News for Senior Citizens

By WALLY FORTIN, DIRECTOR

Hello everybody, wouldn't you like to know the past Monday was my official day back to work. I was a bit tired and what am I greeted with when I woke up? That's right, it was some more of that noisy staff. Oh well, thank goodness it wasn't much, and didn't last long. The sun is getting too high now, and the white stuff won't last too long anymore, so that's something to look forward to. It won't be long now before we'll be wearing light jackets, and getting a little of that spring fever.

Well now, our Friday night school roll is high and the winners this past week were: Fyfe Wilkinson, 121; Willie Gendler, 107; Mollie McCher, 129; Arthur J. Dancoese, 128; Ann Hoffman, 121; Irving Gaudin, 121; Edna Brock, 120; Alice Sherwin, 119; Harry Mahoney, 118; Jennie Fogarty, 118; Ann Perena, 118; Esther Adams, 118; and Ella Brimble, 118.

It looks like our trip to Washington, D.C. is ready to go, and we'll be taking two buses after all. This Friday was the deadline for registering for this trip, and we'll make Wednesday, March 11, the final day to pay up in full. We have a couple of announcements that may be of interest to you, and important to a couple of our male members. One man is looking for a place to live on the first floor, near the room and board, and hopefully would be able to be transported to the Center, and occasionally occasionally.

Another one of our good members has a home, and needs another one to look for. The lady can live in the apartment, and she has a car. There is a possibility of the use of a car also. In 1969's you chance to give a helping hand to two real nice guys, and if anyone is interested contact my office at 661-8810, and we'll give you more information.

The Monday morning kitchen social continues to roll along with everyone enjoying it. Anne and I are our good friends and contact John "Fingers" McLarkie in all his business. He is in the self-care hotel section. He'll be there for awhile. He's not about sending him, car? Assembling me at the kitchen social, doing a good job of our ambassador Tom O'Neill.

Our Monday afternoon pinocle, under the direction of the pinocle team of Peter Vendrillo, is running very smoothly, and we had a fine turnout this past week with 58 players. The winners were: Wilbur Messier, 718; Mickey Derby, 721; John Derby, 697; Lucille Crawford, 690; Louise Hagenow, 670; Floyd Post, 668; John Derby, 668; Mollie McCher, 666; Glenn Kramer, 666; Jennie Fogarty, 660; Edna Gardner, 661; Alice Anderson, 645; and Ellen Bronke, 642.

At our Friday, we had the pleasure of entertaining for the day, some senior citizens from Windsor. Mrs. Laura Warren is his advisor and assistant recreation director, accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Burdette and Mrs. Olive Quigley. Mrs. Isabel Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, and Mrs. Barbara Burdette, in Windsor, a senior citizens center is being organized, and we hope that some people were able to get some informative help by being with us for the day. Certainly we are pleased having them visiting with us, and we all most certainly wish them and their spouses a happy and successful start.

Our Fun-Day program featured a very interesting, and informative slide on narcotics in Manchester, by our guest speaker, Mr. Robert Digan. Everyone present was very impressed, and somewhat surprised, and I want to thank Bob for taking time from his busy schedule to visit with us.

The only thing I was disappointed about was that Bob couldn't bring any samples of sugared oranges. Next week, our Fun-Day will feature some very colorful and interesting slides on one of our members' past trips to Europe. We all know that they will be very interesting to see, for Mrs. Margorie Reed had some nice slides of other trips she has taken.

We found out that one of our members, Joseph Morris, fell the other day, on Monday 11, while he was returning at home, 35 Foster St. Mrs. Nellie Moran, Margaret Dvire, and John Matulis are still in the Manchester Memorial Hospital, and Jennie Douglas is quite ill at the Manchester Convalescent Home. We all wish them a speedy recovery, and hope they'll soon be back with us.

I was quite surprised, and I hope you are too. I was quite surprised, and I hope you are too. I was quite surprised, and I hope you are too.

ICC Rejects Rail Freight Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A request for the second six per cent increase in railroad freight rates in less than a year has been at least temporarily rejected by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

All the railroads except those operating only in the South-east—which had not sought the rate hike—were told Friday the earliest possible increase would take effect June 2, after a 75-day period for examining "the adequacy of all freight rates and charges."

The carriers had asked four days ago for the six per cent across-the-board increase to take effect March 11. In unanimously rejecting the request for the immediate increase, the ICC announced it will begin hearing oral arguments on the issue May 20, with written statements from the railroads due no later than March 23.

The commission said it would include in its investigation consideration of a rate increase for the Southern railroads, such as the Seaboard Coast Line and Southern Railway, even though they had not asked for such a rate hike.

Last November the ICC authorized all railroads to boost their freight rates by six per cent. If the new rates are granted, the change would increase them in the past three years.

The ICC also projected that it could be done at home, and if anyone would like to help by picking up the material, and we'll be happy to explain and show a sample. If the ladies would like to take only a little sewing and imagination on your part. Any questions, contact my office at 661-8810, and we'll give you more information.

Our regular Thursday morning pinocle tournament had a fine turnout of 44 players, despite the rainy damp weather. The winners were: Peter Vendrillo, 577; Florence North, 564; C. W. Adams, 544; Robina Clark, 543; Oliver Roberts, 538; Adelaide Pickett, 535; Grace Baker, 532; Florence Kolas, 521; and Jennie Fogarty, 520.

