Court says Rotary can't bar women

By James H. Rubin The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - States may force Rotary Clubs to admit women, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The justices, in a 7-0 ruling, upheld a California law that bars Rotary International from ousting local chapters that have women members Justice Lewis F. Powell, in his opinion for the court, said the California law does not interfere with the constitutional rights of Rotarians to associate with whom they please.

Powell compared the clubs to public accommodations in rejecting arguments that Rotarians have a First Amendment right to bar

He said the clubs are sizeable, have a high turnover rate, engage in public activities, encourage participation by non-members and welcome news media coverage of many of the central activities.

"The evidence in this case indicates that the relationship among Rotary Club members is not the kind of intimate or private relation that warrants constitutional protection," Powell said. "The membership undertakes a variety of service projects designed to aid the community, to raise the standards of the members' businesses and professions and to Improve International relations," zations might be affected. Powell suggested it requires a case-by-case analysis to determine whether an organization is sufficiently private to base membership on gender. The justices in 1984 ruled that the Jaycees may be forced by states to admit women as full members.

That decision said a Minnesota law banning discrimination by "public accommodations" applies to the Javcees. Thus, today's ruling does not answer the question of whether state public accommodations laws may apply, for example, to such groups as the Kiwanis, Lions, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Sons of Italy or the Polish Women's Alliance.

Rotary International has nearly one million members in some 20,000 clubs in 54 nations. It was founded $2 years ago by four Chicago men and took its name from their practice of rotating meeting sites at each other's place of business.

The international organization was ordered to abide by a Calfiro-nia law, the state's so-called Unruh Act, that bans discrimination based on race, sex, religion or nation! origin.

Rotary International ousted a chapter in Duarte, Calif., in 1978 after it admitted three women.

A California appeals court or-dered the Duarte club reinstated in Rotary International last year. In upholding that ruling today, Powell said, "Even if the Unruh Act George Parkhurst, owner of Fred's Package Store on Spruce Street, checks his supply of beer this morning. The strike by beer drivers in the Hartford area may make it more difficult for people to buy their favorite brew if the strike continues throughout the week, liquor store owners said this morning.

But it's not only the full cans of beer that will be the problem. Some stores may stop accepting empty deposit cans because they will run out of storage space. The cans ar usually picked up by the drivers and returned to the distributing plant. "That's the one thing people overlook," said Gary Rounseville, president of M&R Liquors, which has six stores in the Hartford area. including one on Toliand Turnpike in Manchester. "There's a lot of ramifications." The strike by members of Teamsters Local 1035 began Friday after the old contract expired Thursday. A bargaining session is scheduled for today with federal and state mediators, said Clem Sayeres, a spokesman for Hartford Area Beer Distributors, which represents area distributors.

There are five distributing plants being affected, including Hartford Distributors Inc. in Manchester. The five plants serve 1,600 to 1,700 restaurants, bars and package stores. Sayeres said the distributors have offered an 8 sees in cours for an increase rcent pay incr in the amount of beer drivers can haul. Currently, the limit for a one-driver truck is $25 cases. The distributors want that load increased to 400 cases. Sayeres said the 325-case limit is the lowest In the state and behind other New England states. "We're not asking for anything that's

A union spokesman was not available for comment this morning, the union said. Sayeres said he is optimistic an agreement will be reached soon, which is good news for local retailers.

"We don't have much on hand," said David Rood, co-owner of Cherrone's Package Store on East Middle Turnpike. He said the effects should be felt as later in the week as the

he continued. 'In sum, Rotary Clubs, rather than carrying on their activities in an atmosphere of privacy, seek to keep their 'windows and doors open to the whole world'," Powell said.

While today's ruling reinforced the power of states to curb sex discrimination, the court provided no checklist on what other organi-

The stars of the Iran-contra hearings beginning Tuesday will be the witnesses who break their silence, but the featured players will be the legislators probing the affair.

