State

NEW HAVEN — The Rev. David Noble Bubar, 48, Memphis, Tenn., and Dennis C. Tiche, 28, Boyers, Pa., were convicted Monday on four counts of conspiracy to commit arson in connection with the March 1, 1975, firebombing of the Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant in Shelton. The jury continues to deliberate the fate of six other defendants.

HARTFORD — A two-tier system to control gambling in the state has been proposed to Gov. Ella T. Grasso by J. Walter Kennedy, her special adviser on gaming. The plan would reduce the political nature of the commission's composition.

Regional

CUMBERLAND, R. I. — A weekend explosion which killed one worker and injured 17 others at the Peterson-Puritan aerosol spray plant has been blamed on an explosive gas which flowed from storage tanks and was sparked by a faulty electrical switch, according to the state fire marshal.

MANCHESTER, N. H. — Gov. Meldrim Thomson of New Hampshire has sued newsmen Kevin Cash, author of the book "Who the Hell is William Loeb?" for libel Monday, demanding $375,000 damages. Thomson alleges Cash libeled him by stating he "took with him certain accounts" of the Brooklyn law book publishing firm for which he had worked, when Thomson moved to New Hampshire to found his own publishing firm.

National

TRENTON, N. J. — Authorities foiled an escape attempt and regained control of a wing in Trenton State Prison today after an 11-hour disturbance. One inmate was killed trying to shoot his way out of the prison.

LOS ANGELES — Doctors north and south of the Los Angeles area appear to be joining the 20-day-old physicians strike, spreading the walkout to at least three counties.

WASHINGTON — Red soda pop and other foods may never be the same again, as a result of a ban on Red Dye No. 2 announced Monday by the Food and Drug Administration.

SAN FRANCISCO — Defense attorneys are seeking to have the results of Patricia Hearst's lie detector tests admitted at her bank robbery trial, which starts Monday.

WASHINGTON — The economy grew 6.5 per cent in the final quarter of 1975, indicating continued economic recovery.

WASHINGTON — President Ford has asked chief federal mediator W. J. Usary Jr. to become secretary of labor, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of John T. Dunlop.

International

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, warning that Soviet intervention in Angola could damage U. S.-Soviet relations, arrived today in Copenhagen en route to Moscow for talks with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Palestinian and Moslem forces advancing behind columns of armored cars and artillery seized most of the Lebanese countryside today and Lebanon's Interior Minister appealed to the United States and the United Nations for urgent intervention.

'New realism' urged by President Ford

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has called on an election-year Congress to both raise and cut taxes, curtail government and forego the attempt to seek miracle cures for lingering economic troubles.

In a State of the Union address that can serve as his platform in Republican primary battles against Ronald Reagan, Ford said the national state after 17 months of his stewardship was "in many ways a lot better — but still not good enough."

He advocated "a new realism" whose theme was that government must do less in the hope that citizens then can do more for themselves.

He proposed expanding and making permanent the current income tax cut, by increasing the $750 personal exemption to $875 next year and making other liberalizations, but he also asked for heavier payroll taxes to meet a worrisome Social Security deficit.

He proposed an increase in Medicare coverage for the elderly, but no national health insurance; more judges, jails and prosecutors to fight crime, but no new gun control measures; housing subsidies for 400,000 tenants and 100,000 home buyers; and the creation of a plan to give tax benefits to low- and middle-income families who invest in securities.

He also proposed consolidating $10 billion in health programs; tax incentives for business firms which increase jobs; enactment of his 1975 energy program, including removal of price controls on natural gas; easing taxes on inherited farms; an increase in defense spending; and a free hand to "help our friends, such as in Angola."

In reaction, Republican Sen. Barry M. Goldwater called Ford courageous for advocating restraint. House Speaker Carl Albert said the speech lacked vision. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie will give the formal Democratic reply on television at 9 p.m. EST Wednesday.

Striking his theme, Ford said: "We tried to be a policeman abroad and an indulgent parent here at home... We must be more honest with the American people, promising them no more than we can deliver, and delivering all that we promise."

He said he believed in a job for everyone who wants to work, but he specifically rejected a "full employment" bill, which has been endorsed by most of the 11 declared Democratic presidential candidates, to provide a government job for every worker who cannot find private employment. He said private business is where to look for "real, rewarding, permanent jobs."

Ford spoke in the House chamber for 47 minutes, before Congress (though many members were absent, their seats filled by congressional aides), the cabinet, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps and the television cameras.

Buckland action criticized

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

In a sharp exchange last night that lasted only minutes, 8th District Director Paul Cervini charged that District president Michael Massaro had exceeded his authority in a recent action concerning Buckland area fire protection.

On Jan. 3, Massaro had informed Town Manager Robert Weiss that an agreement between the town and district dated July 1, 1974 was terminated, that, as of Nov. 17, 1975, the district assumed jurisdiction of fire service in the Buckland area and that, as of that date, it no longer will charge the town for fire calls there.

Under the July 1, 1974 agreement, the town was to pay the district $250 for each fire call made in the Buckland area by the district fire department.

Massaro's Jan. 3 letter to Weiss explained that, as a result of a permissive referendum Nov. 17 by district voters, the district had extended its boundaries into the Buckland area for fire protection as of Nov. 17, 1975.

On Jan. 6, the district filed suit against the Town of Manchester in Hartford County Superior Court, in an action returnable early next month.

The action seeks to determine who has jurisdiction in Buckland — the town or the district — plus a determination of who may collect taxes from Buckland property owners — the town fire district or the Eighth District.

Cervini insisted last night that, because the district board accepted the contract with the town July 1, 1974, only an action by the district board may terminate it.

He asked Massaro who gave him the right to terminate the contract, and Massaro replied that it was on the advice of District Counsel John LaBelle. To which Cervini replied,

"John LaBelle isn't running the district."

District Fire Chief Granville Lingard then said, "The contract was terminated (Nov. 17) when the electors of the district voted to extend the boundaries into the district."

Massaro said he agreed with Lingard and then ended the brief flurry with the remark, "It's been said and done, as far as I'm concerned."

During the period the district has been collecting $250 for each call it answered in Buckland for the town, the district fire department answered about 50 calls a year and collected about $12,500 a year.

In a report on fire department activities in December, Lingard said his men answered 14 calls, including 4 in the Buckland area. The calls, he said, were for 1 house fire, 2 minor fires in residences, 2 dumpster fires, 2 chimney fires, 2 car fires, 4 calls relating to water in homes and 1 mutual aid call from South Windsor.

Tax Collector Mary Laraja reported receipts totaling 96.8 per cent of full-year estimates, with $217,048 in taxes and $1,060 in interest payments received.

The district's tax year is Oct. 1, 1975 to Sept. 30, 1976. Its fiscal year is June 1, 1975 to May 31, 1976.

Near the end of last night's meeting, Wally Irish Jr. told the board he had received his first bill as a customer of the town water department (as of Sept. 1, 1975, the Manchester Water Co. was absorbed into the town system) and that he is extremely pleased at the savings in water fees.

However, said Irish, the bills to former customers of the Manchester Water Co. have the notation that sewage charges are 120 per cent of water fees. He said he objects to the notation (even though he wasn't charged for sewage on the bill) because he, like all district property owners, pay sewage taxes to the district.

He asked the district board to request the town water department to remove the notation from future water bills sent to property owners in the Eighth District.

Bank drops home mortgage rate

By DOUG BEVINS
Herald Reporter

One Manchester bank has reduced its home mortgage loan rates and others are considering a reduction to stimulate the local housing market and make better use of investment money now now returning to savings accounts.

A Herald survey of local bankers showed there has been some "softening" of mortgage rates in the last few months, and further rate decreases are forecast this spring.

Heritage Savings and Loan Association announced Monday it is lowering its basic mortgage loan rate from 9 per cent to 8½ per cent.

The Savings Bank of Manchester is now studying its mortgage rates and expects to announce a new rate later this week.

Commercial banks serving Manchester were less specific about the mortgage market, but a greater availability of mortgage money and a probable reduction in rates was indicated.

Heritage President William Hale, announcing his institution's lower rates, said the 8½-per cent rate is lower than a year ago. In January 1974, Heritage's mortgage rate was 8½ per cent, he said. It has been 9 per cent for several months.

Hale said the lower rate was made possible by a growth in Heritage savings accounts in 1975. He said the lower rate reflects a national policy of reduced interest rates and a more plentiful money supply to stimulate the economy.

At the Savings Bank of Manchester, President William Johnson said a recent decline in the demand for mortgages will probably lead to a reduction of rates at his bank.

Johnson didn't specify what the rate might be, but he said bank officials are considering the situation this week and will remain competitive.

Manchester State Bank hasn't had much money available for mortgage loans, Vice President Stanley Jarvis said. "We were loaned up," he said.

But Jarvis said his commercial bank is studying the mortgage situation, and it's likely the bank will expand its business in that area. He said rates would be competitive.

Connecticut Bank & Trust Co., based in Hartford, recently lowered its basic mortgage rate from 9½ per cent to 9 per cent, bank spokesmen said, and further reduction in the mortgage rate appears likely.

CBT officials said there's a lot of money available now, because investment cash is returning to savings accounts after other investment returns declined.

A spokesman for the Hartford National Bank & Trust Co. of Hartford said the mortgage rates depend heavily on the supply-and-demand of money. The HNB official said money returning to savings accounts and the low activity in new home construction will probably bring the mortgage rates down.

Hartford National's basic rate is still 9½ per cent, the spokesman said, but rates at that bank should come down a little by summer.

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of East Hartford will continue to remain competitive in the home mortgage market, President Robert Lynch said. Reductions in mortgage interest rates appear likely, he said, but they won't go below 8½ per cent.

Lynch said there is money available because investors are returning money to savings accounts, but the high rate of interest demanded by savers limits by reduction in mortgage rates. Savers are demanding up to 8 per cent return on savings deposits, he said, which doesn't allow much spread if mortgage rates are 8½ per cent.

