

13 BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

HAIR Dressers Become Self-Employed Private Booths are available for lease. Call 649-5701

Your assurance of quick response when you advertise in Classified is that our readers are ready to buy when they turn to the little ad. 643-2711.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS ESTATE OF RUBY W. QUINLAN, Late of Manchester, Deceased... Call 649-5701

Public Hearing of the Bolton Zoning Board of Appeals was held on Thursday, Nov. 5...

JOHN H. ROBERTS, CHAIRMAN, ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

NOTICE TO CREDITORS ESTATE OF MABEL B. BURDICK, Late of Manchester, Deceased...

JOHANN BRUDER, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

ANNIE S. FLINERY, Real Estate Broker, 121 Main Street, Manchester, CT 06040

Real Estate

121 HOMES FOR SALE All real estate advertised in the Manchester Herald is subject to the Fair Housing Act of 1968...

61 CHILD CARE EXPERIENCED Nanny (Cromwell) with full time work at your home. Call 649-7795.

64 BOOKKEEPING/INCOME TAX BARBARA RAY BOOKKEEPING SERVICES

66 GARAGE RENOVATION CARROUSEL Woodworking & Carpentry

65 GARAGE RENOVATION CARROUSEL Woodworking & Carpentry

65 GARAGE RENOVATION CARROUSEL Woodworking & Carpentry

21 HOMES FOR SALE MANCHESTER, Superior Cape on nice street...

21 HOMES FOR SALE ANOTHER Ranch to rent in the historic Cheney district...

21 HOMES FOR SALE COVENTRY, Good New Brand new one and a half bedroom...

21 HOMES FOR SALE MANCHESTER, 3 family 4-4, Fabulous condition in quiet west side neighborhood...

22 CONDOMINIUMS FOR SALE MANCHESTER, Immaculate 2 bedroom townhouse Condominium...

23 LOTS/LAND FOR SALE ANDOVER, Lovely wooded lot high on hill, Rolling to 100 foot frontage...

21 HOMES FOR SALE SOUTH Windsor, New Listing, Brick Ranch on historic Old Main Street...

21 HOMES FOR SALE SOUTH Windsor, New Listing, Brick Ranch on historic Old Main Street...

21 HOMES FOR SALE SOUTH Windsor, New Listing, Brick Ranch on historic Old Main Street...

21 HOMES FOR SALE SOUTH Windsor, New Listing, Brick Ranch on historic Old Main Street...

BUSINESS & SERVICE DIRECTORY

61 CHILD CARE, 62 RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT, 63 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 64 BOOKKEEPING/INCOME TAX, 65 GARAGE RENOVATION, 66 GARAGE RENOVATION

67 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 68 FLOORING, 69 MORTGAGES, 70 FUEL OIL/COAL/FIREWOOD, 71 CARS FOR SALE

72 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 73 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 74 FURNITURE, 75 INTEREST/APPLIANCES, 76 GOOD THINGS TO EAT

77 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 78 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 79 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 80 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES

81 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 82 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 83 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES, 84 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES

FIREWOOD/COAL/FIREWOOD

FIREWOOD, Seasoned, 4 foot lengths, $65 per cord delivered. Call 649-2524.

FIREWOOD SALE, $63 per cord, 8 ft. lengths, green, delivered. Call 649-2524.

CLYDE CHEVROLET-BUICK, INC. ROUTE 83, VERMON

62 RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT OPTIMA, Radio controlled electric powered racing car...

66 PETS AND SUPPLIES PUREBRED Siamese kittens, 18 weeks, female, $125. Call 649-7299.

67 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES TEE Shirt transfers, Approximately 3000, also 50 to 1000 numerals and letters for shirts, caps etc...

68 PETS AND SUPPLIES PUREBRED Siamese kittens, 18 weeks, female, $125. Call 649-7299.

69 MORTGAGES NO PAYMENTS Up to 2 years, Kils your financial difficulties...

70 FUEL OIL/COAL/FIREWOOD FIREWOOD, Seasoned, 4 foot lengths, $65 per cord delivered. Call 649-2524.

71 CARS FOR SALE FORD LTD 1975 Station Wagon, $65 per cord delivered. Call 649-2524.

72 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES CLYDE CHEVROLET-BUICK, INC. ROUTE 83, VERMON

73 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES OPTIMA, Radio controlled electric powered racing car...

74 FURNITURE PUREBRED Siamese kittens, 18 weeks, female, $125. Call 649-7299.

75 INTEREST/APPLIANCES TEE Shirt transfers, Approximately 3000, also 50 to 1000 numerals and letters for shirts, caps etc...

76 GOOD THINGS TO EAT GOOD THINGS TO EAT, $63 per cord, 8 ft. lengths, green, delivered. Call 649-2524.

77 MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES TEE Shirt transfers, Approximately 3000, also 50 to 1000 numerals and letters for shirts, caps etc...

Eliminated: MHS sent to sidelines by Wilton / page 11

Directors: Talking about when to listen / page 3 Moderates: McCavanagh bloc is gaining / page 6

Manchester Herald

Thursday, Nov. 19, 1987 30 Cents

Ann looks out from the front porch of Gray Lodge of Manchester, a group home at 151 Hartford Road.

Sobriety is a struggle for Ann

Gray Lodge helps teens with structure and choices

By Nancy Pappas Manchester Herald "You're looking at the choice between this struggle, to get through the day, to learn all about stuff, life, which really is pretty hard, and a lot of it is, you know, boring, or just to get back into that fantasy," she said Monday...

White House won't answer Contra report

Congressional investigators say they provided a comprehensive picture of what went wrong in the Iran-Contra affair, but some questions may never be fully answered.

WASHINGTON — The White House, contending that Congress' Iran-Contra report is a partisan attempt to discredit President Reagan, today refused to offer a rebuttal to the documents' findings and sharp criticism. Brushing aside questions from reporters, presidential spokesman Martin Fitzwater said, "I won't get into any of the details of the report..."

Congress resolved to tighten controls

Senate investigating committee. "I think the report's chief value will be as a deterrent," said Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House panel.

WASHINGTON — Congress seems determined to tighten controls over the government's intelligence operations after concluding that a secret White House cabal took power into its own hands in the Iran-Contra affair. But lawmakers concede it will be up to independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh to provide some elusive final answers in the scandal.

'Love at first sight' at Cheney Hall

By Alex Girelli Manchester Herald

When Erwin Steward of New Haven first saw Cheney Hall, "it was love at first sight." As a result of his respect for the old theater, it may be one of the attractions on the agenda when theater technicians from over the nation gather in Hartford in 1991 for a convention of the United States Institute of Theater Technology.

Halt to applications vetoed

Commissioners of the authority have been discouraged by the size of the list.

A proposal to stop taking applications for housing for the elderly was rejected by the Housing Authority of Manchester Wednesday night. The authority declined to follow the recommendation of its executive director, Carol Shanley, who wanted to stop taking applications because there are already 381 people on the waiting list and all 386 of the apartments for the elderly are occupied.

Today

Clear, then cloudy A clear evening, then clouding up gradually, Friday, cloudy in the morning, then increasing sunshine during the afternoon. Details on page 2.

Index

Business - 15, Obituaries - 10, Classified - 18-20, Opinion - 6, Comics - 17, People - 18, Connecticut - 5, Puzzles - 16, Focus - 8, Sports - 11-14, Local News - 2-4, Television - 17, Lottery - 2, U.S. World - 7, 9

White House won't answer Contra report

Congressional investigators say they provided a comprehensive picture of what went wrong in the Iran-Contra affair, but some questions may never be fully answered.

WASHINGTON — The White House, contending that Congress' Iran-Contra report is a partisan attempt to discredit President Reagan, today refused to offer a rebuttal to the documents' findings and sharp criticism. Brushing aside questions from reporters, presidential spokesman Martin Fitzwater said, "I won't get into any of the details of the report..."

Congress resolved to tighten controls

Senate investigating committee. "I think the report's chief value will be as a deterrent," said Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House panel.

WASHINGTON — Congress seems determined to tighten controls over the government's intelligence operations after concluding that a secret White House cabal took power into its own hands in the Iran-Contra affair. But lawmakers concede it will be up to independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh to provide some elusive final answers in the scandal.

NOV 19 1987

Reginald Pinto/Manchester Herald

Student council catering

Jason Dieterle and Julie Stansfield of the Iling Junior High School Student Council prepare two of the 34 pies student council representatives from grades 7 through 9 made Wednesday for the Senior Citizens' Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. Student council representatives also held a canned food drive Nov. 16-20 and prepared a staff appreciation breakfast for the faculty today.

Committees to study park and recreation facilities

Deputy Mayor Stephen T. Cassano has unveiled a plan to appoint two subcommittees to the town Advisory Park and Recreation Commission to study recreation and park facilities in Manchester. As part of the plan, which was presented to the Board of Directors on Tuesday night, a report would be prepared by March 1 on what kinds of improvements should be made to Center Springs Park. Those improvements were among the priorities made by the Democratic candidates for Board of Directors before the election Nov. 3. The first committee would deal with short- and long-range planning. The other one would look into maintenance of parks and fields in town. One of the major concerns of the first committee would be to find a permanent location for the town Recreation Department, which is now housed in the former Highland Park School.

Objections to loading dock snags Able Coil expansion

By Bruce Matzkin
Manchester Herald

BOLTON — The owners of Able Coil will have to revise the site plan to move a loading dock on a building they want to construct next to their business on Howard Road, the Zoning Commission said Wednesday. Plans for the 15,000-square-foot building, which would be built next to the present 12,000-square-foot business, include a loading dock that will face the road. After reviewing the site plans, Zoning Commission member Alan Wiedie determined that tractor-trailers would be unable to back up to the loading dock without backing in from the street, which goes against zoning regulations. "There's not enough room from the loading dock to the street for trucks to maneuver within the lot and back up against the dock," Wiedie said.

Ken Smith, an engineer for Reino E. Hyppa and Associates of Manchester, said he thought it would be OK for trucks to back in from the street. He and Kenneth Rockefeller, a co-owner of Able Coil along with Robert Seaburg, both said they misunderstood zoning regulations. "With the noise and pollution of trucks, if the dock was on the other side of the building, you would be doing a much better neighbor," Harpin said. Rockefeller and Seaburg brought their proposal to the Zoning Commission at last month's meeting; they said the new building would consist of three 5,000-square-foot units, one of which they would use, and the other two of which they would rent out to businesses engaging in light manufacturing or warehousing. Able Coil, which has been located on Howard Road for 12 years, manufactures electrical components. Dooley said that although Smith gave good arguments for not putting the loading dock on another side of the building, "I would like to see more consideration given to the idea. It has not been explored deeply enough."

David Kool/Manchester Herald

Let there be lights

Two firefighters from the Manchester Fire Department string lights on a tree in front of St. James Church to prepare for the annual tree lighting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Nov. 27. Chris Tsokolas holds a guide rope while Michael Suhle places lights at the top of the tree.

Holiday stress course at hospital

Two events and a schedule change have been announced by Manchester Memorial Hospital. A course designed to help people cope with stress brought on by the holiday season will begin at the hospital Tuesday. The "Holiday Stress Management Techniques" course will be taught by Steven Zimbel, a private practice counselor. The four-class session will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesdays, Nov. 24 through Dec. 20. Registration is required. Call the hospital's Community Health Education Department at 647-6600 by Friday. The course fee is $55. The Cardiac Spouse Support Group sponsored by the hospital has changed its meeting date to Wednesday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Social Work Conference Room at the hospital. For further information, contact the group's facilitator, Penny Reardon, at 646-1222. Elaine Kahaner, parent education coordinator at the hospital, will present "Stress for Parents and Their Children" at the East Hartford Junior Women's League meeting on Dec. 1. The public is invited to the meeting to be held at 7 p.m. downstairs at the Veterans' Memorial Clubhouse on Sunset Ridge in East Hartford. For more information, call club member Mary Jo Legare at 568-4289.

Directors ask for more information on AIDS plan

By Andrew Yurkovsky
Manchester Herald

The town Board of Directors on Tuesday night asked for more information on a proposal by the town's Health Department to use a state grant for AIDS education. Some of the directors questioned whether other money might be available for the purpose. Others questioned the effectiveness of an earlier publicity effort by the department. The town has the authority to use the $11,374 grant, which is given to each municipality on a per-capita basis for a variety of health-related purposes. Asked whether other funding for AIDS education was possible, Health Director Ronald Kraatz said that there was no money for the purpose now available from the state Department of Health. He said that if money did become available, the grant could be redirected at another purpose. Director Stephen T. Cassano told Health Director Ronald Kraatz that he should have come to the board with several proposals for using the grant money, rather than just the one for AIDS education. Kraatz said he had proposed using the money for AIDS education because he had identified it as one of the most pressing health issues in town. Others include hazardous materials and drug abuse. Kraatz said that about 1 percent of Manchester's population, or between 350 and 750 persons, are carriers of the AIDS virus. He said that about 10 diagnosed cases of AIDS in town, and in five years there will be 50. Kraatz admitted that an AIDS leaflet mailed in October with an advertising flyer was not seen by every resident. He said the leaflet was sent out in that manner to save money.

Almanac
Nov. 19, 1987
Today is the 333rd day of the year, the 58th day of autumn.
TODAY'S MOON: Between last quarter (Nov. 13) and new moon (Nov. 21).
TODAY'S TRIVIA: Which Indian leader was Indra Gandhi's father? (a) Mahatma Gandhi (b) Jawaharlal Nehru (c) Mohammed Ali Jinnah
TODAY'S BARBS BY PHIL PASTORET: Most days, most of us go around feeling like wash-and-wear pants — we're permanently pressed.
TODAY'S TRIVIA ANSWER: (b) Former Indian prime minister Indira Gandhi was the daughter of prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru.
TODAY'S HISTORY: On this day in 1863, President Abraham Lincoln delivered the Gettysburg Address at a battlefield in Gettysburg, Pa.
TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS: James Garfield (1833); Tommy Dorsey (1905); Ingrid Bergman (1916); Dick Cavett (1936); Ted Turner (1938); Calvin Klein (1942)
TODAY'S QUOTE: "It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced" — Abraham Lincoln, in the Gettysburg Address.

Snow in Arkansas; rain across South

Arkansas. Snow was falling at high elevations of Arkansas, continuing from Wednesday evening when the state got its first snow of the season. The upper Mississippi Valley had widely scattered snow showers early today. Rain was scattered across southern sections of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. Showers and thunderstorms were reported south and east of the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas and across the Florida Peninsula. Advisories for strong winds were posted in sections of southern California. Brief northerly winds blew behind a cold front pushing across southern Texas. Today's forecast called for rain scattered along the Gulf Coast into the southern Atlantic Coast states and Florida; rain and snow showers scattered across Michigan and western New York into the northern Pennsylvania; snow showers across eastern Minnesota; and for mostly sunny or partly cloudy skies across much of the rest of the nation. Temperatures around the nation at 2 a.m. EST ranged from 8 degrees at Craig, Colo., and Yellowstone Park, Wyo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

CONNECTICUT WEATHER

Central, Eastern Interior, Southwestern Interior: Tonight, a clear evening then gradually clouding up. Low 27 to 32. Friday, cloudy in the morning then increasing sunshine during the afternoon. High 40 to 45. Northwest Hills: Tonight, becoming mostly cloudy. Low 25 to 30. Friday, cloudy in the morning then becoming mostly sunny during the afternoon. High 35 to 40. West Coastal, East Coastal: Tonight, a clear evening then some clouds moving in. Low around 40. Friday, some morning cloudiness then becoming mostly sunny during the afternoon. High in the middle 40s.

