DEAR ABBY: Quite often I read in your column what I call "the other woman lament." I understand her position, but from where I stand, I think her position is most

I'm a respectable married woman but would almost welcome being "the other woman." If I were "the other woman," my lover would probably remember me on my birthday and special holidays. My husband does not. My lover would probably compliment me from time to time. My husband does not—even though I am considered an availant cook and households. excellent cook and housekeeper, attractive, and weigh within 3 pounds of what I weighed when he married me. My sex life would probably be much improved, as my husband seldom wants sex, and when he does, he satisfies only himself. My lover might even tell me he loves me occasion ly. My husband never does. The respectability and security of marriage are importabut they're not enough. In the next life (if there is one), I want to be "the other woman."

DEAR ABBY: May I give your readers the benefit of my very valuable experience? I address this to "the other man," who is in love with a married man: Never expect to see him on Sundays or holidays.

ENVIOUS

Don't ever expect him to take you out in public, but be prepared to entertain him at your place. He may bring a bottle or the steaks occasionally, but in actual dollars ar cents you will spend more on him than he'll spend on you. Never depend on him in times of personal crisis. Don't believe him when he tells you his wife is a shrew. cold, homely, too fat (or too thin) and he hasn't slept wit

Don't ever expect his wife to divorce him - even if she catches him. She knows you are not his first and won't be his last. Also, she is not about to give up her social status. financial security and retirement income because of you. However, her discovery will probably terminate his affair with you, so be prepared to get some new clothes, circulate and find another married man whose wife is a shrew, cold nomely, too fat (or too thin) and hasn't slept with him for 10 years. Sign me ...

DEAR ABBY: I am another one who lives in New Mexico and has been mistaken for a foreigner. I mailed a check to National Geographic magazine for the renewel of my subscription and received the following letter: "We are sorry to inform you that the amount of your check loes not cover a subscription to a foreign country."

I turned the letter over and wrote on the back I have placed a stop-payment order at my bank for the check to renew my subscription. I did not realize National Geographic was not published in the United States of America. I do not wish to subscribe to a foreign publi

Many new friends are likely to enter your life this coming year. Chances are you will be very popular with several groups which have totally unrelated interests.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're unattached; an opportunity may present itself today that will give you's chance to spend time with someone to whom you're hitselfed. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Your leadership qualities are very pronounced today. Others are willing to follow you because you inspire them by setting the proper example. Find out more of what lies shead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Box 489. Redio City Station: N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jen. 19)
That which you attempt to do today you will do well. Others will not be envious of your accomplishments, because you'll find ways to involve them.

AQUARSUS (Jen. 20-Feb. 19)
Friends mean a lot to you, as you do to them. One of the reasons you have so many is because, as you demonstrate today, you are you demonstrate today, you are loyal.

PICSES (Feb. 20-March 20)
