Suspected marijuana seized

Three persons were arrested and 11 pounds of suspected marijuana were seized by Manchester Police Thursday night in the latest results of beefed-up drug trafficking investigations, police said.

The suspected marijuana, worth about $4,500 on the street, was seized in a raid by police at 87D Rachel Rd., Detective Sgt. Samuel Kotsch Jr. said.

The raid was conducted by five detectives armed with a Common Pleas Court 12 search warrant.

Arrested were Kim J. Gilbert, 22, of 87D Rachel Rd.; Bruno A. Pare, 18, and Lynn M. Boudreau, 18, both of Hartford.

Gilbert and Pare were each charged with illegal possession of a cannabis-type substance and illegal possession of a cannabis-type substance. Miss Boudreau was charged with two counts of conspiracy in connection with the sale and possession.

Kotsch said the suspected marijuana seizure was one of the largest amounts ever confiscated by Manchester Police in a drug case.

Kotsch said Thursday night's search followed several weeks of surveillance of the Rachel Rd. address.

Police, watching the apartment Thursday night, conducted the raid after observing two people carry a duffle bag into the apartment.

When the search took place, the suspected marijuana was found in one-pound packages in the duffle bag. Kotsch said. Police also seized narcotics paraphernalia, including pipes apparently used for marijuana smoking.

More arrests are expected as police continue to investigate the case, Kotsch said.

Kotsch said Thursday night's arrests were part of a lengthy, recently intensified investigation into drug trafficking in Manchester.

Other recent drug cases, he said, have included:

• Apprehension of a 14-year-old boy and his referral to juvenile court for possession of controlled drugs (suspected marijuana and pills). The boy was checked by Bemet Junior High School officials Wednesday and found to be carrying a small quantity of a plant-like substance and a bottle containing 62 pills. Police cooperated with school authorities in investigating the case, Kotsch said.

• The arrest last month of a Manchester man who police said tried to obtain prescription drugs by representing himself to be a dentist.

The case is pending in Common Pleas Court 12.

• Referral to juvenile court of a 15-year-old Manchester boy who was growing marijuana in his home. Police apprehended the boy after noticing the plant on a windowsill.

Relief rushed to Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala — International relief teams today rushed food and medical supplies to Guatemala, where the earthquake death toll climbed to 3,000 and doctors operated in makeshift tents to save the gravely injured still streaming in from devastated mountain villages.

Bulldozers sealed over mass graves containing many of the victims of Wednesday's pre-dawn quake so the nation could turn to the more urgent task of saving the thousands of injured.

Red Cross Director Jose Alvarado said additional reports from hard-hit outlying areas put the death toll at 3,000 and "still rising."

He said whole towns had been reduced to rubble and survivors were still being rushed to the capital by helicopter and ambulance.

The government refused to speculate on the possible death toll and said it could only confirm 1,373 persons had been buried by midday Thursday.

A spokesman for the American embassy said officials believed all Americans in the country were safe.

At Guatemala City's General Hospital Dr. Cesar Solis, chief of surgery, said beds were moved to outside patios for fear the hospital roof might cave in. A makeshift tent became the hospital's emergency room.

The United States, Peru, Venezuela, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Honduras all rushed relief supplies to the stricken country.

The U.S. aid included a team of 25 physicians and equipment to set up a 100-bed hospital, along with plasma and badly needed drugs.

The government appealed to food stores to reopen to supply the thousands of homeless still camping out in streets and parks.

It warned that those stores hoarding food or jacking up prices would be "drastically sanctioned."

Government employees were asked to return to work today. A few businesses, gasoline stations and shops were open and there was traffic in the streets.

In the capital, water was restored to about 25 per cent of the city. Most electricity also was restored, although sometimes with emergency generators.

According to government figures, the hardest hit areas were outlying towns where the quake leveled adobe homes.

The village of Parramos, about 37 miles west of the capital, was destroyed, Alvarado said when doctors arrived there. "They didn't find anything but rubble. We don't know if the people were buried there or if they were evacuated."

Jaime Caceres, the vice minister of public works, said roads leading to the country's Atlantic coast were still impassable but work was moving swiftly on reopening the main gateway to the Pacific.

