

69 TAG SALES

CRAFT AND TAG SALE - Beautiful handmade needlework, decorations and gifts plus miscellaneous items...

ESTATE SALE - 41 Deerfield Drive, Sunday, November 25th, 10am to 3pm...

71 CARS/TRUCKS FOR SALE

1971 DODGE DART SWINGER - Nice condition, small V-8, automatic, power steering...

1973 VOLKSWAGON SUPERBETLE - Semi-automatic, AM/FM radio, 40,000 miles...

1974 PONTIAC VENTURA - Two door, Original owner, Buckets, 350, 4 speed stick...

1974 THUNDERBIRD - Automatic, Power Steer, Inf. windows and seat...

1979 FORD BRONCO RANGER XL - 4 wheel drive, 251 engine, 4' lift, 60,000 miles...

GOVT SURPLUS CARS & TRUCKS under $100. Now available in your area...

FORD 1979 FAIRMONT - 4 cylinder, 4 speed, AM/FM cassette, New tires, brakes, shocks...

1973 DATSUN - Always starts, New tires, battery, carburetor, alternator...

1974 DODGE DART SWINGER - Automatic, power steering, white with black interior...

71 CARS/TRUCKS FOR SALE

1971 FORD LTD - 351, Mechanically excellent! $330 or best offer...

1971 CHEVY CONOURS WAGON - 350 V-8, automatic, power steering...

1975 BUICK STATION WAGON - Power steering and brakes, Good condition...

1976 MUSTANG - Needs tires, $800. Call 649-8185...

1980 CITATION - 2 door, 6 cylinder automatic, front wheel drive...

1968 PONTIAC VENTURA - 4 door, power steering/breaks, 400 or best offer...

1981 DODGE OMNI 024 - Sport wheels, standard, white, Excellent condition...

1979 FORD BRONCO RANGER XL - 4 wheel drive, 251 engine, 4' lift...

GOVT SURPLUS CARS & TRUCKS under $100. Now available in your area...

FORD 1979 FAIRMONT - 4 cylinder, 4 speed, AM/FM cassette, New tires, brakes, shocks...

1973 DATSUN - Always starts, New tires, battery, carburetor, alternator...

1974 DODGE DART SWINGER - Automatic, power steering, white with black interior...

INVTATION TO BID

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing recording and log...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing fire extinguishers...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing protective helmets...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

INVTATION TO BID

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing recording and log...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing fire extinguishers...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing protective helmets...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

INVTATION TO BID

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing recording and log...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing fire extinguishers...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing protective helmets...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

The Eighth Utilities District, 32 Main St., Manchester, Conn. 06060 seeks bids for furnishing miscellaneous household goods...

Christmas Gift Guide

PERSONAL TEE - Personalized Fun and Sportswear. Great Gifts for Christmas. 'The Original Tee Shirt Store For Over 10 Years' 825 Main Street, Manchester, 646-3339.

TV/STEREOS SHOP AL SIEFFERT'S APPLIANCES - 445 Hartford Road, Manchester, 647-9977. SUPER SANTA SALE! Video Tape Recorders, TV's, Stereo's, Washers, Dryers, Refrigerators, Freezers, MUCH MORE!

CHRISTMAS PLANTS, CENTERPIECES, Holiday Rose Special and Christmas Parties. KRAUSE FLORIST, 621 Hartford Road, 643-9559.

CENTERPIECES, FRUIT BASKETS, Flower Plants for your Holiday Needs. BROWN'S FLOWERS INC., 163 Main Street, Manchester, 643-8455.

PARK HILL JOYCE FLOWER SHOP - Fancy Fruit Baskets, Boxwood Trees - All Your Christmas Decorating Needs! 36 Oak Street, 649-0791.

CHRISTMAS SPECIALS ON METAL DETECTORS by WHITE, CONNECTICUT VALLEY COIN COMPANY, 805 Main Street, 643-6295. Open 9am to 6pm, Monday through Friday, Saturdays 9am to 3pm.

SHOP BLISH HARDWARE, 793 Main Street for the Do-It-Yourselfer. Complete line of tools. Open Daily 8:30am to 5:30pm and Thursday evenings for the Holidays. 643-4121.

AWAITING YOU ARE Bears by the Bevy - Geese by the Gaggles - Ducks by the Dozen - Ornaments by the Treeful - Sheep by the Flock and Irene by the door at the CRAFTSMEN'S GALLERY, 28 Cooper Street, Manchester, 647-8161.

SHOP AL SIEFFERT'S APPLIANCES - 445 Hartford Road, Manchester, 647-9977. SUPER SANTA SALE! Video Tape Recorders, TV's, Stereo's, Washers, Dryers, Refrigerators, Freezers, MUCH MORE!

CHRISTMAS PLANTS, CENTERPIECES, Holiday Rose Special and Christmas Parties. KRAUSE FLORIST, 621 Hartford Road, 643-9559.

CENTERPIECES, FRUIT BASKETS, Flower Plants for your Holiday Needs. BROWN'S FLOWERS INC., 163 Main Street, Manchester, 643-8455.

PARK HILL JOYCE FLOWER SHOP - Fancy Fruit Baskets, Boxwood Trees - All Your Christmas Decorating Needs! 36 Oak Street, 649-0791.

CHRISTMAS SPECIALS ON METAL DETECTORS by WHITE, CONNECTICUT VALLEY COIN COMPANY, 805 Main Street, 643-6295. Open 9am to 6pm, Monday through Friday, Saturdays 9am to 3pm.

SHOP BLISH HARDWARE, 793 Main Street for the Do-It-Yourselfer. Complete line of tools. Open Daily 8:30am to 5:30pm and Thursday evenings for the Holidays. 643-4121.

AWAITING YOU ARE Bears by the Bevy - Geese by the Gaggles - Ducks by the Dozen - Ornaments by the Treeful - Sheep by the Flock and Irene by the door at the CRAFTSMEN'S GALLERY, 28 Cooper Street, Manchester, 647-8161.

MANCHESTER Developers seeking rezoning for condos ... page 3

CONNECTICUT Police go to sky to stop speeders ... page 7

SPORTS Whalers' schedule: No holiday ahead ... page 11

WEATHER Some fog tonight; sunny on Tuesday ... page 2

Manchester Herald

Manchester, Conn. - A City of Village Charm Monday, Nov. 26, 1984 - Single copy: 25c

Bleeding problem halted Schroeder 'super' after 2nd operation

By Al Rossiter Jr., United Press International LOUISVILLE, Ky. - William J. Schroeder passed the critical first 18 hours with a permanent artificial heart in his chest and looked "super" today despite a second operation to stop severe internal bleeding. "I would say Mr. Schroeder is as well off as we could possibly hope for at this time," said Dr. Allan Lansing, chief medical spokesman at Humana Hospital Audubon. Schroeder, a 52-year-old Jaeger, Ind. resident who was not ready to die, remained in critical but stable condition with the air-driven mechanical heart pumping 4 1/2 quarts of blood through 40 miles of vessels in his body every minute. He is the second recipient of a permanent artificial heart. Barry Clark received the first one two years ago in Salt Lake City and lived 112 days before being fatally overwhelmed by infection. EVEN THOUGH HE was not expected to survive another week with his weakened natural heart, Schroeder was considered in better health than Clark, giving doctors hope that he may be able to gain enough strength to leave the hospital. In an 8 a.m. briefing Lansing said some bleeding was continuing from the wound around Schroeder's plastic and metal heart but it was not serious and was not expected to be a further problem. "I do not think that's a factor now," said Lansing. "So we're into the next phase, which includes (looking for) signs of infection, which may occur about a week afterwards, and pulmonary embolism, which could occur anytime." A pulmonary embolism - a blood clot lodging in the lungs - normally occurs about 10 days after a major operation but Lansing said Schroeder was so sick blood clots may already be forming. Shortness of breath, chest pain and coughing up blood would indicate a dangerous clot. Rejection of the artificial heart by the body was not a concern because the body accepts the machine's inert materials. It was rejection that played a key role in the death of Baby Fae who received a baboon's heart in a historic operation Oct. 26 at Loma Linda, Calif. Schroeder's wife of 32 years, Margaret, and their six children were "shaken and distressed" by the bleeding problem Sunday night but Lansing said they were relieved when they learned the problem had been corrected. Mr. Schroeder and one son visited the retired munitions inspector at midnight. Mrs. Schroeder visited her husband at 2:30 a.m. today at the hospital and a hospital statement said she held his hand and "he seemed to recognize her."

Surgical team leader Dr. William DeVries gestures as he talks with artificial heart inventor Dr. Robert Jarvik in the operating room late Sunday following a second operation on William J. Schroeder at the Humana Heart Institute in Louisville, Ky. Schroeder received an implant of the world's second permanent artificial heart.

Retail sales brisk as season opens

Area retailers reported brisk sales over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, traditionally the busiest shopping period of the year. Retailers' experience in the Manchester area reflects a booming start to holiday business all across the country. Record World in the Manchester Parkade reported sales up by at least a third over the same time last year. A spokesman for Regal Men's Shop on Main Street said business is up 20 percent and Munson's Candy Kitchen in Bolton reported a sales increase in the same range this year. Record World Manager Charles Obuchowski credited customers' increased familiarity with the store for part of the store's good fortune. Record World opened in the middle of 1983. "We did very well this year," Obuchowski said. "It looks like it's going to be a healthy holiday season." He said the Duran Duran album and Julio Iglesias records were especially hot sellers over the weekend. Barry Pinto, manager of Radio Shack, also in the Parkade, said the company's home color computer, the TRS-80, sold well over the holiday weekend at $99.95. Video cassette recorders also went fast, he said. "Sales were excellent all weekend," Pinto said. "Traffic is up over last year. The holiday season looks particularly bright." Munson's President Robert Munson said he does not yet have weekend figures for the company's nine Connecticut stores, but guessed from the Bolton store's performance. "This is good. This is what we wanted in the first place," Edward Tighe, president of the Manchester Police Union, said this morning. "We're willing to sit down and negotiate a new policy if we can't work out something."

Town backs down on smoking policy

By Sarah E. Hall Herald Reporter The town administration has agreed not to enforce a smoking policy that drew fire from the police and municipal employees' unions, a state labor board official said today. The town administration has agreed not to enforce a smoking policy that drew fire from the police and municipal employees' unions, a state labor board official said today. The town administration has agreed not to enforce a smoking policy that drew fire from the police and municipal employees' unions, a state labor board official said today. The town administration has agreed not to enforce a smoking policy that drew fire from the police and municipal employees' unions, a state labor board official said today.

Returning president tackles tax reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan will get the results today of a yearlong tax reform study with a set of options that, at his instruction, are intended to raise no more money in taxes than is now taken out of the economy. Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said that Reagan will meet with Treasury Secretary Donald Regan and other members of the budget working panel to discuss the options. He said he did not know whether any specific decisions would be made, but told reporters that today's session was one of a series of meetings to be held before the president refines the so-called tax simplification plan and begins to sound out congressional fiscal leaders. Several days ago treasury experts completed the study that is said to recommend a flat tax with a single rate or up to three rates. The maximum tax rate paid by individuals would be cut from 50 percent to about 35 percent. The corporate rate, now 46 percent, would not be more than 6 percent above the highest rate for individuals. The plan also is said to recommend limiting or abolishing many deductions and exclusions that now reduce an individual's taxable income under the current tax code.

Inside Today

Table with 2 columns: Topic and Page/Section. Topics include: Advice (1), Classified (1), Comics (1), Entertainment (1), Lottery (1), News (1), Opinion (1), People (1), Sports (1), Television (1), Weather (1).

HOLIDAY SPECIAL!

Place classified ad for 6 Days & Pay Only

$10.00 (A $14.40 Value) 15 word maximum Ad must run December 3-8

Call 643-2711

Manchester Herald

Deadline: Friday Nov 30 12 Noon

(Non-commercial advertisers only, new accounts only) (Ad must run 6 days, no-cancellations)

The Manchester Herald Brings You MORE MANCHESTER NEWS THAN ANY OTHER PAPER!

Still Only 20c Per Copy!

Home Delivered

CALL 647-9946 TO SUBSCRIBE TODAY!

26 NOV

26

Bridge purists eschew suicide barrier to preserve view

By John M. Lephy
United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO — For esthetic and commercial reasons, suicide prevention barriers for the Golden Gate Bridge have been rejected — even though in a mere 47 years nearly 800 of the crazed and the despairing have been beckoned to their self-destruction.

The bridge's governing body fears spoiling the view and ruling out harrumphing pedestrians from the bridge entirely, possible harm to the tourist trade. The eerie appeal of the bridge's sweeping beauty, surrounding death on the waters 240 feet below, will doubtless go on.

"Right now, it's like having a loaded gun in your community," said psychologist Richard Seiden, who has studied bridge jumpers and favors construction of a barrier. "It's the No. 1 suicide spot in the whole world. It's like a magnet for the depressed."

Over the years, the official count of the bridge's confirmed suicide victims stands at 783 and may be twice or three times more. There are 413 documented instances of a person stopped from jumping, 330 cases of evidence of a jump but no body found, 1,297 people who came to the bridge to jump but changed their minds and seven who jumped and survived.

Jumpers include the rich, the poor, the young and the old.

The first to drop through the fog, one Ralph Dirigo, did so five months after the bridge opened in 1937.

Marc Salinger, son of former presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger, jumped to his death from the bridge in 1977. In 1973,

Pierre Lee, whose father was lieutenant governor of Maryland, cartwheeled over the railing when approached by a patrolman.

One couple held hands, kissed and plunged over backwards.

Of the survivors, many have likened the experience to an "ego-death" from which they've felt a rebirth.

"I felt like a bird flying — total relief," one survivor told Dr. David H. Rosen of the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute.

"In my mind I was getting away from one realm and into another. Even now I'm still symbolically looking for the better world — I'm still in that place between the bridge and the water."

Suicides from the Golden Gate Bridge, the longest single span in the world until surpassed by the Verrazano-Narrows bridge in New

Weather

Today's forecast

Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island: Today: sunny and mild with high near 50 southeast coast and near 60 elsewhere. Tomorrow: clear with lows in the 30s. Tuesday: mostly sunny and warm. Increasing clouds west later in the day. Highs in the low to mid 60s except low 50s on southeast coast.

Maine: Becoming mostly sunny today. Highs in the 50s north to low 60s in the south. Clear tonight. Lows from the mid 20s to 30s. Mostly sunny again Tuesday with high in the 50s to low 60s.

New Hampshire: Becoming mostly sunny today. Highs in the 50s north to low 60s in the south. Clear but with patchy fog forming tonight. Lows in the mid 30s to low 40s. Becoming sunny Tuesday. Highs in the mid 50s to mid 60s.

Vermont: Sunny and unusually mild today. Highs 45 to 60. Fair tonight. Lows in the 30s and 40s. Sunny through increasing high clouds Tuesday. Breezy and warm. Highs 55 to 65. South winds 10 to 25 mph.

Here comes the sun

Today: sunny and mild. High around 60. Wind southwest around 10 mph. Tonight: clear. Patchy fog. Low 30 to 35. Tuesday: mostly sunny and warm. High 60 to 65. Today's weather picture was drawn by Robin Parson, 10, of 33 Lyness St., a fourth grader at Washington School.

