

Manchester Legion clinches Zone Eight title... page 11

Manchester Herald

Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1989 Manchester, Conn. — A City of Village Charm Newsstand Price: 35 Cents

Leaders express horror

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Nations expressed horror, revulsion and skepticism after a pro-Iranian group in Lebanon claimed it hanged Lt. Col. William R. Higgins because Israel refused to free a captured Shiite Moslem cleric.

HANGING MAN — This photograph was made from a video released Monday by a terrorist group that purports to show American Col. William R. Higgins hanged by the neck.

Some leaders questioned whether Higgins was killed months ago and others criticized Israel for its abduction Friday of Sheikh Abdul Karim Obeid.

Higgins' captors, who call themselves the Organization of the Oppressed on Earth, claimed they hanged Higgins Monday because Israel refused to release Obeid.

"It's an absolutely barbaric act, consistent with the worst dimensions of terrorism," said Prime Minister Brian Mulroney of Canada, speaking with reporters outside his office in Ottawa.

"It has taken place as reported, it should give all of us all the more reason to fight very, very vigorously all the aspects of terrorism that are around the world."

The U.N. Security Council unanimously adopted a resolution that "condemns unequivocally all acts of hostage-taking and abduction."

Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar expressed "outrage and revulsion" that an innocent man, serving the United Nations in the cause of peace, should be murdered in this fashion.

Higgins, of Danville, Ky., led a 75-man observer team attached to the U.N. peacekeeping force in south Lebanon when he was abducted near Tyre on Feb. 17, 1988.

Timur Goksel, spokesman for U.N. peacekeeping forces in Lebanon, said "It is true it's one of the saddest days for all peacekeepers in the world."

British Foreign Secretary John Major said in London that, if the

Please see LEADERS, page 10

Extremists vow more executions

By Farouk Nassor The Associated Press

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Pro-Iranian extremists said they would follow the purported hanging of Lt. Col. William R. Higgins with the "execution" today of another U.S. hostage unless Israel frees a Shiite Moslem cleric it abducted.

Also today, a caller claiming to represent the group that kidnapped Higgins said a British hostage would be killed today unless the cleric was freed. The deadline for an earlier telephone threat against him passed this afternoon with no immediate word from the kidnapers.

Israeli fighter jets swooped over strongholds of the Shiite fundamentalists in Lebanon at daybreak, drawing gunfire from Hezbollah militiamen in the ancient town of Baalbek, police said.

A police spokesman said no hits were scored and the planes did not attempt to bomb east Lebanon's Bekaa Valley, where more than 4,000 Iranian Revolutionary Guards attached to Hezbollah are based.

"But the flights heightened fears of a large-scale military operation that Israel might mount to avenge the reported hanging of American hostage Joseph James Cicippio, the spokesman said.

On Monday, the pro-Iranian Shiite group that abducted Higgins released a videotape of a man they said was Higgins dangling from a gallows.

Higgins commanded a group of U.N. truce observers in south Lebanon when he was seized Feb. 17, 1988.

A second group of kidnapers later said American hostage Joseph James Cicippio would be killed if the Moslem cleric, Sheikh Abdul Karim Obeid, was not returned to Washington after learning that Higgins' captors had released a videotape they helpful to the Middle East peace process. The brutal and tragic events of today have underscored the validity of that statement.

With Shiite groups in Lebanon threatening to kill more hostages unless the cleric, Sheikh Abdul Karim Obeid, is released, Bush called on "all parties who hold hostages in the Middle East to release them forthwith."

Bush was starting the day today with an intelligence briefing from his national security adviser.

Bush cut short a two-day Western trip on Monday and returned to Washington after learning that Higgins' captors had released a videotape they

On Friday, I said that the taking of any hostage was not prisoners for three Israeli soldiers and other foreigners held hostage in Lebanon.

Please see BUSH, page 10

The group claiming to hold Cicippio, the Revolutionary Justice Organization, issued its threat to kill him in a note, handwritten in Arabic and delivered to the newspaper An-Nahar with a photograph of Cicippio smiling.

Cicippio, 58, of Norristown, Pa., was acting controller at the American University of Beirut when he was kidnapped on the campus on Sept. 12, 1986.

The organization announces its quick resolve to execute the death sentence against the American-Israeli spy Joseph Cicippio if the struggling cleric is not released by 6 p.m. Tuesday, the statement said.

Revolutionary Justice did not mention Edward Austin Tracy, 58, of Burlington, Vt., another American hostage it claims to hold. Tracy disappeared in October 1986.

This morning, an anonymous caller claiming to speak for Oppressed on Earth said in a call to a Beirut radio station that Anglican Church envoy Terry Waite would be killed by midnight (5 p.m. EDT) unless Israel frees Obeid.

There was no way to determine the authenticity of the threat made to the Moslem-controlled Voice of the Nation.

In Nicosia, Cyprus, an anonymous caller claiming to speak for the group told The Associated Press on Monday that the group would kill Waite at 3 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT) today, but the deadline passed with no immediate word from the captors.

It could not be immediately verified if that caller was from the organization, which had not made previous calls to the AP office in Cyprus.

Waite, 50, disappeared Jan. 20, 1987, while seeking the release of foreign hostages after leaving his west Beirut hotel to negotiate with Islamic Jihad. He is believed held by Islamic Jihad, though no group has claimed responsibility. In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir today suggested Israel was conducting negotiations with Shiite groups to obtain the release of Israeli prisoners and Western hostages.

Asked whether Israeli was engaged in contacts with Shiite reporters "there are permanent contacts with various factors about the release of the hostages."

The cleric is a spiritual leader of Hezbollah, the pro-Iranian organization believed to be an umbrella group for the kidnapers of Higgins and the 16 other Westerners missing in Lebanon. Eight of the 16 are Americans.

Higgins' reported hanging was clouded by doubt because of previous reports he may have been killed months ago, and Lebanese police said they could not confirm the claimed Higgins killing on Monday. Nevertheless, the claim and the grisly videotape that accompanied it met with revulsion worldwide.

Cleanup at weapons plants expected to cost $17 billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Energy Department proposes to spend as much as $17.2 billion in the first five years of a major nuclear weapons plants cleanup, under a plan being announced by Energy Secretary James Watkins.

Watkins, who says the government must "chart a new course" to correct wrongs in the weapons program, planned to outline a broad blueprint for the first phase of the cleanup in a speech today before the National Press Club.

The five-year program, with details to be announced later this month, is the center of a long-term plan to restore confidence in the operation of the weapons production plants that have been marred by a history of environmental and safety neglect.

The department has said the overall cleanup bill for the 17 plants in a dozen states likely will exceed $90 billion, but it is not predicting how long the cleanup might take.

The department is preparing cleanup plans in five-year increments.

After Watkins became head of the department in March, he ordered a team of senior aides to develop a plan aimed at correcting safety mistakes and developing operational procedures that comply with environmental and safety requirements.

As and such as $3.7 billion annually in each of the subsequent four years. The sources spoke on the condition of anonymity.

A series of disclosures this year has revealed widespread neglect of safety and environmental safeguards at the weapons production plants, eroding public confidence in the program and prompting some members of Congress to seek to take some oversight authority away from the Energy Department.

An internal department audit earlier this year also included a blistering review of management failures at many of the plants and said some department employees may face criminal charges for violating environmental laws.

Mayors advocate leadership as best attribute for position

Editor's note: This is the second in a three-part series on how government works in Manchester.

By Alex Girelli Manchester Herald

Former Democratic Mayor Matthew Moriarty Jr. once said, "You can make what you want of the job."

Moriarty, mayor from 1975 to 1977, also said, "You can approach it with a high profile and at high voltage. But you can do just as good a job with a low profile."

State Rep. John W. Thompson, a Democrat who was mayor from 1971 to 1975, said the mayor should take stands on issues. Nathan Ag stinelli, Republican mayor from 1966 to 1971, agreed.

So what does the town's current mayor think? Peter P. DiRosa Jr. sees the job as one which demands a professional who can carry out the policies the majority of the voters want.

DiRosa and directors Mary Ann Handley, Stephen T. Cassano and Cummings were at the press conference. Democratic directors James F. Fogarty, Barbara B. Weinberg and Kenneth N. Tedford were unable to attend.

"These three issues I see as not real issues," Handley said. "I think it's a good idea to clear the air."

But DiRosa said the people who framed the town charter in 1947 could not have envisioned how demanding and time-consuming the role of the directors would become with the growth and increasing complexity of the town.

From now on, he said, all directors, including minority directors, will be very busy.

"Unfortunately that will limit the number of people who are willing to serve," said DiRosa. Under the strictest interpretation of the charter under which Manchester operates, the mayor would be a ceremonial figure head.

DiRosa, like many mayors before him, is known as an outspoken mayor who becomes deeply involved in most issues. When it was discovered that the town illegally expanded its sewage treatment plant into wetlands in 1988, DiRosa was the first to loudly complain about

TODAY

Index 20 pages, 2 sections Classified — 19-20 Obituaries — 2 Comics — 16 Opinion — 2-9 Focus — 16 Sports — 11-15 Local/State — 2-4 Television — 17 Nation/World — 7 Weather — 2

WE DELIVER For Home Delivery, Call 647-9946 Monday to Friday, 9 to 5

Democrats try to deflate GOP campaign

By Nancy Conzelmann Manchester Herald

Democratic Town Chairman Theodore R. Cummings accused Republicans today of being reluctant to support progress and to take stands on issues.

Cummings' remarks came during a news conference held by the developer candidates for town director posts. The Democrats said they called the conference to "clear the air" on a number of issues the Republicans are expected to use against them in the campaign for the Nov. 7 election.

Mayor Peter P. DiRosa Jr. characterized the conference as an offensive, rather than a defensive move by the incumbent candidates to give voters the facts about the issues.

The Republicans are expected to use the aborted 1987 revaluation, fines levied against the town for illegal expansion of the sewage treatment plant last year and the controversial tax-awakening financing of utilities for the Buckland mill as examples of the problems and controversies the town has suffered under the Democratic majority during the past two years.

DiRosa said he wanted to present the issues "very, very factually without a whole lot of political nonsense."

DiRosa and directors Mary Ann Handley, Stephen T. Cassano and Cummings were at the press conference. Democratic directors James F. Fogarty, Barbara B. Weinberg and Kenneth N. Tedford were unable to attend.

"These three issues I see as not real issues," Handley said. "I think it's a good idea to clear the air."

DiRosa said if the issues are to be viewed politically, voters should note that the majority handled the problems quickly and in the best interest of the town.

DiRosa, Handley and Cassano stressed that the revaluation was an administrative problem that began and ended with a majority vote of all nine board members.

The directors voted to do the revaluation in-house to save the town money, but when methods used were found to be inadequate, the directors voted unanimously to scrap the revaluation and redo it using an outside firm, at a cost

Please see Politics, page 10

RECORD

About Town

Be a volunteer

The Voluntary Action Group, 880 Asylum Ave., Hartford, is looking for volunteers to schedule blood donor hours at the Connecticut Valley East branch of the American Red Cross, 20 Hartford Road.

Pot luck picnic set

Scandia Lodge Vasa Order of America will have a pot-luck picnic Thursday at 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lennart Torjenson, 33 Coburn Rd. Members should bring a lawn chair.

Baby program scheduled

The East Branch YWCA is offering a water orientation program for parents with infants or toddlers. Classes will be held at the Holiday Inn, 363 Roberts St., East Hartford, on Monday and Wednesday evenings from August 7 to August 30.

College Notes

Receives scholarship

Martin Hancock of Manchester has been awarded a $2,000 scholarship by the University of Connecticut Health Center Auxiliary.

On AIC dean's list

Traci Kosak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.J. Kosak of 216 Saddlefield Road, has been named to the dean's list at American International College, Springfield, Mass., for the spring semester.

Elected to society

Mathew Jensen of Manchester, has been elected to membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, the national scholastic honor society for students in business and management.

Graduates from Berklee

Lawrence L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Lakeland, Fla., formerly of Manchester, graduated recently, cum laude, from Berklee College of Music in Boston. He majored in music education.

Named to dean's list

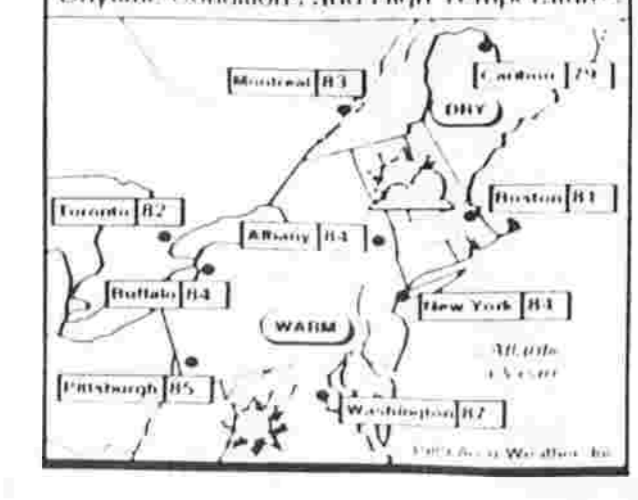

Amy Silverstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Silverstein of 16 Mt. Sumner Drive, Bolton, has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester at Boston University.

Lottery

Winning numbers drawn Monday in New England: Connecticut daily: 630. Play Four: 4180. Massachusetts daily: 8270. Tri-state (Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont) daily: 437, 2401. Rhode Island daily: 0573.

REGIONAL WEATHER

Accu-Weather forecasts for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and High Temperature.

GETTING READY — Donna Mercier, co-director of the play 'Annie Get Your Gun' rehearses with the cast at the Burton Dance Studio on Friday. The play will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m., and Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., at Buckley School.

Obituaries

Gloria Bologna

Gloria Herrick Bologna, 57, of Vernon, died Sunday (July 30, 1989) at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the mother of Charles Herrick II, of Manchester.

Daniel Pletscky

Daniel Pletscky, 82, of West Hartford, died Monday (July 31, 1989) at a local convalescent home. He was the father of Daniel B. Pletscky of Manchester.

Public Records

Warranty deeds

Charles M. Herrmann to Rocco J. and Dolores DeSimone, 610-612 Center St., conveyance tax, $247.50. Manchester Lot Development Co. to John P. Whitehead, 12 Elvree St., conveyance tax, $181.50.

Qult claim deeds

Agnes M. Wood to Dennis J. Walsh, James J. Walsh and Patricia K. Kelly, 53 Ardmore Road, no conveyance tax.

Births

D'ANTONIO, Rachel Alexandra, daughter of Alfonso and Mariam Bartolotta D'Antonio of Storrs, was born June 20 at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

ROETHER, Emily Margaret, daughter of James and Karin Johnson Roether of 80 Doane St., was born July 4 at New Britain General Hospital.

GORDON, Hilary Joan, daughter of Philip H. and Joan Rataic Gordon of South Windsor, was born June 29 at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford.

CONNELLY, Tyler James, son of Christopher J. and Christine Monaghan of 109 Love Lane, was born July 18 at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

WHITEHEAD, Janelle Marie, daughter of Andrew H. and Kathleen Azzara Whitehead of Manchester was born July 14 at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

ORLOWSKI, Jordyn Marie, daughter of Bart J. and Constance Craig Orlovski of 160 Charter Oak St., was born July 18 at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

HURST, Mary Kate, daughter of Thomas J. and Short Wheeler Hurst of 44 East St., Andover, was born July 14 at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Public Meetings

Public meetings scheduled for today: Manchester: Cheney National Historic Commission Great Lawn Subcommittee, 50 Forest St., 5 p.m.

Thoughts

Last week, a young parishioner helped me see something new. We were talking about her getting some Nancy Drew mysteries books for the summer.

Country close-up

WASHINGTON — The U.S. government is warning travelers against visiting Kenya following the slaying last week of a Connecticut woman ambushed during a wildlife tour.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

Each would be a professional manager with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Eastern Connecticut State University.

If you aspire to be a professional manager in business, health care, or the private sector, it's easy to get started.

Call your Personal Advisor in the School of Continuing Education at 456-5490.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

LOCAL & STATE

NEW QUARTERS — Scott Sprague, director of parks and recreation for the town of Manchester, stands outside the department's new headquarters at Center Springs Park Monday. The department moved into the new lodge at the park Friday.

Tenants are excited about new lodge

By Maureen Leovitt Manchester Herald
He is quick to point out the lodge never suffered any interior damage during those breaks. "The lodge brings a presence in the park," Sprague said. "We're trying to restore it and bring people back into the park."

