Would Limit Floor Space New Density Regulations Proposed for Apartments

The Planning and Zoning Commission is proposing to amend present zoning regulations in order to reduce and standardize the number of apartments that would be allowed on a given tract in all zones.

The effect of the regulations if adopted probably will be to make it economically impractical to construct subsidized low-income housing in Manchester.

The proposed zoning changes will be the subject of a planning commission public hearing July 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

The new regulations have been compiled by J. Eric Potter, planning director, after more than a year's study of the commission.

"The proposed changes," according to Potter, "are designed to prevent the overcrowding and overdevelopment of land, and may serve as a brake on apartment construction until conditions change."

As well as reducing apartment "densities," or the number of units allowed per acre, the regulations are also intended to standardize the number of units per acre in all zones.

This would be done by establishing a ratio of living area to site area, with the maximum allowable living area set at 15 per cent of the total site.

This, in effect, would limit the amount of floor space in buildings, and thus limit the number of bedrooms that could be built in any given project.

The existing regulations provide for different densities in the various zones. Presently, in Zone A, 17 units are permitted per acre, based on a requirement of 2,600 square feet of site area for each unit.

Residence B requires 3,000 square feet of site area, and Residence C requires 4,000 square feet per unit. In these zones, densities are 14 units and 10 units per acre, respectively.

The existing regulations, however, do not set any limit on the number of bedrooms that can be constructed. Because of this, the commission has been concerned about the possibility of site overcrowding, with the related problems of unanticipated numbers of school children and traffic congestion.

Living area, as defined in the potential new regulations, is "the total private floor space contained within the walls of a residence."

Potter said, "The commission considers this form of control (the 15 per cent limit) a fair method because it does not attempt to control the design of

Police Pact Voted, Parade Pay Decried

Although the Board of Directors last night unanimously approved a working agreement with the Manchester Police Union, it did so reluctantly.

It expressed its displeasure over one of the minor points of the agreement—the one which provides for time-and-a-half pay for off-duty policemen who march in the Memorial Day Parade.

The board instructed Town Manager Robert Weiss to write a letter to Police Chief James Reardon, expressing the consensus displeasure and requesting that the letter be posted on the Police Station bulletin board.

Deputy Mayor David O'Leary expressed the sentiment of all men as the same as for the seven directors who he said, policemen—a 4 per cent on Memorial Day, a 5 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971.

Weiss replied, "I share your sentiment, and I expressed it at negotiation sessions."

Weiss said that the police negotiating committee had gone back to the union membership on the issue, and that the membership was adamant for it and voted overwhelmingly for it.

In addition to approving the agreement, the directors, this time with no comment, approved a two-year agreement with the firefighters' union.

Both agreements had previously been approved by the unions.

Bates provided the agreement with the Police Union provides for a 4 per cent raise on July 1; a 4 per cent raise on Jan. 1; a 4 per cent raise on July 1, 1971; and a 4 per cent raise on Jan. 1, 1972.

It stipulates that police personnel may earn a higher pension, by working beyond the required retirement age of 55, provided they have at least 25 years service. It provides for a 2 per cent annual pension increase for each year worked beyond the 25 years.

The agreement requires the Police Department to have a minimum of five cruisers on the road at all times.

Mayor Agostinelli asked of Weiss, "Is it a policy to put the police chief to decide if the number of police cruisers on the road really a matter for negotiation?"

Weiss replied, "It is a legitimate bargaining item. There is no question but that, in collec-

Public Records Earth Rocks Lunar Backpack Developer To Address Dinner of BIA

A speech and film showing by John C. Beggs of Hamilton Standard, who helped develop the backpack worn by Apollo astronauts, will be the highlight of a Brotherhood-in-Action dinner June 17.

The dinner, to begin at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the Kofc Home following a social period to begin there at 7.

When Hamilton Standard won NASA's design competition contract for the Apollo backpack in 1962, Beggs was appointed senior project engineer. He was responsible for organizing the engineering team which designed and developed the system.

In 1965, Beggs was advanced to the position of assistant project manager and to program manager in 1967.

The backpack worn by astronauts during their walk on the lunar surface, must function flawlessly to create and maintain within the spacelike environment.

Beggs, who lives at 85 Biddlewood Rd., came to Hamilton Standard 21 years ago as a test engineer after graduation from the University of Illinois. He will show a film taken by Apollo crewmen.

Also speak at the dinner is William Campbell, past grand master of Masons and present secretary, and one of the founders of BIA in Connecticut.

Tickets may be obtained until June 13 from Richard Spiller, Newman whether she thought Manchester Lodge of Masons; Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Marshall Cohen, 5'nal Birth; Trudeau, a frequent companion on dates, "is doing a good job of running Canada" the star speaker.

and distributed over the earth by the impact of large comets and the resultant splashing of molten sandstone.

"It is now clear that the moon can produce the same peculiarities, although it has no mud, or atmosphere," O'Keefe said.

He added that most moon rocks found thus far are older than 3 billion years. By contrast, the oldest tektite apparently has an age of 2 billion, and most are much younger.

This discrepancy could be explained if rocks were launched from the moon not by meteorite impact, as O'Keefe himself believed, but by volcanic eruption as suggested by a Dutch engineer, D. R. M. Verbeek, in 1957, he said.

