Incumbent answers criticism

Twelfth Assembly District incumbent Rep. James McCavanaugh said Tuesday he feels the state auditors can deal more effectively with mismanagement in state agencies than an inspector general could, but he favors giving the idea of creating the office of inspector general a fair hearing in the General Assembly.

McCavanaugh was responding to a claim by his Republican opponent, Jonathan Mercier, that he voted against measures to curb waste and corruption in state government, including a Republican bill to create the office of inspector general.

In his response, McCavanaugh said, "I, too, oppose fraud, waste and abuse in state government, as does any concerned citizen in our state. To suggest to the contrary is ludicrous. I support our present system of oversight of executive agencies — the state auditors of public accounts, legislative committees, the legislative Office of Fiscal Analysis, and the Program Review and Investigations Committee."

McCavanaugh said the office of an inspector general would create another layer of state bureaucracy at a cost to the taxpayers of $100,000. Furthermore, he said an inspector general would be a political appointee and questioned whether this approach would be more effective than the bi-partisan state auditors.

Cummings explains change

Democratic Town Chairman Theodore Cummings said Tuesday afternoon that the Spencer Street traffic light case was on in which two people acted independently.

On Monday afternoon he said Fourth District Republican Sen. Carl Zinsner was falsely taking credit for having made the inquiry that led to plans for a traffic control at Spencer St. and Hilltown Road.

Zinsner responded that he had sent a letter to the Department of Transportation on April 11, asking about the traffic problem.

Cummings had said that Mayor Barbara Weinberg had asked General Manager Robert Weiss to inquire about in a memo on Aug. 17.

Zinsner demanded an apology.

"I'm glad to see he has an interest in his constituents. I wish he had shown a similar interest when it came to getting money for the Porter Street sewer," Cummings said in lieu of an apology.

Candidates to address club

Six of the General Assembly candidates who will appear on the ballot in Manchester Nov. 6 will address the Junior Women's Club of Manchester Thursday at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association at 344 W. Middle Turnpike.

The candidates are Fourth District Republican Sen. Carl Zinsner and his Democratic opponent, Stephen Cassano; 13th Assembly District Rep. Elsie Swenson and her Democratic opponent, John Thompson; and 12th Assembly District Rep. James McCavanaugh and his Republican opponent, Jonathan Mercier.

A social hour will begin at 7 p.m. and the talks at 7:30. Anyone who wants to attend should make arrangements by calling 646-2064.

Weicker to attend fund-raiser

Jonathan Mercier, the Republican candidate in the 12th Assembly District, has announced that U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., will be a guest at a wine and cheese fund-raiser to be held to benefit the Mercier campaign.

The event will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer at their home at 35 Thebes Road.

The fund-raiser will be held on Saturday, Oct. 27 from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Tickets are $3 per person, and may be obtained in advance from Mary Warrington, 646-6664, Gloria DellaPera, 646-3372, or Donna Mercier, 646-2668. Tickets will also be available at the door.

College beefs up security after assault

By Sarah E. Hall Herald Reporter

An assault on a female student crossing a wooded area on the Manchester Community College campus Monday night has alarmed school officials, who are tightening security as a result.

"We're extremely concerned," MCC President William E. Vincent said today. "This kind of an assault is an assault on everybody. When one student is threatened, all of us are threatened."

"We are investigating this as vigorously as we can," Vincent said. The incident occurred about 8:30 p.m. Monday as a woman attending evening classes was walking on a paved path about halfway between the new Frederick W. Lowe building and the older, east campus.

An assailant grabbed her from behind and struck her in the face," Vincent said. "She managed to get away and get back to the Lowe building, where she reported the incident."

"I don't know what the intentions of the assailant were," Vincent said. "Whether it was to rape or to rob, I have no idea."

Vincent said the assault was the first reported on any MCC campus since about three years ago, when a woman was raped on the Hartford Road campus. In response to the latest incident, school officials have assigned a new security officer to the second shift.

"There will now be three officers patrolling the grounds at night," Vincent said. "We'll be beefing up the lighting in that particular area as well."

"There is a concern, in general, that some areas on campus are darker than others at night and should be avoided by students," John Stevens, an associate professor of art at MCC, said this morning. He said it is "obvious that some areas aren't as well-lighted as they might be."

Vincent circulated a memo to students Tuesday advising them to be cautious and travel in groups. "We have a lot of trees and shrubs over here and it's impossible for our security people to be everywhere at once," the memo said.

An existing state car will be equipped with lights and used to scout the grounds, according to the college president.

"We also intend to run a fence between the walkway and the wooded area, to make it as difficult as possible for anyone to conceal himself in the woods and assault somebody," he said.

Auditors want faster filings

By Mark A. Dupuis United Press International

HARTFORD — State auditors have renewed their criticism of the state Department of Economic Development's tardiness in documenting expenditures of cash advances to workers for travel expenses.

In a report Tuesday examining the agency's operations for two years ending June 30, 1983, the auditors repeated an earlier recommendation urging quicker documentation of travel advances.

The audit report said documentation of travel costs for a May 1980 trip to China by department employees wasn't completed for 800 days while a $15,000 advance for a September 1981 trip to Europe was outstanding for 200 days.

The auditors recommended the department comply with state regulations that require employees to document travel expenses within five working days after returning to work.

Economic Development Commissioner John J. Carson said he is not surprised nor do I feel any major problems were uncovered. He said eleven of the recommendations are being followed and he will continue discussions with the auditors on the remaining three.

The recommendation on travel expenses was one of 14 issued by the auditors in the latest report on the operations of the department which works to promote tourism and business in Connecticut.

"It's not a good report," said Auditor Henry J. Becker Jr. "There's nothing of a major nature there, but when you get up to 14 recommendations that an indication that they need to shape up."

Tiny transplant patient dies

HARTFORD — Laura Lee Lebel spent most of her 17-month life in a hospital fighting liver disease and died there during surgery to stop internal bleeding from a major abdominal blood vessel.

The daughter of Steven and Teresa Lebel of Waterbury became Hartford Hospital's first liver transplant patient Aug. 21 and underwent retransplant surgery Sept. 2 after complications developed.

But her liver did not cause her death at 5 p.m. Tuesday, said hospital spokesman James Battaglio. He attributed it to unexpected complications caused by one of her previous infections.