President Reagan, undaunted by the opening of new congressional hearings, insists America must not blink in a U.S.-Soviet "test of wills" over the future of the Western Hemisphere

By Tim Ahern The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The chairman of the Senate committee investigating the Iran-Contra affair says President Reagan knew money was being raised to provide arms to Nicaraguan rebels.

Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, said Sunday, "I think the president knew much more than what the White House has intimated."

Inouye was interviewed on NBC-V's "Meet the Press" as a TV'B committee he chairs, along with a companion panel in the House, begins joint hearings Tuesday into the secret sales of U.S. arms to Iran and the diversion of payments to the Contras fighting the Nicaraguan government

A major question of the long hearings. Inouye said, will be who knew what about the private fund-raising effort to get money and arms to the Contras after Congress cut off aid to the rebels. Inouye said Reagan "was aware that monies were being raised to provide arms for the Contras." That was done. Inouye noted, "at a time when the Congress of the United States had expressed its intention that funds should not be spent to purchase arms for the Contras.

Sen, Warren Rudman, R-N.H. vice chairman of the Inouye panel. said on the NBC program. "There's a difference between public and private funds ... and that's, of course, the one issue that we have yet to hone in on."

Another question is whether Reagan knew about the diversion of noney from the Iran arms sales to the Contra cause.

Inouye said he has found no evidence "whatsoever" that the unusual," he said.

In other developments:

-Lewis Tambs, former U.S. ambassador to Costa Rica, was quoted Sunday in The New York Times as saying that during the time U.S. aid to the Contras was legally banned. Tambs was ordered by senior U.S. officials to help the rebels. He identified those officials as Lt. Col. Oliver North, who had since been fired from the president's National Security Council, Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams and Alan Fiers, who was head of the CIA's Central American

Task Force. -Newsweek magazine reported this week that friends of retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard Secord will testify that less than $1 million from the arms sales was diverted to the Contras

The magazine also released new poll showing 49 percent of Americans surveyed believe the congressional hearings will simply "prolong the affair." The telephone poll of 615 people on April 29-30 also showed 62 percent were convinced that once all the evidence has been presented. Reagan will prove to have been more deeply involved in the affair than he had publicly acknowledged. up from 59 percent in a poll conducted shortly after the release of the Tower commission report

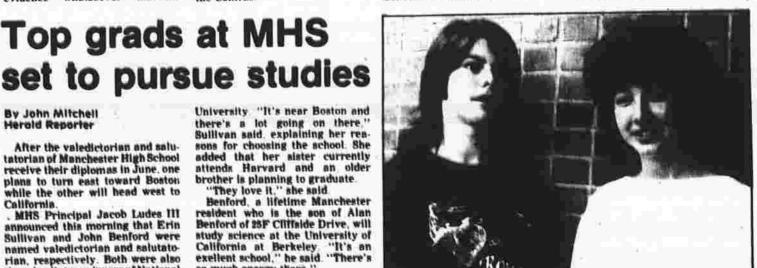

-The Chicago Tribune reported Sunday that according to former National Security Adviser Robert C. McFarlane, within 30 days of Reagan's May 1984 decision to sell 400 Stinger anti-aircraft missiles to Saudi Arabia, $1 million a month began flowing from the Saudis into a secret bank account set up for the benefit of the Contras.

Congressional investigators be-lieve the Saudis contibuted $30 million to $40 million to the Contra cause before the arms sales were disclosed last November.

