C-DAP Units Resume Work, Consider Paths to Goals

After a long summer recess, task forces in the C-DAP (Community Development Action Plan) are resuming work to scrutinize the goals and objectives they have set forth for the town's future.

Two task forces, health and social services, and recreation and culture, met Tuesday night. The task forces on general government and interpersonnel and culture met Tuesday night. The education force met Wednesday. The transportation force will meet on Nov. 17 and 18, respectively.

The health task force learned that one of its first priority programs is to try to find out what is going on in the town already. Somers reported that special new facilities for rehabilitating the handicapped would be included in the planned renovation to Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The recreation and culture task force, which included Chairman Joel Janeska, Mel Siebold, recreation director of Manchester, Thomas Leone, and Hyatt Suttilef, discussed recreation, using the same format of analyzing Hartman's suggestions.

Talking only about health problems and leaving social services for later, Clandaniel said the health group suggested that the main stumbling block to pollution control is the lack of enforcement mechanism.

Local ordinances pertaining to burning and waste disposal are vital to set up, and some are out of date, he said, but the problem of enforcing such laws remains.

On a more optimistic note, Somers reported that significant steps have been taken by the Greater Hartford Community College to implement a health information center.

The plan, Somers said, is scheduled to start within eight months, and will involve a central telephone service. Anyone living in the Capitol Region with any health questions, including mental health and drug use, can use the number. Somers emphasized that the program would be superior to anything Manchester could formulate alone.

The rec group also had results to report. Chairman Janeska mentioned that the new shuffleboard courts and benches at the new 8-acre Nike site direct response to their C-DAP recommendations.

He went on to say that the questionnaire sent out before the recommendation was largely received. The members concurred, and asked Siebold to continue his investigation of methods to enclose outdoor pools.

In reference to Center Springs Park, the group felt the tract holds promise. Pollution control for the water would allow the tract to be used for skating; clearing the underbrush would make the area more suitable for small children; refurbishing existing rec facilities, such as the basketball court, would attract more people to the park.

The C-DAP program seems to be working, but the members of the task forces on recreation and culture, and health and social services, are looking forward to many years of hard work.

The C-DAP Program

C-DAP, a two-year comprehensive planning program began in mid-1968, and is designed to produce a priority list of recommendations for a five-year period and for a 20-year period. The program is a prerequisite to certain kinds of state aid to local governments.

Assistant Town Manager John Harkins acts as an executive director of the program. Harkins said that members of the Citizens Advisory Council, which covers the whole spectrum of town government, and one from each of the town's four wards, are on the advisory committee.

The goal set by the group is a broadly based community facility for vocational rehabilitation as well. According to Harkins, suggested constraints, the main problem here will be financing.

Economic factors were frequently cited as constraints. Harkins said that many of the town's residents are victims of financial uncertainty.

The best dental care for all citizens, regardless of income, is a goal of the health group. The recreation and culture task force, which included Chairman Joel Janeska, Mel Siebold, recreation director of Manchester, Thomas Leone, and Hyatt Suttilef, discussed recreation, using the same format of analyzing Hartman's suggestions.

Injuries Minor As Cars Crash

A car accident yesterday afternoon, on Center St. west of Love Lane, sent four people to the hospital with minor injuries. Sandra E. Doeber, 18, of Columbia, was driving east on Center St. with her car westbound in an established lane, operated by Paul Sheridan of Colchester.

Miss Doeber pulled into a gas station, with the intention of turning around. When she came back onto Center St., she lost control of the vehicle, and struck a car in the westbound lane, operated by Paul Sheridan of Colchester.

Russell Smith, a passenger in Sheridan's car, and all three Doebers, were sent to Manchester Memorial Hospital where they were all treated for lacerations.

Police issued a summons to Sandra Doeber for failure to drive in an established lane. Court date Nov. 30.

The 500 million dollar request for Israel for fiscal 1971 is part of the request for extra money from the Pentagon intended to send to Congress between now and the Thanksgiving holidays.

The total Defense Department supplemental may surpass one billion dollars, and the Nixon administration officials now admit the deficit for this fiscal year could come to be between 13 billion dollars and 15 billion dollars.

The special money request for Israel is expected to go through Congress with little resistance. President Nixon's expressed policy is to maintain an arms balance in the Middle East between the Israelis and Arabs.

Less explicitly stated, another objective in giving Israel extra weaponry is the administration's desire to foster peace talks between the Israelis and Arabs.

The A-4 Skyhawks, in that context, are to help make up for the advance of Soviet Sam-2 anti-aircraft missiles into the standstill zone on Egypt's side of the Suez Canal. U.S. officials put this in the balance of "rectification" of the balance.

Israel already has received about 88 Skyhawks from the United States, with the bulk of that total formed into three squadrons of the Israeli Air Force. About 13 of the 88 are training versions of the same airplane.

It is understood that Israel's passengers normally move in to transport some of the passengers normally served by Mohawk's 450 daily flights to 27 communities in the North-east, Canada, and as far west as Minneapolis.

In Washington, where negotiations stopped sessions Thursday, Phillips said that the airline had been reported near a settlement. Working conditions and scheduling reportedly were the issues holding up a new contract agreement.

Continuous meetings between Mohawk Airlines and the Air Line Pilots Association, AFL-CIO, have proved unproductive and no further meetings have been scheduled, said a statement of the National Mediation Board.

The government statement continued, "The facilities of the board are available for the parties for resumption of negotiations at any time."

The pilots' current salaries are $12,000 a year, but the union said that are below the average for commercial pilots. Virtually all of the pilots' pay and government of relations should be improved, the statement said.

Two short-run airlines from New England announced in Burlington, Vt., and Executive Airline, Inc., said it would increase frequency of service to connect flights to other carriers at Albany and Syracuse.

The changes will provide continued service to Albany and Syracuse.

Israel Seen Getting More U.S. Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel will get about 18 more A-4 Skyhawk fighter-bombers under President Nixon's 500 million dollar aid package, informed sources said Thursday.

This new batch of Skyhawks will be in addition to the 18 F-4 Phantom warplanes, about 200 modern tanks and other armament within the same special credit arrangement for Israel.

Forget It!

To those who insist that today is sad — that it's one of those days when everything's bad.

Who tell you the day is a day to fear — and call you quite mad, if you tend to leer.

"It's the 13th — Friday," they tremulously say, and point to the calendar when you go out today.

"Don't walk under ladders, don't step on cracks in a road, look at black kittens, or an umbrella match."

We say to those people, "Life's not all that bad — it's just what you make it — either happy or sad."

There are those of us, alas, when we are asked to whistle a tune, to hum a song.

"You claim it's unlucky — because it's The Day. We claim you don't mean all the things that you say."

And so, we decided, when the day began — to forget all about it — the best that we can.

Both the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. and Hartford National Bank and Trust announced the reduction of one per cent interest rate on all new loans.

Canada Pro-Peking At U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Canada un-didled its newly established relations with Red China today by informing the General Assembly it would support Peking for a U.N. seat.

