

TOWN FAIR TIRE... THE BEST PLACE FOR TIRES IN CONNECTICUT!
 * Huge Inventory * Free Services * Great Guarantee
Plus GUARANTEED LOWEST PRICES IN CONN.

27 STORES THROUGHOUT CONNECTICUT

TOWN FAIR TIRE

LOW, LOW PRICES!

...and check out these FREE services!

- FREE MOUNTING!
- FREE BALANCING!
- FREE ROTATION!
- FREE CHANGEOVER!
- FREE FLAT REPAIR!

Alignment SPECIAL!

FREE FRONT-END ALIGNMENT WITH THE PURCHASE OF FOUR NEW TIRES
 WITH PURCHASE OF 2 NEW TIRES
$1000
$1795

PLUS! Every tire sold by Town Fair is backed by our famous "IRON-CLAD NO HASSLE" Guarantee!

FREE! We have selected tires GUARANTEED against glass, sharp metal, deep holes and all road hazards, and it's FREE!

FAMOUS BRANDS! COMPARE US TO ALL OTHER TIRE DEALERS!
 MICHELIN • GOODYEAR • FIRESTONE • DUNLOP • GENERAL • S.F. GOODRICH • ARISTON • UNIROYAL • YOKOHAMA and many more famous brand tires

"GUARANTEED LOWEST PRICE POLICY!"
 "When you're ready for tires, don't sacrifice the quality... performance and guarantee you need. Town Fair Tires, whom you can trust, has a store near you... and there you'll find just the right tire at... GUARANTEED LOWEST PRICES! Don't compromise, Town Fair Tires' experience costs no more."
 "If you find a lower price advertised in Connecticut within 30 days of purchase on the same merchandise... bring us the advertisement and we will beat the price."

MICHELIN XA4
 ALL-WEATHER TRACTION WHITEWALL
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

MICHELIN XH
 WHITEWALLS
 175/80R13 $48
 185/80R13 $50
 195/80R13 $52
 205/80R13 $54
 215/80R13 $56
 225/80R13 $58
 235/80R13 $60

GOODYEAR ARRIVA
 STEEL BELTED W.W.
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

GOODYEAR TIEMPO
 ALL-SEASON RADIAL
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

RETREADS
 "IRON-CLAD NO HASSLE"
 $24.88
 A78x14 C78x14 $24.88
 C78x14 D78x14 $24.88
 D78x14 E78x14 $24.88
 E78x14 F78x14 $24.88
 F78x14 G78x14 $24.88

CORDOVAN
 STEEL BELTED RADIAL W.W.
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

CORDOVAN
 ECONOMY DOUBLE BELTED RADIAL W.W.
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

GOODYEAR BIAS TIRES
 A78x14 $46
 B78x14 $49
 C78x14 $51
 D78x14 $53
 E78x14 $55
 F78x14 $57
 G78x14 $59
 H78x14 $61
 I78x14 $63

GOODYEAR CUSTOM POLYSTEEL
 RADIAL W.W.
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

WHEELS
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95

SPORTS CAR TIRES
 TOWN FAIR DISCOUNTS ONE OF THE LARGEST SELECTIONS OF FINE QUALITY IMPORTED TIRES EAST OF THE MISSISSIPPI!
 BRIDGESTONE • CONTINENTAL • DUNLOP • MICHELIN • YOKOHAMA • ARISTON • SHERWIN
 Better Quality Imported Sports Car STEEL BELTED RADIALS
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

ULTRA-HIGH PERFORMANCE RADIALS
 MICHELIN TRX
 155/80R13 $46
 165/80R13 $49
 175/80R13 $51
 185/80R13 $53
 195/80R13 $55
 205/80R13 $57
 215/80R13 $59
 225/80R13 $61
 235/80R13 $63

GOODYEAR SUPER HI-PERFORMANCE HEADQUARTERS NR-VR SPEED RATED
 A78x14 $46
 B78x14 $49
 C78x14 $51
 D78x14 $53
 E78x14 $55
 F78x14 $57
 G78x14 $59
 H78x14 $61
 I78x14 $63

MONSTER TIRES
 RV RADIALS IN STOCK
 800R • 16.5 • 10R • 16.5 • 12R • 16.5 • 10R • 15
 11R • 15 • 87R • 16.5 • 800R • 16.5 • 12R • 15

WHEELS
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95
 $49.95

Friday, Oct. 3, 1986 30 Cents

Hostages plead for U.S. help

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two American hostages in a videotape released today made an impassioned plea to the Reagan administration to work as hard for the release of U.S. captives in Lebanon as it did for Nicholas Daniloff.
 Islamic Jihad, which holds three Americans hostage, released the 16-minute tape and a statement, which were made available to Western news agencies. There was no way to know whether the men willingly wrote their statements.
 It was the first time Terry Anderson, 36, chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, appeared in a videotape since his abduction in Moslem west Beirut 1 1/2 years ago. Fellow hostage David Jacobson, of the American University Hospital, also appeared, and said their hardships had increased in recent weeks.
 Anderson referred by name to Islamic Jihad's third American hostage, Thomas Butlerland of the American University of Beirut, but there was no explanation why he did not appear on the videotape.
 Both Anderson and Jacobson briefly mentioned the "murder" of another American, William Buckley, a U.S. diplomat whom Islamic Jihad, thought to be a group of pro-Iranian Shiite Moslem extremists, has claimed to have killed.
 The two captives read separately from prepared statements in steady, even tones. They bitterly compared their situation to that of Daniloff, the U.S. News & World Report correspondent held for a month on espionage charges in Moscow before intensive efforts by the U.S. government secured his release Monday.
 "How can any official justify the interest, attention and action given in that case and the inattention given ours?" said Anderson, who like Jacobson appeared pale but physically fit.
 "After 2 1/2 years of empty talk and refusal to act on the part of the Reagan administration it hurts to see the propaganda and bombast with which that administration solved the problem of Mr. Daniloff," Anderson said in his three-minute address.
 Jacobson, 35, in a statement addressed to President Reagan, asked: "Don't we also deserve the recognition, the respect and the honorable treatment by the United States government? Don't we deserve the same attention and protection that you gave Daniloff?"

Democrat Michael P. Meotti, right, made a point following the end of a debate Thursday as his opponent, Republican incumbent Carl A. Zinsner, impatiently awaits his turn. Looking on at left are Ruth Nye of the League of Women Voters, who moderated the debate, and Ralph Gray, Zinsner's campaign manager. The candidates' exchange ended with a handshake.

Zinsner-Meotti debate refuses to end on time

By George Lovng Herald Reporter
 The first debate between Republican Sen. Carl A. Zinsner and Michael Meotti, his Democratic challenger in the Nov. 4 election, saw its sharpest moments after the television cameras were shut off.
 But Zinsner, a Manchester real estate broker seeking his fourth two-year term, said he was the key legislator in providing $13 million for Manchester to help the town repair its sewage treatment plant.
 He said the GOP-controlled Legislature has also passed more than $200 million in tax cuts the last two years, helping people throughout the state.
 "There is more money coming back to the towns than in any time in the state," Zinsner said.
 The debate, sponsored by the Capitol Region East unit of the League of Women Voters, was held in the television studio at Cox Cable Greater Hartford headquarters on Parker Street. The forum was videotaped and probably will be televised on four consecutive nights later this month in Manchester and Glastonbury.
 The debate will also be shown on United Cable Television, which reaches Bolton and Hebron, Cox officials said.
 The liveliest exchange of the evening centered on rules for future debates. It erupted after the two candidates stepped out from behind the podiums.
 During the debate, Meotti contended Zinsner was afraid to field questions from the public. Afterward, he challenged Zinsner to debate him Oct. 8, with questions provided by the audience.
 Zinsner declined, arguing that Meotti was only willing to debate on his terms. He said he was willing to arrange another format, but Meotti refused that offer.
 "The public is my term," Meotti responded. After the two-minute exchange.

Factory cuts push jobless rate higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate jumped to 7.0 percent last month as manufacturers cut 38,000 jobs — twice those created in the preceding month. September's 0.2 percentage point rise ended three months of falling unemployment.
 In all, a Labor Department survey of households said, civilian employment fell by 264,000 jobs.
 The largest jobless increase came among men aged 20-24, rising from 10.3 percent in August to 12.0 last month.
 Today's reports, based on the household sampling and a separate business payroll survey, amounted to rough evidence that the long-awaited turnaround in the lagging manufacturing sector has not yet arrived. Indeed, Allen Sinai commented that, "We're still left asking the question: Has manufacturing bottomed out?"
 The 38,000 factory job loss amounted to a resumption of the downward trend in manufacturing that held through the first half of 1986. So far this year, the nation has lost about 200,000 factory jobs.
 In fact, the overall economy has regained only about 40 percent of the manufacturing employment lost during the 1981-82 recession.
 Employment in the troubled oil and gas industry fell 6,000 last month, bringing to 185,000 those losses this year.
 That means that, since New Year's Day, 25 percent of all oil and gas workers have lost their jobs. Moreover, noted the commissioner of labor statistics, Janet L. Norwood, "since the March 1982 peak employment level (when all oil prices topped $50 a barrel), the oil and gas extraction industry has lost nearly half of its jobs."
 Norwood, addressing the congressional Joint Economic Committee, said the 240,000 overall civilian jobless figure may be exaggerated.
 "The number, she said, is "probably somewhat overstated" because of changing employment patterns among married women.
 She explained that married women, who often leave the labor force at the end of the school year, in 1986 did not do so this year. As a result, there were fewer women to return to the labor force last month.
 "It is possible that both the June decline and the September decrease... were somewhat exaggerated," she said.
 Normally, employment drops sharply in September with the beginning of a new school year; the department's seasonal adjustment process is designed to remove the effect of such predictable occurrences.
 This year, however, because fewer women were re-entering the labor force, the seasonal adjustment may have overstated the September job losses.
 Indeed, the department's survey specifies:
 • Adult men, 6.2 percent unemployment, up from 5.9.
 • Blacks, 14.8, up from 14.6.
 • Whites, 6.0, up from 5.8.
 • Hispanics, 11.1, up from 11.0.
 • Teenagers, 18.7, up from 17.7.
 • Black teen-agers, 37.8, down from 41.8.
 An alternate unemployment calculation that takes into account the 1.7 million members of the armed services stationed in the United States rose 0.2 percent to 6.0 percent.

Reagan: sanctions not 'final chapter'

By W. Dale Nelson The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON — President Reagan is pledging to enforce tough new sanctions approved by the Senate over his veto, while saying he hopes the measures will not intensify the violence and repression at which they're aimed.
 Reagan said Thursday's 78-21 override vote, in which 31 members of the Senate's 53-member Republican majority voted against him, "should not be viewed as the final chapter in America's efforts, along with our allies, to address the plight of the people of South Africa."
 He did not say what other efforts would be made, but an aide speaking on condition he not be identified said an aid package for South Africa's neighboring countries would be likely. The aide said Secretary of State George Shultz is expected to visit the region this fall.
 Despite intense lobbying by Reagan and his aides, the White House fell 13 votes short of the 34 needed to sustain his veto of the legislation that its Senate sponsors said would force Pretoria's white-minority government to abandon apartheid.
 Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., called the bill an "affirmation of the American dream," but Senate Republican leader Bob Dole of Kansas denounced it as "a feel-good foreign policy."
 American civil rights leaders welcomed the Senate action, with Corretta Scott King, widow of assassinated leader Martin Luther King Jr., declaring that her husband's "dream" has been advanced.
 Reagan, suffering the sixth veto override since he took office, expressed "deep regret."
 "My hope is that these punitive sanctions do not lead to more violence and more repression," he said in a statement. "Our administration will, nevertheless, implement the law. It must be recognized, however, that this will not solve the serious problems that plague that country."
 The House, controlled by the Democrats, voted 318-33 on Monday to override Reagan's veto, rejecting an argument that the sanctions would prove most harmful to the blacks they are intended to benefit.
 The new sanctions stop short of ordering outright American disinvestment or a complete trade embargo, but embrace steps designed to convince the Pretoria government to dismantle its apartheid system of racial separation.
 Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., called the bill an "affirmation of the American dream," but Senate

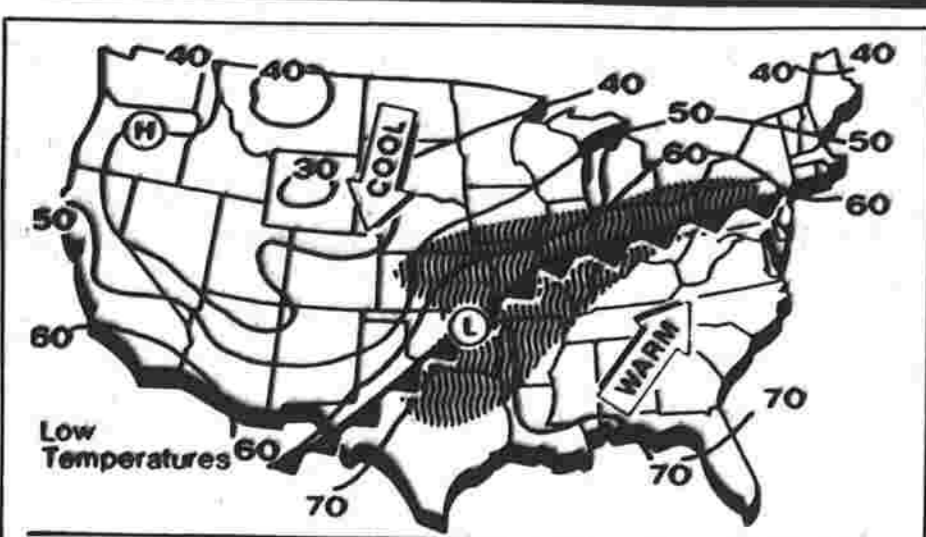

TODAY'S HERALD

Police seek 3 men
 Norwalk police have asked the public for help in finding three men who were seen driving a car away from the area where an 11-year-old girl was murdered last week. Lt. Bob Fabrizio said witnesses have said that a green Chevrolet Impala, model year 1980 or 1978, was seen leaving the Ponus Avenue area in Norwalk shortly after Kathleen Flynn was last seen alive. Story on page 4.

Fugitive dead
 Residents of Wright City, Mo., haunted by the presence of fugitive Michael Wayne Jackson relaxed today after the suspect in a three-state crime spree killed himself when he was cornered by police in an abandoned barn. Story on page 7.

Index
 20 pages, 2 sections
 Advice — 14 Lottery — 2
 Business — 8 Obituaries — 2
 Classifieds — 18-20 Opinion — 4
 Comics — 8 People — 2
 Connecticut — 4-5 Sports — 15-17
 Entertainment 12 Television — 18
 Focus — 11 U.S. World — 7
 Local news — 3, 10 Weather — 2

WEATHER

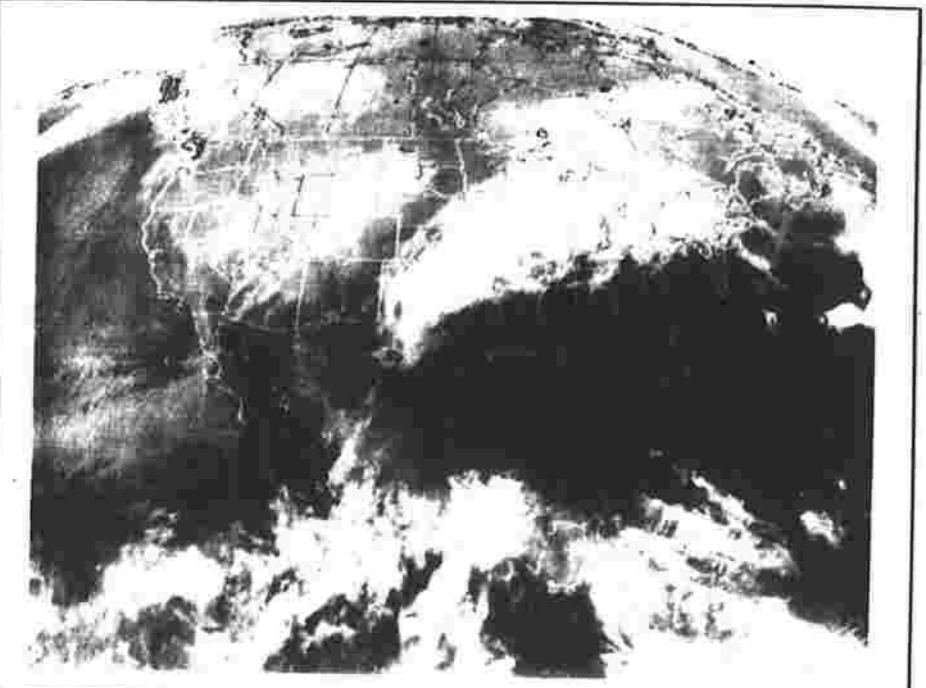

Connecticut forecast

Central: Rain and possibly a thunderstorm tonight. Lows around 60. Chance of rain 90 percent. Becoming partly sunny and breezy Saturday with highs 70 to 75.
Southwesters Interior: Rain and possibly a thunderstorm tonight. Lows around 60. Chance of rain 90 percent. Becoming partly sunny and breezy Saturday with highs 70 to 75.
West Coast: Showers and possibly a thunderstorm tonight. Lows 60 to 65. Chance of rain 60 percent. Becoming partly sunny and breezy Saturday with highs in the mid-70s.
East Coast: Rain and possibly a thunderstorm tonight. Lows 60 to 65. Chance of rain 90 percent. Becoming partly sunny and breezy Saturday with highs 70 to 75.
Northwest Hills: Rain and possibly a thunderstorm tonight. Lows around 60. Chance of rain 90 percent. Becoming partly sunny and breezy Saturday with highs around 70.

Coastal forecast

Long Island Sound to Watch Hill, R.I., and Montauk Point: Winds south 10 to 20 knots this afternoon and tonight. Saturday, northwest 10 to 20 knots.
Seas around 2 feet this afternoon through Saturday.
Mostly cloudy with a chance of rain late today. Rain likely tonight. Considerable cloudiness Saturday.
Visibility lowering to 1 to 3 miles and locally less than 1 mile in rain and fog late today and tonight.