She was scheduled to take her first meal of solid food today and to move from the hospital's pediatric intensive care unit Thursday. But problems developed early Tuesday when she began bleeding from an aneurysm of a major abdominal blood vessel caused by the infection.

Laura was rushed to surgery at 11 a.m. and died in the operating room six hours later, Battaglio said.

Students protest CIA recruiting

NEW HAVEN — Forty Yale University students concerned about CIA activities in Central America have protested the agency's recruitment efforts on campus.

An organization that violates international law and commits murder has no place on any college campus or any place else for that matter," senior Aliso Beavers said Tuesday outside the University Career Services building.

As student protesters cheered her words, she referred to the mining of Nicaraguan waters by the CIA and what she said were the deaths of 7,000 Nicaraguans at the hands of the CIA-backed forces who oppose the ruling Sandinista government.

Bishop blocks Ferraro from dinner

By Carol Vecchione
United Press International

NEW YORK — Gov. Mario Cuomo is criticizing the New York archdiocese's refusal to allow Geraldine Ferraro to stand in for Walter Mondale at its annual Alfred E. Smith dinner since it once permitted Spiro Agnew to appear in place of Richard Nixon.

The New York governor Tuesday also backed Mondale's decision to skip the traditional meeting with his presidential opponent at the dinner so Mondale could prepare for his final debate with President Reagan.

"My personal judgment as to the debate is it could be crucial," said Cuomo, a Democrat, who will attend Thursday's dinner. "I think if the vice president wins the debate decisively, as he did the last time, he'll win this election. I think that's clear. On the other hand, if he loses decisively that could conceivably cost him the election."

But New York Mayor Edward Koch, also a Democrat, said Mondale's cancellation was a mistake. "He doesn't need these extra

Driverless car kills woman

A freak accident in which a parked car rolled down a driveway and circled around in the street caused the death of a 63-year-old Manchester woman Tuesday.

Catherine T. Hemenway, of 153 Lake St. had apparently parked her car and walked down the driveway to her mailbox, police spokesman Gary Wood said today. Her car, which was unoccupied, then rolled down near her.

Because the car's wheels were turned, it began to circle around when it reached the street, Wood said. Police surmise that it knocked her over on its second loop and rolled over her on its third. Wood said the path of the vehicle was traced from tire marks.

The car's parking brake appeared to be partially engaged and the shift selector was in the reverse

Indian summer time for Manchester soccer

Indian booters blank South Windsor, 4-0

By Bob Papenfuss
Herald Sports Writer

If the recent streak of favorable weather and colorful foliage has made for a particularly fine Indian summer, conditions have been even better on the Manchester High soccer field this year.

Indian summer indeed, it's been an autumn bumper for opponents of the powerhouse Manchester soccer team.

The undefeated Indians continued their winning ways Tuesday, victimizing a decent but overmatched South Windsor High squad, 4-0, at Memorial Field.

Manchester raised its near-perfect 1984 record to 9-0-2, including a first place 8-0-2 in the CCC Eastern Division. The Bobcats, who lost a 3-2 decision to the Indians earlier in the season, dipped to 4-1, 5-1 in league play.

The Indians travel to Enfield Friday to meet host Ferni High at 2:30. Manchester displayed its various talents all afternoon Tuesday — and won in its usual fashion. The Indians controlled first half action but only led, 1-0, at intermission. Then, after turning back an early second half South Windsor surge, the division leaders popped in a trio of goals to nail down the victory.

The opposing coaches disagreed slightly on the game's pivotal moment.

South Windsor coach Charlie Sharos pointed to a 20-yard direct kick by Bobcat Dave Giroux that was deflected by Indian keeper Jeff Thrall 7½ minutes into the second half as the key play.

"It was a tremendous save, it might have turned the game around," Sharos said. Manchester mentor Bill McCarthy dissented. "Our second goal was the turning point," he said, referring to the midway tally by Bob Chang, set up by some fancy Brad Pelligrinelli footwork, that gave the victors a two-goal advantage. Middlefielder Pelligrinelli dribbled around two defenders and found a breaking Chang wide open at the left goal post. The senior wing promptly grounded the ball to the right side past Bobcat goalie Tom Dennis for his sixth score of the campaign.

"I think we had them outplayed in the half until that breakthrough," McCarthy concurred.

As it has done so many times in the past this season, Manchester poured it on, finally settling for two more unanswered markers. Indian Dave Kelly increased the lead to 3-0 at 27:21, unloading a defender and walking in unopposed to register his sixth goal of the year on another right side grounder. Chang assisted.

Mike Morianos, on a Hank Stephenson assist, capped the scoring with just over three minutes left, notching his first tally of 84 on an angled rebound shot that just caught the inside right post.

"We hung in there and played as well as we could, but they were just too quick for us," said Sharos, also noting Manchester's superior size and skills.

The Indians established early dominance with deliberate driving passing and shooting attacks that showcased the individual talents of several performers, including Pelligrinelli, Chang, Kelly, Nick Cacace and John Janenda. Team-leading scorer Cacace headed in what proved to be the winning goal at 15:22 of the first half, butting skulls with a diving Dennis as the ball bounded past the sprawled combatants and into the net.

Manchester's second goal was especially pleasing with its defense, which recorded its third shutout win of the campaign. The Indians have allowed just two goals in their last seven games, and seven total for the year.

"Shutting out South Windsor is a big feat, especially in a tournament setting with just over three minutes left," McCarthy said, praising the defensive work of Doug Swick and Mark Cacace and the play of Thrall in net, who made 13 saves, the same number credited to South Windsor's Dennis. Manchester had a 22-11 advantage in shots on goal.

Cheney closes in on tournament berth

A pair of second-half goals by Tol Vonsarasinh carried Cheney Tech's soccer team to a 2-1 victory over visiting Portland High Tuesday — securing the Beavers a place in school record books.

The triumph was the seventh of the year for the Beavers, a new single season mark at Cheney. The 7-4 Techmen now need just one more win or tie to qualify for the Class M tournament. The last time the Beavers competed in post-season play was in 1980.

Cheney hosts Cromwell High Friday at 3:15.

"If I had to predict at the beginning of the season that we'd be 7-4 at this point, I never would've thought it could happen," said Cheney coach Paul Soucy. "But the kids are playing well, they've gelled as a team."