Canadian Ambassador Yvon Desjardins told the 127-member assembly his government looks forward to the day when the Red Chinese hold seats in the Assembly and the Security Council, where China holds veto power.

Desjardins spoke as delegates privately expressed the belief that the midweek U.S. speech Thursday indicates an easing of American opposition to Peking's bid for a U.N. seat.

Canada was the first nation to announce a switch in position at this year's debate.

Desjardins told the assembly, however, that his delegation would continue to support the U.S.-backed resolution making the issue an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority for approval.

"I wish to make it clear, however, that in our judgment, continued support of such a resolution could in the future frustrate the will of the general assembly to force a switch in the position," he said.

In Lebanon Students, Leaders Resist School's 'Guerrilla U' Tag

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — "This," said the angry Palestinian student, "is what is happening in this part of the world, and you can't get away from it."

He was pointing to a bulletin board at the American University of Beirut, and a poster from the Middle East and Arab world.

"Forward to liberation, not backward to settlement," it said, alongside a portrait of a man in a military uniform.

It was one of several guerrilla signs posted outside the main student center on the beautiful landscaped campus of the university. America's shrewdest of learning in the Middle East.

The student was angry because the appeal of the guerrilla movement in the Arab world has sparked a right-wing backlash in Lebanon over alleged Palestinian domination of the campus.

"We do not have a school of guerrilla warfare nor do we graduate guerrillas from this university," said one Palestinian student on Friday at what is considered a hot spot for the movement.

University officials, however, profess to be neutral on the matter, and students are active on the basis of grades, not nationality.

The university, founded by an American Protestant in 1863, is run by a faculty senate and a board of trustees in New York. Despite its name, Americans are a minority both in the faculty and student body.

U.S. taxpayers help finance the school. For the school year 1969-70, Congress appropriated $10 million, administered by the Agency for International Development.

Deadly Disease Infects Building

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — While Palestinian cite facts and figures to show that they don't dominate the school, health officials have found a deadly disease in a building used by students.

The disease is anthrax, an ancient scourge often passed from animals to humans, and came back to haunt officials of the Manchester Housing Authority after they received the vacant nine-building 'mill' for demolition.

The authority Wednesday agreed to waive bidding procedures to speed up decontamination of the complex, and said there was no cause for alarm since the mill is fenced in and guarded around the clock.

William Craig, the authority's legal counsel, said an inoculation period is required for the team that will use air conditioning and space-heating systems to spread a germicide solution over the buildings.

He said workers are to receive three times normal pay for the hazardous duty, which will take about two weeks.

The state director of occupational health, Forrest Rumford, has pushed for completion of a germ-killing job by Dec. 1.

The associate director, Stewart S. Stokes, said the disease is anthrax, which has been in the mill for 23 years, and was traced to goat hair imported from Iran and Iraq.

Arab students make up more than three-quarters of the student body here on a 45-acre site that was formerly a German-killing job by Dec. 1.

The associate director, Stewart S. Stokes, said the disease is anthrax, which has been in the mill for 23 years, and was traced to goat hair imported from Iran and Iraq.

Death Ends Teen's Fight With Drugs

Pat promised his parents he would get off drugs and they would care for him in their care. But in September, after one week in his first year of college, he was asked to leave because of drug experimentation.

In his letter, Pat wrote with authority when he pleaded with other teen-agers not to experiment with drugs.

Drugs from hash, pot, acid to hard-core, he wrote, "It's all a bad road. The people who push it don't use it because they know what it does to you. All you are doing is ruining your life and letting people make money through you. They are only using you..."

Pat told them that his parents had destroyed his ambitions and ruined his family life which meant so much to him before they arrived. If only with a Cupie he had fulfilled some type of purpose while on earth. Drugs have ruined his moments of happiness, but for each moment lies a century of sadness never to be removed.

Hippie Ruled Out of Office In Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas attorney general has pulled the office right out from under boarded, long-haired hippie Phillip Spitzer.

Spitzer was elected on the Democratic ticket without opposition Nov. 8 as one of two justices of the peace in Lawrence, a community of 40,000 and the home of the University of Kansas.

But Thursday, Atty. Gen. Kent Prizell said the 1968 Legislature abolished the office because of the hippie element.

"That's going to be challenged," Spitzer said of the ruling. He said he had an attorney and that a Washington, D.C. firm also had offered him legal services.

The ruling was requested by Secretary of State James Doan after county clerks in Geary and Douglas counties said they had been asked to certify the election of justices of the peace. Lawrence is the county seat of Douglas County.

Prizell's office said: "There being no office to fill, in the case of Lawrence, the office of Douglas County clerk for such offices were a nullity. Local election officers should therefore decline to certify the results of any such purported elections, and where such participation may have been made it should be disregarded."

Spitzer, 22, a self-proclaimed dealer in drugs, received more than 6,000 votes in the election. He said he did nothing to publicize his candidacy for fear a write-in campaign might be started against him.

After the election he said he would use the office to perform marriages for his hippie friends, including homosexuals.

The riders spent two hours looting the vault.

Police said the Tupamaros robbed a bank in Manhattan of $4 million in jewels and $46,000 in cash early today after kidnapping several bank employees and taking their vault keys.

Eight men and three women participated in the robbery at the branch of the Bank of the Republic, used as a depository for the bank's funds.

Police said the Tupamaros advised several employees of the bank to get out of the vault. Then an employee of the bank who apparently belonged to the group, led the movement opened the main vault.

Georgia School Library Loans Pot Handbook

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Dr. B. W. Forester, chairman of the state Board of Health, says he found on a shelf of the North-east Junior High School library a book advocating the use of marijuana.

Forester told the Bibb County Board of Education Thursday a book disclosed that the book had found the way onto a list approved by the state Department of Education for elementary and secondary school libraries.

He said he went looking for the book after receiving complaints from several parents of pupils at the school.

Marijuana, a handbook on how to grow and smoke the stuff and discuss "pleasant sensations" resulting from its use, Forester said.

He is also the author of many articles in photographic and natural history magazines, as well as a frequent speaker at the Methodist Church in Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Swain, who is from Middletown, is a retired member of the New York Conference of the United Methodist Church and has served pastorates all over Connecticut for the past 10 years.

"Why Not Take It With You?" will be the sermon topic of the meeting on Nov. 23, to avoid meeting on the eve of the election. The exact date of the town meeting will be set at the time.

Seven Items To Be Aired At Town Meeting

The agenda for a town meeting to be held early in December was presented at a meeting of the town selectmen Wednesday night.

Three of the seven items on the agenda are: 1. Approval of the transfer of $15,000 from the surplus fund to the highway budget.

The second item asks for approval of the highway budget. It is projected that the recent election and the coming spring election will exceed the budget allocation by this amount.

Townpeople will also be asked to approve expenditure of $2,000 for interest on a conversion note for the Center school.

A resolution will be presented authorizing the selectmen to accept $1,000 from Douglas County for damage done to Williams Rd. during the construction of the five star medical center and the fire station.

