."

The meeting will be at the Army and Navy Club at 6:30 p.m.

Plan Formulated

By MARTIN KEARNS

MANCHESTER — What is being called a definitive program for the revitalization of the central business district will be presented at the Tuesday meeting of the Downtown Coordinating Committee.

The plan will address what Committee Chairman Phil Harrison termed, "the deterioration of real estate and the downgrading of tenancy."

Mr. Harrison said the plan was needed, "to prevent the erosion of the tax base."

Safety Delays Opening

HARTFORD (UPI) — City officials Friday scrapped plans to open the rebuilt Hartford Civic Center Coliseum next week, saying the building wasn't yet safe enough to be occupied.

"I can not justify any kind of action that might mean a risk to public health and safety," City Manager Donald Peach said. The city had been hoping for temporary occupancy permits after meeting safety and building codes.

"Essentially we have to look upon the coliseum as a whole and there is still a substantial amount of construction to be done," he said, explaining smoke detectors hadn't been installed and many seats were still missing.

Peach declined to give a specific reopening date but said construction will continue at a fast pace, with expectations of limited use sometime before the expected full completion date of Feb. 25.

The building's former space frame Crooks, few customers are openly angered by the frequent increases.

He said, "They usually check the different stations in town and find that prices are not much different."

Update

Merger Complete

HARTFORD (UPI)—The merger of Mostek Corp., a Texas electronics firm, into United Technologies Corp. has been completed, UTC chairman Harry J. Gray said Friday.

Under terms of the merger, Mostek will be operated by its existing management as a stand-alone subsidiary of Hartford-based UTC's Electronics Group.

Gray said Mostek is a profitable company and a leader in the manufacture of integrated circuits.

4th Surveyed

HARTFORD (UPI)—Rep. Stewart B. McKinney, R-Conn., said Friday almost 70 percent of his constituents who answered a survey think Connecticut's nuclear power capacity should be maintained at current levels or increased.

He said only 29.9 percent of the more than 16,500 persons who answered the annual questionnaire favored a reduction in state nuclear generating power.

A solid majority favored a windfall profits tax and the creation of a central federal facility for Connecticut's nuclear waste materials, the survey said.

McKinney represents Connecticut's 4th District.

Purchase Plans

HARTFORD (UPI)—The Hartford Insurance Group said Friday it is negotiating to purchase the Mount St. Joseph's Academy and facilities in West Hartford.

The Hartford said it plans to renovate the former private academy for use as a classroom instruction, conferences, residential space and company physical fitness programs.

"It's a beautiful building on a magnificent site," said Bernard F. Wilbur, the Hartford's vice president for real estate.

The insurer plans to purchase the academy for $2 million and spend $5 million on renovations to the 72-year-old school building.

Courses by Newspaper MCC To Offer Energy Course

Courses by Newspaper's series "Energy and the Way We Live," which will appear weekly in The Herald, is the basis of a three-credit course at Manchester Community College.

The 15 weekly newspaper articles on the tough choices that will shape America's energy future will appear in The Herald each Saturday beginning Jan. 19.

Readers who wish to take the course for credit may enroll in person at MCC's registrar's office today from 9 a.m. to noon, Monday from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 19, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Sunday, Jan. 22, from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The fee for the course is $40.

The course has three components: (1) a series of 15 articles written and edited by distinguished university scholars and other experts; (2) a combined course Reader/Study Guide that is available at moderate cost from the MCC bookstore;

(3) five meetings on campus (orientation, two reviews and two examinations). The orientation meeting will be held Saturday, Jan. 19.

Coordinated by Melvin Kranzberg, Callaway Professor of the History of Technology, the Courses by Newspaper series is authored by energy experts who explore the history of energy technology and consumption, the impact of often contradictory values on energy policy and the effects of current energy dilemmas on the national and international scene.

The issues raised in the newspaper series will be discussed as part of a nationwide dialogue on energy issues planned for February, March and April. Organized by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, community forums and town meetings will be held in hundreds of communities across the country during these three months.

Local course coordinator at Manchester Community College is Dr. Alan Arnold, who is a professor of biology and has taught environmental and energy related courses for the past four years at MCC.

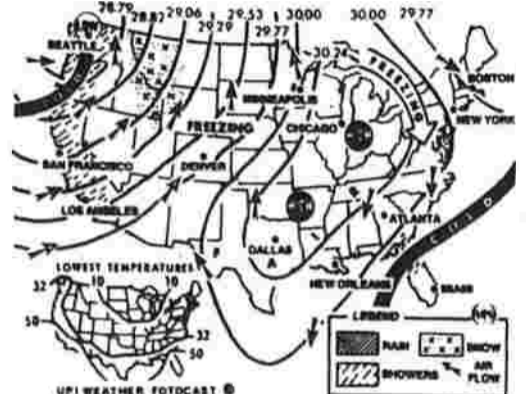

Manchester Community College, in cooperation with the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the U.S. Department of Energy, will present a series of community forums on the central issue of "Energy and the Way We Live." The speakers and participants include humanities scholars as well as professionals in the field.

The public is welcomed to attend and to participate in the discussion of this important issue. No admission is charged. The forums will take place throughout the area as well as the MCC campus. The dates and sites will be announced at a later time.

Topics of the forums will be "Sources of Energy: Crisis or Problem," week of Feb. 10; "Growth Through Energy and Nuclear Power," week of Feb. 23; "Energy and Justice for All," week of March 16; "Energy: Decisions and Tradeoffs," week of March 30; "Energy Self Sufficiency and Global Interdependence," week of April 13; "Energy: What Must Be Done?" week of May 14.

Courses by Newspaper is a project of University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and has been funded since its inception in 1973 by the National Endowment for the Humanities, with supplemental funding for this course from the National Science Foundation.

For additional information phone the Community Services Division at MCC, 666-2137.

Sunny, windy and colder Saturday with temperatures remaining in the 30s. Clear and cold Saturday night with lows from 5 to 10. Mostly sunny Sunday with highs in the low to mid 30s. ## Cubans Seize TV Footage

HARTFORD (UPI)—A Hartford area television station news crew traveling with a college basketball team in Cuba was detained for questioning and its film seized by Cuban officials, it was learned Friday.

Arnold Klinsky, news director for West Hartford-based WVTM-TV, said the three-man crew apparently was questioned twice this week by authorities but was released shortly after and was expected back in Connecticut as scheduled Saturday.

"I am under the impression that the detention did occur two days ago," Klinsky said. "There may have been two occasions when the crew was brought to some sort of police office and talked to and released."

Klinsky said communications with the crew were difficult as it was hard for anyone to put a telephone call through from Cuba to the United States. But he said the station had spoken with the crew and been assured they were safe.

"As of last night they were free to do what they wanted to do," Klinsky said. He said the station hadn't taken any action but had contacted Rep. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., who arranged the trip and had a representative traveling with the group.

The Trinity team was the first single U.S. college team to visit Cuba to play since President Fidel Castro's rise to power. In addition to the WVTM crew several other Hartford-area reporters went on the trip.

Klinsky said he had believed the crew was there for concern over the crew's safety but said he was concerned as a journalist whether film believed to have been confiscated was returned.

"Obviously as journalists we're concerned whenever things like film are confiscated," he said. "I have every reason to believe that our crew's compliance is in line with what they would believe to be legal actions."

The WVTM crew includes reporter John Sablon, field producer Ricardo Brown, a Cuban native, and cameraman John Bielinski.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Saturday, Jan. 12, the 12th day of 1980 with 354 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Capricorn. American patriot and statesman John Hancock was born Jan. 12, 1737.

