

Today's takeover battles have frightening aspects

The takeover battle among Bendix, Martin Marietta and Allied Corp. was merely the most recent and spectacular in a series of such "Roman Carnival" bouts. The arresting feature of this one was the spectacle of opposing conglomerates each trying to buy the other at the same time — making good entertainment for you and me during the short period that one conglomerate is trying to digest the other. But there are some frightening economic aspects that no one appears even to have mentioned.

Your Money's Worth

Sylvia Porter

Moreover, what does and does not affect competition is hard to decide (witness this column).

- Ban big mergers above a limit of, say, $1 billion. Period. But this would require a big political push — and the effort needed to say, "No, period," to jumbo combinations is unlikely to emerge soon.

What, then? The prospect is that we probably will continue to witness identical monster combats in the "Roman Carnival" arena as the conglomerates seek to devour each other. Credit that otherwise could create jobs, spur housing and automobile sales will be consumed in a super-massive scale in the struggles.

But what if you and I build up an aversion to the phenomenon? Then, distaste for conglomerates will be added to the next swing of the pendulum in the United States. And sooner or later, the pendulum will swing.

The more irritated we become, the more drastic the ultimate consequences are likely to be. Instead of merely barring new big mergers, existing conglomerates above a specific size might find themselves on the defensive against efforts to break them up.

Corporate Political Action Committees and deduction of lobbying expenses might come under attack as part of a future deeply unpopular political-economic concentration of power. What happens then may well depend on how far the merger mania goes now in its days of seemingly endless sunshine.

(Does your budget need balancing? Send for Sylvia Porter's Financial Almanac for 1983 — a comprehensive desk calendar and consumer handbook featuring Porter's best budgeting tips and money-saving advice. Send $9.95 plus $1 for mailing and handling to Financial Almanac in care of the Manchester Herald, 4400 Johnson Drive, Fairway, Kan. 66205. Make checks payable to Universal Press Syndicate.)

In Brief

Earnings down

STAMFORD — Singer Co. has reduced its pretax losses for the third quarter to $4.7 million by cutting reserves for estimated liabilities of a business discontinued in 1975.

The sewing machine manufacturer said this week it was facing a pretax loss of $12.2 million on continuing operations for the quarter.

The $4.7 million net loss contrasted with last year's third quarter earnings of $14.5 million or 76 cents a share. Sales fell to $605.2 million from $671.1 million.

For the first nine months of the year the company lost $18.6 million, but recovered all but $300,000 on bond repurchases and sales of $1,901 billion.

Singer's profitable business in the third quarter was in government orders, responsible for $243.2 million in sales, up from $209.9 million a year earlier.

Emhart gains

FARMINGTON — Emhart Corp. reported third quarter net earnings of $17.7 million compared to $21.9 during the same period in 1981.

Earnings per common share for the quarter were $1.43 compared to $1.77 a year ago. The third quarter benefited from a $4.8 million reduction in income taxes due to stock relief provisions of the United Kingdom's 1981 Finance Act, the company said Monday.

The current quarter reflects higher foreign tax credits in 1982.

For the nine months net earnings were up 13 percent to $56 million compared to $49.3 million in 1981. Worldwide revenues for the nine months rose to $1.31 billion, up from $1.28 billion in 1981.

Stock-split OK'd

STAMFORD — The board of directors of Citizens Utilities Co. has voted for a 2-1 stock split of its common shares.

Shareholders must still approve the decision to increase authorized shares of Citizens' Series A and Series B common stock to give shareholders another share for each now held.

The split is the fourth in the company's history and is also subject to any requisite regulatory approvals.

The shares were first split 2-1 in 1952, 2-1 in 1959 and 3-2 in 1966.

The board has also announced a 77 cent per share, fourth quarter cash dividend on its Series B shares, payable Nov. 19 to shareholders of record Nov. 8.

SNET Income off

NEW HAVEN — Southern New England Telephone Co. reported reduced income and revenues for the third quarter ending Sept. 30.

Total earnings for the three-month period were $22.2 million, compared to $29.1 million for the same three months in 1981. Third-quarter earnings per share were $1.57, compared to $2.16 a year ago.

For the 12-month period ending Sept. 30, the company earned $6.48 per common share, compared with $7.85 for the same period in 1981.

Third-quarter operating revenues were $288.8 million, compared to $299.5 million a year ago. The third-quarter operating income was $37.5 million, compared to $45 million in 1981.

Walter Joyner vs. Jim McCavanagh:
a look at the 12th district candidates
... page 3

LWV's annual election preview
Special section inside

Manchester Herald

Manchester, Conn. Thursday, Oct. 28, 1982
Single copy 25¢

Getting acquainted

The Kids on the Block, a troupe of disabled and non-disabled puppets, visited the Robertson School Wednesday afternoon to teach the pupils what it is like to be handicapped. The visit was sponsored by the Tolland Department of Mental Retardation. Kevin Albano (below) meets the puppet named "Mike Reilly." At right are puppets "Mike Reilly" and "Melody James." Below Melissa LaJoie, a 6th grader, and Patti Lundell, a 5th grader, meet puppets "Ellen Jane Peterson" and "Brenda Dubrosky."

Pre-trial hearings scheduled today

Drug suspects jam courthouse

By Raymond T. DeMeo
Herald Reporter

Most of the 37 people charged in large-scale drug busts last week appeared at Manchester Superior Court today.

The court's parking lot was jammed full just after 10 a.m., when hearings were scheduled to begin. Drug suspects and their attorneys waited in a line that stretched across the courtroom lobby to discuss their cases with prosecutors.

Today's hearings are not trials. Some of the suspects may plead to the charges; others may be rescheduled for additional hearings.

Among those appearing today were Maureen E. Mercier and her brother, Michael, ages 20 and 18, respectively. Manchester police affidavits on file at the court show that an undercover officer bought LSD on three occasions from Maureen, and LSD and PCP three times from Michael.

Michael Mercier and his alleged supplier, Jeffrey A. Brown, 20, of 80 Lenox St., allegedly met the undercover officer twice at Center Springs Park and once in the parking lot of Vic's Restaurant at 151 W. Middle Turnpike during May and June of this year. The undercover officer, a member of the Manchester police department working with the statewide Narcotics Task Force, bought 350 hits of acid and 100 hits of PCP from Brown and Mercier on the three occasions they met, according to the affidavit.

It was the third time they met, on June 22 at Center Springs Park, that the undercover officer purchased LSD-laced gumdrops from Brown and Mercier, the affidavit says. The officer bought 100 hits of LSD in "a

FitzGerald role in hall ruled OK

By Paul Hendrie and Nancy Thompson
Herald Reporters

The State Probate Court Judicial Review Council ruled this week there was nothing improper about Manchester Probate Judge William E. FitzGerald's involvement in negotiations to secure a loan for restoration of Cheney Hall.

"If he had sent out a letter to people saying, 'I'm Judge FitzGerald, would you donate to the Cheney Hall fund drive?' that probably would not be proper," Judge Glenn E. Knierim, the chief administrator of the Probate Court system, said this morning.

"We didn't believe that the negotiation of a loan through an arms length business deal, in which the commission would pay the going rate, was improper," Judge Knierim added.

FITZGERALD has called for a personal apology from Republican Town Chairman Curtis M. Smith, who questioned the propriety of FitzGerald's involvement in the Cheney fund drive. The can of ethics for probate prohibits them from soliciting money, but does not bar them from otherwise participating in fund drives that benefit non-profit groups.

FITZGERALD said he acted only as legal counsel for the loan to the Cheney National Historic District, which he chairs. Knierim said the Judicial Review Council — which meets regularly to issue opinions on ethical questions — agreed FitzGerald acted properly.

One local banker, who participated in the loan negotiations, said this morning that, strictly speaking, what Judge FitzGerald had said was correct. But the banker said FitzGerald "orchestrated" the loan from six local banks.

The banker added that there was pressure from FitzGerald to grant the loan. He said, under normal circumstances, the loan of more than $16,000 per bank would not have been granted, because there was no proof of the ability to repay and no security.

"If a guy walked in looking for a loan like that, he'd be turned down," one local banker said. However, the banker was convinced the loan banks were convinced the loan would be repaid.

The UAW endorsed Diana at a press conference, where union officials charged that legal work FitzGerald and Democratic Mayor Stephen T. Penny conducted together on behalf of auto dealers constituted "union busting."

The endorsement of a candidate for a local probate court race by the UAW is extremely unusual, as is the traditionally Democratic union's endorsement of a Republican. The UAW withheld an endorsement of Penny, but did not endorse his Republican opponent, Sen. Carl A. Zimser, either. Penny is running for the state Senate in the 4th District.

The union officials charged that legal work by FitzGerald and Penny, has delayed efforts to organize unions and bargain collectively at auto dealers in Connecticut and New York.

FitzGerald denied that his legal work constituted "union busting." He said any disputes between his clients and the UAW should be settled in the courts. He said there is nothing unusual or improper about a probate judge carrying on a private practice.

CUMMINGS said he does not think the UAW action will hurt

28 OCT 28

AN OUTSTANDING LEADER IN LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Leadership

As Manchester's three term Mayor, Steve knows the importance of rejecting unfunded State mandates that burden local taxpayers. He believes state legislators should maintain more regular contact with the towns and the people they serve.

Leadership

Steve knows how to prioritize government spending. Manchester has the lowest per capita expenditures of all towns its size in the State, and is 24th of the 29 Capitol Region towns in its tax levy on homes and autos.

MEANS BETTER LEADERSHIP FOR THE STATE

STEVE PENNY

DEMOCRAT-STATE SENATOR

BOLTON-COLUMBIA-GLASTONBURY-HEBRON- MANCHESTER

Paid for by "Friends of Steve Penny," Peter Ramey, Treasurer

JACK THOMPSON for STATE REPRESENTATIVE

I believe that state Legislators should have strong local government experience. My service to Manchester as mayor has made me aware of its needs and appreciative of its people. I will work for state programs which strengthen our business environment and assure adequate training for a skilled labor force which meets future needs.

I will work for a responsible long-range plan to repair our roads. I will work to reinstate the Community Restitution Program where damage caused by crimes is paid for by those who commit crimes. I will work to resolve the technical problems in the administration of our Educational Funding Program.

Vote For Me So That I May Work For You
John W. Thompson . . . . . The Better Choice
VOTE DEMOCRATIC
13th ASSEMBLY DISTRICT
Ad Sponsored by: Committee To Elect John Thompson, R. M. Negro, Treasurer

And, just as your child's physician can help prevent serious illness through regular checkups, your local pediatric dentist can help prevent or minimize dental disease. The result will be a healthy body and a healthy smile.

Dr. Michael S. Goodman Dr. Cathleen I. Kowalski
Specialists in the Dental and Oral Care of Infants, Children, Teenagers, and Handicapped.

are pleased to announce their association as partners

150 N. Main Street
Manchester, CT. 06040
649-4655

Newington Children's Hospital
181 E. Cedar Street
Newington, CT 06111
666-4471

Members of the American Academy of Pedodontics; the American Society of Dentistry for Children, and the Association of Pediatric Dentists of Connecticut

RE-ELECT William E. FitzGerald Judge of Probate

IT'S A MATTER OF PUBLIC RECORD.
Received "M" Award for public service
Manchester Hospital incorporator
Headed Drug Advisory Council
Guided Wickham Park Improvements

EXPERIENCE MAKES THE DIFFERENCE.
10 years Judge of Probate
7 years as Town Director
19 years private law practice
Instructor of Law - MCC
Chairman, Ethics Committee

Committee To Re-Elect Judge FitzGerald, Emmet D. Gemme, Treasurer

Halloween caution urged

Police Chief Robert D. Lannan warns parents to inspect all items given to their children while they are trick-or-treating on Halloween night Sunday.

Lannan said the recent rash of poisonings of Extra-Strength Tylenol and other over-the-counter drugs hasn't convinced him that parents should be encouraged to keep their kids home this Halloween.

"I don't want to abolish Halloween, I just want parents to know that there are maniacs out there," he said.

Manchester Memorial Hospital again this year will X-ray bags of treats to detect any foreign objects in them. Andrew Beck, a spokesman for the hospital, said parents can bring bags to the outpatient department of the hospital and their collections will be X-rayed.

Lannan advised trick or treaters to wear light-colored clothing or install strips of reflective tape on their costumes, so they can be better seen by motorists.

Young children should be escorted on their Halloween rounds by parents or an adult, Lannan said. He said trick-or-treating should take place in the early evening hours, to avoid having children on the streets late at night. Persons who want to welcome children for treats should keep on exterior lights, he said.

Election policy

In the interests of fairness, the Manchester Herald will accept no political statements or letters to the editor endorsing candidates after Friday.

This policy is to prevent a candidate from being criticized without a fair chance to reply before election day next Tuesday.

Please turn to page 10

OPINION

Handgun control: politics of fear

LOS ANGELES — They're practicing the politics of fear on both sides in the closing days of the fight over Proposition 13 — the ballot initiative that has made California the most important test yet on handgun control.

Jack Germond and Jules Witcover
Syndicated columnists

Opponents of Prop 15, which would require registration of the estimated 5 million handguns in the state and bar any additional handguns after one year, have been peddling fear all along in their television ads.

The most notable has been one showing an old woman in bed. The sound of breaking glass is heard, and she picks up her phone and calls the police, but to look all the lines are busy. A list of dread comes over the old woman's face as the doorknob of her bedroom turns slowly and someone starts to open the door.

End of commercial. A voice-over explains that if Prop 15 passes the police will be kept tied up administering tighter handgun registration.

Countering that appeal to the emotions, the proponents of the initiative are now running a commercial showing the actual assassination attempt against President Reagan and Ford and the scene in Los Angeles in 1968 when Robert Kennedy was gunned down. Included is the unforgettable footage of Kennedy lying on the floor in the kitchen of the Ambassador Hotel, his head in a pool of blood.

LOS ANGELES political consultant George Young, in charge in the fight against Prop 15, when asked whether the ad featuring the old woman isn't a pretty emotional pitch, replies: "God, I hope so."

And John Phillips, a local public-interest lawyer leading the Prop 15 forces, says that because the opponents have confused the voters about what Prop 15 will and won't do, his side is obliged to tug at the voters' emotions, too.

"Our basic objective is to get across what this control does," he says. "Because when voters know what it is, they'll vote for it. But we know that with initiatives, when they're confused, they'll vote no. And that's what we're trying to do. From a level of 2-1-1, we're down to a dead heat (in the polls). So now we've got to go with our emotional issue — the victims."

This crescendo of fear tactics caps a long campaign in which the gun lobby has poured more than $4 million into the fight so far, with members of the National Rifle Association and gun manufacturers in the forefront. On the other side is a bipartisan collection of moneyed Californians and average citizens who have come up with about $1.3 million to achieve what Phillips says would be "the great breakthrough" in the gun control crusade.

"If we're successful here," he says, "it will do more to break the myth of the invincibility of the gun lobby." Politicians have long been intimidated by what has been called "the kitchen cabinet" member Justin Dart in support of the ban, which also would set a six-month mandatory sentence for carrying an unregistered handgun.

"This is developing into a division," Young claims, "between people who have high incomes and people who have middle incomes, and we're getting overwhelming support in the middle-income area."

Richard M. Diamond, Publisher
Dan Fitts, Editor
Alex Giarelli, City Editor

Courage at times of election

WASHINGTON — Everyone agrees that the Social Security System is in trouble, and that sooner or later Congress must make the hard decisions on how best to keep it afloat. With its customary political timidity, Congress decided on "later" — meaning after next week's elections.

Lame duck sessions have a way of infusing courage and decisiveness into our congressional Heralds. So if the subject of Social Security comes up, maybe the political and emotional rhetoric that it was when re-election was the chief concern.

Congress will have plenty of ammunition for its debates on the touchy subject. The long-awaited recommendations of the National Commission on Social Security Reform might be in hand when the lame duck session convenes.

There will also be another nonpartisan study available to the lawmakers, prepared by the Congressional Budget Office. My associate Vicki Warren has seen a draft of the CBO report, and it contains both good and bad news.

The good news is that, despite the often hysterical prophesies of Henry Frenns in and out of Congress, the Social Security sky is not in imminent danger of falling. The bad news is that the system does need fixing, and no matter what curative action Congress and the administration decide on, a lot of people are going to be unhappy.

Here are the most important findings in the CBO draft report:

• CBO estimates that the Social Security Trust Fund will need $15 billion in additional revenue for fiscal 1984, which begins next Oct. 1. It will need an additional $3 billion in 1985. These are the sums necessary to keep the trust fund's reserves equal to 12 percent of its outlays, which is the minimum that will ensure timely payment of benefits.

• Temporarily, the pension fund can borrow money from the medical and disability funds, which are currently in the black. This stopgap measure will start next month, but cannot be continued beyond Jan. 1 without congressional approval. CBO reckons that the pension fund deficits will decline when the 1985 and 1986 payroll tax increases take effect, and disappear entirely when the 1990 increase begins.

• Rising health care costs will put the Medicare/hospital trust fund in the red at about the time the pension fund is breaking even. The medical fund "faces a substantial and growing deficit, beginning in the relatively near future," CBO warns. "It's a continuous thing. I represent everyone and I try to communicate with everyone."

Why, in perhaps Fuscas' most embarrassing moment, did the first selectman in Bolton fall to know who Fuscas was when the legislator walked into a meeting last summer? "He's a Democrat. And I had spoken to him on the phone several times about things."

• One option would be to transfer the entire Medicare program to the Treasury for financing out of general revenues. This would allow the payroll deductions that now go into the hospital fund to be pumped into the pension and disability funds, keeping them in the black without either reducing benefits or further increasing payroll taxes. But this would add to overall federal budget deficits as health care costs continue to rise.

• Aside from dumping its long-term loser, Medicare, in the Treasury's lap, Social Security's options for now are to raise the payroll taxes, cut benefits, or force every working American to join the system.

Congress will have to decide whether to trim the old folks' benefits — probably by cutting back on cost-of-living increases — or increase the younger generations' payroll taxes. The CBO report noted that the burden of reduced cost-of-living increases would fall most heavily on the oldest Social Security recipients, whose benefits were calculated on lower, pre-inflation earnings.

Fuscas denies ultra-conservative label

By Richard Cody
Herald Reporter

Daniel J. Moore may paint a picture of Republican J. Peter Fuscas as an ultra-conservative who wants to cut blindly government spending, but the incumbent says that's a distortion. Fuscas said in fact he would favor increased spending, but only when it's kept equal with natural growth in revenues — a balance he said the state Democratic leadership has failed to achieve.

"I have to remind you that I have said I have never been in favor of cutting spending," he said in a recent Manchester Herald interview. He had been asked to respond to Moore's charge that he wants to "cut, cut, cut."

