

Zinsser Resigns His Seat

By MARY KITZMANN
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Carl Zinsser, Republican leader of the Board of Directors resigned from the board today, nine years to the day since his appointment.

Zinsser, a realtor, cited several reasons for his resignation at a morning press conference at his business office.

"If you're not effective it's time to step down," he said. "It's frustrating being in the minority position. I constantly hear about things that need to be done. I couldn't see being on the board another two years in the minority position."

Besides frustration at the Republicans lack of power, Zinsser said he lacked motivation for his next term of office.

"I have no motivation," he said. "I've been on the board continuously since 1973, and I find it hard to find the motivation to go to the meetings."

"I refuse to sit on the board without contributing. But I don't have the motivation to do the kind of research that's needed for the job."

Zinsser was re-elected last November, receiving the second highest number of votes, 7,132. The GOP won four seats to the Democrat's five.

He said today, the first thoughts of resigning began in January and the actual decision about two weeks ago.

"There was no one thing that made me resign," he said. "It was a lot of little things. When you see you're not being effective, it's time to let someone else do the job."

"I did not run for re-election with any thought of resigning. But I know there's a lot of people who will say I'm quitting - I don't like to use the word. But I'm the one making the decision. I gave myself a test of efficiency and decided I'm not doing the kind of job the people elected me for."

Zinsser said however the November election "took its toll" on him. "I really thought we would win that," he said. "If people really analyzed the way they thought they would vote Republican."

Saying the Republicans needed a better organization to win elections, Zinsser said he was interested in becoming the GOP town chairman, who will be elected in March. But he would not commit himself to running.

The other candidates mentioned are Robert Von Deck, and Curtis Smith.

"I hope people don't have the impression I'm resigning to run for the chairmanship," he said. "I'm not, I basically need a rest, and I'm taking the month of February to do it."

However, Zinsser said he believed a board member should not be a town chairman at the same time. Zinsser had been the Republican leader, since Vivian Ferguson resigned in 1979.

"I hope to get back into politics if the people think I'm qualified," he said. "But right now I don't see the challenge on the board as I used to."

Zinsser said he began to realize his "ineffectiveness" when suggestions he made were dismissed and later acted upon. An example of this was his suggestion to contact a constitutional expert on the lawsuit involving the Community Development Block Grant.

Zinsser was appointed to the board Feb. 2, 1971. He replaced director and former deputy mayor David Odegard who resigned to become a state senator. He also served two years on the Human Relations Commission and the Manchester Housing Authority.

The following election Zinsser lost his position, to be re-elected in 1973.

His resignation comes not only on the anniversary of his appointment but on his 42nd birthday. "I really enjoy being on the board," he said. "But around January I analyzed where I was, and was going and began to wonder if I was being as effective as I should be."

Carl Zinsser, Republican leader of the Board of Directors, resigned from the board this morning. He cited feelings of ineffectiveness and a lack of motivation as reasons for the resignation.

Reaction Is Shock, Chagrin

By LAUREN DAVIS SHEA

MANCHESTER — Reaction among political leaders of both political parties in town to news of Carl Zinsser's retirement from the Board of Directors ranged from shock to disappointment but respect for the man and his achievements was universal.

Mayor Stephen Penny, who led Zinsser by a bare 334 votes in the last municipal election, expressed appreciation for the work Zinsser performed during his eight years on the board.

"Carl has obviously worked very hard. He has run well as a candidate, which reflects the confidence he has enjoyed in the community," Penny said.

General Manager Robert Weiss declared, "Of course, it comes as a very distinct shock. Carl has put a lot of thought, effort and service into the town for I think 10 years. Over the years, there have been times when he and I have had philosophical differences but most of the time we have been in agreement. I'm certainly going to miss him as a member of the board."

While William Diana, who has served with Zinsser for most of the last decade, could not be reached for comment today because he was out of town on business, Peter Di Rosa, who served with Zinsser for the last two years, was clearly disappointed with Zinsser's decision to step down.

"Obviously, I consider him the leader of the Republican party in town," Di Rosa said. "He has been a dedicated, knowledgeable official. Over the last few years, he has always had the best interest of Manchester at heart," he said.

Gloria Della Fera, a newly elected Republican member of the board said today, "Needless to say, I certainly hate to be without him." Della Fera, whose upset election to the board in November closed the governing body's make-up to a 5-4 Democratic lead, said with a laugh, "It is a tough job."

"Carl certainly has given so much of his time and effort to the board. I think he is probably tired. I can't say that I blame him. He has been on the board longer than anyone," Ms. Della Fera said.

Biz Swensson, Republican town committee chairwoman, said at the press conference where Zinsser made his announcement, "He's been under a lot of pressure with his business and his family. We're losing a good minority leader. Whatever I've done on the GOP committee, he's always been behind us 100 percent."

Democratic Town Chairman Ted Cummings said today, "I respect Carl Zinsser, even though we're on different sides most of the time. But, he's a scrapper and I'm sorry to see him go. They'll (GOP) have a hard time filling his shoes."

Wally Irish, member of the GOP town committee and the Republican state central committee, declared that Zinsser was a precious gem in the GOP roster.

Carnival Canceled

MANCHESTER — The twice-delayed, often hoped for annual winter carnival of the Eighth Utilities District has been canceled for this year, Evelyn Grogan said this morning.

Mrs. Grogan, who is carnival director and a member of the district's Board of Directors, said the lack of ice on Sautters Pond posed a safety hazard.

The decision was made after employees from the Parks Department examined the pond for at least three inches of ice. Unfortunately, the equipment used to clean the rink fell through the thin ice.

Mrs. Grogan said they decided at that moment that it was senseless to permit skating.

"We have not had sufficient ice to make it safe for the people," she said. "There's no sense getting into February. We don't know what's coming and we can only hope for better weather next year."

Democrats Promise GOP Successor

By CHARLIE MAYNARD
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — Top Democratic Party officials said it will be a Republican who will succeed Carl Zinsser on the Board of Directors.

Both Town Chairman Ted Cummings and Mayor Stephen Penny affirmed that, despite the fact that the charter doesn't prohibit the board from naming a Democrat as successor.

"It will be a Republican, their choice," Cummings said. "We would never do to them what they did to us."

Cummings referred to the resignation of Democrat Pascal Poe in 1957 when the Republicans appointed a successor from their own party. Poe was the top vote getter in that election and was also passed over for mayor.

"We absolutely won't do that," Cummings said. "That's not our style. I like to say that I can learn from their mistakes."

The charter specifies that the vacancy must be filled by the board for the unexpired term, but doesn't prohibit the appointment of someone from the opposing party.

General Statutes prohibit a party from having any more than six members on a nine-member board.

On Oct. 1, 1957, the Republican Party named Ronald Jacobs as successor to Poe. The Democrats had nominated Norman Comollo for the seat.

Republican Wallace Irish Jr. said he would like to see a primary of Republican voters to determine a successor, but conceded that the Democrats are a factor in any decision.

Irish said although the successor falls within the jurisdiction of the previous Republican Town Committee, which he called a lame-duck body, the decision should be made by the new committee because they will be affected by the new director's actions.

"We gave to have a primary if there is more than one candidate," he said. "We should allow them to go to the Republican voters."

Irish said newcomers like Peter Sylvester or Curt Smith should be considered as candidates, although he did not want to disregard former director Vivian Ferguson.

"But the ball's pretty much in the Democrats court," Irish said. "If the Democrats are going to play politics with the seat, then take it. Do it now. Don't make us go the primary."

Other persons mentioned as possible successors were Clarence Brown and Ida Lindberg, who were defeated last year for the board.

Solons Eye Booze, Bottles, Boxing

HARTFORD (UPI) — The first legislative step has been taken to raise Connecticut's 18-year-old legal drinking age to 20, and lawmakers also have agreed to look at a repeal of the bottle law and to scrutinize boxing.

Rep. Andrew Grande, D-Bristol, co-chairman of the Legislature's General Law Committee, said Tuesday the 20-year-old drinking age bill might make it through the Legislature this year because Gov.

Ella Grasso seems "warm on the subject."

Public Safety Commissioner Donald Long also supports the idea.

The governor last year vetoed a bill that would have allowed 18-year-olds to continue drinking in bars but would have required someone to be at least 19 to buy liquor in package stores.

Grande said the hearing on the drinking age proposal will include a bill to revoke drivers licenses of teen-agers who buy liquor illegally. Presently, only stiff fines are levied on package store owners.

The hearing also will cover a related bill to allow 18- and 19-year-olds who now sell liquor in bars, restaurants, or package stores, to keep their jobs if the drinking age is raised.

The idea of repealing Connecticut's controversial returnable deposit law, which requires a minimum 5-cent deposit on all beer, soda and mineral water containers, was floated by Rep. Emil Benvenuto, R-Old Greenwich.

"It's only 29-days-old and it's already costing consumers $240 million in increased prices," said

Benvenuto, who owns a package store.

He also said it's damaging the state's tax collections and liquor industry because some consumers are border-hopping to Massachusetts and Rhode Island to buy cheaper liquor.

Benvenuto said the issue should go to a statewide voter referendum.

"It's not working," said Rep. Abraham Giles, D-Hartford. "I haven't remembered to bring one back and get nickel back yet."

The committee decided to work on a bottle law repeal proposal at its next meeting ensure the bill winds up before them and not the Environment Committee.

The boxing issue was raised by

Rep. Arthur Della-Vecchia, D-Southington, who said he was concerned about the recent death of Charlie Newell, a Somers State Prison inmate injured during a Hartford Civic Center bout.

Sen. Louis Cuttito, D-Waterbury, co-chairman of the committee, said he would oppose the bill but would go along with holding a general informational hearing about boxing regulations in Connecticut.

"It is a contact sport, like football," Cuttito said.

"We haven't tried to eliminate hockey, football or anything else and they have a lot more accidents," said Sen. Marcella Fahey, D-East Hartford.

Bank Growth Sets Record

MANCHESTER — Savings Bank of Manchester's 1979 growth in assets, deposits and loans all set records, President William R. Johnson told the 118 guest at the 74th annual meeting of the bank this week.

Johnson said dividends to SBM customers never has been higher, noting SBM paid out $15.8 million to depositors in 1979.

