District vote is challenged

By Alex Girolli
Manchester Herald

A vote by electors of the Eight Utilities District Monday night may have been invalid because no voter check list was used to screen eligible voters.

At the special district meeting, 45 persons cast votes, 27 of them in favor of approving a $245,000 appropriation for a new pump truck and 18 against.

District President Thomas E. Landers said he was told by a proponent of the purchase that some opponents were raising the question about whether the vote was valid.

He said no one thought of the need to use the checkoff list.

Landers said he will ask John D. LaBelle Jr., the district's legal counsel, for an opinion on the question and use the checkoff list if necessary.

At the district annual meeting May 24, the voters approved a change in the district bylaws which said that the eligibility of district voters shall be checked by reference to the latest available list of electors provided by the town registrar of voters.

But no list was used at the meeting Monday in the district firehouse at 32 Main St. LaBelle, who was moderator for the meeting, told those at the meeting that they must be district residents and town electors to be eligible to vote.

That is the procedure LaBelle has followed traditionally.

The change would May 24 appears from the language of the legal notice of the meeting and the bylaws that those at the meeting to apply to all district voters.

Mayor vows court fight in FOI case

By Alex Girolli

Mayor Peter P. DiRosa Jr. said today he will appeal to the courts if the Freedom of Information Commission rules that causes attended by him and other Democratic town directors were illegal under the state's open meeting laws.

DiRosa said he will make the appeal no matter what the other directors and the Democratic Party decide to do unless some compelling legal reason comes up to change his mind.

DiRosa will speak for the Democratic directors when the FOI Commission holds a hearing today on a complaint filed over the Freedom of Information Commission's decision.

Hartigan spoke at a dinner meeting of the Manchester Rotary Club held at the Manchester City Club on Monday night. He said he was pleased to have a majority on the Board of Directors, but he was not sure if he would be able to get the support he needed to win. Superintendent set his goal for better schools as child

By Jacqueline Bennett

NEW SCHOOL CHIEF — Michael Malinowski, the new superintendent of school in Coventry, poses near an old school hall in the courtyard of Coventry High School Tuesday during an interview.

"My father died the year I was there, and I returned home to help my mother with things," Malinowski said.

That decision ultimately changed the direction of his life.

At 49, Malinowski has been in education "most of his life.

"Before I was in education? I was a child," he said lightly-headed.

Outgoing and stylish, Malinowski has been acting superintendent in the Burlington, Mass., public school system for the past year. Before that he was the assistant superintendent in Burlington and before that curriculum coordinator in Burlington.

He is single. His mother lives in Massachusetts and his sister is married with three children. Born in Hudson, Mass., he grew up in Chelsea.

In the process of moving to town, he has been commuting from Boston, where he currently lives. He made his first official day on the job on Monday and his office was still filled on Tuesday with balloons and other gifts from well-wishers.

Already, Malinowski has ridden the buses with the parents of his children.

Tougher Lotto odds may hike state funds

By Nancy Concinan
Manchester Herald

Changes in the state's Lotto game may make it more difficult to win but will probably increase the size of prizes, thus boosting ticket sales and generating more revenue for state programs, a Divisions of Special Revenue official told Rotary Club members Tuesday.

Since the inception of Lotto in 1983, lottery games, including Lotto, Play Four, the Daily Number and the instant lottery game, have generated more than $1 billion in sales. Through lottery games, the division has contributed about $1.5 billion to state programs since the state lottery began in 1972, Edward J. Harrigan, executive assistant of public information for the division said Tuesday.

Harrigan spoke at a dinner meeting of the Manchester Rotary Club held at the Manchester City Club on Monday night. He said he was pleased to have a majority on the Board of Directors, but he was not sure if he would be able to get the support he needed to win. He said he would make the appeal if he was not able to get the support he needed to win.

Thoughts

Several years ago when I was serving another parish, one of the most active families in the church suffered a tragic loss of a young son. One morning their four year old came to his mother to tell her that he could not wake up his younger brother. For reasons that were never fully understood, this apparently healthy two year old boy had lapsed into a coma while he was sleeping. He never regained consciousness. And after several weeks in the pediatric intensive care ward, he died.

There was a Council on Ministries meeting scheduled for the same night as the calling hours at the funeral home. We held our meeting early and concluded our business expeditiously so that those who wished could visit with the grieving family.

As we were getting our coats to leave, a woman explained that she would not be going with us. She knew that the funeral home would be very crowded, and she had many things to do at home that evening. "My thoughts will be with you," she explained. "And please tell Karen and Tom I am with them in spirit."

A friend turned and spoke to her, "Mary," he said, "these are times when you really need to be there. Not just in spirit, but in person. It will mean a lot to Karen."

He was right. There are times — many times — when we really need to be there in person for one another. Even in a crowd, each person is unique, and the presence of many cannot make up for the absence of one. Each of us makes a difference.

MEETICULOUS WORK — Michael Galligan of Galligan & Co. Painting Contractors scrapes paint Tuesday from a window glass at a house he is working on at 22 Grove St. His company is located on Mill Street.

Crime in Bolton prompts a call for crime watch

BOLTON — Concerned about rising crime rates in town, the Board of Selectmen and state police are sponsoring a meeting to inform residents about forming neighborhood crime watches.

Statistics from the FBI show the crime rate in Bolton jumped 35 percent from 1987 to 1988 and increased 25 percent during the five-year period from 1983 to 1988.

Most recently, the town has been hit by a rash of reported burglaries, officials said.

"The town is very concerned about the trend," said Helen Kemp, executive assistant to the selectmen.

"Something the state police told us could be done immediately and something that's extremely effective is the neighborhood block watch."

She said the meeting, slated for 7 p.m. Sept. 26 in the Community Hall, will determine the amount of interest town residents have in such programs.

"In 1982, we had a meeting like this, and only 10 people showed up. We're hoping for 100."

Kemp said the police will give tips on how to recognize a crime.

"To have a block watch that's effective, you have to have citizens who are able to spot potential crimes in progress."

One resident, Charles Holland of Riga Lane, said his neighborhood established a crime watch about seven years ago after about six residences were burglarized in a few months. The 10 households in his town catch speeders and not enough time making themselves visible.

"I don't remember the last time I saw a cruiser drive down my street," neighborhood still participate in the crime watch today, he said.

About the town's effort to encourage block watches, he said, "I'm very pleased to hear that. This is something I've been pushing for years."

Holland was critical of past town selectmen for not taking measures to fight crime in the town, but said the present administration seems to be dealing with the problem.

Tax group in Bolton to fight increases

BOLTON — A former member of the Board of Finance has formed a group to fight property tax increases that he expects the town will face as it prepares to improve the schools.

"I feel we're going to have at least a 6 mill increase next year," said Charles Holland, organizer of the group he calls TNT (The Neglected Taxpayer) of Bolton.

"I've been labeled as anti-education, but that's a complete fallacy," Holland said this morning.

The anti-education label, he says, was the reason he was not re-elected to the finance board in May. He had served for six years.

The Board of Education and its supporters must realize some of the projects they are planning to upgrade and expand the schools are unrealistic, he said.

"The school board presently is studying two plans to upgrade facilities and increase the capacity of the elementary school and the high school."

"They just don't seem to recognize that there are some people that can't afford what they want," he said. "I wonder if Bolton can afford to continue to have a high school, unless we regionalize with Columbia or some other town."

Holland said his taxpayers group, which will hold its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 22, at the Community Hall, is to serve as a forum for people who felt they could not express their views at school board meetings.

"The Board of Education has a very strong lobby," he said. "I feel the other taxpayers should have a voice of their own."

Car crushed man to death, autopsy report concludes

THE death of a Manchester man who was crushed Monday when the car he was working on fell on him has been ruled accidental, Manchester Police Department spokesman said today.

John O'Sullivan, 58, of 37 Edward St., died of asphyxiation due to compression of the neck, a spokesman for the State Medical Examiners Office in Farmington said today.

O'Sullivan was apparently working on the car in his garage when the car fell on him, Manchester Police Officer Donald Turner said. Turner said he didn't know why, but a jack holding the car up had compressed.

Police and paramedics from the Town of Manchester Fire Department found O'Sullivan dead under his car and the jack down, Turner said.

Turner said he also wasn't sure whether anyone was home when the incident occurred. O'Sullivan's wife, Anita, called Manchester police at 12:44 p.m. Monday, police records show.

O'Sullivan, a Manchester resident for the past 24 years, owned the local distributor for Pepsi Beverage and had been employed by C&M Warehouse and the Springfield Sugar Co. He was a member of Teamsters Local No. 671.

His funeral is scheduled for 8 a.m. Thursday at St. Bridget Church.

Man killed in chase

NORTH BRANFORD (AP) — A 21-year-old man died when his car slammed into a utility pole after leading police on a 4 1/2-mile high-speed chase along residential streets and a state highway, police said.

John Faison, who listed addresses in both Hamden and New Haven, was pronounced dead at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, 10 minutes after the high-speed chase began, said North Branford police Dispatcher Phyllis P. Dunphy.

Dunphy said police were responding to reports of a fight involving a handgun when they encountered Faison outside a home on Skylark Drive.

GOP picks a woman to face Mayor Bucci in Bridgeport

By Dean Golembek
The Associated Press

BRIDGEPORT — Republican Mary C. Moran wants to rewrite the city's history books by becoming the first woman mayor, but to reach her goal she'll have to beat two-term incumbent Democratic Mayor Thomas W. Bucci.

Bucci handily defeated five other Democrats in Tuesday's mayor primary to win his party's nomination, while Moran pulled off an upset in her party's primary in her first bid for the mayor's office.

Moran, a 56-year-old real estate agent, narrowly defeated party-endorsed Leonard S. Paolotta, who served as mayor 1981-85. She had 2,004 votes, or 50.4 percent, to Paolotta's 1,972 votes, or 49.6 percent.

By winning her party's nomination, Moran became the first woman

New Haven's Democrats dump the official nominee

By Larry Rosenthal
The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN — Veteran state Sen. John C. Daniels, scoring well in all but a handful of the city's 30 wards, defeated his party's endorsed candidate to become the first black Democratic nominee for mayor in this overwhelmingly Democratic city.

