Mrs. Grasso still serious

HARTFORD (UPI) - Former Gov. Ella Grasso, fighting liver and intestinal cancer, has continued to rely on intravenous feedings for most of her nourishment, a Hartford Hospital spokesman says.

Mrs. Grasso remained in serious condition but a fever she developed late last week from urinary infection had not recurred, spokesman James Battaglio said Monday.

He said the former governor was taking about 1,000 calories a day, almost all of it intravenously, and she has begun to eat an ice cream type substance, which will be Battaglio said Mrs. Grasso experienced a slight im-

Why pay us to help you get into shape when you could do it by yourself?

Getting into shape isn't simply a matter of random exercise. If it were, you wouldn't need the expertise that European Health Spas has to offer. All you'd need is a set of weights to lift. Or somewhere to stand and run in place. Getting into better shape is more than that. It's a matter of knowing what to do, how to do it.

WE KNOW HOW TO KEEP YOU INTERESTED.

and when.

Anyone who has tried to get into shape knows the trouble with a lot of conditioning regimens. They're boring.

You may start out with the best intentions in the world. But after a few weeks the novelty wears off. And you're left with the drudgery. The problem isn't so much getting started. But having a program of your own that keeps you interested long enough to do you some real good.

OUR EXPERTISE IS WITH PEOPLE NOT JUST WITH BODIES

The fitness experts who designed our exercise programs made them inherently selfmotivating. They're fast-moving and varied. So you'll look forward to your next workout. Not just during the first few weeks, but through every step of your progress. And while you can take our program as far as you want, our approach is non-competitive. So no matter what your fitness goals may be, you'll never have to worry about keeping up with someone half your age or twice your strength.

YOU'LL GET A LOT OF ATTENTION.

Our staff will give you the kind of personal attention you need to achieve your goals. One-on-one instruction. From trained experts, yourself. Quite the opposite.

who understand what they're doing and care about doing it well. To begin with, we'll make sure that the goals you set are sensible and realistic. And as you improve, your program will be modified. So you'll always be making progress.

YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR.

When you pay someone to help you get into shape, you've got every reason to expect results. We make sure you get them.

With our advanced conditioning techniques, you'll notice results far sooner than you're likely to get on your own. Real results. That you can actually measure and keep track of.

It isn't that we make you work harder than you would by Instead, we make sure you work out correctly. So you'll make the maximum progress. With a minimum of guesswork, overwork and wasted energy.

WORKOUTS THAT AREN'T ALL WORK

ONE LAST THOUGHT.

When you consider all of the benefits that we've discussed so far. it may seem like we've already given you plenty of reasons for joining our fitness club.

And we could end this ad here. But there's one additional benefit that we at European Health Spas would like you to consider.

And that's the way you'll feel about yourself once you actually do get into better shape.

After all, isn't that the most important benefit any fitness club has to offer?

Manchester — A City of Village Charm

HARTFORD- Secretary of the State Barbara Kennelly has issued a reminder to state and local government agencies, cautioning them against holding regular meetings Thursday, Martin Luther King Day.

In 1976 Jan. 15 was designated a legal state holiday to honor civil rights leader Martin Luther King. As on other holidays, regular meetings which would fall on the date must be held on the next business day, this year on Friday, Jan. 16th. This is a mandatory provision of the

Q. How do you feel about basketball players dribbling behind their backs or between their legs? Is this a legitimate maneuver or are they just hot-dogging it? — G.N., Springfield, Mass.

The purists among coaches, such as John Wooden of UCLA, have long frowned on such showboat plays. But attitudes have changed in recent years. The first player I remember using it effectively was Bob Davies of Seton Hall and the Rochester Royals in the early days of the NBA. Then Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics shuffled the ball behind his back with spectacular results. The control of the dribble has become so sophistilar results. The control of the dribble has become so sophisticated that to get rid of a pressing defender, coaches no longer look askance at behind-the-back dribbling. Anything that

Q. They used to downgrade Otto Graham as an all-time quarterback because all during his career with the Cleveland Browns, Paul Brown sent in the plays. With the same thing bring does for such moders quarterbacks as Roger Stasbach of the Dullas Cowboys and almost half the teams in pro football, is that still a valid argument? — D.K., Cleveland.