Extended outlook for New England Wednesday through Friday:

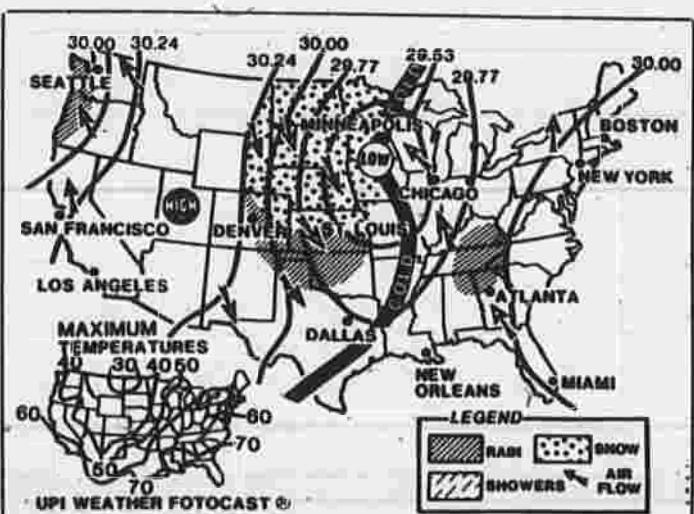

Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island: Fair and mild Wednesday. Cool with a chance of rain Thursday. Fair and cool Friday. Highs Wednesday 55 to 65 Thursday and Friday 45 to 55. Lows Wednesday in the 40s, Thursday and Friday in the 30s to low 40s.

Vermont: Rain likely Wednesday. Highs in the 50s. Lows 35 to 45. Chance of showers Thursday. Fair Friday. Colder. Highs 35 to 45. Lows 25 to 35.

Maine: Increasing cloudiness Wednesday. Chance of showers Thursday. Gradual clearing east to Friday. Mild Wednesday with high in the 50s and lows in the 30s. Cooler Thursday and Friday with high in the 50s north and 40s south. Lows in the 20s north and 30s south.

Satellite view

For period ending 7 p.m. EST 11-26-84. During Monday, snow and rain are forecast throughout the midwestern United States. Rain is also expected in the North Pacific Coast region and in the Tennessee Valley. Elsewhere, weather will be fair. Maximum temperatures next to east Friday. Minimum temperatures: Dallas 63, Denver 30, Duluth 42, Houston 67, Jacksonville 75, Kansas City 46, Little Rock 58, Los Angeles 65, Miami 78, Minneapolis 49, New Orleans 74, New York 56, Phoenix 64, San Francisco 60, Seattle 45, St. Louis 63, Washington 64.

National forecast

Commerce Dept. satellite photo taken at 4:00 a.m. EST shows a large area of clouds and showers stretching from the northern Rockies, high clouds cover parts of the southern Plains while mostly clear skies prevail over the eastern half of the nation.

Manchester Herald

Richard M. Diamond, Publisher

Mark F. Abrality
Associate Publisher
Business Manager
VOL. CIV. No. 48

Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Herald, Inc., 1000 Main Street, Manchester, Conn. 06103. Second-class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 201, Manchester, Conn. 06103.

GUARANTEED DELIVERY: If you don't receive your Herald by 5 p.m. weekdays or 7:30 p.m. Saturdays, call for a replacement. If you are on a delivery route, call for a replacement. If you are not on a delivery route, call for a replacement. If you are not on a delivery route, call for a replacement.

Subscription rates: $12.00 per year in advance. Single copies 25¢. Classified advertising: 10¢ per line per day. Long-term contracts available on request.

Peopletalk

Cars for books

The executives who work for Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lee Iacocca wish their cars were selling as well as Iacocca's autobiography.

"He's sold 200,000 copies so far. That's more cars than we've sold this year!" Chrysler Executive Vice President Bennett Bidwell said.

In its gloomier days, Chrysler once advertised, "Buy a car — get a check" to unload its backlog of unsold cars.

Bidwell says one who had suggested that Iacocca now advertise "Buy a book — get a car" but he said the company can't afford it.

Lee Iacocca

Big top tax

The circus won't be coming to Tennessee anytime soon. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus says it is being taxed out of the state and canceled a 1985 appearance. Walt Disney's World on Ice also said it won't play Tennessee.

The problem is the state's new 7.75 percent amusement tax. "They can't afford it," said Bobby Highsmith, manager of Nashville's Municipal Auditorium, adding that the cancellations will mean a loss of $40,000 and $50,000 in revenue.

"My suggestion to everybody is that you've got to pass it on to the consumer. In their case, they (Ringling Bros.) pride themselves in believing they are the cheapest priced family type entertainment on the road today. They do not want to go up on their ticket prices and they have not."

Jagger as fashion critic

Jerry Hall apparently gets a lot of fashion advice from her boyfriend, Mick Jagger, and most of it is on the conservative, hypocritical side.

"Mick likes the way I dress," she says in the December issue of Vanity Fair. "However, he doesn't like me to wear very open, sexy-sexy clothes — you know, with the legs hanging out. He likes for himself but he feels awkward when people stare. It's not that he's jealous. It's just that it makes it more uncomfortable for him. People stare at me and they recognize him."

Banished words

It's that time of the year again at Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie. Nominations are being accepted for the annual "Dishonored List of Words Banished from the Queen's English."

The nominations — collected by a college group called the Unicorn Hunters — will be accepted through Dec. 20. The words will be screened with selections for the list made on New Year's Eve and announced New Year's Day. "The 1983 list should be bigger and worse than ever," said W.T. Rabe, a college spokesman. "We are expecting one of the most repugnant collections of words ever assembled." "Words and phrases placed on the list in year's past included 'at this point in time,' 'a nice day,' 'time frame,' 'all-time record,' 'office of the art,' 'office effectivity,' 'meaningful,' 'scenario' and 'detente.'"

Why be shy?

The meek may eventually inherit the earth but syndicated advice columnist Meg Whitcomb says they're going to be awfully bored in the interim. Judging from the letters she gets, Whitcomb says the socially crippling problem of shyness is on the rise in the 30-and-under age group.

"I think there's more than 40 percent of the population that's shy — more like 20 or 25 percent," she said from her Tarrytown, N.Y., office. "They say, 'How can I overcome this?' I walk into a room of people and I might as well be standing on a railroad track with a train coming toward me," said Whitcomb. "They are so frightened."

To remedy the problem, Whitcomb advises the chronically shy to "join organizations, do anything. If you don't do it, nobody else is going to do it for you."

Now you know

Bonodiggle, according to Salire's Political Dictionary, is any project on which government funds are wasted through inefficiency or political favoritism.

Today in history

On Nov. 26, 1940, the German Nazis began forcing half a million Jews in Warsaw to live in a ghetto surrounded by an eight-foot concrete wall. This section of the wall was built across streetcar tracks.

Almanac

Today is Monday, November 26th, the 331st day of 1984 with 35 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its first phase.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

John Harvard, founder of Harvard University, was born November 26th, 1600.

On this date in history:

In 1789, President George Washington set this day aside as one of national thanksgiving for adoption of the United States Constitution.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in America started public service in New York City from City Hall to 14th Street.

U.S. on verge of normal ties with Iraq

by Norman D. Sandler
United Press International

WASHINGTON — President Reagan invited Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz to the White House today for a meeting that signaled the end of a break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Iraq prompted by the Israeli-Arab war 17 years ago.

With political alignments in the volatile Middle East certain to be altered, U.S. and Iraqi officials were prepared to announce a resumption of formal ties. An Aziz arrived for meetings with Reagan, Vice President George Bush and Secretary of State George Shultz.

Iraq, in coordination with other Arab countries, broke off diplomatic relations with the United States in 1967 after the Arab-Israeli war. Since then, Egypt, Syria and other countries restored formal ties with Washington, while Iraq has kept the contact at a lower level.

Aziz, the highest ranking Iraqi official to visit Washington since relations were severed, arrived in Washington Sunday. He discussed the restoration of ties during an Oct. 1 meeting with Shultz and visited Moscow last month, reportedly to notify the Soviet Union of Iraq's intention to resume relations with the United States.

At the same time, the administration removed Iraq from a list of countries deemed supporters of international terrorism and therefore barred from receiving U.S. products that could have military applications.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

intentions to resume relations with Washington. While Iraq has moderated its position toward Israel over the past few years, the Iran-Iraq war and a rash of terrorist incidents in the region have created friction between Washington and Baghdad even though trade has increased.

Three years ago, the State Department removed Iraq from a list of countries deemed supporters of international terrorism and therefore barred from receiving U.S. products that could have military applications.

At the same time, the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

FBI seeks gunman after resort shootout

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Authorities are seeking a gunman who wounded an FBI agent in a shootout and fled toward a Mount Hood ski resort, leaving behind a cache of weapons and a trail of his own blood.

The FBI said an agent wounded Robert Matthews, 31, of Metairie Falls, Wash., in the right hand with a shotgun blast after the fugitive ran from a motel where another man was arrested and the weapons found Saturday. Matthews was believed armed with a .38-caliber handgun.

Mathews apparently broke into a home where he ripped up a sheet to use as a bandage for his wounded hand, agents said. He had left a trail of blood at the scene of the gunfight.

An Oregon State Police spokesman said patrols were alerted to be on the lookout for Matthews throughout the state. The officer said while the FBI thought Matthews was in Mount Hood Meadows ski area 48 miles from Portland after getting a ride, there was nothing to indicate he was still in that area.

"He could probably be in Idaho by now," the officer said. The FBI search for Matthews was intensified after agents found a hand grenade, sub-machine gun and other military weapons, and $30,000 in a motel room he shared with a captured companion, Gary Lee Yarbrough, 29, of Bonner County, Idaho.

Theodore M. Gardner, special agent in charge of the Portland FBI office, said Matthews "should be considered armed and extremely dangerous." He said Matthews was charged with assault on a federal officer.

Yarbrough was identified as a former member of a white supremacist church in Idaho called the Aryan Nations. He was arrested on an assault warrant issued Oct. 23 in Butte, Mont.

Gardner declined comment when asked if Matthews was a member of the Idaho white supremacist group. FBI agent Art Hensel, 29, was treated for gunshot wounds in the foot and knee sustained in the shootout at a few blocks from the northeast Portland motel that about 20 agents had stalked out to arrest the two fugitives, FBI agent Bill Williams said.

Jerry Riedl, 47, manager of the Capri Motel, was struck in the shoulder by a bullet that went through a motel lobby glass window when an agent fired at Matthews. The agent said he thought Matthews was reaching for a gun in his jacket at the time.

Hensel and Riedl were treated at a hospital and released. Yarbrough had allegedly shot at a Forest Service worker driving past his property near Samuels north of Sandpoint, Idaho. He is also accused of firing at two ski agents investigating that shooting.

Michael Clark, a spokesman for Mount Hood Meadows ski area, said late Sunday that the possibility the gunman might be in the area had dampened the enthusiasm of skiers or changed operations. He said the ski facility operated normally Sunday.

Sunday's developments came on the fourth day of the 17th session of the council, which is the highest decision-making body of the dispersed Palestinian people and the PLO. Arafat called the session amid the most serious challenge to his leadership since he became PLO chairman in 1984.

The session was boycotted by four factions of the Syrian-backed "National Alliance," which seeks Arafat's ouster, fearing he may support a U.S.-backed Middle East peace plan that does not include a sovereign Palestinian state.

The internal split in the PLO broke into the open last December when Arafat's Syrian-backed opponents rebelled and attacked about 400 of his supporters in the northern Lebanese city of Tripoli. Arafat's forces had to be evacuated by ship.

The committee, to replace the current panel that includes Arafat opponents, is expected to be dominated by members loyal to the PLO chairman.

The PNC was also to discuss a proposal to move its headquarters from Damascus to Amman, where King Hussein has become one of Arafat's main supporters in the Arab world.

Arafat lobbyists began moving to reassert their control of the PLO on Friday by voting to seek pro-Syrian speaker Khalid Fahum. Fahum, who boycotted the meeting, charged in Damascus Sunday that the current meeting in Amman is "illegal," failing to achieve the required two-thirds quorum.

PLO officials have said the 237 delegates of the 278-member council attending the conference met quorum requirements, but Fahum charged that Arafat pocketed the current parliament with his supporters.

U.S./World In Brief

Over 300 die over weekend

As the long Thanksgiving weekend drew to an end, more than 300 people were reported killed in traffic accidents on the nation's highways, far short of the 500 deaths expected.

In the worst single accident, seven men died in a car that slammed into a tree at 100 mph in the Alabama town of McIntosh. In Montana, a bus skidded off an icy road, killing three elderly women. The only survivor is listed in critical condition.

A United Press International count showed at least 339 people died in accidents nationwide, including 33 in California, 30 in Texas and 25 in Florida.

The National Safety Council estimated up to 500 people would die and between 17,000 and 20,000 would suffer disabling injuries during the long weekend, which started at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Authorities said they were surprised that only one fatality was reported in Missouri.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

U.S. officials believe that welcoming Iraq back into good graces also would further isolate Syria in the complicated stew of Middle East politics.

However, a resumption of U.S.-Iraqi relations, coming at a time when the administration has placed emphasis on improving ties with the Arab world, is expected to be regarded with a degree of concern by Israel, which in June 1981 destroyed Iraq's nuclear research reactor in an air strike conducted with U.S.-built warplanes.

108 held hostage

United Press International

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — Three army officers who hijacked a Somali jetliner to Ethiopia today agreed today to an indefinite postponement of their threat since the aircraft still has 108 people on board.

It was the fourth postponement of their threat since the aircraft was commandeered to Ethiopia early Saturday.

The hijackers, armed with sub-machine guns and grenades, demanded that the Somali government call off the execution of seven high school students convicted in a series of bomb attacks and release them and 14 jailed politicians.

Western diplomats said there were signs the Somali government was willing to negotiate, although Ethiopian officials, who are dealing directly with the hijackers, would not confirm this.

Somali state radio in a broadcast today related the government had suspended the seven death sentences pending a review by Somali President Siad Barre.

The noon (4 a.m. EST) deadline slipped by with the aircraft still parked in an isolated part of Addis Ababa's Bole International Airport surrounded by Ethiopian troops and armored vehicles.

Earlier today, in a speech broadcast on Somali radio, Barre held Ethiopia responsible for the safety of the passengers, and accused the government of failing to live up to its international obligations.

The problem is with the Ethiopian government, The Ethiopian government is totally responsible for securing the safety of the passengers, the crew and the aircraft itself, Barre told the National Assembly.

Somalia Sunday refused to agree to the hijackers' demands, claiming such a move would be giving in to blackmail and "tantamount to submitting to terrorists' threats."

The hijackers, though ex-tremist-outraged by the response of the Somali government earlier in the day, have reluctantly consented to further extend the deadline. Foreign Ministry spokesman Tefera Gizaw said.

The hijackers, led by an officer identified as Capt. Awil Adan Bourhan, seized the Somali Airlines Boeing 707 Saturday on a flight from the Somali capital of Mogadishu to Cairo.

The officers held up the pilot and shot a security officer in the chest before landing at Addis Ababa's Bole airport.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

Hijackers postpone deadline

United Press International

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — Three army officers who hijacked a Somali jetliner to Ethiopia today agreed today to an indefinite postponement of their threat since the aircraft still has 108 people on board.

It was the fourth postponement of their threat since the aircraft was commandeered to Ethiopia early Saturday.

The hijackers, armed with sub-machine guns and grenades, demanded that the Somali government call off the execution of seven high school students convicted in a series of bomb attacks and release them and 14 jailed politicians.

Western diplomats said there were signs the Somali government was willing to negotiate, although Ethiopian officials, who are dealing directly with the hijackers, would not confirm this.

Somali state radio in a broadcast today related the government had suspended the seven death sentences pending a review by Somali President Siad Barre.

The noon (4 a.m. EST) deadline slipped by with the aircraft still parked in an isolated part of Addis Ababa's Bole International Airport surrounded by Ethiopian troops and armored vehicles.