It wasn't an easy win against Portland, a team Soucy says played much better than its 2-8-1 record indicates. After a scoreless first half, the Highlanders jumped out to a 1-0 lead 3½ minutes after intermission on Mark Abramo's goal.

Vonsarasinh countered with his fourth and fifth tallies of the season at 11:56 and 26:57. On the tying goal, Beaver Sal Rafala chipped a pass to Vonsarasinh, who settled it, beat a man and unleashed a 20-yard blast to the top right corner. The game winner came from about 10 yards out of a pass from Peter Kyriakidis. Dennis Foreman also played well for the Beavers.

Cheney had a 32-11 advantage in shots. Tung Pho made six saves for the Techmen, while Portland's Buzz Mimickene was outstanding, stopping 17 shots.

East's Jude Kelly: winning coach

KELLY GOES ABOUT his business very seriously. But laughter, maybe due to the winning, also comes into play. It was reported following the St. Bernard game the winning touchdown was a razzle-dazzle play with Buddy Zachery taking the pitch from quarterback Scott Vibberts and then lateraling to Kevin RisCassi who raced for the winning score.

"That's not how it happened. It was a simple play with the ball going to RisCassi direct. 'Do you really think I'd call a play like that,'" Kelly said laughing aloud.

It was a beginning. But 16 seniors, a lot of them starters, graduated.

And there were plenty of questions about East going into the '83 season. How good could the Eagles possibly be minus all those regulars? Very, very good was the response.

East, minus one All-State defender in Rich Kusnians (now at UConn), and a very talented linebacker in Vito Perrone (now at UMass), ripped through the 1983 season with nine wins and one loss. And it capped the year by capturing the state Class MM championship with a 14-2 victory over heavily favored Hand of Madison.

AND THE QUESTIONS arose all over again prior to this campaign. East graduated 18 seniors off the '82 team. Only two offensive starters returned and there were just as many vacancies to fill on defense.

Was Kelly concerned in the pre-season about losing all those seniors. Not really, was his response. "That's the way it should be every year. I feel you should be senior dominated with a sprinkling of juniors," he said.

The system — Kelly's system — works. With the likes of Mike McCaffrey, Joel Hoffman, Mike RisCassi, Sean Brennan, Tony Heslin, Tom Whalen, Mike Keane and Chris Seeger stepping in to take important roles. East football hasn't missed a beat.

The Eagles have met top-flight opposition this year in St. Bernard and Fairfield Prep and came away one-point winners each time. That's the mark of a good team.

And the 4-1 record has given Kelly a to-date career ledger of 29-2-1.

HIS SYSTEM IS simple, and it's working. Following the 2-8 season, in which a bunch of young players

Brad Pelligrinelli (8) of Manchester High skies to head the ball while South Windsor's Eric Bergman (12) remains earthbound during play Tuesday. Indians won, 4-0.

Rookie crop led by Olatujwon ready to make impact on NBA

By Fred Lief
UPI Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The cement business will have to wait. There was a time when Salaam and Abike Olatujwon would have wanted nothing more than to have their return to Nigeria and help run the family cement firm. But this month, with his parents' blessings, Akeem Olatujwon begins a new line of work. Not exactly the cement business, mind you, but there will be slabs of granite to push around in the form of NBA centers.

Olatujwon, the NBA's No. 1 draft pick, comes to the Houston Rockets as one of the best in what should be a strong rookie crop across the league. Like Ralph Sampson the year before, the 7-foot shot blocker from the University of Houston will be a carnival attraction. His stops at NBA cities will raise the question about the Sampson-Olatujwon franchise, the adjustment to the pros, the battles with Moses Malone and Kareem-Abdul Jabbar and, of course, the history. Yes, he speaks a Nigerian dialect — Ido, Ibo, Hausa and Yoruba. "It's all so hard that I am finally going to play in the NBA," he says.

"I have no doubts about my ability to play," said an NBA member of the press. "There are other incoming centers figure to make a dent — Sam Bowie for Portland and Melvin Turpin for Cleveland. Bowie, 7-1, was the No. 2 draft pick. Should he give up basketball, he would do well to consider an internship in orthopedics. Bowie missed two seasons at Kentucky because of a fractured shin and cracked a rib early in exhibition play. If he is healthy, Portland could have its best passing big man since Bill Walton.

Turpin, a 6-11 Kentucky product, can shoot and throw his weight around. But at 270 pounds, weight control is much an issue. The Cavs need help where they can get it and Turpin may be a start. "Maybe people will stop asking me when we're going to get a big center," General Manager Harry Wetman says. The Chicago Bulls are asking for pure pleasure in Michael Jordan. The 6-5 swingman from North Carolina was the College Player of the Year and No. 3 pick. For sheer electric excitement, Jordan has few equals. "O'Quish, Michael Jordan, I don't know if you can put him into words," Quinn Buckner of the Boston Celtics says. "He's got great basketball skills. He's a tremendous pickup for the Bulls.

1984 College Basketball Player of the Year Michael Jordan was the third pick in the NBA draft, taken by the Chicago Bulls. He'll hope to perform the same magic for the Bulls as he did at the University of North Carolina.

Manchester boy runners winners at two sites

Who says you can't be in two places at once? Manchester's high boys' cross country team was Tuesday afternoon. Coach George Sutor split his squad, leaving the junior varsity home to face a young Enfield High team at Wickham Park, and took the varsity to Simsbury to face Simsbury, Bloomfield and Wethersfield. And Manchester took all four. The JV team topped Enfield, 15-47, while the varsity led by Vinnie Liscomb's course-record-setting performance at Stratton Brook Park beat Simsbury, 18-32, Bloomfield, 16-36, and Wethersfield, 17-42.

MHS takes five

SIMSBURY — It's unusual for one team to win five times at once but that's what the Manchester High girls' cross country team accomplished here Tuesday at Stratton Brook Park. The Indian runners downed host Simsbury, 28-35, Bloomfield, 20-42, Plainville, 27-28, Windham, 27-29, and Wethersfield, 19-42, as six teams took part.

Startling goal bedevils evils

Starting his first NHL game, New Jersey Devils goaltender Hanna Kampuri could be expected to see some new things. But what the New York Islanders' Paul Browne showed him was startling. With the score tied 2-2 Tuesday night at Uniondale, N.Y., the Devils fired a 50-foot shot which sailed over the net, struck the glass backboards and rebounded toward the cage. It went off the right shoulder into the net to put the Islanders ahead 17 seconds into the third period. It was the first in four third-period goals for New York in its 64 victories.

