

RECORD

About Town

Health activities to be held

Blood pressure will be screened and exercise with Celeste Carlton will be held Wednesday from 9 to 11 a.m. and at 1:15 p.m., respectively, at the town senior center, 549 E. Middle Turnpike.

Zoo trip is offered

Registration has begun for a bus trip to the Bronx Zoo on June 2, sponsored by The Last Children's Museum. Departure from the museum will be at 7:30 a.m. The bus will return to Manchester about 6:30 p.m. The cost for members is $26 for adults and $22.50 for children; non-members, $29 and $25.50, respectively. A pre-trip workshop will be held May 31, from 7 to 8 p.m. at the museum, 247 S. Main St. To register, call 645-0949.

Retirement party to be held

Reservations are open for a retirement party for Deputy Fire Chief James McKay on June 8, at 6:30 p.m. at Willie's Restaurant, 444 Center St. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $25 per person. Call Jean Warren at 647-3266.

Voter registration program held

The Registrars of Voters will hold a Voter Outreach Registration Program on Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Manchester Parkade. New voter registrations from residents of any Connecticut towns and changes of address or party enrollment from Manchester residents will be accepted.

Council meeting is scheduled

The Manchester Community Services Council will hold "A Meeting to Consider the Future of the Council" on Thursday from noon to 1:30 p.m. at South United Methodist Church, 1226 Main St. The meeting is the culmination of a process that began last year to determine what role the council should play in the community. The cost is $5.

Blood pressure checks taken

The Manchester Health Department will offer blood pressure checks on Thursday from 9 to 10 a.m. at Westhill Gardens, 24 Bluefield Drive.

Support group to meet

Formerly Abused Children Emerging in Society (FACES), a support group for women who were abused in childhood, meets every Thursday from 7:15 to 9 p.m. at the Women's Center of Manchester Community College. New members are welcome. For more information, call Carol Jodanis at MCC, 647-6062.

Support for AIDS victims

People with any degree of HIV infection who want to live successfully can attend meetings of the People with AIDS Coalition of Connecticut on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Confidentiality is observed. For more information, call 624-0947 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. or 624-2437 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Disease testing is offered

Planned Parenthood offers testing for sexually transmitted disease on Tuesdays from 5 to 7 p.m. at 419 W. Middle Turnpike. The fee is $10, which includes testing and treatment. Follow-up visits as needed are free. Contact Susan Hitt at 643-1607 for more information.

Student art on display

Student art by RHAM High School students, will be on display until Friday in the auditorium of the Arbor at Hook Brook retirement community, 403 W. Center St. The hours are 2 to 4 p.m. For more information, call 647-9343.

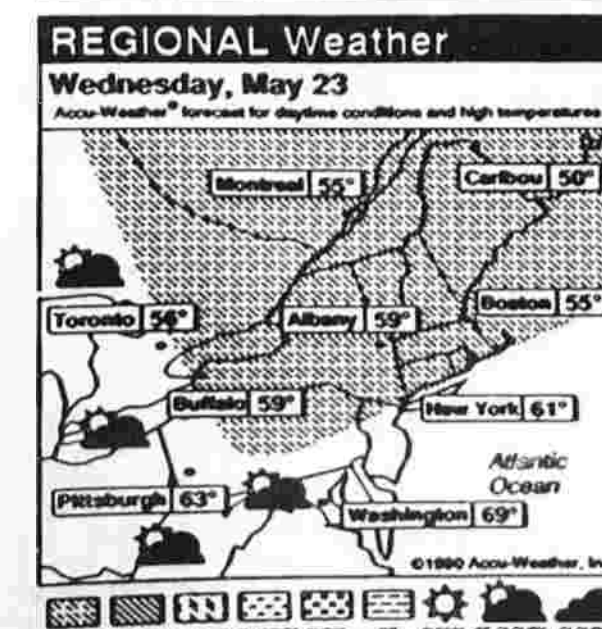

College Notes

MIRUCKI, Kristie Lee, daughter of Eric and Kathleen Varel Mirucki of 33 Birch St., was born May 3 at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blasko of Manchester. Her paternal grandparents are Richard Mirucki of Colton, Mass., and Janet Gendreau, Manchester. She has two brothers, Matthew, 10 and Tait, 8 and a sister Heather, 3.

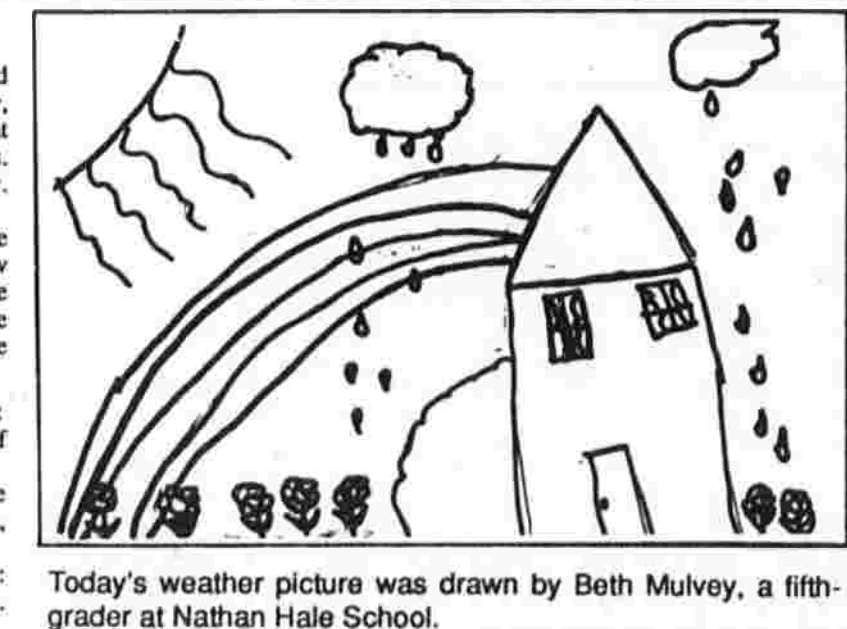

Lottery

Here are Monday's lottery results from around New England:
 Connecticut: Daily: 7-3-7, Play Four: 7-5-4-3.
 Massachusetts: Daily: 6-9-3-5.
 Northern New England: New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine daily: 4-0-6 and 7-6-0-0.
 Rhode Island: Daily: 8-6-3-6.

Weather

Fog and drizzle
 Tonight, clouds, patchy fog and drizzle. Low 40 to 45. Wednesday, mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of showers. High in the 50s. Outlook Thursday, mostly cloudy. High around 60.
 The combination of low pressure to the south and east of New England and a strong high pressure system to our north is responsible for our near record cold and the late May snow in the north.
 Weather summary for Monday:
 Temperature: high of 47, low of 43, mean of 45.
 Precipitation: 0.29 inches for the day, 4.52 inches for the month, 18.93 inches for the year.
 Temperature extremes for today: Highest on record 93, set in 1911. Lowest on record, 36, set in 1907.

Today's weather picture was drawn by Beth Mulvey, a fifth-grader at Nathan Hale School.

Obituaries

Stanley H. Guwra Sr.

Stanley H. Guwra Sr., 71, of Danbury, husband of the late Doris (LaBonte) Guwra, died Sunday (May 20, 1990) at the U.S. Veterans Hospital in Providence, R.I., following an extended illness. He is survived by his daughter, Elaine (Craig) Spencer of Bolton. He is also survived by two sons, Stanley H. Guwra Jr. of Trenton, N.J., and Kenneth Guwra of Brookline, two brothers, John Guwra of Putnam, and Edward Guwra of Webster, Mass.; two sisters, Tillie Messier of Oxford, and Josephine Latour of Putnam; seven grandchildren; and many great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by a daughter, Barbara Ann Smith of Danville. The funeral will be Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Smith & Walker Funeral Home, 148 Grove St., Putnam. Burial will be in St. Mary Cemetery, Putnam. Calling hours are Thursday from 10 a.m. until the time of the service. Memorial donations may be made to the Killingly Ambulance Service, American Legion, Furnace St., Danvers 06239.

Frances Murphy

Frances (Sinicop) Murphy, 63, of East Hartford, wife of Lawrence A. Murphy, died Sunday (May 20, 1990) at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center. She is survived by a daughter, Catherine Vavinsky of Bolton.

She is also survived by three other daughters, Theresa Bryant of Glenmore, Pa., Annmarie Murphy of East Hartford, and Nicole Murphy of East Hartford; two brothers, Joseph Sinicop of Hartford, and Andrew Sinicop of East Hartford; a sister, Annette Sinicop of East Hartford; five grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at St. Christopher Church, East Hartford. Burial will be in Hill-Cemetery. There are no calling hours.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Christopher Church, 538 Brewster St., East Hartford 06118. The Callahan Funeral Home, 1602 Main St., East Hartford, is in charge of arrangements.

Gertrude S. Birge

Gertrude S. Birge, 78, of Waterford, husband of Wesley V. Birge, died Monday (May 21, 1990) at the Waterford Health and Rehabilitation Center. She is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth Tonnaci of Manchester.

She is also survived by a son, Robert Birge of Jewett City; and three grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at a time and place to be announced. Memorial donations may be made to the Waterford Public Health Nursing Association, 15 Rope Ferry Road, Waterford 06385, the Hospital of Southeastern Conn. Inc., 365 Montauk Ave., New London 06320, or the American Cancer Society, Shaw Street, New London 06320.

Ruth Bawyer

Ruth (Kamowitz) Bawyer, 77, of 219 Parker St., wife of Irving Bawyer, died Monday (May 21, 1990) at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was past president of Manchester Chapter of Hadassah, a volunteer for the American Red Cross, a volunteer for Manchester Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and was a volunteer for Connecticut Brailist. She was a member of Temple Beth Shalom, and was past officer and an active member of its sisterhood.

She is also survived by a son, William Bawyer of Manchester; two brothers, Arnold Kay of Fairfield, and Milton Kay of Lexington, Mass.; two sisters, Jane Silver of Charlestown, R.I., and Adeline

Deaths Elsewhere

Kohlhagen of Elgin, Ill.; and two grandchildren. The funeral will be today at 1:30 p.m. at the Weinstein Mortuary, 640 Farmington Ave., Hartford, with burial in Temple Beth Shalom Memorial Park. A memorial period will be observed at her home. Memorial donations may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Walter S. Campbell

Walter S. Campbell, 74, of 185 E. Center St., formerly of Norwich, died Sunday (May 20, 1990) at St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center. He was the husband of Marion Helen Maynard. He was born in Valley Falls, R.I., March 21, 1915, the son of the late George B. and Jennie S. Campbell. He was an office manager for Ashland Corp., Jewett City, for 11 years. He retired from Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, having worked as an accountant for 27 years. He served on the Board of Education, the Zoning Board, and was vice president of the Little League, all in Vermont.

He is also survived by a son, David M. Campbell of Marlborough; a daughter, Cynthia A. Eastwood of Las Vegas, Nev.; a brother, Allan B. Campbell of Warwick, R.I.; a sister, Muriel L. Thompson of Warwick, R.I.; four grandchildren; and a great-granddaughter.

The funeral will be private. Burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The church and Allen Funeral Home, 156 Sachem St., Norwich, is in charge of arrangements.

Allan J. Cameron Sr.

Allan J. Cameron Sr., 65, of 29 Brookfield St., South Windsor, formerly of Manchester, died Saturday (May 19, 1990) at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Irene (Fiorino) Cameron.

He was born in Somerville, Mass., and lived in Manchester for 20 years before moving to South Windsor 16 years ago. He retired from Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, in 1987. He was a U.S. Army Air Corps veteran of World War II and the Korean War. During World War II, he served with the 444th Engineer Corps and later instructed at West Point. He was a helicopter pilot during the Korean War.

He attended Louisiana State University, and Mississippi State University. He coached for many years in the International Farm League, and played and coached for the Hartford Amateur Hockey Association. He coached the Hartford Hawks, a tennis team, was a member of SNEHL, and played with the Golden Age Hockey Club. He was a member of the VFW, American Legion, and a charter member of the Connecticut Aeronautical Historical Association.

He is survived by two sons and daughters-in-law, Allan and Tammy Cameron Jr. of Fountain Valley, Calif., and Thomas and Leanne Cameron of Las Vegas, Nev.; two daughters, Deborah L. Cameron of West Hartford, and June A. Cameron of South Windsor; two brothers, John Cameron of Medford, Mass., and Joseph MacGillivray of Belair, Md.; two sisters, Mary Cameron of Medford, Mass., and Virginia Franzen of Brockton, Mass.; two grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by a son, Richard, and a sister, Eleanor McBride.

The funeral will be Friday at 11:15 a.m. at the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., followed by a Mass at noon at St. Margaret Mary Church, South Windsor. Burial will be in St. Catherine's Cemetery, the Broad Brook section of Windsor. Calling hours are Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. and Friday an hour before service.

Memorial donations may be made to the Allan J. Cameron and Richard J. Cameron Memorial Fund, St. Margaret Mary Church, 80 Hayes Road, South Windsor 06074.

Raymond D. McCarthy

The funeral for Raymond D. "Mac" McCarthy, 82, of East Hartford, who died Saturday (May 19, 1990) at a local nursing home, will be held Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. at the John F. Tierney Funeral Home, 219 W. Center St., followed by a Mass at 10:30 a.m. at St. Bridget Church. Calling hours are today from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m. Burial will be in St. Bridget Church.

He is also survived by a son, David M. McCarthy of Marlborough; a daughter, Cynthia A. Eastwood of Las Vegas, Nev.; a brother, Allan B. Campbell of Warwick, R.I.; a sister, Muriel L. Thompson of Warwick, R.I.; four grandchildren; and a great-granddaughter.

The funeral will be private. Burial will be at the convenience of the family. There are no calling hours. The church and Allen Funeral Home, 156 Sachem St., Norwich, is in charge of arrangements.

Deaths Elsewhere

Spencer Moosa
 TAIPEI, Taiwan (AP) — Spencer Moosa, a former Associated Press foreign correspondent who had rare access to President Chiang Kai-shek, died at a hospital Friday of heart and lung disease. He was 85.