-Former National Security Adviser John M. Poindexter began meeting over the weekend with congressional investigators, but Rudman and Inouye said they hadn't yet been told what he had

house closes

Owners of a 16-unit roomin house at 701 Main St. plan to clos the operation and leave it idle until they can carry out their plans to convert it to an apartment house, one of the owners. Phyllis Jackston, said today. She said occupants of the room-ing house have been given eviction notices. The building, at the corner of Birch Street, houses Blish Hard-ware, J&J Jewelers and Jackston's Century 21 rest estate office on its first floor. The businesses are not affected by the decision to close the rooming house. Jackston, who owns the property along with her husband, Nicholas, and Jacques Guay of South Wind-sor, said fire-code violations in the building will be corrected as ordered by the Housing Court. # Collapse investigation turns toward leaky pump

BRIDGEPORT (AP) – The purchase of large quantities of clay granules to absorb hydraulic fluids have led investigators of the collapse of the L'Ambiance Plaza apartment complex to suspect a failed pump may have caused the diamster, published reports said. The Hartford Courant reported in Monday editions that Mayor Tho-

House set to vote on Medicare plan

HARTFORD - The state House of Representatives is expected to vote this week on a bill aimed at requiring most doctors to accept Medicare reimbursement as full payment for services to low-income elderly patients. The measure was referred to the Appropriations Committee from the House last week, and the committee is to take up the bill on Monday. House action is expected Wednesday. Under the bill, the program would initially be voluntary on the doctors' part. But if fewer than 85 percent of physicians are participating in it by July 1988, the program will become Those over the age of 65 would be eligible if they meet income

McKinney's condition unchanged

WASHINGTON - There was no change in the condition of Rep Stewart B. McKinney, R-Conn., who was in critical condition and on a respirator at Washington Hospital Center suffering from a respiratory tract infection. 'His condition remains unchanged," a hospital spokesman said late Sunday. Earlier in the day, McKinney's press secretary Diane Brockett said the 56-year-old congressman had been sedated to prevent him from becoming uncomfortable and restless on the respirator. McKinney, a heavy smoker, has suffered a series of serious medical problems, including a heart attack in 1977. He had double-bypass heart surgery after that, and in November 1985, he was hospitalized for double pneumonia. The nine-term congressman was admitted to the hospital April 22 for tests after suffering gastroenteritis, possibly caused by food poisoning. That condition subsided, but a severe cold combined with chronic bronchitis created the respiratory infection, Brockett

Venice considers limit on tourists

VENICE, Italy (AP) - City officials in this tourist meeca, who last year began fining people for eating bag lunches in St. Mark's Square, now want to limit the number of visitors to 90,000 per day. Tourism is Venice's principa source of income. But the annual tourist invasion also creates a shortage of hotel rooms and milelong lines for parking spots on the edge of the central city, where cars are banned.

Police have begun asking tourists to show proof of a reservation before allowing them to enter, and Tourist Commissioner Augusto Sal-vadori is considering a limit of 90,000 tourists a day.

OPINION School work must do more than asbestos

6 - MANCHESTER HERALD, Menday, May 4, 1967

The Building Committee and other Manchester officials involved in the five-school renovation project now being undertaken will have to act swiftly to overcome the problems posed by the shockingly high estimated cost to have asbestos removed and replaced with another insulation. The cost for the work has been estimated at about $6.7 million.

When it was revealed last week, the figure surprised members of the Building Committee, two architects for the school work and a subcommittee from the Board of Education. "We'll spend all the money before we change one door." someone commented sourly. The estimate far exceeded the $640,000 that was allotted for asbestos removal under an $8.88 million bond issue for the renovations approved by voters in November. But the early estimate did not include any provision for the removal of asbestos insulation from heating pipes confined in tunnels, where exposure is at a minimum and the asbestos is least likely to be disturbed and flake off The tunnel work amounts to $4.5 million of the cost. Other, less-expensive means are available for controlling the hazard of asbestos in pipe tunnels.

The cost of asbestos removal in tunnels is higher, ironically, because the asbestos is less accessible Even those who fear asbestos and insist that it should be removed must agree that the cost, even if it were to be well below the most recent estimate, is far out of line with the benefits of getting rid of the stuff in remote tunnels. Of the estimated $6.8 million, about $1 million is for removing and replacing vinyl asbestos floor tiles. The Building Committee has already begun to move on the problem. It has decided.

tentatively at least, that the pipe tunnels will not be tackled now and the vinyl asbestos floor tile will not be removed and replaced. The tile can be covered with carpeting, which accomplishes the same purpose.