"Vote turnout Tuesday was the highest in 10 years, with 53 percent of the city's registered Democrats going to the polls.

Daniels took 21 wards in defeating John DeStefano, a 34-year-old former top official in the administration of retiring Mayor Blagio DiLieto. With the support of DiLieto and other party leaders, DeStefano had narrowly won the Democratic Town Committee's endorsement and automatic entry in the primary.

As it campaigned throughout the city, people said it was time for change," Daniels said late Tuesday night, saying he viewed his victory as a pro-Daniels rather than anti-DeStefano.

Unofficial returns showed Daniels with 16,012 votes and DeStefano with 11,082. The total did not include absentee ballots.

Because Democrats outnumber Republicans by almost 10-to-1 in this city, the winner of the Democratic primary is all but assured of victory in the general election.

Waterbury Democrats decide they'll stick with Rep. Brown

By Peter Viles
The Associated Press

WATERBURY — Anxious to win the city's primary, the city's Democrats pinned their hopes on state Rep. Elizabeth C. Brown, a former nun and the first woman to win a mayoral nomination here.

Brown, the surprise choice of the Democratic Town Committee in July, spoke of a new day in city politics after she won a narrow victory over Anthony A. Casagrande on Tuesday's primary.

"I really believe that the city of Waterbury tonight voted for a fresh start for new leadership in the Democratic Party," she told her supporters an hour after the polls closed.

Standing in her way is Republican Mayor Joseph J. Santopietro, who has spent 12 of his 30 years in city politics and is seeking his third two-year term in this heavily Democratic city.

Brown, who portrayed herself during the campaign as a grass roots candidate who could give the city's fractious Democratic Party a new start, had 5,092 votes to Casagrande's 4,618, according to the final tally.

"I believe that a whole new day has begun," Brown said. "I welcome

Mobster who hid in state dies in prison of cancer

HARTFORD (AP) — Alphonse Persico, a New York mob boss who once presided over a 500-member criminal network, has died in a Missouri prison hospital of complications from cancer. He was 59.

Persico, who dodged authorities for nearly seven years while living in the Hartford area, died at the U.S. Medical Confinement Facility in Springfield, Mo., at 1:20 a.m. Tuesday, the Hartford Courant reported today.

He was serving a 25-year sentence on a loansharking conviction.

Persico, known as "Allie-boy," was a convicted murderer with a 40-year history of arrests. He was underboss, or second in command of New York's Colombo crime family. Authorities said he took over the organization briefly in the 1970s for his brother, Carmine "The Snake" Persico, who was sentenced to prison for hijacking trucks.

Persico is best remembered for his exploits in the staid suburbs of the insurance capital of the world, a damaged spleen when he was Marshall's Service most wanted list. Persico brazenly wandered among bookmakers, card games, restaurants and nightclubs while eluding a small army of investigators for 6 1/2 years.

State and federal investigators now believe Persico was able to elude capture by through an underground railroad established by gangsters in New York and Boston to harbor fugitives. He was given phony identities, cars, money to a house.

He disappeared from Brooklyn, N.Y., on June 20, 1980, the day he was to be sentenced to up to 60 years in federal prison on three loansharking charges.

Before moving into his West Hartford apartment, Persico lived in Avon, Farmington, Bloomfield and Southwick, Mass.

He often was seen with William Grant, an East Hartford restaurateur with mob connections who vanished in May 1988. Investigators say Grant was responsible for taking care of Persico while he was in the Hartford area.

Persico was convicted of only one murder when he shot a man to death in 1951.

He had cirrhosis of the liver, emphysema, faltering kidneys and a damaged spleen when he was sent off to do his time at the U.S. Penitentiary at Lumpoc, Calif.

Earlier this year, Persico learned he had diabetes and cancer of the larynx.

Probable cause found in Middletown stabbing

MIDDLETOWN (AP) — A 37-year-old mental patient faces murder charges in the stabbing death of a 9-year-old girl at a crowded street fair in July.

Middlesex Superior Court Judge Richard T. O'Connell on Tuesday found probable cause to charge David Peterson with murder and felony murder. Peterson pleaded innocent to both charges.

His attorney, Assistant Public Defender Chris James, said it was likely Peterson would use an insanity defense, but James said he wanted to view a psychiatrist's report before making a final determination.

Last month, Judge Donald T. Dorsey found Peterson competent to stand trial. Dorsey ruled that Peterson was able to understand the charges against him and assist in his defense, although a team of doctors diagnosed Peterson as mentally ill and suffering from persecutory delusions.

According to police, on July 28 Peterson walked off the grounds of Connecticut Valley Hospital, took a bus downtown, where he purchased a hunting knife, and attacked 9-year-old Jessica Short at random from a crowd of hundreds at the street fair.

The attack lasted less than a minute, ending when police officers and bystander pulled Peterson away from the girl. She was stabbed repeatedly in the face and chest and died less than an hour later.

The Permit-class attack submarine was decommissioned during ceremonies at the State Pier in New London Tuesday.

Colt says ruling to cost $6 million

HARTFORD — The repayment of lost wages to 800 striking workers would cost Colt Firearms Division less than $6 million, the $40 million union officials had estimated, a company official has said.

Colt Industries Spokesman Michael Dunn said Tuesday an administrative judge's recommendation limits Colt Industries' total back pay liability to less than $6 million.

Dunn, however, declined to comment on how the company's lawyer arrived at the lower figure.

"I don't want to speculate how the others arrived at a figure," Dunn said. "We just followed the procedure. It's quite a complex document. I really don't want to summarize it right now."

Judge Martin Roth ruled Monday that Colt must rehire the striking workers who picketed for 3 1/2 years. His decision came more than a year after a six-month hearing on 28 complaints issued by the labor board's Hartford office against Colt. The Hartford office had also issued two complaints against the union.

Roth dismissed Colt's allegations that its negotiators had been threatened by the union, but did find that union members were guilty of strike misconduct by threatening people and property during picketing. He ordered an end to such behavior.

The judge found that Colt unilaterally changed working conditions, failed to bargain in good faith, offered to settle separately with employees who quit the union and rejected the union's August 1986 offer to have strikers return to work under terms of their old contract.

Both Dunn and Madore said Tuesday it was too early to say whether they would appeal the judge's decision.

About 1,050 workers walked off the job at Colt plants in Hartford and West Hartford Jan. 24, 1986, after working 10 months without a contract.

The division, which was put up for sale by New York-based Colt Industries in April, has managed to keep the plants operating using replacement workers hired during the strike and about 200 union members who crossed picket lines.

Despite the labor dispute, Colt Firearms management and striking union members in July joined forces in a bid to buy the ailing Hartford-based gun maker from Colt Industries.

Colt was founded in 1836 by Samuel Colt, the inventor of the first successful repeating pistol. After Colt's death in 1862, the company developed the six-shooter that almost every cowboy carried — the legendary gun that won the West. In addition to the M-16, the standard Army-issue rifle still used today, Colt manufactures the Colt 45 handgun, the King Cobra magnum revolver and the AR-15 rifle.

Danbury mall jewelry store robbed

DANBURY (AP) — A burglar or burglars cut through the metal gate in front of a jewelry store in the Danbury Fair mall early Tuesday and stole a number of 14-karat gold chains worth $20,000 altogether, police said.

An employee of the Bailey Banks & Biddle store said mall security officers did not notice anything amiss until Danbury police, responding to a silent alarm, arrived to investigate. The store's alarm does not sound in the mall security office, officials said.

A detective sergeant said investigators do not suspect a person shortly after 6:40 a.m. 10 minutes after the outside doors of the mall were opened for the day, police said.

Sgt. Nelson Cavallo said there were no witnesses to the break-in. The president of the company that manages the mall defended the mall's security system.

"We're there to secure the common area premises," said John R. Kraus, president of Genesee Management Inc. "The crime took place inside the lease lines. Internal security is the retailer's responsibility."

"Our security is certainly adequate to protect the mall under normal circumstances," he said. "With 25 years of experience, we've had almost 200 incidents of this nature."

Hungarians gambling on Western support

By Kevin Costello
The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, West Germany — Reform-minded Communists in Hungary are gambling that by freeing thousands of East Germans they'll pick up more Western support than Soviet bloc anger.

Budapest took the potentially risky step of breaking ranks with its Soviet bloc allies by opening the doors for East Germans fed up with the country's antiquated, hard-line leaders.

The Soviet Union has joined East Germany in crying foul, and Czechoslovakia has also expressed displeasure.

But the criticism from Hungary's allies has failed to stop Premier Miklos Nemeth and his reformist colleagues in Budapest.

At one level, letting the refugees go shows Hungary's respect for the cherished Western value, the right to leave as one pleases.

Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher of West Germany, almost on cue, praised Budapest for its "new way of thinking" and humane policies just hours after the exodus began on Monday.

But much more importantly, Hungary has been looking for greater backing from the West in solving its economic woes.

That's the message the Harvard-educated Nemeth and his foreign minister, Gyula Horn, took to Bonn in a surprise visit Aug. 25 when the logjam of East Germans waiting in Hungary was reaching a peak.

While both sides deny any deal was struck, Horn and Nemeth reportedly told Chancellor Helmut Kohl that they were looking for more economic support — and for help in becoming more involved in the lucrative European Economic Community. In return they would be willing to risk a Warsaw Pact schism by opening their border to the East Germans.

Hungary has been aiming for an associate membership in the EEC, a step that would represent a milestone for any Eastern European country. And the country is still basking in the glow of President Bush's visit in July.

Now, Hungary appears to be winning its gamble in breaking a 20-year-old agreement with East Germany to prevent such escapes.

"We will not forget this demonstration of humaneness," Kohl told reporters Sunday evening, hours before the refugees started pouring into Bavaria.

Kohl also told nationwide television that West Germany, which has been rushing to establish greater business ties in Eastern Europe, will give full backing to the economic reforms in Hungary.

Not surprisingly, Hungary has been reaping approval in Poland, the other Soviet bloc nation that's rushing toward Western-style economic and political systems.

Foreign Minister Horn is candid about the risks, however.

"There is a danger of Hungary becoming isolated in Eastern Europe as some of the things Hungary is doing irritate our neighbors and allies," he told Hungarian Radio on Aug. 29. "Altering our approach, however, would mean curtailing our freedom of action."