Travelers urged against visiting Kenya

By Christopher Colthorn The Associated Press
WASHINGTON — The U.S. government is warning travelers against visiting Kenya following the slaying last week of a Connecticut woman ambushed during a wildlife tour.

Judge to rule on charge of illegal arrest

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — A judge will decide within 10 days whether a 28-year-old Dean Lockhiss of Brewster. Both were arrested in Danbury and are being held in the Bridgeport Correctional Center as fugitives. They are fighting extradition to New York.

Apartment units are planned near mall in Buckland

By Nancy Connelman Manchester Herald

Hartford engineer A.J. Macchi wants to build 36 luxury apartments and a 40,000-square-foot office building on land at 268 Slater St. in Manchester, just west of the Buckland Mall.

Macchi is a partner in Macchi Engineers of 44 Gillett St., Hartford, has requested a zone change from Rural Residence to Comprehensive Urban Development for seven acres in Manchester, which are part of an 11-acre parcel on the east side of Slater St.

Mix-up delays vote on superintendent

By Rick Santos Manchester Herald
COVENTRY — Contrary to earlier reports, the Board of Education will not meet tonight to choose the new school superintendent.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

Each would be a professional manager with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Eastern Connecticut State University.

If you aspire to be a professional manager in business, health care, or the private sector, it's easy to get started.

Call your Personal Advisor in the School of Continuing Education at 456-5490.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

Each would be a professional manager with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Eastern Connecticut State University.

If you aspire to be a professional manager in business, health care, or the private sector, it's easy to get started.

Call your Personal Advisor in the School of Continuing Education at 456-5490.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

Each would be a professional manager with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Eastern Connecticut State University.

If you aspire to be a professional manager in business, health care, or the private sector, it's easy to get started.

Call your Personal Advisor in the School of Continuing Education at 456-5490.

Butcher, Baker, Candlestick Maker, Fumber, Farmer, Navy Chief...

Almost everyone today has managerial responsibility.

1989 AUG FILMED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

Slaying prompts cries of outrage

Tighter security promised

By Judd Everhart and Gordon Fairclough
The Associated Press

HARTFORD — The state's top mental health official says that a tightening of security at state mental hospitals is necessary in the wake of Friday's fatal attack on a 9-year-old girl by a knife-wielding psychiatric patient who slipped away from Connecticut Valley Hospital.

The attack on the girl, Jessica Short of Wallingford, is "the most devastating event in the hospital's 100-year history," Mental Health Commissioner Michael F. Hogan said Monday.

But the commissioner insisted that proper procedures had been followed at the hospital.

"The killing has had a traumatic effect on our patients and staff," Hogan said in a five-page statement. "Many patients fear that they will be seen as guilty by association."

"We should not overreact and presume that every mental patient, every forensic patient, is someone who acts out in a violent fashion and who must therefore be sequestered and forever separated from the community," said Dr. Robert T. M. Phillips, the state's director of forensic services and the chief executive officer of the Whiting Forensic Institute, a state mental hospital for the criminally insane.

He said he has been ordered by the commissioner of mental health to conduct a thorough review of the state's system of caring for and supervising forensic patients in state mental hospitals.

David Peterson, 37, was ordered held on $750,000 bond during arraignment in Middletown Superior Court Monday on murder and weapons charges in connection with the attack during a street fair in Middletown.

Peterson, in handcuffs and leg shackles, quietly told Judge Robert Burns he understood his rights and conferred with his public defender during the five-minute hearing.

Burns ordered that Peterson undergo psychiatric evaluation to see if he is competent to stand trial. Peterson is scheduled to return to court Aug. 14.

Peterson was whisked into the courthouse under heavy guard as two police sharpshooters perched on a neighboring rooftop to provide additional security.

After the arraignment, an angry mob ran alongside the police squad car taking him to a Hartford jail, shouting obscenities. He was to be transferred later to Whiting Forensic Institute in Middletown.

Funeral services for Short, who would have entered the fifth grade this fall, are scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Yalesville United Methodist Church.

ARRAIGNMENT — David Peterson is held by the arm as he is brought into Middletown Superior Court Monday to face arraignment on charges he murdered Jessica Short, 9, during a street fair Friday in Middletown.

Friends mourn stabbing victim

WALLINGFORD (AP) — Jessica Short, the 9-year-old girl stabbed to death by an escaped mental patient during a street fair in Middletown, was remembered by friends and neighbors as a soft-spoken child who loved ballet, piano and playing with her 6-year-old sister in the family's above-ground swimming pool.

Those who knew her also expressed horror and outrage at the random act of violence that claimed her life.

State officials have also expressed their sympathies and on Monday, state Commissioner of Mental Health Michael F. Hogan ordered a review of the state's system of caring for and supervising the criminally insane.

David Peterson, a mental patient at the Connecticut Valley Hospital with a history of violence, has been charged with Short's murder. Authorities say that Peterson slipped away from the Middletown hospital and boarded a bus for downtown, where he bought a $37 hunting knife and minutes later used it to stab Short repeatedly in the face and chest as her mother and nannies stared in horror.

Short was mortally wounded before several bystanders and a police officer wrestled Peterson to the ground, police said.

"I'd pull the plug on that guy in a minute," said Gil Chasse, 29, of Meriden.

Jessica DeCervo, Short's best friend, said that Saturday, the day after the attack, "I picked up one of the dolls she gave me for my birthday. I just held it for a few minutes, thinking about all the good times we had."

She was always cheerful and happy," DeCervo said. "All the girls — everybody — liked her."

Jessica Short was to be buried today in In Memoriam Cemetery after a funeral service at the Yalesville United Methodist Church.

"We wish to extend our deepest sympathies to the family and wish to give them whatever support is necessary during this horrible tragedy they are going through," said Timothy Liston, the state prosecutor at Peterson's arraignment.

Jessica's parents, Ronald and Catherine Short, and her 6-year-old sister, Tanya, have spent the days since the attack together with other family members.

PROTECTING THE PATIENT — A Middletown police officer stands guard outside Middletown Superior Court Monday, where a large crowd had gathered to taunt David Peterson, the accused killer of Jessica Short, 9.

Peterson 16th person to escape

HARTFORD (AP) — David R. Peterson, who is accused of stabbing a 9-year-old girl to death at a Middletown street fair Friday, is the 16th person committed to a state mental hospital by the criminal courts to either walk away or escape since 1987.

Since Feb. 2, 1987, there have been 26 incidents in which patients who have been referred by the criminal courts have been absent without leave, including 12 at Connecticut Valley Hospital, where Peterson was living when he wandered off Friday.

Eleven of the 26 incidents took place at Norwich Hospital and three at Fairfield Hills Hospital in Newton. Several of the escapes involved patients who left more than once, but Peterson never left hospital grounds without permission before Friday, said Martha Lewis, administrator of the state Psychiatric Review Board.

Peterson, who is charged in the stabbing of Jessica Short of Wallingford, had permission to move unescorted about Merritt Hall, a building with unlocked and unguarded doors, hospital officials said. He was not supposed to leave the building, but apparently walked off the grounds unchallenged.

Carl Cappello, superintendent at CVH, said Monday that it was a judgment call as to whether the number of patients who go AWOL could be considered excessive.

Because of the attack, the state Department of Mental Health is reviewing the privileges of all court-assigned patients, Lewis said. Of CVH's 450 patients, 25 have been referred by criminal courts.

Dailey promoted to commander of major crime unit

HARTFORD (AP) — A state police lieutenant who has received frequent public criticism — including three condemnations from Gov. William A. O'Neill — is now directing the investigation of all major crimes in the eastern part of the state.

Effective Monday, Lt. Edward Dailey became commanding officer of the eastern district major crime squad, replacing Lt. Raoul Oullette, a department spokesman said. All criminal investigation units in state police barracks in eastern Connecticut will report to him.

Dailey, who joined state police in 1966, was criticized by O'Neill in October, suspended from the force for 20 days and given a punitive transfer for calling a state representative an "arrogant, pompous little twit." At the same time, he was accused of posing in uniform for a questionable photograph at a rally of motorists.

Rep. Jay B. Levin, D-New London, the subject of Dailey's remarks, was a key figure in a legislative investigation of disagreements, which had divided elements of the state's criminal justice system.

Dailey was transferred to a position overseeing police support services, such as the department's automotive fleet and communications division. Before the punitive transfer, he was commanding officer of state police barracks in Stafford Springs.

Dailey became widely known during the middle 1980s, when he was the department's spokesman during a grand jury investigation of alleged corruption in Torrington.

O'Neill rebuked Dailey in 1987 for characterizing public officials as being "like an animal that's caught in a trap and now they're biting their leg off to try to free themselves."

A year before, O'Neill publicly criticized Dailey and Maj. John S. Jacewicz for trying to open a radio station with a man accused of defrauding the state of about $85,000 in sales-tax receipts. At the time of the radio-license application, the man owed about $41,000 in back taxes.

In 1988, Dailey and three other officers were investigated by the department for posing for photographs in a state police barracks while wearing a shirt bought at a Ku Klux Klan rally, according to an internal police report obtained by The Hartford Courant.

Department investigators accepted the explanation given by Dailey and the others that the photographs were meant as a joke.

Dailey was transferred to a position overseeing police support services, such as the department's automotive fleet and communications division. Before the punitive transfer, he was commanding officer of state police barracks in Stafford Springs.

Dailey became widely known during the middle 1980s, when he was the department's spokesman during a grand jury investigation of alleged corruption in Torrington.

O'Neill rebuked Dailey in 1987 for characterizing public officials as being "like an animal that's caught in a trap and now they're biting their leg off to try to free themselves."

A year before, O'Neill publicly criticized Dailey and Maj. John S. Jacewicz for trying to open a radio station with a man accused of defrauding the state of about $85,000 in sales-tax receipts. At the time of the radio-license application, the man owed about $41,000 in back taxes.

In 1988, Dailey and three other officers were investigated by the department for posing for photographs in a state police barracks while wearing a shirt bought at a Ku Klux Klan rally, according to an internal police report obtained by The Hartford Courant.

Department investigators accepted the explanation given by Dailey and the others that the photographs were meant as a joke.

Usry returns to work after arrest in scandal

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mayor James Usry returned to work Monday for the first time since his arrest last week in connection with a corruption scandal.

Usry left early after spending part of the day in meetings at his City Hall office, a secretary said. He did not return telephone calls Monday to The Associated Press, and apparently was refusing to talk with reporters.

The mayor had not been working for several weeks because of recent shoulder surgery. City administrator Carl Briscoe had been running the city in his absence.

Usry and 12 associates were arrested Thursday following an eight-month undercover investigation into municipal bribery and corruption.

Usry, 67, the city's first black mayor, was charged with bribery, conspiracy, official misconduct and accepting unlawful gifts. He maintains that $6,000 in cash found during a search of his home was for charity, and not a bribe.

"I have been instructed by legal minds. Be careful out there, don't say anything, because you do not have friends in the media," Usry said Sunday while attending a church rally.

Usry and 12 associates were arrested Thursday following an eight-month undercover investigation into municipal bribery and corruption.

Usry, 67, the city's first black mayor, was charged with bribery, conspiracy, official misconduct and accepting unlawful gifts. He maintains that $6,000 in cash found during a search of his home was for charity, and not a bribe.

"I have been instructed by legal minds. Be careful out there, don't say anything, because you do not have friends in the media," Usry said Sunday while attending a church rally.

Usry and 12 associates were arrested Thursday following an eight-month undercover investigation into municipal bribery and corruption.

INTRODUCING DE-NICOTINED TOBACCO WITH RICH FLAVOR.

Smokers now have important option that offers rich flavor and less than 0.1 mg nicotine. New NEXT.

De-nicotined tobacco and rich flavor in a cigarette you'll enjoy. So follow the arrow.

FreePLUS - NATURALLY EXTRACTS NICOTINE FROM FINE TOBACCO'S, LEAVING RICH FLAVOR AND LESS THAN 0.1 MG NICOTINE.

Available in Regular and Menthol, Kings and 100's. Available in limited areas.

SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Smoking Causes Lung Cancer, Heart Disease, Emphysema, And May Complicate Pregnancy.

Kings: 8 mg "tar," 0.08 mg nicotine - 100's: 10 mg "tar," 0.09 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1989

1989 AUG FILMED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

NATION & WORLD

Walesa moves to block prime minister candidate

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Solidarity-led opposition ended today and Poles braced for soaring food prices, the bitter cost of the government's bold, swift push toward a free-market economy.

Also today, Solidarity leader Lech Walesa called for opposition lawmakers in parliament's lower house, or Sejm, to vote against the ruling Communist Party's nominee for prime minister, Gen. Czeslaw Kiszczak.

The brief statement was issued just minutes before the lawmaking body was to meet to consider the nomination.

Walesa's statement said he would have supported Kiszczak — the country's top law officer — for president, but "I am against Gen. Kiszczak's candidacy for prime minister."

The statement did not elaborate, but Walesa has urged President Wojciech Jaruzelski to accede to the popular will and let Solidarity form a government.

The free trade union movement was overwhelming electoral approval in June.

If elected, Kiszczak will have to deal with growing social tensions prompted by rising costs that are anticipated because of the government's decision to lift price controls.

Shoppers stood in lines for hours Monday to try to take advantage of the last day of artificially low food prices, but many came up empty-handed.

The Solidarity-led opposition movement opposed the abrupt lifting of price controls, arguing that it could plunge the country into turmoil. Consumer goods are scarce and annual inflation has topped 100 percent.

The new pricing policy took effect a day after the Communist Party named Kiszczak its candidate to lead the next government. But the general has refused, saying Poland's Communist allies would disown him.

Nervous consumers lined up for hours Monday to buy meat, sugar and other basic goods before price controls were lifted. Many said they did not know they would be able to afford the new prices.

"It's such a mess that one is really afraid to think what will happen next," said a Wrocław shopper, interviewed by state television.

The controversial "marketization" program, pushed by Rakowski and endorsed by the party, is designed to fight shortages by introducing free-market mechanisms.

Poland's mainly private farmers, who have cut back on profligate meat and grain sales to the state, are free to sell to whomever they want at whatever prices they can negotiate, as an incentive to increase production.

Solidarity lawmakers came under sharp criticism from some followers for allowing Jaruzelski to become president.

Geremek said the ruling Communist coalition has the votes to elect Kiszczak since it has a 289-161 advantage over Solidarity in the Sejm under rules that gave the opposition limited participation in the government.

Solidarity won all but one of the seats it was allowed to contest in June election and holds all but one seat in the 100-member Senate.

The union movement has called on Jaruzelski to let it form a new government. But the general has refused, saying Poland's Communist allies would disown him.

Nervous consumers lined up for hours Monday to buy meat, sugar and other basic goods before price controls were lifted. Many said they did not know they would be able to afford the new prices.

"It's such a mess that one is really afraid to think what will happen next," said a Wrocław shopper, interviewed by state television.

The controversial "marketization" program, pushed by Rakowski and endorsed by the party, is designed to fight shortages by introducing free-market mechanisms.

Poland's mainly private farmers, who have cut back on profligate meat and grain sales to the state, are free to sell to whomever they want at whatever prices they can negotiate, as an incentive to increase production.

Solidarity lawmakers came under sharp criticism from some followers for allowing Jaruzelski to become president.

Geremek said the ruling Communist coalition has the votes to

RACING THE STORM — Eric Tabbert of Galveston, Texas, boards up the windows on a friend's house in Galveston Beach Monday as the area readies itself for Hurricane Chantal.

Texas braces for hurricane

HIGH ISLAND, Texas (AP) — Chantal, the first hurricane of the season, spun toward east Texas today, frustrating efforts to rescue 10 men missing from a capsized oil rig and forcing thousands to flee coastal areas.

Winds of at least 39 mph extended 150 miles to the north and 125 miles to the south of the storm's center. A few tornadoes were reported.

A hurricane warning remained in effect from Freeport, Texas, to Morgan City, La. Tropical storm warnings were issued from Freeport west to Port O'Connor, and from Morgan City east to Mobile, Ala.

Port Arthur Mayor Malcolm Grant asked the 800 residents of Sabine Pass to evacuate the coastal community just west of the Louisiana line, citing the likelihood of high water closing the only highway between the town and Port Arthur.

Evacuation centers were set up in schools in Port Arthur and in Beaumont.

Nearly 500 Houston Area Red Cross volunteers were on standby and Houston Lighting & Power Co. officials said crews were tying down equipment at power plants and substations.