On the Light Side

A clean county
DAHLONGGA, Ga. (AP) — Lumpkin County has been pronounced the cleanest county in northeast Georgia, but Sheriff Kenneth Seabolt says the distinction has not come easily. About 45 people were arrested for littering during a year-long campaign to put a lid on litter, as deputies stalked out fast food restaurants, trailed suspects and used infrared glasses to nab elusive litterers. Seabolt, who started the crackdown last November, said his deputies were ordered to arrest people who tossed away anything but a cigarette butt. Instead of fines or imprisonment, the culprits were placed on work details, along with county prisoners, and made to pick up trash. "You've got to embarrass people to get them to stop bad habits," Seabolt said. "Eighty percent of the problem was local people. We decided community service was much better punishment."

Lottery

Connecticut daily Wednesday: 686 Play Four: 6894
Manchester Herald
VOL. CVII, No. 43
USPS 327-500
Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Publishing Co., 16 Brainerd Place, Manchester, Conn. 06040. Second class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. Postmaster: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 501, Manchester, Conn. 06040. If you don't receive your Herald by 5 p.m. weekdays or 7:30 a.m. Saturdays, please telephone your carrier. If you're unable to reach your carrier, call subscriber service at 647-9948 by 8 p.m. weekdays for delivery in Manchester.

Late meeting revives debate over when to hear public

By Andrew Yurkovsky
Manchester Herald

Members of the town Board of Directors decided to return to the policy of twice-monthly meetings in order to avoid meetings that were increasingly going late into the night and into the early morning. But their first effort was unsuccessful. Tuesday's meeting ran beyond the 11 p.m. cutoff point when the directors voted to extend the proceedings to allow residents the chance to comment on agenda items. The fact that the meeting lasted longer than expected has revived debate over the appropriate place for public comment. In light of Tuesday's meeting, at least one director thinks that the sequence of the agenda ought to be changed to give residents a chance to comment earlier in the meeting. Until this month, the board meetings had been held on a monthly basis. Tuesday night the directors were in the midst of listening to reports when Mayor Peter P. DiRosa Jr. suggested that the board adjourn. Board Director James F. "Dutch" Fogarty and Geoffrey Naab objected, saying that residents who had waited to address the board would be given the opportunity to speak. When Director Stephen T. Cassano indicated he wanted to discuss the matter further, Naab cut him off. "I don't think it's time to discuss procedure," Naab said. Eventually, the board voted 6-2 to suspend the rules and continue the meeting beyond 11 p.m. After hearing public comment, the board adjourned at midnight and went into executive session to discuss a personnel matter. Fogarty and Naab said Wednesday that Tuesday's meeting was an extraordinary one because of the number of items on the agenda. Three of the reports the board heard concerned items that the board was to vote on. DiRosa, who voted with Director Kenneth N. Tedford against continuing Tuesday's meeting, said he doesn't expect that board meetings will often go beyond 11 p.m., as they frequently have during the past year. Cassano said that one way to avoid a repeat of Tuesday's meeting is to break down reports into two separate agenda items. The first set of reports presented would be on issues the directors are expected to act on that night. Afterward, residents would be able to comment on those reports. The second set of reports, on which the directors would not be taking any action, would then follow the comment period. Cassano said the arrangement, which he has recommended in a memorandum to other board members, would mean residents would not have to wait until late in the evening to address the board. It would also allow the directors to adjourn meetings on time without risk of cutting off residents. Former Director Stephen T. Penny proposed in July to move the comment period before the reports, but the idea was turned down by the board.

Bolton school marks 'Book Week'

BOLTON — Bolton Elementary School is celebrating National Book Week in high style, with special events and visitors planned all this week.

"The purpose is to promote reading for pleasure and to offer activities and incentives," said Ann Rash, principal of the elementary school. National Book Week runs from Nov. 16-22. Rash said that the theme this year for K-4 students is "Books are Beary-Special," since so many children's books are written about bears. She said the theme for 5-8 graders is "Go Wild for Books," which promotes monster and science fiction books. All students have received book marks with the respective themes on them, and teachers are wearing buttons promoting the themes throughout the week. Rash said she said K-4 teachers are holding bear-related activities, and focusing on bears in literature. Rash said various visitors will be at the school throughout the week. About 50 parents of K-4 students will visit to read stories during library periods, and one group of parents plans to present a dramatization of "Winnie-the-Pooh." One visitor was Marilyn Warren, a published author and a Professor of English at the University of Connecticut. Warren was in the school Tuesday working with grades 3-5 students, talking to them about authoring and writing books. Also this week will be the first of three book distributions through the federally-funded Reading is Fundamental (RIF) program.

HARTFORD RD. DAIRY QUEEN
Celebrates Thanksgiving
Special Oval Cakes $4.99
Turkey Decorated
8" Decorated Round $6.95
Other sizes available
If you didn't buy your last cake at Hartford Road Dairy Queen, you probably paid too much! Call 647-1076

BLIZZARD PIES
New Assorted Flavors — $4.99
Reg. $6.95
ROYAL TREAT SALE
Dig into the cool, rich delicious taste of our Peanut Buster Parfait® Or luscious Banana Split covered with flavors like strawberries and pineapple. All made with Dairy Queen® soft serve, a real dairy product. Royal Treats, everyone, and now specially priced.
WE TREAT YOU RIGHT®
FULL MEAL DEAL
Includes! French Fries Soft Drink and 5 oz. Sundae (choice of flavor)
Choose from:
Single Burger.....$1.99
Double Burger.....$2.49
Triple Burger.....$2.99
Super Dog.....$1.79
Chicken Sandwich.....$2.29
Fish Sandwich.....$2.19

HARTFORD ROAD SPEED QUEEN COIN LAUNDRIES
Next to Dairy Queen
LOWEST PRICES IN CONNECTICUT
Completely Remodeled
32 Family Sized Washers only 75¢ a load
3 wash temperatures: Hot, Warm, Cold
3 wash settings: Normal, Gentle, Delicate
17 Family Sized Dryers (30 lbs.)
15 minutes — 25¢
(2 settings: Normal or Durable Press)
"We give double the drying time!"
4 TRIPLE LOAD WASHERS
$1.75 a load
Ideal for Blankets, Sleeping Bags, Bulk Items
OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK — 6 A.M. to 11 P.M.
If you don't wash at Hartford Road Speed Queen it's your money down the drain!

Happy Holidays
Country Casual BY Bent's Bros.
The Perfect Answer To Small Dining Space
Easy On Your Life And Your Budget
Now you can add a touch of country casual living to your home — even when space is at a premium. The charming dining table sets up three ways — depending on your needs... with both leaves down... one leaf up for breakfast or brunch... both leaves up for important dining and entertaining. Table features a high pressure laminated top. All three pieces are sturdily crafted in solid ash and offer a unique ten-year warranty. See it now!
Table & 2 Chairs Reg. $780 Sale $499.00
Other Groups At Similar Savings Additional Chairs $135 ea.
Marlborough Country Barn
North Main Street, Marlborough (Exit 12 or 13 off Route 2)
14 Main Street, Old Saybrook (Corner Route 1 and Main Street)
From Hartford Phone 244-2111 Open Tuesday thru Saturday 10:30-5:30, Friday 10-9, Sunday 1-5:30
Phone 295-8231 Phone 388-0891
We Accept MasterCard & Visa
Christmas Hours starting Dec. 1 Marlborough Store, Dec. 10 Old Saybrook Store
Open Evenings Tues. thru Fri. 10 p.m. Open Mon. Dec. 21 10-9 p.m.
We will close Christmas Eve., Dec. 24 at 4 p.m.

About Town

Candlelight Christmas

Second Congregational Church, 385 N. Main St., will present a candlelight evening called, A Christmas Potpourri, on Dec. 5 at 6 p.m. Tickets are $10.50 and are available by calling 648-2863. Seating is limited.

PTA meets

The Manchester Parents and Teachers Association council will meet tonight at the Bowers School cafeteria. Dr. James Kennedy and Anne Gauslin will talk about the projected over-crowding in the schools. A question and answer period will follow.

Bazaar planned

The Church of the Assumption will hold a holiday bazaar on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the church hall featuring handmade articles, Christmas ornaments, baked goods, jewelry, and a raffle table. Lunch will be served.

Elections held

The Army and Navy Club Auxiliary recently held elections of officers for 1988. Aleida Smith, president; Bonnie Anderson, vice president; Christmas secretary; Kitty Anderson, treasurer; Mary Kuznickas, chaplain.

First aid offered

The Greater Hartford American Red Cross is offering first aid classes in Manchester on Hartford Road at the following times: First Aid for children, Dec. 12, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Adult CPR, Dec. 10, 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Infant-Child CPR, Dec. 9, 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Multimedia standard first aid, Dec. 5, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, call the center at 648-5111.

4 injured in 2 accidents

Four people were injured late Wednesday night in two accidents on New Bolton Road. Police said Michael C. Daniel, 28, of Enfield, was traveling west at about 11:30 p.m. when he crossed into a eastbound lane to pass a car in a no-passing zone. Police said Daniel's car skidded 183 feet and went off the road, struck a guardrail, entered the eastbound lane and skidded into a car driven by Jonathan F. Murphy, 20, of Willimantic.

Minutes later another accident, this one involving three cars, occurred a short distance up the road. The drivers of the three cars were Rodney B. LaFontaine, 26, of 17 Wall St., Bolton; Paul M. Merson, 31, of 12 Hutchinson Road, Andover; and Bernard B. Carter, 46, of Hebron.

Police said both accidents are under investigation. They said charges are pending in the first accident, but they have charged LaFontaine with operating under the influence of alcohol, failure to have insurance, and traveling unreasonably fast. LaFontaine will appear Dec. 7 in Manchester Superior Court.

Scout gets award

Valerie Werzyn, left, pins an Boy Scout Eagle Award medal on her son, Matthew, 16, who received the award at a special ceremony held recently at South United Methodist Church. Matthew, a sophomore at Manchester High School, has been a member of Troop 47 for four years and has served as librarian and scribe. The family will be moving to California later this month.

Manchester, South Windsor paramedic link recommended

Manchester Health Director Ronald Kraatz, a member of the paramedic study committee, has recommended that Manchester and South Windsor share paramedic services. Under Kraatz's recommendation, which is based on the committee's discussions, South Windsor, which has no paramedic service, would set up a contract with Manchester for services. A second Manchester paramedic unit would be created near the Manchester-South Windsor border to pick up Manchester calls that can't be taken by Manchester's current service. The second unit would also serve parts of South Windsor, but the section of South Windsor along Route 5 would be covered by East Hartford's current unit. In exchange, Manchester and South Windsor would provide East Hartford, which is sometimes short staffed, with backup and staff assistance.

Coventry OKs waste study

COVENTRY - The town will spend $7,300 for a study of its solid waste by professional consultant David Brown of Project Management Associates, Inc., a Hartford firm. "We feel this is the way to go," Deborah Walsh, chairwoman of the Solid Waste Study Committee told the Town Council Monday night during a meeting at the Town Office Building. She made her remarks prior to a unanimous vote by the council to hire Brown. Their action is part of an effort to plan for the future disposal of the town's solid waste. Concern about developing that plan was prompted by a state requirement that all towns in Connecticut draw up a long-term disposal proposal. Town officials had planned to join the Windham Energy Recovery Facility (WERF) to empty plant, but a state requirement that all towns in Connecticut draw up a long-term disposal proposal. Town officials had planned to join the Windham Energy Recovery Facility (WERF) to empty plant, but a state requirement that all towns in Connecticut draw up a long-term disposal proposal.

TAKE A GANDER As Usual - "The Unusual Gift" Can Be Found Here Looking forward to seeing you at our 4th Annual OPEN HOUSE Nov. 21, 10-5 / Nov. 22, 12-5 Corner of Porter & Martin Road, Hebron, CT.

EMERGENCY Fire - Police - Medical DIAL 911 In Manchester

Governor won't need surgery

By Judd Everhart The Associated Press HARTFORD - Doctors treating Gov. William A. O'Neill say they expect him to recover fully without surgery from his two apparently benign colon polyps and colon inflammation and infection. "The polyps, or small growths, appear to be benign but they won't be confirmed until they are removed and completely examined by a pathologist," said St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center spokesman Carole Stalowski on Wednesday. The official diagnosis for the inflammation and infection is probable diverticulitis, according to Pete Mobilia, another hospital spokesman. O'Neill remains in satisfactory condition and in good spirits, Mobilia said, and a full recovery is expected. The 67-year-old Democrat has been undergoing treatment in the Hartford facility since Sunday for a mysterious fever and what had been described as flu-like symptoms. Mobilia said no surgery was anticipated. He said O'Neill would be in the hospital at least through the early part of next week. "O'Neill's temperature had been 103 degrees when he was admitted and has been about normal since Tuesday. "Diverticulitis is an acute inflammation and infection of small pockets protruding from the side of the colon," Mobilia said, reading from a statement issued by O'Neill's doctor. O'Neill's medical team includes Edwin Spath, the cardiologist who treated O'Neill when he had a heart attack in 1981; Jay Benson, coordinator, section of gastroenterology at St. Francis; David Walters, coordinator, section of surgery at the hospital; and Robert Lyons, director of infectious disease there.

Nurse shortage halts ER operation

WATERBURY - Waterbury Hospital's emergency room has shut down twice in recent weeks because of an acute shortage of nurses, a hospital official said. The emergency room staff diverted ambulances on Saturday for eight hours when regular patients overflowed into the available beds in the emergency room, spokesman Gil Maffeo said Wednesday. The problem stems from the statewide nursing shortage. Maffeo said the hospital can open only 340 to 350 of its 510 beds, based on the number of registered nurses available. The nursing shortage in Connecticut is so severe that earlier this month Gov. William A. O'Neill appointed a special task force to study the situation.

Probate judge missing since Monday

DANBURY - The family of an indebted probate judge who has been missing for three days has called in the FBI to help investigate the disappearance. Probate Court Judge Richard L. Nahley, 51, was last heard from at 12:30 p.m. Monday when he called his secretary to tell her he would be returning to his office shortly. Danbury police detectives are also investigating "an allegation of suspected criminal conduct against Judge Nahley," Nahley's house and law firm were attached for $250,000 Tuesday by clients of his private law firm, who filed complaints over mortgage money they claim they are owed. Sources told The News-Times of Danbury that at least one more attachment of $150,000 was expected to be filed Thursday.

Jail term ordered in museum theft

NEW LONDON - A man prosecutors describe as a career criminal was sentenced to spend 10 years in prison for the theft of $200,000 worth of art objects from the Slater Museum in Norwich. Paul P. Kennedy, 29, of Norwich was convicted of first-degree larceny Oct. 6 for a museum heist that occurred during the commotion following Hurricane Gloria in September 1985. A cache of ivory figurines and Oriental pottery unrelated to the heist was found in police arrived to arrest him on an unrelated charge.

TURN ON YOUR HOME'S FINANCIAL POWER OPEN A HOME EQUITY CASH RESERVE ACCOUNT

It's All In The Wrist! Nationwide insurance offers young marrieds a break on their auto insurance.

