$2,721,636 Town Budget Voted; New Tax Rate 70 Mills, Up Six

By BETTE QUATRALE (Herald Reporter) The ambulance budget re- quest was cut to $2,000, Wolf- board on Feb. 11; by the teach- ers explained the TVAA addi- tions on Feb. 12 and copies were sent to the town clerk, the Board of Selectmen and the Finance Board on Feb. 13. A second reason for the cut was the approval and filing of the budget for services was issued on the same day.

When asked about what was being cut from the education budget, Mr. Kenney explained cuts in the town's present educational program. They indicated they will attempt to cut it from transportation, heat and insurance but predicted they would return in the spring for restoration of funds. The only real criticism of the budget was in regards to the road superintendent and the fact that some brought the teachers' contract to a town meeting for approval.

The budget allocates $383,185 for the general government portion of the budget, almost double that of 1967-68, according to Wolfanger. Total debt service on outstanding loans and notes totals $300,000 more than double the budget three years ago. The Board of Education budget to total $1,042,753 has increased between 39 and 40 per cent over the last two years, according to Wolfanger.

Included in the new budget are funds for revaluation; doubling the hours for the selectmen's secretary; for the improvement of the town's road equipment; for a new indexing program for the Good Life Center's office, and for an expanded recreational program for the town.

Under the Capital Improvement section are funds for survey work at the town industrial park and new equipment for the fire department. No funds for Deans Wolfanger presented the budget on behalf of the Board of Finance, since the chairman Donald Morganson was unable to attend due to a prior engagement. Morganson did show up however, about mid-way through the meeting.

Making his presentation, Wolfanger noted the budget permits the town to do many of the things it has been wanting to do, but admitted all the town boards and commissions have many projects they would like to undertake to do a better job. He warned the townspeople that they will have to face the requirements of sewers, street lighting and water in the future years, due to pollution problems and the increasing town population.

There is no allocation of funds for the repair of the Crandall's Pond dam, since no estimates are available at this time. Some of the costs can be taken out of the newly created $10,000 contingency fund and a town meeting can be held to appropriate funds if necessary, man is a thief." Maxine Cheshire's Washington Whirl

By MAXINE CHESHIRE The Washington Post WASHINGTON Some of those 1,000 lawyers who came down from New York Wednesday to lobby against the war may have had a moment when they wished they had stayed home and written letters to their congressmen. One group that called on Sen. Charles Percy found themselves occupying his reception room with a group of Chicago mothers who have been camping there in a peace protest of their own.

The naive, sophisticated attorneys - many from prestigious and lucrative law practices - sat there and squirmed in their platinite suits when one baby with the mothers began to sob. But she insisted that this time she has really resigned from the show "Panorama."

She's leaving June 15. All that Women's Lib activity made her adamant about equal pay for equal work. The men with whom she shares billing on the daytime talk show, Maury Fritch and John Willis, make lots more money.

Extended Forecast Partly cloudy Sunday and Monday with showers likely around Sunday or Monday. Quite warm with daily highs in the 80s and lows in the upper 60s. The article inside is titled: 50s.

Getting a Look at PPC in Operation

HONOLULU (AP) - In Hawaii, the honeyeaters are vanishing, the beautiful land snails are crawling into oblivion and an island scientist says, the only thing multiplying are men and weeds. "The less vigorous native plants and animals aren't competing," says Dr. J. Lesley Gressitt, head entomologist at Honolulu's Bishop Museum. "The weeds are more adaptable to man's urban environment."

Scientists at a recent seminar on endangered species in Washington, D.C., listed more than 2,000 species of Hawaii's native plants and animals as threatened with extinction. One third of Hawaii's native birds already are extinct and another third may follow, Gressitt said in an interview Wednesday.

"We have a family of birds found only in Hawaii called the honeyeaters," he said. "They have suffered the most." The island's beautiful land snails, famous among biologists, are on the way out. "Half of the birds which have been introduced are harmful as well as many plants and insects."

Other activities scheduled for the day include entertainment for the town's youth. Title Y of the Tollanders Square Dance Club, National Defense Educational Dolly Tollandettes and the Sing Act. Bulletin Board Cub Scout Pack 15 will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 at the Mendonbrook School.

