Police Nab Another Drug Count

Manchester police have made another arrest in connection with the recent ten-ton narcotics crackdown. David Stanley Krajewski, 23, of 71 Foster St., was arrested Saturday afternoon on a Circuit Court 12 warrant, and charged with sale and possession of narcotics (heroin).

Krajewski was caught shortly before 2 p.m. at the Connecticut Motor Inn on Tolland Tpk., after detectives learned that he had been staying there the past two days.

This was the 12th Manchester arrest in connection with the drug roundup coordinated by the Capital Region Narcotics Task Force. On Aug. 13, early morning raids brought the arrest of nine alleged "pushers" in Manchester.

Krajewski appeared in Circuit Court 12 in Manchester this morning, and his case was continued pending an examination of his dwellings at 73 and 86 Fishmond Dr., $25,000 each.

Cong Repelled After Attacking South of Capital of Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia or Saeng. Some observers believe the U.S. Command said (AP) — South Vietnamese and leave the attacks are part of a Cambodian warplanes drove enemy attempt to establish a base at the Mekong Delta 110 miles northwest of the base, killing one American and wounding five. Two miles south of Phnom Penh, strafing and bombing light casualties and no dead.

At the other end of the country, five rounds of Viet Cong mortar fire slammed into the Ba Che village market 110 miles west of Saigon. A government spokesman said 10 South Vietnamese civilians and a soldier were killed and 42 civilians were wounded.

An American OCSB observer, Army helicopter was shot down Monday 26 miles northeast of Saigon, killing a crewman and wounding three others. It was reported to have been hit by the 3,000th U.S. helicopter in the area, which was reported to have been downed in Laos in the war.

The monthly report on pacification from the computerized Hamlet Evaluation System estimated that 92.4 per cent of South Vietnam's population was under sporadic attack for more than two weeks.

Move To End Draft System Spurs Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate bid to encourage an all-volunteer army was denounced today as an untimely "illegitimate child" and defended as a vital step toward ending the draft.

The idea of regarding military personnel as some kind of feudal slaves who can be expected to labor at half of what the civilian market will pay, is unworthy of a modern, civilized nation, Goldwater said.

He said increases in pay and benefits "the goals of our amendment" to the military program.

Arab-Israeli Peace Talks Start Under U.N. Auspices

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Arab-Israeli peace talks started here today under U.N. auspices and the Israeli delegate said he thought peace was possible if the Arabs really wanted it.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teohash spoke to newsmen after a 45-minute meeting with Gunnar Jarring, U.N. special representative for the Middle East.

Their meeting was the opening of a new round of Middle East talks to which Israel, Jordan and Egypt agreed in accepting a U.S. peace proposal last week.

Teohash told reporters he had informed Jarring of "the basic principles of Israel's position." He said he would meet him again later today and would return to Jerusalem for consultations this evening.

"I don't think it would be useful to enter into details of our discussions," Teohash added.

"But as you know, the objective of these discussions which we have commenced here with Ambassador Jarring is the establishment of a just and lasting peace between Israel and Egypt, Jordan and Jordan."

"All of us realize that to conclude a peace after a conflict which has lasted for 22 years will require the solution of many difficult problems."

Both Jarring and Secretary-General U Thant were optimistic. Thant, arriving after Teohash, said: "I am cautiously optimistic about the prospects for the case here by Egypt."

Jarring has been trying for nearly three years to bridge the Arab and Israeli toward a peace agreement. He is following his regular procedure of talking to one government and then another. The Arabs refuse to negotiate face-to-face with the Israelis.

Two Arabs, American Held After Cache of Arms Found

LONDON (AP) — An American and two Lebanese were held by police today after a raid on the London Hilton Hotel uncovered American-made automatic submachine guns, pistols and ammunition.

Scotland Yard declined to speculate on the intended destination of the arms but was in touch with several Middle East police forces to check out the possibility they were intended for the Arab guerrillas in Jordan.

One theory was that the five submachine guns, two automatic pistols, a revolver and 1,500 rounds of ammunition were a sample shipment intended to lead to larger supplies to the Middle East.

Police seized the three men, handcuffed them and whisked them away minutes after they arrived at the hotel Monday.

Jarring told newsmen Monday he feels sure the three governments have "the firm intention of finding a solution."

"I hope that with good will and understanding they will in time reach agreement on a just and lasting peace," he said.

The second delegate to see Jarring was Abdul Hamid Sharraf, the Jordanian ambassador to Washington. He filled in for Muhammad H. El Farrar, Jordan's chief delegate to the United Nations, now in Amman for consultations.

Women Set to Strike Tomorrow To Be 'Day of L' (for Liberation)

Rallying round the goals of equal job opportunity, free abortions and 24-hour child care centers, women made final plans today for a Wednesday "Strike for Equality."

One liberalist predicted "this nation will no longer be the same" after the demonstrations.

The National Women's Strike Coalition—will representatives of diverse feminist groups—planned to announce the names of four major corporations whose advertising, the women say, is offensive and degrading, and whose products should be boycotted.

The feminist cause got a boost Monday when Philadelphia Mayor James Tate proclaimed Wednesday "Women's Rights Day."