City and county personnel in Orange, just north of Port Arthur, closed government offices and set up emergency centers, and crews handed out sandbags in low-lying areas.

Police said most Sabine Pass residents appeared to heed the evacuation request, although Jefferson County emergency management coordinator Dick Nugent said some usually choose to stay in their homes.

"They've been riding out storms for years and years," Nugent said.

RAGING BULL — Spectators run for safety as a 750-pound bull escapes the ring and plunges into the crowd Sunday at a bull fight in Mexico City. No one was seriously injured in the incident.

Pierce, Dean testimony conflicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former top housing official apparently lied in telling Congress two years ago that she deferred all funding decisions to her boss, former Housing Secretary Samuel Pierce, say congressional investigators.

"Well, somebody's not telling the truth," said Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., who brought up testimony given in 1987 by Deborah Gore Dean, former executive assistant to Pierce at the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Schumer suggested Monday that Ms. Dean, who is refusing to testify in Congress' investigation of the HUD scandal, lied under oath in 1987.

Pierce has told a House subcommittee investigating allegations of corruption and influence-peddling at HUD that he took no part in funding decisions at the agency. He headed HUD during the eight years of the Reagan administration.

"I did not have hands-on," Pierce testified in May before the House Government Operations subcommittee on housing and employment. He said the decisions were made by subordinates and he would rubber-stamp them.

Ms. Dean said Pierce was calling the shots, in testimony under oath two years ago in a Senate hearing considering her nomination to be an assistant housing secretary.

"All funding decisions are made by the secretary," she testified. "We do recommend in my areas of concern. Many times we are overruled." Ms. Dean did not win Senate confirmation.

Schumer said the testimony of Ms. Dean and Pierce represented a "direct, and I would say immutable, contradiction."

Schumer and Rep. Tom Lantos, D-Calif., chairman of the House panel, referred to Ms. Dean's 1987 testimony in which she also said she had "never given or approved or pushed or coerced anyone to help any developer."

"I'm no expert in perjury, but this seems to be a black-and-white case," Schumer said.

Ms. Dean, in her appearance before the House panel two months ago, declined to testify, citing her Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination.

In August 1987, Ms. Dean told a Senate panel that she did not approve projects on her own.

"Have you ever approved a grant in the secretary's name, using his autopen, or whatever, without formally seeking his approval?" then-Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., had asked Ms. Dean.

"No, sir," she replied.

But the House panel has heard from witnesses and reviewed documents that say otherwise.

Documents indicate that numerous letters approving funding for projects had Pierce's signature, applied by a signature machine at Ms. Dean's direction.

On routing slips, she would sometimes indicate whether the machine should sign his full name, or just "Sam."

Schumer also brought out a 1986 report by the Office of Government Ethics that condemned the way federal ethics laws were enforced at HUD.

"HUD's ethics program is one of the most ill-managed this team has ever seen in a major department," the report said.

Schumer introduced the report as John Knapp, former HUD general counsel who oversaw the ethics program, testified a second time before the subcommittee.

President looking for vote on Lucas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bush administration says it wants a Senate floor vote this week on William Lucas' controversial nomination to become the nation's top civil rights enforcer.

"We hope to have him confirmed this week before the Senate adjourns," Justice Department spokesman David Brunkel told reporters Monday, the eve of today's expected close Senate Judiciary Committee vote on the nomination.

A failure to get a favorable recommendation from the committee likely would prompt the administration to guide the nomination to the floor by an alternative route. But a rebuff would prove embarrassing.

Sen. Howell Heflin, D-Ala., who remained uncommitted, emerged as the key vote. Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., was expected to back Lucas, while the six other Democrats on the Judiciary Committee were believed ready to oppose him.

All six Republicans on the committee were expected to vote in favor of Lucas.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., was the last Republican to fall into line, telling a news conference last week that "it's more important to have someone who understands Supreme Court decisions from personal experience, knows it so as to speak in his gut, as opposed to someone who knows where to put all the commas and semicolons."

Despite Justice Department optimism, it appeared unlikely that Senate critics would stand aside for floor action before the start of the summer recess on Friday, no matter how the committee voted.

Civil rights groups have campaigned against Lucas, saying he lacks experience. Committee Republicans contend that the 61-year-old black nominee will apply the lessons he learned in his rise from dishwasher to FBI agent to Wayne County, Mich., sheriff and county executive.

The panel had scheduled a vote for last Thursday, but delayed action after Heflin said he wanted more time to look into new allegations. The nature of those allegations remains unknown.

Sens. Paul Simon, D-Ill., and Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, had said they would oppose Lucas.

"For assistant attorney general for civil rights, I just think that we need a strong voice who will speak out for civil rights and I don't hear that coming from Bill Lucas," Simon said.

Lucas told the Judiciary Committee on July 19 that it was too early to evaluate recent Supreme Court decisions narrowing the scope of civil rights laws on job bias, minority self-assertion and other issues.

He also declined invitations from senators to express concern about the direction the country is taking in civil rights matters.

His supporters, including the Rev. Joseph Lowery of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said there was no practical way for him to oppose Bush administration policy, which holds that it will take time to assess the impact of the Supreme Court decisions.

Simon and other lawmakers, however, said Lucas appeared to lack sufficient zeal for civil rights.

AIDS complicates disposal of needles for diabetics

BOSTON (AP) — Girls at a camp for diabetics tested used syringes into empty milk containers that went to the dump.

AIDS has complicated disposal of needles for diabetics, says a federal official, because of the risk of HIV infection.

The federal government is considering how millions of other American diabetics should dispose of their needles.

"It's been a nightmare," said Shelley Yeager, director of the Clara Barton camp at Oxford in central Massachusetts. "We've really had to be very careful."

About 115 campers and counselors give themselves injections, some as often as four times a day, Yeager said. In addition, the camp uses about 400 lancets daily to test campers' blood sugar.

There are an estimated 11 million diabetics nationwide, of whom about 2.5 million give themselves insulin shots each day, said Richard Kahn, chief scientific and medical officer for the American Diabetes Association in Alexandria, Va.

The Environmental Protection Agency is working on a brochure advising diabetics of the best way to dispose of needles, said Robin Woods, a spokesman for the agency in Washington, D.C.

It will suggest that diabetics place "sharps" — the needle end of a syringe — in a hard plastic or sterilize them and grind them up before throwing it in the trash, Woods said.

The association recommends people dispose of the needle and syringe "in a way that it can't be used again," Kahn said.

Acquired immune deficiency syndrome has heightened concern about medical waste because the disease can be transmitted through contaminated needles, he said.

The EPA drew up new rules on how hospitals dispose of medical waste after many U.S. beaches were fouled last summer.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health has adopted new regulations on the disposal of infectious waste that take effect next week, but like the federal rules, they don't apply to household waste, said the department's Al Compton, an assistant public manager.

Doctors, funeral parlors and other generators of infectious waste to either ship used needles to certified waste disposal sites or sterilize them and grind them up before throwing it in the trash, Woods said.

The Clara Barton camp started testing its disposal methods about two years ago as AIDS became a concern. Yeager said, "The needles now are thrown in special plastic medical waste containers placed around the camp. This year, the camp built a shed on the soccer field just to house the disposable containers. Doctors pick them up periodically and take them back to a hospital, where they are destroyed," Yeager said.

The Becton Dickinson Co. of Franklin Lakes, N.J., donates the needle containers, worth about $2 each. The camp uses about 20 containers a week, Yeager said.

Some companies are considering offering disposal services to individual diabetics.

Becton Dickinson sells needle containers to doctors and hospitals but may develop a container for home use, said Linda Schmitt, an assistant product manager.

Vatican seizes opportunity to increase Soviet bloc role

VATICAN CITY (AP) — After decades of hostility, the Vatican is seizing on what it calls a new spirit of cooperation by Moscow to strengthen the Roman Catholic Church in the Soviet bloc.

Over the past six months, the Vatican has succeeded in naming new bishops in Lithuania and Czechoslovakia, forging diplomatic ties with Poland after a 46-year lapse and nailing down a visit by Pope John Paul II to Hungary.

Last week the Vatican named its first bishop in the Soviet republic of Byelorussia since the aftermath of the Russian Revolution.

"All the steps taken together are very important," said a senior Vatican diplomat who spoke on condition of anonymity. "It is an encouraging picture."

Vatican officials and independent analysts say progress is due to the combination of openings provided by Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev and a pragmatic policy pursued by the pope, who as a bishop in Poland had pursued a moderate but firm strategy for religious freedom.

"The Vatican is aware of the new opportunities and is putting out feelers in as many directions as it possibly can," said Dr. John Ebnor, head of Eastern European research at Kansas College, the British institute that monitors religious freedom around the world.

Not everything is rosy. Despite the appointments last week of

Keep In Touch This Summer

Vacation doesn't have to be a hassle. We make it easy to enjoy your vacation — and keep up with the news as well.

At No Extra Cost

Enjoy the Manchester Herald at your vacation hideaway. If you're getting away from it all on an extended vacation but still want to enjoy your Herald subscription every day, we have a plan for you.

Ask us to put your paper on "VACATION MAIL" and, at no extra charge, we'll mail your Manchester Herald while you're out of town. It's a great way to keep up with what's happening while you get away.

Please note the minimum period for vacation mail is four (4) weeks and we cannot have a subscription on vacation mail for longer than 3 months.

Your subscription for the paper must be paid for before the vacation mail period and the mailing cost is free.

It will be mailed first class so your paper won't be delayed.

Just Call 647-9946 To Make Your Vacation Arrangements.

A call to the circulation department at 647-9946 is all it takes to put your paper on vacation mail.

Circulation Hours are 8:30 am to 6 pm Monday through Friday and Saturday from 7 am to 9:30 am.

Please let us know if we can help.

Manchester Herald

Report says no to North pension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Comptroller says former Marine officer Oliver North isn't eligible for his $23,000 a year pension.

"There is serious doubt that a retired regular officer convicted of destroying government documents" continues to be entitled to retired pay," lawyers in the General Accounting Office, headed by Comptroller General Charles Bowsher, said Monday.

"It has long been the government's practice" not to provide retirement pay to someone convicted of destroying government documents, GAO general counsel James Hinckman said in a letter.

"The denial of payment gives Col. North the right to sue for it," Hinckman noted.

North's lawyer, Brendan Sullivan, had no immediate comment on the ruling, a secretary said late Monday afternoon.

North was sentenced July 5 to 1200 hours of community service and a fine of $100,000 for his conviction on charges of aiding and abetting an obstruction of Congress, accepting an illegal gratuity and altering or destroying classified documents.

The Navy said then that it was suspending the pension North earned during 20 years in the Marine Corps, but that it would recommend the pension be reinstated.

"We're aware of the (GAO) opinion," said Navy Lt. Cmdr. Craig Quigley. "We keep going back to our Navy Department recommendation that it should be continued."

Federal law says a custodian who destroys government documents forfeits his public office.

The Navy's judge advocate general, Everette Stumbaugh, concluded that North, as a retiree, doesn't hold office and that North's pension should be continued.

However, Navy general counsel Lawrence Lamade said North, as a retired Marine Corps officer, holds a U.S. office, at least for some purposes.

Quigley said the comptroller general's decision doesn't affect other benefits that come with North's position, such as commissary and exchange privileges, medical benefits and the right to carry a card identifying himself as a retired military officer.

Nominees grilled on broadcast sex

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are "sick and tired" of sex and violence on television, says Sen. Albert Gore.

The Tennessee Democrat made his statement Monday as the Senate Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee grilled President Bush's three nominees for the Federal Communications Commission on what they might do to stem sex and violence on the airwaves.

But that was the only issue that drew tough questions and the nominees were expected to be approved by the panel today.

Committee Chairman Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., said that he had received numerous letters approving funding for projects had Pierce's signature, applied by a signature machine at Ms. Dean's direction.

On routing slips, she would sometimes indicate whether the machine should sign his full name, or just "Sam."

Schumer also brought out a 1986 report by the Office of Government Ethics that condemned the way federal ethics laws were enforced at HUD.

"HUD's ethics program is one of the most ill-managed this team has ever seen in a major department," the report said.

Schumer introduced the report as John Knapp, former HUD general counsel who oversaw the ethics program, testified a second time before the subcommittee.

The FCC last year tried to implement the 24-hour ban on obscenity programming, but broadcasters and civil rights groups challenged it on constitutional grounds. A federal appeals court in January stayed imposition of the law.

The nominees face a host of important issues, such as the government role in fostering international competitiveness in areas such as high-definition television; further deregulation of the telephone industry; re-regulating cable television; and assignment of the airwaves to competing businesses such as cellular telephones and direct broadcast satellites.

Sand-bubbler crabs absorb oxygen through disks on each of 10 legs, says National Geographic World.

Build Your Future at Manchester Community College

Nancy Kelley of Manchester did! Starting as valedictorian of MCC in 1982 with a $20,000 Harry S. Truman Scholarship, Nancy went on to graduate magna cum laude from Yale and to earn law degrees from Harvard's law school and the Kennedy School of Government. She is presently on leave from the 18500 law firm of Hale and Dorr while she serves a year as White House Fellow to U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter.

You can start here too! For an inexpensive alternative path to earning a bachelor's degree, consider one or two years at MCC, then transfer to the college of your choice. For a degree in a specific career field (over 40 to choose from), consider credit or non-credit courses at MCC. We offer transfer, career, certificate and non-credit programs, with full-time or part-time schedules to fit your needs.

August Walk-In Registration

- Walk-in registration for credit courses is open during August at the Registrar's Office in the new Lowe Building on the West Campus: Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m.-7 p.m.
- Thursday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. call 647-6140.
- For a class schedule, call 647-6140.
- Walk-in registration for non-credit weekend courses, credit weekend campus and off-campus courses is held until the start of individual classes at the Continuing Education Office on the East Campus: Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m.-7 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m.-noon.
- For a class schedule, call 647-6087.

FILMED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC. CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

OPINION

Ruling on abortion is 'ominous'

The U.S. Supreme Court has struck the first of what may be a series of blows diminishing a woman's right to an abortion. Indeed, that was the message of Justice Harry A. Blackmun's dissent in which he warned that "signs are evident and very ominous" that the court will ultimately move to reverse its 1973 decision making abortion legal in most cases.

With its ruling, what the court has done for certain is to convert the abortion issue from a moral to a political debate. By upholding key portions of a Missouri law placing restrictions on abortion, the high court has guaranteed that the abortion debate will be reopened in each of the state's 50 legislatures.

A survey of state legislators done by the Register earlier this year found that a majority would not vote to keep abortions legal here and continue paying for the abortions of women on welfare.

The legislators didn't have to go on the record when they answered our survey. They may find it difficult to publicly hold their ground if the Supreme Court continues to chip away at a woman's right to choose an abortion.

Strong grassroots support is needed from those who support women's right to choose. In the past, that has been notably lacking, particularly compared to the vocal and dedicated work of those who want to limit or ban abortion.

Those who support a woman's right to control her destiny in Connecticut should insist on knowing the views of political candidates' views on abortion and then work for the election of candidates who are unwilling to turn back the clock on abortion.

Political activism is the best protection against returning to an era of unnecessary anguish, back alley abortions for the poor and medically safe abortions only for those rich enough to afford them.

— New Haven Register

By Tom Tiede

CLEVELAND, Va. — Going to work each day is everywhere thought to be something of an occupational hazard. But consider Bill Adams. When he arrives at his job at the Pittston Coal Co., he is greeted with catcalls, threats, obscene gestures, boos, hisses, folded fists and Bronx cheers.

Worse, his car might be blocked at the entrance to the mine. The coal mine is a steadily shrinking organization. Non-union workers presently have been beaten, stoned and terrorized at the point of guns. He says strikers have intimidated the work where else some of them are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

In other words, they can conceivably destroy the job of the coal miner, and in that event the suffering of the rank and file would be for nothing.

So strikers who are picketing are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

In other words, they can conceivably destroy the job of the coal miner, and in that event the suffering of the rank and file would be for nothing.

So strikers who are picketing are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

In other words, they can conceivably destroy the job of the coal miner, and in that event the suffering of the rank and file would be for nothing.

Small wonder they hate Bill Adams then. The men sitting in the picket shacks say he is singled out for special resentment because he is a local resident. Many of the replacement workers have been hired from somewhere else. Some of them are professional "scabs", but Adams lives in the midst of the union members.