Caceres said heavy damage along the Atlantic route would delay delivery of gasoline to the capital and the government urged citizens to ration fuel.

Seeks stabilization of areas

Fire district bill hearing Wednesday

By SOL R. COHEN

Herald Reporter

The legislature's government administration and policy committee has scheduled a public hearing on a bill by State Rep. Ted Cummings, D-12th District, which seeks to stabilize future boundary lines of the Eighth Utilities District and the Town of Manchester.

The hearing will be Wednesday at 11 a.m. in Room 411 of the State Capitol.

The bill came under attack today from Wallace Irish Jr., a leader in the move to expand district lines into Buckland and Cummings' opponent in 1974 for the Assembly seat.

The bill, proposed by Cummings and drafted by the committee, is an amendment to Public Act 200, which spells out the procedure for expansion of Eighth District boundaries.

Cummings said Thursday that the bill "has nothing to do with the present situation, wherein the district has expanded its boundaries for fire service into the Buckland area."

That situation, he said, can be clarified only in the courts. The district is suing the town in Hartford County Superior Court in a declaratory action which seeks to determine who has jurisdiction in Buckland, the district or the town.

Cummings said his bill is on his own prerogative and has no co-signers, "because I didn't want to involve anyone else."

In his criticism today Irish said "I agree there is need to stabilize the situation but, where I disagree is on the need for legislation."

He insisted that "town and district officials should be able to stabilize the situation."

He said, "The proposed legislation is negative legislation and counterproductive to the basic rights of people for freedom of choice. There has been no public call by town or district officials for the legislation, nor any public hearings held on it."

Irish, who is a candidate for the post of Republican town chairman, said, "what this legislation appears to be is an attempt to correct the local Democratic position, which has been contrary to the spirit of previous laws."

He said the Democrats were in power when the Lawton Rd. Firehouse was constructed in 1965, "without the needed approval by district electors for town expansion north of Middle Tpke.," and in 1973, "when the town extended fire service into Forest Hills and Parkville, also without the approval of district electors," and "again when approval was given for the new Buckland Firehouse."

Jobless rate drops to 7.8 per cent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly half a million laid-off workers were rehired in January as the nation's jobless rate fell to 7.8 per cent, the largest monthly decline in 15 years, the Labor Department said today.

The jobless rate fell 0.5 per cent from 8.3 per cent in December. It was the largest one-month decline since a 0.5 per cent drop from November to December, 1959, a spokesman said.

The number of unemployed persons dropped by 650,000 in January for the largest monthly decline since December, 1959, when 81,000 persons were hired as the economy began to recover from the 1958 recession.

"For the second consecutive month, the drop in unemployment occurred entirely among those who had lost their last job," the department said.

It said 78.1 million nonfarm, payroll workers were on company payrolls in January, an increase of 1.8 million since the June, 1975 low. There were 7.3 million unemployed nonfarm workers in January.

The department said two of every three business establishments either hired new workers or rehired laid-off workers in January.

The job gains were widespread for all sectors of Americans seeking employment in January with the exception of teen-agers. The teen-age jobless rate increased 0.3 per cent to 19.9 per cent.

Town water main break affects about 40 homes

About 40 Manchester families were without water from 3 p.m. Thursday to 9 a.m. today when a 15-year-old water main burst on N. Main St.

Actually, the six-inch main, made of tin and cement, broke three times — once after the excavated dirt had been backhauled into the deep hole.

After the third repair, crews of the water department waited to see the results, before completing the fill-in job. Crews worked through the night.

The break was on the south side of N. Main St., beginning at the entrance to Burr Nurseries and extending westerly, beyond the Bonneville apts. The families involved were informed of the break and were advised to take precautions against pipes bursting.

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — A federal judge today permanently enjoined the Rochester School Board from allowing voluntary recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools as allowed on local option under a new state law.

The constitutionality of the law will be decided at a later date, but U.S. District Court Judge Hugh Bowens commented in today's ruling that, "The unconstitutionality of this statute is obvious and pat."