Philadelphia Mayor Peter Flaherty issued a similar proclamation earlier.

Tate acted after five women surrounded him in the hallway of a city building and complained that other city officials had turned down their request.

"I'm all for women's rights," said the mayor. "I'm all for women. I used to be pretty good when I was a younger."

The proclamation reads, in part: "The cradle of liberty is apparently fearful of being rocked and is currently only willing to formally acknowledge that women may vote."

The Aug. 26 date of the strike was chosen to coincide with the 50th anniversary of final ratification of the 19th Amendment, which gave women the right to vote.

"After the vote," says Betty Friedan, one of the leaders of the National Organization of Women—NOW—"we have a more secure long way baby. But we do have a movement. When those 24 hours (of Aug. 26) are over."

Diphtheria May Reach U.S. Ghettos

By FRANK CAREY

AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government disease detectives say limited outbreaks of diphtheria, the ancient child-killer, could spread across the United States, with ghettos especially vulnerable.

They implied that any city in which half the children are not immunized could face an epidemic of a new round of Middle East talks to which Israel, Jordan and Egypt agreed in accepting a U.S. peace proposal last week.

Teohash told reporters he had informed Jarring of "the basic principles of Israel's position." He said he would meet him again later today and would return to Jerusalem for consultations this evening.

Agnew Discusses Troop Withdrawal

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred for nearly six hours today with South Korean President Chung Hee Park about the troop withdrawal the United States wants to make from Korea and the U.S. aid Park wants to offset the reduction in American forces.

Agnew said the talks went "very well," but they lasted far beyond the two hours that had been scheduled. The vice president said he expected to resume his discussion with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Agnew announced on his arrival Monday that the United States will provide South Korea with additional military aid to modernize its armed forces. No details are expected until after an American study of South Korea's military needs and talks between technical personnel of the two governments.

American sources say the Koreans are seeking a $2 billion, five-year program, more than four times the $400 million a year currently being provided.

Korean sources have indicated Park would demand concrete assurances of U.S. aid before dropping objections to Washington's plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 62,000 U.S. troops in Korea.

Agnew's lengthy session with Park indicated the South Korean president and his aides laid out in considerable detail their contention that the U.S. withdrawal, part of the worldwide reduction of U.S. forces, could leave this staunch American ally open to a new invasion from Communist North Korea.

Korean sources said Park bluntly told Agnew Monday, during the vice president's private courtesy call, that he and his officials disagree with the U.S. assessment that another invasion is extremely unlikely and that the South Koreans are strong enough to handle anything with the aid of the American forces that will remain.

Although most U.S. military aid to Korea in recent years has been used for modernization of the 600,000-man South Korean armed forces, the Koreans contend they need considerably more modern equipment, including rifles, field artillery, tanks and ships.

U.S. officials say their government will require no specific promises until it analyzes the shopping list Park gives Agnew. The vice president also told newsmen en route to Seoul that he did not expect the Nixon administration to recommend any specific program to Congress as a result of his talks with Park.

Agnew told Park he doubts Congress will enact into law the United States amendment to cut the extra combat pay the United States is providing for Korean aid. That soldiers in Vietnam. The FBI and military intelligence leaders said the cut could force them to remove their 50,000-man contingent from Vietnam.

Nonmilitary items also were probed because of the center's extensive use of federal funds. The program's expansion, including proposals to Congress to limit textile imports, a restriction that some American lawmakers say might have even more drastic impact on Korea than on Japan.

Agnew's conference with Park was his first since he returned from his conference with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Blast Damage At University: $6 Million

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blast that destroyed a University of Wisconsin military research center, killed a physics scholar and injured several others apparently was the work of subversives using an explosive-laden truck invulnerable to conventional fire.

Agnew Discusses Troop Withdrawal

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred for nearly six hours today with South Korean President Chung Hee Park about the troop withdrawal the United States wants to make from Korea and the U.S. aid Park wants to offset the reduction in American forces.

Agnew said the talks went "very well," but they lasted far beyond the two hours that had been scheduled. The vice president said he expected to resume his discussion with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Agnew announced on his arrival Monday that the United States will provide South Korea with additional military aid to modernize its armed forces. No details are expected until after an American study of South Korea's military needs and talks between technical personnel of the two governments.

American sources say the Koreans are seeking a $2 billion, five-year program, more than four times the $400 million a year currently being provided.

Korean sources have indicated Park would demand concrete assurances of U.S. aid before dropping objections to Washington's plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 62,000 U.S. troops in Korea.

Agnew's lengthy session with Park indicated the South Korean president and his aides laid out in considerable detail their contention that the U.S. withdrawal, part of the worldwide reduction of U.S. forces, could leave this staunch American ally open to a new invasion from Communist North Korea.

Korean sources said Park bluntly told Agnew Monday, during the vice president's private courtesy call, that he and his officials disagree with the U.S. assessment that another invasion is extremely unlikely and that the South Koreans are strong enough to handle anything with the aid of the American forces that will remain.