Counseling program for town employes initiated

By Alice Evans
Herald Reporter

If an employe of the Town of Manchester or of the Board of Education has a personal problem which affects his work, he now has a place to go for help.

And if a supervisor finds that a valuable worker is slipping in his performance because of some personal problem, he can refer the worker to someone who will try to put him back on the right path.

These services are being offered by a counseling program coordinated and implemented by the Greater Hartford Council on Alcoholism, Inc., a non-profit agency.

Kimberly Cheney, executive director of the council said "Our organization has been working in town for about a year. Though our organization is The Greater Hartford Council on Alcoholism, we do other things besides helping alcoholics. The emphasis on this program will go much further."

"Suppose an employe has troubles and gets referred to a counselor. It might well be that he has marital, financial or psychiatric problems. Then he will be referred to some other agency for help. If he has all these problems, they may be alcohol-related. Alcoholism is treatable. The problem is so big that millions of dollars and people are affected.

"We have been successful in industry, but this is our first town engagement, and I'm glad to get it started in my home town."

Wilson Deakin Jr., assistant superintendent of schools, said he is excited about the program because it "offers any employe from the town manager and superintendent of schools down to all employes of the town and Board of Education help with alcohol, drug or in fact any problem. We had a staff member two years ago with a problem and the council was a great help in getting the person squared away. We also had another employe assisted before the program began and two others just lately. We are getting good results in getting valuable employes squared away."

Town Manager Robert Weiss said "It is a very exciting program for the town to get into, as Manchester is setting an innovative trail in helping employes become better employes. As an employe, we are interested in the welfare of our people and want to straighten out their problems. Then there is the cost, when an employe loses time at work, it costs the town money. He also said he was impressed with the work of the council."

A wide range of personal problems have little permanent effect on job performance. It is only when unsatisfactory performance persists for over a period of time, either constantly or intermittently, that in the interest of the employe, his family and the municipality as a whole, that the problems are turned over to the new counseling service to handle.

Edward Cram of Manchester, a recovered alcoholic, is the employe assistance counselor for Manchester on a part-time basis. He said "My job is to find out what has gone wrong and solve the problem. Everything is confidential, when we sit down, we work it out. Nothing goes into the personnel record. My job in Manchester is to motivate the guy or gal to get going. Alcoholics go down hill until there is no place left to go. If we don't interfere, we may be dealing with a person's life. A company puts a lot of time and money into an employe and doesn't want to lose him."

Cram advised supervisors to "Make judgment on work performance and not on the man."

Francis Keefe, also of Manchester and occupational consultant for business and industry for the council, said "our sole purpose is not for management but to help the man or woman help themselves."

"By no means do we want to make a diagnostician out of a supervisor. He has a job to do getting the maximum efficiency out of his department. We work solely on work performance."

"Take the normal work-flow line. As drinking progresses, work performance goes down hill. Employes with alcohol problems cost American business 15 million a year. It takes 12 to 15 years for a man to be wholly dependent on alcohol."

He advised supervisors not to talk alcohol to a man, just work performance. "First give verbal and then written warnings, and then a man is sent to the counselor.

"Covering up is the mortal sin of supervisors. It's the most natural thing to cover up for a man been working with you for 10 to 12 years. From childhood, squealers are looked down on, so you cover up for him, which is the worse thing you can do for a man. The path of the alcoholic is always down hill. Someday force him to go and talk with someone. Somewhere down the line, he has to take the bull by the horns and do something about his problem. A compulsive drinker needs booze to keep him alive. It is as natural for him as it is for you to have a cup of coffee in the morning."

"Documentation is important. Note if a man is absent many times, especially on Monday or Tuesday. Note if he is late to work and returning from lunch. Note any change in behavior of personality, violations and abnormal behavior. Then send this information to the counselor."

In 1945, Keefe, a reformed alcoholic, developed the counselor sharing program, in which Manchester is now involved, for the Fenn Mfg. Co. It was the first such program on the eastern seaboard. The program was initiated by give

PUCA hearings on nuclear power begin

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Public Utilities Control Authority today opened what was believed to be the first review in the country by a state regulatory agency of the economic feasibility of nuclear power.

"During the recent past, the increasing costs of all forms of energy fuels, and the decreasing availability thereof, have been major concerns to the people of Connecticut," said PUCA Chairman Albert J. Kleban.

"The many costs involved in nuclear electric generation and the availability of uranium fuel do not appear to have escaped these pressures, and will probably be more volatile in the future," he said.

Kleban said he has long been a proponent of nuclear power, but recent events had convinced him "the time has come for all of us, regulators and utilities alike, to thoroughly evaluate our positions on the subject."

The hearings, with witnesses already scheduled into March, will focus on the cost and availability of nuclear fuel and the ramifications for the consumer.

Methodist Men meet Saturday

The United Methodist Men of South Church will have their annual membership meeting Saturday in Cooper Hall of the church. The event will open with a beef steak dinner at 6:30 p.m.

After the meeting, which will include the election of officers, Thomas Lewis will give an illustrated talk on local railroad history.

Lewis, assistant professor of geography at Manchester Community College, is the author of numerous articles on railroad history.

Those planning to attend the meeting are asked to call Bob Von Deck, 645-0651, or Fred Colbourne, 649-1508, by Thursday for dinner reservations.

MHS wins Capitol Area Math League

The Manchester High School math team placed first at Capitol Area Math League (CAML) math meet at Newington High School.

Conard High School of West Hartford, CAML champions last year, had placed first in the previous two meets this year and was leading second-place Manchester by 22 points.

In the eight years of CAML competition, Conard has won seven times. Manchester High claimed the title once in 1967-71. MHS has placed second and third two times each.

The students whose teamwork accomplished the Conard defeat were seniors Dave Beaulieu, 14 points, and Doug Baker, 15 points; juniors Mark Otter, 15 points and Robert Weiss, 13 points, and sophomore Sandie Bellone with 14 points. The team also scored a perfect 15 points on the team questions.

There are 25 schools represented in the league. The next CAML meet will be Feb. 3 at New Britain High School.

ZBA approves exception for used car business

A decision by the Manchester Zoning Board of Appeals Monday night paved the way for operation of a used car business on Broad St. at property occupied by the Nichols-Manchester Tire Co.

The business would be operated by Jones Auto Sales, using part of a building which also serves as a warehouse for the tire firm. The site was once the location of Clark Motor Sales which occupied a building characterized by an extreme list. It was demolished.

The board granted a special exception to allow the operation with less than the minimum frontage and less than the minimum sideyard.

A special exception was granted to extend the operation of another used car business into adjacent property. Albert Catalano of Catalano Auto Sales & Service located at the Round service station on Center St. was given permission to use the property just west of that site for storing used cars. He must demolish the house there within a year.

In another action, the board reversed an earlier decision and allowed a free-standing Midas Muffler sign larger than regulations allow for a business at the southeast corner of Main St. and E. Middle Tpk.

The only no vote was cast by ZBA Chairman Bernard Johnson. Paul Rossetto, who had voted no for a previous application voted with the majority to grant the variance.

Votes on all other applications Monday night were unanimous.

Atty. Allan Thomas, representing applicant John Greene, presented several arguments in favor of the application including the contention that it would cost up to $10,000 to have dies cast for a special Midas sign to fit Manchester size limits.

The board denied a request from Frieda Huebner for a variance to construct an attached garage within 15 feet of a sidewalk at 424 N. Main St.

It granted a variance to Norman E. and Josephine L. Leclerc to build an addition to a house and maintain a nonconforming 2-foot sidewalk at 69 Jensen St.

Museum sponsors Saturday events

Lutz Junior Museum is sponsoring Saturday happenings throughout the rest of January and on Valentine's day.

The following programs are planned:

Saturday — Benjamin Franklin day. Displays and activities in honor of Franklin's birthday.

Voter drive planned by Bicentennial unit

Manchester's "Bicentennial 100 per cent Registration and Vote Drive" will be launched Jan. 27, with Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer a main participant. She will open the session at 11:30 a.m. in the Municipal Building. Participating will be town and state officials. The registration session will last to 3 p.m.

Manchester's Bicentennial Committee has adopted a proposal by Lila B. Cohen, to establish a goal of 100 per cent registration and voting in the November 1976 election.

Mrs. Cohen said her proposal is preferable to commercialization of the Bicentennial celebration. "Two hundred years of freedom are worth more than shell space in a discount store, or double green stamps," she insisted.

The Registration and Vote Drive has become an integral part of Manchester Bicentennial efforts.

PZC discusses lake homes and Sorghum Mill Farms

Hebron

EVELYN CROSTON
The Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) set Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. in the Town Office Building for a public hearing on the proposed Sorghum Mill Farms Subdivision.

The proposed subdivision is on Millstream Rd. and consists of six frontage lots.

Atty. William Borst representing the property owners told the commission that the subdivision is a similar situation with the permit being taken out at the same time and several renewals made.

A stop-work order had been placed on the property once. However, the septic system was approved by the state Health Department and the stop-work order was removed, said Keeffe.

At the time there was snow on the ground and he said he would check the area again.

Concerning a complaint about the diversion of a brook on Bass Lake and Deepwood Dr. Keeffe said he did not feel the complaint was legitimate.

He inspected the area and could not see any diversion. Persons were living in a home in the area year-round and had cleaned the yard and the brook was not touched, he said.

Ostrager spoke to the commission about year-round occupancy of a house on Ames Rd.

Ostrager said Dr. A. Bouhouys had sold the property and house to the present owner and Bouhouys had used the dwelling year-round. He said Bouhouys had spent $12,000 for repairs on the property.

Deepwood Dr. told the commission that Richardson had looked at the lot and a system can be installed on the property.

Ostrager said he is getting an estimate to finish the house and work should begin within 30 days.

Keeffe said the house on St. Roman Rd. is a similar situation with the permit being taken out at the same time and several renewals made.

He added the new owner has $45,000 invested in the place.

A letter from Keeffe said to the zoning requirements for year-round use.