Johnson thanked bank officers, staff and community members for the vote of confidence the performance reports gave SBM in 1979.

Johnson told the group, "We're looking forward to our 75th year as one of change, growth and excitement."

He said service innovations are coming to SBM including the introduction of Conni, a 24-hour automatic teller machine in the near future.

See other stories on page 12

Johnson said many other service innovations are in development stages. "All are measures to help our customers save more efficiently and profitably even in these inflationary times," he said.

SBM Chairman of the Board John D. LaBelle noted 1979 was a year of change in the banking industry during a period of economic uncertainty and rising inflation.

He noted interest rates on regular savings accounts were increased by 25 percent in July and a new 4-year bond market certificate was introduced to benefit the small saver. Later in the year the time-on-deposit requirement on the certificate was lowered to a minimum of 30 months with a high interest rate.

He said the 14th branch of SBM was opened in 1979 with the mid-September completion of the Burr Corners Shopping Plaza office.

Heart Recovery

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Tough, self-reliant patients who don't worry about themselves seem to fare best in the first year after a heart attack.

Psychiatrist Melvin J. Stern said in a report released today most heart attack survivors do well socially and psychologically, but the most successful are those who see their physical problems as only temporary interruptions in their normal way of life.

Those patients who don't do as well after a heart attack are more likely to be obsessed with physical symptoms. Stern said these people are frequently depressed, discouraged

Young Boy Found OK

NORTH SMITHFIELD, R.I. (UPI) — A 3-year-old boy who wandered alone for more than 18 hours in sub-freezing temperatures suffered only minor frostbite and exposure, hospital officials say.

Christopher Labonte of Thompson, Conn., was found Tuesday morning more than three miles from his home after an all-night search by 300 volunteers, police and National Guardsmen.

One of the volunteers was struck and killed by a car during the search. Christopher, the son of Edward and Jo-Ann Labonte, wandered away from his home about 1:30 p.m. Monday, apparently following his dog, Mitty.

A spokesman at Fogarty Hospital said when the boy was brought in he was suffering from mild frostbite and hypothermia and had a temperature of 90 degrees, more than eight degrees below normal.

He was to be hospitalized at least 24 hours for observation.

The searcher killed by a car was identified as John Campbell, 38, of Central Falls, R.I.

Coll Resigns Position As Governor's Advisor

HARTFORD (UPI) — Anti-poverty activist Edward "Ned" Coll has quit as Gov. Ella T. Grasso's unpaid advisor on human affairs, saying the governor was insensitive to the needs of poor people.

Coll, director of the antipoverty Hartford Revitalization Corp., charged Tuesday night that Mrs. Grasso's "hated" for former Deputy Hartford Mayor Nicholas Carbone has blinded her to the needs of the poor.

Coll said he decided to quit the post he has held since 1975 after a meeting earlier in the day with Mrs. Grasso.

He claimed the governor was unresponsive to his suggestions for helping urban poor people, especially housing proposals.

"She (Mrs. Grasso) doesn't think of people in Hartford or other cities as people. She is obsessed with her hatred for Nick Carbone," Coll said.

Coll supported Carbone in the city's Democratic mayoral primary last September, while Mrs. Grasso backed incumbent Mayor George Athanson, who won the November election.

"I feel I cannot effectively affect that administration from within it," said Coll.

A spokesman for Mrs. Grasso said she was surprised by Coll's resignation. "I had a very pleasant conversation with Ned this morning," the spokesman said in a statement. "I am surprised because these comments by Coll are absolutely contrary to our discussion."

Coll, 39, who founded the Revitalization Corp. in 1964, is known for his demanding and unconventional methods in obtaining assistance for urban poverty programs.

In 1969, he fasted for nearly seven days to promote what he called his "war on apathy." He has also brought groups of black urban youngsters to private beaches on Connecticut's shoreline to demonstrate his belief that access to Long Island Sound beaches should be open to everybody.

Coll was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress in 1970.

Irving Steiner, 65, of West Hartford, was charged with following too closely in connection with the investigation of a minor accident at Chapel Road and Route 5.

Police said a car driven by Martin Abraham, 41, of Glastonbury, was stopped for a red light and was struck in the rear by the Steiner car. No injuries were reported. Damage was minor. No court answer date was given.

Police are investigating the report of the theft of a chain saw, valued at $200, from the breezeway at 792 Ellington Road.

Solons See Senate Race Between Buckley, Dodd

HARTFORD (UPI) — The contest for Connecticut's much sought after U.S. Senate seat would be between Republican James Buckley and Rep. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., based on a survey of the Legislature's current mood.

UPI asked state senators and representatives in a recent poll who they would vote for in the U.S. Senate election for the seat being vacated by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., were held at this time.

Dodd, who is running unopposed, was the only Democratic candidate selected by legislators. But the choice for the Republican Senate nominee were divided among the two announced candidates and a third who is waiting in the wings.

James Buckley, the former U.S. Senator from New York, polled 36.6 percent of the legislative vote. Senate Minority Leader Richard Bozotto, R-Waterbury, and former congressman Robert Steele each received 30 percent.

Steele, president of a Norwich bank, said he hasn't decided yet whether he will be a candidate. He said he won't make a decision either way until it looks like Bozotto or Dodd said: "I would say that Buckley would have potentially a more severe challenge from Steele, but don't discount Bozotto. He's spoken before to 80 town committees in Connecticut."

"People just don't buy candidates," he said. Asked if he meant that Buckley was trying to buy a U.S. Senate seat, Dodd answered: "I don't know. But I would strongly suggest that if he's going to be a serious candidate that he better get on to his Republican town committees and start talking to his people."

"It isn't New York," Dodd said. "It's a conventional primary state and the convention is meaningful in Connecticut."

Buckley's people say they want Steele to run because it would undoubtedly force a primary, which would generate publicity for the campaign. A primary also would make that contest, not convention delegates, the final arbiter.

There are 187 senators and representatives in the Connecticut Legislature, with four seats currently vacant. The UPI poll was answered by 105 legislators.

State Legislators Back Raise in Drinking Age

HARTFORD (UPI) — A majority of Connecticut legislators favor raising the state's 18-year-old drinking age, based on a recent poll of the Legislature.

The survey conducted by UPI showed 57.1 percent of the state representatives and senators want to raise the legal drinking age and 42.8 percent want to leave things the way they are.

The majority who answered the survey said the drinking age should be hiked to 20-years-old. A substantial block said it should be increased to 19 or 21. One legislator said the legal drinking age should be 35.

An attempt to raise the drinking age last year resulted in a curious bill that would have allowed 18-year-olds to continue bending their elbows at bars, but the cut off in package stores would have been 19.

Gov. Ella Grasso vetoed the proposal, saying there might be constitutional problems because of the dual age in the bill.

"The governor hasn't taken a position yet on whether the drinking age should be raised, but she has said she wants automatic license suspensions for any driver who refuses to take a sobriety test."

The Legislature's General Law Committee has voted to hold a public hearing on a bill to change the drinking age to 20 and to increase penalties for teen-agers who try to buy liquor illegally.

But House Speaker Ernest Abate, D-Stamford, said he's not convinced changing the law would reduce teen-age highway fatalities or teen-age drinking.

"If they (supporters) think they're going to reduce the number of fatalities on the highways, it might have a reverse effect," said Abate, referring to the argument that underage drinkers will border top to get their booze.

"If they're doing it simply because they don't feel young people ought to be drinking, then raising the drinking age doesn't accomplish that," he said. "Even with 21, there are faked identification cards that kids can get."

Abate said he'd rather go with the governor's idea on sobriety tests. He said the state also should make sure that present penalties for drunken driving are enforced and that the Legislature should look at increasing fines.

Senate President Joseph Fasullo, D-Hartford, said he's traditionally been opposed to raising the legal drinking age, but if the statistics show teen-age highway fatalities could be reduced, he'll have "an open mind."

"The problem with alcohol is that it's a problem that is characteristic of all age groups," he said.

Senate Minority Leader George Gunther, R-Stratford, said he has the proof. He's kept a chart of teen-age fatalities since 1973 and said anyone who doesn't draw the correlation between teen-age highway deaths and alcohol is "an idiot."

"Unfortunately, too many of the lawyer-legislators think they have a studied opinion and should follow that opinion. They should poll their constituency and find out what the people think about it," he said.

Gunther said several state senators polled their constituents and found that 70 percent of them want to raise the legal drinking age, and that of that number, 45 percent think the drinking age should go back to 21.

He said other states, one by one, are increasing the legal drinking age that was raised by many after an amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified in 1971 lowering the voting age in federal elections from 21 to 18.

Last year, Massachusetts raised its legal drinking age from 18 to 20 and bordering New Hampshire did the same.

There are 187 senators and representatives in the Connecticut Legislature, with four seats currently vacant. The UPI poll was answered by 105 legislators.

Coliseum Reopening Possible Next Week

HARTFORD (UPI) — City officials say there's a slim chance the rebuilt Hartford Civic Center Coliseum could reopen as early as Sunday, but the reopening is more likely to be next week.

City officials and representatives of the Hartford Whalers met privately Tuesday to review the $31.5 million reconstruction of the arena, which has been closed since its roof collapsed two years ago under tons of ice and snow.

City Manager Donald C. Peach said after the meeting there was a "very, very slim possibility" the coliseum will reopen Sunday for a National Hockey League game.

The title of his new song — "Regrets."

Perhaps a Barrel

When Canadian songstress Anne Murray signed to co-host five segments of "The Mike Douglas Show," she never figured she'd be doing it without her clothes.

The airline look care of that — losing her luggage en route from Toronto to Los Angeles.

For a solid week, the question of what she'd wear the next day became a running joke — manifested at one time when a small trunk — allegedly courtesy of the offending airline — was trundled onstage.

But all it contained was a young woman who emerged as if she'd reached Buffalo yet. Says Anne, "Well, at least they didn't ask me to do the show in the nude." She's still searching for her missing wardrobe.

Quote of the Day

Jerry Lewis, remembering the times he worked with Jimmy Durante who died Tuesday in Santa Monica, Calif., at 86: "It was like working with an encyclopedia of comedy. He knew our business better than most. He was a magician, pulling things you'd never figure a comic to pull... I never saw him depressed in the 30 years I knew him. Jimmy was the oldest mischievous kid I ever knew."