i never thought it was. In almost any offensive system, the quarterback has the option of checking off at the line of scrimmage if he doesn't like what he sees in the defensive alignment. And Graham exercised that right throughout his alignment. And Graham exercised that right throughout his career. Game plans are so detailed and sophisticated that most coaches and quarterbacks are in agreement about basic calls. The important element in the cerebrations of a quarterback is recognition — reading the field as it opens up before him, picking up the coverage and hitting the right man. The coach can't do that for him

You better come down from your Rip Van Winkle hibernation in the Catskills. The figures you mention belong a decade ago. Multiply them at least by five, and you get an idea of the salaries paid the players you mentioned. I can't even think of a ballplayer who makes a piddling $45,000 a year.

Q. Do you think the accusations are true that Dick Vermell works the Philadelphia Eagles too hard and that's why they slump during the last part of the pro football season? — D.N., Philadelphia, Pa.

That's an accusation 1 hear with some frequency. Vermeil does drive his team hard and he is sensitive on the issue, claiming they have an obligation to respond to the driving tactics. One recently retired Eagle, lineman Wade Keys, affirms that the players do get sluggish because they're tired from the long, rigorous campaign. Practice sessions for the Eagles last more than three hours, far longer than those of other teams. But my feeling is that the Eagles are more vulnerable at this stage of the season because they lack depth at some key positions.

Q. What did you think of the Duran-Leonard flasco in New Orleans? Would you favor a third fight? — R.T., Houms, La.

I believe that Duran, who doesn't speak English and is not really aware of American mores, didn't anticipate the brounaha that would result from his sudden decision to quit in prounants that would result from his sudden decision to quit in the eighth round. He was exasperated and frustrated with Leonard's ring strategy and didn't see any point in playing the bull to Sugar Ray's cape. Forget the part about him being hurt. What his defection really points up is the arrogance and insensitivity of a man who takes $10 million and ignores public reaction. The late Sonny Liston a few years back was like that, too. From my point of view, Duran, great as he was during his career, forfeited the right to get in the ring again. Let him take the money and run.

Q. Has Dave Winfield, who's getting more than $1 million a year to play the outfield for the New York Yankees, ever batted more than 300 in a season or driven in more than 100 runs? Who was the highest paid player before him? - D.C., Circumati.

Winfield batted .308 in each of the 1978 and 1979 seasons with the San Diego Padres. In '79, he exceeded 100 RBI's for the only time in his eight-year major league career, with 118.
Until he got his whopping $13 million contract for 10 years, the top banana was Nolan Ryan when he signed with the Houston Astros for $1.25 million annually for four years.

Parting shot:

There was one key deficiency in that noble experiment by Don Ohlmeyer and NBC Sports to telecast a pro football game without announcers on the scene: lack of company (and accompanying noise) for the viewer. It's all right to simulate being in a stadium without the raucous intrusion of nonsensical announcers. But how do you simulate having other rooters all around you as you watch the game? I guess it all depends on how big your living room is.

Please send all sports questions to Murray Olderman, Suite 271, World Trade Center, San Francisco, Calif. 94111. Because of the volume of mail, there will be no individual responses.

Q. Did Willie Randolph and Ron Guidry of the New York Yankees make more than $45,000 this past baseball senson? A friend of mine also claims that Rich Gosange didn't make more than $100,000. What's the answer? — Rusty Lewis, Emperium, Pa. lessons in defeat

Among the lessons learned this year was that it is best to win your division. Even though Oakland made it to the Super Bowl as a wild card entry, it is a tough path to travel.
"Getting up for three games in a row is hard to do," said Landry afterwards. And the Cowboys would not have

Their upset setback at the hands of the New York Giants haunted them for the rest of the year because it put the Cowboys at a disadvantge in the tiebreak department. They learned the lesson that against downtrodden divisional foes, don't take anything

DEAR DICK: What has happened to all the lovely brunettes and auburn-haired weinen who used to grace our TV viewing? So many blundes we see these days look much silke, not natu-ral or pleasing to one's eye. BLANCHE MJILDE, Astoria, Ore. You look at what you like to look at and leave the blondes to You look at what you like to look at and leave the blondes to us. My eye seems to be pleased to view Loni Anderson and Suzanne Somers. But I think you'll find plenty of dark-haired ladies around, too. What about Victoria Principal of "Dallas" or Stefanie Powers of "Hart to Hart" or Marilu Henner of "Taxi" or Jaclyn Smith of "Charlie's Angels"? I would guess that an objective survey would indicate plenty of equal time for brunettes.