MHS triumphs

WEST HARTFORD — Taking 10 of 11 first places, the Manchester High girls' swimming team dunked host Conard High Tuesday, Oct. 16, at Carverston Pool. The 7-1 Indians received a ten-day rest from competition, with their next meet not until Friday, October 28, when Windham High visits the Manchester pool. ## Girls still perfect

SOUTH WINDSOR — The streak goes on. The Manchester High girls' soccer team kept its flawless record clean Tuesday, shutting out host South Windsor, 4-0. It was the ninth straight shutout victory in nine outings for Manchester. The senior striker scored to eventual goal-winner six minutes into the contest, one-timing a 15-yarder on an assist by Carrie Adams. Five minutes later, Craft banged in a Kim Frascarelli feed to make it 2-0. Craft now shares the team goal-scoring lead with half brother, Brian Frascarelli, who scored his seventh goal of the season on a 20-yard direct kick. "We're combining our physical play with a short passing game, and that's a real nice combination," explained Indians' coach Joe Erardi, who was especially pleased to see the team play with its midfielders. "They were able to take control of the game and play the style we are accustomed to."

Field hockey

Indians blanked

WILLIMANTIC — A pair of penalty shots resulted in goals and spelled the difference in Manchester High's 2-0 field hockey loss to homeward-bound Windham Tuesday. Windham, now 4-3-2, scored both goals within two minutes of one another in the first half. Klowski and Pam DeGraw drew.

Sports In Brief

Dubois a winner

WEST HARTFORD — Glenn Dubois of Manchester won his third lightweight (146 pounds) bout as part of the amateur ASABF Boxing sponsored meet here Tuesday at the Agora Ballroom.

"He fought very well. All three rounds were his," said Stan Czerwinski, Dubois' manager. Dubois is now 7-1 with 5 TKO's. He fights out of the Universal Life Gym.

Czerwinski said the plan is for Dubois to fight again next month.

Goodwins on UofH squad

WEST HARTFORD — The Goodwin twins, Richard and Dennis, are members of the successful 10-3-1 University of Hartford soccer team.

Richard has played in all 14 Hawk games, starting 10, while Dennis has played in three games for Hartford.

The Goodwins, both fullbacks, are East Catholic High graduates.

Tigers escape injury

DETROIT — Detroit Tigers players Dave Rozema and Kirk Gibson escaped serious injury Tuesday when they fell on their side during an accident on Detroit's East Side following a downtown victory rally.

An unidentified witness said he helped the two players return the jeep to an upright position at about 2 p.m. Tuesday at an East Side intersection. He said they had been involved in an accident.

Celtics trip Rockets

HOUSTON — Dennis Johnson scored 24 points and Larry Bird added 23 to spark the Boston Celtics to a 114-101 exhibition win over the Houston Rockets Tuesday night.

Ralph Sampson had 25 points to pace Houston while rookie Akeem Olatunji scored 15 before fouling out early in the final period.

Resch signs option

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — The New Jersey Devils announced Tuesday that goaltender Chico Resch and defenseman Joe Cirella have signed their option papers for the 1984-85 season.

General manager Max McNab said both players will become eligible for free agency on July 1, 1985 if the club cannot reach contract agreements by the date.

76ers' Jones sidelined

PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia 76ers forward Bobby Jones will miss the rest of the club's exhibition schedule because of an inflamed right knee, the team said Tuesday.

Celtics send Henderson to Seattle

BOSTON (UPI) — The world champion Boston Celtics have traded guard Gerald Henderson, who just signed a new contract last week after a lengthy holdout, to the Seattle SuperSonics for a first-round draft choice in 1986.

Henderson, 28, was traded Tuesday by the Celtics after playing five seasons with the team, including the 1981 and 1984 championship teams.

"I'm shocked but mostly disappointed," Henderson said Tuesday night. "I had no idea at all this would happen. I don't know if the contract had anything to do with the trade or not," he said.

Henderson said he had settled for less money to remain in Boston.

"I wasn't making an

extreme amount of money. I made concessions just to be with the team. I wouldn't have signed if I had known this would happen. I would've held out," Henderson said.

Henderson was influential in the team's comeback win against the Los Angeles Lakers in the championship series last spring, stealing an inbounds pass in the closing seconds of Game 2 at Boston Garden to help his team to victory. If the Lakers had won, Boston would have been down 2-9 in games heading to Los Angeles.

"Henderson has been a very fine contributor to the Celtics success over the past five years," said Celtics general manager Jan Volz. "In most trade gives us the opportunity to project our needs for the future."

A major issue in the contract disputes were deferred payments.

"It's pretty hard," Henderson said. "This was the last thing I felt would happen after going through all this negotiating. There was some positive reinforcement that nothing like this would happen. I honestly feel a little deceived."

When I signed, I thought everything was settled as far as the fact that there wouldn't be a trade," Auerbach countered that such an agreement "was certainly not part of the deal."

"I've never broken my word, and I never will," Henderson said. "I'm a player, but he did make

Tigers and Cubs early favorites

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The World Series champion Detroit Tigers and the National League East titlists, the Chicago Cubs, are the early favorites to meet in the 1985 World Series, a Las Vegas oddsmaker said Tuesday.

Mel Exber, owner and oddsmaker of the Las Vegas Club, tabbed Detroit and Chicago as 7-2 favorites to capture the American and National League pennants and to square off in next October's fall classic.

Exber listed the following opening odds for the 1985 baseball season:

American League: Detroit Tigers, 7-2; New York Yankees, 9-2; Baltimore Orioles, 5-1; Chicago White Sox, 6-1; Kansas City Royals, 6-1; Toronto Blue Jays, 8-1; Minnesota Twins, 8-1; Oakland A's, 12-1; California Angels, 15-1; Milwaukee Brewers, 20-1; Boston Red Sox, 20-1; Texas Rangers, 20-1; Seattle Mariners, 60-1; and Cleveland Indians, 80-1.

National League: Chicago Cubs, 7-2; San Diego Padres, 4-1; Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-1; St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1; New York Mets, 8-1; Houston Astros, 8-1; Montreal Expos, 10-1; Philadelphia Phillies, 10-1; Atlanta Braves, 10-1; Pittsburgh Pirates, 15-1; San Francisco Giants, 30-1; and Cincinnati Reds, 60-1.

