

NO CHANGE

MANCHESTER

U.S. WORLD

SPORTS

Charter fight warming up

...page 3

Weinberger hits House drug plan

...page 7

Red Sox clinch AL East crown

...page 11

Manchester Herald

Manchester A City of Village Charm

Monday, Sept. 29, 1986

30 Cents

Daniloff goes free, leaves 'in sorrow'

By Andre M. Rosenthal
The Associated Press

MOSCOW — American reporter Nicholas Daniloff was released by the Soviet Union today, signaling the apparent end of a month-long diplomatic showdown that had threatened to wreck superpower relations.

Daniloff, 51, longtime Moscow correspondent for U.S. News & World Report, told reporters at the airport he was leaving "more in sorrow than in anger." His wife, Ruth, said it felt "terrific" to be going home.

Israel indicts 'Ivan'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel indicted retired U.S. autoworker John Demjanjuk today on charges of herding hundreds of thousands of people to their deaths in Nazi concentration camp during World War II.

The Ukrainian-born Demjanjuk, 65, was charged in a 26-page indictment with "crimes against the Jewish people, crimes against humanity, war crimes and crimes against minorities."

Demjanjuk, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, is accused of being the sadistic guard "Ivan the Terrible" at the Treblinka death camp in Nazi-occupied Poland where at least 900,000 people, mostly Jews, were killed.

The charge sheet, presented at Jerusalem District Court, said Demjanjuk's alleged crimes were "of incomparable severity."

"He took part in forcing Jews and others into the gas chambers at the camp, he operated the motor by which they were asphyxiated and in this way caused the deaths of hundreds of thousands of people," the indictment read.

The charges against Demjanjuk carry a maximum sentence of the death penalty. Demjanjuk's lawyer has said that the case arises over mistaken identity, and that "Ivan the Terrible" actually died in the camp uprising in 1943.

Prosecutors said they would ask that Demjanjuk continue to be held at the maximum security Ayalon Prison near Tel Aviv until his trial, which was not expected to begin before the end of December.

They said a custody hearing would be held later this week.

The indictment procedure in Israel, which has no grand jury system, consists of the presentation by the prosecution of the formal charge sheet to a judge.

The American journalist was freed after long hours of negotiations between U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze in New York.

The Daniloffs arrived at Shevemeteyvo Airport in a pale-blue U.S. Embassy van, accompanied by U.S. Charge d'Affaires Richard Combs, the U.S. News & World Report deputy managing editor, Henry Trewitt, and Jeff Trimble, Daniloff's replacement here.

Daniloff, who had been accused of espionage by the Soviets, and his wife Ruth were escorted through a special customs channel by an agent for Lufthansa Airlines and headed for passport control. He was to arrive in Frankfurt later today.

Earlier, as he rode out of the U.S. Embassy compound in Moscow, Daniloff had flashed a victory "V" with his fingers as he rode out of the embassy grounds.

Daniloff has been living in the U.S. Embassy since Sept. 12, when he was released into Combs' custody after 13 days in Lefortovo Prison.

At the same time, U.S. officials released Gennady Zakharov, a Soviet U.N. employee who was arrested Aug. 23 on espionage charges in New York, into the custody of Soviet Ambassador Yuri Dubinin.

U.S. officials asserted that Daniloff was arrested on trumped-up charges of espionage in retaliation for Zakharov's arrest. The Soviets denied a link between the cases and insisted that Zakharov was framed by the FBI.

There was no immediate announcement in the United States indicating that Zakharov would be released. The U.S. attorney's office in Brooklyn, N.Y., said there was no change in Zakharov's status.

Daniloff's Lufthansa flight was expected to land in Frankfurt at 8:30 p.m. local time (3:30 p.m. EDT).

"I was informed sometime this afternoon that I would be allowed to leave," Daniloff said at the airport. "My passport was returned by the Foreign Ministry with my multiple-entry visa and my press card, which is still valid."

"I want to say that I don't know the terms of the arrangement," Daniloff said. "As far as I know, I am leaving independently."

Although the White House had consistently ruled out a swap of Daniloff for Zakharov, U.S. and Soviet officials had discussed the case intensively for weeks.

The Soviet Union denied Daniloff was arrested to give the Kremlin bargaining leverage in the Zakharov case and insisted the American journalist was guilty of espionage.

He was charged with spying in a three-count indictment that roughly paralleled the charges filed against Zakharov.

Shultz and Shevardnadze had met for three hours late Sunday in New York.

Herald photo by Philo

Honoring a patriot

Frank Gallinat of Coventry pauses Sunday during Nathan Hale Day, a celebration marking the 210th anniversary of the death of the American Revolutionary War hero. Gallinat is the commander of Knowlton's Rangers, one of a number of colonial units on hand at the Nathan Hale Homestead in Coventry. Hale was executed by the British for being a spy. Story, more pictures on page 4.

I-384 link set to open

Gov. William A. O'Neill will officially open the connecting link between eastbound Interstate 84 and Interstate 384 through Manchester in less than two weeks.

A public ceremony has been set for Oct. 9 at 2 p.m., the governor's office announced.

The section of highway to be opened Oct. 9 will provide direct access from eastbound I-84 to I-384, allowing motorists to make the drive from Hartford to Bolton without having to drive along local streets. The westbound lanes of the link are not scheduled to open until mid-1987, so drivers going from Bolton to Hartford will still have to use local roads.

Interstate 384 runs from Spencer Street in Manchester to Routes 6 and 44 at Bolton Notch, a distance of 7.3 miles.

With the new opening, the eastbound entrance and exit ramps at Forbes Street (Exit 91) in East Hartford will be permanently closed to permit removal of the existing bridge and construction of another segment of I-84 eastbound in that location, the DOT said.

As of Oct. 9, drivers who want to enter I-84 eastbound from the Burnside Avenue or the Silver Lane/Spencer Street area will have to use either Exit 58 (Roberts Street) in East Hartford or Exit 60 (West Middle Turnpike) in Manchester.

Westbound entrance and exit ramps for I-84 at Forbes Street will not be affected now. They will be closed later.

Other plans by the DOT call for extending the expressway from its end at Bolton Notch 11 miles to Windham as relocated Route 6. Those plans have come under heavy fire by residents of towns east of Manchester, however, and are now the subject of a court battle.

The Army Corps of Engineers is scheduled to make a decision within a few days on whether the DOT will be required to make a second environmental impact study before it can proceed with construction.

If the second study is required, construction of the relocated Route 6 could be delayed by two years.

Meanwhile, the Eastern Connecticut Citizen Action Group has filed an appeal in the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in New York City to block the DOT from buying properties in the path of the planned road.

Tolland Turnpike fight takes shape

By George Lovyn
Herald Reporter

Tolland Turnpike residents have stepped up their efforts to change a preliminary proposal that calls for the taking of some property and the widening of the thoroughfare.

Cathy Lankford, who lives at 853 Tolland Turnpike, said today she collected signatures over the weekend from 108 residents opposed to the reconstruction project. Lankford said she planned to deliver the petition to town and state officials this morning.

The residents want a study of the environmental impact of the project, she said. Under the plans, the road in northern Manchester would be rebuilt and widened from North Main Street east almost to Deming Street.

Lankford said a group of residents has scheduled a private meeting Tuesday to form their strategy in fighting the project, which attracted heavy opposition at a recent public hearing. She said the group, which is not yet named, may hire an attorney and pursue legal action.

Letters will be delivered to town and state officials listing the residents oppose the plans, Lankford said. She said homeowners fear their properties will lose value, that traffic will be increased and make the road unsafe, that the surrounding environment will suffer and that the full details of the plans have not been released.

In particular, Lankford said, officials failed to inform a homeowner at the corner of Tolland Turnpike and Union Street that his property would be taken for the widening. Lankford said she does not know who lives in the home, but said the potential taking shows that town officials have not revealed the full extent of their proposal.

"We're being definitely snowballed by a lot of town officials," she said. "We intend to pursue this as far as we can."

Acting Town Engineer William Camosci, who oversaw the drafting of the widening plans, said this morning only one house — the historic Minnie Webb home at 75 North Main St. — is definitely scheduled to be either demolished or moved. However, he admitted that the house at the corner of

Please turn to page 10

Beirut combat leaves at least 65 dead

By Rima Salameh
The Associated Press

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Christian hardliners killed a senior army officer in his bed this morning after his troops fatally shot two Christian militiamen in the central Lebanese mountains, police reported.

The killings came only hours after the regular army and the 8,000-strong Christian Lebanese Forces militia teamed up in 24 hours of fierce combat in east Beirut to crush an attempted comeback by an ousted pro-Syrian militia commander.

Police today put the casualty toll from the weekend fighting at 65 killed, 200 wounded and 55 missing.

The slayings of the army officer and the Christian fighters, however, indicated growing friction between the military, which is loyal to President Amin Gemayel, and the Lebanese Forces, the dominant militia in the nation's Christian heartland.

Police said Lebanese Forces militiamen broke into the house of Col. Khalil Kanaan in Christian east Beirut's Hazmieh district before dawn and sprayed his bed with submachine gun fire.

The colonel died from 28 bullet wounds and his wife was seriously wounded, police said.

Kanaan, 55, was the commander of the army's predominantly Christian 5th brigade. His troops killed two Lebanese Forces militiamen at a checkpoint near a military garrison in the central mountain resort of Monteverde on Sunday, police said.

Lebanese Forces commander Samir Geagea dispatched a militia contingent to the mountaintop resort on Sunday without consulting the army command.

Lebanese Forces spokesmen said the move was intended to reinforce the army against a possible thrust by pro-Syrian Christian dissidents following their weekend defeat in east Beirut.

But officers of the 5th brigade garrison ordered the Lebanese Forces' contingent to remove a checkpoint near an army position. Soldiers opened fire when the

Please turn to page 10

TODAY'S HERALD

O'Neill's lead slim

A new poll shows Democratic Gov. William A. O'Neill with only a slim lead over Republican challenger Julie D. Belaga, who was virtually unknown to state voters 24 months ago, a published report said. The Connecticut Poll showed O'Neill 5 percentage points ahead of Belaga. Story on page 5.

Town man killed

A Manchester man and a West Hartford man were killed when a car driven by their University of Connecticut fraternity brother collided with another vehicle Friday night in Mansfield. Scott M. Russell, 21, of 151 Walnut St., Manchester, was fatally injured in the accident. Story on page 10.

Becoming warm

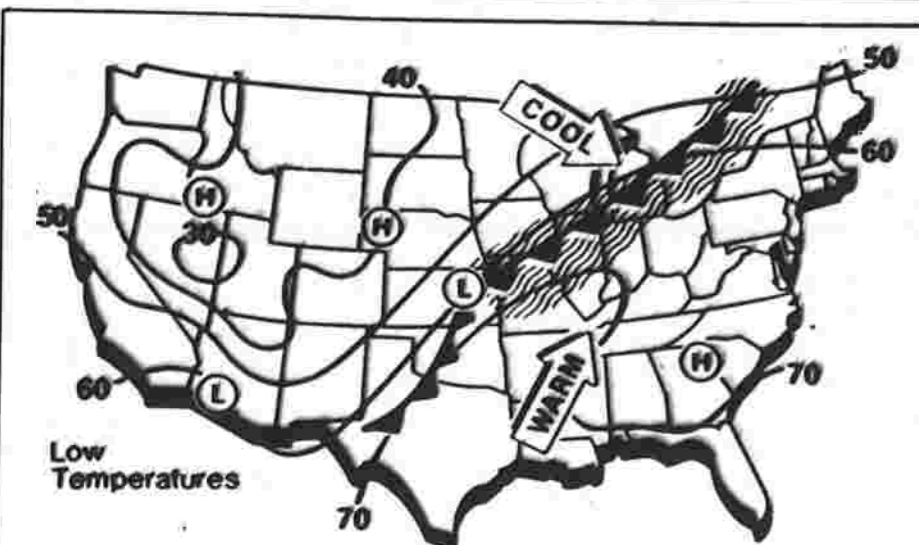

Mostly cloudy tonight with a 30 percent chance of showers. Lows in the middle 60s. Unseasonably warm, humid and breezy under partly sunny skies Tuesday. Near record highs of 85 to 90. Details on page 2.

Index

20 pages, 2 sections
Advice.....18
Business.....9
Classified.....19-20
Comics.....8
Connecticut.....5
Entertainment.....11-16
Focus.....17
Local news.....3-4, 10
Lottery.....2
Obituaries.....10
Opinion.....6
People.....2
Sports.....11-16
Television.....16
U.S./World.....7
Weather.....2

SEPTEMBER 29 1986

WEATHER

Low Temperatures
 SHOWERS RAIN FLURRIES SNOW
FRONTS:
 Warm Cold
 Occluded Stationary

NATIONAL FORECAST - Warm weather is forecast Tuesday for the Southeast. Cool weather is expected in the northern Plains and upper Great Lakes. Showers are forecast from eastern Oklahoma to the St. Lawrence Valley.

MORNING THUNDERSTORMS - Satellite weather photo taken at 4 a.m. shows a large area of showers and thunderstorms from northern Texas across the central Plains to the Great Lakes. Clouds also extend westward to the Southwest and are seen east of a cold front approaching the Pacific Northwest and the northern Rockies.

Connecticut forecast

Eastern Interior: Mostly cloudy tonight with a 40 percent chance of showers. Lows 60 to 65. Unseasonably warm, humid and breezy under partly sunny skies Tuesday. Near record highs of 80 to 85.

Central and Southwestern Interior: Mostly cloudy tonight with a 30 percent chance of showers. Lows in the middle 60s. Unseasonably warm, humid and breezy under partly sunny skies Tuesday. Near record highs of 80 to 90.

West Coast and East Coast: Partly cloudy tonight, becoming warm and humid. Lows 65 to 70. Unseasonably warm, humid and breezy under partly sunny skies Tuesday. Highs 80 to 85.

Northeast Hills: Mostly cloudy tonight with a 40 percent chance of showers. Lows 60 to 65. Unseasonably warm, humid and breezy under partly sunny skies Tuesday. A 30 percent chance of a late afternoon or evening thunderstorm. Near record highs of 80 to 85.

Coastal forecast

Long Island Sound to Watch Hill, R.I., and Nantuxet Point: Winds southwest increasing to 10 to 15 knots this afternoon through Tuesday morning and to 15 to 20 knots Tuesday afternoon. Seas less than 1 foot increasing to 1 to 2 feet this afternoon and tonight.

Partly sunny by this afternoon. Partly cloudy tonight. Fair Tuesday.

Visibility often lowering to 3 miles in haze through Tuesday and occasionally to 1 mile in fog patches.

Across the nation

Early Autumn storms continued to plague the Midwest today as tornadoes touched down in Iowa and thunderstorms stretched from Kansas to Michigan.

A tornado hit near Mingo, Iowa, Sunday night while strong winds leveled a house east of Colwell, Iowa. No injuries were reported. Trees were downed in Mingo and marble-sized hail fell at Rockwell, Iowa, as severe thunderstorms moved across the area.

Severe thunderstorms also moved across the Great Lakes on Sunday, bringing strong winds and hail to the region. Wind gusts of over 60 mph were recorded near Lennon, Mich. Strong winds blew a roof off a house at Lavonia, Mich. Intense thunderstorms were also found across southern Wisconsin early Monday.

Despite stormy conditions in much of the country, fair weather was found early Monday from the mid-Atlantic states and the Tennessee Valley across the Southeast and Florida and through much of Nevada and California.

Thunderstorms brought strong winds and large hail to parts of Kansas and Oklahoma on Sunday. Strong winds downed trees and power lines in Clifton, Kan.

Continual rain brought on the threat of flooding in some areas today. A flash flood warning was posted in parts of southern Michigan. Persistent thunderstorms there have produced more than 2 inches of rain in areas already saturated from previous rains. Flash flood watches also were posted for parts of Wisconsin, Kansas and southwest Texas. Flooding was reported in northeast Iowa and Illinois.