Moosa was a correspondent in China and Taiwan for 29 years, retiring in 1968.

He worked for the British news agency Reuters before joining The AP, traveling with Nationalist Chinese forces to Canton, Nanking, Chengdu and Chungking. His friends in the Nationalist Chinese hierarchy included Chiang Kai-shek.

In 1949, Moosa was taken into custody by Communist troops in Beijing and accused of false reporting, although he accurately described an agreement for joint Nationalist-Communist administration of Beijing as a "surrender" document.

College Notes

Paul James Bellasov, son of the Rev. and Mrs. James P. Bellasov of Manchester, graduated cum laude with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from the School of Education at Boston University.

Obue receives awards

Jennifer Obue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Obue Jr. of Manchester, was recently presented with the Constance Jordan, Stuart B. Foster and Louis B. Nicholas awards at ceremonies held at Framingham State College, Framingham, Mass. Obue is a sophomore at the college.

Current Quotes

"Everybody's got an angle. No doubt about that." — Vern Fresh, vice president of international affairs for Minnesota-based Land O' Lakes Inc., on the hundreds of requests to meet Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev during his six-hour visit to the state June 3.

"I feel like a condemned man who has had a reprieve." — Louis Peck, after a federal appeals court in New York ruled that the 71-year-old Vermont Supreme Court justice could remain on the bench past the state's mandatory retirement age.

"If there is a single lesson from the '60s, it is the belief in our own capacities as individuals. We all matter." — Robert F. Kennedy, in a commencement speech at Augsburg College in Minneapolis.

Public Meetings

Public meetings scheduled for today:
 Manchester
 Town Hall Subcommittee, Lincoln Center gold room, 4:30 p.m.
 Public Sub Committee, Lincoln Center gold room, 7:30 p.m.
 Bolton
 Board of Selectmen, Town Office Building, 3:30 p.m.
 Zoning Commission, Community Hall, 7:30 p.m.
 Democratic Town Committee, Community Hall, 7:30 p.m.

Thoughts

Do you remember the TV show "The Twilight Zone"? The plot was always a happenstance, a chance encounter, a "surprise" visit of one person to another. Except that the audience saw how the "chance" encounter was meticulously planned in the first 20 minutes of the show. Someone was sent into the life of another person to deliver a message, and it all came about at the last minute of the show.

As I thought about that show, and if I remove the bizarre, the outrageous and the weird, then that show is metaphor of my life in Christ. There are days when it happens several times over. I just get this urge to call someone up, and they say, "No glad you called, because I was really troubling over something." Was that a happenstance? I don't think so.

Or I call someone up with one idea to discuss and something inside me says, ask about how such and such. And something important is revealed to both of us. We needed to know that moment in time. Was that just an accident? I don't think so.

There are such "chance" encounters all the time, when a need of hope, or an idea, or words of affirmation are given, that we needed at just that moment in our lives. Nothing is by chance or a happenstance. I believe God is sending us into each other's lives all the time. People are sent into our lives and then they leave, and I believe they were sent for a purpose, and often not the one I might have expected.

God does this every day of our life.

The Rev. John Hollister
 St. George's Episcopal Church
 Bolton

Manchester Herald

Founded Dec. 15, 1881 as a weekly. Daily publication since Oct. 1, 1914.

USPS 327-500 VOL. CIX, No. 198

Publisher: Perry M. Seifert
 News Editor/Opinion Page Editor: Walter Zaborowski
 Associate Editor: Ron Hubbard
 Sports Editor: Len Austin
 Business Manager: Joanne G. Frommer
 Customer Service Manager: Gertrude Collett
 Composing Manager: Sheldon Cohen
 Pressroom Manager: Robert H. Hubbard

Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Publishing Co., 16 Brandt Place, Manchester, Conn. 06040. Second class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. Postmaster: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 501, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

The Manchester Herald is a member of The Associated Press, the Audit Bureau of Circulations, the New England Press Association and the New England Newspaper Association.

Guaranteed delivery. If you don't receive your Herald by 6 p.m. weekdays or 7:30 a.m. Saturdays, please telephone your carrier. If you are unable to reach your carrier, call subscriber service at 647-9946 by 6 p.m. weekdays for delivery instructions.

Suggested carrier rates are $1.80 weekly, $7.70 for one month, $23.10 for three months, $44.20 for six months and $82.40 for one year. Newad price: 30 cents a copy.

Published daily except Sunday and certain holidays by the Manchester Publishing Co., 16 Brandt Place, Manchester, Conn. 06040. Second class postage paid at Manchester, Conn. Postmaster: Send address changes to the Manchester Herald, P.O. Box 501, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

The Manchester Herald is a member of The Associated Press, the Audit Bureau of Circulations, the New England Press Association and the New England Newspaper Association.

Guaranteed delivery. If you don't receive your Herald by 6 p.m. weekdays or 7:30 a.m. Saturdays, please telephone your carrier. If you are unable to reach your carrier, call subscriber service at 647-9946 by 6 p.m. weekdays for delivery instructions.

Suggested carrier rates are $1.80 weekly, $7.70 for one month, $23.10 for three months, $44.20 for six months and $82.40 for one year. Newad price: 30 cents a copy.

MANCHESTER/COVENTRY/BOLTON

CLIP JOB — Tony Slogosky of Oak Street trims branches in front of his house. Slogosky was out cutting last week because heavy rain weighted down the branches, causing them to sag and obscure motorists' views of a stop sign, he said.

Committee promotes school addition

By Nancy Foley
 Manchester Herald

The Board of Education's Long-Range Planning Committee will form a political action committee to raise funds to promote the $3.9 million referendum on an addition to Manchester High School scheduled to go before voters in the fall.

The committee, which consists of PTA members from each school, according to Terry A. Bogli, chairman of the long-range planning committee. The committee met Monday night.

Such a committee could raise funds to promote the referendum, something that the school board may be restricted from doing because of laws governing referendums, he said.

The money will probably be used to place advertising in newspapers, print brochures and distribute posters, according to Bogli.

In another matter, the long-range planning committee decided to ask the Board of Directors to establish a reserve fund for major repair projects in the schools.

The funds would be used "so when we have a boiler failure, we have a place to go," Bogli said.

"That's just devastating to a school board budget."

Currently, a boiler at Wadsworth School is in need of repair and the cost of moving asbestos from the boiler will be $50,000, according to Wilfred Dion, director of buildings and grounds.

Francis Maffee, a Democratic school board member, has been appointed as liaison with the directors to establish the fund, Bogli said.

The school board can not maintain its own special fund for such repairs because it must return to the town any money left over at the end of the fiscal year, he said.

He said he and the Minnick's

Ski club's slalom course OK'd on probationary basis

By Jacqueline Bennett
 Manchester Herald

COVENTRY — The Town Council approved a controversial water ski club slalom course on a probationary basis and with a number of stipulations Monday night.

The vote was 6-0 to approve the slalom course for Coventry Lake during the meeting at the Town Office Building.

Council member Harvey Barrette, also a member of the Coventry Lake Water Ski club that proposed the course, abstained from voting. Barrette, though, did voice support for the plan.

This is a sport like Little League or softball. This is an Olympic sport. All we're asking is for a place to utilize — like a Little League field," Barrette said.

At a public hearing May 7 about 50 residents voiced support and disapproval of the slalom course.

Those against it cited a portion of Coventry Lake, a public water course with a state boat launch, being partitioned off for a special interest group, liability to the town, noise pollution and three more on citizens' decision.

Many complained the shallow area would be dangerous. The club turned in a follow-up proposal Monday.

Barrette said the club had been set.

BOLTON — Questions about the failed Hanover Farms subdivision — ranging from how much money is available to finish it to who will own it — dominated Monday night's Board of Selectmen meeting.

However, the selectmen were not satisfied with answers to the questions, and referred the matter to the town's attorney, Richard Barger. They do not plan to take further action until he reports back to them.

In other action, the selectmen approved fees for swimming sessions at Indian Notch state park, and approved hiring an assistant town clerk.

On Hanover Farms, First Selectman Robert Morra said that $170,000 in construction bond money that the town received this past week might not be enough to complete needed work in the area of Meadow and Alford roads. Morra suggested the work be done in three phases.

Phase One would complete the turnaround on Meadow Road; Phase Two, install catch basins, drainage pipes and erosion-control devices; and Phase Three would be road repairs, such as overlay, said Morra.

Selectman Douglas Cheney asked if the work on private property, Alford Road, was the town's responsibility. He also asked exactly what the bond covered.

Helen Kemp, executive assistant to the selectmen, said a letter of credit on the bond from Manchester State Bank listed the catch basins, drainage pipes and erosion-control devices.

Richard Barry of Manchester, who along with Charles and David Minnick sold the property to Alford Associates of Farmington, attended Monday's meeting.

He said he and the Minnick's held a first mortgage on the property. Barry said that for 451 over a year, he and his partners have been in foreclosure proceedings against Alford, and a court date of July 10 had been set.

Without elaborating, Barry told the selectmen that he and his partners hope to get the property back to be able to work on it.

Kemp also told the selectmen that Manchester State Bank was asking the town to return $54,000 of the $170,000 bond money.

Kemp said a bank official said he has correspondence from Robert Gorton, chairman of the Planning Commission, stating that the project's bond was reduced from $170,000 to $116,000.

However, Kemp said when she checked the planning commission's minutes, there is no indication that the bond had been reduced.

Morra said the selectmen would investigate.

Morra said the town attorney will review the entire situation. Selectmen also established fees for the swimming sessions at Indian Notch State Park, which opens next week.

The park offers swimming lessons beginning in June. The selectmen voted the fees as follows: Per child for residents, $10 for single sessions; $25, season. For non-residents, $15 and $40.

Per family for residents, $25 for single sessions; $50, season. For non-residents, $15 and $40.

The sessions are from June 18 to July 6, July 9 to July 27, and July 30 to August 17.

The last matter on the agenda was the announcement that Town Clerk Katherine Leiner has recommended Susan DeHeld to be appointed assistant town clerk.

The selectmen agreed with Leiner's recommendation.

Commission targets drainage-ditch work

BOLTON — The Inland Wetlands Commission has asked the town to obtain permits before it cleans a drainage ditch that empties into Bolton Lake, according to the selectmen's executive assistant.

Assistant Helen Kemp said the permit fee would be waived, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received numerous calls on the ditch — at the beginning of Vernon Road — that has become stopped up and is flooding the road, and causing a mosquito problem. Kemp also said the ditch is on private property, but the town has an easement and has maintained it in the past.

Kemp said she has received

MANCHESTER/COVENTRY/STATE

Entrance fees at most state parks to double

HARTFORD (AP) — The cost of taking a trip to a state park this summer is going up and park-goers can also expect to find the parks in less than pristine shape, with less staff to mow the grass and clean the bathrooms.

Park officials said Monday that weekend entrance fees will double at most state parks this season and routine maintenance such as scrubbing bathrooms will suffer because of budget constraints.

But new legislation allowing the state Department of Environmental Protection to earmark additional revenues means that park operations will improve in coming years, said Richard K. Clifford, chief of the

Tear shed by Aparo at report

By Denise Lavoe
The Associated Press

HARTFORD — Karin Aparo shed a single tear after learning her mother may have been killed, a police officer said during opening testimony in the last-appeal trial on murder conspiracy charges.

"Basically, the only reaction we received was one tear," said Gloucester police Commander Thomas McKee, who testified Monday he told Karin that her mother's car and the body of an unidentified woman had been found in Bernston, Mass., on Aug. 3, 1987.

McKee said Aparo made no comment when told her mother may have been a victim of the slaying.

Under cross-examination from Aparo's defense attorney, Hubert Santos, McKee acknowledged that Aparo did appear to be under stress when police told her that her mother was missing.

The prosecution opened its case Monday by calling several police officers and the medical examiner who performed the autopsy on Aparo's mother, 47-year-old Joyce Aparo.

The state's case was bolstered when Hartford Superior Court Judge Thomas Corrigan ruled that Aparo's former boyfriend will be allowed to testify against her at the trial.

Corrigan rejected an attempt by Santos to suppress the testimony of 22-year-old Dennis Coleman, clearing the way for the state's star witness.

Coleman, who confessed to strangling Aparo's mother, is expected to testify that he planned the murder together with Karin, then 16, who begged him to kill her mother for more than a year.

In seeking to bar Coleman's testimony, Santos argued that his testimony would be tainted because it was prompted in part by something he read in Aparo's diary.

Corrigan law three weeks out Aparo's diary as evidence, ruling in favor of a defense request to suppress the diary because it was illegally seized.

In the diary, which covers July, 1987, the month before her mother's death, Aparo detailed her sexual exploits with another man, the 24-year-old son of her violin teacher.

Corrigan, in rejecting Santos' request to bar Coleman's testimony Monday, cited Coleman's own testimony last week in which he said reading about Karin's unfaithfulness was a factor — but not the main factor — in spurring him to testify against her.

"Perhaps the viewing of the diary hastened his desire ... but it is obvious that his attorney ... was interested in utmost cooperation and that cooperation would eventually have been achieved without the use of the diary," said Corrigan in issuing his decision.

The judge's ruling appeared to bolster the state's case against Aparo because Coleman is considered the prosecution's star witness.

The 19-year-old Aparo faces up to 80 years in prison on charges of conspiracy and being an accessory to murder in the slaying of her mother.

In addition to police officers, prosecutors also called the medical examiner who performed the autopsy on Joyce Aparo's body.

Dr. Stephen Adams, of the Springfield, Mass., medical examiner's office, testified that the death of strangulation by a pair of pantyhose.

The nightgown-clad body was found dumped under a bridge in Bernston, Mass.

The jury of eight men and four women were shown photographs of the bruise-covered body, with the pantyhose still around her neck and a yellow paper towel stuffed into her mouth.

department's bureau of parks and forests.

Beginning this weekend at the four most heavily used parks — Rocky Neck in East Lyme, Hammonasset Beach in Madison, Sherwood Island in Westport and Squantz Pond in New Fairfield — the parking fee will increase to $6 a car. The weekday fee will increase to $4.