In the Senior Bowling League this past week, the Happy 4 team scored the high score in the single, and the Devils led the group for a high triple of 2,275. The Women's individual high score was Mabel Wilson, with 157, and Ruth Johnson had a 408 high triple. For the men, the winners took both honors with a 138 high single, and a whopping 497 high triple.

The senior Bowling League bowlers, at the Parkside Lanes, on Friday afternoon, and the players are still welcome to come and join the group. Schedule for the week: Monday, 10 a.m. to noon, kitchen social, bring a can of condensed soup. Tuesday, 10 a.m. to noon, pinocle tournament. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m., return trips at noon, and at 2 p.m.

Tuesday, 10 a.m. to noon, all recreation director, accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Burdette and Mrs. Olive Quigley. Mrs. Isabel Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley, and Mrs. Barbara Burdette, in Windsor, a senior citizens center is being organized, and we hope that some people were able to get some informative help by being with us for the day.

Both U.S. Senators Vote To Reject Amendment WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd and Abraham A. Ribicoff, both Connecticut Democrats, voted to reject an amendment that would have kept the 1965 Voting Rights Act from applying to states and counties in which 50 per cent or more of the voting age population are illiterate. The Senate rejected the amendment.

1040 u.s. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) Since I'm not sure what my income will be this year, can I use 1969 figures for my estimated tax? A) Yes, one method that can be used to make an estimated tax declaration is to base it on last year's income and expense figures. Make any adjustment you think necessary in these figures when you file the declaration.

Q) If I received a package of pre-authorized estimated tax vouchers in the mail, will I have to make each quarterly payment? This will assure proper crediting of Schedule E which is part of the 1040 tax package.

Q) Do you need all my stock I inherited from my grandfather. How do I report this? A) Yes, a W-2 from each employer should be attached to the back of your tax return. A missing W-2 was a major reason for delayed refund.

Q) I sold some shares of stock I inherited from my grandfather. How do I report this? A) Report any gain or loss on Schedule D. Generally, the gain or loss will be the difference between proceeds of the sale and the fair market value of the stock at the date of the decedent's death.

Q) I sold some shares of stock I inherited from my grandfather. How do I report this? A) Report any gain or loss on Schedule D. Generally, the gain or loss will be the difference between proceeds of the sale and the fair market value of the stock at the date of the decedent's death.

LISTEN TO OPPONENT TO LEARN OF DANGER By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When you're trying to ruff a loser in the dummy, don't be deaf to what the opponents are saying. I have been told that they have their ways of communicating, and you have the privilege of listening in.

Q) I was charged a prepayment penalty when I paid off my mortgage. Can I deduct this? A) Yes, this is deductible as interest if you homestead.

Q) My friend said I had to add the surcharge to what the tax table showed I owed. Is that right? A) Yes, the tax tables show the regular income tax and to this amount should be added the income tax surcharge.

Q) I moved last year to take advantage of the lower costs of moving from one city to another? A) Under certain conditions, certain moving costs are deductible. You can qualify for this deduction if you move to a new job.

Q) I sold some shares of stock I inherited from my grandfather. How do I report this? A) Report any gain or loss on Schedule D. Generally, the gain or loss will be the difference between proceeds of the sale and the fair market value of the stock at the date of the decedent's death.

Committee Told Names Of 27 POWs

PROMOTED AT HIS

Three army men have been promoted to officers in the 27th American prisoners of war held by North Vietnam. The names of the 27 American prisoners of war held by North Vietnam have been announced by the Swedish Prime Minister, Olof Palme, and two American correspondents.

Q) I was charged a prepayment penalty when I paid off my mortgage. Can I deduct this? A) Yes, this is deductible as interest if you homestead.

Q) My friend said I had to add the surcharge to what the tax table showed I owed. Is that right? A) Yes, the tax tables show the regular income tax and to this amount should be added the income tax surcharge.

Q) I moved last year to take advantage of the lower costs of moving from one city to another? A) Under certain conditions, certain moving costs are deductible. You can qualify for this deduction if you move to a new job.

The Road Of Limited Intentions

The trouble with our situation in Laos is not what we intend, but what may happen to us.

Certain limited actions of ours, which we obviously hoped could prove successful and practical with limited commitments on our part, are obviously now likely to have some influence on what may happen to us.

But we never intended these limited actions to have unlimited or domino or leap-frogging results.

Just like it is in Vietnam, we intended in Laos to achieve certain objectives with limited means and commitment.

If what happens as a result is that the enemy proceeds by escalating his own presence and activity in Laos, to the point where the limited commitment we intended is no longer adequate to achieve the limited accomplishment we originally sought, then the question of what we ourselves actually and inadvertently intended becomes vitally academic.

What seems to remain as good a theory as any for explanation of what we have been doing in Laos goes like this: Soon after we gave up bombing North Vietnam, we had the idea of keeping our B-52 squadrons in practice by diverting them to Laos. There evolved an idea for a grand experiment for seeing just how effective bomb and napalm and deforestation could be in creating a vast wasteland out of the Plain of Jars.

Our CIA operatives in Laos organized some native mercenaries and sent them out, with air support, to take over the Plain of Jars, which they did. We used our control of the Plain of Jars to evacuate its native inhabitants and move them to refugee villages elsewhere so that we could have a free fire zone in the Plain of Jars when the North Vietnamese or the Pathet Lao returned. They have now returned, and we have turned the Plain of Jars into a free fire zone, dropping all the bombs we please.