Although most U.S. military aid to Korea in recent years has been used for modernization of the 600,000-man South Korean armed forces, the Koreans contend they need considerably more modern equipment, including rifles, field artillery, tanks and ships.

U.S. officials say their government will require no specific promises until it analyzes the shopping list Park gives Agnew. The vice president also told newsmen en route to Seoul that he did not expect the Nixon administration to recommend any specific program to Congress as a result of his talks with Park.

Agnew told Park he doubts Congress will enact into law the United States amendment to cut the extra combat pay the United States is providing for Korean aid. That soldiers in Vietnam. The FBI and military intelligence leaders said the cut could force them to remove their 50,000-man contingent from Vietnam.

Nonmilitary items also were probed because of the center's extensive use of federal funds. The program's expansion, including proposals to Congress to limit textile imports, a restriction that some American lawmakers say might have even more drastic impact on Korea than on Japan.

Agnew's conference with Park was his first since he returned from his conference with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Blast Damage At University: $6 Million

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blast that destroyed a University of Wisconsin military research center, killed a physics scholar and injured several others apparently was the work of subversives using an explosive-laden truck invulnerable to conventional fire.

Frank Roberts, deputy state fire marshal, said the explosion Congress would enact into law the United States amendment to cut the extra combat pay the United States is providing for Korean aid. Rallying round the goals of equal job opportunity, free abortions and 24-hour child care centers, women made final plans today for a Wednesday "Strike for Equality."

One liberalist predicted "this nation will no longer be the same" after the demonstrations.

The National Women's Strike Coalition—will representatives of diverse feminist groups—planned to announce the names of four major corporations whose advertising, the women say, is offensive and degrading, and whose products should be boycotted.

The feminist cause got a boost Monday when Philadelphia Mayor James Tate proclaimed Wednesday "Women's Rights Day."

Philadelphia Mayor Peter Flaherty issued a similar proclamation earlier.

Tate acted after five women surrounded him in the hallway of a city building and complained that other city officials had turned down their request.

"I'm all for women's rights," said the mayor. "I'm all for women. I used to be pretty good when I was a younger."

The proclamation reads, in part: "The cradle of liberty is apparently fearful of being rocked and is currently only willing to formally acknowledge that women may vote."

The Aug. 26 date of the strike was chosen to coincide with the 50th anniversary of final ratification of the 19th Amendment, which gave women the right to vote.

"After the vote," says Betty Friedan, one of the leaders of the National Organization of Women—NOW—"we have a more secure long way baby. But we do have a movement. When those 24 hours (of Aug. 26) are over."

Bureaucrats' Association Stands Pat for Obfuscation

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bureaucrats' Association stands ready to help get you back to a confused and furious standstill.

A champion of the status quo, government and gobbledygook, the association has enlarged its tongue in cheek for two years to obliterate achievement and clarity with entrenchment and obfuscation.

With its motto "when in doubt, muddle" and its coat of arms a rampant duck started in red tape, NATAPROBU now boasts some 300 members and claims an international division.

Its arsenal to defend the bureaucracy includes the huckster's ready check of phrases to help the bureaucrat pass the buck. Phrases include "yes, your request" and "let's discuss it later."

Then there's the invaluable list of buzz word projections calculated to help the bureaucrat "speak with orchestrated rhetorical integrity."

With this he can pat together such clear, concise phrases as "conceptualized empirical determination" or "creational analytical infrastructure."

Naples 'Madman' Stays Home, But Rioting Erupts

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Agostino the madman, the daredevil motorcycleist of Naples, didn't show up at midnight. But his rioting erupted in the city.

In the rioting riot, nine fans and 11 policemen were injured. The smell of tear gas hung over the downtown area after the second battle in as many nights.

Agostino is a teen-ager who comes roaring out of the slums depending on the season. Golden-rod is a motorcycleist who spends hours on the city making speed runs over curbs and steps.

Agent 007's Hitchplace: Tourists Get Vicarious Thrill Renting Fleming's Cottage

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer
ORACABEE, Jamaica (AP) — The red bulletwood desk where Ian Fleming wrote his best-selling James Bond spy thrillers still stands in the corner of his stry famous at Goldeneye, the famous author's Jamaican retreat.

Fleming died six years ago this month at the age of 56. But his rambling, three-bedroom house near this sleepy banana port on the north coast remains just as it was when he was alive and is being rented to the vacationing public.

And what better vacation for any enthusiast of the exploits of 007? Imagine sitting Goldeneye's patio overlooking the 17-acre estate's white sand beach while reading a James Bond novel and leisurely sipping one of his favorite drinks—a vodka martini, shaken, not stirred.

Starting at about $200 a week, depending on the season, Goldeneye can be rented complete with its staff of four servants. Fleming once described Goldeneye as a "modern house with wooden joinery and no glass windows, with three bedrooms with shower and bath and a kitchen with a built-in refrigerator and a built-in oven."

He sums up the police, who say a grant of pickpockets may be using him to divert their attention. Officers are also looking into reports that underworld figures have offered Agostino $100 to challenge police.