"I will say that there are some programs that need to be more efficiently run. I have said that I wish to limit the growth of spending, not cut spending," Fuscas said. "What the problem with state spending is, he said, is that 'the growth in spending has exceeded the growth of revenues.'"

FUSCASCAS IS running for a second term as the 55th District state representative. This district comprises Bolton, Andover, Hebron, Marlborough and the 3rd voting district of Manchester. Moore, a 28-year-old maker his first run, is his Democratic opponent. Both men are Marlborough natives.

Fuscas has had the stigma of being an ultra-conservative since he first was elected, and it stuck with him and, observers believe, hurt him, during his unsuccessful attempt at gaining the Republican nomination for the 1st District congressional seat last year. Moore, making his first run for the General Assembly, has picked up on this alleged trait and been highlighting it during the campaign.

But Fuscas, who has been consistent throughout the campaign with his stance on government financing, said he believes the state may need to spend more. He said his gripe, and what is perhaps the reason for his conservative label, is that, he claimed, the Democratic majority spends more money than it takes in from taxation.

"Revenue grows between 6 and 8 percent a year. And I think that state government ought to live within the six to eight percent spending increase. And if they wish to do more, they ought to encourage the growth of revenues," he said.

"Limit the growth of spending to match the growth of revenue, and if we wish to spend more than we must encourage the growth of revenues by getting new business in Connecticut, by expanding existing businesses, by providing the incentives for creating jobs, by putting people to work, which all in turn enhances the revenue base in the state of Connecticut. When that revenue base goes up, our spending base can go up to match it."

And that would mean no new taxes.

FUSCASCAS SITS on the House Appropriations Committee, and criticized the 1983 state budget for relying too much on bonding. He claimed future legislative sessions will have to deal with the costs for all the borrowing in Gov. William A. O'Neill's budget. He said high spending was hidden by the bonding, and has never been reluctant to voice his concern that taxation will run too high — and that the present leadership plans to impose a state income tax. He said there has to be some moderation in spending.

"What we're talking about is the fundamental responsibility of the General Assembly in the state of Connecticut, it's a policy-making body. And we should have a general policy in the state of Connecticut that says: 'We will be partners, not masters, but partners, with people in the state of Connecticut. And we will limit our spending to match the growth in revenue. It's not cutting everything.'"

Fuscas also said a lot of money could be found by better managing of the state departments. He mentioned the $29-million misappropriation by the state Department of Education, and the scandal surrounding the Department of Transportation. Both issues have been stressed by the Republican challengers this election year.

"You have to live within your means," he said. "Just like any family does."

MOORE'S BIGGEST charge is that Fuscas has been a lousy representative. Moore says officials in the district, Democrats and Republicans alike, have commented that Fuscas seems invisible to the community.

"I'm there," Fuscas said when asked about this. "I concentrate on talking, communicating with as many people as possible, and it's not just during an election year. I do this as much as I can throughout the whole term. In the last two years I've sent out close to 60,000 pieces of mail. And what the mail does is I've tried to keep people informed of the laws in the legislature that come up, try to keep them informed as to how to vote on some of the key issues. I try to help people in terms of consumer fraud. I send out a mailing on consumer fraud, what to look for, who to call, if you have problems."

"I've polled through the mail about 6,000 households trying to get a feel for how the people feel about the various issues before the state."

"It's a continuous thing. I represent everyone and I try to communicate with everyone."

Why, in perhaps Fuscas' most embarrassing moment, did the first selectman in Bolton fall to know who Fuscas was when the legislator walked into a meeting last summer? "He's a Democrat. And I had spoken to him on the phone several times about things."

The majority of the tax dollars in our district are spent on education. Dan feels that our State Representative should be involved in overseeing how that money is spent. When elected he will seek a position on the Legislature's Education Committee.

Dan will preserve our small town interests in education and all other policy areas. He knows our towns. He knows what we expect from our public officials. Let's put Dan Moore to work for us in Hartford. On November 2nd let's elect Dan Moore our State Representative.

WHAT ABOUT Moore's charges in this vein? "Political demagoguery, that's all. Dan Moore doesn't really know. How can he know? He hasn't been around. It's only recently that he's been interested in town affairs and meetings and so on and so forth. He doesn't know how many times I've been on the phone and called the Columbia first selectman. He doesn't know what I do with Ray Burke (first selectman) in Hebron, or the conversations I've had with Tony Mariano he's a Democrat in Marlborough. He doesn't know. He doesn't know how many times I sit down for an hour or two and work with my constituents in the area. He has no idea."

"He doesn't see me because he isn't there. It's not a justice system. It's not a valid criticism."

"As far as Danny Moore goes, he's a very nice guy. He's very pleasant. I've seen him up on the hill passing out amendments. You know, he has a nice smile, polite, and he does his job photocopying amendments and passing them out very well. I've heard no complaints. He's a nice guy." Moore has worked as an aide to, most notably, House Speaker Ernest Abate.

FUSCASCAS HAS the endorsement of the state police union, and said he plans on stepping off the Programs Review and Investigations Committee and trying to sit on the Public Safety Committee.

"I take a very active and very strong position on crime. I'm very much concerned about our criminal justice system."

The state police union commonly endorses incumbents who show an interest in public safety.

But Fuscas, who has been undermanned, under-equipped and at times, underpaid. And the rural area in Bolton, Andover, Hebron and Marlborough don't receive the protection required by the crime statistics, he said.

He cited the flurry of burglaries in Bolton and Marlborough in recent months, and said the criminals go there because they know the towns aren't adequately protected. "We sometimes don't have minimum coverage," he said. He said the state has to make public safety one of its top priorities. "Someone has got to pick up the ball and start the discussion, and start making an attempt. We need stronger anti-crime measures in the state of Connecticut."

NOW THAT THE 55th District covers part of Manchester, Fuscas said he sees no problem in representing different types of towns. Nor, he said, does he anticipate any conflicts on bills, such as a bill that benefits one town at the exclusion of the others.

"When you're elected as a legislator you're elected to represent all the people in the state of Connecticut although you come from one district. I do that. There are problems that other parts of Connecticut have that my committees don't have, but we all share equally in the repercussions of those problems."

"For example, if we don't educate disadvantaged children, they go on the welfare roll. They cannot find a job, and my community ends up paying their fare. So it's the advantage of our communities to fund education in the inner city for the disadvantaged children, because in the long run, it's going to benefit not only the community by the state of Connecticut, but you have to balance the common good of all in the long run when sometimes (there may be something) unpleasant in the short run."

WHEN FUSCASCAS ran for the 1st District congressional seat, he was charged with abandoning his district and looking at politics as a hobby. He still has a "substantial" debt from the campaign.

"I'm not abandoning anybody," said Fuscas. "I'm still as much concerned about the communities. I saw this as a great opportunity for Republicans to regain a seat. It was unsuccessful. It in no way detracted from my responsibilities here in the Legislature as a clerk by running for state representative," he said.

REPUBLICAN PETE FUSCASCAS
...not the conservative you think

Coventry group forms to push sewer project

By Jeff Weingart
Herald Reporter

COVENTRY — If you see ads and bumper stickers in the coming sewer referendum, you will have been paid for the Sewer Referendum Task Force.

The task force doesn't exist yet, but Town Council Vice-Chairman Frank M. Dunn Jr. said he plans to work with a "handful" of interested residents in the near future to establish the task force.

The wastewater would take place as early as January with construction of the project beginning next year, according to Water Pollution Control Authority Chairman Richard Breaux.

Dunn said the task force will operate a telephone campaign, as well as meet with committees and groups in order to develop support for the plan. The group will also run advertisements in local newspapers, mail notices to out-of-town property owners who are eligible to vote, and may even print some bumper stickers, according to Dunn.

"I want to get the widest possible support for the plan," said Dunn. "I would hope that we could get out to see every person who is eligible to vote."

STATE LAW requires that any group which spends money to influence the outcome of a referendum be registered with the secretary of the state as a political action committee.

Dunn said his group would not give an estimate of how much money the task force would spend.

The sewer plan, developed by the engineer firm Fuss and O'Neill of Manchester, was presented to the Water Pollution Control Authority last month. The recommended plan outlines a system of sewers in the Waterfront Manor and Lakeview Terrace areas.

The main interceptor, which would transport sewage to a treatment plant to be located near the cemetery on Route 31, would lie under Main Street and allow businesses along the route to be connected to the system.

The wastewater would be applied to filtration basins, where it would be treated as it passed through the soil. After being treated, the water would flow into the ground and eventually end up in the Willimantic River.

The resulting sludge would be laid out on wire beds, dried, and treated with lime. It could then be used for fertilizer or spread in the landfill across the street.

The current plan still must be approved by the DEP, but Breaux said he is confident that approval will come by the end of November.

The WPCA has scheduled a public hearing on the plan for Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Nathan Hale School.

Dunn said he plans to meet with people interested in serving on the task force on Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room in Town Hall.

Smart

Your gift to you...
12 BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS CARDS with each sitting!

Lasting color portraits
you can enjoy for years to come.
Fifteen wallets, three 5x7s and two 8x10s
ONLY $12.95
INCLUDING $4.00 POST

PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHY

PHOTOGRAPHY HOURS
WED. & SAT. 10-12:30
THURSDAY & FRIDAY
10-12:30, 3-6
SUNDAY 11-4

Not Available in Orange

1/2 PRICE SALE

FINAL 3 DAYS

One of New England's Largest Selections of Tiffany and Capiz Shell Fixtures is now
50% OFF***

Our Tiffanys are all hand made, all glass fixtures of either channeled or leaded construction.

The Capiz Shell fixtures are constructed from genuine Capiz Shell from the Philippines.

Our vast collection of styles and colors assures you finding just the fixture you need.

*Off Manufacturers Suggested List Price

EXONARY ELECTRIC SHOWROOMS

446 OAKLAND ST., MANCHESTER, CT. (203) 646-2930
Monday thru Friday 7:30 AM to 5:00 PM Thursday 9:00 PM Saturday 8 to 5 PM

Prague, Martin, Fuscas, by a nose

Voters in some of the outlying districts in the Manchester area — the 8th and 55th House districts and the 35th state Senate district — have a tough task ahead of them.

On Tuesday, Election Day, they will have to decide in each race between candidates of remarkably similar quality. In no race is one candidate clearly preferable to the other.

The Manchester Herald is endorsing Edith Prague, a Democrat, for the 8th Rep. J. Peter Fuscas, a Republican, for the 55th; and Republican Isham "Ham" Martin for the 35th Senate seat. But it would be no disaster if voters went for these candidates' opponents.

Like her Republican challenger, Russell G. Blakeslee, Mrs. Prague is in her first General Assembly campaign, and like him she appears to lack familiarity with how things are accomplished in the Capitol.

But she has demonstrated plenty of energy in her role as a medical social worker, and has put a lot of time — and a lot of her own money — into her campaign. She also manages to run five miles a day.

She says she would be a full-time legislator, and there is no reason to think she wouldn't be. She also would bring to the legislature a commitment to doing something to end one of the state's most serious problems, drunk driving. J. Peter Fuscas has had a relatively undistinguished first term in the General Assembly. But he seems to be a straight shooter with enough humility to recognize his shortcomings and attempt to overcome them.

His Democratic challenger, Daniel J. Moore, might be an effective legislator, but has been evasive in his positions on the issues. He has defended his evasiveness by saying that he will be more decisive once he is elected. But we only have his word for that. He seems to be trying too hard to please everybody. The General Assembly has more than enough legislators like that.

Sen. Michael Skelley has risen to prominence in the General Assembly and is a very effective spokesman for the University of Connecticut and for the interests of labor and the liquor industry. Skelley seems capable of recognizing his shortcomings, but he also seems too predictably an advocate for these special interests. And he was one of the legislators who took an expenses-paid trip to Cape Cod, courtesy of a gambling concern.

His Republican challenger, Martin, is an independent thinker who seems determined to vote his conscience and not to serve any special interest. He is an unusual, off-beat candidate whom it would be interesting to follow in the General Assembly.

We are proud of our father's accomplishments as judge of probate and a community leader in Manchester. We hope you are too.

Donald P. Richter
140 Boulder Road
Debra FitzGerald Gemme
28 Marble St.
Megan FitzGerald Edgington
East Hartford

We're proud

Show you care

Integrity

Berry's World

"No, the pipeline has not reached Europe yet, comrade. Why?"

Open forum / Readers' views

Send letters to: The Manchester Herald, Herald Square, Manchester, CT 06040

Injustice

To the Editor:

I cannot help but feel that a gross injustice has been committed against state representative candidate Edith Prague and the Coventry Taxpayers Association by the Coventry Democratic Town Committee.

In complete disregard of the facts certain members of the committee tried to link Mrs. Prague with the CTA, when in fact the CTA has not endorsed her candidacy or that of any politician seeking office.

The "reformed" CTA is a unaffiliated taxpayers organization concerned with tax issues in the town of Coventry. Certain former members of the CTA did in fact work for Mrs. Prague on their own initiative, which is well within their rights. Joyce Carilli worked also, but as an individual, not as CTA president.

In fact CTA members come from all ranges of the political spectrum. Democrats, Republicans, and unaffiliated. For supposedly "smart" people these Democrats are not paying attention to the facts.

Phillip C. Bouchard
CTA board member
Coventry

Integrity

To the Editor:

It should be accepted that both candidates for judge of probate have well deserved reputations as public officials who have demonstrated their concern for the general welfare of Manchester citizens. We are fortunate in that regard. Other factors then become decisive and lead me to registered Republican) to conclude that William E. FitzGerald should be re-elected judge of probate.

As a practicing attorney for some

Injustice

To the Editor:

I cannot help but feel that a gross injustice has been committed against state representative candidate Edith Prague and the Coventry Taxpayers Association by the Coventry Democratic Town Committee.

In complete disregard of the facts certain members of the committee tried to link Mrs. Prague with the CTA, when in fact the CTA has not endorsed her candidacy or that of any politician seeking office.

The "reformed" CTA is a unaffiliated taxpayers organization concerned with tax issues in the town of Coventry. Certain former members of the CTA did in fact work for Mrs. Prague on their own initiative, which is well within their rights. Joyce Carilli worked also, but as an individual, not as CTA president.

In fact CTA members come from all ranges of the political spectrum. Democrats, Republicans, and unaffiliated. For supposedly "smart" people these Democrats are not paying attention to the facts.

Phillip C. Bouchard
CTA board member
Coventry

Integrity

To the Editor:

It should be accepted that both candidates for judge of probate have well deserved reputations as public officials who have demonstrated their concern for the general welfare of Manchester citizens. We are fortunate in that regard. Other factors then become decisive and lead me to registered Republican) to conclude that William E. FitzGerald should be re-elected judge of probate.

As a practicing attorney for some

Injustice

To the Editor:

I cannot help but feel that a gross injustice has been committed against state representative candidate Edith Prague and the Coventry Taxpayers Association by the Coventry Democratic Town Committee.

In complete disregard of the facts certain members of the committee tried to link Mrs. Prague with the CTA, when in fact the CTA has not endorsed her candidacy or that of any politician seeking office.

The "reformed" CTA is a unaffiliated taxpayers organization concerned with tax issues in the town of Coventry. Certain former members of the CTA did in fact work for Mrs. Prague on their own initiative, which is well within their rights. Joyce Carilli worked also, but as an individual, not as CTA president.

In fact CTA members come from all ranges of the political spectrum. Democrats, Republicans, and unaffiliated. For supposedly "smart" people these Democrats are not paying attention to the facts.

Phillip C. Bouchard
CTA board member
Coventry

Integrity

To the Editor:

It should be accepted that both candidates for judge of probate have well deserved reputations as public officials who have demonstrated their concern for the general welfare of Manchester citizens. We are fortunate in that regard. Other factors then become decisive and lead me to registered Republican) to conclude that William E. FitzGerald should be re-elected judge of probate.

As a practicing attorney for some

Injustice

To the Editor:

I cannot help but feel that a gross injustice has been committed against state representative candidate Edith Prague and the Coventry Taxpayers Association by the Coventry Democratic Town Committee.

In complete disregard of the facts certain members of the committee tried to link Mrs. Prague with the CTA, when in fact the CTA has not endorsed her candidacy or that of any politician seeking office.

The "reformed" CTA is a unaffiliated taxpayers organization concerned with tax issues in the town of Coventry. Certain former members of the CTA did in fact work for Mrs. Prague on their own initiative, which is well within their rights. Joyce Carilli worked also, but as an individual, not as CTA president.

In fact CTA members come from all ranges of the political spectrum. Democrats, Republicans, and unaffiliated. For supposedly "smart" people these Democrats are not paying attention to the facts.

Phillip C. Bouchard
CTA board member
Coventry

Integrity

To the Editor:

It should be accepted that both candidates for judge of probate have well deserved reputations as public officials who have demonstrated their concern for the general welfare of Manchester citizens. We are fortunate in that regard. Other factors then become decisive and lead me to registered Republican) to conclude that William E. FitzGerald should be re-elected judge of probate.