On this date in history:

In 1943, the wartime Office of Price Administration said standard frankfurters would be replaced by "victory sausages" consisting of meat and soybean meal.

In 1970, Dr. Martin Sweig, suspended administrative assistant to House Speaker John McCormack, was indicted on charges of defrauding federal agencies.

In 1971, a federal grand jury indicted the Rev. Philip Beaman and five other people, including a nun and two priests, on charges of plotting to kidnap then-presidential adviser Henry Kissinger.

In 1976, the U.N. Security Council voted, 11-to-1, to seat the Palestine Liberation Organization for its debate on the Middle East. The United States cast the only dissenting vote.

A thought for the day: French poet Jacques Delille said, "Fate chooses our relatives; we choose our friends."

Vernon Council Sets Rec Facilities Tour

VERNON—Members of the Town Council will be guests today of the Mayor's Sub-Committee on Recreation and Donald Berger, director of recreation, on a tour of the town's recreational facilities.

The new senior citizen bus will be used and the trip will include a tour of Camp Newchoc, Valley Falls Park and the barn at the park, Boulder Ridge Park and several other areas.

Councilwoman Sylvia Morgan, chairman of the sub-committee, said the intent of the invitation is in keeping with Mayor Marie Herbst's recommendation that committee members become more aware of the facilities, needs and projects of the recreation department.

"To see these facilities on a first-hand basis will hopefully lead to more discussion and a firmer grip on information needed to make decisions during budget time."

"The committee will continue to prioritize needs and equipment as it meets with Berger. As an advisory committee it will then submit the information collected to the mayor," Mrs. Morgan said.

Vermont Fire Kills Two

WEST DOVER, Vt. (UPI)—Barry Guerin, 21, and his 19-year-old brother Scott, both of Greenfield, N.Y., were killed early Friday morning in a fire that swept through their rented home.

Dover Police Chief Emil Willett said the brothers were among eight young men, all from Long Island, who rented the house for a ski vacation.

The others fled the house safely when the fire broke out about 1 a.m., he said.

By the time the brothers were discovered missing, Willett said, the house was engulfed in flames. The badly burned bodies were recovered from a bedroom.

Willett said the blaze apparently started near a fireplace, but added the state fire marshal's office was investigating.

Collectors' Corner Counting the Feathers

By RUSS MACKENDRICK

Count the eagles' tail feathers. (These are both 1878 Morgan silver dollars. There are eight feathers on the coin on the left and seven on the right.)

The first mintage of the Morgans had the even number of feathers. But there was an outcry from people who knew their birds, saying that it just couldn't be a legitimate eagle had to have one long central tail feather with comparative shorts at the sides. The mint hastened to correct the blunder.

The Red Book gives the total number of eight feathers coins as 750,000 and the 1878 seven feather type as nearly ten million. There are many complications: A collector might make a minor career out of disentangling all the varieties of the 1878 silver dollar. In the dither to undo the wrong to Natural History, the minter struck some coins with a 7 on top of a visible 8. These are listed at about twice the value of the correct seven-feather pieces. Then note the feathers on the bunch of arrows in the eagles' claws. The ones on the left are all parallel while on the right there is one aslant at the top. There are seven-feather varieties in both forms. And then there are still more 1878 dollars with "CC" and "S" mintmarks. It goes on and on.

The citizenry was getting something new in 1878. They had been frustrated for several years with only a trickle of gold dollars and some trade dollars meant for use in the Orient. So the 1878 Morgans were unleashed to meet a pent-up demand. Inevitably, though, there was criticism of the design. The eagle was called a turkey squeezed into a space already crowded by a wreath. And how came the "In God We Trust" was in Old English script instead of good old American lettering? (This was the first time such script had appeared on a U.S. coin. The designer, George T. Morgan, had studied at the Royal Mint in London.)

The design persisted, with only minor changes and some skipped years, until replaced by the Peace Dollar in 1908.

A silver dollar contains more than 0.77 Troy ounces of the precious metal. With the present yo-yoing of the bullion market this means a melt-down value somewhere between $20 and $30. The latest Red Book gives prices for 1878s in very fine condition ranging from $9 to $16.

A year or so ago the authors of "Silver Dollar Fortune-Telling," Les and Sue Fox, gave an estimate of the surviving number of eight-feather Morgans as 120,000 circulated, 12,500 uncirculated, 3,100 choice uncirculated and 600 proof-like. How many

Manchester Cop Cost Close to Other Towns

MANCHESTER—A six-town survey of police protection costs showed Manchester leading the way, but Gloucester, Vernon and East Hartford all close behind.

A survey by the Connecticut Public Expenditures Council showed that Manchester spent $42 for every man, woman and child in its boundaries.

The per capita costs for surrounding communities were Gloucester, $41; Vernon, $40; East Hartford, $39; South Windsor, $34; and Bolton, $5. Bolton, however, has only constables and a resident state trooper.

Mary Cheney Robert Lannan said Friday that the cost in Manchester represents the average for most communities.

"To make it (a comparison) meaningful," he said, "you have to know a lot more about the two communities. As a rough rule, these are comparative figures.

News for Senior Citizens

By WALTER J. FORTIN
Hi Neighbor! Well, things have come alive with people interested in our Florida trip and right now they are hot to go and we have a waiting list. If you would like to go, I suggest you call in your name because, with a little better than four weeks left, there could be some cancellations. A reminder to all going to please get in their second payment. The final payment is due right after Feb. 1.

Things are really picking up at the Green School lately. I can't thank the many volunteers enough for all the hard work they are doing and it's all beginning to pay off. We will be getting some super help from our local firemen who will come in Monday to paint the walls. With their help, we'll certainly be done with the work we have to do and the rest will be coming through under contract. The bids for the carpeting, tile and refinishing and resurfacing the floor in the auditorium and stage are expected to be ready by the first of the week. Deadline for the bids is Jan. 31. Once that's done it will be three or four weeks and all the necessary work should be completed.

Let's talk about the action back at our center. We'll start with the results of our Senior Bowling League on Tuesday afternoon at the Parkade Lane: Class A Men High Triple: Charlie Tarpinian, 356 and high single, 233. Women Class A Tie for high single, Marie Pick, 153. Mary Chaves, 153. High Triple Class A women, Edna Christensen, 431. Class B High triple for women: Bert Clulow, 358; and high single, 147. Men, Ted Gaderowski, both high single, 176 and high triple, 475.

Wednesday morning we had 46 players for our pinocle games and the winners are: Lucille Goldman, 650; Marjorie McLean, 645; Archie Houghtaling, 635; Bob Hill, 634; Maudie Custer, 612; Al Chellman, 606; Bill Bradshaw, 602; Olive Houghtaling, 586; Arvid Peterson, 583; Gladys Seelert, 560; Al Gates, 577; Mary Hill, 577.

In the afternoon it was bridge games and the lucky prize winners were: Marge Reed, 3,950; Ed Hindle, 3,950; Annette Hillery, 3,950; George Last, 3,790.

This coming Thursday afternoon should prove interesting because we expect to have a representative from the Social Security Office here to explain the latest changes in Medicare.

A reminder that from now till April on every Tuesday we are open and women volunteers on hand from 10 to 3:30 p.m. to assist you with your income taxes. Just drop by.

One of our real hard working volunteers at the Green School, Howard Miller, had his ankles operated on this past Wednesday. It would really be nice if some of Howie's friends would send him cards at the Manchester Hospital.