Broadcasters Fear Freedom in Danger

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) - his station was the only one in the area to report the May Day weekend Black Panther support rally in New Haven with live broadcasts. "We are interested in providing a cultural service for our listeners. Commercial broadcasting is in business to make money," Kapor said. "The needs are more adaptable to man's urban environment."

He spoke before the spring meeting of the Connecticut Broadcasters Association. Joseph Dombay said that "extremists of either side do not believe us because our reporting does not fit into their scheme of things."

He urged the broadcasters to get information programs to get the general public acquainted with the idea that freedom of expression is in the public's best interest. He cited surveys taken by his own station and by a college professor in Florida showing that many citizens have no understanding of the First Amendment.

The broadcasters also heard from the president of the University of Bridgeport, Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, who said he feels some citizens are not remaining open during times of political and social turmoil to permit "free and uninhibited discussion of all issues."

"I plead that we do not further undermine institutions de- voted to the truth, in- stead of closing to allow the young people, Lukas said. "The generation gap in broad- casting is huge," said Mitch Kapor of station WYBC-FM in New Haven, which is operated by Yale students. Kapor said university, Littlefield declared.

Peanuts Add Zest to Chinese Cookery

The current craze for Chinese cooking is nothing new. It's actually a revival of interest stirred up initially in the mid-1930's when the first Chinese restaurants in America were opened.

The early '30's, coinciding with the Mad Jong fad, saw another peak for Chinese cookery although only a few dishes — chop suey, chow mein, fried rice and egg foo ying — were commonly served.

World War II really broadened the horizons of interest in this style of cooking. Since most Chinese dishes call for one quarter the amount of meat to which we are accustomed, they were easily adapted to meat rationing. Dishes which became famous at this time include Lobster Cantonese, Chicken with Mushrooms (Mao Goo Gai Pan), Barbecued Spare ribs and Won Ton Soup.

Today, although still considered somewhat exotic, Chinese food appears regularly in most American homes. No special cooking equipment is required for its preparation. If ingredients are not readily available, numerous substitutes can be used.

Peanuts, as well as peanut oil, are important ingredients in Chinese cooking. In a country where meat is scarce, peanuts are an important source of protein in the diet. They also add flavor and texture interest to a variety of meat and vegetable dishes. Chinese cooks, fond of crisp textures, usually fry the peanuts before they are brought to the table.

Chicken is almost always served to dinner guests in China where it is believed to represent all the warm and positive elements of universal life. In America, chicken is economical and universally liked, making it a popular choice for American tables.

Here, Planters Cocktail Peanuts are the crunch in a flavorful Chinese-style combination of dried chicken and vegetables in a savory sauce.

A meat substitute by American standards, you might see a company dish with hot, nutty peanut sauce, sweet and sour Pork with Peanuts with rice and cooked cabbage or wilted lettuce.

In 1 tablespoon of the hot Planters Peanut Oil, stir-fry carrots and green pepper for 2 minutes. Add pineapple chunks and sprouts. Stir in cornstarch mixture and Planters Cocktail Peanuts. Bring to a boil; simmer until mixture is thickened and clear. Return pork to mixture. Serve immediately with hot cooked rice. Makes about 4 servings.

Swiss And Pork With Peanuts

- 1 pound pork tenderloin, cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1/2 cups carrots, sliced diagonally into 1-inch pieces
- 1 cup Planters Cocktail Peanuts
- 1 cup minced green onions
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 2 large cloves garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup sherry
- Hot cooked rice

Combine pork and carrots in a saucepan. Simmer in water just to cover about 20 minutes, or until carrots are tender but crisp. Drain; reserve liquid. Separate pork and carrots; set aside. Return liquid to saucepan; boil rapidly until liquid is reduced to 1 cup. Strain and combine with vinegar, brown sugar, cornstarch, oyster, soy sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt and ginger. Set aside.

Beat egg whites and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt until soft peaks form. Beat flour into egg whites and fold into beaten egg mixture. Deep fry in hot oil (400 degrees F.) Planters Peanut Oil until golden brown. Drain on paper towels; keep warm.

In 1 tablespoon of the hot Planters Peanut Oil, stir-fry carrots and green pepper for 2 minutes. Add pineapple chunks and sprouts. Stir in cornstarch mixture and Planters Cocktail Peanuts. Bring to a boil; simmer until mixture is thickened and clear. Return pork to mixture. Serve immediately with hot cooked rice. Makes about 4 servings.