NATIONAL FORECAST — Showers are forecast from northern Texas through the Midwest to western Pennsylvania on Saturday. Warm weather is expected in the South and most of the East.

MORNING CLOUDS — Weather satellite photo taken at 4 a.m. shows the remnants of Hurricane Paine over Central Texas. Strong flood-producing thunderstorms are visible over much of the Central Plains. Layered clouds extend eastward from the Plains to the Northeast. Patchy low and middle clouds obscure much of the Rockies.

PEOPLE

The Everly walk

The 1,834th star embedded in the Hollywood Walk of Fame has been dedicated to The Everly Brothers, who recorded such hits as "Bye Bye Love" and "Wake Up, Little Suede."
About 1,000 people, including rock singer Tom Petty, showed up for Thursday's dedication.
"The Everly Brothers have been an important influence on music," Petty said. "Their harmonies were groundbreaking."
Don and Phil Everly first hit the pop music charts in 1957 with "Bye Bye Love." During the next five years, they produced a hit record every three months and their popularity peaked in 1960 with "Cathy's Clown."

PHIL (LEFT) AND DON EVERLY, 1,834th star in Hollywood Walk of Fame

Chapin recalled

Harry Belafonte says singer Harry Chapin would have raised millions of dollars for African famine relief had he not been killed in a traffic accident.
"I think Harry Chapin would perhaps have been the eye of the hurricane," Belafonte testified Thursday at a hearing in New York of a negligence lawsuit filed by Chapin's wife, Sandra.
"He would have been truly pivotal in being able to talk with, interpret for artists who came only with passion but with perhaps no basis in information."
Chapin, who had hits with the songs "Taxi" and "Cat's in The Hat," was active in the Hunger Project, an organization fighting world hunger, before his death.

Chapin was 38 when he was killed in the 1981 collision involving his car and a truck owned by Supermarkets General Co. His widow filed suit in federal court against the company.

Long swim ends

From now on, swimming will be just for fun, says 75-year-old Gus Brickner, who has recorded 38,500 miles in the water, more than any living human being.
"I've swum the equivalent of around the world and more than halfway back," Brickner said. "I'd like to be remembered as the living legend of Pittsburgh rivers."

Books and power
David Rockefeller urged members of the power elite to chip in toward a $307 million fund-raising campaign for the New York Public Library.
The library already has raised $170 million toward its goal, according to its chairman, Andrew Haskell, who announced the campaign Thursday at a special meeting of the library's board of trustees.
Contemplating the value of $307 million, Rockefeller, chairman of the New York City Partnership, quipped, "In my family, at least, that's a lot of money."
Nonetheless, Rockefeller, who personally donated somewhere between $2 million and $5 million to the campaign, exhorted his colleagues from industry to exceed the library's goal.
The audience included authors, actors and top city officials alongside presidents, chairmen and chief executive officers from Fortune 500 corporations.
Library officials said the money would be used during the next five years to restore books and buildings, extend hours and to burrow beneath Bryant Park to create a new central research library — to carve out new space for the library's stacks.

The Hungry Dragon

A solar eclipse will be visible today in much of North America, as the Moon passes directly between the Earth and the Sun. According to legend, a solar eclipse in 2136 B.C. caused pandemonium in China. The Chinese believed a hungry dragon was eating the Sun. Ever resourceful, the Chinese frightened the dragon away by beating drums and banging gongs. However, the Emperor's Imperial Astronomers were beheaded for their failure to warn people of the dragon's approach.
DO YOU KNOW — What configuration of the Earth, Sun and Moon causes a lunar eclipse?
THURSDAY'S ANSWER — Mohandas Gandhi was assassinated in 1948.
10-3-86 — Knowledge Unlimited, Inc. 1986

A Newspaper in Education Program Sponsored by The Manchester Herald

Almanac

Today is Friday, Oct. 3, the 276th day of 1986. There are 89 days left in the year. The Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, begins at sunset.
Today's highlight in history: On Oct. 3, 1863, President Lincoln declared the last Thursday in November Thanksgiving Day. (The holiday would move to the third Thursday of November in 1939 before Congress would move it to its present location: the fourth Thursday of November.)
On this date: In 1922, Rebecca L. Felton of Georgia became the first woman to be seated in the U.S. Senate. Felton, a Democrat, was appointed to serve out the remaining term of Thomas E. Watson. In 1941, Adolf Hitler delivered a speech in Berlin in which he said Russia had been broken and would "never rise again."
In 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt established the Office of Economic Stabilization and authorized controls on farm prices, rents, wages and salaries.
In 1944, during World War II,

U.S. troops cracked the Siegfried Line north of Aachen, Germany.
In 1955, "Captain Kangaroo" and "The Mickey Mouse Club" premiered on CBS and ABC.
In 1961, "The Dick Van Dyke Show," also starring Mary Tyler Moore, made its debut on CBS television.
In 1962, astronaut Wally Schirra blasted off from Cape Canaveral aboard the Sigma 7 on a nine-hour flight.
In 1974, Frank Robinson was named major league baseball's first black manager as he was put in charge of the Cleveland Indians.
One year ago: In a speech to French lawmakers, Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev proposed separate talks with France and Britain on arms control in Europe. Paris and Moscow both rejected the proposal.
Today's birthdays: Author Gore Vidal is 61. Actress Madlyn Rhue is 52. Rock-and-roll star Chubby Checker is 45. Sen. Jeff Bingaman, D-N.M., is 43. All-star outfielder Dave Winfield is 35.

On the Light Side

How much Dutch is really too much?
HOLLAND, Mich. — Leaders in this southwest Michigan city, which prides itself on its Dutch heritage, are trying to decide how much Dutch is too much.
Despite falling to carry the Dutch contingent, the Holland city council voted 5-4 to post signs at the city limits that say "Welkom" rather than "Welcome."
Six of the council members are of Dutch origin, but only three wanted to engrave the signs with authentic controls on farm prices, rents, wages and salaries.
Councilman Phillip Tania, who voted against "Welkom" despite his heritage, said city officials

Lottery

Connecticut daily: Thursday: 187 Play Four: 8511

Manchester Herald

USPS 327-500 VOL. CVI, No. 3
Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Publishing Co., 18 Branford Place, Manchester, Conn. 06840
Second class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 591, Manchester, Conn. 06840
Suggested carrier rates are $1.50 weekly, $6.50 for one month, $18.25 for three months, $38.50 for six months and $77.00 for one year. Mail rates are available on request.
To place a classified or display advertisement, or to report a new item, story or picture idea, call 643-2711. Office hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.
The Manchester Herald is a member of the Associated Press and a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

SEN. CARL A. ZINSSER CHALLENGER MICHAEL P. MEOTTI... cites sewer improvement funds ... 'people' programs are needed

Debate refuses to end

Continued from page 1
exchange, both candidates shook hands, but neither appeared pleased.
During the videotaped half-hour of questioning by reporters from local newspapers, one thing Zinsser and Meotti stressed: different approaches on what billing drug abuse.
Zinsser said greater police enforcement is needed. He pointed to a bill he supported in the last session of the General Assembly that imposes the death penalty for those convicted of selling drugs to someone who dies from an overdose.
"I elected again, he said, he would support increased funding and expanded powers to help the state police in their drug prevention efforts. "If someone's rights gets upset in doing it, that's unfortunate," Zinsser said.
Meotti said the best way to combat drug abuse is by educating young people about the dangers of illegal substances. While stronger enforcement measures are also needed, he said the demand for drugs was the key to solving the problem.
Meotti said he would favor giving state aid to towns to help them buy and preserve open space and recreational areas. Zinsser pointed to an amendment he sponsored in the last legislative session that created a 19-mile hiking trail on a railroad right of way from Manchester to Columbia as an example of his commitment to the environment.
Zinsser said he supported a bill earlier this year that would have guaranteed the Eighth Utilities District in Manchester the power to veto a proposal to consolidate its services with the town. Meotti said he would leave it to Manchester residents and officials to work out the current dispute over how and if the Eighth District should be consolidated with the town of Manchester. It is a local issue, he said.
Asked about taxes, Zinsser reiterated his opposition to a state income tax, but said changes would be needed in light of the federal tax bill passed by Congress. He said that for one thing, the governor must decide whether the tax on dividends and interest constitutes a type of income tax.
Meotti said he does not think an income tax is necessarily the answer and offered no proposal to change the state's tax structure.

Second forum on, but not third

Republican Carl A. Zinsser and Democrat Michael Meotti will hold a debate next Wednesday in which the questions are provided by the public. However, Zinsser has declined, preferring instead to have reporters ask the questions.
Gray said this morning that if voters did the queuing, the debate might become a free-for-all in which the candidates could "stack" the audience.
However, Nicholas Pindiris, Meotti's campaign manager, said this morning that he is the chance the candidates must take to give the public the opportunity to ask questions.
"If they (the public) are not allowed to ask the questions (at a debate), when will they be allowed to ask the questions?" Pindiris said.
Pindiris said Meotti is willing to debate at any time, but only on these terms. Because Zinsser is not willing to agree to that format, Pindiris said Meotti's side will no longer take the initiative to schedule a third debate.

Campaign Notes

Tadic manages Tucce's campaign
Mary Tadic has been named campaign manager and treasurer for the campaign of John Tucce, who is seeking election as state representative from the 12th Assembly District in Manchester.
Tadic, Tucce's sister, is a certified public accountant employed by United Technologies Corp. She lives on Fleming Road.
Tucce is seeking to unseat Democratic incumbent Rep. James McCavanaugh, D-Manchester. McCavanaugh is seeking his third term.

Zinsser to open 'his headquarters'

State Sen. Carl Zinsser, R-Manchester, announced that his Zinsser Committee Headquarters will have an open house Tuesday, Oct. 7, starting at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served.
The Zinsser headquarters is located in the Watkins building on Main Street, Manchester, in rooms 3 and 4 on level H. The Purnell Place entrance is the one to use.
Zinsser is seeking his fourth term as state senator. His opponent in the 4th Senatorial District is Democrat Michael Meotti of Glastonbury. The district comprises Manchester, Glastonbury, Hebron, Bolton, and Columbia.

Wilson would end conveyance tax

Edward J. Wilson, the independent candidate in Manchester's 13th Assembly District, said that if he is elected he will seek to eliminate the state's real estate conveyance tax and return the money collected to it to the house sellers who have paid it.
Wilson said he thinks the tax is unconstitutional because it taxes home sellers for money they did not receive.
Wilson said that if someone sells a house for $80,000, the seller must pay the tax on the full $80,000 even if there was a mortgage of $20,000 on the property and the seller received only $60,000.
The tax is collected by town clerks and turned over to the state. On Wednesday, the tax rate dropped from 0.05 percent to 0.045 percent of the sale price.

NEW LAW OFFICE

TIMOTHY R. O'NEIL wishes to announce the opening of his office for the general practice of law at 229 East Center Street, Manchester
Attorney O'Neil is a graduate of East Catholic High School, The University of Connecticut and Western New England College, School of Law. He can be reached for appointment by calling 648-8886.

Route 6 permit decision may spark suit by DOT

By George Lovno Herald Reporter
If the New England branch of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers requires the state to conduct a second in-depth study of the environmental effects of the proposed Route 6 highway, the decision could be reversed by the Corps' Washington headquarters, a Corps official said this morning.
But Richard Roach, chief of enforcement for the Corps' New England office, said such a reversal would be very unlikely.
"It is rare — indeed almost unprecedented," Roach said. It is a longstanding policy to allow the branch decision to stand and national officials are "extremely reluctant" to overturn it. Roach said the Corps is expected to make its final decision Thursday on whether to require a Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement for the highway. If a new study is ordered, it could delay the eventual building of the highway by up to two years and, if opponents are correct, kill the entire $170 million project.
Preliminary recommendations by Corps staff members said an SEIS should be ordered. The DOT and federal highway officials are scheduled to meet Thursday in hopes of convincing the Corps that some supplemental data they supplied for the DOT's original Environmental Impact Statement is sufficient.
The information about the environmental effects of the proposed 11.8-mile expressway, which would extend from Bolton North to Windham, will be used by the Corps to make a decision on issuing a permit to the DOT to fill wetlands. The permit is one of the last remaining hurdles before construction can begin.
If the New England Corps decides to require an SEIS and national Corps officials in Washington decide to let that decision stand, the DOT can file a lawsuit in federal court, Roach said. The suit would have to be filed under the Administrative Procedures Act on the grounds that the decision of the Corps was arbitrary or capricious, he said.
John F. Brynes, the DOT's director of environmental planning, said today no decision has been made by the DOT as to what it will do if the Corps requires an SEIS. He said any action would depend on the basis of the Corps' decision.
Roach said the federal Environmental Protection Agency can veto a Corps decision to issue a permit, but it cannot veto a decision denying a permit.
Roach said if the DOT does file a lawsuit to overturn a Corps decision requiring an SEIS and wins, it "could get lost in the shortcut and never get out of the woods." He explained that the highway's opponents could also bring suit claiming that the Corps did not act properly.
"The worst thing you can do is embroil yourself in these lawsuits," he said. In a case decided last year in which the Corps allowed the Maine DOT to build a highway, opponents appealed and won, prompting the judge to invalidate the wetlands permit until an SEIS was done, Roach said.
Roach said it might be best to conduct an SEIS instead of appealing a decision by the Corps requiring one. "It might get you there quickly, or it might get you back," he said of a challenge.

Cycle plates spur dispute

Hersherberger wants one for each registration
In his latest battle against what he says is discrimination against motorcycleists, the Rev. Robert W. "Kaiser" Hersherberger charged today that the state Department of Motor Vehicles is harassing him by not giving him two special hand-painted license plates for his motorcycles.
"Basically, this is all it is — harassment," Hersherberger said this morning after trying unsuccessfully on Thursday to obtain two plates. He said that under a state law that took effect Wednesday, a license plate should be provided to handicapped motorcycleists for each bike they have registered.
The DMV sees it differently. Spokesman Donald Byers said today that the law provides for one handicapped plate per person. "Our legal people say only one," Byers said. Hersherberger, however, is determined to challenge that interpretation, and is prepared to risk being arrested for his case before a judge. "I know that I will win," he said.
Hersherberger, 58, lost a leg in a 1972 motorcycle accident at the intersection of Church and Main streets in Manchester. Since that time, he has been at the forefront of efforts to guarantee equal rights for motorcycleists and handicapped motorcycleists.
He is the head of the Manchester Mission Church of Bikers, a group he formed that sees and advocates motorcycleing as a religion. Hersherberger was instrumental in getting the General Assembly to pass a law earlier this year that allowed motorcycleists to obtain handicapped license plates.
Hersherberger said he needs two plates because he has two motorcycles. According to his interpretation of the law, a handicapped license plate should be issued for each bike that is registered.
On Thursday, he received only one license plate. Hersherberger said he will put it on the motorcycle he uses less frequently, and park his other bike in handicapped parking zones in hopes of getting tickets.
Byers said the DMV is waiting a ruling from the state attorney general's office, and may change its stand. He said he is confident when that ruling would be issued, Hersherberger does have a separate handicapped parking access card that would allow him to park any motorcycle in a space reserved for the handicapped. Byers said the problem is that those cards were meant to put on the windshield of automobiles — something impossible for motorcycleists, Byers said.

Low pay keeps town positions vacant

By George Lovno Herald Reporter
As the town continues to pile up in the Manchester Public Works Department because there is no town engineer, the Board of Directors will consider a proposal to draw new applicants by offering more money.
Personnel Officer Linda M. Parry is proposing that the town increase the salary range from between $35,525 and $40,230 to between $35,133 and $44,358. The position has been advertised twice, but fewer than five candidates were eligible in the first round, and only three new applications were received in the second. Parry said.
"Review of salaries paid for similar work in other Connecticut municipalities indicates that the salary range for the position is not competitive," she said in a memo to Assistant Town Manager Steven R. Werberner.
The town engineer's position became vacant in May when Walter Senkow was fired for alleged sexual harassment of a female co-worker. Senkow admitted to placing pornographic material on the desk of the female worker, but he said he did so only to cheer her up.
Senkow challenged his dismissal, and a settlement was reached with the town in August that allowed Senkow to resign.
Public Works Director George Kandras said the absence of a

FERRANDO ORCHARDS

APPLES
MacIntosh, Cortland, Macouna, Red and Golden Delicious, Bosco Pinks, Fresh Apple Cider, Pumpkin
Glastonbury
Open 7 Days a week.
222 Birch Mt. Rd., 1/2 mile beyond Vito's

WHY IS THE EIGHTH DISTRICT IN THE SEWER BUSINESS?

It does not have a Sewer Treatment Plant.
It does not have a long range sewer development plan.
It does not qualify for State or Federal funds for sewer improvements.
It does not even read its own sewer meters.
Yet the "8th" continues to cause dispute and conflict over sewer plans of the town for the Buckland area.
Vote YES Question 4 —
End the needless and expensive conflict!
THE COMMITTEE FOR CHARTER REVISION
Paid for by the Committee for Charter Revision.
R. Carter, Treasurer

CLASSIFIED ADS need to get results

Prove it to yourself by calling the classified department to place your ad today! Call 643-2711 for assistance.

Manchester Herald

A New Season of Art

We have a variety of paintings priced just for you.
Featuring by Oct. James Brennan
Distinctive Gallery
280 Burnside Avenue East Hartford, CT 06108 (across from Martin Park) 528-9769
Hours: Sat.-Sun. 10:00-6:00pm

Connecticut In Brief

SNET hires temporary workers

NEW HAVEN — Temporary workers for Southern New England Telecommunications Corp. began work today as the company attempts to improve telephone operator service that has been curtailed because of the strike.

Nine Yale protesters suspended

NEW HAVEN — Nine Yale University students who occupied the school's investment office during a protest have been suspended by the university's Executive Committee.

Paper argues for autopsy release

HARTFORD — A dead person has no right to privacy and autopsy records must be made public unless there is "a compelling public interest against disclosure," says a newspaper's lawyer in arguments before the state Supreme Court.

Norwich Bulletin attorney Steven Spellman told the justices Thursday that even if the deceased person's family objects to releasing an autopsy report, the public's right to know outweighs that position.