When his friends and eight policemen were injured and 12 persons were arrested. Fleming's co-chief friends from the 13 James Bond books that have sold more than 20 million copies and been translated into 12 languages, Fleming and his wife played host to guests including Noel Coward (who nicknamed the place "Goldeneye, Nose and Throat"), Evelyn Waugh, Brian Greene, Cecil Beaton, Truman Capote and former British Prime Minister Sir Anthony and Lady Eden.

The Edens spent three weeks at Goldeneye in 1956 after the Suez crisis. A little goldeneye was built in the western corner of the wood and stone building. It was the first of a series of buildings built on the site. Fleming's cottage was built in 1956 and was the first of a series of buildings built on the site.

Sheinwold on Bridge

By ALBERT SHEINWOLD
When the opponents bid to a high level those who are blessed with very few high cards, you may reasonably assume that they are counting heavily on ruffing tricks. Your best defense, as a rule, is to trump at every opportunity.

Both sides vulnerable. Opening lead—Six of Hearts. You're wondering about North's peculiar bid of three spades, the explanation is that North expected the opponents to have great length in spades, and he was trying to "steal" their suit. When South took the spade bid seriously, North had to go back to diamonds.

West should have led a trump, and East would then lead another trump at the next club. North's bid of three spades was a little rubber raft. His former housekeeper recalls he didn't like to be disturbed while at work. The summer months are the best of the season for touring in Jamaica. But the vicarious thrill of living in the house where James Bond was created keeps Goldeneye rented almost all the time.

A few new pieces of furniture have been added. But the Fleming furnishings, including a well-thumbed library of hardcover and paperback books, remains. There is one problem.

"Some of the guests brought the James Bond books and new returns them," says one of the maids. "We have to replace them every once in a while."

As the party drew to a close about 10 p.m., the cardinal rose, looking very tired, and in a voice that was barely audible to the guests he was deeply grateful to those who helped the Catholic Church.

"I have no voice for speaking," he said. "I lost it some time ago during my recent illness and it never returned."

Authorities said the capsize had been reported by Barto, and Chuck Blund of Greenwich, Calif., and by Daniel Finster of Sacramento, Calif. Blund's body was recovered.

A Coast Guard officer said a wind whipped the south end of the lake Sunday evening and the vessel was tossed about by waves of three to four feet were reported. He said it was believed the men were not experienced sailors.

Cosby Eyes Teacher Job

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Comedian Bill Cosby has been accepted at the University of Massachusetts as a graduate student in the school of education.

Cosby has said he would like to quit show business and teach. She calls it "that sex symbol business" and says—pointing to see-through blouses and "microscopic" skirts — "if women aren't making themselves a sex symbol, who is?"

The suffragettes who chained themselves to the gates of the White House were still "womanly women," she says.

Dempey Offers Campaign Help
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Gov. John Dempey said today he is available to hit the campaign trail on behalf of the Democratic ticket—but has received no invitations yet.

There is a role for me in the campaign, I'll be glad to help," said Dempey at his morning news conference. The governor noted that he will be leaving for Ireland next week but will be available on his return in mid-September to help in the campaign.

A university spokesman said Monday it was not certain whether the comedian would register and attend classes. A member of the education faculty said Cosby did not want publicity about his application for admission to the college.

Customs Commissioner Miles J. Ambrose said inspectors found 8 1/2 pounds of hashish taped to the body of a man he identified as Rev. Joseph Albert Amorino, 31, Burbank, Calif., who arrived on a flight from Paris.

Amorino, dressed in religious garb, was charged with attempted smuggling of drugs and later held at nearby Alexandria, Va., under $5,000 bail. In the past, the proper and legal boundary between the United States and Mexico has been upset every time the Rio Grande changed its course. Instead of going to war over the territory involved, the United States and Mexico have usually let the matter rest in a state of dispute until they needed some excuse for paying some visit of state to one another.

Then, after the eternal friendship between our two countries has been tested often enough, the amicable relations of the latest Rio Grande boundary dispute would be announced. It could always be counted on to provide the final toast of the evening.

Now, as we understand the latest proof of our eternal friendship between our two countries, the two Presidents have agreed to work for a new formal agreement by which the legal boundary will in perpetuity be located exactly down the middle of the Rio Grande, no matter where that river chooses to flow.

It seems to guarantee that there will never again be a Rio Grande boundary dispute between us. We suspect the diplomacy between the two countries will miss having, always available, a one-banquet sized problem that could, once again, be polished off by the desert.

Proliferation of Nuclear Plants is Worrying Environmentalists

By BRIAN SULLIVAN AP Science Writer

A major new confrontation over environmental issues is developing this time around the environmentalists challenging the nuclear power industry and the Atomic Energy Commission. As business and government men from the nuclear power field met at the United Nations during August to consider environmental problems, the environmentalists were preparing a test case.

Tolland School Bus Parking Plan Opposed at ZBA Hearing

Strong opposition to a proposal to park all the school buses on the east side of the town of Tolland, Conn., was voiced at a public hearing on the plan submitted by the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA).

During the same hearing, the proposal was also opposed by the residents of the town of Tolland, who submitted a petition to the ZBA.

The plan submitted by the ZBA would allow school buses to park on the east side of the town, which would be a violation of the town's zoning regulations.