O'Keefe explained that older material may be torn from the surface of a volcano's vent, but even this material likely would be the result of a relatively recent volcanic eruption since volcanic rarely continues for a long time at the same site.

"Thus, even if lunar volcanoes are rare, they would send up all the material found on the earth," he said.

"Another puzzle is why the moon sends up chiefly material of light composition, broadly similar to terrestrial granites, although granite-like rocks appear to be relatively rare on the moon," O'Keefe said.

"One answer may be that volcanoes which erupt granite-like rocks do so in enormous paroxysms, like Krakatoa in 1883, while those which erupt more basic rocks are more gentle, like Mauna Loa in Hawaii."

Lunar Backpack Developer To Address Dinner of BIA

A speech and film showing by John C. Beggs of Hamilton Standard, who helped develop the backpack worn by Apollo astronauts, will be the highlight of a Brotherhood-in-Action dinner June 17.

The dinner, to begin at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the Kofc Home following a social period to begin there at 7.

When Hamilton Standard won NASA's design competition contract for the Apollo backpack in 1962, Beggs was appointed senior project engineer. He was responsible for organizing the engineering team which designed and developed the system.

In 1965, Beggs was advanced to the position of assistant project manager and to program manager in 1967.

The backpack worn by astronauts during their walk on the lunar surface, must function flawlessly to create and maintain within the spacelike environment.

Beggs, who lives at 85 Biddlewood Rd., came to Hamilton Standard 21 years ago as a test engineer after graduation from the University of Illinois. He will show a film taken by Apollo crewmen.

Also speak at the dinner is William Campbell, past grand master of Masons and present secretary, and one of the founders of BIA in Connecticut.

Tickets may be obtained until June 13 from Richard Spiller, Newman whether she thought Manchester Lodge of Masons; Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Marshall Cohen, 5'nal Birth; Trudeau, a frequent companion on dates, "is doing a good job of running Canada" the star speaker.

"We don't really talk about politics."

Attendance is restricted to members of these fraternities.

Crime Probers Set Up Policy

The police agreement contains a pay differential for education in Police Science—$200 additional annually for an associate degree, and $400 additional annually for a bachelor's degree.

The pay increases for the police are the same as for the seven directors who he said, policemen—a 4 per cent on Memorial Day, a 5 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971; honor, a 4 per cent on July 1, 1971.

Weiss replied, "I share your sentiment, and I expressed it at negotiation sessions."

Weiss said that the police negotiating committee had gone back to the union membership on the issue, and that the membership was adamant for it and voted overwhelmingly for it.

In addition to approving the agreement, the directors, this time with no comment, approved a two-year agreement with the firefighters' union.

Both agreements had previously been approved by the unions.

Bates provided the agreement with the Police Union provides for a 4 per cent raise on July 1; a 4 per cent raise on Jan. 1; a 4 per cent raise on July 1, 1971; and a 4 per cent raise on Jan. 1, 1972.

It stipulates that police personnel may earn a higher pension, by working beyond the required retirement age of 55, provided they have at least 25 years service. It provides for a 2 per cent annual pension increase for each year worked beyond the 25 years.

The agreement requires the Police Department to have a minimum of five cruisers on the road at all times.

Mayor Agostinelli asked of Weiss, "Is it a policy to put the police chief to decide if the number of police cruisers on the road really a matter for negotiation?"

Weiss replied, "It is a legitimate bargaining item. There is no question but that, in collec-charge that he spent more time involved in District of Columbia affairs than with his own district.

He sought support in the predominantly rural area on the basis of his seniority on the House Agriculture Committee where he is second ranking Democrat.

Neither the Vietnam war nor race was a major issue in the campaign, although Stephens called on fellow blacks to support him.

In legislative races, four Democrats were nominated and two others are in a runoff. ### Harvard President Hits Unrest

Labeling McCarthy a "symbol of chicanery, deceit, and dialectical evil," Pusey said the late senator used the "big lie" technique of Adolph Hitler, and that the current extremist groups follow the same course.

He used as one illustration an "employees' strike at Harvard in 1965 which he said was occasioned essentially by a contest for control between the leadership of two rival unions," but came out looking quite different in leaflets issued by the militant Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

"The big lie let loose amongst us began there to take shape," he said, "that is, that the university is a hopelessly bigoted, reactionary force in our society which serves the interest of a hideous military-industrial complex."

Pusey concluded that some of the blame for the current state of affairs must go to those in the academic community "who, like the honest burghers of the William Brewster, peace-loving, earnest, with no desire to impose their views on others, have been unwilling to pass critical judgment on any of their kind."

Mississippi Governor Nixes Aid in Jackson State Probe

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Gov. John Bell Williams says Mississippi has declined to aid a Justice Department probe of the Jackson State College shootings, an investigation he regards as one-sided.

Confirming Tuesday a report that the state and federal investigators, Williams said he would cooperate in the state's investigation of the campus confrontation with police in which two young Negroes were shot to death.

In Washington earlier, Assistant Gen. Jerris Leonard advised Mississippi had refused to turn over weapons used in the May 15 shooting or to make officers involved available for questioning.

Williams, in a statement read to newsmen in his office, said he would cooperate in the state's investigation of the campus confrontation with police in which two young Negroes were shot to death.

Compromise Traffic Plan Approved by Directors

The Board of Directors last night unanimously approved a compromise traffic lighting plan for downtown Main St.