Ex-Gambler Bets On GA; Wins Battle

SEATTLE (AP)—Ex-gambler Terry X says his last big gamble—on the organization called Gamblers Anonymous—has paid off.

Terry, now 48, went to GA in 1968 straight from a San Francisco bridge where he had contemplated a suicide leap.

He received a GA five-year probation Tuesday night, signifying abstinence from such things as dice, poker and horse racing for half a decade.

Terry said in an interview he had been a compulsive gambler from boyhood, had been alienated from his family, divorced by his wife and was fresh from a prison term for embezzlement and writing bad checks when he decided to give GA a try.

Now he is one of 20 or so regulars who attend weekly GA meetings at a Seattle church.

The members share their experiences in an effort to turn others away from gambling. The chapter is part of a Los Angeles-based national organization which took its cue from Alcoholic Anonymous.

Lack of Fuel Said Reason Pilgrim Plane Lost Feb. 10

WASHINGTON (AP) — The given at a New York City hearing on the National Transportation Safety Board's report on the crash of a Pilgrim Airlines plane that went down in the Long Island Sound Feb. 10 — captain to refuel the craft before taking five lives — had obviously forewarned Pilgrim Airlines that the plane was not being refueled before it took off from Groton, Conn., for New York's Kennedy International Airport.

The Pilgrim Airlines De Havilland-Canada DHC-6 plane went down off the Long Haven area of the Connecticut coast. Two pilots and three crew members were killed. Passengers lost their lives in a summary of testimony to the board.

At 6:18 p.m., almost two hours after takeoff, for permission to go back to Groton's Trumbull Airport, "right now." Two minutes later the plane reported that "We got minimum fuel now, we gotta get to Groton."

"This was the first mention of minimum fuel," the board said. "At 6:28 the flight was cleared for a landing approach to Groton. Acknowledgment of this clearance was the last intelligence communication with the plane before it crashed."

A rescue boat was on the scene within two minutes, and three others arrived within the next 10 minutes, but the plane's wreckage could not be located. The pilot said he was flying low and the pilot said he was flying low.

The passengers were Willis G. Worcester, dean of engineering at Virginia Polytechnic Institute; David F. Baker, Ohio State University; and George T. West Jr., University of Michigan.

The pilot was Alfred Crofts of North Stonington, Conn. The co-pilot was George Fox of Orangetown, N.Y.

Meet Mr. and Mrs. Manchester Senior Citizens

Peter J. Vendrillo of 242 W. High St. and Mrs. Georgina Vince of 227 McKee St. proudly display the plaques they received in being named Mr. and Mrs. Senior Citizen of 1969-70 at Fun Day, which followed yesterday's luncheon at the Center. The presentations were made by Mayor Nathan G. Agostinelli. The recipients were honored for the

Robinson Gets Term in Jail In Fatality

Henry William Robinson, 36, of 51 Purnell Pl., today pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to a charge of negligent homicide in the death of a young girl in Manchester Circuit Court and was sentenced to 90 days.

Robinson, who has been jailed at Hartford without bond since his arrest a week ago, will be given credit for time already served, ruled Judge Eli Cramer.

Before passing sentence, Judge Cramer told Robinson, "The death in this case resulted because you had consumed a half pint or more of vodka, and you will have to live with that death on your conscience."

Robinson's arrest originally was on a charge of misconduct with a motor vehicle in connection with the traffic death last Nov. 25, of George A. Ouellette of East Hartford. That charge, a felony, was later reduced by the court to the lesser count of negligent homicide.

Ouellette died of multiple injuries at Manchester Memorial Hospital a few hours after his car was struck head on by Robinson's car on W. Middle Turnpike, near Howell Cheney Technical School.

A coroner's inquest found that Robinson had been drinking before the accident, was driving under a suspended license, and was in the wrong lane when the crash occurred.

Gowns From Several Generations

Gowns and dresses modeled at yesterday's Senior Citizens Fun Day fashion show ranged all the way from the very serious to the ridiculously comic. From left, Mrs. Helen Flavell is a belle of the Gay Nineties, with fitting accessories; Mrs. Harriet Duncombe could pass as a bride of today, although the gown is 25 years old; and Mrs. Corrine Gibson, bonds and all, portrays a flapper of the 1920s. Mrs. Diane Norbert modeled her own mid-century gown, and Mrs. Marjorie Reed, garbed in a hula skirt, performed an appropriate dance for the costume. Seventeen ladies participated. Mrs. Mary Rhodes was show chairman, and shared encores duties with Mrs. Bertha Payne. (Herald photo by Bucevicius)

Three Marines To Be Tried In Grenade Assault

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Three U.S. Marines charged with murder in a grenade attack that killed one Marine and wounded 62 others here last February will go on trial next month, Marine spokesmen announced today.