As a practicing attorney for some

Thursday TV

- 6:00 P.M.
- (3) - Eyewitness News
  - (3) - Three's Company
  - (3) - Buck Rogers
  - (1) - Mork & Mindy
  - (18) - USA Cartoon Express
  - (18) - Festival of Faith
  - (2) - Little House
  - (2) - Newswatch
  - (2) - TV Community College
  - (2) - Reporter 41
  - (2) - MOVIE: 'Theives' A couple's attempts to rob the manager take them into the world of crime. Marc Thomas. Charles Grodin. Ivan Covey.
  - (2) - M*A*S*H
  - (2) - 3-2-1, Contact
- 6:30 P.M.
- (5) - WKRP in Cincinnati
  - (6) - CBS News
  - (1) - Barney Miller
  - (12) - CFL From the 55 Yard Line
  - (14) - Wild Babies: Two neotenic pygmy apes and wide-eyed wild pigs learn to survive and take their first steps toward independence.
  - (22) - NBC News
  - (24) - Unanswered
  - (25) - Noticiero Nacional SIN Noticias nacionales con Guillermo Restrepo.
  - (38) - Jeffersons
  - (40) - ABC News
  - (47) - Over Easy
- 7:00 P.M.
- (3) - CBS News
  - (3) - M*A*S*H
  - (3) - Muppet Show
  - (3) - ABC News
  - (1) - Soap
  - (1) - Jeffersons
  - (12) - ESPN SportsCenter
  - (16) - Are You Anybody?
  - (21) - Alice
  - (22) - Newscaster
  - (24) - Stranger In Your House
  - (25) - El Derecho de Nacer: Telemundo en su actual Maná Elena del Hucio da a luz un tipo legítimo. Su padre al enterarse de
- 7:30 P.M.
- (3) - P.M. Magazine
  - (3) - All in the Family
  - (3) - You Asked For It
  - (3) - Family Feud
  - (3) - Henry Hill Show
  - (11) - News
  - (12) - ESPN Sports Center
  - (14) - Inside the NFL Len Dawson and Dick Butkus analyze this week's NFL action and look ahead to next week's games.
  - (18) - Sports Look
  - (20) - Soap
  - (21) - Sports Tonight
  - (22) - M*A*S*H
  - (27) - MacNeil-Lehrer Report
- 8:00 P.M.
- (3) - P.M. Magazine
  - (3) - M*A*S*H
  - (3) - Muppet Show
  - (3) - ABC News
  - (1) - Soap
  - (1) - Jeffersons
  - (12) - ESPN SportsCenter
  - (16) - Are You Anybody?
  - (21) - Alice
  - (22) - Newscaster
  - (24) - Stranger In Your House
  - (25) - El Derecho de Nacer: Telemundo en su actual Maná Elena del Hucio da a luz un tipo legítimo. Su padre al enterarse de
- 8:30 P.M.
- (3) - P.M. Magazine
  - (3) - All in the Family
  - (3) - You Asked For It
  - (3) - Family Feud
  - (3) - Henry Hill Show
  - (11) - News
  - (12) - ESPN Sports Center
  - (14) - Inside the NFL Len Dawson and Dick Butkus analyze this week's NFL action and look ahead to next week's games.
  - (18) - Sports Look
  - (20) - Soap
  - (21) - Sports Tonight
  - (22) - M*A*S*H
  - (27) - MacNeil-Lehrer Report
- 9:00 P.M.
- (3) - P.M. Magazine
  - (3) - All in the Family
  - (3) - You Asked For It
  - (3) - Family Feud
  - (3) - Henry Hill Show
  - (11) - News
  - (12) - ESPN Sports Center
  - (14) - Inside the NFL Len Dawson and Dick Butkus analyze this week's NFL action and look ahead to next week's games.
  - (18) - Sports Look
  - (20) - Soap
  - (21) - Sports Tonight
  - (22) - M*A*S*H
  - (27) - MacNeil-Lehrer Report

BRIDGE

Slow start to slam

Jeff won the spade lead and thought for some time before ruffing a spade with dummy's ace of trumps. Then he led the king of trumps and let East's discard a club.

This didn't slow him down. He had done his thinking at trick one. He played dummy's ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, ruffed his last spade, cashed dummy's queen of trumps, ruffed another diamond, drew West's last trump with his ace while discarding dummy's 10 of clubs, led a club to the ace, ruffed another diamond and made the last two tricks with dummy's king of clubs and jack of diamonds.

"What took you so long at trick one?" asked East.

"Jeff wanted to make the grand slam," replied North.

North was right. If Jeff had stopped to play one round of trumps before ruffing that spade the hand would have collapsed. Because then he would have come down to having to lead the fourth diamond before pulling West's jack of trumps.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISES ASSN.)

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Here is a rubber bridge hand played recently by Jeff Westheimer of New York. North's bidding was intelligent but ineffective, since Jeff held a singleton diamond and the jack of clubs.

ACROSS

- Soldering piece
- Fringe
- Semite
- Arrival-time guess (abbr.)
- Adolescent
- Actress
- Turner
- Gain as clear profit
- Five score, ordinal
- Dustless
- Unserve
- Stray
- Frog
- Post Pound
- Hurtles
- Angry
- Social bud
- Thyroid ill brother
- Mild oath
- Geographical division
- Father of Houa
- Measure (abbr.)
- 37 Knot
- Possessive pronoun
- Cleaved hand
- Hammer
- Florida race week
- Shuffling
- Columb
- Blab
- Domini
- Trojan mountains
- Ram's mates
- Beastie money

DOWN

- Singer Horne
- American Indians
- Klatch
- Anesthetic
- God (Lat.)
- Softy
- Conclude
- First Hebrew letter
- Reiteration
- Measure (pl.)
- Stake
- Thai currency
- 24 Post Pound
- 26 Indus nurse
- 27 Social bud
- 30 Thyroid ill brother
- 24 Mild oath
- 25 Geographical division
- 40 Take time
- 28 City on the Rhine
- 27 Heretic
- 28 Arab chieftain
- 28 Mrs. Truman
- 31 With no trouble
- 33 Nothing
- 38 2-carbon compound
- 40 Take time
- 41 Near-sighted carbon char-acter
- 42 Passageway
- 43 Agila
- 31 With no trouble
- 46 Hoosier valley
- 33 Nothing
- 47 Cooperates
- 48 Warm
- 50 Outcry (pl.)

Answer to Previous Puzzle

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40	41	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40	41	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

October 28, 1982

You could be rather fortunate this coming year. Ventures and enterprises which are both unique and progressive, if something comes along which fits this description, it's best to not ignore it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) Financial conditions are likely to be a mixed bag for you today. Your fiscal resources could be drained in one area and unexpectedly replenished. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the sections following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 408, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth date. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchbook. It reveals moments that combine and compatibilities for all signs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be assertive and a pecker today, but don't be pushy to the point where you might offend. You can get what you want without stepping on toes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Beware of tendencies today to anticipate negative results before the action occurs. You could delay good things happening if you let this attitude prevail.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A situation which adversely affects your career and earnings could take a sudden turn for the better today. It may occur in the late afternoon.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your temper could be on a short fuse today and there's a possibility that it might blow. Fortunately, you'll be equally as quick to forgive and forget.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Have all the terms rearranged if you have a financial involvement with pals today. This will avoid possibility of a misunderstanding later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Though you're noted for being a quick thinker, your speed decision today could cause problems. Take time to assess all the facts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Necessity is often the mother of invention. Today, you could be quite resourceful in working out revisions for methods which previously failed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) Try not to be too insistent that everything be done your way today. If you deny input from others, problems may not be resolved which could have been.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23) Don't let petty disagreements with your mate get blown out of proportion today. A dash of tolerance and understanding will quickly patch things up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be hesitant about discarding unworkable procedures today. This is the time to experiment in order to find new and better ways.

JUDGING: Will be done by Committee. Final results will be published in The Herald.

PRIZES:

1ST PRIZE

2ND PRIZE

3RD PRIZE

THE HERALD'S FIRST ANNUAL (Maybe last?)

UGLY DOG CONTEST

HAVE YOU GOT THAT SPECIAL DOG THAT NO ONE ELSE COULD LOVE BUT YOU?

We're looking for that special dog — so unsightly, so uncomely, so unshapely, so misproportioned, so ill-proportioned, so ill-shaped that only its owner could be proud

HERE'S HOW TO MAKE YOUR DOG'S CLAIM TO FAME!

WHO CAN ENTER: Dogs residing in The Herald's circulation area.

HOW TO ENTER: Complete the coupon below and mail with a photo of your dog before November 10, 1982 to: "UGLY DOG CONTEST," The Manchester Herald, One Herald Square, Manchester, Connecticut, 06040. The Herald reserves the right to publish names and photos of all entries and their owners. (Herald employees and their dogs are not eligible.)

JUDGING: Will be done by Committee. Final results will be published in The Herald.

PRIZES:

1ST PRIZE

2ND PRIZE

3RD PRIZE

SEND THIS OFFICIAL ENTRY BLANK TO THE:

Ugly Dog Contest
P.O. Box 591
Manchester, Ct. 06040

DOG'S NAME _____

BREED _____

OWNER'S NAME _____

ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ ZIP _____ PHONE _____

Photos will not be returned unless accompanied with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

28 OCT 28 1982

Obituaries

Edna B. Starr, 91, of Dallas, Texas, died Oct. 24. She was the mother of Eric S. Starr of Manchester.

She also leaves two other sons: Robert F. Starr of Irving, Texas and Alan Starr of Dallas, a daughter, Marie S. Johnson of Charlotte, N.C., 12 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

A memorial service will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at Walnut Hill United Methodist Church, Dallas. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Gerald J. Belliveau, 68, of 67 E. Middle Turnpike, formerly of Craft Drive, died Wednesday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of the late Flora (Richard) Belliveau.

He was born in Pettit Rocher, New Brunswick, Canada and had lived in Manchester for the past 23 years. Before retiring three years ago, he was employed by Emlah Manufacturing Co., Windsor, where he worked for 22 years.

He leaves three sons, Leonard Belliveau of Vernon, Paul Belliveau of Manchester and John J. Belliveau of Ellington; a daughter, Barbara Belliveau of Manchester; three brothers, Hector Belliveau of East Hartford, Ernest Belliveau of Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada and Claude Belliveau of Biddeford, Maine; four sisters, Mrs. Maria Gavin of East Hartford, Mrs. Anne Madore, Florida; Mrs. Regina Krushchynski of Montreal, Canada, and Mrs. Edmay Julien of Nova Scotia, Canada; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Wednesday at a Springfield hospital. She was the wife of the late Samuel Skolnick and the sister of Mrs. Rae Snyder of Manchester.

She also leaves two daughters, Ina Skolnick of Springfield and Mrs. Lois Ben David in Israel; another sister, Mrs. Lillian Gordon of Worcester, Mass.; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were to be today at 3 p.m. from the Harold R. Ascher & Son Memorial Chapel. Burial will be in West Springfield. Memorial week will be at the home of her daughter, 136 Washington Road, Springfield, with whom she had lived for the past 10 years. Memorial donations may be made to the Jewish Nursing Home, 770 Converse St., Longmeadow, Mass.

He was born in Taunton, Mass. on Nov. 8, 1947 and had been employed at American Thread Co. of Willimantic, for the past several years. He was a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife he leaves his parents, Michael D. and Jennie (Nycek) Horn of Andover; a brother, Eugene Horn and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Billings, both of Andover; and another sister, Mrs. Mary Busby of Willimantic, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Friday at 9:15 a.m. from the Bacon Funeral Home, 71 Prospect St., Willimantic with a mass of Christian burial at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph Church. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 p.m.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Wednesday at a Springfield hospital. She was the wife of the late Samuel Skolnick and the sister of Mrs. Rae Snyder of Manchester.

He was born in Taunton, Mass. on Nov. 8, 1947 and had been employed at American Thread Co. of Willimantic, for the past several years. He was a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife he leaves his parents, Michael D. and Jennie (Nycek) Horn of Andover; a brother, Eugene Horn and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Billings, both of Andover; and another sister, Mrs. Mary Busby of Willimantic, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Wednesday at a Springfield hospital. She was the wife of the late Samuel Skolnick and the sister of Mrs. Rae Snyder of Manchester.

He was born in Taunton, Mass. on Nov. 8, 1947 and had been employed at American Thread Co. of Willimantic, for the past several years. He was a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife he leaves his parents, Michael D. and Jennie (Nycek) Horn of Andover; a brother, Eugene Horn and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Billings, both of Andover; and another sister, Mrs. Mary Busby of Willimantic, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Friday at 9:15 a.m. from the Bacon Funeral Home, 71 Prospect St., Willimantic with a mass of Christian burial at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph Church. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 p.m.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Wednesday at a Springfield hospital. She was the wife of the late Samuel Skolnick and the sister of Mrs. Rae Snyder of Manchester.

He was born in Taunton, Mass. on Nov. 8, 1947 and had been employed at American Thread Co. of Willimantic, for the past several years. He was a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife he leaves his parents, Michael D. and Jennie (Nycek) Horn of Andover; a brother, Eugene Horn and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Billings, both of Andover; and another sister, Mrs. Mary Busby of Willimantic, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 8:15 a.m. from the Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Wednesday at a Springfield hospital. She was the wife of the late Samuel Skolnick and the sister of Mrs. Rae Snyder of Manchester.

He was born in Taunton, Mass. on Nov. 8, 1947 and had been employed at American Thread Co. of Willimantic, for the past several years. He was a member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife he leaves his parents, Michael D. and Jennie (Nycek) Horn of Andover; a brother, Eugene Horn and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Billings, both of Andover; and another sister, Mrs. Mary Busby of Willimantic, and several nieces and nephews.

Gejdenson-Guglielmo debate: Neither was a clear victor

By Richard Cody Herald Reporter

VERNON — Though neither Democratic U.S. Rep. Samuel Gejdenson or Republican challenger D. Anthony Guglielmo was a clear victor in the final debate Wednesday night, each sure tried hard to make the other look like the loser.

Gejdenson set the mood from the outset, attacking Reagan policies and attempting to vindicate himself from criticisms he anticipated from Guglielmo before the challenger had a chance to open his mouth.

Gejdenson said the state of the economy is the main issue today. He cited the unemployment figure of 10.1 percent. "It means a full 25 percent of America's workforce will be out of work sometime over the next year," he said.

Gejdenson then tore at President Reagan's "falling" economic policies, and said, "Those are the issues we should focus on" in the debate.

But he said Guglielmo would probably engage in "theatrics," and exaggerate inconsistent statements concerning personal taxes the incumbent made over the past six months.

Gejdenson told 41 constituents by letter in April he didn't take the special tax break Congress had voted itself and then repealed under heavy constituent fire. But Gejdenson in fact took more than $17,000 of deductions through the special break, and actually signed his tax return within a week of sending the letter.

When Guglielmo found out about the letter, he highlighted it and has yet to let the subject rest, Gejdenson called the letter a "mistake."

Still in his opening comments, Gejdenson said his opponent took about $150,000 in deductions, and "felt he didn't want to pay taxes for eight months." Guglielmo had been fined by the IRS for filing a late return.

Guglielmo later said the deductions Gejdenson cited were legitimate deductions for his insurance business, his salaries and overhead. He said Gejdenson was clouding the issue and the question the incumbent should answer is why he made $60,000 last year and paid $6,900 in taxes, when I made $88,000 and paid $27,000."

Trident champion in Washington. Gejdenson responded that both the management of Electric Boat and the company's main union have endorsed him.

Gejdenson said he was instrumental in improving relations between Electric Boat and the Pentagon when he was first elected. At that time, there was some talk in Washington of building the Trident in another part of the country, or even out of the country.

He said he solved that problem, and brought jobs to Electric Boat. However, according to a release by Guglielmo and from comments he made Wednesday night, Electric Boat is preparing for a layoff of between 4,000 and 6,000 workers within the next 18 months due largely to lack of defense contracts.

Guglielmo quotes a management source at Electric Boat, and says that others who didn't want to be identified, as predicting the layoff.

In response to the question, Gejdenson said at the debate the announcement was non-factual and a scare tactic by the challenger.

Gejdenson said he had a right to know where I stand on the issues before you commit $10,000 to my campaign, I'll give you a preview of the two commercials. Here are the scripts.

(CANDIDATE DRESSED in business suit with vest is standing behind podium.) "I'm Andy Rooney, the Middle-of-the-Road Party's candidate in this important election."

"Are you familiar with the voting record of my opponent? Do you know where he stands on crime, for instance?"

"My opponent is in favor of crime. He has supported crime in the past and will continue to do so if re-elected. For more than 40 years now, ever since I was 10, I have been against crime."

"Taxes. My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

Vote for Rooney

The candidates for office seem to be having so much fun trying to kill each other with television commercials that I've decided to run for office myself in 1984. In light of this decision, I'm asking each and every one of you to make a small sacrifice in the interests of better government and mail me $10,000 so that I can start a campaign fund.

It's illegal to contribute more than $1,000 to any one person's campaign, so you'll have to find some way to work this out. Check around and learn how it's being done by others. You might consult one of your local Political Action Committees, known familiarly as "PACS."

Only 25,000 of you respond to this appeal for campaign funds, it will provide us with $25 million, with which I'll buy my first two 30-second commercials on network television. Through these commercials, I hope to make my position as well known to America as Preparation H.

Because you have a right to know where I stand on the issues before you commit $10,000 to my campaign, I'll give you a preview of the two commercials. Here are the scripts.

(CANDIDATE DRESSED in business suit with vest is standing behind podium.) "I'm Andy Rooney, the Middle-of-the-Road Party's candidate in this important election."

"Are you familiar with the voting record of my opponent? Do you know where he stands on crime, for instance?"

"My opponent is in favor of crime. He has supported crime in the past and will continue to do so if re-elected. For more than 40 years now, ever since I was 10, I have been against crime."

"Taxes. My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

"My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

Tylenol or not

But moms here are worried

Paranoia notwithstanding, it's business as usual for the Halloween trade. Neither Tylenol scares, tainted cookies, nor razor-bladed apples will deter some young goblins from their appointed rounds Sunday.

Most kids and their parents contacted by the Manchester Herald this week seem to agree. The rash of poisonings of food and drugs recently has made everyone a bit more cautious, but few are yet willing to call it quits in the trick-or-treat department.

"There are so few things left for children," says Beverly Woodhouse of 135 Timrod Road, mother of a 12-year-old. "I hate for them to be so cynical such an early age. We're worried, but we try not to go overboard."

MOST MOTHERS are worried. They say they will accompany their children to each house on the route, will go only to houses they know, and will inspect the loot before it is eaten.

"By supervising, we can minimize the danger, and still have a fun and healthy experience," says Pat Wilson of 61 Westminster Road, mother of two children, age 7 and 6.

"My feeling goes along with an article I read — that children who dress up are getting to confront their own fears, especially when they dress up as scary things. It's a basic need. That's why Halloween has lasted," she says.

"We'll stay in an area where we know people — a comfort zone — and I'll check through the children in the neighborhood. I'll be home. Everyone in my neighborhood is in favor of trick or treating," Mrs. Wilson said.

There is concern, though, in the neighborhood surrounding Maple Street in the Nathan Hale School district. Several parents there have banded together to offer their children an alternative — a neighborhood party on Sunday evening.

Yes, there'll be Halloween

Recess crowd cautious

An unseasonably cold wind was whipping around the children huddled in ski jackets and mufflers on the Verplank School playground last week.

They had interrupted classes for a momentary run outside at recess time, just 10 days before Halloween. There was scarcely a word about talking about how to dress for the holiday.

Familiar ghosts and skeletons, clowns and witches and princesses would be joined this year by more modern characters like E.T. and Pac Man.

But the children on the playground were sure joined by an unfamiliar specter this year — a stranger who had become synonymous with evil. And the children, from the biggest to the very smallest, admitted fear.

What were children afraid of? "Cyndee," they all answered in a chorus. Chances are they can't spell it, never heard of it until a month ago, don't know what it looks like. But now it's part of their vocabulary.

"I'm afraid it will happen to my family," said Kathy Martin, 11, of 101 Olcott Drive. "I'm scared in a way. I'll be careful to check the candy over to make sure there are no holes in it."

BUT CHILDISH ENTHUSIASM can't be reined in for long, not even by the threat of poison doled out by strangers. "I'm going to be a pirate," Kathy said. "But I go around to people I know."

Gary Cutler, 11, of 20 Spencer St., wasn't even sure whether he would go out this year. "I don't know. Maybe," he said. If he does trick or treat, a parent will accompany him, he said.

Vote for Rooney

Paranoia notwithstanding, it's business as usual for the Halloween trade. Neither Tylenol scares, tainted cookies, nor razor-bladed apples will deter some young goblins from their appointed rounds Sunday.

