ELJEM SPEAKING

from LUTZ JUNIOR MUSEUM

Weather has always been a 10,000 weather reporting stations strategically located around the world. Some are operated by people, but others are complex instrument packages that automatically send information from the ocean or from a wind-swept mountain peak. Still, other weather information is automatically radioed to earth from satellites, rockets and high-altitude balloons. The most sophisticated electronic landing based on their own observations have a variety of instruments on board. From the old-time aneroid barometer to the modern electronic devices, the meteorologist's weather forecast is primarily based on the movements of these air masses and his knowledge of these movements tell him what the weather will be.

Ticket Fraud Rocks Trinity Concert Plan

HARTFORD (AP) — Counterfeit tickets to a Jefferson Airplane rock concert have thrown the whole question of such musicals at Trinity College up in the air.

College spokesmen said Friday a concert by the Jefferson Airplane scheduled for Tuesday has been canceled because of about 1,000 fake tickets in circulation.

Roy Dudley, a Trinity trustee and an organizer of the concert, says counterfeiting Sunday night to help map plans for future rock music programs—if any—at the college.

Earlier he had said that "most people are beginning to get wise about the implications" of ticket counterfeiting.

Two of the two seasons of the Tuesday concert was to have been sold to about 2,000 people. The college spokesman said one season was sold out and the other about half sold.

Police, who made the arrests Saturday night, said the men and tried to get into a rock music performance without paying.

Court Backs California On Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld Monday a federal court ruling that California's welfare rules are constitutional.

The court, without explanation, refused to hear two Santa Clara men who claimed their full-time jobs did not produce income to feed their children adequately or clothe them properly.

The fathers not working, the families would have qualified for welfare under the California regulations "don't work rules" as a result.

Turned down in the case were John C. Macles, a father of 10 who works as a guard, and Francisco Taria, a father of 13 who is an agriculture worker.

Last February a three-judge federal court in San Francisco upheld the California regulations. The Supreme Court's ruling is the final word on the matter.

The cut-off level in California for working parents is $120 a month. In California, a parent must be able to support his family on that amount. If not, the parent is eligible for welfare.

In other actions today, the court:

- Agreed to review the 1968 South Georgia desegregation plan.
- Turned down the state of Pennsylvania in its effort to reverse an order which freed a convicted robber who was identified in the victim through photographs and a one-way mirror.
- Refused a hearing to a New York man who sought to have a nationwide shipbuilding ban lifted.
- Agreed to review a New York law that allows a man to sue a woman for adultery.

INSURANCE EXPERT SHOULD MAKE SLAM

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"I think you should use this hand in your column," said one of the opponents. "After all, Sandy Keseler is an insurance man, and the right play virtually assures the defeat of Keseler."

Nothing about the hand had just played but discouraged for a few minutes, with good reason. Keseler's hand was a strange attitude, since the hand was a very good one.

West led the queen of spades, and Keseler won with the king in the South hand. He drew two rounds of trump with the king and ace.

Well, you can see how a top-flight insurance man would play the hand. He would leave one trump out for two tricks in order to take the ace of diamonds and run a low diamond.

That's what Keseler did. He drew the last trump. He is in position to dummy the queen of diamonds and run a low diamond. He would have to be a dummy to do that.

Perhaps you need more of a knowledge of insurance to play such hands properly. If you do, you would have seen that the diamonds were going to break.

Hasse Falls

South goes down if he is too hasty to draw the trump. A man who knew nothing about insurance might start by drawing three rounds of trump. He would cash the ace and king of diamonds, but the bad diamond break would defeat him. He could ruff one diamond and get to dummy by ruffing a heart with the fourth trump. He would have to be a dummy to do that.

Hoover Gives His Ratings On U.S. Attorneys General

me money out of my pocket to continue."

The FBI director said that "right after the bill comes too close to the FBI, we will have to call in the national police force, something which he has opposed since 1954 when he became the director."

"The President said, 'stand by your guns.' I don't speak to Bobby Kennedy, but I speak to you months he was in office." That was in 1964.

The FBI has a total strength of 18,000 and will get an additional 3,000 agents under provisions of the 1970 omnibus Crime Control Act. It has been widely believed that these additional agents will be used on colleges, campuses, where the bureau now has jurisdiction over bombings and arson to most buildings.

Hoover called this concept "absolutely untrue. He said that the extra agents would be scattered through the bureau for a variety of duties, not even expanding federal jurisdiction in bombings of federally financed buildings and other areas of certain types of gambling a federal office inside a state's borders.