The plan, which mixes the present angle parking with some parallel parking, also includes a 100,000 traffic light system with walk phase to be included and paid for by the state.

Angle parking will remain on the east side of Main St. from Ford St. south to School St. and from the Center to Locust St. on the west side of Main St.

The plan calls for parallel parking from School to Wells St. and from Locust to Forest St. From Wells St. on the east and from Forest St. on the west to Hartford Rd., there will be no parking on Main St.

Finally, St. James St. will be a one-way street with west-bound traffic only. Town Manager Robert Weiss indicated last night that a half year before the new traffic light system would be in operation.

The compromise was reached last month by the town and the State Department of Transportation Bureau of Highways. A special committee of merchants and town officials, formed earlier because of the controversy of losing needed parking spaces on Main St., also approved the new plan on May 14.

Last night, Director James F. Farr noted that only 47 parking spaces will be lost under this plan. Farr and Director William FitzGerald served on the special committee with downtown merchants.

Radicals Say They Blasted Police Station

NEW YORK (AP) — Two radicals who admitted exploding a dynamite time bomb in a men's room of a police station, said they were not responsible for the damage.

The new proposal is designed to avoid such precipitous explosions, at least for food stamps. The stamps are purchased for less than face value and redeemed at stores for food.

In the mail today, the Associated Press received a hand-printed communication signed "Weatherman," which claimed that radical student groups planted the bomb because "the pigs in this country are our enemies."

Tuesday night's was the latest in a series of blasts which have caused four deaths and rocked skyscrapers, army centers and department stores in New York.

Police said the new blast was caused by 15 sticks of dynamite, wired to a timing device. It could have been placed in the men's room locker as much as 12 hours before it went off at 6:48 p.m., they said.

The town manager last night repeated his praise of the state highway officials who, he said, "have gone far beyond what they consider desirable for sound engineering."

The state people have shown great understanding of the problems and needs of traffic control of a central business district," Weiss stated.

Police Chief James Reardon thanked the directors after the vote last night for their confidence in him and his recommendations. Reardon, Weiss, and other officials to discuss a new compromise after the special committee's April meeting, which resulted in the plan approved by the Directors.

Blains Wed 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Blain celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a surprise celebration Saturday at their home by their children, Miss Vivian Blain, who teaches at Vernon; Paul Blain, a Manchester Community College student; and James Blain, a Manchester High School student.

About 60 friends and relatives from various parts of New England attended. The guests of honor were presented with various gifts of silver and a purse. The couple were married June 12, 1945, at St. Lawrence's Episcopal Church in Hartford by the Rev. John Phelan. The Blains have lived in Manchester for 21 years. She is employed as director of Nursing Services at Manchester Manor Nursing Home. She is a member of the Manchester Register and Nurses Association, the St. Louis Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association, the Ladies Guild, St. Bartholomew's Church and the American Red Cross Nursing Association.

Rev. Simpson's Alma Mater Gives Him Honorary Degree

The Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, pastor of Center Congregational Church for more than 20 years, will receive an honorary degree Friday from the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif. where he received his MA degree in 1951.

A native of Hyde Park, Mass., the Rev. Mr. Simpson graduated from Harvard in 1927 and received his BD degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York City in 1932. During his pastorate in Manchester, he has served as moderator of the Connecticut Congregational Conference and secretary of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches in America. In May he submitted his resignation as pastor to take effect not later than Dec. 31, 1971.

For 35 years the Rev. Mr. Simpson has been married to the former Miss Elizabeth French. They have three children. In 1967 and 1968 the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson went on a world tour. He wrote about the trip in "My Window on the World," a series that appeared on the church page of The Herald each Saturday for a year.

Nixon Details Welfare Plan Extensions

(Continued from Page One) sweeping long-range alterations, officials said. The key change would switch administration of food stamps from various state and local agencies to the family assistance network. Family assistance is designed to replace the federal-state aid to dependent children program.

In this way, the administration believes, food stamp eligibility requirements and benefit level can be meshed with family assistance.

Some senators contended benefits from welfare-related programs such as food stamps, public housing and Medicaid would tend to destroy the work incentive and become, in fact, a "work disincentive."

They cited a Chicago family of a mother and her three children. If the mother earned $5,000 a year, they said the various government benefits would bring

Bond Vote Harmony In Partisan Discord

The minority Democrats on the Board of Directors are proposing a freeze on all highway reconstruction and are recommending a referendum in the spring on a bond issue for highway, storm-sewer and sidewalk construction.

The majority Republicans agreed last night to the referendum, provided it is held in November and not in the spring, but balked at going along with the freeze on highway reconstruction.

The Democratic proposals were submitted while the board was considering a request by Town Manager Robert Weiss for a $80,000 allocation for reconstructing Hartford Rd. from S. Main St. to Elm St.

The allocation, from the 1970-71 capital improvement reserve fund was approved by a 5-2 vote, with Democrat William FitzGerald and Anthony Pietrantonio casting the dissenting votes. Democrats Richard Wylie and Republican Wayne Mantz were not present.

FitzGerald proposed that the reconstruction be funded with money approved at a spring referendum.

Pietrantonio proposed minor repair work and permanent repair when the bond issue is approved. He expressed concern that the road would be torn up by the heavy vehicles working on Rt. 6 construction and that, consequently, a reconstructed Hartford Rd. would not last, and that the $80,000 would be money lost.