The three were identified as Lance Cpls. James E. Addison Jr., 20, of Fairmont, N.C.; Andrew M. Harris, 21, of Atlanta, Ga.; and Joseph L. Jones III, 22, of New Orleans, La. They are charged with conspiracy to commit premeditated murder, and 6 counts of assault with intent to commit murder.

All will be tried before a general court martial here June 1 through June 2.

The charges were filed against them after an investigation into a grenade explosion Feb. 5 near an enlisted men's club inside the Marine Force Logistics Command complex just north of Da Nang. All the Marine casualties were caused by the single explosion.

Spokesmen said the three Marines have been assigned military lawyers and that a civilian attorney, Ruben A. Garland of Atlanta, will represent Harris.

At a third business, John's Barber Shop, 629 Hartford Rd., a door was pried and entry made. The thief or thieves got 60 cents in change from a register for their trouble, police reported.

Barbara E. Baker, 39, of 54 Deepwood Dr., charged with failure to grant the right of way yesterday afternoon in a minor accident at Brookfield and E. Center Sts. Police said she

Mayfair Gardens Housing Remains Behind Schedule

"Mayfair Gardens," the 76-acre so many odds and ends left unit housing project for the elderly in the North End development area, remains about 20 per cent behind schedule, the list for apartment housing.

In other discussion, MHA members turned down a suggestion by Rossetto, assistant contracting officer for the MHA, that a progress report at a regular meeting of the MHA, the consensus was that would seem "cold" in character, and could always be installed in the future if needed.

The authority also heard an opinion from his counsel, Atty. Herbert Phelan, to the effect that actual completion of the project stands at 71 per cent, while the contract schedule calls for 80 per cent completion with a contract deadline of June 10.

Rossetto's latest report confirms his prediction, made early in April, that opening of the project would probably be delayed about five weeks.

Water and sewer is 100 per cent completed, underground electrical wiring up for a while by a dispute over the contract specifications is 30 per cent in, and the community building is 60 per cent done, Rossetto reported. The living units are in various stages of finish work.

The prime contractor for the housing complex is the Rocky Marciano Construction Co. of New Jersey, which several weeks ago sought a five-week extension in the contract deadline.

While the MHA has agreed that various construction problems encountered were not the fault of the contractor, it has tabled the extension request pending advice from the New York office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

MHA Chairman Vincent Diana last night read a letter from the HUD office, which urged the MHA to "make every effort" to get completion "by June 30."

Rossetto noted that the Marciano construction superintendent has assured him the apartments will be ready for occupancy by the end of June.

But Rossetto added, "There are 2,000 implants,

Artificial Teeth

CHICAGO (AP) — A new process of implanting artificial teeth into the bone, its developer says, makes for better health because of better digestion due to more natural chewing.

It's under the sponsorship of the Department of Health and Human Services Dental Research. His invention of a blade implant enables artificial teeth to fit into the gumline. The implants are possible for a single tooth or a complete set of upper and lower teeth, he said. The installations become permanent.

The implants are fabricated of titanium, a metal which is readily tolerated by the body. The metal supports the teeth.

"Lankow said he has performed over 2,000 implants,

Administration Bids for Peace With Youngster

DIXON, Calif. (AP) — The Nixon administration has made a second bid for peace with a 9-year-old Pamela Cross. But the little fourth grader still wants to know why all that money is going for war and weapons instead of education.

Pamela raised the question in a Feb. 26 letter to the President, part of a class project.

The first reply, eight weeks later, came from Thomas J. Burns, acting associate commissioner for elementary and secondary education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Burns said Pamela should get the money she asked for and let Nixon make the big decisions — "He is equipped to do this."

Pamela was not appeased. The ball was picked up on the house by James Allen Jr., U.S. commissioner of education, who wrote the little girl Wednesday.

"I saw your letter to President Nixon for the first time today and want to tell you that I share your concern and I am sure the President does, too."