His ruling followed a suit filed by 12 Rochester residents who objected to the prayer being recited in public school.

"It's unconstitutional by any standards of the U.S. Supreme Court," Bowens said, although he was not ruling on its constitutionality.

Washington (UPI) — Watergate Judge John Sirica, a tough man on the bench and in the prize ring, fought for his life today in the coronary care unit of a Washington hospital.

Doctors at George Washington University Hospital said Sirica, 71, was in critical but stable condition following a massive heart attack that knocked him cold and stopped his heartbeat as he delivered a luncheon speech Thursday.

Hospital spokesmen said it took electric shock therapy to restart his heart, but he later regained consciousness and was able to breathe without an oxygen mask.

They said his blood pressure had returned to normal, his life signs were stable, and his life support systems continued without artificial support. The medical bulletin said he was resting comfortably.

Too much fishing, not enough fish

The capitalists, according to orthodox Marxist theory, are supposed to be the rip-off artists of the world, recklessly plundering its resources for the sake of immediate profits. Curious thing, though, it is the Communists who are demonstrating the greatest greed and least concern for the welfare of future generations, at least in one vital category.

Scores of Soviet and other East European trawlers, accompanied by huge factory ships and refrigerated transports up to 600 feet long, are ravaging the waters off the Atlantic coast, charge American fishermen.

"Our own fishing industry can't compete with that," says John W. Brown, of the Emergency Committee to Conserve America's Marine Fisheries.

"We have small, family-owned operations, using 65-foot side trawlers. We go out and come back in the same day. They can stay out for months. There is no way we can compete with those big ships."

Haddock is practically an endangered species already, he says. Herring is declining rapidly. Cod is seriously jeopardized.

In response to these cries of alarm, which have been mounting for the past five years, the Senate last October and the House just the other day voted bills establishing a 200-mile fishing limit off U.S. coasts.

Both bills, which must now be combined into a single piece of legislation, would defer the effective date of the limit to allow time for the 144-nation Law of the Sea Conference to come up with an over-all oceanographic treaty defining the rights and obligations of nations in the use and conservation of the world's marine resources. The House version sets a date of July 1, 1976, the Senate version July 1, 1977.

Such an international agreement would be preferable to unilateral action by the United States. We have, after all, protested the 200-mile fishing limit claimed by certain Latin American countries off their Pacific coasts.

But the signing of this bill by President Ford, when it reaches him in its final form, would serve notice that we will not stand by indefinitely and watch our little, independent "capitalists" be fished into oblivion by the massively organized fleets of the so-called "people's republics."

Combat pay next?

This is what editorial writers call a sorry commentary on the state of society:

A bill has been introduced in the Ohio General Assembly to permit local boards of education to grant "assault leave" to teachers who are injured by a student in the performance of duty.

Total number of "assault leave" days would depend upon the seriousness of the injury, which would require medical verification.

Under the present system, a teacher unable to perform his or her duties as the result of an assault may take sick leave. But since severance pay at retirement is based on the number of unused sick leave days a teacher has accumulated, this could be ad-

Reagan testing Stevenson's Law

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson once remarked, sadly but sagaciously, that the outcome of a presidential election is dictated by the kind of news stories that appear on the front pages of American newspapers.

If Stevenson's Law is valid this year, Ronald Reagan's chances of beating out Gerald Ford for the Republican nomination would seem to be better than fair. His daily charges that the federal government has done a lousy job of administering social programs are supported by media stories of mismanagement, inefficiency, corruption and waste.

asked more if his own operatives had conducted these investigations. All he has to do is keep his staff busy clipping newspapers for evidence to support his argument that almost any new policy is worth trying.

Moreover, reports of shocking waste of the working stiff's tax money come at a time when every poll — including those taken by Democratic politicians whose party controls Congress — show a nationwide distrust not only of the federal bureaucracy but of Capitol Hill.

Even in good times the American voter has tended to be suspicious of "those people in Washington." And, with inflation still galloping and unemployment still high, these are not good times.