A proposal for adoption of a town public health code will also be on the agenda. Copies of the code are available for inspection at the town clerk's office.

A proposal for combination of the present planning and zoning commissions into a single board will also be presented. In addition, townpeople will be asked to decide whether members of these boards should be elected or appointed.

In other town business, a letter was read from Douglas County, chairman of the Public Building Commission, requesting that the town purchase a new building at Herrick Park Road.

Cheney said that he has had several qualified volunteers who have offered to do the work. The only cost to the town will be for materials.

The Democratic Town Committee sent a letter recommending the appointment of Ernest Reed to the Planning Commission to replace Bruce Hutchinson who has moved out of town. This cannot be approved at this time, as Hutchinson has not submitted his resignation to date.

First Selectmen Richard Morris suggested that payroll checks for town employees be distributed weekly instead of bi-weekly. The possibility of purchasing a check-writing machine for this purpose will be investigated and presented at the next meeting.

The next Selectmen's meeting will be held on Nov. 23, to avoid meeting on the eve of the election. The exact date of the town meeting will be set at the time.

Town Seeks Motor On Pump, Motor

Bids will be opened Nov. 25, at 11 a.m. in the Municipal Building, for furnishing and installing a new motor and pump on an Elgin Educator cleaning sewer sledge.

The 1967 machine was purchased when the Olcott St. Disposal Plant was built. It is to be cleaned the digester at the disposal plant and to clean the pumping station at the Parkside.

Prices are being sought for installing the motor and pump in the department yard on Charter Oak St., or for installing them in the vendor's shop, provided it is within a 50-mile radius of Manchester.

A Cambodian spokesman said the government hoped to have the road open by Sunday.

National Trash Crisis The Alternative to a Disaster

EDITOR'S NOTE — As mountains of refuse grow higher each day around the country, scientists warn America must find an alternative to their conventional, throw-away style of living. One alternative must stem from recycling of refuse—returning salvagable material to the economy. The following are the last of three articles on the nation's trash crisis.

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — When the Bowie City Council passed an ordinance last July banning sale of beer and soft drinks in throw-away containers, most surprised were the students who worked for adoption of the ordinance.

There was a prevailing pessimism among the kids that this thing was doomed to failure. One alternative must stem from recycling of refuse—returning salvagable material to the economy. The following are the last of three articles on the nation's trash crisis.

The night the City Council passed the ordinance, it was great. There was a tremendous feeling of euphoria about the thing. They had set out to do something for the environment through conventional channels and succeeded.

The ordinance, which goes into effect April 1, bans sale of soft drinks and beer in non-returnable containers within the 10 square miles of this suburb outside Washington in the rolling hills of Maryland. Violators will face fines and jail sentences.

Bowie is believed to be the first local government in the country to attempt to stem the rising tide of solid waste disposal through conventional channels and succeeded.

Fidel Castro Appears On TV in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Heretofore cast in the role of a revolutionary leader, Fidel Castro appeared on television in Chile last night.

The Cuban prime minister made his debut as a television narrator here this week with an 11-minute documentary about the experimental farm. It was shown as part of Chile's "first Latin-American festival and seminar of television."

Castro has appeared on Chilean television before. Film clips of informal discussions he had with Chileans in Havana were sponsored by supporters of President Salvador Allende during the presidential election.

There were scenes of early construction at the farm, which was designed to test new concepts in cattle raising and dairy production.

Castro said the barns, have indirect music as well as air conditioning. He said that scientific techniques introduced at the farm enabled some cows to give up to 30 liters of milk a day.

About a dozen Holsteins were shown with heads enclosed in clear plastic tent in which the air conditioning was carefully regulated. Castro said scientists were trying to determine the best temperatures to "excite the hypothalamus into making the cow give more milk."

Methods of artificial insemination were shown. Castro said the cow give more milk. He said that scientific techniques introduced at the farm enabled some cows to give up to 30 liters of milk a day.

Yale Teacher of Poetry Also Author of Best-Seller

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Standing at the front of the classroom, Erich Segal, in rumpled trousers and nondescript suede shoes, looks like any bright young teacher teaching Latin poetry to a group of bright young Yale students.

Except THIS Erich Segal is also the author of the novel "Love Story," which has been at the top of the best-seller charts simultaneously in the United States, Britain and France.

Unlike some of the poetry he teaches, the novel is simply written in up-to-the-minute language, a short novel about two young people who are in love, filled with traditional, unabashed sentimentality.

Or, as Segal puts it, "the triumph of what's wonderful about being square." This is also the man, more precisely, one of the men who wrote the shooting script for the Beatles' fanciful cartoon feature, "Yellow Submarine."

He commutes several times a week now between New Haven and Hollywood to work on screenplays, (one of them being the movie version of "Love Story") or to New York to appear on television shows as a celebrity.

Yet Segal, 32, still lives in a student adviser's simple teacher apartment at Yale and sets as adviser to students upstairs — when he's home.

Washington PTA To Hear Lawyer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An advanced version of Boeing's huge 747 jumbo jet claimed the world's record Thursday in hitting a lead 10-ton heavier than set by the CSA, transport, the world's largest aircraft.

The 747 packed a weight of 287,000 pounds on a one-hour test flight over the California desert. Most of its 500,000-pound load was in sand and water. The other 300,000 pounds was the jet's basic weight.

The previous record by the 747 was the same size as the Boeing 747, but it was a smaller test flight over the California desert. Most of its 500,000-pound load was in sand and water.

From Bench To Couch: Like other people, psychiatrists themselves can experience such a thing as an anxiety.

Sometimes it is an anxiety over whether or not they are taking the right psychiatric approach to their patients.

When a psychiatrist is worried about something like that, he sometimes goes to another psychiatrist and has himself psychoanalyzed.

This is in the news currently only because Uncle Sam's Revenue Service has just announced that it is complying with a recent court decision which held that such a psychiatrist can be allowed to deduct the cost of his own psychoanalysis.

Shouldn't it be arranged for that judge to see somebody, too?

Senate Skirts Bill For Women's Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) - With a coalition of women's groups scoring the latest advances of a fickle Senate, the struggle for greater constitutional guarantees against sex discrimination apparently has stalled in its most promising year.

Leaders of women's rights organizations declared Thursday they'd rather leave things the way they are than settle for a halfhearted substitute for the no-holds-barred amendments that whittled through the House weeks ago.

After the women's news conference, a spokesman for the Indiana Democrat said their vote for a measure they prepared to sponsor, the tide began receding.

Forced by Sen. Sam Ervin, D-S.C., to vote against the amendment, they prepared to vote for a measure they prepared to sponsor, the tide began receding.

Ervin's amendment would have passed the House, but it was defeated in the Senate.

"Expect Us" To the Editor, For some reason, an old political warning signal that had candidates who were elected by good citizens who fail to vote doesn't work the other way around.

That is, there's just no guarantee that a close to 100 per cent voter turnout will put the best candidate in office.

