East Hartford girl has Herald's longest route

Kathy Perrone, 14, of 11 Dean Dr., East Hartford rides her 10-speed bike over six miles each day to deliver The Herald on her route. She took over the long route in August 1974 when a boy gave it up. It was too hard for him. "I don't mind it," said the girl now in her freshman year at Penney High School. Most of the time she files through her route on her 10-speed. In bad weather such as the December snow storms, she rides her brother's banana seat bike. Her brother, Tom, 12, fills in for

Panel plans hearings on Angola

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, said today his African affairs subcommittee will summon three top administration officials later this month so Congress and the public can learn about American involvement in Angola. Clark said there are "many unanswered questions" about covert U.S. activities in the Angolan civil war. "We'd like to know the truth, we'd like to know the answers and we think the people of the country have a right" to hear the administration's explanation, he said. Clark, who was interviewed on the NBC Today Show, said Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld and CIA Director William E. Colby would be called before the subcommittee for public hearings beginning Jan. 19, the same day Congress returns from its month-long recess. Clark said the questioning of Kissinger, Rumsfeld and Colby is necessary to put the administration's position on Angola on the public record. "We know that we've been involved in that war covertly in terms of supplying money or material now for almost exactly a year and yet no one from the administration has ever been before the Congress publicly... we have nothing on the record about our involvement," he said. He said the United States "ought to watch very carefully" the activities of the Soviet ships. But, he added, "there have been some 20 Soviet ships which have landed in Angola in the past. It's not something new." At a news conference Tuesday, Clark, who heads the Senate subcommittee on African affairs, urged both South Africa and the United States to withdraw troops and support for the two other warring factions: "For us to stay with South Africa will be a disaster," Clark said. "Our best policy is to get out and to call for others to get out." Clark said it would be "most helpful" if South Africa would pull out first. "One of the most difficult things," he said, "is that we seem on the same side. It makes it difficult for the African block and forces them to support the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola." Clark predicted that once the United States and South Africa leave Angola, acceptance of Soviet and Cuban assistance will wither away and the United States will be in a stronger diplomatic position to press for an end to all foreign interference. White House sources said Tuesday there has been some movement but no breakthrough in President Ford's attempt to persuade the Soviet Union to end its interference. The State Department said Tuesday Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was tentatively planning to visit Moscow Jan. 18 or 19 in search of a breakthrough in U.S.-Soviet strategic arms negotiations as well as Angola. But spokesman Robert Fumeth said no firm decision had been made to schedule the trip. Kissinger, who turned out Tuesday to greet arriving Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon, dismissed a report by Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif., that U.S. pilots were airlifting supplies from Zaire into Angola in U.S.-built C130 transport planes.

Eighth District asks court ruling on Buckland jurisdiction issue

By SOL R. COHEN Herald Reporter The Eighth District filed suit Tuesday against the Town of Manchester, in a declaratory judgment action which seeks to determine who has jurisdiction for fire protection in the Buckland area—the district or the town. Papers returnable Feb. 3 in Hartford County Superior Court were served Tuesday afternoon on Town Clerk Edward Tomkiel, in his capacity as the town's agent of record. They were served by Deputy Sheriff Clarence Foley. The plaintiffs are the Eighth District (represented by District president Michael Masaro and Acting Clerk John C. Flynn) and Lawrence Noone, a Buckland area resident who is representing all Buckland-area residents in a class action. An action filed Oct. 7 by Noone, also in Hartford County Superior Court and seeking a clarification of fire service jurisdiction in Buckland, still is pending. Indications are Noone will drop that suit, now that the new one was filed. On Oct. 16, Superior Court Judge Harold Mulvey rejected a request from Noone for a temporary injunction to stop construction of a Town of Manchester Firehouse at N. Main St. and Tolland Tpk., in the Buckland area. Town Manager Robert Weiss said Tuesday the foundation is in for the district and the contractor is ready to proceed with the brick work. Weiss estimated completion before the beginning of the new fiscal year (July 1). Town Counsel Victor Moser told the Board of Directors Tuesday night both sides are eager to expedite the matter before the court. He said he and District Counsel John LaBelle will file answers as close to the Feb. 3 returnable date as possible.

The town counsel and town manager declared that Town Fire Chief John Rivosa is still fire marshal in Buckland and that Buckland area property owners still must pay taxes to the Town Fire District, until a court of law decides otherwise. The suit filed Tuesday by the district has been welcomed by most officials in the town and district as the instrument for settling a dispute that has plagued and split Manchester the past year. The district fire department, under a contract with the town (at $250 per call since the middle of 1974), has provided fire service for many years in the Buckland area. A letter from Masaro and Flynn dated Jan. 2 to Town Manager Robert Weiss, reads as follows: "This is to advise you that as of Nov. 17, 1975 the district will continue to furnish fire protection to the Buckland area (as per the Nov. 17, 1975 vote to extend there) as being within its district lines and will not from that date (Nov. 17, 1975) charge the Town of Manchester for furnishing fire protection (as per the July 1974 agreement at $250 per call)." He predicted the trial date would be within two months of now and predicted also that the court's decision would be appealed to the State Supreme Court by whoever loses. On Nov. 17, in a referendum in the District Firehouse, district electors, by a 94 to 719 vote, authorized the district board to extend district lines into the Buckland area and to furnish fire protection there. The referendum was in reply to a petition from more than half of Buckland area property owners—requesting the fire service. Town officials, on the advice of the town counsel, rejected the legality of the vote by citing the town charter, and declared that the status quo hasn't changed. The district board voted to designate District Fire Chief Granville Lingard the fire marshal in Buckland, as he is in other areas of the Eighth District.

MPHNA requests more funds

By JUNE TOMPKINS Herald Reporter The Manchester Public Health Nurses Association (MPHNA) is asking the town for $25,000 more to maintain its projected services for the year. The increased need for operating expenses is due mainly to unexpected additional demands for services, said Mrs. Lois Lewis, executive director of MPHNA. The biggest problem, Mrs. Lewis said, is that there are more people now who are served for little or no fee and the operating costs are adjusted accordingly. Recently, the charge for nursing visits was increased (from $16 to $19, a figure which was reflected in the year's projected costs. Very few patients pay that amount, Mrs. Lewis said. The visit cost is covered by Medicare or private insurance. Medicare coverage in most instances. But when there's no coverage and the income is limited, the patient pays according to his financial means, or, if previous hospital and medical costs have been excessive, nothing, Mrs. Lewis said. There has been an increase in demand for well-child clinic conferences since the service was begun in 1973. The MPHNA has a waiting list which extends to March. There has also been an increase in mental health patients brought on by people who lost their jobs and have been affected by loss of family income, Mrs. Lewis said. The MPHNA's original request to the town was for $85,000, but it was granted $60,000. The total projected revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976, is $233,797.16 which is about $25,000 less than the projected expenditure. Included in the association's revenue is a United Way grant for $16,000 which is the most MPHNA has received from it. Town Manager Robert Weiss has suggested that the MPHNA meet with the Board of Directors Feb. 3 to discuss the budget request.

Steele pondering role in Reagan's campaign

NORWICH (UPI) - Robert Steele says reports he will head Ronald Reagan's presidential campaign in Connecticut are premature. "I suspect they (the Reagan campaign) would like me to play a role in the campaign," the former Democratic gubernatorial candidate said in a telephone interview Tuesday. Steele, a former two-term congressman who polled more votes in his district than former President Nixon in 1972, confirmed the role spoken of was chairman of Reagan's Connecticut organization. But, he said he hadn't decided which candidate to support in the fight for the GOP presidential nomination. Once that decision is made, he said, he would likely get involved. "But, there are no deadlines," he said. "I suspect they (the Reagan campaign) would like me to play a role in the campaign." Steele, buried under the Democratic landslide that elected Gov. Ella T. Grasso in 1974, said he was impressed by Reagan's campaign. "President Ford's campaign has weakened considerably in the last couple of months," said Steele, now a Norwich banker. "I think that's an indication of how drastically things have changed and how far and how fast Reagan has come."