He said he recently wrote former Justice Abe Fortas a letter following the federal level Fortas criticized using undercover FBI agents on campuses.

Hoover said that he would cover FBI agents on campuses, and that agents will only go on campus to investigate actual bombings.

Threats of bombings or arson, he said, would be taken over by state police or local police to investigate.

Sometimes, Hoover said, the Hoover blamed college administrators and faculty members for a small group of students for the wave of campus disruptions.

Some faculty are "hippies," he said. "Ninety per cent of the students want an education and faculty members are encouraged by some of the faculty."

Campus disruption would stop, he said, "if college presidents had the courage and guts to expel ruffians from their schools. I have seen a list of hippies who are encouraged by some of the faculty."

Most college administrators, he said, are soft. "They come through the academic process, and there is nothing serious about an intellectual. They're soft and they don't want to accept responsibility."

He added that the "people shouting the most are those that do not believe in tolerance."

It is true, he said, that students often haven't been able to make their views known to college administrators, trustees and other governing bodies. He said he has urged that students should vigorously make their views known without disruption and intolerance.

The Director said he was disappointed to read in various publications that the FBI conducted various things about last spring's shootings at Kent State University in Ohio. "The FBI never recommended any arrests or draws conclusions," he said. "We are a fact-finding agency."

He said his contacts with the FBI are "always hated to sit behind a mahogany desk" when his men were in action in the field.

He said that on one raid he noticed an agent who answered the command to advance by going in the opposite direction, punishing "the man who is wrong," Hoover said. "He was just not made the stuff for an FBI agent. Of course, I got rid of him immediately."

Hoover, who will be 76 in January, was relaxed and hearty during a rare interview in his office that lasted about two hours in an attempt to answer questions.

Hoover said that despite the widespread belief that the FBI constantly wraps, these days are only about 40 taps authorized by the attorney general for national security cases. All other wiretaps are court-authorized and being used of actively, especially in gambling cases.

Hoover recalled that during the 1950s he was in charge of intelligence official in Washington who didn't have the authority to tap. He said he urged George Tom Clark, who was then attorney general, to ask President Truman to curtail wiretapping, except upon approval of the attorney general.

During this period, Hoover said the late columnist Drew Pearson accused him of tapping. Hoover said he was not tapping, but he did not personally file Pearson's denials of the allegation, but it is checked on it after Pearson left the increasing danger to his office.

State Man Jailed As Ringleader Of Shoplifter Gang

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A Connecticut man who pleaded guilty to four counts of theft in connection with a shoplifting ring was sentenced Monday to six months in jail. Two women companions were placed on probation.

William C. Moir, 48, who pleaded guilty to the thefts, was placed on probation for two years in addition to his six-month term in the house of correction.

Carolyn Lewis, 33, and Patricia Howers, 48, both of Hartford, arrested Nov. 7 with Moir as they drove away from a suburban shopping center in nearby Storrs, were placed on probation for one year.

Store officials said they became suspicious because of the three loitered in the store. On the back seat of the car was a bag containing $1,000 worth of clothing, including two men's suits valued at $300 each.

An airline receipt found on Moir led to the discovery of a $1,000 cache of stolen merchandise in the home of a man in Hartford, police said. The man was arrested.

Authorities said it appeared that Moir had been shipping merchandise stolen in the Chicago area to Hartford for resale later.

Fardus and his 27-year-old brother, John, are charged with bank robbery and other counts in connection with the series of explosions that injured 26 persons and heavily damaged the Danbury police headquarters, Union Savings Bank and a shopping mall.

Fardus' lawyer contends the defendant is incompetent to stand trial. Zampano said Monday that Fardus was competent to stand trial to authorize secretaries to wear pants suits to work.

"We figured that, in terms of legislative protection, replacing jail with psychiatric care would be a better idea," said Fardus' lawyer, George Firestone, the committee chairman.

U.S. Court Orders UAC Supply List of Workers

NEW YORK (AP) — The 2d circuit court in recent cases involving the UAC Supply List of Workers has ruled that United Aircraft Corp. of America and Standard Corp. must hand over the list of names and addresses of workers to a union that has accused the company of "violating" upon workers' union.

The court ordered enforcement of a National Labor Relations Board ruling that the company had refused to comply with the list of names to be given to the union.

"In view of the wide dispersal of employees homes, the court needs an effective means of communication."