Another one of our seniors, Gert Stover, is a patient at the hospital. Here's some news for you folks who need some work done and are looking for help. Students at the ROTC under adult supervision are available for apartment cleaning, rug cleaning, window washing and snow shoveling, at a very nominal fee. Interested parties should contact

Look what we saw. The logging operation near the Northview Ski Slope on Hercules Drive benefits both the forest and the water and provides much-needed revenues to the town. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Town Reaping Benefits From Logging Operation

MANCHESTER — The logging operation under way near the Northview Ski Slope provides threefold benefits for the town of Manchester.

The town gains some much-needed revenue by selling rights to a private company to log the area. Tom Ferlazo, land and soil analyst, said Friday. It also benefits the forest and the quality of the Globe Hollow reservoir, he said.

The town first began logging operations last year. Rossi Corp., a Middleton lumber firm, paid $32,000 and was the high bidder for the project. Both Ferlazo and George Murphy, a forester in the Water and Sewer Department, conceived of thinning the town-owned forests and providing additional funds to a strapped budget.

Ferlazo said thinning the forest gives other trees a chance to grow and reduce the demand for the ground water. He said there is more surface run-off which supports the nearby reservoir and increases the water level.

Battle Lines Drawn For I-84 Project

DANIELSON (UPI) — State and federal officials Friday retrenched their battle lines in the seven-year fight to build Interstate 84 through eastern Connecticut to the Rhode Island border.

Regional Federal Environmental Protection Agency Chief William Adams Jr. stepped into a proverbial lion's den defending his opposition to the roadway before several hundred builders, Teamsters and labor and construction union leaders.

"I don't expect you to change your mind," Adams told the Connecticut Highway Users Conference. "I tell you we're right and we're going to stick by it."

But the audience, including about 50 sign-carrying hardhats, roared approval when Connecticut Transportation Commissioner Arthur B. Powers made it clear the state will continue to insist the federal government allow design to proceed on its portion of I-84, which is supposed to eventually link Hartford and Providence, R.I.

"Regardless of what happens in Rhode Island, we're not going to change our stand. The longer we wait, the more expensive it gets and the more criticism we get from the very people who held us up," he said. The crux of the problem lies in the EPA's opposition to extending I-84 from the Connecticut border to Providence through the Scituate Reservoir watershed.

The 16-mile chunk of highway would cause "irretrievable harm to the fresh water supply of 500,000 people in Rhode Island," said Adams. We said Rhode Island's plans did not adequately deal with hazardous spills, siltation impact, road runoff and stresses on secondary development along the roadway.

The reservoir, which supplies drinking water for 60 percent of Rhode Island's population, contains 41.3 billion gallons of water and covers 23.9 square miles.

The EPA's opposition has blocked the state from proceeding with designing construction plans, a move that "would lock the state into a fatal commitment," said Adams.

We noted the Interior Department has also recorded its opposition with the federal Council on Environmental Quality, saying for each acre of wetlands taken for highway construction, three acres need to be acquired to maintain the environmental stability.

But Powers countered that U.S. Transportation Secretary Neil Goldschmidt has approved construction of I-84 in Connecticut and the EPA and Council on Environmental Quality "should allow us to go ahead with the design plans."

Adams said that approval was unlikely, however, because the road must be a thruway, not just a state highway, to have federal backing.

Powers said the road could be built up to the Route 52 connector in Killingly with no adverse effects on industry and environment or "any adverse impact on Rhode Island."

Adams, however, said "dead ending I-84 at Route 52 would be the worst of all worlds."

Rhode Island Transportation Commissioner Wendall Flanders said his state was preparing the necessary new proposals for alternate routes, but he said they will also show arguments why the present route should be allowed.

Even so, he said he wasn't hopeful anything could be presented to federal officials within 12 to 18 months.

Flanders said opponents to the interstate were "few but highly vocal." He said if they were so concerned about the reservoir, "they might advocate closing the roads that are already there."

New Agency Director Fights for Basic Rights

By LAUREN DAVIS SHEA
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — According to the new executive director of a local interfaith and organization, retarded persons have a right and a need to be independent, and MARCH Inc. is working to achieve this aim.

Melanie Haber began her position last week and has spent the better part of her time touring group homes for the retarded in the capital region. She believes the group home concept "is really where the field has to go. A group home involves placing several retarded adults in one house, where in a structured environment they are taught the skills to make it on their own. The aim is for the would thus be reserved for families wishing to leave their handicapped member in the care of others, while the family attends to an emergency, or a vacation.

Another arrangement Ms. Haber foresees is respite homes. These homes would be for those townpeople who are willing to open their doors to a handicapped individual for a short period, while the person's family took personal time.

"Respite care is usually for 1 to 30 days. I imagine the longer term cases would stay in the group home," Ms. Haber said.

She added that if a family offered their home as a respite site, there would be considerable interaction between the offering family and the handicapped individual before the handicapped person was placed in the home.

This "getting to know you" period would work toward eliminating difficulties before the handicapped person is placed in the offering family's home.

Ms. Haber said she would be responsible for matching particular handicapped persons with the proper home. "For instance, some families might prefer to have an older client stay with them," Ms. Haber said.

She said MARCH Inc. is conducting a survey to contact all the families who have members potentially needing the group's services. Following this survey, MARCH will be seeking families interested in providing respite care.

One of the ideas under consideration to acquaint the public with retarded people is to have the public attend speaking engagements given by the retarded.

"The literature indicates you modify attitudes best by having the two groups interact, rather than by things like showing films," Ms. Haber said.

She said a panel of retarded citizens would meet the public to talk about their lives, their jobs, and how they feel about themselves. "That's probably the easiest way to impress upon people that retarded citizens are more like us than unlike us. They are regular people and that surprises people," Ms. Haber said.

Ms. Haber said usually a person who knows all the retarded people on the panel conducts the session, until the public feels comfortable enough to ask questions.

In addition to the panel idea, MARCH Inc. is developing a brochure to acquaint the public with its goals and ideas on how the handicapped may be aided. Ms. Haber is also collecting information on the subject so her office can serve as a resource center for townpeople.

Ms. Haber is herself a walking compendium of facts on the handicapped, as she has extensive background serving them. Since June, she has been a research assistant at UConn, taking courses for her doctoral program.

She received her masters degree in educational psychology from UConn while serving as a teaching assistant. Before that, she was a special education teacher in South Windsor for a year.

Ms. Haber was among a half dozen applicants for the position. She works out of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, one of the three churches involved in MARCH Inc. The other churches, St. James Roman Catholic and St. Mary's Episcopal, are joined by the Manchester Association for Retarded Citizens in the MARCH effort.

Conflict With Iran Predicted If Shipping Lanes Blocked

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Iran and the United States will go to war if Washington tries to block Iranian shipping routes, a top Iranian official said Friday.

In Washington, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance refused to rule out the possibility of a U.S. naval blockade to support an international economic embargo — a Washington-inspired move aimed at forcing Iran to surrender 50 American hostages, held for a 60th day.

The logical focus for such a blockade would be the Hormuz Strait at the mouth of the Persian Gulf, the narrow waterway through which is funneled most of the Middle East oil bound for the world's industrialized nations.

"If the American fleet blocks the mouth of the Persian Gulf," Iranian Commerce Minister Reza Sadr flatly told the official Pars news agency Friday, "that will result in war."

In such an event, he said, "the issue will become two-sided" and war will be inevitable.

Washington's veiled threat and Tehran's not-so-veiled counter-threat were exchanged even as the U.N. Security Council met to consider a U.S. demand for economic sanctions against Iran and the regime of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

There was no immediate comment from the 79-year-old Islamic strongman, who his office said was "exhausted" and intends to go into seclusion for 15 days starting Saturday.