The committee also decided not to contract with a highly specialized asbestos-removal contractor to replace the asbestos insulation removed from the schools. That can be done more cheaply by less specialized workers.

The Building Committee needs to continue those cost-reduction efforts and it needs the backing of other town officials and citizens. The money allocated for the school renovations has to accomplish more than asbestos removal.

Jim Bakker it ain't. And Mother Angelica suggests that is the joy of it. She has been criticized for lacking a show-business flair, some say the material is too stiff and formal, yet the mother has a gift for reaching into the soul, and happily, she does it without reaching into the bank account first. THE ETERNAL WORD Network does not normally ask for contributions over the air. There are no phone banks at the station, nor celebrities on ended knees. Mother Angelica says she drops a few hints now and then, and makes sure her address is known, otherwise she pays the bills in a tangential way. That way is indirect, for the most part. The $300,000 per month budget is gathered quietly and out of sight. Mother Angelica says she collects some funds through a 100,000-name mailing list, and she earns the rest of it by providing television linkages to networks and business organizations The mother says she did hold one series of telethon solicitations two years ago. That was when God was on vacation, or something, and her financing dipped near the bankruptcy level. She says she hated it even then, however, because she thinks there are better things to do with television

Like spreading compassion. Or providing information. Or respecting convention. She says she will soon film a discussion of St. Catherine of Siena, for instance, and then she will get into the gestures of the Mass. She is not trying to construct an empire, after all; only a little more trust.

It's a noble pursuit. And it comes at a time when others who foster electronic religion might do well to pay attention. Mother Angelica still has her critics in the Catholic Church, but, as she is fond of saying, "We may not know what we are doing in this business, but we seem to be getting good at it.'

system, the programming is available in at least 10 million U.S. homes, and Mother Angelica, at age 64; has become something of a national personality. THE MOTHER HAS also become something of an anomaly. The reason is that she has accomplished everything with rare dignity and grace. At a time when some religious broadcasts are notable in the main for excesses in emotion and fund raising, the Mother Angelica show has nucceeded nicely with good taste.

She does not promote Christian razzle-dazzle Neither does she engage in politics or charismatics. She can be preachy on occasion, and she sometimes talks of God as if he were part of the set, but she refuses to insult her audience with ophomoric talk, and she is circumspect when passing the plate. The latter is the greatest blessing, of course.

Mother Angelica says religious programming should focus on the word instead of the wherewithal. She says she is not above the appeals for money, she needs 94.5 million this year alone, but she trusts that God will provide without undue

But she planted a 33-foot television dish in back of the monastery, she erected an equally large studio next to the chapel, and she now has 56 employees providing six hours of Catholic-programming each day of every week.

Part of the programming is live. Part of it is on tape. All of the stuff is rooted in discretion. Mother Angelica says she does not sing, dance or do jokes. but, on the other hand, "We try to show the suicidal they have something for which to live, and then show the elderly they have something for which to

WASHINGTON -- Occasionally, the Central Intelligence Agency does something right. At least that's our edict on their ultra-secret program to counterfeit millions of dollars in Afghan money. The CIA has been churning out the counterfeit

"afghanis" — as the denomination is known in Boviet-occupied Afghanistan — for several years. t began with the acquisition of an excellent set of plates that produces bills without blemish.

Why money? To provide the determined Afghan rebels and their friends in Afghan villages with the wherewithal to buy food, clothing and other basic essities. It's the CIA's way of combating the Soviet's "depopulation strategy," which seeks to .... murder or drive out any Afghan who doesn't support Russia's puppet regime

THE ESTIMATED population of Afghanistan when the Soviets invaded at Christmastime 1970 was 15 million. Fully a third of that number no longer live in the country. One million have been killed in the fighting; most of the rest are in burgeoning refugee camps along the Afghan border in western Pakistan.