Little wonder, then, that Reagan so far has not bothered to defend his controversial proposal line by line. Instead, he goes around the country telling horror stories of the "mess in Washington." He figures that first he has to get people mad, and then he's got to dot the 'i's and cross the 't's of his $80-billion program. Meanwhile, he's telling the folks in song and story what he thinks is wrong with the country. That's the first step for any presidential contender.

Election '76
The men who would be President

Jackson: Straight talk about America

Editor's Note: Candidates for the presidential nomination of their parties, and other political leaders, were invited by Newspaper Enterprise Association to contribute articles concerning their presidential character. What sort of person should be elected President on Nov. 2, 1976, and why? Following are one of these contributions.

By Henry M. Jackson

Many Americans today are disillusioned with their government. This is not surprising. They have watched Watergate; they've seen our economic and political assets squandered in a one-way detente; they've seen our standard of living reduced by recession and inflation.

What we need today is some hard thinking and straight talk about government, and about America — and then the sharp, efficient management to translate plans into reality. Our foreign policy is an example. It's not the concept of detente that I find fault with — it's the mismanagement of detente. I suggested some hard thinking, and hard bargaining on detente. That way we can travel the road to peace without sacrificing our own economic and technological advantages along the way.

The same principle holds true for the economy. This administration is following an economic policy which is now totally discredited: Fight inflation by creating a recession. This is a policy of human sacrifice. It sacrifices the standard of living of millions of American families. And it is a policy of social dynamite, for 10 per cent of our black youth are unemployed. This policy is the cause of the incredible budget deficits of the Nixon-Ford years. Together Nixon and Ford produced one-third of the total national debt since 1989 — an amazing $200 billion in deficits. When we learn that unemployment compensation payments went from $2.9 billion in 1969 to a projected $20 billion this year, we begin to understand financial penalty to physical injury.

According to Ohio state Rep. Francine Panehal, author of the legislation, the number of assaults on teachers by students increased 77 per cent in the United States between 1970 and 1973.

There are more than 70,000 nameless assaults against teachers annually in the United States, says the Ohio Federation of Teachers.

The accuracy of these figures may be open to question — "assault" is a pretty loose term that could run the gamut from a minor scuffle to actual physical attack — but there is little doubt that teaching in some schools these days is a job fully deserving of combat pay.

Sen. Henry Martin Jackson was born in Everett, Wash., March 23, 1912. He received an LL.B. degree from the University of Washington in 1935 and began practicing law. Jackson was Snohomish County prosecuting attorney, 1932-40, U.S. Representative from Washington's second district, 1941-53, and has been a U.S. Senator ever since. He was chairman of the Democratic National Committee 1960-61. Jackson sought the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972, but withdrew after being overshadowed by the primaries. He was an early environmentalist though he later stressed a balance between economic growth and conservation. He is an internationalist supporter of a vigorous U.S. role abroad. Jackson chairs the Senate Interior Committee and serves on the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee on Atomic Energy. He is married and has two children.

Bicentennial cerebralation suggested

To the editor,

Your editorial entitled "Bicentennial voter registration under way" which appeared Jan. 30, made an excellent case for Manchester's 100 per cent voter registration drive. You pointed out the startling incidence of voter apathy and rightly stressed the importance of individual registered voters to actively solicit others to exercise this fundamental right of Democratic government. This is all well and good but does not quite go far enough.

The thing I find distressing is that not enough attention is being paid to the reasons why only 45 per cent of the American public bothered to vote in the last presidential election and why more and more people have chosen to ignore the ballot box and voter registration drives.

Look what our silent majority and ballot box did for us in 1972. It produced a landslide victory for the most corrupt presidency in history. People are alienated, dissatisfied, tired, whipped into submission by blabbermouth politicians, dishonest, price-fixing corporations, multinational monopolies, outrageous prices, stinking pollution and vested interests.

"A Republic, sir, if you can keep it!" mused wise Benjamin Franklin. It seems that those we have entrusted to keep it are doing just that, keeping it for themselves. Over half of our 100 U.S. senators are millionaires. Americans have been spied on, lied to, cheated by the same people who claim to be the guardians of our highest ideals. Richard Nixon, in a recent Good Housekeeping interview, could not understand America's disillusionment with government and his constituents. Why not? When he and his cohorts did so much to create it and made it a matter of policy to isolate, dehumanize, deceive and rip-off the public at large.