Truck Traffic Weiss assured Pietrantonio that the heavy-truck traffic on Hartford Rd. is almost ended and that the reconstruction in the near future could save the town about $4,500 — the money that would be expended otherwise for temporary and permanent repairs to Hartford Rd. trenches dug for sewer work.

Agostinelli agreed to another proposal by the Democrats — a bipartisan committee to make a careful appraisal of Manchester's highway, storm-sewer and sidewalk needs, to be the basis for the November referendum.

After saying, "The study the Democrats are recommending commenced four years ago, when the Republicans came into office, he appointed the following: Directors Odegard, FitzGerald and James Farr, William Director Public Works William O'Neill, and whatever other people Mr. Weiss thinks should be on the committee."

House Districts List Candidates

Chances are it'll cost you less to have your personal checking account

at the bank that listens

To begin with, we've made it more likely that it'll cost you nothing at all. We've reduced the required minimum balance. Previously you had to maintain a $400 minimum balance to eliminate all checking charges. We've lowered that figure to $300.

And if you find it difficult to maintain this lower balance, you'll pay only for the checks you actually use... 8¢ per check... plus a modest service charge of only 50¢ a month. No other charges of any kind.

One thing more. If you're 65 or over, checking is absolutely free at CBT. Which is what you should expect from a bank that listens.

to do the fighting in Cambodia helped the two issues, once Kent State had happened.
No one, obviously, could ever have predicted such a moment when two dramatic issues would intersect and muddle. But if we let ourselves think about it, in retrospect, we are likely to find ourselves still shaken by it. And there may be something in what some observers say, that the American campus, and perhaps all American life, may never be quite the same again.
For what we may have seen, in that first week of May, was ourselves on the brink not of this or that separate crisis, but of a total disaster which might be ours if we ever permitted ourselves one more careless, or accidental, or momentary step forward. The only safe ground, say the campuses, has to be a different ground.

The Cancelled Winner
Last fall, a national network launched a new program, titled "My World And Welcome To It." Based on the cartoon and word artistry of the late James Thurston, it was, in keeping with much of the supposed mood of the times, a "low-key" entertainment, which built its quiet, witty charm higher from week to week. Before it had much of a time to establish itself, the network let it be known that the program was being discarded after this first year.
The other night, at the Emmy Awards,
"My World And Welcome To It" won
first award in its program classification, and its star, William Windham, first award in his acting category.
To go back to the moment when the network decided that its new program wasn't to be continued, we would guess that the network found itself confronted with some early statistics from the audience rating pollsters, and that, confronted with these statistics, the network felt itself that the great mass audience out there was too uncultured, too moronic, ever to support this type of entertainment.
To that assumption, and to the alleged criticisms in back of it, there is something of an answer. For the most part, the audience ratings themselves, they are as subject to error as any other pollster, part of their trouble being that many of the people they call refuse to cooperate with such a morose business.
Second, if there is a lack of taste and intelligence anywhere, it is just as likely to be inside network bureaucracy as in the general public. And one of the most moronic things a network can do is underestimate the appetite of its audience.
Undoubtedly, some of the voting for this program in the Emmy Awards was motivated by the knowledge that the show had already been established. Perhaps, if it had already been established, that the show was being discarded. But one of these historic events was the
April 30 announcement by President Nixon that he was sending our troops into Cambodia. The rhetoric he used was alarming for its jingoism, and the policy
he announced bore a great similarity to other policies by which other men in the White House had proclaimed to bring this war to a decision by widening it.
The announcement about Cambodia, alone, was enough to raise the American mood toward a flammable condition.
But then there struck the lightning criticisms on the campus at Kent State, with four students dead. The four dead students may not have been involved in anything except spectator curiosity. It made a difference in the national reaction, we are afraid, that they were white students.
The shooting at Kent State was the fatal flash of flame into the flammable condition already created by the decision to invade Cambodia.
The two events together generated,
like the two halves of an atomic bomb, many times more explosive force than either could ever have developed by itself.
It is possible to indulge in all kinds of might-be-if-possible fantasies. If the President's invasion of Cambodia hadn't happened to run into the shooting at Kent State, he might not have had to tailor his policy to ease the domestic turmoil. Or, to take another night-ha-been view, it might be argued that the renewed tension created by the Cambodian adventure was the thing that raised the temperature on both sides at Kent State, until that explosion occurred.
But the big what-if-did-happen was that the two things did come together in an emotional fusion in that first week of May, and persuade millions of hitherto relatively uninvolved people that nothing was safe any more, neither our constitutional system for making war, nor our own children on our college campuses. The fact that, that same week, the Nixon Administration itself had been volunteering comparisons between the youth on our campuses and those slated

"SELDEN III"—THE HADLYME-CHESTER FERRY Along The Connecticut With Bryan O'Hara

to be sent to Vietnam. The fact that President Nixon has now been told,
by the youthful team he himself sent out to take the temperature and the mood of the nation's campuses, of the extent to which suspicion and anger toward the nation's established leadership has spread through hitherto non-political, non-involved sections of student America.
The President sent this team of white House assistants who were all under the age of 30 out to visit some 30 college campuses. They did their visiting during the month of May. They themselves were surprised at the bitter depth of the feelings they found.
They have been reporting strengthened other reports from other sources, all to the effect that what happened on the nation's campuses this May was something more than anything that had happened before, and something that involved a greater majority of the students than anything before.
The detail of their report to the President has not been made public. But it seems to us inevitable that the more detail of this particular mood is studied, the more obvious it is going to be to become that it involved a surprise collision between two separate historic events which somehow fused and merged their emotional impact into one sudden tide of powerful feeling which swept through millions of people, young and old, who had hitherto felt more like spectators than participants in the troubles of our time.
One of these historic events was the
April 30 announcement by President
Nixon that he was sending our troops into Cambodia. The rhetoric he used was alarming for its jingoism, and the policy