Prosecutors seek limits on judges

WALLINGFORD — State prosecutors have said they intend to ask the General Assembly to limit the power of judges to dismiss criminal cases.

Hartford Hotel to be demolished

HARTFORD — The Hartford Hotel, home to 110 of the capital's poorest residents until last week, will be demolished because the cost of repairing structural damage is too high, a lawyer for the owner says.

State issues meningitis warning

WEST HAVEN — Nearly 100 children who attend a city day care center may have been exposed to a bacteria strain that causes a form of meningitis, although it is unlikely they will develop the illness, a health official said.

ACURA
1985 Olds Cutlass S, 2.0L, AC	$9995
1985 Toyota Tercel AT, AC, 2.0L	$7295
1984 Buick Skylark S, 2.0L, AC	$6795
1981 Toyota Corolla S, 2.0L, AC	$3995
1983 Honda Accord L, 2.0L, AC	$7395
1982 Nissan Stanza S, 2.0L, AC	$4895
1984 Honda Prelude S, 2.0L, AC	$7495
1985 Honda Accord S, 2.0L, AC	$6895
1986 Acura Legend S, 2.0L, AC	$17,495

SCHALLER
ACURA
347 Central Street, Manchester
643-7037

No walk police seek 3 in slaying

NORWALK (AP) — Police have asked the public for help in finding three men who were seen driving a car away from the area where an 11-year-old girl was murdered last week.

Sketches released by Norwalk police show two of three men being sought as suspects in connection with the death of 11-year-old Kathleen Marie Flynn last week near Ponus Ridge Middle School.

State files suit against famine charity

HARTFORD (AP) — The state of Connecticut has filed suit against the USA for Africa Foundation in Hartford Superior Court because the charity failed to file the proper financial disclosure statement.

The foundation sponsored the coast-to-coast human chain to raise money for the homeless and hungry in the United States.

Effect of Trident competition unknown

WASHINGTON — The Navy doesn't know yet whether it would save money by competing for Trident contracts because of a federal law encouraging competition in defense contracts.

Electric Boat now is the only shipyard in the nation building the ballistic-missile submarines and shares contracts for attack submarines with Newport News.

Dodd beats challenger to a drug test

HARTFORD — Republican U.S. Senate candidate W. Eddy challenged Democratic incumbent Christopher J. Dodd to undergo a drug test, but Dodd had already beat him to the punch.

David A. Narasavage of the congressional attending physician.

TRI-CITY FUELS
WE'RE NEW!
WE NEED YOUR BUSINESS!
ONE MONTH OF FREE OIL
80 West Road (next to Moser Dairy Store)
Ellington, CT • 875-7227

CEC COMPUTERS
ANNOUNCES TWO COURSES FOR APPLE & COMMODORE USERS
I. BASIC COMPUTING:
INTRODUCTION TO: WORD PROCESSING, HOME ACCOUNTING, GRAPHICS, ELECTRONIC SPREADSHEET, MODEMS, VARIETY OF HARD & SOFTWARE
II. DATA MANAGING & ADV. WORD PROCESSING:
ADVANCED WORD PROCESSING, DATA MANAGING, FILE & LIST MAKING, FORM LETTERS & MAILING LISTS, MERGING FILES & PROGRAMS
FOR INFORMATION, OR TO REGISTER, CALL (203) 429-8702 or 1-800-334-0854 ext. 869
CLASSES HELD AT: MANCHESTER Y.W.C.A.
STARTING ON: OCT. 13th

Cardiologist's son testifies in court

HARTFORD (AP) — The nine-year-old son of Dr. Russell F. Manfredi has testified about notes he found in his parents' bedroom the night his mother was bludgeoned to death.

This restored 1971 Porsche, valued at about $20,000, was destroyed by fire at about 5 p.m. Thursday. The owner of the car, Stanley McMillen of 811 Goose Lane, Coventry, was pulling out of the parking lot at Shady Glen on East Middle Turnpike when the car stalled and somehow caught fire. Wally Simon of Simon Sports Car Center in Bolton said his repair garage had spent 18 months restoring the car. McMillen was not injured in the fire.

Dodd is assured on pipe hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Christopher J. Dodd, D-Conn., said the chairman-designate of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has assured him she will hold a public meeting in Connecticut about a controversial gas pipeline proposal.

Education bill boost for state students

WASHINGTON — Connecticut college students who pay their tuition with the aid of government loans and grants received good news when Congress approved legislation allowing individuals to borrow more low-interest money to pay their education bills.

This is good news for Connecticut, said Jene Rossi, a spokesman for the state's Washington office.

Take a Look
Meet our new sports figure.
SALE ENDS OCT. 8th
2.9% Annual Percentage Rate
SALE PRICE $11,199
36 Months
Rebate OR Financing
MORRIARY BROTHERS
301-315 CENTER STREET
MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT
643-5135

OPINION

Free speech for some, but not all?

Universities, perhaps more than any other American institution, have a responsibility to foster freedom of expression.

Without such freedom, diverse ideas will not be exchanged and learning is stifled. Lacking the resources to learn, students, faculties and entire communities will fail to grow, and the nation will eventually become intellectually and morally stagnant.

So it was only appropriate that the new president of Yale University encouraged a student placed on probation for satirizing a gay rights event to challenge his punishment on First Amendment grounds.

But given recent events, one has to question Yale President Benno C. Schmidt's motives in offering encouragement to junior Wayne Dick. Were they based on a commitment to free speech, or did they merely represent the sanctification of gay-bashing?

Dick, 20, was placed on probation in May after a leader of the university's gay community complained to a disciplinary committee that he was being harassed by the distribution of material Dick had written.

The complaint stemmed from posters Dick placed around the New Haven campus advertising a fictional "Bestiality Awareness Days (BAD) Week," a takeoff on the annual Gay and Lesbian Awareness Days observed on campus and known as GLAD. The posters listed fictional lectures and speakers, including names similar to those of two gay activists on campus.

One of the activists traced the posters to Dick and filed a complaint with the Executive Committee of Yale College, which placed Dick on probation for two years. Dick, who said he believes homosexuality is immoral, charged that the prohibition had denied him the right to free expression as guaranteed under guidelines adopted by the university in 1975.

Schmidt, who was installed as Yale's president last month, agreed. So did the dean of the Yale Law School and a retired Yale professor who helped draft the guidelines. The professor, Pulitzer Prize-winning historian C. Vann Woodward, said the guidelines were meant to "permit saying the unsayable and challenging the unchallengeable."

Woodward said the guidelines do not encourage slurs on the basis of race, ethnic origin or sex. But they do hold that freedom of speech can take precedence over civility and mutual respect in the university community, he said.

"When there is a conflict, free speech comes first, however shocking or angry or insulting the speech may be," Woodward said.

At the very moment Schmidt was endorsing the guidelines during his Sept. 20 inaugural address at Woolsey Hall, about 200 noisy anti-apartheid demonstrators outside were being shoved back by police. At least three people were arrested.

The following day, a second protest against Yale's investments in South Africa resulted in the arrest of 21 people, including 12 who entered the university's investment office and unfurled a banner outside the window that read, "Apartheid Kills." That action was hardly "shocking, angry or insulting," yet it was met with prompt police action.

A spokesman for Yale refused to say whether Schmidt had ordered the arrest of the group inside the building, which included 10 students.

If the president did order the arrests, his commitment to free speech can only be considered hollow. And if he did not, then surely he and the others who so eloquently defended Dick's right to make a public mockery of a malign group's efforts to be recognized as human have a duty to speak out on behalf of those arrested while protesting the university's investment policies, five of whom were suspended for the semester on Thursday.

"I'm SANCATION MAN. Remember me and Libya? Now — let's talk about South Africa."

Jack Anderson

CIA's papers tell story of intimidation

WASHINGTON — The CIA has learned that a Mexican cabinet member's subordinate tried unsuccessfully to bribe the editors of a Mexican news magazine to kill a critical story on the cabinet official.

Informed CIA and Mexican law enforcement sources have told us they uncovered an attempt by the former chief of the Federal Directorate of Security, Jose Antonio Zorilla, to pay the editors of Proceso $2 million worth of pesos, with a promise of $2 million more if they agreed to spike a story they had obtained on Zorilla's boss, Interior Minister Manuel Bartlett Diaz.

The story is currently unfolding for both Mexican police and CIA agents with the publication in Mexico City of an autobiographical book, "The Presidents," by Proceso's respected publisher, Julio Scherer.

As we reported recently, the book contains the full story that Proceso never printed: the 1983 kidnapping of Bartlett's teenage niece and nephew from a religious commune in Venezuela, arranged by the interior minister as a favor to his sister, the children's mother.

In his book, Scherer also tells how Bartlett's minion, Zorilla, succeeded in intimidating Proceso's editors with threats of violence. Mexican reporters and columnists have been threatened often in the past by government officials, and some have been killed.

But Scherer did not relate the unsuccessful attempt at a bribe by Bartlett's emissary. Proceso's editors would not comment on the matter — "especially to an American reporter," one of them told us.

However, our CIA and Mexican police sources said that Zorilla later bragged to fellow police officials that he had gotten Proceso's editors to let Bartlett stop without paying them "a single peso" of the $2 million pesos he had in cash. It is not clear whether Bartlett had authorized the bribe attempt.

According to our personal source, four bicyclists and three joggers used Tolland Turnpike in one month. Car travel is about 500 to 600 per weekday and less on weekends. The accidents that have occurred on Tolland Turnpike, however, occurred only because of drunken drivers and/or excessive speed, not because of the condition of the road.

We are not opposed to improvements within reasonable limits. But we also feel that this project will have significant social, economic and environmental impacts that should be studied and not overlooked or excluded. In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Highway Administration/Urban Mass Transportation Administration environmental regulations, 23 CFR, Part 771.115, we recommend that the State of Connecticut Department of Transportation and the Town of Manchester provide results of an environmental study.

"AR DE LA MADRID's" campaign manager and de facto head of the (ruling party) during 1981-82, Bartlett established control over many of the party mechanisms, and he directed the vote-rigging operation during de la Madrid's election. Bartlett is frequently described as a survivor.

Here's how the CIA report describes the police force that allowed Zorilla (and Bartlett) to intimidate Proceso's editors: "The most effective civilian internal security force is the Federal Directorate of Security (DFS), subordinate to Manuel Bartlett... The DFS fields about 1,300 agents at its Mexico City headquarters and at branches in all of the states.

"Better trained and armed than other civilian security personnel, DFS teams... have stepped up infiltration of opposition political groups. "The directorate's main responsibility is to monitor suspected dissidents and opposition groups with a view of discovering and investigating any possible subversive efforts. The DFS does not hesitate to conduct searches and seizures in order to detain and interrogate individuals suspected of subversion."

Our CIA sources note that the DFS — which has been renamed the Federal Judicial Police — also taps phones and otherwise harasses and spies on critics of the government. The agency is also legendary for the corruption that permeates its ranks.

Footnote: Zorilla has disappeared and is believed to be living in Spain.

What's to hide? In a disturbing decision, a Nuclear Regulatory Commission administrative judge recently denied Cindee Virotek, of Apollo, Pa., permission to testify at an upcoming hearing on plans by Babcock & Wilcox Co. to build the nation's first commercial, low-level incinerator for nuclear waste. The company filed a lengthy brief objecting to Virotek's request to testify; the commission hasn't said why it agrees with the company. It also could not be because Virotek has compiled a thick file of documents questioning problems that have occurred over the years with Babcock-Wilcox nuclear fuel plants in Apollo.

Manchester Herald
Founded in 1881

PHILIP M. BIERST, Publisher
DOUGLAS A. BEVINS, Executive Editor
JAMES P. BACOS, Managing Editor
AL CHANDLER GIBELLI, Associate Editor

DEBIE A. ROBERTS, Advertising Director
SHELDON COHEN, Circulation Manager
MARK T. HAZARD, Production Manager
JEANNE G. PROMERTH, Circulation Manager

Open Forum

Public television was not objective

To the Editor:

The recent public television program on teenage pregnancy was a great disappointment. Completely gone was the objectivity and fair-mindedness we have come to expect of public TV.

No mention was made of the trauma endured by the teenager as she lived through her pregnancy, or of the problems — social, psychological and health — she experienced. No mention was made of the painful process of birth. What if the baby had been handicapped? Would the adoptive parents have been so eager to adopt it then? The possibility of terminating the pregnancy was dismissed without discussion of these vital questions.

Worst of all, no mention was made of the pressing need for family life education in the public schools, education which has been proven to cut the teenage pregnancy rate. The charge that it encourages promiscuity is false. It is the innocent who get caught, as was shown so eloquently in the TV program.

Hopefully Channel 24 will go back to its past policy of covering both sides of an issue. I'm waiting for a program that explores all of the options available to a pregnant teenager.

Elizabeth K. Brown
Glastonbury

Eight District needs its friends

To the Editor:

When I came to town in 1934, there were only 15,000 people in Manchester. Now there are 50,000, so there must be many of our citizens who are confused by the controversy between the Board of Directors and the 8th Utilities District.

Manchester is one town, comprising the properties south of Middle Turnpike serviced by the Town of Manchester paid fire department, and properties north of Middle Turnpike serviced by the Manchester Fire Department, 8th Utilities District. For nearly a century the 8th District has been active. We had the railroad station located where Andy's Market now stands, schools, water department and sewer department. Gradually over the years the town took over the schools, then the water system. Then the district went into partnership with the town to build a sewer plant.

Residents and environmental impact on wildlife around the pond, which is a wetlands and gum preserve sheltering many wild life.

The plan was developed with very little study regarding safety for wells and septic systems. Even at the town meeting they were changing their minds as to what they proposed, because the road was going over well and septic systems on some of the properties.

Most of the neighborhood is built on ledge, and the blasting of the highway a mile-and-a-half away. We would be forced to have city water and sewerage because of damaged wells and septic systems.

A self-described political animal, Bartlett is probably one of de la Madrid's closest advisers on domestic political affairs. (He) has the ear of the president on a wide range of issues....

Barlett established control over many of the party mechanisms, and he directed the vote-rigging operation during de la Madrid's election. Bartlett is frequently described as a survivor.

Here's how the CIA report describes the police force that allowed Zorilla (and Bartlett) to intimidate Proceso's editors: "The most effective civilian internal security force is the Federal Directorate of Security (DFS), subordinate to Manuel Bartlett... The DFS fields about 1,300 agents at its Mexico City headquarters and at branches in all of the states.

"Better trained and armed than other civilian security personnel, DFS teams... have stepped up infiltration of opposition political groups. "The directorate's main responsibility is to monitor suspected dissidents and opposition groups with a view of discovering and investigating any possible subversive efforts. The DFS does not hesitate to conduct searches and seizures in order to detain and interrogate individuals suspected of subversion."

Our CIA sources note that the DFS — which has been renamed the Federal Judicial Police — also taps phones and otherwise harasses and spies on critics of the government. The agency is also legendary for the corruption that permeates its ranks.

Footnote: Zorilla has disappeared and is believed to be living in Spain.

Learning process lasts a lifetime

To the Editor:

During the month of September the television industry began to focus on the problem of illiteracy in America through its Project Literacy U.S. (PLUS) Initiative. ABC and PBS are the sponsors of this project. The fact that 23 million adults lack the basic skills to function in society may surprise many. What was highlighted and is encouraging is that by personal, public and private commitment, this barrier to empowerment and improved functioning in society can be overcome.

If those of you reading this letter know of someone who needs a bit of encouragement to seek help, please assist them in the process. Local adult education programs as well as the Literacy Volunteers organization are leading the fight against illiteracy. Adults need to be reminded that learning is indeed "lifelong" and that the educational resources of a community are not just for children. They belong to the adults as well.

Andrew Parklewicz
210 Park Street

U.S./World In Brief

Diplomat kidnapped in Iran, freed

DAMASCUS, Syria — Gunmen kidnapped a Syrian diplomat as he drove home from work in the Iranian capital, and a top aide to Syria's president said the envoy was freed today, a day after his abduction.

Syrian officials here identified the diplomat abducted Thursday night as consul Iyad Mahmoud, the No. 2 man at the Syrian Embassy in Tehran. An embassy official earlier said Mahmoud was charged of affairs.

Official Tehran radio, monitored in London, said the armed men in a BMW car and an ambulance stopped Mahmoud's vehicle at 10 p.m. It quoted witnesses as saying the kidnappers fired six shots and hustled the diplomat into the ambulance, which then left for an unknown destination.

Syrian presidential spokesman Ibrahim Kourieh said today: "The matter is over now and Mr. Mahmoud is no longer in the hands of the kidnappers."

No immediate claim of responsibility for the kidnapping was reported.

Three arrested in Idaho bombings

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho — An investigation into a triple bombing has widened, according to authorities who have arrested three people linked to a white supremacist group on charges relating to counterfeiting.

Police Chief Frank Premeo said among those arrested Thursday night was David Dorr, the former security chief for the group known as the Church of Jesus Christ Christian (Aryan Nations).

Dorr was arrested at his home north of Coeur d'Alene, as were Edward and Olive Hawley, who have said they attend the church's services but are not members.

The arrests were made three days after three bombs exploded in this resort town. In announcing the arrests, Premeo would say only that the probe into the bombings had expanded into possible weapons and counterfeiting violations.

He refused to elaborate on the bombing investigation, but was to hold a news conference today.

Reagan denies he OK'd lie campaign

WASHINGTON — President Reagan says he was shocked by a published report that he approved a disinformation program to deceive Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi and challenges "the veracity of that entire story."

Asked to specify what was inaccurate about the story, published Thursday in The Washington Post, Reagan disputed only an anecdote quoting him as saying during a secret strategy meeting on the plan, "Why not invite Gadhafi to San Francisco, he likes to dress up so much."

"I don't want Gadhafi any place in the United States, and being Californian, it's the last place I'd send him," Reagan said.

Sikhs attempt to kill police chief

NEW DELHI, India — Armed Sikhs disguised as policemen penetrated a heavily guarded compound in Punjab today and opened fire with automatic weapons on the state police chief, wounding his wife and killing a guard, police said.

The Punjab attack came after a failed attempt on the life of Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi.

Police said the attackers escaped after the assault on chief Julius F. Ribeiro, the federally-appointed officer in charge of a crackdown on secessionist militants in the Sikh heartland.