The Security Council already was four days behind the deadline of Jan. 7 it had given Iran to free the American hostages or run the risk of a worldwide economic embargo.

The hostages by Friday had spent 69 days in captivity at the U.S. Embassy, and despite the U.N. threat and a report by a Khomeini aide this week that there had been "some movement," freedom "for the hostages did not appear imminent."

The war of words between Washington and Tehran erupted as crisis-ridden Iran enjoyed its quietest day in weeks — free, for the most part, from the demonstrations and violence that have become almost a routine part of daily existence.

The U.S. Navy has ships stationed in both the Persian Gulf and the Arabian Sea off Iran.

Police Report

Manchester
Manchester police arrested Kathy A. Pearson, 20, of 53 Hartz Rd., East Hartford, at 1:45 a.m. Friday on two counts of issuing bad checks. The trial will be in Superior Court in East Hartford.

Vernon
Vernon police report two youths were arrested Friday at 4:14 p.m. on second degree larceny charges at Caldors Department Store in the City Plaza. Arrested were Susan M. Sweet, 17, of 19 Roberts Road, South Windsor with $9.78 of unpaid merchandise and Lorretta Greene, 17, of 119 Skylark Drive, South Windsor, with $31.25 of unpaid merchandise. Both were released on their promise to appear in court on Jan. 22.

Stafford
Troopers from Stafford barracks state police, arrested Ronald W. Slater Jr., 32, of 54 Scofield Road, Vernon on third degree assault charges. The alleged assault occurred on Dec. 31 and the victim sustained minor injuries. Slater was released on a $2,000 bond and will appear in court Jan. 22 in Vernon.

Andover Teachers Ink New Contract

ANDOVER — The Andover Board of Education and Andover Education Association signed a two-year contract Thursday.

The teachers will receive a 7 percent salary increase on each step of the salary schedule for the first year and a 6.75 percent salary increase for the second year.

A 15th step was added to the salary schedule.

Other contract changes included an increase in longevity payments from $250 to $300 after 15 years of service, term life insurance coverage for each full-time teacher and a change to CMS Century 96 from Century 90 health insurance for the 1981-82 school year.

The remaining changes are routine modifications of contract terminology according to school and union officials.

A signed copy of the contract is on file at the Andover Town Office Building.

John Cori was chairman of the school board's negotiating committee and Carol Wheeler was chairman of the teacher's negotiating group.

Water Damages School

VERNON — A broken pipe at Rockville High School, the work of vandals, caused a flood in the science wing but the actual monetary extent of the damages probably won't be known for several weeks, Dr. Bernard Sidman, superintendent of schools, said Friday morning.

Dr. Sidman said the damage was discovered Wednesday morning and there was three or four inches or more of water covering the floor of the science room which is in the newest wing of the building.

Dr. Sidman said the exact extent of the damage won't be known for some time. He said school officials anticipate that the water had seeped down through the floor tiles and they also expect it has damaged the ceiling tiles on the floor below.

He said that Brian McCartney, the school principal, along with Vernon police, are working on the apprehension of the vandals or vandals.

Dr. Sidman said the town's fire department should be credited, along with the police, for their prompt response when called to the school. The firefighters helped to vacuum up the large amounts of water accumulated.

Gulls Take to the Air Over Manchester

Reminding one of a scene from old Cap Cod, flocks of gulls fill the air searching for food in the "sand dunes" at the town's landfill. Others serve as silent sentinels standing guard over their newly-acquired delicacies.

Clinic Sets Open House

MANCHESTER - The Community Child Guidance Clinic/Preschool, at 317 N. Main St., Manchester, is hosting a series of open houses as part of a 1980 fund raising effort to build a new facility for the preschool. On Monday from 5-8:30 p.m., board members Donald G. Richards of Andover, Walter B. Morse of South Windsor and Mrs. Mimi Whitney of Manchester will serve as hosts. The public is invited. Dr. Ellen Marmer, president of the clinic's board of directors reports that $110,000 of the needed $220,000 from community sources has been raised. For further information call the Community Child Guidance Clinic at 643-2101.

Supermarket Shopper

How Triple-Play Discount Earned Profit of $1.17

By MARTIN SLOANE
Dear Supermarket Shopper - I enjoyed seeing you on "The Today Show," I cheered when you told shoppers to tell supermarket managers that we want to see more refund forms on the supermarket shelves!
The triple-play discount that you showed for Heinz Home Style Gravy seemed too good to be true. Would you please explain once more how it was accomplished?

Keep up the good work - Sandy D. from Bay City, Mich.
Dear Sandy - Heinz Home Style Gravy usually costs about 59 cents for a 12-ounce jar. In looking through the food section of my newspaper, I spotted a supermarket advertisement offering two jars for $1.

I decided that we could use a few jars, so I went to my cash-off coupon inventory and looked in envelope five. That is the envelope where I keep my coupons for sauces and gravies. There I found 20-cent-off coupons for the Heinz Gravy.
At the supermarket checkout counter, I handed the cashier the two 20-cent-off coupons. That brought the cost of the two jars down to only 60 cents. At this point I had made a double-play discount by combining the supermarket special with the cash-off coupons. Double-play discounts will usually save you 40 percent to 60 percent.

As you saw on "The Today Show," I wasn't finished saving money on the Heinz Gravy. When I returned home, I went to the file where I keep my refund forms. Looking under "H," I found an unusually good Heinz free-product offer: If I would send in two gravy-jar labels and a cash register tape from a turkey purchase, Heinz would send me a coupon good for three free jars of gravy.

At the regular price of 59 cents each, the three free jars were worth $1.77. And I received them for the two labels from the jars that cost me only 60 cents!
Did I make a profit of $1.17 if you like gravy on your leftover turkey, you can come to your own conclusion.
Finding triple-play discounts that actually make you a profit isn't something that happens often. But I do manage to put together many triple plays that save me 80 percent and even 90 percent on national-brand products that my family and I use every day.

You can do it too by carefully checking the supermarket ads in this paper and by getting yourself organized to take full advantage of manufacturers' coupon and refund offers.
Write to me in care of The Manchester Evening Herald. Volume of mail prohibits individual replies, but letters of general interest will be published in future columns.

Windham Halts Indians' Streak

No longer can Manchester High's basketball team claim a share of first place in the CCIL standings.

Last night in Williamstown, Windham High broke on a half-time deadlock to tack a 72-61 loss on the Indians and snap a four-game winning streak.

The setback was the second in 10 loop outings and third overall while the Whippets increased their standard to 6-2, all league engagements.

With two regulars missing due to disciplinary reasons, veterans John Haslett and Ed Kennison, the Indians battled tooth and nail for the first 16 minutes before running out of gas and into foul trouble.

Manchester outscored Windham from the floor, 26-24, but the winners dropped in 24 charity tosses. Jose Gonzales accounting for half that total, to nine for Coach Doug Pearson's five and that was the story.

Fronted by a balanced offensive, Windham got twin-figure scoring from three players, Manny Ramos with 18, Gonzalez with 20 and Tony Beltran who added 19 minutes.

Sparking the Indians' offensively were hard-working Brian Sweeney with 23 points, Bill Anderson with 14 and Rich Koepsel with 11 markers.

Eagles Up Win Skein

Given everything it could handle, East Catholic held off scrappy St. Paul, 65-53, in HCC basketball action last night at the Eagles' Nest.

The victory was the Eagles' sixth in a row and moves them to 5-1 in the HCC and 8-1 overall. The setback sends the Bristol-based Falcons to 1-4 in the conference and 4-6 overall.