The campaign I refer to is the recent U.S. Senate race in which Hartford's Joe Duffey took his candidacy to the Connecticut electorate over a year ago.

Duffey inspired the best in a new brand of "participatory politics." As a result, people like myself took an interest in the whole gamut of community affairs.

Annual Sessions Ballot Landslide Surprise Mandate

HARTFORD (AP) - There was one bona fide landslide in this week's state election. It was on the question of whether the state legislature should meet every year, instead of only once every two years.

The proposed annual-session amendment to the state constitution was approved by a landslide vote of 117 to 17.

Other reforms on the horizon are enactment of a code of ethics for legislators, expansion of research staff, and a requirement that committee votes on all bills be a matter of public record.

The Speaker said he also hoped to raise legislators' salaries over and above the $1,000 increase that automatically goes into effect as a result of approval of annual sessions.

"In the House, both parties were in the mood to support the reform operation," said Ratchford, who is a solid force to break with tradition by succeeding himself as speaker.

"I feel it would win," said Ratchford.

Many delegates were intrigued by Phillips' use of such expressions as "expelling a member" and "admitting the People's Republic of China," as though he was referring to two separate nations.

He's a Railroad Man in His Heart

The miles of track are stacked up the way today's superhighways are.

Engineer VanCleaf guides '99 into town right on schedule.

Robert A. Van Cleef is, in the very nicest sense of the word, a real nut.

This amiable, fair-haired young man is one of a close fraternity, one of the 15,000 people in this country who enjoy the "hobby" of model railroading.

But "hobby" is not really a strong enough word to describe the devotion of this pastime. It is more a whole way of life entirely unto itself.

Van Cleef is 35 years old, and has been in model railroading since his early teen years. He is the sole owner of the North River Railroad Incorporated, which makes regularly scheduled runs in the basement of his home located on, appropriately enough, North River Road in Coventry.

He happily assumed a recent visitor that the work he does in his basement bears absolutely no relation to his "regular" job at Pratt and Whitney, and added that, indeed, most model railroad enthusiasts are "real nuts."

Van Cleef and several of his fellow hobbyists will be gathering this weekend in Stratford, Conn., for the First Annual Model Railroad Open House, sponsored by the Nutmeg Division, Northeastern Region of the National Model Railroad Association, Inc.

The open house, Van Cleef said, is designed to explain model railroading as a hobby and encourage others to take it up. It will be held Saturday from 10 to 11 at Booth Memorial Park in Stratford.

There will be operating layouts of model railroads, manufacturers' displays, a slide show, model building demonstrations and a hobby shop.

Van Cleef himself has a display on exhibit at Manchester's Cheney Library, where it will remain until early next month. This display is in the children's wing of the library, and, again, is designed to explain the hobby and show would-be model railroaders how to get started.

The basement of Van Cleef's Coventry home is devoted almost exclusively to his equipment, most of which he has built himself, and is sufficient evidence of the fact that model railroading is a serious business, a lot of work and a lot more fun.

The hobby has taken hold of the man to the point where his devotion and enthusiasm are contagious. His wife, Harriet, is an enthusiastic about it as he is.

Various sites throughout the countryside are named for various reasons—the pungent Zani line, the town of Harrietville for his wife, the whimsical Bridge of Doom, the town of Camelot and the Arcturid Tundra.

The miniature passenger traveling in a caboose might be startled to find himself passing an old bit of Americana, the no-more-to-be-seen Burma Shave sign.

But, Van Cleef is quick to point out, there's more to model railroading than just running the cars around the tracks.

He and several other enthusiasts meet regularly to solve problems. That is, a series of ailments and deliveries involving all sorts of cars, engines and stops is set up. Then, the idea is to carry out this problem, solving it as quickly and efficiently on the tracks as possible, going from station to station, stopping off cars, picking up cars, sometimes taking several get-togethers to complete it.

Van Cleef's visitors are invited, upon leaving, to "leave your mark in the world."

Armed with a small paint brush and can of paint, the visitor is encouraged to sign one of the many "cliffs" or "hillsides" in the basement countryside, a la the habit of many young people who do this sort of thing on a full scale.

Van Cleef's cliffs and hills are full of all sorts of initials, and can be painted, indicating his invitation to scribble.

Finally, the visitor is treated to an example of the typical, according to Van Cleef, model railroader's "weird sense of humor."

"Just remember," he said recently while unhooking out a visitor, and with a grin, "that a feral agitator would rather switch than fight."

Look that up in your Funk and Wagnall!

Some cars still bear the tiny decal of the River and Valley Cliff line, many are now marked North River Railroad.

Freight cars of all varieties abound: Lead O' Leaks, Roma Wine, Crazy Crystals, to name a few.

Farmer Parities Labeled as New Ballot Influence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Republican congressmen who lost election bids Nov. 3 are blaming an Agriculture Department handout on farm parity payments to GOP strategists who recalled that Nixon, during his 1968 campaign, continually attacked the 74 per cent parity payment for their defeat.

That handout—issued four days before the election—showed parity at a 57-year low. It was seized by Democratic opponents as fresh ammunition against Nixon administration farm policies.

Just which GOP election losses are putting the heat on the department was not immediately known. Among the more prominent farm belt House members who lost were Reps. Thomas S. Kleppe, R-Mo., Odin Langen, R-Minn., Catherine May, R-Wash., and Chester L. Mize, R-Kan.

Both Mrs. May and Kleppe are members of the House Agriculture Committee.

Parity basically is a comparison of the money farmers get for their products with the money paid in the 1910-1914 period.

The October report showed parity was only 70 per cent of the 1910-14 base period. It was the lowest percentage mark since December 1953, in the depth of the 1953, in the depth of the 1953, in the depth of the 1953.

Parity was rated at 72 per cent in September and it was 73 per cent a year earlier.

The level was particularly worrisome to GOP strategists who recalled that Nixon, during his 1968 campaign, continually attacked the 74 per cent parity payment for their defeat.

Those words were hurled back at Republican candidates in many farm areas in the days just before the election.

Adding to the heat was the fact that the administration-backed farm bill still hung up in the Senate had been a heated issue in some counties.

Trade Quotas Bill Faces 'Old' Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major tasks facing the House when Congress reconvenes Monday is debate on a trade measure that would modify drastically a 35-year-old free trade policy.

Deliberation on the measure is planned during the first week of the only post-election congressional session since the Korean War. House approval is expected by Nov. 19.

But the bill's ultimate fate is in doubt, due in part to congressional hopes of a final adjournment by mid-December.

The bill would set mandatory quotas on imports of textile articles and footwear.

President Nixon has accepted the principle of textile quotas but not those on shoes. However, provisions give him leeway in exempting imports from the quota restrictions on grounds of national interest.

28 other administrations sought sections of the complex bill under normal procedures.

In an effort to speed it, the Senate Finance Committee has agreed to attempt most of the trade bill to a Social Security benefit increase bill already passed by the House.

The combined bill, if passed by the Senate, could go straight to a Senate-House conference.

But the proposed Senate amendment would omit the organization of subsidiaries called Domestic International Sales Corporation-DISC.