Budget woes slow New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS — The city, burdened by deficits and a depressed economy linked to the oil slump, has cut 400 jobs and adopted a four-day work week, making today the last Friday that City Hall will be open for some time.

The City Council, at the urging of Mayor Sidney Barthelemy, on Thursday adopted the cutbacks that also include a 1.5 percent tax on earnings made inside the city.

"We're going to lose a lot," Police Sgt. Paul Fricke said at the council meeting. "But the citizens of the city are going to lose a lot more. The citizens of the city are going to lose their lives."

Longshoremen reject wage proposals

ALEXANDRIA — A walkout idling most ports from Virginia to Maine stretched into its third day today after longshoremen rejected wage cut proposals by cargo-handling companies in Virginia, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The International Longshoremen's Association, meanwhile, sought new talks today with port officials in the New York-New Jersey and Boston areas where union officials said agreements on a new contract are "pretty close."

Greg Storey, a spokesman for the New York Shipping Association representing those ports, said late Thursday it was eager to resume negotiations with the union.

Debtor nations want more loans

WASHINGTON — Debtor nations say they have benefited little from efforts by industrial nations to coordinate their economic policies, and they simply want more loans at less austere terms.

"Austerity for the sake of paying a few million dollars more makes no sense whatever for a country as poor as our own," Peruvian Finance Minister Luis Alva Castro said. "In truth, there is nowhere to put the belt to tighten it."

Castro rallies against strings attached to International Monetary Fund loans as the weeklong IMF-World Bank meeting wound to a close.

Target of manhunt kills himself

The body was brought to St. Louis County Hospital for an autopsy, said Sgt. Walter Ryan of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

Ryan said a preliminary investigation indicated that Jackson had not suffered an earlier gunshot wound, as police had previously believed. During the manhunt, police had speculated that Jackson had been wounded in a gun battle with two Wright City police officers on the night of Sept. 22 at a service station in the eastern Missouri city. But Ryan said today that the head wound was the only one on the body.

The barn was less than a 4-mile from where Jackson was last seen after the shooting. Jackson was barefoot and apparently had been trying to dry his shoes, indicating he recently had been in the rain, said Ryan.

"He hadn't been in there that long," Ryan said early today. "That barn had been checked and rechecked numerous times. ... There were a lot of cars patrolling all the time, so he couldn't stay in one place very long."

Wright City is a town of 1,200 people in eastern Missouri near St. Louis, and resident, armed themselves and locked their doors for the first time in years.

Police focused on the barn about 6:20 p.m. after officers found a blue raiacot at a nearby vacant farmhouse and a check showed the coat had been reported stolen, said Highway Patrol Cpl. Norbert Weidenbenner.

Four officers entered the barn about 10 minutes later, Heltzerhoff said. One of the officers hit the ground when he heard a muffled shotgun blast, and the others fled, he said. Two shots were fired by police at the barn to cover the escape of the remaining officer.

Unaware that Jackson had committed suicide, police used a Bulbot to try to coax him out. Reporters gathered near the barn heard officers saying: "Come out, Mike. Please talk to me, Mike. We want to hurt you." Police then lobbed eight tear gas canisters inside and plotted their strategy about entering the barn.

Soviets set to begin troop withdrawal

OTTAWA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze said the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan, which was first announced during the summit in Geneva, will begin "in a few days."

"We would like to see our boys back home as soon as possible," Shevardnadze said at a news conference late Thursday.

Shevardnadze also reiterated Soviet positions on nuclear weapons issues, saying Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev proposed next week's special meeting with a group of protesters in Iceland because of the nuclear arms race.

"The serious danger has emerged that if urgent, extraordinary measures are not taken to rectify the situation, the situation in terms of international security could pass the point of no return," he said, speaking in Russian and using a lot of Russian idioms.

Shevardnadze claimed the Reagan administration is in "complete isolation" by refusing to go along with the Soviet moratorium on nuclear testing. He praised Canada's "positive" stance favoring an arms control agreement.

The Soviet envoy earlier discussed human rights with Canadian officials and then asked a group of protesters in Iceland with their list of Jews they say have been refused permission to leave the Soviet Union.

Foreign policy occupies budget debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign policy rhetoric punctuated the mundane exercise of securing money for pet projects as a weary Senate worked nearly around the clock toward completion of the major spending bill of the year.

The Senate early today indicated support for democratic reforms in Chile, refusing 92-0 to kill a resolution proposed by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass. The amendment was held short of adoption following the procedural time, as Kennedy withdrew it to avoid a filibuster by Sen. Jesse Helms, R-NC.

New aid to the Philippines was rejected Thursday, but senators said the fight wasn't over. They also voted to halt construction of the U.S. Embassy offices in Moscow, and battle lines were drawn for debate over arms control.

But while procedural votes during the marathon session kept most national spending policy issues off the $556 billion spending program, lawmakers were lined up as the Senate quibbled approved project after project in their home states.

There were no funding programs in 332 counties in 19 states that year, the report said.

The study was begun in 1985

bullet ends hunt

"Michael Jackson has had me in jail," Marine Schell, 54, of rural Wright City said Thursday night. Ken Niemann, 26, described the atmosphere during the siege as one of "fear and chaos."

But now, "It's party time," he said as he drank a beer at Chaps Bar and Restaurant.

Police focused on the barn about 6:20 p.m. after officers found a blue raiacot at a nearby vacant farmhouse and a check showed the coat had been reported stolen, said Highway Patrol Cpl. Norbert Weidenbenner.

Four officers entered the barn about 10 minutes later, Heltzerhoff said. One of the officers hit the ground when he heard a muffled shotgun blast, and the others fled, he said. Two shots were fired by police at the barn to cover the escape of the remaining officer.

Unaware that Jackson had committed suicide, police used a Bulbot to try to coax him out. Reporters gathered near the barn heard officers saying: "Come out, Mike. Please talk to me, Mike. We want to hurt you." Police then lobbed eight tear gas canisters inside and plotted their strategy about entering the barn.

The two countries guarantee an end to the rebellion. U.S. and Pakistani officials say the Soviets should withdraw before reconciliation can be attempted.

Gorbachev did not give a specific timetable or say how many of the Red Army's estimated 115,000 soldiers in Afghanistan were involved, but Western sources have estimated the six units include 5,900 to 10,000 soldiers.

The Soviet Union sent troops in to Afghanistan in December 1979 and replaced the existing communist government with another. The Soviet soldiers now are in the country to help the 40,000-man Afghan army fight the insurgency.

Childhood poverty on rise

"We are saddened that this document should ever come forth from the Select Committee, for we believe that it injures the credibility of a body which should have made a contribution to the debate on self-help reform," said one dissident signed by seven GOP members.

"By ignoring important facts and using faulty methodologies, the report disqualifies itself from serious consideration by those interested in improving our welfare programs," the dissent said.

Census Bureau poverty figures were compared with county-by-county statistics showing enrollment in the AFDC, Head Start and the Supplemental Food Program for needy infants and children, known as WIC.

While the study showed there was a 22 percent increase in the rate of participation in WIC, the report noted that only a third of eligible children benefited from the program in 1984.

There were no funding programs in 332 counties in 19 states that year, the report said.

The study was begun in 1985

BRITISH INVASION TOUR 1986

Moved From M.H. Callstrom To OAKDALE MUSICAL THEATRE Sat. Oct. 11 6:00 and 9:30 P.M. FROM ENGLAND STARRING GERRY and the PACEMAKERS

"Furry Across The Mersey," "Don't Let The Sun Catch You Crying," "Headline and Hit," "Love Potion #9"

FREDDIE and the DREAMERS "Do The Freddie," "I'm Telling You Now"

CHAD & JEREMY "Wednesday's Gone," "Summer Song"

MINDBENDERS "Groovy Kind of Love," "The Game of Love"

All Seats $18.50 CHARGE LINE 1-265-1501 CHARGE IT 1-800-223-0130 VISA/MC ACCEPTED BOX OFFICE OPEN 13 NOON-7:00 P.M. CLOSED MONDAY

BAT. Oct. 11, 6:00 and 9:30 P.M. SPONSORED BY WDRS AN ABC-TV STATION and Associate for the Performing Arts, Inc. Moved From M.H. Callstrom To OAKDALE MUSICAL THEATRE

OAKDALE MUSICAL THEATRE Wallingford-Connecticut 06492

Woodland Gardens

NEW... Scott's Winterizer The Right Fertilizer for fall!

NEW FOR FALL! WINTERIZER

For better greenup next spring For a thicker, sturdier lawn this fall For strong root development For "No-Quibble Guarantee" Protection

Scott's Winterizer 5,000 only 99¢ 15,000 only 289¢ no more than 100¢

168 Woodland St. Manchester 643-8474

Stripper wells have high costs SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Some 450,000 stripper wells in the United States account for 15 percent of the nation's oil production or 1.3 million barrels a day.

Stripper wells are marginal producing wells with high production costs, resulting in slim profit margins.

Stripper wells are marginal producing wells with high production costs, resulting in slim profit margins.

Stripper wells are marginal producing wells with high production costs, resulting in slim profit margins.

ONLY $9.95 Eastern Division Champs T-Shirts Am.L. RED SOX N.L. METS

PERSONAL TEE 825 Main St. / 646-3339

MUMS — Colorful Fall CHRYSAANTHEMUMS Vibrant Colors for Autumn Decorating - yellow, white, rust, purple

EXTRA EXTRA SPECIAL $9.95 Eucalyptus, Rhododendron-all colors Junipers, Boxwood, Azaleas, Evergreen, Forsythia, Holly, Yews 3/2899

FEED YOUR LAWN WINTERGREEN 5,000 sq. ft. Reg. 1199 * 6.95 10,000 sq. ft. Reg. 2299 * 13.95 18,000 sq. ft. Reg. 3299 * 18.95

OPEN DAILY 8 am - 8:30 pm 168 Woodland St. Manchester 643-8474

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE by Dan Brown

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Sy Barry

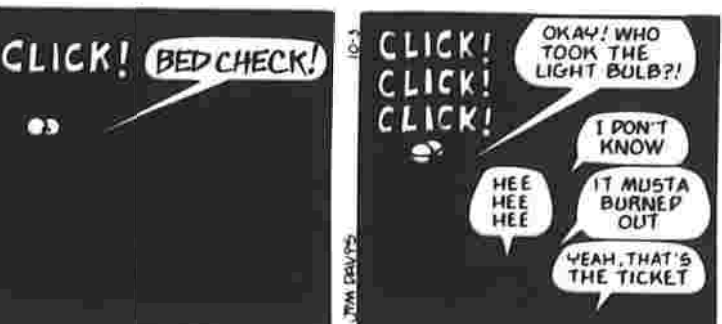

BLOWNIE by Dean Young & Stan Drake

ON THE FASTRACK by Bill Holbrook

U.S. ACRES by Jim Davis

SNAFU by Bill Ce Beattie

PEANUTS by Charles M. Schulz

CAPTAIN EASY by Crooks & Castle

WITHOUT YOU I NEVER

ARLO AND JANIS by Jimmy Johnson

OPEN CABINETS

ALLEY OOP by Dave Graue

DOES IT WELL

Crossword

Crossword puzzle grid and clues.

Astrograph

Astrograph horoscope text for various signs.

THE BORN LOSER by Art Sansom

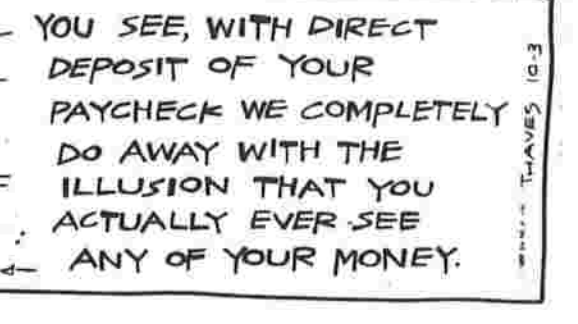

FRANK AND ERNEST by Bob Thayer

WINTHROP by Dick Cavalli

THE ONE WHO KEEPS SAYING

Bridge

Bridge game information and hand analysis.

Vision needed to set declarer

Article discussing bridge strategy and declarer vision.

CELEBRITY CIPHER

Celebrity cipher puzzle and solution.

Growth in mutual fund size not always beneficial

Investors' Guide by William A. Doyle. Article discussing mutual fund growth and investment strategies.

Carbide seeks buyer. Article discussing Carbide Corp's search for a buyer.

U&R Realty Co. advertisement for real estate services.

REAL ESTATE OPPORTUNITIES

Real estate listings from Strano Real Estate and U&R Realty Co.

Jackson & Jackson Real Estate

Jackson & Jackson real estate listings and contact information.

Blanchard & Rossetto Real Estate

Blanchard & Rossetto real estate listings and contact information.

REALTH WORLD Real Estate

REALTH WORLD real estate listings and contact information.

Joyce G. Epstein Real Estate

Joyce G. Epstein real estate listings and contact information.

WELL MAINTAINED STRANO REAL ESTATE

WELL MAINTAINED real estate listings and contact information.

REALTH WORLD Real Estate

REALTH WORLD real estate listings and contact information.

Obituaries

Robert L. Dwyer, 79, of Coleman Road, died Thursday at a local convalescent home. He was born in Bristol, Vt., Aug. 24, 1915, and had lived most of his life in Manchester. Before retirement, he had been a dispatcher for many years for Pratt & Whitney in East Hartford. He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War II and received the Bronze Star for service in the Philippines campaign. He is survived by a daughter, Joan R. Dwyer, with whom he lived. A private funeral will be held at the convenience of his daughter. Burial with military honors will be in East Cemetery. There are no calling hours. Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Anthony J. Kutcher, 66, of Windsor, husband of Stella (Pliczak) Kutcher, of Windsor, died Thursday at Hartford Hospital. He was the brother of Michael Kutcher of Manchester. He also is survived by two sisters, Anne Melnyk and Helen Waszynski, both of Hartford; several nieces and nephews. The funeral will be Saturday at 8:45 a.m. at the Talariski-Maple Hill Chapel, 380 Maple Ave., Hartford, with a mass of Christian burial at 9:30 a.m. in St. Michael Ukrainian Church, Hartford. Burial with full military honors will be in St. John the Baptist Cemetery, Glastonbury. Calling hours are today from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m. There will be a Panachyda service in the funeral home tonight at 7:30. Memorial donations may be made to St. Michael Ukrainian

Seven charged after police make drug raid

Seven people, two of them juvenile girls, were charged by Manchester police with possession of marijuana after a raid Thursday night on a house at 842 Burnside Ave. in East Hartford. Manchester police, working on information supplied by the South Windsor Police Department, conducted the raid in cooperation with East Hartford police. Gary Wood, Manchester police spokesman, said 10 to 12 ounces of suspected marijuana and $2,800 were confiscated in the raid. The five adults arrested, according to Wood, were Rebecca L. Gerrow, 19, of 325 Bidwell St., East Hartford; Harold Price III, 25, of East Hampton; Jane Flume of 842 Burnside Ave., East Hartford; Dale Fain of Hartford; and Steven Deschaine of 134 Jefferson Lane, East Hartford. All five were freed on bond. No date has been set yet for their court appearance.

Bolton letters need new zip

BOLTON—Bolton residents now have different mailing addresses. Instead of using the Manchester zip code of 06040, the town will have its own mailing number of 06043, according to Shirley Olsen, the clerk at the Bolton Post Office. Olsen said the change was made because Manchester and Bolton have a number of streets with the same name, which prompted confusion in sorting the mail. The change has been in effect for the past two weeks, Olsen said.

Church in Hartford or to the Windsor Volunteer Ambulance Association. Harold Albert Fyler, 68, of 92 N. School St., died today at his home. He was the husband of Stella (Spaki) Fyler. Born in East Hartford, Dec. 29, 1917, he had lived in Manchester for more than 45 years. He was a member of St. John the Baptist Church in Hartford. He was a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II, a longtime member and a former assistant secretary of the Army and Navy Club. He was active in the Manchester Senior Citizens' Center, helping with the building of the center's greenhouse. He was a member of Second Congregational Church. Besides his wife, he is survived by three sons, Albert A. Fyler of Ashford, Richard A. Fyler of Newburyport, Mass., and William H. Fyler of Hartford; his mother, Alice (Gipin) Fyler of Enfield; a brother, Warren C. Fyler of Bristol; four sisters, Evelyn Grimm of Clinton, Viola Motowidlo of Glastonbury, Jean Tyrrell of Enfield, and Alice Penfield of Visalia, Calif.; eight grandchildren; a great-granddaughter; and several nieces and nephews. The funeral will be Monday at 11 a.m. at the Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., with burial in the East Cemetery, with military honors. Calling hours are Sunday from 6 to 8 p.m., and Monday from 10 a.m. until the service begins. Memorial donations may be made to the Second Congregational Church, 302 N. Main St., or to Greenhouse Fund, Manchester Senior Citizens' Center, 549 E. Middle Turnpike.