Eaton said as far as he was concerned that closed the matter.

The commission received plans for property on Jagger Lane from Richard A. Mihok, an engineer. The property is owned by Tipper, Adams and Dallaire Associates.

The proposed subdivision named Deer Run and consists of 18 lots ranging from 1.4 acres to 8.3 acres in size. There is a total of 48 acres.

At the time there was snow on the ground and he said he would check the area again.

Arson squad discussed

Vernon

While the concept of an Arson Squad has been approved by Vernon and Rockville fire chiefs and the police chief, many details have to be ironed out before it becomes a fact.

Mayor Thomas Benoit said he met this week with Police Chief Herman Fritz, Rockville Fire Chief Donald Maguda and Vernon Chief William Johnson to hear their opinions.

He said all three agreed with the concept and the fact such a group is needed.

Maguda presented the idea a few weeks ago and indicated he would like to head the squad. Johnson who is also the town fire marshal said state statutes say the marshal should head such a group. Maguda is deputy marshal.

Benoit said the state statutes will be checked out to see if the squad could be set up under someone other than the marshal.

Meanwhile the chiefs, and perhaps the mayor, are planning to go to Lynn, Mass. which is claimed to be one of the leading towns in the country in the area of arson studies.

Benoit said the proposal will go to the Town Council before any agreement is reached.

Plans are to also have an on-duty police officer on the squad and to keep all records at the police department.

The commission also recommends construction start in East Hartford and move east rather than continuing from Ashford where work started in Massachusetts.

The amendment also call for placing more emphasis on mass transit by extending the proposed commuter lane to the Massachusetts border instead of ending at the Vernon Circle exit.

I-86 changes urged

Vernon

The Vernon Planning Commission, on recommendation of Commissioner John Linderman, is sending the state Department of Transportation (DOT) a letter concerning the expansion of I-86.

The commission is asking DOT to modify its proposal for expansion to four lanes in each direction to three each way with one lane reserved solely for buses and commuter carpools.

It also calls for eliminating the proposal to make Main St. in Talcutville a deadend; and reducing the width of the proposed median divider from 100 feet to no more than 50 feet.

The commission also recommends construction start in East Hartford and move east rather than continuing from Ashford where work started in Massachusetts.

Other town officials and groups have already offered similar suggestions to DOT officials who have been speaking in town.

John Lorange, town planner, has expressed concern over most of these matters. He also has questioned the noise factor.

Students present good case for school smoking rights

East Hartford

SHEILA TULLER

East Hartford High and Penney High School student leaders left the Board of Education meeting Monday night confident the board would vote to allow smoking in the near future.

Joy Carlson and Joseph Gaudette, presidents of the Student Councils at their schools, based their talks on the rights of the non-smoker.

Miss Carlson of EHHHS said 55 per cent of the high school students smoke. Because of this she asked for outside smoking areas as an alternative to smokers sneaking cigarettes in lavs, under stairways, or in the hall.

In this way non-smokers would not have to avoid smoke-filled lavatories throughout the school.

She said it was the hope of student council members to launch "No Smoking" campaigns at both high schools with help of the Connecticut Lung Association.

Gaudette of Penney outlined rules both high schools would use to regulate smoking areas. He said he was only asking the board to allow smoking on a trial basis until June. A progress report would be made to the board members in April.

Student council members who worked out the plan were mostly non-smokers. These council members would continue to support the program by acting as monitors in smoking areas and throughout the school buildings.

Both council members agreed peer pressure might be the potential remedy to the smoking problem.

A parent, David Carlson, a vice-principal, Donald Duncan, and the president of the EHHHS PTA Mary Chamberlain, spoke in favor of the student proposal.

Mrs. Chamberlain appeared before the board in December to go on record against smoking in the high schools. But she said Monday she had to go along with the young people after they presented their ideas to the PTA executive board.

She added the entire PTA executive board agreed with the students.

School Supt. Eugene A. Diggs searched out information from many area businesses. He found smoking is now allowed at desks in one of the large insurance companies. They had the same problem, smokers take over the lavs.

Dr. Diggs said the administration had occurred with the students plan except for designating certain smoking areas in the beginning.

Board members voted 6 to 2 to direct the administration to draft a policy relative to student smoking as proposed by the student council presidents of both high schools with one change the administration deems advisable.

As with all board policy making, the first draft will be discussed at one meeting and then tabled to a future agenda before a final vote is taken.

The students hope to hear the first draft early in February with the board voting to approve smoking later in the month.

Area police report

Vernon

William R. Otten, 18, of 217 Irene Dr., Vernon, was arrested Monday on a warrant issued by Common Pleas Court 19 charging him with second-degree larceny.

Police said the arrest was made on complaint of the Sage-Allen store at Vernon Circle in connection with the alleged theft of about $600 in cash and merchandise over an unknown period of time.

Otten was an employe at Sage Allen. He was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, Feb. 18.

Ronald Rosadini, 23, of East Haven, was arrested Monday on a warrant issued by Common Pleas Court 19 charging him with issuing a bad check.

Police said the complaint was made by a local business. The check was in the amount of $67.50. Rosadini was released on a $250 non-surety bond for appearance in court in Rockville, Feb. 4.

Council talks about conflicts

South Windsor

JUDY KUEHNEL

Regulations on potential "conflicts of interest" will highlight what is becoming a lengthy list of possible revisions to the town charter once a town charter revisions commission is set up.

South Windsor Town Council Monday night agreed there is a definite need for such a commission. It indicated such a commission might be set up by spring.

Stated for study by the new commission, aside from the matter of conflicts of interest, will be the procedure of appointing a deputy mayor as well as the manager-director form of government as proposed to the strong mayor system.

For over a half hour Monday night, the council fielded questions on the recent controversy over the sale of T-shirts to the town by its recreation director, as well as the recent awarding of an oil contract to Councilman Ed Havens of Imperial Oil.

Anne Marsh of Tumblebrook Dr. brought to the council's attention the fact other towns - namely Manchester, Glastonbury, East Hartford, Wethersfield - consider such transactions definite conflicts of interest.

While the council felt there was no conflict in Havens' matter, officials have reprimanded Recreation Director James Snow for the T-shirt sale.

Snow did in fact sell the shirts to the town in October without the knowledge of the town manager. However, a similar attempt in December resulted in the conflict of interest charge.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Phelps Hall, Rt. 85.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Gail Weston will give a presentation on the Mayan Ruins in the Yucatan section of Mexico.

Historical Society to meet

Hebron

The main order of business at Wednesday's meeting of the Historical Society will be to fill the office of president. Due to the increased pressure of business and personal matters, Bill Bain is resigning from the office of president.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Phelps Hall, Rt. 85.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Gail Weston will give a presentation on the Mayan Ruins in the Yucatan section of Mexico.

Opinion

Should we adopt a new national anthem?

A minor controversy appears in the offing. On the one hand, we have had a complaint voiced by the Connecticut Veterans of Foreign Wars against the New England Whalers for substituting "America the Beautiful" for the official national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," at some of the games in the Hartford Civic Center.

On the other, we have communication from a group in Old Lyme called the Committee for America the Beautiful which is trying to get the song officially designated the national anthem instead of Francis Scott Key's.

Of course there are few who might question the propriety of either song being sung as a prelude to commercial athletic events as violent as hockey can sometimes be.

What is interesting, though, is that the VFW complaint is a technical thing involving its concern that "America the Beautiful" may become the unofficial national anthem for it has no objection to it being sung just as long as the national anthem is sung first. The Committee in its effort is using the long-known and hardly ever disputed criticism

'Quality of life' losing pizzazz

If you have the nagging feeling that that elusive thing called the "quality of life" isn't what it used to be, that the bad experiences in life are outnumbering the good ones, you may be right.

A Cleveland, Ohio, outfit called Predictasts, Inc., which provides all kinds of information for businessmen, has come up with a new social index which lends statistical support to the idea.

The index ranges eight "pleasant" events on one side: Getting married, becoming a parent, being hired for a job, getting a new car, getting a new house, traveling abroad, visiting a national park and graduating from high school or college.

Counterposing these are eight "unpleasant" events: Getting divorced, dying, being laid off, suffering a motor vehicle injury, being admitted to a hospital, becoming a victim of violent crime, becoming a property crime victim and going on welfare.

The index discloses that between 1960 and 1974, the chance of a pleasant event happening increased from 40 to 57 per cent, while the chance of an unpleasant event increased

On your mark, get ready...

Pity the Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — Pity the Supreme Court. In the naughty old days when it was okay for men to be men, no one would have dared suggest that any male be deprived of his rights. Men ran things pretty much as they pleased, a state of affairs which let women free to stay home and cook up a tasty pot roast.

Not anymore. I was amazed on a visit to the Supreme Court the other day to discover that Oklahoma, a state I had assumed was still a state virile, had a law under which females can buy and drink beer at 18 but which forbids males to do so until they are 21.

This law has been challenged by a couple of fraternity brothers and a female beer vendor on the grounds that it illegally discriminates against men on the basis of sex. Their suit was dismissed by a three-judge federal court last May, and the Supreme Court now has decided to review the case.

It is a fascinating switch, and I am surprised that women's rights organizations — which claim all they want is sexual equality — have not joined the plaintiffs. Strike that. I am not surprised. It is not the femibuddies' ox that is being gored.

Anyway, although the law seems a strange one for such a hairy-chested state as Oklahoma, there it is. Moreover, the state has come forward with persuasive evidence that the statute should be upheld. It cites trial records that show males are more likely to drink beer, drive more often when they have drunk beer and get arrested far more often on drunkenness charges.

Specifically, the state proffered proof that in 1972 the arrests of persons between the ages of 18 and 20 for driving while drunk totaled 427 for men and only 24 for women. Obviously swayed by this proof, the lower court ruled unanimously that the state had made "a rational legislative judgment" when it created the age-sex distinction.

That court also declared: "Regardless of whether the challenges to the law may show it unwise — an argument that is for the legislature — we cannot say the act is arbitrary or capricious. The law has established that it violates the federal Constitution."