East Germany publicly has been about as vitriolic as a country can be toward an ally, calling Hungary's

LOOKING FOR A NEW START — An unidentified East German examines a bulletin board in Passau, West Germany, Tuesday advertising jobs all over West Germany. The East Germans are welcomed workers in the west and have a variety of jobs to choose from.

move "organized provocation."

But Hungary deftly exploited the leadership vacuum caused by East German leader Erich Honecker's prolonged recovery from gall bladder surgery. Even Communist Party functionaries are comparing East Germany to "a ship without a captain."

Late Monday, Prague Radio said Hungary's decision may call into question "the future fate" of other agreements within the Warsaw Pact countries.

Significantly, Soviet Politburo hard-liner Yegor K. Ligachev visited East Berlin on Tuesday to discuss the refugee situation — rather than travel to Budapest to tell the Hungarians to get back in line.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Kevin Costello has been the AP news editor in Frankfurt for more than four years and has covered German and East European affairs.

U.S. proposes accepting 50,000 Soviet refugees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bush administration wants to accept 50,000 Soviet refugees plus another 6,500 from Eastern Europe and phase out processing offices in Vienna and Rome, a U.S. official and sources in the American Jewish community say.

Overall, 125,000 refugees would be admitted in the fiscal year that begins Oct. 1, an increase of slightly less than 8 percent over current quotas, sources say.

The 50,000 Soviet refugees, at least half of whom are expected to be Jews, are a fraction of the 250,000 Soviet citizens the State Department estimated last week would apply for entry in fiscal 1990.

Jewel S. Lafontant, the department's coordinator for refugee affairs, was to testify on the new program today before the House Judiciary subcommittee on immigration. Key members of Congress were informed in advance of the proposal.

Of the 50,000, the sources said 40,000 would be assisted by the U.S. government in paying their transportation and settlement costs. The 10,000 others would depend on private organizations, friends and relatives. Still others could apply under a parole program that includes no U.S. financial assistance.

The current combined quota for refugees from the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe is 50,000. The new plan would allocate all 50,000 slots to the Soviet Union and set up a separate category of 6,500 for Eastern Europe.

Other projected quotas include 25,000 for East Asia, 3,500 for Latin America and the Caribbean and 3,000 for Africa.

In fiscal 1988, as emigration from the Soviet Union began to climb, the Bush administration wanted to accept 50,000 Soviet refugees plus another 15,000.

An estimated 40,000 Soviet Jews are expected to leave the Soviet Union this year. Currently there is a backlog of an estimated 30,000 to 40,000 Jews with exit permits for Israel who have not left the Soviet Union or are in Vienna and Rome, seeking entry to the United States.

Most Soviet Jews who obtain exit permits say they want to live in Israel, but all but a fraction then apply for admission here once they have left their country.

According to the Jewish sources, who demanded anonymity, the Bush administration will drastically revise its processing procedures. Refugees who applied before Oct. 1, the beginning of the 1990 fiscal year, will be processed in Rome and Vienna.

But in the future, applications will be handled by a beefed-up U.S. embassy staff and also by a new office to be set up outside Washington, sources said.

The U.S. official, who also asked not to be named, said that cutoff date was likely but that it might be set for a few months later.

While the Soviets seeking admission remain in their country, their applications would be considered both in Moscow and in the Washington area office.

Israel has expressed concern that Jewish refugees from the Soviet Union were increasingly choosing to settle in the United States once out of their homeland, depriving Israel of desirable immigrants.

It was not clear whether the change in procedure would increase the flow of refugees to Israel.

OPINION
Principal deserves support

Manchester High School will have a new principal Oct. 11, and it is pleasant to think that date will be the beginning of a long and productive career in the position.
James Spafford was selected for the post from among 80 applicants, which is an indication that the position is a desirable one and that Spafford is highly qualified to fill it.

Giamatti passed on Senate

Giamatti probably never considered it seriously, or only "fleetingly" at best. The late A. Bartlett Giamatti could have had the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate for the asking in 1986, but he wasn't interested.

Do you know where your children are? Are they in school or skipping?
I went down to Edward store to do some shopping. In the back of K mart, there were four young boys ranging in age from 12 to 16. They were riding on their scooters, trying to jump over a cart which they had laid down where you walk up a step to get onto the walk to K mart.

Drug war tinges proposals

"If the critics want a down payment on the war on drugs, vote for this amendment," he said. "It is only $45 million, but that's a start. We only need to find $740 million more."
Wilson's amendment would eliminate financing for mass congressional mailings to constituents. Senators and representatives now can send newsletters and other materials to their constituents at a very low cost.

Caring made difference

My saga started at Manchester Memorial Hospital around 3 a.m. on Friday, July 14 and is still ongoing. The beginning hours were very discouraging.
The next 18 hours after that, when the night shifts changed, so did the concern of the doctors and nurses. Their professionalism and genuine concern may very well have saved my husband's life, who had a brain hemorrhage and a stroke.

Pollution is out of control

ON THE VOLGA RIVER, U.S.S.R. — Freighters plying this river sew a rainbow of chemicals into the water. Rushing pipes on the shoreline dump raw human sewage into the rolling concretion. Legend once had it that a dip in the "Mother Volga" could add 10 years to one's life. But anyone unwise enough to make that dip today will emerge covered with oil and gasoline. And thousands of carver-bearing sturgeons go belly-up in the Volg every year.

trict meetings, not just the annual meeting.

LaBelle could not be reached for comment on whether the vote is valid or on what further steps should be taken if it is not.

After the district voters' meeting Monday, the directors voted to award a contract to build the pumper and made plans for the directors to sign the contract when the directors meet Sept. 18.

It is not clear, what effect, if any, the failure to use a checklist will have on the vote to award a contract.

If the vote to appropriate the pumper is challenged, it will be the second district vote challenge this year. At the annual meeting, Thomas E. Landers was re-elected president by a 7-vote margin over Gordon Lassow. But after the vote, Lassow supporters questioned the election because 267 votes were cast but only 259 people were checked off on the voter list.

LaBelle said the vote was valid because there was no way to determine why there was a discrepancy or to establish that anyone voted fraudulently. Voters were not segregated from non-voters at the meeting. However, that was not done at the meeting Monday.

As a result of the confusion, district leaders felt that some methods must be found in the future to segregate voters from non-voters at the meeting. However, that was not done at the meeting Monday.

There was also a Republican mayoral primary in New Haven, and party-endorsed Robie Pooley, an alderwoman, has 1,277 votes to challenger Tobin E. Hitt's 728, unofficial returns showed.

The Democratic returns in Bridgeport showed Buccia with 4,860 votes, Cocco with 3,075, attorney Joseph Ganim with 2,706, Charles W. Tisdale with 2,503, state Rep. Robert T. Keeley Jr. with 1,129 and former City Clerk Leonard L. Crono with 1,053.

Paolotta beat Tisdale in the 1983 mayoral election and lost two years later to Buccia.

Moran, who had 2,004 votes to Paolotta's 1,972, said the city needs "a new voice" and vowed a vigorous campaign against Buccia.

In Waterbury, Brown, a former nun, said she knew faced an uphill fight against two-term Republican Mayor Joseph J. Santopietro but said that with a unified Democratic Party she stood a good chance of beating him.

In Bristol, incumbent Democratic Mayor John J. Leone easily turned back a challenge by Lynn Rossi for the nomination, 3,678 to 2,405, unofficial returns showed.

The winner of the Stamford Republican mayoral primary was challenger Leonard Vignola Jr., who had 3,450 votes to party-endorsed Joseph Tarzia's 2,667. Vignola will face three-term incumbent Democrat Thom Serrano in November.

Officials hope Big E will attract big bucks

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The 68th annual Big E Exposition and officials say they hope the huge state fair will generate $47 million.

The fair runs from Sept. 13-24 and is expected to draw one million visitors, fair officials said.

The $47 million figure is for the Big E alone and doesn't include the more than 100 events held on the fairgrounds at other times of the year. George Jones, Big E executive vice president, said.

The Big E was first held for six days in 1917 with 138,000 attendees. Nowadays the event is billed as the largest fair in the East and features arts and crafts exhibitions, food, entertainment and exhibits of New England's history as well as the traditional livestock shows.

On display this year is "Old Peppers," a 123-year-old steam-powered locomotive built as an experiment to see if a train could climb and descend steep inclines. The little train successfully climbed Mount Washington on the first try and was used to help build the Mount Washington railway and passenger services until it was retired in 1978.

This year, the Big E features a big top featuring circus acts each evening.

And on Sunday fire-breathing cooks will compete in the Clores Chili Cook-off.

On Sept. 22, the governors of New England will visit the fairgrounds for a conference and a look at the Avenue of States.

school children to the town's four schools. He said he did that to familiarize himself with the town, and meet parents and children. He calls the children "my clients."

Malinowski sees one of his primary responsibilities as getting support from townspeople for education.

"One of my chief jobs is to sell the budget," he said.

One way he plans to accomplish that goal is by establishing an "open door" policy with the community, letting people know he is interested in hearing their ideas on what he should be doing and how. He said he hopes to let townspeople know that they share a goal with him — cost-effective education.

He says it is unfortunate that people in general have developed a "mind set" that there are "frills and fat" in education budgets.

Malinowski hopes to convey to the public and media during some tough times that schools are good investments by speaking to local service organizations, offering information seminars and meeting town Rotarians who said advertising for the lotto may encourage too much gambling.

"When you buy a Lotto ticket if you don't hit it at least you know the money is going to a good cause," Harrigan said.

The division runs all legalized gambling in the state, including jai alai and off-track betting, but Lotto generates the most money, he said.

"Lotto is the kingpin in terms of dollars and in terms of interest generated," Harrigan said.

The prizes are also large, he said. Since 1983, the Lotto game has generated about $1.8 billion in prizes.

Malinowski received his bachelor's degree from Boston University and his master's degree from Northeastern University, also in Boston.

He has done work in curriculum and instruction at the University of Massachusetts.

Malinowski was chosen from a field of 60 people interested in the post and 10 semi-finalists. He will receive a salary of $69,000.