Bolton Principals Outline New Staffing Needs

Proposals outlining staffing needs for 1971-72 at the three Bolton schools were presented to the Board of Education at its meeting last week by the three principals.

The report from the elementary school projected the need for a maximum of 22 teachers for kindergarten through grade 6.

At least one more kindergarten section will be required. Additional sections may also be needed in grades 4 and 5, making a total of two more full-time teachers and one part-time.

No staff changes are anticipated in the major subject areas of grades 7 and 8.

In addition to staff requirements, the principal reported that many suggestions for improving existing programs.

In the area of grade education, the need of a course of study with sequential patterns of instruction was stressed. It was felt that such a course should be correlated with other areas of the curriculum. A budget allocation to purchase the necessary instructional materials was requested.

The report recommended that all teachers be granted released time once a month for in-service programs. On these days, pupils would be dismissed early.

It was suggested that one period per week be allocated for club activities which would include such interests as band, art, music, science, and chess, and council and singing.

A health and safety program for kindergarten through grade 8 was recommended, with Grades 7 and 8 receiving a combined course of health, guidance and family life.

Expansion of the physical education program was also suggested.

The report expressed dissatisfaction with the present location of the principal's office in the Center School.

It states that the principal is unable to feel and observe the pulse of activities throughout the day.

A suggestion that teacher-aid be engaged at each grade level to assist with exceptional children is offered in the report.

The marking and grading systems presently being used in kindergarten through grade 8 will need in-depth exploration, according to the report.

The high school report projects an increase of approximately 10 percent in the student body. This would require one additional fulltime teacher.

It was also recommended that teachers of industrial arts, home economics, art and music be available at the high school full-time. This will enable many interested students to make greater use of the special facilities in these areas.

Scheduling full loads for the teachers in these departments will hold a public hearing tomorrow night at 8 at the town hall to hear the application of Lawrence Piano for a gasoline service the Center and High Schools are also needed, the report concluded.

The Board of Education will

Yule Tour

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This year's Christmas tour for U.S. servicemen abroad will be No. 20 for comedian Bob Hope.

Hope and his company plan to leave Dec. 14 for a two-week swing which will include stops in England, West Germany, the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, Thailand, South Vietnam, Korea and Alaska, a spokesman said Monday.

It will be Hope's seventh consecutive Christmas in Vietnam and his 29th year of entertaining U.S. service men.

Clayton held a public hearing on the requested hike last Tuesday. He said he reviewed the Blue Cross figures and found the increase was justified.

Blue Cross blamed inflation and rising hospital costs for the increase. The smaller group was shown to have experienced a loss of $2 million between December and last September. Blue Cross said it was spending $1.11 for every dollar received from the subscribers in this group.

Until the last session of the General Assembly passed a "market rating" law, all Blue Cross subscribers were rated as if they were members of a single group. Under the new law, the membership was divided into four groups for rating purposes.

Large groups of 250 or more contracts had their rates increased in rates over and above the 15 percent increase requested last August.

The State Public Utilities Commission has still not ruled on the request for the first increase.

At a public hearing Monday, CNG officials said they needed the extra 64 per cent to pay for the additional cost of gas to be purchased from the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co. effective March 1, 1971, added payroll costs, effective Jan. 1, 1971, added cost of postage effective March 1, 1971 and an increased payroll tax effective Jan. 1, 1971.

CNG President Robert H. Wilton said the company also needed the money to attract long term financing for a $45 million construction program.

The company's utility plant is now worth $47 million and serves 100,349 customers in Hartford, New Britain and 17 surrounding towns.

Blue Cross Group Cost Gets Boost

HARTFORD (AP)—Connecticut Blue Cross rates for groups with 100 subscribers or fewer will increase an average 31 percent on Jan. 1.

State Insurance Commissioner Robert F. Clayton approved the increase Monday. About 125,000 of a total of 715,000 Blue Cross contracts are affected.

This 100-member or fewer group is the only group affected. Over 65 plans and individuals who pay direct are not affected.

Week of Hunting In Vermont Fatal For Two Nimrods

GRANVILLE, Vt. (AP)—Two men died and four were wounded during the first week-end of this year's 16-day deer hunting season in Vermont.

State police said Henry M. Dobeck, 28, of Leavenworth, Mass., was killed when shot in the head Sunday at Granville.

The shooting was reported at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, but did not begin until Sunday morning.