King's dream accompanied veto vote

WASHINGTON — President Reagan was lobbying on the phone. So was South African Foreign Minister R. F. Botha. But when the Senate voted Thursday to override Reagan's veto of legislation imposing economic sanctions against the white minority government of South Africa, it was the quiet presence of Coretta Scott King in the first row of the gallery that seemed to symbolize the moment. The ending of South Africa's apartheid system of racial segregation and control over 28 million black South Africans by that nation's white government has become the premier foreign policy issue for America's black community. Thousands of black leaders and ordinary citizens have marched, and hundreds have been arrested at demonstrations outside the South African Embassy and at South African consulates around the country. And while the South African foreign minister could threaten an immediate end to American grain purchases if the Reagan veto was not sustained, black leaders could quietly remind senators that black Americans vote in their elections. So Mrs. King sat in the gallery, listening as Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., invoked the name and memory of her husband. "We are told to be patient, that reform is on the way," Kennedy said. "Instead we should heed the words of one of the greatest moral leaders of our country, our time and our generation, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "He too was told to go slow," Kennedy said. "He too was told to be patient. He too was told to wait. He too was shamefully accused of fomenting violence, of being un-American, of being a communist. "Dr. King's answer then should be our answer today," Kennedy added. "He said, 'We have waited long enough. Now — now is the time.' " The vote was taken. The veto was overridden easily. The sanctions would be implemented by law

Harvard sells stocks

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard is selling almost $159 million in stocks and bonds in eight companies because some sell to South African military and police and others are not adhering to the Sullivan Principles, the university's treasurer said Thursday. "We tried everything we could to avoid doing this," said Roderick M. MacDougall, who also is chairman of the Harvard Corporation Committee on Shareholder Responsibility. "We'd much rather have companies move forward" in meeting anti-discrimination demands. The $74.7 million in stocks and $84 million in bonds that Harvard is selling represent a percent of the total school endowment of $3.6 billion, said MacDougall. The holdings also represent 37 percent of $427 million in university holdings in 49 or 90 companies doing South Africa-related business, MacDougall said.

regardless of Reagan's objections. It was, Mrs. King said, a "death blow" to apartheid. "Today, Martin Luther King's dream has been advanced," she said. The sanctions, she said, "can bring the South African government to the point where there will be democracy." As the debate neared an end, many members of the Congressional Black Caucus stood in the rear of the chamber, their presence another symbol of the interest of the American black community in the sanctions vote. Sen. Larry Pressler, R-S.D., who had served as floor manager for those seeking to sustain the veto, noted their presence, and said he enjoys a good civil rights record. "This is being taken as a civil rights vote, and it's most unfortunate," Pressler said. "It's not." "Some view this as a civil rights litmus test," said Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan. "Nothing could be further from the truth." Sen. Gordon J. Humphrey, R-N.H., who voted to sustain the veto after telling the Senate that sanctions represent "a shameful, hypocritical double standard," said the driving force behind the veto to override was "domestic politics."

FOCUS

Fair deals

Churches offer all kinds of bazaar food, fun, frolic

By Nancy Pappas Herald Reporter

It's fair time! Time to poke among the handcrafted items, from large stained glass panels to dolls small enough to fit into a walnut shell. And time to get your appetite ready for those apple pies, jams and jellies, and homemade soups. This weekend the season of harvest and Christmas fairs at area churches begins with a bang. There are fairs at St. George's Episcopal Church in Bolton, Buckingham Congregational Church in Glastonbury, All Saints' Episcopal Church in East Hartford and at the Vernon United Methodist Church. You'd be hard pressed to sample all the goodies offered in the next two days! Here is a fair calendar to guide you through the weekends ahead. Remember that these listings, particularly the menus and crafts mentioned, are subject to last-minute changes.

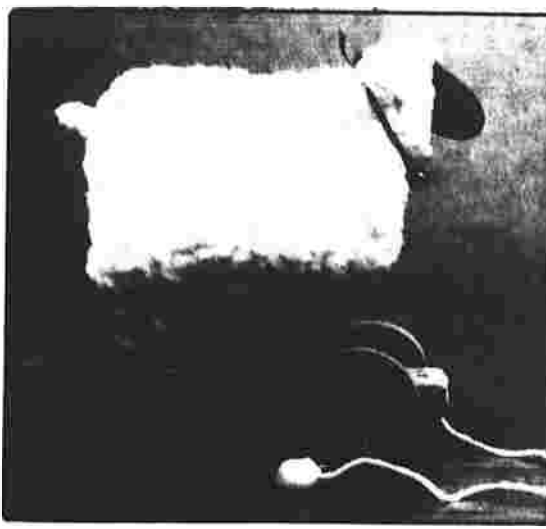

Oct. 3 and 4 St. George's Episcopal Church, 1150 Boston Turnpike, Bolton. Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Local craftsmen, tag sale, homemade apple pies and bread, Christmas decorations, fall wreaths. Luncheon served.

Buckingham Congregational Church, Crickett Lane, Glastonbury. Tonight until 8: Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Early American theme, potter, broom maker, silhouette portraits, candles, print shop, Homemade root beer. Children's games. Lunch Saturday.

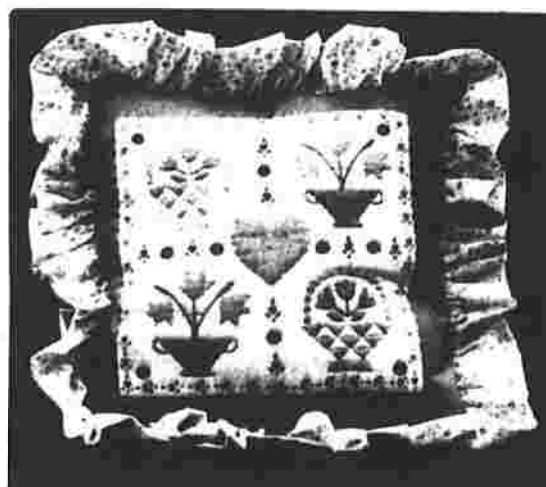

All Saints' Episcopal Church, 44 Hills St., East Hartford. Tonight until 9: Saturday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Apple arts and crafts fair. Baked goods, crafts. Lunch Saturday.

Vernon United Methodist Church, Route 30, Vernon. Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Apple Festival. Homemade apple pies, by the slice or whole. Apple crisp, apple ice cream. Crafts and attic treasures. Children's games. Apples by the basket.

Oct. 18 Andover First Congregational Church, Route 6, Andover. 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This woolly pull-toy is going to be sold at the fair sponsored by the First Congregational Church of Andover on Oct. 18.

Quilted pillows like this one will be sold at the St. Maurice Church fair in Bolton on Nov. 15.

Crafts booths, country store, farmers' market, children's corner with petting farm, bake sale, Soup and sandwich luncheon through the day. South United Methodist Church, 1226 Main St. 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Handicrafts, holiday booth, children's corner, knitted goods, homemade candy. Luncheon from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Oct. 25 and 26 United Congregational Church of Tolland, 43 Tolland Green, Tolland. Oct. 25, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Attic treasures, bake shop, Christmas room, carpentry shop, doll corner. White on white quilt to be auctioned. Soup, sandwiches, pie, chill, all day.

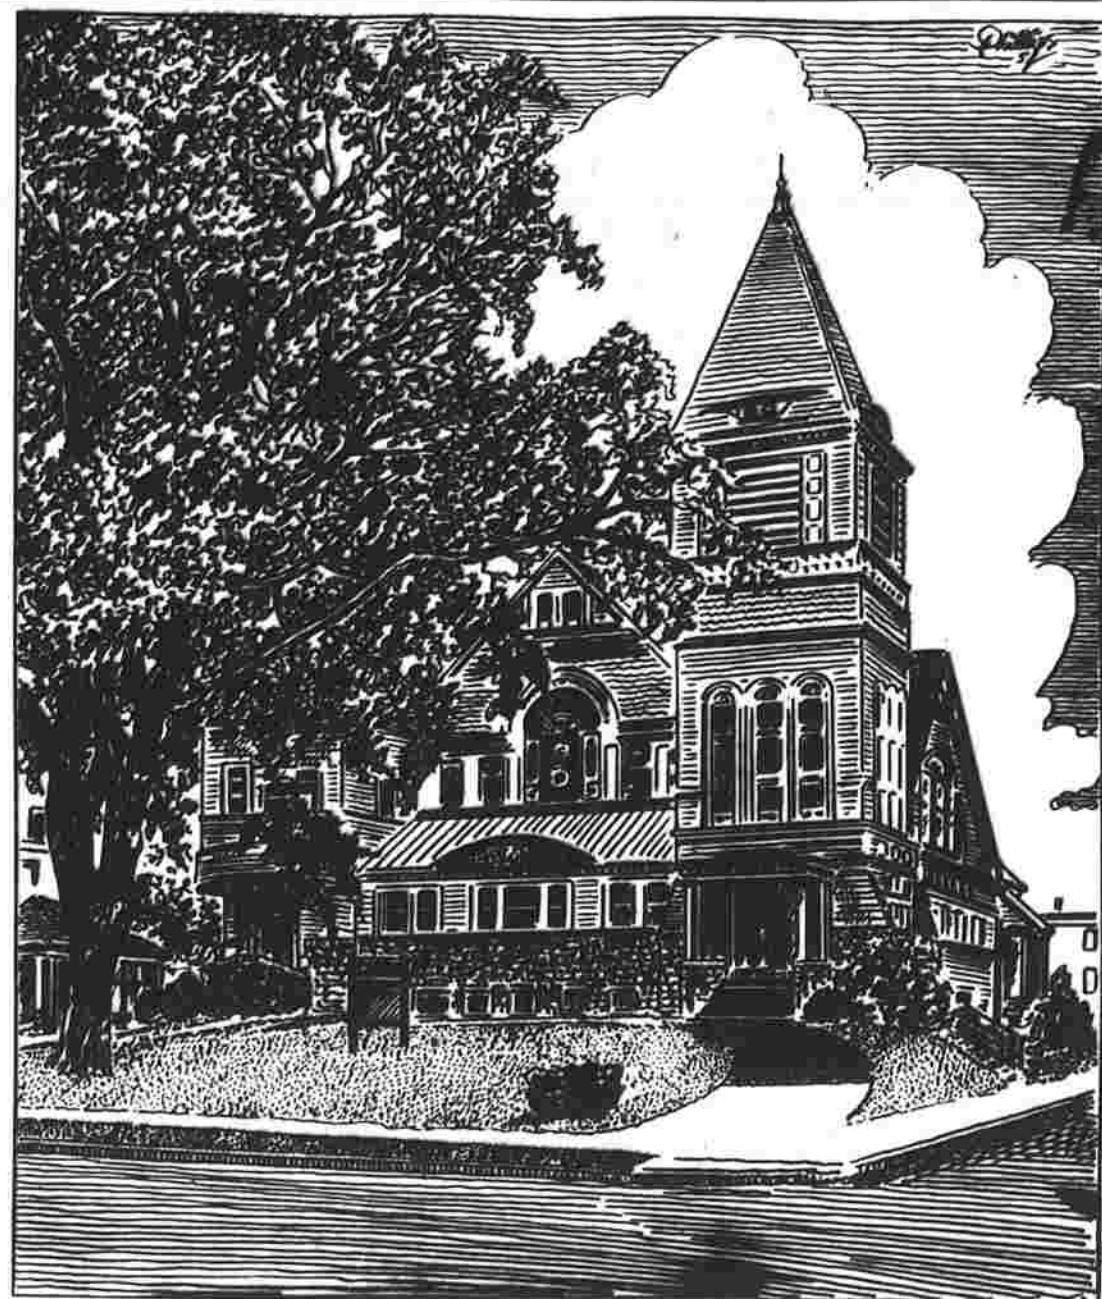

Assumption Church, 285 W. Center St. Oct. 25, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and after 5 p.m. mass. Oct. 26, after masses. Handmade quilts, knitted items, homemade goodies, plants, white elephant table. Meatball grinders, hot dogs.

Nov. 1 and 2 Second Congregational Church, 385 N. Main St. Nov. 1, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Professional craftspeople, home-baked goodies. Food all day, including grinders, candies, pies baked while you wait. Stenciled quilt raffled.

St. Isaac Jogues Takawitha, at East Catholic High School, Nov. 2, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Crafts, food.

Bolton Congregational Church, 228 Bolton Center Road, Bolton. Nov. 1, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Handicrafts, kitchen cupboard, hearty old-fashioned luncheon, children's activities.

Nov. 7 and 8 St. John the Baptist Polish National Catholic Church, 23 Golway St., and Lithuanian Hall, 24 Golway St. Nov. 7, 5 to 9 p.m.; Nov. 8, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Christmas crafts, afghans and sweaters, American and Polish baked goods and holiday foods. Sit-down Polish supper Friday, lunches Saturday afternoon.

A sketch shows the Second Congregational Church on North Main Street.

Ellington Congregational Church, 72 Main St., Ellington. Nov. 7 to 8: 30 p.m.; Nov. 8, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Cake decorating demonstrations, hand-knit goods, Christmas decorations, apples and cheeses. Early American lunch dishes. 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Center Congregational Church, 11 Center St. Nov. 8, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Country kitchen, handicrafts, antiques, collectibles, silhouette portraits. Lunch with hot entree, variety of sandwiches.

Salvation Army, 661 Main St. Nov. 8, 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Counted cross-stitch, stenciled items, pine cone wreaths, smocking, Christmas decorations, white elephant, copper. Soup, sandwich, pie at luncheon.

United Methodist Church of Bolton, 1041 Boston Turnpike, Bolton. Nov. 8, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Knitted goods, baked foods, trash and Holly shop, country store, baby and children's booth, feminine boutique, and 23 craftsmen. Clam chowder, hot dogs and hamburgers.

A member of Buckingham Congregational Church prepares coffee cakes for the church fair, which is today and Saturday in Glastonbury.

treasure tables, Vermont cheese. Chicken and biscuit luncheon. 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Nov. 13 St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 41 Park St. 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Ladies Guild Fair and Tea. Food, household items, knitwear, white elephant, fancy goods. Tea. 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Nov. 15 Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, 112 Cooper St. 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Baked goods, plants, white elephant, jewelry, Christmas decorations. Luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Church of St. Maurice, 32 Hebron Road, Bolton. 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This wreath is to be at the St. Maurice Church fair in Bolton

Trinity Covenant Church, 301 Hackmatack St. Nov. 22, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Christmas decorations, stained glass, Scandinavian gifts and decorations, baked goods, plants. Luncheon served.

American Latvian Evangelical Lutheran Church, 21 Garden St. Nov. 22, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Christmas decorations, baked goods, ceramics, sterling-silver jewelry. Coffee and pastries served throughout.

St. Bridget Church, 80 Main St. Nov. 22, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Knitting, baked goods, crafts, raffle items.

DEC. 8 Taicottville Congregational Church, 10 Elm Hill Road, Taicottville section, Vernon. 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Cheese booth, handicrafts, foods, tag sale. Sandwiches throughout the day.

Wooden geese and other folk wood items are part of the First Congregational Church of Andover fair.

Wooden geese and other folk wood items are part of the First Congregational Church of Andover fair.

NO LIMIT! INSTANT REBATE $1.50 OFF. Here it is. Cabot's Stains Autumn Instant "Rebate" promotion. Because when you buy Cabot's Stains you get every gallon of Cabot's exterior house paint you buy, you'll not only get America's finest stain, you'll keep $1.50 in your pocket. And there's no limit on how many gallons you can buy. Just fill out the rebate coupon at participating stores and give it to your dealer. You'll get your $1.50 savings right on the spot. It's as simple as that. With Cabot's Instant "Rebate" there's no telling how much you can save. Offer accepted at participating dealers only.

Cabot's Stains MANCHESTER WALLPAPER & PAINT CO., INC. DISCOUNT PRICES. 185 Middle Turnpike, West Manchester, Conn. Phone 648-0143

Al Sieffert's SUPER SALE! SUPER SAVING DURING OUR SUPER SALE...NOW ONLY AT AL SIEFFERT'S APPLIANCE-TV. UP TO $1500 INSTANT CREDIT IF QUALIFIED. FISHER DUAL CASSETTE DECK $69. SHARP HALF PINT MICROWAVE $99. FAMOUS MAKE 13" DIA. COLOR TV $139. FISHER COMPACT DISC PLAYER $149. EMERSON 5" DIA. COLOR TV $199. MAGIC CHEF FULL SIZE TOUCH CONTROL $239. GENERAL ELECTRIC LARGE CAPACITY ELECTRIC DRYER $249. WESTINGHOUSE 16 CU.FT. HOLDS 560 POUNDS CHEST FREEZER $349. WHIRLPOOL Perm. Press HEAVY DUTY AUTOMATIC WASHER $369. GENERAL ELECTRIC SELF CLEAN RANGE $399. SAMPO 25" DIA. WIRELESS REMOTE CONTROL READY MONITOR COLOR TV $399. RCA 25" DIA. XL-100 ELECTRONIC TUNER COLOR TV $449. SALE TODAY THRU SUNDAY, OCTOBER 5. OPEN SUNDAY 12 NOON - 5 PM.

FOCUS

3

1

9

8

6

Weekenders

A celestial experience
A star party to observe Saturn, Mars, Jupiter and certain star clusters, will be held on Saturday at Dennis Hill State Park in Norfolk. It is sponsored by the Copernican Planetarium and Space Science Center of Central Connecticut State University. The party will be from 8 p. m. to midnight, and guests are requested to bring telescopes and binoculars. For information and directions, call 827-7419 or 827-7852. This event is free.

Knights dance
The Knights of Columbus will hold a dance Saturday from 9 p. m. to midnight at the Knights of Columbus Lodge, 138 Main St. There will be taped music from 9 to 10 p. m., then the Manchester-based rock band, Traveler, will perform original compositions. The cover charge is $4 at the door. Beverages will be brought or purchased at the dance. No one under 21 will be admitted.

Kicking it around
Athletes who are Special Olympians from statewide champion soccer teams will meet at Manchester Community College on Sunday for a soccer tournament. Look for them at Congar Field, near the corner of Wetherell Street and Hilltown Road, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. The University of Connecticut women's varsity soccer team will play demonstration matches between play-off rounds. These games are free.

Rummage around
Look around! You're sure to find something you need at the rummage sale at St. Joseph's Church on Route 32 in Eagleville. The sale is Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon, and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Tag sale for 8th
The Eighth Utilities District Auxiliary will hold a tag sale Saturday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the corner of Main and William streets to benefit STEAL, or Stop Tampering with the Eighth's American Liberties. For more information, call 646-3128.

Crafty items at fair
Spencer Village will hold a craft fair at the village community hall, 52 Pascal Lane, near K-Mart, Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Beads, dolls, afghans, baked goods, refreshments and tag-sale items will be sold. Coffee and parking will be free. Proceeds from the fair will benefit the disabled.

Pass the pancakes
Pour syrup on pancakes at the Manchester Grange 31 breakfast Sunday from 8 a. m. to noon at the Grange on Otcutt Street. Tickets at $2.50 a person may be purchased from members or at the door.

One-act plays continue
The TheaterWorks Company continues to present its evenings of one-act plays at Wadsworth Athenaeum in Hartford. Two are by Tennessee Williams, and two are by Lanford Wilson. Performances are at 8 p. m. in the Avery Theater of the museum. They continue through Oct. 12. Tickets are $10 each. For reservations, call 527-7838.