Most kids and their parents contacted by the Manchester Herald this week seem to agree. The rash of poisonings of food and drugs recently has made everyone a bit more cautious, but few are yet willing to call it quits in the trick-or-treat department.

"There are so few things left for children," says Beverly Woodhouse of 135 Timrod Road, mother of a 12-year-old. "I hate for them to be so cynical such an early age. We're worried, but we try not to go overboard."

MOST MOTHERS are worried. They say they will accompany their children to each house on the route, will go only to houses they know, and will inspect the loot before it is eaten.

"By supervising, we can minimize the danger, and still have a fun and healthy experience," says Pat Wilson of 61 Westminster Road, mother of two children, age 7 and 6.

"My feeling goes along with an article I read — that children who dress up are getting to confront their own fears, especially when they dress up as scary things. It's a basic need. That's why Halloween has lasted," she says.

"We'll stay in an area where we know people — a comfort zone — and I'll check through the children in the neighborhood. I'll be home. Everyone in my neighborhood is in favor of trick or treating," Mrs. Wilson said.

There is concern, though, in the neighborhood surrounding Maple Street in the Nathan Hale School district. Several parents there have banded together to offer their children an alternative — a neighborhood party on Sunday evening.

MOST MOTHERS are worried. They say they will accompany their children to each house on the route, will go only to houses they know, and will inspect the loot before it is eaten.

FitzGerald role ruled OK

Continued from page 1

FitzGerald or Penny in their campaigns. "It's one opinion against another man's professional conduct as an advisor to management," said Cummings. "I think the public will come down on the side of the judge."

They'll assess that he has a few accounts outside his offices, and those accounts harm his service and they'll conclude they do not and he runs a good office."

Cummings said Penny's earnings of six (against him), Stephen is scoring very high."

COPIES OF FitzGerald's financial documents, distributed Wednesday by the UAW, showed FitzGerald earned $30,348 last year as probate judge. In the two years prior to that, he earned more than $38,000.

Twice this week, FitzGerald told reporters that he earned $25,000 from the court last year, a figure he said he got from his accountant.

In addition to his work at the probate court, FitzGerald lists a private law practice, as well as associations with the law firms of Howard, Kohn, Sprague and FitzGerald and with attorney Penny.

His opening comments, Gejdenson said his opponent took about $150,000 in deductions, and "felt he didn't want to pay taxes for eight months." Guglielmo had been fined by the IRS for filing a late return.

Guglielmo later said the deductions Gejdenson cited were legitimate deductions for his insurance business, his salaries and overhead. He said Gejdenson was clouding the issue and the question the incumbent should answer is why he made $60,000 last year and paid $6,900 in taxes, when I made $88,000 and paid $27,000."

When Guglielmo found out about the letter, he highlighted it and has yet to let the subject rest, Gejdenson called the letter a "mistake."

Still in his opening comments, Gejdenson said his opponent took about $150,000 in deductions, and "felt he didn't want to pay taxes for eight months." Guglielmo had been fined by the IRS for filing a late return.

Guglielmo later said the deductions Gejdenson cited were legitimate deductions for his insurance business, his salaries and overhead. He said Gejdenson was clouding the issue and the question the incumbent should answer is why he made $60,000 last year and paid $6,900 in taxes, when I made $88,000 and paid $27,000."

When Guglielmo found out about the letter, he highlighted it and has yet to let the subject rest, Gejdenson called the letter a "mistake."

Trident champion in Washington. Gejdenson responded that both the management of Electric Boat and the company's main union have endorsed him.

Gejdenson said he was instrumental in improving relations between Electric Boat and the Pentagon when he was first elected. At that time, there was some talk in Washington of building the Trident in another part of the country, or even out of the country.

He said he solved that problem, and brought jobs to Electric Boat. However, according to a release by Guglielmo and from comments he made Wednesday night, Electric Boat is preparing for a layoff of between 4,000 and 6,000 workers within the next 18 months due largely to lack of defense contracts.

Guglielmo quotes a management source at Electric Boat, and says that others who didn't want to be identified, as predicting the layoff.

In response to the question, Gejdenson said at the debate the announcement was non-factual and a scare tactic by the challenger.

Gejdenson said he had a right to know where I stand on the issues before you commit $10,000 to my campaign, I'll give you a preview of the two commercials. Here are the scripts.

(CANDIDATE DRESSED in business suit with vest is standing behind podium.) "I'm Andy Rooney, the Middle-of-the-Road Party's candidate in this important election."

"Are you familiar with the voting record of my opponent? Do you know where he stands on crime, for instance?"

"My opponent is in favor of crime. He has supported crime in the past and will continue to do so if re-elected. For more than 40 years now, ever since I was 10, I have been against crime."

"Taxes. My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

Vote for Rooney

The candidates for office seem to be having so much fun trying to kill each other with television commercials that I've decided to run for office myself in 1984. In light of this decision, I'm asking each and every one of you to make a small sacrifice in the interests of better government and mail me $10,000 so that I can start a campaign fund.

It's illegal to contribute more than $1,000 to any one person's campaign, so you'll have to find some way to work this out. Check around and learn how it's being done by others. You might consult one of your local Political Action Committees, known familiarly as "PACS."

Only 25,000 of you respond to this appeal for campaign funds, it will provide us with $25 million, with which I'll buy my first two 30-second commercials on network television. Through these commercials, I hope to make my position as well known to America as Preparation H.

Because you have a right to know where I stand on the issues before you commit $10,000 to my campaign, I'll give you a preview of the two commercials. Here are the scripts.

(CANDIDATE DRESSED in business suit with vest is standing behind podium.) "I'm Andy Rooney, the Middle-of-the-Road Party's candidate in this important election."

"Are you familiar with the voting record of my opponent? Do you know where he stands on crime, for instance?"

"My opponent is in favor of crime. He has supported crime in the past and will continue to do so if re-elected. For more than 40 years now, ever since I was 10, I have been against crime."

"Taxes. My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

"My opponent seems to feel that the solution to every problem is higher taxes. If you want higher taxes, vote for my opponent."

Tylenol or not

But moms here are worried

Paranoia notwithstanding, it's business as usual for the Halloween trade. Neither Tylenol scares, tainted cookies, nor razor-bladed apples will deter some young goblins from their appointed rounds Sunday.

Most kids and their parents contacted by the Manchester Herald this week seem to agree. The rash of poisonings of food and drugs recently has made everyone a bit more cautious, but few are yet willing to call it quits in the trick-or-treat department.

"There are so few things left for children," says Beverly Woodhouse of 135 Timrod Road, mother of a 12-year-old. "I hate for them to be so cynical such an early age. We're worried, but we try not to go overboard."

MOST MOTHERS are worried. They say they will accompany their children to each house on the route, will go only to houses they know, and will inspect the loot before it is eaten.

"By supervising, we can minimize the danger, and still have a fun and healthy experience," says Pat Wilson of 61 Westminster Road, mother of two children, age 7 and 6.

"My feeling goes along with an article I read — that children who dress up are getting to confront their own fears, especially when they dress up as scary things. It's a basic need. That's why Halloween has lasted," she says.

"We'll stay in an area where we know people — a comfort zone — and I'll check through the children in the neighborhood. I'll be home. Everyone in my neighborhood is in favor of trick or treating," Mrs. Wilson said.

There is concern, though, in the neighborhood surrounding Maple Street in the Nathan Hale School district. Several parents there have banded together to offer their children an alternative — a neighborhood party on Sunday evening.

Yes, there'll be Halloween

Recess crowd cautious

An unseasonably cold wind was whipping around the children huddled in ski jackets and mufflers on the Verplank School playground last week.

They had interrupted classes for a momentary run outside at recess time, just 10 days before Halloween. There was scarcely a word about talking about how to dress for the holiday.

Familiar ghosts and skeletons, clowns and witches and princesses would be joined this year by more modern characters like E.T. and Pac Man.

But the children on the playground were sure joined by an unfamiliar specter this year — a stranger who had become synonymous with evil. And the children, from the biggest to the very smallest, admitted fear.

What were children afraid of? "Cyndee," they all answered in a chorus. Chances are they can't spell it, never heard of it until a month ago, don't know what it looks like. But now it's part of their vocabulary.

"I'm afraid it will happen to my family," said Kathy Martin, 11, of 101 Olcott Drive. "I'm scared in a way. I'll be careful to check the candy over to make sure there are no holes in it."

BUT CHILDISH ENTHUSIASM can't be reined in for long, not even by the threat of poison doled out by strangers. "I'm going to be a pirate," Kathy said. "But I go around to people I know."

Gary Cutler, 11, of 20 Spencer St., wasn't even sure whether he would go out this year. "I don't know. Maybe," he said. If he does trick or treat, a parent will accompany him, he said.

Franklin to be panelist

Robert H. Franklin will be a panelist at the Legislative Issues Forums '82 sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Connecticut Education Fund and supported by the Beatrice Fox Auerbach Foundation.

The forums will be held on Thursday at the Temple Beth Israel in West Hartford and on Nov. 18 at the First Congregational Church in Fairfield.

Franklin, of Manchester, a panel member of the Finance, Taxes and Fiscal Policy workshop, is president of the Connecticut Public Employees Council Inc.

He is currently a gubernatorial appointee to the Task Force on the State Budget Process and has been a frequent speaker at national conferences on governmental reform.

Franklin is often called upon as an advisor on matters relating to public finance and governmental efficiency and economy.

Registration will be held from 8:45 to 9:15 a.m. The keynote address is from 9:15 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. The speakers will be Sen. Richard J. Schneider, Democrat, Senate majority leader, and Sen. George L. Gunther, Republican, Senate minority leader.

Hurry up, Rivoso urges

Town Fire Chief John C. Rivoso is urging homeowners to "hurry up" and comply with the state law requiring smoke detectors in residential units.

Rivoso says he's upset with the "slow pace" that single family homeowners and landlords are complying with the law. "What happened in East Hartford could easily happen here," he says, referring to the fatal fire two weeks ago in an East Hartford apartment building that wasn't equipped with smoke detectors.

The fire chief urged tenants whose apartments don't have smoke detectors to call the fire department. He said the department may make some door-to-door spot checks to make sure the smoke detector law is being obeyed.

The Board of Directors comment session for Tuesday has been canceled because that is election day.

The next regularly scheduled session for public comment will be Nov. 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the Board of Directors at the Municipal Building.

(CANDIDATE IS FOUND sitting on the couch in a modest living room interviewing an actor, an actress and two child actors. They are posing as the typical American family of George and Betty Morgan.)

ANDY: I'm here today with George Morgan and his wife, Betty. How are things going, George?

GEORGE: Terrible, Andy. I've been out of work for an hour and 20 minutes. I can't make the payments on any of our cars and the man won't come and clean our swimming pool because I still owe him for last time.

ANDY: How are you going to vote this year, George?

GEORGE: You're the kind of leadership we need in America, Andy. You're honest, forthright, fair, hard-working, easy-going, patriotic and you go to church Easter. You're going to lower taxes, raise Social Security benefits, cut inflation and reduce unemployment.

ANDY: Thanks for inviting me into your home, George and Betty. You're good Americans. Good Americans will be voting for me this Election Day.

ANDY: How are you going to vote this year, George?

GEORGE: You're the kind of leadership we need in America, Andy. You're honest, forthright, fair, hard-working, easy-going, patriotic and you go to church Easter. You're going to lower taxes, raise Social Security benefits, cut inflation and reduce unemployment.

ANDY: Thanks for inviting me into your home, George and Betty. You're good Americans. Good Americans will be voting for me this Election Day.

Vote for Rooney

Is yours a good school?

Editor's note: Bill Brindamour is public relations chairman of the Manchester Education Association. He is a social studies teacher at Manchester High School.

By Bill Brindamour
Special to the Herald

Did you ever wonder about the quality of education your child is receiving in the Manchester public schools?

When you pay your yearly tax bill, are you confident that the money you are providing for education will be well spent?

These are two questions that you should be able to answer without hesitation, for your child's education should be one of your top priorities.

The Manchester Education Association suggests that you can best evaluate this quality by visiting your child's school.

Before you make the visit, however, you should know what constitutes a good school, and you should prepare questions to ask the staff.

To help you do this, the National Education Association has compiled the following guidelines for determining the quality of your child's education.

A GOOD SCHOOL should have one professional staff member for each 15 to 20 students. This ratio affords each child the individualized attention required to meet special needs.

All teachers should meet state certification requirements and be assigned to positions and age groups for which they are prepared and interested. The teachers should also be caring and responsive to those needs of the student that arise from conditions in the home and community.

In Manchester, class size continues to be a problem. If your child is in a large class, find out why and ask what can be done to rectify the situation. Remember, if classes are too large your child will not receive the individualized attention he or she needs and deserves.

In addition to subject-matter specialists, each school should have support personnel such as psychologists, social workers, media and guidance specialists. On the secondary level, one guidance specialist for every 250-to-300 students should be available to supplement teacher counseling. The program should be coordinated between the elementary and secondary schools and be under continuous review by the entire staff.

On the elementary level, the curriculum should be comprehensive. In addition to the basics, each child should be offered instruction in the fine arts and physical education.

Nov. 14, marks the beginning of American Education Week. This week, which has been observed since 1921, is a time to encourage citizen support for and participation in the improvement of education. During this week the Manchester Education Association encourages you to visit our public schools. We feel you will be pleasantly impressed!

DELIVERERS BRANDON MCCORMICK, JENNIFER PERRETT
... Jill Neumayer, Joanna Perrett, Michael Nericio, standing

Junior Women thank merchants

Manchester Junior Woman's Club is celebrating national "Junior Week" this week. To thank local merchants who have helped support the club over the years, they will distribute certificates of appreciation and homemade sweet breads.

The Manchester club joins the clubs in all 50 states in the celebration. Through the efforts of these clubs, improvements have been made in communities in the areas of education, conservation, home life, the arts and public affairs.

The local club helped sponsor a fashion show for Lutz Children's Museum this year, and most recently sponsored a "Hike Bike" for the benefit of Manchester Sheltered Workshop, raising more than $2,000.

Members of the club have made the bread that is being given to the following merchants in town: Salem Nassiff Studio and Camera Shop, 639 Main St.; Personal Tee, 1081 Main St.; J & J Jewelers, 785 Main St.; Harrison's Stationers, 840 Main St.; Al Seiffers, 443 Hartford Road; Lynch Toyota, 500 W. Center St.; Optical Style Bar, 763 Main St.; and Culliff Auto Body, Route 83, Talcottville.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

FOR SPARKLING WOODWORK, TILE, GLASS AND PAINTED SURFACES, add three tablespoons of washing soda to a quart of warm water and wash. No rinsing required.

Her first piece of fiction wins local writer a prize

By Barbara Richmond
Herald Reporter

It was her first real attempt at writing fiction. For her efforts Sue Hubbard of 54 Homestead St. received an honorable mention from the Connecticut Writers' League.

Writing isn't Ms. Hubbard's fulltime specialty. She's a social worker by trade — but unemployed right now.

The piece of fiction that brought her the honorable mention was submitted — along with some 400 others from all over the country — to the league's annual writing contest.

Her short story, entitled "Theories," is about different relationships with different men she has dated. She said the characters are based on actual men she has dated. She changed the names, however.

"Of course, I added a lot but basically the theory was that you can't really talk to men, and then I found one I could talk to and the theory was blown," she said.

Ms. Hubbard was a social worker in the South Windsor school system for four years. Before that she was a social worker in the Headstart Program in Hartford for about three years.

She received her master's degree in social work from the University of Connecticut and completed her undergrad studies at Southern Connecticut State College in New Haven. She's a 1969 graduate of Manchester High School.

SUE HUBBARD
... story a winner

"I never wrote until about two years ago when I took a professional writers' class at UConn," she said. "Right now I'm taking a journalism class at Central Connecticut State College, just for fun," she added.

SHE LEFT her social work job in South Windsor because she decided she wanted to make a career change and pursue writing. She then went to work for awhile as a script writer at Travelers. Now she'd like to go back to social work and just do some writing on the side.

"I'm working on some other stories now. I guess I have a comical view of life. I take things that happen to me, embellish them and make a story," she said.

As a "for instance," she told how she has been screening applicants to share her apartment with her. She said some very funny things have happened and she's working them into a story.

"I've never defined myself as a writer. The others who entered the contest were writers and had had other things published. I was a newcomer," she explained.

Ms. Hubbard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hubbard of Castle Road, Manchester, was presented with her award at a dinner in Hartford. The presentation was made by Governor William O'Neill's wife, Nikki.

Brian Burland, novelist, playwright and poet, was the judge of the fiction entries in the contest. He was one of Ms. Hubbard's teachers but didn't know he was picking one of his former students, since stories were not submitted with authors names to judges.

Adopt a pet Henrietta: Miss Congeniality

By Barbara Richmond
Herald Reporter

Henrietta could be elected "Miss Congeniality" of the dog pound. She's about 3 months old and is an unusually friendly part beagle and part setter. She's up for adoption on Tuesday at the pound.

Dog Warden Richard Rand said Henrietta has a sunny personality and gets along extremely well with the other dogs. She was picked up Oct. 5 on Woodland Street.

Last week's pet, a hunting dog, was adopted by an Andover family. Tonka, as he was called by Rand, probably won't be used as a hunting dog. The family adopting him had just lost their dog and needed another to pamper.

The young shepherd female mentioned in last week's column was adopted Tuesday at the pound. Manchester man Rand said the man said he was going to name her Sheba.

Rand said a male cocker spaniel, about 5 months old, appeared at the police department on his own Tuesday. A couple came to the pound looking for a dog to adopt and settled on the cocker that Rand has temporarily named "Blondie" because of the color of his fur. The dog won't be eligible for adoption until next week, it not claimed by his owner. The couple left their name to be first in line.

When Rand arrived at the pound Tuesday morning he found a very wet and frightened dog tied to the fence. He said the dog was left with a dish of canned food. He was wearing a very heavy leather collar and appears to be comfortable with people.

The charge to adopt a pound dog is $5. This makes the transaction legal. The owner must assume the responsibility of licensing any dog that is 6 months old or older. Rand can be reached by calling the pound, 643-6642 or by calling the police department, 646-6555.

For cat lovers, Aid to Helpless Animals, a West Hartford-based group, is looking for good adoptive homes for the many stray and abandoned cats and kittens. All of the cats let out for adoption have been spayed or neutered, unless they are still too young.

A wide variety of ages and types of cats and kittens are available, including a recent litter of

HENRIETTA DOESN'T LIKE POSING
... Rand tries to get her to settle down double-pawed tigers. Anyone wishing to adopt a cat or wishing more information should call 232-1393 or 643-8649, after 8 p.m. and on weekends.