Earlier today, in a speech broadcast on Somali radio, Barre held Ethiopia responsible for the safety of the passengers, and accused the government of failing to live up to its international obligations.

The problem is with the Ethiopian government, The Ethiopian government is totally responsible for securing the safety of the passengers, the crew and the aircraft itself, Barre told the National Assembly.

Somalia Sunday refused to agree to the hijackers' demands, claiming such a move would be giving in to blackmail and "tantamount to submitting to terrorists' threats."

The hijackers, though ex-tremist-outraged by the response of the Somali government earlier in the day, have reluctantly consented to further extend the deadline. Foreign Ministry spokesman Tefera Gizaw said.

The hijackers, led by an officer identified as Capt. Awil Adan Bourhan, seized the Somali Airlines Boeing 707 Saturday on a flight from the Somali capital of Mogadishu to Cairo.

The officers held up the pilot and shot a security officer in the chest before landing at Addis Ababa's Bole airport.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

26 NOV 1984 A young falangist climbs on top of Generalissimo Franco's monument in Madrid to place Spanish flags atop the monument. Tens of thousands ultra-rightists marched downtown Madrid Sunday to commemorate the anniversary of Franco's death and to call for a return of iron-fisted rule in Spain.

Hinckley proposes Sakharov tradeoff

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Hinckley Jr., who shot and wounded President Reagan in 1981, is asking for asylum in the Soviet Union and says the United States should exchange him for Soviet dissident Andrei Sakharov.

"I have made no secret of fact that I'm currently seeking asylum in any foreign country and yes, I'd be glad to live in the Soviet Union if I'm exchanged for Andrei Sakharov," Hinckley wrote in a letter to Newsweek magazine that was made public Sunday.

Hinckley, 29, was found not guilty of shooting Reagan and three others March 30, 1981, by reason of insanity. He is a patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington and recently has been granted expanded letter writing privileges.

In an earlier letter to The Washington Post, Hinckley described himself as a political prisoner and said his plight was no different than that of Sakharov.

In the letter to Newsweek, he said that since his first letter, published here, he "received many letters from people across the country who support me and agree that I am a political prisoner."

"I would think President Reagan would be happy to expel me from the country in any way possible and a political prisoner exchange would be ideal and to everyone's satisfaction," he wrote.

Hinckley was tried on charges of attempting to assassinate the president and acquitted by reason of insanity in 1984.

Hinckley, held in solitary confinement following his arrest, made two attempts on his own life. He made a third attempt while undergoing treatment at St. Elizabeth's — a mental institute where he was committed indefinitely following his acquittal.

He said he shot Reagan to win the "love and respect" of actress Jodie Foster, whom he has never met.

City thumbs a wheelchair

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa — The city of Mount Pleasant says Dale Barre's wheelchair doesn't belong on the streets, but his mother says the ban is a violation of her son's civil rights.

City officials have told the 26-year-old wheelchair-bound man that he no longer is permitted to travel on the city's streets, even if he is accompanied by a family member.

Barrett, a paraplegic who enjoyed traveling along in his motorized wheelchair, was told by Police Chief Jerry Richenberger the chair did not meet state standards for a motor vehicle and he would have to stay off the streets.

Barrett's mother, Wilma, accused city officials of wanting him out of the way because the presence of his wheelchair makes motorists nervous.

LONDON — Kissing is only "a type of sucking behavior" that passes on a biological signal, and love is just a chemical reaction, according to skin expert Bubba Nicholson.

Nicholson, writing in the British journal Dermatology, believes lovers seek chemicals in each other located in sebaceous glands, which secrete a substance called sebum.

Nicholson, who works in Tampa, Fla., describes kissing as a "type of sucking behavior" which is intended to sample the semiochemicals of the other person.

Semiochemicals are substances that communicate a biological signal from one animal to another, according to Nicholson. Because they rest on the skin, you have to kiss to pass the biological signal.

He said the glands are all over the body but are present in particularly large quantities in the area had dampened the enthusiasm of skiers or changed operations. He said the ski facility operated normally Sunday.

Sunday's developments came on the fourth day of the 17th session of the council, which is the highest decision-making body of the dispersed Palestinian people and the PLO. Arafat called the session amid the most serious challenge to his leadership since he became PLO chairman in 1984.

The session was boycotted by four factions of the Syrian-backed "National Alliance," which seeks Arafat's ouster, fearing he may support a U.S.-backed Middle East peace plan that does not include a sovereign Palestinian state.

The internal split in the PLO broke into the open last December when Arafat's Syrian-backed opponents rebelled and attacked about 400 of his supporters in the northern Lebanese city of Tripoli. Arafat's forces had to be evacuated by ship.

The committee, to replace the current panel that includes Arafat opponents, is expected to be dominated by members loyal to the PLO chairman.

The PNC was also to discuss a proposal to move its headquarters from Damascus to Amman, where King Hussein has become one of Arafat's main supporters in the Arab world.

Arafat lobbyists began moving to reassert their control of the PLO on Friday by voting to seek pro-Syrian speaker Khalid Fahum. Fahum, who boycotted the meeting, charged in Damascus Sunday that the current meeting in Amman is "illegal," failing to achieve the required two-thirds quorum.

PLO officials have said the 237 delegates of the 278-member council attending the conference met quorum requirements, but Fahum charged that Arafat pocketed the current parliament with his supporters.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

26 NOV 1984

Election violence

Two youths from political parties are assisted by paramedics after clashes between rival political party members early this morning in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Violence broke out after the vote-counting appeared to signal victory to the centrist Colorado party in the country's first democratic elections in 13 years.

current panel that includes Arafat opponents, is expected to be dominated by members loyal to the PLO chairman.

The PNC was also to discuss a proposal to move its headquarters from Damascus to Amman, where King Hussein has become one of Arafat's main supporters in the Arab world.

Arafat lobbyists began moving to reassert their control of the PLO on Friday by voting to seek pro-Syrian speaker Khalid Fahum. Fahum, who boycotted the meeting, charged in Damascus Sunday that the current meeting in Amman is "illegal," failing to achieve the required two-thirds quorum.

PLO officials have said the 237 delegates of the 278-member council attending the conference met quorum requirements, but Fahum charged that Arafat pocketed the current parliament with his supporters.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

On Saturday, 22 people including 19 women and children, the pilot, co-pilot and a wounded security officer, were released into the custody of the Ethiopians by the hijackers.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu Wolde told an airport press conference two civilian passengers agreed to join the hijackers Sunday and were given weapons.

"The hijackers are incensed, outraged. They are furious," Wolde told reporters. "If their demands are not met they say they will blow up the plane with the passengers. They say they will end it all."

Wolde was critical of Somalia's refusal to consider the hijacker's demands. "Somalia must know it takes two to negotiate," he said.

Army tightens its grip over Beirut

United Press International

LEBANON — Lebanese army troops fanned out across Beirut today, and rival militias released some kidnappers in a goodwill gesture in the massive operation aimed at expanding government control over the war-torn capital.

Christian militias freed eight Muslims, and the Shiite militia of Justice Minister Nabih Berri recaptured by releasing seven Christians.

The swap took place at midnight along the Barbeir crossing of the Beirut Green Line, where more Lebanese troops were dispatched to reinforce already existing positions, military sources said.

Some 8,000 troops were assigned to the "Operation Beirut" security force, the sources said.

They said the deployment was moving ahead of schedule and troops were already on mobile patrol along the Beirut airport highway, sections of Beirut were taken down and elsewhere in the capital.

In the town of Naqurah, military leaders from Israel and Lebanon arranged a fifth round of talks today aimed at ending Israel's 29-month occupation of southern Lebanon.

Brig. Gen. Amos Glibau, head of the Israeli delegation, said last week the previous four sessions had resulted in slim progress and a wide gap separated the two teams in the U.N.-sponsored negotiations.

In the Beirut Hills overlooking Beirut, the two people were killed and at least three were wounded in a three-hour mortar and artillery battle between the army and Muslim Druze militiamen, Christian Voice of Lebanon reported.

ETA Foreign Minister Goshu

OPINION

Is the Catholic church 'Christian'?

WASHINGTON — During Campaign '84, the religious right constantly used the term "Judeo-Christian" to describe the political philosophy it supported. It was implicit — or stated — that any individual or group not falling within this category was unworthy of support by any "right-thinking" Christian.

But now the National Conference of Catholic Bishops has reversed its draft pastoral letter "Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy," which contains some views that conservatives would regard as downright "un-Christian."

This leads to an apparently absurd question: Is the Roman Catholic Church "Christian"?

Robert Wagman
Syndicated Columnist

In a section titled "Distribution of Income and Wealth," the draft letter notes that "this is a country marked by glaring disparities of wealth and income. Catholic social teaching does not suggest that absolute equality in the distribution of income and wealth is required. However, gross inequalities are morally unjustifiable."

"In our judgment," it continues, "the distribution of income and wealth in the United States is so inequitable that it violates (the) minimum standard of distributive justice."

THE DRAFT DEFENDS PRIVATE OWNERSHIP of property, yet argues that private ownership does not abrogate social responsibility.

"In using economic resources," it says, "the fundamental principle should be that whatever one's legal entitlement, no one can own these resources absolutely or use them without regard to others."

"This support of private ownership does not mean that any individual, group, organization or nation has the right to unlimited accumulation of wealth."

The bishops point out that "large financial institutions possess vast power to shape economic life."

With this power goes responsibility and the need for both moral and institutional accountability. "The letter adds that government is obligated to see that these moral responsibilities are lived up to."

All of this was too much for the Rev. Jerry Falwell, leader of the Moral Majority, who called the letter an endorsement of socialism.

"While the bishops don't advocate redistributing the nation's wealth," he said, "they come close to it, and that's socialism, which isn't any more than shared poverty."

IN ADDITION, A 27-MEMBER GROUP of Catholic laymen, the Lay Commission on Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy — headed by former Treasury Secretary William Simon — drafted a counter-letter and took the lead in opposing the first draft.

The commission's conservative laymen are clearly frightened by the thought that their wealth is somehow immoral, since most of them have six- or seven-figure incomes. Further, government solutions like job-creation programs and increased welfare payments fly in the face of their conservative philosophies.

To the conservatives, the letter's entire tone is simply "too political."

Michael Novak, resident scholar at the conservative American Enterprise Institute and a member of the lay commission, believes that the bishops "go far beyond moral principles." In the draft, he says, the bishops "seem to want to lead the way to a new political consensus in the land." However, he says, "the bishops are moral, not political, leaders."

He adds that the draft letter "shows a secular intellectual framework dominated by a partisan point of view. In such respects, it is backward-looking."

ONE YEAR AGO, THE BISHOPS released a letter on nuclear weapons; that letter had gone through three drafts over two years, and the final version was much watered-down. Conservatives hope that this will happen with the draft letter on the economy.

But if the initial debate is any indication, they may be disappointed. Conservatives had hoped that at least some of the bishops would object to the draft's extremely liberal bent; instead, the draft was uniformly supported.

The 12 bishops who spoke on the matter praised the current version and suggested that the final version should not be softened, but should instead include an even wider variety of economic programs.

Archbishop Rembert Weakland of Milwaukee, principal author of the draft letter, said that he expected many changes in the letter before final submission next November. However, he indicated that those changes would merely involve refining and sharpening the letter's focus, and perhaps changing the tone in a few places.

If there are no major changes, we can expect a new debate when the letter is finally published: "Is the U.S. Roman Catholic Church no longer 'Christian'?"

Jack Anderson
Syndicated Columnist

Column on school still stands

WASHINGTON — I stirred up a hornet's nest in September when I reported that "the heart of Latin American death squad activity beats most strongly in Guadalajara, Mexico," where the Autonomous University appears to be influenced by an ultra-rightist, anti-Semitic secret society named, Los Tecos.

The university, founded as a counterweight to the left-leaning government universities, was quick to respond. University authorities authored a paid rebuttal in the Washington Post that claimed, among other things, that the university is "non-political."

This is a joke.

I'll willingly concede the university's claim that many fine students, including thousands of Americans, have benefited from the education there. But this is beside the point.

My concern lay with the information, obtained by my associates Jon Lee Anderson and Dale Van Atta, that the clandestine Los Tecos society exercised a malign influence on the university — an influence that undermined its respectability.

SURPRISINGLY, THE POINT was trying to make was confirmed by one indignant caller who telephoned in defense of the university. He was an American professor there, and he insisted on anonymity. But his remarks were revealing.

After he praised the university lavishly, my associates asked if he was a member of Los Tecos. After a long pause, he said he was. Is it a right-wing society? Yes, he said.

Why had he joined? It was expected of both American and Mexican professors who taught there, he replied. Did he know of any other American professors who had joined Los Tecos? Well, he said, he knew of one who had refused to join "and was always in trouble for this."

Why had the other American gotten into trouble? Because he wouldn't give undeserved "A" grades to students who were members of the secret society, said the caller.

Had he ever witnessed any violence by Los Tecos? No, said the professor, that was another part of the group, not the one to which he belonged.

HE EXPLAINED that Los Tecos consisted of three divisions: the administrators, professors and members, the "student spies," who kept their eyes on suspected left-leaning professors and students; and the "tecos de choque," and the "tecos de strong-arm," who had no idea what the strong-arm division did — and had no desire to know.

Could the "shock troops" be involved indirectly or directly in death squad activities? I wouldn't surprise him, the professor replied.

Other witnesses, Mexican correspondents and other sources confirmed the essentials of my original column. They suggested that the university was trying to draw me into a semantic quagmire.

For example, in Spanish the word "teco" is a species of owl. Critics of Los Tecos say the name was chosen because the secret society, like the owl, hunts its prey after dark. Nonsense, said the university's alumni association. The owl name was chosen, not because of the bird's nocturnal predatory instincts, but because of its fabled wisdom and the students' devotion to late-night academic labors. After all, the school's soccer team is called the Tecos.

It's obviously impossible to ascertain the number of neo-Nazi sympathizers at the Autonomous University. It has pointed out accurately — that some Jewish students have at least been tolerated there.

But it is equally obvious that rightists of the fanatic fringe have been given sanction by the university to follow their anti-Semitic ideology. This has been confirmed by Jewish alumni.

LETTERS policy

The Manchester Herald welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be brief and to the point. They should be typed and neatly handwritten, and, for ease in editing, should be double-spaced.

The Herald reserves the right to edit letters in the interests of brevity, clarity and taste.

Address letters to: Open Forum, Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 591, Manchester, CT 06640.

Potpouri

First family feud

The "Turkey, cornbread dressing, giblet gravy and persimmon pudding were all in place at the first family's Thanksgiving dinner in California."

But something clearly was missing: son Michael, his wife, Colleen, and their two children — the first couple's only grandchildren.

"There's a good reason I wasn't at Thanksgiving dinner," Michael told reporters. "I wasn't on the list."

Michael was adopted by Ronald Reagan and his first wife, Jane Wyman, in 1945 — three years before their divorce. He occasionally has suggested that, given Nancy Reagan's supposed fondness for children, it was a bit strange that she and the president "don't make an effort to see their own grandchildren."

Otherwise, however, Michael, one of four Reagan children (the other three and their spouses were all at Thanksgiving dinner), generally has refrained from criticizing Nancy in public. Until now.

The last straw for 38-year-old Michael, who spent Thanksgiving with his in-laws in Omaha, was the first lady's recent comment to the Washington Times that "there has been an estrangement" from Michael.

"For her to make a statement like that the day before Thanksgiving was unthinkable," Michael told the Washington Post. "Maybe the bump on the head was more serious than we thought," he added, referring to Mrs. Reagan's recent fall.