One striker says he used to go fishing with him. Another adds that he and Adams are neighbors. Every now and then they avoid him now, and so do their wives and families. "People in the mountains know what the strike is for," notes Charles Atkins. "If you're a scab, you ain't no better than a rat."

For his part, Bill Adams claims he has heard the insults so often he is not afraid of them. Yet they are not at any rate compelling. He points out that he is an American citizen in good standing and that gives him the right to work wherever he wants. He says Pittston pays him a tidy $14 an hour

"Johnny is like a radio talk show host — he knows EVERYTHING!"

Open Forum

Theft won't change faith in mankind

Those of you who saw the picture of the automobile accident in the Herald on July 20, no doubt aware of the pain and sadness of the incident. To the person who took the items, let me say that I am doing all I can to prevent his gaining anything from his despicable act. His act added to the gloom of the day.

First, I wore a seat belt at the time and by seeing the marks left on my body by the restraining left, I am deeply aware that the belt probably saved my life and definitely prevented more serious injuries. I did receive a fractured breast bone but I could have been so much worse if not fatal.

Secondly, I was treated so well by many people at the scene of the accident while I was being taken to the hospital and at the hospital, that I can't possibly thank them enough. When I opened my eyes, I could see Manchester Fire Department personnel on all sides of me in the car. The ambulance people, especially Officer Howard Bealer, the hospital personnel and Dr. Brown in the emergency room were terrific and sympathetic in my sadness and anxiety.

Thirdly, between the time of the accident and the time my son went to the garage where the car was towed (that same day), my check book and charge cards were stolen from my glove compartment. It was doubly sad to me to realize that someone, in my period of pain and sadness, compounded the problem by a theft.

The theft caused me to make numerous calls to cancel the credit cards and stop payment on all stolen checks. I did not need this additional burden. To the person who took the items, let me say that I am doing all I can to prevent his gaining anything from his despicable act. His act added to the gloom of the day.

First, I wore a seat belt at the time and by seeing the marks left on my body by the restraining left, I am deeply aware that the belt probably saved my life and definitely prevented more serious injuries. I did receive a fractured breast bone but I could have been so much worse if not fatal.

Secondly, I was treated so well by many people at the scene of the accident while I was being taken to the hospital and at the hospital, that I can't possibly thank them enough. When I opened my eyes, I could see Manchester Fire Department personnel on all sides of me in the car. The ambulance people, especially Officer Howard Bealer, the hospital personnel and Dr. Brown in the emergency room were terrific and sympathetic in my sadness and anxiety.

Thirdly, between the time of the accident and the time my son went to the garage where the car was towed (that same day), my check book and charge cards were stolen from my glove compartment. It was doubly sad to me to

Manchester Herald
 Founded in 1851
 PENEY M. SIEFFERT, Publisher
 GEORGE T. CHAPPELL, Editor
 MARIE P. GRADY, City Editor
 ALEXANDER GIRELLI, Associate Editor

More than meets the eye in gripe

To the Editor:

After the July 20 letter from V.B. Street appeared in the Manchester Herald several people asked me, "When is someone going to respond to these ridiculous charges?" When I opened my eyes, I could see Manchester Fire Department personnel on all sides of me in the car. The ambulance people, especially Officer Howard Bealer, the hospital personnel and Dr. Brown in the emergency room were terrific and sympathetic in my sadness and anxiety.

Thirdly, between the time of the accident and the time my son went to the garage where the car was towed (that same day), my check book and charge cards were stolen from my glove compartment. It was doubly sad to me to

Union poses work hazards

The union is not asking for more money (local members already make $600 a week), rather it is demanding "better treatment" in terms of scheduling and benefit packages. This means the real issue in the matter is union influence. The UMW believes it must win to preserve its status in the coal industry. The UMW is a steadily shrinking organization. Non-union workers presently have been beaten, stoned and terrorized at the point of guns. He says strikers have intimidated the work where else some of them are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

In other words, they can conceivably destroy the job of the coal miner, and in that event the suffering of the rank and file would be for nothing.

So strikers who are picketing are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

In other words, they can conceivably destroy the job of the coal miner, and in that event the suffering of the rank and file would be for nothing.

So strikers who are picketing are particularly evil menace this time around. They keep the coal company in business and also affect the union position at the bargaining table.

Small wonder they hate Bill Adams then. The men sitting in the picket shacks say he is singled out for special resentment because he is a local resident. Many of the replacement workers have been hired from somewhere else. Some of them are professional "scabs", but Adams lives in the midst of the union members.

One striker says he used to go fishing with him. Another adds that he and Adams are neighbors. Every now and then they avoid him now, and so do their wives and families. "People in the mountains know what the strike is for," notes Charles Atkins. "If you're a scab, you ain't no better than a rat."

For his part, Bill Adams claims he has heard the insults so often he is not afraid of them. Yet they are not at any rate compelling. He points out that he is an American citizen in good standing and that gives him the right to work wherever he wants. He says Pittston pays him a tidy $14 an hour prevent what could have been an even more embarrassing situation throughout the 18 holes, had they been permitted to continue.

In retrospect, as we see a determination to uphold the importance of this incident out of all reasonable proportions, one cannot but wonder at whether there is more here than meets the eye.

John L. Pickens
206 Ferguison Road
Manchester

Media are praised for sensitivity

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the management, reporters and newsmen staff of WFSB-TV, Channel 3, for their handling of the tragic plane crash where our friend, Walt Williams, lost his life.

This was a very difficult time for his family and friends, and Channel 3 was patient, compassionate and helpful to all of us. Unlike other media in the area, they were very sensitive to our needs and greeted while reporting their news.

I'd also like to thank the Manchester Herald for its help and understanding during this time. It's nice to know that there are still some local news media that believe in and carry out responsible journalism, and not sensationalism at the expense of tragic events in people's lives. Thank you again.

Lisa Collier
211 Parker Street
Manchester

Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta are syndicated columns.

Changes needed quickly

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

MOSCOW — How long can Mikhail Gorbachev stay in power if he doesn't upgrade the Soviet standard of living? "Not long," is the answer of someone who knows — Boris Yeltsin.

The 58-year-old people's deputy from Moscow was recently named the second most popular person in his country by a Soviet opinion poll. Gorbachev tops the list, and Yeltsin is a fan of perestroika, isn't looking to change the order soon. But Yeltsin is also a realist. "Even now (Gorbachev) is losing his popularity in this country. His popularity outside the country is much greater than it is inside. Within the country, people don't appreciate him as much," Yeltsin told us in a recent interview.

He offered the reasons for his own popularity as evidence that Gorbachev is slipping. The people of Moscow elected him in 1986 because he has openly criticized Gorbachev and the Politburo, and because Yeltsin has been officially denounced in return.

It was not always that way. Gorbachev picked Yeltsin out of 250 applicants and made him the Moscow party boss in 1985. But Yeltsin pushed for reforms faster than his mentor could deliver, and Gorbachev dismissed him from the Politburo in late 1987. When Gorbachev had a chance to elect a people's deputy this year, Yeltsin got 90 percent of the vote.

The celebration would never have been possible without the full support of the Board of Directors. We thank you for your outstanding cooperation and the trust you placed in us.

A special thanks to everyone at the Herald for the excellent coverage and cooperation over the years.

Nate Agostinelli
Chairman
Richard Carter
Treasurer
Independence Day
Celebration Committee
Manchester

Chairman

"Hank's" memory will live forever

To the Editor:

I am sure there are many of us that have beautiful stories to tell about our good friend Herman "Hank" Min. Passantelli. He had so many different names over the years we were privileged to know him.

I would love to share some of my experiences with Hank during the '60s until as recently as early in July.

From Manchester to South Windsor and Bolton, where we presently reside, we have memories etched in stone. Actually it is concrete, either in sidewalks, driveways or a garage floor.

What beautiful memories! In South Windsor, 30 odd years ago, I knocked myself out laying out forms for a sidewalk around our home. When Hank arrived to check it out for me, his first words were, "I've seen wider bicycle paths, Howard."

That was just one of the many quotes he was noted for. When the concrete arrived, he had to threaten me like a Marine drill instructor to convince me to move quickly. I can remember comments such as, "Concrete is unforgiving. What you see is what you get."

On many projects we worked on, one of his favorite quotes (and mine) was, "Andy Ansaldi (the builder) has nothing to fear from you, Howard." Just two years ago, our garage floor was poured in Bolton on a Saturday morning. It was just before a terrible downpour of rain. My wife and son, along with Hank and I, frantically tried to cover the pock-marked floor with plastic to save what we could of the hard day's work.

A few minutes later after we did everything we could possibly do, Hank looked at me and said, "You must have done something pretty bad to have offended Him that much." Every day as I walk through my garage, I think of him. He is the kind of man who gave advice freely, but I never ended with the advice.

One of his favorite quotes was, "I'll give you a hand." The hand he gave was usually the project he had to work harder than I did or could and he had me by a few years.

As I think back over the years that his feet stuck out over under our kitchen sinks when he was working on them. I recall him accepting our thanks with words like, "I just did it to get out of the house." Or — "I needed the experience."

He was my Will Rogers and I'm sure yours also. These past two months, I probably saw Herm more than I had in years. I sought his counsel as a retiree. On the one hand he would say, "How many times can you mow the lawn?" And then he would say he had finished all his woodworking projects and would probably look for work soon.

I would like the world to know he was indeed a "master woodworker." Any of you that were privileged to see his cellar workshop will understand me. His ultimate desire was to add on a workshop to his garage. This was his last project.

John Krinjak told me they were working side by side on the garage, ringing wet with perspiration and their faces beet red from the intense heat. He mentioned "Min" looking at him and saying, "John, doesn't retirement look working for a living?" I understand the good Lord has had a few problems recently. Now that Herm is the usual Community College personnel was always appreciated.

We feel the celebration is in capable hands to continue to be the most popular event held in Manchester. And, as you are aware, this special day has been accomplished with contributions and volunteers and, as a result, at no cost to the taxpayer. A major accomplishment and a tribute to the volunteers.

Unfortunately, the time has come for both of us to pass the baton on to our successors. Although the 1989 event will be our last in our present capacity, we, of course, will always be available if needed.

The celebration would never have been possible without the full support of the Board of Directors. We thank you for your outstanding cooperation and the trust you placed in us.

A special thanks to everyone at the Herald for the excellent coverage and cooperation over the years.

Nate Agostinelli
Chairman
Richard Carter
Treasurer
Independence Day
Celebration Committee
Manchester

Herald staff are worthy of praise

To the Editor:

Thank you so much for the in-depth article on me and chronobiology published in Focus, Saturday, May 27. Nancy Concoman did an excellent job of accurate reporting, making a human interest story.

Patrick Flynn's patience and creativity got some good "shots". Keep up the good work.

Gail P.T. Slover
29-C Esquire Dr.,
Manchester.

P.S. Gini Perlman, hypnosis consultant, 5 Sanford Drive would make a good Focus article.

Open Forum

Committee proud of Fourth work

Editor's note: The following was mailed to me by Peter P. DiRosa Jr. and members of the Board of Directors:

To the Editor:

A little over seven years ago we were honored to be appointed by the Board of Directors to the newly formed Independence Day Celebration Committee. Our charge was to provide a fitting and proper celebration of our nation's birthday. On July 1, we completed our sixth consecutive year from the intense heat. He mentioned "Min" looking at him and saying, "John, doesn't retirement look working for a living?" I understand the good Lord has had a few problems recently. Now that Herm is the usual Community College personnel was always appreciated.

We feel the celebration is in capable hands to continue to be the most popular event held in Manchester. And, as you are aware, this special day has been accomplished with contributions and volunteers and, as a result, at no cost to the taxpayer. A major accomplishment and a tribute to the volunteers.

Unfortunately, the time has come for both of us to pass the baton on to our successors. Although the 1989 event will be our last in our present capacity, we, of course, will always be available if needed.

The celebration would never have been possible without the full support of the Board of Directors. We thank you for your outstanding cooperation and the trust you placed in us.

A special thanks to everyone at the Herald for the excellent coverage and cooperation over the years.

Nate Agostinelli
Chairman
Richard Carter
Treasurer
Independence Day
Celebration Committee
Manchester

Take boat launch from state control

By Mike Fainstilver

WASHINGTON — The anti-abortion movement won a victory in the Supreme Court that it may yet come to rue. It could lose in the legislature what it won in the courts.

The court gave states additional power to regulate abortion. The effect was to make abortion a live political issue on which candidates must take stands and on which voters will make decisions.

Abortion now could become the sort of "hot button" issue that motivates people to vote on the basis of a candidate's position on a single issue.

Until now, people who felt comfortable with the conservative side of Wade decision legalizing abortion had no reason to make a voting booth decision on that basis. They liked the status quo, and it didn't appear to be threatened.

The court's 5-4 decision this summer threatens it. So does the prospect that Supreme Court decisions in three more abortion cases next year will permit further restrictions on abortion.

Political scientist Larry Sabato of the University of Virginia, an expert on campaigns and elections, says he is convinced that the vast majority of Americans are in neither camp on the abortion issue and uneasy with both.

"People are generally troubled by abortion," he says. "They find it very unsavory. On the other hand, most people are reluctant to impose their own moral code on everyone else."

The consequence he foresees is that abortion will be regulated in clearly against it, and loosely regulated in states where it cuts the other way.

In the battleground states, where opinion is closely divided, he lists Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Mississippi as among the key ones. My guess is that they will not regulate abortion more stringently than now."

Sabató says:

"A dissenting view comes from Gary Bauer, former domestic policy adviser to President Reagan, now president of the Family Research Council, a conservative lobby and think tank. Bauer, like Sabato, expects the abortion rights people to get more involved in politics, but he also expects the anti-abortion people to increase their political activity. For them, abortion always was a hot button issue; now the button is hotter."

Jesse A. Bralnard
1400 South St.
Covestry

Court victory could be lost in states

When the court ruled, people opposed to abortion saw Roe vs. Wade as a fact of life. "They used to say, 'We don't like it, but what can we do?'" Bauer says.

Now they know what they can do: elect anti-abortion candidates to state legislatures.

But the dilemma, he says, will chiefly be that of the Democrats. The Democratic Party wants to bring back the Northeastern Roman Catholic voters and Southern Protestant voters who had been pushed away and now feel comfortable with the Republican side of the issue.

"People are generally troubled by abortion," he says. "They find it very unsavory. On the other hand, most people are reluctant to impose their own moral code on everyone else."

The consequence he foresees is that abortion will be regulated in clearly against it, and loosely regulated in states where it cuts the other way.

In the battleground states, where opinion is closely divided, he lists Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Mississippi as among the key ones. My guess is that they will not regulate abortion more stringently than now."

Sabató says:

"A dissenting view comes from Gary Bauer, former domestic policy adviser to President Reagan, now president of the Family Research Council, a conservative lobby and think tank. Bauer, like Sabato, expects the abortion rights people to get more involved in politics, but he also expects the anti-abortion people to increase their political activity. For them, abortion always was a hot button issue; now the button is hotter."

Open Forum

It's blueberry time!

Thank you so much for the in-depth article on me and chronobiology published in Focus, Saturday, May 27. Nancy Concoman did an excellent job of accurate reporting, making a human interest story.

Patrick Flynn's patience and creativity got some good "shots". Keep up the good work.

Gail P.T. Slover
29-C Esquire Dr.,
Manchester.

P.S. Gini Perlman, hypnosis consultant, 5 Sanford Drive would make a good Focus article.

Open Forum

Committee proud of Fourth work

Editor's note: The following was mailed to me by Peter P. DiRosa Jr. and members of the Board of Directors:

To the Editor:

A little over seven years ago we were honored to be appointed by the Board of Directors to the newly formed Independence Day Celebration Committee. Our charge was to provide a fitting and proper celebration of our nation's birthday. On July 1, we completed our sixth consecutive year from the intense heat. He mentioned "Min" looking at him and saying, "John, doesn't retirement look working for a living?" I understand the good Lord has had a few problems recently. Now that Herm is the usual Community College personnel was always appreciated.

We feel the celebration is in capable hands to continue to be the most popular event held in Manchester. And, as you are aware, this special day has been accomplished with contributions and volunteers and, as a result, at no cost to the taxpayer. A major accomplishment and a tribute to the volunteers.

Unfortunately, the time has come for both of us to pass the baton on to our successors. Although the 1989 event will be our last in our present capacity, we, of course, will always be available if needed.

The celebration would never have been possible without the full support of the Board of Directors. We thank you for your outstanding cooperation and the trust you placed in us.