Now the danger is that our bombing is not working as beautifully as we had hoped it might. The enemy is still apparently able to function in the Plain of Jars. Furthermore, stimulated by the contest and challenge we offered, the enemy is even showing signs of much more adventurous and aggressive activity than at any previous time in the long "secret" war in Laos.

The present reading of the situation is, then, that our bombers aren't doing what we expected them, but that the enemy is doing more.

How do we handle the resultant situation? Do we try to retrieve the failure of the bombing experiment by introducing other methods and other forces which can make sure that somebody, by some weapon and by some strategy, checks the new vigor of the enemy? Or do we turn away, and decrease our bombing, and run the risk that the newly aroused enemy may go on to take over the whole country and begin treating Thailand as if it were the next domino?

Quite obviously, it was not what we intended, but what we did, that determined what kind of problem and decision we are now facing in Laos.

It was the same way, originally, with Vietnam. There, our intentions were always strictly limited, but our actions were those which had to end up placing us in a war of a size we never intended in a place we never intended in a dead-end we never intended.

The road to our 40,000 dead in Vietnam was paved with limited intentions. Our intentions with regard to Laos have been even more strictly limited, but may already have paved a road, from which turn-back exit may now be difficult, leading toward something equally hellish.

All The Way Forward To Ammonia

It has been a long and difficult mental trail, but we think we are coming toward an understanding of what is meant, in the Madison Avenue world, by the increasing use of the words "plus" and "new."

Superficially, these are the words which usually alter an illustration, are applied to various products in the kitchen, laundry or medicine cabinet category.

The product usually becomes either a "plus" or a "new" because of something that has just been "added."

Maybe the thing that has been added has a tangible identity, as with a blue crystal or an enzyme, or again it may be just a quality, like "strength."

The impression is, at any rate, one of ceaseless and progressive change, of incessant improvement toward incessant improvement.

Only lately have we begun to feel able to guess where the trend can ever end.

We think the first clue came when we began to notice a recurring emphasis on the very newest plus ingredient, a thing called ammonia. It won't be very far from ammonia to another modern wonder plus called lye. There used to be a variety of bulbous ones which had, even without benefit of commercials, wonderful scouring power.

As we see the trend, almost every really-old fashioned household aid is on its way back to us, traveling under sophisticated disguises, but likely to be found as, at last, such peace of cleaning mind as was once available from a free-lancing big bar of yellow soap. The one ingredient we do not expect to recognize, under any disguise, is the old-fashioned ingredient of elbow grease.

That's a pity, for elbow grease has been the most effective ingredient in every product.

On Curfews

Our television program as nightly: "It's 11 o'clock. Do you know where your children are? Do you know where you are? Do you know where you are?"

But recently the answer has crept into the program as we self-defeating realization began as a glimmer and a stifled yawn one night maybe two years ago at approximately 11 p.m. (last after the QUEBECION) and rose to a smorging crescendo last week, the night after my 44th birthday, when I realized that I was one of those just past awake plus. I do believe in principle that parents should know what their kids are doing. I say "in principle" because I am sure it's quite impossible. Show me a mother who says she knows exactly where her teen-aged daughter is every night, and I'll show you the mother of either a very ugly girl or a very smooth liar.

Four years ago, when we had only one teenager, we were conscientious interrogators of our daughter's dates. No matter that dinner was interrupted to meet the favorite of the month, we did it anyway. I was planning to do with my daughter, but she was planning to do with her date, and she was planning to do with her date, and she was planning to do with her date.

Anyway, age has brought not only more teenage daughters, but more teenage sons. And as age 40 approaches, it takes a superhuman effort to stay up long enough to read the dates and check down anticipated plans. So as for enforcing the bewitching hour of 12:15, forget it.

My husband is a scientist and a great advocate of the scientific (not to be confused with the intuitive) method. And since he's supposed to be a generalist, I handed him this problem: How do you enforce a 12:15 a.m. curfew without staying up? He had several hypotheses, but in general unsatisfactory experimental results.

First, he tried setting the alarm to wake us up at 12:30, but we could never get back to sleep. Interrupted sleep at age 40-plus brings insomnia. Asking our daughter to turn off the alarm brought doubts that she might then get up again. More insomnia.

Then we tried introducing her to "nice boys we knew we could trust," but she snuffed, "Those creeps?" She wouldn't join a "nice boys" club, and she'd miss her too much at boarding school (and we can't afford it).

There were complaints with the Halm-Gilnot approach: "Kids, we trust you can demonstrate your maturity. We anticipate no circumventions of the stipulated curfew." But she and her date thought we had withdrawn the curfew because she was so mature, and she came in at midnight 2 a.m.

No, none of these scientific experiments was successful. Maybe some other middle-aged parent-scientist has a better idea. Here I am again tonight watching TV and yawning, hoping that the wonders of modern science will come in time, with a reliable booster, contractor personnel will be involved only to the point where we "shakedown" the flight, and the question would be: "Are you awake?"

Wonders of the Universe Space Funds Squeeze

By DR. I. M. LEVITT, DIRECTOR

The Frenk Planarium and The Franklin Institute

The current squeeze on space funds may well force the United States to curtail its space program.