At virtually all other parks, such as Burr Pond in Torrington or Day Pond in Colchester, and boat launches, the weekend parking fee goes from $2 to $4. The weekday charge increases from $1 to $3.

Parking fees were last raised in 1982, when the fee at most parks went up $1.

The cost of a season pass, available at any park ticket booth, increases this year from $5 to $25.

At the same time, because the department for the second year in a row must sharply cut seasonal staff, mowing and lavatory maintenance at parks is expected to be reduced.

"That's going to be the thing people see — unfortunately," Clifford said.

Mowing and bathroom and bathroom maintenance, are done by seasonal workers, a class of employee hardest-hit by budget cuts. In 1988, the department hired 796 seasonal workers. Last year, that number dropped to 716. This year, the department can hire only 659 seasonal workers.

"In a lot of places, things aren't going to be as neat and clean as in the past," Clifford said.

For the second consecutive summer, lifeguard hours will be reduced because of budget problems. The department once kept lifeguards on duty 12 hours a day at more popular swimming areas. That has been trimmed to eight hours.

"They're making the best of a difficult situation," said John A. Hibbard, director of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association, a private group active in park and conservation issues.

Hibbard said the new legislation should help the department restore park staffs to proper levels.

The legislation is awaiting the signature of Gov. William A. O'Neill. If he signs it, as is expected to do, the parks could begin to receive the $1.5 million in additional revenues that the fee hikes are expected to yield.

Clifford said the department is still trying to determine how many more employees could be hired with the money. Some full-time staff replacements will be hired in the coming months. The legislation will not be in effect early enough to allow seasonal hiring this summer.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

department's bureau of parks and forests.

Beginning this weekend at the four most heavily used parks — Rocky Neck in East Lyme, Hammonasset Beach in Madison, Sherwood Island in Westport and Squantz Pond in New Fairfield — the parking fee will increase to $6 a car. The weekday fee will increase to $4.

At virtually all other parks, such as Burr Pond in Torrington or Day Pond in Colchester, and boat launches, the weekend parking fee goes from $2 to $4. The weekday charge increases from $1 to $3.

Parking fees were last raised in 1982, when the fee at most parks went up $1.

The cost of a season pass, available at any park ticket booth, increases this year from $5 to $25.

At the same time, because the department for the second year in a row must sharply cut seasonal staff, mowing and lavatory maintenance at parks is expected to be reduced.

"That's going to be the thing people see — unfortunately," Clifford said.

Mowing and bathroom and bathroom maintenance, are done by seasonal workers, a class of employee hardest-hit by budget cuts. In 1988, the department hired 796 seasonal workers. Last year, that number dropped to 716. This year, the department can hire only 659 seasonal workers.

"In a lot of places, things aren't going to be as neat and clean as in the past," Clifford said.

For the second consecutive summer, lifeguard hours will be reduced because of budget problems. The department once kept lifeguards on duty 12 hours a day at more popular swimming areas. That has been trimmed to eight hours.

"They're making the best of a difficult situation," said John A. Hibbard, director of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association, a private group active in park and conservation issues.

Hibbard said the new legislation should help the department restore park staffs to proper levels.

The legislation is awaiting the signature of Gov. William A. O'Neill. If he signs it, as is expected to do, the parks could begin to receive the $1.5 million in additional revenues that the fee hikes are expected to yield.

Clifford said the department is still trying to determine how many more employees could be hired with the money. Some full-time staff replacements will be hired in the coming months. The legislation will not be in effect early enough to allow seasonal hiring this summer.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

department's bureau of parks and forests.

Beginning this weekend at the four most heavily used parks — Rocky Neck in East Lyme, Hammonasset Beach in Madison, Sherwood Island in Westport and Squantz Pond in New Fairfield — the parking fee will increase to $6 a car. The weekday fee will increase to $4.

At virtually all other parks, such as Burr Pond in Torrington or Day Pond in Colchester, and boat launches, the weekend parking fee goes from $2 to $4. The weekday charge increases from $1 to $3.

Parking fees were last raised in 1982, when the fee at most parks went up $1.

The cost of a season pass, available at any park ticket booth, increases this year from $5 to $25.

At the same time, because the department for the second year in a row must sharply cut seasonal staff, mowing and lavatory maintenance at parks is expected to be reduced.

"That's going to be the thing people see — unfortunately," Clifford said.

Mowing and bathroom and bathroom maintenance, are done by seasonal workers, a class of employee hardest-hit by budget cuts. In 1988, the department hired 796 seasonal workers. Last year, that number dropped to 716. This year, the department can hire only 659 seasonal workers.

"In a lot of places, things aren't going to be as neat and clean as in the past," Clifford said.

For the second consecutive summer, lifeguard hours will be reduced because of budget problems. The department once kept lifeguards on duty 12 hours a day at more popular swimming areas. That has been trimmed to eight hours.

"They're making the best of a difficult situation," said John A. Hibbard, director of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association, a private group active in park and conservation issues.

Hibbard said the new legislation should help the department restore park staffs to proper levels.

The legislation is awaiting the signature of Gov. William A. O'Neill. If he signs it, as is expected to do, the parks could begin to receive the $1.5 million in additional revenues that the fee hikes are expected to yield.

Clifford said the department is still trying to determine how many more employees could be hired with the money. Some full-time staff replacements will be hired in the coming months. The legislation will not be in effect early enough to allow seasonal hiring this summer.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

department's bureau of parks and forests.

Beginning this weekend at the four most heavily used parks — Rocky Neck in East Lyme, Hammonasset Beach in Madison, Sherwood Island in Westport and Squantz Pond in New Fairfield — the parking fee will increase to $6 a car. The weekday fee will increase to $4.

At virtually all other parks, such as Burr Pond in Torrington or Day Pond in Colchester, and boat launches, the weekend parking fee goes from $2 to $4. The weekday charge increases from $1 to $3.

Parking fees were last raised in 1982, when the fee at most parks went up $1.

The cost of a season pass, available at any park ticket booth, increases this year from $5 to $25.

At the same time, because the department for the second year in a row must sharply cut seasonal staff, mowing and lavatory maintenance at parks is expected to be reduced.

"That's going to be the thing people see — unfortunately," Clifford said.

Mowing and bathroom and bathroom maintenance, are done by seasonal workers, a class of employee hardest-hit by budget cuts. In 1988, the department hired 796 seasonal workers. Last year, that number dropped to 716. This year, the department can hire only 659 seasonal workers.

"In a lot of places, things aren't going to be as neat and clean as in the past," Clifford said.

For the second consecutive summer, lifeguard hours will be reduced because of budget problems. The department once kept lifeguards on duty 12 hours a day at more popular swimming areas. That has been trimmed to eight hours.

"They're making the best of a difficult situation," said John A. Hibbard, director of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association, a private group active in park and conservation issues.

Hibbard said the new legislation should help the department restore park staffs to proper levels.

The legislation is awaiting the signature of Gov. William A. O'Neill. If he signs it, as is expected to do, the parks could begin to receive the $1.5 million in additional revenues that the fee hikes are expected to yield.

Clifford said the department is still trying to determine how many more employees could be hired with the money. Some full-time staff replacements will be hired in the coming months. The legislation will not be in effect early enough to allow seasonal hiring this summer.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

department's bureau of parks and forests.

Beginning this weekend at the four most heavily used parks — Rocky Neck in East Lyme, Hammonasset Beach in Madison, Sherwood Island in Westport and Squantz Pond in New Fairfield — the parking fee will increase to $6 a car. The weekday fee will increase to $4.

At virtually all other parks, such as Burr Pond in Torrington or Day Pond in Colchester, and boat launches, the weekend parking fee goes from $2 to $4. The weekday charge increases from $1 to $3.

Parking fees were last raised in 1982, when the fee at most parks went up $1.

The cost of a season pass, available at any park ticket booth, increases this year from $5 to $25.

At the same time, because the department for the second year in a row must sharply cut seasonal staff, mowing and lavatory maintenance at parks is expected to be reduced.

"That's going to be the thing people see — unfortunately," Clifford said.

Mowing and bathroom and bathroom maintenance, are done by seasonal workers, a class of employee hardest-hit by budget cuts. In 1988, the department hired 796 seasonal workers. Last year, that number dropped to 716. This year, the department can hire only 659 seasonal workers.

"In a lot of places, things aren't going to be as neat and clean as in the past," Clifford said.

For the second consecutive summer, lifeguard hours will be reduced because of budget problems. The department once kept lifeguards on duty 12 hours a day at more popular swimming areas. That has been trimmed to eight hours.

"They're making the best of a difficult situation," said John A. Hibbard, director of the Connecticut Forest and Park Association, a private group active in park and conservation issues.

Hibbard said the new legislation should help the department restore park staffs to proper levels.

The legislation is awaiting the signature of Gov. William A. O'Neill. If he signs it, as is expected to do, the parks could begin to receive the $1.5 million in additional revenues that the fee hikes are expected to yield.

Clifford said the department is still trying to determine how many more employees could be hired with the money. Some full-time staff replacements will be hired in the coming months. The legislation will not be in effect early enough to allow seasonal hiring this summer.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so in the parks, the department now plans to provide, through a contractor, a small number of recycling stations. Each station will have a container for bottles and cans and another for other trash.

In addition to helping reduce landfill waste, Clifford said, the recycling program should save the state money in staff costs. Signaling the public to the recycling program have been posted, he said.

Clifford said.

Another change for park-goers this season is recycling. Clifford said the department wants to set the example for the pending mandatory recycling program in Connecticut.

Instead of a trash can every 50 feet or so

OPINION

Open Forum

Stop runaway taxes

To the Editor:

Bolton taxpayers/voters, on Wednesday from noon to 8:00 p.m., you will be given an opportunity to make a decision having immediate and long range effects on how much you wish to spend on taxes. Right now, the average Bolton taxpayer spends more on taxes than any of the surrounding towns (substantially more than most) and we are ranked 13th in the state. Do we want to become #17? Hardly.

Have you noticed how many homes are for sale in Bolton, many on the market for a long time? The motivation to sell by many homeowners, and the reason not to buy, is the high taxes which have continued to climb higher, with no relief in sight until now. Relief is spelled "Vote No" on Wednesday at the Town Hall on the Bolton budget referendum. You will never have a better opportunity to send a message to our town officials and others in town who believe we can afford any and all wishes, wants, and desires of some well off residents. Some of these residents think that the average family in Bolton earns $65,000 to $70,000 a year. We should be that fortunate. I'm sure we would all support these wealthy residents offering to contribute more dollars to support greater spending for schools and other worthwhile projects. We all support quality, affordable education, but our resources are not limitless.

TNT wishes to thank all residents who signed the petition to send the budget to referendum. We know many more of you would have signed the petition, if time permitted. If the Board of Finance does not reduce the budget increase to 5 percent, we will continue to submit as many petitions as it takes to reduce the budget to this level.

Witness what is occurring in other nearby towns, i.e., Windsor, Coventry, Ellington, etc. They are succeeding in stopping runaway taxes, and I am sure that we will also succeed.

Keep Bolton an affordable place to live. For additional information or for transportation, please contact me at 646-3839

Charlie Holland
10 Rips Lane
Bolton

O'Marra hard working

To the Editor:

On Wednesday, the Eighth Utilities District will hold its annual meeting. At that meeting, residents of the district will elect a president, at least two directors, fill other positions, and vote on a budget by which the district will operate during the next fiscal year.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my support for Mary O'Marra for the position of director of the Eighth Utilities District. Mary is a Manchester native and has been a resident of the district for last 19 years. As a mother of eight, she knows how to "stretch a buck" and can bring that kind of expertise and knowledge to the district. She has been involved in district affairs for many years including STEAL. During the many years I have known Mary, she has been hard working, dedicated, and willing to take on any task assigned to her with great enthusiasm.

The Eighth Utilities District needs able and willing leadership for this new decade. Mary O'Marra can offer that kind of leadership. I urge everyone to vote for Mary O'Marra for 8th District Board of Directors.

Bernard Niedzielski
33 Harvard Road
Manchester

Longest, Chirico, Lassow

To the Editor:

The Eighth District election is Wednesday Wadell School at 7:30 p.m. It is very important that you attend and elect Sam Lassow as president and Angela Chirico and Gordon Lassow as directors. The district has been in rough shape since the last questionable election. Laterally no one has really been running the store. Several areas of business have been ignored such as the insurance matters and others have been wrongly handled as the threat. Use the town which was only one man's viewpoint. We need calm, level headed and common sense leadership which is missing now.

Sam has been a dedicated worker for the district for 14 years. He has always been dependable and given personal involvement with steady follow up on any job he tackles. He worked about a year almost single handed to negotiate the peace treaty we now enjoy. We need a president that can work with the town. Sam was also responsible for the conversion of the Willis Building into the district offices that we are proud to have.

We also need to elect Gordon Lassow and Angela Chirico as directors so there can be a working board that respects each others opinion and will listen to all points of view. Gordon's business head and Angela's ability with figures will be valuable assets to the district. Fiscal responsibility and hard working concern are needed now more than ever.

Please attend the meeting. Now is your time, and action. Help us to help you. Show us you care, vote for elect "The Sam Lassow State."

Betty Sadloski
48 Hollister St.
Manchester

Letters policy

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers. Letters should be no more than two double-spaced typewritten pages. The Herald reserves the right to edit letters for any reason, including length, taste and style. The Herald tries to publish all letters, but the decision of the editor is final. Writers may be limited to one letter per month. All letters must be signed, and writers must include their address and a telephone number for verification. Mail letters to Open Forum, Box 591, Manchester 06040.

Manchester Herald

Founded Dec. 15, 1881 as a weekly.
Daily publication since Oct. 1, 1914.

Publisher: Norman Page Editor
Associate Editor: Penny M. Siefert
Nancy Robillard
Alexander Girdle

Mike Kufke
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — A new report says that beer company sponsorship of motorsports races encourages drunken driving by fans, including young men with "long shag haircuts" and women with tight pants and braces.

Beer industry supporters called the study elitist nonsense.