"It is wonderful that a young lady your age should care so deeply about what our government does about education, health and welfare. I can assure you that there are many people working to bring about the changes you want."

"I am personally grateful for the interest you show in our country today, for the work of maintaining a great nation is the responsibility of all of us, no matter what our age. Your letter reminds us of that fact and I am personally grateful for it."

"If every person in our land — young and old — felt as you do, the President's job would be much easier and our country would be a better place in which to live. I hope you will continue to be interested in good things for all people. My best wishes to you, your parents, your teachers and your classmates."

Pamela's father, Kenneth Cross, said he thought Allen's letter was a "good answer to Pamela's problem."

"I am sure that Pamela will be very glad to hear from you," he said.

But, she added, "I thought he answered my questions about the ABM."

O'Brien Doubts Nixon Able To Lead Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrat's top spokesman, Lawrence F. O'Brien, questioned today President Nixon's ability to run the executive branch of the government, let alone the nation.

"The events of the past two weeks have brought to the surface a concern which many of us have felt with growing intensity in the past year," O'Brien said.

"And, at times, adventure, a vision — a set of fundamental beliefs — about where this country is headed in these difficult and dangerous times."

O'Brien's assessment of the Nixon fiscal, defense, and general domestic policies was his first since he resumed the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee.

His remarks were prepared for a noon talk to the woman's National Democratic Club.

"The collapse of the financial community's confidence in the policies of the Nixon administration has become so acute that the U.S. Treasury nearly failed to execute a $1.5 billion borrowing — the first time since it has happened in modern financial history," O'Brien said.

He said Nixon's singular reliance on fiscal and monetary policy to control inflation has eroded the dollar, decreased production, and increased unemployment by nearly 1.5 million workers above what it was when he took office.

O'Brien said it's past time for Nixon to ask business and labor leaders to control wage and price hikes.

"The President has another essential duty: He must generate an atmosphere of confidence — an environment of positive action — surrounding his performance in all areas of national policy," O'Brien said.

He said Nixon's recent actions have caused doubt that the President knows where he is.

A President who, in the period of 10 days, suddenly reverses national policy and launches a surprise invasion of a neutral country — without consulting Congress or even some of his principal advisers — inevitably raises profound doubts about the quality of his leadership," O'Brien said.

"Once I stopped three times in a file and a half," said O'Brien, "I was asked to go from one creek to another. Anybody has to do it, it's a waste of time. The Constitution figures out getting a light shade and one matching color wall-to-wall carpet. The train will stop, if anyone wishes, at likely vantage

Job Program For Veterans Under Way

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon may ask U.S. businesses to set aside a portion of the jobs in their plants, stores and offices specifically for discharged servicemen.

Defense officials, developing details of a new program "to locate a job for every veteran," say there would be no compulsion. They hope many companies can be persuaded to participate voluntarily.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird disclosed plans for such a program in a Detroit speech May 11, but provided no details.

He predicted more than 2 million men and women will be leaving the armed services in the next two years with perhaps 70 per cent trying for civilian jobs.

The Pentagon hopes to encourage as many returning veterans as possible to take advantage of GI educational benefits.

But for those who do not Laird has said the Defense Department should bear part of the responsibility for helping them find productive jobs.

Defense authorities assigned the task of putting the jobs-for-veterans program together indicate much remains to be done.

For the most part, it appears to be an effort built around stimulating business groups and communities to come forward with job opportunities.

Among other organizations, the Pentagon is working with the National Alliance of Businessmen, a number of chambers of commerce and a special intergovernmental committee.

No cost estimate has been made yet, but officials said the Pentagon's Project Transition, now costing $14.5 million a year, may be expanded and meshed into the new program.

Under Project Transition, servicemen in a combat unit who have not had an opportunity to develop a marketable skill while in uniform are given a chance to undergo job training during the last six months of their tours.

Corporations have provided specialists to train such men on military bases, with the companies footing most of the bill.

House Okays Funding For Milford Lab

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would include enough funds to keep the U.S. Marine Biology Laboratory in Milford, Conn. open was passed Tuesday by the House on a voice vote.

U.S. Rep. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., reported the House action and said the lab's continued operation "is vital to the nation because it will produce the fruit for future generations when we are required to harvest the sea."

The bill now goes to the Senate.

Officials of the Interior Department had testified earlier this year that the $10 million appropriation planned to close the laboratory in a cut-back on expenses.