Michael's Jewelers Since 1885 BOSTON, DANBURY, FARMINGTON, HARTFORD, MANCHESTER, MERIDEN, MILFORD, NEW HAVEN, SOUTHBRID, WASHINGTON, THUNDERBOLT, WATERBURY.

Police say love triangle led to runaway's murder

HARTFORD (AP) - State police say a couple involved in a love triangle with a 17-year-old runaway arranged her strangulation in a wooded area of western Connecticut before going out for pizza. Raymond E. King, 17, and Katherine Witkowski, 25, of Goshen, N.Y., on Wednesday were charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Mary Vickery of Shipman, Ill., state police said. King was being held on $250,000 and Witkowski was awaiting extradition from New York. King's aunt, Joann Moore, 38, of New Fairfield, was charged with intentionally aiding to commit murder and ordered held on $100,000 bond pending arraignment today, state police said. Vickery was last seen alive at Bradley Airport in Windsor Locks on June 8 en route to Moore's home in New Fairfield, state police said. Her skeleton was found in a wooded area off Waver Mountain Road Nov. 2. According to a sworn affidavit by police investigators, King confessed to bringing Vickery, his former girlfriend, to a wooded area in Sherman near the New Fairfield town line on June 8. The affidavit said that, when the two reached a pre-arranged spot, Witkowski came out of hiding and strangled the girl from behind with a piece of wire. King and Witkowski then met Moore, who had waited in her truck after driving Vickery to the woods, and the three went to Moore's home and burned Vickery's clothing and papers. They took the rest of the girl's belongings - a suitcase, a duffel bag and some clothes - and threw them in a garbage bin behind the Grand Union supermarket in New Fairfield before going to get a pizza at Sal's Pizza Restaurant on Route 37 in Danbury. Vickery's skull was found Nov. 2 by a man walking his dog in the woods. Authorities later found a pelvic bone and additional remains. Police said the murder grew out of a complex love triangle among King and the two young women. Vickery was King's former girlfriend, police said, and Witkowski had become King's lover after moving in at Moore's house. According to police affidavits: In late May, Vickery and Witkowski had a falling out, and Vickery left to visit her grandparents in Illinois. During that time, Witkowski said she discovered that Vickery and another man, David Reed, had planned to expose the affair between Witkowski and King to Witkowski's estranged husband. On the day Vickery returned to Connecticut, King said that Moore dropped her and Witkowski at the woods to go swimming while Moore went to Bradley International Airport to pick up Vickery. While they were swimming, King said, Witkowski told him to meet Vickery and walk her down the path to a place where Witkowski would be hiding to "take Mary out." King said that when Vickery and Moore arrived in Moore's truck, he and the girl walked about 300 feet down the path to the place where Witkowski strangled her. King said he walked away when Witkowski was choking Vickery and was called back to find Vickery lying on the ground with blood coming out of her mouth.

KKK, lawmen see victories in search rules for rallies

William Olds of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, which represented the Klan when it sued the state challenging the searches, claimed a victory. "We felt that put-down and auto searches were much more intrusive, much more objectionable to individual privacy," Olds said. The decision by the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was handed down Nov. 9 and received by state officials on Tuesday. The suit had been filed against the state and the city of Meriden by the Klan following Klan rallies in Meriden that had turned violent. Searches at 16 Klan rallies held in Connecticut from 1980 to 1984 turned up machine guns, shotguns, knives, swords, machetes, whips, chemical mace, slingshots and chains, according to Lieberman. "If you're going to be searched... you're less likely to carry weapons," said Lieberman, who was joined by Deputy Chief State's Attorney Robert J. Saband and other officials. Lieberman called the decision "precedent setting" and "a significant step forward for the preservation of law and order when hate groups like the Klan demonstrate. Lieberman said the state may appeal the upholding of a prohibition on put-down searches. Under the new ruling, such searches are permissible only after a metal detector indicates a person could be concealing a weapon. Olds said he did not know if the Klan would appeal the part of the decision permitting searches by use of metal detectors. "That affected not only the Klan, but anti-Klan demonstrators and observers," he said. "I recall reporters being searched at those rallies."

Across The Board Carpet & Rug Expansion Sale To celebrate the new 5000 sq. ft. addition to his already enormous Brainard Rd. warehouse, all Carpet Giants are holding an incredible first time ever

ALBERTO Hairspray All Types 7 oz. $227 ALBERTO Mousse All Types 5.5 oz. $289 MISS CLAIROL Shampoo In Haircolor All Shades $427 AAPRI Apricot Facial Scrub 2 oz. $247 BAYER Maximum Strength Tablets 30's $220 CUREL Dry Skin Cream 3 oz Tube $157 ORAL B Toothbrush Youth #20 $129 ORAL B Sesame Street Toothbrush $147 JHIRMACK Shampoo or Conditioner All Types 8 oz. $259 JHIRMACK Pump Hairspray All Types 8 oz. $259 ST. JOSEPH Cough Syrup 4 oz. $277 FEENAMINT Pills 15's $139 REVLOX Shampoo or Conditioner All Types 5 oz. $199 REVLOX FLEX Mousse All Types 5 oz. $199 REVLOX FLEX Hairspray 8 oz. $199 EX LAX Pills 60's $427 SPEC-T Lozenges 10's 97c NEO SYNEPHRINE 50 oz. 1/4 Spray 1/8 Spray 1% Spray $229 $247 $279 TAMPAK Tampons All Types $439 PERMA SOFT Shampoo or Conditioner All Types 16 oz. $217 AIM Toothpaste All Types 8.4 oz. $149 Q-TIP Cotton Swabs $137

OPINION

Town should buy rail line

Recreation facilities have something in common with town dumps. It's a good idea to have them, as long as they're in another part of town.

The railroad right of way that runs from the North End to the Cheney Historic District is for sale and the town may buy it to use as a walkway or a bikeway. But owners of homes that abut the right of way object. They fear the area will become a hangout, a source of noise, and an invasion of their privacy.

It is a familiar complaint, and it is not difficult to sympathize with their point of view.

But if the interests of a relatively small number of people were allowed to dictate what facilities the town would provide for the benefit of its citizens, very few such facilities would ever be provided.

As one resident expressed it at the meeting of the Board of Directors Monday, "We must do what's best for the 50,000 residents of Manchester and not yield to the interests of the few."

The town has a longstanding tradition of supporting a wide range of park and recreation activities. The proposed bikeway through the heart of town is a logical addition to that offering. The town should buy the right of way.

The path of the tracks has long been considered a possible route for a badly needed north-to-south road. It may not be suitable for a modern road and it may cost too much to develop it as a road.

But it is well suited for a walkway and bike path, running close to Center Springs Park, which town officials are determined to rejuvenate as family recreation area.

There is no need to develop the bikeway immediately. Existing recreation facilities need work and that work should take financial priority.

The town is about to name a broad-based committee to study recreation facilities and programs. That committee should be asked to include the bikeway proposal in its considerations.

But the town should own the land, even if developing it has to be postponed for a while.

Washington Wire

Hopes for faded memory

WASHINGTON — If the dreams of White House officials could somehow be turned into reality, the embarrassing findings of the congressional Iran-Contra report would be a one-day flash, fading fast from public memory.

As other presidents have tried to do in times of deep trouble, President Reagan and his aides wanted to turn the page Wednesday and put their problems behind them.

And if that doesn't work, the White House is ready to minimize the report and underscore that the majority conclusions are countered by a minority report and separate dissenting views.

Brushing aside all specific charges in the 600-page report, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said, "The American people have had the opportunity to make their own judgments and we do not intend to argue with the opinions of the committee members."

He called the document the culmination of "the long summer of self-examination for America and for the administration. And now we are through it. We are moving on and we trust that out of this experience has come a new wisdom about the process of governing in America."

Wisdom for whom? Reagan? His statement was ambiguous.

The report says the president wasn't doing his job properly, was not ensuring that "the laws be faithfully executed."

It pinpointed onetime White House officials Oliver L. North and John M. Poindexter as the key figures in the diversion of Iran arms-sale profits to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

However, it added, "If the president did not know what his national security advisers were doing, he should have."

Despite the White House's wish, the Iran-Contra episode surely will not die easily, as the past year

Jack Anderson

Carlucci used the system to help new wife

WASHINGTON — Now is the time for us to tell a story we have been sitting on for more than 12 years. It concerns Frank Carlucci, President Reagan's national security adviser and his choice to replace Caspar Weinberger as defense secretary.

The story involves Carlucci's personal values — his character. If you will. We have not been caught up in the fever of moral one-upmanship that has become so politically trendy of late, but we believe the story casts pertinent light on Carlucci's attitude toward the unwritten rules of the bureaucratic system he has mastered over the years. Here are the details:

By the mid-1970s, Carlucci had risen through the ranks of the career Foreign Service, been director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget, and undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In December 1974, Carlucci's success was capped when President Ford named him ambassador to Portugal.

Over the years, Carlucci had earned a reputation for integrity, toughness and personal courage. Indeed, he survived a stabbing as he was rescuing a group of Americans from an angry mob in the Congo (now Zaire).

For all his professional achievements Carlucci's private life was far from serene. By 1974, he was legally separated from his wife and was getting a divorce. Meanwhile, he had developed a close personal relationship with an administrative assistant he worked with at HEW, Marcia Myers.

According to several sources, Carlucci took Myers along when he reported to Lisbon as ambassador in January 1975. She became his special assistant, with the rank of foreign service reserve officer, grade 4. One of our sources said, "Because Myers' appointment 'took a job from someone.'" Another source told us at the time that the embassy "had to shift people around" to make room for Myers, and "an assistant administrative officer (was) 'tossed out.'"

There were misgivings of a different sort back in Washington, where State Department officials also turned out Wednesday for a separate government-sponsored rally protesting alleged U.S. interference in Latvian affairs.

The United States has not recognized the Soviet Union's incorporation of the Baltic nations of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

Our sources said concern was so great in Foggy Bottom that senior officials asked then-Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to intervene. One well-placed source said Kissinger had at least one conversation with Carlucci about the situation.

Several months after he took up his post in Lisbon, Carlucci's divorce became final. He and Myers were married on April 15, 1976.

Why didn't we publish this story when we first nailed it down in 1975? Just as we were about to, we received urgent telephone calls from two high government officials whom we knew and trusted. They pleaded with us not to send out the story, on the grounds that Carlucci's first wife and their two children, already traumatized by the separation and divorce proceedings, would suffer additional emotional distress.

Our callers provided sufficient detail to convince us to sit on the story.

So we elected to sit on the story. Carlucci has since gone on to serve with distinction as deputy director of the CIA, deputy defense secretary and national security adviser.

We believe, however, that the manner in which professional foreign service employees were shunted around, so that Carlucci's friend could get a job that others worked hard for, deserves to be aired as he takes over the biggest bureaucracy in the government.

Footnote: In a 1981 interview with our associate Dale Van Atta, Carlucci confirmed that Myers had accompanied him to Portugal. But he said he had not insisted that she be given a job at the embassy. Carlucci's spokesman did not respond to our recent requests for comment and for a chance to speak with Mrs. Carlucci. Kissinger told us he can't remember the incident and, because he can't, he doubts that it happened.

Among them were Joe Barber of Winsted, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee; Reps. Mario Testa and Gabe Blafore of Bridgeport, Larry Anastasia of Norwich, Barbara Ireland of Ridgefield, Dean Markham of East Hampton (O'Neill's legislator), Kevin Knowles of Naugatuck and Deputy House Speaker Bill Cibes of New London — though Cibes said he was there as a member of the House leadership only.

At the end of the evening, Rep. Carrie Saxon-Perry, the mayor-elect of Hartford, also showed up.

It was a "comfortable evening," said Markham and, as King observed earlier, "It sends a message."

Political notes

- The best voter turnout in the state's six major cities on Nov. 3 was in Waterbury with 68 percent, says a Democrat who keeps track of such figures. Tom McLarny, retired registrar of voters there, also says, "It's because we are a political city, of course."
- Former U.S. Rep. Bob Steele of Ledyard says he tried to talk brother Phil out of running for mayor of Hartford. But no one was prouder of Phil's performance (losing to Mrs. Perry by about 2,000 votes) than Bob. "I think he's got the (political) bug now," the former congressman said.

McCavanagh's moderates gain numbers

A new caucus of self-styled moderate Democrats is shaping up as Gov. Bill O'Neill's not-so-secret weapon in coping with House liberals when the Legislature goes back to work in Hartford next year.

The moderate caucus, brainchild of Rep. Jim McCavanagh of Manchester, now has about half of the 91 Democrats who make up the House majority in its fold. That's double the number he had on board when he launched the caucus in the final days of the session this year.

"We want to bring the Democratic party back to the center," McCavanagh told the 200 who showed up, at $150 a head, for a fund-raiser in West Hartford last week.

O'Neill, who is a bit right of center, would agree although he isn't behind the formation of this moderate bloc. McCavanagh and his allies are sure, however, that O'Neill likes what they are doing. The governor has had his troubles with the liberals.

O'Neill was expected to drop in on the cocktail party last week at the Wampanoag Country Club but he didn't make it. Julie Tashjian, secretary of the state and an administration bigwig, was there. So were attorney Jim Wade of Simsbury and George Hannon of Glastonbury, two of O'Neill's closest political buddies. Another who is close to O'Neill, though he is out of politics now in his job as president of the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce, was former Democratic State Chairman Tim Moynihan of East Hartford.

For House Democrats associated with the new caucus and party leaders cheering them on the common bond is a resentment over the way liberals operated this year.

Capitol Comments

Bob Conrad

Liberals had a small but well-organized caucus with its own agenda and, much of the time, the sympathetic ear of House Speaker Irving Stolberg. Compared with the strength the moderates have developed since the session adjourned, the liberals had far fewer at work during this year's General Assembly. But they were together, meeting often and much in evidence during floor debates. Consequently, they seemed to have more going for them.

McCavanagh says his caucus is developing its agenda for the February session. There's no denying, however, that the moderates will be equally devoted to blunting moves by the liberals. They may even be able to do business with Republicans on that.

Lobbyists at the fund-raiser hailed formation of the new group. They were careful in saying why. John King of New Britain, who represents a Hartford law firm, put it diplomatically. The moderates, he said, will "restore a balance" in the House.

Proceeds from this and other fund-raiser's for the

U.S./World In Brief

Iran says Iraq attacks plant again

MANAMA, Bahrain — Iraq said its warplanes struck two tankers in the Persian Gulf today and Tehran said Iraq bombed an unfinished Iranian nuclear power plant for the second time in three days.

Elsewhere in the war zone, Iraq claimed its ground batteries today shot down two Iranian warplanes that had penetrated Iraqi airspace.

Also today, British warships detonated one of two mines found tethered to the seabed in the central gulf off Qatar, said Cmdr. Patrick Gale, Royal Naval spokesman. He said the second mine would be set off later.

Tehran radio, monitored in Cyprus, said Iraqi war planes struck the Bushehr nuclear facility in southern Iran this morning. It did not describe the damage and Iraq did not confirm the attack.

Cause of subway fire is a mystery

LONDON — The cause of the fire that killed at least 30 people and turned London's busiest subway station into a hellish cavern of flames and smoke remained a mystery today.