About Town

Square dance slated

Manchester Square Dance Club will have an open dance for all club level dancers Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at Verplanck School, 127 Olcott St., in the education hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson will have door duty. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ano, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Atkinson.

Spectators are welcome to watch, free of charge. Dancers are reminded to wear soft-soled shoes.

Yoga course offered

A course in Christian yoga and contemplation will begin Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the South United Methodist Church, 1226 Main St., in the education hall.

The course, taught by Sister Marie Alice Lagace, will include Christian yoga exercises, nutrition, meditation, contemplation, and the Jesus prayer.

To register, call 649-9742.

Andover flu clinic Friday

ANDOVER — Community Health Care Services Inc. will conduct its final flu clinic Friday from 10 to 11 a.m. in the town office building.

Anyone over age 65 is urged to have the vaccination along with those who are at risk of developing complications from lower respiratory infections.

Abramson will speak

ROCKVILLE — Professor Harold J. Abramson of the University of Connecticut will speak on "Jews of Ireland" at the Wednesday meeting of the East of the River Jewish Senior Adult Group 11 a.m. at Congregation B'Nai Israel, 54 Talcott Ave., Rockville.

Those attending should bring a dairy lunch. Coffee, tea and dessert will be provided.

Professor Abramson has taught at UConn since 1966. He spent the 1975-76 school year in Ireland as visiting professor at the University of College Cork.

He is doing a research project on "Comparative Views of Italians and Jews in America."

SPORTS

COUGAR MARK KARPEJ (11) BATTLES FOR POSSESSION ... with Mitchell's Dan Stovell in action at Cougar Field.

Soccer tourney hopes fade for MCC in loss to Mitchell

Manchester Community College's fading playoff hopes were dealt a severe blow Wednesday when it dropped a 3-2 overtime game to Mitchell College in soccer action at Cougar Field.

This was the second win of the year for Mitchell over MCC. Mitchell goes to 4-4 with the win while the loss drops the Cougars to 7-6. They wind up their regular season Saturday afternoon against the Community College of Rhode Island at home at 2 o'clock. They'll then have to wait and see if they drew an NJCAA bid. MCC took the lead at 1-0 on a goal by Fernando Hestrepo, assisted by Steve Mossup. Mitchell, known for its lightning quick offense, retaliated with two goals in a three-minute span.

Manchester Community College's fading playoff hopes were dealt a severe blow Wednesday when it dropped a 3-2 overtime game to Mitchell College in soccer action at Cougar Field.

Manchester Community College's fading playoff hopes were dealt a severe blow Wednesday when it dropped a 3-2 overtime game to Mitchell College in soccer action at Cougar Field.

Manchester Community College's fading playoff hopes were dealt a severe blow Wednesday when it dropped a 3-2 overtime game to Mitchell College in soccer action at Cougar Field.

MANCHESTER'S STEVE PIKE (16) EXHIBITS FLAILING ELBOW ... as he makes contact with Mitchell's Curt Schlessl

One last effort set in NFL strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — NFL players and owners, facing the deepest valley in the league's 65-year history, look toward the Summit for rescue Saturday.

Labor mediator Sam Kagel announced Wednesday the Players Association and the Management Council will resume negotiations Saturday at New York's Summit Hotel in perhaps one last effort to end the 38-day players' strike.

A hearing has been set for Nov. 15 in New York. If the complaint is upheld in court, the striking players may be entitled to full back pay.

Relations Board charged the NFL strike was "caused and has been prolonged by the unfair labor practices" of league owners.

NLRB general counsel William Lubbers, in a complaint issued through the board's New York regional office against all 28 teams, said the Management Council "has failed and refused to bargain in good faith" with the Players Association.

A hearing has been set for Nov. 15 in New York. If the complaint is upheld in court, the striking players may be entitled to full back pay.

refusing to bargain collectively on all compensation for players.

refusing to make any monetary proposals from mid-February to mid-July.

refusing to make significant counter-proposals to union demands through early October.

adamant about maintaining the policy of individual player negotiations.

The talks resume amid reports the entire season may soon be canceled.

As far as the alleged take it or leave it offer, that's totally untrue," said Jim Miller, director of information for the Management Council.

Pacers cut McGinnis

Bruins skid after loss of Leveille

By Mike Tully
UPI Sports Writer

With a teammate fighting for his life, the Boston Bruins must remember something as comparatively unimportant as a hockey game.

"Our biggest problem we have right now is Norman (Leveille) — he's on our minds constantly," veteran defenseman Brad Fark said Wednesday night after the Bruins dropped a 4-1 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The 19-year-old star forward remains in a coma at Vancouver General Hospital. The Bruins have lost three straight games since he collapsed with a brain hemorrhage between periods in a game against the Canucks.

"It's going to be hard to overcome what has happened but we have to learn to live with it," said Park. "Our team has character and despite the emotional strain on this club, the world is going to keep going around and we're going to have to start doing our job and join in."

Wayne Cashman agreed the Bruins must concentrate more on the ice.

"We've got to get over it, there's no doubt about that," said the team captain. "We have to realize that we're professional hockey players and have to get on with our jobs."

Boston coach Gerry Cheevers said the absence of Leveille, the team's leading scorer, had deflated the club.

"The team has lost its intensity since Leveille's injury," he said. "We were further frustrated tonight by (Toronto netminder Mike) Palmater. What do you expect? All we can do is ask the doctors to find out what Norman's condition is."

Peter Ilnacik scored twice and Palmater was brilliant in turning back 37 shots to spark Toronto's first home victory over the Bruins since Nov. 27, 1976.

"I didn't think I would be this sharp so early," said Palmater, who has backstopped both of Toronto's victories this year after being acquired from Washington before the season. "But they let me prepare at my own pace and showed me they wanted me by making the trade, so it put me in a good frame of mind."

In other games, the New York Rangers hammered Calgary 7-4. Detroit defeated St. Louis 5-4. Winnipeg beat Los Angeles 7-3. Pittsburgh outshot Washington 7-5 and Edmonton tied Chicago 4-4.

At New York, Don Maloney scored twice and Mike Rogers added a goal and two assists, keeping Calgary winless on the road this season. Paul Reinhart scored a goal and added three assists for the Flames, who were outshot 23-7 in the first period.

At Detroit, Paul Woods scored from a faceoff at 10:19 of the third period to lift the Red Wings. Perry Turbull scored twice in the first six minutes of the third period to give St. Louis a 4-3 lead. Reed Larson tied it at 7:07 by beating Glen Hanlon, who entered when starter Mike Lutw was hit in the mask and suffered a broken blood vessel in his nose in the first period.

At Winnipeg, Manitoba, Paul MacLean and Doug Smoloff scored two goals apiece, powering the Jets. MacLean got the Jets off to a quick start, backhanding a pass to inanimate Brian Mullen while lying on the ice. Mullen held goalposts Gary Laskowski with a high shot at 2:40.

Penguins 7, Capitals 5
At Pittsburgh, Pat Boutette scored three goals to lift the Penguins out of the NHL Patrick Division cellar ahead of Washington. Boutette has 12 goals in 10 games. Washington's Mike Gartner had two goals and two assists.

At Edmonton, Alberta, Glenn Anderson and Jari Kurri scored to cap a third-period comeback for the Oilers. With Chicago leading 4-2, Anderson narrowed the gap with his second goal of the game at 12:05. Kurri scored at 14:04. Wayne Gretzky had two assists to lift his league-leading point total to 24.

Stops Iriarte in ninth Chandler successfully defends bantam crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Jeff Chandler doesn't think anybody can seize his World Boxing Association bantamweight title — and he's got a brutal way of proving it.

The Iriarte fight appeared to support his boast. After a sluggish start which Chandler attributed to the long layoff, he took control. He kept Iriarte at bay with stinging jabs, slowing the Panamanian with solid combinations to the body.

A valiant Iriarte, bloodied by a cut on the bridge of his nose in the sixth round, could do little but clinch, throwing only occasional punches. In the ninth, Chandler stunned the WBA's top-ranked contender with a left-right combination. He then backed the challenger into his corner with a flurry of jabs and uppercuts before referee Joe Cortez stopped the fight at 2:20.

"None of them belong in the same ring with me. I figure that I'm the best bantamweight in the world. The whole bantamweight division is just a bunch of clowns. I'm on top of the world all by myself."

"I'm going to just keep knocking them out," he said. "And you know what? I am really starting to love it. I'm ready to take on anyone."

"We're not in the practice of speculating on what we might or might not give."

As it stands now, each of the 28 teams has missed six games. The league said there is a weekend settlement, the season may resume with a 12-game schedule instead of the 16 games of the old dates can be made up.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle initially said a 12-game schedule was the cutoff point for a "credible" season. He has since taken a more open stance.

28 OCT 28

Christmas in October
Mary Caesar, Ann Kely and Barbara Reale, from left, of St. Margaret's Circle Daughters of Isabella, admire some of the items to be sold at their Christmas boutique Sunday from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Lodge on Main Street. Jewelry, aprons, knitted items, arts and crafts, books and baked goods will be for sale.

ROBERT J. SMITH, Inc.
INSURANCE SMITHS SINCE 1914
649-5241
85 E. Center Street
Manchester, Ct.

Flower Fashion
Weekend Special
Pom Pons
$2.79 a bunch
CASH & CARRY
85 E. CENTER ST.
649-5266

ADVERTISING DEADLINE

12:00 noon the day before publication. Deadline for Saturday is 12 noon Friday. Monday's deadline is 2:30 Friday. Phone 643-2711

Classified 643-2711

- NOTICES: Lost and Found, Personal, Announcements, Auctions. EMPLOYMENT: Help Wanted, Business Opportunities, Education Wanted. EDUCATION: Private Instruction, Schools/Classes, Post-graduate, Insurance. FINANCIAL: Mortgage Loans, Personal Loans, Insurance. REAL ESTATE: Help Wanted, Help Wanted.

ADVERTISING RATES

Table with 2 columns: Rate type (1-2 Days, 3-5 Days, 6 Days, 26 Days) and Minimum Charge (15 Words, 150 Words). Includes a note: HAPPY ADS $3.00 PER INCH

Manchester Herald 'Your Community Newspaper'

PLEASE READ YOUR AD

Classified ads are taken over the phone as a convenience. The Herald is responsible for only one incorrect insertion and then only to the size of the original insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by an additional insertion.

The Manchester Herald

NOTICES

FOUND - Main Street, Saturday Package, Telephone 643-747. LOST - Black cat, all white paws, white markings on throat and muzzle. Victim of Salfers Pond. 646-8888. Helping people satisfy their needs and wants... that's what Want Ads are all about.

EMPLOYMENT

EARN EXTRA MONEY at home on the telephone. Possibility for advancement. Call J & C Enterprises, 742-9863 or 689-3313. WANTED EX-AVON & Fuller Brush girl - This won't be a waste of time! Call for details. J & C Enterprises, 742-9863 or 689-3313. PART TIME Wallpaper sales and part time cashier. Evenings, interview Monday and Tuesday between 5:00 and 7:00 pm at 643-2711. SEWING MACHINE Operators - Experienced preferred. Apply in person only. Pilowick Corporation, 49 Regent Street, Manchester, E.O.E., M.F. 243-5457.

MANCHESTER ADULT EVENING SCHOOL

Teachers Needed For: TYPING, ACCOUNTING, FOREIGN LANGUAGES & FLOWER ARRANGING. Call 647-3536. Monday thru Thursday, 7 to 9 P.M.

RN - LPN - Accepting applications for staff nurses. 3 - 11 shift. Rest home and skilled nursing facility. Excellent benefit package and shift differential. Please call D.N.S. between 9 and 3 Monday - Friday, 643-5151. Crestfield Convalescent Home and Fenwood Manor.

NURSES AIDES Certified. Accepting applications for full and part time. All shifts. Excellent benefit package and shift differential. Please call D.N.S. Monday - Friday, 643-5151. Crestfield Convalescent Home and Fenwood Manor.

COOKS - Experienced. 672-3130. MATURE WOMAN to babysit in my home. Own transportation. Call 646-2340.

DIET TECHNICIAN - Full time position. Associate Degree required. One or more years experience in hospital setting. For appointment call 872-0501, Ext. 282.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING! Sell Avon now. And start earning! Earn good money selling beautiful gifts. Call 278-2841.

WANTED: MEDICAL Secretary for local physician. 32 hours per week. Typing, bookkeeping, filing, appointments and insurance experience desirable. Friendly businesslike personality a must. Forward resume to Box 1, c/o The Manchester Herald.

COOKS - Experienced line, sauce and broiler cooks. Food preparation personnel and experienced food beverage and banquet waitresses. Apply at Flamingo Hotel and Restaurant (formerly Bolton Lake House), Route 6A, Bolton. Contact Chef, Thursday thru Sunday, 12-4.

ATTENTION Homeowners and students. Permanent and part time. We are looking for dependable, permanent part time help. Hours 9-1 or 5-9. Income opportunity $120 to $150 weekly. No experience necessary. Excellent dictionary required. Sick days paid holidays, paid vacation. For interview appointment call Mr. C. O'Donnell at 499-1320 and 12 at 569-4993, American Frozen Food, Inc.

EXPERIENCED PROFESSIONAL Painters - Full time. Minimum 10 years experience. MAK Painting, 643-2820.

PART TIME Custodian - early mornings. Apply between 7 and 9 a.m. Secretary Brothers, 313 Center Street, Manchester, Ct. 06490.

CELEBRITY CIPHER Celebrity Cipher. Each letter in the cipher stands for another. Today's date, 10/28/82. JGFM HVITGEMF XGQP XYPV QGHVZVQR. - OQMKK ZYQEFM

PREVIOUS SOLUTION: "The one thing that gets me most is having my intelligence underestimated." - James Cain

Help Wanted

22 - Condominiums, 23 - Home for Sale, 24 - Lots/Land for Sale, 25 - Investments Property, 26 - Business Property, 27 - Real Estate Wanted, 28 - Real Estate Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Private Instruction, 14 - Schools/Classes, 15 - Post-graduate, 16 - Insurance.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

Help Wanted

13 - Help Wanted, 14 - Business Opportunities, 15 - Education Wanted.

28 OCT 28

28 OCT 28

TAG SALE SIGNS

Are things piling up? Then why not have a TAG SALE? The best way to announce it, is with a Herald Tag Sale Classified Ad. When you place your ad, you'll receive ONE TAG SALE SIGNS FREE, compliments of The Herald.

CALL 643-2711 OR STOP IN AT OUR OFFICE 1 HERALD SQ., MANCHESTER

LEGAL NOTICE: Term of Address: Zoning Board of Appeals. The Zoning Board of Appeals of the Town of Andover, Connecticut at a meeting held on October 20, 1982 took the following action: 1. David A. and Mary R. Daval - Board decided to delay action until... 1. David A. and Mary R. Daval - Board decided to delay action until... 1. David A. and Mary R. Daval - Board decided to delay action until...

NOTICE: Mr. George McNamara is seeking temporary residence in a residence of questionable character (Ref.) and non-smoker (Ref.) would be an asset to widow with young children. For further information: 649-2247

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: ESTATE OF LOUISE M. SULLIVAN, deceased. The Hon. William E. Fitzgerald, Judge of the Court of Probate, District of Manchester, at a hearing held on October 21, 1982 ordered that all claims must be presented to the fiduciary on or before January 22, 1983 or be barred as by law provided. Sherrie L. Anderson, Asst. Clerk

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: ESTATE OF JOHN J. VOLINSKI, deceased. The Hon. William E. Fitzgerald, Judge of the Court of Probate, District of Manchester, at a hearing held on October 21, 1982 ordered that all claims must be presented to the fiduciary on or before January 22, 1983 or be barred as by law provided. Sherrie L. Anderson, Asst. Clerk

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: ESTATE OF ROBERT I. ARONSTEIN, deceased. The Hon. William E. Fitzgerald, Judge of the Court of Probate, District of Manchester, at a hearing held on October 21, 1982 ordered that all claims must be presented to the fiduciary on or before January 22, 1983 or be barred as by law provided. Sherrie L. Anderson, Asst. Clerk

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: ESTATE OF JOHN J. VOLINSKI, deceased. The Hon. William E. Fitzgerald, Judge of the Court of Probate, District of Manchester, at a hearing held on October 21, 1982 ordered that all claims must be presented to the fiduciary on or before January 22, 1983 or be barred as by law provided. Sherrie L. Anderson, Asst. Clerk

NOTICE TO CREDITORS: ESTATE OF JOHN J. VOLINSKI, deceased. The Hon. William E. Fitzgerald, Judge of the Court of Probate, District of Manchester, at a hearing held on October 21, 1982 ordered that all claims must be presented to the fiduciary on or before January 22, 1983 or be barred as by law provided. Sherrie L. Anderson, Asst. Clerk

NOT

BUSINESS

Service contracts: who owes whom?

When you contract to have services performed for you in the future for which you will pay in the future, who is responsible if you or the other party reneges for one reason or another?

In the past, a health studio could get your signature on a contract, sell it to a financing agency and go out of business — leaving you to pay, even though the services were no longer available. Normally, the Federal Trade Commission's "Holder in Due Course Rule" would have prevented this — but today, the seller of future services may convince you to take out a loan on your own, pay for the services in advance — and then close. Some state laws protect you in such cases, but many of them are extremely fuzzy.

What if you are the one who changes your mind? You lost your job, the services are not what you expected, some other reason? If the seller had to invest in facilities and salaries to provide the services and cannot replace you, it only makes sense for you to be compelled to pay a hefty portion (or all) of the original charges.

In some cases, though, the seller can find a substitute for you — in, say, the example of a correspondence school. In a home study program, there are no fixed seats in a fixed class; a new student always can come in.

The goal is to protect both of you, not impose penalties. But the fact is that most consumers assume that if you sign a contract, you must pay what the paper says, no matter what. In ignorance, you fear risking a lawsuit or being tagged a bad credit risk. What, then, can you do?

• Protect yourself by checking with a consumer protection agency or someone you trust in any dispute. There may be a state law linking the amount of a dance lesson contract to, say, $1,000; if you signed for lifetime lessons at $10,000, you don't have to pay the $10,000.

This is merely the start of an attack on future service contracts to make them fair to both sides. Sellers should be able to recover legitimate costs. You, the consumer, should face payment of only actual losses — and certainly not if the company shuts down. It's another well-hidden scandal and rip-off.

• If fraud or a serious illegality occurred, complain to your state attorney general, state or local consumer protection agency, postal inspectors or U.S. Attorney (under the mail fraud statute).

• If you can afford a lawyer, have time to fight and are willing to risk putting your credit rating on the line, refuse to pay and fight in court.

Do not leave these vital questions to the unequal sophistication of consumers and sellers in signing documents, or to their unequal bargaining leverage in a dispute! Below is a fascinating untold story.