The Russian strategy has been obvious to the Afghan mujaheddin. Villages they cannot control and those whose residents are suspected of aiding the rebels are brutalized. Crops are destroyed, suspected mujaheddin informants are tortured and executed. Sometimes the Soviets resort to indiscriminately strafing such villages from helicopter gunships. And, too often. Soviet troops have marched in and massacred every man. woman and child in the village. Meanwhile, areas the Soviets control are made livable. Markets for food and other goods thrive there. Russians even help cultivate the crops. It is in these areas that the CIA's counterfeit money has been put to good use. "We are using the Russians' own supply system against them," gloated one CIA source. "We don't just provide this money to buy food for the rebels and 'friendlies' from these approved markets - we. also encourage the mujaheddin to use the afghani money to corrupt the Soviet soldiers. Buy ammunition from them. Buy clothing and food from Soviet quartermasters. Get the money circulating. THE MUJAHEDDIN have been delighted with the program. As usual, though, a fair r mount of graft goes on when the CIA's bogus bills arrive in Pakistan. Since not even the Afghans themselves can tell the difference, these bills are sold for their full value in Peshawar and Quetta, the two gateway cities used by the mujaheddin as headquarters for strikes inside nearby Afghanistan.

Another source familiar with the program said that CIA analysts realized that if the Soviets succeeded in making areas friendly to the mujaheddin inhospitable, the rebels would Please take care of your dogs when they are on school grounds. "If a teenage guerrilla has no cousin left in Afghanistan, no b guerrilla has no cousin left in Afghanistan, no home where he used to live, nothing to fight for - he might not fight," this source observed. answers as to what 1987 federal li come tax I will have to pay on that $60,000. Some my it will be taxed the same as ordinary income. Others say I won't pay more than 26 percent. Can you clarify this?

ANSWER: You'll pay the IRS $16,000 tax on the $00,000 profit from the stock sale. That's because, for 1967, the tax on long-term capital gains from the sale of stocks and other "capital assets" owned for more than six months is limited to 28 percent. Beginning in 1988, long-term capital gains will be taxed at the same rates as "ordinary income" - salaries, dividends, interest and such. Short-term capital gains already are taxed the same as ordinary income. For 1987, there are five federal income tax brackets, ranging from 11 to 38.5 percent. For this year, however, the tax on long-term capital gains is capped at 28 percent. Unless you have some big capital losses not mentioned in your letter, your $60,000 stock sale profit will put you into the 35 or 38.5 percent federal income tax bracket this year.

1987. For 1988 and beyond, long term capital gains will be taxed the same as short-term capital gains and ordinary income, but the new tax "reform" law has more complications in store.

Beginning next year, there will be two federal income tax brackets -15 and 28 percent. You'll pay the IRS 15 percent on the first $29,750 of your taxable income if you're married and file a joint return or if you qualify as a surviving spouse, on $33,900 if you're head of a household, on $17,850 if you're single and on $14,875 if you're married and file a separate return. Another complexity will come into play, because these amounts will be adjusted for inflation after

The bracket for taxable income above these amounts will be 21 percent. But here's a kicker Effective in 1988, there will be an extra 5 percent "surcharge" tax in addition to the 28 percent - on taxable income that falls within Rounseville of M&R Liquors said that although his firm did not expect a strike immediately, the firm did expect a walkout. "We knew it was coming so we took care to put in some extra stock," he said, Larger firms like M&R should not have any problem with supply because the stores purchase once a month. "It is going to be much more of an effect on the smaller stores vs. s," Rounseville said.