Plans currently under way indicate that most of the launch points will eventually be done by the astronauts in their cockpit using automatic checkout equipment to provide the basic data on their spacecraft's condition.

Tremendous savings can also be realized in the orbiting instrumentation. Scientific equipment to be used in space is designed for long life and zero maintenance. To fulfill this criterion, this equipment costs an incredible $100,000 per pound!

Thus, a small, almost insignificant instrument weighing 10 pounds is budgeted at about $1 million. Yet in terrestrial laboratories, the finest and most complex instrumentation in use costs about $100 per pound.

In 1972 the first Dry Dock workshop to achieve an instrument cost reduction of, perhaps, 1,000 times.

A Thought For Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

"Salt, dissolved in water may disappear," observes the Indian thinker Sadhu Sunder Singh, "but it does not cease to exist. We can be sure of its presence by tasting the water."

"We are the salt of the earth," said Jesus to his disciples, "your genius is to enable others to be truly and fearlessly themselves."

If I am glad I am me because you have been with me, love has been at work. The spirit of Christ is present, as when salt gives taste to food and tang to water.

Way back in 1950, one Franklin D. Roosevelt, given the task of placating Alfred E. Smith's nomination for the office of President, reached into the pocket of William Bradford Huie for the words for New York State's famous gift to politics.

That that nominating speech, Roosevelt went to a Wordworth poem titled "Character of the Happy Warrior" and lifted from it the phrase by which Smith was later designated, at least until he seemed to turn toward the end, when the nominator of 1954 had become the poet of 1952, into the bitter and unhappy warrior.

We are likely to be hearing the phrase "Happy Warrior" in Connecticut in our 1970 campaign. The character of the warrior seems to be the phrase seem tempting to some of his eventual nominators in Alphonse Donatelli, the Stamford entrant into the race for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate.

Part of his eligibility for the title of "Happy Warrior" depends on the fact that he has been willing to take the outside position which seems likely to be the result of the unequal struggle ahead.

He has been graced with a voice which is strong and easy to hear, and which is certain to stand out in the 1970 field as does the most talented suggestion of a whale.

He has a face which almost seems to be designed for television, which lights up at inquiry and eases itself into the field of the smile.

As for the smile, it seems one of those fortunate smiles which proclaims the modesty of the man who is smiling.

The Baby Has Been Named

NEW YORK (AP) - Bond prices were mixed this week with municipals and short-dated governments continuing to advance and corporates and long governments on the decline.

According to the investment firm of Bear Stearns & Co., long government bonds, over 30 years, faltered early in the week and lost their first net decline in five weeks.

Intermediate and shorter-dated government issues, however, advanced and closed with net gains.

Short-term issues were generally lower this week. The three-month Treasury bill rate first rose but then fell with the lowering of the British bank rate Thursday.

Federal funds and Euro-dollar rates averaged about unchanged from the lower levels of the previous week.

It was the second consecutive week corporate bonds declined. New corporate bond yields rose substantially, but, again, failed to attract sufficient investor interest.

One unaided AA rated utility, only one below the average of $54 million, was released from trading. It declined a full point. Several other issues, however, were declined only fractionally.

On top next week's calendar, a heavy crop of $54 million - are several large industrial offerings. This week saw about $100 million in new issues added to the record corporate calendar for March and April.

Municipals passed a mid-week. But then continued to advance. Issues marketed early in the week at lower yields failed to attract investor interest. However, subsequent issues yielding about 10 basis points more were well received.

The calendar for all of March has built up slightly to about $800 million. But it's still below the average of $950 million.

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market posted a moderate gain the past week as it loped for most of the time in what analysts termed a consolidation phase after recent strong advances.

Only on Tuesday did the market show a spark of enthusiasm about $100 million in new issues added to the record corporate calendar for March and April.

Youth Faces Police Log After Chase
A 19-year-old Ellington youth was booked on three charges of motor vehicle violations and breach of peace after he was stopped by police about 2:15 this morning on Oakland St.
The youth, identified as Raymond Charles of the Penno Brook Apartments, was observed traveling north on Main St. at a high rate of speed, police said.
The youth became abusive and uncooperative, police said. He was placed in a cell and later released on a $500 non-surety bond. Motor vehicle counts against him are operating while intoxicated, speeding, and failure to obey a traffic control signal. He is slated to appear in Manchester Court on March 30.

Police Log
Kevin T. Wrightman, 19, of 307 Woodbury St., charged with reckless driving. He was arrested about 11:30 this morning in the Parkside area near Elm St. and Elm St. Police said he was driving at 115 mph in a 55 mph zone and almost struck another car.
A large electric heater, valued at $400, was reported stolen from a room at the Green Manor condominium apartments being constructed at 1450 Main St. A contractor, the Elstead Construction Co., was the complainant.
A stereo player and tapes and an envelope containing $180 in bills were reported stolen from a car owned by Mark W. Revell, 476 E. Main St. The car was parked at Manchester Community College. Value of the loss was not set.