The FTC by the mid-'70s had proposed two rules in the future services area — one relating to vocational schools, the other to health spas. Both rules called for a maximum non-refundable fee of $50 or 5 percent of the contract price, whichever was lower. Neither took into account any fixed costs the seller might have (fixed facilities, instructors, the rest).

This was souped-up consumerism to a ridiculous degree. Despite warnings that such a rule might be confiscatory, the FTC went ahead and adopted the vocational school rule in this form.

A highly prestigious, respected business school having actual classes chose to fight the FTC — and the school won. The court knocked out the rule. The FTC gave up on requiring any pro-rata refunds at all. No action ever has been taken on the health spa rule.

Since then, the bipartisan New York legislature (Republican Senate, Democratic Assembly) has moved into the gap between the all-embracing FTC rule and nothing — nothing being the option chosen at the federal level. The New York rule is limited to correspondence schools, which obviously have fewer fixed costs than schools with in-person classes.

New York law requires up to the $50 or 5 percent pro-rata refund of home study school tuition when the student drops out. If, say, you paid $1,000 for a 10-week course and you quit after five weeks, you might be entitled to a refund of $450.

Other states now have New York's model to follow. The FTC won't act.

(Sylvia Porter's Financial Almanac for 1982, a comprehensive desk calendar and consumer handbook, features Porter's best advice for saving money and organizing your budget. Includes budget worksheets. Send $8.95 plus $1 for postage and handling to Financial

Your Money's Worth
Sylvia Porter

Almanac in care of the Manchester Herald, 4400 Johnson Drive, Fairway, Kan. 66205. Make checks payable to Universal Press Syndicate.)

N-plant is off line

WALLINGFORD (UPI) — An electrical failure has caused an automatic shutdown at the Millstone II nuclear power plant.

Northeast Utilities spokesman Tony Nericcio said Wednesday the electrical failure at 3:30 p.m. was caused by a loss of the plant's usual source of electrical power.

He said backup power systems were available but the plant safety system went into an automatic shutdown.

"We know some work was being done on an electrical system at the plant and the control room. We are investigating if this work caused the shutdown," he said.

Nericcio said state officials were informed about the incident. There was no release of radioactivity and there was no health hazard to the public, he said.

Nericcio said only one of the state's three nuclear power plants, the Connecticut Yankee Nuclear Power plant in Haddam, is in operation.

The Millstone I in Wallingford was shutdown this summer for routine refueling and is not expected to be back on line until the end of next month.

Mosler new director

Warren B. Mosler, formerly a Manchester resident and an employee of the Savings Bank of Manchester, has been elected to the board of directors of Jernigan & Kinsella, a Chicago Board of Trade clearing operation.

Mosler is a general partner of Illinois Income Investors and the head of the government bond and arbitrage division of William Blair & Co. of Chicago.

VOTE DEMOCRATIC

McCAVANAGH listens to you

He knows you are concerned about your safety. FBI records show a downturn in crime, but it's only eight. Crime is still rampant in our country. Manchester people share the fear of all citizens. Jim McCavanagh has long been concerned. He has been the liaison to the police department from the Manchester Board of Directors for years. He is a leader in support for our police and fire fighting staff. He knows that they need to protect us as well as possible. When elected to the 12th District seat, he will work to strengthen our police and fire fighters. He will see to it they have the right training, equipment and support. He knows you want this and he pledges to you that you will get it.

IMPROVE PUBLIC SAFETY

ELECT JIM McCAVANAGH to the 12th DISTRICT

Paid for by the Committee to Elect James McCavanagh State Representative — Raymond F. Demato, Treas.

GROSSMAN'S AN EVANS PRODUCTS COMPANY

More to Choose More to Save

54<sup>99</sup>
Regular 64.99
PREHUNG Princess WHITE COMBO DOOR
32" or 36" x 80" x 1 1/2". With screen, tempered glass, hardware, instructions.
• 1 1/2" Cavalier Combo Dept.
Reg. 82.99 ..... 73.99

$119.
Regular $129
Bully INSULATED WHITE COMBO DOOR
32" or 36" x 80" Honeycomb core insulates against heat and cold. Removable 9-lite grille. Prehung.

84<sup>99</sup>
Regular 89.99
ALUMINUM FULLVIEW WHITE COMBO DOOR
36" x 80" x 1 1/2". With full tempered glass insert and full length screen. Heavy-duty hardware.

$99.
Regular $129
WHITE OR BRONZE PATIO STORM DOOR
Installs over your patio door. Reduces heat loss, air infiltration, condensation, frosting.

16c R-11 3 1/2" Manville KRAFT FACED WALL INSULATION 15" width 50 sq. ft. roll or 23" width 76.7 sq. ft. roll. Easy to install.	23c R-19 6 1/2" Manville UNFACED ATTIC INSULATION 15", 120 sq. ft. pkg. or 23", 184 sq. ft. pkg. Add to present insulation.	27c R-19 6 1/2" Manville KRAFT FACED ATTIC INSULATION 15", 30 sq. ft. roll or 23", 46 sq. ft. roll. For uninsulated attics.	2<sup>49</sup> Reg. 2.79-2'x8'x1" INSULATING FOAM PANELS Use behind gypsum or wall paneling. • 4'x8'x1" Reg. 5.49 ..... 4.99
95c Grade Stamped TOP QUALITY 2x3x6" STUD Meets building code requirements. For all construction. KD.	6<sup>99</sup> 4'x8'x 1/2" TOP QUALITY WAFERBOARD SHEATHING Solid core. Exterior grade. • 1/2" Waterboard. 5.99	4<sup>49</sup> 4'x8'x 1/2" Solid Core TOP QUALITY PARTICLEBOARD Underlayment grade. Agency certified. • 4'x8'x 1/2" Particleboard. 5.49	2<sup>99</sup> 4'x8'x 1/2" 1ST QUALITY GYPSUM BOARD • 5 Gal. Joint Compound ..... 7.99
17<sup>99</sup> Reg. 19.99 Aluminum COMBO WINDOWS White. Single track. Stock sizes.	7<sup>49</sup> Reg. 9.99 Gal. Latex TEXTURE PAINT Sand, Smooth or Stucco. White. Your choice.	4<sup>79</sup> Reg. 6.29-4'x8'x 1/2" WALL PANELING Tan Bark Hickory. Simulated woodgrain.	5<sup>99</sup> Reg. 9.99 Watt-saver LIGHT ADAPTER Convert incandescents to fluorescents.

Sale Ends Saturday, October 30th

MANCHESTER 145 Spencer Street 648-0198
NEWTON 3127 Berlin Turnpike 688-5881
HARTFORD 3200 No. Main St. 525-9355
ENFIELD 78 Hazard & Palumbo Blvd. 741-2268

OPEN Mon. thru Fri. 8 a.m. - 8:30 p.m.; Sat. 8 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

VOTE

Election 1982

Advertising Supplement to Manchester Herald

October 28th, 1982

h ter id, 4400 John-cks payable to e screen, structions
73.99
mb core old hung nd full ardware ration,
249
9-2'x8'x1"
SULATING PANELS
all paneling
4.99
299
4'x8'x1/2"
QUALITY BOARD
7.99
rgis-Pacific
rain

Candidate choices Tuesday

When Manchester voters go to the polls Tuesday, they, like other Connecticut voters, will elect a governor and four other state officials.

They will also elect a United States senator, a United States representative, a state senator, a state representative, a sheriff, and a judge of probate.

In some cases the choice will be between one Republican and one Democrat, but for many offices there are candidates of the Libertarian Party and of the Conservative Party as well.

Here are the offices that will offer the same choices in all 12 Manchester polling places.

Governor and Lieutenant Governor: Incumbent Democrat William A. O'Neill is seeking election to a four-year term. He is opposed by Republican Lewis B. Rome, a former legislative leader, and Walter J. Gengarelly, of the Libertarian Party.

United States Senator: Incumbent Republican Lowell P. Weicker Jr. seeks reelection. He is opposed by Democrat Anthony (Toby) Moffett. Moffett is U.S. Representative from the 6th District. Other candidates are Libertarian James A. Lewis, and Conservative Lucien P. DiFazio Jr.

Representative in Congress: Incumbent Democrat Barbara Bailey Kennedy seeks reelection. She is opposed by Republican Herschel A. Klein and Libertarian Daniel M. Landefin.

State Senator: Incumbent Republican Carl A. Zinsser seeks reelection from the 4th Senatorial district which is composed of Manchester, Bolton, Hebron, Glastonbury, and Columbia. He is opposed by Democrat Stephen T. Penny, mayor of Manchester.

Secretary of the State: The candidates are Democrat Julia M. Tashjian, Republican Michael L. Werner, Libertarian Peter H. Reed, and Conservative John O. Parsons.

Treasurer: The candidates are Democratic incumbent Henry F. Parker, Republican John T. Becker, Libertarian Louis A. Garofalo, and Conservative William B. Kromes.

Comptroller: The candidates are incumbent Democrat J. Edward Caldwell, Republican Susan Hutchinson, Libertarian Richard S. Land, and Conservative David J. Ordway.

Attorney General: Democrat Joseph I. Lieberman, Republican William H. Champin, III, and Libertarian Vincent Stuart Tirola. None is incumbent.

Sheriff: Incumbent Democrat Patrick J. Hogan and Republican Cosmo A. Ferrante.

Judge of Probate: Incumbent Democrat William F. Fitzgerald and Republican William J. Diana. Diana is a member of the town's Board of Directors.

Not everyone in Manchester will have the same choices for state representative.

Parts of Manchester lie in three different Assembly Districts. Whom you can choose from depends on where you vote.

In Assembly District 13, Republican incumbent Elsie L. Swensson is seeking reelection. She is opposed by Democrat John W. Thompson, a former Manchester mayor.

That district lies wholly in Manchester and comprises voting district 4, Martin School; 6, Nathan Hale School; 8, Verplanck School; 11, Mahoney Recreation Center, and 12, Howell Cheney Regional Technical School.

In Assembly District 55, Republican J. Peter Fuscas seeks reelection. His opponent is Democrat Daniel J. Moore.

Only one Manchester voting district lies in the Assembly District 55. It is district 3, Buckley School.

In Assembly District 9, Democrat Donald F. Bates and Republican Robert A. Forrest are seeking election. Neither is incumbent. Only one voting district in Manchester lies in Assembly District 9. It is voting district 9, Keeney Street School.

In Assembly District 12, Republican incumbent Walter H. Joyner seeks election. His opponent is Democrat James R. McCavanagh. McCavanagh is a member of the town's Board of Directors.

The three questions

Candidates were asked to answer three questions developed by the League of Women Voters.

The questions were:
1. Your opinion, please, on merit selection of judges. Should the governor appoint judges and then have them confirmed by the legislature?

2. Should the party lever be removed? Would you oppose legislation for positive identification in order to vote (example, driver's license)?

3. Please clarify your position on a woman's civil rights concerning reproduction.

The candidates' answers to the questions appear — along with their biographies — on the succeeding pages.

4th Senate District

Stephen T. Penny, Democrat

For the last five years Stephen T. Penny has served as the Mayor of Manchester. He is a practicing attorney.

A native of Manchester, Penny was raised here and attended local schools, before earning a BA degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and a law degree from the University of Connecticut.

A member of many civic organizations including the Masons, Shrine, Rotary and the British-American Club, Penny was a 1981 recipient of the Connecticut Jaycees Five Outstanding Young Men Award.

He is an incorporator of Manchester Memorial Hospital and served on the Manchester Economic Development Commission from 1976 to 1977, serving as head of the commission's legal subcommittee.

1. I support the concept of selecting Connecticut judges by merit, though I am not committed to any one of the many alternatives which exist for this type of selection process.

Currently, the governor nominates individuals to serve as judges, and the legislature either appoints or rejects his nominees. The current legislative proposal would require the governor to select his judicial nominees exclusively from candidates submitted by a Judicial Selection Committee.

Please turn to page 9

Carl A. Zinsser, Republican

Carl A. Zinsser is a Manchester native. He graduated from Manchester High School in 1956 and attended Central Connecticut State College.

He is married to the former Ellen Watson. They reside at 176 Ralph Road with two of their three children.

Zinsser served on the Manchester Housing Authority from 1969-72 and was appointed to the town Board of Directors in 1971. He served on the board until 1980, when he became senator. He also was a member of the town Human Relations Commission from 1972 to 1973.

In the state Senate he has been a ranking member of the Public Safety Committee, a member of the Appropriations Committee and is co-chairman of the Legislative Program Review and Investigations Committee.

He is a past president of the Manchester Jaycees, has been secretary-treasurer of the Center Church Men's Club, is a former deacon of the Center Congregational Church, a former chairman of the Cancer Society fund-raising committee in 1974-75, a member of the Manchester Board of Realtors and its past president, and a member of the Manchester Republican Town Committee. He is owner of Group I Zinsser Agency.

1. I am in favor of merit selection of judges.

Please turn to page 9

About this section

This is the annual political tabloid sponsored by the League of Women Voters in keeping with a long tradition of encouraging voter participation on Election Day.

The material for this section was gathered by the League. Each of the candidates for General Assembly seats representing portions of Manchester was asked the same three questions.

What follows are brief backgrounds of candidates as supplied to the League by the candidates themselves, and their answers to each of the three questions.

RE-ELECT

ELSIE "BIZ" SWENSSON

★ COURAGE

★ DEDICATION

★ INTEGRITY

YOUR FULL TIME

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

13th. DISTRICT

For Absentee Ballots or Rides To The Polls, Please Call 646-0065 or 643-8900

Paid For BY: The Committee To Re-Elect "Biz" Swensson; Faye Lawrence, Treasurer

ELECT LEWIS B. ROME GOVERNOR

GERALD LABRIOLA LT. GOVERNOR

Re-Elect
LOWELL P. WEICKER, JR.
U.S. SENATE

HERSCHEL A. KLEIN
CONGRESS

Re-Elect
CARL ZINSSER
STATE SENATE

Re-Elect
WALTER H. JOYNER
REPRESENTATIVE-DISTRICT #12
(Voting Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 & 10)

Re-Elect
ELSIE L. SWENSSON
REPRESENTATIVE-DISTRICT #13
(Voting Districts 4, 6, 8, 11 & 12)

Re-Elect
J. PETER FUSSCAS
REPRESENTATIVE-DISTRICT #55
(Voting District 3)

ROBERT FORREST
REPRESENTATIVE-DISTRICT #9
(Voting District 9)

WILLIAM J. DIANA
JUDGE OF PROBATE

ELECT THE REPUBLICAN TEAM ON NOVEMBER 2nd!

Paid For By: The Manchester Republican Town Committee; Louis Kocals, Jr., Treasurer

9th Assembly District

Donald Bates, Democrat

Donald Bates, Democratic candidate in the 9th House District, has lived in East Hartford for the last 27 years.

He is a retired salesman with an extensive background in public office. He served for five terms as an East Hartford councilman, three terms as town treasurer, and was first chairman of the East Hartford Inlands and Wetlands Commission. He is a former member of the audit investigation committee, the community council on youth and a former chairman of the welfare board under the old town charter.

He is married and has four children.

I think the system we have now has worked very well. If it was left to the voters it may become a popularity contest whereas now it is done by an elected official in the executive branch who is responsible to the voters and then ratified by the legislative branch of government that is also elected.

2. No. Now you have a choice of using it or not using it so I feel it is the best of both worlds.

It would be logistically difficult to provide existing voters with identification. However, I think it would be progressive steps forward to implement an identification procedure when making new voters.

3. A woman is privileged to have the ability to reproduce. A woman should not be denied these rights in the job market, equal opportunity for housing, etc. It is sad indeed that legislation is necessary to ensure these rights.

Where to vote in Manchester

Voting District 1 — Robertson School, 65 N. School St.

Voting District 2 — Bowers School, 141 Princeton St.

Voting District 3 — Buckley School, 250 Vernon St.

Voting District 4 — Martin School, 140 Dartmouth Road.

Voting District 5 — Senior Citizens Center, 549 E. Middle Turnpike.

Voting District 6 — Nathan Hale School, 160 Spruce St.

Voting District 7 — Waddell School, 163 Broad St.

Voting District 8 — Verplanck School, 126 Olcott St.

Voting District 9 — Keeney Street School, 179 Keeney St.

Voting District 10 — Manchester High School, Brookfield Street.

Voting District 11 — Mahoney Recreation Center (West Side Rec), Cedar Street.

Voting District 12 — Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School, 791 W. Middle Turnpike.

Robert Forrest, Republican

Robert Forrest of East Hartford is the Republican candidate from the 9th House District.

An East Hartford native he has worked in past political campaigns and worked the polls. He feels that since he has always been a leader it was time he ran for public office.

He graduated from

Manchester Community College with an associate's degree in science.

He is a member of the Planetary Society, the Connecticut Professional Photographers Association and the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

1. Yes My reason being it should not be solely up to the governor — because of decisions judges make that affect the entire state. The people speak through their legislators; thus the people would have a say on judges.

2. No. Not if my constituents would like it.

3. My attitude is a woman is in-control of her own body and no one needs to tell her what to do especially the government.

Carl Zinsser

Continued from page 3

However, if Connecticut is to go to a system of merit selection, then it should be a true system and not one controlled by politicians. The bill passed in 1982, which I opposed, would allow the governor to control the process and therefore to appoint, not on merit, but on loyalty to whatever political party the governor belongs to. That is not a true merit selection.

2. In 1981 and 1982, I introduced legislation to remove the party lever from the voting machine. I believe that each candidate should stand on his own merit. The removal of the party lever would make all parties put forth their best candidate for election and not run candidates just because they are "good party workers." The party lever is an insult to the intelligence of the Connecticut voter and should be removed.

On Part II of the question, I would not oppose such legislation.

3. It appears to me that Question 3 is asking for my position on abortion; therefore, that will be the manner in which I will answer it.

This becomes a very emotional subject, a subject which some people rely on solely to vote for or against a candidate, but nevertheless an important subject. I have always believed that the only time an abortion should take place is when the mother's life is endangered or in the case of rape or incest.

12th Assembly District

Walter Joyner, Republican

Walter Joyner was born in Buffalo, N.Y. and raised in Manchester. He graduated from Manchester public schools and from Trinity College.

He served 39 months in the U.S. Army Air Corps and has operated a successful contracting business for the past 30 years.

He has been a member of the House of Representatives for the past four years. He has served on the Public Health Committee, the General Law Committee and is now ranking member of the Committee on Government Administrations and Elections.

1. Yes, provided you have a lock-tie screening process.

2. No. I sponsored voter I.D.

3. I would vote my constituency. They would not support abortion unless rape and incest were excluded. Personally I feel it is a choice the woman should make.

James R. McCavanagh, Democrat

His educational background includes attendance at University of Connecticut and Manchester Community College along with several real estate related schools and courses.

He is a product and a graduate of the Manchester public school system and graduated from Manchester High School in 1968.