Well now. I do not challenge the statute per se. Its enactment, given the statistics, probably made common sense. But rationality is not always an effective defense — in the courts or anywhere else. For one thing, accused murderers often are freed on bail, and school children are bused to achieve racial balance.

In this case, the Supreme Court must take note of federal laws which outlaw discrimination on account of sex. Wicked though a drunken 18-year-old male may be, the fact is that the Oklahoma law addresses itself to the question of sex. I find difficult to refute the challengers' complaint that the law results in the "irrefutable penalization of one sex" of some member of that sex.

Put another way, I would challenge any law which more females wait a year or two longer than males before they could get a driving license because statistics showed that women drivers dented more fenders than males — an allegation experience causes me to support. Should wives control family assets because more males than females spend their paychecks shopping it up at their friendly neighborhood gin mill on the way home?

In short, the Supreme Court has moved rationally in accepting the state's case. The state's wisdom is not disputed here. But when equal rights are involved, in this libertarian age, wisdom will get by dependence and connection.

that enable "Dear Mr. Jones" to get several paragraphs of ambiguity typed by the representative's own busy fingers. The Senate is even more efficient, and removed. It pools the IBM machines so that the same ambiguities can be sent to a rightwinger in Mississippi and a revolutionary in northern New Jersey.

All of this is nonsense, assuredly, but of a sacred variety. Few members will admit the postal link with their public is forged by a kid working in the office with rock music plugged to his ear. Most insist the IBM machines are valuable signals from the people. And occasionally they may be. Over the years New York Rep. Edward Pattison has received so many letters on the subject of cruelty to animals that without investigation or inquiry of his own he has recently been moved to co-sponsor a House Bill addressed to the matter.

Still, only ideologue fancy that letters to Congress count for much. If you really want results, give better you should send contributions.

Thought for Day

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity
 In Ephesians 4:1-7, Paul emphasizes that there is "one body and one Spirit, one Lord, one faith, one baptism." The word "one" is paramount here, and we must always remember that Jesus Christ is the "One" who is the basis for our unity.

Karl Barth suggests that the search for church union and the search for Christ as Lord of the church are one and the same. He feels therefore that not unity, but Christ must be foremost in our minds.

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, religion in England was the hot issue of the day. In the conflict between Protestants and Catholics she tried to find a solution that would satisfy most of her subjects. A letter she wrote during that period states, "There is only one Christ Jesus and one faith; the rest is a dispute over trifles."

Well, it's apparent that even today the Christians consider our differences to be trifles! But on the other hand, do we not often lose sight of our real goals, not distinguishing between what really matters and the unimportant details? O, for the simple faith of a child ... to see things in their proper perspective! Let us not hinder the advance of Christianity by disputes over trifles.

May Christ be truly alive in us so that we can become more fully on in the spirit.

Concorde controversy strains relationships

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
 LONDON (UPI) — A Concorde supersonic jet carrying the British colors of will take off from London's Heathrow airport at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday and head for Bahrain on the Persian Gulf.

At the same time another Concorde painted in the French tricolor will leave Orly airport at Paris for Rio de Janeiro.

British Airways and Air France's first commercial flights by Concorde, which has cost far in excess of $2 billion to build, are being hailed by both countries as a much needed national triumph in an age when neither nation has much to celebrate.

But the triumph is tinged with deep bitterness and mounting anger that the United States so far has withheld overflight or landing rights for the Anglo-French jet.

The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor has asked Giscard to proclaim a boycott of American goods if the United States finally bars Concorde. And it said French airports must be barred to American airlines.

Coleman, who held a full day of hearings on Concorde in Washington on Jan. 5, said he plans a decision within 15 days.

Even if his ruling is favorable, there have been ominous warnings it may be challenged in Congress and the courts, and that New York's Port Authority may continue its ban on the supersonic jet.

If this happens, officials in London and Paris predict a sharp deterioration in relations with the United States, with reprisals far from ruled out.

Mother Nature
 Did you know that Mother Nature was America's friend in the War of 1812?

I didn't, but it's true. It seems on Aug. 24, 1814, British troops under the direction of Admiral Sir George Cockburn invaded Washington, D.C., and set fire to the city. Most of the government buildings, including the capitol and the White House, were gutted by the flames.

However, it seems nature was allied with America because an evening rainstorm saved the buildings from total destruction. Not

Hearing too much from back home

WASHINGTON — Soon after assembly office in 1934, a now dead congressman from California named John McCroarty wrote a constituent that "one of the countless drawbacks of being in Congress is that I am compelled to receive impertinent letters from a jackass like you."

Several lines later he closed, urging his correspondent to "please take two running jumps and go to hell for it or against it." Other times the ambiguous answer is easier. "If we got a letter saying 'Dear Congressman, why are you a creep?' we had a form reply which said 'Thank you for your interest, if you have any other questions please write me back.'"

The form letter has its drawbacks, certainly. Former Texas Rep. John Dowdy, who standardized his replies to cover everything from births to anniversaries, once sent a note of condolence to a man who had shotgunned his wife to death. For the most part, however, the phony personalization works well. Most representatives rent IBM machines to enable "Dear Mr. Jones" to get several paragraphs of ambiguity typed by the representative's own busy fingers. The Senate is even more efficient, and removed. It pools the IBM machines so that the same ambiguities can be sent to a rightwinger in Mississippi and a revolutionary in northern New Jersey.

All of this is nonsense, assuredly, but of a sacred variety. Few members will admit the postal link with their public is forged by a kid working in the office with rock music plugged to his ear. Most insist the IBM machines are valuable signals from the people. And occasionally they may be. Over the years New York Rep. Edward Pattison has received so many letters on the subject of cruelty to animals that without investigation or inquiry of his own he has recently been moved to co-sponsor a House Bill addressed to the matter.

Still, only ideologue fancy that letters to Congress count for much. If you really want results, give better you should send contributions.

Thought for Day
Week of Prayer for Christian Unity
 In Ephesians 4:1-7, Paul emphasizes that there is "one body and one Spirit, one Lord, one faith, one baptism." The word "one" is paramount here, and we must always remember that Jesus Christ is the "One" who is the basis for our unity.

Karl Barth suggests that the search for church union and the search for Christ as Lord of the church are one and the same. He feels therefore that not unity, but Christ must be foremost in our minds.

During the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, religion in England was the hot issue of the day. In the conflict between Protestants and Catholics she tried to find a solution that would satisfy most of her subjects. A letter she wrote during that period states, "There is only one Christ Jesus and one faith; the rest is a dispute over trifles."

Well, it's apparent that even today the Christians consider our differences to be trifles! But on the other hand, do we not often lose sight of our real goals, not distinguishing between what really matters and the unimportant details? O, for the simple faith of a child ... to see things in their proper perspective! Let us not hinder the advance of Christianity by disputes over trifles.

May Christ be truly alive in us so that we can become more fully on in the spirit.

 Today is Tuesday, Jan. 20, the 20th day of 1978 with 346 to follow.

The moon is moving toward the last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Pluto.

The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Capricorn.

Polish-American pianist Joseph Hofmann was born Jan. 20, 1878.

American actress Patricia Neal was born 50 years ago today.

A thought for the day: British poet Philip Bailey said, "It matters not how long we live, but how."

Betty's Notebook
 By Betty Ryder

Guess what? I didn't win the lottery, but I did match the color last week, twice.

After seeing the checks being delivered on television I got all excited — $500 isn't too hard to take. I sent the stubs in and am waiting patiently. Gee, I just thought of something. If I do win, I won't even get a chance to kiss the mailman. Maybe I should send a notice to the Post Office so they'll know I'm here at the office most of the day. Well, time will tell.

Too late
 Maybe I'm wrong (and I've been known to be) but I was disturbed this week when I read that the Food and Drug Administration announced a recall of thousands of teething rings which it said could cause babies to vomit if the fluid inside escapes.

I was involved as water-filled teething rings produced by Reliance Products Corp., Woonsocket, R.I. and distributed nationwide.

According to the report, the FDA said the rings are filled with water and are more pliable so the baby can chew on them. Quaternary ammonium compound is added to the water to stop bacterial growth. The agency said the compound does NOT stop bacteria from growing, and that if the fluid happens to escape into the baby's mouth, vomiting may result.

The products involved are the Nuk Orthodontic Gum Soother, Assorted Protect-O-Gum Soother and the Protect-O-Cool Ring Gum Soother.

The FDA had no exact figures on how many of the rings were being recalled but it said the rates of use for the items were 19,200 per month, 14,400 per month and 6,600 per month respectively for the three items. Those involved were distributed prior to Sept. 1.

I'm not sure how the FDA operates, but I did think that items were tested BEFORE they were available to the public. I would also hope that once passed, if changes in the manufacturing process are made, they would again have to be submitted to FDA inspection before being placed on the market.

All this recalling of items is like shutting the door after the horse is out of the barn.

I didn't, but it's true. It seems on Aug. 24, 1814, British troops under the direction of Admiral Sir George Cockburn invaded Washington, D.C., and set fire to the city. Most of the government buildings, including the capitol and the White House, were gutted by the flames.

However, it seems nature was allied with America because an evening rainstorm saved the buildings from total destruction. Not only that, the next day a severe windstorm battered the British bivouacs, blew cannons off their mounts and killed a number of British soldiers. The enemy troops evacuated the city shortly thereafter, never to return.

Just prove — it's not nice to fool mother nature.

Army Research
 Went to the U. S. Army Natick Development Center in Natick, Mass. last week. It was an interesting trip (lots of interesting people) but the only thing I caught was a cold.

Did you know they can make glucose out of newspapers and their bullet-proof vests are similar to the one worn by the Fairfield policemen who was shot three times and stabbed twice and survived.

They even showed us a vest with a couple of bullets imbedded in the material. It was fascinating.

They are doing research on a variety of items, many of which will one day be used by civilians.