Vintage threads return
Did you toss out the contents of your attic, just before the current rage for "retro-duds"? Don't despair! On Sunday you'll find piles of vintage clothing for men, women and children at Avon High School. The sale features true antiques—such as parasols and beaded dresses from the turn of the century—as well as funky clothes from a decade back. There will be 40 dealers displaying their wares. The sale is sponsored by the Avon Historical Society, which is charging $3 admission. Proceeds go to the society's Living Museum and Pine Grove Schoolhouse. The sale is open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Bringing in the sheaves
It's harvest weekend at Old Sturbridge Village, where farmers are getting in their crops and some are storing vegetables in root cellars. There will be special hands-on activities at the museum education building, relating to the drying and storing of foods for the winter. The museum will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $8.50 for adults and $4 for children ages 6 to 15. The village is at Exit 4 of Interstate 84.

Big week for antiques
One of the area's largest antiques shows will be at the State Armory on Broad Street in Hartford this weekend. The 20th annual show attracts dealers who specialize in the 17th- through early 19th-centuries. The show and sale benefits the eight-house-museums maintained by the Antiquarian and Landmarks Society, Connecticut's largest preservation agency. There will be 88 exhibitors this year and booths will be arranged as miniature homes. Room vignettes will allow visitors to see furnishings as they might have been used. The show is open until 10 tonight; from 1 to 9 p. m. Saturday and from 1 to 6 p. m. Sunday. Admission is $3, but parking is free.

MCC opens show
See Richard C. Harden's paintings of Polish industrial workers tonight in the Newspace Gallery of Manchester Community College after a performance at 8 by the Charles Gigliotti Trio in MCC's Lowe Program Center. The trio will feature Jeff Fuller on bass, Charles Gigliotti on piano and John Gigliotti on drums. A reception outside the Program Center will follow the performance. Harden, a New Hartford resident, did the paintings after he made trips to Poland in 1983 and 1984. The show, performance and reception are free and open to the public. The gallery is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. weekdays and from 9 a. m. to noon Saturdays.

Bargains ready
Pick up some bargains at the Democratic Women's Club of Manchester tag sale Saturday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Democratic Headquarters, 200 Main St. The club is accepting items for the sale at its headquarters.

See Miller's art
The art work of Richard Miller will go on display today at the YWCA Gallery, 135 Broad St. Miller, who painted for years, is the last man of his vision, is studying sculpture at Manchester Community College.

Don't be a square
You don't have to be a square to enjoy square and round dancing at Verplanck School on Saturday evening from 8 to 11. Call Ed Rutty and the Country Spice Band will be on hand to be sure everyone has a good time. It is sponsored by Manchester Square Dance Club. The cost is $8 per couple.

Cinema
NORTON
Chicago City — Men, Fri 7:20, 9:45; Sat and Sun 2, 4:20, 7:30, 9:45 — Desert Motel (PG-13) Fri 7:30, Sat and Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45 — She's Gotto Move II (R) Fri 7:20, 9:50; Sat and Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45 — Summer (R) Fri 7:10, 9:30, 9:50; Sat and Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45 — Nothing in Common (PG) Fri 4:45, 9:30; Sat and Sun 4:30, 9:20.
EAST HARTFORD
Belvedere — Back to School (PG-13) Fri and Sat 7:15, 9:30; Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45.
Peer Richard's Pub & Cinema — Back to School (PG-13) Fri and Sat 7:15, 9:30; Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45.
Pineapple Cinema — Top Gun (PG) Fri 1:05, 7:10, 9:30; Sat and Sun 12:30, 2:40, 4:50, 7:10, 9:30 — Teenage Dream (R) Fri 7:10, 9:30; Sat and Sun 12:40, 2:45, 4:45, 7:15, 9:30, 11:30; Sun 12:40, 2:45, 4:45, 7:15, 9:30, 11:30 — Sun of a Lesbian (R) Fri 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45; Sat 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45; Sun 1:15, 3:45, 6:15, 8:45.
WEST HARTFORD
Sue Kurr 827, F. Wilkinson 601, Edith Albert 660, Tony DeMalo 589, Mary Hill 591, Richard Culbert 590, Gladys Thompson 589, Harry Pospisil 580, Gert McKay 578, Martin Raucha 572, Martin Bakstan 570, and John Klein 569.

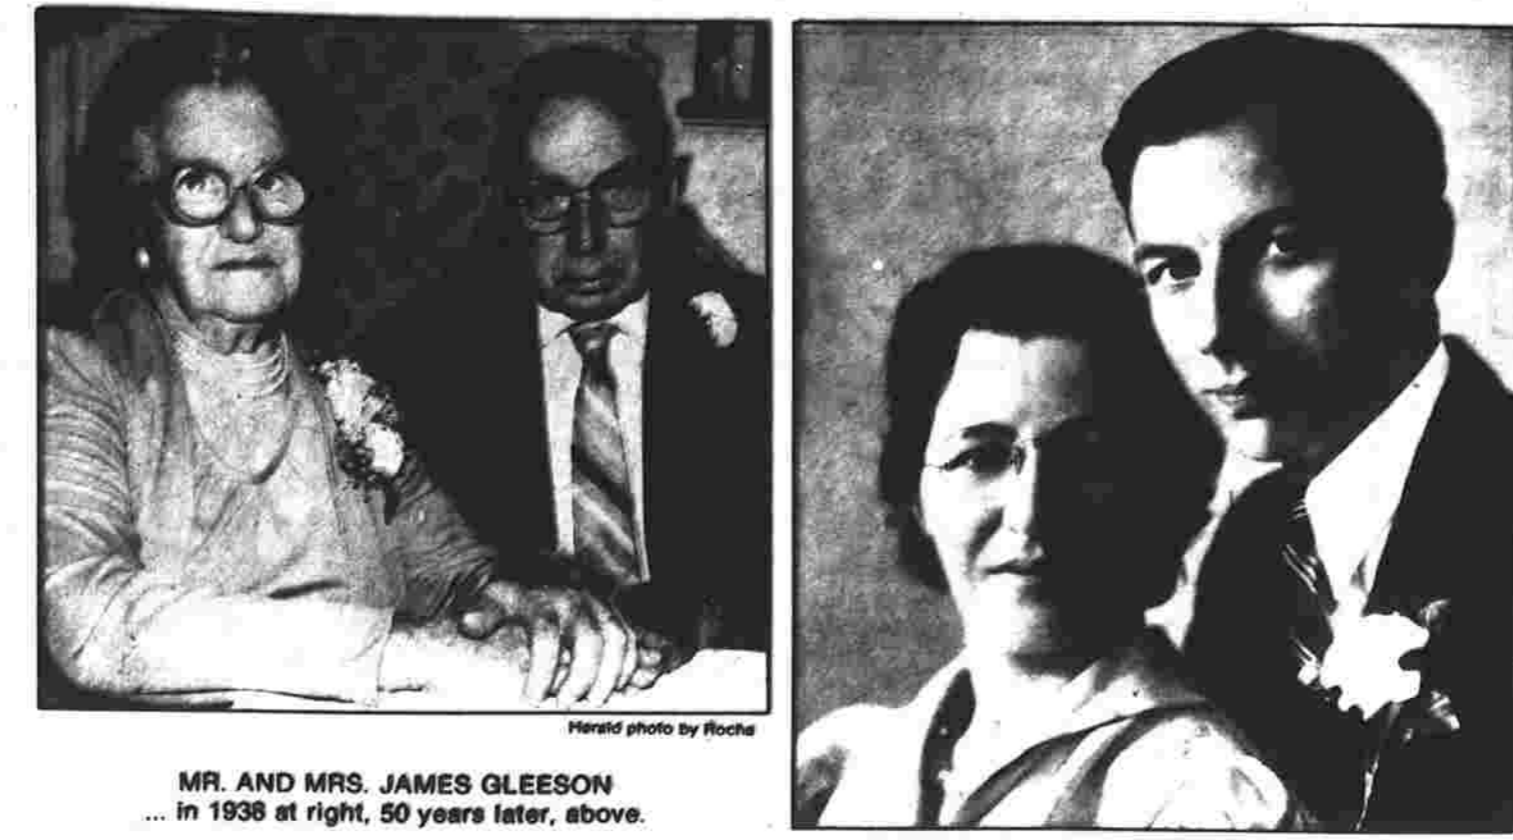

Party for artist
Distinctive Gallery will have a reception for artist James Brennan at East Hartford from noon to 4 p. m. Saturday at the gallery, 280 Burnside Ave., East Hartford. There will be a raffle for a free portrait of a person of the winner's choice. Brennan's work will be on display through Oct. 26 from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday and Sunday and by appointment. Brennan, an East Hartford resident, formerly lived in Manchester.

Yodeling and stories
Bill Staines, a local favorite who sings, tells stories and yodels, will be featured at the Sounding Board on Saturday. The weekly folk music concerts are at First Church of Christ Congregational, 12 South Main St., West Hartford. Doors open at 7 p. m.; concerts begin at 8. For reservations, call 563-5263. Admission is $7.

It's just for fun
This clown on a bike, created by Hal Poth of Missouri, is just one of the whimsical sculptures you'll see in the current exhibit at the Guilford Handcrafts Center on Route 77 in Guilford. The exhibit opens with a public reception on Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. The gallery is open weekdays, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and Sundays 1 to 4 p. m. The whimsy show remains until Oct. 25.

Gleesons celebrate 50 years together
Mr. and Mrs. James Gleeson of 28 School St., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a buffet attended by 110 guests at the Army and Navy Club recently.
The party was given by the couple's sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Gleeson of Hyde Park, N. Y., and Mrs. and Mrs. Dennis J. Gleeson of Enfield, and seven grandchildren. Guests also came from California, Michigan, Maine and Pennsylvania. The couple was married at Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Sept. 28, 1936.
Mr. Gleeson retired from Travelers Insurance Co. after 46 years of employment.

Orford Parish, DAR, hosts annual Frost Fair
Orford Parish of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its annual Frost Fair Saturday from 9:30 a. m. until 3 p. m. at Center Congregational Church. Sally Robb is general chairman. Booths and other chairmen are: Arts and Crafts, Mrs. Barry Smith and Mrs. George Thurber; Novelties, Miss Jean Kelsey and Mrs. Roland Weeks; Knits, Mrs. Robert Lappen and Mrs. Robert Pratt; Country Store, Mrs. Charles Treat and Mrs. Frank Sheldon; Books, Miss Ella Sumner and Miss Jeanette Sumner; Jumble Sale, Mrs. Kibbe Willey and Miss Ruth Willey; Food Sale, Miss Marion Brooking, Miss Margaret Korngiebel, and Candy, Mrs. Lenie Brookes and Mrs. George Chapin; Parcel Post, Mrs. Richard Niese and Mrs. Thomas Johnson; Coffee and doughnuts until 11 a. m. Mrs. Harold Maher. Luncheon, offering a selection of sandwiches, soup, desserts and beverages, will be served by Mrs. Chester Osborn, Mrs. William O'Neill, Mrs. Walter Senkow, Mrs. Walter Holman, Mrs. Iverson, and Mrs. Roland Ouelette.

When actor Paul Sills plays games, eager N.Y. theater audiences listen
By Michael Kuchwara
The Associated Press

"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.
"My mother developed these games while working with the children of immigrants," says the 58-year-old Sills. "The laws and rules of the theater were difficult to explain to people who didn't speak English. She would take aspects of the theater and turn them into games."
Sills has been playing them since he was 10. He first learned them from his mother, a one-time actress named Viola Spolin who taught at Hull House, the famous Chicago settlement center started by Jane Addams.

Advice

Husband's idea of charity flunks the test for fidelity

DEAR ABBY: We had been married for 15 beautiful years when a young married woman who works with my husband talked this fine, Christian family man into committing adultery.

Dear Abby Abigail Van Buren

She is very plain and doesn't look the type, but she kept after him, telling him what a poor lover her husband was, so he felt sorry for her and that's how it happened.

I am sure my husband didn't just after her; it was more like an act of charity. He told her that he had never broken his marriage vows before and he didn't intend to break them again, so she shouldn't expect it to become a habit.

DEAR SINNED AGAINST: Adultery is adultery, regardless of the circumstances. That kind of charity should not only begin at home, it should end there.

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married soon and have a very serious problem to face. My fiancée's father is seriously ill.

wedding date. We set our wedding date four months ago - before we knew how sick he was.

DEAR HAPPY AND SAD: Should your future, father-in-law die on your wedding day, or a few days before, it would cast a sorrowful shadow over the wedding festivities.

DEAR ABBY: Last year I was widowed, so my daughter and son-in-law took me on a little trip to cheer me up. When I returned, I learned that my neighbor, who had been a dear friend of many years, came to my home and took my old dog to the veterinarian and had him "put out of his misery" - that's the way she put it.

DEAR STILL: What happened was, presumably and outrageously, but a legal judgment will not compensate for the pain of your premature loss.

DEAR DR. GOTT: At 38 my wife had shingles, which left her with dark keloid scars on her thighs.

DEAR POLLY: I must have five pairs of nail clippers around the house, but I never seem to find them when I need them.

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

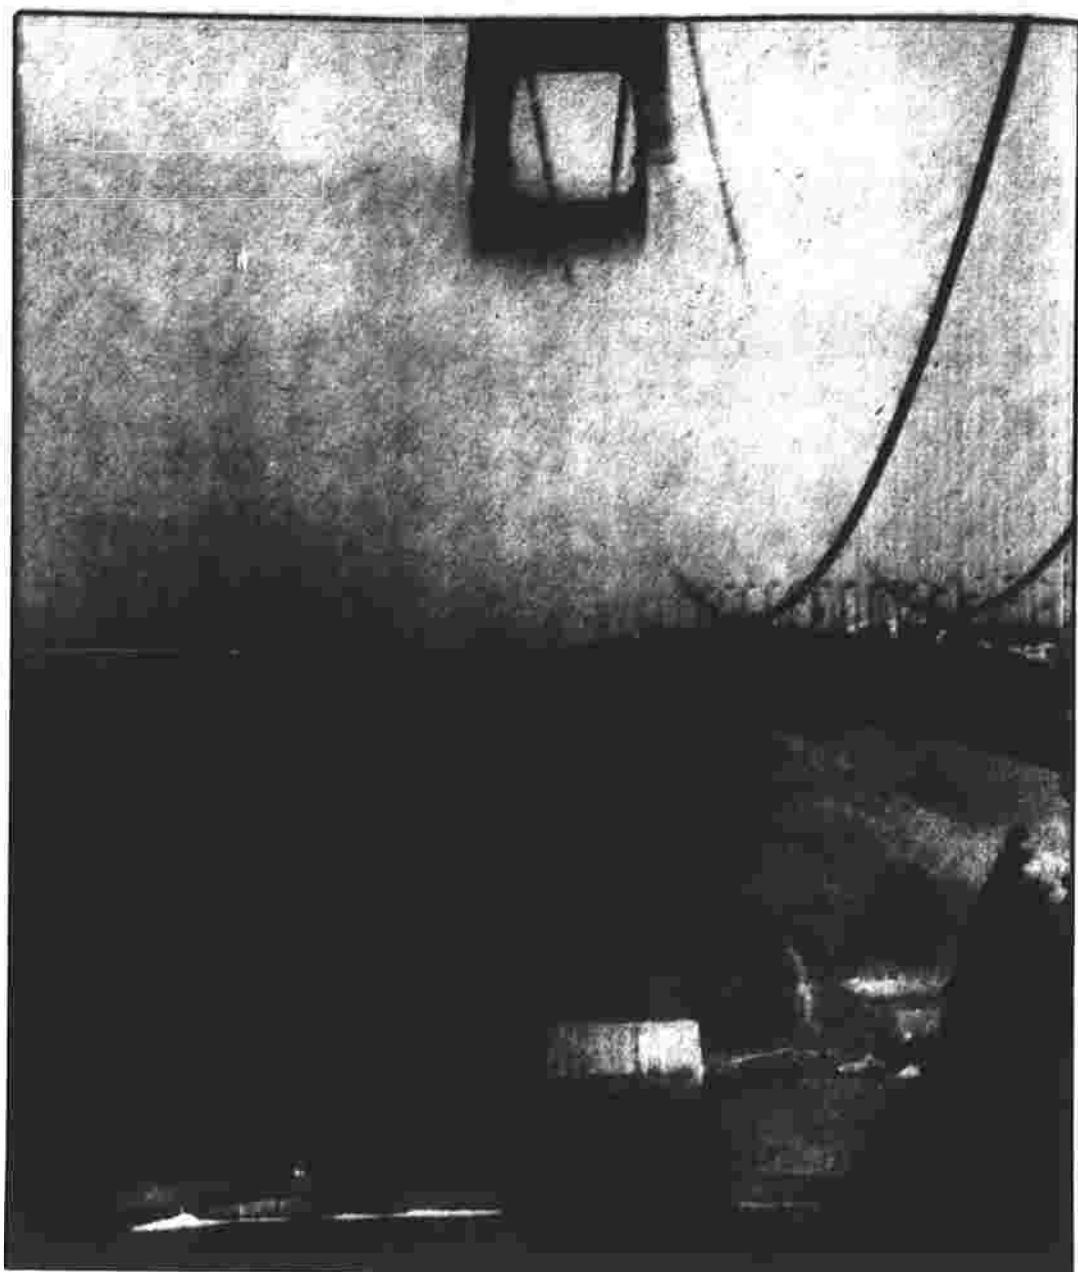

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

The USS Alaska, a Trident class nuclear submarine, makes its way out to sea in the fog beneath the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco recently.

SPORTS

Mattingly gets hits mark; Clemens 'ready'

Test on Saturday for Clemens' arm

By The Associated Press

BOSTON - The test comes on Saturday for Roger Clemens, the mainstay of the Boston Red Sox pitching staff who escaped a line drive off the arm with a bruise.

Clemens said he had been down before Thursday's game but was anxious to begin pitching again. "I was angry, sort of, over it. I was mad at myself," he said.

NL roundup

Gooden sets record; Scott comes pretty close

By Ken Rappoport The Associated Press

Dwight Gooden of the New York Mets made some major league history while Mike Scott of the Houston Astros came pretty close.