East hit 14-of-20 first-half field goal tries erecting a 28-18 halftime bulge. It also held a 10-8 edge in rebounds with Bob Venora hauling in 9 caroms.

It was a different story in the second half with the aggressive St. Paul live outbounding the Eagles by a 19-8 margin. The Falcons, however, came out behind in a key stretch in the third stanza, added 10 markers.

Mender Yopp paced St. Paul with 27-of-48 from the floor.

East took the game to 21-15, Brian Galligan had 23 points and Dennis McGowan and Phil Marcano 9 apiece for the young Eagles, now 4-4.

East ventures to West Haven Tuesday for a non-conference clash against Notre Dame High at 8 o'clock.

East Catholic (65) - Venora 9 3-5, 21, Fortin 0-0 Radant 4-6 15, Ayer 3-2 8, Kiro 5-0 10, Ciszewski 2-0 4, Galligan 2-3 6, Foley 1-1 18 65.

St. Paul (53) - Daley 4-0 8, Robitaille 4-5 13, Billoeud 0-0 0, Yopp 6-3 15, Galke 1-0 10, Simone 0-0 0, O'Connor 3-1 7, Schwager 0-0 10. Totals 22-45 53.

Windsor Handles Glastonbury Five

Managing just one field goal in the first quarter, Glastonbury High suffered a 61-32 setback at the hands of CVC basketball rival Windsor High last night in Glastonbury.

The victory moves the Indians to 2-4 in the conference and 5-7 overall while the usually high-scoring Mike Stowell was held in check with 4 tallies.

2-4 Boston spurt which gave the Celtics a 44-31 lead.

"We stunk out the gym," voiced Glastonbury Coach Jack LaPlante. "We're not that bad of a team but tonight we stunk out the gym."

The Tomahawks were guilty of poor shooting, bad passing, bad execution, etc.

Windsor (61) - Narcisse 1-3-6, Cierre 8-13-29, Staph 1-0-2, Dahart 7-13-15, Pellana 1-3-8, Hicks 0-1-1, Mainer 1-0-2, Woodward 1-0-2, Hicks 0-1-1, Totals 21-18-61.

Glastonbury (32) - Stowell 1-2-4, Payrol 3-3, Patacaudo 0-0, Clinton 1-1-3, Proffitt 0-0-0, Decemmis 1-0-2, Lewis 1-2-4, Barlow 2-0-4, Murray 2-0-4, Lynch 0-2, Totals 12-3-32.

East Hampton Bombs Bolton

Unable to generate any type offense, and held scoreless in the first period, Bolton High dropped a 53-26 Duke to East Hampton High last night in Charter Oak Conference play at Bolton.

The high-powered visitors saw all 10 players get into the scoring picture with Pete Coolidge leading the parade with 19 tallies. He was the only East Hampton player in double digits.

East Hampton managed just eight points in the first eight minutes but that was eight more than Bolton could put on the board. Halftime totals were 18-4 with the pace picking up in the second half with East Hampton moving into a commanding 30-15 margin with one quarter left.

Reserves flooded the floor in the final stanza.

Brian Winkler was the only Bulldog to play in.

Baldwin Adjusts To 'Facts of Life'

HARTFORD (UPI) - Howard Baldwin sat before the microphones Friday, twisted in pain from an injury he'd suffered playing hockey. It didn't make it easier to learn his Hartford Whalers still didn't have a permanent home.

"The facts of life today are the building just isn't ready," said Baldwin, managing general partner of the National Hockey League club that lost its Hartford Civic Center Coliseum home to winter snows two years ago.

The Whalers had been scheduled to play Pittsburgh Thursday as the first event under the roof built to replace the space frame and that collapsed under tons of snow and ice on Jan. 18, 1978.

But city officials Friday put off the scheduled reopening because the building wasn't ready to pass safety and building code tests for limited occupancy.

For Baldwin, it was another bit of bad news for a club which has won only one of its last 17 games after playing the first quarter of their initial NHL season at 500.

"We're disappointed naturally," he said, "but we lose money. Right now our hockey team has enough problems without not having a home

Rick Robey Paces Celts

BOSTON (UPI) - Rick Robey, taking over for the ejected Dave Cowens, responded with a season-high 22 points and grabbed 10 rebounds Friday night to lead the Boston Celtics to a 108-93 triumph over the Atlanta Hawks in a battle of division leaders.

Cowens and Atlanta center Wayne "Tree" Rollins were tossed from the game for fighting with 2:37 left in the first period. An elbow by Rollins during a rebound battle appeared to trigger the fight. Both players landed several blows but there were no injuries.

Boston opened a 44-13 lead at halftime after M. L. Carr and Larry Bird combined for eight points during the third quarter with an 11-0 tear to take an 82-66 lead entering the fourth period. Sixteen of Boston's 28 third-quarter points came from the foul line, including the long-range gunning of 5-foot-10 junior Greg Gaipe, who collected his game-total of 10 points in the second half, but never really challenged East.

"It was a strange kind of game again," Penders remarked, "it seems teams are content being 10 points down. We didn't like the tempo at all; they dictated it."

"They're a good club and gave no

Penney Stops East Hartford

With Chuck Garen canning the winning hoop with 13 seconds left off an offensively rebound, Penney High stopped East Hartford High, 37-36, in a deliberately played CCIL basketball clash between intertown rivals last night at the Knights' gym.

The victory moves the Black Knights' league and overall mark to 2-7, while the setback sends the Hornets to 3-7 overall, 2-6 in the CCIL.

East Hartford had a 36-33 lead late in the final stanza when Garen hit a hoop to bring his side within one point. East Hartford's Sean Campbell was called for traveling with 1:25 remaining, giving Penney possession.

The Knights' Tony Cruz was fouled with 46 seconds left but he missed the front end of a one-and-one. But Cruz grabbed his own rebound with Penney setting up for another shot.

Pete Cate took the Knights' next field goal try - and missed - but Garen was in position to latch onto the rebound and dump home his fourth field goal of the evening, giving Penney the victory.

It was a cold-shooting first quarter. Manchester, trailing 34-33 going into the final cut, missed a 45-43 lead in the fourth quarter. But Manchester came back to even the count and had a one-and-one situation in the charity stripe to move ahead.

Before it could take the initial shot, Windham Coach Mike Shea argued so strenuously with the officials and was ejected. Tyler Jones had a game-high 13 markers to lead the Hornets while Tim McCarthy latched onto 9 caroms. Each side committed 10 turnovers.

Penney (37) - C. Garen 4-7 12, Cace 2-3 7, Linnell 1-0 2, Dunn 1-2 4, Roberts 1-0-2, Kirkpatrick 0-0-0, Cruz 4-4 12, Penney 1-0 2, S. Garen 0-0-0. Totals 14-18-37.

East Hartford (36) - Garen 5-3 13, Campbell 2-2 8, Cace 0-2 2, Doran 1-0 2, McCarthy 1-0-2, LaDue 0-0-0, Pandicia 1-0-2, Pelletier 0-0-0, Totals 14-8-36.

Basketball

Unable to hold a lead after three periods, Bennet's varsity basketball team dropped an 87-70 decision to the Windsor Frosh Friday afternoon.

Ed Hurst scored 26 points and Sean Kearns and Myles McCurry added 12 and 12 more for the losers. Jim Kibbie and Tim Carmel played well on defense for the Bears.