Breweries spend $50 million a year to link beer and fast cars "in a carefully crafted effort to promote beer, especially among working class youth and young adults who are part of the 'car culture,'" said the American Automobile Association report released by a coalition of safety and health groups Monday.

In dueling news conferences at the National Press Club, the coalition and the Beer Institute painted sharply differing images of the motorsports crowd.

The Beer Institute said the research was faulty. One participant at the news conference, United Auto Workers union legislative director Dick Warden, characterized the coalition's view as "elitist and condescending" against blue-collar workers.

Institute president James Sanders said 98 percent of racing enthusiasts are over 21 years old and the typical fan "is an attractive customer for nearly any type of consumer product."

At the coalition news conference, chairman Alexander Wagenaar was flanked by an ad showing a race through a glass of Miller beer and a Coors T-shirt emblazoned with a picture of a big-wheeled "monster truck."

Wagenaar released copies of scolding letters to beer company executives and announced an effort to help drivers gain non-beer grounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible.

Survivors told reporters that the gunman ordered a group of Palestinian workers waiting for day laborers' jobs in a Tel Aviv suburb to sit in a line and then opened fire with an assault rifle.

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Diplomats double as terrorists

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The recent assassination in Switzerland of a leading opponent of the Iranian government was carried out with high-level approval in Iran and they used Iranian diplomats as terrorists. The government of Iran even provided a getaway plane for the conspirators.

That is the conclusion of West European and U.S. intelligence sources, terrorism experts and members of the Iranian resistance. The victim was Kazem Rajavi, an Iranian living in exile in Switzerland. He had been an outspoken critic of the Ayatollah Khomeini and his successor, Iranian President Hashemi Rafsanjani.

As we reported in an earlier column, our sources believe the hit, on April 24, was timed between the release of two American hostages. The publicity and the praise for Iran put the assassination on the back pages.

The assassins used the weekly Iran Air flight between Geneva and Tehran as their getaway plane. It was held up for an hour to make sure all the conspirators were aboard.

Swiss police have publicly named two Iranians, Yadollah Rahmani and Mohammad Rezaei, as their suspects. The police say the two men stayed at a Geneva hotel and hired the car used in the ambush of Rajavi.

But our sources say the police have a longer list of suspected co-conspirators. Some are diplomats who double as terrorists — a job description perfected in Iran. The suspects include:

• A Stroo Nasari, the Iranian envoy to the European headquarters of the United Nations in Geneva. He reportedly told Rajavi that he would be "liquidated" if he didn't stop criticizing Iran.

• Mohammed Hossein Malak, the Iranian envoy to Switzerland. His appointment was protested by the U.S. State Department in a highly classified cable because of a doctrine with elements that are uniquely sensitive to their spiritual needs.

On another controversial front, Kennedy has sharply rebuked American Catholic bishops for hiring a public-relations firm to spread the Catholic Church's opposition to abortion.

Kennedy, a professor of psychology at Loyola University, called the bishops' strategy "manipulative at best and unbecomingly immoral at worst."

He was being academically polite. Hiring a public-relations firm borders on carnival huckstering.

What is even more astonishing is the bishops' implicit concession that they, as vicars of Christ, have lost the moral authority to persuade their parishioners to follow them. "Thus said the lord" has been replaced with paying "ten thousand talents of silver to those that have charge of the business."

However, it's not the bishop's hiring of the nationally respected public relations firm Hill & Knowlton that is at issue, but the bishop's transfer of their responsibility for theological doctrine on abortion to a reliance on a public-relations firm's gimmicks.

Chuck Stone is a syndicated columnist.

Priests take on the church

By Chuck Stone

Two former Roman Catholic priests are at sharp odds with the church on two controversial issues. Their stands may not exactly presage a second Reformation, but if the enthusiastic response to Eugene Kennedy and George Stallings in an indication, the American Catholic Church has a credibility problem on two issues: integrating the African-American experience into church liturgy, and the role of church doctrine on abortion.

Stallings' actions are less threatening to church authority than Kennedy's. A charismatic black priest whose sermons would turn on the "amen" coming in any ghetto sanctified church, Stallings has been excommunicated for challenging the Roman Catholic Church's doctrine on the mass, abortion and priestly celibacy.

Stallings contends that his incorporation of the African-American experience into the mass is in keeping with the church's flexibility in responding to the unique gestures of ethnic groups in Europe, Latin America and Africa. And many of Stallings' followers contend his real problem is that he is so audacious about his heresy. (That brother does carry on when he preaches!)

Allegations about a homosexual encounter with a teen-ager have done little to further Stallings' moral credibility, but he hasn't owned up to the recent assassination, but leaders in Tehran didn't shed any tears over Rajavi. On the day after the murder, one parliamentary deputy ranted on the radio, "The Islamic regime has a free hand in suppressing these notorious resistance leaders." Capture and kill them!"

The PAA has questioned the safety benefits of mandatory infant seats and proposes only to require that airlines allow their use when a passenger provides one. The agency has said, however, it would consider proposals for a stricter rule.

The airline industry's Air Transport Association reversed its earlier opposition to mandatory seats in February, petitioning the FAA for a federal rule requiring the use of seats.

The independent safety board, North, South Yemen merge into one nation

ADEN, Yemen (AP) — North and South Yemen merged their impoverished nations of tribespeople into a unified Republic of Yemen today, and the new country stood on the brink of civil war.

Gen. Ali Abdullah Saleh, president of the unified state, raised the new country's red, white and black flag atop the portside presidential building.

The Aden Coast Guard fired several cannon shots, and ships boomed their horns as the flag went up.

The united Republic of Yemen has newly discovered oil field reserves estimated unofficially at 2 billion barrels.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

Salah said Yemen would work for development and progress, pledged to "an opening up, economically, culturally and socially — in line with the spirit of the age," Saleh said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Palestinian closed shops and schools today and stayed home from jobs in Israel to protest the massacre of seven Palestinian laborers by Israeli gunners Monday.

The report offered no new scientific evidence of a link between drunken driving and beer ads or sponsorship of racing events. But researcher David Buchanan, coauthor, said it documents the way beer companies dangerously link beer and fast cars in the minds of racing fans.

The Beer Institute said the research was faulty. One participant at the news conference, United Auto Workers union legislative director Dick Warden, characterized the coalition's view as "elitist and condescending" against blue-collar workers.

Institute president James Sanders said 98 percent of racing enthusiasts are over 21 years old and the typical fan "is an attractive customer for nearly any type of consumer product."

At the coalition news conference, chairman Alexander Wagenaar was flanked by an ad showing a race through a glass of Miller beer and a Coors T-shirt emblazoned with a picture of a big-wheeled "monster truck."

Wagenaar released copies of scolding letters to beer company executives and announced an effort to help drivers gain non-beer grounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible.

Survivors told reporters that the gunman ordered a group of Palestinian workers waiting for day laborers' jobs in a Tel Aviv suburb to sit in a line and then opened fire with an assault rifle.

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

Report casts motorsports fans as drunken long-hairs

Race supporters quickly denounce AAA travel club study as elitist

By David Brocas
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A new report says that beer company sponsorship of motorsports races encourages drunken driving by fans, including young men with "long shag haircuts" and women with tight pants and braces.

Beer industry supporters called the study elitist nonsense.

Breweries spend $50 million a year to link beer and fast cars "in a carefully crafted effort to promote beer, especially among working class youth and young adults who are part of the 'car culture,'" said the American Automobile Association report released by a coalition of safety and health groups Monday.

In dueling news conferences at the National Press Club, the coalition and the Beer Institute painted sharply differing images of the motorsports crowd.

The Beer Institute said the research was faulty. One participant at the news conference, United Auto Workers union legislative director Dick Warden, characterized the coalition's view as "elitist and condescending" against blue-collar workers.

Institute president James Sanders said 98 percent of racing enthusiasts are over 21 years old and the typical fan "is an attractive customer for nearly any type of consumer product."

At the coalition news conference, chairman Alexander Wagenaar was flanked by an ad showing a race through a glass of Miller beer and a Coors T-shirt emblazoned with a picture of a big-wheeled "monster truck."

Wagenaar released copies of scolding letters to beer company executives and announced an effort to help drivers gain non-beer grounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible.

Survivors told reporters that the gunman ordered a group of Palestinian workers waiting for day laborers' jobs in a Tel Aviv suburb to sit in a line and then opened fire with an assault rifle.

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Asked why Pappas was treated so leniently and not discharged sooner, an army official said, "When we have soldiers with difficult backgrounds, we try to improve their lot in life. We try to give them as many chances as possible."

The rioting that broke out afterwards was the worst bloodshed in the Palestinian uprising since April 15, 1988, when 17 Palestinians died in riots to protest the slaying of a PLO leader, apparently by Israel.

Greyhound

From Page 1

March 2 over wages and job security. Greyhound began operating a reduced schedule with newly hired drivers.

After attempts to reopen negotiations collapsed, Chairman Fred G. Currey said May 7 the strike had become "irreversible" because the carrier had enough drivers to operate.

Last week, a National Labor Relations official suggested the company had engaged in an unfair labor practice by instituting its contract offer on March 2. Such a finding, if upheld, could force the company to rehire union drivers.

Greyhound said the strike caused it to lose $56 million in the first three months of the year.

If they were to get this exchange offer off successfully, I would assume that they would avoid Chapter

11," said analyst Ken Frankel with Drake Capital Securities Inc. in Santa Monica, Calif. "If they don't get it off, all bets are off."

After attempts to reopen negotiations collapsed, Chairman Fred G. Currey said May 7 the strike had become "irreversible" because the carrier had enough drivers to operate.

Last week, a National Labor Relations official suggested the company had engaged in an unfair labor practice by instituting its contract offer on March 2. Such a finding, if upheld, could force the company to rehire union drivers.

Greyhound said the strike caused it to lose $56 million in the first three months of the year.

If they were to get this exchange offer off successfully, I would assume that they would avoid Chapter

Noriega

From Page 1

proval by Chief U.S. District Judge James King. A hearing was set for Thursday.

The U.S. government has frozen 27 Noriega accounts around the world valued at $20 million.

Defense attorneys had subpoenaed records from the CIA, Drug Enforcement Administration and other agencies for evidence of payments to Noriega during the period he is said to have been a U.S. intelligence agent.

Prosecutors acknowledge the United States paid Noriega, but "the amount is substantially less than that offered by the defense counsel."

proval by Chief U.S. District Judge James King. A hearing was set for Thursday.

The U.S. government has frozen 27 Noriega accounts around the world valued at $20 million.

Defense attorneys had subpoenaed records from the CIA, Drug Enforcement Administration and other agencies for evidence of payments to Noriega during the period he is said to have been a U.S. intelligence agent.

Prosecutors acknowledge the United States paid Noriega, but "the amount is substantially less than that offered by the defense counsel."

Landers

From Page 1

Landers is serving his second one-year term as president. He was re-elected last year by a vote of 137 to 130 over his challenger, Lassow, a former district president.

Two years ago, Landers won the presidency over Perry Dodson by a vote of 167 to 126.

More than 7,000 are eligible to vote in the district election.

In Wednesday's election there are four candidates for directorships: Lassow, Chirico, Mary O'Mara and Mary Jane Summa. At least two directorships will be filled for three-year terms. If Longest is elected president, the unexpected portion of his term as a director will also be filled.

Ernest Macchelli is expected to seek re-election as tax collector. Helen Warrington will seek re-election as treasurer, and Mary Beth O'Brien will seek re-election as clerk.

In his announcement, Landers thanked those who have supported him during his seven years on the district board, and said he looks forward to remaining active in the political and social life of the district.

TV

From Page 1

at first, but now they do not miss the tube.

"My children are almost completely weaned from television," she said.

The faculty at Bowens proposed the idea for the TV turn-off party because of a similar experiment in Farmington. Her daughter's teacher, Janet Sterling, is co-chairwoman of the Turn-off Week committee.

Faculty are also being asked to give up television during the week, Gimbrow said. They will be so to as to not use audio-visual equipment in the classroom, she added.

She is hoping that parents will join in too, and forgo the tube during the week. "We just watch too much television and we have better things to do with our lives," she said.

Letters are being sent to parents explaining the experiment, and asking them to participate. Sheets will be handed out so that families can keep track of how much time they spend watching TV. "I think a lot of people are going to be very surprised," she said.

Gimbrow hopes that doing without TV for a week may convince some families that they should give it up permanently.

"We really could live without it," she said.

Riley buys VW business

Bob Riley Oldsmobile of 259 Adams St. has purchased the Volkswagen franchise from Lipman Volkswagen Inc. of Rt. 83 Vernon and moved it to his Adams Street location.

The purchase, for an undisclosed price, includes the franchise, automobiles, fixtures and furnishings of the Lipman operation.

Bob Riley said today that 17 former Lipman employees have been added to the Riley staff of 32. The former Lipman workers include mechanics, service writers, and salespersons.

Riley has been located at the 26,000 square foot building on Adams Street for about four years, and for six years before that was located on Center Street.

Riley said that when he moved into Manchester, it was with the idea of adding another franchise to his Oldsmobile dealership.

He said the company will service former customers of Lipman Volkswagen.

What's in a name?

SEYMOUR, Wis. (AP) — Residents who maintain that their Wisconsin cousin's name is the hamburger's birthplace are asking Hamburg, N.Y., to change names with their town.

"We just think it's appropriate that we become Hamburg," said Tom Duffey, honorary burgomaster of Seymour.

Duffey and his home of the Hamburg Inc. organization contend the first hamburger was developed at a local fair in 1885.

He said Hamburg should accept the name change because he contends their claim to being the hamburger's birthplace is false. He said switching the name to Seymour would be fitting because a former mayor of Seymour was named Horatio Seymour.

Home of the Hamburger Inc. grilled a 5,250-pound hamburger last year as part of its effort to promote the claim of Seymour, about 10 miles west of Green Bay.

Hamburg Mayor Richard Hansen said he had not seen the letter from Duffey requesting the move, but would not agree to a change in names.

The Associated Press

OYSTER CROP THREATENED — Jerri Nelson of Jerri's Seafood in Smith Point, Texas, displays oysters in her store Monday. Oysters are a $12 million industry in the area and authorities are worried flood waters from the Trinity River will damage the crop.