Whalers are routed in final exhibition tilt

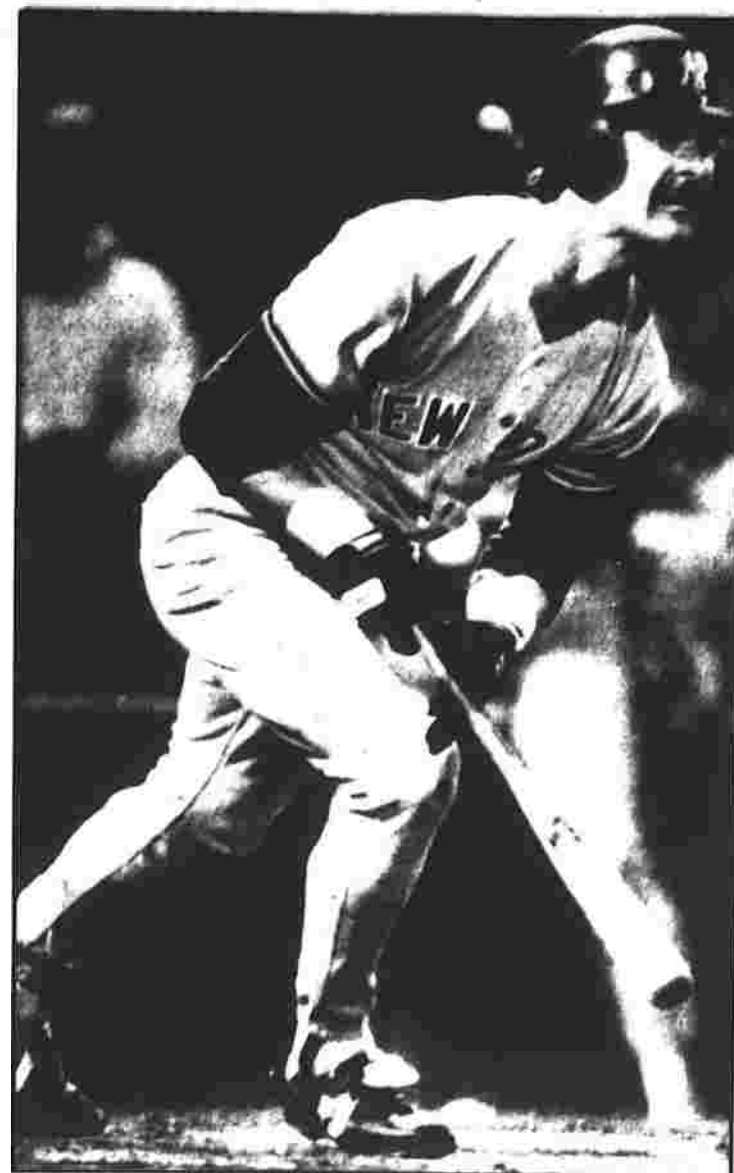

By Ken Rappoport The Associated Press

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) Kirk Muller scored two goals Thursday night to lead the New Jersey Devils to a 7-2 preseason NHL win over the Hartford Whalers.

Russians embrace baseball

MOSCOW (AP) - Raz, dva, tri strikes, you're out.

Baseball, that favorite American national pastime, is coming to the Russians. The nation's official news agency, Tass, reported Thursday night that the State Committee for Sports and Physical Culture had decided that baseball "is to be cultivated in the U.S.S.R. along with softball and the old Russian game of lapta."

New York's Don Mattingly watches one of his two hits land safely Thursday night at Fenway Park. Mattingly set a new Yankee hits record with 232, surpassing the mark set by Hall of Famer Earle Combs. Mattingly and the Yankees beat the Red Sox, 6-1.

By Ben Walker The Associated Press

Don Mattingly broke the New York Yankees' record for hits in a season all by himself. Dave Righetti got a lot of help in his bid to set the major-league save mark.

Mattingly doubled and singled Thursday night as the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox 6-1. The two hits gave him 232 for the year, one more than the club record set by Hall of Famer Earle Combs in 1927.

It's nice to be able to do something that no one else here has done before," Mattingly said. He also hit his 52nd double of the year, tying the team record established by Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig, also in 1927.

Surgery may cover scars

DEAR DR. GOTT: At 38 my wife had shingles, which left her with dark keloid scars on her thighs.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR READER: Shingles frequently leave permanent skin discolorations. Surgery can remove the unwanted pigmentation, but no honest surgeon is going to guarantee a perfect result.

DEAR POLLY: I must have five pairs of nail clippers around the house, but I never seem to find them when I need them.

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had surgery for a deviated septum about nine years ago. Recently, my breathing became uncomfortable again.

DEAR POLLY: I must have five pairs of nail clippers around the house, but I never seem to find them when I need them.

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

DEAR CLAUDE: And think of all those times when you're out and unexpectedly need clippers!

COMING SATURDAY

Weekend Plus Magazine

- 2 Between the Lines: The story behind the story, by Josie.
4 Outlook: Beware the office party.
5 Profiles: Manchester High's Joan McGee.
6 Cover Story: Success has come easily to Tracy Scoggins of TV's 'The Colbys'.

- 8 Trends: Those useless pound cutters can cost you dollars.
9 Weekend Television: Program schedules, features and puzzles, through page 16.
12 At the Movies: 'Tough Guys' isn't bad... Hollywood scandal is a doozie... Film capsules.

- 13 Music: Is rap getting a bad rep? ... Turntable tips.
17 Sexuality: Premature ejaculation is a common problem.
18 Beauty: The right foods can make your skin more beautiful.
20 Careers: Apprentice programs match masters and neophytes.
21 The Curious Shopper: Is vinegar hard on your blood pressure?
22 Dining In: Chicken is a winner
23 Dining Out: Sondra Stave visits the 1784 Inn of Franklin.

LAST CHANCE AT 2.9%

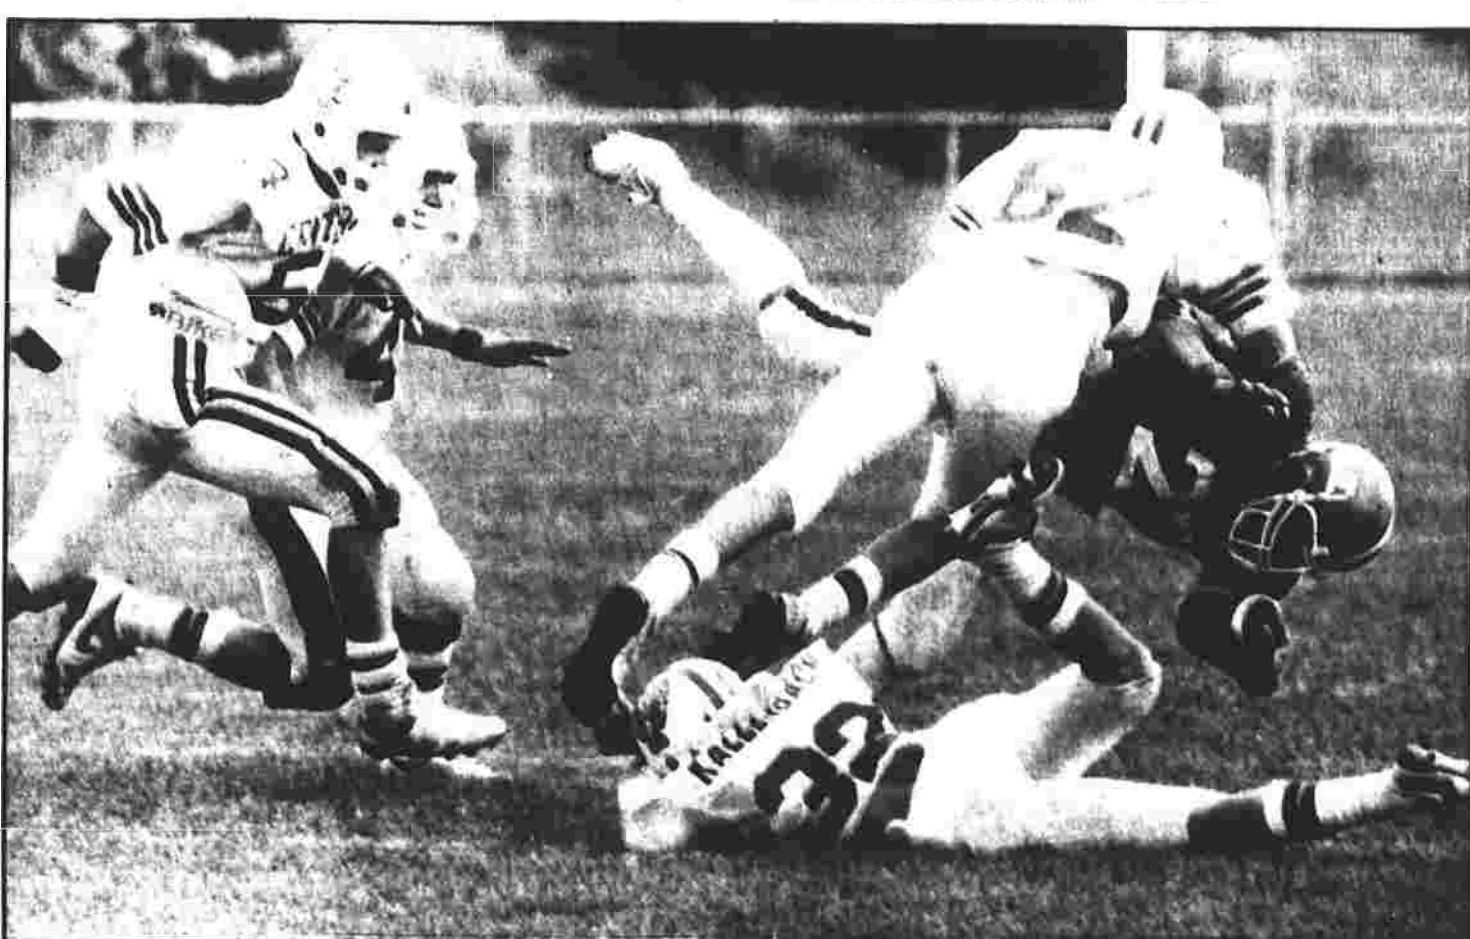

Remaining 1986's In Stock

- 5 CAVALIERS 3 CAMARO Z28's
3 CHEV. IMPORTS 5 S10's & C10's

Program Ends Oct. 8th

1220 MAIN STREET, DUBLIN, MASSACHUSETTS

Finding nothing but a lot of white shirts

Manchester High running back Dwayne Albert is about to take a tumble after he's hit by Bristol Central's Brian Goodfield last weekend in schoolboy football action.

1-2 South Windsor High at Memorial Field. Crosstown East Catholic, 2-0-1, is in action Saturday morning at 10:30 at 1-1 Windsor High School in a non-conference affair.

Important game awaits BC as it visits SMU in Texas

By The Associated Press

It's not too early in the college football season for significant games and two New England coaches say that's what they face Saturday.
"It's an important game for BC," Boston College Coach Jack Blackwelder said of Saturday night's contest at Southern Methodist. "The kids think they can win every week, but we can't prove that we are winners yet."
Boston University Coach Steve Strickland said Saturday's visit to Richmond is "just as important as last week's 26-21 victory over Maine, his team's first of the season."
"We feel like we've built some momentum and we want to see if we can make it carry over to this week," Strickland said. "We are looking at this as a major turning-point for our season."
In other games this weekend, Connecticut visits New Hampshire in a Yankee Conference contest. Brown and Pennsylvania, two

UConn defense to face big challenge in Wildcats

STORRS — The University of Connecticut defense will face a big challenge Saturday as it tries to contain the Wildcat offense of Dartmouth in the Yankee Conference action at 1 p.m. in Durham, N.H., on what is Homecoming Day for the Wildcats.
"The trip up north will be UConn's first true road test. Connecticut had its first two games at friendly Richmond. The Spiders whipped the Wildcats, 38-12, while the Huskies beat the Spiders, 29-2. That, however, won't mean a thing come Saturday.
"UConn and UNH have been involved in close contests in recent years. The Wildcats won the last two, 13-12 and 10-8. The series between the two schools stands at 27-24-6 in the Wildcats' favor.
"New Hampshire is coming off a 66-12 shellacking of Dartmouth. The Wildcats are being led by sophomore Bob Jean, who has taken over the quarterback chores from senior co-captain Rich Byrne. Jean has completed 56-of-120 passes for 638

Sports In Brief

Coventry Lions Run on Sunday
COVENTRY — The fifth annual Coventry Lions Vision Run will be held on Sunday. The race starts at 11 p.m. and the 5K race starts at noon. Classes included Junior, High School, Open, Sub-Masters, Masters and Grand Masters (for both races). Both races are AAC sanctioned. The races begin and end at Coventry High School. Entry fee is $5.00, with all proceeds going to club projects.

Scholastic roundup

Coventry halts East's streak
COVENTRY — The fireworks arrived after a scoreless first half as Coventry High thumped East Catholic, 4-1, Thursday in non-conference girls' soccer action.
The victory was the third in a row for the Patriots, 6-1 overall for the season, while the setback snapped the Eagles' four-game winning streak and leaves them 4-4 for the season. Both teams resume conference play on Monday. East hosts Coventry at 3:45 p.m. while Coventry visits C.C. Peck Portland High at 3:30 p.m.
Stacey Robertson put the Patriots on the board seven minutes into the second half with high-scoring goal. Leslie Danehy notching the first of her two goals four minutes later. Bridget Herzog increased the Coventry lead four minutes deeper into the half before matters settled down.
East got on the scoresheet at the 31-minute mark with Amy Catin registering her fourth goal. Danehy added her 17th goal of the season, with two minutes remaining.
"We played very well the entire game, but for six minutes in the second half we made mental errors which you cannot do with the score in the lead," Coventry coach East coach Ron Palmer said.
Coventry had a 27-12 edge in the shots department. Anna Werfel had 9 saves in goal for the Patriots while Kleeper Theresa Sommer had 16 stops.
Monica Hodinjak three assists, Danehy two and Nektaria Gitis one.
"East came right at us in the first half and we were a little out of focus," said Coventry coach Paul Lombardo. "We were very unsettled, but our defense came through and kept us in the game."
"Anna Werfel made a couple of good plays. In the second half, we began passing and working together well. We were able to capitalize on a couple of East Catholic mistakes," he added.
Boys Soccer
Coventry triumphs
CROMWELL — Victory came relatively easily, but Coventry coach Bob Plaster wasn't completely satisfied. "My only concern is maybe we should have had more than two goals," he said following his Patriots' 4-0 blanking of Cromwell in Charter Oak Conference play Thursday afternoon.
The win lifts Coventry to 4-1 in the COC and 7-0 overall. Cromwell plays to 1-4, 1-6 with the loss. Dave Burgess had five goals and a 2-0 halftime lead with his first two goals of the season. He is the 10th Patriot to get into the goal-scoring department this season. "We're not finishing as well as I'd like," said Plaster, who got career victory No. 100 last Friday and led his team to a 1-0 win over St. Albans in his second goal as a coach. "I'm not finishing as well as I'd like," said Plaster, who got career victory No. 100 last Friday and led his team to a 1-0 win over St. Albans in his second goal as a coach.

Former NBA star Drew arrested

ATLANTA — Former National Basketball Association star John Drew was arrested at his Atlanta home and charged with selling cocaine to an undercover Georgia Bureau of Investigation agent.

Thorpe, Hinkle lead Southern golf

COLUMBUS, Ga. — Jim Thorpe and Lon Hinkle each shot 5-under-par 65s to share the first-round lead by one stroke in the $50,000 Southern Open golf tournament, in which almost half the field matched or bettered par.
The 37-year-old Thorpe, winless this season after capturing the only two tournaments of his 8-year career in 1985, played near-flawless golf over the par-70, 6,791-yard Green Island Country Club course until his last hole when he made his only bogey.
Thorpe's partner, Hinkle, who was in the hole when Thorpe was one shot away from a tie, bogeyed his final hole to finish at 68. Hinkle had a 4-under-par 69.

Rangers acquire Jackson, Golden

NEW YORK — The New York Rangers acquired defenseman Don Jackson and right wing Mike Golden from the Edmonton Oilers for future considerations, Rangers General Manager Phil Esposito announced Thursday.
Jackson, 30, played with Edmonton for four seasons and with two Stanley Cup winners. In 45 games last year, the 6-foot-3, 210-pound defenseman scored two goals and eight assists and had 82 penalty minutes. He also played in the Stanley North Stars' third-round choice in the 1976 draft, has 15 goals and 67 points in 289 games in his career, with 549 penalty minutes.

Jazz, Curry near pact agreement

ROANOKE, Va. — The Utah Jazz reached a contract agreement Thursday with Dell Curry, the National Basketball Association team's top 1986 draft choice, according to a published report.
The Roanoke Times & World-News reported in its Friday edition that Curry, the leading scorer in Virginia Tech history, agreed to a four-year guaranteed pact worth more than $1 million.
Curry, the 15th pick overall in June's NBA draft, told the paper he will fly to Salt Lake City on Friday morning to sign. Later in the day, Curry will participate in his first practice with the Jazz.

Rutgers challenging for supremacy

NEW YORK — Penn State is used to early challenges for Eastern supremacy in college football. Pitt, West Virginia, Syracuse, Boston College and Navy have had their shots at Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions in recent years, and come up short.
Now it's Rutgers' turn. The Scarlet Knights are 3-0-1, with wins over BC, Syracuse and Cincinnati, and a tie on the road against Kentucky. Rutgers, coached by Dick Anderson, a former assistant to Paterno, also has scored in Penn State in their last two meetings. The Lions had to rally with 10 fourth-quarter points for a 17-10 victory last year. In 1984, Penn State won 15-12.
"The significant thing is that when you look at Penn State they have a lot of above average major college players," Anderson said. "Not a whole lot of teams can say that."
Penn State also has a 3-0 record and is ranked fifth in the nation. Paterno has used two players in his backfield, a new wrinkle for the Lions. John Shaffer and Matt Kutzner share quarterback, while D. J. Deater and Dave Clark are the tailbacks.