The center is located on the shores of a lovely lake and I'm sure in the spring it must be beautiful.

Will have a more in-depth story with pictures on the facility next week.

Travel show
 Have you picked up your tickets for The Herald's travel show yet? It should be a good evening; we have two fine films, one "A City for All Seasons" and "The Pubbers — A Visit To An English Pub." I never visited one, so am looking forward to it.

A representative of British Airways will be on hand to answer questions about Great Britain and literature will be available from the sponsoring travel agents.

If you haven't picked up your tickets yet, there's still time. Just pop into The Herald office or stop in for a chat with any of the travel agents listed in the ad on this page.

Super star
 Did you watch the Super Bowl — of your own free will I mean? I did and it was great. I predicted Pittsburgh would win by 10, but secretly I was rooting for Dallas.

I thought the young man (who we later learned was blind) who sang "The National Anthem" was terrific.

He had such volume (which isn't easy in an open area like that) and gave such feeling to his voice.

I'm glad I was alone. Usually, if something sentimental happens, my daughter says "Ma, you're not going to cry are you?" and I answer "I can cry if I want to" and usually do. And I did.

40th Anniversary
 Mr. and Mrs. Merton Ballard of 111 Birch Hill Rd., South Windsor, were honored at a surprise party Jan. 17 on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. The party was hosted by their children Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ballard of Enfield and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Green of East Hartford at the couple's home. They have five grandchildren.

The couple was married Feb. 1, 1938 in Milford, N.H. in East Hartford. Mr. Ballard will retire from Pratt & Whitney Division of United Technologies Corp. on Jan. 30 after 34 years. Mrs. Ballard also will retire Jan. 30 from the Travelers Insurance Co. after 14 years. They are both members of the Burnside Methodist Church in East Hartford for many years.

Mr. Ballard is a member of Orient Lodge, AF&AM in East Hartford, Tall Cedars of Lebanon in Manchester, and past president of Connecticut State Board of Approved Basketball Officials. He is an honorary member and past president of the Central Connecticut District of Approved Basketball Officials, a past president and honorary member of East Hartford Men's Golf League, and a member of Kacey Squares of East Hartford.

Mrs. Ballard is a past matron of Bigelow Chapter, OES, in East Hartford, a member of the Traveler's Girl's Club and the Kacey Squares of East Hartford. She is also past president of WCSOS of Burnside Methodist Church.

Following their retirement, the Ballards will spend the winter months in their home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Manchester Power Squadron has scheduled a spring course in basic boating to begin Monday at the South Windsor High School.

The course is free and open to the public. Men, women and children over 12 are invited.

Registration must be made on the first class night at the school office. Class hours are from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Natural family planning courses
 Classes in modern methods of natural family planning will be given by the Couple to Couple League (CCL).

The first will consist of two monthly meetings on Sunday and Sunday, Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. in the amphitheater at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford. The courses will conclude by 7:30 p.m. A supper break will be included.

These classes are intended to teach beginners and to serve as a review for couples who may be interested in becoming certified to teach others.

The CCL calls its methods "natural" because they are based on the system of on-going fertility awareness which is definitely not the same as the old calendar rhythm or even the basal temperature system.

John Kippley of Cincinnati, who together with his wife founded the organization in 1971, will provide the instruction for the first series of classes. Dr. Ronald Prem, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Minnesota, assisted in the development of the league and is the head of its medical advisory board.

Interested married and engaged couples may contact Bill and Kathy Sidons of 89 Tanner St. for more information and registration.

People Group meets Feb. 11

The People Group will meet Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Concordia Lutheran Church in Manchester.

This will be the third meeting for the non-profit social club which was formed for the purpose of service and enriching the lives of widowed, divorced, separated and single adults by conducting discussion meetings and social activities.

Activities include trips, dinners, pizza parties, theater parties and sports events are scheduled monthly.

TFG is adult oriented and it tries to fit the needs of the adult through weekly discussion groups. These discussions give men and women the opportunity to express their thoughts on the topic of the week or just listen. Copies of the TFG newsletter may be picked up at the meeting. Single residents in the area who are interested and cannot attend may call Barbara Baker at 649-9349.

Francis Goodwin II dies, Hartford Symphony founder

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Francis Goodwin II, a founder of the Hartford Symphony Orchestra, who died Monday at his Wetherfield home. He was 80.

In 1955, Goodwin helped found the symphony's forerunner, the Hartford Civic Concert Orchestra, which was supported by grants from the Works Projects Administration.

The next summer, when Goodwin received a telegram telling him the government would withdraw funds unless private sponsors donated a third of the costs, he went on stage during a concert intermission.

"I guess there were about 3,000 people there. I suggest we form a symphony society and we do it right now," I said," Goodwin recalled.

An impromptu collection box made of cardboard was passed through the audience.

Holger Larsen

Holger Larsen, 78, of 146 Tanner St. died Saturday in Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The funeral was today with the Rev. Earle R. Custer officiating. Burial was in East Cemetery, the Holmes Funeral Home, 40 Main St., was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make memorial gifts to the Manchester Association for Retarded Citizens, 494 Main St.

Mr. Larsen was born in Denmark and lived in Manchester the past 12 years. Before retiring, he was a self-employed carpenter.

He was a member of North Union Methodist Church.

Survivors are 2 sons, Erik E. Larsen of Avon and Thomas B. Larsen of Farmington; 2 daughters, Mrs. Vivian Ware and Mrs. Wanda Morrison, both of Manchester; a brother and a sister in Denmark; and 11 grandchildren.

Mrs. Cyril Bellanger

Mrs. Yvonne Melanson Bellanger, 66, of Wetherfield died Sunday at an area convalescent home. She was the wife of Cyril D. Bellanger and mother of Mrs. Joanne Chlupa of Manchester.

She is also survived by another daughter and two grandchildren.

The funeral is Wednesday at 9:15 a.m. from the Fiset Funeral Home, 30 Sisson Ave., Hartford, with a Mass at the Church of the Incarnation, Wetherfield, at 10. Burial will be in Mt. St. Benedict Cemetery, Bloomfield.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Jennima A. Metcalf

Mrs. Jennima Metcalf, 88, of 709 Main St. died Monday night at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the widow of Herbert V. Metcalf.

Mrs. Metcalf was born Sept. 3, 1887 in Banfoff, Northern Ireland, and lived in Manchester most of her life. She was a member of Manchester Salvation Army Corps and its Women's Home League.

Survivors are four brothers, David Addy of Manchester, Salvation Army Maj. (retired) William Addy of Troy, N.Y., and John Addy of Palm Harbor, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Lucy Addy Richardson of Manchester; and several nieces and nephews.

The private funeral is Wednesday at Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St. Burial will be in East Cemetery. There are no calling hours.

BEOG forms

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) forms are available and may be picked up in the guidance office at Manchester High School.

Leighton F. Lawes

VERNON — Leighton F. Lawes, 54, of Main St., Wales, Mass., formerly of Vernon and Stafford Springs, died Saturday in Wing Memorial Hospital, Palmer, Mass. He was the husband of Mrs. Romona Richard Lawes.

Mr. Lawes was born in Brownington, Vt., and lived in Rockville and Stafford Springs several years before moving to Wales four years ago.

He was a die cutter for Rice Package Machinery in Ellington before retiring two years ago.

He was a World War II Army veteran, and worked 14 years as an auxiliary state policeman with Troop C in Stafford.

Other survivors are a son, Leighton C. Lawes of Wales; two daughters, Mrs. Jane Stenhouse of Bolton and Mrs. William Lunt of Alameda, Calif.; two brothers, Carroll Lawes of Brownington, Vt., and Marvin Lawes of Wallingford; a sister, Mrs. John Howard of Milbury, Mass.; and five grandchildren.

The funeral is Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Brownington Congregational Church, Brownington, Vt. Burial will be in Village Cemetery, Brownington.

Friends may call tonight from 7 to 9 at the Gaud Funeral Home, 34 Canada St., Swanton, Vt.

The Lombard Funeral Home, 3 Bridge St., Monson, Mass., is in charge of local arrangements.

George W. Scheiner

George W. Scheiner, 87, of 108 Kelly Rd., South Windsor, formerly of 68 Davis Ave., Rockville, died Monday night at Rockville General Hospital.

Mr. Scheiner was born in Coventry and lived most of his life in Rockville before going to South Windsor to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. William Grimason. He had been employed for 25 years at the former M.T. Stevens Co., Rockville, before his retirement 25 years ago.

He was a member of the First Lutheran Church, Old Fellows, and Maple Grove, all of Rockville. He also was a 50-year member of the Knights of Pythias, Rockville.

He is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. William Deere of Edina, Minn.; two brothers, Robert Scheiner of Manchester and Herbert Scheiner of Derry, N.H.; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Quinn of Manchester and Mrs. Harry Ellsworth of Broad Brook; and six grandchildren.

The funeral is Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Ladd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery, Rockville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial gifts may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Skating report

There will be no skating allowed today at Charter Oak Park. Skating will be allowed, however, at Center Springs Pond and at Union Pond Annex from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The Center Springs Pond Annex will be reserved to hockey, also from 3 to 9 p.m.

For information on winter sports at Recreation Department supervised facilities, phone 643-4700.

Fuel dealers hoping for price reductions

Local fuel oil dealers expect their prices will remain the same unless they are notified by their suppliers of reductions.

The recent price reduction announced by Amerasia Hess Corp. and Teneco Laurel Corp. have caused concern among dealers and consumers.

The Hess Corp. has reduced its prices 4 cents a gallon and Teneco has reduced its by 1.5 cents.

Local dealers have said they hope their suppliers will get on the bandwagon "and make similar reductions."

One dealer was notified by his supplier, Exxon, that its price would increase by one-half cent per gallon as of last Friday. The company's spokesman didn't know whether this would be a temporary or a permanent increase.

The average retail price in the state for No. 2 heating oil is 42¢, according to Tom Teneco Laurel is charging 40 cents a gallon on the No. 2 oil it sells retail.