A special thanks to everyone at the Herald for the excellent coverage and cooperation over the years.

Nate Agostinelli
Chairman
Richard Carter
Treasurer
Independence Day
Celebration Committee
Manchester

Take boat launch from state control

By Mike Fainstilver

WASHINGTON — The anti-abortion movement won a victory in the Supreme Court that it may yet come to rue. It could lose in the legislature what it won in the courts.

The court gave states additional power to regulate abortion. The effect was to make abortion a live political issue on which candidates must take stands and on which voters will make decisions.

Abortion now could become the sort of "hot button" issue that motivates people to vote on the basis of a candidate's position on a single issue.

Until now, people who felt comfortable with the conservative side of Wade decision legalizing abortion had no reason to make a voting booth decision on that basis. They liked the status quo, and it didn't appear to be threatened.

The court's 5-4 decision this summer threatens it. So does the prospect that Supreme Court decisions in three more abortion cases next year will permit further restrictions on abortion.

Political scientist Larry Sabato of the University of Virginia, an expert on campaigns and elections, says he is convinced that the vast majority of Americans are in neither camp on the abortion issue and uneasy with both.

"People are generally troubled by abortion," he says. "They find it very unsavory. On the other hand, most people are reluctant to impose their own moral code on everyone else."

The consequence he foresees is that abortion will be regulated in clearly against it, and loosely regulated in states where it cuts the other way.

In the battleground states, where opinion is closely divided, he lists Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Mississippi as among the key ones. My guess is that they will not regulate abortion more stringently than now."

Sabató says:

"A dissenting view comes from Gary Bauer, former domestic policy adviser to President Reagan, now president of the Family Research Council, a conservative lobby and think tank. Bauer, like Sabato, expects the abortion rights people to get more involved in politics, but he also expects the anti-abortion people to increase their political activity. For them, abortion always was a hot button issue; now the button is hotter."

Jesse A. Bralnard
1400 South St.
Covestry

Herald staff are worthy of praise

To the Editor:

Thank you so much for the in-depth article on me and chronobiology published in Focus, Saturday, May 27. Nancy Concoman did an excellent job of accurate reporting, making a human interest story.

Patrick Flynn's patience and creativity got some good "shots". Keep up the good work.

Gail P.T. Slover
29-C Esquire Dr.,
Manchester.

P.S. Gini Perlman, hypnosis consultant, 5 Sanford Drive would make a good Focus article.

Some tales fall between the lines

By Marie P. Grady

I could smell it even before I was close enough to shake his hand. It was the smell of anger and despair laced with alcohol. At the front of the Herald office, a bearded man in tattered clothing was waiting to settle a score.

He was homeless and he was mad. The staff of the Samaritan Shelter on Main Street kicked him out every morning onto the streets of Manchester. He said, "I could die out there," he said, as his blood-shot eyes measured the extent of my sympathy. "They shouldn't be able to do this."

This man had made $300,000 last year, he said, before he lost it all in bad business deals.

He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester. He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

By Marie P. Grady

I could smell it even before I was close enough to shake his hand. It was the smell of anger and despair laced with alcohol. At the front of the Herald office, a bearded man in tattered clothing was waiting to settle a score.

He was homeless and he was mad. The staff of the Samaritan Shelter on Main Street kicked him out every morning onto the streets of Manchester. He said, "I could die out there," he said, as his blood-shot eyes measured the extent of my sympathy. "They shouldn't be able to do this."

This man had made $300,000 last year, he said, before he lost it all in bad business deals.

He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester. He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He was homeless and he was mad. The staff of the Samaritan Shelter on Main Street kicked him out every morning onto the streets of Manchester. He said, "I could die out there," he said, as his blood-shot eyes measured the extent of my sympathy. "They shouldn't be able to do this."

This man had made $300,000 last year, he said, before he lost it all in bad business deals.

He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester. He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He was homeless and he was mad. The staff of the Samaritan Shelter on Main Street kicked him out every morning onto the streets of Manchester. He said, "I could die out there," he said, as his blood-shot eyes measured the extent of my sympathy. "They shouldn't be able to do this."

This man had made $300,000 last year, he said, before he lost it all in bad business deals.

He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester. He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He was homeless and he was mad. The staff of the Samaritan Shelter on Main Street kicked him out every morning onto the streets of Manchester. He said, "I could die out there," he said, as his blood-shot eyes measured the extent of my sympathy. "They shouldn't be able to do this."

This man had made $300,000 last year, he said, before he lost it all in bad business deals.

He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester. He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

He said, "I don't think it's fair that the shelter was only an interim arrangement for the town's homeless and suffering." He wanted the Herald to do an expose on the treatment of the homeless in Manchester.

Court victory could be lost in states

When the court ruled, people opposed to abortion saw Roe vs. Wade as a fact of life. "They used to say, 'We don't like it, but what can we do?'" Bauer says.

Now they know what they can do: elect anti-abortion candidates to state legislatures.

But the dilemma, he says, will chiefly be that of the Democrats. The Democratic Party wants to bring back the Northeastern Roman Catholic voters and Southern Protestant voters who had been pushed away and now feel comfortable with the Republican side of the issue.

"People are generally troubled by abortion," he says. "They find it very unsavory. On the other hand, most people are reluctant to impose their own moral code on everyone else."

The consequence he foresees is that abortion will be regulated in clearly against it, and loosely regulated in states where it cuts the other way.

In the battleground states, where opinion is closely divided, he lists Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Mississippi as among the key ones. My guess is that they will not regulate abortion more stringently than now."

Sabató says:

"A dissenting view comes from Gary Bauer, former domestic policy adviser to President Reagan, now president of the Family Research Council, a conservative lobby and think tank. Bauer, like Sabato, expects the abortion rights people to get more involved in politics, but he also expects the anti-abortion people to increase their political activity. For them, abortion always was a hot button issue; now the button is hotter."

Open Forum

It's blueberry time!

Thank you so much for the in-depth article on me and chronobiology published in Focus, Saturday, May 27. Nancy Concoman did an excellent job of accurate reporting, making a human interest story.

Patrick Flynn's patience and creativity got some good "shots". Keep up the good work.

Gail P.T. Slover
29-C Esquire Dr.,
Manchester.

P.S. Gini Perlman, hypnosis consultant, 5 Sanford Drive would make a good Focus article.

YOUR BIGGEST INVESTMENT

EXTERIOR PROMPT, PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

HOUSE WASHING

ALUMINUM • VINYL • WOOD • BRICK • CEDAR • SHAKES

REMOVES HARMFUL OXIDATION-MILDWAX

Includes: Plexi-Guard Surface Sealant

CALL THE REAL POWER WASHING PROFESSIONALS.

MOBILE WASH

East of the River

203-644-8134

FREE ESTIMATES

Just Follow These Directions-

PICK YOUR OWN DZEN BLUEBERRY HILL

Barber Hill Road
South Windsor • East Windsor • Town Line

Mon. - Fri. 8 a.m.-Noon
Sat. 4 p.m.-9 p.m.
Sun. 8 a.m.-Noon

Call: 644-2478

Bush

Earlier, Dole, R-Kan., had criticized Israel for its role in the crisis. Declaring that Israel launched the commando raid to abduct Obeid without forwarding the United States, Dole said, "Perhaps a little more responsibility on behalf of the Israelis would be refreshing."

Leaders

reports were true, "this is cold-blooded murder, brazen savagery of the worst sort and quite unforgivable."

Politics

For some reason this has now become a Democratic majority problem," DiRosa said.

DiRosa says one of the reasons he is so deeply involved in the issue is accessible because he lives and works in Manchester.

DiRosa argued that voters narrowly rejected the bonding, not the mail itself. He said surveys showed that many people wanted the mail.

AZTEC CHIMNEY SWEEPS
"It's time, don't wait until it's cold and too late."
PROFESSIONAL CHIMNEY SERVICES
CLEANING, REPAIRS, INSTALLATIONS, CHIMNEY RELINING
FULLY INSURED
Ashford 429-5243
Manchester 643-0130

LOCAL & STATE

Two killed in accident

WOLCOTT (AP) — A man and a woman who were riding double on a motorcycle were killed when they crashed into a cluster of trees. Wolcott police said.

Hartford manager resigns

HARTFORD (AP) — City Manager Alfred A. Gatta has announced his resignation, citing a need to devote more time to his family after nearly five years in the job.

Library has CDs

The Andover Public Library has received a packet of 30 compact discs ready for loan to patrons. They are borrowed from the Connecticut State Library for three months.

Coventry school gets poet

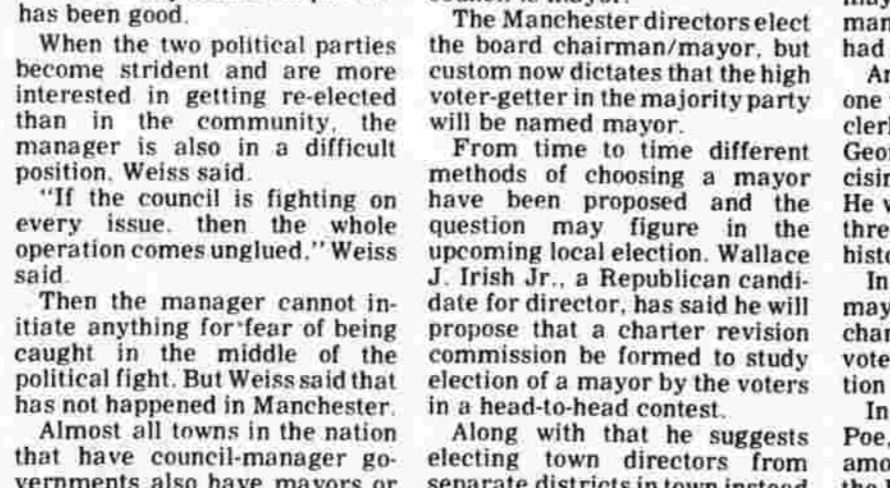

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

Security increased at park

BOLTON — The town will increase police patrols and protection at Indian Notch Park due to an increased number of visitors.

PETER P. DIROSA ... activist

JOHN W. THOMPSON ... take stands

NATHAN AGOSTINELLI ... direct election

MATTHEW MORIARTY, JR. ... what you want

Murder convictions upheld

HARTFORD (AP) — The state Supreme Court has upheld the convictions of three men accused of four murders, including a Hartford man convicted of murders that occurred within three weeks of each other in 1984.

The high court Monday rejected claims of trial court errors raised by Graydon Shannon of Hartford, now serving a 60-year sentence in the shooting deaths of Gaspar Munoz, who was killed after withdrawing money from an automatic bank teller, and Leon Walker, a Hartford cab driver.

In another case, the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of Eugene Oehman in the 1986 shooting death of John Lyons in West Haven. Testimony at Oehman's trial indicated he was having an affair with Lyons' wife.

Library has CDs

The Andover Public Library has received a packet of 30 compact discs ready for loan to patrons. They are borrowed from the Connecticut State Library for three months.

Security increased at park

BOLTON — The town will increase police patrols and protection at Indian Notch Park due to an increased number of visitors.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

Coventry school gets poet

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

The commission awarded $20,850 to 64 non-profit organizations and schools throughout the state at its May 11 meeting.

Security increased at park

BOLTON — The town will increase police patrols and protection at Indian Notch Park due to an increased number of visitors.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

The commission awarded $20,850 to 64 non-profit organizations and schools throughout the state at its May 11 meeting.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

The commission awarded $20,850 to 64 non-profit organizations and schools throughout the state at its May 11 meeting.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

The commission awarded $20,850 to 64 non-profit organizations and schools throughout the state at its May 11 meeting.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

The commission awarded $20,850 to 64 non-profit organizations and schools throughout the state at its May 11 meeting.

Coventry Grammar School has received an artist in residency grant of $1,500 from the Connecticut Commission on the Arts for a residency by Sue Ellen Thompson in poetry.

SPORTS

For Sherman, it was catch of the year

Jim Murray

LOS ANGELES — The ball was right there where it had to be. It floated toward the receiver's chest. He only had to leap three feet for-ward, tuck it in a n d d a s h across the goal line six-yards away.

Rose's first loss big one in court

By Joe Kov The Associated Press COLUMBIUS Ohio — Pete Rose's first court loss was a big one.

A judge's decision on Monday to keep Rose's lawsuit against Commissioner A Bartlett Giampatti in federal court was more than a matter of picking a courtroom. It changed the momentum of Rose's legal fight as baseball officials indicated they would move against the manager for his gambling.

U.S. District Judge John D. Holschuh has decided that he will hear Rose's lawsuit, contrary to the wishes of the Cincinnati Reds' manager.

Manchester Herald

Section 2, Page 11
Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1989

CELEBRATION TIME — Manchester Legion coach Dave Morency, left, gets set to join his team after Post 102 bat Rockville, 9-1, Monday night to clinch its second straight Zone Eight championship.

Legion clinches Zone title

By Jim Tierney Manchester Herald VERNON — Irony played a subtle, yet distinct role in the resurgence of the Manchester Post 102 baseball contingent this summer.

Ten straight Zone victories later, Manchester returned to the scene of its midseason demise to settle the score and to wrap up the Zone Eight championship.

Manchester won't now represent Zone Eight in the State Legion Tournament which gets under way Tuesday, Aug. 8, at Palmer Field in Middletown. Manchester's first opponent in the double elimination tourney has not yet been verified.

Post 102, which has now won 12 straight overall, is now 18-5 in the Zone and 27-6 overall. Its regular season finale will be Wednesday night at 5:45 against Windsor Locks at East Catholic.

Manchester scored all the runs it would need in the top of the second inning. Two Rockville errors put Don Sauer and Algarin aboard. A perfect sacrifice by Keith Hobby pushed the runners up. Rob Penders then lashed a two-run single to left for the 2-0 lead.

Manchester Herald

Section 2, Page 11
Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1989

CELEBRATION TIME — Manchester Legion coach Dave Morency, left, gets set to join his team after Post 102 bat Rockville, 9-1, Monday night to clinch its second straight Zone Eight championship.

Manchester responds to coach's challenge

By Ben Walker The Associated Press NEW YORK — The Mets beat the clock. Now they beat Frank Viola. The Mets' victory over the National League East.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Manchester Herald

Section 2, Page 11
Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1989

CELEBRATION TIME — Manchester Legion coach Dave Morency, left, gets set to join his team after Post 102 bat Rockville, 9-1, Monday night to clinch its second straight Zone Eight championship.

Manchester responds to coach's challenge

By Ben Walker The Associated Press NEW YORK — The Mets beat the clock. Now they beat Frank Viola. The Mets' victory over the National League East.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

Two rumored trades did not happen. George Bell from Toronto to Houston for a package including Gerald Young and Pete Incaviglia from Texas to the Blue Jays claimed utilityman Lee Mazzilli off waivers from the Mets.

FILED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

Stanley makes strong pitch to stay with Red Sox

By Dave O'Hara
The Associated Press

BOSTON — Bob Stanley didn't know what to expect when he checked into the Boston Red Sox clubhouse.

He had good reason: 24 hours earlier he said he "hated" Manager Joe Morgan and wanted to be released with a couple of months left on his $1 million contract.

Then, after a meeting with Morgan, the veteran reliever made a strong pitch to stick with Boston Monday night in helping the Red Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Red Sox scored six runs in the second inning and Stanley earned his first victory since May 19 with a strong relief effort, allowing one run, three hits, one walk and striking out three in 3 2/3 innings.

"It's pretty nice. I didn't know what to expect when I got here and I still don't, but I feel better," Stanley said.

With their third victory in a row and sixth in the last seven, the Red Sox handed Baltimore its 11th loss in 12 games.

That tightened the AL East race as Toronto and Boston moved to within three games of the first place Orioles. Boston trailed by nine games on July 19.

"We need somebody (pitcher) to go out and stop the other team," Baltimore Manager Frank Robinson said.

He added, "This is just a normal slump where you don't get good pitching and you don't get good defense and you don't get good hitting."

Stanley 34 and in his 13th season in Boston, was booed when he was called from the bullpen for his first appearance since July 17 and only his fourth since June 28.

He responded with a fine effort which earned him his 89th victory in relief, tying him for 28th place all-time with one-time teammate Bill Campbell.

"My only gripe is that I want to pitch, and tonight I got my chance," said Stanley.

"I'm very famous for speaking my mind, so I added, 'If I can pitch, I want to stay here. I'd love to finish my career here and hopefully this will help. But if I don't pitch here, I want to go somewhere else.'