"I think it's not an estrangement as much ... as a jealousy Nancy might have towards me and my family, you know, being the son of another marriage," Michael said.

The Reagan family feud is reminiscent of a button worn by some Democrats during the recent campaign. It said simply, "Jane Wyman was right."

Washington Window

There's no easy answer to Democrats' problems

By Clav F. Richards

WASHINGTON — In the three weeks since Walter Mondale's landslide loss to President Reagan, Democratic leaders across the nation have come to realize there is no easy answer to solving the party's problems.

Right after the election there was a rush to condemn Mondale as a bad candidate, overhauled to special interests. Party leaders said all that was needed to turn the party around was a bright new and dynamic face to replace Democratic National Chair Charles Manatt when the national committee picks a new boss early next year.

Since then some sober thoughts have hit the Democrats:

- Mondale was not a bad candidate. Moreover there probably was no one else who could have done that much better against Reagan.
- Special interests, particularly organized labor, didn't do as much as it was hoped to boost Democrats in the election. But it wasn't too much good for the party to abandon what is left of its traditional base, especially since that base provided the party with a better financed campaign than it has had in recent years.
- Manatt is probably one of the best national chairmen the party has had in years. He has a plan that is working to pay off a party debt that goes back to 1968. For the first time in history the party will move into its own home, a new structure built on Capitol Hill, early next year. These were the goals Manatt pledged to accomplish and he has.
- By copying the Republican's highly successful direct mail fund-raising program, nearly every party program for raising money was more successful this year.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY is much like another great American pastime — baseball. For 10 years Bowie Kuhn was commissioner of baseball, doing exactly what the owners told him to do. Then one day, the owners decided that wasn't what they wanted and fired him. Then they elected a man who had done such a bad job after all, decided what had gone wrong was not really his fault, and tried to keep him on the job.

For 20 years the Democratic Party and its leaders have been busy alienating various aspects of its constituency. It swung from Lyndon Johnson and the Vietnam War in 1964 to George McGovern and the anti-war sentiment of 1972. Finding an answer in neither, it went to Jimmy Carter in 1976. Carter probably represented less of what the Democratic Party has traditionally stood for than either Johnson or McGovern.

Walter Mondale came along in 1980 and tried to put the Democratic Party back together again. But he found the elements that had once made up the party weren't there any more.

FOR THE TIME BEING the Democratic Party needs a new chairman like the old one — a technician who will build the party structure across the nation, try to keep party fighting over the rules to nominate the 1988 candidate at a minimum, and work on the endless problems of party finances.

The bigger question of how to rebuild the party will be debated for the next four years — at least — and probably won't be settled until the day a Democrat with a broad based national coalition moves into the White House.

Clav F. Richards is a political writer for United Press International.

Washington Window

There's no easy answer to Democrats' problems

By Clav F. Richards

WASHINGTON — In the three weeks since Walter Mondale's landslide loss to President Reagan, Democratic leaders across the nation have come to realize there is no easy answer to solving the party's problems.

Right after the election there was a rush to condemn Mondale as a bad candidate, overhauled to special interests. Party leaders said all that was needed to turn the party around was a bright new and dynamic face to replace Democratic National Chair Charles Manatt when the national committee picks a new boss early next year.

Since then some sober thoughts have hit the Democrats:

- Mondale was not a bad candidate. Moreover there probably was no one else who could have done that much better against Reagan.
- Special interests, particularly organized labor, didn't do as much

Tuned up

"Friend of mine just bought himself a Ferrari," writes Sid Yudin, editor of a Capitol Hill tabloid called Roll Call.

"It's a lot like the Ferrari," he adds, "but it runs better."

But a Reagan aide says the president has invited National Security Director Bob McFarlane, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and Secretary of State George Shultz to stay for another four years.

Although Reagan apparently hasn't given all Cabinet members similar assurances, he has told them he wants to hold together his "winning team" for the second term.

Score one for loyalty. The

"Sure, we're passing along a big deficit, but we're passing along our PRINCIPLES, too."

Richard M. Diamond, Publisher
Douglas A. Bevins, Managing Editor
James P. Sacks, City Editor

Faster than a speeding motorist

It's a bird, it's a plane, it's Nutmeg 7

By Mark A. Dupuis
United Press International

HARTFORD — The small plane swayed from side to side as it lifted off from Brainard Airport. After a short trip south, it began circling over Wallingford.

It was a clear day, so clear that Long Island could be seen some 50 miles away. But the pilot and crew member weren't looking to the horizon; they were looking to the ground.

"Nutmeg 7" was in the air and the message to motorists traveling on Interstate 81 below was simply "beware."

"Nutmeg 7," as the pilot referred to the plane when talking with the ground, is one of two single-engine airplanes put in use last week to nab motorists for speeding and other traffic violations.

The airplanes, bought with $225,000 in federal funds, are the latest weapon in a state police crackdown on traffic violations that also includes special police squads and putting troopers on overtime to patrol the highways.

Connecticut is at least the fourth New England state to use airplanes to catch traffic violators. Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts use aircraft also, apparently with mixed results.

"It's working super," said Richard Moore, Maine State Police spokesman. "It's proven successful for enforcement of the 55 mile per hour speed limit as well as requesting aid for stranded motorists."

Moore said the technique was pioneered in Texas in 1946. Maine began using aircraft in 1975, he said, the 43rd state to use planes for law enforcement.

In New Hampshire, state police have used a single-engine Cessna 182 since May 1980. The program has led to citations against about 25,000 motorists and generated more than $800,000 in penalties.

State Police Capt. Harold Robichaud said the aircraft operates at least four days a week, weather permitting, and concentrates on a different area of the state each day.

"You can go to a high violation area, put a zone in there and cut the speed way down," Robichaud said. "It's a deterrent because people never know when they have possibility of being apprehended."

Cpl. John Stevens, the aircraft's chief observer, said it costs about $200 an hour to run the plane in the air. Working with three cruisers on the ground, it can nab a speeder about every 20 minutes — making it much more efficient than a cruiser alone.

Stevens said part of his job is trying to convince people that signs along New Hampshire highways warning that the speed limit is enforced by aircraft are not a ruse.

"A lot of people don't believe that it happens," he said. "But we have over 25,000 believers."

In Massachusetts, however, the use of the state's one-plane has received less enthusiastic reviews.

"It's too big for speed enforcement. It doesn't get good gas mileage," said state police Cpl. William Mann.

He said Massachusetts uses the plane, which was purchased with federal grant two years ago, an average of once a week during the summer to catch speeders. It also is used to carry state officials around, he said.

Rhode Island state police do not use airplanes to track speeders. "We're really not looking for a sharp increase in arrests," said Ford, who like O'Neill rode along last week on one of the first flights of the airborne speed traps.

"We're looking for people to be in compliance."

So far, the crackdown on the ground is working, Ford said, with the average speed of vehicles traveling the state's highways dropping.

"It was climbing up around 66 (mph)," Ford said. "It's coming down close to 60." He said state police hope to further reduce the average to around 55 mph, which is the maximum speed limit.

Police make 2,015 arrests; six die on state highways

By United Press International

The Thanksgiving turkey has faded into memory of consumers who have redirected their holiday energies toward Christmas gift buying and made the cash registers ring in Connecticut's shopping malls.

The festive spirit was marred on state roads where at least six people died between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

The latest was Stefan Chownacek, 23, of Colchester, who was struck and killed shortly after 8 p.m. Sunday in the eastbound lane of Route 207 in Lebanon. State police said Chownacek had left his car parked on the side of the road and was struck by a car driven by Christopher Gantick, 18, of North Franklin. Chownacek was pronounced dead at the scene.

State police continued their crackdown on motor vehicle violations during the week-end. They made 2,015 motor vehicle arrests including 1,516 for speeding and 64 for drunk driving. Connecticut police reported 260 accidents, 44 involving injuries and three deaths.

Five other motorists died in the state over the long weekend, two on secondary roads in Fairfield County. Three people died in 64 accidents during the 1983 holiday weekend.

Maria Cardosa, 55, of Bridgeport, died in a three-car collision on Interstate 85 early Sunday. She was a passenger in a car driven by Robin Kurtz of Bridgeport which spun out of control across all three westbound lanes. Kurtz was charged with manslaughter in the second degree while intoxicated.

David Beekman, 26, of Avon, was killed in a head-on crash on Route 117 in Avon Friday night. Francis P. O'Sullivan, 34, of Southington reported long waiting lists for the dolls.

Officials at Coleco Industries Inc. of West Hartford, manufacturers of the dolls, said they are trying to meet demand, but are amazed that the "phenomenal demand" for the dolls has not eased since they were introduced in June 1983.

malls decked with bright lights, glittering trees, roaming Santas and holiday sales merchants who will set a new record.

Lines, traffic, shopping bags, overburdened arms and eager children were familiar sights. But frustration was already evident among those looking for those dimpled Cabbage Patch Kid dolls which prompted near riots in some stores last year.

Approximately 5,000 names are on a waiting list at Toys 'R Us in West Hartford, said manager Joseph F. Scanlon. Other toy stores in Enfield, Hartford and Middletown reported long waiting lists for the dolls.

Officials at Coleco Industries Inc. of West Hartford, manufacturers of the dolls, said they are trying to meet demand, but are amazed that the "phenomenal demand" for the dolls has not eased since they were introduced in June 1983.

That time of the year

The shuttle bus service platform at Boston's Logan International Airport was crowded with people and baggage Sunday as thousands returned home or to school from the long Thanksgiving Day weekend.

Connecticut In Brief

Residents to get new water

EAST HAMPTON — Utility officials have agreed to provide residents with bottled water after high levels of benzene were found in two wells serving houses near a Northeast Utilities office.

Paul Marin, an environmental analyst with the state Department of Environmental Protection, said benzene has been traced to a leak in a pipe running from NU's underground gasoline tanks.

Marin said the company has agreed to study the extent of the problem by sinking test wells to monitor the pollution, and the company has agreed to clean it up.

College looks to beat slump

HARTFORD — The University of Hartford is exploring conventional and unconventional ways of beating the slump in student enrollment that's expected to keep spiraling downward into the next decade.

The institution, which grew and prospered in the 1960s and 1970s, is feeling the pangs as the post-war baby boom generation has gotten through college, leaving fewer 18-year-olds to fill classes.

To fight the decline in numbers, the University has started a NCAA Division I basketball program with successful season ticket sales, launched a campaign to raise $30 million which has already collected $17.5 million, built on-campus housing for 1,000 students without using university money and created scores of new academic programs.

Some studies show the number of college-age youngsters will drop almost 50 percent from the mid-1970s to the 1990s in the Northeast. A study by the state Board of Higher Education shows the number of 18-year-olds in Connecticut will drop 49 percent from a 1979 high of 65,000 to a 1995 low of 35,100.

Truckers feel the snare

MIDDLEBURY — State troopers arrested three slow moving tractor-trailer operators Sunday night for allegedly slowing eastbound traffic on I-84.

A state police spokesman said he could give no official reason for the truckers' slowdown from the New York line to Middlebury, which caused traffic problems for miles.

But he said police believe the truckers were protesting a state police crackdown on speeders.

The trucks were traveling at 45 mph and slower when the speed limit on I-84 is 55, officials said. The slowdown was reported at 4 p.m., and drivers were arrested by troopers about a half-hour later.

GOP eyes governor's office

HARTFORD — Republican State Chairman Thomas J. D'Amore said the toughest task facing the GOP following its election success is developing harmony, discipline and tight coordination in the Legislature.

The record and image Republicans create over the next two years will determine the GOP's chances of taking over the governor's office in 1988, D'Amore said.

"We've worked our tails off and the key there has been cooperation and mutual respect. That's where it is important to have strong leadership and discipline, in a positive way. Without it, nothing works." D'Amore said.

Police make 2,015 arrests; six die on state highways

By United Press International

The Thanksgiving turkey has faded into memory of consumers who have redirected their holiday energies toward Christmas gift buying and made the cash registers ring in Connecticut's shopping malls.

The festive spirit was marred on state roads where at least six people died between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

The latest was Stefan Chownacek, 23, of Colchester, who was struck and killed shortly after 8 p.m. Sunday in the eastbound lane of Route 207 in Lebanon. State police said Chownacek had left his car parked on the side of the road and was struck by a car driven by Christopher Gantick, 18, of North Franklin. Chownacek was pronounced dead at the scene.

State police continued their crackdown on motor vehicle violations during the week-end. They made 2,015 motor vehicle arrests including 1,516 for speeding and 64 for drunk driving. Connecticut police reported 260 accidents, 44 involving injuries and three deaths.

Five other motorists died in the state over the long weekend, two on secondary roads in Fairfield County. Three people died in 64 accidents during the 1983 holiday weekend.

Maria Cardosa, 55, of Bridgeport, died in a three-car collision on Interstate 85 early Sunday. She was a passenger in a car driven by Robin Kurtz of Bridgeport which spun out of control across all three westbound lanes. Kurtz was charged with manslaughter in the second degree while intoxicated.

David Beekman, 26, of Avon, was killed in a head-on crash on Route 117 in Avon Friday night. Francis P. O'Sullivan, 34, of Southington reported long waiting lists for the dolls.

Officials at Coleco Industries Inc. of West Hartford, manufacturers of the dolls, said they are trying to meet demand, but are amazed that the "phenomenal demand" for the dolls has not eased since they were introduced in June 1983.

Pizza for lunch served in 3 minutes guaranteed!

If you love pizza for lunch but can't spend your hour waiting around, Papa's has a deal for you!

Introducing Papa Gino's 3-Minute Express Lunch Specials.

You get two slices of our delicious cheese or pepperoni pizza, or any one of our other delicious lunch specials—served within 3 minutes after you order!

And that's guaranteed, or your next Papa Gino's lunch is absolutely free.* (Offer good Sun-Fri, 11:30 am till 1:30 pm)

So if you thought you had to give up your lunch hour to get a nutritious meal, now you can have the very best—with 57 minutes to spare!

GUARANTEED 3 MINUTE LUNCHES

- Two Slices of Cheese Pizza — $1.75
- Two Slices of Pepperoni Pizza — $2.10
- Slice of Cheese Pizza & Salad Bar — $2.75
- Large Italian Sub or Syrian — $1.95
- Large Meatball Sub — $2.40
- Large Seafood Salad Sub or Syrian — $2.85

Papa Gino's Not fast food... Great food fast!

PIZZA & MORE

*At participating stores. Offer may be withdrawn at any time.

26 NOV

26

Leak closes street

Bissell Street from Hamlin Street east was closed this morning as town Water Department crews repaired a broken water main on Bissell that resulted in the damage pictured above. A Water Department dispatcher said the leak was reported Wednesday by area residents. The dispatcher said the work was expected to take at least half a day. The break sent water flowing down the street into nearby catch basins, but reportedly caused no accidents or other problems.

Obituaries

Averill B. Sutherland

Averill B. Sutherland, 65, of Windsor, died Friday at Mount Sinai Hospital, Hartford. He was the husband of Jean (Evings) Sutherland, and the father of Carter B. Sutherland of Covington, La. He was a member of the Connecticut Country Music Association and the Down East Country Music Association.