Nixon would sign it remain open questions.

While the House is scheduled to handle the bill under provisions permitting no amendments, the Senate is under no such restriction. Efforts to add quotas on steel, electronics and other products and other items already have been announced. If any of these succeed, final acceptance of the bill would be further jeopardized.

As it goes to the House, the bill would phase in the tax advantages of DISC, making them fully effective after three years.

The Treasury Department estimates the tax advantage—the loss of revenue to the government—will be $430 million in a full year's operation at full effectiveness. Congressional staff experts, however, said the tax loss might go as high as $500 million.

Critics of the proposal, including the AFL-CIO and consumer advocate Ralph Nader, attack DISC as a new loophole of particular advantage to large, integrated corporations.

The textile and footwear quotas for 1971 would be based on average imports for 1967-69. Beginning in 1972, the president could increase the quotas up to 5 per cent if he found additional demand justified them.

He also would have authority to exempt categories of imports from particular countries in the national interest if the domestic supply was found insufficient.

Finally, the bill provides that voluntary limitations negotiated with exporting countries would supersede quotas. Plans already have been announced for re-opening U.S.-Japanese negotiations, called Domestic International Sales Corporation-DISC.

Airline Seeks New England Service Cut

Buffalo, Detroit and other cities.

Executive Airlines plans an additional 16 flights between Boston and Albany and Boston and Burlington.

Mohawk was operating 64 daily flights from Boston's Logan International Airport.

The airline said it can no longer continue to endure losses which totaled $8.7 million for the 12 months ending last June 30—a loss 100 per cent greater than for the preceding 12 months.

The airline said traffic reports have continued to suffer as a result of its system since July 1969.

Mohawk, which has been providing the service in place of Northeast Airlines, says it has the right to withdraw from the replacement service entirely, at any time, it said, however, it is reluctant to do so without first experimenting with reduced frequencies.

The airline proposed to eliminate two of the daily round trip flights in the New York City market, and cut the Burlington-Boston daily frequencies from three round trips to two next Jan. 1.

It said this would reduce its losses substantially, yet leave the cities still with service superior to that should Mohawk require Northeast to resume the operations.

Mohawk said it does not contemplate any greater reduction, but nevertheless wants existing restrictions on its frequencies withdrawn.

Mohawk since last February has been providing Manchester and Worcester with five New York round trips a day each, and Lebanon and Keene with four each.

The airline said this was equal to or better than the service formerly provided by Northeast, yet traffic was substantially lower than that carried by Northeast a year earlier and well below the level assumed by Mohawk in estimating the financial results.

Israel Seen Getting More U.S. Planes

In preference to the older A-1H, wants the more powerful A-1H, in this new batch of fighters.

McDonnell-Douglas is producing the A-1H for the Israeli Air Force.

The A-1H is a supersonic fighter, and is a development of the A-7 Corsair II.

Even with its upgraded engine, the A-1H is still a subsonic aircraft. But this does not bother the Israelis. They use the A-4 mainly as a bomber, not a fighter to take on the supersonic Soviet Mig 21s that Egypt has, they now have in service.

Mrs. Sally Klisane, McDonnell-Douglas spokeswoman, said the A-1H is a development of the A-7 Corsair II, and is a supersonic fighter, and is a development of the A-7 Corsair II.

The single seater A-4 at around $10 million dollars is about half the cost of the more sophisticated two-man F-4. Yet it is regarded as a highly accurate bomber.

White the $60 million dollars for the A-1H is a substantial sum, it is well below the level assumed by modern weaponry to combat Russia, the rest of the money in the Pentagon's one billion dollars plus supplemental comes under the more general heading of Military Assistance.

Stated to receive Military Assistance money from the supplemental are Cambodia, Greece, Jordan, South Korea, Taiwan and Turkey. Latest estimates include about 120 million dollars for Cambodia and 200 million for South Korea, the latter the price for withdrawing a division of American troops from the country under the Nixon Doctrine.

While the fiscal 1971 supplemental figures are still not final, one official estimate is that the total for Israel and the six countries to receive military aid will come to 1.2 billion dollars.

Farmer Parities Labeled as New Ballot Influence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Republican congressmen who lost election bids Nov. 3 are blaming an Agriculture Department handout on farm parity payments to GOP strategists who recalled that Nixon, during his 1968 campaign, continually attacked the 74 per cent parity payment for their defeat.

That handout—issued four days before the election—showed parity at a 57-year low. It was seized by Democratic opponents as fresh ammunition against Nixon administration farm policies.

Just which GOP election losses are putting the heat on the department was not immediately known. Among the more prominent farm belt House members who lost were Reps. Thomas S. Kleppe, R-Mo., Odin Langen, R-Minn., Catherine May, R-Wash., and Chester L. Mize, R-Kan.

Both Mrs. May and Kleppe are members of the House Agriculture Committee.

The October report showed parity was only 70 per cent of the 1910-14 base period. It was the lowest percentage mark since December 1953, in the depth of the 1953, in the depth of the 1953.

Parity was rated at 72 per cent in September and it was 73 per cent a year earlier.

The level was particularly worrisome to GOP strategists who recalled that Nixon, during his 1968 campaign, continually attacked the 74 per cent parity payment for their defeat.

Those words were hurled back at Republican candidates in many farm areas in the days just before the election.

Adding to the heat was the fact that the administration-backed farm bill still hung up in the Senate had been a heated issue in some counties.

Trade Quotas Bill Faces 'Old' Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major tasks facing the House when Congress reconvenes Monday is debate on a trade measure that would modify drastically a 35-year-old free trade policy.

Deliberation on the measure is planned during the first week of the only post-election congressional session since the Korean War. House approval is expected by Nov. 19.

But the bill's ultimate fate is in doubt, due in part to congressional hopes of a final adjournment by mid-December.

The bill would set mandatory quotas on imports of textile articles and footwear.

President Nixon has accepted the principle of textile quotas but not those on shoes. However, provisions give him leeway in exempting imports from the quota restrictions on grounds of national interest.

28 other administrations sought sections of the complex bill under normal procedures.

In an effort to speed it, the Senate Finance Committee has agreed to attempt most of the trade bill to a Social Security benefit increase bill already passed by the House.

The combined bill, if passed by the Senate, could go straight to a Senate-House conference.

But the proposed Senate amendment would omit the organization of subsidiaries called Domestic International Sales Corporation-DISC.

Nixon would sign it remain open questions.

While the House is scheduled to handle the bill under provisions permitting no amendments, the Senate is under no such restriction. Efforts to add quotas on steel, electronics and other products and other items already have been announced. If any of these succeed, final acceptance of the bill would be further jeopardized.

As it goes to the House, the bill would phase in the tax advantages of DISC, making them fully effective after three years.

The Treasury Department estimates the tax advantage—the loss of revenue to the government—will be $430 million in a full year's operation at full effectiveness. Congressional staff experts, however, said the tax loss might go as high as $500 million.