Run that by, one more time

By SOL R. COHEN Herald Reporter Henry Martyn Robert, who wrote "Robert's Rules of Order" in 1876, probably would turn over in his grave if he knew about a happening Tuesday night by the Manchester Board of Directors. On the agenda was an "active" item tabled two months ago. It was for allocating $7,500 toward the cost of a 1,600-foot gravel road on Case Mt. The sum would be added to a matching $7,500 federal grant. Tuesday night, the board was told by the public works director that a new estimate brings the cost down to $5,000 for the town and $5,000 for the matching grant. A motion "to reject" the proposal was made by Republican Paul Willhide. It lost by a 3 to 3 vote along party lines. The item remained "active" on the agenda. Then, Democrat Robert Price moved that the item be "tabled." The motion lost by a 3 to 3 vote along party lines. The item remained "active" on the agenda. Then, a fourth Democrat was seated and Price repeated his motion "to table." This time it carried 4 to 3 along party lines. The item remained "active" on the agenda.

Delage pleads innocent to Weatherley murder

VERNON (UPI) - A grand jury will convene Feb. 4 to consider indicting Richard T. Delage, 31, of Thompson, in the 1969 murder of University of Connecticut graduate student Paget A. Weatherley of Milford. Delage pleaded innocent Tuesday in Tolland County Superior Court to the October 1975 abduction of a Tolland woman whose description led to his being charged with the murder of Miss Weatherley. Assistant State's Attorney Abbot Schwebel asked Judge Jay Rubinow to convene a grand jury Feb. 4 in the Weatherley case, and the request was granted. Delage has been charged with a different murder, the 1969 shooting death in Yorktown, N.Y., of Carol Segretta, a school teacher. He was brought to court Tuesday in institutional khakis from the Whiting Forensic Institute in Middletown where he has been undergoing psychiatric testing. The state institution treats the criminally insane. Delage was in court were "not guilty," when he was asked to plea to the second degree kidnap charge of the Tolland woman. His lawyer, Nicholas Sarantopoulos, of Putnam, asked for a jury trial. The kidnap charge stemmed from an Oct. 3 incident in which Delage allegedly attempted to assault a woman hitchhiker in Mansfield. The woman has not been identified, but is available to testify against Delage. State police said the hitchhiker gave them a description of a motorist who allegedly threatened her with a pistol, drove her to a lonely road and told her he would kill her unless she submitted. After Delage was arrested in that case, state police detectives George Lawrence and James Smith linked him to the death of Miss Weatherley, 23. She was last seen Nov. 13, 1969, hitchhiking from a restaurant near the Storrs campus to her apartment in Willington. Delage was in custody in the October incident when state police announced Dec. 10, 1975, he was being charged with the Weatherley murder. The same day, New York state police announced arrest warrants were lodged against Delage for the July 29, 1969, Segretta killing, allegedly committed when he was 18.

TBC okays some rooms at Iling

By DOUG BEVINS
(Herald Reporter)

Manchester's Town Building Committee (TBC) has accepted several completed rooms in the Iling Junior High School construction project and is beginning preliminary work on architect selection for another major school building project.

TBC Chairman Paul Phillips said today his committee will inspect Iling Saturday morning to prepare a list of the minor items to be finished in the school's renovations-additions project.

The only major work remaining at Iling is completion of the school's media center, new gymnasium and locker rooms, Phillips said. All the other rooms have been accepted on the condition that several minor repair and touch-up items are done.

Phillips said the TBC will meet the Iling architect, contractor and subcontractors next Tuesday to clear up the remaining work.

The Iling project was part of the $5.6 million junior high school construction program approved by townspeople in a November 1973 referendum. The other part of the program - additions and renovations at Bennet Junior High School - has been finished and accepted by the TBC.

Phillips said formal acceptance of school building work is necessary to set dates for starting a one-year guarantee by the contractor.

Also next Tuesday, members of the architect selection committee will organize to begin preliminary work on building project approved by voters last November: Renovations and additions at Bentley School and Washington School and replacement of the West Side Rec building.

The project, estimated to cost $2,373,000, hinges on availability of state grants, which will be decided in the next General Assembly session.

Phillips said town officials, although they can't start the project without the grants, are starting the preliminary work to get a head start on the project once grants are made available.

The architect selection committee consists of Town Manager Robert Weiss, Public Works Director Jay Giles, Building Inspector Frank Conli, three TBC members and three representatives of the Board of Education.

TBC members of the committee are Phillips, Donald Kuehl, and Richard LaPointe. School officials on the committee are School Supt. James Kennedy, and school board members Paul Greenberg and Earl Odum.

Reporting on other current town building projects, Phillips said construction of both the Regional Occupational Training Center and the town's Buckland Firehouse is on schedule.

Tells of increasing pressures

U.S. Rep. Christopher Dodd, center, chats with Robert Atwood, right, president of Manchester Rotary Club, and Jeff Jacobs, chairman of the club's program committee, Tuesday night at the club's meeting at Manchester Country Club. Dodd told the group about the many changes in Washington and the increasing competition and pressures there are from businesses, organizations and persons who are looking out for their own areas.

Four beer bottles strike cruiser

A Manchester policeman whose cruiser was the target of five gunshots in an unsolved incident last month reported another attack on his vehicle while on patrol Monday night.

Patrolman Gary Benson said he was driving his cruiser at Irving and Chambers Sts. at about 9:30 p.m. when four beer bottles were thrown at the car.

None of the empty bottles hit the cruiser, Benson said. One smashed in the road and the others landed off the road.

Three other cruisers were dispatched to the area to search for the cruiser assailant, police said, but nothing was found.

On Dec. 6 at about 4:30 a.m., someone fired five gunshots at Benson's cruiser as he was patrolling the Manchester Shopping Parkade. Three of the shots hit the vehicle. Benson wasn't hurt.

An intensive police search of the Parkade vicinity was unsuccessful that day, and further investigation hasn't turned up anything to date, police detectives say today.

In other Manchester Police activity reported today, arrests made or summonses issued included:

• George Glidden, 29, of 210 Mountain Rd., charged this morning with evading responsibility after his car struck a fence and tree on Mountain Rd. Police said they were also charging Glidden with disorderly conduct in connection with a disturbance at the police station. Court date is Feb. 3.

• Wayne H. Birdsey, 30, of 60 Seaman Circle, charged Tuesday with driving without a license and driving while under the influence of liquor, on Main St. Court date is Feb. 3.

• Charles J. Lebrun, 19, of 108 Carter St., charged Tuesday afternoon with driving while his license was suspended, on Spruce St. Court date is Jan. 20.

• Carlen S. Bufano, 21, of 61 Strickland St., charged Tuesday night with driving without a license, driving while under the influence of liquor, and disorderly conduct, on Broad St. Police said she created a disturbance when taken to police headquarters and when taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital for a blood test. Court date is Jan. 28.

Diane Wicks, a VISTA Volunteer, on the basis of her experience with Manchester's elderly this past holiday season, recommends that more knowledge of the town's elderly be obtained so that this year's program could be expanded and improved for next Thanksgiving and as well as Christmas.