About $37,000 is included in a $1.8 million Interior Department appropriation bill to operate the lab for one year starting July 1.

Henry C. Davis, acting director of the lab, testified a week ago before a House subcommittee that "it seems ridiculous to close one of the newest and best equipped laboratories" that has pioneered in pollution studies on marine organisms.

The subcommittee approved the funds on the following day.

Weicker, a Republican, and Congressman Robert N. Glatton, D-Conn., were instrumental in working for restoration of funds for the lab's continued operation.

Davis told the subcommittee that most of the 18 scientists had been given termination notices effective May 29.

Information developed at the laboratory has enabled oyster growers to operate year-round.

Gift for Museum

CHICAGO (AP) — A set of first-edition copies of John James Audubon's "The Birds of America," has been presented to the Field Museum of Natural History.

The anonymous donor's folio, published in four volumes by Audubon in 1827-28, was purchased for him by Kenneth Nebenzahl, a Chicago rare books dealer, at auction in London on Nov. 24, 1969.

The set contains 468 plates engraved in aquatint and colored by hand from original drawings made by Audubon during his 20 years in the United States in the early 1800's.

One of two in existence, the original ownership of the folio was traced to Miss Euphemia Bifford, Derby England, cousin and close friend of Audubon's wife.

Vital Reform Sought For Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to boost early and long-range increases in social security benefits and taxes has passed the House as a special Senate committee called for a major reform of the system to avoid sentencing retired persons to a twilight life of poverty. The House-passed bill calls for a 5 per cent increase in benefits in 1971 with a provision for future increases geared to the cost of living. The roll call vote on passage of the measure was 344 to 100. The bill was sent to the Senate where considerable sentiment exists for further increases, a feeling bolstered by the annual report released today by the Special Senate Committee on Aging.

The committee said despite recent hikes in social security benefits about 7 million of the 20 million Americans age 65 or over live in or near poverty. The report recommended a substantial boost in the minimum individual income tax to $4 a month, and construction across-the-board increases. Threat Fails To Thwart SCLC March

FORSYTH, Ga. (AP) — About 300 civil rights demonstrators, many young Negroes from a local high school, marched out of the city on Wednesday shortly after noon despite reports of an alleged plot to kill one of them. The head of the procession was an old-time drawn wagon carrying three caucuses symbolizing the death of 12 persons in recent violence on and off college campuses. Immediately behind it, young Negroes carried another caucuses. About 100 or more pupils from the high school left class today to attend a rally at a church, and many joined the group for the march out of Forsyth. Most were expected to return after reaching the city limit.

The group planned to cover the 26 miles from Forsyth to Griffin during the day, then move into Atlanta early Saturday for a mass rally climaxing with the march out of Forsyth. The marchers, who ranks included longshoremen and other workers, paraded to a martial music. Some of the expressions of patriotism by the group were the burning of the American flag by anti-war protesters. "We don't care if they hold peace symbols, but if they do, we'll burn them," said one of the marchers. Arabs Kill Children In Attack on Bus

TEL AVIV (AP) Arab guerrillas ambushed a school bus today, killing 10 Israeli children, at least seven of them, and wounding 21. The announcement by the U.N. Security Council about the attack, which occurred near Jericho's border with Lebanon, it did not ask for a meeting. The Arabs fired bazookas and small arms about 100 feet from the bus as it headed towards a border school. The wounded children, many of whom lost limbs, were flown to hospitals. "It was the most awful thing I ever saw," a witness said. "I will never be able to forget the groaning of the little children crying."

Israeli planes and ground troops raided Egypt's Sinai Peninsula base on the Red Sea during the night. The Israeli army searched the area after the incident stopped on a mine and was found. The bus had picked up 50-35 persons to take to school. "This bus was here every day so they must know about it," said one settler. "Also, five minutes earlier a land mine exploded by accident and killed a child." The Foreign Ministry said the incident was a "grave violation of the cease-fire agreement between Israel and the North Vietnamese." By JOHN J. GOLDMAN The Los Angeles Times. On Wednesday an estimated 150,000 persons, marching under a sea of American flags and led by steel-helmeted construction workers, paraded up the city's Broadway in support of President Nixon's Indochina war policy. The young were in the major part of the demonstration. The rally was typical of antiwar demonstrations: Over-the-top, a mixture of solemnity and a mixture of defiance.