Critics of the proposal, including the AFL-CIO and consumer advocate Ralph Nader, attack DISC as a new loophole of particular advantage to large, integrated corporations.

The textile and footwear quotas for 1971 would be based on average imports for 1967-69. Beginning in 1972, the president could increase the quotas up to 5 per cent if he found additional demand justified them.

He also would have authority to exempt categories of imports from particular countries in the national interest if the domestic supply was found insufficient.

Finally, the bill provides that voluntary limitations negotiated with exporting countries would supersede quotas. Plans already have been announced for re-opening U.S.-Japanese negotiations, called Domestic International Sales Corporation-DISC.

Airline Seeks New England Service Cut

Buffalo, Detroit and other cities.

Executive Airlines plans an additional 16 flights between Boston and Albany and Boston and Burlington.

Mohawk was operating 64 daily flights from Boston's Logan International Airport.

The airline said it can no longer continue to endure losses which totaled $8.7 million for the 12 months ending last June 30—a loss 100 per cent greater than for the preceding 12 months.

The airline said traffic reports have continued to suffer as a result of its system since July 1969.

Mohawk, which has been providing the service in place of Northeast Airlines, says it has the right to withdraw from the replacement service entirely, at any time, it said, however, it is reluctant to do so without first experimenting with reduced frequencies.

The airline proposed to eliminate two of the daily round trip flights in the New York City market, and cut the Burlington-Boston daily frequencies from three round trips to two next Jan. 1.

It said this would reduce its losses substantially, yet leave the cities still with service superior to that should Mohawk require Northeast to resume the operations.

Mohawk said it does not contemplate any greater reduction, but nevertheless wants existing restrictions on its frequencies withdrawn.

Mohawk since last February has been providing Manchester and Worcester with five New York round trips a day each, and Lebanon and Keene with four each.

The airline said this was equal to or better than the service formerly provided by Northeast, yet traffic was substantially lower than that carried by Northeast a year earlier and well below the level assumed by Mohawk in estimating the financial results.

Israel Seen Getting More U.S. Planes

In preference to the older A-1H, wants the more powerful A-1H, in this new batch of fighters.

McDonnell-Douglas is producing the A-1H for the Israeli Air Force.

The A-1H is a supersonic fighter, and is a development of the A-7 Corsair II.

Even with its upgraded engine, the A-1H is still a subsonic aircraft. But this does not bother the Israelis. They use the A-4 mainly as a bomber, not a fighter to take on the supersonic Soviet Mig 21s that Egypt has, they now have in service.

Mrs. Sally Klisane, McDonnell-Douglas spokeswoman, said the A-1H is a development of the A-7 Corsair II, and is a supersonic fighter, and is a development of the A-7 Corsair II.

The single seater A-4 at around $10 million dollars is about half the cost of the more sophisticated two-man F-4. Yet it is regarded as a highly accurate bomber.

White the $60 million dollars for the A-1H is a substantial sum, it is well below the level assumed by modern weaponry to combat Russia, the rest of the money in the Pentagon's one billion dollars plus supplemental comes under the more general heading of Military Assistance.

Stated to receive Military Assistance money from the supplemental are Cambodia, Greece, Jordan, South Korea, Taiwan and Turkey. Latest estimates include about 120 million dollars for Cambodia and 200 million for South Korea, the latter the price for withdrawing a division of American troops from the country under the Nixon Doctrine.

While the fiscal 1971 supplemental figures are still not final, one official estimate is that the total for Israel and the six countries to receive military aid will come to 1.2 billion dollars.

The Old Codger's Codifications

O. C. gets a "bang" out of some of the things folks of earlier generations did and writes about. Perhaps some one else would, too. So here's some written in 1868 from Waterloo, N.Y. in answer to one from O. C.'s grandfather in Connecticut.

"You thought I was talking ironically about a steam ferry navigating the Cedar here, but you were wrong. There is one just such in operation. It is capable of holding two loaded teams and contains what I call a seven horsepower engine. Power enough to drive it anywhere, but owing to some minor construction of its machinery it cannot be handled with as much facility as a boat of that description ought to be and has run over the dam two or three times. The water's being high prevented any material damage. The engine by which it is propelled was formerly employed in a planing mill in the city. The mill owner accumulated more debts than he could liquidate so exploded. Another man came into the place comparatively well off but by using his money in foolish investments has now become (to use a western expression) merely strag. He got possession of the engine and thinking that Waterloo needed a steam ferry boat one in opposition to a current boat that runs at the lower end of town. The sequel is he will probably follow the example of the engine's first owner, for a boat of that description will not pay in this place unless he can run the other boat off the track which he will not be likely to do at present.

"A hotel belonging to a Mister Keeney of this place was burnt down recently. It was all but destroyed. The lower ferry boat, and out of compassion the public will probably give him their patronage in ferrying.

"You must have been laboring under some mental derangement or false impression when you conceived the idea of the Cedar River being so small a long-legged man could straddle it. To use a Hoosier expression 'I now take a large crowd of students and would take a man with right four arms from it have ended smart long legs to do it.' The up in Tolland County Superior rode wide.

"The price of farm production is increasing and there is a far prospect of farmers soon being living in a little better style than they did last winter. Then grieved by Dean Manning from the matter of contest he wanted to say that he was single thousands because of his association with one of the student had but little of that they were obliged to dispose with newspapers. 'I think his tactics should be protected from this,' he said.

His attorney felt he'd already been punished enough but the dish would seem poor fodder but in this land of laws our appetites are so braced up by the salubrious atmosphere that such things slip down with as much facility as greased lightning through a gooseberry bush.

"Lafayette and Alfred send their love to Grandma, Lavilla Kentucky elementary and secondary education will flourish in Rockton with Aunt Mary. You must excuse the size solutions through innovation rather than more finances. 870 centers.

Nixon Bans Puffery In All Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has ordered federal agencies to cut spending aimed at "promoting and soliciting support for various agency activities."

In his unpublished memo, sent to all department heads a few days ago, he wrote in a few days. He wants to hear from Rockton if it will not take too long. Signed, C. A. Nixon, the president.

But the President added: "To bring about a curtailment of self-serving and wasteful public relations activities, I have instructed the director of the Office of Management and Budget to reduce the funds available to your agency in fiscal year 1971 due Frederick Case so he could repay O.C.'s grandfather what he owed him. It is not known how this string of dominoes fell even if the line ever started or ended.

It seems a Mr. Hollister of Rockton was injured and crippled by a stage-coach. The doctor used him for pay. He sued the stage company for damages so he could pay the doctors and repay something due Frederick Case so he could repay O.C.'s grandfather what he owed him. It is not known how this string of dominoes fell even if the line ever started or ended.

Nixon said OMB Director George P. Shultz will notify each agency head of the amount of 1971 funds to be withheld and placed in reserve.

OMB officials said they could not yet name any publication or employees to be eliminated. Budget authorities will decide each agency's 1971 cutback during the preparation of the 1972 budget, now in process.