He is also survived by seven other sons, Timothy L. Sutherland of Jacksonville, Fla., Michael A. Sutherland of Lubbock, Texas, Dennis P. Sutherland of Ellington, Terrance J. Sutherland of Rockville, Ronald A. Sutherland of Granby, William A. Sutherland of Windsor, Lewis L. Sutherland at home, two brothers, Charles Sutherland of Stafford Springs and Bert Sutherland of Rockville, three sisters, Eunice Davenport of Portland, Elizabeth Condon of Southington, and Marion Carley of Canaan, 12 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Carmon Funeral Home in Windsor, with burial in Elm Grove Cemetery. Calling hours are 4 to 6 p.m. today and 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Armando Morano

The funeral for Armando "Red" Morano, 69, of Old Saybrook, a former Manchester resident who died Friday at Middlesex Memorial Hospital, was today in St. Mark's Church, Westbrook, with burial in East Cemetery, Manchester.

D.B., where are you?

ARIEL, Wash. (UPI) — As usual, the quest of honor failed to show up but some 1,200 party-goers nonetheless gathered once again to commemorate D. Cooper, who parachuted from a jet airliner with $200,000 in ransom 13 years ago. "I think he's out there," said Dave Fisher, owner of the Ariel Store and Tavern where the ninth annual party was held Saturday. "If he had died they would have found him." Fisher, like most of the other 1,200 celebrants, believes Cooper survived when he parachuted out of the back of a jetliner over a wooded section of southwest Washington where Ariel is located. Cooper was a passenger aboard a Northwest Airlines jet that left Portland Nov. 24, 1971. He handed a swart-faced note saying he had a dynamite bomb and demanding $200,000 in used bills and four parachutes. The plane landed at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, where its 36 passengers disembarked. Cooper was given a money and parachute and the plane took off again. Most authorities are convinced Cooper did not survive. The first trace of the skyjacker came in early 1980 when an 8-year-old boy on a family outing found about $2,800 of Cooper's loot along the Columbia River near Vancouver, Wash., south of Ariel. The party-goers in Ariel believe Cooper made it safely to earth. "In Vancouver, people around here care about Cooper," Fisher said Sunday. "I don't know about the rest of the year."

Second plastic heart implant ends long wait for surgeon

Dr. William C. DeVries waited a long time to do again what he has spent his entire life training himself for. Sunday, the wait finally ended. DeVries, 41, led a 17-member team of surgeons, nurses and medical technicians in the world's second implant of a permanent artificial heart, this one into William H. Schreyer, 57. DeVries performed the first such implant on Dr. Barney Clark on Dec. 2, 1982, at the University of Utah.

Clark lived 112 days before dying of multi-organ system failure. DeVries had waited at the publicly funded institution for approval of another implant, but that was slow in coming. The internal review board stopped briefly at the scene but DeVries had had enough.

Humana Inc., the huge for-profit health management chain, lured him to Louisville, Ky., with the promise of a world-class research institute and funding for 100 implants.

Police Roundup

Wrecks net evading charges

Main Street resident Carolyn M. Inkel was charged with disorderly conduct and evading responsibility following an accident Thursday evening on Tolland Turnpike, Handicapped, Dec. 4. Melvin G. Cox Jr. of South Windsor reported that a car had veered into the path of a truck. Chevette while changing lanes on Tolland Turnpike near Parker Street shortly after 7 p.m. police said. Police said the other driver, later identified as Inkel, 24 years old, stopped briefly at the scene but left before police arrived.

When police found Inkel she appeared to have suffered minor injuries but was not taken to the hospital, according to the police report at apartment building Saturday morning.

Inkel, who lives at 436 Main St., was released after booking and ordered to appear in court Dec. 4 in Manchester Superior Court.

Another Manchester resident was charged with evading responsibility in connection with an accident on Tolland Turnpike on Dec. 4. Police said Donald S. Cratty of 133 Hillside St. was turning left from the southbound lane of Main Street onto Hartford Road when his car ran into the side of another car waiting in a line of traffic at the Hartford Road stop light.

Police said witnesses reported hearing Cratty's tire squeal and said that Cratty's car seemed to be traveling excessively fast.

Howard B. Matthews, 63, of Middletown, husband of Degan (Anderson) Matthews, died Saturday at Middlesex Memorial Hospital.

He was vice president and treasurer of Wesleyan University, and treasurer of the Wesleyan University Press from 1950 to 1969.

Born in Pittston, Pa., he had lived in Middletown for the last 34 years. He was a certified public accountant and a 50-year member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accounting.

He is also survived by a son, Dr. Stephen D. Matthews of Port Washington, N.Y., and a granddaughter.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Memorial Chapel, Wesleyan University. Burial will be in Indian Hill Cemetery. Calling hours at the Doolittle Funeral Home, 14 Old Church St. in Middletown, are today from 7 to 9 p.m.

Memorial donations may be made to the Matthews Endowment Fund of Wesleyan University Library, or the Library of Wymington Seminary, Kingston, Pa.

Wooden toys, stuffed animals, dolls, and other items will be available. Admission to both the museum and ToyExpo will be $1 Saturday though museum members will be admitted free.

On Friday, Dec. 7, the museum will host its annual Teddy Bear Picnic for preschool children. Teddy bears, children and their parents are invited.

"Critic Celebrations" will wind up with a filmfest during Christmas vacation week. For more information on film titles, showing times, or any other event, schedule, call the museum at 649-5241.

A calendar of planned activities is as follows:

• Sat., Dec. 1 — ToyExpo, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission: $1 for non-members, 50 cents for members. Pre-registration recommended.

• Tues., Dec. 4 through Sat., Dec. 15 — Holiday workshops for children and adults, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Pre-registration required. Call the museum at 649-5241 for more information.

• Wed., Dec. 5 — Animal cracker wreath workshop for 3- and 5-year-olds and their parents, 10 a.m. Admission: $5.50 for non-members, $1 for members. Pre-registration recommended.

• Fri., Dec. 7 — Teddy Bear Picnic for 3- and 5-year-olds and their parents, 10 to 11:30 a.m. or 12:30 to 2 p.m. Admission: $1 for non-members, 50 cents for members. Pre-registration recommended.

• Thurs., Dec. 27 — Vacation filmfest, 12:30, 2, and 3:30 p.m. Admission: $1.50 for non-members, $1 for members. Call museum at 649-5241 for titles.

• Fri., Dec. 28 — Vacation filmfest, 12:30 and 2:30 p.m. Admission: $1.50 for non-members, $1 for members. Call museum at 649-5241 for titles.

• Sat., Dec. 29 — Vacation filmfest, 12:30 and 3 p.m. Admission: $1.50 for non-members, $1 for members. Call museum at 649-5241 for titles.

Simms, Giants pass Chiefs

By Dove Roffo UPI Sports Writer EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Even when they win against a team they're supposed to beat, the New York Giants do it the hard way. Phil Simms shook off three first-half interceptions to throw two touchdown passes in the final 7:30 Sunday to give the Kansas City Chiefs a 28-27 victory over the New York Giants for their first win in the NFC East.

The Chiefs fell to 5-4 with their fourth straight loss but it's the teams with losing records that have frustrated the Giants this year.

"This game might get us over the hump," Simms said. "This week everyone said we would win. We needed to win. Maybe we've gotten over the plateau and are starting to become a good team."

Simms had poor games the last two weeks, and his first-half interceptions helped the Chiefs to a 17-7 halftime lead. Kansas City's lead hit 27-14 after Carlos Carson's 34-yard TD grab from Bill Kenney with 9:18 left in the game.

Simms then went to work, marching the Giants 90 yards in five plays for a 22-yard scoring strike to Bobby Johnson. He capped an 89-yard drive on New York's next possession with a 5-yard TD pass to tight end Zeke Mowatt.

Mowatt caught five passes in the fourth quarter and finished with three catches for 128 yards. Simms finished 24-of-41 for 343 yards. Rob Carpenter's two 1-yard TD runs completed New York's scoring.

"This tells our team has character," Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor said of the comeback. "That's something this team didn't have in the past."

"We always play better when we're scared. In the first half, nobody was hyped up, it was quiet out there. When we came into the lockerroom we were scared the (playoff) opportunity was going to be taken away from us."

The Chiefs' final opportunity Sunday was taken away when Theotis Brown fumbled after catching a pass from Kenney and Giants cornerback Mark Hayes recovered on the Kansas City 47 with 1:55 to go. Chiefs receiver Anthony Hancock had the ball first but Hayes took it away.

Kenney's TD throw to Carson was his third scoring pass of the day. He hit Stephone Paige from 26 yards out in the second quarter and found Willie Scott for an 8-yard score with 14 seconds left in the half. Kansas City's Nick Lowery added field goals of 41 and 52 yards. Kenney, who completed 18-of-36 for 286 yards and an interception, was encouraged by his showing.

"Offensively we played just about the best we have played all year," he said. "Our defense was super in the first half but the two long drives beat us."

"We had played a lot of downs," Chiefs cornerback Albert Lewis said. "They were putting it up the whole second half. It's tough, we got tired."

Interceptions by Kevin Ross and Lewis helped the Chiefs score 10 points within the final minute of the first half. Ross' 41-yard interception return set up Lowery's 41-yard field goal to make it 10-7. Scott's TD catch came 23 seconds later, after Lewis returned an interception 26 yards to the New York 8.

Harvard ousts UConn

STORRS — Freshmen Nick Hotchkin's ricochet goal 49 seconds into the second overtime lifted visiting Harvard over the University of Connecticut, 1-0, for the New England title in an NCAA second round game.

The loss knocked UConn from the tournament and also broke a four-year New England title string. The Huskies, who end up 14-9, also had hopes spoiled for a fourth straight trip to Final Four.

Harvard, now 12-4, advances to the NCAA quarter-finals next week, kened with opponent, site and time to be announced.

A season-high crowd of 6,948 saw Huskies' scoring opportunities twice frustrated at the end of regulation. Ed J. Rafferty hit the inside of the left post with 3:05 remaining, and then Joe Trager's goal with 45 seconds left was disallowed on an offside call.

Hotchkin bounced a shot off UConn fullback Jeff Dumais and past goalie Andy Patisson for the winning tally.

Harvard held a 26-17 shot advantage. Fantomas made seven saves while counterpart Matt Ginsburg had six.

The Huskies' leading scorer Matt Addington suffered a hand injury in overtime but finished the game.

The triumph was the Crimson's second this year against UConn. In 1972, the Crimson had won its first regional crown since 1922. The Crimson has won 11 of its last 12 games.

It was a disappointing end to a frustrating year for UConn, which played one of the most ambitious schedules in the nation.

Francis line, which includes winners Pat Banelle and Dave Lamley. "They're getting chances, and remember, they're playing against all the best lines of the other teams," said Evans.

More controversy in overtime: Hotchkin's goal was ruled offside because he had stepped on the boards by a frustrated Tocher, who was then immediately punished by Hartford body guard Robertson. No referee's hand went up to signal the boarding penalty, which was then tacked on afterwards in addition to Tocher's fighting major.

Robertson's "I can't really involved out of vengeance" ("I can't let them do that to a guy like me") got that the referee was fighting but was also assessed another two minutes for roughing.

That's the thing about overtime: "Guys know they can get away with more." Because of the periods and overtimes, officials are often frustrated by the fact that they delete the penalty chapter.

Whaler notes The Whalers played the first 44 minutes — two periods and 12 of the third — without a penalty before Weir went off after a high stick "on-guard" with Smith. Rookie defenseman Mark Fusco and Sylvain Cole continued to improve. Chris Kotsopoulos was scratched for the second game with a bruised side. Sylvain Turgeon remained out of the lineup indefinitely. Coach Jack Evans "feels good" about the latest NHL minutes later as the Bruins broke open a close game.

"We came out flat tonight and it took awhile for us to get started," Canadiens coach Jacques Lemarie said. "You can't give Boston four or five goals and then begin to play because they're too good a team."

Middleton scored Boston's first goal on the power play, to offset Bob Gage's early score.

Tom Fergus and Keith Crowder added Boston's other goals — Crowder scoring his 10th in the NHL — while Ray Bourque and Louis Sleigher added three assists.

The goals just hadn't been coming from our line," said Kasper. "It's a funny game. Goals come in spurts."

The win snapped a three-game Boston losing streak, while Montreal's defensive specialist scored his first NHL career but trick and added an assist to power Boston to a light-filled 7-4 victory over the Canadiens on Jan. 1.

The score was tied 1-1 when Kasper, who had gone goalless in four assists in the first 29 games of the season, scored twice in a 1:53 span that resumed off Lindbergh's pads and then stuffed it around into the net.

Kasper, who assisted on Mike O'Connell's only goal at 8:59 of the second period, came back to complete his hat trick just over three minutes later as the Bruins broke open a close game.

"We came out flat tonight and it took awhile for us to get started," Canadiens coach Jacques Lemarie said. "You can't give Boston four or five goals and then begin to play because they're too good a team."

Middleton scored Boston's first goal on the power play, to offset Bob Gage's early score.

Tom Fergus and Keith Crowder added Boston's other goals — Crowder scoring his 10th in the NHL — while Ray Bourque and Louis Sleigher added three assists.

The goals just hadn't been coming from our line," said Kasper. "It's a funny game. Goals come in spurts."

The win snapped a three-game Boston losing streak, while Montreal's defensive specialist scored his first NHL career but trick and added an assist to power Boston to a light-filled 7-4 victory over the Canadiens on Jan. 1.

The score was tied 1-1 when Kasper, who had gone goalless in four assists in the first 29 games of the season, scored twice in a 1:53 span that resumed off Lindbergh's pads and then stuffed it around into the net.

Kasper, who assisted on Mike O'Connell's only goal at 8:59 of the second period, came back to complete his hat trick just over three minutes later as the Bruins broke open a close game.

New York Giants' quarterback Phil Simms (9) hugs teammate Lawrence Taylor following a three-yard touchdown pass to Zeke Mowatt with 2:22 minutes left in the game. The TD sealed the Giants' 28-27 victory.

There's no holiday ahead on Whalers' schedule

By Bob Papentl Herald Sports Writer HARTFORD — By their own admission, it was another disappointing outing for the Whalers Saturday night against the Philadelphia Flyers.

The Whalers saw a 4-2, third-period lead disappear and then had to stave off the Flyers' power plays in the final two minutes of regulation and overtime to emerge with a 4-4 deadlock and a single, imperative point.

"When you're up by a goal in the third period in your own building, you don't lose," said winger Dave Tippett of the Whalers, who instead tied under similar conditions for the second time this year.

Hartford blew a 4-2, third-period lead to Buffalo at the Civic Center on Nov. 3.

But tying the second-best team in the NHL is a lot easier to accept than the recent sick of purchases Whalers' losses. And gaining one point was even more critical, considering the agenda for the next four weeks, Hartford's weakest opponent in the next 11 divisions is the defending Norris Division champion Minnesota North Stars.

A spirited first-period effort was vociferously rewarded by a near-capacity crowd of 14,140. The Hartford fans, openly disgusted with past performances, roared their support from the moment lumbering Whaler defenseman Wally Weir made a diving slide to break up a Brian Propp breakout early on.

The die continued throughout the contest. And instead of turning on Whaler backguard Hutsi Siltanen, who inadvertently backhanded in the tying goal for the Flyers in the third period, patrons vented their anger on referee Terry Grogan, who made — and didn't make — some questionable calls in the hectic overtime.

One decision that Hartford could be thankful for was when the referee denied a bid for a hat trick by either Whaler goalie Greg Millen, the refs, or the light-man behind the nets. Tocher ticked a rebound between Millen and the right post, but the sly keeper appeared to pull the puck back out before it had crossed the goal line.

CURRENTLY, THE MOOD in Hartford is upbeat, especially after the fall from the rise to the top.

The Whalers broke out of an alarming offensive slump with a 9-3 win over the Pittsburgh Penguins Thanksgiving night. The stalemate against Philadelphia was frustrating, but there were encouraging signs.