At least four hunters were wounded, three by other hunters and one who shot himself in the foot. All were listed in satisfactory condition.

Dobeck was the first hunter killed in Vermont since the 1968 season. There were no hunters fatally wounded during the deer season last year.

Water Treatment Fund Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Water Quality Administration Monday approved a $100,000 grant offer to the town of Groton, Conn., for a waste water treatment plant.

The grant is part of a $1.5 million program approved by the House.

Passed 380 to 10 Monday, the measure, costing $6.8 million the first year, would provide up to $175 monthly for an estimated 2,800 votes and children for as long as 36 months.

Home construction or purchase loans would also be guaranteed or made direct to the bill, which now goes to the Senate.

Blaze at Church Called Suspicious

WEST HAVEN (AP)—A blaze which seriously damaged the First Congregational Church here Sunday was of suspicious and undetermined origin, fire officials said.

The Rev. George Millie and the fire was contained in a parlor lounge but that smoke and water damaged other parts of the church complex. He called the damage "extensive," but said he could not give a dollar estimate of the loss.

The blaze set off an alarm about 3:45 a.m., calling some 75 firefighters out into the early morning rain. The church was pushed a button—no string attached.

Natural Gas Company Asks New Rate Hike

HARTFORD (AP)—The Connecticut Natural Gas Corp. is seeking a 6.4 per cent increase in rates over and above the 15 percent increase requested last August.

The State Public Utilities Commission has still not ruled on the request for the first increase.

At a public hearing Monday, CNG officials said they needed the extra 64 per cent to pay for the additional cost of gas to be purchased from the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co. effective March 1, 1971, added payroll costs, effective Jan. 1, 1971, added cost of postage effective March 1, 1971 and an increased payroll tax effective Jan. 1, 1971.

I WISH I COULD THINK OF SOMETHING CLEVER TO SAY FOR POSTERITY

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

Part of the summary of what happened in Connecticut on Nov. 2 was that the Republicans, for once, somehow refrained from indulging that famous political death wish of theirs...

The other part of the summary is that the Democrats, this time, acted as if they had developed their own will to lose.

There were many specific things Democrats did wrong, or let happen in the wrong way, or somehow neglected to manage properly.

The first problem, MCC President Frederick W. Lowe Jr. said, is to determine whether all desirable facilities are available at Hilling. In addition to classrooms, these would include housing, a charter member of the club.

The second, he said, would be the Nutmegger Camera Club will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the YW Home.

Dr. Lowe estimates that administrative supervision at Hilling will cost $2,500; and security coverage another $1,000.

Dr. Lowe said his projections for this year are that MCC will run a deficit of $200,000.

After Daddario had held the gubernatorial nomination, but while no one really knew whether the party had one or two organizations...

After study of both problems with the Board of Education, Dr. Lowe said, he would approach the MCC to provide the money for expenses that would be caused by a change of buildings.

Council member Edson Bailey suggested the possible use of classrooms in the Barnard building at 7:30 p.m.

Relative efforts to lease two off-street lots in the area, two have proved fruitless.

College Advisers Told Illing Shift Problems

Hearing Petitioned On 'Social Profile'

Mrs. Virginia Celinski of 93 Summit St. this morning filed a 320-signature petition with Town Clerk Edward Tomkowiak, asking the Board of Education to call a public hearing on 'A Social Profile of Nathan Hale and Lincoln Schools With Suggestions for Educational Program Changes.'

Tomkowiak said he would check the signatures against the list of registered voters this week. Under state general statutes (Sec. 10-282), the petition must contain the signatures of one per cent of the town's registered voters.

The Board of Education will be required to hold a public hearing on the petition within three weeks of certification.

The profile was prepared this summer by school social workers. In addition to an evaluation of the learning environment at both schools, it contained 10 family case studies, with parents, children, and addresses unidentified. Copies of the 18-page report will be available at the Board of Directors Aug. 18.

Public hearing at Wadsworth School. Since then, the Board of Education has asked that all have copies returned. All have not been returned.

Mrs. Celinski requested a private hearing with the Board of Education and was allowed to speak briefly in executive session after its Sept. 15th meeting. She then brought the profile into the open at the Lincoln School Open House on Sept. 22.

At that time, she read a statement that included several profile quotations that she considered degrading.

The petition, she said, has a threefold purpose: (1) To clear up discrepancies regarding the existence of the 'Social Profile'; (2) Verify its value as a report of the neighborhood; in the Lincoln and Nathan Hale School.