6,000 Viets Train in U.S. Each Year
To develop a stable cadre of South Vietnamese qualified to expand their country's present small pilot training facility. Limited though it is, Pentagon officials say the training is consistent with South Vietnam's immediate needs and security.
South Vietnam's Air Force has few jets or other advanced aircraft. It has three squadrons of F-4 Phantom II fighters produced primarily for recipients of U. S. military training since 1958.
The training is done within the framework of the Military Assistance Program under which the U.S. annually trains several thousand men from the F-4 squadrons. The program is because of the sudden increase of Vietnamese students at least another year—a separate class of students is expected to be trained this year.
The emphasis is on aircraft skills and the immediate goal, according to Air Force Secretary Robert C. Stearns, is to double the size of the South Vietnamese air force by the end of 1971.
This is a program that will run for another year and three-quarters. The program, the Pentagon hopes to upgrade the South Vietnamese air force. Speakers Say Take Courage From Lessons of Job, Youth Take courage from the lesson of Job, from youth, and from acceptance of human beings as they are, church women were given the fullness of ourselves by making the most beautiful and meaningful of others. Try to accept our mortal nature as human beings. This meaning lost contact with our humanity to another. God gives us wisdom and courage.
A total of 137 was received from an offering at the service. The money will be used for worthy worldwide projects under the direction of the National Council of Churches.
Mrs. Frank Williams of St. Mary's Episcopal Church was chairman for World Day of Prayer. Solot was Mrs. John Fedorovich of St. Mary's. The reader was the Rev. Carl W. Saumers, pastor of St. John's United Methodist. The leader in the service was Bishop John Patrick of the Diocese of Hartford. The service was the observance of the Assumption parish.
The Rev. Carl W. Saumers, pastor of St. John's United Methodist, presided at the service. The service was held at St. John's United Methodist Church, 142 E. Center St., Manchester, Conn. The service was held at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 6.

Danbury Youth Takes Lead In Keeping Others Off Drugs
DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—An energetic high school dropout who says he's tried everything else available is leading a group of Danbury youngsters who don't like their elders' attitude toward drugs.
They think the older generation doesn't know how to help kids off drugs—and they do. They came up with an action plan, and convinced their fathers they could make it work.
So on Thursday night, the 19-year-old "rainmaker" and the group had presented its plan, the Mayor's Conference on Narcotics, which was formed last year by Mayor Gino J. Arcotti. But after attending high school diploma evening tests after the graduation, the youngsters went with him.
The adults, he said, "were thinking about what could be done in the future, not what could be done now."
Mayor's prescription is to get the youngsters off drugs by teaching them to live the way they live in that they won't be.

Southern Cal Tots UCLA Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern California did it again. UCLA's upset of UCLA, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, 87-86 Friday night. And, like last year, they did it on UCLA's home court in Pauley Pavilion.

Coming on the eve of the opening of the NCAA championship tournament the defeat of 34-33 Thursday, Johnny Wooden, UCLA's coach, said he was surprised by his team's victory over the Bruins. "I thought our loss to Oregon last week ago was good for us," added Wooden, who earlier on Friday had named the Bruins Coach of the Year for 1970 by the Associated Press.

"I don't know about this game," Wooden continued. "I think I'll find out in 24 hours." He referred to UCLA's 12-10 loss to Oregon in the second round of the NCAA tournament on Saturday night in the Sports Arena.

UCLA's victory over the Bruins was the first time since 1967 that the Bruins have won a game in the Pacific Northwest. UCLA's last win in the region was a 74-61 lead when South Carolina thrashed Wake Forest 79-63 and North Carolina State shined Virginia 67-66 on Nick Anagnostis' layup.

Determined East Reaches Semifinal Round With Double Overtime Triumph over Lee

By TOM BARRETT (HERALD CORRESPONDENT)

"Unbelievable" is the only word in the English language that can adequately describe what transpired last night in the Bristol Central High gymnasium.

The mighty East Catholic Eagles, after wallowing in the murky depths of submission for an entire ball game, combined a lot of determination with a pinch of luck to edge New Haven's Richard Lee High, 85-83, in a tumultuous double-overtime quarterfinal battle.

Down by as much as 18 points in the second period and always trailing except for a brief period at the outset, East's plight seemed hopeless, East's

The locals surged again, with two-pointers by Ed Fitzgerald and Tom Juknis, and charity shots from Tom Sullivan and John Socha, eliciting the margin to 66-69 with 3:44 remaining. Kearns came up with two more, and Sullivan and Lee's Derrick Neveaux traded a pair, producing a 69-67 score in the downstretch. It was two foul shots that gave East its lead with 1:13 on the clock and led to the double overtime.

East was first off the mark and on the scoreboard in overtime, a big advantage when Kearns came up with two more, and Sullivan and Lee's Derrick Neveaux traded a pair, producing a 69-67 score in the downstretch. It was two foul shots that gave East its lead with 1:13 on the clock and led to the double overtime.

Home Run by Mays Starts Spring Games

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia dropped Cincinnati 7-2, St. Louis beat Oakland 6-1, Washington edged Baltimore 7-6, and the Chicago Sox blanked the White Sox 10-0.

Houston used three pitchers who weren't in the Astros' camp for their first game since the 20th birthday in May started baseball's first full day of exhibition action with a boom Friday, scoring a home run in a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Like the first robin, a Willie Mays home run means spring and baseball... are here officially even if the calendar only says March.

Mays, of course, is No. 2 on the all-time home run list with 600. He hit 13 last season and leads only the immortal Babe Ruth, who finished his legendary career with 714.