Judge denies USFL appeal

NEW YORK (AP) — Jury confusion about damages for the USFL is not a sufficient reason to affect the $3 in damages the former league was awarded from the NFL after an 11-week trial last summer. U.S. District Judge Peter K. Leisure has ruled.
In two decisions announced Thursday, Leisure denied a USFL motion for a new trial and turned down the NFL's request to set aside the jury's finding that the league was a monopoly.
Two jurors who had favored granting the USFL damages said after the verdict that they confused the jury's instructions. Several jurors admitted some confusion and differing opinion regarding the damage claims.
Two jurors who had favored granting the USFL damages said after the verdict that they confused the jury's instructions. Several jurors admitted some confusion and differing opinion regarding the damage claims.

Florida now eligible for bowl game

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — After two winning seasons in which the University of Florida football team was barred from post-season college football, the NCAA has declared this year's team eligible for bowl competition.
The National Collegiate Athletic Association notified school officials Thursday that the two-year probation for 58 rules violations will end effective Jan. 15, 1987 and the Gators will be eligible to participate in a bowl game at the start of this season, if invited. Ironically, Florida is 1-3 this year.

SCOREBOARD

Baseball

American League Standings

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Boston	11	5	.688	0
Toronto	9	7	.562	2
Detroit	8	7	.531	3
Cleveland	8	7	.531	3
Minnesota	6	8	.429	5
Baltimore	7	8	.469	6

National League Standings

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Los Angeles	11	3	.786	0
San Diego	8	7	.531	3
San Francisco	8	7	.531	3
Atlanta	8	7	.531	3
Philadelphia	5	9	.357	6
Pittsburgh	4	10	.286	7

Football

NFL Standings

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
San Francisco	1	0	0	1.000
New England	1	0	0	1.000
Atlanta	1	0	0	1.000
Los Angeles	1	0	0	1.000
Washington	1	0	0	1.000
Buffalo	1	0	0	1.000
San Diego	1	0	0	1.000

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
New York Jets	1	0	0	1.000
New England	1	0	0	1.000
Atlanta	1	0	0	1.000
Los Angeles	1	0	0	1.000
Washington	1	0	0	1.000

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
San Francisco	1	0	0	1.000
New England	1	0	0	1.000
Atlanta	1	0	0	1.000
Los Angeles	1	0	0	1.000
Washington	1	0	0	1.000

Baseball (Cont.)

NEW YORK

Ryan	1	0	0	1.000
Flaherty	1	0	0	1.000
Hogan	1	0	0	1.000
Williams	1	0	0	1.000
DiGirolamo	1	0	0	1.000
Blanton	1	0	0	1.000
Brady	1	0	0	1.000

BOSTON

Owen	2	1	0	.667
Borrell	2	1	0	.667
Wells	2	1	0	.667
Robertson	2	1	0	.667
DiGeronimo	2	1	0	.667
Harmon	2	1	0	.667
Burke	2	1	0	.667

Football (Cont.)

NEW YORK

McNair	1	0	0	1.000
Meadowcroft	1	0	0	1.000
Harris	1	0	0	1.000
McMillen	1	0	0	1.000
St. Just	1	0	0	1.000
White	1	0	0	1.000

BOSTON

Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667
St. Just	2	1	0	.667
White	2	1	0	.667
Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667

Baseball (Cont.)

NEW YORK

McNair	1	0	0	1.000
Meadowcroft	1	0	0	1.000
Harris	1	0	0	1.000
McMillen	1	0	0	1.000
St. Just	1	0	0	1.000
White	1	0	0	1.000

BOSTON

Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667
St. Just	2	1	0	.667
White	2	1	0	.667
Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667

Football (Cont.)

NEW YORK

McNair	1	0	0	1.000
Meadowcroft	1	0	0	1.000
Harris	1	0	0	1.000
McMillen	1	0	0	1.000
St. Just	1	0	0	1.000
White	1	0	0	1.000

BOSTON

Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667
St. Just	2	1	0	.667
White	2	1	0	.667
Winters	2	1	0	.667
Yorlano	2	1	0	.667

Radio, TV

NEW YORK	11:30	Yankees vs. Red Sox, Channel 5
NEW YORK	7:30	Nets vs. Pirates, Channel 9, 20
NEW YORK	7:30	Baxing: Frankie Rocchi vs. Aliduro Masovero, ESPN
NEW YORK	11:30	Tennis: Davis Cup semifinal — U.S. vs. Australia, ESPN

Golf

NEW YORK	11:30	Yankees vs. Red Sox, Channel 5
NEW YORK	7:30	Nets vs. Pirates, Channel 9, 20
NEW YORK	7:30	Baxing: Frankie Rocchi vs. Aliduro Masovero, ESPN
NEW YORK	11:30	Tennis: Davis Cup semifinal — U.S. vs. Australia, ESPN

STOP Quik

OPEN TUES. & THURS. 'TIL 8 PM
248 SPRUCE ST. MANCHESTER, CT 646-7202
BRAKE CENTERS, INC.

Winterize Special Flush System • Check Hoses Check Brakes Refill with Antifreeze $24.95	Fall Tune-Up 4 cyl. 143.95 6 cyl. 153.95 8 cyl. 163.95 *most cars	Lube, Oil, Filter Up to 5 Qts. 10W/40 $16.95 *most cars	Brake Specials Complete, Lifetime Guarantee DISC DRUM $54.95 $49.95 *most cars
---	---	--	---

Coupons must be presented on payment.
Senior citizens take off an additional 10%.

MORIRAY BROTHERS Ext. 60 Ft. 184
301-315 CENTER STREET, MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT 643-5135

Friday TV

- 5:00PM (HBO) MOVIE: The Aviator... 6:00PM (3) 22, 30, 40 News... 7:00PM (3) CBS News... 8:00PM (3) Scarecrow and Mrs. King... 9:00PM (3) M*A*S*H... 10:00PM (3) P.M. Magazine... 11:00PM (3) 22, 30, 40 News... 12:30AM (3) Solid Gold...

Victim's mom told set safe

By Richard De Atley The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — The mother of a 6-year-old girl killed on the "Twilight Zone" movie set Sept. 24 said she described the horrifying instant when a helicopter rotor slashed into two children and actor Vic Morrow.

Making magic

Erno Rubik, the Hungarian architecture professor turned inventor, poses in New York this week with his new puzzle, Rubik's Magic, which he hopes will recreate the mania caused by his previous Rubik's Cube.

Flavor sprays may curb food cravings

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A spray of apple-cinnamon Danish, a spritz of pizza or a blast of chocolate can give dieters relief from cravings without adding pounds, say researchers who have developed flavored, low-calorie mouth sprays.

TOWN OF BOLTON HELP WANTED

- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.

TOWN OF BOLTON HELP WANTED

- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.

TOWN OF BOLTON HELP WANTED

- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.
- Bookkeeper. Part time position available for a mature, responsible person with basic bookkeeping experience... 646-3117 for an appointment.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

ANNOUNCEMENTS, HELP WANTED, and other classified ads including: Pancake Breakfast, Fuel oil truck driver, Data Processing Department, Babysitter wanted, etc.

NEEDED: WAITRESSES, BUS BOYS, Shady Glen, 360 West Middle Turnpike at the Parkade Shopping Center. Call Mrs. Barbara Smith-643-0511.

HELP WANTED, POWER PRESS, THOMPSON ASSOCIATES, and other classified ads including: Proof Reader, Han-Dee Manufacturing Company, Delivery Person, etc.

Large vertical numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0 on the right margin.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
Allan Church Organ, model T-15A. Excellent condition. Recently serviced. 666-6334 after 5pm.

PETS AND SUPPLIES
Two grey kittens to good home. 6 weeks old, box trained. 643-4009.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
3 kittens. 7 weeks old, box trained. Call 669-9937.

ENDROLLS
27 1/2" width - 250
13 1/2" width - 2 for 25¢
MUST be picked up at the Manchester Herald Office before 11 A.M. ONLY.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
Spa shells - factory second - damaged for transportation. $200 to $800 as is. Week ends or evenings. 742-6679.

New medium size dog house $65.00 or best offer. Call 649-8314.

Golf Balls. Golden Ram Tour Edition. Titleist. Max Fil DD H. Top Flite. Top Flite XL. Pinnacle. Hogan. Pro Staff. Ultra Tourney. $4.00/Dozen. 343-2323.

Traverse Rock. Block 7 for double width. 1 for 4 windows. All - 520 643-1810.

Sand swimming pool. 11' x 17'. Sited for 20' above ground pool. Used one season. 599-4386.

Area Branded Rug. Good condition. Multi color. 600 Call 646-1277.

LEGAL NOTICE
In accordance with Section 14 of the Election Laws, notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters will receive applications for Admissions of Electors at the following locations:

Manchester Town Office, 41 Center St., Saturday, October 11, 1986, 9:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M.

Herbert J. Johnson, Assistant Clerk

LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF ANDOVER
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

The Zoning Board of Appeals of the Town of Andover, Connecticut will hold a Public Hearing on the following application for a variance from the Zoning Ordinance, October 15, 1986 at 7:30 P.M. to hear the following applications being for relief from the Zoning Ordinance of the Town of Andover, Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF ANDOVER
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

The Zoning Board of Appeals of the Town of Andover, Connecticut will hold a Public Hearing on the following application for a variance from the Zoning Ordinance, October 15, 1986 at 7:30 P.M. to hear the following applications being for relief from the Zoning Ordinance of the Town of Andover, Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF ANDOVER
COMMISSION ON PROPOSED SPECIAL PERMIT

The Planning and Zoning Commission of Andover, Connecticut will hold a Public Hearing on the following application for a special permit, October 15, 1986 at 7:30 P.M. in the lower level of the Town Office Building on the following application:

ROUTE 6 - A permit of Deborah Sczozafova for approval of a special permit for a Home Occupation to house and care for a dog and cats and a dog house.

LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF ANDOVER
COMMISSION ON PROPOSED SPECIAL PERMIT

The Planning and Zoning Commission of Andover, Connecticut will hold a Public Hearing on the following application for a special permit, October 15, 1986 at 7:30 P.M. in the lower level of the Town Office Building on the following application:

INVITATION TO BID
The Housing Authority of the Town of Manchester will receive bids for Outdoor Lighting of Manchester until 4:00 P.M. on the 7th day of October, 1986, at the office of Housing Authority of the Town of Manchester, 24 Bluefield Drive, Manchester, Connecticut.

HOUSING AUTHORITY OF THE TOWN OF MANCHESTER
CAROL C. SHARLEY
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Hours: Open Evenings 'til 9 p.m. Fri. & Sat. 'til 5 p.m.

643-5135

BUSINESS & SERVICE DIRECTORY

ACCOUNTING
Morris and Irving, CPA's
Fully equipped. $300 or best offer 646-6660.

PLUMBING
Floor-standing floor and wall mounted showers. For more information call 643-4154.

ELECTRICAL
General Electric, Heating, Air Conditioning, etc. Call 643-4154.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
Pool - 3 years old. 18ft. Fully equipped. $300 or best offer 646-6660.

EXPERIENCED HOUSE-KEEPER
Thorough, honest, dependable. Call Mary Kate at 659-2300.

MULTI FAMILY TAG SALE
738 Union Street, Manchester. Saturday, October 3, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
CLARENCE M. BURKE, JR.
Notary Public for the State of Connecticut.

CONNECTICUT
Union: SNET too hard-nosed ... page 7

SPORTS
MHS nearing another crown ... page 11

Saturday, Oct. 4, 1986

Senate sends spending bill to conferees

WASHINGTON — The Senate late Friday voted new aid to the Philippines and money to fight drugs as it approved a record $58 billion spending bill, but foreign policy disputes between the Reagan administration and the House impeded final congressional passage.

The massive spending package, headed to a House-Senate conference committee, was approved, 82-13.

It took three tries during the weeklong debate to clear the $200 million approved earlier by the House for the government of President Corason Aquino, as Democrats and Republicans disagreed on how to pay for it.

The compromise approved 82-14 would take money from any one account, but the Senate's Minority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., said the money was not only helping a "fragile democracy" but "this is also an investment in ourselves, in our far-flung interests in the Pacific, our national security."

The House approved the $200 million for the Philippines shortly after Mrs. Aquino addressed a joint meeting of Congress last month, without providing a way to pay for it.

The Senate added $1.5 billion in spending to cover the drug fighting initiative being negotiated between the House and the Senate. The Senate approved the extra money despite complaints that lawmakers didn't come up with a way to pay for it.

The add-on increased the deficit and violated Congress' own budget rules, said Sen. Bill Armstrong, R-Colo. "These chickens will become hares to roost right after the first of the year," he said.

Anxious to leave Washington for the campaign trail, the Senate worked nearly around the clock on the bill, which covered virtually every aspect of government spending for the fiscal year that began Wednesday. In almost every area,

Navy 'lost' millions in spare parts

WASHINGTON — The Navy lost track of almost $200 million in aviation spare parts aboard its aircraft carriers last year, an internal audit concluded Friday.

Few of those parts probably were lost or stolen, the auditors and Navy officials said. The audit actually discovered more "gains" to Navy inventories than it did "losses" during the year ending in November 1985.

However, the auditors said, the point is that the Navy's bookkeeping and inventory procedures had deteriorated to the point that the service could not keep tabs on equipment worth a substantial amount of money.

The auditors praised the Navy's pursuit of a 146-point improvement program begun in 1984 and concluded that it should reduce the value of "unaccounted" inventories in fiscal 1986 to under $78 million.

The Navy's inventory system and procedures "were not sufficient to prevent or detect material errors, irregularities or inaccuracies," the auditors wrote.

The auditors blamed the problem on a "general lack of computer equipment and trained personnel, and an attitude that allowed rules to be broken while carriers were deployed at sea."

The audit, overseen by the Western Region Office of the Naval Audit Service in San Diego, was released to reporters Friday at the same time it was provided to Congress.

Conducted between September 1985 and last April, the audit was ordered by Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger and Navy Secretary John F. Lehman in the wake of a crackdown on a smuggling ring that siphoned F-14 jet parts from the Navy's supply system for clandestine shipment to Iran.

Federal agents ultimately charged 10 individuals in connection with the ring, of whom eight were arrested and subsequently pleaded guilty. According to the Navy, the FBI and U.S. Customs Service intercepted Navy parts worth $2.8 million in breaking up the ring, which operated for 4 1/2 years.

A precise estimate of how much equipment made it to Iran has not been offered.

The audit report says the carrier inventory system has been strained by growth over the past decade, with 14 carriers holding an inventory worth more than $2.3 billion as of November 1985.

A senior Navy supply officer, who briefed reporters on the audit's findings on condition he not be identified, said the on-going improvement program and accuracy changes prompted by the discovery of the Iranian ring had already produced greater accountability within the inventory system.

Metals prices rise with threat of sanctions

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of strategic metals have shot up on news that South Africa will retaliate against U.S. economic sanctions by cutting off sales of the metals, which are used in everything from telephones to oil refineries.

"However, many experts said Friday that a strategic-metals embargo might be more damaging to South Africa than to the United States, and that South Africa is therefore unlikely to declare one. The steep rise in metals prices — platinum, for example, has soared

Slick streets

Broad Street is a rain-slicked blur early Friday evening as motorists hurry home to begin the weekend. The weatherman has better in store for us today, with partly sunny and breezy skies and temperatures in the mid-70s. Sunday's skies will be partly sunny.

Worthwhile debate
Even though some of the more exciting exchanges came after the official close of Thursday's 4th Senatorial District debate, the forum served its purpose well. Editorial on page 4.

Low-key summit
The United States, saying it wants private talk, not public rhetoric, has asked the Soviets to join in a new broadcast during summit talks next week between President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, a White House spokesman said Friday. Story on page 8.

O'Neill camp fears quiz by Moffett

By Judd Everhart
The Associated Press

HARTFORD — A key strategist for Democratic Gov. William A. O'Neill's re-election campaign said Friday that O'Neill would be allowed to veto one reporter from participating in debates with Republican Julie D. Belaga.

The one they're worried about, said James A. Wade of the O'Neill campaign, is Julie Moffett.

Moffett, a former congressman now working for a Hartford television station, lost a bid this year to head the Democratic nomination for O'Neill.

"We do have a unique situation: we have a former opponent who's now in the media," Wade said. "It wouldn't be a debate between Bill O'Neill and Julie Belaga. It would

Belaga suggests reorganizing DOT — story on page 3

Wade said that was the agreement four years ago when O'Neill debated GOP challenger Lewis B. Beale and that neither candidate had vetoed a reporter.

Terry Mariani, Belaga's campaign press secretary, said that Belaga would likely agree to the proposal in order to pave the way to setting up the debates, but vowed she would never veto the participation of any reporter.

In a letter to the Belaga campaign, Wade asked that he agree to three debates already agreed to by O'Neill and that they can negotiate more debates if O'Neill's schedule permits. Belaga had wanted seven debates.

The three O'Neill wants to do, and which Belaga has already tentatively accepted, are: Oct. 16 in Mytic, sponsored by the Connecticut Newspapers Association; Oct. 20 in Stamford, sponsored by the Southwest Area Commerce and Industry Association; and Oct. 21 in Hartford, sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

The two campaigns are still haggling about the length of opening statements, if any, and the length of responses allowed for each question.

TODAY'S HERALD

1987 MAZDA B2000 TRUCKS 4.9%* ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OR 100,000 Mile Extended Warranty

1987 SPORTR MAZDA RX7 8 Left!

Over 50 Available NOW

Base, SE-5, Luxury, Luxury with Convenience package. See the Cab Plus.

Base, Luxury and Turbo all available!

LARGE INVENTORY MEANS GREAT DEALS

*Finance Rate available to qualified buyers. Finance Term up to 36 months. Maximum Finance amount $4000. In lieu of any other promotions.

Cash Buyers: You get a Mazda Extended Warranty, for 60 months / 100,000 miles at NO EXTRA CHARGE

NO GIMMICKS — JUST A GREAT DEAL!

Price Includes: 1. All Dealer Prep. 2. Undercoating
3. Clean & Wax 4. Handling and Freight Charges.
(Tax & Lic. extra.)

MORIARY BROTHERS Exit 60 Off I-84

MORIARY BROTHERS Exit 60 Off I-84

301-315 CENTER STREET MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT 643-5135

Hours: Open Evenings 'til 9 p.m. Fri. & Sat. 'til 5 p.m.