Miss Wicks, along with Enes Moran of Manchester Community College and the Salvation Army, arranged for Christmas dinners to be delivered to elderly citizens who would be alone and in need of a hot meal Christmas day. On Christmas afternoon and the day before Christmas, Miss Wicks also visited and brought gifts to 15 senior citizens.

Opinion

Rep. Fran Mahoney on the right track

We would like to see the day when a sales tax cut proposal such as the one by State Rep. Francis J. Mahoney, D-Manchester, would stand a good chance of being enacted into law. Mahoney has suggested a cut from 7 to 5 per cent in the sales tax and a review of the new business tax as a means to stimulate the state's economy. He contends that many Nutmeggers are spending money for goods and services in neighboring states where the sales tax bite is less.

But we are afraid the bill he plans to introduce is in for some tough sledding. First, the sales tax is the state's key revenue raiser. Second, even though the projected deficit for this fiscal year has been pared from about $80 million to about $35 million, the state still has some tough belt-tightening ahead to balance the budget without cutting revenue as Mahoney proposes.

Auto renewal

Even though new car sales are recovering from the recession-induced slump, things may never quite be the same again for Detroit. Because of the high cost of new cars and the prospect of still higher prices resulting from inflation and federally mandated pollution standards, because of the conservation ethic or whatever, more and more people are holding onto their old cars or are buying used cars. The used car business is booming and bids fair to continue booming. There is also a vast secondary market in repairs and services. According to U.S. Department of Transportation study, over the average 10-year life span of an automobile, its owner or owners spend some $250 a year to keep it going. Since the automobile population is about 100 million, this means an annual market of $25 billion, not including tire replacements or accident repairs. One automaker sees the situation as an opportunity to

Jackson desegregation proposal has merit

WASHINGTON — Lift a New Year's flag to Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington state, a realist on school busing. If Jackson has his way, public schools in the state may be required to consider the prospects of "white flight" before they order busing as an integration tool. Here, it seems to me, is a proposal that goes to the only honest goal of school integration — the quality of education offered to all children, regardless of race. For the Jackson plan would preserve busing only as a last resort. He would allow only three-judge courts, for obvious reasons, to order desegregation remedies and then only after trying to anticipate the effect white flight from the public schools might have on the kind of schooling provided for black pupils.

Scene from here 'Why not?'

SOME mathematician has figured out that the average motorist spends 30 hours a year waiting for the light to change. My first reaction was to doubt it and to think his figures were exaggerated. Then, after taking pen and paper in hand, I discovered his 30 hours a year comes down to only 5 minutes a day. My reaction then was to think his figures were underestimated. After a little more thought, I recognized the key word — "average." So, for you motorists who know you spend more than 5 minutes a day waiting for the light to change, the thing to remember is that some other guy doesn't drive as much as you. He's singing, "My time is your time," and bringing you down to the "average."

Mrs. Neath defended
Republican Chairman Robert Morra might be able to persuade a few people Rep. Aloysius Ahearn is "trying to divert attention from his votes in the General Assembly" by his involvement in town affairs, but how can he persuade them Mrs. Joanne Neath was merely seeking publicity in being pictured at the turning-on of the North traffic light when the neither holds nor is running for public office? As for Mr. Ahearn, neither the Assembly nor his committees were meeting when the light was turned on, and he should not be expected to hibernate. He is always involved in issues of concern to his constituents. He did not, of course, take any credit for the installation of the light himself, though some was due. He was quoted as giving credit to Mrs.

Primaries: Red herring before the deluge?

ORLANDO, Fla. — Selected associates of Ronald Reagan are beginning to believe that the fight for the Republican presidential nomination will end — one way or the other — in Florida's May 9 primary. The feeling is that if Reagan wins in New Hampshire, then repeats the victory here, the public will thereafter abandon a President so weak. But if Reagan stumbles in either state, momentum will be lost against a seated chief executive, possibly for good. Though speculation, this kind of forward to the 1976 campaign is an indictment of the way the political parties choose their heroes. Clearly, neither Ford nor Reagan are popular enough for voters in just two small

Washington window: Economic moral dimensions

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Little noted during the deliberations of the nation's 250 Roman Catholic bishops last year was the bishops all but unanimous call for reform of the nation's economic life based on a policy of full employment. The bishops raised a key question in their discussion of the nation's economic situation: should economic policy be left to market forces and economic practitioners? The bishops said no. In answering that question the bishops drew on some fairly sage economists — notably Leon Keyserling, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors during the Truman administration. In a paper presented for the bishops' background, but certainly underpinning their call for economic reform, Keyserling made the startling assertion — startling certainly by 20th century standards where economics is considered a science and not a department of moral reasoning — that "our economic trials and tribulations of today and prospectively tomorrow are fundamentally the product of moral default." The "moral default" in Keyserling views lies in great measure in having the know-how to take the necessary policy steps but in "not exercising the moral strength to apply it."

Judge bars release of report of special jai alai grand jury

HARTFORD (UPI) — The one-man grand jury report on the Bridgeport jai alai scandal has been barred from release to the public. The restriction was ordered as part of a gag rule imposed by Hartford Superior Court Judge Simon Cohen Tuesday. It came after David Friend, 39, the former jai alai promoter and the central figure in the scandal, pleaded innocent to a perjury charge in the case.

Friend, of Hollywood, Fla., was charged with lying regarding his sworn testimony he paid the late Democratic Party Chairman John M. Bailey $250,000 for help in obtaining a gambling license.

Earlier Tuesday, Bridgeport Superior Court Judge T. Clark Hull reserved decision on a motion for a gag order made by Friend's attorney, Friend appeared before Hull to enter innocent pleas to three counts of larceny.

The larceny counts stem from charges by the state Friend submitted false statements to obtain bank loans to develop the jai alai arena, the world's largest.

Hull set Feb. 18 as the tentative date for the jury trial chosen by Friend.

Friend was arrested on the felony charges, arraigned and released Dec. 17 in quick courtroom appearances in Bridgeport and Hartford.

In Hartford Superior Court Tuesday, Cohen granted a motion for a partial gag order made by defense attorney Jacob Zeldes of Bridgeport. It bars the release to the public of the special one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Superior Court Judge Harold M. Mulvey.

Mulvey was scheduled to present his report next Monday. He has recommended both the report and a full transcript of witness testimony be made public.

Cohen's grand jury order must be reviewed by Superior Court Judge Leo Parasky, who, as senior administrative judge, apparently has the power to reverse Cohen.

Cohen's order also forbids court officials from conducting interviews or discussing the case with the news media.

The revocation has been appealed, but the arena has been idle since its completion in November.

Emergency treatment only

This scene may be repeated many times in the Los Angeles area as more and more doctors close their offices in the malpractice insurance protest. Here fire department paramedics deliver a patient to the emergency ward of the California Hospital Medical Center. (UPI photo)

Malpractice rate protest spreading

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The growing strength of a doctor's strike has ended almost all elective surgery in the nation's second largest city.

Although public health officials continued to cope with the burden short of the emergency level, the impact of the strike by private physicians protesting the cost of malpractice insurance steadily increased as the walkout went into its seventh day.

The closure of doctor's offices and drastic cutbacks in staff at private hospitals threw a mounting patient load on public hospitals.

"Things have just gone bananas," said Dr. Marshall Rockwell, medical director of the public Santa Monica Hospital Center, where the emergency room patient load had almost doubled.

The Hospital Council of Southern California said the strike effects had spread to 91 of the county's 234 private hospitals, representing an increase of 20 hospitals over the previous day.