Inside Report
The Fall of Finch
By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — The underlying reason for Robert Finch's fall as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States is the Nixon HEW controversy. It was not the hard-line White House staff and the soft-line HEW bureaucrats.
Tough-talking Presidential aide privately argued that Finch had brought much of his trouble on himself simply by entertaining the complaints of anti-Nixon HEW civil servants. But eyes were not noticeably moist at HEW on Monday, following his abrupt weekend shift to the anonymous role of Presidential counselor. Anything more than pro forma sympathy was wholly missing among the civil servants.
In brief, Finch at HEW fell between two stools. Taking a

Students' printed in our Manchester Herald.
Some of them brought back memorabilia of childhood 60 years ago when for a while we lived on a farm in Massachusetts. We children used to climb over the fence to see the white violets. The white violets always grew in the woods in a damp place and there were purple and blue ones. The blue and purple ones were the most beautiful. We used to pick them and sell them for a nickel or two each. We also found the trailing arbutus growing near a river or in a damp place. I think it grows in Connecticut. We cannot find any more.
We also enjoyed the pictures of the clouds and the sunsets, some of which were taken right here in Manchester as we recognized them.
When we see all these wonderful pictures of creation we can only acclaim, "Oh God! How great Thou art!"

This is a regression! Does it not should! Our children are just as

Why can't we have the necessary

We can! But only if you, the

Rude Reptile

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Zoo inherited a red whip snake Tuesday after the four-foot-long reptile slithered out of its container in the post office bag and stuck its tongue out at a postal employee.
The snake was sent to the Detroit Zoo by a private mailer straw packing. The postal em-

Flour. 2 tablespoons soft shortening. 1 medium-sized onion, sliced. 2 1/2 cups water. 1/2 Lipton's Beef and Vegetable Dry Soup Mix. Season meat with salt and pepper and sprinkle with flour to coat lightly. Heat shortening in a large saucepan or Dutch oven over moderate heat. Brown meat thoroughly on both sides. Add onion during the last few minutes and brown lightly. Heat oven to 325°F. (moderate/low). Stir water slowly into dry-soup mix. Pour over and underneath meat. Cover and place in oven. Bake about 2 hours, or until fork-tender. If necessary, add a little more water during cooking to prevent drying. (about 2 to 3/4 hours). Drain the A-1 sauce. Serve 4-6. Gravy Pot Roast. Prepare for cooking: Chuck, Shoulder, Clod or Bottom Round, trim off the excess fat and rub the meat with A-1 sauce. Season and lay the meat on a sheet of aluminum foil. Prick slightly one (1-oz.) can of cream of mushroom soup and pour over roast. Sprinkle the contents of one package of dried onion soup over the roast, and wrap the meat in aluminum foil. Place in roasting pan and bake in a medium oven (about 300 degrees) until meat is tender (about 2 to 3 1/2 hours). Drain the A-1 sauce if you wish.

Sister Gabriella, 50 years as a Sister of Mercy (Herald photo by Linton)

Vernon Sister Gabriella: A 'Potent Force'

By JUNE LINTON (Herald Reporter)

The best part was that Sister Gabriella so enjoyed her jubilee celebration on Sunday. Her people were with her, friends and pupils and the many relatives without which no Irish family is complete.

Sister Gabriella, presently a sixth grade teacher at St. Bernard's school, was born Margaret McKough an undisciplined number of years ago in Hartford, the oldest of eight children. Her two brothers were with her Sunday, James McKough of Manchester and Howard McKough of Hartford, and many cousins, including Rev. James O'Brien of Montville and the Rev. William Bernard of Hartford.

Both offered a congratulatory Mass with six other celebrants including Mayor Edward J. DeBorja of Manchester, the Rev. John Ashe who grew up in St. Bernard's parish, the Rev. William Dudaek of New Britain, a former pupil of Sister Gabriella's and the Rev. Anthony Belliveau and the Rev. Anthony Bernard, former assistants at St. Bernard's.

The Mass climaxed an afternoon of greeting new and old friends, and the Paps Blessing from Pope Paul VI climaxed the Mass. As Sister Gabriella talked she hugged the framed scroll in her arms and smiled delightedly as she scribbled each moment.

"I didn't want any of this at all," she shook her head laughing and admitted that it was marvelous, "every God-blessed bit of it."

She marvelled at the spirit of the parishioners who had planned it all and said her friends told her "they had never

Funds Voted to Solve Two Drainage Problems

Two drainage problems that have been a headache to town officials for many years are about to be corrected as a result of allocations voted last night by the Board of Directors.

The allocations, from the 1970-71 Capital Improvement Reserve Fund, are: $2,000 for correcting the drainage problem at Dover and W. Middle Tpke., and $4,000 for correcting the problem on Perkins St.