Glimpses

Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse will do a special performance Saturday at the Walt Whitman Auditorium of Brooklyn College in New York... Angelo Pizzo has been named Director of Motion Pictures for Television by Time-Life Films in Hollywood.

SNET Says Hike Needed

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Southern New England Telephone says inflation took a such a large bite out of its 1979 earnings that it needs a rate increase this year more than ever.

"Even with our achievement of a rate of productivity improvement which is twice the national average, we are unable to contain the impact of the kind of inflation we have been experiencing," SNET President Alfred Van Sinderen said Tuesday.

SNET said its earnings per common share were $5.24 for 1979 compared to $6.96 in 1978. Fourth quarter earnings went from $1.54 in 1978 to $1.16 this year.

"In order to continue to provide the good telephone service our customers expect, this spring we will present to the Division of Public Utility Control our case for a general increase in rates," Van Sinderen said.

SNET has been discussing the need for a general rate increase in 1980 for its 1.1 million customers for more than nine months, said a firm spokesman William Seekamp.

"It gets more and more definite as the company's financial position becomes clearer and clearer. The need for rate adjustment is more apparent," Seekamp said.

SNET said its flat charges for service are based on 1977 costs and the Consumer Price Index shows inflation has increased 23 percent since that year.

"You get to a point where inflation is taking such a toll you can't continue with flat prices anymore," Seekamp said.

Van Sinderen also noted the cost of telephone service has risen much less than "almost any other commodity or service" and "only a financially sound business can provide the service" necessary for the state's economy.

Seekamp said the firm was still preparing the application for a rate

Scandal Trial Delay Sought

NEW BRITAIN (UPI) — The first defendant scheduled to stand trial in the city's municipal corruption scandal has been given another chance to seek a delay in court proceedings.

Judge Eugene Kelly agreed Tuesday to a hearing next week allowing the defense to ask for another delay to prepare for retired Fire Chief Raymond Galati's trial on 15 charges ranging from bribery to first-degree larceny by extortion.

But the long-awaited start of Galati's trial moved a step closer as Kelly scheduled jury selection for Feb. 12.

Kelly also decided that Galati will stand trial in Hartford and not in his hometown as he had wished.

The judge also denied a pair of defense motions to delay Galati's trial until the state Supreme Court had ruled on an appeal of Kelly's decision rejecting an earlier motion to dismiss the case.

Galati was one of 19 persons, most former or current New Britain officials, arrested as a result of a one-man grand jury probe into the alleged sale of job promotions and misuse of city property.

Five have pleaded guilty but their sentencing has been delayed pending the start of Galati's trial which the state and lawyers for all of the defendants have agreed should be the first held.

"We're ready, we think the defense ought to be ready," said Assistant State's Attorney F. Timothy McNamara, who proposed the Feb. 13 start of jury deliberations adopted by Kelly.

Galati's attorney, Edward T. Lynch Jr., argued unsuccessfully that the trial be delayed because he had appealed the judge's denial of a pretrial motion to dismiss the charges.

He argued that simply by agreeing to hear the appeal the state Supreme Court barred further proceedings.

A Job Well Done

Director Carl Zinsser, who today announced his plans to step down from the board deserves the thanks of the community for his years of work for what he believed was the best interests of Manchester.

debating the facts of matters with a minimum of emotionalism and political rhetoric. Zinsser also has recognized the need for a political figure to accept criticism when it has been offered without responding as if the attack was of a personal nature.

It is a grind being a public servant, and although Zinsser hasn't complained, the pressures must have been a factor in his decision to resign from the board.

Why Reagan Stumbled

By LEE RODERICK WASHINGTON—Republican George Bush's stunning upset of Ronald Reagan in Iowa started to appear on the horizon in Reagan's camp at least six weeks before the Iowa caucus vote.

ham's taken any strong stands, and suddenly he doesn't look as forceful and full of leadership as he used to look. As this course was being set, Reagan's national campaign chairman, Sen. Paul Laxalt (R-Nev.), alarmed at what was happening to the campaign team, told Reagan he would quit the campaign unless Reagan made a commitment not to fire the Californians still left on the campaign trail.

Killanin's Played Politics With Olympic Games Before

By JACK ANDERSON WASHINGTON—The sanctimonious stance taken by Lord Killanin, head of the International Olympic Committee, opposing President Carter's move to stymie the summer games in Moscow as politically motivated, smacks of sheer hypocrisy.

It is really a matter of hastening slowly. "Winded and dined at epicurean banquets during his stay in Peking, Killanin obliged his hosts by giving them a copy of the Taiwanese argument 'for your help if you want to make a counter reply'."

When a Japanese official accompanying Killanin urged the Chinese to accept training films made by international athletic federations into their sports libraries, Killanin heartily seconded the motion. It would, he said, be a good device to bring the IOC closer to hear on those federations which do not recognize China.

Computer Demonstration 'Brings Down the House'

MANCHESTER — A demonstration of the use of computers at the Monday night Board of Education meeting, "brought down the house" as one of the programs was booted.

The microcomputer, which looked like a television set, is the type the high school hopes to purchase for a math lab at the high school. Officials said the machine can be programmed for very complex courses, such as the advanced math taught in the high school.

In an effort to make the most effective use of the computer Miller will be leading a task force composed of professionals at the elementary, junior high school and high school levels to evaluate computer instruction. They will concentrate on studying the computer purchase proposal, since it is part of the referendum on high school renovations stated to come before the voters in November.

Nutritionist Develops School Menus

Guglielmo Joins Race

STAFFORD (UPI) — A Stafford insurance agent has joined the race for the Republican nomination for the 2nd Congressional District.

D. Anthony Guglielmo called for the traditional GOP goals of reduced government spending and for regaining "control of a government which has grown away from us" in making his candidacy official Tuesday.

"I want this job because I'm tired of sending letters to our Congress to collect their inheritance," said Guglielmo in an apparent reference to Rep. Christopher Dodd, who holds the 60-town 2nd District seat and is seeking the 1980 Democratic nomination for the Senate.

"What good is it to have a big name or Washington experience if a Congressman doesn't truly represent our views?" he said.

Guglielmo was responsible for convincing the National Football League last fall to dedicate the signing of the national anthem at its games to the American Embassy hostages in Iran.

Groton Attorney A. Searle Field is the only other GOP candidate and is considered the frontrunner for the nomination.

Ethics Unit To Discuss Two Charges of Conflict

MANCHESTER — The Ethics Commission will discuss two possible conflict-of-interest charges when it meets tomorrow night at the Municipal Building.

The commission will be asked to determine whether there is a conflict of interest between the collector for the Eighth Utilities District, Robert Faucher, and the directors of the Board of Directors should disqualify themselves on any efforts to permit or restrict the conversion of apartment buildings to condominiums in town.

The first item was submitted by Republican Town Director Carl Zinsner, who said the Republicans planned to reappoint Mrs. Sadowski to the board. He said the action has been tabled until the commission reaches a decision.

In the second request, Robert Faucher of 28 Church St. said the directors could be considering several housing-related proposals over the next two years.

It will also consider a request to determine if any real estate agent on the Board of Directors should disqualify themselves on any efforts to permit or restrict the conversion of apartment buildings to condominiums in town.

As Expected, Suit Filed Against Sewer Contract

MANCHESTER — As they had threatened to do, four residents of the Eighth Utilities District filed suit Tuesday to nullify a sewer agreement between the district, Manchester and South Windsor.

The suit, filed in Hartford's Superior Court by the Manchester firm of Beck and Pagano, contends the district's directors violated the charter by approving the three-party agreement without consulting the electorate.

The suit named District President Gordon Laisow, Clerk Helen Warrington and the six directors as defendants in the case. The District Board of Directors unanimously approved the pact last Nov. 20, nearly a month after the Town Board of Directors okayed it.

The agreement, which originally involved just Manchester and South Windsor, called for the transfer of sewage across each other's border rather than build pump stations to force it against gravity. Under the agreement, South Windsor would acquire 400,000 gallons per day from Manchester while the town is prepared to accept 183,000 gallons from its neighbor.

The district became a party to the agreement because it is the sewer authority in the area where South Windsor wants to send its effluent to Manchester.

The suit asks the pact be voided and that any new decision be made

Job Study Waits For Census Data

By MARTIN KEARNS
Herald Reporter

MANCHESTER — The Human Relations Committee decided unanimously Tuesday night to wait for the federal census data they hope will provide a minority profile that could be used to identify recruiting sources within the town. As a result, an earlier request that the Board of Education obtain minority information as part of its annual school census was withdrawn.

The town has experienced continued problems in recruiting minority applicants for municipal jobs. Carl Chaburn of the commission's affirmative action subcommittee said that minority data would enable the town to "determine if there is a potential recruiting source in Manchester."

Referring to the school census, Stephen Werber, town personnel supervisor, said, "The raw data (provided by the census) of the numbers of minorities within the community doesn't do much to help us. What we have to know are the locations to recruit in. It's the contacts within the community that's important."

The federal census will provide communities having more than 400 minorities with a profile broken down by age, income and location. Chaburn indicated that preliminary results of the federal census are expected by the end of the year.

The receding earlier request to the board, Frank Livingston said, "People would be less cooperative with someone local coming around part in waging, but Tirella was charged under a statute listing three bases for violations.

Prince Tech Upsets East

Like a rudderless ship steering endlessly, East Catholic seemed to be drifting in the night.

The Eagle quintet, without floor general Kyle Ayer for a second straight time, dropped its second in a row, 55-49, to Prince Tech in non-conference play last night in Hartford.

The Falcons edged towards the 500 level at 67 while the setback drops East to 10-1.

"Apparently we are missing Kyle," understated Eagle Coach Jim Penders, "but I don't know when he'll be back. The competitor he is, I know he'll be back sooner than some others but I don't want him in the line-up unless he's at least 90 percent. He's going to have to tell me he's ready."

East had a 15-4 edge after one quarter but Prince, behind balanced scoring, took a 28-21 halftime lead.