FOCUS

Deadly Drugs

Worried about the use of illegal drugs? In 1980, such drugs killed 1,242 people. However, more than 3,500 other Americans died that year from overdoses of LEGALLY prescribed drugs. This year, overdoses from both groups of drugs will claim more than 7,000 lives. While the overall number of fatalities has increased since 1980, the share of deaths from various legal drugs has changed little. Such drugs still account for 75 percent of all overdose deaths.

DO YOU KNOW - What legal product helps cause about 80 percent of all lung-cancer deaths?

FRIDAY'S ANSWER - The Knesset is Israel's legislative branch of government.

9-28-86 Knowledge Unlimited, Inc. 1986
 A Newspaper in Education Program
 The Manchester Herald

Through the mesh
 Three-year-old Jamie Gordon of Manchester and her grandfather, Val Salustri of Albany, N.Y., look at a white peafowl at the bird zoo in Wickham Park on Saturday. Salustri was visiting his granddaughter for the weekend.

Almanac

Today is Monday, Sept. 29, the 222nd day of 1986. There are 93 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Sept. 29, 1978, Pope John Paul I was found dead in his Vatican apartment by his personal secretary. He had served only 34 days as head of the Roman Catholic Church.

On this date: In 1902, impresario David Belasco opened his first Broadway theater.

In 1983, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Italian Marshal Pietro Badoglio signed an armistice aboard the British ship Nelson off Malta.

In 1975, baseball manager Casey Stengel died at a hospital in Glendale, Calif., at the age of 85.

In 1982, seven people in the Chicago area died after unwittingly taking "Extra-Strength Tylenol" capsules that had been laced with cyanide. The crime remains unsolved.

Today's birthdays: Former singing cowboy and baseball manager Gene Autry is 79. Actress Greer Garson is 78. Movie director Michelangelo Antonioni is 74. Movie producer Stanley Kramer is 73. Actor Trevor Howard is 70. Retired National Football League coach Bum Phillips is 63. Former Sen. John Tower is 61. Actress Anita Ekberg is 55.

On the Light Side

Billboard holds 'something special'
 FARGO, N.D. - Gary Hornbacher didn't have to advertise the fact that he was going to propose to his girlfriend - but he did anyway.

Hornbacher, 23, of Omaha, Neb., made his proposal Saturday to Julie Johnson of Fargo near a large billboard, which read, "Julie: Will You Marry Me? Love, Gary."

Hornbacher said he chose the method because she already knew he was going to pop the question this weekend "so I had to do something special."

Ms. Johnson, 20, accepted the proposal and said it did not matter how Hornbacher had proposed.

"We agreed that she would say, 'Yes,'" Hornbacher said. The couple have planned a May 30 wedding in Kindred.

Kramden look wouldn't have won any awards, but the new bus drivers' uniforms are up for a national best-dressed award.

The Dallas Area Rapid Transit uniform - navy blue wool-blend slacks and jacket, light blue epaulet shirt, DART logo tie, dark overcoat and cardigan sweater - is a candidate for an award from the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers & Distributors.

The shaggy design was adopted in 1984 to get rid of the Kramden look, said DART marketing director John Gobis, referring to the character played by Jackie Gleason in "The Honeymooners" television series.

Lottery

Dallas drivers lose Ralph look
 DALLAS - The Ralph

Manchester Herald
 USPS 327-500
 Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Publishing Co., 16 Brainerd Place, Manchester, Conn. 06040. Second class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 591, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

GUARANTEED DELIVERY - If you don't receive your Herald by 8:30 p.m. weekdays or 9 a.m. Saturday, please telephone your carrier. If you're unable to reach your carrier, call subscriber service at 647-9949 by 8:30 p.m. weekdays or 10 a.m. Saturdays for guaranteed delivery in Manchester.

Man. Herald is a member of the Associated Press and a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations

PEOPLE

Royal parentage

The infant daughter of British actor Anthony Andrews will have a royal godmother - Princess Anne.

Anne, a longtime friend of the actor and his wife Georgina, attended the christening of their daughter, 8-month-old Amy Samantha, in the Andrews' country estate in Berkshire, England, on Saturday.

Andrews is best-known to television audiences as Sebastian Flyte in "Brideshead Revisited."

He and his wife have two other children.

PRINCESS ANNE
 ... the royal touch

JOAN COLLINS
 ... enough's enough

Alexis exhausted

Joan Collins says it's not the pressure of the non-stop work but the constant primping that has persuaded her to quit her role as Alexis in TV's "Dynasty" in 18 months.

The British star revealed her plans in a television interview to be broadcast this week in London. "Dynasty will be going on for another year and a half as far as I'm concerned," Collins was quoted as saying.

When pressed, she was quoted as saying, "Yes. I am going off. I'm going to produce my own movies." But, she added, "I am allowed to change my mind."

Collins said, "I feel at the moment I've done 3 1/2 years. In another year and a half I think the possibilities of what they can do with her (Alexis) will have been exhausted."

Today's quote

"We're not doing too bad. It's getting to be the same old stuff - water, water, water." - Saco, Mont., Mayor Gregg Menge on Sunday saying he expected earthen levees to hold flood waters outside of town after heavy rains.

Nixon truths?

Richard Nixon pursued his wife, Pat, with love letters, nightclub T-angos and a diamond ring hidden in a May basket, according to a book by their daughter Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

Eisenhower's biography "Pat Nixon: The Untold Story" also tells how her mother held hands with the president at the White House when she thought no one was watching.

"I wanted to give a full picture of my parents together, because so many times they've been viewed from controversy," Eisenhower said in an interview published in Time magazine.

Mrs. Nixon was said to have been more upset about the pardon Nixon received from President

Cast changes

This year's cast of "Saturday Night Live" will have only three holdovers from last season, NBC says.

The comedy series, in its 12th year, had hinted of wholesale changes by portraying the entire cast caught in a fire during last season's final show.

The survivors - Nora Dunn, Jon Lovitz and Dennis Miller - will be joined by newcomers Dana Carvey, Phil Hartman, Jan Hooks and Victoria Jackson, NBC said Sunday.

Lost in last season's shuffle were Joan Casack, Robert Dow-

Charter advocates push their cases

Manchester residents who know nothing about the debate over a November referendum question that would remove the Eighth District's right to veto a merger with the town will have a hard time remaining unaware.

Both supporters and opponents of the controversial ballot item brought their campaigns to the public this past weekend in an effort to win support from voters.

Eighth District advocates erected a number of signs throughout town, while their opponents distributed leaflets to Manchester households.

William Sleith, president of the Committee for Charter Revision, said this morning that about 7,500 four-page fliers were delivered to residences in all parts of town urging electors to vote "yes" on referendum question 4.

If approved, that question would change the Town Charter to require only one townwide vote for consolidation to take place between the town and the Eighth District, a political subdivision that has provided fire protection and sewer service to most of northern Manchester for almost 100 years.

Currently, Eighth District residents would have to approve a consolidation proposal in a separate vote before a merger could take place. Removing that veto power is viewed as the first step toward consolidation because residents living outside the Eighth District outnumber Eighth District residents three to one, and would presumably vote to support a merger.

The flier argues that a single vote would ensure "one person, one vote" a fundamental principle of American Democracy ... now missing in the Town of Manchester Charter."

In addition, the handout says passage of the referendum has won the support of a bi-partisan group of distinguished citizens who served on the Charter Revision Commission, including several drafters of the original Town Charter.

That panel, which deliberated over the matter earlier this year, did support changing the Town Charter. However, three of the commission's four Republican members opposed the proposal.

Sleith said 15,000 fliers were distributed in the next few days. Three or four other fliers will be passed out before the Nov. 4 election, Sleith said, and the next one will present a more specific argument.

EIGHTH DISTRICT SUPPORTERS also were busy this weekend, erecting 10 large, hand-printed signs and 14 smaller ones urging defeat of the ballot question. Eighth District spokesman Thomas O'Marra said today. He said the signs, some of which read "Vote No on charter question 4. Keep taxes low," were put in place by the Eighth District group STEAL - Stop Tampering with the Eighth's American Liberties.

Like the Committee for Charter Revision, STEAL has made plans to wage a publicly campaign up to the election. In addition to signs, the group has talked about distributing fliers, going door-to-door to talk to residents and speaking before civic organizations.

STEAL's campaign has also appealed to Manchester residents' patriotic feelings, arguing that Eighth District residents would be denied the right to determine their own future.

This sign was put up at 792 Main St. over the weekend by opponents of a controversial November referendum question that would eliminate the district's power to veto a merger with the town. Meanwhile, supporters of the referendum question distributed fliers arguing their side of the issue.

Campaign Notes

State police union backs Democrats
 The Connecticut State Police Union, which represents 850 state police officers, has endorsed two Democratic incumbents seeking re-election to the General Assembly in Manchester districts.

The union endorsed Rep. Donald F. Bates, D-East Hartford, whose 8th Assembly District includes a small part of Manchester, and Rep. James McCavanagh, D-Manchester, whose 12th Assembly District is wholly within the town.

In the 2nd Congressional District, the union endorsed incumbent Rep. Sam Gejdenson, D-Conn.

A news release from the union said further endorsements will be made later in the campaign.

Business lobby rates legislators
 The Connecticut unit of the National Federation of Independent Business says the Connecticut Legislature overwhelmingly supports small business, according to a voting-record analysis compiled by the organization.

Manchester-area representatives in the Legislature, along with most elected officials, scored high on the organization's legislative report card. The report card tallied 10 key small-business issues ranging from tort reform, aimed at easing the liability insurance crisis, to a tough double-damages law intended to deter bad-check artists.

Sen. Carl Zinsser, R-Manchester, Rep. Peter Fuscas, R-Matthew, and Rep. Elsie Swenson, R-Manchester, were among the 95 legislators who scored "perfect" (100 percent) records in the small-business report.

Sen. James Guillette, R-Vernon, and Rep. Donald Bates, D-East Hartford, each scored 90 percent. Rep. James McCavanagh, D-Manchester, scored 90 percent, and Rep. Edith Prague, D-Columbia, logged 60 percent.

FREE MONEY SEMINAR

October 1, 7:30 p.m.
 Manchester Community College
 Program Center.

Phone reservations suggested.
 Call 646-1700;
 ask for Mrs. Anders.

What are you doing - at this particular time of your life - about saving and investing your money? That's the subject which will be explored in our free seminar, coming up soon.

For instance, you may be newly married, want to buy a house, and wonder how to save for it. You may be near retirement age, and question whether you should be investing or saving at all. Or you may be so new at the game, you don't know what to do. Whoever you are, here's your chance to get some sound financial tips and ask specific questions. You're sure to go away enlightened.

Shirley Martin, the seminar leader, has led lively financial discussions on several occasions for customers and friends of the Savings Bank of Manchester. Come hear what she has to say.

Yet another community service of the bank, the seminar is free. But please do make phone reservations.

Shirley Martin, the seminar leader, has led lively financial discussions on several occasions for customers and friends of the Savings Bank of Manchester. Come hear what she has to say.

"Money: how to get it and what to do with it."

October 1, 7:30 p.m.
 Manchester Community College
 Program Center.

Phone reservations suggested.
 Call 646-1700;
 ask for Mrs. Anders.

What are you doing - at this particular time of your life - about saving and investing your money? That's the subject which will be explored in our free seminar, coming up soon.

For instance, you may be newly married, want to buy a house, and wonder how to save for it. You may be near retirement age, and question whether you should be investing or saving at all. Or you may be so new at the game, you don't know what to do. Whoever you are, here's your chance to get some sound financial tips and ask specific questions. You're sure to go away enlightened.

Shirley Martin, the seminar leader, has led lively financial discussions on several occasions for customers and friends of the Savings Bank of Manchester. Come hear what she has to say.

Yet another community service of the bank, the seminar is free. But please do make phone reservations.

Prague gets two endorsements

State Rep. Edith Prague, D-Columbia, who is seeking another term in the 8th Assembly District, has received the endorsement of the Connecticut Education Association and the Women's Issues Network Political Action Committee.

A letter to Prague from the CEA, whose membership includes teachers throughout Connecticut, said she was given a double-plus rating.

A letter from the women's PAC, besides endorsing Prague, offered a contribution toward her campaign.

The 8th Assembly District covers Bozrah, Columbia, Coventry, Franklin and Lebanon. Prague's opponent is Republican Raymond Milvae of Lebanon.

Wilson says he'll open office
 Edward J. Wilson, an independent candidate in the 13th Assembly District, said he will open an office in Manchester if he is elected in November.

"The citizens of the 13th District deserve better access to their elected representative," Wilson's news release said. "Accordingly I shall open a fully staffed office in Manchester to better administer to the concerns of my constituents."

"To try to reach a legislator should not be the burdensome exercise as it is now. Such a centrally located office will afford the voters of the 13th District immediate access to their elected representative," Wilson said.

Wilson is running against incumbent Rep. Elsie "Elsie" Swenson, R-Manchester, and Democrat John W. Thompson, a former Manchester mayor.

SUPER SAVER WANT ADS

Place a classified ad and save! For the month of September only.

4 days for the price of 3 days! Get 1 day FREE!

You may cancel, but no refunds will be given.

Help Wanted, Rentals, Homes for Sale, Condo's for Sale and Commercial Ads are excluded from this offer.

PHONE 643-2711
 FOR ASSISTANCE IN PLACING YOUR AD

Manchester Herald
 CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

SEP 29 1986

In honor of the 210th anniversary of patriot Nathan Hale's execution by British forces, a celebration was held Sunday at the Nathan Hale Homestead in Coventry. Above, a rifle and drum corps marches in step, while at right, the cannon crew of the Capt. Stephen Buckland's Artillery lets off a blast. Robert Gregory of East Freetown, Mass., keeps the beat for marchers (below left), while Jane Covell, of North River Road in Coventry, and Carol Sutcliffe of Phelps Road in Manchester (below center) demonstrate colonial weaving skills. Frank Gallant (below right), of Broadway in Coventry, the commander of Knowlton's Rangers, watches the action.

Photos by Reginald Pinto

Coventry honors its hero

By Jacqueline Bennett
Herald Correspondent

COVENTRY — More than two dozen recruits from the audience scurried to join in a display of colonial weaponry, artillery and music put on by the Nathan Hale Ancient Fife & Drum Corps on Sunday.

With long, narrow boards raised high to their shoulders like rifles, the participants fell into line with about 16 musket-carrying rangers from the corps and marched around the grounds to shouts from the regiment commander.

"Fight for your liberty," the commander ordered. "Cast off the yoke of oppression." Becky Hoskins, educational coordinator for Historic Connecticut Houses, said the audience participation — which came as part of Nathan Hale Day Sunday at the Nathan Hale Homestead — was an experiment.

"It utilizes more senses than static entertainment," Hoskins said. "There is no learning experience like a participating experience."

The day's events were part of an educational program of "living history" presented by the Antiquarian and Landmarks Society, which owns the homestead as well as seven other historic Connecticut houses. Hoskins said the event was held to highlight the designation of colonial patriot Nathan Hale as Connecticut's official state hero to emphasize the military aspect of colonial life, and to make history more relevant through participation.

Accented by cool, crisp autumn temperatures and mostly sunny skies, the event was attended by more than 200 people, including one descendant of Hale.

Descendants of Lt. Colonel Thomas Knowlton of Ashford, who formed the infantry force in 1776 after which the rangers' corps is fashioned, also joined in.

On the homestead grounds, twelve-year-old Ricky Knowlton of Coventry and his partner, 16-year-old Kurt Krukas of Manchester, demonstrated how to load muskets. LaBlanca said Saturday there has been some progress in the investigation.

"I can't really disclose our leads. We don't want anyone to know that we are closing in on a person. There are many vital links that have to be connected," LaBlanca said.