We pay nearly sixty cents for a gallon of gas, the phone company puts little asterisks on our bills telling us how much we've saved while at the same time upping their rates considerably. 53 per cent of our federal tax dollars go to pay for excessive and wasteful military expenditures while millions struggle below the poverty level or close to it just to make ends meet.

The present S-1 bill now before Congress threatens our fundamental rights to free speech and assembly. Environmental cancer and disease from synthetic products and unhealthy work conditions is the rise. Health care, infant mortality and education are in dismal straits. There are twenty tons of TNT in the form of nuclear weapons for every man, woman and child on the planet. Over half the world is in dire need of food and the ozone falls from the sky.

Meanwhile we are offered a three-ring presidential circus campaign and a few choice, poor ones at that, between President. Bumble and Senator Ghah; Congressman Mash and Governor Narrow, etc. Sure we need more voters, especially well-informed ones. We do not need the knee-slapping flag and party worship variety of which there are far too many.

Who can people vote for if all they are offered is the same old dinosaurs, the same self-serving, incestuous, inbred knights in rusted armor? American Bicentennial celebration? Yes, there will be a lot of that. What we really need is Bicentennial cerebralation to coin a phrase. This is a time for revolutionary ideas. Too bad everyone is asleep.

Voters thanked

To the editor,

We wish to thank the Democratic voters of District 7 for their support and interest at the caucus held January 21, 1976.

Our job is to represent you and we are looking forward to some input, ideas and suggestions. For those voters who were unable to be there please contact any member of this committee and help us to serve you better.

To the Manchester Herald and its staff, thank you for the good coverage of this caucus.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

7:14 Prayer movement

The first Friday of each month in this Bicentennial year is set aside by many across our nation for fasting and prayer.

I believe that the Holy Spirit is saying to Christians everywhere that the time has come for all the people of God to come together to intercede in prayer for their nation... in their homes and in their churches. As we see societies and governments everywhere falling apart, we recognize that only the mercy and intercession of God can help us now.

The principles on II Chronicles 7:14 still show us God's conditions for national revival and the healing of a land. This is a promise made to Israel which the Holy Spirit is renewing today to the hearts of His people in many nations. All His instructions are directed to the people of God. His intention is to use us as instruments of this healing and revival if we will present ourselves as clean and dedicated vessels for the Lord's use.

There is great power in the united, fervent prayers of God's people. In '76 will you stand in the gap? Submitted by

'We're here,' Benoit tells state Department of Transportation

Vernon BARBARA RICHMOND
 "By now the State Department of Transportation knows there is a Mayor Thomas Benoit and a town of Vernon," Mayor Benoit said Thursday.

The town officials and townspeople have been pounding DOT's officials about plans to widen I-86 in the Vernon area. They have let the state know they are not happy with plans the way they now stand.

Last week Mayor Benoit wrote a letter to Acting Commissioner James Shugrue of DOT. He asked a lot of questions and Thursday he received the answers.

Benoit told Shugrue the town favors the project because of commuter needs and the needs of the town's business sector. But, several aspects would have a detrimental impact on the town.

Benoit said he would like to see some changes made and noted concerns are primarily focused in three areas: The proposed 140-foot median divider in the vicinity of Vernon Circle; the noise levels expected to exceed the maximum permitted by federal law; and the adverse effect salt pollution could have on the drainage systems in the area.

The state plans to widen the highway from three to five lanes in each direction including a priority lane in each direction for commuter vehicles.

Shugrue said traffic projections for the highway in Vernon for the year 2,000 show the need for the added lanes and the commuter vehicle lanes.

He said mass transit potential as it relates to commuters has been investigated and that about 35 per cent of the projected traffic volume of 70,000 average per day, west of the Rt. 83 interchange is made up of trips being served by interchanges in Vernon.

He added that a high percentage of these trips are Vernon-oriented noting that the destinations are quite varied. He said the majority are in Hartford, East Hartford and Manchester and the remainder widely scattered. Shugrue said about 15 per cent of the 70,000 average daily traffic projection is long distance through Connecticut but only five per cent of the peak hour commuter traffic.