"They didn't pressure us," Penders stated, "we were very tentative on the offensive end of the court. There was no hall movement or moving into the gaps against the zone. There was no penetration to speak of."

The home club maintained its spread at 42-35 going into the closing eight minutes. "They (Prince) were very poised and patient. They took us out of our zone," Penders stated.

"We're not playing with any intensity on our zone," Penders added later, "We're going to have to start playing man. We're not playing as aggressively and only one man is rebounding. We're in a valley that's for sure and we're going from the frying pan into the fire. I hope we can right ourselves in the second half. He looked ahead towards the second half with arch-rival South Catholic at the University of Hartford."

Fred Davis had 17 points, Corey Scruse 12 and Tom Brown 10 to lead Prince. Bob Venora had 24 points in the rebounding department with 8 caroms. Prince outscored East, 24-17.

The Falcons had 15 turnovers compared to 9 for East. "It's obvious we miss Kyle although you don't want to say it's all because of one kid. But he's our quarterback. He's the chief and when you take him out all you have are Indians," Penders commented.

The victory moves Southington's overall mark to 12-2 while the setback sends Glastonbury to 6-9 for the campaign. Glastonbury's next outing is Friday night at home against South Windsor.

Southington led at every turn, 19-10, 42-34 and 57-49. It maintained its edge down the stretch, converting 16 of 21 shots in the final eight minutes, 33-for-44 from the 15-foot foul line.

"I wasn't pleased with the calling of the game," voiced Glastonbury Coach Jack LaPlante, "but I don't want to take anything away from Southington. It played very, very well and (Greg) Purdy had an excellent game. We played well but we committed too many fouls."

Glastonbury lost three players — Mike Clinton, Mike Stowell and D.J. Pateneau — on five personal fouls.

Purdy had 38 points to pace Southington while Rich Napoli chipped in with 21 markers. The pair combined for 29 points from the charity stripe.

Stowell had 15 points to top Glastonbury followed by Todd Profit (12), Clinton (12) and John Creyn (10).

Tribe on Top With Conard

Thirteen unanswered points decided a Conard rally as Manchester High took an 84-73 quarter-plague foul-infested CCL basketball tilt last night at Clarke Arena before a crowd of 322.

The clubs combined for 43 turnovers and 50 fouls, 33 on the visiting Chieftains, were whittled by the less-than-proficient arbiters. Three Conard players — John Maloney, Rich Swietek and Brian Dubiel — exited with five fouls and five others, on both sides, were a whisker away from taking an unwanted walk to the bench.

It seemed Manchester had slammed West, Conard led in the first half as it took a 45-29 advantage at the break, leading by as many as 20 points at one juncture. But the rally was led slightly ajar with Conard rebounding the first 11 markers of the third stanza to get quickly back into the affair.

"They used a lot of quickness which made us look bad," stated Indian Coach Doug Pearson, explaining the turnaround. "We got caught up in the pace when we should have cooled it. The second half they came out strong and we didn't adjust."

The Chieftains' fullcourt man pressure was finally halted at the 5:18 mark on a 12-foot pull-up jumper by Ed Kennison. The clubs exchanged hoops the remainder of the first canto, with the Silk Towners holding onto a 61-54 edge heading towards the final eight minutes.

After a Brian Sweeney hoop made it 61-54, Conard reeled off 5 unanswered points in a five second span as it temporarily owned the offensive glass.

But as quickly as the momentum belonged to Conard, it swung the other way. Pat Silver, who played a key role down the stretch, hit a driving layup to make it 62-62.

Sweeney converted two offensive rebounds into buckets, sandwiching those around two Silver charity tosses. Rich Koepsel hit a three-point play and Kennison a hoop before Mike Jones dropped in a bucket, ending Conard's four-minute drought.

Stowell had 15 points to top Glastonbury followed by Todd Profit (12), Clinton (12) and John Creyn (10).

Southington (17) — Purdy 11-16-38, Crean 9-11, O'Leary 1-2, Nappi 4-12-21, DePaolo 2-1-5, Pabst 2-0-4, Daly 2-3-7. Totals 52-37.

Southington Five Downs Glastonbury

Avengeing its first setback of the season, Southington High routed the tables and downed Glastonbury High, 76-60, in non-conference basketball action last night in Southington.

The Tomahawks had handed the Blue Devils their first setback of the campaign earlier in the year by a 57-51 count.

The victory moves Southington's overall mark to 12-2 while the setback sends Glastonbury to 6-9 for the campaign. Glastonbury's next outing is Friday night at home against South Windsor.

Southington led at every turn, 19-10, 42-34 and 57-49. It maintained its edge down the stretch, converting 16 of 21 shots in the final eight minutes, 33-for-44 from the 15-foot foul line.

Foul Shots Vital For Hornet Five

Hitting some key free throws down the stretch, East Hartford High snapped an eight-game losing streak with a 52-47 win over Wethersfield High in CCL basketball action last night in East Hartford.

The triumph improves the Hornets to 3-10 in the league, 4-11 overall, while the loss drops the Eagles to 2-11 in the CCL and overall.

The Hornets had a 16-14 lead at the first turn and 26-25 edge at the intermission. Wethersfield rebounded to take a 37-35 advantage after three periods.

East Hartford had a 45-41 lead with four minutes remaining. Tyler Jones connected on both ends of a one-and-one to make it 47-43 with 1:11 remaining.

After an Eagle bucket, Dan Pansdiscia converted both ends of a one-and-one for a 48-45 bulge with 40 seconds showing on the clock. Wethersfield's Leigh Stanton fouled Tim McCarthy and he argued too strenuously and was stopped with a technical as well.

McCarthy missed the front end but Jones canned the technical for a 50-45 reading with 20 seconds left. Pansdiscia made one-of-two throws, sandwiched around a Chris Krupis hoop, for the final score.

East Hartford had 15 points and Ken Campbell 12 to lead the Hornets. McCarthy and Mike Pansdiscia each had 5 rebounds for East Hartford.

Defense Highlight Of Girls' Victory

Rallying behind its defense, Manchester High girls' basketball team overcame a first-quarter deficit and trimmed Conard High, 46-39, in CCL play last night in West Hartford.

The contest was deadlocked with three-and-a-half minutes remaining when Jennifer Hedlund popped in two big buckets and Jackie Tucker added some jing from the charity stripe for the Silk Towners' sixth win in a row.

Manchester is now 12-2 in the league, 12-3 overall. It has a key encounter coming up Friday night when it travels to West Hartford again to face Hall High at 8 o'clock. The Warriors trail the Indians in the standings by one game at 11-3, including last night's 46-45 overtime decision over Penney.

Conard, 6-8 in the CCL and 7-8 overall, jumped to a 15-11 edge after one quarter. But the locals outscored the Chieftains in the second stanza, 16-8, to assume a 27-23 halftime bulge. The spread went to 37-31 after three quarters before Conard tied it, setting up Hedlund's heroics.

"Once again our defense won us a ballgame," stated Manchester Coach Steve Armstrong, "a lot of shots that

Shots Off Mark In Cheney Loss

Shooting poorly from the field, Cheney Tech couldn't overcome the deficiency and wound up on the short end of a 57-49 decision to Vinal Tech in CCL basketball action last night at the Beavers' gym.

The victory was the Hawks' third, two coming against Cheney, compared with 11 setbacks. Vinal is 5-9 in the CCL. The reversal drops Cheney into the cellar in the conference at 2-9. The Beavers are 3-9 overall with their next tilt Friday night at home against Bolton High.

It was deadlocked at 26-26 at the half with the Beavers outscoring Cheney, 12-5, at the outset of the third stanza. But Cheney's shooting from the field went stone cold while Vinal ran off 10 unanswered markers for a 42-30 lead after three periods.

Vinal had a 4-point spread going into the final minute and added to its edge from the charity stripe as Cheney was forced to foul.

"The difference in the game was we shot poorly from the field," cited Cheney Coach Phil Crockett, "noting his club was 22-for-46 (33 percent). "We rebounded better than we have in recent games and we had less turnovers than any other game this year," he added, looking at the positives.

Faney Suggests Trailer Use

EAST HARTFORD — Sen. Marcelle Fahey, D-East Hartford has introduced legislation for the creation of senior citizen mobile home parks using trailers that came into the state for this fall's tornado victims.

The trailers must be kept available for emergency use for two years, but after that the state can use them for other purposes, Sen. Fahey said.

Mrs. Fahey said the most appropriate way to use the over 50 trailers would be to make them available for senior citizen housing.

"The state could make them available to the town, or towns, that have an appropriate site and interested in this idea," Mrs. Fahey said. "The trailers would be used as temporary and comfortable trailer parks for the elderly could be developed."

Under existing state programs, money would be available for land acquisition and site development, she said.

However, Mayor George A. Dagon said Monday he is unaware of any legislation or the plan to use the mobile homes in such a way. He said the only trailer parks in town are privately owned.

Mrs. Fahey said the Rivermead and Colonial Trailer Parks in East Hartford as examples of appropriate trailer parks where senior citizen live.

"I know for a fact that there are two very nice trailer parks in town where a number of senior citizens live," Mrs. Fahey said.

Colonial offered an alternative to the typical high rise or apartment type senior citizen housing.

Mrs. Fahey said her bill would permit municipal housing authorities to apply to the state and receive, at the earliest date permitted by federal law at no cost, the mobile homes.

Gordie Howe NHL All-Star

MONTREAL (UPI) — Gordie Howe, the oldest player in the National Hockey League, heads the list of additional players selected to play for the Prince of Wales Conference All-Star team against the Clarence Campbell Conference Feb. 5, the league announced Wednesday.

Howe, 51, who played his first NHL game before 37 of those players selected for the 22nd All-Star Game in Detroit were born, was among eight additional players selected by Buffalo Sabres Coach Scotty Bowman for the Clarence Campbell Conference team.

The top 12 players for each team were selected last week. Joining Howe, who played in 22 All-Star games as a member of the Detroit Red Wings, will be defenseman Ron Stackhouse of the Pittsburgh Penguins and Reed Larson of Detroit, forward Danny Gare of Buffalo, Red Currier of the Quebec Nordiques, Montreal Canadiens Bob Gainey, Boston Bruin Jean Ratelle and Toronto Maple Leaf Darryl Sittler.