Exber, who rated Detroit at 6-1 and San Diego at 4-1 at the end of the 1983 campaign, said the days of listing teams at 500-1 are in the past.

Witchcraft causes need for replay

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Police arrested two officials of the Mwangaka soccer team last Sunday for using bird feathers and other "witchcraft paraphernalia" to put a curse on the opposition goalkeeper.

The Kenyan News Agency said Tuesday the incident took place during a district league game in the village of Wandanyi in western Kenya.

Mwangaka won 4-3 on penalty kicks but the result was nullified by the Kenya Football Federation, which ordered the game replayed.

Recycled Mauch to pilot Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Gene Mauch, the man they call The Little General, has returned to manage the California Angels. He'll have virtually the same troops he had two years ago, but their guns don't fire quite as well.

Mauch, who took over the Angels in 1981 and managed them to the American League West title in 1982, replaces John McNamara, who turned down the team's offer to return next season. McNamara is the leading contender for the job as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Mauch, 58, California's director of player personnel since Sept. 1983, rejected a front office position with the Minnesota Twins, preferring to return to the Angels' dugout.

No terms of his contract were announced.

Mauch will take over the Angels with the dark cloud of a losing career hanging over him. Despite ranking in the top 10 on the all-time list of winning managers, he has also set a major-league record by managing 22 seasons with only one championship season — 1982 — to show for it.

The bulk of his managing career came at Philadelphia where he piloted the Phillies for nine seasons, including 1964 which will go down as one of the biggest collapses in baseball history. With the Phillies holding a 6-6 game lead and just 12 games remaining in the season, Philadelphia dropped to straight and handed the National League pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sutcliffe to file for free agency

CHICAGO (UPI) — The agent for Chicago Cubs pitcher Rick Sutcliffe, who helped lead the club to the National League East title, says the right-hander will likely enter his name for next month's free agent draft.

Barry Axelrod said even if the Cubs made an immediate offer it would take at least 15 days to review it.

Witchcraft causes need for replay

"Chicago's offers are reasonable, good Rick will go through the free agent process," Axelrod said.

Sutcliffe was 16-1 with the Cubs after being acquired in a deal from the Cleveland Indians.

APPLE PRESERVES

The apple — it abounds in song, literature, legends, and folklore. To the ancient Greeks and Romans the apple was a symbol of love and beauty. It is said that Isaac Newton contemplated the law of gravity while sitting under an apple tree. The famous William Tell was forced to shoot an apple from his son's head.

Who could forget the legend of Johnny Appleseed wearing a tin pot as a hat and a burlap sack full of appleseeds around his waist. The real person, John Chapman, actually planted apple seedlings on thousands of acres through the farm belt of our country.

Home food preservation is a way of life for many throughout the country. The Ball Blue Book, now in its 31st edition, continues to guide home canners with the latest techniques and proven recipes. From this updated book come three old fashioned tasting apple pies: one made with canned apple slices, another baked with frozen pie filling, and a third using dried apples from a new section on home food dehydration. Of course, baking pies isn't the only way to enjoy apples. The home economists at Ball Corporation also suggest trying spicy sweet apple preserves, a tangy tomato apple chutney, and apple plum butter.

Brought to the U.S. by the early European colonists, apples are Americans' favorite fruit and come in many different varieties. Good tart varieties for pies and other baked desserts include the Granny Smith, Gravenstein, Newtown Pippin, Northern Spy and York Imperial. When it's important that the apple hold its shape in canning, the best bets are Rome Beauty, Golden Delicious, Winesap and Granny Smith. For freezing try Rhode Island Greening and Newtown Pippin. And for drying, good choices include Rome Beauty, Winesap and Granny Smith. A mixture of tart crisp apples and sweet mellow apples is perfect for sauce.

Apples in season are at their peak of flavor and texture, and because they are plentiful and often locally grown, they are a good value. Seek out top quality apples to make these pies and spreads and you will be rewarded with palate pleasing finished products. For the freshest apples, buy directly from a farmer's roadside stand. Or you may want to pick your own in a nearby orchard — a delightful family activity for a fall weekend. Then don't forget to "put up" the pickings in your favorite apple recipe and enjoy old fashioned apple flavor all year long. Remember, when necessary, to correct processing time or pressure for altitude using your home canning guide.

Microwave helps make the right treats for Halloween

Editor's note: Marge Churchill is a home economist who is a Manchester resident. She teaches microwave cooking classes. If you have any questions regarding microwave cooking, you may send your questions to: Microwave, Box 591, Manchester Herald, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Are you expecting goblins on the porch, ghosts at the door, and pirates on the lawn? With a microwave you can perform some Halloween magic in your kitchen and make some delectable goodies appear in just minutes.

Whether you are preparing for hordes of trick-or-treaters, guests for a Halloween party, or some fun with your own family, the microwave will help you become a very popular magician right in your kitchen.

Our version of Witches' Brew is made from fresh apple cider. If your microwave is equipped with a probe that has a heat-and-hold feature (simmer), a large pitcher of this spicy drink can be held at serving temperature for an hour or more automatically. If this feature is not a part of your microwave, you can achieve the same result by using high power until the liquid begins to simmer, and then set the timer for 60 minutes at 10 percent power (Low).

Popcorn in the microwave is no trick at all. If you have a microwave popcorn popper. Several different brands of popcorn poppers are available at local stores. For best results, select one that has a sharp cone shape. The heat is concentrated in the center of the cone, and the yield of popped corn to kernels will be better. Be sure to use a microwave popcorn popper. Do not attempt to pop paper bags, or in an ordinary glass casserole dish with a lid. The paper bag may ignite inside the microwave when the door is opened because of spontaneous combustion. The heat generated from the popping of the corn may shatter and break an ordinary glass casserole dish.

If you do not have a popcorn popper for your microwave, you can still pop corn if you use one of the special packages of microwave popcorn found in the frozen food section of your grocery store. Several brands are available for you to choose from. Most are, however, highly salted and seasoned. Read the label and follow the directions carefully.