A Teneco spokesman from its corporate headquarters in Houston said the 1.9 cent a gallon drop was an adjustment to comply with Federal Energy Administration (FEA) regulations.

Those regulations allow oil companies to pass on certain increased production costs to consumers. These costs must be estimated each month.

The spokesman said Teneco Laurel had overestimated such increases and reduced its prices to compensate. It is not known how long the lower price will remain in effect.

Information from Hess was not available.

Kennedy seeks improvement in regular learning areas

Most of the proposed improvements contained in a recommended 1976-1977 Manchester school budget deal with regular learning programs, School Superintendent James P. Kennedy said Monday night at the Board of Education began its review of his spending plans.

Kennedy said the emphasis on improvement in regular learning areas reverses a two-year trend which placed emphasis on special learning programs.

The board will examine special learning and support-administrative programs in the next three meetings: Thursday, next Tuesday, and Feb. 2. All sessions are scheduled for 8 p.m. at the board office, 45 N. School St.

Some highlights of the program improvements reviewed Monday night were:

- Art: $700 added for equipment and supplies needed to begin three new courses at Manchester High School, in jewelry lapidary, ceramics and enameling.
- Business: $800 added for further expansion of business education at the junior high school level. The junior high business program expansion started this year, more typing and office courses are planned in 1976-1977.
- Home economics: $1,000 added to cover costs of a reordering of priorities in home economics in the junior high schools. Specialized mini-courses (three to a semester), ranging from baby-sitting to grooming and modeling, would be emphasized.
- Industrial arts: $1,000 added to establish a course in vocational automotive at the high school.
- Vocational education: $3,000 added to high school courses, graphic arts, would be funded by reallocation of present resources.

• Music: $3,000 added to buy musical instruments now in short supply. Many students haven't been able to afford buying or renting instruments, so the plan is to buy flutes, trumpets, clarinets and alto saxophones for the elementary schools. Each of the town's junior high schools would acquire an electronic music synthesizer.
- Physical education: $20,000 added to allow hiring of two more physical education teachers at the elementary school level.
- Reading: $11,000 added to hire a reading specialist to help elementary school classroom teachers. The addition would improve an existing consulting program now staffed by seven specialists.
- Science: $15,000 added for updating old laboratory facilities at Manchester High School. Technology in the high school lab is at least 25 years old, educators say.
- Social studies: $10,500 added for new textbooks and instructional materials suggested by recent program evaluation in Grades 8 through 12. New social studies programs were started this year in kindergarten through Grade 7.
- Vocational education: $3,000 added to start three new career-oriented one-semester courses in the junior high schools. The suggested improvements are part of a long-range plan for vocational education, officials said.

Counseling program

small organizations a counseling service similar to those of large corporations such as the United Technologies Corp.

Town and school supervisors have been told they may also use polydrug-use problems, which parallel the problems that arise from alcoholics, with a distinct and unique difference. While alcohol is accepted by society, marijuana is illegal. Some businessmen and supervisors don't react to the drug problem because they don't want the publicity.

Bob Stern, community relations resource person of the Capitol Region Drug Information Center, which is part of the council, has this to say about drugs and alcohol:

"Only a few drugs are addictive, and alcohol is one of the largest stages of addiction. The shakes, and the man doesn't want to be caught, so he takes a barbiturate, which stops the tremors. Alcohol and barbiturates don't combine but have a multiplying effect. Thus, your one drink becomes four after taking a barbiturate."

Barbiturates are also physically addictive and are considered one of the most dangerous drugs as related to the business world. There is a high percentage of overdose, because by the time a person takes one pill and it begins to work, he has taken too many."

According to the guidelines set up by the town and Board of Education, employees are free at all times to contact the counselor themselves without a referral from their supervisor and are assured of having strict confidentiality. Personnel files will show only the number of volunteers, with no designation as to names or departments.

Employees who have received verbal and written warnings concerning their poor work performance will be referred to the counselor. If the employee accepts assistance from the counselor, all records of the employee's problem will be kept confidential, and employees accepting and profiting from counseling will be given the benefit of the doubt if their work does not immediately reflect improvement.

In November, Keefe said that if the counseling service was to be successful, there must be a cooperative attitude between the town of Manchester, the Board of Education, officers of each bargaining or employe group and the counselor.

Apparently this has been achieved.

Ice chips from near and far

Tip Department: Fathers planning on taking their youngsters to the first hockey game should get their tickets now. Kevin Walsh, the promotion-minded and top-flight publicist with the Engineers, reports the advanced ticket sale has gone over the 7,000 mark. Whaler jackets will be given to the first 4,000 youngsters 15 and under on an available site basis...Jack Kelley, who resigned as Whaler coach three weeks ago, is a native of Belmont, Mass. The 48-year-old Kelley returns to Colby College where he coached hockey for seven years and earned a top record...Rosaire Paiement, center with the Whalers' most productive scoring line, is one of 16 children. He has 11 sisters and one of his brothers, Will, with Kansas City in the National Hockey League, will be in the NHL all-star game tonight in Philadelphia with the Campbell Conference squad. Perhaps it did Bobby Hull good to blast the rough play in the World Hockey Association. The least penalized team in the circuit, the Winnipeg Jets went through a recent 17 minute and 30 second span without drawing a penalty. On the other hand, Kim Clarkson, Indianapolis Racers rookie, sets three records every time he's sent off the ice for infractions. With the season just over the halfway point, Clarkson has set records for the most penalties in one season for a defenseman, for a rookie and by any kind of player in history. He is averaging six minutes per game in the penalty box and will pass the 400 minute mark if he maintains his current pace...Marc Tardif of Quebec bids to become the first left winger in WHA history to win the individual scoring title. Andre Lacroix (who won twice, including last year) and Mike Walton operated at the center and right wing spots. Bobby Hull will make his final season appearance in Hartford Jan. 30 against the Whalers with Winnipeg and Gordie Howe's last visit to the Civic Center will be Feb. 26.

Aetna World Cup to feature Ashe

By EARL YOST

One of the five spots on the United States team for Aetna World Cup tennis competition at the Hartford Civic Center March 4-7 will be Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Dennis Ralston who minutes earlier was officially named to captain the U.S. team against Australia.

Vying for the other four spots on the squad, Ralston said, are Eddie Dibbs, Vitas Gerulaitis, Tom Goran, Brian Gottfried, Bob Lutz, Sam Mayer, Marty Riessen, Stan Smith, Harold Solomon, Dick Stockton and Roscoe Tanner.

"They all will be selected," Ralston said.

"It's a difficult problem who to ask and play. I hope to have the final selections made by Feb. 16."

Ralston, who flew into Hartford earlier in the day from sunny California, added:

"The biggest name in pro tennis among the men, Jimmy Connors, is again expected to be among the missing."

If the USA is to turn back Australia's best, it will need Connors.

Despite a reported long-standing feud between the two, Ralston said Connors has a challenge match Feb. 28 and a business commitment. "He says he can't change the date. But I hope that I can talk him into it."

Completions staff NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Giants Coach Bill Arnspiger completed the reorganization of his coaching staff Monday with the appointment of Hunter Ennis as quarterback coach and Jay Fry as defensive line coach.

Porter-less Bullets not the same team

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Washington Bullets never should have traded Kevin Porter. That's the unanimous opinion of Houston Rocket players and Coach John Egan.

"I just don't think they are playing as well this season without Porter," said Rockets' seven-foot center Kevin Kunnert. "He used to cause all kinds of trouble."

The Rockets, considered a pushover for several National Basketball Association teams, Monday night creamed the Bullets for the third time in three games.

Kunnert, a third-year pro, sank his first 10 shots to lead the hot-shooting Rockets to a 115-96 win over the defending Eastern Conference champs.

Washington, en route to the Central Division and East titles last season, whipped Houston five of seven times. "Defensively, you can do more things against Washington this year," said Egan. "Porter got the ball to the right people. (Phil Chenier) down low off the stack and (Elvin) Hayes low, too."

"This year (Dave) Bing—the man they got for Porter—gives them more of an offensive threat individually, but he doesn't run the offense like Porter did."

A lot of early shots put up by the Bullets would not fall, and Houston started running away early with 67.5 per cent shooting in the first half.

Kunnert finished with 11-of-13 field goals for 22 points. He also grabbed a game-high 14 rebounds, and blocked three shots. Rudy Tomjanovich led the Rockets with 26 points.

Kunnert said he was pleased to see the Bullets offense disintegrate into "four men standing around and one guy wheeling out there one-on-one."

As a result, the Bullets two big men, Hayes and Wes Unseld, together scored only 13 points and grabbed seven rebounds.

Bing led the Bullets with 15 points, and Chenier chipped in 14.

Olympic program scheduled

This being an Olympic year and in keeping up with the times, Jack Repass has lined up an attractive sports program for Friday night for the Center Church Couples Club at the church. Lindy Remigio, a Gold Medal winner for the United States in the 1952 Summer Games in Helsinki, will be the guest speaker. Remigio, head track coach at Hartford High, will relate his experiences in Finland and will also show an Olympic film...Remigio will serve as head judge for the two-day Manchester Community College Relay June 26-27...Now that the Super Bowl nonsense is over for another year, many families can be reunited again for the week ends. While last Sunday's Pittsburgh Steeler 21-17 win over the Dallas Cowboys was more exciting than most of the Super Bowl it was not the best ever as Jack Whittaker wanted to make one believe in his post-game teevee report in Miami. Jack has his opinion, and I have mine, but memory is not that short over the past decade to forget Green Bay's domination of Oakland in Super Bowl I and the New York Jets 16-7 upset over Baltimore in game No. 2 in Miami. Both were great this year's game in holding the interest of Joe and Jane Public...Ed Butajcius, one of the state's best duckpin bowlers and a former town singles champion in Manchester, is managing the Lucky Strike Duckpin Center in Willimantic. The Thruway City will be the site Saturday of the U.S. Women's Classic, Manchester's Colby Drak, No. 1 high average individual roller in the country, will be one of the favorites for the $500 first prize.