Asked if the performance might help change his mind about Morgan, Stanley said: "Sure. I'm not a quitter, but I feel better."

Morgan didn't think anything had to be forgiven.

"What he said didn't offend me one iota," Morgan said. "I like Stanley. I'm not sure he means what he says all the time, but it doesn't bother me a bit."

Bob was the man of the hour tonight. I told him before the game that if we got into trouble he would get the ball. And irony struck. He pitched well and did an outstanding job."

Rookie Eric Hodel was second to a five-run lead after Dwight Gooden pitched four innings, but a home run by Baltimore's Steve Scalet got good pitching and you don't get good defense and you don't get good hitting."

SENSATIONAL CATCH — Boston rightfielder Dwight Evans gets his bearing after making an outstanding sliding catch on a drive by Baltimore's and a single, Wade Boggs had a pair of doubles, Evans a single to go with his 13th homer, and Jody Reed, Danny Herp and Rick Cerone two hits apiece.

Phil Bradley with two runners on base and the second inning Monday night at Fenway Park. The Red Sox won, 9-6.

Cal Ripken led the Orioles with three hits.

Brewers 6, Indians 1: Robin Yount hit his 13th home run of the season and 20th of his career and doubled as the Brewers handed the Indians their third straight loss.

Milwaukee starter Teddy Figueroa, 64, scattered five hits over six-plus innings, and Chuck Crim hurled two-hit ball over the final three innings for his fifth save.

Mariners 6, Angels 8: Pinch-hitter Jim Presley hit a two-run homer to cap a six-run rally in the eighth inning as the Mariners defeated the Angels.

Keith Comstock, 60, got the win with one inning of relief, Mike Schooler pitched the ninth for his 21st save.

The Angels had built a 5-0 lead with the help of three homers: two from Lance Parrish and Wally Joyner and a solo shot by Chilly Davis.

White Sox 2, Tony Phillips hit his first home run since May 17, a two-run shot off Chicago reliever Bobby Thigpen in the ninth inning, to lift the Athletics over the White Sox.

Terry Steinbach worked four pitches leading off the ninth. Then Phillips broke a 4-for-37 slump by going to bat in a slump and sent it to them.

Mike Moore, 14-5, won his sixth straight decision, extending an unbeaten string that began June 16.

The Red Sox had 13 hits, with Luis Rivera getting two doubles.

Up-and-down Jays holds off the Yanks

By Ben Hooper
The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Win one, lose two, win one. On it goes for the Toronto Blue Jays, still waiting for their talent to take over the American League East.

"It's been an up-and-down year. This weekend simply typified our season," Manager Cito Gaston said after the Blue Jays beat the New York Yankees 6-5 Monday night for a split of the four-game series.

The Blue Jays, who blew a five-run lead in the seventh inning Sunday and lost 7-6, held on at this time. Relievers David Wells and Tom Henke limited the Yankees to one baserunner in the final 4 2/3 innings.

"It was important that we come away with a victory tonight in order to regain some momentum," Gaston said. "We did just that."

Toronto moved into a tie for second place, three games behind Baltimore. Still, the Blue Jays have not been over .500 since Opening Day and are 52-53.

Off the field, the Blue Jays had plenty of action as George Bell began serving a two-day suspension for bumping an umpire. Toronto also traded reliever Jeff Musselman to the New York Mets and claimed Lee Mazzilli from the Mets on waivers.

On the field, the Blue Jays did a lot, too. Tony Fernandez opened the game with a home run. Rance Mulliniks hit a two-run double in the fourth and Lloyd Moseby hit a two-run homer to break a fifth-inning tie.

Glenallen Hill, playing his first major-league game, got two hits, drew a walk and drove in a run.

"I was nervous the whole game. I still am nervous," Hill said. "I thought I would calm down after the game started, but it got worse."

At least Hill was on the winning side. Andy Hawkins started for

However, Hodel was ineffective. He gave up a solo home run to Joe Orsulak in the second and a two-run homer to Keith Moreland in the third.

Then he was replaced by Stanley with one out in the fourth, when the Orioles closed to within 6-3 with a pair of runs.

Stanley, who had pitched just 13 innings in three previous appearances, then retired two batters to put down the rally.

He surrendered a run in the fifth, but checked the Orioles in the next two innings.

After throwing 48 pitches, Stanley was replaced by Dwight Gooden in the sixth. Gooden, who pitched two hitless innings for his 14th save.

The Baltimore defense, leading rookie camp at Brandeis University. Larry Bird, who injured his back on Saturday, worked out with the team.

BACK TO WORK — Boston Celtic Larry Bird, right, takes a breather with his brother Eddie Bird, left, and Michael Land on Monday at the Celtics' summer

ST. LOUIS — If the Achilles' heel of the St. Louis Cardinals is their pitching, don't bother telling it to the Cardinals.

Jose DeLeon, seemingly over the shoulder woes that hampered him at midseason, was a world-beater against New York again Monday night. DeLeon, although 18-2, pitched a 9-2 mark and a 1.60 earned-run average in their last 12 games.

He pitched a helluva game," Cardinals manager Whitey Herzog said. "I think he's got more snap on the ball. The ball's alive again."

DeLeon, who started the year with a 1-1 record against New York, is 3-0 in 1989 and has allowed the Mets only 11 hits and six earned runs in 24 innings.

"It doesn't bother me who they are," DeLeon said. "I just try to do the best I can and go by my game. I don't look at them as any different than any other team."

New York's skid after their seven games back as the fourth-place team in the National League East is the longest since losing the same number in a row from July 28 to Aug. 1, 1984.

"We're still in a position where we can win," Manager Davey Johnson said. "It's disappointing where we're at."

DeLeon, who started the night with a string of 19 consecutive scoreless innings, sailed through seven innings with a one-hitter and a 3-0 lead.

He began the eighth by striking out Tim Teufel, who singled in New York's second. He walked pinch hitter Keith Hernandez after going ahead on a 2-0 count but made that look insignificant when pinch hitter Mookie Wilson also struck out.

DeLeon pitched what he hit Juan Samuel to load the bases after pinch hitter Mackey Sasser singled nearly proved St. Louis' undoing.

Herzog visited the mound but let DeLeon, a right-hander, face Dave Magadan, a left-handed batter. That decision backfired when Magadan hit a two-run double.

Herzog acknowledged that he may have left DeLeon, who struck out eight and walked three, in a batter too long.

"He said he felt good. I said, 'Magadan might get a hit, but he's not going to hit a home run,'" Herzog said. "He darned near tied it. He (DeLeon) got the ball up."

Fortunately for St. Louis and unfortunately for the Mets, ace Cardinals reliever Ken Dayley and Todd Worrel were both warming up.

Dayley got Darri Strawberry to pop out, but then intentionally walked Howard Johnson to reload the bases.

Bird shortens his absence as he returns to practice

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Larry Bird made a surprise, if still, return to the basketball court within 48 hours of fracturing a bone in his back and spraining his right ankle. He was out for six weeks before he could play again.

"These are the kind of surprises I like," Coach Jimmy Rodgers said Monday after Bird's unexpected reappearance.

It was a sentiment shared by K.C. Jones, coach of the Celtics from 1984 through 1988 and now the team's vice president of basketball operations. He said he was watching the scrimmage at Brandeis University when the 32-year-old Bird, the three-time NBA most valuable player, came walking down the court.

"I did a double-take," Jones said after practice on Sunday at the summer camp. "I see Larry come up in a shirt and shorts. I was very curious. Jimmy was surprised. He was out there, fooling around with the shooting and he mentioned he would like to try. He's got some pain on the bruise area."

On Saturday night, Bird was

New baseball league just a play?

NEW YORK (AP) — A new baseball league? That's what Richard Moss appears to be planning.

Moss and four other player agents represent almost half the players in the major leagues. The agents have been invited to a meeting in New York on Wednesday to hear about plans for the proposed league, which some baseball executives say is only a ploy for the upcoming collective-bargaining negotiations.

The meeting was called by Donald Fehr, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association and a supporter of the project. Moss, general counsel for the players' association from 1966-77, doesn't want to talk about his role.

"I would say that if something is going to be said, it would be before the end of this baseball season," Moss said last weekend. "It would depend on whether there is going to be a new league or not."

According to those with knowledge of the plans, there would be between eight and 12 franchises in 1990. Among areas under consideration are New York, northern New Jersey, Los Angeles, Washington, Tampa, St. Petersburg or Orlando, Fla., Charlotte, N.C., Nashville, Tenn., Indianapolis, Portland, Ore., Miami, Denver, Sacramento, Calif., Phoenix, Hartford, Conn., Indianopolis, Portland, Ore., and Toronto.

Dayley got Darri Strawberry to pop out, but then intentionally walked Howard Johnson to reload the bases.

IN BRIEF

Bell suspension reduced

NEW YORK (AP) — George Bell of the Toronto Blue Jays had his suspension reduced from three games to two after a meeting with American League president Bobby Brown.

The outfielder was suspended for making contact with umpire Tim Welke during a game against Oakland on June 24.

Hrhek, Biggio are cited

NEW YORK (AP) — Kent Hrkhek of the Minnesota Twins, who hit 479 with three doubles, three homers and 18 RBIs, was named the American League Player of the Week. Hrkhek also scored six runs and had an on-base percentage of .600.

Keith Comstock, 60, got the win with one inning of relief, Mike Schooler pitched the ninth for his 21st save.

Leonard-Duran bout set

BEHESDA, Md. (AP) — Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran will fight Dec. 7 at the new Mirage Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas.

Promoter Bob Arum had said over the weekend that he was 99 percent sure the fight would be between Leonard and Duran. It still weighs in at 100 percent.

Top prospect is killed

MONTREAL (AP) — Neil Carnes, one of the Montreal Canadiens' top young prospects, died in a motorcycle accident in Plymouth, Mich.

Carnes had spent the previous two seasons with Verdun of the Quebec League, but walked out on the last-place team before being dealt to Laval.

The 5-foot-9, 184-pound center was Montreal's third pick, 46th overall, in the 1988 Entry Draft.

Murray rallies for the Mets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tim Murray rallied to defeat Brad Gilbert 3-6, 6-4, 7-5 and win the Sorvan Bank Classic.

Murray, 37, led Sunday night when rain suspended the match after stalling it three times. Mayotte, the top seed, registered a break in the 11th game before holding serve for the victory.

Graf wins easily again

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Steffi Graf, playing her first match since winning Wimbledon, easily defeated Rene Simpson 6-0, 6-0 in the second round of the $200,000 Great American Bank Classic.

Other winners included Betsy Nagelsen; No. 7 Claudia Kohde-Kilsch; and Isabelle Demongot. The third seed, Susan Smit, committed 11 double faults and lost to Robin White 7-5, 6-3.

Hurst leads amateur field

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Reigning NCAA women's champion Pat Hurst fired a 4-under-par 69 to take the lead after the first round of the 1989 U.S. Women's Amateur championship.

Hurst, a San Jose State sophomore from San Leandro, Calif., had six birdies — including four on the five pars 3 holes — and two bogeys at the Pinehurst Country Club. Donna Andrews was second after carding four birdies in a 3-under-par 70.

A second round of stroke-play qualifying is scheduled for Tuesday, with the top 64 golfers going on to a match-play format to determine the 1989 champion.

Jackson undergoes knife

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati left-hander Danny Jackson, who made a spectacular debut in the National League last year with a 23-8 record, underwent shoulder surgery Monday and is through for the season, the Reds announced.

Dr. Warren Harding, the Reds' team physician, performed arthroscopic surgery on Jackson's pitching shoulder to trim frayed tissue. The rotator cuff appeared OK and the shoulder is otherwise stable, Harding said in a statement released by the Reds.

Jackson, 27, had been placed on the disabled list July 25 because of shoulder problems. He rarely showed the overpowering form this season that made him one of the league's best pitchers in 1988 and made it to the Eastern Conference finals in 1988.

North Carolina State for legislators to look into an off-season trade with Kansas City. He had a record this season of 6-11 with a 5.60 ERA.

Cities both want Raiders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles is still competing with Oakland in a tug-of-war over what city the Los Angeles Raiders will call home, said the president of the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission.

"We think it's a fair race and we hope we win," said Commission president Richard J. Riordan.

Published reports said the NFL team was holding talks with representatives of Alameda County, Oakland and the Oakland Coliseum. The Raiders have approved the "framework" of a proposal to move to Oakland, an Alameda County supervisor told the Oakland Tribune in a report published Sunday.

Riordan said Los Angeles officials have talked with the Raiders about putting $125 million in improvements into the Coliseum and paying the team as much as a $30 million franchise fee.

Chang gets needed boost

By Jill Arabos
The Associated Press

STRATTON MOUNTAIN, Vt. — Michael Chang was reasonably happy with the way he played in his first match since Wimbledon nearly a month ago.

It was nothing to write home to California about, but a 6-4, 6-4 victory over former fishing mate Pete Sampras on Monday was good enough to move Chang into the second round of the Volvo International Tennis Tournament.

"I think I'm happy that I won," Chang, the No. 2 seed, said after the match. "I think I'm a confidence boost."

Nine of the other seeds advanced Monday from the field of 64 at Stratton Mountain. In the only upset, Wally Masur of Australia defeated No. 13 Paul Chamberlin 1-6, 7-6 (7-4), 6-3.

Play continued today with top-seeded Andre Agassi, the defending champion, playing Glenn Michibata, a Canadian ranked 101st.

Other seeds playing today were No. 3 Brad Gilbert, No. 5 Amos Mansdorf, No. 7 Yannick Noah and No. 8 Dan Goldie.

Chang and Sampras, both 17, are hardly strangers. When they were a pair of tennis twins, hitting balls back and forth as juniors, Sampras used to beat Chang regularly.

But somewhere along the line, a couple years ago, Chang started gaining ground.

"He kind of made sort of a jump in the mid-tens, and he's beaten me the last couple of times," said Sampras, who also lost to Chang in the second round of this year's French Open.

Chang was lucky in a couple ways Monday. He not only faced someone he was familiar with, but a player who, like himself, had taken a few weeks off.

Sampras had 50 unforced errors in Monday's match, compared to Chang's 15. Frequently charging the net, and frequently hitting into it, Sampras was broken twice in the first set and once in the second.

In other play Monday, Annecone, the No. 11 seed, broke Nicolas Pietrangola twice in the second set, to defeat the Venezuelan, last year's junior Grand Slam champion, 7-5, 6-2.

No. 4 Kevin Curren beat Dan Goldberg, 7-6 (7-3), 6-4, while another of the younger players, 18-year-old Jim Courier, needed ninth, defeated Jimmy Brown.

Author Peter Golenbock poses in New York with copies of his book "Personal Foul" in which he's alleged members of the North Carolina State 1986-87 basketball team received money and illegal gifts.

Author hopes book shakes colleges up

NEW YORK — Peter Golenbock says he hopes his book, "Personal Foul," helps shake up college athletics.

"Personal Foul" alleges that members of North Carolina State's 1986-87 basketball team received cars, money and other gifts. It also alleges that some players falsified drug tests to avoid detection and portrays Jim Valvano as a self-centered coach who alienated many of his players.

Golenbock said Monday during a news conference that what he found at N.C. State wasn't unique.

"There are enough other programs similar to North Carolina State for legislators to look into the system," Golenbock said. "We need to take the hypocrisy out of the system, the way they did in college athletics and said Valvano's due role as an athlete, not a ticket sales, should be the first priority."

"I hope this book will initiate a dialogue between those people in power so that they will at least talk about doing something to give athletes more of a say concerning their own future."

He also called for more checks and balances in college athletics and said Valvano's due role as a coach and athletic director put too much power into the hands of a single person at N.C. State.

After doing the book, I discovered that the academics, the educators, are not running the institution any more. The people in charge of running the academic side have handed over a lot of decisions, at least with respect to the athletes, to the athletic department.

"There's no check on the coach by the athletic director, as there is at most colleges, because the AD is also the coach. Apparently at North Carolina State, the chancellor has given the coach-athletic director carte blanche to do whatever he wants."

Golenbock and Carroll & Graf said they and John Simmonds, one of the few sources cited by name in the book, had received threats.

TRADED — Minnesota's Frank Viola, left, was dealt to the Mets Monday night for Dick Aguilera, center, and David West, and three minor leaguers to be named later.

West, and three minor leaguers to be named later.

Mets

From page 11

waived his right to demand a trade at the end of the year. The Mets, in return, agreed not to trade Viola until his contract ends in 1991.