His supply should be large enough to last three more weeks, he said. Rounseville said he expects the strike to be resolved by then because Memorial Day weekend begins May 23. That is the tradional start of summer and higher "I could take a strike of 10 days,"

Bosox pay price for slight to DeCinces

By Bob Greene The Associated Press

Doug DeCinces took it personally and made the Boaton Red Sox pay for what he took as a slight. It was the sixth inning when Red Sox Manager John McNamara decided to walk California's Wally Joyner to load the bases and bring DeCinces to the plate. DeCinces responded with a grand slam. games played in a rematch of the two teams that played for last season's AL championship, won by the Red Sox in seven games. Royals 2, Indians 1

Danny Jackson pitched a fourhitter to outduel Ken Schrom and lead Kansas City over Cleveland. Jackson, 1-4, held the Indians hitless until Carmen Castillo doubled leading off the fifth. He struck out seven and walked four.

Each team got a run before it got a hit. The Royals scored with the help of a two-base error and a balk. The Indians' run was the result of a passed ball. Frank White's two-out double in the fourth was Kansas City's first hit off Schrom, 1-3, and Thad Bosley followed with a triple. Athletics 2, Tigers 0

Eric Plunk held Detroit to six hits for 8 1-3 innings and Mike Gallego got his second game-winning RBI in two days as Oakland stretched its winning streak to four games.

Gallego broke up the scoreles: duel between Plunk, 1-1, and the Tigers' Eric King, 2-2, on an RBI grounder in the seventh inning.

Jose Canseco hit his second homer of the season in the eighth off reliever Mark Thurmond. It was the first time this season the Tigers have been shut out and was Detroit's third straight loss. White Sox 4, Orioles 3

Donnie Hill's eighth-inning RBI Donnie Hill's eighth-inning RBI single scored the tie-breaking run lifted Chicago over Baltimore. # Alysheba ready to run again despite adventure in Derby

By Dick Joyce The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE. Ky. - Alysheba came out of the Kentucky Derby with only one scratch despite his equal-and-almost-tumble trip to before McCarron moved his victory in the 113th running of the to the outside for the drive to the wire. The race was a disappointment Alysheba. an 8-1 shot, was bumped just after the start and was bothered twice in the stretch run by Bet Twice, nearly going down on one occasion. But the colt, under Chris McCarron, recovered to score his first win of the year Saturday by 13/4 lengths over Bet Twice. Alysheba, an 6-1 shot, was fourth to fifth in the 1984 Derby leader's heels. Alysheba pitched forward but Gate Dancer needed a hood and other kinds of equipment to help recovered with almost an eighth of a mile to go. He had to avoid Bet Twice again deeper in the stretch ne swe throat had impaired the colt's ability to breath. Alyshebs was timed in 2:03 2-5.

DETROIT - Jacques Demers called it a great day for Detroit hockey. What it really was, however. was another great day for Jacques Demers hockey When the Red Wings, behind the continued brilliance of goaltender Glen Hanlon, put away Toronto 3-0 Sunday night. it marked the second successive year Demers had de-feated the Maple Leafs for the lorris Division title and a trip to the Stanley Cup semifinals "Two years in a row in the Final Four. The victory leaves the Eagles, 61, a half game behind ACC pace-setter St. Bernard's. East is 8-2 overall while Northwest slides to -7. 2-7 overall East was back in action today at

3:45 p.m. at Fairfield Prep. East had a 4-0 lead before Forthwest got in the scorebook. The Eagles scored once in the second inning. Kris DeRoehn walked and. after two outs, scored on sopho-more catcher Paul Dumais' windblown double inside the right field

East added three runs in the third. Kevin Lawrence walked and winning pitcher Pat Merritt, 3-1. executed a hit-and-run single. Doug Rizzuto walked to jam the sacks. DeRoehn followed with a sacrifice ly to left. John Gaglioti hit into a leider's choice with Northwest's attempt at a double play going astray. That left runners at second and third. Barry then lofted a short pop into center field, which dropped for a two-run safety. "It was a 200-foot triple. He lost it in the clouds," East Coach Jim Penders mused. While Northwest couldn't come up with the defensive play. East did. Merritt helped himself by starting two double plays. And, after a Drew DIPippo leadoff single in the seventh. East's defense again turned a neat twin-killing. Shortstop Kevin Lawrence went deep in the hole for a shot by Aaron Attianese. He flipped to second baseman Kevin Riggs for one out and Riggs, as he was taken out at second, got the relay off to Rizzuto it first base for the double play "That maybe was the finest 6-4-3 double play I've seen in 19 years." Penders said. "Riggs was taken out on the play but he still completed