New York Islanders Coach Al Arbour, whose team won the Clarence Campbell Conference championship last year, rounded out his roster with defenseman Robert Picard of the Washington Capitals, Vancouver Canucks Larry Lindgren, and forwards Bernie Federko of the St. Louis Blues, New York Islander Mike Bossy, Rick MacLeish of the Philadelphia Flyers, Anders Hedberg

Dunlop Spoiled Goalie's Party

Blake Dunlop spoiled a party for the rookie goaltender Don Cutts and loved it. You see, Dunlop "We haven't had a lot of ice time so we just have to make the most of our chances when we get them."

Dunlop said Tuesday night after scoring one goal and assisting on two others to lead the St. Louis Blues to a 3-2 victory over the Edmonton Oilers.

"The game was an important one for the Oilers, who hope to gain a playoff berth, but they had to play it with rookie Don Cutts in goal. Regular goalie Ed Mio wreathed his ankle in practice and is sidelined indefinitely. Cutts played very well but the Oilers failed to protect him, permitting a pair of goals to break St. Louis capitalized on both.

"We gave the game away with those two breakaway goals," said Edmonton Coach Glen Sather. "That kind of thing shouldn't happen in pee-wee hockey let alone in the NHL."

"The same thing happened both times. The Oilers didn't back each other up. That's unacceptable. The Blues took a 1-0 lead when Dunlop broke away 2-30 into the game. Dunlop then assisted on a pair of goals by Ralph Klassen, who had scored only four goals in the team's first 49 games. Dunlop's heroic's spoiled the night for a former teammate.

"I played with him for a few games in Fort Worth (CHI) a couple of years ago," said Dunlop. "He made some good saves when he had to tonight. I don't think you can fault him for any of the three goals he scored. The best part of the game for blues Coach Red Berenson was that both skaters the fourth line.

"The line came off the bench and really showed they had an edge," Berenson said. "I don't know if they were a little more rested since they hadn't played as much or just had one of those good nights. They created their chances and they made

That is the unofficial breakdown so far for a boycott of the 1980 Summer Games in Moscow among the 143 nations accredited by the International Olympic Committee.

With the United States in the lead, the other nations that have sent troops withdraw from Afghanistan are Canada, Egypt, Norway, Bahrain, Morocco, Saudi Arabia and Chile.

While Canada is in the "for" list, a final decision may depend on the outcome of elections next month, which Prime Minister Joe Clark would be replaced by Liberal leader Pierre Trudeau, who may have different views.

The governments of Britain and Australia — two traditional allies — have announced they support a boycott, but their national Olympic committees maintain they will attend the games, while that decision. Both committees are inclined to attend the games.

Celtic Coach Claims Electrician Assisted

CHICAGO (UPI) — The official box score won't show it, but Boston Coach Bill Fitch said he thinks the electrician at the Chicago Stadium should receive an assist for the Celtic's 103-99 victory over the Chicago Bulls Tuesday night.

"You've got to take into consideration the tempo of this game. The electrician running the clock may have been a major factor," Fitch said. "It gave us a chance to rest and play closer to the way we played in the first quarter."

Fitch said the delay allowed the Celtics to regroup and Boston went on behind a 17-2 scoring spurt midway through the final quarter to post the victory.

"I was a little nervous and tense at the time of this game. The electrician running the clock may have been a major factor," Fitch said. "It gave us a chance to rest and play closer to the way we played in the first quarter."

Walton Little Nervous In Return to Action

By MARK FRIEDMAN LPI Sports Writer

There were no miracles and none were really expected. Actually, his mere presence was more than enough.

Nearly two years had passed since Bill Walton played in a regular-season basketball game. Two foot fractures forced the highest paid player in the NBA to become the highest paid spectator in the NBA.

Walton appeared Tuesday night after scoring eight points in 15 minutes during San Diego's 133-121 victory over Phoenix. "I got tired pretty early. I've got a way to go. But it's been a fantastic day and from now on it's going to get better."

Walton, who played without any sign of discomfort, lifted himself off the bench and entered the game with 1:44 left in the first quarter. When the evening was over, Walton had played 15 minutes, scored eight points, had four rebounds and one assist and committed five turnovers.

"The fans have been great and it's been a tough season for them as well as myself," Walton said. "But we're going on from here to the playoffs. Actually, I don't know if I will do wonders for the Clippers, a talented but erratic team."

"Walton is a difference maker," said San Diego Coach MacLeod. "He has the ability to make other players play better. He is a leader on the court. Tonight he had that effect. The more he plays, the better he'll become."

Walton had missed 138 straight games, dating back to the first round of the 1977-78 playoffs when he was with Portland. In that game, he broke a bone in his left ankle and re-injured it this season in the fourth exhibition game.

"The way Swen (Nater) was playing, there wasn't much need for me to play at all," said Walton. "He had one of his better games and I think my being back is going to make him a better player."

Nater swept down 21 rebounds and scored 17 points for the Clippers, who were paced by Lloyd Free's 32 and Freeman Williams' 27. Truck Robinson had 31 points for the Suns.

In other games, Atlanta defeated Washington 98-82, Golden State topped all scorers with 42 points. The second time the Cavs had been involved in a four-overtime game, the last one coming in a loss to Portland to end the 1974 season.

The Bulls, who led by 1 when the clock went out, still held an 89-85 advantage with 7:41 left in the game. Bird scored 12 in the first half but played in foul trouble during the final two quarters and managed only a late fourth quarter basket.

"The refs took my game away from me. There were a lot of fans from my home town that came up to see me. I thought some of the calls on me in the first half were questionable," Bird said.

Chicago Coach Jerry Sloan said he did not think the 20-minute clock delay was the reason his team lost. "I didn't hurt us in the first half but I would have lost anyway."

Sloan said, "I would have bet my life on us today considering the big crowd but I would have lost anyway."

Ump Pryor Works To Keep in Shape

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — Major-league baseball players next month and many already have begun their own conditioning program.

But they aren't going to rest on their laurels. Pryor is second in the National League in umpire seniority, getting ready to start his 19th year in the major leagues.

The first exhibition game of the season is our first actual working day," Pryor said as he sat in the office of the traveling bag company he runs. "The league wants you to be in good shape."

Syracuse Pair Big East Stars

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—Syracuse's famed senior duo, Roosevelt Bouie and Louis Orr, have been named the Big East co-players of the week for leading the national ranked Orange to three consecutive wins including an important 99-89 Conference decision over Connecticut.

The Bouie 'n Louis Show was in full swing last week as the 6-11 Bouie scored 73 points, grabbed 40 rebounds and hit on 30 of 46 field goal attempts while the 6-8 Orr scored 59 points and grabbed 22 rebounds, handed out 17 assists and hit on 26 of 38 shots.

In posting wins over Detroit, Rutgers and Connecticut, Syracuse's co-players turned in some eye-opening performances. In the victory over Connecticut, Bouie scored a career-high 29 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. While in the three-point row victory over Rutgers, Orr hit on 10 of 11 shots including all seven attempts in the second half as he scored 20 points.

Bouie and Orr in four years as starters have helped SU compile a 91-12 record and the win over Connecticut was the Orange's 54th straight success at home.

St. John's brilliant 6-4 freshman forward David Russell was named the Big East Rookie-of-the-week for the second time this year. Coming off the bench, Russell scored 31 points and grabbed 15 rebounds as he helped the Redmen earn the sport absolutely over Manhattan, Davidson and Villanova. Ski Jumpers Today Now Ride The Air

The biggest single attraction for the spectators at the 1980 Winter Olympics in Lake Placid next month will be the ski jump, and it's a good bet that a lot of those onlookers will be hoping to see a spectacular spill. Well, it's pretty certain that they won't.

Their arms out on either side, like swan divers. Today, that maneuver would cost the skier a medal.

Karl Mariltsch, the architect who designed the Lake Placid slopes, made this point to Popular Mechanics: "We now know that if a jumper keeps his skis separated by four or six inches, no air will flow through, and he will be carried by the entire area, from the outside of one ski to the other side of the other."

In the old days, the jumper who lost style skis tightly together lost style. There have been other changes. Skis, once made of 100 percent hickory, are now mostly plastic, with a wood core. Boots, once attached with loose laces to allow air currents to play with the skis, now come high in the back so that jumpers will be less likely to "sit down" on the run, allowing air to get under their skis. Helmets have been replaced with woolen ski caps.

What are the prospects for the U.S. team winning medals in the ski jump? Not very good, says Devlin. America has won just one ski jumping medal since the winter games began in 1921.

XIII OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES LAKE PLACID 1980

It's called Nordic Sking. It was the earliest form of winter sports in the Nordic countries. In fact, a Norwegian named, K. Thomsen, pioneered snow skiing in the United States during the gold rush days by carrying mail across the high Sierras.

Because the terrain in this sport is generally flatter than the Alpine skiing, observers are sometimes deluded on the demands it makes of its contestants. Great stamina, skill and balance are required.

News for Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN
Hi! First reminder is that on Monday, Feb. 4, we will register for our trip to the Boston Flower Show. The trip includes admission to the show and bus fare. You'll also spend some time at the Quincy Market and may eat lunch at one of the many restaurants there. The price for this trip is $14 per person. Sign-up will start around 6 on a first-come basis. The trip is scheduled for March 19.

Next bit of news is about our variety show. The tryouts are scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 10, from 2 to 4 here at our Senior Center. Everyone wishing to participate in the show must show for this meeting. We are always looking for new faces and hope that more of you will join us.

Remember if you sing in the shower or while at work, you'll be able to fit in an individual or a group. It's really lots of fun and is for a good cause as the monies from the show are used to help us keep our meal program as nominal as possible. So just down Feb. 10 to drop in and see what it is all about.

By the way, if you're not interested in being in the show we can use lots of helpers to do many odd jobs like making scenery, sewing costumes and helping on stage. Plan to drop in on the 10th and be part of our super variety show.

Lutherans Set $200,000 As 100th Birthday Goal

MANCHESTER — The annual meeting of the Emanuel Lutheran Church congregation, held Sunday, set a goal of $200,000 for a 100th anniversary thank offering. The church will start its observance of its 100th anniversary year on Palm Sunday, March 30.