The residents of the town of Tolland, who submitted a petition to the ZBA, argued that the plan would be a violation of the town's zoning regulations and would be a detriment to the town's appearance.

The ZBA hearing was held on Monday night at the town hall in Tolland, Conn. The hearing was attended by a large number of residents of the town of Tolland, who expressed their opposition to the plan.

The ZBA will meet again on Wednesday night to consider the plan. The residents of the town of Tolland will continue to oppose the plan.

Court Cases

David Krajewski, 23, of 71 Foster St., the twelfth person arrested in Manchester in connection with the recent drug roundup by the Capital Region Narcotics Squad, was presented in court yesterday. He was charged with possession of a quantity of heroin, a violation of Section 54-2a of the Connecticut General Statutes. He was fined $10,000 on charges of possession and sale of heroin, and a bond of $500 was set on the case.

Krajewski was taken to Norwich Hospital for tests to determine whether or not he is drug dependent. His case was continued to Sept. 25.

Ronald Ralph, 24, of 24 Englewood Dr., charged with one count of sale and one count of possession of marijuana, was also taken to Norwich for tests to determine if he is drug dependent. His case was continued to Sept. 25.

Louis Maltese, 24, of 37B Gardner St., charged with one count of sale and one count of possession of a controlled substance, appeared in court yesterday. He was also arrested on charges of possession of a controlled substance. He is free on a $1,000 surety bond.

Gerald Bolivar, 24, of 111 East St., appeared in court yesterday on charges of possession of a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance. He is free on a $1,000 surety bond.

Meriden Runaway Held For Hit and Run Deaths

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A 15-year-old youth is being held by police today in connection with the traffic deaths of two children Sunday night in Middletown.

Killed when struck by a stolen car were Darrell A. Davis, 8, and his sister Jacqueline, 7, of 85 Pine St., and Raymond A. Dzen, 20, of 747 N. Main St., both of whom were riding in the car when it was struck by the runaway.

The car that killed the children, police said, apparently was stolen from an auto agency in Middletown last night. They said the car was left at the scene and the driver was seen jumping a fence bordering the Connecticut Valley Hospital.

Another car was stolen from the same agency the next night, police said.

Right of way, and failure to carry her registration.

Rochery, 27, Potter of 87 Cooper Hill St., evading responsibility. She forfeited her bond on another charge of failure to drive a reasonable distance apart.

Richard Robsky, 47, of Coventry, breach of the peace, and being found intoxicated.

Dennis C. Wind, 20, of 181 Glenwood St., two counts of operating a motor vehicle without a license, and one count of attempting to obtain money by false pretenses.

George H. Wright Jr., 41, of 12 Hartistia Rd., being found intoxicated.

A rearrest warrant was issued for Mary Smith of Hartford after she failed to appear in court on a charge of shoplifting under $15.

Press Digs Up Own Questions, Nixon Asserts

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon has passed emphatic word to his staff that "planted" questions are out of his news conferences.

Nixon's secretary Ronald L. Ziegler says Nixon told him that never in the 23 years since he first tried for public office has he tolerated the planning of questions with reporters in advance—and that he isn't starting now.

Nixon's comments were prompted by a column by Don Bacon, who covers the White House for Newhouse newspapers, which was included in the news summary he receives every morning. It suggested that a question toward the close of Nixon's July 30 televised news conference in Los Angeles had been planned.

Ziegler said he told the President that he never had suggested an actual question but that some reporters had come to him in advance of news conferences and asked what might be forthcoming to cover and he had offered ideas along that line.

Nixon, he said, told him there were to be no more suggestions, either.

North Charged with Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government endorsement of housing discrimination during the first half of the century is to blame for segregation in Northern schools, a congressional committee was told today.

Sixteen years after the Supreme Court ordered an end to separate but equal schools for blacks and whites, there are more segregated schools in the North than ever before, said Robert L. Carter, president of the National Committee Against Segregation in Housing.

"While white America has talked of integrated schools and integrated areas, its practices have fostered segregation," Carter said.

His remarks were prepared for the Senate Equal Educational Opportunity Committee which is exploring the status of integration and problems in achieving it.

Five decades ago, when federal laws were passed to end segregation in public schools, the North was the only region that refused to integrate its schools, Carter said.

He said that the North was the only region that refused to integrate its schools, Carter said.

Bus Plans Slow Down Carolina

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Resistance to school busing plans in North Carolina communities is causing difficulties as preparations are made to open schools next week and the week after.

About 1,700 students met Monday night in Pembroke to fight a federally drawn desegregation plan they say will separate their children of their Indian heritage from removing them from their homes.

In Burlington, 300 parents protesting the closing of a white elementary school held a rally at which a leader of the group called for a boycott of the school.

In Charlotte, where the date for opening schools was moved back to Sept. 8 from Aug. 21 because of problems with desegregation plans, several schools were closed for the weekend, causing several thousand dollars in lost wages.

Officials of the Alabama Education Department said that the racialist Citizens' Councils in that state already had done away with dual school systems and had integrated the schools.