One agency information officer said he understood the crackdown was aimed at "public relations and propaganda—the kind that some agencies put out to maintain support for their appropriations among special interest groups."

Another predicted, "A lot of four-color printing jobs that are now planned will be coming out in black and white." Some special information activities, he said, "are really open advocacy—intended to generate support for their programs."

When Nixon signed a drug control bill two weeks ago, he said narcotics abuses can be curbed only by "wide public information programs."

His new emphasis, he said, is not striking at those "who serve the government well, but informing the public and preserving the principle of freedom of information."

"Rather it is directed at those who are, quite understandably, program advocates, and who perhaps unknowingly affront many of our citizens with public relations promotions, fancy publications and exhibits aimed at a limited audience, and similar extravaganzas that are not in keeping with this administration's management of the public's resources," Nixon said.

"Please take personal action," he told his Cabinet officers, "to ensure that your agencies carry out the intent of this directive and that they do not attempt to circumvent it through changes in position titles or reallocation of resources intended for other purposes."

The incident involved graduation of the Cedar River being so small a long-legged man could straddle it. To use a Hoosier expression "I now take a large crowd of students and would take a man with right four arms from it have ended smart long legs to do it." The up in Tolland County Superior rode wide.

Stamatakis told the court that even though he would have to accept what was happening in the matter of contest he wanted to say that he was single thousands because of his association with one of the student had but little of that they were obliged to dispose with newspapers. "I think his tactics should be protected from this," he said.

Highway Lobby 'Donation' Rejected by Roads Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The outgoing chairman of the House committee on interstate highways has refused to accept a $5,000 contribution sent to him by a highway industry group.

Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., said "I wouldn't accept a contribution that large from any source."

The money was offered by the Committee for Action, a rich campaign fund raised by the highway building industry throughout the nation.

Blatnik is due to take over in January as head of the House Public Works Committee, which oversees vast federal construction programs, including $5 billion-a-year in federal aid for superhighways and other highway construction.

He is already chairman of the subcommittee specializing in highway building.

The Committee for Action, in its latest report to Congress, listed the $5,000 as being sent on Sept. 9 to the "D. C. Committee for Blatnik."

But Joseph Dillon, a Washington lawyer who was treasurer for the D. C. fund-raising committee, said the money was promptly returned.

"In our opinion, it was too large," Dillon explained.

The Committee for Action, which has four separate regional groups, gave more than $100,000 this year to various campaigns with most of the money going into Senate races.

The fund is headed by Martin Matich, who has a highway engineering firm in Hialeah, Fla., Calif. The fund is run from the offices of Erickson Paving Co., Bellevue, Wash., where the treasurer is located.

Redevelopment Milestone
Top Notch Opens Tuesday

Stocking of shelves proceeds under the direction of Manager Robert Kirby. Clerk is Blair Ritchie.

Another milestone in the more than six years of planning and labor that have gone into the redevelopment of Manchester's North End will be reached Tuesday.

On that day at 9 a.m., a new 24,000 square foot Top Notch Supermarket—said by the builders to be the largest food store in Manchester—will have its grand opening in the North End Shopping Plaza at Main and N. Main Sts.

The store is the key tenant in the 40,000 square foot plaza, that already contains branches of the Savings Bank of Manchester and Hartford National Bank, and which opened within the past two weeks.

Also to be located in the center and slated to open shortly will be a pharmacy and a laundromat.

For one space, yet to be rented, the owners are seeking a coffee shop. "We're interested in attracting a high-type operation, similar to those you find in Florida, for example," said Leonard Ianzito.

Ianzito is president of the Top Notch Foods Corp and one of the principles in KLF Associates, the construction firm which is building the shopping center. He and Vice President George Lucas are also builders-owners of the new Coronado Club Apartments for single people at Prospect St.

The North End Plaza is the main commercial structure, replacing several old buildings knocked down under the redevelopment program passed by the town voters in referendum in May 1964.

The Plaza more than doubles the amount of commercial space it replaces and will have parking for an estimated 225 vehicles.

Designed by the East Hartford architectural firm of Prater and Wigman, the Plaza building has an exterior of warm brown brick with a Mansard-type facade overhanging surfaced with cedar shingles.

Perennial plantings are sprinkled strategically throughout, and there will be trees and shrubs placed along both sides of the main thoroughfare. Landscaping is being done by Grandland Nursery of Manchester.

In the parking lot are five mature maple trees, protected by brick walls, which have been saved through joint efforts by the builders and the University School of Fine Arts, Manchester Redevelopment Agency at the request of the City Board of Commerce.

The Top Notch will be the third store for the East Hartford-based food chain. Its first store, opened in 1968, is on Burdick Ave. near the Manchester store. The second is on Silver Lane and opened in 1968. The third store, at 66 Galley Dr., opened last month at 28 Prospect St.

"That means we will feature everyday low prices and nationally advertised brands. There will be no stamps, games or gimmicks, and no come-on specials."

Shopping carts will be of the new type which open at the front end flush with the check-out counter. That means clerks will be able to check merchandise without lifting or stooping.

Customers' bundles will be carried to cars by store personnel, Ianzito said.

The store will have extra-wide aisles, its own bakery products, and what Ianzito claims will be the largest and most complete delicatessen in the area.

Store hours will be 9 to 9 on weekdays and Saturdays until 6.

Hadassah Sets Art Program

Nathaniel J. Jacobson, internationally famous artist, will present a program "Art and the Jew" at the monthly meeting of Hadassah at Temple Beth Shalom, on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

Jacobson, son of a Boston rabbi, and a native of Salem, Mass., studied at the Massachusetts School of Art and at Yale University School of Fine Arts. He has participated in group exhibitions at the DeCordova Museum, Lincoln, Mass., the Bowdoin College Museum of Fine Arts in Brunswick, Maine, and the Jewish Museum in New York City, and also in Jerusalem, Israel.

He has painted murals for Tufts University, Boston University's Ithiel House, and Temple Emeth.

Jacobson's illustrated lecture will explore the historical association of the visual arts with Jewish culture and analyze the contemporary relationship between art and Jewish life.

The Hadassah meeting will also commemorate the 10th anniversary of the Hadassah Hebrew Medical Center in Ein Karen outside Jerusalem. This is the largest, most modern facility in the Middle East. It serves patients, doctors and medical personnel from as far as Nigeria and Hadassah regards it as a bridge to peace because it treats Jews and Arabs.

This Hadassah meeting is open to husbands of members and to teen-agers.

Court Cases

CIRCUIT COURT 12: Manchester Sessions

Judge John Membrino ruled the court could find no probable cause in the case of Edward F. Sweet, 46, of Columbia, charged with breaking and entering.

Last week, the court heard testimony in a hearing on probable cause, on charges stemming from the burglary last night of a house in Andover. Sweet was arrested last February.

Yesterday, Judge Membrino said that there was no indication of a "break" in the legal sense of the word, because the doors to the house were ajar on the night of the robbery. He ordered the charge against Sweet dismissed.

Prosecutor Paradiso then petitioned to nolle the charge of larceny under §20 against Sweet because the evidence did not warrant prosecution.