Fall best for good farm cooking

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (UPI) — Apples, cranberries, squash and corn — fall is here, and with it the fruit and vegetables that are synonymous with traditional New England cooking. And where is the changing season and its abundance more apparent than on a farm? Tucked into a crook of the Merrimack River is Arrowhead Farm, where the Chase family has been reaping the autumn harvest for 10 generations. To celebrate the farm's 300th anniversary last year, the family embarked on a project that resulted in "Arrowhead Farm: Three Hundred Years of New England Husbandry and Cooking."

"Arrowhead Farm" is as much a book about the life of Yankee farmers over the past three centuries as it is a book about cooking. Filled with photographs from the turn of the century to the present, it is an entertaining and informative account of the Chases' ties to the land that supports them. "In no part of New England farm life was the creative approach to the use of the relatively limited resources to produce well-being as

Refund checks invaluable to families on tight budgets

By Martin Sloane
United Feature Syndicate

DEAR MARTIN: I often have read letters from readers who use the refunds they receive from manufacturers for special things like vacations and gifts...

es, I like to publish letters that show smart shoppers having a good time saving money. But I don't want to ever forget that the greatest benefit that coupons and refund offers can provide are the savings many people need to make ends meet...

I can't believe that I would receive the mug for almost a dollar less if I bought only one item. What do you think of this offer? — Mrs. P.C. Gullford, Conn.

Inmates feel right address only wrongs the prisoners

DEAR ABBY: We fellow inmates do not believe that prisoner should have to identify himself as a man who is in prison when he's corresponding with a pen pal.
Sure, we prisoners have made mistakes in our lives, but there are plenty of people who have committed crimes and are still on the street because they haven't been caught...

Dear Abby

I found the piece very engaging, Abby, but I enjoyed it more when I read it in Erma Bombeck's column about 10 years ago. (Some teachers must have been awfully naive to believe it was written by a 9-year-old third-grader.)

DEAR ABBY: You published a piece titled "What Is a Grandmother?" You said a reader had slipped it out of the Catholic Digest, and it was written by a 9-year-old third-grade girl.

Lack of exercise forces changes in person's diet

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am interested in learning how to lose weight by diet and exercise. My athletic 25-year-old son was shot in the arm and was forced to give up sports and working out for more than six months.
Since his injury, he lives on meat, seafood and a little fruit; otherwise no carbohydrates. He has given up water and juices for cola. What about protein?

School roof architect admits design didn't meet standards

By Sarah Possell Herald Reporter

BOLTON — The architect who designed the roof at Bolton Center School told town officials Tuesday that the center section of the roof, which was repaired two years ago to his specifications, does not meet state standards and did not meet them at the time. Roger Gallilher, of the Simsbury firm of Gallilher, Schoenhardt and Baier, delivered this news Tuesday to the Board of Selectmen and the Public Building Commission. He also told the two boards that he does not favor using his own specifications as revised last summer to repair the remaining two wings that still leak, even though he has already solicited bids on those specifications from area contractors. "I honestly feel embarrassed that this thing isn't clearer," Gallilher said. "We were not requesting anything other than what we did, but we took a little bit of time to look at the plan and we found out that the plan was not going to work. We had to go back and revise it."

Coventry panel mulls office plans

By Sarah Possell Herald Reporter

COVENTRY — The Town Council is considering an addition to the Town Office Building. At Monday night's council meeting, architect David S. Eddy of Glastonbury presented plans for the alteration of the police department office, which the council had requested. Eddy also showed an alternative plan which would extend the department into a one-story addition on the north side of the Town Office Building. "Not all the problems that exist can be addressed within the existing building," Eddy explained. "Without the addition, it would cost $85,000 to remodel the police offices. Eddy estimated that that plan would include separating cells for men and women, as well as creating a staff bathroom, a small lobby, and locker rooms for the officers. The facility would be made more accessible for the handicapped, said Eddy. If there is an addition, the total cost would be an estimated $145,000. Eddy said that this plan

Fire association can't get property

By Sarah Possell Herald Reporter

COVENTRY — The Coventry Volunteer Fire Association has asked to buy a plot of town-owned land at the rear of the Main Street firehouse, but the Town Council won't sell it. Malcolm E. C. DeVine Jr., president of the fire association, asked the town council Monday to sell the lot, which is presently leased to the Dekanet Division of Howmedica Inc. He said that he wants the fire department to have control over its fuel pumps and parking area. DeVine also complained of vehicles parked in front of the firehouse building, but the Town Council refused to sell the land or renegotiate the lease, which Council Chairman Robert Olmstead described as beneficial to the town. Olmstead recommended that DeVine discuss the problem with Dekanet. DeVine said afterward that he was "greatly disappointed" by the council's decision. "We have been continuously promised that piece of property," he claimed. DeVine said that the Town Council has treated the fire association poorly in the past, but providing enough money to replace needed equipment. He said that the council's latest action "did not leave one encouraged as to their genuine concern for Coventry's public safety."

Area Towns In Brief

Zicka leaves commission Agriculture elections coming
BOLTON — Selectman Michael A. Zicka resigned from the Planning Commission after learning that the Town Charter forbids serving as a selectman and a commission member at the same time. With Zicka abstaining, the Board of Selectmen voted Tuesday to accept his resignation from the Planning Commission. Selectmen took no action Tuesday to find a replacement. When past vacancies have arisen, the political party to which the former member belonged has recommended a replacement. Zicka is the Democratic candidate for the 55th Assembly District seat now held by two-term incumbent Rep. J. Peter Pappas of Marlborough. In addition, Zicka retains a seat on the Conservation Commission and is still chairman of the Water Pollution Advisory Committee.

Well water passes test

COVENTRY — The Town Council has voted to cut off supplies of emergency drinking water to people who live near the town dump, because it has been assured that nearby wells are not contaminated by the garbage. The council's decision will take effect in one week, so that residents may be notified. Judy LeDoy, who lives in that area, says that five families are receiving the bottled water. Despite residents' complaints that their well water has a foul taste, a recent test of the wells found no evidence of leachate from the dump. In his report on the testing, Francis Sampson of the firm of Pass and O'Neill said that the dump is definitely not polluting the wells. However, Sampson refused to say whether the water was potable. Such a blanket statement could only be made after expensive testing for all possible pollutants, which the town is not legally obliged to do, he wrote.