His fraternal and civic organizations together with officerships held include: Kiwanis Club of Manchester - past-president and member of the board; Manchester Memorial Hospital, incorporator; Manchester Elks Club; and British American Club.

He has taken several business management courses and held various responsible positions with large corporations prior to opening a real estate office in Manchester. He is currently the owner of McCavanagh Real Estate in Manchester.

His political involvements include: secretary of the Board of Directors of Manchester, two terms; chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Safety; chairman of the Subcommittee Board of Education; experience with the formation, review and approval of three annual budgets; public safety liaison officer, and Board of Education liaison officer.

1. I believe that a merit system of selecting judges should be an improvement over our present system. I would certainly favor a system which might require the Governor to nominate for judgeships only those persons previously screened and approved by a non-partisan judicial selection panel.

2. I am opposed to the mandatory party lever because it denies voters their choice without first choosing a party lever. I think that our present optional party levers represents the rights of

JACK THOMPSON FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

YOUR VOTE CAN HELP BRING
JACK THOMPSON'S
PROVEN ABILITIES TO THE STATE CAPITAL!

- He has served our community.
- Incorporator, Manchester Memorial Hospital
  - Director, Heritage Savings and Loan Association
  - Former Chairman, Connecticut Legislative Coalition for the Elderly
  - Former Mayor and Deputy Mayor, Manchester Board of Directors
- He is professionally trained.
- B.A., M.A., Political Science
  - Graduate training in Business Administration
- He is committed to
- Local Legislative hearings
  - Close working relationships with Town, Business and Education Leaders.

JACK THOMPSON HAS SHOWN AN ABILITY TO DEVELOP SOLUTIONS TO COMMUNITY AND STATE PROBLEMS.

JOHN W. THOMPSON...

THE BETTER CHOICE

13th. DISTRICT

VOTE DEMOCRATIC
NOVEMBER 2nd.!

Sponsored by: Citizens for Jack Thompson, R.M. Negro, Treasurer

Senator Zinsser has been working for you.

In his first term he sponsored legislation to:

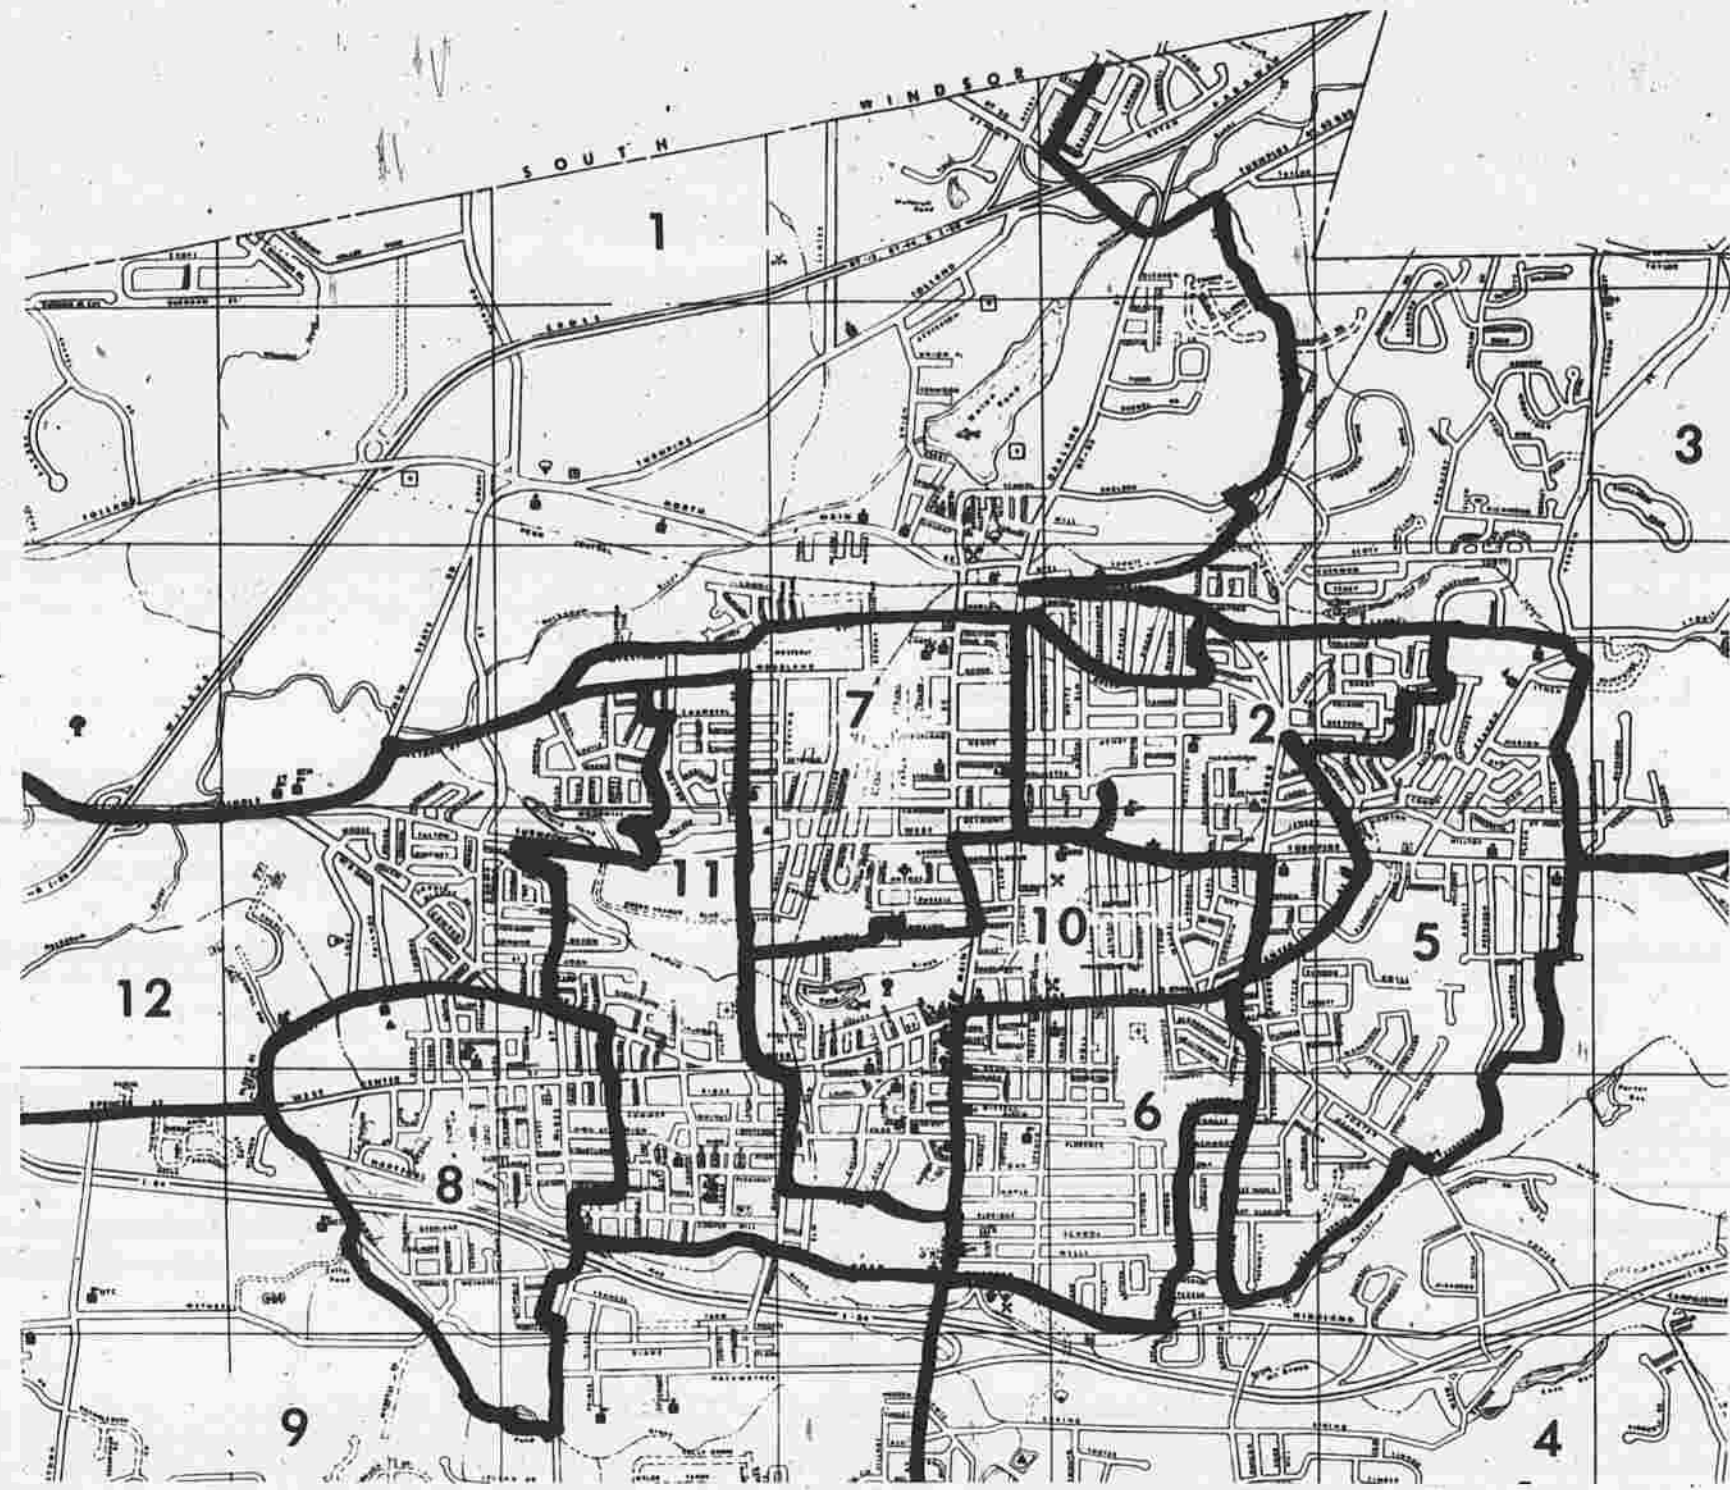

- ★ Increase funding for home mortgages
- ★ Impose tough criminal penalties for using chemical spray in commission of a crime.
- ★ Improve formula (GTB) to fund education and bring additional funds to Fourth District.
- ★ Remove party lever from voting machine.
- ★ Repeal unincorporated business tax.
- ★ Restore funds to program to aid the elderly.

Keep Senator Zinsser working for you.

Re-elect Carl A. Zinsser
Your State Senator

Paid for by the Zinsser Committee, Roger Jacobs, Treasurer

Location of Manchester polling places

Voters next Tuesday will go to their new polling places—mandated by the redrawing of the town's voting districts—for the first time in a general election. Manchester was divided into 10 voting districts before this year. Now the town is divided into 12 districts. Here is the list of new polling places (the map at right illustrates the new district boundaries):

- District 1: Robertson School, 65 N. School St.;

- District 2: Bowers School, 141 Princeton St.;
- District 3: Buckley School, 250 Vernon St.;
- District 4: Martin School, 140 Dartmouth Road;
- District 5: Senior Citizens Center, 549 E. Middle Turnpike;
- District 6: Nathan Hale School, 160 Spruce St.;
- District 7: Waddell School, 163 Broad St.;
- District 8: Verplanck School, 126 Olcott St.;

- District 9: Keeney Street School, 179 Keeney St.;
- District 10: Manchester High School, Brookfield Street;
- District 11: Mahoney Recreation Center (West Side Recreation Center), Cedar Street;
- District 12: Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School, 791 W. Middle Turnpike

The voting districts, street by street

Here is a street-by-street list of Manchester's voting districts, prepared by the town registrars of voters, to help voters determine where to vote.

A streets

Academy Street ..... 5
Adams Street ..... 1, 12

1 — up to 302
12 — 303 to end
Adams St. South ..... 8
Adelaide Road ..... 5
Agnes Drive ..... 5
Alexander Street ..... 11
Alice Drive ..... 5
Alton Street ..... 7
Ambassador Drive ..... 3
Anderson Street ..... 10
Andor Road ..... 4, 6
4 — odd numbers
5 — even numbers
Ann Street ..... 8

Analdi Road ..... 4, 6
4 — odd numbers to 47
and even numbers to 70
and even numbers from 49
and even numbers from 72
Apel Place ..... 1
Arcolla Drive ..... 5
Alpha Street ..... 7
Arch Street ..... 11
Ardmore Road ..... 10
Armor Street ..... 7
Arnott Road ..... 5
Arvine Place ..... 4
Ash Street ..... 9

Ashland Street ..... 7
Ashworth Street ..... 4, 5
4 — up to 59
5 — 60 and up
Asylum Street ..... 2
Auburn Road ..... 2
Autumn Street ..... 4, 5, 6
4 — even numbers from 78
5 — all odd numbers
6 — even numbers to 76
Avery Street ..... 1
Avon Street ..... 8
Avondale Road ..... 2
Bent Street ..... 2
Benton Street ..... 10

B streets

Baldwin Road ..... 3
Bank Street ..... 11
Barnwood Road ..... 9
Barry Road ..... 2
Bates Road ..... 12
Battista Road ..... 6
Beacon Street ..... 1
Beech Street ..... 11
Bell Street ..... 9
Bent Street ..... 2
Benton Street ..... 10

Berkeley Street ..... 2
Bette Drive ..... 4
Bidwell Street ..... 8, 9
8 — all odd numbers
and even numbers from 188
9 — even numbers up to 186
Bigelow Street ..... 10
Bilyeu Road ..... 1
Birch Street ..... 6
Birch Mountain Road ..... 4
Blisshop Drive ..... 3
Biswell Street ..... 8
Please turn to page 7

The voting districts, street by street

Continued from page 6

Bliss Street ..... 2
Bluefield Drive ..... 8
Blue Ridge Drive ..... 4
Bobby Lane ..... 4
Bolton Center Road ..... 4
Bolton Street ..... 11
Bond Street ..... 7
Bonner Road ..... 2
Boulder Road ..... 5
Bow Street ..... 10
Bowers Street ..... 2
Braeside Crescent ..... 9
Brainard Place ..... 10
Branford Street ..... 6
Bremen Road ..... 11
Brent Road ..... 12
Breton Road ..... 2
Briarwood Drive ..... 9
Bridge Street ..... 8, 9
8 — even numbers
9 — odd numbers
7 — up to 25
and odd numbers from 27
11 — even numbers from 26
Brookfield Street ..... 10
Bruce Road ..... 9
Bryan Drive ..... 3
Buckingham Street ..... 2
Buckland Street ..... 1
Bunce Drive ..... 6
Burnham Street ..... 1
Burnham Street Ext. .... 1
Burnham Street West ..... 1
Bush Hill Road ..... 9
Butler Road ..... 12
Butternut Road ..... 4
Byron Road ..... 10

C streets

Cambridge Street ..... 7
Camp Meeting Road ..... 4
Campfield Road ..... 11
Candlewood Drive ..... 4
Canterbury Street ..... 1
Carmen Road ..... 3
Carol Drive ..... 12

Carpenter Road ..... 3
Carroll Drive ..... 4
Carter Street ..... 12
Carter Road ..... 4
Carter St. West ..... 4
Carver Lane ..... 8
Case Drive ..... 8
Castle Road ..... 12
Cedar Street ..... 11
Center Street ..... 10, 11, 12
10 — odd numbers to 321
and even numbers to 312
11 — even numbers from 314 to 566 and odd numbers from 323 to 567
12 — odd numbers from 569
and even numbers from 598
Centerfield Street ..... 3
Chalmers Street ..... 8
Chambers Street ..... 7, 11
7 — up to 51
11 — odd numbers from 53
and even numbers from 52
Channing Drive ..... 9
Chapel Road ..... 1
Chapel Street ..... 7
Charles Drive ..... 10
Charter Oak Street ..... 4, 6
4 — all even numbers
and odd numbers from 271
6 — odd numbers to 269
Chester Drive ..... 12
Chestnut Street ..... 10
Church Street ..... 1
Clark Street ..... 1
Clearview Terrace ..... 7
Cliffside Drive ..... 3
Clinton Street ..... 6
Clyde Road ..... 2
Cobb Hill Road ..... 4
Coburn Road ..... 2
Cole Street ..... 2
Coleman Road ..... 2
Colonial Road ..... 3
Columbus Street ..... 7, 11
7 — up to 42
11 — from 43 to end
Comstock Road ..... 4
Concord Road ..... 1, 3
1 — even numbers
3 — odd numbers

D streets

Dale Road ..... 4, 5
4 — odd numbers
5 — even numbers
Dartmouth Road ..... 4
Dearborn Drive ..... 3
Debbie Drive ..... 9
Deepwood Drive ..... 11, 12
11 — from 59 up
12 — up to 58
Deerfield Drive ..... 12
Delmont Street ..... 2, 7
2 — from 80 up
7 — up to 79
Deming Street ..... 1, 3
1 — all even numbers
and odd numbers from 101
3 — odd numbers to 99
Denver Road ..... 5
Devon Drive ..... 11
Erie Street ..... 9
Esau Drive ..... 9
Division Street ..... 11

E streets

Earl Street ..... 2, 10
2 — up to 9
10 — from 10 up
East Center St. .... 2, 6, 10
2 — odd numbers from 405
and even numbers from 374
8 — even numbers to 372
10 — odd numbers to 409
East Eldridge St. .... 5
Eastfield Street ..... 3
Eastland Drive ..... 3
East Maple St. .... 5
Edgerton Place ..... 10
Edgerton Street ..... 10
Edison Road ..... 12
Edmund Street ..... 12
Edwards Street ..... 1
Elberta Road ..... 1, 3
1 — from 51 up
3 — up to 49
Eldridge Street ..... 6
Electric Drive ..... 1
Elizabeth Drive ..... 5
Elen Lane ..... 3
Elm Street ..... 11
Elm Terrace ..... 10
Elro Street ..... 10
Elkie Drive ..... 5
Ehwood Road ..... 5
Emerson Street ..... 8
Englewood Drive ..... 12
Ensign Street ..... 8
Erie Street ..... 11
Esau Drive ..... 9
Essex Street ..... 7

F streets

Fairfield Street ..... 11
Fairview Street ..... 12
Falknor Drive ..... 12
Farm Drive ..... 9
Farmington Street ..... 2
Farnwick Road ..... 2
Faulkner Street ..... 12
Ferguson Road ..... 5
Fern Street ..... 4
Fernside Drive ..... 12
Finley Street ..... 4
Flag Drive ..... 3
Fleming Road ..... 7, 11
7 — from 28 up
11 — up to 25
Flint Drive ..... 6
Florence Street ..... 6
Flower Street ..... 10
Foley Street ..... 6
Ford Street ..... 6
Forest Street ..... 10, 11
10 — odd numbers
11 — even numbers