The chief said that at least one person has been questioned in connection with the crime, but it was unclear whether that person was a suspect.

LaBlanca's comments to reporters came outside St. Mary's Church where he attended the funeral service for the girl Saturday morning.

WATERBURY — An estimated 300 unionists from a half dozen labor groups rallied outside Waterbury Hospital in support of 1,100 striking nurses and service workers, entering the 18th week of their walkout.

"We may have a different contract, we may have a different union, we may have a different company," Enrico Melita of the Connecticut Union of Telephone Workers told the cheering crowd Sunday afternoon. "But we are all on strike for the same reasons: Because some guy with an MBA decided he could make more money by taking money out of your paycheck and out of your benefits. And we say no to that."

Meanwhile, talks between New England Telecommunications Corp. and representatives of 7,700 striking telephone workers broke off Sunday without contract agreement, a company spokeswoman said. No new talks have been scheduled, SNCT spokeswoman Elissa Jenny said.

Members of the Connecticut Union of Telephone Workers went on strike Sept. 13 after rejecting a contract that had been endorsed by their union leadership.

MERIDEN — A mother and daughter were struck and killed in the state's second fatal accident involving pedestrians over the weekend, police said.

Carmen Rodriguez, 34, and her 13-year-old daughter Marisol Gonzalez were pronounced dead at Meriden Wallingford Hospital at 9 p.m. Saturday, about an hour after the accident, police said. No charges have been filed against the driver, Jaime Cruz Jr., 30, of Meriden, police said. The accident remains under investigation.

Also Saturday, 22-year-old Gregory Moran of Southington was struck and killed as he walked along the side of the road with a friend, Southington police said. His companion, 18-year-old Tammy Durant, was also struck, police said. She was taken to Bradley Memorial Hospital in Southington, where she was in stable condition Sunday, a hospital official said.

No charges have been filed against the driver, Jeffery Boga, 23, of Southington, police said. The accident remains under investigation.

Connecticut In Brief

Jilted lover shoots couple, self

LITCHFIELD — A jilted lover shot and wounded his former girlfriend and her new boyfriend before taking his own life in a shooting spree in this sedate northwest Connecticut town, police said.

Timothy Moynihan, 27, of Litchfield forced his way into the home of Andrew Clark, 22, about 8 a.m. Sunday and found Clark in bed with his former girlfriend, Joann Bellamy, 20, according to police and neighbors' accounts. Moynihan shot them both with a .357 Magnum handgun, police said.

Clark and Bellamy were in stable condition Sunday night at Hartford Hospital. Clark, who neighbors said works at a Torrington car dealership, was shot in the chest and arm and Bellamy was shot in the leg, state police Sgt. Daniel Lewis said.

Two hours after the shooting, Moynihan, who had worked as a mechanic for the state Department of Transportation office in Litchfield, was found dead in nearby Mount Tom State Park with a bullet wound in his head.

Torrington woman sues police

TORRINGTON — A Torrington woman is seeking more than $1 million in damages in a federal lawsuit against police from her town and wanted for allegedly failing to properly protect her from her physical abuse by her husband.

Joanne Tremins, 33, is being represented in U.S. District Court in Hartford by attorney Burton Weinstein, who successfully sued Torrington police in the Tracy Thurman case.

Thurman was the first woman in the country allowed to sue police on the grounds that she received less protection from police because the person she was seeking protection from was her husband.

She sued after she was attacked and seriously injured by her husband, who is serving a 15-year sentence in prison for the attack.

Tremins' suit before U.S. District Judge Alan H. Nevas, alleges that she repeatedly asked the police departments from Torrington and from nearby Winsted to shield her from her estranged husband, Jeffrey Tremins, 25. But the police failed to do so, the suit claims.

The lawsuit contends that 60 to 70 complaints were filed against her estranged husband by her or on her behalf between 1982 and this year.

Police have new leads in murder

NORWALK — Police are pursuing new leads in their investigation into the murder of 11-year-old Kathleen Flynn and at least one other person has been questioned about the crime, Police Chief Carl LaBlanca said.

The girl's body was found a half-mile from her home in some woods on the school grounds early Wednesday after a nine-hour search that started when she failed to return home after classes. She had been sexually assaulted and strangled.

LaBlanca said Saturday there has been some progress in the investigation.

"I can't really disclose our leads. We don't want anyone to know that we are closing in on a person. There are many vital links that have to be connected," LaBlanca said.

The chief said that at least one person has been questioned in connection with the crime, but it was unclear whether that person was a suspect.

LaBlanca's comments to reporters came outside St. Mary's Church where he attended the funeral service for the girl Saturday morning.

Union members rally for strikers

WATERBURY — An estimated 300 unionists from a half dozen labor groups rallied outside Waterbury Hospital in support of 1,100 striking nurses and service workers, entering the 18th week of their walkout.

"We may have a different contract, we may have a different union, we may have a different company," Enrico Melita of the Connecticut Union of Telephone Workers told the cheering crowd Sunday afternoon. "But we are all on strike for the same reasons: Because some guy with an MBA decided he could make more money by taking money out of your paycheck and out of your benefits. And we say no to that."

Meanwhile, talks between New England Telecommunications Corp. and representatives of 7,700 striking telephone workers broke off Sunday without contract agreement, a company spokeswoman said. No new talks have been scheduled, SNCT spokeswoman Elissa Jenny said.

Members of the Connecticut Union of Telephone Workers went on strike Sept. 13 after rejecting a contract that had been endorsed by their union leadership.

Three pedestrians die over weekend

MERIDEN — A mother and daughter were struck and killed in the state's second fatal accident involving pedestrians over the weekend, police said.

Carmen Rodriguez, 34, and her 13-year-old daughter Marisol Gonzalez were pronounced dead at Meriden Wallingford Hospital at 9 p.m. Saturday, about an hour after the accident, police said. No charges have been filed against the driver, Jaime Cruz Jr., 30, of Meriden, police said. The accident remains under investigation.

Also Saturday, 22-year-old Gregory Moran of Southington was struck and killed as he walked along the side of the road with a friend, Southington police said. His companion, 18-year-old Tammy Durant, was also struck, police said. She was taken to Bradley Memorial Hospital in Southington, where she was in stable condition Sunday, a hospital official said.

No charges have been filed against the driver, Jeffery Boga, 23, of Southington, police said. The accident remains under investigation.

Poll shows O'Neill has slim lead

HARTFORD (AP) — A new poll shows Democratic Gov. William A. O'Neill with only a slim lead over Republican challenger Julie D. Belaga, who was virtually unknown to state voters 2½ months ago, a published report said.

The Connecticut Poll showed O'Neill 5 percentage points ahead of Belaga, a state representative from Westport making her first run for statewide office, a copyright story in Sunday's edition of the Hartford Courant said.

The same poll, based on telephone interviews of 500 randomly selected adults during the week of Sept. 16-24, also found Democratic U.S. Sen. Christopher Dodd leading Republican challenger Roger Eddy 46 percent to 32 percent. Thirty-nine percent were undecided and the remainder had no opinion.

The Connecticut Poll is jointly sponsored by The Courant and the University of Connecticut. The poll has a margin of error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

Of those polled, 35 percent said they would vote for O'Neill, 30 percent said they would vote for Belaga and 25 percent expressed no preference.

When the undecided voters were pushed to make a choice, O'Neill's lead over Belaga grew to 7 percent to 37 percent, the poll found.

"The campaign affords her the opportunity to better or worse her image among the electorate," G. Donald Ferree Jr., director of the poll, said.

Election Day is Nov. 4.

The poll also found that the public ranks O'Neill and Belaga dead even in their ability to run an honest government.

Belaga was also rated essentially even with O'Neill on other issues — such as appointing outstanding people to top positions, dealing effectively with the drug problem and being compassionate to the elderly and poor.

Although Belaga fared well among those who had formed an opinion of her, more than two-thirds said they did not know enough about Belaga to judge her qualifications.

Ferree said Dodd's lead over Eddy increased when the undecided were pushed to make a choice.

"What this means is that we have a popular incumbent senator running against a challenger who remains largely unknown to the public," Ferree said.

WILLIAM O'NEILL
... slight lead

JULIE BELAGA
... not well known

Robertson remembers session's lesson

By Judd Everhart
The Associated Press

HARTFORD — State Senate President Pro Tempore Philip S. Robertson says he'd love to have a special legislative session called to cut taxes before the elections, but he knows his Republican colleagues would never go for it.

"I think it's the proper thing to do, it's certainly the politically proper thing to do," the Cheshire Republican said. "But I tried last year and it went nowhere."

Late last week, the General Assembly's budget office, the Office of Fiscal Analysis, estimated that the state would end the current fiscal year on June 30, 1987, with a surplus of $112 million because receipts from the state sales tax would be higher than first expected.

Robertson used to make the same kinds of statements when the Democrats controlled the General Assembly. For the last two years, the Republicans have been in power at the Capitol, although the governor's chair is still occupied by a Democrat.

Asked why he still thought it was overreaction when the Republicans had crafted this year's budget, Robertson said: "I was the only Republican calling for even more tax cuts than we finally passed, even late in the session. But we're in the business of compromise."

He said the General Assembly should be able to cut taxes by at least $100 million next year.

"We passed a very generous budget this year, an 8.3 percent increase over 1985-86 spending, he said. He recalled that Democratic Gov. William A. O'Neill had proposed a spending increase approaching 12 percent for the current year.

Robertson proposed late last week that the state cease collecting tolls on the Merritt and Wilbur Cross parkways immediately because of the projected surplus. A law passed earlier this year calls for them to be removed no later than July 1, 1988.

One Democrat calling Robertson on his comments was Rep. Ronald L. Smoko of Hamden.

"The time table on toll removal was established by the Republican Party," Smoko said. "If Phil Robertson was in such a hurry to address the issue of toll removal on the Merritt Parkway, he had a $331 million surplus in the Republican 85-86 budget to do just that. He chose not to do it."

Two years ago, the Republican criticized the Democrats for promoting "obscene surpluses" and "blatant overtaxation." Here we are, 21 months later, with Republican surplus at the same levels, but with a total change in rhetoric."

Robertson countered that the GOP had not included parkway toll removal in 1986-87 plans because "you have to establish priorities. Since we thought we had a balanced budget at that moment, it wouldn't have been responsible to do it any earlier. Now that we have a surplus, we can be flexible."

Deregulation fuels growth at Bradley

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. (AP) — Bradley International Airport has grown from a sleepy little field to a bustling facility the likes of other Northeast airports.

The number of passengers going through Logan in Boston grew 5.3 percent from 1984-85 while Bradley in Windsor Locks grew 12 percent.

Bradley also handled more than 2 million passengers in the first six months of 1988 — a record which places it among Cincinnati and airports in Indianapolis, Ind., and Louisville, Ky. It ranks 47th in the nation in terms of passenger volume up from the high 50s in the early 1980s.

"There's been a lot of interest in Bradley. It's been discovered," says Robert Cottrell, director of the airport since 1982.

"We don't have some of the constraints of a LaGuardia, Newark or Boston," he says. These others have crowded airspace, crowded real estate or both, but Bradley is wide open, Juliano says.

Also, the airport's main market extends to a 50-mile radius, within which are 3 million people and concentrated business and industry. Business accounts for about 70 percent of Bradley traffic — compared with 40 percent to 60 percent at other airports.

The airport is also being used more often by travelers from northern New England as well as southwestern Connecticut.

And there's room to grow. Juliano says the airport would probably accommodate double the current 150,000 landings or takeoffs a year.

"Deregulation has generally been beneficial to airports the size of Bradley, and Bradley has taken advantage of it," says Gerald D. Curtin, the FAA's New England regional airports division manager.

"Bradley has been very aggressive in marketing. They've got a good share of the region's growth," he says.

Christopher Wren, spokesman for Northwest Airlines Inc., based in Minneapolis, Minn., says his company sees Bradley as "a great area to draw customers."

Northwest came to Bradley over the summer with the acquisition of Republic Airlines, and has taken three gates to Republic's one.

In addition, United Airlines no longer uses Bradley as a jet stopover for East-West flights — a May 11 added four flights daily between Bradley and Dulles International near Washington.

All concessions and gates are full at Bradley's new terminal, and Juliano says he is commissioning a study to determine whether another new terminal is needed.

Bradley's annual operating revenues reached $4.1 million in 1985, compared with $270,000 in 1981. Revenues for the current fiscal year ending in June 1987 are projected at $17 million.

Since 1982, there has been more than $70 million in private investment on or around the airport, including industrial, corporate aviation and hotel facilities, says James Rice, Bradley marketing project director.

A major form of new business surrounding the airport is expected to be warehouses that will be used as regional distribution centers for national and international companies.

Nanny firm helps moms

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Five years ago, Robin Sweet, a pediatric surgical nurse, was divorced and began looking for child care.

"I went through Yale students like water," she said.

Her on-call status made finding caretakers difficult. She was coping with her newly single status, a new city, and two daughters, who were 2 and 5 years old.

"It was traumatic. I was traumatized," she said.

So these days when parents call on Sweet's business, "The Nanny Connection," they find a sympathetic ear.

State seeks a new image

HARTFORD (AP) — Out-of-staters looking for some place to relax too often see themselves driving through Connecticut to get there — and that's a problem the Department of Economic Development wants to fix.

A new campaign by the department is aimed at "retuning a bit of the image that we are only a highway, a drive to somewhere else, and that we're an overly affluent state that would cost too much to come to," says David Driver, marketing director for the tourism division.

Driver says people view Connecticut more as part of metropolitan New York than a "New England experience" or stay away because they don't feel welcome.

"People are interpreting a lack of advertising as meaning that we don't want them," Driver says.

Barnett Lauchever, state tourism director, says the state's $2.5 billion tourism industry was up about 8 percent for the summer months — "just about as well as we had forecast."

Manchester Memorial Hospital presents

ARTHRITIS

Wednesday, October 1
6:00 p.m.

H. LOUISE RUDDALL AUDITORIUM
MANCHESTER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

A free informational program conducted by Michael Passaretti, M.D., Orthopedic Surgeon, as part of the Hospital's Community Education Series.

Tuesday Only
From Our Meat Dept.

USDA CHOICE BEEF RIB EYE STEAK	$4.29/lb.
USDA CHOICE BEEF CLUB STEAK ROAST	$3.99/lb.

From Our Deli Dept.

WUNDERBAR GERMAL BOLOGNA	$1.39/lb.
NEW LAND O'LAKES CHEESE AMERICAN & SWISS	$2.49/lb.

From Our Own Bakery
(Manchester Store Only)

FRESH BAKED COOKIES (All Varieties)	$1.29/doz.
-------------------------------------	-------------

Highland Park Market
317 Highland St. Manchester 646-4277
Route 44 Coventry 742-7361

$ SAVE MONEY $

SENTRY OIL CO.

FAST DELIVERY

150 Gal. Minimum	59¢
------------------	-----

243-5074
Price Subject to Change

ROBERT J. SMITH, inc.
INSURANSMITHS SINCE 1914
649-5241
65 E. Center Street
Manchester, Ct.

Ceramics By El'Mar
149 West Middle Turnpike
(next to Vic's Pizza)
Manchester

We will conduct Oil Painting Classes on Saturdays beginning October 11 (small classes).

We will be using the BILL ALEXANDER technique as seen on public television ("Magic Art of Oil Painting").

You will be able to take home a completed 16x20 painting after only one four hour lesson!

Please call 643-0367 or 643-8755 for registration and information.

Registration Dates: Sept. 29 - Oct. 6

BOTTI'S FRUIT FARM
Now Open 9-6 Daily

FRESH APPLES, PEARS & CIDER

Now located at the NEW BARN on Bush Hill Road
Manchester

SEPTEMBER 29 1988

OPINION

Non-voters let others run the land

When Manchester's registrars held a voter-making session Saturday in their office at the Municipal Building, only seven people showed up to join the ranks of those who will be eligible to vote in the statewide election Nov. 4.