New Car Dealership Okayed on Adams St.

Joseph Schwab, president of S&S Buick, Inc., at 285 Main St., last night received unanimous approval by the Zoning Board to construct a new car dealership on the east side of Adams St. at New State Rd. in the Buckland section of the North End.

The approval was conditioned upon installation of a traffic control signal at the intersection which meets the approval of the chief of police (the town's traffic authority) and other town officials. Costs of installing the control—estimated at $7,000—will be split by Schwab and by William Thornton, owner of the Manchester Band and Gravel Co., which is west of the dealership site at the intersection with New State Rd.

Atty. Jules Karp, representing the applicant, told the board that Schwab's lease of the Main St. quarters will be up next February and that time is of the essence so that construction on a new, larger facility can begin immediately.

Karp said Schwab would lease the property from Joseph Farrington, who would construct the building. Farrington has option on the land owned by Alexander Jarvis.

The site is in an Industrial Zone just south of a railroad overpass and on a curve where Adams St. and New State Rd. meet. Opposite the site is the entrance to Manchester Band and Gravel, where the company's heavy trucks enter and exit frequently during daylight hours.

Karp presented Michael Demgens, a traffic expert, who testified that his studies of the area revealed a light is needed at the intersection, which has had 28 accidents over the past four-year period, for an average of seven a year.

If a light is put in, Demgens said, traffic conditions should be improved and the car dealership would pose no hazard.

He pointed out that Police Chief James M. Reardon has in past years recommended placing a traffic light at the intersection but that it has not been installed to date because of more pressing needs elsewhere.

With a light, Demgens estimated, accidents at the intersection should be cut in half. He recommended a three-phase signal be installed.

Atty. Karp said he was authorized to speak for Thornton as well as for his client, and that each has agreed to pay half the installation cost.

Karp showed an architect's rendering of the proposed dealership, to be a contemporary structure, and estimated that the business will not generate much traffic because it will be for car sales only. There will be no sales of gasoline, he said.

In other action, the board unanimously approved land of Atty. Harold Garrity et al on the southwest corner of Spencer St. at Hilltown Rd. for a new gasoline service station. The section is in Business Zone II.

Garrity was represented by his partner, Atty. Vincent Diana, who noted that the location will be near the future campus of Manchester Community College as well as the new I-84 bypass through Manchester.

Appraiser Richard Barry testified that a gas station would be the highest and best use of the property and would not be detrimental to the neighborhood.

Wesley Parks, owner of a new Shell Station on Spencer St., opposed the application, saying that the application met every necessary condition for a station site and that they could find no valid reason to reject it. "You can't create a monopoly for existing gas stations," said Town Planner J. Eric Potter.

Pupils Receive Test Results

This week, parents of pupils in Grade 7 of Bennet and Hill Junior High Schools will receive results of the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills, given in September.

Test results will be distributed to all pupils in guidance sessions, and a report will be sent home with the pupil. Parents are invited to contact their children's guidance counselors if further explanations are desired. They are Anthony Christou at Hill, and George Wilk or Joel Chaison at Bennet.

Iowa Tests show the pupil's growth in the areas of reading, language, work-study, and arithmetic. They are given to all Manchester public school pupils in Grades 3, 5 and 7.

Summary reports of test results are being distributed to school personnel to evaluate curriculum and individual pupils' needs. Local norms, which are a comparison of a pupil with other Manchester Grade 7 pupils, are available, as well as the national percentiles, which compare him with other Grade 7 pupils across the nation.

ACCIDENTS

A small chain collision at a red light on E. Middle Tpk. near Arnold Rd., yesterday afternoon involved three cars. The cars were driven by Kim B. Mullery of 361 Adams St., Ann H. O'Brien of Vernon St., and a driver of unknown address.

The resident of 23 Foley St. reported to police that someone stole a 1967 Buick Wildcat from his home. The car contained checks and cash receipts totaling $1,000. No sign of forced entry were visible on the house. The total value of the loss is not yet known.

Sometime last night, someone entered a car parked in front of a pool hall on Main St. and stole a case containing stereo tapes. An attempt to steal the tape player was unsuccessful.

During the last week a vacant house at 179 Tolland Tpk. was broken into, and an old chair was taken. A rear door and window were broken open, and the house was ransacked.

Yesterday morning, between 8 and 12, a car parked in the Manchester High School parking lot was vandalized. The buttons on the radio and a heater knob were bent, and a hole was punched in the radio speaker. Nothing was missing.