Work at Dover Rd. and W. Middle Tpke. had been held up while the town negotiated for a right-of-way from one property owner. The right-of-way has been obtained and the work is ready to proceed.

The Perkins St. solution, Town Manager Robert Welles said last night, is a stop-gap measure to correct the problem encountered by one property owner. Welles said that a permanent solution for Perkins St. would cost $25,000 to $30,000. The property owner involved in the drainage solution has complained many times to town officials and has threatened suit unless corrective steps were taken.

The board took several other financial actions last night. It allocated $1,600 from the current Drainage Improvement Fund for the town's one-third share for traffic signals at the intersection of N. Main and Oakland Sts. The state, which will pay the other two-thirds cost, has approved the installation and is preparing final plans.

The district approved a $1,000 transfer to the CMB account and a $2,900 transfer to the Blue Cross account. In the current General Fund budget and both to cover anticipated deficits. The sums were transferred from the Employees' Life Insurance account, $5,000; the Retirement account, $1,000; and the Unemployment Compensation account, $700.

The board authorized the manager to prepare an ordinance and to schedule a public hearing on his proposal for purchasing a 100x200 foot parcel at 120 Spring St.

The property, which includes a dwelling, is to the east of the Globe Swimming Pool and is contiguous on all sides and is owned by Robert H. Schelmer, and is being offered to town-owned property.

Welles recommended the purchase on the basis that the property may be converted in the future into more parking area for the swimming pool. Until the pool is built, it may be rented to a tenant.

Although the vote authorizing the purchase was unanimous, Mayor Nathan Agostinelli and Deputy Mayor David Odgers reserved the right to vote against the ordinance.

Both questioned town need for the parcel, both said that parking for the pool is available across the street, at Mt. Nebo. Agostinelli said that the town seems to be buying up property every time it comes on the market.

Service Pins Awarded To Long-Term Masons

Long-term service pins were awarded to 65 members of Manchester Lodge of Masons last night. Eleven were for 50-year membership and 52 were for 25-year membership.

Presentations were made by the district deputy grand master, the worshipful master, and assistance from a past master.

Four of the eleven 50-year members were present to receive their pins: William J. Stevenson of 22 Thomas Dr., Albert J. Todd of 117 Foster St., John G. Robinson of 706 Center St. and Samuel J. Massey of Union. Unable to attend were Harry Straw, William A. Allen, James Armstrong, Edward W. Fish, Fred W. Oser, Thomas N. Frenchie and Oscar A. Musula.

The 25-year members are: Roland A. Benaunce, Herbert A. Bengtson, Leonard C. Bierman, Dudley S. Bostick, Harold R. Brulhwaite, Walter S. Broadwell and Raymond B. Brown.

Directors Name Harkins As Acting Town Manager

The Manchester Board of Directors, also to fill a vacant Assistant Town Manager position, named John Harkins as acting manager, to serve during the temporary absence of the manager. The appointment of an acting manager fills a requirement of the town charter.

The acting manager since November 1966 had been Town Counsel John Shea. He had asked the directors to relieve him of the duties, citing the pressure of his counsel duties and a private practice as the reason.

In other appointments, last night, the board named Thomas Harkins as acting manager of the Pension Trust Fund Board of Trustees, and Francis DeLafra of 142 S. Lakewood Circle as C-DAF Agency.

Both are Republicans and will replace Republicans George Carley, 54, who was killed last month by a plane-wrecking passenger as he drove in down town Seattle.

Stamps In the News

Education and nature are the themes of two new sets of stamps from Surinam (formerly Dutch Guiana).
"The wonderful things nature offers to man" is the basic feature of one set consisting of five semi-postals which were recently issued during Easter. Each of the multicolored stamps carries a surcharge intended to raise funds for welfare organizations in Surinam.
The 10-centa-plus-8 shows a flower as a symbol of the color and vital force of nature. The 10-centa-plus-8 depicts a butterfly as a symbol of fluttering beauty. The 20-centa-plus-12 features a bird as a symbol of the longing for freedom. The 30-centa-plus-15 illustrates a star as a symbol of night and space. The 20-centa-plus-12 pictures the sun as a symbol of warmth and light.
To mark the 20th anniversary of secondary education in Surinam, two new stamps were issued. Both stamps have a common design highlighting the years 1950 and 1970, surrounded by a laurel wreath. The 10-centa blue, yellow and green stamp is blue, yellow and green in color but in different arrangement.
Both new sets were printed in The Netherlands under the supervision of The Netherlands Post Office Philatelic Service in The Hague.

Sherlock Holmes is not around these days but Scotland Yard is doing such an excellent job in catching thieves who steal stamps that their methods are now being offered to U.S. police departments.
Sponsored by the Society of Philatelic Americans, a colored slide program to instruct policemen visually in the basic information needed to understand philatelic terms and stamp values is called "Operation Stop Thief."
Asks S.P.A. President James J. Matejka, "If Scotland Yard can have a 'philatelic squad' then why can't we in the U.S. have a similar group of specialized units?"
Tunisia has honored the 6th Medical Conference of the "Magreb" with the issuance of a new 25 millimes stamp, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The stamp shows a stylized drawing of a Tunisian nurse holding the universally famous staff of Asclepius. The symbols which appear on her arm represent the African nations who participated in the Conference. "Magreb" is the Tunisian word for these African countries.
Also issued by Tunisia was a 25 millimes stamp in tribute to the New Headquarters Building of the Universal Postal Union in Switzerland. The stamp depicts a drawing of the new building which houses the world's oldest international stamp group.