Canadiens' goalie Steve Penney (left) makes the save (puck in lower left) in second-period action at the Boston Garden. Bruins' Keith Crowder moves in for the rebound.

NHL roundup Bruins flatten Canadiens

By Mike Tully UPI Sports Writer Steve Kasper usually scores about as many goals as the guy he's assigned to check — which isn't very many at all.

But Sunday Kasper enjoyed a rare night in the fast lane, joining those glamorous goal-scoring The Bruins' defensive specialist scored his first NHL career but trick and added an assist to power Boston to a light-filled 7-4 victory over the Canadiens on Jan. 1.

The goals just hadn't been coming from our line," said Kasper. "It's a funny game. Goals come in spurts."

The win snapped a three-game Boston losing streak, while Montreal's defensive specialist scored his first NHL career but trick and added an assist to power Boston to a light-filled 7-4 victory over the Canadiens on Jan. 1.

The score was tied 1-1 when Kasper, who had gone goalless in four assists in the first 29 games of the season, scored twice in a 1:53 span that resumed off Lindbergh's pads and then stuffed it around into the net.

Kasper, who assisted on Mike O'Connell's only goal at 8:59 of the second period, came back to complete his hat trick just over three minutes later as the Bruins broke open a close game.

"We came out flat tonight and it took awhile for us to get started," Canadiens coach Jacques Lemarie said. "You can't give Boston four or five goals and then begin to play because they're too good a team."

Middleton scored Boston's first goal on the power play, to offset Bob Gage's early score.

Tom Fergus and Keith Crowder added Boston's other goals — Crowder scoring his 10th in the NHL — while Ray Bourque and Louis Sleigher added three assists.

The goals just hadn't been coming from our line," said Kasper. "It's a funny game. Goals come in spurts."

26 NOV 26 1984

WOODSIDE COMPANY BUYING GOLD SILVER WE PAY INSTANTLY ON THE SPOT. ALWAYS BUYING/SELLING COINS & VALUABLES. 10% BONUS FOR CLASS BIDS. 649-7373

ROBERT J. SMITH, inc. INSURANCE SINCE 1914. 649-5241. 65 E. Center Street, Manchester, Ct.

Scoreboard

Football

NFL Standings

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA
American Conference
Atlanta	10	5	0	.667	283	218
Baltimore	9	6	1	.594	287	258
Buffalo	9	7	0	.563	277	242
Cincinnati	8	8	0	.500	260	280
Cleveland	7	9	0	.438	248	284
Houston	7	10	0	.406	241	281
Indianapolis	6	10	0	.375	237	282
Kansas City	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Los Angeles	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Minnesota	6	10	0	.375	222	283
New England	6	10	0	.375	222	283
New York Jets	6	10	0	.375	222	283
New York Giants	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Pittsburgh	6	10	0	.375	222	283
San Diego	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Seattle	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Tampa Bay	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Washington	6	10	0	.375	222	283
West Virginia	6	10	0	.375	222	283
Denver	5	11	0	.313	219	298
San Francisco	5	11	0	.313	219	298
San Jose	5	11	0	.313	219	298
St. Louis	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Philadelphia	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Chicago	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Green Bay	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Indianapolis	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Los Angeles	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Minnesota	5	11	0	.313	219	298
New England	5	11	0	.313	219	298
New York Jets	5	11	0	.313	219	298
New York Giants	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Pittsburgh	5	11	0	.313	219	298
San Diego	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Seattle	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Tampa Bay	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Washington	5	11	0	.313	219	298
West Virginia	5	11	0	.313	219	298
Denver	4	12	0	.250	216	307
San Francisco	4	12	0	.250	216	307
San Jose	4	12	0	.250	216	307
St. Louis	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Philadelphia	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Chicago	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Green Bay	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Indianapolis	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Los Angeles	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Minnesota	4	12	0	.250	216	307
New England	4	12	0	.250	216	307
New York Jets	4	12	0	.250	216	307
New York Giants	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Pittsburgh	4	12	0	.250	216	307
San Diego	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Seattle	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Tampa Bay	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Washington	4	12	0	.250	216	307
West Virginia	4	12	0	.250	216	307
Denver	3	13	0	.192	213	316
San Francisco	3	13	0	.192	213	316
San Jose	3	13	0	.192	213	316
St. Louis	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Philadelphia	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Chicago	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Green Bay	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Indianapolis	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Los Angeles	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Minnesota	3	13	0	.192	213	316
New England	3	13	0	.192	213	316
New York Jets	3	13	0	.192	213	316
New York Giants	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Pittsburgh	3	13	0	.192	213	316
San Diego	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Seattle	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Tampa Bay	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Washington	3	13	0	.192	213	316
West Virginia	3	13	0	.192	213	316
Denver	2	14	0	.143	210	325
San Francisco	2	14	0	.143	210	325
San Jose	2	14	0	.143	210	325
St. Louis	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Philadelphia	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Chicago	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Green Bay	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Indianapolis	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Los Angeles	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Minnesota	2	14	0	.143	210	325
New England	2	14	0	.143	210	325
New York Jets	2	14	0	.143	210	325
New York Giants	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Pittsburgh	2	14	0	.143	210	325
San Diego	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Seattle	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Tampa Bay	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Washington	2	14	0	.143	210	325
West Virginia	2	14	0	.143	210	325
Denver	1	15	0	.063	207	334
San Francisco	1	15	0	.063	207	334
San Jose	1	15	0	.063	207	334
St. Louis	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Philadelphia	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Chicago	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Green Bay	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Indianapolis	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Los Angeles	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Minnesota	1	15	0	.063	207	334
New England	1	15	0	.063	207	334
New York Jets	1	15	0	.063	207	334
New York Giants	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Pittsburgh	1	15	0	.063	207	334
San Diego	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Seattle	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Tampa Bay	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Washington	1	15	0	.063	207	334
West Virginia	1	15	0	.063	207	334
Denver	0	16	0	.000	204	343
San Francisco	0	16	0	.000	204	343
San Jose	0	16	0	.000	204	343
St. Louis	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Philadelphia	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Chicago	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Green Bay	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Indianapolis	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Los Angeles	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Minnesota	0	16	0	.000	204	343
New England	0	16	0	.000	204	343
New York Jets	0	16	0	.000	204	343
New York Giants	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Pittsburgh	0	16	0	.000	204	343
San Diego	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Seattle	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Tampa Bay	0	16	0	.000	204	343
Washington	0	16	0	.000	204	343
West Virginia	0	16	0	.000	204	343

NFL Standings (Continued)

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA
Denver	11	2	0	.846	293	198
San Francisco	11	2	0	.846	293	198
San Jose	11	2	0	.846	293	198
St. Louis	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Philadelphia	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Chicago	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Green Bay	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Indianapolis	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Los Angeles	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Minnesota	11	2	0	.846	293	198
New England	11	2	0	.846	293	198
New York Jets	11	2	0	.846	293	198
New York Giants	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Pittsburgh	11	2	0	.846	293	198
San Diego	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Seattle	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Tampa Bay	11	2	0	.846	293	198
Washington	11	2	0	.846	293	198
West Virginia	11	2	0	.846	293	198

NFL Standings (Continued)

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA
Denver	10	3	0	.769	286	207
San Francisco	10	3	0	.769	286	207
San Jose	10	3	0	.769	286	207
St. Louis	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Philadelphia	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Chicago	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Green Bay	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Indianapolis	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Los Angeles	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Minnesota	10	3	0	.769	286	207
New England	10	3	0	.769	286	207
New York Jets	10	3	0	.769	286	207
New York Giants	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Pittsburgh	10	3	0	.769	286	207
San Diego	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Seattle	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Tampa Bay	10	3	0	.769	286	207
Washington	10	3	0	.769	286	207
West Virginia	10	3	0	.769	286	207

NFL Standings (Continued)

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA
Denver	9	4	0	.692	279	214
San Francisco	9	4	0	.692	279	214
San Jose	9	4	0	.692	279	214
St. Louis	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Philadelphia	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Chicago	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Green Bay	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Indianapolis	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Los Angeles	9	4	0	.692	279	214
Minnesota	9	4	0	.692	279	214
New England	9	4	0	.692	279	214
New York Jets	9	4	0

Sports In Brief

Freshman leads UNH to win

TAMPA, Fla. — Freshman Keith McCormack scored in the first half Sunday night to lead the University of New Haven over the University of Tampa 1-0 in the NCAA Division II Soccer Championship.

McCormack beat sweeper Hans Olofsson and then blasted a 12-yarder past goalie Kurt Devlin at 18:29. It was his 12th goal this year. The shutout was goalie Robert Palmer's seventh of the season.

The seventh-ranked Chargers raised their record to 16-3-1 and the top-ranked Spartans fell to 16-6-0.

Jaworski breaks his ankle

ST. LOUIS — Philadelphia quarterback Ron Jaworski fractured his left ankle on the third play of the Eagles game against the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday and will miss the remainder of the season.

The game marked Jaworski's 116th consecutive start — tops among the league's quarterbacks.

Jaworski was sacked for a loss of 4 yards by Curtis Greer and David Galloway with one of the Cardinals landing on his ankle. Jaworski was carried from the field and Joe Pisarcik took over for the Eagles as quarterback.

Benoit withdraws from trot

ROSEMONT, Ill. — Olympian Joan Benoit, complaining of exhaustion and a cold, withdrew unexpectedly Sunday from the 8th annual Rosemont Turkey Trot, a 10-kilometer road race she won two years ago in a women's world record time.

Benoit, one of the U.S. heroines of the 1984 Summer Olympics, had been expected to highlight the field of 1,800 runners in the 6.2-mile event she ran in a record 31:45 in 1982.

Sweden's Middle Hamrin, who placed fifth in the women's Olympic marathon, won the race easily in 32:37. Canada's Silvia Ruediger finished second in 33:48 and local favorite Marianne Dickerson of Chicago finished third in 33:58.

Marathon winner confident

PHILADELPHIA — The winner of the Philadelphia Independence Marathon says he felt certain he could win if he followed his pre-race strategy.

But Derick Ringo Adamson, 24, a member of the Jamaican Olympic team who crossed the finish line Sunday at Independence Hall in 2:16:39, said he also kept an eye on Jeff Mearns, the second-place finisher.

Adamson, who outraced more than 4,000 other runners on the 26-mile, 385-yard course, took the lead about 14 miles into the race at the top of Chestnut Hill and stayed in front until the end.

Mearns, 25, of Morristown, N.J., finished in 2:17:29, bettering by 22 seconds his fifth-place time in the 1983 marathon.

Barbara Flutze, 38, of Erie, Pa., finished first among women in 2:42:30.

'The Rock' is in the black

SALEM, N.H. — Rockingham Park racetrack ended its first season Sunday since a fire destroyed the clubhouse in 1980 with figures showing the new owners have broken even in the black.

The track officials said.

"The Rock" completed its 141-day, 1984 meet with an average daily handle of $25,000, according to Edward Callahan, general manager.

Partners in Rockingham Venture, the new owner of the 48-year-old track, said it needed to bring in $500,000 a day to break even. The racetrack had an average daily attendance of 5,000.

Sale blamed on community

PITTSBURGH — Two men closely associated with John and Dan Galbreath say the Pittsburgh Pirates' owners decided to sell the team because they could not win acceptance within the community. The Pittsburgh Press reported Sunday.

Pirates Vice President Harding Peterson and former long-time general manager Joe L. Brown told the Press financial losses played a role in the Galbreaths' decision but not acceptance by the media and public was the prime motivation.

"These people are very competitive," Peterson said. "They want to win, not only in baseball and in horse racing, but in their business."

They have this tremendous desire to succeed, and I think they have the feeling that they did not succeed here. "On the field, yes, they won, but they could not win over the average fan in Pittsburgh," Peterson said. "They could not get him to say they were good people and understand what they have done."

Martinez leads the Metros

ARMENIO Martinez of the San Diego Padres hit his fifth homer in a winter baseball season, leading the Metros to a 3-2 victory over the Criollos de Caguas in the first game of a Sunday double-header at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The Metros completed the sweep with a 1-0 decision. Atlanta's Brad Kominsky drove in the run with a fourth-inning sacrifice fly.

At Arecibo, Puerto Rico, Omsi Concepcion of Kansas City hit his first home run of the season, leading the Arecibo Blues to a 9-2 victory over the Leones de Ponce in the first game of their twinbill.

In the nightcap, Ron Merridith of the Chicago Cubs organization evened his record at 1-1 with a two-hit, 6-0 victory.

Soviets dominate meet

NAGOYA, Japan — The Soviet Union, which boycotted the Los Angeles Olympics, dominated an international gymnastics meet Sunday, capturing five of 10 men's and women's events.

China's Li Ning, winner of three gold medals at the Los Angeles Olympic Games, won two events while East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Japan captured one each.

Yuri Balabanov of the Soviet Union finished ahead of Li to capture the ring, with 19.80 points and compatriot Stepan Marinkov took the horizontal bar with 19.75 points.

Sylvio Kroll of East Germany won the long horse with 19.825 points.

Porsche pair wins race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — The team of Al Holbert of Warrenton, Pa., and England's Derek Bell came back from an early deficit to sweep through the field Sunday and win the Three Hours of Daytona sports car race.

Driving a sleek Porsche 962 prototype, the pair averaged 107.34 mph in winning by 38 seconds over Jaguar driven by the team of Brian Redman and Hurley Haywood, both of Jacksonville.

Hartwick upsets Columbia

NEW YORK — Paul Cushman, a sophomore forward from Liverpool, England, scored 25-29 into the first half Sunday to lead 10th-ranked Hartwick to a 1-0 upset of sixth-ranked Columbia in the New York Regional final of the NCAA Soccer Tournament.

Cushman's goal, his 16th of the year, came off a pass from sophomore David Magistrale, who had beaten Columbia defender Steve Udry on a rush up the middle.

Columbia, which lost last year's NCAA final to Indiana 1-0 in double overtime, put on sustained pressure in the second half but Hartwick goalkeeper Mike Harrison held on for his eighth shutout of the year.

Hartwick improved to 15-4-1 while Columbia fell to 12-2-2.

Nicklaus takes 'Skins Game'

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — For Jack Nicklaus, his $240,000 bid to take the 18th hole to win the Skins Game golf tournament was a great comeback — both on and off the course.

Nicklaus sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th to win the event at the Desert Highlands Golf Course after his three competitors — Tom Watson, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer — each came up just short on their birdie putts.

"I feel like I'm just lucky to be here and to make the last putt," Nicklaus said, referring to a thiroscopic surgery performed on his knee just 19 days earlier.

Nicklaus had the surgery performed Nov. 6, and did not return to the golf course until one week before the tournament. He also was forced to alter his swing and could not crouch to line up his putts.

"I was conscious of the knee. I was conscious of the swing. I had to make it to be able to be effective with the knee," he said. "As I went on, I hit it a little harder the last few holes."

However, he said the surgery was planned in order to participate in the Skins Game.

"That's what my goal was when I went ahead and had the operation," he said. "I played out here two days before I had the operation, and that's when I decided to have it. I played here and my knee was so bad I couldn't go up and down the hills."

On the course, it marked a recovery from an auspicious beginning, in which he did not figure in Saturday's opening round and didn't find his swing until the middle of Sunday's competition.

On Saturday's ninth and final hole, Nicklaus missed an 8-foot birdie putt that gave Watson $10,000. After the hole was completed, Nicklaus tried five more putts from the same spot — and missed them all.

But Nicklaus found his groove on Sunday, sinking putts on the 16th and 17th holes to force Watson to carry the money over to the 18th hole. Nicklaus hit a 10-foot putt on the 18th hole to win the $240,000 and sank a 7-footer on 17 to tie Watson.