County health authorities told the Board of Supervisors Tuesday that with 3,455 patients in county hospitals — an increase of 388 since the strike began New Year's Day — there were only 315 beds left.

Administrators soon will have to discharge the less seriously ill to make room for incoming patients with graver illnesses, said health services director Liston Witherell.

He said all elective surgery — operations that can be postponed without endangering the patient — had been canceled at all public hospitals. Private hospitals already had eliminated most elective surgery because of the strike.

Surgery loads were down 50 per cent in one sample of private hospitals and decreased by up to 80 per cent in the San Fernando Valley, a populous suburban area where the strikers were particularly strong.

The county medical association set up a 24-hour "hot line" Tuesday night to aid citizens in finding doctors. Health officials maintained a radio network to advise ambulance drivers which hospitals had specialists on duty.

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., after talking with medical groups for months, said Tuesday that "after hours and hours of negotiations, no answer has emerged. We are not at a conclusion."

Brown appeared to be standing firm on his demand — rejected by the doctors — linking compulsory medical service for the poor in return for state aid to hold down the price of malpractice insurance premiums, which rose 322 per cent as of Jan. 1.

A man who refused to identify himself was being held at Manchester Police Headquarters today on charges stemming from an automobile accident and struggle with patrolmen Tuesday night, police said.

The man, who gave police several different names, was to be arraigned today in Common Pleas Court 12, East Hartford. Police said they'd ask for a high bond to keep the man in custody until they find his true name.

He is charged with making an improper turn and evading responsibility in connection with a minor accident on W. Middle Tpk., police said.

The man apparently left the scene of the accident, and was spotted by Patrolman John Maston on Hilliard St. at about 6:30 p.m.

Maston, who was on routine patrol, said he observed the man walking on Hilliard St. Maston stopped his cruiser and attempted to stop the suspect, but he refused and kept walking.

On 2nd Thought

By Jan Warren

Sincerely, Gerald Ford

The other day John ran into the kitchen waving an envelope in his hand. "Ma! You've got a letter from Gerald Ford!"

"Oh," I said looking up from the meal I was making, "put it on the window sill. I'll read it later."

"Later?" his voice was incredulous. "This is a letter from the United States!"

"I was about to reply that it was just another zeroed letter, one of millions mailed, when I looked at John's eyes. They were round and pleading."

"O.K.," I said. "Why don't you open it and read it to me."

"Dear Mrs. Warren," John began, in a voice two octaves higher than usual. "I'm writing you today to personally ask for your help in a matter that is of great concern to me."

"Wow," I said. "The president is asking for YOUR help. And look," he said, scanning the letter quickly.

"This is for real. He mentions you by name three times. See! Down here it says 'however, Mrs. Warren' and here it says, 'because of good Americans like you, Mrs. Warren.'"

John looked at me with an expression of respect. Then, with sudden inspiration, he licked his finger and rubbed the signature at the bottom of the letter.

"Does it smear?" I asked. "There was a doubtful pause. 'No,' said John. Then he brightened. 'I'll bet the president used one of those no-smear pens.'"

"Just then a friend of John's appeared in the doorway with a hockey stick under his arm. 'Look, I've got to go,' said John. 'You can read the rest yourself.' 'Wait a minute. What else does the president say?' I was determined to make this a lesson in modern politics.

Rec Department news

The Manchester Recreation Department is now accepting registration for the Water Safety Instructor Class to be held Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Manchester High School. Class will not meet Feb. 16 or April 12.

Registration may be made by telephone by calling the recreation office at 646-0010 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Class is limited to the first 30 to register.

The Rec Department is now accepting registration for the Scuba Class to be held on Wednesdays, Jan. 28 through March 31 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the East Side Recreation Pool.

The program will include exercises for flexibility and muscle tone; also jogging for cardio pulmonary development. The exercises and jogging will be indoors and all participants should wear sneakers and sweat suits.

It is strongly encouraged that all participants consult with their family physician before beginning a fitness program.

Those interested should register by telephoning the Recreation Department at 646-0010 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Participants must have an adult recreation membership card, which may be purchased for $8 at the East Side Rec before class meets, to join the program.

For those students providing all their own equipment the base charge is $40, and students must have a pass on or before May 15.

For students passing the course, there will be an additional $9 charge for the YMCA certification. First preference will be given to the first 15 Manchester residents to register. Minimum age is 15 years.

She knows East Hartford

Sheila Tuller stands in front of one of her news sources, the East Hartford Town Hall on Main St. Mrs. Tuller has reported town news for The Herald since June, 1976. She has lived in East Hartford since age one and is a graduate of its first high school. She and her husband Stanley Tuller Jr. will have been married 25 years this coming June. They live at 31 Wind Rd. with their eight children, Richard, John, Ellen, Maureen, Thomas, Anne, Carolyn, and Stephen. Her East Hartford stories appear daily in The Herald. (Herald photo by Barlow)

Public hearing set on Parents' Choice

Choice project will be explained to the Board of Education and residents at the all-day hearing. The hearing will be at Penney High School. Open Enrollment is scheduled to be reviewed at 9 a.m. followed by Parent Information at 10 a.m. and Transportation at 11 a.m. After a lunch break, the report on per-pupil budgeting including voucher calculation and school autonomy will begin at 1:30 p.m. Private and parochial schools will be discussed at 3 p.m. The public hearing where the public can question and comment is set for Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at Penney High.

Schools move back to basics

Back to basics was the word in '75 for East Hartford's students and teachers. Dr. Eugene A. Diggs, superintendent of schools, said he saw a more conservative attitude on everyone's part. "We're taking a hard look at basic skills and have a more traditional outlook than we have had in recent years." Dr. Diggs reported that money-wise, the budget increase was the smallest in the last 20 years. The board budget increase was 3.73 per cent, an unusual accomplishment considering the inflation rate. Several key personnel changes occurred in the school system during 1975. Dr. Bennett Plotkin and French Hey both assistants to the superintendent became superintendents. Dr. Plotkin heads the system in Bethel, Conn. and Hey has taken over a school district in Kansas. Sam Leone was named assistant superintendent in East Hartford.

Parents' Choice made headlines often in '75 after the board voted to study the plan with federal funds. The Parents' Choice staff has worked endless hours educating the public on the five components of the plan after many studies were made on every aspect of the project.

Diggs talks on Parents' Choice

SHEILA TULLER
223-4233

School Supt. Dr. Eugene A. Diggs says the Parents' Choice study has created "sort of a winning situation for the town no matter what the Board of Education decides."

The board is due to vote in the next few weeks on whether to implement all, some or none of the recommendations to be made by the study group Jan. 17.

Dr. Diggs, in a year-end summary of the voucher study, said the $387,000 grant from the National Institute of Education has given East Hartford the staff time and resources to make progress on a variety of goals.

"Most of these projects have involved moving the school system faster in a direction in which it was already moving before Parents' Choice," he said.

Dr. Diggs cited open enrollment, increased information to parents and greater school autonomy.

Thanks to NIE grant, Dr. Diggs said, more parents are aware of the three-year-old Open Enrollment program. This allows children to be transferred outside of their neighborhood school districts provided space is available and the parents provide transportation.

There are now 180 children in the program, one third more than last year.

News efforts made possible by Parents' Choice are: "Our Schools" booklet describing all town schools and all educational programs, an audio-visual presentation and several pamphlets, and the Parents' Choice Team workers. Dr. Diggs said these efforts have made parents more aware of the offerings in town.

In-service training

The in-service training program which is part of the Parents' Choice project has helped school staffs learn how to make more decisions on their own.