ILLING JOY'S BOYS

Illing varsity boys' squad bowed yesterday, 47-36, to Timothy Edwards of South Windsor. Glen Yegger and Ken Krajewski each had 8 points and Bruce Marandino and Al Jezout 6 apiece for the Rams.

ILLING

Illing varsity dropped yesterday a 72-64 decision to Timothy Edwards of South Windsor. Chip Scanlon and Bud Brennan had 20 and 18 points respectively for Edwards while Chris Parker had 14 points, Mike McKenna 13 and Alex Glenn 12 for the Rams, now 2-3 for the season.

Another Zimmer

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) - Tom Zimmer, son of Boston Red Sox Manager Don Zimmer, Thursday was named manager of the California Angels' Triple A farm club in Salinas of the California League.

Zimmer, 28, is in his fourth year as a minor-league manager. Last season he piloted Shelby of the Carolina League for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Originally an infielder in the St. Louis organization, Zimmer served as minor-league coach with the Cardinals in 1976.

Several weeks ago, Baldwin stood on the floor of the unfinished coliseum amid construction workers and heavy equipment and predicted it would reopen for the Jan. 17 match with Pittsburgh. Friday he was asked if he had been anticipating the latest delay.

"No I haven't been anticipating the delay," he said. "We've always said it was a target date but we were cautiously optimistic."

The Whalers originally had planned to return to Hartford on Jan. 4 when the city set New Year's Day as the completion date of the facility. The date of completion was later moved back to Feb. 25 as construction lagged.

Coventry High Outruns Tech

Running its winning streak to six in a row, Coventry High outlasted Tech, 70-59, in Charter Oak Conference basketball action last night at the Beavers' gym.

The win improves the Patriots' conference mark to 5-2 and overall ledger to 7-2 while the loss sends the Techmen to 2-4 in the COC and 4-4 overall.

Coventry jumped to a 23-16 lead after one quarter as both sides put a lot of points in the scorebook. Tim Morris and Mark Morse each had 6 points in the stanza for Coventry while Brian Eaton and Mo Harrison each had 6 markers for Tech.

"They (Coventry) just took off on us. They pressured us fullcourt man-to-man early. It bothered us in the forecourt," Crockett stated.

Tim Morris, who did a lot of good things for Coventry including penetrating inside to a lay, had a game-high 24 points to pace Coventry. Kevin Green tossed in 14 markers while Keith Lane and Morse each chipped in 10 tallies.

Harrison and Scott Cable led the Techmen with 22 and 20 points while Eaton added a dozen markers. Cable latched onto 11 rebounds to lead the Beavers in that department.

Cheney's next outing is Tuesday home against Rocky Hill while the Patriots return home to combat post-East Hampton High. Both are COC matchups.

Eddie Gottlieb Recalled

Memories were stirred recently when word was received of the death of Eddie Gottlieb in Philadelphia. Gottlieb was Mr. Basketball in the Quarter City and one of the leading game promoters of the sport.

The little, round man was one of the founders of the National Basketball Association and eventually was voted into basketball's Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., for his many contributions over the years.

The story that I like best about Gottlieb happened in 1943 when he was running the Philadelphia Spas in the American League. Spas was the abbreviation for South Philadelphia Hebrew Association.

I was playing for Honey Russell's Wilmington, Del. Clippers that night. Weekends, Eddie Sadovskis, one-time All-American at Seton Hall, and I, both in the army at the time, would make games with the American League on weekends. Russell was also coaching Seton Hall at the time.

Two of our veterans players were Moe Spahn, assistant coach at CCNY in New York under Nat Holman, and Nat Frankel, a one-time NYU standout.

The Spas played all their games in the beautiful (at the time) Broadwood Hotel in South Philly. With first place at stake in the standings, the gym was jammed and we even had a hard time getting in, the hotel's security staff apparently thought we were two GI gatecrashers.

As expected, it was a dog-eat-dog game with Gottlieb matching Russell's strategy throughout. It came down to the final seconds and we had a two-point lead and Gottlieb had his team call a time out. The Spas had the ball opposite the key at our end of the court.

"Let's Try it Again"

I can still hear Frankel say to Spahn, "Let's try it again." Spahn nodded in agreement.

Gottlieb had set up a play, to get the ball to Cy Kasehman, who was an outstanding outside shooter. He had those days' shooter. But he never got the ball.

The fans were literally on the court at both ends when Spahn squeaked.

Tribe Girls Rally, Win

Leading most of the way, Manchester High girls' basketball team lost the edge in the fourth quarter. But the Indians didn't lose it for long as they bounced back and annexed a 56-46 victory over Windsor High in CCIL play last night at Clarke Arena.

The triumph moves the Silk Towers to 8-2 in the league, 8-3 overall, while the setback drops the Whippets to 5-5 in the CCIL and overall.

Windsor, trailing 34-33 going into the final cut, missed a 45-43 lead in the fourth quarter. But Manchester came back to even the count and had a one-and-one situation in the charity stripe to move ahead.

Before it could take the initial shot, Windham Coach Mike Shea argued so strenuously with the officials and was ejected. Tyler Jones had a game-high 13 markers to lead the Hornets while Tim McCarthy latched onto 9 caroms. Each side committed 10 turnovers.

Color Change

PITTSBURGH (UPI) - The Pittsburgh Penguins will change their uniform colors to black and gold before the season is over, club Vice President Paul Marha has announced.

The Penguins, whose uniform colors have been white and two shades of blue since they entered the National Hockey League 13 seasons ago, will change to conform with the American League batting championship worn by the Pirates, Stealers and Spirit - the other professional sports franchises in the city.

DETROIT (UPI) - Al Kaline may send the Hall of Fame one of his 10 Gold Gloves—but it isn't going to get the silver but he received for winning the American League batting championship when he was 30, in 1955.

Nelson shot a 70 at Indian Wells in the opening round, which took two days to complete as rain took days to clear. The runner-up, the first of

Point Spread Absurd

PITTSBURGH (UPI) - The Pittsburgh Steelers laugh when anyone mentions they've been made 10-point favorites to defeat the Los Angeles Rams and win their second straight and fourth NFL title in six years in Super Bowl XIV at Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 20.

"For anyone to take that spread seriously would not be using any foresight," punter Craig Colquitt said after practice Friday, shaking his head in amazement.

"It is just too optimistic a figure," he added. "The Los Angeles Rams are unpredictable. There is a lot of talent on that team. They have a good young quarterback in Vince Ferragamo. He's got a lot of talent and he's good under pressure. They've got a really good, strong defense. Their two linebackers are two of the strongest in the league. And they've got outstanding speed in the wide receivers on offense. Covering them will be a full-time job for the defense."

Steelers running back Rocky Bleier pondered what he termed an unreasonable point spread and then theorized that perhaps it resulted from comparing the Steelers' 1979 results to those of the Rams. The Steelers finished 12-4 during the regular season and then posted two 17-point victory over Miami and Houston. The Rams were 9-7 for the season, scored a last-minute victory over Dallas in the first round of playoffs and then defeated Tampa Bay, 9-0, in the NFC championship.

"But the Super Bowl's a different type of game in the importance of it," Bleier said. "I think you've seen in the past that the teams haven't made the spreads. Anything can happen at any time like this."

Mel Blount said he figures each team has advantages over the other that make handicapping the game a futile exercise.

"I think we have the edge as far as quarterbacks are concerned—and in receivers," he said. "But I think their edge is that they're playing out there. That's like a home-field advantage playing in Pasadena."

Steelers receivers Lynn Swann and John Stallworth both were sent from practice Friday suffering from the flu... offensive linemen Sam Davis and Steve Courson both sat out the two-hour workout in steady rain.