Tip Department: Fathers planning on taking their youngsters to the first hockey game should get their tickets now. Kevin Walsh, the promotion-minded and top-flight publicist with the Engineers, reports the advanced ticket sale has gone over the 7,000 mark. Whaler jackets will be given to the first 4,000 youngsters 15 and under on an available site basis...Jack Kelley, who resigned as Whaler coach three weeks ago, is a native of Belmont, Mass. The 48-year-old Kelley returns to Colby College where he coached hockey for seven years and earned a top record...Rosaire Paiement, center with the Whalers' most productive scoring line, is one of 16 children. He has 11 sisters and one of his brothers, Will, with Kansas City in the National Hockey League, will be in the NHL all-star game tonight in Philadelphia with the Campbell Conference squad. Perhaps it did Bobby Hull good to blast the rough play in the World Hockey Association. The least penalized team in the circuit, the Winnipeg Jets went through a recent 17 minute and 30 second span without drawing a penalty. On the other hand, Kim Clarkson, Indianapolis Racers rookie, sets three records every time he's sent off the ice for infractions. With the season just over the halfway point, Clarkson has set records for the most penalties in one season for a defenseman, for a rookie and by any kind of player in history. He is averaging six minutes per game in the penalty box and will pass the 400 minute mark if he maintains his current pace...Marc Tardif of Quebec bids to become the first left winger in WHA history to win the individual scoring title. Andre Lacroix (who won twice, including last year) and Mike Walton operated at the center and right wing spots. Bobby Hull will make his final season appearance in Hartford Jan. 30 against the Whalers with Winnipeg and Gordie Howe's last visit to the Civic Center will be Feb. 26.

Mattatuck powers to win over MCC

By CHRIS BLAKE

Putting on a dazzling first half shooting display, Mattatuck Community College routed Manchester Community College, 90-73, last night at Kennedy High in Waterbury in a CCAA basketball game.

The win puts pressure on league-leading Housatonic Community College which has a 7-0 record. Mattatuck is 7-0. Mattatuck is 7-0 overall, is at South Central Community College Saturday afternoon.

The Chiefs took advantage of a porous MCC man-to-man defense and made good on its first eight shots to take a 16-8 lead. With forward Bob Moffett leading the way with 28 points, the Chiefs went to a 28-10 lead. The hosts were 13 of 15 from the field at this point.

When Mattatuck finally cooled down, MCC began to close the distance. The Cougars went on a 12-2 surge to cut the huge deficit to 32-22. MCC also switched to a zone defense trying to stop the Chiefs' offense.

At the half, the Cougars were within striking distance, trailing 46-35. With their upset of Norwich still lingering in their minds, the Cougars looked like they were in the game. That feeling didn't last long once the second half started.

With just under four minutes gone, Mattatuck went on a 14-4 tear to turn a 52-43 lead into a 67-47 bulge. The rest was a futile battle for the Cougars.

Mattatuck placed five performers in double figures led by Mofft with 24 points. Almond Raponey chipped in 14. Dave Wiggins 13, Roland Brooks 11.

Baker signs

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dusty Baker, acquired from the Atlanta Braves last year in a six-player trade, signed his 1976 contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday, Vice President Al Campanis announced.

"I think that this is the year that we will win. I know that the people here will see some of the greatest tennis ever played," he added.

Last year the Aussies, led by Rod Laver, defeated the USA in six previous Aetna World Cups, Australia has won six times.

The lone USA win was achieved when Ralston defeated Roy Emerson in 1971 in the final singles.

Tom Collins, Aetna tourney director, made the announcement on Monday.

"Ticket sales have been brisk for all four days March 4-7 and night afternoons matches March 6-7.

The Australian captain will be named next week.

Eagle-Indian rematch all sold out tonight

MIKE SHERMAN Manchester High

SCOTT HILL East Catholic

By LEN AUSTER Herald Sports Editor

Maybe once but probably never before have both East Catholic and Manchester High led their respective basketball conferences at this stage of the season.

Conference honors will be forgotten for the moment tonight before a sellout crowd when the unbeaten 11-0 Eagles entertain unbeaten 9-1 Manchester High in the second of a home-and-home series between the local powers.

Manchester's lone loss was inflicted by East at Clarke Arena, 62-81 in overtime.

Cheney Tech visits East Hampton High in a Charter Oak Conference engagement. The Beavers stand 1-3 in the COC and 3-8 overall while the Beltingers are 4-5 in conference play and 5-6 overall.

In area contests, 6-3, 6-5 Rham High entertains 7-2, 9-2 Coventry and 4-5, 5-5 Bolton High is at league leader 9-0, 11-0 Portland High in COC action. Also, 9-2 Ellington visits 10-0 Manchester in a home-and-home series. Windsor hosts 4-1, 8-4 Bloomfield in COC play and in a non-league clash, 4-8 Rockville High journeys to 4-7 Enfield.

East extended its unbeaten ways to 11 straight, matching the third longest streak in school history, with a 66-55 win over Xavier before a disappointing turnout of 3,600 at the Hartford Civic Center in the finale of an HCC tripleheader. Included in the streak are six conference victories which puts the Eagles 1 1/2 games in front of the pack.

Without an avalanche of advance publicity, East's John Lusa has emerged as a prime candidate for all-State honors. The 6-5, 190-pound senior is averaging 19.6 points and over a dozen rebounds per game and has been the main contributing force in at least four Eagle triumphs.

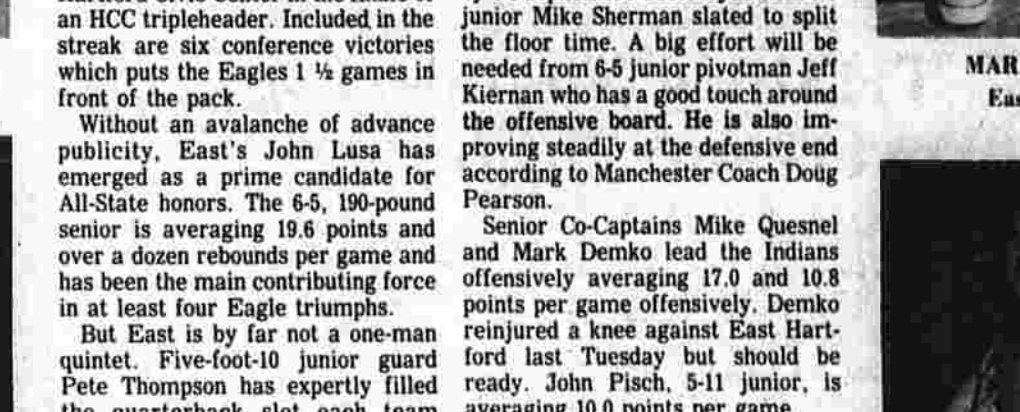

But East is by far not a one-man quintet. Five-foot-10 junior guard Pete Thompson has expertly filled the quarterback slot each team needs. He's tossed in 67 points but most importantly he's handed out 88 assists in directing the Eagle attack. His backcourt running mate, 6-0 Junior Mark Dumais, is averaging 9.2 points per game and is the one who "glues everything together," according to East Coach Stan Orogroch.

Manchester's quest for an undefeated season was interrupted by East in its sixth outing. Since then, the Indians have added four more COC wins to their credit and lead the league at 9-0 by a healthy three-game margin.

What isn't healthy is Manchester. Six-foot-four senior forward Bruce Ballard is definitely out for the East game and how much longer is uncertain. The reason was one big reason why the Indians have held eight of 10 opponents under 60 points, four under 50. He always drew the assignment of guarding the opponent's leading forecourt scorer and more times than not won this individual battle. His rebounding prowess will also be missed.

Ballard's starting slot will be taken by 6-5 sophomore Scott Hyde with 6-0 junior Mike Sherman slated to split the floor time. A big effort will be made to guard the opponent's leading scorer, Senior Co-Captains Mike Duggel and Mark Demko lead the Indians offensively averaging 17.0 and 10.8 points per game offensively. Demko re-injured a knee against East Hartford last Tuesday but should be ready. John Pisch, 5-11 junior, is averaging 10.0 points per game.

JEFF KIERNAN Manchester High

Indiana, 'Bama in hoop leads

NEW YORK (UPI) — Indiana and Alabama took over sole possession of their conference leads Monday night, but the Crimson Tide couldn't have done it without a little help from their "friends."

Top-ranked Indiana took first place in the Big Ten—certainly without the help of a stubborn Purdue squad. The Boilermakers tried to keep their unbeaten conference record but fell just short, 71-67.

The Hoosiers are now 6-0 in the Big Ten, while unranked Purdue fell to 4-1 in the conference and 9-5 overall.

Tennessee, now 11-2, was led by Marquette (1-1) standing in second place to No. 3, North Carolina (12-1) before losing Sunday to North Carolina State advanced three spots to No. 4 and Nevada-Las Vegas, sporting a perfect 18-0 record took No. 5 position.

Scott May solved Purdue's 2-3 zone defense for 32 points but it took two free throws each by Jimmy Crews and Bobby Wilkerson to seal Indiana's 15th victory and 25th straight in conference play—only two short of the Big Ten record.

The Hoosiers are now 6-0 in the Big Ten, while unranked Purdue fell to 4-1 in the conference and 9-5 overall.

Tennessee, now 11-2, was led by Marquette (1-1) standing in second place to No. 3, North Carolina (12-1) before losing Sunday to North Carolina State advanced three spots to No. 4 and Nevada-Las Vegas, sporting a perfect 18-0 record took No. 5 position.

Rutgers, St. John's join elite group

NEW YORK (UPI) — While this city produces a large number of college basketball standouts, it has been five years since a team from the metropolitan area finished the season ranked in the top 20.

Rutgers and St. John's are hoping to change that.

Five years ago, Fordham, guided by current Notre Dame Coach Richard "Digger" Phelps, ranked ninth in the final UPI Board of Coaches ratings but since that time it has been a dry spell for local area teams.