Twenty per cent of East Hartford's educators are in the training program. It seeks to help staff work better with each other and with residents of the communities they serve.

All this has enhanced school autonomy and has increased the capability of each of the town's 22 schools to meet special needs," he said.

Mini-grants

Another aid to school autonomy, Dr. Diggs said, was the $50,000 in mini-grants given to the staff at all town schools. These mini-grants helped develop programs ranging from a new student code of conduct at the O'Connell School to a pilot program seeking to prevent learning problems at the Silver Lane School.

Per-pupil budgeting

The per-pupil budgeting being developed in case the board decides to implement the voucher program can help the school system even if the decision is not to implement, Dr. Diggs claimed.

"By treating each student as a separate budget item," he said, "you can keep a closer watch on costs, control costs better, discover budget trends earlier and offer greater potential savings to taxpayers."

Better busing

Transportation is another area cited by Dr. Diggs as benefiting from the Parents' Choice study.

"We've already implemented new bus routes and schedules that have saved the town money," he said, "and our transportation consultant has suggested other cost-savings."

1975: A year of changes in East Hartford

Named Outstanding Citizens in 1975 by the East Hartford Jaycees were Maureen Timony, outstanding young educator; Louis Picante, outstanding public servant; and Henry Genga, the distinguished service award.

Other East Hartfordites in the news were Lawrence DePonte, Richard Deley, and Richard Veltri. All were appointed to the Board of Education during the year. All three won board seats in the November election.

New members on the Town Council after the November election are William B. Daley, Henry Genga, James Cordier, and John Finnegan.

Former Councilman Stephen Barron was named assistant Corporation Counsel.

Alben Anderson, Hans DePold, and Anthony Donatelli did not seek re-election to the council.

Donatelli was the Republican nominee for mayor in the November election.

The League of Women Voters prepared a historical map of the town in observance of the Bicentennial. Copies are presented to the Town Council and Board of Education by league members. Copies are made available for purchase.

Aircraft display

F Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, a division of United Technologies, observed its 50th anniversary in October with a display of historical and modern aircraft.

Thousands of people viewed the two-day display which was marred by a group of war protesters led by Philip Berrigan. East Hartford police took immediate action without disrupting the crowds visiting Rentchler Field.

Sport honors

In sports, East Hartford and Penney High Schools won honors in four sports.

The Hornet track team took first place in the CCLL and Penney High's cross country team won a first in the league.

Penney's swim team placed third in the CCLL and EHS's swimmers in Snowdragsville was named All American high school swimmer.

The EHS football team set a new school record of nine wins in a season. The ninth win was on the day after Thanksgiving when the Hornets beat the Penney High team for the second leg of the Hitt Trophy.

Jim Richards, team captain, was the most valuable player of the game and was awarded the Morrison Trophy.

East Hartford high players named to the CCLL team were Richards, Mike Antovich, John Crist, Bob Cooney, Mark Finn, Karl Grabowski, Ted Grabowski and John Tuller.

Penney players named to the CCLL team were Mike Noble, Ron Bally, Rick Brennan, and Bob Altmatt.

By a vote of 6-1 the Coventry Town Council passed a resolution which approves of the proposed modified corridor for I-84 the proposed route to be between Bolton Notch and the Flanders area of Coventry.

Its approval is subject to the following stipulations. First, the portion of I-84 between Manchester and East Hartford be completed prior to completion of this portion of the highway. Second, the number and locations of the interchange on this portion of I-84 be subject to the approval of the Coventry Town Council.

Third, the finalization of the highway's location be subject to approval by the council.

Fourth, the final route be located or engineered to avoid dislocation or significant impact on the South Street Cemetery.

The resolution further stipulated the completion of the highway would be in the best interest of Coventry citizens. Also, completion of the highway as far as Providence, R.I. would provide a positive effect on the economic development of the town while minimizing the negative effects on the environment and life style of its citizens.

During the audience of the council meeting, several Woodbridge residents spoke against I-84.

Mrs. Dorothy Wilmut, Mrs. Teresa Sandler and William Hunt all be affected by the highway. Mrs. Wilmut would lose her home and Mrs. Sandler and Hunt would lose substantial land.

The residents complained about the change of the proposed route to accommodate a certain few individuals and the lack of concern shown for those living in the area versus the concerns shown for those residing in the South Street Cemetery.

In a prepared letter submitted to the council, Mrs. Sandler said a certain few individuals namely Dr. Jack Byrnes, Dr. Homer Babigge and William Glenney received preferential treatment in the selection of the present corridor.

Also she wrote that the proposed corridor invades more wetlands, sanctuaries and scenic beauty than that of the original corridor design as well as the total elimination of numerous homes and a Christmas tree farm thus curtailing the livelihood of its owner, Hunt.

Jack Myles of Woodbridge Rd. was the only dissenting vote on the resolution to support the highway.

Myles said he was opposed on behalf of those residents who would be losing property and also due to the air and noise pollution he felt the highway would bring.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the council to the state Department of Transportation. The residents spoke against I-84.

Mrs. Dorothy Wilmut, Mrs. Teresa Sandler and William Hunt all be affected by the highway.

Mayor cites savings in '75

EAST HARTFORD

"Service to the community at a reasonable cost," said East Hartford's Mayor Richard H. Blackstone when asked to comment on the highlights of his administration in the year 1975.

Mayor Blackstone, who won a party primary and the November election to retain his office, said fiscal responsibility was the key to holding the line and maintaining a low mill rate even though taxes had to go up.

The mayor was proud to say 1975 saw the fruition of the Emergency Medical Service program after a couple of years work by the commission.

Eight East Hartford firemen graduated as Technician 2 and the emergency vehicle went into operation Oct. 31.

During the summer, the Housing Authority problems were made known and commissioners were asked to resign. Raymond Love was later named commission chairman by the Town Council.

An official letter of commendation from President Gerald R. Ford was presented to the mayor in July marking the receipt of $444,000 entitlement funds by the town.

The town's Bicentennial Commission also received funds in July to finance numerous Bicentennial activities planned for 1976.

Terry Blackstone, Bicentennial Commission chair, accepted the award from George Cyr, executive director of the state's commission.

During the year the local commission designed, executed, and distributed a town flag to be flown in observance of the nation's anniversary.

Judy and Kent skate for Olympics

BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

Judy Genovesi, 18, of Vernon, and her partner, Kent Weigle, 20, of West Hartford are in Colorado Springs, Col. this week skating in competition that could send them to the Olympic games.

The competition begins Thursday and ends on Saturday. Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Genovesi of 125 Dockery Rd., will be in Colorado to watch their daughter.

Mrs. Genovesi said she is not sure how many "dance teams" the United States will be able to send to the Olympics. She said it will be either two or three and if Judy and Kent hold the second-place spot they did last year, they should be going.

The skating team has won often over the past three years. In 1973 they took first place in the Eastern Silver and National Silver dance competitions and third place in the New England Silver Dance.

In 1974 they took first place in the New England Gold and Eastern Gold Dance competition as well as the West Germany Nebelhorn trophy and fifth place in the National Gold Dance and Skate Canada competitions.

This past year they were first place winners in the Eastern Gold Dance, second place in the National Gold Dance and fourth in the Skate Canada.

Judi, who was born in Manchester, has lived in Vernon all of her life. She graduated from Rockville High School last June.

Although she said she has always loved skating she didn't start to take lessons until the age of 11½. Watching someone else spinning and jumping on skates at a public rink led Judi to inquire about lessons. Soon after, she signed up for group lessons and began her skating career in a one-day-a-week junior session, she said.