The annual convention of the Lincoln Society of Philately, which specializes in stamps of Abraham Lincoln, will be held this year in Gettysburg, Pa., site of the famed president's historic speech. This international group of stamp collectors will convene June 19, 1970, and will include a number of speakers including a historical address by the president of the Lincoln Society. One will depict the Lincoln Speech Memorial and the other will show the Willa House where the president worked on his address.

UConn Lauds Pawtucket Work
PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — A federally sponsored study at the University of Connecticut cited the Pawtucket Redevelopment Agency for successfully relocating businesses from the Slater urban renewal project.
The study funded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development cited Pawtucket for retaining displaced businesses "not only within city limits but with the downtown shopping core."
The study was one of a series of case studies sponsored by HUD on commercial relocation efforts. The study cited the redevelopment agency's "imaginative" ability to match the needs of relocating businesses with available space, and for achieving support with businessmen to be relocated.

Color experts at the National Bureau of Standards say that a sensitive human eye can discern more than 10 million colors under ideal conditions.

Ideas Vary On Definition Of Recession

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Observations on the economic slow-down.

WHEN IS IT A RECESSION? A lot of economists think we already are in one. They point to the sharp rise in unemployment to 8 per cent of the labor force and the sluggishness in industrial output.

No completely satisfactory set of requirements has been devised to indicate the onset of recession, but the most widely followed indicator is the Federal Reserve's index of industrial production.

That index has now fallen in eight of the past nine months, or for two straight quarters, which suggests that the nation is indeed in a recession.

Curiously, however, a good many professional economists, fully capable of making up their own minds, refrain from using the word until they get the cue from the prestigious, non-governmental National Bureau of Economic Research.

DO CURRENT STOCK MARKET PRICES INDICATE A RECESSION? It would seem so. Certainly they reflect a great loss of investor confidence in the immediate future of business.

One way of measuring the decline in confidence is with price-earnings ratios, or the number of times earnings that an investor is willing to pay for a stock. A $50 stock with per share earnings of $3 would have a P-E of 15.

Back in 1961, when the boom was building up, the P-E ratio for the 30 stocks in the Dow Jones Industrial Average came to 22. By the end of 1967 it was down to 18.4, and by the end of 1968 and 1969 it was 16.9.

Last Friday it had fallen to 12.8 times earnings. During the great rise in stock prices it wasn't at all unusual to see some stocks with P-E ratings of 60 or even 100. It's difficult to find them now.

DOES THE DECLINE IN HOUSING SUGGEST RECESSION? It does. Professional economists view activities in the construction market as just one of many indicators—although a very important one.

To the ordinary American, however, the housing-job-price situation is the primary indicator. All three are problem areas right now, and housing might be the most serious of the three.

New homes are being built at a rate far below needs. Older housing is deteriorating. High interest rates are making mortgage loans prohibitive for some people. Apartment rents are very low and rents are high.

Despite the tremendous demand for housing, some home owners are thwarted in attempts to sell their homes. Sure, there are potential buyers, but often they can't get mortgage money.

More than one-third of all single-family residential construction through April was in the form of mobile homes. About 320,000 homes were built, and more than 116,000 of them were mobile.

ARE VOLUNTARY RESTRAINTS ON WAGE-PRICE INCREASES LIKELY TO BE SOUGHT? The chances appear to be rising. The Nixon administration has left no doubt that it opposes rigid wage-price controls.

However, as the economy retrenches—and wages and prices keep rising—the pressure grows for more direct involvement of the administration in the marketplace. Indications grow that some type of voluntary plan may be formulated.

The pressure is coming not just from the housewife who sees her budget money disappearing. Inflation is exportable to a certain extent, so several international agencies are advocating a stronger attack by Washington.

IS THE OUTLOOK BLEAK? It may depend upon how you assess it. Many respected economists foresee the economy expanding again before the end of the year. But that could mean just another round of inflation before the present one is brought under control.

The question to which there appears to be no answer is this: How do you speed up the motor without waiting for the gasoline? How do you push the economy into a vigorous expansion without inflation?

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Mrs. George Ingle of suburban Effingham, Ill., is trying to arrange a delivery ride to the church where she teaches in vacation Bible school because her dog dropped a turtle down her back while she was driving.

Mrs. Ingle said she was about halfway to the church Sunday when her 5-year-old son, Dennis, lost his grip on his 6-inch-long turtle and it slid, separating, down her back.

Tolland County Day Camp for Retarded Awarded Kennedy Fund

Francis P. Kelley, superintendent of the Mansfield Training School and a consultant to the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, has announced the awarding of a two-year grant of $2,000 yearly by the foundation.

The grant will be used to develop a day camp for retarded children from the Coventry, Bolton, Tolland and Mansfield areas, as well as selected students from the training school who have potential for an early return to the community.

The camp will be located on the old Trieman property, off Case Hill Rd. and South River Rd. in Coventry. The approximately 100 acres was purchased by the State of Connecticut last year, and is currently being developed for camp use.

James Bracken of Coventry was appointed camp director. He is a specialist in physical education for the retarded and director of swimming instruction for the handicapped in Manchester. Bracken also serves as a physical education teacher at the training school.

The camp is scheduled to open on June 29 and will operate for an eight-week period ending Aug. 21.