Police received a complaint from a woman at 14 Broad St. that someone in the parking lot of a Drive-In next to her house, broken into, and a heater knob was bent, and a hole was punched in the radio speaker. Nothing was missing.

Prison Profits Off

NEW YORK — Federal Prison Industries, Inc., which overcomes production of shoes, clothing, etc., in penal institutions, reported a $7.5 million profit in fiscal 1969 compared with $9.5 million a year earlier.

George F. Thomson of Rutland, a former Jehovah's Witness preacher in the Manchester area, spoke to the Manchester congregation Sunday at Kingdom Hall on N. Main St.

The 56-year-old minister, who is serving the Rutland congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses as a preacher in this area from 1916 to 1971. His wife, Ethel, is also an ordained minister and was active in the work of Jehovah's Witnesses at that time.

Over 100 members of the congregation heard Thomson speak on "The Bible's Timetable." Using a chronological chart, the result of many years of Bible research, he pointed out where modern man stands in the stream of time. Pointing to the numerals on the chart, he said "This is a marked year in the fulfillment of Bible prophecy. The worsening world crisis since then indicates we live in the Bible's 'time of the end' for the present wicked systems."

A native of New London, Thomson had returned to his home in 1906 and came to the Hartford area in 1916. For 20 years, he served as a "pioneer" preacher, a term applied by Jehovah's Witnesses to a special group of ministers. His evangelizing work extended into Manchester, Glensbury, Hartford and north to Windsor. In the South Windsor vicinity, he preached to workers in the tobacco sheds. He found that to be properly equipped for

Sock and Buskin Noting 50th Year

Sock and Buskin Drama Society of Manchester High School will celebrate part of its 50th anniversary this year with the presentation of a genuine melodrama, "Pure as The Driven Snow or A Working Girl's Secret," at Bailey Auditorium Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. The play, by Paul Loomis, is directed by Lee Hay. The cast includes (left to right in photo) Meredith Cowan as Purity Dean, Mary Staknis as Leander Longfellow, the stalwart hero, and Dan McLennon as Mortimer Frothingham, the black-caped villain. Sock and Buskin won most of the several performance awards it has received during the twenty years that the late Mrs. Helen Page Skinner served as the club's director. Approximately 100 students make up the club's present membership. Its officers include Lorraine Lombardi, president; Bob Jordan, vice president; Barbara Fee, corresponding secretary; Ken Berenstein, treasurer; and Meredith Cowan and Tish Hennigan, membership secretaries.

Work To Begin Nov. 30 On Interim College Campus

Ground-breaking for the Manchester Community College interim campus is planned for Nov. 30. The 11-building modular complex will be located in the northeast sector of the 100-acre Wetherill Hill station, 211-1/2 St. Hilltown Rd., tract.

MCC President Frederick W. Lowe Jr. told the Regional Council executive committee last night he had conferred with the low bidder on the prefabricated structures, National Homes Corp. of Lafayette Ind. The contractor expects to be in operation.

The trustees accepted, on Nov. 24 and begin utilities work on Nov. 30. Laying of foundations will be delayed until spring, National Homes, Dr. Lowe added, anticipates meeting its deadline, the start of the 1971-72 academic year.

A mutually satisfactory compromise has been reached between the administration and the Student Senate about sharing costs of administering the senate budget. Negotiations reached an impasse this summer when the Board of Trustees for Regional Community Colleges, unanimous to the senate, removed $5 from the $15 per semester student activity fee and added it to the service fee.

Under the agreement reached, Dr. Lowe said, salaries of the student activities director, his secretary, and an accountant will be shared equally by the senate and the state general fund. Money for varsity athletics will be allocated from a separate fund.

The Board of Trustees, yesterday afternoon, allocated an additional $12,640 to MCC after a review of statewide community college enrollments this year. MCC leads the 10-college system in full-time and full-time equivalent students, and full-time and total student contact hours; and is second to Norwich CC in part-time and total enrollment, and third in total contact hours.

The trustees authorized MCC to initiate planning new curriculum Monday. It included $50 for use in the area of library technician assistant; associate in the department of nursing; "extra domestic help" for eight children.

Sober To Handle His Own Defense

By JUNE LINTON
(Herald Reporter)

After being told yesterday by Tolland County Superior Court Judge Leo Parskey that his trial would be postponed, James Marc Sober, 22, decided to go ahead and act as his own defense attorney, with the permission of the judge.