After a few months she decided she would take private lessons and increased her skating time to three days a week. She continued on with a specialist in teaching ice dancing. The teacher was Hugh Seaman whom she said brought her all the way from the Dutch Waltz to the Gold Dance.

After skating for about one year, Judi said she began competing in Bronze Dance. She said she and Kent skated one competition together and they won it.

They then decided to try Silver Dance competition together and were happy to win nationals in their second year. From there they moved on to win many other competitions including one for the United States in West Germany.

Judi planned to enter the University of Connecticut this year, but college for her and her partner has been postponed. They are studying with a new coach in Indiana. Due to all of the traveling they will be doing in the next few months, attending classes would be impossible.

Judi said she took part in as many activities as time would allow while in high school. She received awards from the Girls' Athletic Association for her skating and was a member of the National Honor Society.

She said, at times, skating has affected her social life, "but it has been well worth it since it provides such a social life in itself."

"Two special honors that mean a great deal to me are a proclamation that I received from the mayor and the Town Council of Vernon and being made an honorary member of the Vernon Youth Hockey group," Judi said.

She is grateful to the people of Vernon who have "given me so much support."

"What does Judi do in her precious spare time? She practices gourmet cooking, embroidery, sewing and tennis. She said tennis is her newest interest and she loves it, but regrets she can't spend more time on it.

Judi said she feels good about her future and grateful to her past and present.

"The only concrete plans I have for the future are to finish college and perhaps to teach skating when I am through competing."

Meanwhile all of the people of Vernon are keeping their fingers crossed that Judi and Kent will get to the Olympics.

Marian Celio, town clerk, is seeking the names of persons who were residents of the town upon entry into the armed services during the Korean and Vietnam conflicts.

Dates of the conflicts were from June 27, 1950 to Oct. 27, 1963 and Vietnam from Jan. 1, 1964 to June 1, 1975.

Persons who served during this period or know of anyone from town served should call Mrs. Celio before Tuesday.

She can be reached at the Town Office Building Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The names of service men and women are being collated by Mrs. Celio to be placed on a permanent honor roll which the American Legion Auxiliary is planning to place at Veteran's Memorial Park.

The permanent marker will replace the present wooden honor roll.

Mayor Richard Blackstone said he plans to include comments from town citizens in his own recommendations to the Town Council for applications to the Community Development Block Grant funds to the state.

Citizens spoke Monday night at a public hearing conducted by the council.

The council will hold a special meeting Thursday, Jan. 15 at 7 p.m. to consider the block grant application.

Claims wanted

At last night's council meeting, on recommendations from the town council's office, claims were settled between Philip Wesler and William DuFour and the town. Both men were involved in minor accidents caused by road conditions.

A claim by Mack Hawkins was denied as council members felt there was not enough evidence that the town was fully responsible for the Hawkins accident.

Transit District

The mayor requested a transfer of funds in order to make a voluntary contribution to the Greater Hartford Transit District. The council approved the request in the amount of $5,758.30 based on 1970 population figures of 57,583 residents.

Richard Torpey, James Cordier, and Leslie Van Camp were approved as alternates for the Inland Wetlands Commission.

Neighborhood schools will stay open this fall

East Hartford
SHEILA TULLER
289-4283

After listening to parents and debating until midnight Monday, the Board of Education voted not to close McCartin, Second North, and Woodland Elementary Schools next fall.

Ernest Grasso, a school official, began the meeting by explaining the school housing plan for 1978-79.

The main reasons for the closing these three schools were the dropping enrollments in all the schools and the overlapping attendance areas of these schools with nearby schools. The students at these three schools would be least inconvenienced.

These schools were close to other schools which had room for them.

Dr. Eugene Diggs, superintendent of schools, explained the cost per pupil and the current school budget with these schools open. In five years, the savings of closing them would be $1 million or more.

The plan was a "moth balling" and not a permanent closing. The schools would be considered closed for only five years.

Kathlyn Falletti, president of the Woodland School PTA, said she was speaking also for the McCartin PTA and the Second North PTO. She asked for an extension of time. She asked the board not to close the schools too hastily.

She said each school should have time to show valid reasons why they should stay open.

Edward Montovani of Tolland St. said the neighborhood schools were the best for the students.

He said 12 months ago the board researched and found it was best for the students to keep the schools open.

Most of the audience appeared to be from the McCartin School area. Several times Mrs. Eleanor Kepler, board chair person, requested strongly the audience not applaud after every speaker.

Walter Miles, a budget-conscious member of the board, said it would be a "waste to let the schools sit idle."

Miles was in favor of basic education and cutting out frills. By frills he said he did not mean sports, male or female.

Richard Daly, board member, said the board should set up guidelines for best use of the schools. He Woodland School on Long Hill Rd. has the lowest student enrollment but also houses school system leaders.

The McCartin School in the south end of East Hartford is about 20 years old.

The Second North School built in 1909 is on Main St. just north of the railroad overpass.

Taxes due this month

Tolland

The second installment of Tolland property taxes is due as of Jan. 1 and must be paid by Feb. 1 to avoid paying interest, Earl H. Beebe Jr., collector of revenue said.

No second installment notices will be sent out for this payment. The second installment payment notice was included in the original tax bills sent in July.

After Feb. 1 interest will be charged on all delinquent taxes at the rate of one per cent per month from the date of the last payment, until all of the total tax is paid. The minimum interest charge is 2.

Beebe said tax collections through November totaled $1,679,083.86 or 52 per cent of taxes outstanding and due.

The Motor Vehicle Department has been notified of all unpaid motor vehicle taxes. Beebe said he has asked all new real estate property owners to contact his office for tax information if they have not received their tax bill from the former owner.

The tax office is located at the Town Hall, Tolland Green and is open daily, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Payments may be mailed to P. O. Box 152, Tolland, 06081.

Some people were acting rowdy. Mrs. Kepler threatened to clear the room unless proper decorum was maintained.

The board discussed the issue after the audience of citizens ended.

Resettled Mrs. Felatti said she has mixed feelings about the result. "I'm glad the school was left open. It's so close for my kids to walk to school," Mrs. Toffi said.

"And it's a great little school. Everyone knows the children's names." "But I'm worried about the town finances. Woodland does have the smallest enrollment. I can understand the concern for its cost," she said.

Aliens must report addresses

The annual Alien Address Report Program is again under way. The address report requirement applies to all aliens admitted for permanent residence who have not yet been naturalized, as well as to aliens in the United States temporarily. The only exceptions are noncitizens in diplomatic status and foreign representatives of international organizations of which the United States is a member, such as the United Nations.

There were 89,009 aliens reporting their addresses last year in Connecticut; the number is expected to be higher this year.

Forms I-53 with which to make the reports may be obtained at any United States Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office.

Willful failure to comply with the law may lead to serious consequences, as required by immigration officials.

The report is required even though the alien has not changed his address since the last report.

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Hello everybody! Well, I'm back home again safe and sound, well at least safe. It was a great trip in my Bachelor's Inn, with three of my pals. A little crowded at times, but fun for all of us. We traveled to the top of Vermont at Mt. Mansfield, and then moved over the border about five miles to Mt. Sutton in Canada. Back to play a couple days, and then we moved over into New Hampshire and to Mt. Washington. Lots of snow, cold windy nights, but good sitting even for a novice like me. Like always vacations are nice but it's always nice to get back home, even if it means back to work.