Pandemonium broke out when thousands of commuters found themselves trapped by the blaze Wednesday evening at King's Cross station and struggled to escape through walls of dense smoke and fierce heat.

The London Fire Brigade said 24 people died, Scotland Yard put the figure at 32, and British Transport Police later said 30 were killed. There was no explanation for the discrepancies.

About 80 people were injured, including 21 who were hospitalized.

'Good chance' for budget-cut plan

WASHINGTON — White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said today he believes there is a "good chance" that administration and congressional negotiators will agree on a budget-cutting plan before Friday's deadline for automatic cuts under the Gramm-Rudman Act.

He also said that President Reagan had held a strategy session Wednesday with his advisers, Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole of Kansas and House Minority Leader Robert Michel of Illinois.

"The president is of the opinion that he wants an agreement, that it is preferable to the automatic deficit-reduction provisions of the Gramm-Rudman Act," Fitzwater told reporters.

Jet stops engine on flight to Hawaii

HONOLULU — A Delta Air Lines jumbo jet with 112 people aboard lost power in an engine over the Pacific but landed safely after flying 400 miles on its two remaining engines with a military escort, officials said.

The 100 passengers aboard Flight 1563 continued watching a movie during the incident Wednesday night and were unaware the engine had shut down, said Lew Mallin, Delta's customer service supervisor here.

The incident was the second in four days involving engine shutdowns on Delta flights to Honolulu.

Soviets battle protesting Latvians

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Thousands of Latvians protesting the takeover of their homeland by the Soviet Union 47 years ago fought a "bloody battle" with Soviet authorities, a human rights group said.

About 8,000 Latvians fought with police Wednesday in the Latvian cities of Riga and Liepaja, said the Baltic-Helsinki group, citing Latvian exile sources in West Germany. It mentioned many arrests and injuries, but gave no figures.

The official Soviet Tass news agency said 19,000 Riga residents also turned out Wednesday for a separate government-sponsored rally protesting alleged U.S. interference in Latvian affairs.

Doomed captain tried to take over

DENVER — The captain of the doomed Continental Airlines jet tried to seize the controls from his inexperienced co-pilot in a desperate attempt to save the aircraft, evidence released by investigators indicates.

Capt. Frank Zvonok and co-pilot Lee Bruecher were among the 28 who died after the DC-9 jet crashed during takeoff Sunday in a snowstorm at Denver's Stapleton International Airport.

Investigators who recovered the cockpit voice recorder from the wreckage of Flight 7171 said Wednesday it showed no indication of trouble until two seconds after the plane began to climb. A crew member uttered an expletive, which was followed by the sound of impact.

Less experienced pilots in cockpits

WASHINGTON — The demand for thousands of new commercial pilots is forcing airlines to be less choosy and causing even some of the largest air carriers to have less experienced cockpit crews, aviation experts say.

Investigators were looking closely today into whether pilot inexperience was a factor in Sunday's crash of a Continental Airlines DC-9 in Denver in which 28 people were killed, including the two pilots.

Both of the pilots had only recently begun flying that type of plane.

The co-pilot, who Continental officials said Wednesday night was at the controls, had only 16 hours of flying time in a DC-9. The captain, although an 18-year veteran of the airline, had less than 200 hours in the type of jet that crashed.

Teen mother gets adopted boy back

NEW YORK — A 17-month-old boy who was found in an apartment where a girl was allegedly beaten to death by his adoptive father has been returned to the temporary custody of the teen-age mother who gave him up at birth.

"He's my baby!" said a sobbing 18-year-old Nicole Smigley as Family Court Judge Jeffrey H. Gallet decided Wednesday to return the boy to her.

The judge stayed his order until late this afternoon to give lawyers for the adoptive parents, Hedda Nusbaum and Joel Steinberg, a chance to appeal.

Nusbaum and Steinberg are charged with murdering 6-year-old Elizabeth Steinberg and endangering the welfare of a child because of their alleged neglect of the boy, whom they called Mitchell.

The boy was found tethered to a chair and drinking spoiled milk when police arrived at the apartment Nov. 2. Elizabeth, known as Lisa, was unconscious and died three days later.

Iran-Contra questions unanswered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional investigators say they provided a comprehensive picture of what went wrong in the Iran-Contra affair, while in fact they could have asked more questions that could have been fully answered.

"You do not have to see each grain of sand to recognize a beach," Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, chairman of the Senate investigating committee, said Wednesday in dismissing the questions that linger.

The massive 600-page report issued by the Iran-Contra investigating committees noted that the death of former CIA Director William J. Casey and the destruction of records by former National Security Adviser John M. Poindexter and aide Lt. Col. Oliver L. North have robbed the nation of the full story.

The panel's majority ultimately concluded that it believes Casey "encouraged North, gave him direction, and promoted the concept of an extra-legal covert organization."

But the report acknowledged this variation comes almost solely from North, that it "was used by North to exculpate himself, and that Casey could not respond." Similarly, it found no evidence to contradict Poindexter's testimony that he never told President Reagan of the diversion of profits to the Nicaraguan Contras from the sale of arms to Iran, although doubters may not be satisfied by Poindexter's story.

There are other questions left in the air, some of them raised in the report:

- Did Attorney General Edwin Meese III participate in a cover-up during his weekend inquiry last some of the profits to the Nicaraguan Contras rebels.

The task now, lawmakers agreed Wednesday in a series of interviews, will be to restore the American public's confidence in government and rebuild the frayed relationship between the legislative and executive branches.

"The key failure in the Iran-Contra affair was the administration's conscious decision not to consult with Congress and not to follow the law," said Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, a member of the House panel and chairman of the House Intelligence Committee.

Reagan was singled out in the report and Senate report on the Iran-Contra affair as "the man who 'cabal of the zealous' in his administration to seize control of policy."

The committees said that while Reagan authorized the secret weapons sales to Iran, they found no direct evidence that he knew the profits were subsequently diverted to the Nicaraguan Contras rebels.

Dodd says report sound

WASHINGTON — The Iran-Contra report issued Wednesday by the investigating congressional committees is "fundamentally sound" and its recommendations "merit the strong support of congress and the American people," says Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn.

The report, he said Wednesday, "is testimony to the enduring wisdom and vitality of our constitutional procedures and protections. Its more than 700 pages remind us once again that, in Jefferson's words, 'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.'"

November? And did he tell the true story of his involvement in the private ransom plan financed by Texas industrialist H. Ross Perot?

• What did Casey plan to do with the off-the-shelf covert capability, unhampered by the legal restrictions on the CIA, that North described?

• What happened to two crucial cables from CIA officers in Europe to CIA headquarters in Langley, Va., that revealed the contents of an shipment to Iran to be U.S.-built Hawk missiles? The cables, which contradicted the official U.S. government cover story that the shipment was old-drilling equipment, are "inexplicably missing," the report said.

Several members of the congressional committees added their own sections to the report pointing to unfulfilled leads and missing information. A group of eight Democratic congressmen said the committees never got all the computer messages that could have been retrieved from White House computers and said "the lack of White House cooperation made the committees' task impossible."

"As a result, the documentary record is not complete and our continuing concerns are qualified," they wrote.

But some committee members said they believed what is missing falls into the category of detail, not gaps in the big picture.

"I do not think there was a big rock we left unturned," one committee source said, speaking only on condition of anonymity. "If the investigators had gone on another year — and I think it could have — we probably would have gathered some greater detail."

chairman of the Senate panel, agreed.

"The president has failed to use his 'bully pulpit' to condemn the lie, the destruction of government documents or the cover-up that has been matters of record for months," Inouye said. "By his continuing silence, the president creates the impression that he does not find these actions objectionable."

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan already has "accepted responsibility for those mistakes, and there really isn't much more that can be said."

Time to restore confidence, most say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional criticism of President Reagan's role in the Iran-Contra affair probably will have little effect on his standing in public opinion polls, mainly because he already has taken a beating, the chairman of the House Iran-Contra panel says.

"The damage to the president's standing, I think, took place some time ago," Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., said Wednesday. "In a very real sense, the American people are out in front of us here by a good measure, by months. So, I don't think the report will change that."

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., a member of the Senate Iran-Contra committee, agreed that the affair already has "seriously eroded public confidence in our government."

Numerous surveys of the American public show that Reagan's popularity, consistently high during his first term as president, fell sharply after revelations last November that his administration had sold arms to Iran and diverted

We Can Help Your Child Succeed In School

The Center for Learning offers help that goes beyond tutoring, providing programs designed to improve academic skills while increasing motivation and self-confidence in:

- Reading
- Math
- School Readiness (pre-school)
- Spelling
- Homework Helper
- Remedial/Enrichment

If you know your child should be doing better... call us... for your child's sake.

Center for Learning

After School Programs Nine Farming 646-4943 (4-8 p.m., M.-Th.)
123 West Middle Turnpike, Hilliard Professional Building, Suite 200, Manchester, CT 06042

Why earn less and pay more today, when you can pay less and earn more tomorrow?

QUICK FACTS ABOUT OUR TAX SAVER CDS:

Annual Fixed Interest Rates effective November 18, 1987 (subject to change without notice)
6 Month	7.60% 7.87%
1 Year	8.00% 8.30%
5 Year	9.00% 9.38%

FDIC regulations allow you to withdraw the principal from a new savings account before maturity but with substantial penalty. Tax saved if chosen by opening account during calendar year 1987.

Doesn't this new, guaranteed-secure kind of "tax shelter" sound good to you? Talk to your friends — could they have already signed up for our new tax-deferred CD? Then come in to any of our offices and get still more answers.

Time and money. You get more of both, with a 6 Month-to-5 Year Tax Saver CD at the Savings Bank of Manchester.

Where your friends are.

Savings Bank of Manchester

Member FDIC Equal Housing Lender

Offices in Manchester, East Hartford, Bolton, Westford, Windsor, East Windsor, Andover, Eastford, Mansfield, Tolland and Glastonbury. Telephone 646-1700.

HOLIDAY CRAFTS FAIR

Friday, November 20 (Preview Sale - Admission $1.75pp)
Saturday, November 21 9am-3pm
Childrens Activities / Luncheon
Country crafts, folk art, bakery, gourmet preserves, near antiques, used books & toys, Christmas shop, baskets.
Unitarian Meetinghouse
153 W. Vernon St., Manchester

Manchester Herald

Founded in 1851

PENNY M. SIEFFERT... Publisher
GEORGE T. CHAPPEL... Editor
DOUGLAS A. BEVING... Executive Editor
ALEXANDER GIBELLI... Associate Editor
DENISE A. ROBERTS... Advertising Director
BARBARA J. ARBUTHNOT... Business Manager
SHELDON COHEN... Composing Manager
ROBERT H. HUBBARD... Production Manager
JEANNE O. FROMMERTH... Circulation Manager

FOCUS

Plastic eye maker will help her brother-in-law

DEAR MR. ROSS: My sister just got married to the sweetest, most hard-working man. We all love him, even though he has only one eye. The other eye looks permanently closed because when he was young, it was accidentally shot out.

He is very self-conscious about it and would like to see a doctor in our town to get him one? I was sent a check, I'm afraid my brother-in-law would return it. But an eye was arranged for, he would know we all love and care for him. I want him to have a chance at life.

If he had this eye he could get a real job, and not be so self-conscious. So far in life, I've learned how cruel people can be to those with even mild handicaps. I

Thanks
A Million
Percy Ross

DEAR MR. ROSS: My mom is a spry 'Old Bird' of 86, who likes to be on the go. She's in church every Sunday greeting her friends.

Although she has many friends, she wouldn't dare let them know she has any needs. Full of pride as a Southern lady is—she says she's going to live until she dies with her boots on.

Soon I'll have to clip her wings if I don't get some work done on my '76 Pontiac. A ride every day is a must for her or else she gets sick. My heater is out and so is the air conditioner. The fender and dash will have to be torn out in order to replace them, which runs into money. I just bought new tires on time, so I'm charged to the bill.

I've spent so much trying to keep the old heap running. On top of everything else, the insurance comes due next month. Want to help?

DEAR PERCY: Would you be willing to grant me a gift of $1,000? I want to hold a party for the neighbors. There's no particular occasion, but the fact that you gave me $1,000 would be reason enough to party.

How about it? I'll even invite you to join the group for the time of your life!

DEAR G.F.: Sorry... but I'm at an age where I prefer a siesta to a fiesta. Thanks just the same.

Miss W.N. Santa Ana, Calif.
Dear Miss N.: As with any prosthetic work, it requires a true artist of the trades to produce top shelf work. It's been my good fortune to locate John Reed, who is one of the original plastic eye makers.

MISS W.N. SANTA ANA, CALIF.

DEAR MISS N.: As with any prosthetic work, it requires a true artist of the trades to produce top shelf work. It's been my good fortune to locate John Reed, who is one of the original plastic eye makers.

MISS W.N. SANTA ANA, CALIF.

'Steaming' has her defenders

DEAR ABBY: The letter in regard to 'Steaming in Georgia,' who had a page spread around a family album for visiting relatives to enjoy. She observed one 'in-law' looking at two pictures of her husband and his first wife for a very long time. Then after everyone had left, she noticed that those two pictures had been removed from the album. 'Steamed' was sure Wife No. 2 had taken them and asked how to handle that situation at the next family gathering, you suggested she stand guard while guests looked at the album. Not very helpful, Abby.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've got right to the point. I am planning to marry Audrey's soon I love her very much. I would like to have my friend 'Stewart' be my best man. I've known him for 18 years, and we have always been the best of friends. The problem: Audrey and Stewart don't love each other. I don't want either one of them to be uncomfortable. What should I do?

DEAR ABBY: I'll get right to the point. I am planning to marry Audrey's soon I love her very much. I would like to have my friend 'Stewart' be my best man. I've known him for 18 years, and we have always been the best of friends.

DEAR ABBY: I'll get right to the point. I am planning to marry Audrey's soon I love her very much. I would like to have my friend 'Stewart' be my best man. I've known him for 18 years, and we have always been the best of friends.

DEAR CHICAGOAN: Don't agonize over it. Ask Audrey how she feels about Stewart being your best man. If she has any negative feelings, ask Stewart. If he's willing, no problem.

For Abby's booklet, 'How to Have a Lovely Wedding,' send a check or money order for $2.50 (13 in Canada and a long stamped 08 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054.

Salt a necessity, and hard to avoid

DEAR DR. GOTT: A friend said that his religion prohibited the use of minerals, including salt. I thought that some salt was necessary.

Dr. Gott
Peter Gott, M.D.

Your friend's religion may prohibit supplementary salt in the diet. The prohibition of all salt would lead to a nutritionally unsound diet that would be impossible for anyone to follow.

Other minerals — such as potassium and calcium — are also present in many common foods and are necessary for good health. Most nutrition experts now believe that the most healthful diet is one that is low in sodium, fat and cholesterol made up of 15 percent of total calories made up of protein, 30 percent for fat and the remaining 55 percent composed of complex carbohydrates, such as starches.

If you have questions about sleep, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Sleep.

Lucy, held by Dog Warden Richard Rand, will be ready for adoption early next week, if not claimed by her owner.

Adopt a pet

Lucy was roaming on Newman St.

By Barbara Richmond/Manchester Herald

Lucy, a 6-month old female beagle, is this week's featured pet. She's a very quiet little dog and was wearing a leather collar when picked up.