Floods pour into Galveston Bay muddying outlook for oyster crop

SMITH POINT, Texas (AP) — Rainwater funneling into salty Galveston Bay from the flooded Trinity River is muddying the outlook for the Texas oyster industry.

In Louisiana and five other Texas bays on the Gulf of Mexico, the crop is expected to be good and recent rains from the Mississippi delta to the south have helped. But in Texas, the crop is in jeopardy. There are 550 oyster dredges that work Galveston Bay, and it is pretty much shut out of business.

My guess is that it's pretty much going to wipe out the oyster harvest this year," said Gil Moody, marketing specialist with the Texas Department of Agriculture. "In the short term, it's a disaster for fishermen. There are 550 oyster dredges that work Galveston Bay, and it is pretty much shut out of business."

Compared with the $600 million shrimp business in Texas, the oyster industry is small.

"But $12 million is not to be laughed at," said C.E. Bryan, regional director of the state Department of Parks and Wildlife. "It's the livelihood of 1,100 people."

The news is not all bleak if there is no serious flooding next year. Fresh water kills oyster predators like crabs, eels, starfish, stingrays, snails and fungus that thrive in highly salty water.

"The oyster population could come back and quite often they have bumper crops three or four years following," Ray said.

Negro

From Page 1

within those guidelines and you see the result of it.

"It was an abnormality in the normal course of business," Saltzman said.

With the new restrictions, he said, "it is virtually impossible for it to happen again."

Besides Saltzman, the four-member board was joined by Town Attorney Maureen Chmielewski and Assistant Town Manager Steven Werber. Also in attendance were Republican members of the town Board of Directors, Mayor Terry Werkhoven and Wally Irish.

investment was relatively small compared to the size of the fund.

If the town cannot recover the funds, then its contribution to the account may be affected slightly in 1992.

Regardless, the town is still trying to recover its losses. It filed a suit Monday against Merus in Rockville Superior Court.

The suit claims Merus violated state statutes because the out-of-state company was not registered to do business in Connecticut when the investment was made.

The town, as well as the Pension Board, are named as plaintiffs in the suit, which is requesting payment of monetary damages from the deal. The $200,000 investment was supposed to generate $32,000 in interest.

Blood

From Page 1

several years.

Specialists in the blood industry say few companies offer this type of service are profiting from it because of the high cost of the blood.

"A lot of community blood centers do it at cost as a service to the community," said James L. MacPherson, executive director of the Council of Community Blood Centers in Washington, D.C. "They don't market the service because they don't believe it's a service that can be marketed."

Chmielewski said today that although Merus has no money, the suit would help the town get a share of any money the company may ever acquire. However, the company owes money to others.

Another purpose for the suit is to summon Edward Westlow, a man believed to be the trustee of a Merus bank account that held the town's money.

Economic reforms approved

MOSCOW (AP) — President Mikhail S. Gorbachev's advisers decided today to introduce radical reforms next year to try to salvage an economy plagued by massive shortages, strikes and ethnic conflict.

Food prices would double, but the government would continue to regulate the cost of staple items, a draft of the planned reforms says. The reforms would not start until next year and would take place over five years, instead of the two years discussed earlier.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennady I. Gerasimov said in a news briefing the Presidential Council approved the draft report today and that Premier Nikolai I. Rykzov would present it to the Supreme Soviet parliament on Thursday. Gerasimov did not say whether the council had made any changes in the 70-page plan, obtained by The Associated Press.

The plan falls short of the free market measures in Poland that led to a rapid inflation over the past six months.

Soviet officials fear that sudden rises in food prices could touch off riots and strikes, like those that toppled Polish Communist governments in the 1970's and 1980's.

Nevertheless, the plan is far more radical than the government program presented in December to the Soviet Congress, the Supreme Soviet's parent parliament.

That plan essentially proposed three more years of a centrally planned economy, but sentiment is growing that faster steps are needed to improve production and distribution.

"The negative effect of political instability, strikes and inter-ethnic conflict is growing ever stronger," Rykzov's report says. It appeals to all workers not to strike.

Rykzov's draft came under immediate fire from a parliamentary opposition group, which plans to present an alternate economic blueprint advocating a market economy.

"This is just another ploy to intimidate the people with the idea of a free market and consolidate its own positions," said Siberian economist Gennady Filshin, who developed the alternative plan for the Inter-Regional Group. He was interviewed by the independent news service Post-Pactum.

The government report emphasizes the need to control inflation, unemployment and other social ills, but also outlines major price increases and other reforms beginning in 1991.

"The retail prices on food should, on average, double, increasing by 112 billion rubles ($187 million)," says the report.

However, the prices of basic foodstuffs — including bread, meat and oil — will remain under government regulation and not be allowed to spiral out of control, the plan says.

It also provides for wage indexing to cushion the effect on the country's poor.

Frightening figures on current economic performance explain the government's new readiness to take hard measures. In the first three months of this year, cash incomes fell by 15.4 percent while the gross national product declined, the report says.

From January to April, political strikes and inter-ethnic conflict led to the loss of 9.5 million man-hours, compared to 7 million man-hours lost during all of last year.

The government plan foresees passage of all the laws needed for the transition to a market economy by the end of this fall.

Please VOTE! for SAM LONGEST And HIS SLATE for Eighth District Offices

SAM LONGEST — for President: 14 years experience, 12 years as Sewer Commissioner
Fair-Minded, Dedicated, and Reliable

GORDON LASSOW — for Director: 17 years experience, 11 years as President Loyal, Business-Oriented and Fiscally Responsible

ANGELA CHIRICO — for Director: 11 years experience at Manchester
Concerned, Hard-Working, and Level-Headed

The way to have the Best Government at the least cost.
Elect the entire Slate. Every vote counts.

Wednesday, May 23rd
7:30 P.M.
Waddell School

PLEASE ATTEND THE MEETING!
YOUR SUPPORT IS APPRECIATED!

Paid for by the Campaign to Elect Sam Longest, Lassow, Chirico, and Riley.

SPORTS

The Associated Press

CAN'T LOOK — Boston catcher Tony Pena looks away as Texas' Julio Franco, right, is congratulated by teammate Rafael Palmeiro after his two-run homer in the first inning of Monday's game at Fenway Park. The Red Sox came back to win, 4-2.

Jim Murray

By Ben Walker
The Associated Press

Tyson not one to hide

When Floyd Patterson lost the heavyweight championship by knockout to Sonny Liston, he felt such mortification and disgrace, he donned a false beard and mustache and dark glasses — at night — and sped out of town to go home to Hudson Valley and presumably climb up a tree and huddle there in misery. He felt he had let the country down.

When Joe Louis lost by knockout to the flower of Nazi Germany, Max Schmeling, in 1936, the height of Hitler's reign, he felt he had let the world down and only emerged, days later, to pose with swollen jaw for a photo pointing to his "KO" license plate and vowing vengeance.

When Jim Jeffries lost by knockout to Jack Johnson in 1910 and there were riots in the cities, he felt he had let the white race down and he retreated to his Burbank farm to lick his wounds and avoid the neighbors.

But if anyone is expecting a somber, chastened, contrite Mike Tyson to be hiding away from the public as a result of his knockout at the hands of James (Buster) Douglas last February, boy, have you got the wrong guy!

If you were expecting sackcloth and ashes, a hair shirt, a monastic attitude or a penitent palling at his forehead, you were in for a shock.

Mike Tyson showed up in town Wednesday wearing a pair of designer bib overalls, a gold-toothed smile and the jaunty attitude of a guy who just won a lottery.

He just lost the heavyweight championship of the world? Puh! He'll get it back.

He just got publicly humiliated in the ring by a guy who didn't figure to warm him up? Oh well, these things happen.

No false whickers and smoked glasses for Iron Mike. Sing no sad songs for Mr. Tyson.

It was just a knockout. Mike laughs when he talks about it. No big deal. Just a little accident. Happens in the best of families. Sort of like slipping on a roller skate at the top of the stairs. Just carelessness, not catastrophes.

Mike even admits he watches the debate on tape. He jokes about that, too. "I sit there and I tell myself, 'Hey, man! Duck!' But on screen, I don't duck. I scream, 'Duck, you dummy!' But the dummy don't listen to me."

It was probably the most shocking upset in the history of pugilism. Schmeling's knockout of Joe Louis and Jim Corbett's KO of John L. Sullivan are the only ones that come close.

But Mike Tyson is not apologizing to anybody. He is not ready for a monetary year. One reporter wanted to know if he made him suicidal. Mike thought that was hilarious, saying: "Hey! I got lots of money to spend before I kill myself!"

Mike is even baffled as to why anyone should think he would be ready for a rubber room. Hey! It's just a fight. "You have to deal with things like this every day," he says. "Did I cry? I wish I could cry! The last time I cried was when I got my divorce. That's why you cry."

"Actually, can I tell you something? It was a relief, it was a relief. It was a relief of a lot of pressure."

It is the concerned belief of the fight mob that the worst damage of a knockout is to the brain. The medical profession would certainly agree, but the fight mob doesn't mean pathological. It means psychological. "It gets a fighter thinking in terms of, 'the old-time manager, Willie Ketchum, once explained, 'Fighers are pessimists.'"

Tyson isn't pessimistic; just realistic. "The fought a good fight, I fought a bad fight. I got to deal with that. I'm not the type guy to get down on myself."

"You know, if I was, half the fighter I am and I lost the title to someone, and I knew I could never beat this guy, that might, you know, tend to dishearten me."

Please see MURRAY, page 11

Manchester Herald

Section 2, Page 9
Tuesday, May 22, 1990

Off-season workouts charm for Boddicker

By Dave O'Hara
The Associated Press

BOSTON — Mike Boddicker of the Boston Red Sox keeps a Massachusetts State Police cap in his locker.

It serves as a reminder of all the hard work he put in during the off-season to strengthen muscles in a crank problem.

The cap also may be serving as a lucky charm as Boddicker is riding a five-game winning streak in a 6-3 record.

"Maybe the workouts at the state police academy have helped me," Boddicker said Monday night after the Red Sox rallied for a 4-2 victory over the Texas Rangers.

"I did a lot of swimming and I worked with the weights a lot during the winter," said Boddicker, a 15-game winner last year. "Hopefully, it's paying off. I feel real loose, stretched out."

Despite 40-degree weather and a drizzle, Boddicker allowed only three hits in the fifth, until Dwight Evans led off the seventh with a double off the wall in left-center.

Gary Miele (0-1) replaced Bohannon and was unable to help the 21-year-old left-hander notch his first major league victory.

Tony Pena got a double on a sinking line drive to right, which forced three hits in the top of the seventh. Pena was out at first on a double play.

Mike Jeffcoat relieved Miele and Kevin Romaine drew a pinch walk on a 3-2 count, forcing home Evans with the tying run. Luis Rivera grounded into a third to home to first double play.

However, runners on second and third and two outs, the Rangers elected to pitch to five-time batting champion Wade Boggs.

Boggs responded to the challenge by lining a 1-2 pitch to left, scoring Burks and Romaine.

"He's a tough hitter with two strikes and two outs, but I gave him a good pitch to hit — right down the middle," Jeffcoat said after the Rangers ninth loss in 11 games and 12th in the last 15.

Boggs struck out for the 19th time this season before his single, now 12-33 with 13 RBIs with runners in scoring position.

"I'm just in awe of what I'm doing myself," said Boggs, who is hitting just .293. "It's not like me to swing and miss. I can't figure it out."

"Lefties against righties, righties against lefties. I don't care. I don't think I'd pitch to Wade Boggs with first base open like that," said Burks. "He's just too tough a hitter."

Former Massachusetts schoolboy star Bobby Witt, who has won only one of six decisions in 1989, was scheduled to start today, but was scratched.

Mike Jeffcoat relieved Miele and Kevin Romaine drew a pinch walk on a 3-2 count, forcing home Evans with the tying run. Luis Rivera grounded into a third to

Old pro Fisk still productive for Chisox

By Ben Walker
The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Even on the youngest team in the major leagues there's a place for 42-year-old Carlton Fisk.

In fact, it's hard to tell where Fisk belongs. The Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees 6-5.

A lesser kid might have folded," Torborg said.

When Scott Radinsky (3-0) relieved Fisk, kept him out of trouble.

"That's a lot of credit to Carlton Fisk," Torborg, a former catcher, said. "He pulled them through."

And when the White Sox trailed 4-3 with two out in the seventh and had runners on first and second, Fisk got the big hit. He greeted Lance McCullers with his second home run of the season, a drive far over the left-field fence.

"I needed a hit," Fisk said. "I was just trying not to swing at any balls in the dirt, like I've been doing all year. I haven't really felt comfortable at the plate. It's been a little better the last three or four games, but not much."

Fisk went 1-for-5 but is batting a respectable .287. And his one swing ended Chicago's three-game losing streak, matching its longest of the season.

The home run was the 338th of Fisk's career. Yinger Don Baylor for 46th place on the all-time list. His 317th homer as a catcher put him 10 behind Johnny Bench's record.

Torborg won the battle of managerial moves with Bucky Dent in the seventh, setting up Fisk's home run.

The White Sox trailed by a run when Sammy Sosa led struck out and took third when Ivan Calderon grounded out. Left-hander Lee Guetterman (2-2) relieved to face the left-handed Don Paskia, but right-handed Ron Kittle batted instead and walked.

Dent brought on the right-handed McCullers to face Fisk, who took two balls and then homered.

"We tried to get a low fastball by him and he's a low fastball hitter," McCullers said.

The Yankees closed to 6-5 in their seventh when Deion Sanders, recalled from Class AAA Columbus earlier in the day, tripled against Radinsky and scored on pinch-hitter Jesse Barfield's sacrifice fly off Barry Jones.

Jones retired the Yankees in order in the eighth and Bobby Thigpen pitched a perfect ninth for his 11th save.

The Yankees, who began the game tied with Houston for fewest runs in the majors, scored three times in the second. Don Mattingly, batting cleanup for the first time since 1986, doubled and so did Mel Hall. Randy Vladek struck an RBI single. Alvaro Espinoza doubled and Wayne Tolleson hit a sacrifice fly.