And work it was, because although I got home on Sunday, I forgot that on Monday we were registering for the Cook's Tavern trip. I happened to be glancing at the papers, and saw it in the column. So came Monday, I was up and away before breakfast to help our hard working Pauline Maynard sign our members. At the completion of the day, we had one bus full, and just starting on bus number two. Now the second bus will not go unless we fill it. You have a choice of five different meals to choose from, and the price is right. It's an interesting day out with plenty of fun and a good meal, so if you're wondering about whether you should go or not, stop worrying, and join us, you'll be glad you did.

We'll be taking reservations for the remainder of the week, and you can reserve a seat over the phone if you think it's too cold to get out. We don't usually take phone reservations; however, we have opened it up to everyone on a first come basis, and feel now we can take orders over the phone.

So here's a little rundown on the three trips, two set up by our good friend Jim Uccello, and the third by our good friend Paul Ryan. We'll tell you the trips according to the dates they will be available.

Trip number one: Florida for 14 days starting on Feb. 22. This trip will have many specials but Oscar Cappuccio, and Wesley Frost, 125; Bess Moonan and Louis Weber, 124; Samuel Schors and Vivian Laquerre, 123; Esther Fayetsville, Alexandria.

You'll spend five days in St. Petersburg, and two days in Orlando. Sightseeing will include among others, Wesci-Walki, Busch Gardens, Disney World, Seaworld, and a few special surprises. The price of this trip is based on double occupancy at $325 per person, and this price includes two breakfasts, one dinner, all admissions, and sightseeing, luggage handling and all taxes and tips except hotel maids tips.

New Orleans
Trip number two: 12

On this trip you will fly out of Bradley to Las Vegas, and spend the remainder of the day and evening at Vegas. The next five days will be spent aboard a Greyhound bus for a tour of Las Vegas. Zion National Park, and also the Grand Canyon National Park, where you'll find it a most fascinating experience, and take in many enjoyable sights. You'll spend nights in cabins with private facilities at the Las Vegas Marina Hotel upon arrival. Breakfast in the morning of departure for bus tour, and includes all local taxes, accommodations for four nights in park cabins, three meals per day from lunch the first day of tour to breakfast on the fifth day. Now the complete package for this will once again be figured out on a double occupancy basis, and the plane fare is still being checked out so as far as can be figured out, Paul thinks it will come to around $600. Now this will include bus transportation, and to and from airport, airplane fare, accommodations, at the Las Vegas Marina Hotel upon arrival. Breakfast in the morning of departure for bus tour, and includes all local taxes, accommodations for four nights in park cabins, three meals per day from lunch the first day of tour to breakfast on the fifth day. Now the complete package for this will once again be meal gratuities while on tour and a service guide throughout.

Give us a call

So there you are. Now all you have to do is pick any or all of them and give us a call as to your choice, because we will need to act rather quickly especially if there is enough interest in the Florida trip. More time of course for the other two trips. You asked for it, we're arranging it, so now the next move is yours. Call us real soon.

OK now, back to the action at the center and tomorrow we will be starting our pinocchio and set-back classes again at 9:30 a.m. After a tasty hot meal of corn fritters, roast beef with gravy, creamy potatoes, garden green beans with pimento, roll and butter, Creme D'Helene Souffle, and a beverage.

Then in the afternoon we will have the Assistant Town Council Thomas Prior, speak to us on the position of the town council, and how they benefit you and the town so come and meet our newly appointed assistant town council. On the program we will also feature Phil Brass showing the movies he took at our recent Christmas Party. This gives us all a chance to see Melvis and Santa again.

Jobless claims down

Claims for unemployment compensation filed in Manchester declined slightly in the two-week period ending Dec. 27, the state Labor Department has reported.

Average weekly claims were 4,175 in the latest period, compared to 4,189 in the previous reporting period. The latest total consisted of 174 initial claims and 4,001 continued

Social Security questions and answers

Q. My father died recently after a long illness, and I had to pay his doctor bills. He had Medicare, so can I get reimbursed for the bills I paid?

A. Yes, if the bills were for services covered by Medicare. You will need to file a "Request for Medicare Payment" and a "Statement Regarding Medicare Services to Deceased Patient." You can get both forms from any Social Security office, and the people there will help you fill them out.

Q. Once you start getting Supplemental Security Income payments, does it mean you'll continue getting them indefinitely?

A. Not necessarily. If you're getting Supplemental Security Income payments, your situation will be reviewed periodically by Social Security to determine whether you're still eligible. The program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled.

Q. My husband and I are going to move to another state in about two months. We both get Social Security checks. Is there some special form we have to fill out to give Social Security our new address?

A. You can report your new address on the change-of-address form printed on the back of the envelopes your Social Security checks are mailed in—or you can call or write any Social Security office. Be sure to give both your old and new addresses, including ZIP codes, and your Social Security numbers which are printed on your checks. You should report your new address as soon as you know it to assure uninterrupted delivery of your checks.

Q. About a week ago, I lost my wallet. My Social Security card was in it. How can I get a new card?

A. You can get an application for a duplicate Social Security card by calling any Social Security office. If you know your Social Security number, you'll get your duplicate card faster. It will be mailed to you.

Q. I've been supporting my grandson since his parents died two years ago, and I'll be retiring next month. Can he get any Social Security payments on my work record?

A. He may be eligible for monthly benefits on your record. Generally, children who are under 18 and dependent on a grandparent for support when he starts getting payments can get Social Security payments based on the grandparent's record if the children's parents are deceased or disabled.

Car sales up—but still poor

DETROIT (UPI)—Mid-December new car sales shot up 20 per cent over the disastrous period in 1974 but the U.S. auto industry still turned in its worst sales performance in 13 years.

Detroit's automotive executives said they were heartened by the strong showing which made the Dec. 1-20 period the best of the year on an annual basis.

American Motors was up 43 per cent, Ford up 43 per cent, Chrysler up 41 per cent and General Motors up 21 per cent. The same period in 1974 was the industry's worst since 1960.

The final 1975 sales reports, to be issued Wednesday, will show sales for the year barely topped seven million domestic cars—off 5½ per cent from 1974's sluggish pace and 27 per cent below the record 9.7 million cars sold in 1973.

CNG reports good supply

Unusually warm weather in the last three months of 1975 has added to the favorable supply position of Connecticut Natural Gas Corp. as the peak heating system begins, CNG Chairman-President Robert Willis said.

Weather during the three months was nine per cent warmer than normal, Willis said, meaning a savings of 300 million cubic feet of gas. The savings represents about five per cent of the period's normal use, he said.

Phone taxes down to 6%

The New Year has brought a tax decrease on our telephone bills, according to the Southern New England Telephone Co.

The federal excise tax on communications services dropped from seven to six per cent.

SNET said the decrease will mean about $4.5 million in annual savings to Connecticut telephone customers.

Topping the telephone directory...

One step toward success, an ambitious young plumber decided, was to take over the Number One position in the local telephone directory. He named his company "AAAAA Plumbing" and applied for a listing. Telephone officials turned thumbs down, so he filed suit.

"They have to list me that way," he told the court. "It is none of their business what I choose to call my own firm."

But the court upheld the telephone company. If this sort of thing were

Big photo event set at Caldor

Camera fans, bikini-clad models, photographic manufacturers and Miss Connecticut will be in the spotlight at Caldor of Manchester's annual photo jamboree, opening Thursday for a three-day run.

More than 35 leading photo companies will display the latest in equipment, supplies and techniques. Camera enthusiasts will be able to test the up-to-date apparatus with professionals.

Shoppers at Caldor discount department store, at the Burr Corner Shopping Plaza on Tolland Tpk., will be greeted by Mary Cadorette of East Hartford, the reigning Miss Connecticut.