She was found roaming on Newman Street on Nov. 16. She's brown and white and is not claimed by her owner she will be ready for adoption early next week.

Besides the beagle, there was one other new dog at the pound, as of Oct. 24. The other is a male mixed breed. He's about 2 years old and was picked up on Nov. 15 on Lydall Street.

Dog's growling requires attention

Pet Forum
Edward A. Williams, D.V.M.

QUESTION: Our 2-year-old cocker spaniel has recently begun growling at all members of our family except my husband. It is not an everyday occurrence but he is beginning to worry me as we have a small child. Why is he starting this behavior? Most of the time he is friendly and playful, but I am concerned that this may get worse.

ANSWER: You describe a problem that is encountered with some frequency and requires immediate attention. The problem is a complicated one and involves concepts of dominance and submission in a social hierarchy. Dogs are very

Social Security

No need to be penniless for benefits

QUESTION: Since my neighbor owns his home and a car, I was surprised to learn he was getting SSI payments. How can that be?

ANSWER: Eligibility for SSI is limited to people with little or no income or resources; however, they don't have to be penniless. Social Security doesn't count some resources when deciding if a person is eligible for SSI. The applicant's home and adjacent land are not counted, and, depending on their value, a car, personal aid household goods, insurance policies, and burial funds may not count.

QUESTION: I have read about the new Immigration Law. How does this affect Social Security?

ANSWER: The new Immigration Law requires that all job-seekers — American or foreign born — must document their authority to work. The Social Security number card is one acceptable proof that may be submitted to the employer. If young people obtain a Social Security number now, they will not have to worry about this matter when they enter the work force at a future date.

QUESTION: I know dependent children age 5 or older listed on 1987 tax returns must have a Social Security number. But does this new law refer to other dependents as well? Does it also include workers and non-workers?

ANSWER: Yes, it doesn't make any difference who you list as a dependent whether they are your children, grandchildren, adoptive children, nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, relatives, non-relative workers or non workers. So long as they are age 5 or older and they are listed as a dependent, the new tax law requires that they have a Social Security number.

This column is prepared by the Social Security Administration in East Hartford. Do you have a question you'd like to see used here? Write to Social Security, Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 991, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Docs say some living with AIDS

BOSTON (AP) — Although 85 percent of AIDS victims die within five years, the discovery that some live longer raises a note of optimism.

The study, published today, found that those with the best odds are homosexual AIDS patients who have Kaposi's sarcoma, a kind of cancer common in acquired immunodeficiency syndrome.

Although the study does not answer the question of whether anyone actually recovers from AIDS, it raises a note of optimism that hasn't been given in the past.

Rothenberg said there have been anecdotal reports of people seeming to get better after initial affliction with the disease. But he said even longer follow-ups will be necessary to determine whether a small minority of victims are able to beat the disease.

"One could suggest that if you don't die from AIDS in the first five years, you might live six or 10," he said. "That's not known."

The 15 percent chance of living five years with AIDS should be considered the upper limit of survival, the researchers said, because they may have missed some deaths among the apparent long-term survivors.

The study was based on a review of 5,833 people with AIDS in New York whose cases were diagnosed before 1986. It was conducted with doctors from the New York City and New York state health department and published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Among these victims, 685 were dead by the time their disease was diagnosed. The longest survivor was someone who had lived with the disease for almost nine years. Rothenberg said he was not sure whether this man was still alive.

Overall, the chances of surviving a year after diagnosis were 28 percent, but this differed greatly, depending on the victims' sex, race, age and how they got the disease.

The researchers found that white male homosexuals in their early 30s had an 81 percent chance of surviving at least a year after diagnosis, the longest of any group. By contrast, the outlook was especially poor for black women who got the disease through drug abuse.

Today, hospitals around the country were to present newborn babies with pinkish blisters labeled "I Was Born A Non-Smoker." Elementary school children in Lansing, Okla., were being given balloons to release with an anti-smoking message.

In New York, an assortment of celebrities and the cast of Broadway's "Starlight Express" turned out Wednesday to urge a city-wide cigarette stoppage for the event.

"I'm giving up my pipe up as an example to the people who know and love me," said Mr. Potato Head, the cartoon and toy character who was a special guest at the affair in the Gerashin Theater.

Other celebrities who turned out included actress-singer Marilyn Sokol, who sang "Don't Let Your Life Go Up In Smoke," singer Bette Midler, and actress Sylvia Miles and actor Aidan Quinn.

The battle against butts reached the airwaves in Dallas, where an easy listening radio station planned to broadcast subliminal messages featuring a male voice softly explaining the hazards of smoking.

Chalk, 43, was in New Mexico when he received the news. "We called Vince in New Mexico, and he's so thrilled. He can't wait to get back in the classroom and teach," said Georgia Garrett-Norris, one of his lawyers.

"He said he knows it won't be easy for the Orange County Department of Education to let him back in the classroom, and he wants to make it as painless as possible."

Loquvam said Chalk will go back to work Friday, if he is able. Loquvam didn't elaborate on Chalk's physical condition.

A school official said Chalk would be welcomed back.

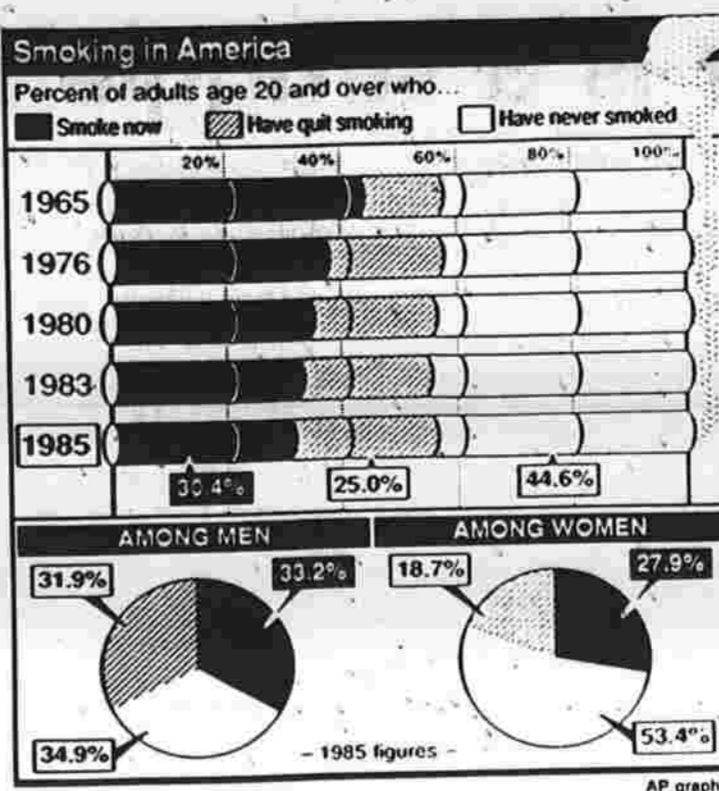

The ruling was the first by any federal appeals court on the issue of job discrimination against victims of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

"Although handicapped, (Chalk) is otherwise qualified to perform his job within the meaning of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973," the court said.

Chalk taught hearing-impaired children in the suburban Los Angeles school district for seven years but was barred from returning to class this fall because he had been diagnosed with AIDS.

Medical evidence "overwhelmingly indicates that the causal contact incident with the performance of (Chalk's) teaching duties in the classroom presents no significant risk of harm to others," the court said.

"This is going to offer (AIDS victims) a lot of protection and hope that they are going to be able to lead productive lives even when they have this terrible problem," said American Civil Liberties Union lawyer Paul Hoffman, another of Chalk's lawyers.

Millions expected to join Smokeout

By Michael Hirsh
The Associated Press

The messages were to be broadcast simultaneously with regular music at four pre-announced times. The Federal Communication Commission says the messages are legal because they were announced in advance.

The society is hoping tobacco chewers also will participate.

"Too many people, especially young people, think chewing tobacco and dipping snuff are safe alternatives to smoking. The fact is these products are not harmless substitutes," said Karen Givens, anti-smoking chairman for Corpus Christi, Texas.

Not everybody, however, was happy with the anti-smoking campaign.

Harold Boots, owner of Edward's Pipe and Tobacco Shop in Dallas, said smokers should unite and fight for their rights.

According to a Gallup survey, a record 23.8 million people — 43.7 percent of the nation's smokers — quit smoking in last year's smokeout by quitting or cutting down for one day.

Black women who got the disease through drug abuse. Today, hospitals around the country were to present newborn babies with pinkish blisters labeled "I Was Born A Non-Smoker."

Elementary school children in Lansing, Okla., were being given balloons to release with an anti-smoking message.

In New York, an assortment of celebrities and the cast of Broadway's "Starlight Express" turned out Wednesday to urge a city-wide cigarette stoppage for the event.

"I'm giving up my pipe up as an example to the people who know and love me," said Mr. Potato Head, the cartoon and toy character who was a special guest at the affair in the Gerashin Theater.

Other celebrities who turned out included actress-singer Marilyn Sokol, who sang "Don't Let Your Life Go Up In Smoke," singer Bette Midler, and actress Sylvia Miles and actor Aidan Quinn.

The battle against butts reached the airwaves in Dallas, where an easy listening radio station planned to broadcast subliminal messages featuring a male voice softly explaining the hazards of smoking.

Chalk, 43, was in New Mexico when he received the news. "We called Vince in New Mexico, and he's so thrilled. He can't wait to get back in the classroom and teach," said Georgia Garrett-Norris, one of his lawyers.

"He said he knows it won't be easy for the Orange County Department of Education to let him back in the classroom, and he wants to make it as painless as possible."

Loquvam said Chalk will go back to work Friday, if he is able. Loquvam didn't elaborate on Chalk's physical condition.

A school official said Chalk would be welcomed back.

The ruling was the first by any federal appeals court on the issue of job discrimination against victims of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

"Although handicapped, (Chalk) is otherwise qualified to perform his job within the meaning of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973," the court said.

Chalk taught hearing-impaired children in the suburban Los Angeles school district for seven years but was barred from returning to class this fall because he had been diagnosed with AIDS.

Medical evidence "overwhelmingly indicates that the causal contact incident with the performance of (Chalk's) teaching duties in the classroom presents no significant risk of harm to others," the court said.

"This is going to offer (AIDS victims) a lot of protection and hope that they are going to be able to lead productive lives even when they have this terrible problem," said American Civil Liberties Union lawyer Paul Hoffman, another of Chalk's lawyers.

Solvent linked to heart defects

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Children whose parents worked or lived in areas where drinking water was contaminated with a common industrial solvent were 2 1/2 times as likely as others to have congenital heart defects, researchers say.

Their study is the first to show a link between the solvent, trichloroethylene, and heart defects, the researchers said Wednesday at the annual meeting of the American Heart Association.

"Now we've got our work cut out for us," said Dr. Cleo Loebber, a pediatric cardiologist at the University of Iowa and one of the study's authors. "Hopefully this will get people working on this. It certainly is something that needs to be addressed."

The findings were based on interviews with parents of 846 children born with heart defects who were conceived in Tucson, Ariz., and whose mothers spent the first three months of their pregnancies there, said Dr. Stanley Goldberg of the University of Arizona in Tucson and principal author of the study.

Thirty-two percent of the parents lived or worked in a combined residential and industrial area in Tucson where trichloroethylene contaminated the drinking water from the 1950s until 1981, when the wells were closed, Goldberg said.

The incidence of congenital heart defects in the children of these parents who had lived or worked in the area was 2 1/2 times that of heart defects in children of Tucson mothers who did not have contact with the area, Goldberg said.

A wide variety of heart defects were observed, the researchers said. Trichloroethylene, or TCE, is one of the most widely used industrial solvents, said Kathleen Wolf, a chemical physicist associated with the Center for Hazardous Materials Control at the University of California, Los Angeles.

"It appears virtually everywhere," she said. "TCE is used to clean metal parts and has been used for dry cleaning. It was once used in food preparation, such as decaffeinating coffee, before suspicions arose that it might be harmful."

When and if drugs are developed to prolong the lives of children with AIDS, they still could face early death from abnormal heart rhythms caused by cardiac damage.

One child whose heart tissue Bharati examined died because damage to a major blood vessel triggered clotting that blocked blood flow to the heart, she said.

Bharati said doctors should examine all AIDS-infected patients for heart damage, whether they are children or adults. Preliminary research suggests the heart problems respond to medication, she added.

Studies released this summer were among the first to identify heart damage in adults with AIDS.

Dr. Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The deadly AIDS virus can ravage the heart and arteries of babies and children, a discovery that complicates efforts to prolong the lives of the disease's youngest victims.

Autopsies showed infants and children with AIDS suffer inflamed and enlarged hearts, damage to cells that make the heart beat, and scarring, thickening and degeneration of arteries, said Dr. Saroja Bharati, whose study is on today's program at the American Heart Association's annual meeting.

Other studies found children infected with the AIDS virus but not the fully developed disease suffer congestive heart failure, reduction in the heart's ability to pump and poor contraction of heart muscle fibers.

AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

She said it isn't yet known if the heart and artery damage she observed was directly caused by the AIDS virus or was an indirect result of the virus wrecking the children's immune systems.

Bharati said her findings suggest AIDS-related heart damage can kill the children before AIDS-induced disorders, although such damage often isn't apparent unless tests are performed, the researchers said.

"This is a very recent recognition there is so much cardiac damage in pediatric AIDS," said Dr. Stanford Shulman, infectious diseases chief at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

Such recognition also is very recent in adults, he said. The new awareness follows the slow realization by doctors that the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus attacks the brain and nervous system in addition to fatally crippling the body's disease-fighting immune system.

Bharati, chief of pathology at the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, N.J., performed microscopic examinations on heart tissue taken from six children of AIDS-infected, intravenous drug addicts. The children had AIDS, and died between ages 7 months and 7 years.

SHOP EARLY FOR BEST SELECTION!

REGAL'S ENTIRE STOCK!

20% OFF*

4 DAYS ONLY!

WED.- THURS.- FRI.- SAT.

NOV. 18 - NOV. 19 - NOV. 20 - NOV. 21

NOTHING HELD BACK!

EVERY FAMOUS BRAND IN STOCK

- * ARROW
- * VAN HEUSEN
- * PURITAN
- * ENRO
- * CAREER CLUB
- * MUNSWEAR
- * JANTZEN
- * PENDLETON
- * HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX
- * YVES SAINT LAURENT
- * CHRISTIAN DIOR
- * BOTANY 500
- * HOGGAR SLACKS
- * LEVI SLACKS
- * SANABELT
- * FLORSHEIM SHOES
- * LONDON FOG
- * MEMBERS ONLY
- * WOOLRICH
- * LEE JEANS
- * DAMON
- * DUOFOLD
- * HANES
- * JOCKEY

*Excluding Items Already On Sale

REGAL'S AND BIG TALL

903 MAIN ST., DOWNTOWN MANCHESTER - OPEN WED., THURS. & FRI. TIL 9 P.M.

LANDLORDS and Property Owners

Call us about our competitive rates on Property and Liability Insurance.