Church gets new organ

ANDOVER — The First Congregational Church of Andover has bought a restored 18th century pipe organ and expects it to be installed at the end of the month. Pastor Richard Taylor said this week. The $30-pipe organ cost $36,000. A new one of equal size and range would cost $95,000, Taylor said. He said it was used in a Massachusetts state hospital chapel for many years until the Organ Historical Society, a national non-profit group, discovered it. Taylor said he hopes to begin a concert series after the organ is installed. Funds for the purchase price are being raised as part of a three-year fund-raising drive to refurbish the church on Route 6.

Referendum meeting set

BOLTON — Attorneys advising the town on how to get approval for a bond issue to finance planned capital improvements recommended Bolton call a second town meeting this month to approve putting the plans to a referendum vote on Nov. 6. The town's bond counselors, the Hartford law firm of Uphike, Kelly and Spelacy, told Administrative Assistant Karen Levine that the Town Charter calls for residents to approve a referendum not more than 30 days nor less than 10 days before the referendum. Selectmen have scheduled the special meeting for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Hall. Residents approved holding the referendum once before, at a town meeting last month.

Dog wardens named

BOLTON — The Board of Selectmen named a permanent dog warden and two deputy dog wardens at its regular meeting Tuesday. Judy Virchow, who has been acting as temporary dog warden, was appointed to the post permanently. Robert C. Vaughn of Boston Turnpike and Mervin C. Thresher of Hebron Road were named deputies.

Prepare now for a successful retirement

Whether you retire at the relatively young age of 55 or at the traditional age of 65, a common thread will bind you: You will pick up between 40 to 60 hours a week to do with as you wish. And this will confront you with an entirely different way of life.

Let's assume you are retiring at the more typical age of 65. For nearly 50 years your life has been structured by your job. You know where to go and what to do. Now you find yourself not having to "go" and not having to "do" and the change may come on you abruptly if you have not prepared for it. But if you have prepared, you, the retiree, will gain from 40 to 60 hours a week to fill with occupations possibly much closer to your own wishes and values.

"So as one approaches retirement," says Richard K. Kerckhoff, professor at Purdue University, "it is time to find and do your own thing—in theory at least. Leisure activities can be extensions of preresirement activities such as hiking, traveling, reading, or fulfilling frustrated wishes, such as learning to sail, taking dancing lessons, brushing up on your French."

In general, variety is the key. Kerckhoff advises that you be sure to include health-producing activities such as hiking, canoeing, pitching horseshoes or other pastimes that demand physical exertion. The time to start planning for your own retirement is now. I don't care whether this is your mid-life or

Your Money's Worth

Sylvia Porter

What new experience do you yearn for? Kerckhoff asks. Do you want to climb the Matterhorn, take a tramp steamer to Tahiti, build an A-frame on your lake lot? Do you want to add to your financial security, to serve others, or just have fun?

How much value do you place on group activities, loafing, changes in scenery and seasons, helping others, making things, intellectual pursuits, physical exertion, competition? All of us want some of these things, of course. The secret is: Keep moving!

Much of the success of your leisure depends upon health and strength, financial situation, demands of children—perhaps loneliness if a spouse is gone—any number of factors.

"When the retiree is married, the retirement affects the spouse as well," adds Professor Victor G. Circirelli, a specialist in gerontology at Purdue. "A wife who has a well-established routine of home and community activities during the husband's working hours is often none too happy to have a retiring husband move in on her territory. At the same time, a retiring husband can feel out of place in the daytime 'women's world'."

Spouses must plan together for their retirement years. If the partners fail to agree on how to spend these years, one or both may become unhappy. A husband who wants all-day "togetherness" and a wife who wants to continue her individual routine can only produce conflict, Circirelli warns.

Also, as the number of working wives increases, there will be cases where one spouse becomes eligible for retirement before the other, or one spouse may want early retirement while the other wants to continue working until 70—or begin a second career, or take on a new job after initial retirement. This is increasingly common.

So, keep moving and keep flexible!

As Kerckhoff says: "If it is a new venture that is attractive, try it before you commit yourself to it. Nothing is more expensive and time-wasting than finding yourself in the middle of a lake in your new sailboat—bored to death."

The fact is that some persons won't be able to fill an additional 40 hours a week while others won't have enough time to do all the things they want to do. And they began planning well ahead to achieve it. Be sure this includes you!

GTE third quarter earnings rise

STAMFORD (UPI)—GTE has reported a consolidated net income of $277 million in the third quarter, up 17 percent from the $236 million netted during the same three-month period last year.

Earnings per share for the latest quarter were $1.36, up 11 percent over the $1.22 per share in the 1983 quarter when there were 6 percent fewer shares outstanding.

In the earnings report Tuesday, Theodore F. Brophy, chairman and chief executive officer of GTE, said third quarter improvement was due to record earnings from telephone operations and substantially higher income from sales of electrical products.

However, they were offset by problems in the delivery of new communication products and "the continuing adverse effects of excessive residential telephone inventory in the distribution system," he said.

Consolidated net income for the first nine months of 1984 increased 18 percent to $807 million over the $687 million for the same period last year and combined revenues and sales for the three quarters was $10.7 billion, a 13 percent hike over the $9.4 billion for the same 1983 period.

Third-quarter revenues from communication services were $307 million, up 23 percent over the $221 million reported one year ago.

Firefighters return to battle blaze

MONSON, Mass. (UPI) — A stubborn forest fire that scorched at least 150 acres rekindled on a remote mountain today, prompting hundreds of firefighters and National Guard helicopters to be called back to the scene, officials said.

"We've got a full-fledged combat again," said Deputy Fire Chief George Robichaud. "It's not burning real fast, but it's not burning slow either."

More than 300 firefighters from at least 20 Massachusetts and Connecticut towns have been battling the stubborn blaze around the clock since it was discovered Monday afternoon on Peaked Mountain.

The fire was only burning on about 5 acres when originally discovered off Butler Road, but dry conditions and a steady breeze quickly spread the flames before firefighters could reach the isolated area.

Firefighters, frustrated in attempts to reach the fire in the rugged terrain, have had to hike into the woods or use four-wheel drive vehicles to string thousands of feet of hose up the 1,230-foot peak.

Gov. Michael S. Dukakis Tuesday approved the use of two National Guard helicopters from Westover Air Force Base to drop water on isolated areas of the mountain.

The blaze, which subsided and flared again several times, was brought under control late Tuesday afternoon, but Robichaud said smoldering sections were still burning underground, igniting whatever hadn't burned.