Harrigan said about 55 percent of the players use the quick pick and about 45 percent choose their numbers. Out of the total number of $1 million winners, about 60 percent used quick picks and about 40 percent chose their numbers, he said.

Harrigan's theory is that people who write in their own numbers often use birth dates, which means they can choose numbers only up to 12 and 31. The computer chooses from all 40 numbers.

The division's public information officer for 2 1/2 years, Harrigan said he has fielded questions from the public and media during some tough times, including computer problems last year and the firing of former lottery chief Blaine Lewis in May for his refusal to implement changes in the lottery.

But the job can be rewarding, especially when winners claim their prizes, walking out of division headquarters with checks of up to $240,000 with their name on it.

SNACKS CAN SCORE HIGH in TASTE + NUTRITION

Snacking is an all-American habit — one all too often associated with fat, sodium and calorie-laden "junk" foods. However, there's really no need to get the guilts: the good news is that most nutritionists do, in fact, recommend frequent mini-meals rather than three heavy ones each day. With out abandoning those mid-morning, mid-afternoon and late night nibbles, there is a better way. And what better time to build a healthier equation than now when it's back to school, back to business.

People who love popcorn — and who doesn't? — will applaud this scrumptious variation on the theme, Figgy Caramel Almond Crunch. California's unique, tart-sweet Black Mission figs are wonderfully chewy and, like all figs, provide the most complete nutrition of any single fruit: super high in fiber as well as calcium, with about one-third the calories in raisins and no cholesterol. Almonds — an excellent source of vegetable protein, vitamin E and iron, with beneficial monounsaturated fat and, again, zero cholesterol — add distinctive flavor and satisfying crunch plus a solid amount of fiber.

Snacks should be simple to put together in short order and these Smorrebrod Sandwiches, inspired by Scandinavian tradition, certainly fill the bill. They feature a deliciously different combination of smoky ham, naturally sun-ripened, sun-dried California figs and authentic Kavi Norwegian crispbread, hearty, crunchy crackers with zesty rye or rye-bran flavor, they're super low in calories, sodium and fat, loaded with quality fiber and, of course, cholesterol-free.

Crispbreads again form a savory base for quick-to-fix Grilled Greek-Style Sandwiches. Part-skin milk cheeses and superior, sliced natural California almonds keep both fat and sodium in check. Green onion and colorful bell peppers enhance the tangy taste.

A streamlined version of the classic, Middle Eastern Eggplant Dip can be prepared in your microwave and also benefits from the texture of versatile almonds. Crispbreads offer an intriguing, light alternative to heavy, doughy dips.

When you crave something sweet, Apple Fig Conserve combines a handful of healthful ingredients — with delightful results. California Calimnyas are a must here, less sugary than their Old World cousins: did you know figs are our most ancient fruit (rather than an apple, I've probably gone one to Adam!), prized by the Greeks and Romans for their healing properties and, like almonds, brought to America by Spanish settlers.

Smorrebrod Sandwiches

8 ounces light cream cheese
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
6 Kavi Norwegian crispbreads

6 thin slices lean smoked ham (about 1/4 pound)
6 California figs, sliced
1 cup sliced cucumber rounds
Fresh dill sprigs, optional

Mix together cream cheese, lemon juice and dill weed. To assemble sandwiches, spread 2 tablespoons cream cheese mixture on each crispbread. Top each with 1 slice ham, 1 sliced fig and 3-4 slices cucumber. Garnish with dill, if desired. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

*Cream cheese mixture may be made in advance and stored, tightly covered, up to 1 week in refrigerator.

Add taste, excitement to food by cooking lemons

Give your microwave some power. Using lemons adds taste to foods as well as keeping your microwave fresh smelling. You can also get more juice out of a lemon by microwaving it on high power for 30 seconds before squeezing.

The best lemon for juice and pulp are small round or oval ones, with smooth, unblemished skins. Smaller lemons tend to have fewer seeds. In recipes specifying juice of one lemon, you can substitute two to three tablespoons bottled lemon juice, if you don't have fresh lemons on hand.

When a recipe calls for lemon peel or zest, use only the part of the peel which is yellow. The best way to get the zest off without the bitter, white pith that lies between the skin and the pulp is to use a potato peeler or grater.

Some other uses for lemons are:

- To get odors out of your microwave, combine the juice and peel of a lemon in a cup of water. Boil on high power for five minutes, then, wipe the oven cavity with a cloth dampened with lemon water.
- To remove garlic or onion odors from hands, rub a bunch of fresh parsley or mint leaves with lemon peel between your palms.
- Rub the cut side of a lemon half over eggshell surfaces before boiling to avoid cracking.

Make your own dried lemon or orange peel when you are squeezing lemons or oranges for something else. Grate the peel before squeezing, place in a glass bowl, and microwave at high power for 30 to 60 seconds or until dry, stirring once. Store in the refrigerator or freezer in a tightly sealed jar.

Kleptomaniac can't seem to find help

DEAR ABBY: If you're an alcoholic, you can get help at Alcoholics Anonymous. If you're a drug addict, you can get help from any number of drug rehabilitation facilities. But if you're a kleptomaniac — and not rich — you are doomed.

Psychiatrists charge outrageous fees to help kleptomaniacs, even though kleptomania is a "sickness," the same as drinking, smoking and drug addiction. I know that taking things without paying for them is stealing, yet I take small items I have no use for — I just can't seem to help myself. (It's just a hard to take things back, which I have tried to do several times.)

I am a church-going, middle-aged woman, and that's all I can tell you about myself. Please answer me in the paper. Maybe others with this problem will write in and tell you how they were cured.

and call. You will be told what kind of help is available near you. You will be charged according to what you can afford to pay. There is no quick "cure," but a therapist may be able to tell you why you take things, and once you understand the reason for your behavior, you will be well on your way to overcoming it. I advise you. The person who knows he or she has a problem and seeks a solution is halfway cured.

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem that requires a quiet solution. A wedding is coming up in our family soon, and there is a certain relative who takes her 6-year-old daughter everywhere. teacher and would like to offer a little advice to parents. Several of my little ones are bedwetters, and the odor can get very strong at times. I suppose some parents do not notice it before they've grown accustomed to it, but I wish you'd remind parents to give their children a bath every morning before they're sent off to school. (Even a sponge bath would help the bedwetters.)

No-fault insurance manages a comeback amid high rates

Sylvia Porter

When California residents voted last year on a proposition aimed at dramatically reducing auto insurance rates, they sent out a message that still is reverberating across the country: Rapidly escalating insurance costs must be brought under control.

Rates are rising because the underlying costs of auto insurance (medical payments, litigation and the expense of repairing sophisticated vehicles) continue to increase.

One remedy gaining new popularity is "no-fault" auto insurance, an idea first proposed nearly 20 years ago but, with a few exceptions, not fully embraced by consumers or politicians.

In its true form, no-fault is a system that requires each driver's insurance company to pay the medical and disability costs of its customer even if the "other guy" caused the accident.

Restricted (and this is where a big part of the potential cost savings comes in) is the ability to sue for pain and suffering except in cases where the injury is severe and access to the courts is permitted.

Because lawsuits are limited and insurance companies are dealing with more predictable costs — "perfect" no-fault laws have been changed since then — firms are better able to determine and control potential future costs.

A true no-fault system is cost-efficient and delivers benefits more quickly to injured parties than an insurance system that depends on bringing a lawsuit. Victims are compensated without regard to fault.

A greater portion of the premium goes to the victim rather than to a legal system that is expensive and time-consuming. And rates for insurance can be brought under better control.

The more certainty you can add to the rate-making process, the more you can stabilize costs," explains John Martin, president of Aetna Life & Casualty's personal financial security division.

The problem with the way no-fault has been implemented since the 1970s and the reason premiums are high even in some no-fault states — is that most of the laws created in the past 15 years only have left a lot of room for loopholes.

Fourteen states have no-fault laws (Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota and Utah). Other states, including Pennsylvania, are considering similar laws.

Michigan, New York and Florida, however, an accident victim has no right to sue for non-medical expenses that exceed a certain amount. In Connecticut, that limit is only $400. Until recently, New Jersey had a $200 limit and provided unlimited medical benefits.

Traditionally, the problem with medical and hospital expenses and loss of income — firms are better able to determine and control potential future costs.

College needs information

DEAR BRUCE: I will be a freshman in college this year. The school requires me to give them my Social Security number to use as my student I.D. number. I feel that my Social Security number is a personal matter and should not be displayed on college files, I.D. cards, dorm material and library cards.

The college is adamant and unless I allow them to use my Social Security number, I cannot be a student. Is this a proper use of a Social Security number?

WOULD-BE STUDENT

DEAR WOULD-BE STUDENT: Many colleges and universities use the Social Security number for I.D. numbers. It is a number that most people remember and there are theoretically no duplications.

I don't see why you object so strenuously. While your Social Security information is confidential, your number is not. It appears on almost every job and many credit applications. I wouldn't lose any sleep over it.

I don't know if the university will keep you out because of this, but they can certainly make your life uncomfortable. The work has already had one Don Quixote tilting windmills; it does not need another.

DEAR BRUCE: You have been married for 3 1/2 months and cannot sue your first serious argument. Naturally, it is over money.

I saw an advertisement on TV this afternoon and thought to respond. They asked for my credit-card number and in payment for the merchandise, which I gave to them.

My husband tells me that I am a blithering idiot. He says that now they have my credit-card number and can charge anything they want and that I am irresponsible and shouldn't be allowed to have credit.

I asked my husband how they could advertise like this if it is such a bad thing to do. He said only suckers give their credit-card number over the phone. With that, he took my cards out of my purse and cut all my cards up. I don't think I acted irresponsibly, but he is 35 and I am only 22.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What effect does caffeine have on an unborn infant?

DEAR READER: Because caffeine crosses the placental barrier and is absorbed into the fetal circulation, it can affect an adult's nervousness, jitteriness, insomnia and rapid pulse. In the vast majority of cases, this is not a problem; only when the mother-to-be uses caffeine excessively will the fetus show signs of over-stimulation.

Duchess to have child
 LONDON (AP) — The Duchess of York and Prince Andrew are expecting a baby that would be their second child and the sixth grandchild of Queen Elizabeth II.