Hebron Grand List rises 4.2 per cent

EVELYN CROSTON
 With a net total of $40,786,830, the 1975 Grand List represents about a 4.2 per cent increase over the 1974 list which totaled $39,151,140.

This is slightly higher than the 3 per cent increase the 1974 list reflected over the 1973 list.

The net figure reflects exemptions totaling $3,175,315. Which includes $4,535,350 for farm and forest land.

Assessor David MacArthur filed the list Jan. 29.

The 1975 list includes: 1,492 dwellings valued at $20,942,349; 922 garages, barns and sheds valued at $1,157,700 and 1,979.5 lots at $8,693,965.

These figures reflect a slight increase over $1,700 compared to $1,567,100 in 1974.

The number of acres decreased on the 1975 list from 18,196.19 valued at $8,087,730 compared to 19,988 on the 1974 list valued at $8,167,730.

Motor vehicles are valued at $3,236,300 compared to $2,858,650 on the 1974 list. $1,550 on the 1974 list and $1,775 on the 1975 list total $12,255 compared to $3,850 on the 1974 list.

Andover dump on meeting agenda

DONNA HOLLAND
 Residents will be asked at Monday's Town Meeting to rescind two actions taken at a Town Meeting last year.

In 1975 they approved $28,000 for an emergency medical vehicle. Also they voted Bolton could not use the Andover disposal area after June 30, 1976.

If they rescind the actions, residents will be asked to approve $20,000 for the vehicle and a contract with Bolton to continue sharing the dump.

If the dump is shared by the two towns, the annual cost is $50,291. Bolton's share would be $25,000 and Andover's $15,291.

If Andover uses the area by itself, the cost would be $28,380.

The difference, $13,089, is equal to one mill in the Andover tax rate.

Residents will also be asked to appropriate $20,000 to defray the cost of a recreation field.

They will be asked to adopt an ordinance making town-owned personal property and equipment come under the control and authority of the Board of Selectmen.

Gauges under the control of the Board of Education, Board of Fire Commissioners and Library Directors will be exempt from the ordinance.

Residents will be asked to accept Birch Dr. and Lakeview Dr. as public roads.

The Herald Angle

Call for attention

There is no bigger fan of the New England Whalers in Manchester than Mary Ryan. Earlier this week she penned the following which rates reading: "I was late for last night's hockey game, so I was still walking toward my seat when the National Anthem began. I was embarrassed by the number of people who continued walking and talking during O Canada. While it is not our National Anthem, it seems to me that we should show some respect and not bustle around trying to get to our seats. We ask that of the Canadians when our National Anthem is being played. ... Speaking of the Whalers, one reader phoned and asked if any of the Whalers ever signed autographs for youngsters after a game. Hundreds of young fans who have waited outside the Whaler dressing room could supply the answer. The players are public relations-minded and have obliged requests for their signatures ... hundreds of times. Bobby Hull noted in his recent Hartford appearance with the Wings, that that four WHA franchises are having money problems, Cleveland, Minnesota, Phoenix and San Diego and Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Oakland, Kansas City, Washington, Atlanta and St. Louis in the NHL are in a financial bind. Since Hull's visit, the Minnesota WHA franchise changed hands. Hull felt a merger is a must between the two leagues for survival."

Record-breaking performances

Karen Herbet of Manchester has established two women's swimming records at the University of Connecticut. She was credited with a 2:09.91 clocking in the 200 freestyle and a 5:44.5 time in the 500 freestyle. ... Kip Blake of Manchester gained fifth place in the Schaefer Ferry skiing race at Pico Peak. ... Among the most loyal UConn basketball fans in Manchester are Jack Hunter, Jon Norris, Mike Belcher, Joe Sartor, Tony Sartor and Neil Conklin, all of whom are regulars in attendance for home games. ... Women's speed skating, two-man bobsled, hockey, men's and women's luge and the biathlon events will be featured on Olympic Games video coverage tonight on Channel 8 starting at 9 o'clock. ... Earl Monroe of the New York Knicks was a standout scorer player as a boy. The high-scoring NBA star credits his mother for "molding me as a person. She kept me away from trouble. I grew up in a rough part of Philadelphia, an area where you just get into trouble just going outdoors. Thanks to my mother I had enough love and understanding. Her reprimands kept me straight."