OLIVER ZUGCARDY AGENCY

767 Main Street
Manchester
643-9555

REGAL'S AND BIG TALL

903 MAIN ST., DOWNTOWN MANCHESTER - OPEN WED., THURS. & FRI. TIL 9 P.M.

Committee Report Roundup

From the House-Senate committee report on the Iran-Contra affair

- CONCLUSIONS
President Reagan is ultimately responsible
He let a "cabal of the zealots" control policy and bypass laws
No evidence that Reagan knowingly tried to cover up, but things he did help decision

Congress resolved to tighten controls

While the report lays out the most exhaustive account yet of the Iran-Contra affair, it also contains... 2,004 TOW (anti-tank missiles) and more than 200 vital spare parts for Hawk missile batteries.

Sobriety is a struggle for Ann

Continued from page 1
They make - and keep - their own appointments with counselors, therapists and physicians. Whenever possible, they take public transportation to these sessions and to their jobs.

Another placement
The next step was a placement at New Hope Manor, a residential facility for former substance abusers that's housed in another former Cheney mansion on Hartford Road.

Delaware is first with a celebration
NEW YORK (AP) - Starting with Delaware on Dec. 7, 1987, and continuing through 1991 in all 50 states, celebrations much like those held in 1987 and 1988 will mark the anniversary of each state's ratification or admittance to the Union.

SPORTS
Streaky Whale cuts up Sabres

By Jim Tierney
Manchester Herald
HARTFORD - This has been a season of streaks for the Hartford Whalers.

Along with Francis, John Anderson and Mike Milbar, the Whalers' first four goal scorers on the power play were 5-for-8 on the power play.

Whaler Coach Jack Evans said, "The power play was very impressive. I think the defense played very well. It was a good all-around game for us."

Wilton's Junior All-America Kris Lilly (right) battles Manchester's Kathy Cumberbatch (12) and Shelly Dieterle for the ball in their state Class L quarterfinal.

Wilton sidelines MHS girls

By Jim Tierney
Manchester Herald
BERLIN - It was a disappointing end to a splendid season for the Manchester High girls' soccer team.

In their Class L quarterfinal match with Wilton High School, the third-seeded Indians couldn't handle the speed of the sixth-seeded Warriors and fell, 3-0, Wednesday afternoon at Sage Park.

All of Wilton's three goals came during the first half, one each by Cary Stanley, Julie Tienkin, and junior All-America performer Kris Lilly.

Manchester's Karen Rattanakoun (2) tries to take the ball away from Wilton's Carl Stanley (15) during first-half action.

Manchester's Karen Rattanakoun (2) tries to take the ball away from Wilton's Carl Stanley (15) during first-half action. Wednesday, Stanley had the first goal in Wilton's 3-0 victory.

Star-studded field is anticipated

By Len Auster
Manchester Herald
It's a difficult proposition, trying to top the Golden Anniversary of the Manchester Road Race. It was a week-long race in 1986, topped of course by the race that saw John Doherty run away from the field of over 4,000 officially registered entrants.

HANDS OFF! Sexual Aggression and Dating. A lecture with Bob Hall at Manchester Community College. Thursday, Nov. 19th, 8:00 P.M.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING. For a successful Thanksgiving, a sincere appreciation for all we have - a most happy get together with flowers & plants from Woodland Gardens.

HOLIDAY SALE. Ladies' Turtle Necks 2 for $10. Bob's Regular Price $6.99 ea. 100% cotton long sleeve turtle necks in assorted colors.

BOB'S STORES. Middletown Enfield Hamden Waterbury Now in Manchester.

Obituaries

Jacob O. Bartz
Jacob O. Bartz, 91, of 102 Walker St., died Wednesday at his home. He was predeceased by his wife, Regina (Gauthier) Bartz, who died in 1982.

Martin Niedzwicki
Martin Niedzwicki, 81, of New Britain, died Nov. 17 at his home. He was the husband of Helen (Dakota) Niedzwicki and the stepfather of Josephine Poland of Manchester.

Mary Oriowski
Mary (Rodvan) Oriowski, 66, of the Rockville section of Vernon, died Wednesday at Rockville General Hospital. She was the wife of Mitchell Oriowski and the mother of Robert Oriowski of Manchester.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Harold A. Bassett, who passed away on November 19, 1970. Loved and Remembered Wife Helen & Family.

BOB'S STORES. Middletown Enfield Hamden Waterbury Now in Manchester.

Surprising Devils in Patrick Division chase

By Ken Rosoport
The Associated Press

The New Jersey Devils should be excited for scoring early in the season because they rarely find themselves in that type of position at any time of the year.

"Just about all of us knew the Islanders had lost, and that just made us feel down more," forward Pat Verbeek said following Wednesday night's 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Flyers.

The victory moved the surprising Devils within three points of the Patrick Division-leading Islanders, who lost 5-2 to the Montreal Canadiens. The Devils, who have never had a winning season in their history, extending their home record to 9-1-1, the best in the league, and their overall record to 11-5-2.

"The Devils are playing with a lot of confidence," Philadelphia forward Brian Propp said.

Elsewhere, it was St. Louis 6, Toronto 3; Hartford 3, Buffalo 1; Edmonton 4, Quebec 1; Chicago 5, Minnesota 2; and Boston 4, Winnipeg 1.

Verbeek scored a power-play goal with 2:56 remaining to cap the Devils' comeback against struggling Flyers, who lost for the sixth time in their last eight games (4-1-1).

Verbeek, who leads the NHL in game-winning goals with four, beat goaltender Ron Hextall from 15 feet out of the Devils' third power-play goal of the game.

NHL Roundup

The Devils trailed 3-2 before pulling it out on goals by Claude Louie and Verbeek.

"It was a character win," Devils Coach Coach Carpenter said. "We weren't quitters. Our special teams were outstanding tonight."

Canadians 5, Islanders 2

Stephane Richer and Claude Lemieux scored two goals each as Montreal edged the Islanders' five-game winning streak.

The Canadiens are 7-1-4 in their last 12 games. The Islanders haven't won at the Montreal Forum since Oct. 6, 1985, a stretch comprised of one tie and five losses.

Canadians defenseman Larry Robinson played for the first time after missing the team's first 21 games because of a broken leg suffered in a solo accident last August. Robinson did not get a point, but his presence seemed to inspire the Canadiens.

Blues 6, Leafs 3

Doug Gilmour scored a goal and set up two others by Mark Flinteras as St. Louis beat Toronto.

Rookie Rob Whistle broke a 3-1 tie at 4:36 of the third period with his second goal of the season, both at Maple Leaf Gardens, since his recall from the minors this month.

Blues goaltender Rick Wamsley stopped 41 shots.

Oilers 4, Nordiques 1

Second-period goals by defenseman Steve Smith and Kevin Love carried Edmonton over Quebec.

The victory was Edmonton's sixth straight at home.

Love's goal came just minutes after Smith had opened the scoring on a power play in the 16th minute of the second period, deflecting a perfect goalmouth pass from Wayne Gretzky.

Blackhawks 5, Stars 2

Rick Vaive scored three goals, including the tie-breaker at 4:29 of the third period, as Chicago scored four third-period goals to defeat Minnesota.

Vaive got the game-winner when he pounced on the puck in the slot and beat Minnesota goaltender Karl Takko from 10 feet out.

The hat trick was the eighth of Vaive's career and his first with the Blackhawks.

"Vaive likes to hang around the net," Chicago Coach Bob Murdoch said.

Boston goaltender Doug Keane made 23 saves.

Bruins 4, Jets 3

Steve Kasper's power-play goal at 17:55 of the third period led Boston over Winnipeg and extended the Bruins' unbeaten streak to five games.

Geoff Courtnall had two goals and two assists for the Bruins, who won six of their last seven games.

Lyon Byers scored Boston's other goal.

Boston goaltender Doug Keane made 23 saves.

Montreal's Stephane Richer celebrates after scoring the second goal against the Islanders in the first period Wednesday night at the Forum in Montreal. The Canadiens won, 5-2.

Dawson NL MVP

By Phyllis Mensing
The Associated Press

CHICAGO — The Chicago Cubs' Andre Dawson, who began the season unwanted, ended it by being named the Most Valuable Player in the National League.

While the Cubs were falling and failing to last place in the NL East, Dawson was shining — leading the majors with 137 runs batted in and tying for the lead with 40 home runs.

"I would wake up in the morning and just look forward to going to the ballpark," Dawson said Wednesday after learning of the award.

"You can only dream about those kind of numbers. I didn't want to go out and try to perform above what I was doing. I just try to do the best I could."

In becoming the first member of a last-place team to be named MVP, Dawson beat St. Louis slugger Ozzie Smith 289-193 in voting by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Dawson, 33, was so determined to play for the Cubs after 12 seasons with Montreal that he would be named MVP of the National League. Dawson was a two-time MVP of the American League while playing for the Oakland Athletics in 1977 and 1978.

"I wanted to convince the baseball world that I would succeed under different circumstances — those circumstances being to get away from the AstroNation and to a natural playing field," Dawson said.

"Grass was an important factor. I felt strong all season, and I worked out, got into a weight training program. I felt I could stay strong."

The finest moment of the season, Dawson said, came in his last World Series at-bat, when he ran the bases to help the Cubs win the series.

Greenspan supports proposal to break down bank barriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal regulators are lining up behind a proposal to break down the 64-year-old barriers between commercial and investment banking.

Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan on Wednesday strongly backed a proposal by Senate Banking Committee Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., to let banks underwrite securities.

Proxmire, meanwhile, was nearing an agreement with the senior Republican on his committee, Sen. Jake Garn of Utah, that would give Greenspan sponsorship to his plan for overhauling the 1933 Glass-Steagall Act.

Greenspan, testifying before a panel of the House Banking Committee, said the holding company structure would ensure that the banks' depositors would be insulated from the risks involved in underwriting securities.

"I believe this goal is most effectively achieved if securities activities take place in a direct subsidiary of a holding company rather than in a bank or a subsidiary of a bank," he said.

Greenspan said the board's position was to determine if the 500-point decline in the stock market on Oct. 19.

But he said "the events since Oct. 19 have not altered our view that it is both necessary to proceed with the reform of the system and that it is possible to do so in a way that will maintain the safety and soundness of depository institutions."

On another point, Greenspan said he does not believe restrictions are needed on mergers between large banks and large securities firms.

He maintained that such mergers would be economically unattractive.

But he said the Fed "would not oppose a limited provision" aimed at preventing big mergers.

Proxmire would prevent the nation's 15 largest banks from merging with the 15 largest securities firms.

Greenspan said that Congress should allow a moratorium, banking federal regulators from expanding bank powers piecemeal, to expire as scheduled on March 1 of next year.

Rep. Fernando J. St. Germain, D-R.I., chairman of the House Banking Committee, has not committed himself to a timetable but says he wants his panel to work on the legislation before the March deadline.

Meanwhile, Bob Hickmott, an aide to Sen. Timothy Wirth, D-Colo., said Wirth and Sen. Bob Graham, D-Fla., were preparing banking legislation taking a different approach to the reform of the system.

His proposal would permit banks to expand into insurance as event insurers, but would require a different regulatory structure, Hickmott said.

at the end of the last two fiscal quarters ending Sept. 30, "so they tried to pump up some numbers."

The lawsuit was filed by Adrian S. Zainwel and Eberole of Stryker & Associates, P.C., in the U.S. District Court in Hartford on Friday, and transferred to the New Haven federal court this week.

Besides the company and Johnson, defendants include Vincent Daley, General Datacom's eastern United States area vice president for business systems sales, and Dennis Nesler, vice president and treasurer.

Zainwel and Eberole say they were fired on Oct. 1 for opposing the practices outlined in their complaint. Zainwel was a regional sales manager for New York, Long Island and Westchester counties and Fairfield counties in Connecticut and New York for the company.

Eberole was regional operation manager in White Plains, N.Y., reporting to Zainwel.

General Datacom manufactures and distributes a communications system, mostly in Connecticut. In its fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1987, the company reported sales of $201 million, up $23 million from the previous year, and income of $28,000, down $1.1 million.

Company revenue in the first two

Fisher Price quality control inspector Charles McGreggor checks a batch of the new PXL 2000 TV monitors. The East Aurora, N.Y., firm says the PXL 2000 is the first camcorder and television monitor system made just for kids. The system, with accessories, will sell for about $225.

quarters of the 1986-87 fiscal year was "doing well" but slipped in the last two quarters, said Theresa Carpentier, manager of corporate investor relations for General Datacom. Revenue suffered because of higher operating expenses and the absence of certain previous tax benefits, Carpentier said.

Zainwel and Eberole claim that the company and its executives violated the federal Racketeering Inflation and Corrupt Organizations Act and also accuse the company of securities violations and mail and wire fraud. They seek an unspecified amount in monetary damages and seek for a jury trial.

They allege that the defendants "periodically made unauthorized shipments to customers to materially misrepresent the financial condition" of General Datacom and that the defendants also "periodically falsified and fraudulently registered sales on the financial records" of the corporation.

The suit, which claims the defendants planned or engaged in racketeering activities since January 1985, also alleges that the company's sales transactions since June of this year.

Among them:

The company shipped $870,000 worth of equipment to Citibank, N.A., without a formal purchase order and then resented the return of that equipment "in order to retain a fraudulent record of sales."

On Aug. 14, the company filed a form with the Securities and Exchange Commission which included in its net sale figures the Citibank shipment, the complaint said.

In June of this year the defendants "coerced" an employee of the New York City Transit Authority to order about $300,000 worth of equipment for the authority. The defendants "circumvented" the City of New York and Transit Authority regulations with respect to purchasing," by foregoing the obtaining of a required purchase order, the suit and McWeeny said.

Ex-workers accuse company of manipulating financial data

NEW HAVEN — General Datacom Industries Inc. says a lawsuit alleging the company inflated sales figures with false or improper orders for financial documents is "ridiculous and untrue."

"All actions of the company we feel have been proper and were performed by our financial reports were in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles," the company's chairman and chief executive officer, Charles F. Johnson, said Wednesday in a prepared statement.

Two former employees of the Middlebury-based company claim in their federal lawsuit that the company recorded more than $4 million in false or improper sales and back orders since June in order to look good to investors.

The lawsuit also claims the company circumvented purchasing regulations in a $104,000 agreement with the New York City Transit Authority, and entered into a deal based on a "false order" that allowed discount purchases for a subsidiary of E. F. Hutton Group.

Robert F. McWeeny, the Hartford attorney for the former employees, said the company "was desperate to pump up its sales."

Pratt and Whitney subsidiary of United Technologies Corp. of Hartford, Conn., refused to comment. The union represents about 12,000 workers at Pratt & Whitney's East Hartford, North Haven, Middletown and Southington.

The Contract reported that the layoffs were being planned to streamline the company and reduce costs because of increased competition, not the lack of work. The source told the newspaper that economic concessions, such as a wage freeze, also might be considered during negotiation of a new pact.

Last month, longtime Pratt & Whitney customer Japan Air Lines placed a large commercial jet engine order with General Electric Co. GE is Pratt & Whitney's biggest jet engine competitor.

The company lost another project in September when the Israeli government scrapped the $1.5 billion Lavi jet fighter project. Pratt & Whitney had contracted to sell its F412 engine to Israel to power the Lavi.

Pratt & Whitney spokesman Edward R. Cowles said Japan Air Lines' switch to GE would have little immediate financial impact.

CBS, Sony win in deal for records

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS Inc. will likely lavish the $2 billion it realizes from the sale of its record division on its core broadcasting business, while the purchaser, Sony Corp., also achieved a key strategic goal with the deal, officials said.