Young Boxer In Life Battle

HARTFORD (UPI) - Welterweight boxer Charles Newell remained in a coma Friday, two days after he was knocked unconscious in a professional bout.

Newell, 26, a prison inmate who was boxing professionally under a special state recreation release program for prisoners, underwent brain surgery Thursday and was placed on a respirator. Doctors said they had removed a blood clot from his brain.

"His condition is the same as it was Thursday. He's still critical and still comatose," correction spokeswoman Connie Wilkes said.

Newell was the third professional boxer critically injured in the last two months.

Willie Classen, 29, a middleweight, died in New York on Nov. 28 after being injured in a Madison Square Garden bout. In Spartanburg, S.C., middleweight Tony Thomas died from a head injury suffered in a Dec. 22 fight.

But Connecticut officials continued to support boxing in their state Friday, saying all precautions for Connecticut boxers.

"It was strictly an accident that could not have been prevented," said Mary Heslin, whose Consumer Protection Agency regulates boxing in her state. "I think it's the nature of any kind of contact sport. You're going to have accidents."

Connecticut had taken steps after Classen's death to protect its boxers, requiring a second ring doctor—and appointing a neurosurgeon to handle the duties in Hartford.

Low Bogash, the referee of Newell's bout, had also recently taken a seminar on how to deal with such situations.

A videotape of the incident showed Hospodar in an attempt to break loose and resume a fight with Philadelphia's Mel Bridgman, whose Collins was trying to restrain.

Collins ultimately managed to direct Hospodar to the exit leading to the New York dressing room.

Rangers' Hospodar Set Down

MONTREAL (UPI) - New York Rangers' forward Ed Hospodar was suspended for three games and fined $500 by the National Hockey League Friday for attacking linesman Kevin Collins during a game at the Philadelphia Flyers Jan. 4.

NHL executive vice-president Brian O'Neill issued the fine and suspension after holding a hearing in Toronto, Jan. 10.

At the hearing were Hospodar and Hangers assistant general manager Mickey Keating, game officials Collins and David, supervisor of officials Frank Udvari and NHL referee-chiefs Scott Morrison.

A videotape of the incident showed Hospodar in an attempt to break loose and resume a fight with Philadelphia's Mel Bridgman, whose Collins was trying to restrain.

Iowa Election Polls Show Carter Ahead

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — A poll published Friday showed President Carter with a 2-1 lead over Sen. Edward Kennedy among Iowa Democrats and Ronald Reagan now the favorite of only 26 percent of the state's Republicans compared to 50 percent last month.

National Grange Backs Embargo

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter won support for his grain embargo against Russia from the National Grange Friday, the first farm group to officially endorse the effort.

Carter got the endorsement during a meeting with Edward Anderson, master of the 500,000-member grange. A number of other prominent citizens also attended the White House session.

"We support the president in his effort to retaliate against Russia for invading Afghanistan, Anderson told reporters after the meeting.

"We don't like the effect it will have on agriculture on our grain producers," Anderson said. "But we're giving suggestions and hoping we can work out solutions that lessen the impact on income of the farmer."

The National Grange is the oldest farm group in America but is not strong in the Midwest cornbelt. It is not as influential as some newer groups such as the American Farmer announced the grain embargo against Russia, indicated the president's Kennedy among registered Democrats 57 percent to 25 percent.

On the Republican side, Reagan remained the favorite even though his lead was cut in half. That left him eight points ahead of Sen. Howard Baker, the biggest gainer since December, and nine points ahead of former ambassador George Bush. Baker was favored by 18 percent of Republicans, compared to 11 percent last month, and Bush by 17 percent.

Both participated in the GOP debate this month but Reagan did not. Those interviewed for the poll agreed by a 7-2 margin Reagan was hurt by not joining the debate — a view shared by other GOP candidates and party leaders.

The poll was a hot topic of discussion among politicians because it came out just 10 days before the Jan. 21 Iowa caucuses that start the 1980 delegate selection process for both Democrats and Republicans.

Kennedy, who campaigned in five Iowa cities Friday, noted that polls both in Iowa and elsewhere have been shifting rapidly recently. He said he did not expect to do so poorly in the caucuses as the polls indicated.

The poll showed Carter leading Kennedy 57 percent to 25 percent, though the two had been tied at 40 percent each in last month's tally. It also found most Iowans support the grain embargo, but farmers disagreed with the decision by a 55 percent to 36 percent margin.

Others attending the session included Lynda Robb, head of the president's Advisory Committee on Women; Dorothy Weight, president of the United Negro Women; and the Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of the Chicago-based Operation PUSH.

Jackson said Carter indicated the United States is willing to "use the economic embargo route" against Iran and to put political pressure on its allies to cooperate.

He said there was "a ruling out of any military action and a growing dependency on world opinion coming from the United Nations."

Washington, which said it has "serious reservations" about the embargo.

Anderson said the Grange would like the administration to increase loan levels on 1979 wheat and feed grains — going beyond the steps already announced.

He believed that if prices fell too much, Congress would step in to help the affected farmers.

Carter forces are counting on the farm vote to defeat Kennedy in the caucuses.

A number of political operatives said they were baffled by the poll, since the results were so different from those released in December and from their own findings.

"I don't believe the electorate out there is that volatile," said Richard Bond, chief Iowa operative for Bush. We said Bush polls have contacted many more Republicans than in any other poll.

He said there was "a ruling out of any military action and a growing dependency on world opinion coming from the United Nations."

Pharmacy To Begin Programs

BOSTON — To aid residents in obtaining immediate medical assistance in emergency situations, Medi Mart Drug Stores will introduce "Vial-for-Life" an emergency information program Sunday.

The Vial-for-Life program is designed to provide local hospital, fire and police department rescue teams with accurate and often critical information about a victim's medical history.

In instances where a victim has passed out before assistance arrives or has been found helpless by a neighbor or stranger, accurate and immediate information about the victim's medical history can be the difference between life and death.

The Vial-for-Life program is being provided at no cost to the consumer and may be picked up at the pharmacy counter of local Medi Mart Drug Stores.

The Vial-for-Life kit contains: A medical history form which can be filled out with the assistance of a pharmacist or physician.

The form provides information on an individual's medical condition such as: blood type, allergies, required medication, physical disabilities, and chronic illnesses.

The Vial-for-Life kit is a plastic vial to hold the medical history form. This vial is later taped under the top shelf of the household refrigerator.

State Speed

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut will meet federal guidelines for a 55 mph speed limit, a move that could save up to $4 million in federal aid from the Dept. of Public Safety said a spokesman here.

Spokesman Joseph J. Crowley said the state reduced the percentage of motor vehicles that exceed the speed limit to 10 percent, down from the 15 percent required 60 percent of the time.

"I think we will, far," said Crowley. The state's 1979 compliance was 100 percent. Under the federal law, the state must drop speeding so that 10 percent of motorists were exceeding the speed limit by Sept. 30. Crowley said the state is 10 percent below that figure.

Capt. George Moore said the state's operations for the past year didn't mean more speeding since the state was speeding since the flow of traffic.

That means a gross of one vehicle which was speeding. When all cars were government formula, 48.7 percent, he said. Crowley said "it means that the federal stepped-up program cut the number of speeding tickets by 23 percent. The state police had issued 100,000 tickets in 1979, adding 57 mph.

Moore also noted that the state's monitoring program for the speed limit is 55 mph. The state includes only the 60 mph highways while in the state posted on small roads, motorist were less than 10 percent.

Judge One-Man

HARTFORD (UPI) — A judge today called for a replacement of a one-man jury panel with a jury made up of lawyers.

