Homart tax break is rejected in poll

By Andrew Yurkovsky
Manchester Herald

Manchester residents are overwhelmingly against a seven-year tax abatement worth $9.5 million to help pay for improvements around the proposed Mall at Buckland Hills, but a majority nevertheless wants a shopping mall to be built in town, according to an informal poll of 158 people released today by Republican town Director Ronald Osella.

Of the 158 responses Osella received in the mail through Friday, 80 percent were against the abatement proposal and 17 percent were in favor of it, Osella said today. The remaining 3 percent had no opinion.

On the other hand, 56 percent of those responding want a mall in Manchester, while 37 percent are against the construction of a mall. The remaining 7 percent had no opinion.

Meanwhile, Mayor Peter P. Dirosa Jr. and Director Kenneth

N. Tedford, both Democrats, said they were leaning toward a favorable vote for the tax abatement proposal. DiRosa said the directors probably will hold a special meeting Feb. 16 to vote on the plan.

The developer of the proposed mall, the Homart Development Co. of Chicago, is to present details of the plan before the Board of Directors' meeting Tuesday night. A public hearing on the plan is scheduled to precede the board's second meeting of the month, on Feb. 9.

Osella last week asked residents to write to him to let him know their opinions on several questions relating to the proposed $70 million mall. On whether they believe a referendum should be held on the tax abatement proposal, 73 percent approved of the idea and 21 percent were against the idea. The remaining 6 percent had no opinion.

Osella said that a typical response from those against a referendum was, "We already had a referendum — how many times do we have to say no."

A proposal to pay for road and utilities improvements around the mall through the issuance of $13 million in tax-increment bonds was narrowly defeated by voters in a referendum in November.

On the question of whether a study should be carried out to assess the economic and social effect of the mall and related development in Buckland, 74 percent of those who responded to Osella's poll were in favor of the idea and 20 percent were against it. Six percent had no opinion.

Osella said he received about another 20 letters and cards on Saturday that he had not yet tabulated.

DiRosa discounted the usefulness of Osella's poll because of its informal nature and because of the fact that it was conducted by a member of the Board of Directors.

"It's not really the most scientific poll I've ever heard of," he said.

Osella said he was "still developing a position" on the tax abatement proposal. He said that before taking a stand he would have to consider comment from residents during the Feb. 9 public hearing, among other things.

Republican Director Geoffrey Naab said today he also had not made a decision on the abatement plan.

"Do I think (the November referendum vote) should be ignored, absolutely not. Do I think the vote has any direct bearing on this particular question. I haven't decided," Naab said.

Israelis open fire on Palestinians

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israelis opened fire on Palestinians who blocked a road and stoned their bus in the West Bank today, and soldiers used live ammunition to quell protests elsewhere, the army said. Two Arabs were killed and seven wounded by gunfire.

The upsurge of violence caused the first deaths from gunfire since Jan. 15 and brought to 41 the confirmed number of Arabs to die from Israeli fire since rioting began in the occupied territories Dec. 8. It came as the United States was making new exploratory moves in an effort to start a Middle East peace process.

The army imposed curfews on seven refugee camps and two towns, and Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin said Israel would continue to use force and collective punishment to stop unrest.

"The main aim is achieve calm by taking the initiative against the participants and the instigators of violent acts," he said on Israel radio after a debate on the issue in a parliament committee.

The Palestine Press Service, an Arab-run news agency, said two Palestinians were killed by Israeli soldiers today during a demonstration in Anabta, a village 60 miles northwest of Jerusalem. The army said it was investigating and would not confirm that soldiers were responsible.

The press service identified the two dead men as Mouayyad Al Shaar, 21, and Morad Al Hamdalah, 17. It said four people, including a woman who was shot in the head, were wounded. The army said three people were wounded.

Israel radio said the deaths occurred when hundreds of protesters in Anabta blocked the main highway and threw stones at Israeli vehicles, including a bus carrying soldiers. It said the soldiers opened fire when they felt their lives were threatened.

The army, however, said it had not been determined whether the Israelis involved were soldiers or civilians. A spokesman said if soldiers were involved they were not on a scheduled patrol.

The military also reported that soldiers shot and wounded four Arabs in the West Bank towns of Jenin and Bani Naim near Hebron and three soldiers were injured after they were hit by stones.

In Nablus, the largest city in the West Bank with 100,000 residents, troops moved into the downtown central market area overnight and arrested dozens of Palestinians after two days in which protesters controlled the streets.

Youths blocked the main shopping street in Arab east Jerusalem, where a commercial strike has been in effect for more than three weeks. Police fired tear gas to disperse the protesters.

An army spokesman attributed some of the West Bank violence to the return of 200,000 students to schools after a two-week mid-term break. He said students gathered around schools, staging demonstrations instead of attending classes.

In Gaza, a United Nations official said soldiers beat Arabs waiting outside a food distribution center at the refugee camp in Rafah on the border with Egypt.

The violence surged as the United States began a new round of diplomacy focusing on a temporary, self-rule scheme for the 1.5 million residents of the West Bank and Gaza Strip who have been living under Israeli military rule since 1967.

Reagan stands by Meese

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is concerned about a criminal investigation of Attorney General Edwin Meese's role in an Iraqi oil pipeline project, but the president isn't about to throw his longtime friend "to the lions," a White House official says.

White House chief of staff Howard Baker said Sunday that the president continues to support Meese, one of Reagan's closest associates since his days as governor of California.

"He continues to have full confidence in his attorney general," Baker said. "I see no reason on earth for the president to take any action unless and until it's made to appear that Mr. Meese has done something wrong."

A close friend of Meese, E. Robert Wallach, had a financial interest in the Iraqi project and sent the attorney general a memo citing a plan to pay off a top Israeli official in return for a guarantee that Israel would not bomb the pipeline, sources close to the investigation have confirmed. The sources spoke on condition they not be identified.

The 1977 Foreign Corrupt Practices Act generally forbids companies and individuals from making payments to foreign government officials to secure help in obtaining or retaining business. Under that act, the attorney general is responsible for prosecuting American citizens or companies that try to bribe foreign officials.

James Rocap, an attorney for Meese, has said the attorney general had only a limited involvement with the project and "did not approach any Israeli official with respect to the pipeline matter."

But today's New York Times quotes an unidentified source who said Meese wrote a letter in 1985 to Shimon Peres, who was prime minister of Israel, after Peres had written to Meese expressing Israeli support for construction of the pipeline.

The Times on Sunday had reported that the independent counsel probing the matter told White House officials that Meese had played "an important and sustained role" in the $1 billion Iraqi pipeline project.