CBS announced after a special board meeting late Wednesday that it had forged a deal with the Japanese electronics giant that is expected to close in early 1988 pending government approval.

CBS president and chief executive Laurence A. Tisch said in a statement that Sony presented "a very attractive offer in terms of value to the shareholders."

The sale "provides an important source of capital and allows us to focus all of our energies and resources on our core business of broadcasting," he said.

James Goswami, vice president and media analyst at Duff & Phelps Inc. in Chicago, said CBS "thinks it can do very well" and that the deal is something as profitable and more stable.

Sony is a leading manufacturer of digital audio tape recorders, which are available in Japan for about $1,400 each. The high-quality recorders, which were first introduced in Europe, but their sale in the United States has been opposed by the record industry, which is fearful of a challenge to the compact disc market.

"I suspect Sony likes the notion of having a major record producer because it might help the sale of their digital audio recorders," Goswami said. "Sony and CBS are two opponents in that controversy, and this might change the picture."

Although the deal was announced long after the stock market closed, CBS shares jumped 8.82% to $176 a share Wednesday on reports that the board planned to meet to discuss selling the profitable records group.

Under ordinary circumstances, if you wanted to sell property that would show a long-term gain around year-end, you would hold off making the sale until January.

Reason: Postponing the sale for a month — or even a few days — postpones taxation on the gain for a year.

But in 1987, some taxpayers should consider doing just the opposite: selling long-term gain property before the end of 1987. Why?

New capital gain rules: Prior to 1987, 60 percent of your long-term capital gain (profit on property held longer than six months) was excluded from tax. However, the tax reform act did away with this break. Long-term capital gains now are taxed like ordinary income.

Important: Until this year, you had a tax option when you sold publicly traded securities (for instance, stocks and bonds) during the last five trading days of the year. If the sale took place on those days, you could treat the transaction as an installment sale and pay tax in either the year of sale or in the subsequent year, when you received payment.

New rule: The tax reform act took away the choice. Starting in 1987, you must pay tax in the year of sale.

ANSWER: Yes. For 1987 you are taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent.

Some taxpayers may profit from property sale in 1987

WATCH OUT FOR this little beauty. As the law now stands, the holding period for long-term capital gains goes from six months to a year for property acquired after December 31, 1987. Where did this property come from? It's a big new tax law. Nowhere. It is a previous tax law — one passed in 1984.

ANSWER: Yes. For 1987 you are taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent.

Sylvia Porter

QUESTION: What is a long-term capital gain or loss?

ANSWER: A gain or loss on capital assets — whether they are stocks, bonds, a house, etc. — before Jan. 1, 1988, your gain or loss on selling an asset will be long-term if you held it for more than six months. Your gain or loss will be short-term if you held it for only six months or less.

QUESTION: Is there a ceiling on long-term capital gains tax rates?

ANSWER: Yes. For 1987 you are taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent.

Sports In Brief

Rec holding soccer registration

The Manchester Rec Department will be holding registration for pee-wee indoor soccer league play on Dec. 7-10 from 6-8 p.m. at the Mahoney Rec Center.

There is a maximum number of participants and once that figure is reached, registration will be closed. Age is determined as of Dec. 31, 1988. There is a $5 registration fee and a $4 Rec membership card is required at registration.

League play is on Sunday afternoons at the Mahoney Rec Center beginning Jan. 31, 1988.

For further information, call Carl Silver, at the Rec Department at 647-2084.

Ramsey to start for the Patriots

FOXBORO, Mass. — Tom Ramsey, who hasn't started a game since he joined New England in 1984, will become the fifth quarterback to start for the Patriots this season when they play Indianapolis Sunday. Coach Raymond Berry said Wednesday Ramsey will replace Steve Grogan, who has a mild separation of the left shoulder. Berry said he wasn't sure if Grogan could play against the Colts as a backup.

Ramsey played only his third NFL game at quarterback last Sunday when Grogan got hurt on the second play from scrimmage of the third quarter against Dallas. Grogan hit his head when he was sacked. Ramsey completed 8 of 16 passes for 136 yards and a touchdown.

Dick Stello crushed to death

LAKELAND, Fla. — Dick Stello, a National League umpire since 1968, was crushed to death Wednesday when two cars he was standing between were hit by another car, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

Stello, 53, of Pinellas Park and Benjamin Suddarth, 48, of Seminole were talking between their parked cars when the vehicles were rear-ended along two-lane State Road 33 north of Central Florida town, the FHP reported. Stello was killed instantly.

Stello was the first-base umpire in this summer's All-Star Game. He worked his first NL game in September 1968 and joined the league's regular staff in April 1969.

Lights at Wrigley being discussed

CHICAGO — Mayor Harold Washington moved Wednesday for City Council approval to install lights at Wrigley Field, the only major league ballpark without them. But the proposal got bogged down in a squabble over committee jurisdiction.

A poll of aldermen conducted by the Chicago Sun-Times indicated Washington had enough votes to ensure passage of the measure, which would allow the Chicago Cubs to play night games at home.

But as the measure headed for review by the council's Energy and Environmental Protection Committee, Alderman Bernard Hansen moved to have it heard by his Economic Development Committee.

Hansen, whose ward contains Wrigley Field, has said he will continue to oppose regular-season night baseball.

Indians rehired Doc Edwards

CLEVELAND — Doc Edwards has managed the Cleveland Indians long enough to know it's no easy task.

"Just because you want a Cadillac doesn't mean you're going to get one," Edwards said Wednesday after he was rehired to manage the team next season.

Edwards was promoted from bullpen coach to manager when Pat Corrales was fired July 16. Cleveland was 31-56 at the time and went 30-45 the rest of the way, finishing with a 61-101 record that was the worst in the majors.

U.S. golfers lead World Cup

KAPALUA, Hawaii — The United States parlayed Payne Stewart's last-hole birdie and a balky Irish putter into a one-shot lead in the first round of the 33rd World Cup of Golf.

"You really need to play the par-3s well," Stewart said after Wednesday's round. Yet Stewart and playing partner Ben Crenshaw failed to master the long holes until Stewart chipped close on the 18th and dropped a three-foot putt for a birdie-4. That gave the Americans their one-stroke margin over the Irish stars of Eamonn Darcy and Rossie Rafferty.

Each of the Americans had rounds of 2-under-par, 70 over the Bay course at the Kapalua resort.

Their 140 total gave the United States its first lead in this 33-nation competition since 1983, the last time an American team won.

The lead was preserved only because Darcy missed four putts from four feet or less during a round of 71. Rafferty, a winner in Australia last week, had a 70 that left the Irish at 141.

MCC cagers bow in debut

FRANKLIN, Mass. — The Manchester Community men's basketball team opened its 1987-88 season Wednesday night with a tough 74-72 loss at the hands of host Dean Junior College.

Dean improved its record to 4-0 while the Cougars, who were 28-4 a year ago but only return one performer from that squad, are 0-1 with their next game Saturday night at 7:30 at East Catholic High against Springfield Technical Community College.

The Cougars came on strong at the tail end of the first half to take a 42-30 lead at intermission behind 12 points from Paul Swartz and 10 from Kevin Wilson. MCC held its largest lead, 51-42, with 17:09 left in the game after a hoop by Scott VanDudenhoove and two free throws by 1987 Manchester High graduate Rob Greene.

The Cougars went cold and Dean came back and wrestled away the lead, 62-61, with 7:48 to go on an Andy Stefan basket. MCC's final lead, 70-68, was after a VanDudenhoove 18-footer with 2:40 to play. With the score tied at 72-71, Steve Ripley scored the game-winning for Dean with 56 seconds left.

"We just made too many mistakes and were not patient enough running our offense," MCC Coach Skip Olander said. "We need to have more patience."

Real thing proves easy for Graf

American opponent could break a sweat.

"I was concentrating very well," said the 18-year-old West German, who has won 72 of 74 matches this year. "I wanted to get off to a good start."

Graf's opponent tonight will be seventh-seeded Helena Sukova, who beat Lori McNeil 2-6, 7-5, 6-2 in another first-round match. Tonight's other quarterfinal features two unseeded players, Sylvia Hanika of West Germany and Raffaella Reggi of Italy.

Sukova beat Graf the first time they played in 1983, but has lost their last five matches.

"I will have to serve better than I did at the beginning tonight," Sukova said. "I have nothing to lose. She has all the pressure. She's supposed to win."

Sukova has a history of playing well in major tournaments like the $1-million Slims championships, which feature the top 16 singles players and top eight doubles teams in the world.

The 16-foot-3 Czechoslovak was a finalist at the 1988 U.S. Open and a semifinalist this year, losing both to Martina Navratilova. She also lost to Navratilova in the 1985 Slims final.

"I got psyched up for the big ones," Sukova said.

Also advancing Wednesday night was fourth-seeded Pam Shriver, who beat Katerina Maleeva of Bulgaria 6-1, 3-4, 6-3.

Shriver will play Maleeva's older sister, Manuela. In the quarterfinal Friday night. In the other quarterfinal, second-seeded Navratilova meets No. 6 Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina.

Shriver, who has been in top form lately, played erratically against the younger Maleeva.

"I think I got tired mentally," said Shriver, who played a three-set doubles match the previous night that didn't end until 1:15 a.m.

In a book she wrote about the women's tennis tour, Shriver referred to the Maleeva sisters as "Boo-Hoo" because they rarely smile.

Top-seeded Steffi Graf makes a forehand return in her match with Zina Garrison at the Virginia Slims Championships at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. The West German star breezed to an easy 6-0, 6-3 victory.

ROBERT J. SMITH, inc.
INSURANCE SINCE 1914
649-5241
65 E. Center Street
Manchester, Ct.

NFC cites White

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles White of the Los Angeles Rams, who rushed for 213 yards in a 27-24 NFL victory over St. Louis, and cornerback Darrell Green of Washington, who had three interceptions in a 20-17 win over Detroit, have been named the NFC Players of the Week.

White's yardage included a 47-yard touchdown run and 62 yards in a fourth-quarter drive that led to Mike Lanford's winning field goal.

Green's interceptions included one at the 18-yard line that stopped a drive that had been a tying touchdown drive.

"I'm not disappointed," said Smith, who had a career-high 303 with 75 RB1 and 43 stolen bases.

Pratt and Whitney subsidiary of United Technologies Corp. of Hartford, Conn., refused to comment. The union represents about 12,000 workers at Pratt & Whitney's East Hartford, North Haven, Middletown and Southington.

Pratt presses union for talks on layoffs

EAST HARTFORD (AP) — Officials of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft have approached the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers to negotiate a new contract that could cushion the effects of layoffs next year, according to published reports.

The New Haven Register and the Hartford Courant quoted sources today as saying that if a new contract is negotiated, a year before the current contract expires, it could result in an early retirement plan that would reduce the number of layoffs raise severance pay for hourly workers who lose their jobs.

If not enough workers take early retirement, up to 2,000 could be laid off, a union official told the Register.

"It's a strong possibility if nothing develops," said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The union's executive council met Wednesday to discuss the proposal, which will probably be presented this week to union members, the official said.

"There's nothing I can say at this time," said Curt Link, a spokesman for the East Hartford-based

10 Minutes vs. All Day.

You depend on your car to get to work. In order to be dependable, your car has to be maintained. You could take it to a garage, or a dealer's service department. And that usually means leaving it there all day. You can't afford to be without your car that long. After all, time is money. But you can afford 10 minutes. Bring your car to Economy Oil and we'll change the oil, filter, and perform 12 other vital car care services. 10 minutes. That's all it takes. Now, isn't it time to make the best choice for a change?

14 SERVICES IN 10 MINUTES. NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY.

PENNZOIL
Safe Lubrication
The Standard of Protection Since 1889.

CHECK & FILL:
● Brake fluid
● Power steering fluid
● Transmission fluid
● Windshield washer
● Differential

ECONOMY $20.95

Make the Best Choice for a Change!
10 - 9:30 - 6:30; 7h 9:30 - 6:00
315 Broad St., Manchester 647-8997
FREE CAR WASH

Ex-workers accuse company of manipulating financial data

NEW HAVEN — General Datacom Industries Inc. says a lawsuit alleging the company inflated sales figures with false or improper orders for financial documents is "ridiculous and untrue."

"All actions of the company we feel have been proper and were performed by our financial reports were in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles," the company's chairman and chief executive officer, Charles F. Johnson, said Wednesday in a prepared statement.

Two former employees of the Middlebury-based company claim in their federal lawsuit that the company recorded more than $4 million in false or improper sales and back orders since June in order to look good to investors.

The lawsuit also claims the company circumvented purchasing regulations in a $104,000 agreement with the New York City Transit Authority, and entered into a deal based on a "false order" that allowed discount purchases for a subsidiary of E. F. Hutton Group.

Robert F. McWeeny, the Hartford attorney for the former employees, said the company "was desperate to pump up its sales."

Pratt presses union for talks on layoffs

EAST HARTFORD (AP) — Officials of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft have approached the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers to negotiate a new contract that could cushion the effects of layoffs next year, according to published reports.

The New Haven Register and the Hartford Courant quoted sources today as saying that if a new contract is negotiated, a year before the current contract expires, it could result in an early retirement plan that would reduce the number of layoffs raise severance pay for hourly workers who lose their jobs.

If not enough workers take early retirement, up to 2,000 could be laid off, a union official told the Register.

"It's a strong possibility if nothing develops," said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The union's executive council met Wednesday to discuss the proposal, which will probably be presented this week to union members, the official said.

"There's nothing I can say at this time," said Curt Link, a spokesman for the East Hartford-based

Thanksgiving Day Feast!
Make your Reservations Today! Call 633-8225.

Dinner Buffet

Turkey with Stuffing	Roasted Turkey
Baked Virginia Ham	Marinated Vegetables
Baked Scrod	Cheese Wheel
Lasagna	Rolls & Butter
Veal Cacciatore	Deserts
Branded Beef & Veg.	Pumpkin, Apple and Mince Pie
Kielbasa & Sauerkraut	French Toast
Mashed Potatoes	Ice Cream
Vegetable Du Jour

• Adults - $11.95* • Seniors - $10.95*
Children under 10 - $5.95*

Brunch Buffet

Turkey with Stuffing	Fruit Salad
Baked Virginia Ham	Waldorf Salad
Scrambled and Western Eggs	Bagels & Cream Cheese
French Toast	Pancakes
Home Fries	Danish
Sausage and Bacon	Rolls & Butter
Baked Scrod
Vegetable Du Jour

• Adults - $10.95* • Seniors - $9.95*
Children under 10 - $5.95*

The Buckboard
Banquet & Conference Center
2941 Main Street • Glastonbury
203/633-5225
*Prices do not include Tax and Gratuity

SELL AND BUY BACK? If you

max

An original, frightening look at the nightmarish decay of a world gone mad. Mal Gibson stars in the first Max movie.

TONIGHT AT 8! wttc-TV

Ex-workers accuse company of manipulating financial data

NEW HAVEN — General Datacom Industries Inc. says a lawsuit alleging the company inflated sales figures with false or improper orders for financial documents is "ridiculous and untrue."

"All actions of the company we feel have been proper and were performed by our financial reports were in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles," the company's chairman and chief executive officer, Charles F. Johnson, said Wednesday in a prepared statement.