The camp program activities will include athletics, arts and crafts, music, dramatics, picnicking, swimming, forestry and group games. Objective of the program is to introduce camping and outdoor recreation into the life of the retarded child. The schedule includes operation on a Monday through Friday basis from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The camp will have eight counselors supported by volunteers. Additional supportive assistance and cooperation will be provided by members of the staff of the training school, including dental health and safety and complete nursing coverage.

An effort is being made to recruit volunteers from E. O. Smith High School in Mansfield, Coventry High School, and high schools in the Tolland and Willimantic areas, and anyone living independently and successfully. The grant by the foundation is the first day camp grant to establish a camp in a rural teacher at the training school area.

Parents of retarded children wishing to enroll their child in the day camp may write to Director of the Mansfield Department of Education, Room 206, Coventry. Applications should be forwarded to either the director or Mrs. Sylvia Mansfield, Box 206, Coventry. Applications from all town agencies will be considered. Objective of the camp is to provide a safe and enjoyable environment for these individuals no later than June 25.

Tolland Disaster Plan Outline Shows Daytime Problem

Work on the preparation of a training for high school girls disaster plan for the town is who have exhibited qualities of proceeding under the direction of a committee headed by Mike Kappa.

A preliminary plan was recently presented to the Board of Selectmen, and the need for a coordinated local effort between several town organizations and town officials was stressed.

Coverage of the town during the day may prove to be a problem, according to the preliminary studies since, about 75 volunteers are available at night but only 14 during the day. Kappa is seeking information from all town agencies on what they can do in the event of a disaster of any kind.

To date Ron Little, chief dispatcher for the Tolland County Mutual Aid System has indicated that he would probably be responsible for contacting various voluntary groups in the event of a disaster.

The county mutual aid system is located on the Green, next to the town administration building. It has been recommended that dispatching teams be organized to analyze the situation and decide what is needed in the event of particular types of emergencies.

The Tolland Volunteer Ambulance Association would also form teams with a captain responsible for informing the other members on his team.

The Tolland Memorial School would probably be set up as a base of operations and possibly as a hospital, if necessary. The school was chosen due to its location on the Green.

Two men on duty for the TVAA would report to the scene and radio back a request for the amount of help needed.

The Fire Department would sound an alarm and men who respond would be dispatched where needed by a leading officer.

Achievement awards were recently presented to the following: Fire Department: the rescue truck to meet any emergency.

Boy Scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster Raymond Blanchette would be used as needed.

The plan makes the town responsible for non-residents as well as residents needing disaster assistance, and provides for the involvement of the local clergy, who will also be called on to donate buildings for use as shelters. The clergy would be placed on a standby alert.

Civil Defense Director David Cabanias would be called upon to assist as would other town officials. The town clerk and her assistant have volunteered their services, and the Red Cross has pledged support.

Although the plan is not yet completed, some test runs are planned soon.

Four residents involved in the preparation of the plan have attended a seminar of disaster study offered at Quimptic College.

Committee members in addition to Kappa and Little are Roger Choquette, Blanchette and Fred Schupla.

Leland Girl's State Principal Richard Olson has announced the selection of Miss Joan Clark, a member of the school's senior class as the town's representative to be held from June 21-27 at the University of Connecticut.

Miss Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Merito from Granabier Rd.

Olson's State is an annual event designed to provide citizenship

Shelton Boy Dies Of Crash Injuries

MILFORD, Conn. (AP) — A twelve-year-old boy died in a car crash on Tuesday in Milford. The boy, identified as Mark J. Shelton, was injured in an accident on the feeder road in Milford between the Wilbur Cross Parkway and the Connecticut Turnpike. State police said he was a passenger in a car driven by his father, which slid on wet pavement and struck a light pole.

Noise Pollution CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Hearing Society has launched a movement to curtail noise pollution from the city's public opinion and start a movement for noise abatement at grass roots level.

Weiss To Pursue Case Mt. Purchase

The Board of Directors last night instructed Town Manager Robert Weiss to meet with owners of Case Mountain and other interested agencies to decide whether the town should apply for a new federal open-spaces grant to acquire the land.

In the public hearing held last week, a number of townspeople supported the proposal to acquire Case Mt., stressing the need to preserve open land for future generations.

After the discussion, Weiss said that he and the other owners welcome the chance to discuss the possibility of the mountain to the town for open-space use.

A midweek service of prayer and praise will be held tonight at 7:30 at Calvary Church.

Dr. Frederick W. Spaulding, chairman of the Conservation Commission, also spoke briefly about the role of the National Conservancy in the open-spaces program.

The Sunday School staff of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church.

Dr. Spaulding explained that the organization could lend the town money at a fairly high interest rate—perhaps nine per cent.

Trinity Covenant Church will have a Bible study tonight at 7:30 at the church. The church choir will also meet at 7:30.

Weiss indicated that the federal HUD agency must be assured that funds have been set aside by the town before an application will be formally processed.

The North Manchester Alton family group will meet tonight at 8 at the Second Congregational Church parish house.

Dr. Spaulding explained that the organization could lend the town money at a fairly high interest rate—perhaps nine per cent.

St. Bridget School library volunteers are reminded that inventory will start tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. in the library.

In the 1966 application submitted under the federal open-spaces program and later withdrawn, the purchase of the Manchester Water Co. was given higher priority.