In Randolph County, one all-Negro school was closed and its students bused to a previously all-white or predominantly white school. Supt. R. H. Hester said the move was made smoothly. "Things seem to be in good shape," he said.

The Union administration has said that this fall will bring the decade's most meaningful desegregation in the South's 2,700 school districts.

The administration has warned that it will tolerate no tokenism and said it will have observers on hand to insure that districts fulfill court-ordered desegregation.

Blast Damage At University: $6 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three times since February 1968, Police Inspector Herman Thomas said it was likely that "subversive organizations" were responsible. He said police know of Madison elements "potentially capable of doing this."

Authorities said they received an anonymous telephone warning of an explosion Monday before the blast. There was no time to alert Robert E. Pasenack, 33, who died while working on a physics research project.

Investigators said the blast call on National Assembly speaker Elmer Elywood, Jr., was confirmed by Prime Minister Chung Li-kwan.

Women Ready to Strike In Demand of Equal Rights

over, this nation will no longer be the same. No one will be able to think the women's movement has been turned off, subverted or languished away.

The demonstrations will take a variety of forms. There will be traditional rallies, speeches, marches and workshops in many areas, including New York, Washington, Detroit and Boston.

In addition, however, women are being urged to perform household chores they consider menial—"don't iron while we strike"—to bring their children to their husband's office to help him with his work.

Strike activities include marches, rallies, seminars and boycotts of products the movement contends insult women in their advertisements.

Mrs. Cordes, who has a son 16 and daughter 15, was divorced last fall. She said the breakup was not due to her years as a working wife.

She began with the firm 12 years ago, selling family portrait plates part time.

Her boss, Lisle M. Ramsey, says the 5-600-branched business was being sold to a new owner and she was to be laid off.

Mrs. Cordes says women should be paid the same as men when they do similar work but are being asked to do more for their own without expecting special consideration.

Some jobs are just not for women, she contends.

"I have never quite understood what is bugging the women's libbers except that a lot of them really don't like men or probably feel that they are not getting along in the work as well as they should," she said.

Despite her fast climb to the executive ranks, Mrs. Cordes says, "I still want to be treated like a woman—for men to open their eyes, notice my femininity, notice me."

On Wednesday, she will treat a pretty special man in my life to dinner.

For others not manning the barricades she suggests a few ways of being nice to their men. Dress up, use a good perfume, make a special dinner and keep the kids quiet.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 42-year-old business executive who calls herself a "liberated woman" is asking other members of her sex to forego the strike called for Wednesday by the National Women's Strike Coalition and instead make it "be nice to a man day."

"I get more with sugar than vinegar," said Jean St. Louis.

Police Hold Two Arabs In London

Police went to the hotel baggage room, opened them and found the arms and ammunition.

A dragnet was thrown around the fashionable area surrounding the hotel. Six patrol cars cruised in nearby streets.

Police arrested the two men fitted with telescopic sights covering the hotel entrances from nearby rooftops. Policemen were linked by walkie-talkies.

Detectives from Scotland Yard Special Branch, who have been investigating recently uncovered illegal arms hoards and bomb explosions in downtown London, also were called in.

Three hours after police occupied the hotel, two Lebanese men who checked in earlier went up to their rooms. They were found with a .38 Smith & Wesson police nabbed them.

The American, the third man, was arrested separately in the Hilton Hotel parking lot.

Additional police raids on other downtown London buildings were carried out early today.

Police are searching for the names of the men who were not out of Astoria, Ore.

Tydings Blames White House In Inpropriety Tale

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. John D. Tydings, D-Md., says the author of a Life magazine article accusing him of impropriety with a White House official was the source of his information, the Baltimore Sun reported today.

The story in this week's edition of the magazine, details Tydings' relationship with a White House official who was a member of the Baltimore County Board of Health.

The Sun reported that Tydings said the author, William Lambert, told him that when he had "trouble or lack of cooperation" he didn't hesitate to go to the board to get things done.

Tydings also was quoted as saying, "Lambert told me he was a White House official and had nothing to do with the board."

John D. Tydings, D-Md., said he was involved in a business venture with a subsidiary of Charter, Flanagan is an assistant to President Nixon.

Lambert denied Tydings' statements last Monday, the Sun said.

Tydings contends that the article was a Republican attempt to smear him. He is seeking reelection in a three-way primary next Sept. 18.

"I have instructed my attorney to begin to look into" the Life story, Tydings said during a news conference in his campaign headquarters here.

The story said Tydings used the president of his Senate office to help Charter Co. secure federal mortgage guarantees of $7 million for a housing project in Nicaragua.

Tydings denied any wrongdoing, but said Charter was acting only as a mortgage broker.

Police Hold Two Arabs In London

Police went to the hotel baggage room, opened them and found the arms and ammunition.

A dragnet was thrown around the fashionable area surrounding the hotel. Six patrol cars cruised in nearby streets.

Police arrested the two men fitted with telescopic sights covering the hotel entrances from nearby rooftops. Policemen were linked by walkie-talkies.

Detectives from Scotland Yard Special Branch, who have been investigating recently uncovered illegal arms hoards and bomb explosions in downtown London, also were called in.