Two former employees of the Middlebury-based company claim in their federal lawsuit that the company recorded more than $4 million in false or improper sales and back orders since June in order to look good to investors.

The lawsuit also claims the company circumvented purchasing regulations in a $104,000 agreement with the New York City Transit Authority, and entered into a deal based on a "false order" that allowed discount purchases for a subsidiary of E. F. Hutton Group.

Robert F. McWeeny, the Hartford attorney for the former employees, said the company "was desperate to pump up its sales."

Pratt presses union for talks on layoffs

EAST HARTFORD (AP) — Officials of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft have approached the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers to negotiate a new contract that could cushion the effects of layoffs next year, according to published reports.

The New Haven Register and the Hartford Courant quoted sources today as saying that if a new contract is negotiated, a year before the current contract expires, it could result in an early retirement plan that would reduce the number of layoffs raise severance pay for hourly workers who lose their jobs.

If not enough workers take early retirement, up to 2,000 could be laid off, a union official told the Register.

"It's a strong possibility if nothing develops," said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The union's executive council met Wednesday to discuss the proposal, which will probably be presented this week to union members, the official said.

"There's nothing I can say at this time," said Curt Link, a spokesman for the East Hartford-based

Thanksgiving Day Feast!
Make your Reservations Today! Call 633-8225.

Dinner Buffet

Turkey with Stuffing	Roasted Turkey
Baked Virginia Ham	Marinated Vegetables
Baked Scrod	Cheese Wheel
Lasagna	Rolls & Butter
Veal Cacciatore	Deserts
Branded Beef & Veg.	Pumpkin, Apple and Mince Pie
Kielbasa & Sauerkraut	French Toast
Mashed Potatoes	Ice Cream
Vegetable Du Jour

• Adults - $11.95* • Seniors - $10.95*
Children under 10 - $5.95*

Brunch Buffet

Turkey with Stuffing	Fruit Salad
Baked Virginia Ham	Waldorf Salad
Scrambled and Western Eggs	Bagels & Cream Cheese
French Toast	Pancakes
Home Fries	Danish
Sausage and Bacon	Rolls & Butter
Baked Scrod
Vegetable Du Jour

• Adults - $10.95* • Seniors - $9.95*
Children under 10 - $5.95*

The Buckboard
Banquet & Conference Center
2941 Main Street • Glastonbury
203/633-5225
*Prices do not include Tax and Gratuity

'Tales of the Hollywood Hills'

By Jerry Buck The Associated Press LOS ANGELES — Although...

the interview, the Polo Lounge, the legendary watering hole of movie moguls at the Beverly Hills Hotel...

Schulberg began his career as a reader in the story department at the Selznick Studio...

writes for television in collaboration with Stan Silverman. They wrote the CBS movie 'A Question of Honor'...

Schulberg lives on Long Island, N.Y., but returns to Hollywood frequently...

B.P. Schulberg had joined Adolph Zukor at Famous Players in 1912 as a screenwriter...

TV Tonight

- 5:00PM (8) Wonderful World of Disney: The Swamp Fox... 5:30PM (MAX) 'No Retreat No Surrender'...

- (MAX) MOVIE: 'Outbacker' (C) A stockbroker's luck falls on him... (MAX) MOVIE: 'Hollywood Vice Squad'...

- (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal' A Marine Corps pilot destroys his family by his distasteful methods... (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal'...

- (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal' A Marine Corps pilot destroys his family by his distasteful methods... (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal'...

- (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal' A Marine Corps pilot destroys his family by his distasteful methods... (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal'...

- (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal' A Marine Corps pilot destroys his family by his distasteful methods... (MAX) MOVIE: 'The Great Sentinal'...

Thoughts

Thank God for Creation - Day six On the sixth day God said, "Let the earth bring forth living creatures..."

Go to a zoo, and visit the animals from far away places. Laugh with the monkeys. Discover what they like and need to survive.

Take your dog for a walk, or let him take you. Brush him gently, then muzzle his muzzle. Play a game of friebie. Let your dog win. Share your lap with a kitty.

Wait a farm with children. Collect eggs, milk a cow and feed the goats. Ride a horse through shady woods or an open field.

Thank God for the great gift of cattle, creeping things and beasts of the earth. Enjoy them.

K. W. Holleran Talcottville Congregational Church UCC

Puzzles

ACROSS 1 Across 2 Paddle 3 Woe god 4 Tree 5 Big leaguer...

Answer to Previous Puzzle V A K E L V E Y A M E O G T E A V A O L O G I A L A T O B I E E N T O D R I N K S E T S L E T A D O G H A I R L O S S A L T F M O O B M O T C O I L A S A O B I E N I V E L A S A M I S E D E N I A L S A C T O

CELEBRITY CIPHER J Q M J M E T O U C F R X U C K E N C F M Y U . . . Z A J M Y E N Z U J Q U U Y Z L U C P I C F . . . E A Y R X C Y G

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME EVERF LOHLE GOAPAD NERVAG

Bridge NORTH 11-17 5 4 2 3 K 10 6 4 3 8 A 7 5 4 3 WEST Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 SOUTH A K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3

Cinema

MARTFORD 'Made in Heaven' (PG-13) 7:30, 9:30 - Chuck Berry's 'Hallelujah Walk' (PG) 7:30, 9:30 - The Princess Bride (PG) 7:30, 9:30 - Sommy & Rosie 7:10, 9:30.

SNAPPY 'FOOD FIGHT' BILL GRIFFITH

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE by Dan Brown

THE PHANTOM by Leo Falk & Barry

BLONDIE by Dean Young & Stan Drake

WHAT A GUY by Bill Hoist

Big giveaway reaps profit

By James Jacoby Trumping partner's good trick is not considered good form at the bridge table. But it can be the right play. It's easier to execute such a play when partner is mute and can't talk back to you.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY - Do you have a good recipe for homemade play dough? DEAR KELLY - Here's an excellent formula. The mixture is not sticky and it's very clean to work with.

SNAPU by Charles M. Schulz PEANUTS by Charles M. Schulz

PEOPLE WHO KNOW... classified know there's a certain magic about Classified Advertising. 643-2711

Judge cuts libel award for Newton

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A judge reduced the record $22.8 million libel judgment that Wayne Newton won against NBC to $3.3 million, ruling the evidence did not support Newton's claim that broadcast linking him to organized crime figures hurt his reputation or income.

However, U.S. District Judge Myron Crocker held the network upheld the jury's determination that the entertainer was defamed and that the network had shown a reckless disregard for the truth.

Crocker said he was convinced that reporters Brian Ross and Ira Silverman had "serious objective doubts as to the truth of the broadcasts," but went ahead anyway.

"It's a big victory for Wayne Newton," said Newton attorney Morton Galane. "It vindicates him completely."

NBC attorney Floyd Abrams said the network will continue to appeal the verdict.

Newton sued the network for defamation following newscasts in 1980 and 1981 that linked him to organized crime figures. He denied the allegations, testifying in his own behalf and attending all sessions of the trial which concluded Dec. 17.

A federal court jury awarded Newton $13.3 million and the singer was awarded another $9.5 million month later on a special loss of income ruling by the court. Interest on the judgment is compounding at the rate of 5.5 percent a year.

"The NBC reports, entitled 'Wayne Newton and the Law,' said Newton turned to crime figure Guido Penosi for help in halting death threats against his family in 1980 and that mob figures bragged they earned a share of the Aladdin Hotel and casino in return."

Newton admitted during the trial that he had known Penosi for years and asked him to get the death threats stopped, but denied the suggestion that he knew Penosi was tied to the Aladdin purchase.

Wayne Newton, nearly blind and confined to a wheelchair, sits in front of her Milpitas, Calif., house that she could lose after being held responsible for damages awarded a teen-ager who was injured while riding a motorcycle once owned by Arjo's son.

Widow could lose house in unusual damage case

MILPITAS, Calif. (AP) — A disabled widow ordered to sell her home to pay damages to a teen-ager hurt on a motorcycle her son once owned is a victim of a legal system that sometimes doesn't deliver justice, her attorney says.

"I know it's legal, that's what the lawyers tell me, but I feel it's immoral," Norma Arjo, the 49-year-old mother of four, said Wednesday.

Arjo, who is nearly blind and uses a wheelchair, lost a judgment by default for $18,000 after she failed to contest a lawsuit last March. She said she wasn't aware of the trial date, couldn't afford a lawyer, and didn't understand how she could be liable for the accident.

Arjo was held accountable because the motorcycle, sold a few days before the crash, was still registered in her name and the new owner, co-defendant in the lawsuit, had no money or property to pay the claim.

"My son didn't have the accident," she said Thursday. "My son didn't even own the lousy motorcycle. The kid who had the accident and owned the motorcycle didn't pay a cent."

Cyril Ash, attorney for Gary Warner, the injured teen-ager, said he is sympathetic to Arjo's plight.

"I feel sorry for her and I feel sorry for my client, too," Ash said. "Unfortunately, the only recourse one has for negligence in this society is the payment of money."

'Tip' recovering from surgery

BOSTON (AP) — The surgeon who removed a golfball-sized tumor from the bowel of former Boston Red Sox pitcher Tommie "Tip" O'Neill said no further cancer was detected during surgery, although final test results are expected by Friday.

The rectal cancer was removed during the seven-hour operation Wednesday, said Richard Wilson, chief of surgical oncology at Brigham and Women's Hospital.

The 74-year-old O'Neill, who was in stable condition following the operation, also received a permanent colostomy, which provides an artificial route for defecation.

O'Neill had cancer and predicted a successful operation because it was detected early. In such cases, 77 percent of patients survive at least five years, according to statistics.

He also said patients who go through colostomy operations "live an absolutely normal life. This is our plan for (O'Neill) and this, what we will teach him," O'Neill will remain hospitalized for about two weeks.

The former speaker was admitted to Brigham and Women's for tests Sunday after leaving Sibley Memorial Hospital in Washington, D.C., where he underwent a biopsy and other medical examinations.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

Names in the News

Linda in Mexico
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Pop singer Linda Ronstadt closed the Acapulco Film Festival with songs from her new Spanish-language record and a duet with singer Lola Beltrán, queen of "ranchera" music in Mexico.

The performance of Ronstadt, dressed in a typical Mexican costume and wearing flowers in her hair, was broadcast nationally Tuesday night as part of the closing ceremonies for the 10-day festival in the Pacific resort.

The singer was born in Arizona, and her father is of Mexican descent. The new album, called "Songs for My Father," features Mexican "ranchera" music sung in Spanish and accompanied by mariachi musicians.

The performances of the two female singers was among the highlights of the 10-day festival, resumed after a hiatus of 19 years. The festival was held in 17 countries, as well as television, video, radio and music.

Not enough room
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marlo Thomas said she hated when her father, Danny Thomas, borrowed real life incidents to use in his 1950s series "Make Room for Daddy," and it especially hurt when he sang to his TV daughter instead of her.

"I wasn't ashamed of my family, but I had my own problems," Miss Thomas said recently.

Miss Thomas, the 43-year-old wife of TV talk show host Phil Donahue, edited the 1974 best seller "Free To Be... You and Me."

She is now promoting its sequel, "Free To Be... A Family," a sequel to the book that tries to explain the changing structure of the American family.

A hearing is set for next month to determine whether Bowie, who has said he attacked her after a concert last month, prosecutors said.

Tip recovering from surgery

BOSTON (AP) — The surgeon who removed a golfball-sized tumor from the bowel of former Boston Red Sox pitcher Tommie "Tip" O'Neill said no further cancer was detected during surgery, although final test results are expected by Friday.

The rectal cancer was removed during the seven-hour operation Wednesday, said Richard Wilson, chief of surgical oncology at Brigham and Women's Hospital.

The 74-year-old O'Neill, who was in stable condition following the operation, also received a permanent colostomy, which provides an artificial route for defecation.

O'Neill had cancer and predicted a successful operation because it was detected early. In such cases, 77 percent of patients survive at least five years, according to statistics.

He also said patients who go through colostomy operations "live an absolutely normal life. This is our plan for (O'Neill) and this, what we will teach him," O'Neill will remain hospitalized for about two weeks.

The former speaker was admitted to Brigham and Women's for tests Sunday after leaving Sibley Memorial Hospital in Washington, D.C., where he underwent a biopsy and other medical examinations.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

O'Neill was reported in good spirits before the operation. As he went through final preparations Tuesday, he was visited by family members and took a private call from President Reagan. O'Neill did not say what was discussed.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

Table with 3 columns: Category, Rate, and Additional Info. Includes sections for Notices, Employment & Education, Real Estate, Business Property, Rentals, Merchandise, Automotive, and various other services.

ALARM COMPUTER OPERATORS, HELP WANTED, FULL TIME ORDER PROCESSOR, DENTAL Receptionist, CONSTRUCTION Laborers, PART TIME WAREHOUSE, BOARD CLERK / ASSISTANT, etc.

SPEND THE HOLIDAYS WITH MRS. B AT BRADLEES. NOW IS THE TIME TO JOIN THE BRADLEES TEAM. THE holiday opportunity you take now may become a career opportunity in the future.

PRIVATE PARTY Merchandise Ads. 99¢ PER DAY. Minimum 4 Lines - 7 Days. Additional Lines 50¢ Per Line, Per Day.

FOUND A SAW! I FOUND A SAW! in the Manchester Herald. Phone 643-2711

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

NOTICES, LOST AND FOUND, EMPLOYMENT & EDUCATION, PART TIME HELP WANTED, KENNEL Helper needed, DIETARY Aide, FOUND-Husky-Shepherd cross pupp.

HELP WANTED, SALES Position Bedding, CASHIER Full or part time, TRANSMISSION Re-builder, MEDICAL Office Insurance Clerk, etc.

TRUCK DRIVER / WAREHOUSE, SYNET PRODUCTS, INC., RIVERVIEW HOSPITAL For Children, etc.

POWER EQUIPMENT MECHANICS, 2 needed immediately. Experience preferred but not necessary. Salary based on experience.

Full Time... AUTOMOBILE MECHANICS, 3 NEEDED (NOW) Import experience helpful, but not necessary as we will train.

TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, 1973 Ford Van, 1971 Chevy Monte Carlo, etc.

PART TIME STUDENTS - MOMS $ MOONLIGHTERS, Earn the $$ you need for the Holidays! We need 10 people from 5pm - 9pm.

MANCHESTER HONDA THE PROFESSIONALS, 30 ADAMS STREET, MANCHESTER, CT 06040

MANCHESTER HONDA THE PROFESSIONALS, 30 ADAMS STREET, MANCHESTER, CT 06040

Full Time... CIRCULATION AREA ADVISOR, Housewives, mothers with young children, students.

THE DEADLINE FOR CANCELING AN AD IS 12 NOON THE DAY BEFORE MONDAY-FRIDAY, IN ORDER TO MAKE THE NEXT ISSUE, FRIDAY AFTERNOON BY 2:30 PM FOR MONDAY'S ISSUE. THANK YOU FOR YOUR COOPERATION!!!

Full Time... CIRCULATION AREA ADVISOR, Housewives, mothers with young children, students.

Full Time... CIRCULATION AREA ADVISOR, Housewives, mothers with young children, students.

Full Time... CIRCULATION AREA ADVISOR, Housewives, mothers with young children, students.

Full Time... CIRCULATION AREA ADVISOR, Housewives, mothers with young children, students.