Not any more. Rutgers, unbeaten in 13 games, and St. John's, a loser only once in 14, moved into the top 10 Monday in the seventh weekly ratings. Rutgers, one of only three undefeated teams in the nation, climbed three places to No. 8 after posting easy victories over Columbia and Bucknell while St. John's advanced two spots to No. 9.

Pro football shifts seen

By Mill Richman
MIAMI (UPI) — Okay, the Super Bowl game is over and they've settled the question of which is the best football team in the country. Now all the Pittsburgh Steelers management has to do is keep their world champs happy so they don't suddenly pick up and take a hike to some other club that'll pay them better.

Chances are that won't be much of a problem because most of the Steelers players seem content where they are and a number have multi-year contracts. The only dissatisfied member is third-string quarterback Joe Gilliam, and he doesn't figure that much in the club's plans anyway. Elsewhere things are a lot different though. Ominous rumblings in other quarters give rise to the growing possibility a player with Philadelphia

Women discuss alcohol

Hebron
EVELYN CROSTON
228-9561

Bill Burke, director of the Personal Guidance Program of the Hartford Insurance Group, will speak about alcohol at today's meeting of the Junior Women's Club.

The meeting is at 8 p.m. at Phelps Hall on Rt. 85. Interested women are invited to attend.

Refreshments will be served. The club will also accept donations for the food pantry and Friends of Children at the meeting.

There will be a collection box at the door for canned goods and nonperishable foods for the food pantry set up for needy families in town.

The second collection box will be for donations for the Friends of Children, a national organization designed to provide the basic necessities to orphaned children from Central America.

Items needed are baby clothes, nonperishable baby foods and nursery supplies.

Donations for either cause may be dropped off at Phelps Hall at 8 p.m. today.

Vernon's calendar is packed with events

The Men's Union of the Union Congregational Church will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. with a roast beef dinner.

Francis Curran, high sheriff of Tolland County will speak on "Law Enforcement in the Court System." Curran was elected high sheriff in the Nov. 19 election.

Pinocchio winners

Tournament winners in the Thursday pinocchio session of the Vernon Senior Citizens were: George Dean 68; Joseph St. Louis 63; Lucile Carlson 60; Julius May 60.

High individual scorer to date is John Poggie with a 687. High total scorer is Joseph Kincaid, 12,952.

Pinocchio is played Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizen Center, Park Place.

Church women

The Greater Rockville Area of Church Women United will meet Friday at 9:30 a.m. in the Rockville Methodist Church, Grove Street.

Mrs. Mae Morgan will install the officers for the coming year. A speaker from the Experiment in Living School of Burlington, Vt., will bring information on this project. Baby sitting will be provided.

Ringing belles

The Ringing Belles of the Rockville United Methodist Church will present an evening of hand bell ringing Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the church on Grove St.

The Ringing Belles group consists of 12 bell ringers who use 47, or almost four octaves, of English hand bells. Mrs. Thomas Dorman is director.

The program will feature a variety of familiar music, including secular and religious, including four-hand specialty ringings as well as total group ringing.

Walsh defends trip

Coventry
State Rep. Robert "Skip" Walsh proposed a bill letting podiatrists perform a wider range of foot surgery shortly after he returned from a two-day trip to a Pennsylvania podiatry school.

The Connecticut Podiatry Association said Thursday it picked up the $2,000 tab for the trip by seven lawmakers, six Connecticut podiatrists and two others to the Pennsylvania School of Podiatric Medicine in Philadelphia.

Walsh said, "I'm not troubled by it (the trip). There were suggestions the podiatrists' training was inadequate and we saw the school for ourselves."

He added he was favorably impressed by the school and believes the revised bill with tighter language will meet all objections this year.

Walsh's bill could mean more income for state podiatrists now allowed to operate only on certain parts of the foot.

Podiatry Association lobbyist Angelo J. DeMio said the association did nothing wrong in paying for the trip. Jan. 9 to 9. He said he asked legislative officials about the propriety of the trip before he arranged it.

The group left in a chartered bus Jan. 8, went sightseeing in Philadelphia the remainder of the day and ate dinner at a restaurant overlooking the city's harbor area, a legislator on the trip said. Jan. 9 they visited the

White elephant bingo

HEBRON - The Parent Teacher Organization will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Gillette Hill School. Due to a change in program, a "White Elephant Bingo" is planned. Those attending are asked to bring old knick knacks or whatever.

School leaders explain

BOLTON - The Parent Teacher Organization will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Bolton Elementary School all purpose room. The heads of the art, music, and physical education departments will hold a panel discussion to better acquaint parents with their goals. Refreshments will be served.

Cable TV to spread

VERNON - A study by the Greater Hartford Cable Television shows an extension of its franchise area to include Vernon is feasible. Vincent King, director, said he has urged Cox Cable Communication, the parent corporation, to proceed with an engineering study. That study is to be done by Feb. 1. If it is positive, King will bring the matter before the Town Council.

New council meets

ANDOVER - The new Recreation Council will meet tonight at 8 in the elementary school library, George Knox, organizer, said last week he urges local people to attend in order to elect officers and begin work.

Junior Women meet

COVENTRY - The public is invited to attend an open meeting of the Junior Women's Club of Coventry Wednesday at the First Congregational Church, Main St. at 8:30 p.m. A spokesman from the state police will discuss "How to Protect Your Home and Make It Safe from Burglaries."

Book fair

TOLLAND - The Tolland Middle School PTO will sponsor a book fair next Monday through Thursday in the auxiliary gym. All students and parents are invited. Monday through Wednesday the fair will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday it will also be open from 8:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Drastic fund cuts in view

EAST HARTFORD - East Hartford Mayor Richard Blackstone warned state towns will either boost local taxes or be forced to make drastic cuts in essential municipal services. He was warning of the effects of the failure to continue federal funds flows to towns. He said 52 state towns and cities would have to raise their tax rates between two and three per cent just to cover present costs.

Painting classes offered

VERNON - The Indian Valley YMCA will offer classes in painting with watercolors and arts and crafts during its winter session. The painting course is open to children 10 or older and will run eight weeks on Wednesdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. starting this Wednesday at the Vernon Elementary School. The arts and crafts course will be for children 8 through 11 at the same days and times at the Avery Street Church in South Windsor.

Le Petit Cabaret

EAST HARTFORD - Le Petit Cabaret show troupe will appear in two benefit shows Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at South Congregational Church in Charrier Hall, Forbes St., East Hartford.

The shows are sponsored by the church's Twenty Plus group. Proceeds will benefit the Donald Brewer Memorial Fund set up to help young people in trouble.

The Le Petit Cabaret is four singers and four band members ranging in age from 14 to 23. Tickets are at the door. A dance follows each show.

Men's Night

TOLLAND - The Tolland Junior Woman's Club will hold a Men's Night tonight when their husbands will be their guests. Bernard Spears, a hypnotist, will be the speaker.

Government studies show that we eat more problems and age go hand in hand... These studies also show that many hearing problems are merely due to excessive ear wax... Of course, anyone suspecting a hearing problem should consult a physician to determine the cause... One way for ear wax to impair hearing is very simple... We all have tiny hairs lining our ear canals... As we grow older, these hairs become coarse and unyielding... Eventually, they can act as a barrier and keep ear wax from getting out... This in turn muffles sounds trying to get in.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 16, nearly 17, and I'm an honor student. I have always had a good relationship with my parents—until now.

About three months ago I met the most wonderful guy in the world. It's really Sam. He is 25 and he's really handsome. If they knew how old he was, they wouldn't let me go with him. Sammy is also divorced and has a 3-year-old son who lives with his ex-wife. We didn't tell my parents about the little boy. We just told them that Sammy was divorced.

Sammy wants to marry me, but we don't plan on getting married until I am finished with school. The problem is my father. He has a very suspicious mind. He says I can't see Sammy again until Sammy produces legal evidence of his divorce.

I love Sammy so much, I can't live without him. Please help me.

DEAR GIRL: Sorry, I'm inclined to go along with your father. You and Sammy are already violating the facts about Sammy's real age and his son, which is deceitful. If Sammy doesn't want to bring all the facts out in the open, he's less than "wonderful." Be wise. Listen to your father.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 64. Last year I met a man my age whose wife had died the year before. We are in love. He would be an ideal mate except for one thing. He is very egotistical and likes to see how he registers with other women (waitresses, especially). In other words, he tries to make me jealous.

This is a small town and there are no men around with whom I can make him jealous, so I am unable to get even. Please tell me how to handle this "skinny" friend.

DEAR HURT: Don't try to fight fire with fire unless you want your chances to go up in smoke. Tell him frankly that you are hurt and jealous when he flirts with other women. (He'll be flattered.) If he doesn't cut out the flirting after that, you'll know he doesn't care how you feel.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I had a son out of wedlock. We talked of marriage, but it never came about. I named my son after his father (first, middle and last name) with his approval.

I would like to know if it is illegal or immoral to name an out-of-wedlock child after his father.

DEAR CONFUSED: It is not illegal. But if the father has a legitimate son named after him, two sons with identical names could create embarrassment and confusion. And to intentionally create such a situation, when it could have been avoided, I think is morally wrong.

DEAR ABBY: About that bride who didn't want any fat friends to ruin the appearance of her wedding: I hope her fat friends will remember her with "skinny" friendships!

For Wednesday, Jan. 21, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Activities where you perform well are those that associate luck promising to you. Be a team player.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Be persistent today, even though what you hope to accomplish may not come on the first try. It could on the second or third.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be diplomatic with others today. The end results should be rewarding and may even surprise you.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You may be called upon today to do a little problem solving for another. It could be a rewarding mental exercise.

Pisces (Feb. 20-March 20) Send a helping hand today if it's needed. It will be planning needs for a future life.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be firm but fair in financial situations you negotiate today. Everyone should come out smiling if you do.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A problem you will be reluctant to tackle won't prove all that difficult. Meet it head-on with optimism.