G streets

Galaxy Drive ..... 9
Garden Drive ..... 10
Gardner Street ..... 10
Garden Grove Drive ..... 9
Gardner Street ..... 4
Gardner St. West ..... 4
Garnett Road ..... 9
Garth Road ..... 4, 5
4 — odd numbers from 137
and even numbers from 110
5 — odd numbers to 135
and even numbers to 108
Gerard Street ..... 2

H streets

Hackmatack Street ..... 9
Hale Road ..... 1
Hamilton Drive ..... 3
Hamilton Street ..... 6
Hannaway Street ..... 6
Harding Street ..... 6
French Road ..... 12
Hartan Street ..... 2
Harrison Street ..... 6
Hartford Road ..... 4, 6, 9, 11
4 — even numbers from 476 to 794
8 — odd numbers from 419
9 — even numbers up to
476 and from 796
11 — odd numbers to 417
Hartland Road ..... 11
Harvard Road ..... 2
Harvest Lane ..... 4
Hathaway Lane ..... 8
Hawley Street ..... 6
Hawthorne Street ..... 7
Haynes Street ..... 7
Hazel Street ..... 6
Please turn to page 8

(L—R) James, Kari, Nancy, Sean, Jamie

McCavanagh

Your Man For The 12th District

HE UNDERSTANDS GOVERNMENT
Member Town Board of Directors 3 years
Chairman Subcommittee on Public Safety
Chairman Subcommittee Board of Education

HE IS AN EXPERIENCED BUSINESSMAN
Owns and operates James McCavanagh Agency
Former General Manager of Moriarty Bros.
Manchester
He has attended courses on real estate and business management at MCC and UConn

HE GETS INVOLVED IN HIS COMMUNITY
Incorporator Manchester Memorial Hospital
Member Board of Directors United Way
Member Elks, BA Club, Knights of Columbus
Member St. James Church

BORN AND RAISED IN THE DISTRICT ... JIM REALLY UNDERSTANDS ITS NEEDS AND WILL PROVIDE STRONG REPRESENTATION FOR ITS PEOPLE
VOTE DEMOCRATIC

Paid for by the committee to elect James McCavanagh State Representative,
Raymond F. Demato, Treasurer

The voting districts, street by street

Continued from page 7

J streets		K streets		L streets		I streets
Heather Lane	9	Jackson Street	6	Kane Road	8	Imperial Drive	1, 9
Helsine Road	2	Jarvis Road	12	Keeney Street	8, 9	1 — up to 48
Hemlock Street	10	Jean Road	5	Kennedy Road	3	9 — from 48 up
Hendee Road	12	Jefferson Street	1	Kensington Street	5	Indian Drive	3
Henderson Road	11	Joseph Street	7	Kent Drive	1	Irving Street	7
Henry Street	2, 7	Joyce Lane	4	Kerwood Drive	1
2 — from 73 up		Juan Circle	0	Kerry Street	1
7 — up to 72		Johnson Terrace	6	Kimberly Drive	4
Hercules Drive	9	Jordt Street	2	Kingwood Drive	4
Hickory Lane	4	Joseph Terrace	2	Knight Street	6
High Street	10, 11	Joyce Lane	4	Knobwood Road	3
10 — up to 23		Judith Drive	9	Knox Street	10
11 — from 25 up
High Street West	8
Highland Street	4
Highwood Drive	4
Hills Road	9
Hillside Street	2
Hilltop Drive	5
Hoffman Road	6
Holt Street	6
Hollister Street	2, 7
2 — from 76 up
7 — up to 75
Homestead Street	7
Horace Street	8
Horton Road	12
House Drive	8
Huckleberry Road	6
Hudson Street	1
Hunter Road	9
Huntington Street	10
Hyde Street	8

10 Reasons To Re-Elect

WALT JOYNER

As Your State Representative

In The Community

- WAS INSTRUMENTAL IN INITIATING MANCHESTER'S HEAD START PROGRAM
- FORCED INJUNCTION AGAINST A NURSING HOME DUMPING PATIENTS AFTER PERSONAL FUNDS EXHAUSTED
- INITIATED CHRISTMAS GIFT PROGRAM FOR NURSING HOME PATIENTS WITHOUT FAMILIES

In The Legislature

- FORCED HALT OF ABUSIVE USE OF PRIVILEGE AND POWER IN STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH SERVICES
- HELPED CREATE LOW INTEREST MORTGAGES FOR HOME BUYERS
- BROUGHT ABOUT BETTER MANAGEMENT OF STATE AGENCIES
- IS A MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATIVE TASK FORCE FOR THE ELDERLY
- IS A MEMBER OF THE REAL ESTATE COMMISSION STUDY
- IS A MEMBER OF THE STATE COMMISSION TO REVIEW ALL PUBLIC WORKS CONTRACT AWARDS
- IN THE RANKING MEMBER OF COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATION

● Please Vote ●      ● November 2 ●

Paid for by Joyner '82 Committee, Leslie Bolcher, Treasurer

The voting districts, street by street

Continued from page 8

Q streets		R streets		S streets		T streets
Quaker Road	2	Rachel Road	1	Saddlehill Road	9	Tam Road	4
Queens Court	2	Radding Street	2	Sage Drive	3	Tanner Street	2
		Ralph Road	9	Saint James Street	10	Taylor Street	3
		Raymond Road	5	Saint John Street	11, 12	Teresa Road	4
		Redwood Road	9	Strong Street	7	Thayer Road	4
		Regent Street	7	Strong Street	7	Thomas Drive	12
				Strong Street	7	Thompson Road	9
				Strong Street	7	Timber Trail	4
				Strong Street	7	Timrod Road	4
				Strong Street	7	Tolland Turnpike	1, 3
				Strong Street	7	1 — odd numbers from 285
				Strong Street	7	3 — even numbers from 182
				Strong Street	7	11 — from 18 up
				Strong Street	7	Warren Road	5
				Strong Street	7	Warren Street	9

Stephen Penny

Continued from page 3

any widespread problem with respect to voter fraud. If such problems exist, then requiring a voter to establish his proper identification would seem an appropriate response.

3. Yes. Legislators as public officials have the responsibility of avoiding even the appearance of conflict of interest in the discharge of their public duties.

4. I support a woman's right to choose to bear or not to bear children, within the confines of the United States' Supreme Court's decision in this area.

DIANA

FOR

Judge of Probate

Paid For By: Diana For Judge of Probate; Peter DiRosa, Treasurer

13th Assembly District

John W. Thompson, Democrat

John W. Thompson was born and raised on Staten Island, N.Y. He enlisted in the United States Marine Corps in 1950. After training he was assigned to the First Marine Division in Korea, 1951-52.

He entered St. Michael's College, Winoski Park, Vt. in 1952, and received a B.A. degree in Political Science in 1956.

He received an M.A. degree in Political Science from the University of Connecticut in 1969.

Thompson married Bette Collins of Burlington, Vt. in 1955. They have five children.

He was elected to the Board of Directors of Manchester in 1971, 1973, and 1975. He served as mayor from 1971-1975, and deputy mayor from 1975-1977.

Thompson served as president of the Connecticut Society of Gerontology, and was chairman of the Connecticut Legislative Coalition for the Elderly and chairman of the Connecticut White House Conference on Aging Transportation Committee. He is an incorporator of Manchester Memorial Hospital and a director of the Heritage Savings and Loan Association.

He has resided in Connecticut since 1956, and in Manchester since 1961.

1. I support the merit selection of judges. A merit selection, two screening committees, legislative review, etc. now exist. It has worked effectively. I would not tamper with the system unless there was clear evidence the system had become ineffective.

2. I have no objection to removal of the party lever, provided the party identification of the candidate was clear and three listing of candidates was by party and on the same line. A party system has proven itself superior to a non partisan system.

3. I am opposed to abortion on demand. There are legitimate reasons for abortion, such as physical, psychological or emotional well-being of the pregnant woman, which I recognize and accept. Women who are victimized by rape or incest and become pregnant are placed in an extremely cruel and harsh dilemma. I am sympathetic to and could not oppose abortions under these circumstances.

Beyond these reasons, however, the question of abortion goes to the heart of life itself. It is not a question of man-made law, rather it is natural law that governs.

I cannot assume a superior moral position to those who disagree with me on this issue. Friends and acquaintances whom I respect in every way differ with me completely on this issue. I believe they are wrong, but not immoral.

Assembly and Senate districts

Assembly District 9 - Voting District 9 and parts of East Hartford and Glastonbury.

Assembly District 12 - Voting Districts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 10.

Assembly District 13 - Voting Districts 4, 6, 8, 11 and 12.

Assembly District 55 - Voting District 3 and all of Andover, Bolton, Hebron and Marlborough.

Senatorial District 4 - All of Manchester, Bolton, Columbia, Hebron and Glastonbury.

State Representative Elsie 'Biz' Swensson has lived in Manchester for 31 years. She started working in her community through her church.

She entered the political field as a campaign worker for a friend who was running for office. Her friend won. At that time "Biz" was an unaffiliated voter.

She realized party affiliation was a key to becoming involved in the political process. "Biz" today champions the right of independent voters to express their views, especially through the open primary process which would allow all registered voters to participate.

1. We must depend on the Connecticut Bar Association to do their homework in their choices of prospective judges before giving the names to the Governor. A true merit system would be fine. Not knowing many of the names that came before us during the past sessions, I had to depend on the committee reports and testimony given on the floor before voting. Our judiciary system needs improvement and we must appoint top quality persons to handle our overcrowded courts.

2. Yes on the party lever. We now pay a challenger to keep alert to the voting public. Identification in large cities is needed but it would be very time consuming during a Presidential election year. We haven't come up with a viable plan as yet and will need more study.

3. I am personally opposed but the state doesn't have the right, at this time, to tell an individual to have, or not to have, an abortion. At present this issue is under judicial review. One area certainly must be considered when it comes to rape or incest, especially as it relates to minors and mentally impaired persons. Our courts were challenged in 1981 and the case was found to be unconstitutional.

"Biz" also had knowledge in the area of elections and government from her days as chairman and vice-chairman of the Manchester Republican Town Committee, and a poll worker. She was appointed to the Government Administration an Elections Committee. Her favorite piece of legislation was the law passed in 1981 which required that all election moderators be trained and certified. Too many mistakes were being made statewide because untrained people did not know how to do their job. As a justice of the peace for 11 years she also supported a bill to stop JP's from mailing absentee ballots from invalids. (Absentee Ballot Applications are permitted.)

1. We must depend on the Connecticut Bar Association to do their homework in their choices of prospective judges before giving the names to the Governor. A true merit system would be fine. Not knowing many of the names that came before us during the past sessions, I had to depend on the committee reports and testimony given on the floor before voting. Our judiciary system needs improvement and we must appoint top quality persons to handle our overcrowded courts.

2. Yes on the party lever. We now pay a challenger to keep alert to the voting public. Identification in large cities is needed but it would be very time consuming during a Presidential election year. We haven't come up with a viable plan as yet and will need more study.

3. I am personally opposed but the state doesn't have the right, at this time, to tell an individual to have, or not to have, an abortion. At present this issue is under judicial review. One area certainly must be considered when it comes to rape or incest, especially as it relates to minors and mentally impaired persons. Our courts were challenged in 1981 and the case was found to be unconstitutional.

1. We must depend on the Connecticut Bar Association to do their homework in their choices of prospective judges before giving the names to the Governor. A true merit system would be fine. Not knowing many of the names that came before us during the past sessions, I had to depend on the committee reports and testimony given on the floor before voting. Our judiciary system needs improvement and we must appoint top quality persons to handle our overcrowded courts.

2. Yes on the party lever. We now pay a challenger to keep alert to the voting public. Identification in large cities is needed but it would be very time consuming during a Presidential election year. We haven't come up with a viable plan as yet and will need more study.

3. I am personally opposed but the state doesn't have the right, at this time, to tell an individual to have, or not to have, an abortion. At present this issue is under judicial review. One area certainly must be considered when it comes to rape or incest, especially as it relates to minors and mentally impaired persons. Our courts were challenged in 1981 and the case was found to be unconstitutional.

55th Assembly District

J. Peter Fuscas, Republican

Rep. J. Peter Fuscas is 41 years old, and an ex-marine and Vietnam Veteran. His wife, Helen, teaches art history at Hartford College for Women. They have three children. Fuscas holds a bachelor's degree from Boston University and a master's degree in business administration from Babson College.

He was first elected to the legislature in 1980 and is a member of the Appropriations Committee and Program Review and Investigations Committee.

He serves on the subcommittee for welfare, environment and consumer protection, agriculture and economic development, and Department of Aging.

Fuscas has been appointed to the Governor's Task Force on State Budgeting and on the Vietnam "Agent Orange" Information Commission.

He has 16 years business and consulting experience for and with small businesses.

1. No. Merit selection of judges "is the issue." Who then selects the selectors?
2. No. Perhaps follow

3. Connecticut current law conforms to the Supreme Court decision which is essentially pro-choice

Daniel Moore, Democrat

Daniel J. Moore is a 25-year-old Marlborough resident. He graduated from RHAM High School, and has a BA from Eastern Connecticut State College with a major in Public Policy and a minor in business administration.

He worked with U.S. Sen. Christopher Dodd's campaign in 1978, and as an aide to Representative Richard Tulisano, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

He is presently an aide to House Speaker Ernest N. Abate.

1. The merit selection of judges question was addressed during the 1982 legislative session. Senate Joint Resolution 8 sets forth that all judges except those who are elected, shall be nominated by the governor exclusively from candidates submitted by the Judicial Merit Selection Commission. The commission shall be composed of 11 members appointed by the governor, the majority of whom shall not be attorneys-at-law. This Merit Selection process passed in 1982, it will come before the House of Representatives again in 1983 and if passed it will be on the public ballot in 1984 as a constitutional amendment. Yes, I would support this merit selection legislation.

The Governor is the highest elected state official and I believe that he should have the privilege of picking from the candidates given to him from the Merit Selection Commission. The legislature's approval is also a needed and necessary check point in the nomination of judges.

2. Party line levers are currently optional and therefore I see no need to do away with them. I believe the Connecticut electorate has proven time and time again to be an informed electorate. The party lever is there for those who wish to vote straight party line; those who wish to split their ticket may do so. Due to recent city election problems with voter fraud, I feel we have to look for a more legitimate means for checking voters at the polls. I would support legislation designed to require some type of I.D. system.

3. I believe that the individual woman's decision concerning her civil rights in the area of reproduction is final. If we are talking about abortion, as a practicing Roman Catholic I implore the individuals considering it to look to the other options available to them.

AN OUTSTANDING LEADER IN LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Leadership

Steve knows how to prioritize government spending, Manchester has the lowest per capita expenditures of all towns its size in the State, and is 24th of the 29 Capitol Region towns in its tax levy on homes and autos.

Leadership

During Steve's 5 years in office, new services such as paramedics, before school day care, a conservator for the retarded and elderly without family, improved police services and a newly equipped fire department have begun.

MEANS BETTER LEADERSHIP FOR THE STATE

STEVE PENNY

DEMOCRAT-STATE SENATOR
BOLTON-COLUMBIA-GLASTONBURY-HEBRON-MANCHESTER

Paid for by "Friends of Steve Penny," Peter Ramsey, Treasurer

RE-ELECT William E. FitzGerald Judge of Probate

EXPERIENCE MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

HE'S A PROFESSIONAL

10 years as Judge of Probate
Chairman of town Ethics Commission
19 years of private law practice
Instructor of Law - MCC

HE'S CONCERNED

Added Thursday evening Court hours
Holds home hearing for the disabled
Initiated establishment of Town Conservator

HE'S CIVIC MINDED

6 years as Town Director
Incorporator of Manchester Hospital
Chairman of Cheney Commission
Recipient of the "M" Award

COMPARE QUALIFICATIONS AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELF
BILL FITZGERALD'S CONCERN AND SERVICE ARE A MATTER OF PUBLIC RECORD

Committee To Re-Elect Judge FitzGerald, Emmet D. Gemme, Treasurer

HE'S DONE A GOOD JOB

Earned the confidence and respect of Manchester lawyers
Improved the Court's efficiency
Gives his personal attention to each case
Proved his competence and compassion to over 6,000 families in the Court

Attorn suppo

By Paul Hendrie
Herald Reporter

Many of Manchester's leading attorneys, physicians and health professionals filled the Municipal Building hearing room this morning to endorse Probate Judge William E. FitzGerald and refute allegations that he lacks compassion and is engaged in a potential conflict-of-interest.

"I never thought that it was a good idea to work hard," said FitzGerald, a Democrat, who said his involvement with the Cheney Historic District Commission does not detract from the time he spends running the court. "There have been charges that my conduct has been unethical. I resent and deny them."

That was the message repeated by the speaker after speaker, all of whom said Judge FitzGerald runs one of the most efficient and compassionate probate courts in the state. The speakers also praised FitzGerald's integrity.

FitzGerald's Republican opponent, William J. Diana, said he thought it was a "misuse of the office" for FitzGerald to call on attorneys who practice before him to endorse him.

Meanwhile, income reports filed with the probate court administrator showed that FitzGerald's salary last year was just under $25,000, as he had said earlier. The Manchester Herald reported Thursday those documents showed FitzGerald earned $30,000 last year, but that figure failed to include a deduction of a $6,768 assessment. When that assessment was deducted, the judge's net income was $23,232.

Leading

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's sensitive index of leading indicators climbed 0.5 percent last month on the strength of stock prices and building permits, the fifth improvement in 12 months, the Commerce Department announced today.

The month's increase had been assured ever since investors dumped up stock prices in a continuation of record buying spree last month, overwhelming the negative employment statistics also included in

VOTE ★ VOTE VOTE ★ VOTE

VOTE

The DEMOCRATIC TEAM

for MANCHESTER

...for ALL the People!!

STEPHEN PENNY

State Senator 4th District

Vote for Penny at all the polling places

WM. J. O'NEILL

For Governor

WILLIAM FITZGERALD

Judge of Probate

Vote for FitzGerald at all the polling places

TOBY MOFFETT

For U.S. Senate

JOHN THOMPSON

State Representative, 13th District

Vote for Thompson at ...

Martin School
Nathan Hale School
Verplank School
Mahoney Rec Center (West Side Rec)
Howell Cheney Technical School

JAMES McCAVANAGH

State Representative, 12th District

Vote for McCavanagh at ...

Robertson School
Bowers School
Benor Citizens Center
Waddell School
Manchester High School

BARBARA KENNELLY

For Congress

For a Ride to vote, Babysitter, or an Absentee Ballot, call ... 646-0742 or 646-4194 VOTE DEMOCRATIC NOV. 2nd

Manchester Democratic Team Committee, Paul Phillips, Treasurer

VOTE ★ VOTE VOTE ★ VOTE