Bruins look to even series with the Oilers

By Ken Rappaport
The Associated Press

EDMONTON, Alberta — After dispelling their own doubts about winning, the Boston Bruins believe they can knot up their best-of-7 Stanley Cup series with the Edmonton Oilers in Game 4 tonight.

"I think everyone's more excited about (tonight), to go out there and tie this thing up," center Bobby Carpenter said.

The Bruins were hardly in that mood following losses to the Oilers in the first two games of the series in Boston.

"I think there was some doubt (the Bruins could win)," Boston coach Mike Milbury said. "We played mostly well enough to win either of those games."

"But I thought the team did a pretty good job of regrouping psychologically, and they came back (Sunday night) and eliminated some of their doubts."

With some of their lesser lines eliminated, the Bruins this year under Milbury. Dave Poulin was out of the lineup with an injury suffered in Game 2, so Milbury had to make some adjustments.

The patchwork lineup included a "hunch" by the rookie coach to insert left-out John Byrne as well as Greg Johnston and Andy Brickley into the game. The move had a look of genius to it after Byrne and Johnston scored Boston's goals.

"With injuries, we had to move a few lines around and try something," Brian Propp said. "But he's (Milbury) done that all year. We're pros and we have to adjust to that."

Bye played center on a line with Cam Neely and Craig Janney, who was moved over to left wing from his customary center spot.

"I really needed to score some goals," said Propp, who has scored 10 goals and 10 assists in 14 games. "That doesn't make a goal-scorer in the National Hockey League, but it was from the risk, and with Poulin's injury it was the logical choice to make."

There was really no rhyme or reason to Milbury's patchwork lineup Sunday night.

"As far as the line combinations were concerned," he said, "we decided to go with whoever was going good."

It has been part of the Bruins' scheme all year, and the main reason they won the NHL's overall points championship.

"We all have special roles," Carpenter said. "We play a team game. We know that each player has to do so if you get changed to another position like Craig got changed to left wing, he knows exactly what he has to do as a left winger."

"We have been very disciplined in our system. We haven't gotten too far away from it at all. We have stuck to our system all year long."

The talk in the Oilers' dressing room, meanwhile, was mostly about captain Mark Messier, who has been pretty much held off the board for the first three games of the finals.

"The thought of it now, and the thought of training for it, I don't know," he said. "I don't think it would be this year. But knowing me ..."

"He just kind of looked at me strangely like, 'Are you for real?'" she said. "I started crying. I thought, 'Oh no, how stupid.'"

Runner takes wrong turn — 26 miles worth

By Kristi Umbrail
The Associated Press

CLEVELAND — A mistake put runner Georgene Johnson at the finish line of the 26-mile Revco-Cleveland Marathon. The next time — if there is one — she says she'll know what she's doing.

Johnson, a 42-year-old secretary, had entered a 10-kilometer race Sunday but got distracted. She headed to the starting line 15 minutes early and mistakenly joined the 26-milers.

"I'm not stupid. It's just that my mind wasn't there. I really lost track of time," Johnson said Monday in a telephone interview from her Akron home.

"I guess I was in better shape than I thought," she said. "I feel fine, although my knees are real sore this morning."

The 10-kilometer (6.2-mile) race was to start at 8:45 a.m., the marathon 15 minutes after. Both Revco-Cleveland races used the same starting line.

"I didn't have a watch on and I didn't pay attention, and I saw them all on the starting line, so I fell in," she said.

After running about four miles and seeing no turnaround marker, she figured she'd better ask another runner.

"He just kind of looked at me strangely like, 'Are you for real?'" she said. "I started crying. I thought, 'Oh no, how stupid.'"

Johnson asked a policeman to drive her back into downtown, but he had no car.

Back running again, she started ahead and noticed a man's T-shirt that read, "Just Do It!"

"I said, 'OK,'" she said.

"Then, when I got to mile seven, some guy was giving me some advice, to slow down. He said I was keeping pretty good pace and that if I could make it to the 13-mile mark I could get a ride back."

She said a friend who had entered the marathon, had made the turnaround and was headed back, made eye contact with her and seemed flabbergasted.

"I saw his eyes get real big as if he were thinking, 'What are you doing here? Am I hallucinating?'"

Halfway, she said, a second wind kicked in.

"When I got there, I was feeling pretty good. My timing was good. I got to the 20 and it was like, well, I have 10K left. Then it was a matter of pride."

A final boost came as she neared the finish.

"I saw one other woman. I don't know if it was my competitive spirit or what, but I said, 'I'm passing her.'"

Johnson finished the marathon in 4:04, good enough for 83rd place in the women's division. Her longest run previously was eight miles.

After the unexpected feat, Johnson entered another marathon?

REAL LONG — Georgene Johnson thought she was entering a 10K race in Cleveland on Sunday. Instead, she ran a 26-mile marathon.

The Associated Press

MAY

FILED BY THE PROFESSIONALS AT
CREST INFORMATION TECHNOLOGIES, CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

1990

Unlikely pair heroes for Blazers

By Bob Baum
The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore. — They were unlikely heroes. Kevin Duckworth, who broke his right hand three weeks ago, made the game-winning basket. Danny Young, a slender, unassuming backup point guard, blocked Phoenix's last shot, giving him five blocks for the season in more than 1,500 minutes.

As a result, the Portland Trail Blazers escaped with a 100-98 victory over the Suns Monday night in the opener of the Western Conference Finals.

"We didn't play very smart down the stretch," Portland coach Rick Adelman said. "That's very obvious. We should have controlled the game better than we did."

"But what I liked about it is it was defensive. We did what we had to do, and then Duck made the big shot."

It was a matchup between the weary and rusty, and the weary won.

Portland was playing just two days after concluding its emotional seven-game conference semifinal series against San Antonio.

The Suns hadn't played for six days after upsetting the Los Angeles Lakers in the other semifinal.

"Our execution was rusty. We weren't sharp," Phoenix coach Cotton Fitzsimmons said. "But give Portland credit. They played hard and they got what they needed to win at the end."

After his team took the home court advantage away from Utah and the Lakers, Fitzsimmons was shaken by the two-point loss. He looked optimistically at Game 2 Wednesday night.

"We'll be fine," he said. "We've been here before. A man asked me how important it is this game? About as important as it was in Utah when they beat us by 20."

The Suns shot just 41 percent from the field and their big guns, Tom Chambers and Kevin Johnson, were inconsistent.

Chambers scored 29 points but missed several open shots. Johnson scored 20, but made only two of 12 from the field after the first quarter.

"I think we can execute better. I think we can shoot better," Fitzsimmons said. "The opportunities are there for us. We couldn't even execute fast breaks. It was kind of a miracle when we had a fast break."

Portland led most of the game, but never by more than eight points.

The Suns, who lost in Portland for the 18th straight time, took an 87-86 lead early in the fourth quarter on Jeff Hornacek's 10-footer.

The Blazers regained the lead and were up 98-99 on Clyde Drexler's scoring, one-handed rebound basket with 2:59 to play.

Two Portland turnovers opened the door for Phoenix. Hornacek scored on a drive, then Chambers was hit by the two-point loss.

After another Portland turnover, the Suns had a chance for the go-ahead basket, but Johnson missed a layup.

For its game-winner, Portland used a pick-and-roll play it has used "a zillion" times, Duckworth said.

Terry Porter drove to the basket, and Duckworth headed for the baseline. When Duckworth's defender, Mark West, moved to stop Porter, the Portland player got the ball to the 7-foot center, who sank a wide-open eight-footer with 17.3 seconds to go.

"He's phenomenal," Portland's Buck Williams said. "The man came back with a broken bone in his hand. He's playing on a lot of courage right now. That's all he's playing on."

Duckworth, who missed six games before returning in the seventh game of the San Antonio series, said the play has been a reliable one.

"We've won a lot of games with that play," Duckworth said. "I haven't made one from the baseline since I broke my hand," he said. "That was the first one."

Pistons host Bulls in Game 2 of series

By Harry Atkins
The Associated Press

AUBURN HILLS, Mich. — The Detroit Pistons may have to play better basketball tonight to beat the Chicago Bulls.

On the other hand, the Pistons might be able to continue winning ugly.

Detroit held opponents to a league-low 98.3 points during the regular season, the sixth-best ever in an 82-game schedule. But defense had little to do with the Pistons' 86-77 victory in the opener of the best-of-7 Eastern Conference final on Sunday.

"That was the game they should have won," Detroit guard Isiah Thomas said. "We played poorly on offense, we missed open shots, which is uncharacteristic for us."

During the regular season the Bulls averaged 109.5 points per game.

Chicago shot 37.8 percent. Detroit missed eight free throws and turned the ball over 16 times; Chicago had only seven offensive rebounds and turned the ball over 10 times in the second half.

It doesn't get much uglier than that.

"We didn't play very well at all and we won pretty convincingly," Thomas said. "I think that's a good sign."

The Pistons, bidding to become only the third franchise in NBA history to repeat as champions, always seem to bring out the best in Chicago.

"I don't think there will be many beautiful offensive games in this series," Thomas said. "We're going to bring break clean and early for them."

During the regular season the Bulls averaged 109.5 points per game.

Feud between Blue Jays, A's hasn't really cooled

TORONTO (AP) — No, they didn't forget.

The Toronto Blue Jays and Oakland Athletics exchanged angry words and menacing glances during the American League playoffs last October. Both sides said the long winter wouldn't cause short memories.

Mark down May 20 on your baseball calendar, they said.

Oakland manager Tony La Russa was mad at the Blue Jays' organization for charging reliever Dennis Eckersley did something funny to the ball. The Blue Jays hinted Rickie Henderson was a hoodlum with extra relief.

It didn't take long for both sides to get down to some fightin' words Monday afternoon at the SkyDome, either.

Todd Stottlemyre's second pitch of the game was high and inside to Henderson, who didn't like it one bit. Stottlemyre took exception at Henderson's attitude and both benches emptied.

Wellcome to the A's-Jays feud — 1990 style.

AL Roundup

There is no way obviously this team gave up, no way at all," Seattle manager Jim Lefebvre said. "You just don't pack in the bags. We know we had a shot at it. We knew we had to go up there and swing the bats because this guy [Pleasant] is not going to fool around with us."

Seattle trailed Milwaukee 4-1 entering the ninth. But Darrell Coles, Harold Reynolds, Jeffrey Leonard and Ken Griffey Jr. hit RBI doubles off Pleasac and Edgar Marier, who singled to start the inning, capped with a two-run homer off Paul Mirabella.

Milwaukee got six shutout innings from Taddy Higuera, a solo homer by Glenn Braggs and Dave Parker's two-run double before the roof fell in. Reynolds' two-run double tied the score and Henry's solo single put the Mariners ahead.

The Mariners were 0-17 when trailing after eight innings and Pleasac came into the game with a 2.25 ERA — 15 runs, 27 hits and eight saves.

Tigers 11, Royals 6: The Detroit Tigers, who finished last in the AL East a year ago with a 59-103 record, didn't wait until the ninth inning. They scored eight times in the second, including home runs by Lou Whitaker and Lyle Moechly, and withstood three Kansas City homers to win 11-6.

"We've got some power," manager Sparky Anderson said. "We'll hit a lot of home runs, but we have to get the other guys from hitting so far."

times in the ninth inning, seven off Milwaukee relief ace Dan Pleasac, and beat the Brewers 9-4 Monday night.

Canoe sent Stottlemyre's 1-0 pitch for his 14th homer, scoring Henderson and Willie Randolph to center in the third to make it 4-1.

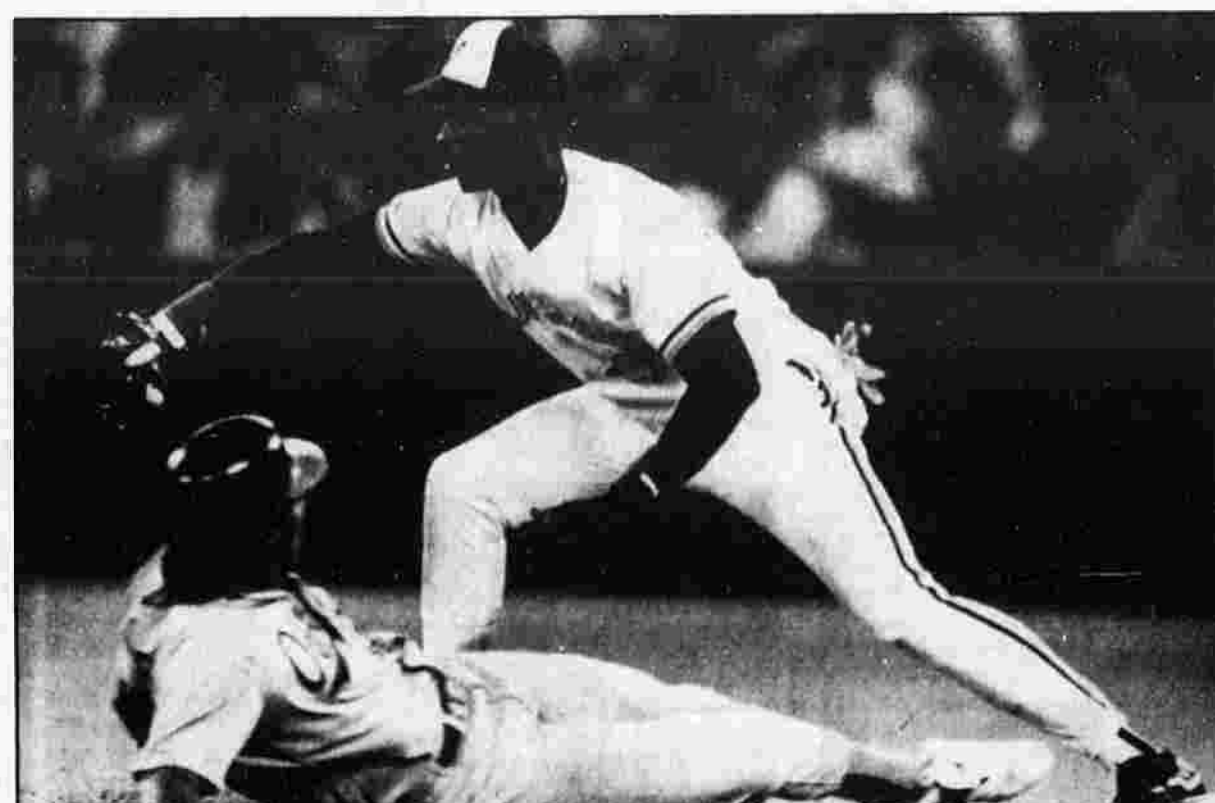

Bob Welch (5-2) checked the Blue Jays on five hits over 7 2/3 innings. He struck out eight and walked four.