"I know we're giving up a lot for Viola, he's one of the premier pitchers in baseball," Mets manager Davey Johnson said. "Anytime we can get a player of this caliber, you have to make the trade."

The Mets are in fourth place in the NL East, seven games behind Montreal. They have lost seven straight games; their longest skid since 1969 was 10 games.

New York wanted Mark Langston earlier this year, but Montreal got him from Seattle. Langston has gone 9-3 for the Expos.

The Mets needed to fill the void left by Dwight Gooden, who is recovering from a torn muscle under his right armpit and is not expected to return to the rotation until late August.

Viola, like the Mets and Twins, has been inconsistent. He's 2-1 with a 2.64 earned-run average last season but has slumped to 6-12 with a 3.76 ERA.

Murray

From page 11

tion. A slip pass over the middle, a short pass to Notre Dame defender Tony Carey — and The Catch went into the modern annals of the Trojan wars.

You might think that was the greatest triumph in his life and times of Rod Sherman. After all, it has grown in legend till in the 1980s it has a mythic quality, growing to a length-of-the-field bomb. "Everything but me throwing and catching the pass," laughs Sherman.

But it is a distant second to the greatest triumph in Sherman's life — when he was sunning himself on the UCLA-UVrline campus. "A friend of mine looked down on my thigh and he saw the Super Bowl. I was very dark freckles merging. He kind of frowned. 'You ever get that looked at?' he asked me. I said, 'No, but I will.' 'You better,' he said."

Rod Sherman went to the hospital. "Ninety-five percent of these things are benign," they tell me. But he had the jackpot. A 901 shot came in. It was a melonhead. The doc told me to look at it and he said, 'Look at this dot in my leg that made it look like a satellite photo of the moon. The doctor told me any more time they would have had to remove all the lymph nodes. It was malignant. Much longer and I would be dead.'

So far as Rod Sherman was concerned, that was the Catch of his career. Cancer is tougher to get on the clear on than Tony Danza's, but I don't think God had speed to make that Catch. I think God had the arms and hands."

Rod Sherman has been in a Rose Bowl (1966) at Super Bowl (1968), and he's the most critical seconds of his life ever.

Nothing routine in Expos' win

By The Associated Press

When Tim Lincecum hits the ball to Bobby Bonilla, the play is never routine.

Once again, Bonilla missed playing a Wallach grounder on Monday night. Once again, it helped the Expos rally and beat Pittsburgh this time by 4-2.

Bonilla, a converted outfielder, has 28 errors this season. Six have come on balls hit by Wallach.

"It's just one of those things in baseball you can't explain," Wallach said.

On April 16, the last time the teams met, Pittsburgh led 4-3 in the eighth when Bonilla batted. It was an apparent timing-error grounder by Wallach. Nelson sent a grounder singled in the tying run and Montreal went on to win in the ninth.

It happened again Monday night. With the game tied 2-2 and two outs in the eighth, Wallach reached when Bonilla batted and the grounder, Bonilla's third error of the game, Nelson followed with his 26th home run on a drive off the foul-pole screen in left.

"It happens sometimes," Bonilla said, "but you can't let it get you down. You just try to keep beating the Expos."

In the original trade, Seattle sent Langston to the Expos for pitchers Randy Johnson, Gene Linder and Brian Holman and three prospects. The Expos for player to be named later.

MANCHESTER HERALD, Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1989 — 13

Steve Scalet.

NL Roundup

Cubs 10-4, Phillies 2-7: Rick Sutcliffe pitched a three-hitter. Ryan Sandberg homered twice and Dwight Smith hit a grand slam off Greg Harris in the first game at Veterans Stadium.

Mark Langston, 9-3, won for the seventh time in eight starts. He allowed seven hits in eight-plus innings, struck out five and walked five. Tim Burke got the final three outs for his 22nd save in 29 opportunities.

"He struggled for the first four innings, then it was lights out. Expos manager Buck Rodgers said,

John Smiley, 9-6, gave up seven hits and all four runs in eight innings, striking out five and walking four.

Sutcliffe, 11-9, won for the first time since beating Los Angeles on July 4. He had lost five of his last six decisions.

Campbell to the Expos

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Seattle sent right-hander Mike Campbell to Montreal on Monday, completing the May 25 trade for Mark Langston. The Expos optioned the 25-year-old Campbell to Indianapolis of the Class AAA American Association.

In the original trade, Seattle sent Langston to the Expos for pitchers Randy Johnson, Gene Linder and Brian Holman and three prospects. The Expos for player to be named later.

CANN' FANCEE IT — Toronto's Lance Mulliniks is out at the plate as Yankee catcher Don Slaught finishes the taag in the fourth inning Monday at Yankee Stadium. The Blue Jays won, 7-6.

AGG... FILMED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

DILLON by Steve Dickenson

PEANUTS by Charles M. Schulz

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE by Dik Browne

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Sy Barry

BLONDIE by Dean Young & Stan Drake

ROSE IS ROSE by Pat Brady

ON THE PASTRACK by Bill Holbrook

THE GRIZZLELLS by Bill Schorr

BRIDGE

Bridge section containing a crossword puzzle grid and clues.

Solving a dilemma

North accepted, with mild trepidation. Declared South could not afford to be careless. He won dummy's ace of diamonds and played ace and king of hearts.

SNAFU by Bruce Beattie

DICK TRACY by Dick Locher & Max Collins

LIT ABNER by Al Capp

ARLO AND JANIS by Jimmy Johnson

THE BORN LOSER by Art Sansom

FRANK AND ERNEST by Bob Thaves

WINTHROP by Dick Cavalli

CHUBB AND CHAUNCEY by Vance Rowland

LET ME REPHRASE THAT!

KIT N' CARLYLE by Larry Wright

Puzzles

ACROSS 4 Letters of alphabet (1) Star Trek (1) McMillan and Wife (1) Sledge Hammer!

DOWN 11 Mythical aviator (7) Bullfight cheer (8) - valve (9) Gasoline fuel enzyme (10) Bamboo grass (12) Large knife (13) Repeat (14) Radiation (15) Beginning measure (16) Socialite (17) Unique person (18) Slight noise (19) Eternally labby (20) Type of shrub (21) Without (22) Ponder (23) Rippled (24) Urban eyesore (25) Ripped (26) Armed conflict (27) Smaller-minded sheep (28) Have a meal (29) Similar (30) Doll compound (31) Mao - tung (32) Miscellaneous (33) Bays (34) Apiece (35) Biblical prophet (36) Pull (37) Medical picture (38) Promise (39) Prongs (40) Impression (41) AND CHERRY (42) Dissertation (43) Less distant (44) Arab, e.g. (45) Tennessee (46) Ford (47) Donkeys (48) DOWN (49) Big animal (50) Seas (51) Mountaineering (52) Answer: 0265

CELEBRITY CIPHER: 'S K J L T Q F O L B K F O S L C O L J L F C Q E K Z W E N O F E D L A L C W B M T I B S O J Z O U C O Z B E T O G O Z Z M B X . - - I O E F I O

JUMBLE: Unscramble these four jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four correct words.

AGROGRAPH: Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You are extremely well equipped to handle critical issues today.

BRIDGE: North accepted, with mild trepidation. Declared South could not afford to be careless.

LET ME REPHRASE THAT! A cartoon panel showing a character saying 'I've got my rights!' and another replying 'Let me rephrase that!'"/>

Astrograph

AGROGRAPH (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Mature, easy-going individuals will make your best companions today. Their ability to adjust their opinions to your will will make them comfortable to be around.

TV Tonight

6:00PM (3) (3) 22 36 49 News (1) Matt Houston Part 1 of 2 (1) Star Trek (1) McMillan and Wife (1) Sledge Hammer!

TV Tonight

6:00PM (3) (3) 22 36 49 News (1) Matt Houston Part 1 of 2 (1) Star Trek (1) McMillan and Wife (1) Sledge Hammer!

6:00PM (3) (3) 22 36 49 News (1) Matt Houston Part 1 of 2 (1) Star Trek (1) McMillan and Wife (1) Sledge Hammer!

Large advertisement for Cox Cable with the text 'Get it while it's hot!' and 'Free Cox Cable installation! A $25 VALUE!'

AGG FILMED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA 10000

BUSINESS

Way cleared for merger of chemical firms

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An agreement to sell a New Jersey chemical plant has cleared the way for the $1.05 billion takeover of Pennwalt by French oil giant Societe Nationale Elf Aquitaine, the companies announced Monday.

The Federal Trade Commission unanimously accepted an agreement that allows completion of the $128-share deal through Stamford, Conn.-based AC Development, Inc. of Stamford, Conn. The companies said the agreement would be final after a 60-day comment period. Elf Aquitaine would be able to accept and pay for tendered shares of Pennwalt in the meantime.

Elf Aquitaine's offer, which had been scheduled to expire today, was extended to 5 p.m. EDT Thursday.

Pennwalt rose sharply in trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The companies said about 4.7 million of Pennwalt's 7.9 million outstanding shares had been tendered as of the close of business Friday.

FTC spokeswoman Susan Ticknor said she could not comment on the commission's vote.

The FTC earlier had authorized its staff to seek a court order blocking the deal because it "could substantially reduce competition in the production and sale" of two fluorocarbon products, polyvinylidene fluoride and vinylidene fluoride.

Pennwalt is the largest U.S. worldwide seller of polyvinylidene fluoride while Elf Aquitaine's chemical subsidiary, Atochem, is third in both, the FTC said.

Uses for polyvinylidene fluoride in the United States, are the only suppliers of vinylidene fluoride in the United States, sold by Pennwalt as Kynar plastic resin, include coating electrical wires and lining pipes in chemical plants. Vinylidene fluoride is a building block for polyvinylidene fluoride.

The deal would maintain Pennwalt's name and keep its headquarters in Philadelphia.

Founded in 1850 as Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., Pennwalt has sales of about $1 billion a year.

Stafford loans hit $9.3 billion

Federally guaranteed Stafford Loans to students (once called Guaranteed Student Loans) reached an all-time high in 1988 at $9.26 billion. The loans are granted to eligible students for education purposes, and are funded by participating financial institutions at a low interest rate.

The previous high, reached in 1985, was $8.91 billion.

GUARANTEED STAFFORD LOANS TO STUDENTS
In billions of dollars per fiscal year.

Fiscal Year	Amount (Billions)
1980	$2.0
1981	$2.5
1982	$3.0
1983	$3.5
1984	$4.0
1985	$4.5
1986	$5.0
1987	$6.0
1988	$9.3

SOURCE: U.S. Dept. of Education

EB claims union breached contract

NEW LONDON (AP) — Shipyard labor leaders breached a three-year strike settlement agreement by discriminating against strikers and failing to encourage cooperation among workers, Electric Boat management claims in a letter to Metal Trades Council President Joseph Messier.

In the July 28 letter, a company vice president says discriminatory actions by agents of MTC affiliate unions "encouraged others to isolate, harass, coerce and intimidate" shipyard workers who crossed picket lines last year.

EB spokesman Neil Ruenzel called the letter a business correspondence and gave no more details. He said EB has not taken legal action to formally charge the MTC with breach of contract.

Messier, who planned to meet with the MTC's attorney to discuss whether the union would join an unfair labor complaint against the company, could not be reached late Monday for comment.

Early in the day, Messier and other union officials were at the shipyard gates as workers arrived Monday. Monday was the first day of new management crackdowns limiting what the company considers "threatening and inciteful" clothing and behavior in the plant.

Included is a ban on T-shirts declaring "When the scabs are gone, the wounds will heal." Several workers wearing the shirts in the yard Monday were asked to turn them inside out, Ruenzel said, but there were no confrontations.

In the letter to Messier, EB's vice president for human resources, Donald G. Norman, claimed that the questioned T-shirt and others with derogatory statements toward strikers "directly threaten and coerce employees who did not honor the recent strike."

The actions since the strike fostered a "tense and hostile work environment," wrote the manager, who suggested the unions could be held financially liable for resulting company losses.

Possible costs include time lost for harassment investigations, employee recruitment expenses, compensation for harassment-related stress claims and unemployment payments for workers resigning because of strike-related harassment, the letter said.

John Adamson, chief steward for The International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Local 614, denied that the unions violated the Oct. 8 strike settlement pact.

IN BRIEF

Rogers has multichip

PaineWebber R&D Partners II has committed $7.8 million to a three-year program to develop multichip modules at Rogers Corp. of Rogers, Conn.

Multichip modules have been under development since the 1970s but are not yet in general use. They can significantly boost the performance of integrated circuits and may be used in high-end computers, telecommunications equipment, military devices and other areas.

The $7.8 million investment will be used to accelerate development and commercial introduction of Rogers' multichip modules. Rogers will pay R&D Partners II a royalty on sales of the devices for 10 years.

R&D Partners II is a limited partnership of which PaineWebber Development Corp. is a general partner. PaineWebber Development Corp. is a subsidiary of PaineWebber Group Inc.

Rogers operates a modeling division in Manchester.

Earnings drop at Rogers

Rogers Corp., which operates a Manchester division, reported a drop in earnings for the second quarter of 1989. Earnings were $918,000, or $3.30 per share in the second quarter of 1988 to $836,000, or $3.12 per share this year.

Sales rose 5 percent, from $41 million in the second quarter of 1988 to $43.1 million in the second quarter of 1989.

Profits for the first half of 1989 were $715,000, or $2.84 per share, compared to $1.8 million, or $3.82 per share last year.

Rogers President Norman L. Greenman said the company did not realize an

Cessario gets promoted

D. Anthony Cessario of East Hartford has been named assistant vice president of commercial lending at the Savings Bank of Connecticut.

He has been assigned to the bank's full-service office on Route 30 in Vernon.

Before joining SBM, Cessario was manager and business development officer for Connecticut National Bank's business development group. He also served as credit analyst for CNEB. Before joining Connecticut National Bank, he was manager of Aetna Life & Casualty's Employee Benefits Division.

Vilkus named director

Lisa Vilkus of Manchester, manager and treasurer of the Manchester Memorial Hospital Credit Union Inc., was recently elected to the board of directors of New England Network Inc., the company that runs the Yankee 24 automatic teller machine network.

Vilkus' term is one year. She is also a member of the network's executive committee.

She received an associate's degree in accounting and is pursuing a bachelor's degree in management at Post College. She is a member of the regional Comtel/CUSA Users Group.

Earnings drop at Rogers

Rogers Corp., which operates a Manchester division, reported a drop in earnings for the second quarter of 1989. Earnings were $918,000, or $3.30 per share in the second quarter of 1988 to $836,000, or $3.12 per share this year.

Sales rose 5 percent, from $41 million in the second quarter of 1988 to $43.1 million in the second quarter of 1989.

Profits for the first half of 1989 were $715,000, or $2.84 per share, compared to $1.8 million, or $3.82 per share last year.

Rogers President Norman L. Greenman said the company did not realize an

Real estate certified appraiser

Daniel F. Reale was recently certified as a real estate appraiser by the National Association of Real Estate Appraisers.

Reale is currently employed by F. Reale Inc., at 175 Main St., Manchester.

The designation is awarded to people who have the necessary education and qualifications. The association has more than 21,000 members and is the largest appraisal organization in the United States.

Met Life honors Carriere

Kevin Carriere of Manchester was honored by Metropolitan Life for outstanding sales achievement for 1988 during a business conference in Puerto Rico.

Carriere is the branch manager with Metropolitan Life's office on East Center Street.

He qualified to attend the conference by ranking among the top 18 percent of all Met Life sales producers in the northeast.

STP to go into garage business

DANBURY (AP) — More than 30 years after it was created as a special lubricant for auto engines, STP is being used to help its parent company slip into the $25-billion-a-year automotive service center industry.

First Brands Corp. of Danbury says it will open up to 100 automotive service centers under the familiar red, white and blue STP logo over the next three to five years, the company also expects to see revenues from the new venture grow to $150 million a year during that period.

"STP has connotative qualities of high performance, high technology, durability and dependability... all of which were considered highly favorable in launching this brand into another business," said Ronald A. Artzer, the 45-year-old president of STP Consumer Services Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of First Brands.

The STP centers will offer quick lube, car washes, cooling system maintenance and tune-ups. They will compete directly against other established automotive service companies, such as Jiffy Lube International, Inc., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Sears.

"The competition is getting a lot stiffer," said assistant Franklin L. Morton, a vice president with Alex. Brown & Sons Inc. in Baltimore, Md.