The goal of $200,000 was approved with the stipulation that $100,000 be used for a new organ and the rest be distributed for various benevolences. The proposal was approved overwhelmingly after a lengthy discussion and it was agreed to have the church council appoint a task force to implement the three-year appeal.

Some 175 persons attended Sunday's meeting led by the Rev. Dale H. Gustafson, pastor of the church. Lea Goodwin, intern, led the opening devotions.

During the report of the council, under the Worship and Music Committee, it was noted that extensive research had been done concerning repairing the existing organ and also concerning buying a new organ.

The main thrust of the Evangelism Committee this year has been the Word and Witness program and 12 members are enrolled in a 150-hour course.

The Stewardship Committee reported that the Every Member Visitation resulted in a response of pledges for 1980 amounting to $150,000.

The Property Committee reported it arranged to have the parish building and the chapel re-shingled and through the efforts of volunteer labor, the parish house was painted.

An Energy Committee was formed during the year and is studying means of conserving power. The Housing Board reported that all apartments are rented and renovation work has been done on five of the 15.

The Mission and Ministry Committee reported it continues to carry on the tape ministry to shut-ins and convalescent homes so that they can hear the church services. One of the year's highlights for this committee was the sponsorship of a Laotian family which is now living in Manchester.

The Christian Education Committee continues to provide Sunday Church School for children of all ages, between services and Adult Forum and Bible Study classes.

Earl Anderson, treasurer, reported that the books closed with a balance and that nearly $30,000 was expended to benevolences from budgeted income. He said this figure doesn't include about $11,000 given in special offerings for Strength for Mission (an outreach program of Lutheran Church in America), World Hunger, food baskets, the Laotian Fund and such.

The council-approved budget of $174,069 for 1980 was approved by the congregation. This includes provision for an associate pastor, an intern, and part-time Christian education and youth directors.

During the meeting the Nominating Committee presented a state of officers, all of whom were elected. They were: Eva Benson, Lorraine Johnson, Charlotte Wilson, Laurie Gaskill, Audrey Ahlness, Keith Carriere, Charles Bodenman, William Malan Sr., Kent Carlson and Elaine Crockett, all to the Church Council.

Also: Judy Torstenson, Emanuel Scholarship Committee; Gerda Orr, the Augusta Bengtson Memorial Scholarship; Ruth I. Bengtson, Memorial Gifts; Ron Erickson, Elsie Huffield, and Beverly Fuss, Nominating Committee.

Rummage Sale

SOUTH WINDSOR — St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Sand Hill Road, will sponsor a rummage sale Feb. 9 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Also featured will be white elephant items. Coffee and doughnuts will be available. The snow date is Saturday, Feb. 16.

Lee Watkins and Herman Yules.

Elaine W. Mrosek, Gregory S. Wolff, Michael B. Lynch and Joel Janenda were named corporators; Robert B. McCann has been elected to the board of directors and John E. Whitham was elected to the bank's Eastern Advisory Board.

The newly elected bank officials were honored at the bank's 74th annual meeting at Manchester Country Club Monday night.

Mrs. Mrosek, a University of Connecticut Law school graduate, is chief clerk and deputy court administrator of Tolland Superior Court. She is the widow of John R. Mrosek, long-time director of the bank who became vice president last year. She is a member of the board of trustees, Manchester Memorial Hospital, is a director of the UConn Law School Alumni Association and is a member of the Tolland County and Connecticut Bar Associations.

Wolff holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Connecticut and is a partner in Wolf-Zackin and Associates insurance agency of Vernon. He is a member of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and served as chamber president in 1978-79. He was chairman of the 1977 Manchester Heart Fund drive and is a director of the March of Dimes Northern Chapter where he is chairman of the Century Walk event. He is a director of Hartford Life Underwriters, is a member of the Concordia Lutheran Church Council, serves on the program development committee of the Million Dollar Round Table and is an incorporator of Manchester Memorial Hospital. He also is president of the UConn Alumni Swimming Association.

Lynch has been president of Lynch Toyota-Pontiac for nine years. He is a Fordham University graduate, who has been an active leader in the United Way, serving as

Whitham Named To Bank Board

MANCHESTER — John E. Whitham of Bolton was elected to the Savings Bank of Manchester's Eastern Advisory Board at the Annual Meeting. Whitham replaces Leon Rivers who has moved to Bloomfield. The Eastern Advisory Board serves the bank's outlying branch towns of Bolton, Andover and Ashford. It is composed of community members in those towns who meet quarterly with SBM officials to keep abreast of the bank's programs and financial state. These board members serve as contact people and provide insights and input on the banking needs of their communities. The Savings Bank of Manchester has two other advisory boards — one each to serve the towns of East Hartford and South Windsor.

Whitham is the owner of John E. Whitham Nursery in Bolton, which he started in 1961 after serving three years with the Army in Germany. He is a graduate of Manchester High School, and received a bachelor of science degree in ornamental horticulture from the University of Connecticut, graduating with high honors.

New Director

MANCHESTER — Robert B. McCann, who has been elected to the board of directors of the Savings Bank of Manchester by the bank's corporators, is executive vice president, treasurer and secretary of Allied Printing Services, Inc. in Manchester. After graduating from Manchester High School he served with the U.S. Navy and entered Bentley

People/Food

GOOD OLD-FASHIONED FOOD FOR TODAY

Often the most nostalgic meals are the most enjoyable. We find a favorite food from childhood. Or, there's a fragrance from the kitchen that brings back pleasant memories. Perhaps it's something that you "just love." And very often these are foods that offer sound, balanced nutrition.

Savory Salmon Patties With Dilled Cream Pea Sauce is an old-fashioned supper idea that rates tops in flavor. For the economy-minded, this nutritious entree is kind to the budget as well, stretching a 15-1/2 ounce can of salmon to make 6 servings. Accompany with hearty, home-style fried potatoes and a crisp green salad. Canned cling peaches topping quick-mix gingerbread offer added flavor in a delectable dessert.

All time favorite peach and cottage cheese salad sets the pace for good nutrition as well as tradition in our salmon loaf menu. The salad is different, though, for low calorie spicy seasoning gives high flavor that is complemented by the refreshing peach slices. It all blends beautifully with a sprightly seasoned Mexican-Style Salmon Loaf — a delightful variation of another old favorite. The loaf is baked in a decorative ring mold, either conventionally or in a microwave oven and is wreathed in a colorful blend of corn and tomatoes. Convenient canned salmon is an excellent source of complete protein and other important nutrients, and there is no waste.

Here's to good old-fashioned food, prepared traditionally or with a new twist. Enjoy it and eat well!

SALMON PATTIES WITH DILLED CREAM PEA SAUCE

1 can (15-1/2 ounce) salmon
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped green onions
2 beaten eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons cooking oil

Drain and flake salmon, reserving liquid. Combine salmon with bread crumbs and green onions. Stir in beaten eggs, lemon juice and reserved salmon liquid. Form into 6 patties. Fry patties in oil over medium heat until lightly browned on both sides. Serve hot with sauce. Makes 6 patties.

DILLED CREAM PEA SAUCE

1 package (10 ounce) frozen peas
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dill weed
1 1/2 cups milk

Cook peas according to package directions; drain. In another saucepan, melt butter or margarine. Blend in flour, salt and dill weed. Gradually stir milk into saucepan. Cook over low heat, stir until thickened. Add peas to sauce; heat thoroughly. Makes about 2-1/2 cups sauce.

PEACH GINGER CREAM CAKES

1 can (29 ounce) cling peach halves
1/4 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons syrup from peaches
1 package (14 ounce) gingerbread mix
1 cup dairy sour cream

Drain peaches, reserving syrup. Combine butter, brown sugar, nuts and two tablespoons of syrup in saucepan. Heat until butter melts and mixture is smooth. Divide into eight or nine 6-ounce glass baking cups. Place 1 peach half, cut side down, in each cup. Prepare gingerbread according to package directions using sour cream in place of water. Batter will be stiff. Divide into individual baking cups. Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Let stand five minutes before inverting on dessert dishes. Makes 8 or 9 desserts.

MEXICAN-STYLE SALMON LOAF

1 can (15-1/2 ounce) salmon
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 1/2 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup shredded Jack cheese
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (4 ounce) diced green chilies, drained
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
3 eggs, slightly beaten
Milk
1 can (12 ounce) whole kernel corn with sweet peppers, drained
1/2 cup chopped fresh tomatoes
Parsley