Mays connected in the third inning against Ken Holtzman, who was the Chicago White Sox's starting pitcher. The blow was a two-out, first-inning homer that gave the White Sox a 2-0 lead.

Palmer Eight Under Par with Fine Round

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—He didn't miss a fairway, he didn't miss a green. He didn't miss a malleable putt.

It was Arnold Palmer doing his thing, playing this game of golf as only he can play it.

He was grinning and grinning, gesturing and grinning, and — of course — hitching at his pants in that characteristic way of his.

And the gallery ate it up, whooping and shouting and stampeding over the Rio Pinar Country Club course and imploring the game's greatest drawing card with cries of "Charge, Arnie, Charge."

And he did, flying home on a string of birdies to eight-under-par 64 that gave him, including Friday in the rain-delayed second of Central Connecticut State College's classic tournament record, but it gave him only a one stroke lead over Dick Crawford, a non-winner in the tour but the man who finished second to Palmer in Arnie's slump-breaking triumph at Hilton Head, S.C., last year.

Tom Juknis Rides High for Hoop

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — With a victory over the Springfield Kings, the Quebec Aces pulled within seven points of Springfield for second place in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division Friday night. They did it in a 5-1 rout.

Tom Juknis, the Aces' star forward, scored two goals and had three assists in the victory.

Juknis, who has been in the Aces' lineup since he was traded from the Montreal Canadiens to the Quebec Aces last year, has been a key player for the Aces.

Indication of Greater Baseball Interest

Baseball may be king at this time of year with hockey a distant second but proof that baseball is our national game is supplied by the tremendous interest to date. Never before in at least a quarter century have there been more requests and just plain talk about baseball—during the Hot Steve League period, the prime baseball month—than this season.

Without any hesitation, football, particularly of a professional brand, is king in the fall and early winter. On paper, the Senators don't have the same share of John Felt's support as the other clubs have but I feel that with Williams around, they'll be a much better team than last year and will move up.

"I like Washington," he continued, "because of the presence of Ted Williams. On paper, the Senators don't have the same share of John Felt's support as the other clubs have but I feel that with Williams around, they'll be a much better team than last year and will move up."

Form Charts

I don't think that this is a good time to make pessimistic selections but one thing is sure, the Form Charts, a feature of NEA, by Marty Rabbovsky, has certainly created a stir. Perhaps it was because Boston was picked to win in the A.L. East, Washington second and Baltimore a distant fifth.

Due to a mix-up in Cleveland, where the daily NEA copy is distributed, the Form Charts ran from No. 1 through No. 7 and instead of reading No. 8 and No. 10 in the series, No. 10 and No. 11 arrived. Chart No. 10 appeared before Chart No. 11.

I called Rabbovsky at his home and he explained the situation. He said that he had been straight-out with me about the error and that he was sorry about it.

Hayes Likes Knicks To Win NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—Elvin Hayes, the Big E of the San Diego Rockets, poured in 33 points as San Diego won New York, and then predicted: "The Knicks will win the playoffs."

The 6-foot-9 center, who grabbed 20 rebounds Friday night, led the Rockets to a 107-97 victory over the Knicks, who are closing in on the East Division title.

"New York is really a great team, really great," Hayes said after the game. "In my opinion, they don't see how they can lose."

The Rockets almost showed how, but a rebound by Debuschere took up the New York scoring string with a season-high 30 points and the Knicks just in a row, reducing their title clinching number to four.

Jury Still Has Long Way to Go On Merits of Alvarado, Moses

WHITE HAVEN, Fla. (AP)—The jury still has a long way to go in deciding on the merits of third baseman Luis Alvarado and catcher Jerry Moses, who were named to the Boston Red Sox in spring training.

Alvarado, a slick fielding shortstop who had 13 hits in 13 games, and Moses, a long-ball hitter with a defensive presence in the past, drew most of the attention Friday.

Alvarado, who batted .202 as the International League's most productive player at Louisville last year, collected three hits, including a long double, however, he made two errors, the second permitting the tie-breaking run score in the eighth inning.

Trade Mark: Jersey That Never Suits Carr

NEW YORK (NEA)—Unlike Pete Maravich, whom his trails in scoring, Austin Carr does not have that flaps wildly whenever he goes up for a shot in a game. Carr is a player who is never in a hurry whenever he comes down.

Carr's kinky, black hair is very short, his broad shoulders are very long and very upright in his knees. His trademark is his jersey. It is Maravich's hair and socks, Carr's white wristbands.

Very early in Notre Dame basketball games, Austin Carr's jersey will wiggle out of the back of his shorts and, in action, the whole skirt is hanging out. Naturally, he doesn't bother to tuck it back in his "form" as he is called.

Chaparrals Perfect Hosts For Cougars During Season

The Carolina Cougars found Dallas a wonderful place to visit this season with the Chaparrals playing the almost perfect host. The Cougars, sitting with the Cougars for third place in the East Division of the American Basketball Association, tripped the Chap Friday night 96-84.

Pelletier in First Finals Third Town Crown Goal for Bujaucius

Only one duckpin bowler in modern times has annexed three Men's Division Tourney Tournaments, Larry Pelletier.

At Sunday afternoon he got up against George Pelletier in the finals of the 1970 tourney. It was New York's second straight victory.

Both are high average players in several leagues.

Firing in the best of seven set starts at 2:00 p.m. The prize is invited. The tourney drew a field of 99 men.