That's as well as I've seen him pitch all season," La Russa said of Welch. "I think it's obvious how well he pitched when you look at the lineup he had to face. Toronto is a good-hitting team that can beat you in lots of ways. Bob just shut them down."

Eckersley struck out two of three batters in the ninth to earn his 10th save of the season.

La Russa said the media was mostly responsible for the several incidents between the Blue Jays and the Athletics in the playoffs.

"There was a lot of baiting going on last year," La Russa said. "I heard a lot of instances where my players were baited into saying things they shouldn't have said. I don't want to say anyone about it."

The Associated Press

GOTCHA — Toronto first baseman Fred McGriff takes the throw and is about to tag Jose Canseco of the Athletics out after the latter was caught between first and second in Monday night's game at the SkyDome. Oakland won, 4-1.

the bottom of the second, took third on Larry Sheets' single and scored on Tom Gorman's wild pitch.

Gary Ward walked and one out later Mike Heath walked to load the bases. Gordon hit a fly ball, forcing in the tying run and bringing in Kevin Appier. After Alan Trammell's fly, Whittaker hit a two-run homer to make it 6-2. Cecil Fielder walked and Morey's homer.

The Tigers had only three hits in the inning but took advantage of five walks and a hit batman.

Twins 7, Orioles 3: Kent Hrbek and Dan Gladden homered as Minnesota notched its 14th victory in 18 games this month after a 7-12 April.

The Twins got all the runs they needed in the first inning off Bob Milacki (1-0), who threw only 21 pitches but was touched for four runs and four hits.

Minnesota starter David West was replaced in the fifth by Mark

Guthrie (1-0), who allowed only three hits in 4 1/3 innings. Brad Komminick homered for Baltimore's three-run third inning and Bert Blyleven (2-3) got his first victory in Cleveland since Sept. 15, 1985.

Blyleven went 5-2-3 innings, allowing three runs and seven hits. Mark Eichhorn pitched 1 1/3 innings for his eighth save.

Angels 5, Indians 3: Johnny Ray doubled home two runs in California's three-run third inning and Bert Blyleven (2-3) got his first victory in Cleveland since Sept. 15, 1985.

Blyleven went 5-2-3 innings, allowing three runs and seven hits. Mark Eichhorn pitched 1 1/3 innings for his eighth save.

SCOREBOARD

Baseball

American League standings

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Milwaukee	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Monday's Games

Seattle (Johnson 3-2) at Milwaukee (Krudson 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Oakland (Thompson 1-1) at Toronto (Fitz 4-2), 4:25 p.m.

Chicago (Perez 3-2) at Baltimore (Ballard 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Minnesota (Tepko 2-2) at Baltimore (Ballard 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Texas (Witt 1-0) at Boston (Knicker 0-0), 7:55 p.m.

California (Fryer 5-2) at Cleveland (Carroll 2-0), 7:55 p.m.

Philadelphia (Fryer 5-2) at Cleveland (Carroll 2-0), 7:55 p.m.

San Diego (Whitson 3-2) at Montreal (Gardner 1-0), 7:25 p.m.

St. Louis (Dolan 3-2) at Atlanta (Rigall 2-1), 7:55 p.m.

Pittsburgh (Whitson 3-2) at Houston (Schuler 1-0), 7:25 p.m.

Los Angeles (Chapman 2-2) at San Diego (Whitson 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

San Francisco (Lowe 3-2) at San Francisco (Lowe 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

Only games scheduled.

National League standings

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Pittsburgh	23	15	.605	0
Montreal	20	18	.526	3 1/2
St. Louis	18	20	.475	5 1/2
Chicago	18	20	.475	5 1/2
San Diego	18	20	.475	5 1/2
Los Angeles	18	20	.475	5 1/2
San Francisco	15	23	.395	12 1/2
Atlanta	14	24	.368	13 1/2

Monday's Games

Atlanta (Lowe 3-2) at Cincinnati (Lowe 3-2), 7:55 p.m.

Philadelphia (Lowe 3-2) at San Francisco (Lowe 3-2), 7:55 p.m.

St. Louis (Dolan 3-2) at Atlanta (Rigall 2-1), 7:55 p.m.

San Diego (Whitson 3-2) at Houston (Schuler 1-0), 7:25 p.m.

Los Angeles (Chapman 2-2) at San Diego (Whitson 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

San Francisco (Lowe 3-2) at San Francisco (Lowe 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

Only games scheduled.

American League results

White Sox 6, Yankees 5

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Mariners 9, Brewers 4

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Reds 4, Cubs 3

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Reds 4, Cubs 3

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Tigers 11, Royals 6

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Milwaukee	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Monday's Games

Seattle (Johnson 3-2) at Milwaukee (Krudson 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Oakland (Thompson 1-1) at Toronto (Fitz 4-2), 4:25 p.m.

Chicago (Perez 3-2) at Baltimore (Ballard 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Minnesota (Tepko 2-2) at Baltimore (Ballard 2-1), 7:25 p.m.

Texas (Witt 1-0) at Boston (Knicker 0-0), 7:55 p.m.

California (Fryer 5-2) at Cleveland (Carroll 2-0), 7:55 p.m.

Philadelphia (Fryer 5-2) at Cleveland (Carroll 2-0), 7:55 p.m.

San Diego (Whitson 3-2) at Montreal (Gardner 1-0), 7:25 p.m.

St. Louis (Dolan 3-2) at Atlanta (Rigall 2-1), 7:55 p.m.

Pittsburgh (Whitson 3-2) at Houston (Schuler 1-0), 7:25 p.m.

Los Angeles (Chapman 2-2) at San Diego (Whitson 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

San Francisco (Lowe 3-2) at San Francisco (Lowe 3-2), 7:25 p.m.

Only games scheduled.

National League results

Red Sox 4, Rangers 2

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Angels 5, Indians 3

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Braves 6, Cardinals 5

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Reds 4, Cubs 3

Team	W	L	Pct.	GB
Chicago	21	14	.600	0
Seattle	19	16	.543	1 1/2
Toronto	19	19	.500	2 1/2
San Diego	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Detroit	18	22	.450	5 1/2
Baltimore	15	22	.405	6 1/2
New York	14	21	.400	7 1/2

Reds 4, Cubs 3

	IP	H	R	E	R	B	B	S
Seattle	7 1/3	6	4	4	3
Holman	1 2/3	0	0	0	0	1
Clark W, 1-0
Milwaukee
Higuera	6	2	0	0	2
Fosses	1	1	1	1	1
Grim	1 3/4	1	0	0	0
Plesac, L, 0-2	1 1/3	7	7	7	7	1
Mirabella	1 3/4	1	1	1	1	0

Fosses pitched to 1 batter in the 8th.

32 APARTMENTS FOR RENT
VERNON-Apartment, 2 rooms with heat and electricity, $95 weekly. 875-2119 or 875-2022.

MANCHESTER-family, quiet neighborhood, central location, large rooms and yard, on bus line, 1975 month. Call Rick, 647-1865 between 8am-5pm.

3 BEDROOM DUPLEX, Available June, Security references. No utilities. 647-1750.

EAST HARTFORD-3 room, 2 bedroom in 2 family house, $560 monthly. Security references. 508-7907.

MANCHESTER-1 bedroom, carpet, appliances, centrally located, on bus line, $495 plus utilities and security. Call 646-5457.

2 BEDROOM TOWNHOUSE-All appliances, Heat/hot water, carpeting, dr. Call 646-5260.

MANCHESTER-3 bedroom apartment, Near recreational facilities. References/security required. $650 monthly. No utilities included. 875-5874.

34 HOMES FOR RENT
COLUMBIA LAKE WATERFRONT-Year round, unfurnished house, suitable for couple or single. No pets. 228-3924.

91 CARS FOR SALE
OUTTOBECOME MANCHESTER'S #1 USED CAR DEALER
64 Plymouth Reliant Wagon $1,995
64 Charger $1,995
89 Ford Escort $1,995
89 Dodge Daytona $4,995
89 Ford Escort Wagon $4,995
84 Toyota Camry $4,995
89 Oldsmobile Firenza $2,995
89 Mazda SE 5 Pick-Up $6,995
84 Mercury Grand Marquis $6,995
87 Dakota Pick-Up $6,995
89 Nissan 747 $6,995
89 Mercury Cougar $6,995
89 Mercury Grand Marquis $6,995
87 Buick Somerset $7,995
89 BMW 225i $7,995
89 GMC Jimmy 4x4 $7,995
89 Buick Riviera $7,995
87 Civic $7,995
89 Mercury Sable GS $8,995
89 Honda Accord LX $8,995
89 Audi 5000 Turbo $8,995
89 Chevy S 10 4x4 Blazer $8,995
89 Mercury Cougar LS $9,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $9,995
89 Mercury Cougar LS Gpe $9,995
89 Chevy 20 Conv. Van $10,995
89 Mercury Sable GS V6 $11,995
89 Grand Prix LE $11,995
89 Mercury Sable GS V6 $12,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $12,995
89 Ford 250 4x4 LP $14,211
89 BMW 225i $14,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $19,995

MANY OTHERS NOT LISTED
MONROE LINCOLN/MERCEDES BENZ (Formerly Mercury Buick)
303 Carter Street
Manchester
643-5135

35 STORE/OFFICE FOR RENT
VERNON-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

STORES FOR RENT-400
Main Street, Manchester. Please call 646-2426, 9:00-5:00 weekdays.

MANCHESTER-983 Main St., Office, 500 square feet. Excellent location. Includes heat, 647-9223/647-7115.

AIR CONDITIONED offices are available in Manchester. Square feet areas are 400-450-550-600. The office is centrally located with utilities and security. Call 646-5457.

DON'T KNOW anyone who wants to buy what you have to sell? Let a want ad find a cash buyer for you!

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
$1,000 monthly
Let a room know for real estate, office, or other commercial uses.
Anne Miller Real Estate 647-8000

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
MANCHESTER-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

74 FURNITURE
STEREO CABINET on wheels. Handmade. Light oak. 11" x 3" x 8". $50. 649-9409.

82 SPORTS
GOLF CLUBS-Used. Starter and full sets with bags from $35. Also misc. clubs. 649-1794.

83 BOATS/MARINE EQUIPMENT
STARCRRAFT-1967 Aluminum boat, motor, and trailer. $800. Call between 10am-10pm, 649-3703.

84 MUSICAL ITEMS
BALDWIN Fun Machine Interlude Organ. Excellent condition. Best offer. 644-6848.

87 MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
END ROLLS 27 1/2" width - 50¢ 13" width - 2 for 50¢ Newsprint and roll can be used at the Manchester Herald only. 11am-1pm, Monday through Thursday.

91 CARS FOR SALE
MALIBU-1977 Station wagon. Good condition. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

32 APARTMENTS FOR RENT
VERNON-Apartment, 2 rooms with heat and electricity, $95 weekly. 875-2119 or 875-2022.

MANCHESTER-family, quiet neighborhood, central location, large rooms and yard, on bus line, 1975 month. Call Rick, 647-1865 between 8am-5pm.

3 BEDROOM DUPLEX, Available June, Security references. No utilities. 647-1750.

EAST HARTFORD-3 room, 2 bedroom in 2 family house, $560 monthly. Security references. 508-7907.

MANCHESTER-1 bedroom, carpet, appliances, centrally located, on bus line, $495 plus utilities and security. Call 646-5457.

2 BEDROOM TOWNHOUSE-All appliances, Heat/hot water, carpeting, dr. Call 646-5260.

MANCHESTER-3 bedroom apartment, Near recreational facilities. References/security required. $650 monthly. No utilities included. 875-5874.

34 HOMES FOR RENT
COLUMBIA LAKE WATERFRONT-Year round, unfurnished house, suitable for couple or single. No pets. 228-3924.

91 CARS FOR SALE
OUTTOBECOME MANCHESTER'S #1 USED CAR DEALER
64 Plymouth Reliant Wagon $1,995
64 Charger $1,995
89 Ford Escort $1,995
89 Dodge Daytona $4,995
89 Ford Escort Wagon $4,995
84 Toyota Camry $4,995
89 Oldsmobile Firenza $2,995
89 Mazda SE 5 Pick-Up $6,995
84 Mercury Grand Marquis $6,995
87 Dakota Pick-Up $6,995
89 Nissan 747 $6,995
89 Mercury Cougar $6,995
89 Mercury Grand Marquis $6,995
87 Buick Somerset $7,995
89 BMW 225i $7,995
89 GMC Jimmy 4x4 $7,995
89 Buick Riviera $7,995
87 Civic $7,995
89 Mercury Sable GS $8,995
89 Honda Accord LX $8,995
89 Audi 5000 Turbo $8,995
89 Chevy S 10 4x4 Blazer $8,995
89 Mercury Cougar LS $9,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $9,995
89 Mercury Cougar LS Gpe $9,995
89 Chevy 20 Conv. Van $10,995
89 Mercury Sable GS V6 $11,995
89 Grand Prix LE $11,995
89 Mercury Sable GS V6 $12,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $12,995
89 Ford 250 4x4 LP $14,211
89 BMW 225i $14,995
89 Lincoln Town Car $19,995

MANY OTHERS NOT LISTED
MONROE LINCOLN/MERCEDES BENZ (Formerly Mercury Buick)
303 Carter Street
Manchester
643-5135

35 STORE/OFFICE FOR RENT
VERNON-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

STORES FOR RENT-400
Main Street, Manchester. Please call 646-2426, 9:00-5:00 weekdays.