"The market is growing and so is the number of people entering the market," Morton said, noting other newcomers include the Ford Motor Co. and Avis Inc.

Morton said a shakeout is inevitable due to the vast growth of service companies. He said a key to success will be careful marketing.

The first STP center opened last month in Atlanta. Three more are planned for Atlanta, and another is planned for Charlotte, N.C., as First Brands tests its new concept. The cities were chosen because they are in auto-racing country, where STP is well known for its long affiliation with NASCAR racing and driver Richard Petty.

The business marks the second new subsidiary for First Brands Corp., which has been looking for ways to expand since being created in 1986 in a leveraged buyout by executives in Union Carbide Corp.'s home and auto-division who did not honor the recent strike.

The company wanted some growth horizons. I won't say the businesses we're in are mature, but they've been around awhile," Artzer said.

A marketing study was done, and the results showed potential for growth for STP in the automotive repair and maintenance market. Artzer said the study showed a particularly strong growth area in the quick lube business, where consumers can get an oil change in a matter of minutes.

He noted that car manufacturers are suggesting more frequent oil changes for small engine cars. "We will not be in the muffler business, we will not be in the brake business."

In addition to offering speed and convenience, the centers will offer services at competitive prices. At the Atlanta shops, an oil and filter change will cost $21.99, a tune-up for a four-cylinder car will cost $39.99, while a cooling system flush will cost $39.99.

Artzer said another goal is to provide customers a place where the workers are courteous and the surroundings are clean. To ensure that happens, STP will provide training for all its workers and offer them incentives in the form of cash and career opportunities.

To further reduce the hassle of getting a car repaired, STP will keep computer records of all work done for its customers. Customers will be able to obtain maintenance records when they want to sell their cars and they also will receive regular notices reminding them when regular maintenance, quick lube oil changes, diagnostic services, tune-ups," Artzer said. "We will not be in the muffler business, we will not be in the brake business."

Aside from serving the customer, the computer records will help STP determine "operational standards," Artzer said. In the 1990s, this information will be used to sell STP franchises.

First Brands said it has no limits on the money that can be spent to develop the business into a national chain, Artzer said.

"Fifty to 100 stores is not a national chain. We may grow more rapidly. We're not in it in a numbers situation. This is a business we want to have a major impact on First Brands. We want to be a $150 million-plus business in three to five years," Artzer said.

"But we don't force growth for numbers sake. What we want to do is build a quality business here. Sometimes we just never seem to learn that people expand over (fast and they lose control over the business elements and they end up with mess," he said.

DON'T MONKEY AROUND...

Try Our Pay-By-Mail Program...

It makes paying your subscription easier on you instead of paying your carrier every 2 weeks. You can simply write a check for 3 months, 6 months or a full year. Drop it in the mail. Then, you can forget about having ready cash to pay your carrier, answering the door when it's inconvenient or being at home to pay your bill.

Simply complete the coupon below and send it to us... or if you would like more information on our Pay-By-Mail program call the Circulation Department 647-9946. After initial payment and prior to expiration, you will be billed.

I would like to pay by mail for my Manchester Herald subscription. Please begin my pay-by-mail subscription by:

Enclosed please find payment for:

Carrier Delivery: 3 months $23.10 6 months $46.20 1 year $92.40

Senior Citizens: 3 months $21.56 6 months $43.12 1 year $86.24

Optional carrier tip may be included with your payment — Tip Amount: _____

Motor Route Delivery: Coventry, Andover, Bolton — $27.30, 3 months

Name _____ Apt _____

Address _____

City _____ Zip _____ Phone _____

MAKE IT EASY ON YOURSELF... PAY-BY-MAIL

The Manchester Herald

P.O. Box 591 • Manchester, CT 06040

FACE TO FACE — Cesar Guachichula, 10, of Ecuador, holds a mold Monday showing what his face will look like after surgery to correct his facial deformities. His surgeon, Dr. Martin Dunn of Cardinal Cushing Hospital in Brockton, Mass., looks on. The boy was brought to this country for the operation by Por Cristo of Brockton.

Boch views news clips but offers no answers

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. diplomat Felix S. Boch, suspected of spying for the Soviets, sipped grapefruit juice and calmly watched for 45 minutes as a foreign correspondent showed him videotapes and clippings of how his story is being told in his native Austria.

"I tried and tried, but he said he wouldn't answer questions on the substance of his case," said Robert Weisner, the Washington correspondent for state-run Austrian television. He said Boch looked "rather surprisingly relaxed" Monday, as he sipped juice and watched videotapes of the Bloch story prepared for Austrian television.

Boch also read Austrian newspaper accounts of the case, which Weisner showed him during Boch's 45-minute visit to the offices of Austrian television Monday afternoon in the Georgetown section of the capital.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department, in its first public statement on the case, expressed concern about Bloch's behavior, which has been hurt by premature disclosure and acknowledged objecting to the Department's handling of the investigation on July 21.

On his first day back in the nation's capital after more than a year in the New York City area, Boch's office was in the back door of his apartment in the fashionable Kalamazoo section and strolled to Georgetown.

Boch was followed by about 15 people, including reporters and photographers, two cars with television cameras being driven so slowly that traffic was stopped — and a car containing two men, presumably agents of the FBI.

To reporters who queried him along the way, Boch said, "I'm hardly a free man, you know... I'd love to put it behind me."

The 54-year-old diplomat was placed on paid leave by the State Department on June 22. His diplomatic passport has been revoked, but he has not been charged with any crime. He is followed any time he goes out by FBI agents and reporters.

At the Austrian television office, Boch asked Weisner how the Austrian media were covering his case, wanting to know how he was being perceived by the public in his native country. Weisner said Boch was the No. 2 official in the U.S. Embassy in Vienna until two years ago.

Weisner said he managed to bring an espionage case, as Boch had been charged with, to the U.S. Embassy in Vienna until two years ago.

Boch replied that he was coming to Georgetown to do his business and would be willing to stop in. From there, he went to his office.

Boch returned to Washington after spending more than a week with his father in Manhattan and his daughter in suburban Chappaqua, N.Y.

At the Justice Department, Runkel said news reports that began with an ABC News segment July 21 may have hurt the FBI's ability to collect evidence against Boch.

"You could say we have a concern that the premature disclosure of the matter may have had an adverse effect on the gathering of information," Runkel said.

Runkel also said "there were some concerns expressed by the (Justice) department" before the State Department issued a statement July 21 stating it was cooperating with an FBI investigation of "illegal activities" by Boch "involving a foreign intelligence service."

Government sources speaking on condition of anonymity have said the FBI has videotaped Bloch passing a briefcase to a KGB agent in Paris earlier this year, but that the government does not have enough evidence to charge him with espionage.

In bringing an espionage case, the Justice Department must have information that was passed to a foreign power and that the material's release damaged national security.

The news believes Boch was recruited 14 years ago when the Soviet Union was stationed at the U.S. Embassy in East Berlin.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 643-2711

NOTICES

As a condition precedent to the placement of any advertisement in the Manchester Herald, advertiser hereby agrees to protect, indemnify and hold harmless the Manchester Herald, its officers and employees against any and all liability, loss or expense, including attorneys' fees, arising from claims of defamation, libel and slander, which may result from the publication of any advertisement in the Manchester Herald by advertiser, including advertisements in any free distribution publications published by the Manchester Herald. Penny Sleffert, Publisher.

53 ANNOUNCEMENTS

RETIRED Railroad man living at the Arbors of Moo Brook retirement community would like to get together with other retired railroad men. Please call 647-9343.

10 PART TIME HELP WANTED

HOUSEKEEPER wanted every Saturday. Flexible schedule. 642-7117.

11 HELP WANTED

HOUSEKEEPER-Three to four hours weekly, $8.00 per hour. Own transportation. No smoking. References: 647-9261.

11 HELP WANTED

DRIVER-Part Time, 8:30am-10am, Monday-Friday. Heavy local deliveries. Apply at Brown's Flowers, 143 Main Street, Manchester, 642-8485.

11 HELP WANTED

BOOKKEEPER-Part Time, Wednesday-Friday, 9am to 5pm. Accounts receivable, accounts payable, payroll. Experience required. Office located in Manchester, CT. 528-1300.

11 HELP WANTED

PART Time secretary/retailer. Spoken, dictated, ment i complex. Located in Manchester, Evening hours 4pm to 8pm on Tuesdays and 10am to 3pm. Call 528-1300.

11 HELP WANTED

WANT SOMETHING NEW & EXCITING? If so, Sun Gold Products has limited openings starting immediately for 18 years or older, to travel U.S. Visit us at Sun Gold, 1000 Main St. Phone 643-4663. All expenses paid training & transportation furnished. Average earnings $2000.00 per month after completing training program. Hurry in to see Mrs. Marchant on Friday, August 4 at YMCA, 76 North Main St. Application taken from 12- or 3-5 only. No phone calls please.

EMERGENCY

DIAL 911 in Manchester

CLASSIFIED CRAFTS

A Feature of This Newspaper

WANTED

Adult Carriers

Enjoy the outdoors and earn some extra spending money delivering the Manchester Herald door to door.

For more information call the Circulation Department at 647-9946.

LPN ADMITTING REPRESENTATIVE

A twenty four hour week, flexible day shift position for an LPN is now available in our admitting department. Position requires candidate with typing, medical terminology and excellent communication skills. Receptationist experience is preferred. Please submit application to the Human Resources Department, Rockville General Hospital, 31 Union Street, Rockville, CT 06066. Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. M/F/H/V

MEDICAL STAFF SECRETARY FULL TIME

This individual will provide secretarial, clerical and administrative support services to the Medical Staff Office.

The Ideal candidate will have a degree in secretarial science or equivalent knowledge of medical terminology.

Duties include:

- Attending meetings and taking minutes, record keeping, preparing reports and processing Medical Staff applications. Typing (60-70 wpm) and Transcription required. Flexible hours. Excellent benefits.

We offer an excellent salary & benefits plan.

Send Resume To:
Barbara L. Juhae
V.P. Human Resources
Rockville General Hospital
31 Union St.
Rockville, Ct. 06066
Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. M/F/H/V

MEDICAL RECORDS TRANSCRIPTIONIST

Full time, part time positions are available in our medical records department for experienced transcriptionist with knowledge of medical terminology. Must be neat, accurate typist. Flexible hours. For consideration please forward application/resume or apply in person, Monday-Friday 9-4 to The Human Resources Department, Rockville General Hospital, 31 Union Street, Rockville, CT 06066. An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. M/F/H/V

LEGAL SECRETARY-Small

Manchester law firm with 20 years experience. Please send resume to: Ellen Landers, 649-1256.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

GLASTONBURY, Ranch, 5 good sized rooms, 2 bedrooms, eat in kitchen, large deck, basement, vinyl siding, nice size living room plus finished room. O. W. Fish Realty, 643-1591.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - Near as a pin - $139,900. Enjoy your summer in this beautiful setting. 2 1/2 story home. Each with 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 bath, living room, dining room and living room. Good rental income. O. W. Fish Realty, 643-1591.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - Near as a pin - $139,900. Enjoy your summer in this beautiful setting. 2 1/2 story home. Each with 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 bath, living room, dining room and living room. Good rental income. O. W. Fish Realty, 643-1591.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - Near as a pin - $139,900. Enjoy your summer in this beautiful setting. 2 1/2 story home. Each with 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 bath, living room, dining room and living room. Good rental income. O. W. Fish Realty, 643-1591.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - Near as a pin - $139,900. Enjoy your summer in this beautiful setting. 2 1/2 story home. Each with 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 bath, living room, dining room and living room. Good rental income. O. W. Fish Realty, 643-1591.

FILED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT CREST MICROFILM, INC., CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

Let A Specialist Do It!

LAWN CARE

YARD MASTERS
Yard cleaned, trees cut, have dump truck, will haul.
643-9996

Experienced Lawn Care
Prompt, reliable service, reasonable prices.
647-9330

PAINTING/PAPERING

WEGLES PAINTING CO.
Quality interior & exterior painting. Free Estimates.
Call Brian Weigle 645-8312

LANDSCAPING
HEBRON LANDSCAPE
Design and Construction
Mike Bauer 647-7760

LANDSCAPING

WALLPAPERING & PAINTING
Callings, Repairs or Redecorating.
G.L. McHugh 643-9321 or 649-4431

CARPENTRY/REMODELING

ISLAND CONSTRUCTION
All types of home improvements from concrete floors, steps, patios, etc. to complete remodeling. Also decks and window and door replacement. Tiling interior/exterior. Landscaping and interior design services.
Call Barry at 646-2411

CLEAN JEANNE'S Cleaning Service

Residential or Commercial. Professional Service. Insured & Bonded.
CALL 643-9996

ELECTRICAL

MAINVILLE ELECTRIC
Professional electrical work done the old way and the new way.
Call for free estimate 647-7722

FARRAND REMODELING

Room additions, deck, roofing, siding, windows and gutters. All types of remodeling and repairs. Call Bob Farrand, Jr.
Bus. 647-8509
Res. 645-6843

MARK Construction of Manchester

Quality work with pride. Quality work with pride. Quality work with pride.
Call for free estimate 646-5253

HEATING/PLUMBING

CARMEKAL BLUMBERG
Additions, remodeling, boiler, hot water, heating, plumbing & heating service. Fully licensed and insured.
Call 875-7888

ROOFING/SIDING

Affordable Roofing
Free estimates. 30 year experience. Licensed and insured.
649-0994

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES

HAWKES TREE SERVICE
Buck, truck & chipping. Stump removal. Free estimates. Specializing in residential and commercial work.
647-7553

CONCRETE

Roman Spiewak Mason Contractor
Brick, Block or Stone Chimneys, Patios, Walkways, Retaining Walls and Repairs.
646-4134

PAINTING AND CARPENTRY WORK

Interior and exterior painting, remodeling, carpentry, roofing, siding, windows and gutters. Free estimates - fully insured.
646-0454

21 HOMES FOR SALE

A CUT ABOVE $209,900.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

HISTORIC Restoration.
Beautiful 1700 square foot contemporary 3-4 bedroom ranch with enclosed porch overlooking private yard with inground pool. Fireplace in formal room. Open floor plan. Great home for entertaining. Two car vinyl attached garage and walkout basement.
Anne Miller Real Estate, 647-8000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - $147,500.
Victorian Colonial with aluminum siding, ornate chandelier, vestry. Three bedrooms, two bathrooms, family room and large foyer. Possible two family. Manchester office: 643-4060. Sentry Real Estate, 643-6000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - $164,900.
Lovely maintained aluminum sided colonial on quiet street. Three bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths. First floor finished. Attractively landscaped private lot. Susan Donahue, Manchester office: 643-4060. Sentry Real Estate, 643-6000.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

NEW Contemporary.
8 rooms, 2 1/2 baths and a private treed lot on Cul-de-sac. Blonchar & Rossetto Realtors. We're Selling Houses! 646-7700

21 HOMES FOR SALE

BOLTON.
Surrounded by over an acre of trees, this 7 room home with garage/workshop is available for sale. Blonchar & Rossetto Realtors. We're Selling Houses! 646-7700

21 HOMES FOR SALE

OK.
The Money! This delightful 8 room raised ranch on Strawberry Lane in Manchester has been priced right at $187,500. 4 bedrooms, 1 full and 2 half baths. In-law possible. 2 car garage. 100x140 lot built in 1973. Jackson & Jackson Real Estate, 647-8400.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

MANCHESTER - $198,500.
Spacious aluminum sided Colonial with four bedrooms, two bathrooms, fireplace, kitchen, two car garage. VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch. Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

21 HOMES FOR SALE

VERNON - CHFA-FHA approved four room ranch.
Realty World, Benoit, Frchette Associates, 646-7700.

Great Lawn multi-family housing backed... see page 3

Manchester Herald

Wednesday, Aug. 2, 1989 Manchester, Conn. - A City of Village Charm Newsstand Price: 35 Cents

LAST GOODBYE — Deada Eady of Wallingford reaches out to touch the casket of her friend Jessica Short Tuesday at Jessica's burial in the In Memoriam Cemetery in Wallingford.

Desperation unfolds at little girl's funeral

By Diane Rosell
Manchester Herald

WALLINGFORD — A day of quiet desperation unfolded at the Valley United Methodist Church Tuesday as family and friends gathered to mourn a 9-year-old girl who was fatally stabbed by a neighbor in Middletown Friday.

The Rev. Richard A. Simmons, pastor of the church, urged more than 200 mourners to pray for the family of Jessica Short, 20