"I just want a happy, healthy baby and a friend for Beatrice. It will be nice for Beatrice to have someone to play with," said the former Sarah Ferguson, who is due in March and whose first baby was born 13 months ago.

The red-haired duchess known as "Fergie," who will be 30 on Oct. 15, spoke at a literary luncheon Tuesday hours after the formal announcement by Buckingham Palace. Her husband, also 29, was on duty as a Royal Navy lieutenant at Portland in southwest England.

Television personality David Frost announced the pregnancy to the 300 guests at the lunch honoring the duchess as the author of two children's books about a helicopter named Bludgie.

"If the baby is a boy, the British order of succession will put him ahead of his sister as the fifth in line to the throne, after Prince Charles, his two sons and Prince Andrew.

Reagan answers get-well mail
 ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Former President Reagan went through get-well cards and messages from Hollywood friends such as Bob Hope, Claudette Colbert and Jimmy Stewart as he continues recovery from skull surgery.

In addition, Maureen Reagan paid her father a surprise visit, joining Reagan and his wife, Nancy, at lunch Tuesday, said family spokesman Mark Weinberg.

Reagan, 78, underwent surgery Friday at St. Marys Hospital to drain fluid that built up on his brain after he was thrown from a horse on July 4. His recovery is progressing as expected, Weinberg said.

"We're still hopeful, if the present rate of progress continues, he will be able to return to California by the end of the week," Weinberg said. "There are no plans at this point for any additional surgery."

Comic strip creators honored
 RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Comic strip creators Mort Walker, Will Eisner and the late Dick Cavett have been voted into the Hall of Fame of the Museum of Cartoon Art.

Walker, whose strip "Beetle Bailey" is about Army life, founded the museum in 1974.

Eisner, who drew and wrote "The Spirit" for 10 years, has become one of the leading artists in graphic novels, the museum said.

Browne, who invented "Hagar the Horrible" about a good-natured Viking chief and the family that puts up with him, was known by his professional peers as the "cartoonist's cartoonist," the museum said. He died in June.

 Bruce Williams

If this is such a terrible thing to do, how can so many companies advertise on very respectable television and radio stations and expect to get a credit-card account number?

N.M., ST. LOUIS

DEAR N.M.: There may be a child in your family, but the child is in his 8th and the adult is in her 20s. Your husband acted miserably.

There is absolutely nothing wrong with giving your credit-card number over the telephone to a reputable organization in many times and have never had a problem.

To take your credit cards and cut them up was the act of a spoiled child. When your husband calms down, you might tell him that if the card is used improperly, by this company or anyone else without a signature, you are not responsible for the charges. You have recourse by putting the matter into context and then it becomes the credit-card company's problem.

Even if you acted irresponsibly, he had absolutely no right to take cards out of your wallet or destroy them because, for one thing, they still technically remain the property of the credit-card company.

If you judge, your husband owes you a profound apology, immature behavior, such as he displayed, is not what sound marriages are built upon. I hope for your sake this child grows up quickly.

Meetings can be beneficial to all parties

What has become standard practice at many high schools is a pre-season meeting that involves coaches, players and parents. It is an excellent idea, getting everyone involved together, away from the playing arena.

East Catholic is one school that has taken this one step further. It's making attendance at such meetings mandatory. And attendance at last Thursday's meeting, according to East director of athletics Tom Malin, was 95 percent.

The meeting was at 7 o'clock. I had parents calling me up to 6:30 telling me that they had an emergency or something had come up and they couldn't make it. They were taking it quite seriously," Malin said. One thing which Malin wants is to keep these meetings fresh, and more importantly relevant. With this in mind, he had Trooper First Class Jim Barnes of the Connecticut State Police address the entire gathering before those in attendance broke up into the respective sports.

If you ask Malin, Barnes' delivery on "Chemical Substances — Alcohol/Drugs" hit home. "I had some athletes come in the next day who said we should have Trooper Barnes address the entire student body. I guess the message he brought did hit home. To get feedback like that makes you feel good. If you see that it reaches just one kid, then it's meaningful and successful."

The idea behind the meeting is a solid one. There are parents who do not know what his/her son or daughter's coach looks or sounds like. The get-together is that opportunity.

We break up into individual sports so parents can get to see who the coach is. They get to see face to face," Malin said.

What benefits does Malin see derive from this? "It's to keep the parents and athletes informed from the athletic department point of view, such as what our philosophy or policies are on certain subjects. We deal with 32 different towns so a lot of people don't know our procedures."

"Second is to let the parents know who the coaches are and we let them relay our message to the parents," Malin said.

The subject matter includes information about insurance coverage, how to file an injury report, etc. Each parent receives a copy of the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference's (CIAC) guide on eligibility and due process.

"Each student and parent has a sign in form indicating they were at the meeting and they received a copy of the CIAC rules," Malin said.

Each student and parent also receives a copy of the student handbook. Here, too, the involved parties must indicate they received a copy. This is important in that if a rule is violated, one who is clearly spelled out in the manual, the involved athlete cannot say he wasn't aware of the rules.

Malin credits the coaches for getting the message across to their athletes. He also said full support from the administration was of tremendous assistance, as well. The 95 percent attendance figure was not by accident. The meetings will continue.

"It helps open up this line of communications between athletes, the athletic department, coaches and parents," Malin said. "We will continue to do it in the winter and spring."

It's an idea that not many schools follow. It wouldn't be bad if all schools don't adopt a policy.

Spitz thinking of a comeback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mark Spitz will try to recapture one-seventh of his Olympic glory 20 years later. Spitz, who won an all-time record seven gold medals in the 1972 Olympics at Munich, will try to qualify for the 1992 Games in Barcelona in the 100-meter butterfly, according to a published report.

Spitz won the gold medal in the 100-meter butterfly in the 1972 Olympics in 54.27 seconds, a time which would have been eighth-best in the 1988 Games.

A story in Tuesday's edition of USA Today quoted the 39-year-old Spitz, considered the greatest swimmer in Olympic history, as saying he is training for the U.S. Olympic Trials, which will be held in 2 1/2 years.

"I don't really call this a comeback because I left this sport at the top," Spitz told USA Today. "I want to swim the next three years like there's no tomorrow and, to me, that would be the accomplishment."

A source told The Associated Press that Spitz is, indeed, attempting a comeback and believes he can do it. It was also learned that a lengthy article on Spitz' comeback attempt, written by Bud Greenpan, will appear in Sunday's Parade Magazine.

Spitz, who will be 42 when the next Olympics are held, has turned down all interview requests, including major television shows.

Spitz not only won seven golds 17 years ago, he set seven world records. But he will focus on just the one event, the 100-meter butterfly, at the present time.

U.S. Swimming Inc. officials confirmed that Spitz was reinstated as an eligible competitor by FINA, the governing body for world aquatic sports.

To compete in the U.S. Trials, Spitz has to attain the Trials qualifying time, which is still undetermined, in a regional meet. Then, he would have to finish first or second in the Trials to qualify for the 1992 Games.

In 1967, Spitz broke three United States and five world records, won five gold medals in the Pan American Games at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and was named Swimmer of the Year by Swimming World magazine.

Experience main concern for Manchester football

By Jim Tierney
Manchester Herald

Experience, or more appropriately, a lack of experience will be the major obstacle standing in the way of the Manchester High football team as it heads into its season opener on Saturday against Windsor High School at 1:30 p.m. at Memorial Field.

For first-year Indian coach Mike Masse, rebuilding a 2-8 team from a year ago which wound up with a combined varsity/junior roster of 23 is a herculean chore. Already, the prospects of altering the attitude and commitment to the Indian football program appear to be heading in the right direction.

"I feel optimistic going in," Masse said. "The attitude has been real good. The numbers are great. The kids have been working hard. It's just a matter of the experience factor. We have a lot of seniors, a lot of people who haven't played in one, two and three years."

Masse notes he has a varsity/junior varsity roster of 60 while the freshmen program has nearly 40. "It's a matter of how quick they get the experience," Masse continued. "We have a real good sophomore class and the juniors coming in are quality people. So, the future looks bright. This year, I think kids will get the experience."

"As for this year's outlook?" "Our first goal is to be competitive in the league and in every game we play," Masse noted. "The attitude has been real good. I think that's something that's got to be constantly worked on because they lost so many close ones last year. It's been good so far. I wish we could spray it and we'd get the experience like that."

One returning ingredient which instills the largest amount of optimism in the new Indian coaching staff which consists of Eric Farro, Barry Bernstein, Karl Grabowski and Colin O'Neil, is senior quarterback Aris Leonard.

The speedy 5-10, 160-pound Leonard will present opposing defenses with a double threat with his strong arm and his running ability. Leonard will handle the punting and field goal duties.

"If I have to have somebody coming back, I'd rather have it in the quarterback who's been in the arena before," Masse said. "He (Leonard) has the experience as well as time to break it and make a big play. On any of our passing plays, he's got the option to run it anytime."

Junior Kevin Bottomley and senior Steve Odierna are penciled in as the starting running backs in the year offense. Seniors Nick Palermo, Steve Joyner and junior Terry Perry are reserve backs. Joyner and sophomore Dave White are backups to Leonard's quarterback. Seniors Ray Minor and Pete Fongemie, and sophomore John Johnson and Joyner should see action at the wide receiver position.

Senior Cory Wesloskie will start at tight end with junior John Rossetti as his backup. Seniors John Jaworski (5-11, 205) and Scott Marcantonio (6-2, 210) will be the tackles. Junior Rob Bove (6-0, 190) will play either tackle or guard while seniors Shannon Brimmer (5-11, 175) and Ed Kravitz will occupy the guard slots. Sophomore Dave Lyder (5-10, 180) will be the center.

Palermo and Odierna will start at defensive back while Joyner will be the strong safety. Elder Leonard, Johnson or senior Craig Pardi will be the free safety. Marcantonio and

Zimmer paying off for Cubs

By Jim Like
The Associated Press

CHICAGO — With all the plastic plugs already embedded up there, it's a wonder Don Zimmer has room enough in his head for all the wacky notions that zip through it.

But — snap! crackle! pop! — zip through it they do. And — hifi! bam! boom! oops! bunt! — the Chicago Cubs keep turning over trump cards for the gamblingest manager still making a living in baseball.