"The biggest problem we're having is that it's burning underground. It keeps popping up in places where it hasn't burned out," he said.

Robichaud said the helicopters were being recalled to the scene today along with as many firefighters as are available. He expected the fire would continue burning for at least several more days.

"It will be anywhere from two or three days to a week until you can say it's completely out," said Robert Authier of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Three Monson firefighters suffered minor injuries while battling the blaze and a firefighter Harold Finch, 56, of Stafford, Conn., was in intensive care in Wing Memorial Hospital in Palmer after suffering

Officials see new abuse

SHAKOPEE, Minn. (UPI) — State officials are checking reports of child killing and pornography that have surfaced in the same county where two dozen people were accused of involvement in an adult-child sex ring.

The chief prosecutor dismissed 400 child sexual abuse charges Monday to avoid compromising what she called a new investigation of "great magnitude."

No buildings were involved in the blaze, on land owned by a Monson couple. Officials feared the fire might spread to the nearest homes, located within 3 miles from the base of the mountain.

Child Guidance marks 25th year

By Susan Plesse
Special to the Herald

By the end of the 1950s, a small group of citizens reached their goal: the creation of a clinic for disturbed children.

In January 1959, the Manchester Community Child Guidance Clinic opened its doors in a Haynes Street building leased from Manchester Memorial Hospital.

On Oct. 24 from 5 to 7 p.m., the clinic will celebrate its 25th anniversary in the 317 N. Main St. facility that was dedicated in 1961. Former board members, staff, and community people who were instrumental in the clinic's birth will be honored.

The clinic grew from the efforts of a handful of community people. Ethel Robb, a retired principal of Waddell School, was interested in the project years before the clinic opened.

"I saw children who had mental problems," she said. "They couldn't learn. They had home problems and they came to school with their problems and it was impossible to teach them."

"You could see in their relationships with each other," she said. "They couldn't get along with other children. But the big thing was the emotional block in learning you couldn't get past."

Robb and a school nurse spoke to the Manchester PTA Council in the early 1950s. A council survey in 1953 showed that about 500 children in a school population of 5,000

FBI nabs 9 linked to Brink's job

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 300 FBI agents and police officers swarmed an apartment building early today and arrested nine members of the New Afrika Freedom Fighters, a group linked to radicals who carried out the bloody 1981 Brink's robbery.

Authorities had been tracking the group for six months, television news reports said.

More than 300 FBI agents and New York City police raided the Brooklyn apartment before dawn, CBS reported.

The nine arrested were believed to be principals in the New Afrika Freedom Fighters, a group linked to three radicals convicted in the 1981 Brink's robbery in Nyack, N.Y., the report said.

The nine had taken over control of the group following their colleagues' convictions for the robbery and murders of a Brink's guard and two police officers, the report said.

It was not immediately known what charges were brought against the nine.

The FBI scheduled a news conference for later in the morning to discuss the arrests.

The New Afrika group claims that it is fighting for black liberation from U.S. imperialism and advocates the formation of a separate black nation carved from the states of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and South Carolina.

Sources predict new bomb strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Informed intelligence sources anticipate terrorists will make a new bombing strike on U.S. diplomatic installations in Beirut before the Nov. 6 presidential election, it was reported today.

The Washington Post said the U.S. government had specific, reliable warnings that explosives had been shipped into Lebanon for use against American targets in the weeks before the Sept. 20 bombing of the U.S. Embassy annex.

In addition, the sources said intelligence reports show that some of the explosives are still in Lebanon and another attack is anticipated before the American presidential election, the Post reported.

"U.S. authorities, according to one source, most fear another attack against precisely the same target."

Intelligence sources said U.S. and Israeli intelligence first tracked explosives and timed fuse bombs in mid-August. Days before the bombing, they learned that the explosives were designated for use against Americans, the newspaper said. Fourteen people, including two Americans, died in the attack.

Product show is a sellout

England Telephone Co.'s former maintenance garage on New State Road. A chamber spokeswoman said that enclosing a portion to create space for 50 to 100 more exhibitors. By Oct. 5, about 150 exhibitors had rented all the available space, paying $250 for an 8-by-10 foot display area if they were chamber members and $300 if they were not, according to Bobbie Begany, chamber staff administrator.

She said the show is divided between Manchester businesses and businesses from East Hartford, with Manchester companies taking about 60 percent of the display areas.

The show was held last year in the Manchester Industrial Park off Progress Drive, Begany said.

Chancellor's "Abra Kadabra" show host, Mark Mazarella, is scheduled to perform Nov. 17 and 18, along with the Bennett Junior High School jazz band, according to the chamber's news release about the sellout.

At least seven food booths are promised.

The admission charge will be $2 a person. Children 6 and under will be admitted free.

CIA guerrilla primer draws fire from Capital Hill

By Elliot Brenner
United Press International

WASHINGTON — A CIA "how-to" guide on guerrilla warfare written for rebels fighting the government of Nicaragua shows that "the administration was ignoring the law," House Speaker Thomas O'Neill said today.

Discovery of the primer and confirmation that it was written and distributed by the CIA led to a number of calls on Capitol Hill for a probe of the administration role in the guerrilla fight against the Sandinistas. And one Democrat said CIA Director William Casey should be ousted.

O'Neill, commenting on the matter in an interview today with Mutual Radio, said the primer shows "the administration was ignoring the law."

"The secret war in Nicaragua is not directed against Sandinista arms shipments to Salvadoran guerrillas," Boland said Wednesday. "The war is an effort to overthrow the Sandinistas. Administration officials have always denied this, but the manual clearly avowed aim of deposing the government in Managua."

The pamphlet "exposes the doctrine of Lenin, not Jefferson," Boland said in a letter to Rep. Tom Downey, D-N.Y., who asked the Intelligence Committee to investigate where it came from and who was responsible for having it drawn up.

The primer — with a cover depicting three rows of heads, each with a bullet hole — outlines how to "neutralize" officials, what to say if a civilian is killed trying to leave a town, how to win support from the people and suggests portraying the Sandinistas as "puppets" of the Soviet Union and Cuba.

Boland's committee was given the booklet, "Psychological Operations in Guerrilla Warfare," by a reporter and had it translated into English.

The New York Times ran portions of the translation on Wednesday and United Press International obtained a copy of the translation from Capitol Hill sources.