MANCHESTER-983 Main St., Office, 500 square feet. Excellent location. Includes heat, 647-9223/647-7115.

AIR CONDITIONED offices are available in Manchester. Square feet areas are 400-450-550-600. The office is centrally located with utilities and security. Call 646-5457.

DON'T KNOW anyone who wants to buy what you have to sell? Let a want ad find a cash buyer for you!

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
$1,000 monthly
Let a room know for real estate, office, or other commercial uses.
Anne Miller Real Estate 647-8000

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
MANCHESTER-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

74 FURNITURE
STEREO CABINET on wheels. Handmade. Light oak. 11" x 3" x 8". $50. 649-9409.

82 SPORTS
GOLF CLUBS-Used. Starter and full sets with bags from $35. Also misc. clubs. 649-1794.

83 BOATS/MARINE EQUIPMENT
STARCRRAFT-1967 Aluminum boat, motor, and trailer. $800. Call between 10am-10pm, 649-3703.

84 MUSICAL ITEMS
BALDWIN Fun Machine Interlude Organ. Excellent condition. Best offer. 644-6848.

87 MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
END ROLLS 27 1/2" width - 50¢ 13" width - 2 for 50¢ Newsprint and roll can be used at the Manchester Herald only. 11am-1pm, Monday through Thursday.

91 CARS FOR SALE
MALIBU-1977 Station wagon. Good condition. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

1990 S10 PICKUP MODEL END CLEARANCE
NEW 1990 S10 PICKUP
Automatic, Tahoe, Cassette, Silver, New Window, 8 Bed, #3527
$8995

NEW 1990 S10 PICKUP
Automatic, Tahoe, Cassette, Silver, New Window, 7 1/2 Bed, #3126
$9195

NEW 1990 S10 4x4
V-6, Automatic, Cassette, #3117
$12,395

NEW 1990 S10 4x4
V-6, Automatic, Tahoe, Cassette, Siding New Windows, #3226
$12,795

NEW 1990 S10 4x4
V-6, Automatic, Tahoe, Air Conditioning, Cassette, #3431
$13,495

$1500 FACTORY REBATE OR SPECIAL GMAC FINANCING AVAILABLE.
Above prices include rebate.

CARTER CHEVROLET/GEO
1229 Main Street, Manchester Exit 31-384
646-6464 Hours: Mon-Thurs 9-8 Fri-Sat 9-5

35 STORE/OFFICE FOR RENT
VERNON-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

STORES FOR RENT-400
Main Street, Manchester. Please call 646-2426, 9:00-5:00 weekdays.

MANCHESTER-983 Main St., Office, 500 square feet. Excellent location. Includes heat, 647-9223/647-7115.

AIR CONDITIONED offices are available in Manchester. Square feet areas are 400-450-550-600. The office is centrally located with utilities and security. Call 646-5457.

DON'T KNOW anyone who wants to buy what you have to sell? Let a want ad find a cash buyer for you!

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
$1,000 monthly
Let a room know for real estate, office, or other commercial uses.
Anne Miller Real Estate 647-8000

37 INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY
MANCHESTER-Farmer bank branch with drive thru for sale. On Route 83, 3,400 square feet plus 3,400 square feet. Basement suitable for office, retail or restaurant. Call Bill Bourque, The Farley Company, 875-9171.

74 FURNITURE
STEREO CABINET on wheels. Handmade. Light oak. 11" x 3" x 8". $50. 649-9409.

82 SPORTS
GOLF CLUBS-Used. Starter and full sets with bags from $35. Also misc. clubs. 649-1794.

83 BOATS/MARINE EQUIPMENT
STARCRRAFT-1967 Aluminum boat, motor, and trailer. $800. Call between 10am-10pm, 649-3703.

84 MUSICAL ITEMS
BALDWIN Fun Machine Interlude Organ. Excellent condition. Best offer. 644-6848.

87 MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE
END ROLLS 27 1/2" width - 50¢ 13" width - 2 for 50¢ Newsprint and roll can be used at the Manchester Herald only. 11am-1pm, Monday through Thursday.

91 CARS FOR SALE
MALIBU-1977 Station wagon. Good condition. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

91 CARS FOR SALE
DODGE-1980 Omni. Needs some work. $850. Please call Keith at 646-1513 anytime.

FOI

Democrats complain about attendance/3

Head-on

Boys lose, girls win CCC East track title/11

Noted

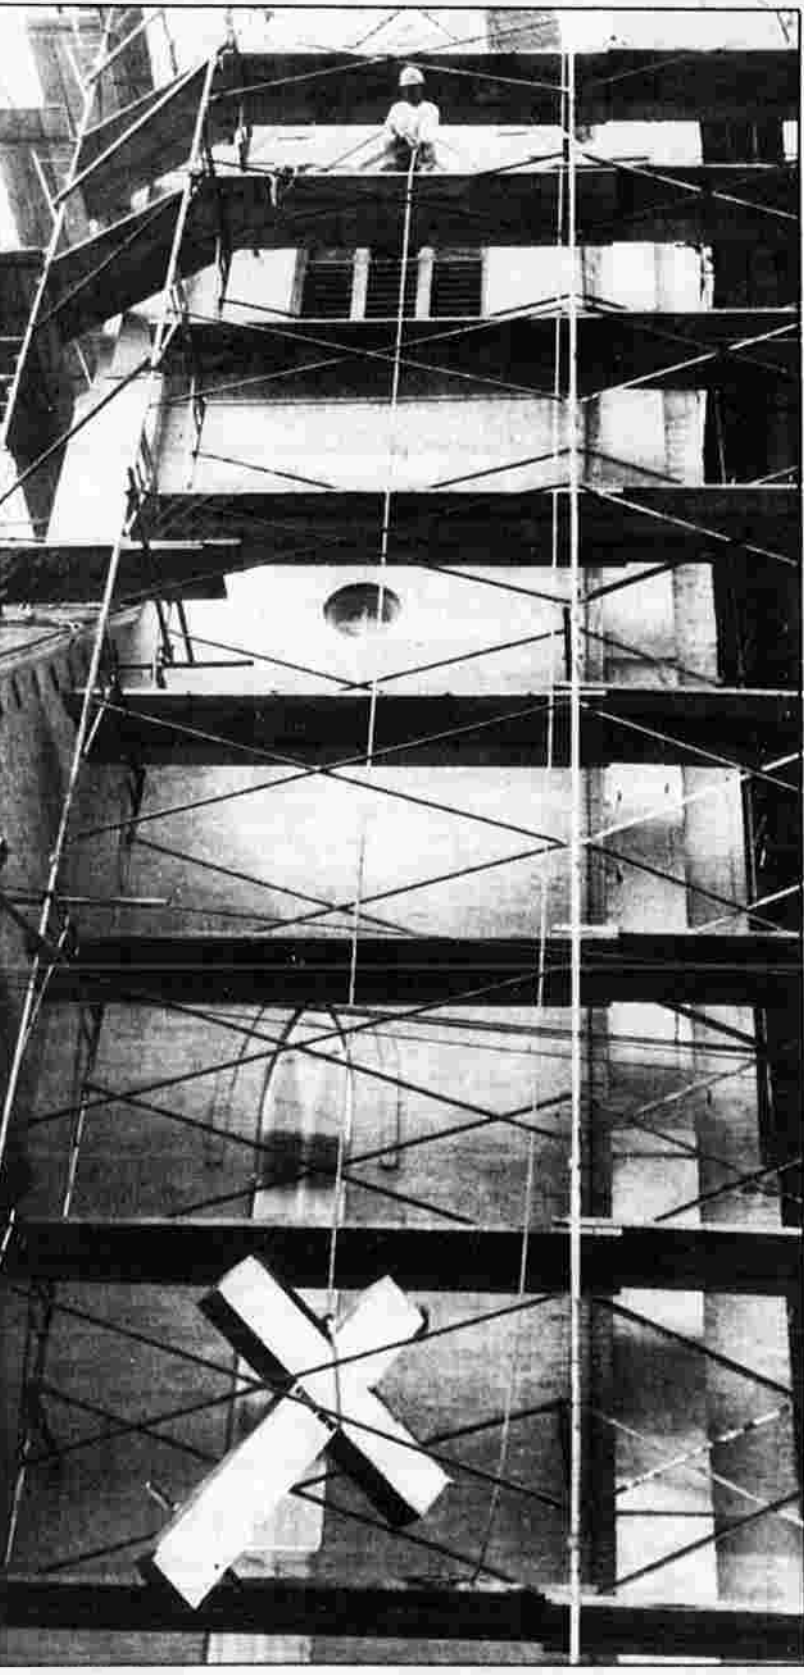

Aparo phone call described to jury/4

Manchester Herald

Wednesday, May 23, 1990

Manchester, Conn. — A City of Village Charm

Newsstand Price: 35 Cents

Union: end beer strike

By Dianna M. Talbot
Manchester Herald

Union leaders of about 205 striking employees of area beer distributors urged them today to return to work and accept third-party binding arbitration.

The leaders' plea came shortly before members agreed to vote on a proposed agreement.

Early this afternoon, workers were still voting and a total was unavailable.

Employees affected are drivers and warehouse workers for Hartford-area distributors, including 120 employees at Hartford Distributors Inc. in Manchester.

The vote took place today at the pavilion behind the Elks Club on Roberts Street in East Hartford.

Area bars and package stores have anxiously awaited the results because of the importance of beer deliveries for the upcoming Memorial Day holiday weekend.

"We've been working together to get something that the employees and companies could live with," Cliff Ludwig, vice president of the union, said shortly before the vote.

The agreement voted on is similar to one that the union rejected last week by a 2-to-1 ratio in that it calls for the striking employees to return to work without a new contract.

Ludwig said today's agreement, which includes health and welfare benefits, pay increases and truck load limits for trucks, would be decided by third-party binding arbitration, he said.

Union members who are employees of the companies, which are members of the Hartford Area Beer Distributors Association, have been unpaid for 16 days, or ever since they were locked out of their jobs on May 7 when negotiations over a new three-year contract reached a deadlock, mainly due to disputes over health and welfare benefits, pay increases and truck load limits.

On May 17, employees rejected an offer to return to work without a contract, and the lockout turned into a strike.

Ludwig said today's agreement was recommended for members' approval because some headway in negotiations has been made this week. In particular, the company has agreed to establish a provision in the proposed labor contract that would prohibit employee layoffs, he said.

The five area beer distributors are the only suppliers of domestic and foreign beers in the Greater Hartford area. Stores, bars and restaurants have been running low on supplies, but many have been sending their own employees to distributors to pick up supplies.

Besides the Manchester firm, association members include Franklin Distributors of South Windsor, Rogo Distributors of East Hartford, Fordham Distributors of Hartford and B. Verrano Inc. of Bristol.

Soviets plan vote on reforms

By Ann Innes
The Associated Press

MOSCOW — The government plans to call its first national referendum to seek public approval of an economic reform plan that could shake some of the foundations of people out of work, Soviet officials said today.

First Deputy Premier Yuri Maslyukov told a news conference that the government believes it has a clear indication of public support before instituting a program that will switch the country to a market economy.

The plan is expected to double food prices and lead to massive closures of inefficient factories.

No date was set for the referendum.

"If the public refuses to consent to the price rises, then perhaps we will have to resort to round-table discussions," Maslyukov said in response to a question. There have been calls in the Soviet Union by reformist groups for such discussions with the government and the Communist Party to accelerate political and economic reforms.

The new plan sets target price increases for various sectors of the economy, including an 82 percent rise in energy prices, an average 43 percent rise in retail prices and a doubling in the price of food, which is now heavily subsidized.

Deputy Premier Leonid Abalkin told the news conference the potential number of jobs that could be lost might be in the tens of millions.

"We are unable to offer normal living conditions to such a number if they lose their jobs. It would lead the country to the edge of an economic crash," Maslyukov said.

Town hall expansion plan backed

By Rick Santos
Manchester Herald

A plan to renovate and expand town hall has been accepted by the three-member subcommittee that the Board of Directors established to work on the project.

The subcommittee, led by Republican Ronald Ouellet because of the recent resignation of Susan Buckner, reached a consensus on the plan Tuesday.

Its estimated cost is $12.5 million, with major expenses being $7 million for the addition, $1.65 million for a parking garage, and $1.3 million to renovate existing town hall.

The plan will be presented to the full Board of Directors next month and a public hearing is likely to be scheduled for July. At that time, the board can vote for the plan to be put on the November ballot as part of a referendum including a project to enlarge the high school.

"I think we've tried to look at every way to keep the cost of the project down, so at this point, it's possible to go forward with the plan," said Mayor John Eleaser, commenting on where cuts could be made in the general government budget.

Cuts will mean reductions in existing programs and personnel, he said.

"I'm disappointed that we're not willing to include new people or programs," Board of Education member Paul Seabury said.

Seabury said the plan would cost $12.5 million, with major expenses being $7 million for the addition, $1.65 million for a parking garage, and $1.3 million to renovate existing town hall.

The plan will be presented to the full Board of Directors next month and a public hearing is likely to be scheduled for July. At that time, the board can vote for the plan to be put on the November ballot as part of a referendum including a project to enlarge the high school.

Voters reject $15.9m Coventry budget

By Jacqueline Bennett
Manchester Herald

COVENTRY — In a vote of 122-780, townpeople rejected the proposed $15.9 million budget for the next fiscal year in a referendum Tuesday.

Turnout was unusually large for recent times, with 36 percent of the town's 5,152 registered voters plus 40 property owners casting a ballot, according to Town Clerk Ruth Benoit.

"I'm disappointed but I knew it was going to be a difficult battle to pass with a 4.5-mill increase, although it is not out of line with other towns," Town Council Chairwoman

Joan Lewis, a Democrat, said at the Tuesday referendum to plan strategy.

A public hearing is scheduled for next Tuesday at 7 p.m., likely at Coventry High School. Council members are asking voters to attend and tell them how much they are willing to spend and what are the priorities in services and programs.

"This is frustrating, it was a bipartisan budget. The