"I took a lesson from Watson... carried over to the next hole."

Jack Nicklaus blasts a shot out of the sand trap on the 12th hole of the Desert Highlands golf course in Scottsdale.

Nicklaus birdied the 18th hole to win $240,000 in "the Skins Game."

aim it and knock it in it," Nicklaus said, referring to the fact that Watson had won all $120,000 offered on the first day with his accurate putting.

Watson, who suffered a bad break when his chip shot from five yards out hit a downhill slope and rolled past the hole, missed his 24-foot birdie putt by two inches to the left. Player then reated his ball on the rim of the cup from 17 feet out, and Palmer missed two inches to catch a 15-yard pass for a first down.

NBA roundup

Cavs beat Hawks for second win

By Joel Sherman
UPI Sports Writer

Atlanta eliminated a big Cleveland lead with a strong fourth-quarter run, but the Hawks still can't erase the Cavaliers' spell.

Trailing 100-84 with 10:15 remaining in the game, Atlanta ran off 17 straight points. However, Johnny Davis, who led eight Cavaliers in double figures with 20 points, scored 7 in a 12-3 spurt and Cleveland went to win only its second game of the season against 12 losses. Both victories have come as a 102-99 decision in Atlanta on Nov. 15. The victories are especially pleasing to Davis, whom the Hawks traded to the Cavaliers in the off-season.

"Since I played for the Hawks last year, I was familiar with their system," Davis said. "I told coach (George) Karl and the guys how Atlanta would react with a strong defensive trap — and we managed to adjust."

Jordan is doing more than is expected of most rookies. He's doing more than is expected of most veterans. Jordan is fifth in the NBA in scoring with an average of 27.4 points per game and second in steals with an average of 2.86 a game.

The Bulls won just 27 games last season. Jordan said they're competitive but their need was for a dominating center. Portland coach Jack Ramsay does not look back on the draft with regret, but he concedes that Jordan makes a big difference for Olympian and the No. 2 selection in the June draft, is loving every minute of the NBA.

"I'm enjoying it," he said. "I enjoy the travel part and the media attention hasn't bothered me."

Portland had a chance to draft Jordan, but the Blazers instead opted for 7-1 Sam Bowie because their need was for a dominating center. Portland coach Jack Ramsay does not look back on the draft with regret, but he concedes that Jordan makes a big difference for

Clippers 114, Suns 109

At Los Angeles, Marques Johnson scored 19 points, including the Clippers' final 12, as Los Angeles broke a three-game losing streak. The Suns, playing without Larry Nance and Walter Davis, won their fifth straight. Norm Nixon and Derek Smith led the Clippers with 23 points apiece.

Sonics 105, Lakers 94

At Inglewood, Calif., Ricky Sobers scored 23 points and Tom Chambers added 19 to help the SuperSonics snap the Lakers' seven-game winning streak. The victory was the first in six road games for Seattle and also snapped a three-game losing streak.

Jordan pumps life back into Bulls

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The Chicago Bulls should call their 1984-85 highlight film "Here Comes Mr. Jordan II."

In the original movie, Mr. Jordan died before his time so he is given a new body to return to life and do good things. In the "sequel," Michael Jordan has been doing great things and putting life back into the Bulls.

Jordan is doing more than is expected of most rookies. He's doing more than is expected of most veterans. Jordan is fifth in the NBA in scoring with an average of 27.4 points per game and second in steals with an average of 2.86 a game.

The Bulls won just 27 games last season. Jordan said they're competitive but their need was for a dominating center. Portland coach Jack Ramsay does not look back on the draft with regret, but he concedes that Jordan makes a big difference for

Portland had a chance to draft Jordan, but the Blazers instead opted for 7-1 Sam Bowie because their need was for a dominating center. Portland coach Jack Ramsay does not look back on the draft with regret, but he concedes that Jordan makes a big difference for

Medford, Mass. (UPI) — A black basketball coach, who was fired without reason, says he will pursue his racial discrimination suit to court and before an administrative complaint against the Medford School Committee, even though his white replacement has quit.

John O'Brien, hired Nov. 5 to take over for Angel Torres, resigned Saturday, saying he did not believe "in using children and students as pawns in a struggle for a coaching position," said O'Brien. "Being a life-long resident of the city, I care for its name and reputation more than those who would seize upon an ill-conceived opportunity to drag the city and School Committee into court and before an administrative agency to answer so-called charges of discrimination," he told a news conference in Medford City Hall.

Torres, 38, a physical education teacher at Medford High School, said that despite O'Brien's announcement, he will pursue his complaint before the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, which is scheduled to resume hearings in the case Thursday.

"I won't proceed my viewpoint as to how I changed. I still think I should be given a reason as to why I wasn't reappointed. Let them make a judgment as to whether some type of discrimination was going on," said Torres, who led the Medford High team to the eastern Bowls. But he Longhorns, as they had done four previous times

Cal-State Long Beach 49er Troy Ory (right) reaches out through driving rain to catch a 15-yard pass for a first down as San Diego State Aztec Tory Nixon closes in from behind during the first half Saturday in San Diego.

College Football Roundup

With BYU taking holiday, Orange Bowl is the game

By Ian Love
UPI Sports Writer

Since No. 1 Brigham Young is taking what appears to be a holiday in post-season play, the Orange Bowl contest between No. 3 Oklahoma and No. 5 Washington may be the game's pinning the interest of college football fans.

The Sooners became the Big 8 representative to play in Miami on New Year's Day with a 24-4 victory Saturday over No. 2 Oklahoma State.

Oklahoma finished the season at 9-1 overall and 6-1 in the conference.

Coach Barry Switzer feels the winner of the Orange Bowl game ought to be named the national champion.

"We would like this to be for No. 1," Switzer said. "Washington was No. 1 longer than any other team (this season) and we have played the best." Switzer said earlier that it would honor its commitment despite criticisms from a more prestigious bowl.

BYU, a 38-13 winner over Utah State to end the season at 12-0, will face Michigan in the Holiday Bowl Dec. 22 in San Diego. The Wolverines finished the season at 7-5.

Brigham Young, as the Western Athletic Conference champion, was committed to the Holiday Bowl before the season started.

The school said earlier that it would honor its commitment despite criticisms from a more prestigious bowl.

BYU won its 23rd consecutive game, the longest streak in the nation, and became only the third team ever to win 12 games in a season.

Coach Lavell Edwards feels his club should not be denied the national championship if it beats Michigan.

"I would think we would win with it," Edwards said. "If we beat Michigan, we would be 13-0. There's nobody in the country most likely to face Boston College. "We must remain calm," said Houston coach Bill Yeoman, who was somewhat overwhelmed by the fact that his team had come from nowhere to be the front runner for the Dallas trip. "We have one more game to play before we can get excited."

There are two conference games remaining in the SWC — Houston vs. hosting Rice and Texas at home against Texas A&M next Saturday.

West Virginia will meet TCU in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston on Dec. 31 and No. 12 Miami will meet UCLA in the Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz., on Jan. 1.

In key games from Saturday, South Carolina nipped Clemson 22-21, Notre Dame upset Southern Cal 19-7, LSU trounced Tulane 35-15 and Maryland outgained Virginia 45-34.

Southwest teams avoid BC

By Mike Rubin
UPI Sports Writer

On the surface it appears teams in the Southwest Conference are trying their best to avoid playing the Boston College Eagles. And who could blame them?

Boston College and quarterback Doug Flutie, whose winning touchdown pass in last Friday's win over SMU, saw a late rally fizzle in a 38-21 loss to Texas A&M.

"We weren't ready to play," said Flutie after James' loss. "We were just out there messing around."

While A&M was pulling off its upset, Houston rallied twice to survive against Texas Tech, 24-17.

Over the course of a long afternoon and evening in the SWC jail, Saturday, the momentum in four separate games swung back and forth while first one team and then another had its Cotton Bowl hopes raised and dashed.

First there was fourth-ranked Texas, which with a win over Baylor in the day's early game would have been the overwhelming favorite to make it to the Cotton Bowl. But the Longhorns, as they had done four previous times

College Basketball Roundup

Great Shootout profitable for Alabama-Birmingham

By Fred Lief
UPI Sports Writer

The Alaska pipeline has nothing to do with oil as far as Alabama-Birmingham is concerned. Basketball, for the moment, is providing sufficient energy.

The Great Alaska Shootout in Anchorage was one profitable enterprise for UAB this weekend. Saturday night the Blazers upset No. 2 Illinois 59-52 and Sunday night they won the tournament with a 58-46 victory over No. 9 Kansas. In the opening round they beat Tennessee 70-65.

Steve Mitchell's 3-point play with 28 seconds left was the difference in the title game. With UAB down 46-45, the junior guard drove the lane, double-pumped and leaned in for a bank shot.

"I may not have looked like a good shot but it felt good," said Mitchell, who finished with 18 points and was the tournament's outstanding player. "I put it up real high and soft off the glass. I thought it had a good chance of going in."

Jerome Minney, who had 15 points, and Anthony Gordon added a free throw in the closing seconds. For Kansas, freshman Danny Manning had 14 points and 11 rebounds and Ron Kelloug 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Illinois found more rough going in the north country Sunday, edging Oregon 75-72 in triple overtime for third place. Doug Altenberger scored 31 points and Tom Schafer made three foul shots in the last overtime. Oregon led by 6 points during the second overtime.

"We talked about him before the game," Oregon coach Don Monson said of Altenberger. "We had his name up on the blackboard circled. We tried to make sure we knew where he was."

In other consolation games, Maryland defeated Tennessee 72-49 behind Len Bias' 29 points for fifth place and Idaho State downed Alaska-Anchorage 73-72 in overtime for seventh place.

The great thing about a game like this is to tell our players what's out there," Knight said. "Now they know. There are a lot of teams out there who can play and fight now, we're not one of them."

At Raleigh, N.C., Lorenzo Charles scored 18 points and Ernie Myers 16 to carry N.C. State to a laugh. Andrew McGee led Campbell with 17 points.

We were nervous, scared to death," Campbell coach Jerry Smith said. "It's like football, you need to get that first blow. We just took too long to get that blow."

At Fayetteville, Ark., Joe Kleine tossed in 23 points and Southern Louisiana went almost 10 minutes without a field goal in an unimpressive victory for the Hogs. Willie Samuel scored 17 points for Southeastern.

"Maybe we will be a good team in six or eight weeks," Arkansas coach Eddie Sutton coach. "But we aren't right now."

At Atlanta, Mark Price scored 15 of his 19 points in the first half to pace Georgia Tech. John Salley added 21 points and 9 rebounds for Tech while Ben Hinson of Baptist had 20.

Coach Pat Jones, named Big Eight Coach of the Year earlier in the week, said he accepted the Gator Bowl bid "on behalf of a very, very proud squad and a very, very proud state."

Other bowl matchups will feature No. 6 Ohio State facing No. 12 Southern California in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., on Jan. 1; Toledo going against Nevada-Las Vegas in the California Bowl at Florence, Calif., on Dec. 15; and Virginia Tech meeting Air Force in the Independence Bowl at Shreveport, La., on Dec. 15.

Also, Georgia will meet No. 15 Florida State in the Citrus Bowl at Orlando, Fla., on Dec. 22; Tennessee will face No. 19 Maryland in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas, on Dec. 22; Kentucky will meet No. 20 Wisconsin in the Hall of Fame Bowl at Birmingham, Ala., on Dec. 22; West Virginia will meet TCU in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston on Dec. 31 and No. 12 Miami will meet UCLA in the Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz., on Jan. 1.

In key games from Saturday, South Carolina nipped Clemson 22-21, Notre Dame upset Southern Cal 19-7, LSU trounced Tulane 35-15 and Maryland outgained Virginia 45-34.

THE ECONOMIZER™ MUFFLER

The Economizer muffler from Midas fits most American-made cars and trucks. Your satisfaction with this product is assured.

MUFFLERS $129.95 Regular $29.95

BRAKES $59.95 Per axle (most cars) Regular $74.90

THE ECONOMIZER™ MUFFLER

DISC BRAKES DRUM BRAKES (front or rear axle)

- Free 4 wheel brake inspection
- Replace pads with new guaranteed disc pads
- Resurface rotors
- Reshape brake shoes
- Inspect and repair wheel bearings
- Inspect engine
- Inspect hydraulic system
- Lubricate caliper or piston
- Inspect fluid levels
- A-33 fluid if required
- Quality test
- Metallic parts extra

Guarantee: The Economizer Muffler is warranted by Midas for one year from the date of installation and will be replaced free of charge if it fails during this period.

Offer expires: 12/10

Bloomfield	243-9430	Manchester	646-6606	Southington	621-9333
Bradford	481-2388	Middletown	347-9100	Torrington	482-7647
Canterbury	882-7900	New Britain	220-9137	Wallingford	265-0953
E. Hartford	289-9315	New Haven	865-6111	Waterbury	757-0339
Enfield	745-0305	New London	447-1711	W. Hartford	522-0171
Hartford	283-1111	Rocky Hill	889-8453	West Haven	938-2626
Hamden	248-6327	Rocky Hill	563-1507	Willimantic	456-1766
N. Hartford	246-4828	S. Hartford		S. Hartford	246-5127

FREE WRITTEN ESTIMATES

2
6
NOW
2
6

LOOK FOR THE STARS...

Look for the CLASSIFIED ADS with STARS; stars help you get better results. Put a star on your ad and see what a difference it makes. Telephone 643-2711, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

21 HELP WANTED

THEATRE WORKERS — Do you like working with the public? Do you enjoy seeing movies? These are some of the advantages a Showcase employee has. We are looking for part time help as usher, concessionists and cleaners. Please apply in person: Showcase Cinemas in East Hartford between 12 and 2pm and 6 and 10pm daily. Must be 18 or older.

25 INSTRUCTION

CERTIFIED MATH INSTRUCTOR — Tutors all grades, SAT preparation in Math and English, computer in basic language. Call 649-5453.

21 HELP WANTED

CHEF — Full time position opening in presently expanding restaurant in Vernon. Supervisory experience preferred. Excellent pay and benefits. Call 649-1572 and ask for Gil or Jay.

EARN EXTRA $$$ FOR CHRISTMAS Sell Avon part time. Call 523-9401 or 278-2941

CAN YOU TYPE 50 WPM? Do you have previous secretarial experience? Are you willing to exchange your time for learning modern word processing techniques? If you answered YES to the above questions, LYDALL is interested in talking to you. We are developing a temporary workforce and are willing to train you on an IBM Displaywriter to be part of that group. Please apply in person, please call 646-1233 between 8:30 am and 5:00 pm.

PERSONAL MANAGER Lydall, Inc. One Colonial Road, Manchester, CT 06040

NEWSPAPER CARRIERS NEEDED

In Manchester Area
Main St. 1-104 Trumbull St.
Pine Hill St. Lilac St.
Woodland St. Center St.
Joseph St. Strong St.
Marble St. Hilliard St.
Griskwood St. N. Main St.
Stok St. McCabe St.

MANAGERS ASSISTANT MANAGERS TRAINEES

Five good reasons to join Rite Aid's retail management team.
1. PRESTIGE: We are one of the nation's largest and fastest growing retail drug chains, so you will enjoy all the benefits of working for a leader.
2. TRAINING: Our in-ward and upward development program trains you step by step in all aspects of retail management.
3. SECURITY: You will have immediate security at Rite Aid, with a fully comprehensive benefits package, as well as a good salary.
4. RECOGNITION: We value our hard working, conscientious managers and give recognition where it is due.
5. STEADY GROWTH: There is no guess work about where you are going at Rite Aid. You will have a clearly defined career path with annual reviews.
If you have your sights set on a career in retail management it is your white to look into the Rite Aid team.