Sober is facing charges connected with student disorders at Gutter Hall at the University of Connecticut last April. He immediately informed the entire jury panel that he was a member of the Communist Party, although not a member of the Communist party, he said he is a member of the Modern Progressive Labor Party.

The courtroom, which has very little space allocated for the public was filled with about 40 student supporters from UConn. Their continued presence in the courtroom was threatened a number of times by their own disruptive activities.

Once during the questioning of prospective jurors they broke out in applause and a number of times, lips unmoving, a low continuous hissing sound came from their ranks.

Judge Parskey told them the first time, "Make sure this doesn't happen again, or out." He said that hissing is not permitted, nor expressions of approval or disapproval, "this trial will be difficult enough with all of the legal problems without complicating matters."

A second time the sound arose he told them the entire section would be removed if it happened once more.

One man was evicted by a deputy sheriff causing a furor among the students and Judge Parskey ordered the man brought back, instructing the sheriff that he would decide who stays and who goes.

Sober is specifically charged with breaking and entering with violence; injury to a public building and to persons including security police and a University Dean; and assault upon two officers, Joseph Bonifino and John Francois. Sober pleaded innocent to these charges last July.

No Juror Selected For Seale Trial Yet

By MARG CHARNEY
Associated Press Writer

NEW HAVEN (AP) — The tedious job of picking a jury to try Black Panther national chairman Bobby G. Seale and a woman codefendant on murder charges continued Wednesday for the second day of the trial without selection of a juror by mid-day.

Seven prospective jurors were excused Wednesday morning by the judge for a variety of reasons—three of them said they doubted that they could be impartial and others were excused because of second degree commitments.

Three jurors were questioned Tuesday and all three were rejected—two of them on peremptory challenges.

There were several exchanges between Judge Harold M. Mulvey of Superior Court and the defense attorneys.

At one point Catherine Roraback, attorney for Ericka Huggins, asked a prospective juror if she would have difficulty deciding on guilt or innocence. The woman said she would.

"How can she know, Miss Roraback?" Judge Mulvey asked.

"She said it, your honor," the attorney said, making the juror get another lead. Two other German planes with 19 tons of goods were due tonight.

Other planes were on their way from the United States, Britain, France, Iran and other countries.

Aggressiveness in Courts Is Seale Prosecutor's Seal

By DAN HALL
Associated Press Writer

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Arnold Markle, the state's attorney for New Haven County, has said publicly that not enough criminals are thrown in jail. But he also feels that those who get jailed aren't treated well enough.

These criticisms coming from the same mouth could be considered paradoxical, but from Markle they indicate his concern with the problems of law enforcement.

"I don't care who gets credit for an arrest as long as the hoodlum is off the street and in jail," Markle was quoted as saying several years ago to an FBI convention in his typically blunt manner.

In another of his many speeches to groups concerned about rising crime rates, Markle criticized the condition of most of Connecticut's jails and said more stress should be placed on rehabilitating inmates to play a constructive role when they return to their communities.

Now a 43-year-old father of three, Markle rose through the ranks of prosecutors in a man-

Nixon Allocates $10 Million For Pakistan Cyclone Victims

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

DAKKA, East Pakistan (AP) — Swiss and German aircraft ferried in tons of relief supplies today and President Nixon allocated $10 million to the international rehabilitation effort for survivors of the cyclone and tidal waves that inundated a large area of East Pakistan six days ago. But there were complaints from Pakistanis that their government wasn't doing enough.

"The incidence of cholera is insignificant compared to other problems of relief here," said Dr. Wiley H. Mosley, chief of epidemiology of the cholera laboratory run by Pakistan and the southeast Asian Trust Organization.

A Boeing 707 from West Germany brought in 25 tons of tents, clothing, blankets and medicines, then took off for Turkey to get another load. Two other German planes with 19 tons of goods were due tonight.

Other planes were on their way from the United States, Britain, France, Iran and other countries.

At Calley Trial Witness Accuses GIs of Slaughter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A former Army photographer testified today that he saw American GIs gun down 20 to 25 civilians at My Lai, including a woman trying to run away with a baby in her arms.

"I heard firing and I looked over to the right and saw people trying to get up and run," said Ronald L. Haslerie at the murder court-martial of William L. Calley Jr. at Ft. Benning, Ga., "They just fell down," he added.