DEAR DICK: About two years ago, I read an article where Jerry Lewis was supposed to visit a retirement home. When he arrived, he insulted the people and one old lady had a box of candy for him and he pushed her aside. She was in tears. My Arthur Forrest, his associate, says it doesn't sound like Lewis. He is, Forrest says, generally particularly pleasant to older people. Forrest's theory is that this is just another story made up by the Lewis-haters, of which there are many. I find no story such as you recount, which is not to say that it is untrue. I just can't find it.

BOSTON (UPI) — The Coast Guard has dragged out everything but the old oaken bucket to keep shipping lanes up and down the New England Coast free of ice in record-breaking cold weather.

Ten boats with Ten boats with icebreaking bows, ranging from a 110-foot tug to 180-foot buoy tenders have classified as icebreakers.

Been plying the coast for several weeks now, clearing pathways through ice ranging from 12 inches in Boston to three feet off Nantucket.

"We have everything out we have," said Capt. Clyde Robbins, the Coast Guard's been seeking since 1976.

That's one of the problems."

All the boats were designed primarily for other duties. The Coast Guard hopes future budgets will allow for 140-foot icebreakers it has been seeking since 1976.

The boats are concentrating on lanes used by foel tankers.

OFFER EXPIRES NOON JANUARY 30th, 1981

DEAR READERS: This is well worth repeating. I want to recommend one of my favorite books filled with excellent advice on raising children. Mine are raised, but if you are still struggling to raise yours, get "Parenthood Without Hasales — Well, Almost," by Dr. Kevin Leman (Harvest House Publishers, Irvine, Calif. 92714). The following treasure is from that book:

CHILD'S TEN COMMANDMENTS TO PARENTS 1. My hands are small; please don't expect per-fection whenever I make a bed, draw a picture or throw a ball. My legs are short; please slow down so 2. My eyes have not seen the world as yours have please let me explore safely. Don't restrict me

3. Housework will always be there. I'm only little

3. Housework will always be there. I'm only little for a short time — please take time to explain things to me about this wonderful world, and do so willingly.

4. My feelings are tender; please be sensitive to my needs; don't nag me all day long. (You wouldn't want to be nagged for your inquisitiveness.) Treat me as you would like to be treated.

5. I am a special gift from God; please treasure me as God intended you to do, holding me accountable for my actions, giving me guidelines to live by, and disciplining me in a loving manner.

6. I need your encouragement to grow. Please go easy on the criticism; remember, you can criticize the things I do without criticizing me.

7. Please give me the freedom to make decisions concerning myself. Permit me to fail, so that I can learn from my mistakes. Then someday I'll be prepared to make the kind of decisions life requires of me.

8. Please don't do things over for me. Somehou that makes me feel that my efforts didn't quite measure up to your expectations. I know it's hard, but

9. Please don't be afraid to leave for a weekend together. Kids need vacations from parents, just as parents need vacations from kids. Besides, it's a 10. Please take me to Sunday school and church regularly, setting a good example for me to follow. I enjoy learning more about God.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding your answer to CURIOUS IN GEORGIA concerning the question of Ronald Reagan's hair — does he or doesn't he dye it: My father, Vince Cicone, was Mr. Reagan's barber at Paramount Studios from 1961 to 1967, and Mr. Reagan promised my father that if he ever became governor of California, he would give him a position on the Board of Barber Examiners.

NANCY WOODRUFF DEAR NANCY: It's more than "good," it's wonder-

Do you wish you had more friends? Get Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby, Popularity, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif.