Please call or apply in person on Tuesday, Nov. 27th, from 9am to 5pm, or send a resume:
RITE AID PHARMACY
Director of Personnel
271 Ellington Rd.
East Hartford, CT 06108
203-247-1735

25 INSTRUCTION

NURSES AIDES Crestfield Convalescent Home/Ferwood Manor is now accepting applications for our Nurses Aide Certification Class for full and part time positions on the 7 am-3 pm shift. Recent pay raise. Excellent benefit package, including meals. Please call Director of Staff Development, Mon-Fri, between 8 am and 3 pm at 643-5151.

25 INSTRUCTION

MANAGER TRAINEES ASSISTANT MANAGERS Career opportunities available in a growing company. Salary commensurate with experience. Interviews are Wednesday, November 29th from 10 am - 7 pm at the following Brook's location:
714 N. Main St. W. Hartford 238-2319
1042 Main St. E. Hartford 289-9385
Forward resume to: D Woodcock, 1033 Bloomfield Ave. Colton, N.J. 07012

25 INSTRUCTION

COOK/CHEF — Full time position opening in presently expanding restaurant in Vernon. Supervisory experience preferred. Excellent pay and benefits. Call 649-1572 and ask for Gil or Jay.

EARN EXTRA $$$ FOR CHRISTMAS Sell Avon part time. Call 523-9401 or 278-2941

CAN YOU TYPE 50 WPM? Do you have previous secretarial experience? Are you willing to exchange your time for learning modern word processing techniques? If you answered YES to the above questions, LYDALL is interested in talking to you. We are developing a temporary workforce and are willing to train you on an IBM Displaywriter to be part of that group. Please apply in person, please call 646-1233 between 8:30 am and 5:00 pm.

PERSONAL MANAGER Lydall, Inc. One Colonial Road, Manchester, CT 06040

NEWSPAPER CARRIERS NEEDED

In Manchester Area
Main St. 1-104 Trumbull St.
Pine Hill St. Lilac St.
Woodland St. Center St.
Joseph St. Strong St.
Marble St. Hilliard St.
Griskwood St. N. Main St.
Stok St. McCabe St.

MANAGERS ASSISTANT MANAGERS TRAINEES

Five good reasons to join Rite Aid's retail management team.
1. PRESTIGE: We are one of the nation's largest and fastest growing retail drug chains, so you will enjoy all the benefits of working for a leader.
2. TRAINING: Our in-ward and upward development program trains you step by step in all aspects of retail management.
3. SECURITY: You will have immediate security at Rite Aid, with a fully comprehensive benefits package, as well as a good salary.
4. RECOGNITION: We value our hard working, conscientious managers and give recognition where it is due.
5. STEADY GROWTH: There is no guess work about where you are going at Rite Aid. You will have a clearly defined career path with annual reviews.
If you have your sights set on a career in retail management it is your white to look into the Rite Aid team.

Please call or apply in person on Tuesday, Nov. 27th, from 9am to 5pm, or send a resume:
RITE AID PHARMACY
Director of Personnel
271 Ellington Rd.
East Hartford, CT 06108
203-247-1735

Real Estate

33 LOTS/LAND FOR SALE
SACRE RANCH, $8,995. 5-acre, 195 down payment, $99 per month. Resorts, boat marina, close. Lake Ozark, Missouri. Big trees. Call collect 1-314-392-3742.

37 REAL ESTATE WANTED

THINKING OF SELLING? Need a quick sale? We pay cash for your house. Crockett Realty, 643-1577.

Rentals

41 ROOMS FOR RENT
LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOM. On first floor, utilities included. Mature woman. Call 649-0307.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT

MANCHESTER — Available immediately. One, two and three bedroom apartments. $400, $455, $520, heat and hot water included. J.D. Real Estate, 646-1980.

3 1/2 ROOM APARTMENT — Private home, heat, appliances, working single adult only. No pets, children. 643-2880.

MANCHESTER — North End 1 bedroom apartment in quiet residential area. Near bus line. Utilities not included. $395 monthly. Call 646-3158 between 8am and 4:30pm.

FOUR ROOM APARTMENT — Well-to-wall carpeting, private basement, etc. optional. Available immediately. $450 plus utilities. Call 568-4904.

MANCHESTER — Three bedroom, 1 1/2 bath duplex. New well-to-wall, appliances, fenced yard, security. $625 plus utilities. No pets. Call 643-7780.

43 HOMES FOR RENT
TOWNHOUSE — In Northwood, 2 bedroom, appliances, air, carpet, quiet neighborhood. Call evenings, 651-3817.

44 STORE AND OFFICE SPACE
MANCHESTER — 2 office suite, bathroom, $250 monthly including heat. Hoves Corp., 646-4131.

"EASY DOES IT" — The way to describe placing a want ad. Just call 643-2711 and we do it for you!

MANCHESTER — One bedroom, second floor, appliances, carpeting. Convenient to shopping, recreation and bus line. $390 per month. Utilities not included. Peterman Agency, 649-9404 or 647-1340.

37 REAL ESTATE WANTED
THINKING OF SELLING? Need a quick sale? We pay cash for your house. Crockett Realty, 643-1577.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT
EAST HARTFORD — Immaculate 2nd floor, modernized 2 family. Five rooms, 2 bedrooms, 1 car garage. 922 sq. ft. Call collect 1-314-392-3742.
FOUR ROOMS — $400 a month. Security deposit required. Heat, stove and refrigerator included. No pets. Call 643-9844 between 8am and 4pm.
THREE ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT — Available immediately. Responsible tenants preferred. Call 643-6441 for information.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT

EAST HARTFORD — Immaculate 2nd floor, modernized 2 family. Five rooms, 2 bedrooms, 1 car garage. 922 sq. ft. Call collect 1-314-392-3742.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT

FOUR ROOMS — $400 a month. Security deposit required. Heat, stove and refrigerator included. No pets. Call 643-9844 between 8am and 4pm.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT

MANCHESTER — Available immediately. One, two and three bedroom apartments. $400, $455, $520, heat and hot water included. J.D. Real Estate, 646-1980.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT

MANCHESTER — Available immediately. One, two and three bedroom apartments. $400, $455, $520, heat and hot water included. J.D. Real Estate, 646-1980.

3 1/2 ROOM APARTMENT — Private home, heat, appliances, working single adult only. No pets, children. 643-2880.

MANCHESTER — North End 1 bedroom apartment in quiet residential area. Near bus line. Utilities not included. $395 monthly. Call 646-3158 between 8am and 4:30pm.

FOUR ROOM APARTMENT — Well-to-wall carpeting, private basement, etc. optional. Available immediately. $450 plus utilities. Call 568-4904.

MANCHESTER — Three bedroom, 1 1/2 bath duplex. New well-to-wall, appliances, fenced yard, security. $625 plus utilities. No pets. Call 643-7780.

43 HOMES FOR RENT
TOWNHOUSE — In Northwood, 2 bedroom, appliances, air, carpet, quiet neighborhood. Call evenings, 651-3817.

44 STORE AND OFFICE SPACE
MANCHESTER — 2 office suite, bathroom, $250 monthly including heat. Hoves Corp., 646-4131.

"EASY DOES IT" — The way to describe placing a want ad. Just call 643-2711 and we do it for you!

MANCHESTER — One bedroom, second floor, appliances, carpeting. Convenient to shopping, recreation and bus line. $390 per month. Utilities not included. Peterman Agency, 649-9404 or 647-1340.

37 REAL ESTATE WANTED
THINKING OF SELLING? Need a quick sale? We pay cash for your house. Crockett Realty, 643-1577.

42 APARTMENTS FOR RENT
EAST HARTFORD — Immaculate 2nd floor, modernized 2 family. Five rooms, 2 bedrooms, 1 car garage. 922 sq. ft. Call collect 1-314-392-3742.
FOUR ROOMS — $400 a month. Security deposit required. Heat, stove and refrigerator included. No pets. Call 643-9844 between 8am and 4pm.
THREE ROOM FURNISHED APARTMENT — Available immediately. Responsible tenants preferred. Call 643-6441 for information.

46 MISCELLANEOUS FOR RENT

STORAGE SPACE FOR RENT — Storage/Workshop. Electricity available. $25 to $75 per month. Call 742-7268 or 742-3022.

51 SERVICES OFFERED

ODD JOBS. Trucking. Home repairs. You name it, we do it. Free estimates. Insured. 643-0304.

51 SERVICES OFFERED

ATTENTION PARTIERS! Call Jack Bertrand for the best dances and parties. DJ and Light Show by the Party Perspective People. Call 643-1262.

BRICKS, BLOCKS, STONE — Concrete. Chimney repairs. No job too small. Call 644-8356.

SNOW PLOWING — By Peter's Tree Service. Residential/Commercial. Call Now, 649-2456.

MOTHER OF THREE Children Will Babysit days in her home. Call 643-3377, 644-9511.

DAY CARE — Manchester. Full or part time. Licensed mother with degree in education. Call 647-1026.

POOLING, PARTIAL, GUMS & more. Servicing. Water. 20% OFF on all heating and air conditioning. Call HUTTON CONTRACTORS 563-5523

PAINTING AND PAPER HANGING — Exterior and interior, ceilings repaired. References, fully insured. Quality work. Martin Mattsson, evenings 649-4431.

CEILING REPAIRED or REPLACED with dry wall. Call evenings, Gary McHugh, 643-9221.

NAME YOUR OWN PRICE — Father and son. Fast, dependable service. Painting, Paperhanging & Removal. Call 644-9385 or 644-0036.

PROFESSIONAL BUILDING & PAINTING — Exterior and interior. Textures specialist, wallpaperhanging, complete remodeling. Free Estimates. Call 646-4679.

EXCESSIVE ABBREVIATIONS abbreviate results! Be sure readers understand your ad by avoiding abbreviations. 643-2711.

PERSIAN LAMB COAT — Full length, Autumn haze, mink collar. Mink hat to match collar. Excellent condition, hardly worn. 14-16. Call 649-9339.

SKIS AND POLES — Atomic CSS, size 160, Solomon 44 bindings. Hardly used. $75. Call 643-2743 after 5pm.

CAR RADIO — Excellent condition. High powered. Includes Dolby NR, Bass and Treble controls and more. $90. Call 646-1063 after 4:30pm.

BURGUNDY WINTER COAT with mink collar. Practically new. Size 14. Call 649-7276, after 5pm.

53 BUILDING/CONTRACTING

FARRAND REMODELING — Cabinets, roofing, gutters, room additions, decks, all types of remodeling and repairs. FREE estimates. Fully insured. Telephone 643-6017, after 6pm, 647-8509.

53 BUILDING/CONTRACTING

DUMAS ELECTRIC — Lights dimming? Fuses blown? Repairs, improvements and additional circuits. Fully insured. Call 643-5253 anytime.

53 BUILDING/CONTRACTING

CARPENTRY AND REMODELING SERVICES — Complete home repairs, additions, remodeling. Quality work. References, licensed and insured. Call 646-8165.

LEON CIESZYNSKI BUILDER — New homes, additions, remodeling, rec rooms, garages, kitchens, roofings, siding, gutters, repairs, etc. Call 643-6712.

ROBERT E. JARVIS — Building & Remodeling Specialist. Additions, kitchens, bathrooms, replacement windows/doors. Call 643-6712.

HEATING/PLUMBING
FOGARTY BROTHERS — Bathroom remodeling; installation water heaters, garbage disposal, roofings, siding, gutters, repairs, etc. Call 643-6712.

USED REFRIGERATORS — Washers and dryer. $100. Call 643-2171.

FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR, $75. Frigidaire washer and dryer, $100. Call 643-4681.

REDECORATING, MUST SELL. Colonial wing back chair. Floral print. Warm colors. Excellent condition. $99. Call 643-2941 after 5pm.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
SCHOOL DESK AND CHAIR for all elementary grades. Excellent formica writing surface. Steel legs. 2 sets, $10 per set. Telephone 649-1724.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

DELIVERING RICH LOAM — 5 yards, $62 plus tax. Sand, gravel and stone. Call 643-9204.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

1971 DODGE DART SWINGER — Nice condition, 6 cylinder automatic, power steering, $800. Call mornings, 742-7600.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

1968 PONTIAC VENTURA — 4 door, power steering/brakes, $400 or best offer. Dependable car. Call 643-2159.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

1971 CHEVY CONCORDE WAGON — 350 V-8, automatic, power steering, radio, power windows, fogger, roof rack, more. Good winter vehicle. Needs timing chain. $400. Call 643-2880.

1973 BUICK STATION WAGON — Power steering and brakes. Good condition. Asking $800. Call 289-9221 or 289-9222.

1973 DATSUN — Always starts. New tires, brakes, power steering, air conditioner. Good mileage, uses regular gas. Recently registered and passed emissions test. It isn't pretty, but it works. $800. Call 875-6610.

FOR SALE
62 HOUSEHOLD GOODS
USED REFRIGERATORS — Washers and dryer. $100. Call 643-2171.

FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR, $75. Frigidaire washer and dryer, $100. Call 643-4681.

REDECORATING, MUST SELL. Colonial wing back chair. Floral print. Warm colors. Excellent condition. $99. Call 643-2941 after 5pm.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
SCHOOL DESK AND CHAIR for all elementary grades. Excellent formica writing surface. Steel legs. 2 sets, $10 per set. Telephone 649-1724.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

5829 — Use a bulky yarn to knit this wrap-tie sweater. No. 5829 has knit directions for Medium and Large Sizes inclusive. TO ORDER, send $2.00 for each pattern, plus $0.50 for postage and handling. JANE CROFT Manchester Herald 150 Ave. of Americas New York, N.Y. 10018. SPECIAL: Over 200 new patterns and a FREE Pattern Section in the ALBUM. Just $5.00.

Automotive

1973 VOLKSWAGON SUPERBEETLE — Semi-automatic, AM/FM radio, 40,000 miles. $800. Call 623-5849 evenings, 568-6213 days.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

1971 THUNDERBIRD — Automatic. Power steering, windows and seat. Air conditioned. 92,000 miles. Original owner. Body needs work. Asking $1200. Call 649-9404 or 647-0080.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

GOV'T SURPLUS CARS & TRUCKS under $100. Now available in your area. Call 1-(619)-569-0261, 24 hours.

64 HOME AND GARDEN

1980 CITATION — 2 door, 6 cylinder automatic, front wheel drive, 29,000 miles. $3500 firm. Call 647-0810.

1971 DODGE DART SWINGER — Nice condition, 6 cylinder automatic, power steering, $800. Call mornings, 742-7600.

1968 PONTIAC VENTURA — 4 door, power steering/brakes, $400 or best offer. Dependable car. Call 643-2159.

1971 CHEVY CONCORDE WAGON — 350 V-8, automatic, power steering, radio, power windows, fogger, roof rack, more. Good winter vehicle. Needs timing chain. $400. Call 643-2880.

1973 BUICK STATION WAGON — Power steering and brakes. Good condition. Asking $800. Call 289-9221 or 289-9222.

1973 DATSUN — Always starts. New tires, brakes, power steering, air conditioner. Good mileage, uses regular gas. Recently registered and passed emissions test. It isn't pretty, but it works. $800. Call 875-6610.

FOR SALE
62 HOUSEHOLD GOODS
USED REFRIGERATORS — Washers and dryer. $100. Call 643-2171.

FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR, $75. Frigidaire washer and dryer, $100. Call 643-4681.

<