Haslerie said he first saw five soldiers standing in front of the Vietnamese civilians, "then I saw three of the GIs walking into the distance. That's when I heard the automatic fire."

He testified that the firing came "from one of the soldiers."

Calley is being court-martialed on charges of murdering 10 civilians in the village on March 16, 1968.

Meanwhile, at Ft. Hood, Tex., authorities for Sgt. David Mitchell, also accused of murdering civilians at My Lai, prepared to call as witnesses two other former soldiers who were at My Lai that day.

They are Paul Medsco of Terre Haute, Ind., who told a national television news program he killed 10 or 15 men, women and children at My Lai; and Elmer Haywood of Baytown, Tex.

At Ft. McPherson, Ga., attorneys for Capt. Ernest Medina, who was commander of the company that swept through My Lai on the fatal morning, continue to present new evidence in his behalf at an Army hearing.

The hearings in Medina's case were completed last August, but were reopened last week to hear the new evidence. Neither Medina nor his lawyers would disclose the nature of the evidence.

Study Shows: Bad-Weather Guidance Beams Lacking at Many U.S. Airports

By JAMES R. FOLK
DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writers

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the airports in the country serving scheduled airlines lack modern guidance devices to help pilots make blind landings in bad weather, an Associated Press study shows.

The government's failure to install the electronic equipment, a congressional charge, places air travel "on a collision course with disaster."

The AP study, made in the wake of the 75-death Marshall University football air tragedy, disclosed that more than a million passengers a year land at airports without bad-weather guidance beams.

Even the 747 jumbo jets—the most sophisticated airliners ever built—are slated to begin landing in 13 days at the Phoenix, Ariz., airport, which has no glide slope landing device.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., equipment to help pilots are whose House subcommittee has held hearings on airport safety, charged the Federal Aviation Administration has failed to set lower radar and instrument landing system (ILS) equipment.

"In my opinion, the nation's traffic control system is on a collision course with disaster," Brooks said.

High School Students Join Striking Hartford Teachers

HARTFORD (AP) — Striking teachers had company on the picket line here Wednesday when some 200 high school students, most of them carrying makeshift signs, walked out of school and joined their teachers.

Meanwhile, key union leaders in the three-day old strike were preparing for an appearance in court later in the day to face contempt of court charges.

School officials charged that the students who walked out of Buckley High School Wednesday morning were encouraging or doing so by striking teachers.

A union leader denied the charge and said teachers had encouraged the youngsters to go back to class.

School Supt. Medill Bair said a number of "angry parents" called him to report the action by students.

Era Marise, the school's principal, said he telephoned the parents of some students on

Connecticut Airports On List

Among the commercial airports listed in the latest FAA statistics as lacking instrument landing system (ILS) guidance equipment but still eligible for such a system are: Bridgeport, New Haven and New London.

Phoenix heads a list of 394 airports in the continental United States that also lack the glide slope landing device—including New York, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; New York, Bangor, Maine, and Helena, Mont.

House Gets Landmark Safety Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of a landmark safety bill passed by the Senate say the measure will become law in spite of a Republican threat to weaken it in the House.

The bill was sent to the House after the Senate's 93-3 passage Tuesday. House committee action is complete and final action is expected before the end of the current session.

The bill establishes the first national program in history designed to improve health and safety conditions for 50 million American workers.

The legislation is tied to reducing the 14,500 deaths, 2.2 million injuries and $1.5 billion in lost wages which occur annually in industry.

The Senate measure directs the secretary of labor to draw up within two years standards covering hazards that may cause death, injury and occupational diseases which shorten lives.

Labor department inspectors while determining where violations are taking place. An employer could appeal violation citations to a three-member commission named by the president.

The commission proceedings could be appealed to the federal courts.

The commission plan was introduced by President Nixon in his original bill. Its adoption Tuesday by a 49-26 vote represented his victory in a two-day Senate debate.

In general, the Senate measure would be grouped for example, by the AFL-CIO and sponsored by Democratic liberals.

Federal Investigators Quiz Key Men in ITT Merger

HARTFORD (AP) — Two key figures in the merger of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. with the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. were questioned by federal investigators Tuesday but refused to say later why they were questioned.

The questioning reportedly pertained to the controversial merger, but neither of the men questioned nor the Securities and Exchange Commission would comment.

The two men questioned Tuesday in Hartford were William R. Cutler, former state insurance commissioner who recently won election to Congress, and Joseph E. Pazzano, a Hartford lawyer.