That took the wind out of Northwest's sails and Merritt completed the inning. Merritt issued one walk, intentional, while strikng out six. Losing pitcher Mark Lynch walked seven and fanned Merritt pitched well with men on base." Penders said. Northwest stranded nine runners. East had 10 left on base.

BOLTON - So, what else is new? For the sixth time in the 10-year history of the Bolton Five-Mile Race, Manchester native Steve Gates ran away from the field Sunday afternoon. Under ideal weather conditions, mild temperatures with the sun safely tucked away behind clouds that opened later in the day, Gates churned out a 25:53 effort, just two seconds of his own mark.

"This is the first year that I can honestly say the weather was to our dvantage." said the 33-year-old Gates, a graduate of Manchester High School and Eastern Connecticut State University. "Today was a pleasure.

The course, as always is another matter. "With the toughness of the course, I don't know why I keep coming back. But I do like support ing local races." he added. Bolton's roller-coaster course, with several uphills and downhills, is not runner's dream. It may be part o the reason why the field, despite the best of weather conditions, was at the 110-entrant level. The number was up from last year's entry list o 91. however.

What is changing — and you surely have noticed if your workplace have noticed if your workplace offers workouts - is the attitude of upper management about the be refits of those activities.

Traditionally, exclusive gymna-siums and giamorous health club nemberships were reserved for top executives. But as businesses take more active role in work-site wellness programs, including smoking-cessation classes or weight-control courses, the advantages of physical-fitness programs for all workers is being recognized cross the country.

Today, an estimated 12,000 companies have some form of fitness program for employees. Bet in modern, rural Louisiana, the moody and gripping two-hour movie "A Gathering of Old Men" airs Sunday, May 10, on CBS. Beau had chased a black field-worker, Charlie, to Mathu's house, threatening to kill him. Now Beau is lead, and Mathu sits on the porch cradling a shotgun. Charlie has run away. Candy Marshall, the white helress to the plantation, adores Mathu, the old man who helped raise her, and vows not to let him die at the hands of a lynch mob. She sends for Mathu's friends, telling them to bring shotguns and empty shells. All will claim to have killed Beau. All presume Mathu did it. He remains silent. The movie was filmed in Thibo-deaux, La., and is based on the book by Ernest J. Gaines, author of "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pit-tman." Charles Fuller, the Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright and screenwriter of "A Soldier's screenwriter of "A Soldier's Story," adapted Gaines' book for television. The director is Volker Schlondorff, who directed last season's "Death of a Salesman" with Dustin Hoffman. Gossett Jr. plays Mathu. Holly Hunter ("Raising Adams. Academy Award-winner Louis ("Raising Arizona") is The cast also includes Candy. The cast also includes Woody Strode, Joe Seneca, Papa John Creach and Will Patton. Richard Widmark, in a rare vision appearance, plays She riff Mapes, a low-keyed but menty role Widmark said he was thrilled to play. Widmark said he would rather "read a good book or sit on my duff" than do the "schlock" roles gener ally offered an actor of his age. "They call 'em cameos," he said in a recent interview, "but what they are is small parts - lawyers. judges, admirals. And dull. Just

"So when you get with a group like this, a script that at least I liked, and with people I liked very much, it was a great joy," he said. "I can't tell you what kind of a joy it

Widmark, 72, has played a variety of parts in his 70-odd films He was the detective "Madigan" in the 1968 movie later adapted as a television series, but frequently played misfits and villains. He was nominated for an Oscar for his firs screen role in 1947, as "mean littl twirp" Tommy Udo in "Kiss of Death."