Besides the Municipal Building session, which was mandated by state law, there was another one outside the Stop and Shop supermarket at the Manchester Parkade, where traffic is heavy and where there is no bureaucratic atmosphere to turn off even the most timid. Only six residents took the opportunity to become voters at that one.

For most people living in Manchester, there are only 13 days left today to get on the voting roster in time to qualify to vote Nov. 4 — that is, to exercise a precious democratic privilege and discharge a vital democratic obligation.

This year, as in every one past, the situation will be the same. Too few people will bother to vote; too many won't bother to become voters at all. And after the election, the non-voters will complain about the result of their own failure to exercise a privilege and live up to a responsibility.

There is no excuse for not becoming a voter. In Manchester especially, officials go out their way to make it easy.

The registrars' office is open on business days during regular business hours. Beyond that, there are registration sessions every Thursday night in the mall at the Parkade from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and the Saturday sessions outside Stop and Shop from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Each person who votes Nov. 4 will have a part in selecting the governor of Connecticut, a United States senator from Connecticut, a United States representative from their part of Connecticut, a state senator and a state representative.

Furthermore, each will have part in deciding whether the state should hold a constitutional convention, remove the party lever from voting machines, or put restrictions on judicial appointments.

And each will help decide some very close-to-home matters — in Manchester, whether to build housing for the elderly, whether to spend money to repair schools, whether to change the way the Town Charter provides for consolidation of the town and Eighth Utilities District.

It is easy to understand that some citizens might not be interested in all of those decisions.

But it is hard to understand how any citizen can leave every one of them to someone else. That's what you do if you're not a voter.

Turf squabbles won't help U.S. in drug battle

WASHINGTON — The White House and Congress have declared all-out war on drug dealers. Assuming the fervor lasts beyond Election Day, millions and billions of dollars will soon start flowing to federal drug fighters.

The scramble for these funds has already begun among the various enforcement agencies — a battle that is almost as intense as that between the lawmen and the dope smugglers.

There's nothing particularly new either in the drug problem or in the turf battle. A decade ago the CIA and the Drug Enforcement Administration were engaged in a jealous squabble over the sharing of intelligence on dope traffic.

Now it's the DEA, the Customs Service and the Coast Guard vying for the prestige, personnel and budgetary pie that go to the agency that makes the big busts. Our associate Donald Goldberg has dug up some examples of the intricate bureaucratic bickering that began even before President Reagan and his wife made their joint television call to arms.

HERE ARE JUST A FEW: In Minnesota, DEA and Customs are contesting jurisdiction over a drug case involving close to $500,000 in gold, silver, coins and cash, according to Justice Department sources.

Customs and the Coast Guard are scrapping over the use of four radar-equipped E-2C aircraft provided by the Navy to patrol the entire southern border. Not only Treasury Secretary James Baker (who runs Customs), but Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., and Sen. Glenn English, D-Ore., have written Attorney General Ed Meese on behalf of the Customs Service.

The Coast Guard, meanwhile, says it could operate the Navy planes around-the-clock, while Customs would have to pay its crews overtime. An internal Coast Guard position paper acknowledges that a different airplane would be preferable, "but in order to get the mission, Coast Guard is willing to operate the Navy E-2C aircraft on an interim basis."

Mexican authorities have forbidden U.S. drug-busters to chase suspected smugglers across the border, but the Bahamas permits such pursuits. This is a great advantage, because some 70 percent of the illicit drugs entering the United States come from the Caribbean.

Customs has responsibility for the operations, but the State Department has jurisdiction over relations with foreign governments, and Foggy Bottom wants DEA personnel aboard each interdiction flight in the name of inter-agency coordination. Customs officials point out that their crews fly out of Homestead Air Force Base, about an hour's drive south of Miami, where DEA is based. Customs argues that the smugglers could be long gone by the time the DEA agent shows up.

Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking. The General Accounting Office reports that Bank Secrecy Act enforcement has a low priority among the federal agencies charged with supervising it.

The law was designed to stop drug pushers from laundering large sums of illicit cash by transferring the money from one bank to another. It requires banks to report to federal agencies all cash transfers of more than $10,000. But enforcement has been lax, the GAO claims.

Jet aborts takeoff; 10 injured NEW DELHI, India — A jetliner carrying 185 people aborted its takeoff today after an engine caught fire and plowed off the runway into a field, injuring 10 passengers, the United News of India reported.

The news agency quoted an airlines official in the southern city of Madras as saying that the Bombay-bound Indian Airlines Airbus had begun speeding up for takeoff when the pilot noticed a fire in the left engine.

The official in Madras, who was not identified by name, said the pilot applied the jet's emergency brakes and that the plane bumped through a field for about one-third of a mile before it came to a stop.

Reporters in Madras said that the jet's two engines and both front wheels were torn off in the emergency stop.

U.S./World In Brief

Cameraman missing in Lebanon BEIRUT, Lebanon — A French free-lance cameraman is missing and presumed kidnapped in Moutem west Beirut, the French Embassy said today.

The victim was identified as Jean-Marc Sroussi, 41, who has been living in the Lebanese capital since 1982.

They were overheard saying that they were taking him back to Beirut. Sroussi became the 20th foreigner missing or kidnapped in Lebanon.

Senate approves tax-overhaul bill WASHINGTON — A few clerical details are all that stand in the way of President Reagan's major tax overhaul plan aimed chiefly at increasing the fairness of the federal income tax.

Reagan said the bill, on which the Senate completed congressional action Saturday, will give Americans "a tax code they can be proud of." The president added he is looking forward to signing the measure, which has been at the top of his second-term agenda.

Lawmaker offers speed-limit plan WASHINGTON — A New Jersey congressman is offering a compromise he hopes will spur Congress to approve a 65 mph speed limit before it recesses for the year.

Four slain during 'No Crime Day' DETROIT — Four people, including a policeman, were slain during the city's "No Crime Day," but organizers of the event called residents with calls to put fear in the hearts of criminals.

Plane crashes into neighborhood CHICAGO — A twin-engine plane crashed Sunday night into three houses, setting one ablaze and killing the pilot, authorities said.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Jet aborts takeoff; 10 injured NEW DELHI, India — A jetliner carrying 185 people aborted its takeoff today after an engine caught fire and plowed off the runway into a field, injuring 10 passengers, the United News of India reported.

Agghan guerrillas down helicopters ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — Afghan guerrillas said Sunday they shot down three helicopters with missiles in eastern Afghanistan in the past two weeks, indicating that the anti-Marxist rebels are getting more anti-aircraft weapons.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Senate tones down anti-drug bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, labeling as "abrupt" the House's demand that the military intercept all drug shipments from abroad, said the only way to search every aircraft crossing U.S. borders would be to start shooting them down.

Weinberger says the military already is "doing a very great deal" to fight drugs, including sharing intelligence data with law enforcement agencies and providing logistical help to other nations for drug raids, as was the case recently in Bolivia.

But Weinberger interviewed Sunday on NBC-TV, "Meet the Press," noted that 76,000 airplanes cross the U.S. borders every day, and "We haven't yet discovered the means to know what's inside each one of them."

To meet the mandate of the House bill, which would require the military to seal U.S. borders against smugglers, "We'd have to start shooting planes down," he said. "I don't think you want your military out acting like local police. I don't."

The House anti-drug bill also establishes the death penalty in major drug sales cases.

The Senate, in a rare weekend session necessitated by a heavy legislative crush as Congress prepares to adjourn for the year, put final touches on its own version of the bill early Sunday.

But the senators backed off from the sealed-border approach and the death penalty provision the House had approved. "Final passage of the bill was put off, and the Senate expects to return to the 81.4 billion measure Tuesday."

Senate passage would send the bill to a House-Senate conference committee to reconcile the differences between the two versions. That panel will try to work quickly so both chambers can pass the same bill and send it to President Reagan before Friday's scheduled adjournment.

The death-penalty provision was withdrawn from the bill even after a majority of the Senate effectively voted for it, and only 14 senators supported expanded use of the measure.

The Democratic-controlled House approved the imposition of the death penalty for persons convicted of large-scale drug sales. A similar amendment to the Senate version was offered by Sen. Jack Mattingly, R-Ga., who called it a good way to deal with "murderous drug kingpins."

An attempt to kill Mattingly's amendment was voted down, 86-25, thereby leaving the provision in the bill, but after winning that key test Mattingly withdrew it for fear death penalty opponents would filibuster final Senate action on the bill.

Local NAACP leaders claimed the county has tried to run off black teachers and hire only white ones.

In the Lamar County town of Burnsville, Theodore Bush, a retired teacher and member of the NAACP chapter that called the boycott in August, said black teachers still get a rough ride.

"The black picture being painted about the shortages is not totally true," said Bush.

"We look for black teachers with all our hearts," countered Raymond Ackridge, district superintendent. "All I'm saying is that we're not coming up with an elementary school you never saw a man teacher. This is the same kind of omission, which is not healthy."

Lindsay traces the shortage back more than a decade.

Local NAACP leaders claimed the county has tried to run off black teachers and hire only white ones.

In the Lamar County town of Burnsville, Theodore Bush, a retired teacher and member of the NAACP chapter that called the boycott in August, said black teachers still get a rough ride.

"The black picture being painted about the shortages is not totally true," said Bush.

Shortage of black teachers hits South

The numbers are important for students as well as teachers, Beverly Lindsay, an associate dean at the University of Georgia's College of Education in Athens.

"Teachers represent authority and power," she said. "Students need someone they can identify with and who represents authority and authority, a role model."

"White students also need to see black teachers," she added. "The need for minority teachers touches a two-sided social issue."

In Georgia's Lamar County, a shortage of black teachers triggered a boycott of the district's three schools by black students in August. Twenty-eight percent of the county's teachers are black compared with 50 percent 10 years ago. Half of the student body is black.

Local NAACP leaders claimed the county has tried to run off black teachers and hire only white ones.

In the Lamar County town of Burnsville, Theodore Bush, a retired teacher and member of the NAACP chapter that called the boycott in August, said black teachers still get a rough ride.

"The black picture being painted about the shortages is not totally true," said Bush.

"We look for black teachers with all our hearts," countered Raymond Ackridge, district superintendent. "All I'm saying is that we're not coming up with an elementary school you never saw a man teacher. This is the same kind of omission, which is not healthy."

Lindsay traces the shortage back more than a decade.

Local NAACP leaders claimed the county has tried to run off black teachers and hire only white ones.

In the Lamar County town of Burnsville, Theodore Bush, a retired teacher and member of the NAACP chapter that called the boycott in August, said black teachers still get a rough ride.

"The black picture being painted about the shortages is not totally true," said Bush.

"We look for black teachers with all our hearts," countered Raymond Ackridge, district superintendent. "All I'm saying is that we're not coming up with an elementary school you never saw a man teacher. This is the same kind of omission, which is not healthy."

Lindsay traces the shortage back more than a decade.

Local NAACP leaders claimed the county has tried to run off black teachers and hire only white ones.

In the Lamar County town of Burnsville, Theodore Bush, a retired teacher and member of the NAACP chapter that called the boycott in August, said black teachers still get a rough ride.

"The black picture being painted about the shortages is not totally true," said Bush.

"We look for black teachers with all our hearts," countered Raymond Ackridge, district superintendent. "All I'm saying is that we're not coming up with an elementary school you never saw a man teacher. This is the same kind of omission, which is not healthy."

Lindsay traces the shortage back more than a decade.

CASPAR WEINBERGER demand 'abrupt'

Army wants you to be in better shape

soliers could pass the test without regular exercise. The Oct. 1, 1986, fitness test is scheduled to provide adequate time to work up to, or exceed, the new standards."

Too early to know whether the soldiers are about to meet the new physical fitness standards, but some of the new standards do represent a significant strengthening of the requirements.

Female soldiers, for example, will have to perform almost twice as many sit-ups as they do now to participate in regular exercise programs.

Each of the nation's military services uses a different physical fitness test and scoring standards, with the Marine Corps' test considered the most difficult in the one event that is common to both services — sit-ups — the new Army standard will match that of the Marines.

And unlike the Marines Corps, which makes its test voluntary for those over the age of 45, the Army is setting mandatory standards for all its soldiers up to the age of 60.

Even a general aged 40 must take the fitness test but need only pass a lower, "go-no-go" standard.

Medical evidence shows that soldiers over 40 can physically stress themselves as much as they will now have to perform 20 push-ups instead of 30 in two minutes, 25 sit-ups instead of 35, and run the two miles in 18 minutes, 12 seconds instead of 21 minutes.

Even a general aged 40 must take the fitness test but need only pass a lower, "go-no-go" standard.

Medical evidence shows that soldiers over 40 can physically stress themselves as much as they will now have to perform 20 push-ups instead of 30 in two minutes, 25 sit-ups instead of 35, and run the two miles in 18 minutes, 12 seconds instead of 21 minutes.

Even a general aged 40 must take the fitness test but need only pass a lower, "go-no-go" standard.

Medical evidence shows that soldiers over 40 can physically stress themselves as much as they will now have to perform 20 push-ups instead of 30 in two minutes, 25 sit-ups instead of 35, and run the two miles in 18 minutes, 12 seconds instead of 21 minutes.

Even a general aged 40 must take the fitness test but need only pass a lower, "go-no-go" standard.

Hidden oil would help — for awhile

WEEKS ISLAND, La. — It takes about 80 cents worth of gasoline to get from the main road to this out-of-the-way wetland on the Gulf Coast of the country. That's at today's average price per gallon. It may soon cost more and more, however, and thus the trip could become increasingly important.

Weeks Island is a Strategic Petroleum Reserve site. It is one of the kind in the United States, four in Louisiana and two in Texas. The federal government stores oceans of crude oil at the installations to assure an easy supply in the event of a market crisis in oil.

The program was initiated in response to the first market crisis, in 1972. The Arab states cut off part of the American supply then, precipitating a quadrupling of costs. That choke hold was not eased until early this year, when oversupply cut the price of oil by half and gasoline by one-third.

Now there are indications the marketplace is on the verge of yet another change. The price of oil is rising again. The Arab states have agreed to trim their exports by 4 million barrels a day, and the Soviet Union has joined the effort to force petroleum costs up at least $4 or $5 a barrel.

There's no telling what might happen after that. Certainly the Arabs would like to keep prices rising for good. Some analysts believe that inflation may set off another energy panic, and U.S. officials would be obliged to do what they could to stabilize the situation.

That means they would probably tap the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. And many more people would be traveling to Weeks Island and the rest of the storage sites. The nation has stashed slightly more than 600 million barrels of crude fossil fuel at the six locations, and more oil is going in daily.

One seventh of the total is kept at Weeks Island. It's floating in subterranean reservoirs. Weeks Island is one of several buried salt domes that lie beneath the marshlands of the gulf, and the oil has been stored in a series of caverns that have been dug commercially by the Morton Salt Co.

Open Forum

Charter editorial baseless, sneering I consider your editorial of Sept. 24 on the meeting to promote charter change both irresponsible and unnecessarily cynical. The proposed charter change which would eliminate the veto power of the Eighth Utilities District is a serious matter and is a subject which should have our honest concern over the next few weeks. To editorialize about that matter in a flip and gratuitously abusive way serves your readership poorly.

Whatever your personal animus toward Mr. Penny might be, to slur him with mean-spirited throw away such as "the acid-tongued spokesman" and referring to his presentation as "a baseless and sneering assault" is neither accurate nor substantive to the subject of the meeting, or for that matter, to the pertinence of your editorial.

The subject of charter revision is going to require all of the air and light that can possibly be brought to it by those of us who are in any position to do so. It is my hope that we will be able to minimize the political baggage and personal animosities that have plagued this matter for as long as our charter has existed. It would certainly be reassuring to feel that you and your worthy publication were prepared to help in a positive way in bringing the facts and the conclusions to the people of Manchester in a fair and unbiased way.

