Heretofore weavers have never run more than one loom. Recently, however, new electric automatic stop motax on the weaver's attention has been removed. On this assumption it was thought the weavers might run two looms with little more effort than one. That being so they would earn more at 12 cents a yard than they earned before at 18 cents a yard.

Theoretically this plan is all right, but the men 'say that it won't work pecause it is impossible for one man to run two looms. They claim that they were to be coerced into running two looms by the reduction of their pay per yard one-third.

The Wrong Way. Fathers and mothers who do not know how and where their sons and especially their young daughters spend their evenings are guilty of a negligence that is little short of criminal and that, too, often leads to sad consequences. WHY WE EAT SOME FOODS

It Is Not Alone That We Like Them, but Sature Demands Them. Why do you take milk in your tea?

Most persons would answer because they liked it that way, but the scientists have found a deeper reason, placgrounds. Raw vegetables are easily enough di gested by cows and horses, but with difficulty by the human stomach, be cause they contain that hard, fibrous substance cellulose. But acids dissolve cellulose, and vinegar is an acid. That is why we take it with salad and cabbage, and doubtless that is why it tastes so well, for the palate is an excellent judge of what is good for the stomach. Oil is added for the very good reason that it protects the lining of the stomach from the action of the acid in the vinegar.

Why do we take butter on bread? Partly because wheaten flour does not contain enough fat and partly because butter contains a trifling quantity of substances called "extractives," which in some unknown way stimulate the appetite and aid digestion.

Why do we take pepper, mustard and spices? Because they tickle the glands of the stomach and make them work. Consequently they produce an abundant supply of digestive juices. They also stir up the liver, and a stirring up of this organ is an important thing for people who live sedentary lives.

Why do we put salt on our meat? Why, there are two principal salts in our body, and their supply has to be kept up. They are sodium salts and potassium salts. There is sufficient of the latter in the food we eat, but not of the former. We therefore have to add the sodium salts in the form of common er reason why we eat common salt is that a certain amount of hydrochloric purposes of digestion and also to kill off some of the microbes we swallow. with some meats than with others besuse some naturally contain less salt we of the primress observed than others. Dismissing a Dead Man's Carriage. At the conclusion of a funeral service it is a custom among the old noble familles of Rome for the chamberlain of the household to come to the church door and announce to the footman, who stands in waiting, that his master or mistress or whoever the dead may be, has no further use for the family carriage, whereupon the footman informs the coachman, who breaks his whip over his knees and drives mournfully away.-Chicago Record-Herald.

A modern store guided by modern business ideas, constant in its efforts to give the same goods for less money or better goods for the same money than elsewhere. The good of today must be improved tomorrow. With old line stores 'tis considered poor judgment to break prices at the season's commencement. No so here. We know that the week preceding Easter Sunday is the busiest of the entire year in the selling of wearing apparel. So we show our practical helpfulness to you by holding a wide, embracing sale, devoted in the main to personal wear. NO MATTER IF PROFITS ARE CUT, the new friends we are sure to make will well repay

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