Bujaucius announced the title in 1964 and repeated the following year. Pelletier, one of the nation's top-rankers, won the title in 1964 and repeated the following year.

Palmer Eight Under Par with Fine Round

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—He didn't miss a fairway, he didn't miss a green. He didn't miss a malleable putt.

It was Arnold Palmer doing his thing, playing this game of golf as only he can play it.

He was grinning and grinning, gesturing and grinning, and — of course — hitching at his pants in that characteristic way of his.

And the gallery ate it up, whooping and shouting and stampeding over the Rio Pinar Country Club course and imploring the game's greatest drawing card with cries of "Charge, Arnie, Charge."

Tom Juknis Rides High for Hoop

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — With a victory over the Springfield Kings, the Quebec Aces pulled within seven points of Springfield for second place in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division Friday night. They did it in a 5-1 rout.

Tom Juknis, the Aces' star forward, scored two goals and had three assists in the victory.

Juknis, who has been in the Aces' lineup since he was traded from the Montreal Canadiens to the Quebec Aces last year, has been a key player for the Aces.

Big E's Effort Not Enough To Win NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—Elvin Hayes, the Big E of the San Diego Rockets, poured in 33 points as San Diego won New York, and then predicted: "The Knicks will win the playoffs."

The 6-foot-9 center, who grabbed 20 rebounds Friday night, led the Rockets to a 107-97 victory over the Knicks, who are closing in on the East Division title.

"New York is really a great team, really great," Hayes said after the game. "In my opinion, they don't see how they can lose."

Trade Mark: Jersey That Never Suits Carr

NEW YORK (NEA)—Unlike Pete Maravich, whom his trails in scoring, Austin Carr does not have that flaps wildly whenever he goes up for a shot in a game. Carr is a player who is never in a hurry whenever he comes down.

Carr's kinky, black hair is very short, his broad shoulders are very long and very upright in his knees. His trademark is his jersey. It is Maravich's hair and socks, Carr's white wristbands.

Very early in Notre Dame basketball games, Austin Carr's jersey will wiggle out of the back of his shorts and, in action, the whole skirt is hanging out. Naturally, he doesn't bother to tuck it back in his "form" as he is called.

Chaparrals Perfect Hosts For Cougars During Season

The Carolina Cougars found Dallas a wonderful place to visit this season with the Chaparrals playing the almost perfect host. The Cougars, sitting with the Cougars for third place in the East Division of the American Basketball Association, tripped the Chap Friday night 96-84.

Heralding Politics

By Sol R. Cohen

What has been billed as a Jackson-Jefferson Day celebration in Hartford tonight may well turn out to be a huge popularity contest by the four declared candidates for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Approximately 1,500 state-wide Democrats will attend the dinner, scheduled for the Hartford Hilton, with the overflow crowd to be accommodated in the nearby Shoreham Motor Hotel.

Although the event is for honoring Gov. John Dempsey, who is retiring from office the end of this year, most of the attention will be focused on the decible needs of the applause meter, when the four senatorial hopefuls are introduced. They are U.S. Sen. Thomas Dodd, State Senate Majority Leader Edward Marcus, National ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) chairman Joseph Duffey, and Stamford businessman Alphonso Donahue.

And special attention will be paid when Secretary of the State Ella Grasso is introduced. Many top Democrats are urging her to enter the race. To date, she has been noncommittal.

The only announced speakers tonight will be Gov. Dempsey and State Democratic Chairman John Bailey.

Tonight's event will have a state convention flavor. Each of the four senatorial hopefuls has arranged for hospitality suites at the Hilton.

The $100-a-plate dinner is expected to net more than $75,000 for the state Democratic organization.

Marcus will speak to Manchester Democrats on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in Highland Park School. Donahue will speak here on March 15, also at 8 p.m. His appearance will be at Cavey's Restaurant, to be followed by a reception he is giving. Dodd will speak March 15, at a meeting of the Democratic Town Committee. It will be at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. Duffey speaks here last month.

On March 16, when Donahue holds his reception at Cavey's Restaurant, Dodd also will be in Manchester. Dodd's appearance, scheduled about 10 days ago, will be at the Knights of Columbus Irish Sports Night, at the KoC Home.

Manchester Mayor Nathan Agostinelli will be at the head table Monday night when the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce holds a dinner at the Hartford Hilton, to honor regional, civic and quasi-governmental organizations.

Agostinelli is chairman of the Capital Region Council of Elected Officials.

The guest speaker will be Mayor Richard G. Lugar of Indianapolis, Ind., a Republican. He will discuss the regional approach to urban problems.

Official "Dodd for Senate" campaign headquarters have been opened in the Shoreham Motor Hotel, Hartford.

Peter L. Cashman of Old Lyme, a candidate for the GOP nomination for Second District congressman, will be the speaker Tuesday noon, at the weekly Republican Dutch-treat luncheon. It will be at the Shoreham Motor Hotel, Hartford.

Secretary of the State Ella Grasso has announced that the 1970 edition of the Connecticut Election Calendar now is available from her office on request.

The calendar contains all of the statutory deadline dates for all phases of the Nov. 3 election, from the selection of delegates to conventions to the canvass of the vote following the election. Statutes relative to voters and to the election, are included.