"I've been around a long time and I never played for a manager quite like Zim. He likes to play risky baseball," Andre Dawson said Tuesday night before the Cubs subdued Montreal's Expos 2-0, widening their National League East lead to 4 1/2 games.

"Slide! squeeze, safety punt, hit-and-run, just about anything else you can think of," Dawson said. "I've seen him hit-and-run with the bases loaded, and I've only seen that twice in my entire career," Dawson added, shaking his head. "Zimmer — both times!"

In fact, no part of the team is safe from that bowling ball — at 5-foot-7, a diet has brought his weight back to 190 — in clubby, Cubby blue pinstripes.

Zimmer uses the book on his pitching staff with a zeal unmatched since vaudeville, thinks nothing of taking the ball from his most consistent late-inning reliever in mid-count and shaking it to his wildest, and already doted out more intentional passes this season than the backers of a Broadway play roared by the critics on opening night.

He plays rookies and veterans into the lineup in the heat of a race with equal aplomb, then like back the chair in his office until it — and his back — are against the wall and waits for the second-guessers to beat man so good.

But even the three billy goats never met a man so guff. "Sometimes you have to face the music," Zimmer began, "but that doesn't bother me."

"If I never do nothing, I can't get criticized. But because we do so many things, we're going to get caught looking pretty silly some times."

"So what am I supposed to do, fold up the tent? Let me tell you something," he continued. "Nothing I do out there is going to affect how I sleep at night."

If Zimmer were taking such chances with a last-place team, it would be one thing. But doing it in a race with already-certified geniuses Whitey Herzog of the Cardinals and Dave Johnson of the Mets on his tail is another.

Yet, from whence all this daring springs is anyone's guess. Here, however, are several theories:

Zimmer's own record, nearly bald head was splintered 36 years earlier by a bearing in the minor leagues — the plastic plugs hold together his cranium — and the delayed reaction is just now becoming apparent.

The 1978 Boston Red Sox club he managed blew a 14 1/2-game lead while Zimmer stood pat, losing the AL East crown to the Yankees in a one-game playoff that made Bucky Dent a folk hero — and the delayed reaction is just now becoming apparent.

After being fired from the same job in San Diego, Boston and Texas, standing there and being shown the door to the coaching box in Montreal, San Diego, Boston, New York (Yankees), Chicago and San Francisco, Zimmer there are another 20 cities where he might still find a job.

"I didn't have to make no moves (in 1978). I almost couldn't make any because I had nine guys there having great years."

"But all the moves with this team are made out of necessity," Zimmer said. "I had three outfielders so far on the disabled list early, otherwise I might never have seen (Dwight) Smith and (Lloyd) McClendon."

As Zimmer talks, the late afternoon sun begins sinking and a cool breeze is blowing into Wrigley Field off Lake Michigan. His impatience shows as he begins scratching patterns in the dirt with the handle of a fungo bat.

"In two days you stand here and tell you I know what the two guys could do, any more than I know what's going to happen in the fourth inning tonight. ... I just do what I think I see ballbuck."

"They don't talk work, but that," Zimmer told a reporter around him, "is what we've got you guys for."

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — The Los Angeles Raiders placed wide receiver-kicker returner Tim Brown on the injured reserve list Tuesday and replaced him on their roster by signing former Denver Broncos safety Mike Hansen.

Brown underwent surgery Monday to repair two torn ligaments in his right knee and is expected to miss the rest of the season. Brown, a Pro Bowl kicker returned as a rookie last year, was injured in the third quarter of Sunday's season-opener against San Diego.

CLIPPERS HIRE BOB STAAK — The Los Angeles Clippers hired head coach Don Casey's staff by hiring Bob Stak and retaining 1988-89 late-season appointment Joe Roberts as assistant coaches, the team said Tuesday.

Stak, previously the head coach at Xavier of Ohio and Wake Forest, and Roberts, who joined the Clippers last Feb. 15, join Dave Twardzik on Casey's staff. Twardzik was hired earlier this summer.

Stak, 41, spent the last 10 seasons as a college head coach — six at Xavier and the last four at Wake Forest. Roberts, 53, was a co-captain on the 1960 Ohio State NCAA championship team.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians fired Doc Edwards as manager and named John Hart his replacement on an interim basis.

Edwards was nearing the end of his second one-year contract with the Indians. He replaced Pat Corrales as manager July 16, 1987, and compiled a record of 173-207.

Freshman class keys MHS swimming

By Jim Tierney
Manchester Herald

A large and talented freshman class will be the strong suit for the Manchester High swim team this season which begins Tuesday at home against Bulkeley High School.

Besides the influx of freshmen, 15th-year Indian coach Dave Frost has his largest roster ever. Frost said his complete roster is 39 swimmers and divers, including 12 freshmen.

Manchester, which finished 10-1 a year ago and in second place in the CCC East behind Windham, lost eight seniors.

"It's the largest freshman class I can remember," Frost said. "It's a tremendous class. A number of them are going to do something from Day 1. The freshmen class really gives us the strength of our team because we lost eight seniors from last year. It's the best freshman class in 10 years."

Junior Katelyn Lindstrom will be the top Indian returnee. Lindstrom, whose forte is the breaststroke, will also do the 200-yard individual medley. Junior Kerri Lindland, the Class LL state high jump champion, is the No. 1 Indian diver.

"Diving is by far our strongest event," Frost said. "She (Lindland) is expected to finish high in the states." Seniors Sue Remusal, Marcia Markstein and freshman Eric Ringbloom are the other top divers.

Meissa Myers, April Little and Emily Lappen comprise the most impressive freshman trio. All will see action in freestyle events while the latter pair will also do the butterfly.

Other key freshmen performers will be Chris Hughes, Jen Karpe, Meg Burns, Jen Cannon, Sandy Brindamour, Sue Dominico and Danielle Brown. Juniors Karen White, Lauren Hickey, Audra Gullickson and Stacey Windish will all be point-getters. Sophomore Wendy Cook is the No. 1 backstroke.

"Our goal is to attempt to match last year's 10-1 record," Frost said. "I'm very optimistic about the season. Their outlook is positive."

Schedule: Sept. 19 Bulkeley H, 22 Ferni H, 26 Hall H, 29 Windsor Locks A.

Oct. 11 Windor A, 17 Concord H, 20 Windham A, 24 E.O. Smith H, 27 Enfield H, 30 East Catholic H (7 p.m.).

Cubbies open some ground in NL East

NL Roundup

By The Associated Press

The best race in the National League East right now is for second place. The Cubbies are waving goodbye.

Mike Bielecki pitched a two-hitter — allowing no hits over the final seven innings — and the Chicago Cubs beat Montreal 2-0 Tuesday night to take a 4 1/2-game lead over St. Louis.

The third-place New York Mets are 5 1/2 out and the Expos trail by six.

"It looks like there's a race for second place right now," Cardinals manager Whitey Herzog said. "We need about six shutouts in a row and have to hope we can win them."

The way the Cubs are playing, that probably wouldn't be good enough.

The Cubs, who most observers thought would fade in June, have won four straight and five of six heading down the stretch.

Bielecki gave up a leadoff single to Tim Raines in the first inning and a single to Tim Wallach with one out in the second.

"I've never pitched a better game but it could have gone either way," said Bielecki, whose previous best effort was a three-hit, 4-0 shutout against Los Angeles on July 19.

"Mike Bielecki pitched a helluva game, the best I've ever seen him pitch," Montreal manager Buck Rodgers said. "We didn't have a shot at him. Bryn Smith pitched a pretty good game but it wasn't a good enough against a guy like Bielecki."

Bielecki, 16-6, and Smith, 10-9, were locked in a scoreless duel when Vance Law opened the fifth with a single and moved to third on Shawn Dunston's double.

Smith doubled Rickey Wren on an infield pop and struck out Bielecki. Jerome Walton then swung at a 1-0 pitch that eluded catcher Nelson Santovenia and Law scored an unearned run on the passed ball.

Ryan Sandberg led off the eighth inning against reliever John Candelaria with his 30th homer to give the Cubs a 2-0 lead. Sandberg became the first second baseman to hit 30 home runs in one season since California's Bobby Grich did it in 1979.

"To me it looked like a grand slam, a nine-run inning," Cubs manager Don Zimmer said. "This doesn't leave us in the very good shape," Rodgers said. "Not when you lose the first two of a very crucial series."

Prates 5, Cardinals 2: Bob Walk allowed five hits in 8 2/3 innings for his fourth victory over St. Louis since this season and Pittsburgh continued its role of spoiler by beating the Cardinals at Busch Stadium.

The Pirates, who have won four straight, took two of three in New York over the weekend to shatter the Mets' hopes and are doing the same to the Cardinals.

Phillies 2, Mets 1: Dickie Thon homered with one out in the ninth inning to lift Philadelphia past New York at Veterans Stadium.

Reliever Don Aase, 1-5, retired pinch-hitter Len Dykstra on a popup to start the ninth, before Thon hit a 2-2 pitch over the left field wall for his 13th home run — tops among NL shortstops.

Roger McDowell, 4-6, pitched two scoreless innings for the victory. Since being acquired from the Mets on June 18, McDowell has not allowed a run at home and two of his wins are against New York.

Braves 6, Giants 5: Dale Murphy hit a three-run homer off Steve Bodinson to cap a five-run Atlanta rally in the eighth inning and lift the Braves over San Francisco at Candlestick Park.

Combined with San Diego's victory over Houston, the Padres to five games in the NL West.

Jay Aldrich, 1-0, pitched three innings for the victory.

Padres 9, Astros 6: Bruce Hurst pitched a two-hitter for his ninth complete game and Roberto Alomar drove in four runs, leading surging San Diego past Houston at Jack Murphy Stadium. The Padres have won 18 of their last 22 games.

The Padres swept the two-game series from the Astros to take over second place in the NL West.

Dodgers 5, Reds 4: Pinch-hitter Mike Marshall's bases-loaded, two-run double with none out in the ninth inning off Bob Dibble, 8-5, rallied Los Angeles over Cincinnati at Dodger Stadium.

Jay Howell, 5-3, who allowed two runs in the eighth, pitched two innings for the victory.

Foley Big East player of week

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Connecticut soccer forward Tom Foley and Terry Fibber of the Syracuse volleyball team have been named Big East Conference players of the week.