Letters policy The Manchester Herald welcomes original letters to the editor. Letters should be brief and to the point. They should be typed or neatly handwritten, and, for ease in editing, should be double-spaced. Letters must be signed with name, address and daytime telephone number (for verification).

The Herald reserves the right to edit letters in the interests of brevity, clarity and taste.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Open Forum

Charter editorial baseless, sneering I consider your editorial of Sept. 24 on the meeting to promote charter change both irresponsible and unnecessarily cynical. The proposed charter change which would eliminate the veto power of the Eighth Utilities District is a serious matter and is a subject which should have our honest concern over the next few weeks. To editorialize about that matter in a flip and gratuitously abusive way serves your readership poorly.

Whatever your personal animus toward Mr. Penny might be, to slur him with mean-spirited throw away such as "the acid-tongued spokesman" and referring to his presentation as "a baseless and sneering assault" is neither accurate nor substantive to the subject of the meeting, or for that matter, to the pertinence of your editorial.

The subject of charter revision is going to require all of the air and light that can possibly be brought to it by those of us who are in any position to do so. It is my hope that we will be able to minimize the political baggage and personal animosities that have plagued this matter for as long as our charter has existed. It would certainly be reassuring to feel that you and your worthy publication were prepared to help in a positive way in bringing the facts and the conclusions to the people of Manchester in a fair and unbiased way.

Letters policy The Manchester Herald welcomes original letters to the editor. Letters should be brief and to the point. They should be typed or neatly handwritten, and, for ease in editing, should be double-spaced. Letters must be signed with name, address and daytime telephone number (for verification).

The Herald reserves the right to edit letters in the interests of brevity, clarity and taste.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Open Forum

Charter editorial baseless, sneering I consider your editorial of Sept. 24 on the meeting to promote charter change both irresponsible and unnecessarily cynical. The proposed charter change which would eliminate the veto power of the Eighth Utilities District is a serious matter and is a subject which should have our honest concern over the next few weeks. To editorialize about that matter in a flip and gratuitously abusive way serves your readership poorly.

Whatever your personal animus toward Mr. Penny might be, to slur him with mean-spirited throw away such as "the acid-tongued spokesman" and referring to his presentation as "a baseless and sneering assault" is neither accurate nor substantive to the subject of the meeting, or for that matter, to the pertinence of your editorial.

The subject of charter revision is going to require all of the air and light that can possibly be brought to it by those of us who are in any position to do so. It is my hope that we will be able to minimize the political baggage and personal animosities that have plagued this matter for as long as our charter has existed. It would certainly be reassuring to feel that you and your worthy publication were prepared to help in a positive way in bringing the facts and the conclusions to the people of Manchester in a fair and unbiased way.

Letters policy The Manchester Herald welcomes original letters to the editor. Letters should be brief and to the point. They should be typed or neatly handwritten, and, for ease in editing, should be double-spaced. Letters must be signed with name, address and daytime telephone number (for verification).

The Herald reserves the right to edit letters in the interests of brevity, clarity and taste.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Open Forum

Charter editorial baseless, sneering I consider your editorial of Sept. 24 on the meeting to promote charter change both irresponsible and unnecessarily cynical. The proposed charter change which would eliminate the veto power of the Eighth Utilities District is a serious matter and is a subject which should have our honest concern over the next few weeks. To editorialize about that matter in a flip and gratuitously abusive way serves your readership poorly.

Whatever your personal animus toward Mr. Penny might be, to slur him with mean-spirited throw away such as "the acid-tongued spokesman" and referring to his presentation as "a baseless and sneering assault" is neither accurate nor substantive to the subject of the meeting, or for that matter, to the pertinence of your editorial.

The subject of charter revision is going to require all of the air and light that can possibly be brought to it by those of us who are in any position to do so. It is my hope that we will be able to minimize the political baggage and personal animosities that have plagued this matter for as long as our charter has existed. It would certainly be reassuring to feel that you and your worthy publication were prepared to help in a positive way in bringing the facts and the conclusions to the people of Manchester in a fair and unbiased way.

Letters policy The Manchester Herald welcomes original letters to the editor. Letters should be brief and to the point. They should be typed or neatly handwritten, and, for ease in editing, should be double-spaced. Letters must be signed with name, address and daytime telephone number (for verification).

The Herald reserves the right to edit letters in the interests of brevity, clarity and taste.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Recruits needed Attention, bankers: Uncle Sam wants YOU for President Reagan's war on drugs. Unfortunately, the federal drill sergeants who might win the nation's bankers into line are goldricking.

Manchester Herald
Founded in 1881
PHENY M. SEIFERT, Publisher
DORLAS A. REYNES, Executive Editor
JAMES P. BACKS, Managing Editor
ALEXANDER GIBELLI, Associate Editor
DENISE A. ROBERTS, Advertising Director
MARIE F. ABRAHAM, Business Manager
SHELDON COHEN, Circulation Manager
ROBERT H. HUBBARD, Pressroom Manager
JEANNE G. PROMETH, Circulation Manager

On the mend

A photograph received in London today from the Soviet news agency Tass shows the progress of repairs being made to the fourth unit of the Chernobyl nuclear power plant in the Ukraine, which was damaged in a fire and explosion in April.

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE by Dik Browne

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Stan Berry

BLONDIE by Dean Young & Stan Drake

ON THE FASTTRACK by Bill Holbrook

U.S. ACRES by Jim Davis

SHAFT by Bruce Bittles

CAPTAIN EASY by Crooks & Casse

ARLO AND JANIS by Jimmy Johnson

ALLEY OOP by Dave Grasse

THE BORN LOSER by Art Sanson

FRANK AND ERNEST by Bob Thaves

WINTHROP by Dick Cavalli

BRIDGE

Bridge section containing a hand layout and a list of cards.

True confessions

By James Jacoby. Bruce Ferguson of Boise is considering to be the number one player in Idaho and several neighboring states.

Merger leaves workers worried

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — This week's merger of Northwest and Republic Airlines is designed to ensure a strong financial future for the new airline.

BUSINESS

Business In Brief

Munson's notes 40th anniversary

BOLTON — Munson's Chocolates, the largest retail candy manufacturer in Connecticut, is celebrating its 40th anniversary.

Jewelry store joins chamber

J & J Jewelers of 785 Main St., a retail jewelry store, has become a member of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

Grossman's back as family firm

BRAINTREE, Mass. — Mike Grossman has returned to head Grossman's Inc., the home improvement and lumber company.

Meeting pushes dollar down

LONDON — The U.S. dollar opened lower on European currency markets today, pushed down by the weekend meeting of finance ministers of the leading Western industrial powers.

Odd-lot stock sales not a problem

Investors' Guide

William A. Doyle

QUESTION:

Brokers have turned me away when I have attempted to sell stocks I own. I have five different stocks...

ANSWER:

You should be able to do it through a brokerage firm. Most stock trading is done in "round lots" of 100 shares...

After opening my account, I called the discount broker to buy a stock my daughter had told me about.

After opening my account, I called the discount broker to buy a stock my daughter had told me about. There are two stocks with similar names. They neglected to tell me this. I feel they should have done so.

ANSWER:

You're dealing with a discount broker. In order to save commission dollars, most discount brokers do what you've done.

Carbide sale offer stirs little interest

By Pope St. John The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Union Carbide Corp.'s offer to sell its agriculture chemicals division has stirred little interest among investors.

Washington said about 20 corporations were invited to look at the division.

Washington said about 20 corporations were invited to look at the division, but I don't know how many had any interest.

"We probably, like everybody else, took a look. But we're not having any discussions."

"We probably, like everybody else, took a look. But we're not having any discussions," said Monsanto's Glyn Young at the corporation's St. Louis headquarters.

LOOK FUEL OIL 59¢

Senior Citizen & Volume Discounts. THURTY OIL CO. 289-8843

Crossword

- ACROSS: 1 Actor Lugosi, 2 Diaphane, 3 Units of sound, 4 Existed, 5 One or more, 6 Canadian money, 7 Woody, 8 Small mail, 9 Emerald Isle, 10 Sediment, 11 Narrow opening, 12 Radiation measure, 13 601, Roman, 14 Italian river, 15 Snopish bark, 16 Minus, 17 Of the planet Mars (comb. form), 18 Trap, 19 River in the Congo, 20 Most peculiar, 21 2 July, 22 Give up, 23 Abominable, 24 Polynesian god, 25 Leather strap, 26 Sides property, 27 Charles Lamb, 28 Legend cycle, 29 Skilled, 30 Heavy wood, 31 Stockings, 32 Ararat, 33 Month (Fr.), 34 Airline information (abbr.), 35 Cultivator, 36 Hindu deity, 37 Short for Solomon, 38 Atomic number (abbr.), 39 Catches, 40 Billows, 41 Expense, 42 Antipathy, 43 Down, 44 English broadcasters, 45 Electric fish, 46 Tilt, 47 Indian coin, 48 Urns.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Crossword puzzle grid with letters filled in.

Astrograph

Your Birthday

Sept. 30, 1986

Your financial prospects look encouraging for the year ahead. The same people who have been helpful to you in the past will create ways for you to add to your resources.

Bridge

Bridge section containing a hand layout and a list of cards.

True confessions

By James Jacoby. Bruce Ferguson of Boise is considering to be the number one player in Idaho and several neighboring states.

Merger leaves workers worried

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — This week's merger of Northwest and Republic Airlines is designed to ensure a strong financial future for the new airline.

MORTGAGE REFINANCING?

Maybe you have a 12% mortgage. Or one that's even higher. Maybe you have a Fixed Rate Mortgage or an Adjustable Rate Mortgage.

Stock market loses its touch

By Chet Currier The Associated Press. NEW YORK — To judge from its performance over the past year, the stock market seems to be losing its touch as a forecaster of trends in the economy.

Merger leaves workers worried

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — This week's merger of Northwest and Republic Airlines is designed to ensure a strong financial future for the new airline.

MORTGAGE REFINANCING?

Maybe you have a 12% mortgage. Or one that's even higher. Maybe you have a Fixed Rate Mortgage or an Adjustable Rate Mortgage.

LOOK FUEL OIL 59¢

Senior Citizen & Volume Discounts. THURTY OIL CO. 289-8843

FREE Classified Ad

Fill out coupon below (one word per space) and mail: Clearly state name of item and phone number in ad. Price must be included. One item only per ad. Do not use abbreviations.

Manchester Herald

16 Brainard Place

Bolton firefighters open new house

By John Mitchell
Herald Reporter

BOLTON — A blue-and-white balloon on a roof across the street from the town's new firehouse kept the sentiments short and sweet: Congratulations Bolton Fire Department. The sign was created and hung by the owner of the house, Ron Trinks, a firefighter for the Town of Manchester Fire Department. "I know a lot of the guys over there, and I appreciate what they do for me," Trinks said. "I think they do a good job."

Members of the Bolton Volunteer Fire Department, clad in full dress uniforms, listen as local and state officials dedicate the town's new firehouse at Bolton and Center Roads Sunday afternoon. The ceremony, which culminated in the traditional hoisting of the station's front entrance, drew about 300 well-wishers.

The project under way. "I'm very proud of this fire station." First Selectman Douglas Cheney chose to recognize "the keepers of the dream" — the volunteers themselves. He said the station, located at Bolton Center and Notch roads, was the culmination of a 15-year effort that saw six different sites under consideration. "For the townspeople of Bolton, the waiting is finally over," Cheney said.

State Sen. Carl A. Zinsler, R-Manchester, and state Rep. J. Peter Fuscina, R-Marborough, both praised Bolton for having the foresight to build the red-brick structure. "Everything was done to specifications and under budget," said Michael Misari, former chairman of the Public Building Commission, who was instrumental in getting the project under way. "I'm very proud of this fire station." First Selectman Douglas Cheney chose to recognize "the keepers of the dream" — the volunteers themselves. He said the station, located at Bolton Center and Notch roads, was the culmination of a 15-year effort that saw six different sites under consideration. "For the townspeople of Bolton, the waiting is finally over," Cheney said.

Crash leaves town man dead

A Manchester man and a West Hartford man were killed when a car driven by their University of Connecticut fraternity brother collided with another vehicle Friday night in Mansfield.

Scott M. Russell, 31, of 191 Walnut St., Manchester, was fatally injured in the accident, which occurred at about 10:30 p.m. on Route 275. He died after being taken from the scene by LifeStar helicopter, according to a spokeswoman for state police at the Stafford Springs barracks. Also fatally injured was Pierce E. Healey, 23, of West Hartford, who was taken to Windham Community Memorial Hospital in Williamstown. Police said the two men were passengers in a car driven by Robert B. Benson, 21, of Northfield.

All three were members of the Triangles Fraternity at the University of Connecticut at Storrs. Their car, according to police, was westbound on Route 275 near Mansfield and was traveling at high rate of speed when the crash occurred.

Police said the drivers were treated for cuts at the Windham hospital and equipment, and had recently received a low bid of $6,965 to install a system. He said it should function fully within 10 days. The firehouse, which replaces an old structure on Notch Road, has six bays for vehicles, a community room for training and a backup dispatch center. Another fire truck is scheduled to be delivered to the town in December, according to Fire Chief James Preuss. Currently there are five vehicles. Police said the accident is still being investigated and more charges could be filed. Police charged a Manchester man with manslaughter after he allegedly hit a pregnant woman at a downtown parking lot. This station has been a dream of many people in and out of the fire department," he said. "We're all very proud of it."

SPORTS

Red Sox proud AL East champs

BOSTON (AP) — After a tumultuous season, Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd was on the mound at Fenway Park when it counted most. Boyd helped the Boston Red Sox clinch the American League East Division championship Sunday with a 12-3 victory over the second-place Toronto Blue Jays.

The right-hander scattered eight hits — including a two-run homer by Lloyd Moseby in the fourth — and struck out nine. "I wanted to be the guy in there in the ninth inning," Boyd said after achieving a career high in victories in a season marked by a suspension following a clubhouse tantrum in July when he wasn't selected for the All-Star team.

"I'm happy it's finished," Boston Manager John McNamara said. "The players have done an outstanding job. I couldn't be more proud. We met the challenge. They did the things that had to be done to win. Now it's on to bigger things." Wade Boggs, bidding for his third batting championship, walked twice and lined out to right before getting his 20th hit with a two-run single in the fourth. He drove in a third run with a grounder in Boston's two-run eighth inning. He went 1-for-4 as his average fell a point to .352, two percentage points below that of New York's Don Mattingly. The Boston leadoff batter became the first to collect 200 hits and more than 100 walks in a season since Hall of Famer Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1953. Marty Barrett drove in four runs with a bases-loaded walk and three singles, while Baylor had a two-run single in the second.

Baseball roundups | UConn tops Yale | Giants win ... page 13

UConn tops Yale ... page 14

Giants win ... page 15

Red Sox proud AL East champs

Rich Gedman put Boston in front to stay with a double driving in the first run in the second. Barrett got an RBI on his bases-loaded walk, another RBI scored on catcher Eric Wright's fielding error and Baylor singled in two more runs for a 5-0 lead.

"I'll be in New York right now. I might be looking at retirement instead of the playoffs," the 38-year-old Baylor said. "This is just a great feeling."

Barrett singled home another run in the third before Moseby got the Blue Jays on the board with his 21st homer over the Boston bullpen in right-center. An error by shortstop Tony Fernandez paved the way for four more runs in the Boston half of the fourth. Spike Owen worked the home two runs and Barrett singled across the other. Barrett's fourth RBI came in the eighth after Boggs had driven in his third.

Red Sox pitcher Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd leaps into the arms of catcher Rich Gedman after the final out of Sunday's game with the Blue Jays at Fenway Park.

Fans leave alone Fenway Park sod

By Ed Golden
The Associated Press

BOSTON — Tight security and perhaps a reminder of New York's stand after the Sept. 11, 1985, convinced fans at Fenway Park to contain their celebrating to the stands after the Boston Red Sox clinched their first American League East title in 11 years.