Three hours after police occupied the hotel, two Lebanese men who checked in earlier went up to their rooms. They were found with a .38 Smith & Wesson police nabbed them.

The American, the third man, was arrested separately in the Hilton Hotel parking lot.

Additional police raids on other downtown London buildings were carried out early today.

Police are searching for the names of the men who were not out of Astoria, Ore.

Smoldering Freighter Being Towed to Oregon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The still-smoldering Philippine freighter, Don Jose Figueras, was being towed today toward the Oregon coast as her 4-man crew and two passengers aboard another ship headed for San Francisco.

The 466-foot merchantman caught fire 900 miles northwest of here Saturday and was abandoned later in the day. She was being towed today toward the Oregon coast as her 4-man crew and two passengers aboard another ship headed for San Francisco.

Three hours after police occupied the hotel, two Lebanese men who checked in earlier went up to their rooms. They were found with a .38 Smith & Wesson police nabbed them.

Wreck an Error

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Re-modeling work was to start on the abandoned 10th St. building today, but a nearby resident said a bulldozer tore it down about an hour Monday.

Just Wondering If . . .

Just Wondering: If the real reason Joe Namath didn't play for the New York Jets against the Giants last Sunday at Yale Bowl was because he arrived too late for a team meeting Saturday night in New Haven. He faces an automatic club fine. . . . While Namath was the center of focus throughout the afternoon at Yale, he had at least one other who struck a banner out which indicated there was a surplus from the Jet quarterback who lives by his own rules. . . . Not that any chances of victory, Coach Alex Webster of the Giants Thursday night. . . . Earlier this summer the New York Yankees retained a little piece in the big city by beating the New York Mets 10-0. For the Giants in trimming the Jets. . . .

Short Points

For some strange reason, the NFL has outlawed any airborne tactics by ball carriers, such as hurdling. A year ago, Mike Bell, the ruckback specialist of the Jets, took a punt and an enroute to a teaching journal some extra satisfaction. . . .

Beethoven-G Clef Reunion Attracts Former Members

More than 100 former members of the Beethoven G Clef Club and G Clef Club have already indicated their intentions of attending the reunion of the men's and women's choruses on Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Luther Hall of Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

An open invitation is extended to anyone who sang in either chorus to be present to relive other days and greet Heige E. Pearson, the former Miss Esther Anderson of Manchester, who was director of music at the Beethoven G Clef Club in 1925 and the G Clef Club in 1927, during his 10-year tenure as organist and choir director at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Since then, he taught in the Riverside public schools until his retirement a few years ago. Pearson returned to Manchester in April 1960 for the 25th anniversary of the Beethoven G Clef Club, and directed the chorus in its joint concert with the G Clef Club.

Reservations may be made by contacting one of the following committee members: Curt Erickson, 92 Breton Rd.; Paul Erickson, 28 Alton St.; Carl Gustafson, 31 Maple St.; Wilfrid Kent, 35 Main St., Talcoville; and Miss Eva M. Johnson, 54 Richmond Dr.

Pearson came to Manchester in 1924 from Worcester, Mass., where he studied organ and choir work and was assistant conductor of the Mendotaan musical activities in Manchester, he organized the Boy Scout troop at Emmanuel Church and served as Boy Scout Commissioner.

After summer study in 1923 at the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J., Pearson enrolled in the fall of 1924, graduating with a bachelor of music degree. As an undergraduate, he sang in the college touring choir for three seasons, and served as musical director at the Summit Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

After graduating, he accepted a position as minister of music and Christian education at the First Presbyterian Church, Lancaster, Pa., remaining there for five years until moving to California in 1927.

He then served two-year terms at the First Presbyterian Churches of Berkeley and Fresno. In July 1936, Pearson was named minister of music at Calvary Presbyterian Church in Riverside, where he directed six choirs of 250 voices. During the summer, he conducted music camps for children and young people, and was director of music at the Southern California Presbyterian Conference for Church Leaders.

Panther Trial Jury Begins Deliberations in New Haven

By DAN HALL Associated Press Writer NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A Superior Court jury started deliberations Wednesday in the trial of Lonnie McLucas, a Black Panther charged in the shooting death of a fellow party member 15 months ago.

McLucas was charged in the shooting death of Alex Mulvey, who police say was suspected by the Panther organization of being an informer. McLucas is charged with kidnapping resulting in death, murder and leading with intent to commit a crime.

McLucas is the first of eight Panther members to come to trial in connection with the May 1968 shooting death of Alex Mulvey, who police say was suspected by the Panther organization of being an informer.

Peace Talks Continue Arabian Delegates, U.N. Envoy Confer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. special envoy, consulted with Arab delegates today in a continuation of his Middle East peace talks.

Abdul Hamid Sharaf, the Jordanian ambassador to Washington, called on Jarring during the morning, and the Swedish envoy arranged for a meeting with Ambassador Mohamad Hassan El-Zayyat, who left Tuesday night for consultations in Jerusalem.

The talks were being held despite the absence of Israeli Ambassador Eliezer Shalev, who left Tuesday night for consultations in Jerusalem.