Fibber, a senior from Elmwood, Ill., leads Syracuse in kills with 31 in service aces with 10 and digs with 36. He led Syracuse to a victory in the Villanova Volleyball Invitational that included defeats of Villanova, Connecticut, Providence, and Georgetown.

Clayton ends his holdout

MIAMI (AP) — Pro Bowl wide receiver Mark Clayton joined the Miami Dolphins on the practice field Tuesday, ending a long holdout.

As the seventh-year pro returned, rookie running back Sammie Smith joined the Dolphins after reaching a contract settlement.

The addition of Clayton and Smith left starting linebackers John Ofori and Mark Brown as Dolphins holdouts.

Clayton set a club record with 86 receptions last year while earning his fourth Pro Bowl appearance. Smith, meanwhile, began catching up after becoming the last NFL first-round draft choice to sign when he accepted a four-year deal Monday for an estimated $2.5 million.

The 230-pound Smith said he's about four pounds overweight but eager to play.

Clayton said the Dolphins have assured him that they consider him one of the NFL's best receivers and will negotiate in good faith on a new contract for this season.

Brown to join Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Wide receiver Eddie Brown, the Cincinnati Bengals last holdout, signed Tuesday and is expected to play in Sunday's home opener against Pittsburgh.

It was against the Steelers last year that Brown set a team single-game record with 216 reception yards, and scored two touchdowns, in a Bengals 42-7 rout.

The Bengals declined to reveal any contract terms. But Brown, a four-year pro who led the American Football Conference in reception yards last season, said Monday he had verbally agreed to a four-year, $2.6 million contract, The Cincinnati Post reported Tuesday.

Brown is to join the Bengals for practice Wednesday. He missed Sunday's season opener in Chicago, which the Bengals lost 17-14.

Cowboys plan to give ball to Herschel

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Run, Herschel, run.

That's likely to be the Dallas Cowboys' game plan going into Sunday's NFL game against the Atlanta Falcons, after Herschel Walker complained of being ignored in Coach Jimmy Johnson's offense.

New owner Jerry Jones admitted, "It does look like we need to get Herschel in the game plan."

Johnson said Walker will be going back to Georgia as the Cowboys' workhorse after only carrying the ball eight times for 10 yards in Sunday's 28-0 loss to New Orleans.

Dallas rushed for only 20 yards against the Saints, a all-time club low.

Walker was a Heisman Trophy winner at Georgia in 1982 and will be making his first professional appearance before his home fans.

"I'll have a lot of family and friends in the stands," Walker said. "I want the ball."

Johnson said Walker has been somewhat misinformed.

"The media has made more out of it than what Herschel has made of it," Johnson said. "Herschel's not that concerned. We want him to have the football. We need to have him more involved in the offense. But the media has talked to him enough about it already."

Walker, the NFL's leading rusher in 1988 with more than 1,500 yards, said the current Cowboys offense is not designed for running backs.

"It's an offense for quarterbacks and wide receivers," he said. "Ten times, that's not stopping our running game."

Chicken a la King will never replace crab cakes as a Baltimore specialty even though Eric King is making a specialty of beating the Baltimore Orioles.

It was King's fourth start against Baltimore, he said, and he was hoping to get a good meal. He said he was hoping to get a good meal.

The Orioles, however, weren't doing any laughing since the setback prevented them from gaining ground in the American League East. They remained two games behind Toronto, which lost to Minnesota 8-2.

"I don't know what it is, it just happened to be them," said King, 8-9, who yielded only three hits in seven innings. "I know I'm comfortable out there pitching against them. I take them like they're any other team. Just because they're having a good season doesn't have any effect on me."

The Orioles didn't understand it, either.

"When he's had he beats us. When he's good he beats us," hitting coach Tommy McCraw said. "There's always one guy who wears you out. I'm sure there's something you can put your finger on. I'm sure if Nolan Ryan knew, he'd change."

DOES IT AGAIN — Relief pitcher Mike Scholer of the Seattle Mariners receives congratulations from catcher David Valle Tuesday night in Seattle after closing out a game against the Boston Red Sox for a second game in a row. Scholer's 28th save of the season closed out a 5-3 victory.

Indians 1, Tigers 0: Jerry Browne singled home the game's only run in the eighth inning and Bud Black pitched a five-hitter as Cleveland beat the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in the ninth inning. Scholer's 28th save of the season closed out a 5-3 victory.

Mariners 5, Red Sox 3: Greg Briley hit a two-run homer and Jay Butler had a four-run double as Seattle beat Boston's seventh consecutive loss.

After Mike Greenwell doubled a run home in the top of the first, Seattle scored three times in the bottom of the inning. Henry Coto doubled and scored on a single by Alvin Davis. One out later, Ken Griffey Jr. doubled and he and Davis scored on Butler's double. The Mariners made it 5-1 in the second when Omar Vizquel walked and Briley followed with a home run, his 13th, off Eric Hatzel, who lasted only 1-1/3 innings.

Toronto's Todd Stottlemyre had a five-game winning streak snapped. He gave up nine hits in 6-1/3 innings and hurt his cause with poor fielding. Stottlemyre's second throwing error on Greg Gagne's bunt single touched off Minnesota's five-run seventh inning that broke open a 3-2 game.

Brewers 7, Athletics 6: Greg Vaughn's three-run homer capped a five-run fourth-inning rally and Dan Plesha led a club record with his 97th strikeout as Milwaukee came back from a 5-0 deficit for its sixth straight victory.

The victory pulled third-place Milwaukee within 6 1/2 games of Toronto in the AL East. Oakland's lead over Kansas City in the West dropped to three games.

Royals 6, Rangers 5: Pincus Hater Pat Baber greeted Texas reliever Kenny Rogers with a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning, nullifying 13 strikeouts by Nolan Ryan. Frank White doubled leading off the ninth. Rogers relieved Ryan and yielded Taylor's second home run of the season.

Rick Lueken, the fourth Kansas City pitcher, was the even stronger-voiced quarrel-baiter. He pitched 7 1/3 innings and struck out 10 batters. He walked two and pitched a perfect game.

"There are a lot of things you can't say," Holtz said Tuesday, but he has problems at Ohio State, he has increased his major league double-figure total to 277, his highest since 1977 and the most ever after 29 starts for the 42-year-old right-hander.

After Mike Greenwell doubled a run home in the top of the first, Seattle scored three times in the bottom of the inning. Henry Coto doubled and scored on a single by Alvin Davis. One out later, Ken Griffey Jr. doubled and he and Davis scored on Butler's double. The Mariners made it 5-1 in the second when Omar Vizquel walked and Briley followed with a home run, his 13th, off Eric Hatzel, who lasted only 1-1/3 innings.

Toronto's Todd Stottlemyre had a five-game winning streak snapped. He gave up nine hits in 6-1/3 innings and hurt his cause with poor fielding. Stottlemyre's second throwing error on Greg Gagne's bunt single touched off Minnesota's five-run seventh inning that broke open a 3-2 game.

Brewers 7, Athletics 6: Greg Vaughn's three-run homer capped a five-run fourth-inning rally and Dan Plesha led a club record with his 97th strikeout as Milwaukee came back from a 5-0 deficit for its sixth straight victory.

The victory pulled third-place Milwaukee within 6 1/2 games of Toronto in the AL East. Oakland's lead over Kansas City in the West dropped to three games.

Royals 6, Rangers 5: Pincus Hater Pat Baber greeted Texas reliever Kenny Rogers with a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning, nullifying 13 strikeouts by Nolan Ryan. Frank White doubled leading off the ninth. Rogers relieved Ryan and yielded Taylor's second home run of the season.

Rick Lueken, the fourth Kansas City pitcher, was the even stronger-voiced quarrel-baiter. He pitched 7 1/3 innings and struck out 10 batters. He walked two and pitched a perfect game.

"There are a lot of things you can't say," Holtz said Tuesday, but he has problems at Ohio State, he has increased his major league double-figure total to 277, his highest since 1977 and the most ever after 29 starts for the 42-year-old right-hander.

BUSINESS

In Brief . . .

Ames completes sale

ROCKY HILL (AP) — Ames Department Stores Inc., has completed the previously announced sale of its G.C. Murphy Co. variety stores to E-I Holdings, Inc., for $77.6 million, the company has announced. G.C. Murphy of McKeessport, Pa., operates 130 variety stores and 25 Bargain World Stores in 13 states. E-I Holdings operates variety stores through its McCrory Corp. subsidiary.

Ames operates 60 discount department stores and a number of specialty stores, including Crafts & More, in 23 states and the District of Columbia.

Joint venture set

MIDDLEBURY (AP) — Uniroval Chemical Co. says it has formed a joint venture with Han Jung, a wholly owned subsidiary of Han Nong Corp., of Korea, for the production and marketing of rubber chemicals.

The joint venture, announced Tuesday, is to be called Unkor with each partner owning 50 percent. The agreement calls for Uniroval to supply technology and for Unkor to start producing antigrand chemical products early in 1990, with an option to expand to other rubber chemicals in the future.

Han Jung has a manufacturing plant in Uniroval, a worldwide producer of specialty chemicals and high performance polymers.

Stocks gain again

The stock market managed its second gain in the past six sessions on Tuesday. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.85 to 2,707.26 after losing 5.13 points in the previous session.

The dollar was narrowly mixed. Coffee futures prices plunged; sugar futures rose sharply; grains and soybeans were lower; energy futures weakened; precious metals advanced; and livestock and metal futures were mixed.

IRA plan is urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee has proposed that deductible Individual Retirement Accounts be offered to taxpayers as a substitute for reducing the tax on capital gains.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, whose committee is expected to write a tax bill later this month, said Tuesday his plan also would allow penalty-free withdrawals from IRAs to buy a first home or finance a college education.

Bentsen said the federal deficit is too big to allow both such a reduction, which President Bush has recommended, and expanded IRAs.

Paramount profits off

NEW YORK (AP) — Paramount Communications Inc. said its third-quarter profit tumbled 20.1 percent as a hefty charge stemming from its failed bid for Time Inc. more than offset a strong showing in entertainment.