"It proves that Boston fans are a lot better than those in New York," said Rich Ahern of Boston's Charlestown section, referring to the Sept. 11, 1985, riot in New York City. "Please turn to page 13." The collapse of Hobeika's trust consolidated Geages' position as the strongest of Lebanon's 1.8 million Christians, who, though outnumbered by Moslems, have traditionally dominated Lebanon politically. Hobeika was ousted from the Lebanese Forces command in January in fighting that left 350 people dead. The Lebanese Forces claimed that Syrian troops and Moslem militia provided active support for Hobeika's thrust.

Red Sox were calm before, after The Clincher

By Bob Papetti
Herald Sports Writer

Later on, when all his teammates were already out on the field for batting practice and pre-game warmups, a lone prezel roll with licorice stick arms and legs slipped into his uniform in private meditation. A park employee encouraged him to "keep on going strong." "That's all I can do," whispered Oil Can Boyd to his locker. And all he could do when it was done was clap his hands over and over. It couldn't have been more fitting for the Can, lathered in shaving cream and dripping with Most champagne amidst a moderate post-game party. "I've had a lot of commotion in my life," howled the man who snapped out a mid-summer night's mare in the nick of time. "But I'm about to kiss everybody in here. I feel a great."

The Red Sox routed Toronto, 12-3, to clinch the AL East Division championship.

MHS gridders come up empty

By Bob Papetti
Herald Sports Writer

The little red light that was flashing on Manchester High's dashboard in the fourth quarter Saturday exposed a tiny drawing of a gasoline can on it. For the Indians, who had kept pace with the visiting Bristol Central Rams for most of the afternoon, the needle was buried to the left and there wasn't a filling station in sight. At the same time that MHS was sputtering, Bristol Central was getting top mileage out of its balanced running attack. The Rams inevitably pulled away with an 18-0 Central Connecticut Conference inter-division football victory at Memorial Field.

East ties Prep — story on page 16

Indians are home again Saturday in their 1986 CCC East Division opener against South Windsor High at 1:30 p.m. "We just got worn down in the fourth quarter," said MHS coach Ron Cournoyer. "They have strong running backs and their size wore us down. In the last eight or nine minutes we had to get out of it and a lot of it was physical." Bristol Central, which evened its record to 1-1 after being routed by powerhouse Hall High of West Hartford, boasts 10 players that weigh at least 200 pounds. Eight of the starters' four-quarter charges are the 205-pound Lavero and 200-pound Damin Tucker — carry the football. Manchester, which dressed only four 200-pounders Saturday, was out-sized and subsequently outscored.

Manchester High quarterback Kelly Dubois is swarmed under by Bristol Central's John Dauphinee during their inter-divisional contest Saturday at Memorial Field. The Rams used their size to wear down the Indians, 18-6.

Obituaries

Sylvia Gottlieb, 60; was ShopRite v.p.

Sylvia Gottlieb, 60, of 130 Richmond Drive, vice president and corporate secretary of Mott's (ShopRite) Supermarket Inc., died today at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the wife of Milton D. Gottlieb.

Sylvia Gottlieb was ShopRite vice president.

For many years, Mrs. Gottlieb appeared as a spokesperson in ShopRite's television commercials. As a result of a statewide survey a few years ago, she was named the state's "most lovable woman," second only to the late Governor Ella Grasso.

Mrs. Gottlieb was known as a television personality who never cracked a smile. The concerns of her company's customers were too serious for her, she explained in private life, however, she was known for her sense of humor. During the 1973 meat boycott, the broadcast news-meat recipes. When sugar and coffee prices went sky high, she advised subscribers. She insisted that her company play a customer-advocacy role.

Beatrice Ambrose of Rocky Hill, four grandsons and five great-grandsons. The funeral will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Rose Hill Funeral Home, 580 Elm St., Rocky Hill. Burial will be in Rose Hill Memorial Park, Rocky Hill. Calling hours are today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Memorial donations may be made to the Rocky Hill Congregational Church, 405 Old Main St., Rocky Hill 06067.

Scott M. Russell, 31, of 191 Walnut St., died Saturday at Hartford Hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Friday in Storrs. He was born in Manchester and was a lifelong resident. He was a senior at the University of Connecticut and president of the Triangle Fraternity. He was a 1983 Manchester High School graduate.

Walter H. Sutton, 86, of Rocky Hill, husband of the late Viola (Shelley) Sutton, died Sunday at home. He was a native of Manchester. He was a contractor-builder in the Rocky Hill area and a developer of its Sutton Road area. He is survived by a son, Gaylord S. Sutton of Rocky Hill; a daughter, Lionel Peter Kucinas, 61, of 84 Maple St., died Sunday at a local convalescent home. Born in Britian on Dec. 8, 1924, he had lived in Lithuania before moving to Manchester 25 years ago. Before he retired in 1984, he worked at Whitney Chain of Hartford for 35 years. He was a member of the Lithuanian Club of Manchester. He was a communicant of St. James Church.

Victor Haugh, 85, husband of the late Lucile (Cheney) Richmond, died Saturday at home. He was a member of the Mayflower Society, New York City Chapter. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War I. He is survived by two sons, Timothy C. Richmond of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Winslow T. Richmond Jr. of Verona, N.J.; two daughters, Marion R. Eddy and Ethel R. Mathers, both of Osceola, Pa.; five grandchildren; and a great-grandson. A graveside service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the East Cemetery, 142 E. Center St., in charge of arrangements.

Winslow T. Richmond Sr., 86, of Chatham Township, N.J., formerly of Rocky Hill, died Saturday in New Jersey. He was the husband of Lucile (Cheney) Richmond. Born in Manchester Aug. 29, 1900, he had lived in town for 30 years. He lived in Summit, N.J., and Chatham Township, N.J., for more than 50 years. Before retiring in 1965, he was a vice president at the Manufacturer's Hanover Bank of New York City where he worked for 35 years. He was a member of the Mayflower Society, New York City Chapter. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War I. He is survived by two sons, Timothy C. Richmond of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Winslow T. Richmond Jr. of Verona, N.J.; two daughters, Marion R. Eddy and Ethel R. Mathers, both of Osceola, Pa.; five grandchildren; and a great-grandson. A graveside service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the East Cemetery, 142 E. Center St., in charge of arrangements.

Victor Haugh, 85, husband of the late Lucile (Cheney) Richmond, died Saturday at home. He was a member of the Mayflower Society, New York City Chapter. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War I. He is survived by two sons, Timothy C. Richmond of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Winslow T. Richmond Jr. of Verona, N.J.; two daughters, Marion R. Eddy and Ethel R. Mathers, both of Osceola, Pa.; five grandchildren; and a great-grandson. A graveside service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the East Cemetery, 142 E. Center St., in charge of arrangements.

John W. Gryk, 60, of Rocky Hill, died Friday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was the husband of Irene (Lavoro) Gryk and a Manchester native. He also is survived by a daughter, Kathleen M. Tenerovich of Warren, Mass.; four brothers, Sherman Haugh of South Windsor, Donald Haugh of Windsor Locks, Ronald Haugh of East Hartford and Raymond Haugh of Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. The funeral and burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The Kania Funeral Home, 105 Oak St., Windsor Locks, has charge of arrangements. Memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Assoc. (William) Haugh, of Windsor Locks, died Thursday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was a Manchester native.

John W. Gryk, 60, of Rocky Hill, died Friday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was the husband of Irene (Lavoro) Gryk and a Manchester native. He also is survived by a daughter, Kathleen M. Tenerovich of Warren, Mass.; four brothers, Sherman Haugh of South Windsor, Donald Haugh of Windsor Locks, Ronald Haugh of East Hartford and Raymond Haugh of Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. The funeral and burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The Kania Funeral Home, 105 Oak St., Windsor Locks, has charge of arrangements. Memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Assoc. (William) Haugh, of Windsor Locks, died Thursday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was a Manchester native.

Victor Haugh, 85, husband of the late Lucile (Cheney) Richmond, died Saturday at home. He was a member of the Mayflower Society, New York City Chapter. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War I. He is survived by two sons, Timothy C. Richmond of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Winslow T. Richmond Jr. of Verona, N.J.; two daughters, Marion R. Eddy and Ethel R. Mathers, both of Osceola, Pa.; five grandchildren; and a great-grandson. A graveside service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the East Cemetery, 142 E. Center St., in charge of arrangements.

John W. Gryk, 60, of Rocky Hill, died Friday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was the husband of Irene (Lavoro) Gryk and a Manchester native. He also is survived by a daughter, Kathleen M. Tenerovich of Warren, Mass.; four brothers, Sherman Haugh of South Windsor, Donald Haugh of Windsor Locks, Ronald Haugh of East Hartford and Raymond Haugh of Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. The funeral and burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The Kania Funeral Home, 105 Oak St., Windsor Locks, has charge of arrangements. Memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Assoc. (William) Haugh, of Windsor Locks, died Thursday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was a Manchester native.

John W. Gryk, 60, of Rocky Hill, died Friday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was the husband of Irene (Lavoro) Gryk and a Manchester native. He also is survived by a daughter, Kathleen M. Tenerovich of Warren, Mass.; four brothers, Sherman Haugh of South Windsor, Donald Haugh of Windsor Locks, Ronald Haugh of East Hartford and Raymond Haugh of Phoenix, Ariz.; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. The funeral and burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The Kania Funeral Home, 105 Oak St., Windsor Locks, has charge of arrangements. Memorial donations may be made to the American Heart Assoc. (William) Haugh, of Windsor Locks, died Thursday at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center, Hartford. He was a Manchester native.

Tolland fight shapes up

Continued from page 1

Tolland Turnpike and Union Street may also have to be demolished if the plans are approved. Camosci said an extension built onto the house would cause sight-line hazards. However, he stressed that the plans are still subject to change and the exact details have not been decided upon. Lankford also charged that some houses would be left within two feet of the reconstructed road, but Camosci said that is wrong.

Walter H. Sutton, 86, of Rocky Hill, husband of the late Viola (Shelley) Sutton, died Sunday at home.

He was a contractor-builder in the Rocky Hill area and a developer of its Sutton Road area. He is survived by a son, Gaylord S. Sutton of Rocky Hill; a daughter,

Walter H. Sutton, 86, of Rocky Hill, husband of the late Viola (Shelley) Sutton, died Sunday at home.

He was a contractor-builder in the Rocky Hill area and a developer of its Sutton Road area. He is survived by a son, Gaylord S. Sutton of Rocky Hill; a daughter,

Walter H. Sutton, 86, of Rocky Hill, husband of the late Viola (Shelley) Sutton, died Sunday at home.

He was a contractor-builder in the Rocky Hill area and a developer of its Sutton Road area. He is survived by a son, Gaylord S. Sutton of Rocky Hill; a daughter,

FIVE 2 HOUR CLASSES IN EACH TWO WEEK COURSE FOR THE HOME COMPUTER. COMPUTER EDUCATION SERVICES, INC. ANNOUNCES TWO COURSES FOR APPLE & COMMODORE USERS. I. BASIC COMPUTING: INTRODUCTION TO WORD PROCESSING, ELECTRONIC SPREADSHEET, MODERN VARIETY OF HARD & SOFTWARE. II. DATA MANAGING & ADV. WORD PROCESSING: ADVANCED WORD PROCESSING, DATA MANAGING, FILE & LIST MAKING, FORM LETTERS & MAILING LISTS, MERGING FILES & PROGRAMS. FOR INFORMATION, OR TO REGISTER, CALL (203) 429-8702. CLASSES HELD AT MANCHESTER Y.W.C.A. STARTING ON: OCT. 13th.

Hurricane air power is for real

By Herschel Hissenson
The Associated Press

MIAMI Make no mistake about it. It was warlike. Top-ranked Oklahoma's infantry against No. 2 Miami's air power. The nasty words and threats that had flown back and forth between Miami, Fla., and Norman, Okla., all week were for real. Saturday's shootout began with Miami defensive tackle Jerome Brown at midfield for the pregame team toss. His arms folded, glaring at Oklahoma's captain, the villain in a wrestling match. There was no attempt at a handshake.

"You're supposed to go out there and smile at somebody who is going to knock you block off," Brown said. "No one's going to intimidate us."

Certainly not Oklahoma. After all, Miami journeyed into the Sooner's back yard last year and whipped them 27-14, although that one blot on the 1985 record didn't prevent Oklahoma from winning the national championship. The Sooners came to Miami seeking revenge and fun in the sun. They got more than they bargained for.

It started with a couple of morning phone calls to Oklahoma's beachfront hotel. Quarterback Jamelle Holwayway got from Brown and fellow tackle Derwin Jones. Brian Bosworth, Oklahoma's All-American linebacker, got one from Miami running backs Melvin Bratton and Alonzo Highsmith.

"I said, 'Mr. Bosworth, this is Melvin Bratton and Alonzo Highsmith with your wakeup call,'" Bratton disclosed. "We thought we were thinking of him and we'd see him at 3:30. He couldn't believe it. We told Coach (Jimmy) Johnson about it and he couldn't believe it. He never had players like us. We're crazy."

Between those phone calls and a brief bench-clearing melee with 1:22 left in the game, Vinny Sonners, the 6-foot-6 senior quarterback completed 21 of 28 passes including a school record 14 straight 20-yard passes and all four Miami touchdowns as the second-ranked Hurricanes scored Oklahoma 28-16.

Testaverde threw scoring passes of 6 yards to Charles Henry and 8 yards to Michael Ivin — the first two just 44 seconds apart — in a 21-point third period that turned a 2-10 halftime squarer into a 28-10 runaway. Testaverde started the game with an 8-yard toss to Alfredo Roberts. "We're going for 12-0," Brown said.

Miami, 4-6, won its 14th consecutive regular-season game thanks to Testaverde's passing and a defense that held Oklahoma's vaunted wishbone, which had piled up 1,002 yards in routing UCLA and Minnesota by a combined score of 101-3 to a mere 276. Fifty-four of those yards came on a third-quarter touchdown pass. More in the fourth quarter when the outcome was no longer in doubt.

"I felt we had to score in the high zone and not turn the ball over. Obviously, that didn't happen," said Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, who saw his team lose two fumbles, throw two interceptions and set up Miami's first touchdown with a shanked 16-yard punt and field that nullified a touchdown pass.

"I thought in the third quarter we gave up too much ground," Switzer said. "Each series they had too short a distance to go."

Miami's first three scoring drives covered 62 and 43 yards. "Our defense just got tired and Miami just had too good field position," Switzer said. "We had to play catch-up, and that's hard for us to do. Whenever Jamelle had to drop back, he's just not big enough to see over their big line."

"Testaverde is the best quarterback we've played against in my 21 years at Oklahoma. Johnson, who was on the same staff with Switzer for three of those years, agrees."

"I have been saying for two years who I thought the best player in the country is, and I'll say it again — it's Vinny," Johnson said. "He's a complete player in that he can control the game with his mind."

"He doesn't just perform. He calls the plays, calls the audibles, sets the plays in motion and performs physically. There's a lot of guys that give complete effort, but Vinny is the complete player in that he can perform both mentally and physically."

Testaverde said he would have to see the films before deciding whether it was his best game. "It was one of my better games, though."

UConn's Jeff Gallaher (1) finds a big hole in the Yale defense during action at the Yale Bowl on Saturday. Teammate Pat Anglim (83) lays a block on Yale's Mike Ryan while the Eli Mike Barry (69) finds himself several steps behind. Gallaher rushed for 106 yards on 26 carries and scored once in UConn's 17-12 victory.

Buddy Zachery kickoff return nullified UConn handles adversity, and Yale

By Len Auster
Sports Editor

NEW HAVEN — While in the next year or two Manchester's Buddy Zachery may very well be the star of the UConn-Yale football game at the historic Yale Bowl, it was not to be this past Saturday. The former East Catholic High School standout had a fleeting moment in the sun — what was there of it — as he and his Eli teammates thought he had an 87-yard kickoff return to tie things up against the Huskies early in the contest.