Store Manager Ron Sederger said a special area has been created for the show, which runs Thursday from 5 to 9 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Among special features of the jamboree are:

- Bikini models, posing for camera fans throughout the show.
- The Berkey Camera Girl, taking free color portraits of photo enthusiasts.
- Exhibits of the successful Polaroid SX-70 camera, and the latest in sound home movie systems from Kodak, Bell & Howell, GAF and Sanyo.
- A telephone hot-line to photo firms in New York City, so customers can be given "instant quotes" on trade-in value of old equipment.
- A free check-up service available to shoppers wanting a camera "tune-up," starting at 7:30 p.m. Friday.
- Many special sale items in Caldor's photo department.
- Representatives from Argus, Asahi Pentax, Bell & Howell, Berkey Photo, Braun, Canon, Castle Films, Eastman, Kodak, Fuji, GAF, Haninex, Honeywell, Hoya, Kalimar.
- Also, Kenco, Keystone, Minolta, Miranda, Nissens, Niso, Olympus, Paterson, Peterson Publications, Polaroid, Ricoh, Sanyo, Sawyers, Saxe-Lock, Soligor, Unicolor, Unlight and Vivitar.

Commentary: Cold war moves south

RICHARD LONGWORTH BRUSSELS (UPI) - It's becoming fashionable to say that détente has been no more than a breather between two cold wars.

Whereas Cold War I produced 25 years of off-and-on tension across the visible and heavily-armed North Atlantic Treaty Organization area, the Middle East and the Indian Ocean.

That means NATO cannot act as a bloc to meet Soviet action in, say, Angola or Somalia.

So far, only West Germany has given even verbal backing to U.S. actions in Angola.

The 1973 war in the Middle East produced a crisis in Washington's relations with its allies, when all of them - except for Portugal, then still under right-wing rule - refused requests to give landing rights to U.S. planes carrying arms to Israel.

A recent NATO report spoke of Soviet strength in Guinea, Congo and Angola on Africa's west coast, its missile site in Somalia on the East coast, its growing strength on the Indian Ocean through Somalia and Aden and its improving ties with oil-rich Nigeria.

The report said the Soviet moves threaten Western shipping particularly off - around Africa.

Periodically, NATO officials suggest that the alliance counter this by breaking through its self-imposed southern boundary at the Tropic of Cancer and set up bases in South Africa.

NATO nations which oppose the South African racial system refuse to even consider this idea.

NATO also worries about the growing threat of strife - and the possibility of Soviet intervention in North Africa and the Middle East, at a time when NATO's own Mediterranean outposts are crumbling.

Campaigning at Dixville Notch

Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan flashes a smile as he campaigned for the Republican presidential nomination in Dixville Notch, N. H., Tuesday. (UPI photo)

Reagan's $90 billion budget cut in shambles

LITTLETON, N.H. (UPI) — Ronald Reagan's much-publicized scheme to trim federal spending by $90 billion appears to lie in shambles after its first extensive exposure to American voters.

Controversy surrounding Reagan's proposal seem to resemble the concern that erupted in 1972 when Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., proposed a guaranteed $1,000 payment for every American. McGovern's explanation failed to satisfy criticism during the Democratic primaries and he subsequently dropped it.

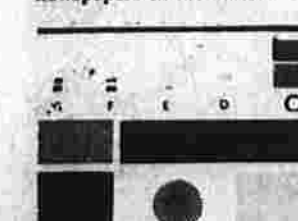

Three days of smiles and handshakes by Reagan failed to blunt persistent questioning on his proposal. It would transfer control of massive federal social programs to states, leaving local government with a decision either to pay for the programs or end them.

Backers of President Ford, Reagan's rival in the Feb. 24 New Hampshire Republican primary, said the measure threatens the state with its first sales or income tax. Among the programs were aid to families with dependent children, Medicaid and aid for mass transit.

"I think the average voter in New Hampshire so far, governor, is not completely satisfied with the things that you have said about your ... federal tax cut."

JUDY KUEHNEL
Higher assessments, sex education, a female mayor and the controversial arrest of a former mayor, all highlighted 1975 in South Windsor.

Assessment revaluation, which began in 1974 and carried over into the new year, was sparked with controversy when thousands of residents received higher assessments — some as much as 100 and 200 per cent higher.

For months the Board of Tax Review heard resident-complaints and, following the hundreds of sessions between the board and the irked residents, assessments were settled upon and taxes actually went down one mill; making South Windsor one of the few towns in the state to realize a lower tax rate.

Sex education, which has been a controversial matter within the town for well over a year, also spilled into 1975 and, coming in just under the wire, almost splashed into this new year.

The Board of Education finally finalized the new program which it approved last November. In the near future, students in elementary school will be educated in the Human Development and Health Education curriculum which includes sex education.

The recent municipal elections gave South Windsor its first female mayor. Sandra Bender was one-time deputy mayor and was highest vote-getter for two consecutive elections.

Days before Mrs. Bender's election, Public Works Director and Town Engineer Emil Lucek announced his resignation. That move also sparked a controversy when Lucek revealed his resignation was actually a forced termination by Town Manager Terry Sprenkel. Lucek claimed he and Sprenkel had a "communications problem" over the years and that Sprenkel tried to usurp Lucek's authority.

The Town Council held private meetings over the incident in the end, released a bland press release aimed at giving the public the impression that all was actually well between Lucek and Sprenkel and that Lucek agreed to the resignation.

The night of Mrs. Bender's election she created a two-week controversy when she announced her choice for deputy mayor as Edward Havens, the fourth highest vote-getter during the elections.

Democrat Robert Myette, the second-highest vote-getter, claimed he was entitled to the position. Finally one Democrat, Michael Enes, bolted from the 5-4 Democratically controlled council and voted with the GOP to support Myette.

Election morning, former Mayor Robert Smith, who chose not to run this year, was caught taking Republican campaign signs.

The controversy which flared over this incident led to Smith's arrest on charges of criminal mischief in the third degree.

Smith later pleaded guilty, and was given a short probation period.

Industry declined over 1974. The town's economic developer, Robert Bruce, resigned to take another position. To date the town has not filled his seat.

Avery Brook continued to be a sore spot for residents subjected to the flooding conditions. However, help is on the way once the town completes the earthen dams planned for the troubled area.

New committee set up to study seniors needs

Vernon

A resolution creating a Senior Citizens' Advisory Committee was passed by the Town Council Tuesday night.

The resolution empowered Mayor Thomas Benoit to appoint the nine-member committee with approval of the council.

Appointed were: Charles Harlow, Sister Elizabeth Secord, Kathleen Rigney, all for three-year terms; Mrs. Tefta Norton, Paul Rosbka II, and Joseph Kristofak, two-year terms; and Joyce Taylor, Doris Stebitz, and Robert Rihards, one-year terms.

The resolution was proposed by Councilman Thomas Dooley who suggested at the last meeting of the council that such a committee was needed.

The senior citizen activities at the Senior Citizen Center are under the direction of the recreation department.

Dooley said his suggestion carried no intention to undermine the recreation director's duties but he feels the total needs of the elderly should be determined.

The committee will report to the council on its findings concerning the overall needs of the elderly.

The senior citizens have been in disagreement as to how the center should be run. One group petitioned the council asking they be allowed to run their own affairs. But another group is against the idea.

Dooley said he is not sure what their desires are

"and there is obviously some disagreement among those who attend the center."

"There are senior citizens who have needs beyond recreation and hopefully the Advisory Committee will get out and see what is needed," Dooley said.