The overall results Tuesday fell largely within expectations although some analysts said they were disappointed that Paramount's publishing operations posted only a modest improvement from a year ago.

Paramount, which changed its name from Gulf & Western Inc. in June, said it earned $96.3 million, or 80 cents per share, for the three months ended July 31, compared with $120.5 million, or $1 a share, a year earlier.

Virus attack odd

NEW YORK (AP) — A harmful but rare computer virus is set to attack IBM-compatible personal computers after Oct. 12, experts in computer security say.

The virus cripples personal computers' hard disks, where programs and data are stored, by wiping out the directory sections known as the partition table and file allocation table.

An industry association said Tuesday it has created a program that will detect the virus and another one that will eradicate it.

Supermarket plans to move

The Stop & Shop Supermarket at 347 Broad St. in the Manchester Parkade will move to the building currently occupied by the Sears Roebuck and Co. department store, which is moving to the new Pavilions at Buckland Hills.

The move to 348 W. Middle Turnpike will give Stop & Shop more space to expand existing departments and add new ones, Doris Keating, a spokeswoman for the Braintree, Mass.-based Stop &

Shop Companies said Tuesday. Thomas Wilder, a partner in Wilder Manley Associates, the firm that owns the Broad Street side of the Parkade, said Monday Stop & Shop mentioned several months ago that it was considering moving the store to the Sears space but has given any formal notice.

Keating said Tuesday she couldn't say when the move would occur because company officials are negotiating the lease. She said she couldn't say whether the grocery store would stay open during the move.

The new Sears store in the Buckland mall will measure 120,000 to 130,000 square feet. The mall is being built by the East of Buckland Hills Partnership, which includes a Sears Roebuck subsidiary, the Chicago-based Hormel Development Co.

The mall is scheduled to open next spring with Sears as one of its five anchor stores.

Digital offers severance plan

BOSTON (AP) — Digital Equipment Corp. has offered 40 to 104 weeks of pay to 700 employees if they voluntarily leave the company.

Digital, the nation's second largest computer firm, has never had a layoff in its 31-year history and said it has no plans for one.

Under intense price competition and declining U.S. sales, however, the Maynard-based company is detaching what it calls a "work force transition" to reduce its manufacturing payroll by 4,000 jobs this year through redeployment, training and the voluntary severance package.

The severance package was offered Tuesday to 500 workers at Digital's former systems manufacturing plant in Salem and 200 employees based at other sites whose jobs are related to the Salem facility, said it expects overall hundreds of employees to accept the offer. Those who choose not to leave the company may be transferred.

Digital now employs 125,800 people worldwide, including 33,600 in Massachusetts. In May, the company paid the salaries of all of its 73,500 employees in the United States. Employees at foreign facilities were not affected because sales overseas have remained strong.

Digital spokesman Nikki Richardson based at other sites would include 40 weeks of pay for employees with less than two years of service.

Employees with three to 10 years of service are also eligible for 40 weeks of pay, plus three additional weeks for every year of service over three years. That means a 10-year veteran would get 61 weeks of pay.

Employees with more than 10 years of service would get 64 weeks of pay.

Arms pact seen for chemicals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barring a last-minute hitch, the United States and the Soviet Union will announce next week a landmark agreement to disclose their stockpiles of chemical weapons and permit inspection of their production facilities.

The emerging accord extends the principle of verification established in a 1987 U.S.-Soviet treaty to scrap all nuclear missiles with a range of 300 to 3,400 miles.

But the United States must first gain the cooperation of West Germany, on whose territory some U.S. chemical weapons are stored, U.S. officials said Wednesday.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze would sign the agreement at their Sept. 22-23 meeting in Jackson Hole, Wyo., while making preparations for a superpower summit.

President Bush will see Shevardnadze in Washington on Sept. 21, an administration official said.

U.S. officials, who disclosed the latest arms control moves, said final details first must be ironed out by U.S. and Soviet experts.

"We are close," one official said.

The other key provision calls for short-notice inspection of each other's stockpiles and plants. It is designed as a model for an international treaty now under negotiation by 40 nations in Geneva.

The major sticking point in completing that accord is that the United States believes the Soviet Union has more chemical weapons than it is willing to acknowledge.

"We don't believe the Soviets, but we don't know how to find out how many more they have," an official said. "It's very difficult."

But he said the U.S.-Soviet memorandum is designed to serve as a "confidence-building" measure that could improve prospects for a 40-nation treaty.

The two superpowers, the only countries to admit possessing chemical weapons, began their negotiations four years ago and have had 12 rounds of talks in Geneva.

Democrats' caucuses were illegal

By Alex Girelli
Manchester Herald

The state Freedom of Information Commission upheld a Republican town director's complaint Wednesday that Democratic directors illegally caucused in private.

Democratic Town Chairman Theodore R. Cummings said today his party may file a counter-complaint against the Republicans for holding what he called secret meetings.

In a 4-0 vote, the FOI commission upheld Republican Director Ronald Osella's complaint that two Democratic caucuses held with Cummings present and two town attorneys violated the state's open meeting law because the Democrats, a quorum on the board, met with others present and discussed town business. The FOI Commission also ordered the Democrats to cease caucusing with others present.

In making the order, the commissioners accepted a recommendation by Commissioner Deane C. Avery that gatherings of the Democratic directors with Cummings present are meetings under the FOI law and must be subject to the law's requirement for public notice.

Immediately after the decision, Mayor Peter P. DiRosa Jr. said he will appeal it to the Superior Court. But he said he has not decided what attorney will represent him in the appeal. DiRosa presented a brief to the FOI Commission before Wednesday's hearing that had been drawn up by Stephen Penny, an attorney who is a former mayor.

Man John I. Garside Jr. said Wednesday.

But DiRosa said today that he disagrees with the ruling Wednesday by the state Freedom of Information Commission. The ruling also says future caucuses of Democratic directors must be held in public.

Commissioner Gloria Schaffer said it is very clear that when anyone outside the agency attended the gathering it becomes a meeting.

At one point DiRosa said, "What you are saying is that Commissioner Avery's recommendation is the law as the FOI (commission) sees it."

Osella told the commission the law is workable and that "the commission has broad discretion to interpret the law according to case-specific facts as presented and argued at hearing." Osella said the purpose of the caucus is to discuss political party matters and that when the discussion shifts to discussion of public business, the FOI definition of "meeting" comes into effect.

Study says earnings cap costs money

By NANCY BENAC
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The government could save $140 million a year by letting older Americans earn unlimited outside income without forfeiting Social Security benefits, two private research groups report today.

The new taxes paid by older workers who rejoin the labor force would more than offset the higher Social Security benefits that would be paid, the study said.

"Because the penalties for working are so high, many elderly workers are simply dropping out of the system and becoming more dependent on government instead," Rep. Dick Armey, R-Texas, said in an introduction to the report.

The report was sponsored by two Dallas-based groups, the Institute for Policy Innovation and the National Center for Policy Analysis.

They released the report in conjunction with the House Republican Research Committee.

Under current law, older workers between the ages of 65 and 69 lose $1 in Social Security benefits for every $2 they earn above $8,880. The limit is $6,480 for workers under age 65, and there is no limit for those 70 or older.

Starting in 1990, benefits for those age 65-69 will be reduced by $1 for every $3 earned above the limit, which rises with growth in average wages.

Almost 1 million Social Security beneficiaries lose some or all of their benefits each year, and another 100,000 people in the 65-69 age group do not file for Social Security benefits, according to the Social Security Administration.

The researchers said their best estimate was that if the earnings limit were scrapped, at least 700,000 additional elderly retirees would enter the labor market. The nation's output of goods and services would increase by at least $15.4 billion, and government revenue would rise by $4.9 billion, outstripping increased Social Security payments by $140 million, they said.

Members of Congress have repeatedly made proposals to relax or repeal the earnings limits, including a plan approved by the House Ways and Means Committee to raise the earnings limit for those age 65-69 to approximately $10,440 by 1991. The Senate also has gone on record in favor of a higher earnings limit.

Today's study estimated the Ways and Means proposal would increase federal revenue by $700 million.

"Short of abolishing the earnings test, virtually any increase in the earnings limit would lead to an increase in federal revenue that would more than offset the increase in Social Security benefit payments," the researchers reported.

Proposed legislation to exempt senior citizens who take jobs as child care workers from the earnings limits was the focus of a hearing Wednesday by a subcommittee of the House Select Committee on Aging.

Dogs attack 3 children in day-care play yard

HARTFORD (AP) — A dog believed to be a pit bull terrier attacked three young boys after leaping over a fence and into a yard filled with children at a day-care center, a victim's relative said.

About 30 to 40 children were in the yard at the Nurture Nest Day-Care Center and Pre-School in Hartford when the attack occurred shortly before 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, a teacher said.

Daniel Downer, 3, of Bloomfield needed more than 40 stitches to close a gash to his left ear, said his father, Edward J. Downer. He said the dog bit through to the bone of his son's left arm and cut the child's other ear.

Downer was listed in good condition at Saint Francis Hospital and Medical Center in Hartford early today, a nursing supervisor said.

The two other boys were treated and released, the nursing supervisor said. Derrick Conrie, 3, of Hartford, was treated for a bite on his arm. The third boy's name was not available.

Edward Downer said he was told that a pit bull and a German shepherd jumped over the fence at the day-care center and into the yard where the children were playing.

Teachers from the school rounded up the other children, as one dog first bit two boys, and then attacked Daniel Downer, who had tried to stop the dog from biting a friend, Edward Downer said.

"The dog attacked a whole bunch of kids. Then the cook beat him in the head with a broomstick," said the father. "He hit him in the head several times" before the dog would let go.

Hartford police said they received

Gunman kills 5 in rampage at print plant

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A printing-company employee with an assault rifle and a handgun opened fire in the plant today, killing at least five people and wounding 14 before taking his own life, police said.

"It looks like a battle zone ... with the blood and the people involved there," Mayor Jerry Abramson said after touring the building adjacent to The Courier-Journal newspaper offices.

Police began a floor-by-floor search for victims because of the Standard-Gravure Co. building's many "nooks and crannies," Chief Richard Dotson said.

"The gunman was randomly firing at people throughout the Standard-Gravure building," Dotson said. "We found people shot on the third floor and we found people shot