Judge Robert I. Berdon said he would weigh indictments with adversary help for trial would have a grand jury have a study. "They have failed."

Berdon said he had resulted in a decision accused of crime present for procedure right to counsel and a study.

The one-man grand jury seldom-used investment. Recent one-man grand jury the alleged sale of Britain, a game-fixing and the handling of Gibbons murder case.

Berdon said he would with a crime commission would "provide due process."

He said he didn't of a one-man grand jury the judges who could judge, not to accuse.

Berdon also said a commission he proposed public.

TV DIALOGUE

A LATHER — I would really appreciate it if you could settle an argument between my husband and myself. Is Jennifer Salt (Eunice) of "Soap" the same Eunice of last season? Is Candice Azzara (Millie) the same one who played Danny's wife? I would also appreciate it if you could find out the name of the song and groups in the movie "With Six You Get Eggroll." — Judy Swanson, Stoughton, Mass.

Jennifer Salt has always played the middle Tate child, while Danny's wife, Elaine Lefkowitz, was played by Dinah Manoff, who bears a resemblance to, but is not, Candy Azzara. Still working on the "Eggroll" question, maybe a reader has the magic answer.

BOB AS BOB — A friend of mine told me that Bob Urich starred in a TV version of the movie "Bob & Ted & Carol & Alice." Is this true? If so, who else starred in it and when exactly was it on? — Tina Costello, Stamford, Conn.

You were lucky to have had something better to do back on Wednesday nights in the fall of '73 than watching "Bob & Ted & Carol & Alice," a weak attempt by ABC at adult comedy. Urich was the swinger, Bob, married to Anne Archer as Carol. Their compatriots in this bedtime story were David Spielberg as Ted and Anita Gillette as Alice. Brad Savage and Jodie Foster, who went on to tackle sex in a much bigger way in "Taxi Driver," played the kids.

FAMILIES — Could you tell me why an excellent station like ABC airs two shows per week of "Family Feud"? Rather silly and insignificant, I would say. Yet a superlative show like "Family" is shown only occasionally. This is one of the best family shows on TV and I'm sure that a great number of people would like to see it more frequently. — Mrs. D.W. Alpha, Baytown, Texas

I hate to be the bearer of bad news, but "Family" will be seen even less frequently next year. This will be its last year on the network. Unfortunately, as we've all learned over the years, quality has nothing to do with keeping a show on the air. "Family Feud" gets terrific ratings, while the numbers on "Family" have been declining steadily.

'50s TV — We have some trivia questions we need help with. In the TV series, "Topper," what was the character name of the man, the dog and the ghost? What was the name of the woman who was the leading lady in "Pam and Jerry North," the detective show? Did she go on to become the Revlon Girl or some other similar title? — Doris Swank and Jack Kelsey, Bloomington, Ind.

As for "Topper," by the man I assume you mean Cosmo Topper, played by Leo G. Carroll. George and Marion Kirby and the St. Bernard were all ghosts, and the dog's name was Neil. George and Marion were played by Robert Sterling and Anne Jeffreys. "Mr. and Mrs. North" was the name of the early '50s detective series that starred Barbara Britton as Pam North. She made quite a few movies in the '40s and '50s, but I don't know if she has held a "title."

CHEERING — A while ago I heard that Bucky Dent was in a movie. Can you tell me what movie it was and when it was on? — Kathy Ogle, Sportswood, N.J.

Your favorite Yankee hero co-starred in the highly-rated TV-movie, "The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders." It aired last season.

(Send your letters to Pepper O'Brien, NEA, 200 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017)

Don Knotts stars as the womanizing, off-beat landlord in "Three's Company," airing Tuesdays, on ABC.

Gil Gerard stars as the legendary explorer who travels in outer space several hundred years in the future in "Buck Rogers in the 25th Century," airing Thursdays, on NBC.

Sarah Purcell spins her serve despite odds

By DAN LEWIS

HOLLYWOOD — Sarah Purcell is ambitious and opportunistic, two character traits she readily accepts. Her mother might have helped her develop these traits when she insisted that Sarah train to be an executive secretary, before she embarked on her career.

"My mother believed that if I learned how to type and take shorthand, then I would always be able to take care of myself," recalls this striking, 5 foot, nine-inch blond who is one of the co-hosts on "Real People," one of the few hit shows on NBC, airing Wednesdays.

Miss Purcell's mother spoke from experience. She fell back on her early secretarial experience after she and her husband, a doctor, were divorced. She was soon promoted from her beginning position as a secretary to a stock broker to a customer's agent.

Sarah Purcell took her typing and shorthand skills another route that also led to her career goals. She went to work in San Diego as secretary to the program director of a local television station.

It was a modest beginning to a career which has earned her network prominence. Becoming known for her knowledge as the program director's secretary helped her outdistance her backdoor beginning. In a year, she was named his assistant.

Until that point in her career, Miss Purcell had never faced a camera, or even considered approaching television as an on-camera talent.

But when the opportunity presented itself, Miss Purcell moved quickly, and determinedly.

A strike threatened the station, and Miss Purcell, along with other members of the management team, were requested to make audition tapes to prepare them for on-camera assignments in the event of a walk-out by talent and craftsmen.

Sarah Purcell, co-host for NBC's "Real People."

"I decided that I could be best suited to do the weather, in case there was a strike," Miss Purcell recalls. So she spent time with the weather forecaster, then took a crash course — of about two hours — at the local weather station. Her tape pleased her boss, and although the strike did not materialize, she was given a chance to sub for the regular forecaster on Easter.

"The next day, I told the program director (her boss) that I wanted to go on the air regularly."

She also was aware that the host of the station's morning talk show was still on-the-air, even though her contract had expired and would not be renewed. She determined her rights on replacing the host.

Miss Purcell got that job. After a three-week replacement stint, her boss was again impressed. And she held on to it for two years before moving to Los Angeles to become co-host with Regis Philbin of "A.M. Los Angeles," on the ABC-owned station.

She held that spot for three years, then departed after a dispute over her desire to expand her career. She had been offered several guest roles in several series episodes ("Wonder Woman" and "Charlie's Angels"). The brass at KABC didn't like the idea of Miss Purcell working outside their territory, and said she couldn't continue her other activities, Miss Purcell revealed.

"So I decided to quit," recalls Miss Purcell. "I wanted to act and if they would not let me, I couldn't see myself expanding if I was restricted to a morning talk show."

She may have quit a job, but hardly remained inactive. She did both episodes that KABC refused permission, in the month that followed, and quickly landed the co-hosting spot on "Real People," a look at the comical side of people in their vocations and avocations around the country.

The show has enjoyed strong audience acceptance, especially gratifying to NBC since it is slotted against one of the top shows of recent years, ABC's "Eight Is Enough." It has been averaging impressive 30-plus shares regularly.

"People like the show," insists Miss Purcell, "because they see themselves in it and they like to see themselves. People like to be silly, and they also like to applaud courage."

These are the successful ingredients, she maintains. She claims another factor is that the show is unpredictable, offsetting the boredom of "sameness" that has engulfed television in general. "We're getting 5,000 letters a week from people who either want to present themselves, or know someone with unique, and-or peculiar activities. We can go for years with new episodes without repeating any," Miss Purcell contends.

Success on a network television series quickly brings offers. "My goal is to be a working actress," Miss Purcell declares. She has been studying drama with Nina Foch, and comedy with Harvey Lembeck, both highly regarded coaches and long-time actors. Sarah Purcell is not shy when it comes to achieving her goals.