The case of Robert Wilson, 22, of Ellington, charged with three counts of obtaining money under false pretenses, was bound over to the Tolland and Hartford Superior Courts for trial.

Wilson was arrested in October by Manchester police and was also charged at that time with non-support and fraudulent use of a check.

After waiving hearings on probable cause in the false obligation charge, Wilson pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Membrino sentenced him to 60 days in jail.

A "home style" luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. featuring chili, pea soup, gumdrop salad, homemade bread, root beer and hot chocolate.

An entertainment center for children will include cartoons and popcorn. A nursery will be available.

AL Auxiliary To Hear Girls

The American Legion Auxiliary will have its membership supper Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the American Legion Home. Members are reminded to bring their own hot dishes.

Building Permits for Manchester Memorial Hospital, 137x100 foot sub-basement and basement addition, plus alterations to existing facilities, H-021,000.

U & R Housing Corp., 20 apartments in two buildings at 205-207 and 211-213 Homestead St., $195,000.

Other guests are Mrs. Nathalia Yarasanky, department membership chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Kilarsky, district membership chairman, and Mrs. Alice Evans of The Herald.

Mormon Church To Have Bazaar

The Manchester Ward of the Church of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon) will hold its annual bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 21, at the chapel at Hilltown Rd. and Woodside St. from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The "Gingerbread Village" will feature handmade quilts for crib and regular beds. There will be special booths for homemade goods, jams and jellies, attic treasures, and wear, infant and children's wearing apparel, women's notions and assorted Christmas items.

Rd.; Mrs. Barbro Simmons of South St., Coventry; John J. White, property at 31 Pioneer Circle, Coventry; and Mrs. Ramon A. Peres of Burnt Hill Rd., Hebron.

Church Choir To Present Pops Concert

The Chancel Choir of the South United Methodist Church will present a pops concert next Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in Cooper Hall.

Joanne Thulin, president of the choir, has announced that due to the success of previous concerts, there will be two performances.

MHS Booters End Season; Record 11-3

What was supposed to be a rebuilding season for the Manchester High School team ended last Friday when the Indians dropped a 2-1 decision to Concord High of West Hartford in the quarterfinals of the CIAC class 1 tournament.

The red and white closed out their regular season with an 11-3 record. The losses were at the hands of Wetherfield, 2-0; Concord, 2-1; and Westport Staples, 1-0. Their 10-2 record in the CIAC was good for second place behind Westport Staples, and earned them the number seven seed in the state tournament.

The tribe's first tournament assignment was home against Weaver of Hartford before a fine crowd on Election Day. The bookers continually threatened Weaver goal, but were unable to score until sophomore sensation Bill Stimpone rammed a shot into the upper left corner with just over seven minutes left in the second stanza.

The tempo of the game remained in Manchester's favor in the second half, as they added two more goals. With three minutes remaining in the third quarter, "The Booters," Steve Werberner, ripped the net with his eighth goal of the season. And in the game's warning moments, John "Red" Herd drilled off a fireball that studded the net and made the final score 2-0.

The victory advanced the Indians to the quarterfinals against third ranked Concord, and they were high as a kite, seeking revenge for an earlier loss. They jumped off to an early 1-0 lead when Werberner drilled some of his career early in the second period. However, the Chieftans were not to be denied, tying the score later in the same game, when Doug King, on a breakaway, rifled a shot past Manchester goalie Brad Strueter late in the third quarter.

The Indians went home disappointed, but they held their heads high and with good reason. In 16 games they tallied 62 goals while allowing their opponents a scant 12, and never more than two in any one game. Good as this year's team was, next year's team shows signs of being even better. Returning to the front line is Mike (70) with 14 goals this year and the promise of becoming one of the state's premier players. In next two years. Also returning are Herd (72) and Chris Saunders (78). Fulbacks were Pete Lawrence (77) and Mike Belmont (78), and at the goal will be either Gary Carlson (78) or Bob Badger (72).

However, they will have a huge task facing them trying to replace these seniors. Seniors performed so well this year: Fulbacks Roger Talbot, who shook off a painful ankle injury that hampered him for the entire season and was the fastest man on the team despite it; Bob "Hard-Head" Husk, who always gave 110 per cent and who backfilled whenever Talbot was out; and Carl Swartz, who was the team's top scorer. At halfback were John Mayday and Carlos Barrios. Mayday's season was one of severe leg injury obtained during the summer, and changed from center forward to center halfback. He adapted quickly to the new position and added a goal to his tally. Barrios was a defensive stalwart, and his leadership was invaluable. In the defense, Steve Werberner was a force to be reckoned with. He was the team's top scorer, and his leadership was invaluable. In the defense, Steve Werberner was a force to be reckoned with. He was the team's top scorer, and his leadership was invaluable.

Cross Country Finishes Third in the CCIL

The Manchester cross country team defeated its last four opponents of the season to finish a solid third place in the CCIL.

In the CCIL Field Day held at Central Connecticut State College, Manchester placed third behind first place Platt and Maloney. The Platt squad was undefeated this year in league competition.

MHS's Steve Gates (71) ran a strong third only seven seconds off the pace. Gates was defending champion and record holder on last year's course. Round trip of the broadway municipal course was Jim Geyer (72), Jerry Geyer (72), 29th; Bill Krause (72), 29th; Jeff Geyer (72), 29th, and Dick Crutis (72), 29th.

The Manchester Ladies ran into tough competition in the 1970 team that was not Manchester High's best. It will be one that they will always remember. "Strut"

New York Trip

Spirits were high despite the rain last Wednesday, as some 50 Pattern of Human Behavior students left for New York City from the MHS parking lot.

At the MHS parking lot, the group was met by a group of about 110, the group approximately each went to their separate work, demonstrating the ability to accept ideas. Bob would like to suggest the possibility of having the senior class hold a class action, and would like to see that any function planned by the class be well attended, even if only a small group participates.

Smiley Park and sent most of the 1,000 residents of nearby Running Springs fleeing to safety as flames swept down canyon.

The flames also forced some 600 persons to leave the San Manuel Indian Reservation, a housing tract of 50 homes in the $30,000 to $60,000 bracket in the town of Highland, about five miles west of San Bernardino and some 60 miles east of Los Angeles.

The cause of the blaze, which began in the San Bernardino National Forest, was unknown, fire officials said.

San Bernardino, Calif. (AP) — A football-shaped fire 20 miles from tip to tip blazed in brush and timberland west of here today, forcing almost 2,000 persons to flee from four towns and an Indian Reservation.

It was the worst of five brush fires burning in Southern California. The blazes were whipped up after they started Friday by furnace-dry "devil winds" which gusted in from the desert and reached 82 miles an hour at times.

More than 36,000 acres were blackened by the fires and three homes, a house under construction and a barn were destroyed. Numerous minor injuries to fire fighters were reported.

The biggest fire, near Bear Creek, forced the evacuation of 600 persons to the ranching community of Fredonia.