But, alas, it was not to be. The exciting run that had awakened the other side occupied 25:175 was thrown for a loss by a rarely called procedural call against Yale. That was one of many negative aspects that nullified the Eli as they couldn't take advantage of UConn's good naturedness. "We're going for 12-0," Brown said.

Zachery an All-State defensive back East who doubled as one of the more dangerous aspects of the Eagle wishbone offense, couldn't nullify why his touchdown run was nullified. "I don't know what happened," the well-spoken Zachery articulated. "I don't know why that happened. I got some great blocking, outran the kicker and thought it was six."

What about the rarely called infraction? "I saw the flag (let's) see what happened," said losing coach Carm Cozza, who answered mostly in mayhem. "He (official) said the fourth man was beyond the restraining line." Five men must be lined up 10 yards from the ball on a kickoff. "I hadn't seen before, never," added Cozza.

"I know there are rules but sometimes you have to see if it's valid to be called. From my understanding, the flag was not under until I got into the end zone," said Zachery, who saw plenty of action in the Eli defense secondary.

UConn's only points after that were on a 32-yard Carter field goal with 5:58 left in the third quarter. Otherwise, Husky QB Peter Lane tossed an interception, which nullified it away once, and punter Jim Carriere had one blocked, all deep in Husky territory. That was the extent of UConn's offense.

"I think the defenses tightened up and played better," Jack Cozza said. "That's not unusual when a team scores early. I think the defenses had a lot to do with it." Yale, however, wouldn't benefit from UConn's generous nature.

UConn head coach Tom Jackson, who is now 3-0 against Yale, said he saw the flag right away. "And then not to be outdone we had two guys who did it (on the next kickoff)," he noted. "You don't see it often, but it was a good call."

The flag only derailed the Eli temporarily. Fourth-string quarterback Mark Brubaker, after the commotion had settled down, directed a 15-play, 82-yard drive capped by a 13-yard plunge by Troy Jenkins.

"The Eli's problems, however, were only starting. On the try for the extra point, the snap from center Art Kalman was a bad one. Holder Don Mahike couldn't find center Art Kalman, and his prayer fell harshly in the end zone. That left the Eli trailing 7-6, with 3:56 left in the opening quarter."

They would never catch up. UConn had taken the opening kickoff and pined through the Yale defense. It marched 76 yards in 11 plays with tailback Jeff Gallaher plunging over from a yard out to lead the Eli.

After Yale scored, it took UConn six plays to get it back, this time on a 30-yard scamp up the sideline by back-up tailback Marc Mowtowz. Yale's tackling on this play left a lot to be desired. "Both teams didn't play defense at all at the beginning," said Cozza, who wasn't happy with anything he saw with his 9-2 Bulldogs.

Carter's second PAT made it 14-6 and it looked like it was going to be a rip-roaring, high-scoring entertaining affair that even the occupant of Yale's student might view once in a great while.

UConn's only points after that were on a 32-yard Carter field goal with 5:58 left in the third quarter. Otherwise, Husky QB Peter Lane tossed an interception, which nullified it away once, and punter Jim Carriere had one blocked, all deep in Husky territory.

UConn's only points after that were on a 32-yard Carter field goal with 5:58 left in the third quarter. Otherwise, Husky QB Peter Lane tossed an interception, which nullified it away once, and punter Jim Carriere had one blocked, all deep in Husky territory.

UConn's only points after that were on a 32-yard Carter field goal with 5:58 left in the third quarter. Otherwise, Husky QB Peter Lane tossed an interception, which nullified it away once, and punter Jim Carriere had one blocked, all deep in Husky territory.

Yale's Buddy Zachery (48) makes his point kick during Saturday's action at the Yale Bowl. The East Catholic High School graduate returned a kickoff for a score, only to see it called back.

Jim Carriere had one blocked, all deep in Husky territory. That was the extent of UConn's offense. "I think the defenses tightened up and played better," Jack Cozza said. "That's not unusual when a team scores early. I think the defenses had a lot to do with it."

The Bulldogs did score once, that on an 11-yard option pass from tailback Ted Maculev to tight end Dean Athanasio with 5:36 left. But the Bulldogs' try for a two-point conversion was botched. That left the score at 17-12 and a funny thing happened to the Eli comeback.

It ended. UConn took the kickoff and ran out the final 5:51 on the clock.

UConn 14 0 3-17
Yale 6 0 0-12
Scoring: Gallaher 1-yard run (Carter kick).
Carter 11-yard run (pass failed).
UC 30-yard field goal (Carter).
Carter 32-yard field goal (pass failed).
UC 30-yard field goal (pass failed).

The Jets scored 47 yards for another touchdown for the second time in the afternoon on the turf, frequently being belted just as he released the football.

"I've had tougher days. I've had worse. I've thrown more times and feel about as bad," said Trudeau, who completed 21 passes for 283 yards while tying a 12-year-old club record of 53 pass attempts set by Bert Jones. "Those guys are big and strong and they kept coming. My guys did a decent job against what they were doing but they really came after us."

At 5:11 the Jets led defending AFC champion New England by one game and Coach Joe Walton said the club has a long way to go. "The amazing thing is we haven't put a game together yet. We've had a couple of good games on offense, a couple of good games on defense," Walton said. "I really don't think our team has come together."

It was the defense's turn against the 4-0 Colts, who have scored the same touchdowns all season and came within seconds of being shut out for the first time since 1983.

The Jets, playing without NFL rookie leader Eric Dickerson carried Philadelphia over the previously unbeaten Rams for Buddy Ryan's first victory as coach of the Eagles.

Jason Javorski's three touchdown passes and a defense that stopped the Rams' offense. Dickerson carried Philadelphia over the previously unbeaten Rams for Buddy Ryan's first victory as coach of the Eagles.

Jason Javorski's three touchdown passes and a defense that stopped the Rams' offense. Dickerson carried Philadelphia over the previously unbeaten Rams for Buddy Ryan's first victory as coach of the Eagles.

Typical Giants woeful, but still beat Saints

By Tom Carvorn
The Associated Press

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — The New York Giants have had a bad habit recently of losing games they're supposed to win, and they almost did it again against the New Orleans Saints.

The Giants staged their greatest comeback victory in 16 years on Sunday, rallying from a 17-point first-half deficit to down the Saints 20-17 on a 4-yard touchdown pass from Phil Simms to Zekie Mowatt with 2:03 to play.

"We'd like to go out and play well from start to finish, but maybe it's our trademark," said Simms. "We go out and struggle and then have to come back. At least we do it now more than we used to."

Last season, the Giants played poorly in the early going against Cincinnati and Green Bay and eventually lost.

The Saints put the Giants in a big hole early Sunday, scoring three times in the opening 18 minutes to grab a 17-0 lead. Quarterback Dave Wilson hit Eric Martin on an 85-yard touchdown pass on the third Saints play from scrimmage, and eight minutes later Dalton Hilliard scored on a 1-yard run, capping an eight-play, 46-yard drive set up by a Dave Wyner interception.

Early in the second quarter, a Van Jakes interception set up Morten Andersen's 18th consecutive field, a 27-yard shot that made clock. "The defense — when it had to stop them — didn't," said the glum-faced Cozza. Jackson, on the other hand, was elated that his team handled the adversity.

"Down the stretch the offense moves the ball down the field," he cited. "That's why it's called a team game."

The win was the fourth in a row for Connecticut over Yale, leaving the Eli with a 20-7 edge in the series between the two state schools. The win lifts UConn to 3-0 in the series, but Jackson said he didn't want his team thinking about that. "I want them on the bus thinking about New Hampshire," he said looking to the Huskies' next game in Durham, N.H.

Cozza wasn't encouraged by too much. He did get No. 1 quarterback Kelly Ryan, encased in a lead brace, back on the field. Working mostly out of a shotgun formation, he was 12-for-27 for 185 yards here Sunday. "We had two more occasions when we had three downs and out."

That offensive futility occurred on the first three New England possessions of the second half, and it enabled the Bronco offense, pathetic during the game's first 30 minutes, to erase a 13-8 halftime deficit and force a 27-13 lead.

"It was like two different games looking at the first and second halves," said Denver Coach Dan Fouts. "I'm not sure I can describe it. It was like two different games looking at the first and second halves."

Everything that could have gone wrong went wrong for the Giants," said New York nose tackle Jim Bert. "We could have used that as an excuse. But we kept on plugging."

Actually, the Giants had a lot of excuses against the Saints, especially on offense. Leading running back Joe Morris missed the game because of an allergic reaction to medication, and tight end Mark Bavaro and wide receiver Lionel Waneel were injured in the first half.

Bavaro returned, and so did the Giants. Newcomer Raul Allegre got New York on the board midway through the second quarter with a 28-yard field goal, and Simms got New York close just before halftime.

The touchdown was the first regular-season TD for Mowatt since the 1981 campaign. He missed last season with a knee injury.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

The loss was the Saints' second straight and dropped them to 1-3. "Our football team put out a good effort," said Saints Coach Jim Mora. "We came close. However, we didn't get it done. They are one of the better teams in the league."

Lee Rouson, who gained 77 yards on 24 carries substituting for Morris, gained 97 yards on the next play, and Simms found Mowatt in the end zone on a play action pass for the game winner on second and inches.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

The loss was the Saints' second straight and dropped them to 1-3. "Our football team put out a good effort," said Saints Coach Jim Mora. "We came close. However, we didn't get it done. They are one of the better teams in the league."

Lee Rouson, who gained 77 yards on 24 carries substituting for Morris, gained 97 yards on the next play, and Simms found Mowatt in the end zone on a play action pass for the game winner on second and inches.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

something was going to happen when I approached him and saw his back. We've got to learn to stop making mistakes in crucial situations. This was a critical situation in the ball game because they went right down and scored the go-ahead points.

The Giants needed seven plays to cover the 77 yards. Simms started the drive off with an 18-yard scramble and he kept the march alive with a 17-yard pass to Steve Robinson on a third-and-12 play at the Saints' 20.

Lee Rouson, who gained 77 yards on 24 carries substituting for Morris, gained 97 yards on the next play, and Simms found Mowatt in the end zone on a play action pass for the game winner on second and inches.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

The loss was the Saints' second straight and dropped them to 1-3. "Our football team put out a good effort," said Saints Coach Jim Mora. "We came close. However, we didn't get it done. They are one of the better teams in the league."

Lee Rouson, who gained 77 yards on 24 carries substituting for Morris, gained 97 yards on the next play, and Simms found Mowatt in the end zone on a play action pass for the game winner on second and inches.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

The loss was the Saints' second straight and dropped them to 1-3. "Our football team put out a good effort," said Saints Coach Jim Mora. "We came close. However, we didn't get it done. They are one of the better teams in the league."

Lee Rouson, who gained 77 yards on 24 carries substituting for Morris, gained 97 yards on the next play, and Simms found Mowatt in the end zone on a play action pass for the game winner on second and inches.

The victory was the third straight for the Giants following a season-opening loss to Dallas. It was also their biggest comeback victory since rallying from a 28-14 fourth-quarter deficit against Washington in 1970.

The loss was the Saints' second straight and dropped them to 1-3. "Our football team put out a good effort," said Saints Coach Jim Mora. "We came close. However, we didn't get it done. They are one of the better teams in the league."

New York running back Lee Rouson (22) bulls for nine yards in Sunday's action against the Saints at Giants' Stadium before New Orleans' linebacker Sam Mills (81) moves in to make the stop. The Giants rallied for a 20-17 victory.

Scrappy Broncos lasso, corral the Patriots

By John Mossman
The Associated Press

DENVER — The statistics spoke eloquently. — In the second half, New England managed just 38 total yards, including two yards rushing against a smothering Denver defense.

"For the game, the Patriots, one of the NFL's better rushing teams, had a mere 40 net yards on the ground on 22 carries."

"It was like two different games looking at the first and second halves," said Denver Coach Dan Fouts. "I'm not sure I can describe it. It was like two different games looking at the first and second halves."

John Elway was struggling with white, hitting only six of 18 attempts on the 12-yard line and the Patriots in scoring position with an interception deep in Denver territory. Eason was moving the Patriots up and down the field with short passes over the middle to his backs.

Eason's 5-yard TD pass to Stanley Morgan and a pair of Tony Franklin field goals accounted for the Patriots' only scoring. It would have been even more lopsided by far for some big defensive plays by the Broncos, including three sacks and Steve Foley's game-line interception.

Then, in the second half, it was the Patriots' turn to be inept offensively. They went three straight possessions without a first down. On their next series, they mounted a short drive, but Denver put a stop to it. Linebacker Tom Jackson dumped Cedric Jones for a 7-yard loss on an end-around on second down, and end Ron Jones sacked Eason for an 8-yard loss on third down, forcing a punt.

The slumbering Denver offense, meanwhile, came alive. Elway passed 17 yards to Steve Watson lopsided by far for some big defensive plays by the Broncos, including three sacks and Steve Foley's game-line interception.

Then, in the second half, it was the Patriots' turn to be inept offensively. They went three straight possessions without a first down. On their next series, they mounted a short drive, but Denver put a stop to it. Linebacker Tom Jackson dumped Cedric Jones for a 7-yard loss on an end-around on second down, and end Ron Jones sacked Eason for an 8-yard loss on third down, forcing a punt.

College football roundup

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th 1-2 showdown since the Associated Press poll began in 1938.

MIAMI — The 20th

Bristol Central uses its size to overpower MHS

Continued from page 11

Warren Thurston danced over the goal line on a 7-yard run after setting up the first-down TD by booting up with quarterback Steve Lowe on a 17-yard pass play. The two-point conversion attempt failed, but the visitors had a 6-0 lead.

secondary that Coursoyer looked for its best game of the year. Manchester's best drive — when Albert, running back Chris Gervay and quarterback Kelly Dubois all ran for first downs — left six yards short of a half-down points when the Rams' aggressive defensive line staged a goal-line stand.

The Rams' defense was particularly suffered from a lack of protection up front. The Rams' defensive line was particularly suffered from a lack of protection up front.

"Our offense didn't do much until the fourth quarter," said BC coach Tom Bryant. "But when they scored, we woke up."

The 5-10 senior toted the eighth goal of seven of the final eight plays for 31 yards.

Stats:	MHS	Bris
Offensive plays	56	37
First downs	16	17
Yards rushing	250	277
Yards passing	27	37
Total yards	277	314
Passing	4-9	1-1
Interceptions	1	1
Fumbles lost	2	1
Penalties	6-57	6-57
Punting	3-80	3-80

East Catholic's Steve Gay (49), with T.J. Alibrio holding, attempts a 45-yard field goal against Fairfield Prep that could have won the game Saturday at Mt. Nebo.

Scholastic roundup East streak now at three

HARTFORD — The road was rocky at first with three consecutive losses but East Catholic has found the right direction. The Eagles ran their winning streak to three on Saturday, with a 2-0 whitewashing of South Catholic in ACC boys' soccer action at Highland Park.

Senior Jon Rooney added two goals. One tally was on a rebound of a Dan Callahan drive and the other on a feed from Lawrence.

East received fine midfield play from senior Ed Balda and Callahan, a sophomore. Rooney played his best game of the year.

East, Prep all tied up

By Paul O'Leary
Herald Correspondent

You got the impression that two very good high school football teams were squaring off for a little game.

Both teams ran up yardage and scored under pressure. Both played tough defense in critical situations. Neither team however, could deal the fatal blow as All Connecticut Conference rivals East Catholic and Fairfield Prep battled to a 21-21 deadlock Saturday afternoon at Mt. Nebo.

The deadlock leaves East 6-0-1 in the ACC and 2-0-1 overall while the tie leaves the Jesuits 1-1-1 in the conference and 1-1-1 overall.