The cause of the Amman street battle was not learned immediately. But eyewitnesses said a group of guerrillas on the side of the street and "special defector, in the front of the col-

Jarring met successively Tuesday morning with Tekoa, Sharaf and Zayyat, then held a second session with the Israeli. Jarring, adhering to his usual custom, had nothing to say to newsmen. The ambassadors confined themselves to generalities or restatements of their government's previous positions.

The talks at U.N. headquarters are expected to go slowly for the next month or so, with no progress likely until the foreign ministers of the three nations come to New York for the General Assembly in September.

Both Tekoa and Zayyat told newsmen their governments were "just" and "lasting peace."

Zayyat declared that the objective of the talks is to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1947, which called for a "just and lasting peace."

In Cairo, Palestine guerrilla leader Yusef Arafat met Tuesday night with President Gamal Abdel Nasser and his information minister, Mohammed Hassanein Heikal. Arafat and Heikal had met three times since the guerrilla leaders' arrival in Cairo Monday, and observers speculated that the meeting with Nasser indicated progress toward easing Arafat's opposition to the state to let women vote. Women liberals today will march down the same street. (AP Photofax)

Cong Buildup Quashed Near Border of Laos

SAIGON (AP)—American and South Vietnamese forces pulled out of Kham Duc today after what they termed a successful seven-week campaign to disrupt a North Vietnamese buildup near the Laotian border.

U.S. officers claim the allied troops disrupted "enemy logistical operations," destroyed "enemy supply depots prior to the onset of the monsoon season" and found "numerous ammunition and other supply caches."

Kham Duc, a one-time U.S. Special Forces camp 13 miles east of the Laotian frontier, was reactivated July 12 when about 2,000 South Vietnamese troops and up to 500 men from the U.S. American Division moved into the base.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, North Vietnamese troops lying in ambush killed five Americans and wounded two others in two jungle attacks 75 miles apart. In one of the actions, military spokesman said, two other U.S. soldiers were killed and five wounded by American artillery fired on a position in error.

At the beginning of the Kham Duc operation, it was reported that South Vietnamese might use the base as a jumping off spot for forays into Laos. No such incursions were ever announced, although the Communist Pathet Lao charged that South Vietnamese troops were airlifted into Laos by U.S. helicopters and had launched major operations. Allied spokesmen denied the charge.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese troops were evacuated from the base by helicopters and planes and moved to other, undisclosed areas in Quang Tin Province in the northern part of the country.

Three days ago, allied spokesmen claimed more than 200 North Vietnamese troops had been killed and U.S. casualties at four killed and 28 wounded. In Cambodia, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces kept up a third day of assaults against Phnom Penh's outer defenses.

Associated Press correspondent T. Jeff Williams reported from the battle site at Prek Tseak, nine miles north of the Cambodian capital, that Viet Cong forces caught newly arrived Cambodian paratroopers unprepared early today in a heavy mortar barrage, killing 12 of them and wounding 78, but after the mortar attack Prek Tseak was quiet.

In one of the ambushes Tuesday, a platoon of U.S. air cavalrymen being led through heavy jungles by a North Vietnamese defector came under heavy enemy rifle fire while patrolling infiltration corridors and supply areas 13 miles from the Cambodian border and 100 miles north of Siem Reap and Banteay Meanchey.

Agnew met with Chiang after two days of extended confer-

Agnew, Chiang Kai-shek Confer on Asian Stability

SUN MOON LAKE, Formosa (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew met with Chiang after two days of extended conferences in Seoul with South Korean President Chung Hwee Park. During the flight to Formosa, Agnew told newsmen it was "very doubtful that the United States would leave even a token force in Korea after the modernization of South Korea's 600,000-man army, navy and air force."

The United States now has 22,000 troops in South Korea and plans to withdraw 20,000 by next June 30. South Korean officials claim they need $3 billion in American aid in the next five years—more than four times the present program to improve their forces to the point where they can fight off any North Korean attack without U.S. help.

Agnew said he "pointed out very frankly to President Park that at such time as the modernization program is complete — the long range program, it might take five years or more — we would hope that they would be in a state of economic and military balance that would no longer necessitate any American forces in Korea."

Asked if this meant all U.S. forces would be withdrawn from Korea within five years, Agnew replied: "I don't know whether five years will complete the program."

When the modernization program is completed to the point where military security is intact without American participation, we will, of course, pull out troops from Korea. Whether we do that or not is a matter for you to decide. It is very doubtful.

Asked if Park realizes this long-range U.S. withdrawal program, Agnew said: "I think he does."

Down Connecticut Avenue Militant Women March in Washington, D.C.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Led by a banner reading, "We Demand Equality," about 1,000 women marched down Connecticut Avenue in Washington today in one of a series of nationwide demonstrations by feminists demanding job, free abortion and 24-hour child care centers.

The women, most of them young, attractive and miniskirted, were joined by a few men. They wound up their march with a rally in a downtown square, Paragard Park. Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., criticized the women's liberation movement as a "small band of brainless bubble-heads." In a Senate speech, he said the liberationists "are not the valid voice for the American woman."