Former Town Director John Garalde, who was appointed Tuesday to Manchester's C-DAP (Community Development Action Plan) Agency, has resigned from the Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC), whose members serve on C-DAP task forces. He had been appointed to the CAC last month.

A footnote to those potential candidates for public office who have not yet declared their availability: Tomorrow is the last day of National Procrastination Week. It started Tuesday. It is sponsored by the Procrastinators' Club of America, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Welcome Wagon To Hear Repko

Manchester Bolton Welcome Wagon Club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Flair Home Furnishings at Manchester Shopping Parkade. The event is open to all newcomers to the Manchester area.

Richard A. Repko, design coordinator for Flair Home Furnishings and Repko Design Consultants, will be the speaker. Mrs. Jesse Chinn and Mrs. Thomas Mack and Mrs. William Allington will greet the members and guests.

After the meeting the group will have coffee and a social hour at the home of Mr. Alexander S. Twombly, 575 Gardner St.

Mrs. Leo R. Maguire was recently elected treasurer of the club to complete the term of Mrs. Louis T. Renner who moved to Enfield.

Lenten Lecture Set at Church

Marriage in its spiritual dimension will be the theme in the Lenten lecture series tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Assumption Church hall. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kurovski of Hazardville will present this week's program.

Kurovski, a quality control engineer at Hamilton Standard Division of United Aircraft Corp., and his wife, Shirley, a housewife, are active members of St. Bernard's Parish in Hazardville and of the Archdiocese of Hartford. Parents of five children, they have been involved in Cane programs in the archdiocese. They have taught Christian Doctrine in their parish for several years.

About Town

The Master's Club of Friendship Lodge of Masons will meet at Willie's Steak House Monday at 6:30 p.m. After a social hour, and dinner at 7:30, the speaker will be Merle P. Tapley, grand junior warden and a charter member of Friendship Lodge.

Vassile Angelo will speak and show slides on his recent trip to Greece, at the Nathan Hale Square Club meeting at the Masonic Temple in Merrow on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is open to all Masons and their families and friends. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

A Forgettable Season

By CYNTHIA LOWEY

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1969-70 television season will be history in about three weeks. Then it will be, as usual, reruns and replacement shows for the next five months.

As far as the commercial networks are concerned, 1969-70 probably will be, at best, a footnote in TV history. Its entertainment has been bland and, most of it easily forgotten. The brightest new program was a daily series aimed at children between ages 3 and 5, "Sesame Street."

This series, on the educational network, was not only well done and appealed to its audience but nudged the commercial networks into doing more than talking about upgrading the quality of children's programming.

Popular series from other seasons, often a little shopworn and weary, continued to be the most popular viewing fare. Good old movies attracted big audiences and bad old movies were treated by the audience the way they treated bad television shows. Variety shows, slick and colorful, had a tendency to look alike as the same guest stars traveled from one to another.

The so-called "variety specials" often were no more special than the weekly shows—Anne Bancroft's recent hour was a happy exception.

No bright new stars arrived, no engaging new concept became a series, and TV exposure dulled the shine on some established stars. Neither Debbie Reynolds nor Lana Turner did much for her career by taking a TV fling.

Original dramas, few in number, were rarely memorable. Occasionally, however, a performance lit up the tubes—Uta Hagen in a "CBS Playhouse," Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr., in a "World Premiere" feature, Peter Ustinov in a "Hall of Fame" drama.

Criticism of TV violence muted the guns and reduced the mayhem, but nobody came up with a stimulating substitute for the fist fight or the shootout. New comedy shows seemed to draw inspiration, format and sometimes the jokes from old comedies.

Behind the cameras, there is considerable worry—about attacks on the medium, about the impending loss of cigarette advertising and about a new report that viewing is down.

Nielsen studies still indicate that the average TV set is in use well over six hours a day and the number of people watching is increasing. But a rival firm, the American Research Bureau, said its study found that viewing had dropped, in some places as much as 10 per cent.

The cause is a mystery and the validity of the report is controversial.

Kate Reid and Van Heflin star in drama, "Neither Are We Enemies," Friday 8:30-10 p.m. on NBC.

Children's Shows: Changes Coming

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck Jones avoided Saturday morning television for years as deftly as Road Runner eluded Wile E. Coyote, two animated characters he created.

"Actually, I was misunderstood," said Jones, a movie animator with three Oscars and 14 Academy Award nominations.

"People thought I wouldn't do Saturday morning television. But I objected to what was improper. Not just improper for children—but improper for me. "I objected to all that meaningless, faceless violence," he said, "and I objected to hero characters who went out and did things without authorization from anybody."

Now Jones is in a position to make some changes, and as ABC's first executive director for children's programming he intends to. Jones, until recently a producer-director for MGM's animation department, will develop programs and program ideas in Hollywood for the network.

All three networks, stimulated by criticism and by the success of "Sesame Street," for the first time have put executives in charge of children's programming full time. The success—or failure—of this venture will not be known until at least 1971 however, since the programs for next season were put into development months and even years ago.

Jones said that before agreeing to join ABC he laid down ground rules that all children's programming, whether for Saturday morning, prime time, specials, news or sports, would come under his purview. "It isn't so much that I wanted to set down the rules as having rules by which I could function," said Jones, a red-haired, youthful looking man in his late 50s.

"There are also good commercial reasons. One element can stimulate something in an-