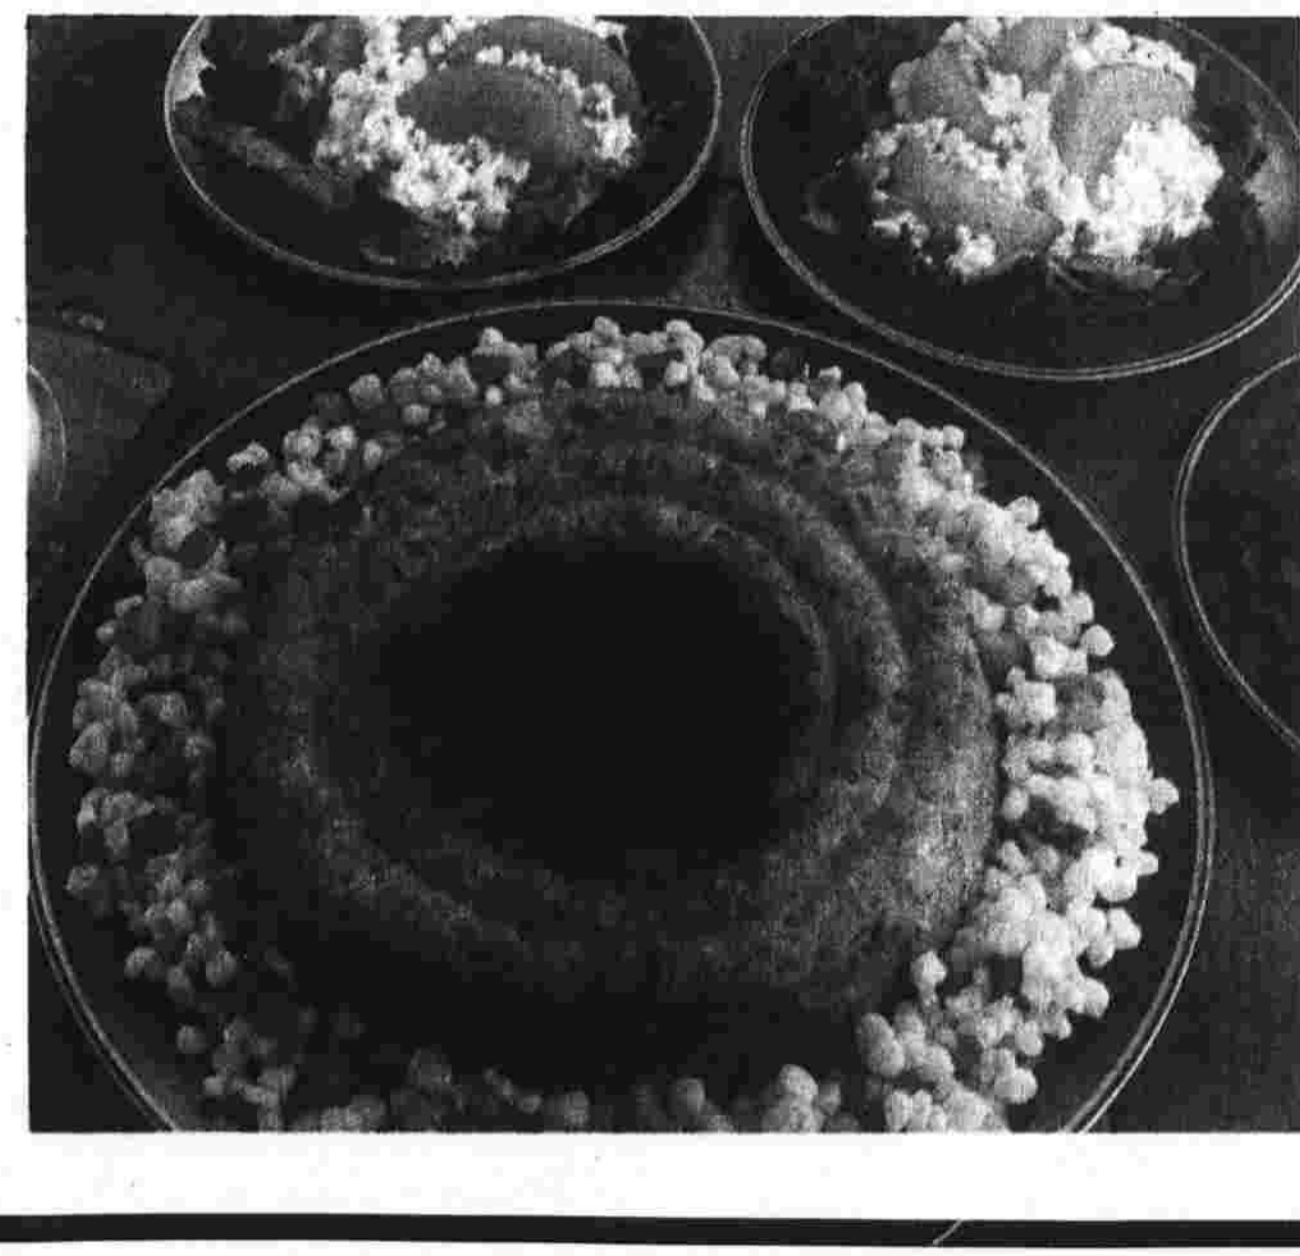

Microwave Method: Drain and flake salmon, reserving liquid. Combine with bread crumbs, rice, cheese, onion, green chilies, pimiento and eggs. Add milk to reserved salmon liquid to equal 3/4 cup. Stir into salmon mixture. Place in 1-1/2 quart microwave-safe ring mold or glass mixing bowl with a glass center. Microwave at HIGH 20 to 11 minutes, or until mixture starts to pull away from sides of dish. Rotate one quarter turn halfway through cooking time. Cover with wax paper and let stand 3 minutes. Combine corn and tomatoes in microwave-safe bowl. Cover with wax paper; microwave at HIGH 2-1/2 minutes or until hot. Invert ring onto serving plate. Surround with corn mixture; garnish center with parsley. Serve with taco sauce if desired. Makes 8 to 8 servings.

Conventional Method: Prepare salmon mixture same as for microwave version. Place in well-greased, oven-safe 1-1/2 quart ring mold. Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 25 to 40 minutes, until slightly brown on top and firm in center. Invert onto serving plate. Surround with heated corn and tomatoes; garnish center with parsley.

HOT 'N TANGY PEACH AND CHEESE SALADS

1 can (29 ounce) cling peach slices
1 pint cottage cheese
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
Dash hot pepper sauce
Lettuce leaves

Drain peaches. Combine cottage cheese, green pepper and seasonings. Place cottage cheese mixture on 6 lettuce-lined plates. Arrange peach slices over cottage cheese. Makes 6 dinner salads or 4 main dish salads.

Pedaling for Exercise

Dear Consumer Reports — I'm looking for an exercise bicycle and have come across some models that work by simple pedal action and others that combine pedal action with motion of the seats and handlebars. Which type is best?

Dear Reader — In our 1977 report on these devices, we preferred the single-action models, because they were equipped with controls to adjust pedal effort. Such adjustment is important to those who want to promote cardiovascular enhancement — a "training effect" that's said to improve your body's blood-carrying capability. Such training requires you to expend significant amounts of energy.

The tested multiple-action models — such as those with moving seats and handlebars — didn't have adequate pedal-effort adjustments, making them useless for someone who wants the training effect. The multiple-action devices were only promoted for use in building up legs, arms, shoulders and chest. Actually, the tested models were generally only good for gentle limbering or warming-up.

No matter what your reason for exercising, first discuss your program with your doctor.

Dear Consumer Reports — The transmission on my 1978 Oldsmobile has been giving me constant problems, and I suspect it may be one of the troublesome model "200" transmissions. How can I find out if it is — without

Pears With Rice

Interest in vegetarianism and avoidance of such foods as beef—and, in some cases, all meats, fish and poultry—has created a new world of cookery.

Many non-vegetarians are adding vegetarian dishes to their menus because of their pleasing combinations of ingredients and flavors.

This vegetarian pear rice, for example, can make a side dish or a complete meal.

Serve with one of the new tea blends and perhaps some pita bread or sesame crackers. You will finish the meal feeling comfortably full.

Vegetarian Pear Rice

1 cup raw brown rice
2 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 cup thinly sliced carrot
1/2 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
1/2 teaspoon herb pepper seasoning

2 medium-size fresh California Bartlett pears
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Cook rice as package directs.

Meanwhile, prepare vegetables. Measure butter and seasonings. Pare, core and dice pears to measure 1 1/2 cups.

When rice is cooked, saute cabbage, carrot, celery and onion in butter until tender-crisp, about 3 minutes. Stir in seasonings.

Add hot cooked rice (should measure about 3 cups). Mix lightly. Add pears and parsley.

Cover. Cook over very low heat about 5 minutes, until thoroughly heated. Serve at once.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings or 5 cups.

Singapore, the independent city-state with a population of nearly two million off the southern tip of Malaysia, was a prosperous trade center in the 13th century. It dwindled as a fishing village of about 250 inhabitants until Britain's Sir Stamford Raffles bought it from the Sultan of Johore in 1819 and revived it as an international free port.

Woman's World

A Book for Men Who Don't Know Everything

All American men, believe it or not, do not know an overly large amount about birds and bees, contraception, abortion, physical health, fathering, rape, aging and assorted related topics. And their reputation as great lovers and lovers who triumph over all may even be undeserved.

And many women who see things only from their point of view may be surprised to learn there are males well as female "shrinking violets, male wall flowers, and males who rate a dunce's cap in affairs of the heart.

There also are men who love men and need to know more about men loving men.

Sam July, who makes those points, tries to help all men, in general, and some in particular. He takes apart stereotypes and strips away macho sex-role trappings in a book all about men's bodies and, interestingly, "men's spirits."

The words "bodies" and "spirits" in his title may remind you of the title of "Our Bodies, Ourselves," the women's liberation movement book from the Boston Women's Health Book Collective.

It's supposed to July said he's attempted with his book, "Men's Bodies, Men's Selves" (Dell, $9.95) to do for males somewhat like what the Collective did for females.

Asked if by using the title he's not ripping off the women's health collective book, July replied: "In no way do I see this as a ripoff. I feel I am adding another dimension, the dimension of men, to this new kind of literature that tells people about their minds, bodies and behavior."

"Thanks must go to the Boston Women's Health Collective, who wrote 'Our Bodies, Ourselves.' I have never met any of them, but I felt their presence while I was at work on this book."

"Tip to this decade that type of information — in 'Our Bodies, Ourselves' — was in the hands of doctors and other professionals not eager or happy to share it."

From a mission point of view, July said he feels it is time for men to understand what is behind male activity and behavior.

"The whole question of masculinity has not been broached until now," he said.

"We men need to take a good look at ourselves. There are reasons we die 40 years ahead of women. Many of us are not happy in the space that we are in, and we do not know why."

July, a figure in the national men's movement, previously wrote "MSM": Male Sexual Performance. He said it, too, contributed knowledge to men who wanted to know more about themselves.

"As men became interested in the women's movement," he said, "they started being very jealous. And they began to transpire in their minds what women were saying about women and their bodies and other things," he said.

"My hope is that this book, at the very least, will make anyone who reads it more aware of the roles men are forced to play, and, at the very most, inspire them to make changes."

"I sense we are at a point in history when more and more men are realizing that our culture has reduced the broad path on which our lives should travel to a catwalk lined with rules and roles of approved masculine behavior."

July, who earned a master's in social work at the State University of

Make Pasta Dishes

Pasta lovers with microwave units now can prepare spaghetti with a rich cheese-pesto sauce using their microwaves efficiently.

Another tasty pasta dish, which features pesto and Muenster, can also be baked in the microwave or in a conventional oven.

Serve either dish with a special salad, perhaps prepared with the aid of your food processor.