Harvard, Dartmouth are routed

By Paul O'Leary
Herald Correspondent

Harvard and Dartmouth made football history, the kind of history they hope to repeat.

Harvard suffered its worst defeat in 22 years, while Dartmouth lost its most points it has allowed in 86 years on a high-scoring Saturday of college football in New England.

Whalers, Capitals in 1-1 deadlock

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. — The Hartford Whalers and Washington Capitals, after a heated game Friday night, were tied 1-1 in the first round of the NHL playoffs.

Washington's Steve Leach and Hartford's Paul Lawless traded goals. Hartford is now 3-2-2 for the exhibition season and will host Philadelphia Wednesday night at the Civic Center in Hartford at 7:30.

Curry loses welterweight crown
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Lloyd Honeygan turned Donald Curry, who generally was considered the world's best welterweight, into a junior middleweight.

Palmer captures seniors crown

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine — Arnold Palmer's eagle on the 18th hole earned him a victory in the $185,000 Union Mutual Seniors Golf Classic, his first tournament victory since June 1985.

Palmer fired a 3-under-par 68 on the final round to finish the 54-hole tournament with a 132-under-par 200, three strokes better than Don January.

Calcavecchia gains Southwest title
ABILENE, Texas — Mark Calcavecchia shot a 71 on Sunday that provided him with a three-stroke victory in the Southwest Classic golf tournament.

Montefusco announces his retirement

NEW YORK — Right-handed pitcher John Montefusco of the New York Yankees, suffering from a degenerative bone disease that has perforated both hips, announced his retirement at Yankee Stadium Sunday.

Montefusco, 38, pitched 13 seasons for the San Francisco Giants, Atlanta Braves, San Diego Padres and the Yankees, compiling a 96-83 career win-loss record. "I'm in pain every day," he said. "I knew I couldn't pitch any more."

McEnroe tops Connors for net title
SAN FRANCISCO — John McEnroe defeated Jimmy Connors, 7-6 (8-6), 6-3, Sunday in the finals of the $289,000 Transamerica Open tennis tournament.

Norman wins million in single season

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland — Greg Norman became the first man to win $1 million in a single golf season Sunday when he led Australia to victory in the final of the Dunhill Cup team tournament.

The Australians retained their trophy with a 3-0 blanking of Japan and shared the top prize of $300,000, boosting Norman's personal earnings for 1986 to a staggering $1,008,000.

FOCUS AARP offers benefits to all people over 50

AARP Roundup Rita Bowler

If you are 50 or older, retired or not, you're eligible to join the American Association of Retired Persons, or AARP. There are savings on hotels, pharmacy products, group health insurance programs, investment programs, to name a few benefits.

Connecticut Northeast Chapter Meets: Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., Kaiser Hall, Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St.

Manchester Green Chapter 2599 Meets: Oct. 9 at 1:30 p.m., Community Baptist Church on East Center Street.

Connecticut Northeast Chapter Meets: Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., Kaiser Hall, Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St.

Manchester Green Chapter 2599 Meets: Oct. 9 at 1:30 p.m., Community Baptist Church on East Center Street.

Connecticut Northeast Chapter Meets: Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., Kaiser Hall, Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St.

Manchester Green Chapter 2599 Meets: Oct. 9 at 1:30 p.m., Community Baptist Church on East Center Street.

Connecticut Northeast Chapter Meets: Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., Kaiser Hall, Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St.

Manchester Green Chapter 2599 Meets: Oct. 9 at 1:30 p.m., Community Baptist Church on East Center Street.

About Town

Realtors have beauty session Marie I. Iako of Manchester, a certified color analyst, will present a program on coloring clothes and cosmetics to the Women's Council of Realtors, Manchester chapter, Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. at Shirley's Restaurant, 1750 Ellington Road, South Windsor.

Hospital has session on arthritis Dr. Michael Passarelli, an orthopedic surgeon at Manchester Memorial Hospital, will speak about arthritis Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium. The program is free.

British daughters have pollack Britannia Chapter, Daughters of the British Empire, will have a pollack lunch at 11:30 a.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Homer Rines, 12 Wind Road, East Hartford. Mrs. Charles VanAnden, state president, will be guest.

Hart students sing for club The Cosmopolitan Club will meet Friday at 1:30 p.m. at Center Congregational Church to hear a musical program by the Boylston and Martha Kayser, graduate students at Hart School of Music, University of Hartford. In West Hartford, the club will make plans and accept reservations for a presentation at the New Britain Museum of American Art, with a lunch at New Britain Holiday Inn.

Masons meet Tuesday at temple Manchester Lodge of Masons will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 271 S. Mainman, 7:30 p.m. at the book store. Bill Olds, executive director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, will speak.

Public Records

Warranty deeds Southfield Green Condominium Corp. to Ronald A. and Pauline Kozuch, Southfield Green condominium, $114,900. James L. and Claudia Monaco to E.F. Boland Jr., Daniel M. Boland, Kenneth P. Boland and Richard Connors, Walnut Street, $225,000.

William R. and Cynthia R. Milne to John W. and Kathleen M. Cadoret, Wilfred Road, $80,000. Dennis M. and Elizabeth M. Roggi to Michael P. Hunt, Northfield Green condominium, $98,900. Vitiato Unlimited Inc. to Peter J. and Kimberlee Casavant, Love Lane, conveyance tax $88.

Thoughts

During my 23 years as a prison chaplain I came to the realization that prisoners are people — people created, according to Scripture, in the image of God — people who have within them a spark of the divine. I wondered if these prison inmates were beyond the concern of our so-called "Christian" people.

Rev. Russell Camp
Prison Chaplain, Retired

Crowning the winner Dr. Joel Reich chooses poster contest winner Joanne Mallma, 7, with a hat marked number 1 at Verplanck School on Olcott Street Thursday. The poster she is holding won first prize in the Manchester Memorial Hospital Emergency Medical Services Poster Contest.

last week. Children in kindergarten through Grade 2 designed and made posters about emergency medical services for display at the hospital. Reich is chairman of the hospital's emergency department.

Bill's crackdown clause to go into effect soon

By Paul O'Leary
Herald Correspondent

What many of the tax-cutting features in the new law won't go into effect fully until 1987, a 21 crackdown provision becomes effective in a few days.

What's more, items that will be used to you will apply in 1987 to transactions that you may have entered into in 1986 or even 1985.

Sylvia Porter
Sylvia Porter, a 51-year-old widow, is the mother of a 19-year-old son and a 17-year-old daughter. She is a member of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Pinocchle scores given Pinocchle scores for the Sept. 18 game at the Army and Navy Club include: Mary Hill 823, Bud Paquin 610, Fritz Wilkinson 605, Svein Scheibel 583, Ann Fisher 581, Ethel Scott 579, Herb Laquerre 577, John O'Neill 571, Margaret Wright 568, Vivian Laquerre 559 and Arline Sharp 546.

Masons meet Tuesday at temple Manchester Lodge of Masons will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 271 S. Mainman, 7:30 p.m. at the book store. Bill Olds, executive director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, will speak.

Pinocchle scores given Pinocchle scores for the Sept. 18 game at the Army and Navy Club include: Mary Hill 823, Bud Paquin 610, Fritz Wilkinson 605, Svein Scheibel 583, Ann Fisher 581, Ethel Scott 579, Herb Laquerre 577, John O'Neill 571, Margaret Wright 568, Vivian Laquerre 559 and Arline Sharp 546.

Masons meet Tuesday at temple Manchester Lodge of Masons will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 271 S. Mainman, 7:30 p.m. at the book store. Bill Olds, executive director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, will speak.

Pinocchle scores given Pinocchle scores for the Sept. 18 game at the Army and Navy Club include: Mary Hill 823, Bud Paquin 610, Fritz Wilkinson 605, Svein Scheibel 583, Ann Fisher 581, Ethel Scott 579, Herb Laquerre 577, John O'Neill 571, Margaret Wright 568, Vivian Laquerre 559 and Arline Sharp 546.

Masons meet Tuesday at temple Manchester Lodge of Masons will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 271 S. Mainman, 7:30 p.m. at the book store. Bill Olds, executive director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, will speak.

Pinocchle scores given Pinocchle scores for the Sept. 18 game at the Army and Navy Club include: Mary Hill 823, Bud Paquin 610, Fritz Wilkinson 605, Svein Scheibel 583, Ann Fisher 581, Ethel Scott 579, Herb Laquerre 577, John O'Neill 571, Margaret Wright 568, Vivian Laquerre 559 and Arline Sharp 546.

Masons meet Tuesday at temple Manchester Lodge of Masons will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 271 S. Mainman, 7:30 p.m. at the book store. Bill Olds, executive director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, will speak.

Births

Vanderhoff, Charles Robert IV, son of C.R. and Sandra L. (Bayles) Vanderhoff of Ellington, was born Sept. 7 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandmother is Frances Litrillo of 60 Hamlin St., Ellington. The paternal grandmothers are Mrs. William Lang of North Kingstown, R.I. The baby has a sister, Stefanie, 15 months.

Gordon, Ashley Marie, daughter of Kevin A. and Valerie (Sabatini) Gordon of 418 Downey Drive, was born Sept. 14 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John T. DeLucco Sr. of 183 Hilliard St. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Sabatini of Albany, N.Y. The baby has a sister, Jennifer, 4 1/2.

DeLucco, Sarah Odette, daughter of Cortine Que-DeLucco and John T. DeLucco Jr. of 228 Woodland St., was born Sept. 12 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John T. DeLucco Sr. of 183 Hilliard St. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Sabatini of Albany, N.Y. The baby has a sister, Jennifer, 4 1/2.

DeLucco, Sarah Odette, daughter of Cortine Que-DeLucco and John T. DeLucco Jr. of 228 Woodland St., was born Sept. 12 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John T. DeLucco Sr. of 183 Hilliard St. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Sabatini of Albany, N.Y. The baby has a sister, Jennifer, 4 1/2.

Advice

...oving father's notes to sons can touch the hearts of all

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READER: Once upon a time there was a young father named Patrick Connolly...

most meaningful to publish as a book. The result is "Love, Dad," the best of these daily notes written by a busy but loving father who had found a wonderful way to communicate with his children...

DEAR DR. GOTT: My wife and I have been married for 25 years. We have three children and a dog. I have always been a very healthy man...

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had cosmetic surgery on my eyes eight months ago and have had really bad daily headaches ever since. My doctor says the surgery has nothing to do with it...

DEAR DR. GOTT: I agree with your doctor that uncomplicated cosmetic eye surgery is unlikely to cause headaches. Because headache is a symptom of so many ailments...

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are the best exercises to keep bone loss (osteoporosis) to a minimum?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am almost any type of exercise will help slow down the process of bone loss.

DEAR POLLY: I am trying to cut back on sugar. Is it true that fructose is a healthier substitute for white sugar?

DEAR ANNE: According to the R.D.A.'s dietary guidelines, Americans should cut back on all simple sugars...

DEAR POLLY: As the holiday season approaches, I'd like to pass along this Pointer. Never wrap fruitcake in plastic if you want to keep it for a while...

Monday TV

5:00PM [ESPN] America's Cup Challenge Down Under: USA Prepares
5:30PM [ESPN] Gillette World of Sports
6:00PM (3) (2) (1) News
(1) The Company
(2) Magnum, P.I.
(3) 20 Minutes or Less

[MAX] MOVIE: "The Magnificent Seven" A cowboy boy rescues the lords of a hard driving gun to make a success. Henry Fonda, Lynn Bari, Don Ameche 1942.
[ABC] MOVIE: "Dusty" An elderly show-biz singer who has been abandoned by his wife and the woman's desire to be free. Bill Kelly, 1950.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Man in the White Hat" A brilliant chemist swears a oath which won't stain, tear or wear out, causing the textile market to panic. Alec Guinness, Cecil Parker 1951.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.
[ABC] MOVIE: "The Untouchables" A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

Table with 2 columns: Category and Price/Details. Includes Notices, Real Estate, Employment & Education, and Services.

Table with 2 columns: Category and Price/Details. Includes Merchandise, Automotive, and Clerical.

RATES: 1 to 5 days: 10 cents per line per day. 6 to 19 days: 70 cents per line per day. 20 or more days: 60 cents per line per day. Minimum charge: 4 lines.

HELP WANTED: Clerical - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 7:30-3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Part time clerical position available in pleasant office environment. Part time 9:00-11:00 a.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Estimator Assistant - General contractor for a person with typing skills, math aptitude, telephone experience, purchasing or computer skills. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Auctioneer - Auction was held on the 3rd August of Rent A Space. Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Secretary - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Child Care - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Management Trainee - Entry level position in growing company that offers excellent training and advancement opportunities. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Sales - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Customer Service - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Anst. Managers - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Cooks - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Dishwashers - Full time position available in pleasant office environment. Full time 9:00-5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Resumes That Work - Individual attention, confidential cover letters, free parking. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Part Time Clerical - Hours 12:30-4:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Typing skills or previous CRT experience helpful. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Telemarketer - Exciting opportunity in national brand name products to major corporations. Knowledge of sales promotions or premisses a plus. Excellent salary plus commission. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Have You Heard The News At The Manchester Herald - You can earn from $5 to $30/hr. or more... Area Advisors work approximately 21 hours per week. Salary plus mileage. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Photography Studio - Full and Part Time Assistants. Career opportunity with CPI Corp. operating studios in over 200 retail stores. Successful candidates will participate in intensive photography and sales training program. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Laborer - Full time for steel fabrication shop. Company paid uniform and benefits. Must have drivers license and transportation. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: West Hartford - A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

HELP WANTED: East Hartford - A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

HELP WANTED: West Hartford - A man goes to jail for a crime he didn't commit. Robert De Niro, Sean Connery 1986.

Memory loss needs checkup

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My wife and I have been married for 25 years. We have three children and a dog. I have always been a very healthy man...

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had cosmetic surgery on my eyes eight months ago and have had really bad daily headaches ever since. My doctor says the surgery has nothing to do with it...

DEAR DR. GOTT: I agree with your doctor that uncomplicated cosmetic eye surgery is unlikely to cause headaches. Because headache is a symptom of so many ailments...

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are the best exercises to keep bone loss (osteoporosis) to a minimum?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am almost any type of exercise will help slow down the process of bone loss.

DEAR POLLY: I am trying to cut back on sugar. Is it true that fructose is a healthier substitute for white sugar?

DEAR ANNE: According to the R.D.A.'s dietary guidelines, Americans should cut back on all simple sugars...

DEAR POLLY: As the holiday season approaches, I'd like to pass along this Pointer. Never wrap fruitcake in plastic if you want to keep it for a while...

Pointers

Polly's Pointers, in care of the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 9128, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to include the title. POLLY will send you a Polly Dollar (1) if she uses your favorite Pointer. Prizes or Problem in her column. Write Polly's Pointers in care of the Manchester Herald.

DEAR POLLY: As the holiday season approaches, I'd like to pass along this Pointer. Never wrap fruitcake in plastic if you want to keep it for a while...

DEAR POLLY: I agree with your doctor that uncomplicated cosmetic eye surgery is unlikely to cause headaches. Because headache is a symptom of so many ailments...

DEAR POLLY: What are the best exercises to keep bone loss (osteoporosis) to a minimum?

DEAR POLLY: I am almost any type of exercise will help slow down the process of bone loss.

DEAR POLLY: I am trying to cut back on sugar. Is it true that fructose is a healthier substitute for white sugar?

WE DELIVER: If you haven't received your copy of the Herald by 5:30 p.m., please call our carrier. If you're unable to reach your carrier, call our office at 643-2711. We'll deliver your copy to your door. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Laborer - Full time for steel fabrication shop. Company paid uniform and benefits. Must have drivers license and transportation. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

HELP WANTED: Laborer - Full time for steel fabrication shop. Company paid uniform and benefits. Must have drivers license and transportation. Call for an appointment 643-2711.