Spaghetti with Spinach-Cheese Pesto Sauce

Gradually add spaghetti and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, wash and drain spinach. In food processor with cutting blade, process spinach until chopped.

Turn into microwave-proof dish. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave 1 1/2 minutes.

Replace blade with grating disc. Grate cheese. Toss piping hot spaghetti with cheese and spinach.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Conventional method: Finely chop spinach with knife. Heat in saucepan. Grate cheese with hand grater. Combine ingredients and toss.

Pesto and Muenster Noodle Bake

8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)

1 tablespoon salt

3 quarts boiling water

8 ounces Muenster cheese

1 (10-ounce) package frozen peas, cooked according to package directions

Vegetable cooking spray

Gradually add noodles and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, grate cheese in food processor with grating disc.

Coat inside of 2-quart microwave-proof casserole with vegetable cooking spray according to directions.

Combine macaroni, 1/4 cups cheese and peas in casserole. Mix well. Sprinkle top with remaining cheese.

Cover and microwave 7 minutes or until hot.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

Conventional method: Grate cheese using hand grater. Proceed as above. Bake in 350-degree oven for 20 minutes.

8 ounces spaghetti

1 tablespoon salt (or lemon juice)

3 quarts boiling water

1/2 pound spinach

7 ounces Gouda cheese

Mushroom Casserole For Midwinter Meals

Nutritious, one-dish meals are a boon to busy cooks on winter evenings. Often they can be partially or completely prepared ahead of time, then baked briefly before serving. This Mushroom Spinach and Rice Casserole is a winner on all counts. It's easy on the calories and beautifully nutritious. And the mushrooms give it a hearty quality and "meaty" flavor, as well as a feeling of elegance.

MUSHROOM SPINACH AND RICE CASSEROLE

1 pound fresh mushrooms

4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided

2-3/4 cups slightly undercooked brown rice (3/4 cup uncooked)

1/2 pound fresh spinach, coarsely chopped

1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

4 eggs, lightly beaten

3/4 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper

1/4 cup soft bread crumbs

Grease a 9-inch pie pan. Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (makes about 5-1/2 cups). In a large skillet melt 2 tablespoons of the butter. Add mushrooms, saute until golden, 5 minutes, set aside. Preheat oven to 350 F. In a large bowl combine rice, spinach, cheese, eggs, salt, black pepper and reserved mushrooms thoroughly. Spoon into prepared pan. In a small saucepan melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter; add bread crumbs; mix well. Sprinkle over mushroom and spinach mixture. Bake, uncovered, until firm, about 30 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve as a main dish. Yield: 4 to 6 portions.

Valentine's Day Treats From Your Kitchen

"All you need is love," says the song, but on Valentine's Day it helps to have a sweet treat to give to your Valentine. This year, try your hand at baking Valentine's Day cookies—but don't get out the rolling pin just yet.

To save time, streamline your cookie baking so all that is left is the fun part. The refrigerated dough section of your supermarket offers a selection of convenient refrigerated dough and bake cookie slices from Pillsbury, which opens up a wide range of Valentine's Day possibilities. For instance, make rectangular "love letters" out of the sugar cookie or chocolate chip cookie dough, then decorate with tinted frosting and candy decorations. Individualize them with names or special messages. "Mail" your love letters to your Valentine's Day dinner.

If you turn to gala desserts, create Pink Peppermint Pie with just three ingredients: The scalloped-edge piecrust is made with slices of versatile sugar cookie dough. After it is baked and cooled, fill the crust with softened peppermint ice cream and refreeze. The basic sugar cookie piecrust can be used year-round with any flavor ice cream. Try pistachio ice cream for St. Patrick's Day, or peach for a summer party. To add the Valentine's Day touch to the Peppermint Pie, decorate with whipped cream and heart-shaped sugar cookie cut-outs. Make the pie several days before serving.

Have you read any good labels lately? Here's why Aunt Millie's is a best seller.

What we put in a jar of Aunt Millie's 100% natural sauce, we put on the label. Not merely to satisfy the law, but because you want to know what's in the foods you feed your family. So our label may get you to buy your first jar of Aunt Millie's. But the taste is what'll send you back for another. The fresh, good taste of 100% natural, wholesome ingredients. If you're serving pasta more these days, why not enjoy it more? We make Aunt Millie's the way you would, if you had the time. And we think it tastes good enough to call your own.

Water is used to reconstitute the tomato paste that's the base for all spaghetti sauces. Aunt Millie's is one of the few sauces with tomatoes in addition. Most sauces use vegetable or soybean oils. We use only peanut and olive oils. Instead of a catch-all like "flavorings" or "spices," we specifically list every spice we use—so there is no mystery. Because Aunt Millie's is slowly simmered, we don't need to add sugar or starches to sweeten and thicken the sauce. We let nature... and time... take care of that.

AUNT MILLIE'S IS 100% NATURAL. WE THINK IT TASTES GOOD ENOUGH TO CALL YOUR OWN AND THAT'S DELICIOUS!

Aunt Millie's REAL ITALIAN STYLE SPAGHETTI SAUCE MEATLESS

100% NATURAL NO ADDED SUGAR, NO STARCHES NO PRESERVATIVES

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY FOOD PRODUCT... READ THE INGREDIENT LINES ON THE LABEL... (and between them!)

(Regulations require that ingredients be listed in order of quantity by volume.)

As a thank-you bonus, we'll also send you a coupon worth 10¢ on Kosciuszko Mustard—another quality product from Aunt Millie's.

Supermarket Shopper

'Help! My Bank Wouldn't Cash a 7 Month-Old Refund Check

By MARTIN SLOANE
Dear Supermarket Shopper - As both a consumer and an editor of a newspaper that publishes your column concerned about a recent problem I encountered with a refund offer.

The offer was a $1 refund for trying Pond's Cream and Cocoa Butter Lotion and Tropical Bath Beads.

In August I sent the required proofs of purchase to the address indicated on the refund form. Later in November I received a printed check for $1, dated April 1, 1979, pay to the order of bearer, drawn on the First Hawaiian Bank in Honolulu and signed by Don Ho.

I attempted to cash the check a few days later, but my local bank refused, saying it was more than six months old.

The return address on the envelope in which the check came was Don Ho at a post-office box in Jefferson City, Mo. (Don certainly seems to get around.) I definitely feel I am entitled to this refund, but I hate to spend additional postage chasing after it.

What should be done in a case like this? I don't think I am the only one encountering problems like this - Marilyn?

Dear Marilyn - I don't think that writing to Don Ho in Missouri will get you anything more than a song and dance.

The clearing houses that process refunds for manufacturers are not particularly concerned with consumer relations and are seldom responsive to problems like yours. Some of them hate to admit they are wrong.

The best way for you to obtain satisfaction is to write directly to the consumer-relations department at Chesebrough-Pond's, Inc., Greenwich, Conn. 06830. This is the address found on its product labels.

Last week a store near me offered Taster's Choice Coffee at 75 cents off the regular price.

In addition, the store gives a 5 percent off on any shop on Monday. And I used a 40-cent-off coupon when I bought the coffee.

In the Wednesday newspaper I found a refund offer of $1.50 from Taster's Choice in return for two inner seals. I save inner seals from all coffee jars. I had the two proofs from the store.

By shopping this way, I occasionally find the store is actually paying me to take the product home - C.B., Columbus, Ohio.

Dear C.B. - If we put my Sara Lee triple-play discount together with yours from Taster's Choice, we can both enjoy coffee and cake on the super!

Dear Supermarket Shopper - Animal shelters often welcome cash-off coupons and refund forms for pet food and pet products to help them defray some of their expenses.

Coupon clippers should call their local shelter to ask if this help is needed. Romney C. from West Virginia.

Dear Romney - I hope readers who don't have room in their homes for these animals will find room in their hearts to offer the shelters their unwanted coupons for pet food and pet products.

Write to me in care of United Feature Syndicate, Inc., 200 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017. Volume of mail prohibits personal replies, but letters of general interest will be published in future columns.

Don't Overlook Barley

As a food, barley is much overlooked in North America although it was an important part of our early settlers' diets.

It has since become more famous as a major ingredient in malt liquors and spirits.

Yet, barley is essential to the diets of those who live in India and Tibet, is second only to rice in Japan and is a leading ingredient of the filling, economical dishes of the Baltic countries.

A hearty soup makes an easy way to work barley into your menu. This one has added flavored from apples and curry powder.

Serve with homemade bread and a mixed green salad.

SAVORY SOUP
4 cups water
2 (10-ounce) cans condensed chicken broth
2 cups chopped cooked chicken
1 cup carrot slices
1 cup celery slices
1 cup coarsely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced

Add apple. Simmer about 15 minutes or until barley is tender.

NOTE: To substitute quick barley for regular barley, add 1/4 cup quick barley with apples. Proceed as recipe directs.

Old-Fashioned barley soup finds a new place in these times of tight money.

1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 medium apples, chopped (about 2 cups)
Combine all ingredients except apples in 4-quart Dutch oven. Cover. Simmer about 45 minutes.

Meat Outlook for '80

What do the experts predict about meat prices in 1980?

The answers are iffy. The Agriculture Department reports that near-record supplies of red meat will be available in 1980. It is expected that food prices overall will go up from 7 percent to 11 percent this year. Meat prices, the department hopes, will not rise more than 4 percent to 6 percent.

The prediction is that pork prices will not go up by more than 2 percent in 1980 thanks to unusually high production.

That is the general picture today. But the department's report is well-larded with words like "maybe," "hope" and "is expected."

We consulted Jeanne Paris, director of consumer services for Swift and Co., on how to control family meat costs.

"If your family insists on beef," she advises, "you should buy sub-primal cuts for economy. These are boneless cuts that are vacuum-packaged in the processing plants and shipped in cartons to the retailers."

She classifies the following cuts as "sub-primal": rib eye, chuck shoulder, chuck roll, brisket, top sirloin butt, round sirloin tip, the goose-neck (consisting of the bottom round, the eye of the round and the tripe), top round and beef loin or strip.

Some of these cuts are not available in all markets. Those advertised most often include top and bottom beef round, rib eye, chuck roll and loin strips.