Notes off the cuff

Andy Ballard, UConn freshman coach and top recruiter, has his eye on Bruce Baillard, the fine Manchester Hill athlete. The big right-handed pitcher has the ability to work top-flight New England college ball, a category UConn falls into. The UConn varsity will play a 34-game schedule. ... Kevin Walsh reports the New England Whalers have received over 2,000 ticket stubs in exchange jackets from fans who did not get them on Ticket Night. The Whalers distributed 4,000 on the special night, as advertised. When a poor situation developed, ignited by adults, the Whaler management said all youngsters wearing the special jackets could write to the Whalers and the requests would be honored. It will be a show of the honesty of ticket buyers, only youngsters 15 and under were eligible to receive jackets. The game was a sellout with 10,000, plus, in attendance. ... Youngsters, six to 18, may still sign up for Monday night in the Rec Summer soccer program. Registration will be from 6 to 8 at Manchester High. A total of 389 youngsters have signed up to date.

Young USA gold medalist

INNSBRUCK (UPI) — Sheila Young, wearing her skates on her bare feet so she could get the feel of the ice, won the women's 500-meter speed skating title today to become America's first gold medal winner and the first double medalist at the Winter Olympics.

Young, a 25-year-old super athlete from Detroit, won the gold medal with a time of 42.76 seconds after having come up with a silver in Thursday's 1,500-meters.

Saturday she'll bid for a third medal in the 1,000-meters.

Second in the 500, which was raced in partial fog at the Innsbruck oval, was Canada's Cathy Priestner, 43.12, with Russia's Tatiana Averina finishing third in 43.17, 4-100ths of a second ahead of Leah Poulos of Northbrook, Ill.

Earlier in the day Russia won its third gold medal of the Games when Nikolai Kruglov, a 26-year-old skier from Gorky, took the 20-kilometer biathlon in 1:14:12.28 ahead of reigning world champion Heikki Ikola of Finland and another Russian, Aleksandr Elizarov.

With five titles decided, the Soviet Union leads the medal count with seven against three for the United States.

Young's winning time broke American Anne Hepp's record by 1.07 second and was well short of the world record 40.91 set at Davos, Switzerland, last weekend. The first Soviet finisher in fact, broke Hepp's record.

After three of four rounds in the men's luge, West Germany's Detlef Gander led with an aggregate time of 2:35.96, while East German Margit Schumann was ahead in the women's division with 2:07.99. The women race was a shorter course.

Kruglov finished with a time of one hour, 14 minutes, 12.26 seconds. Ikola, the reigning world champion, finished with a time of 1:15-54.10. Elizarov clocked 1:16-05.37.

Two of the three Americans, Lyle Nelson of Boise, Idaho, and Martin Hagen of Jackson, Wyo., finished in the best five of the field. The third American, Peter Dascoulias, substituting for the flu-stricken John Morton, did not finish. He fell on the course and damaged his rifle.

Thursday she opened her second Olympics by taking a surprise silver medal in the 1,500-meter, a distance she dislikes, by finishing second behind former Russian world champion, Galina Stepankaya, in a time of 2:17.08.

Speaking of her medal, Young said, "for me it was unexpected and gives me encouragement and confidence to go into my favorite race with a silver medal."

The biathlon will be the other gold medal awarded this time the United States has little chance of pulling the kind of surprise Bill Koch did Thursday in the 30-kilometer cross-country event, when he took the silver medal behind Russia's Sergei Saveliev.

The 20-year-old skier from Guilford, Vt., became the first American Olympic cross country medalist.

Koch said, "it makes me very feel very excited and I hope the American people are very excited too."

When Young was a favorite today, the U.S. hockey team was the decided underdog in its opening match of the five-game, round-robin championship bracket against the Soviet Union.

The Russians, the same players who barnstormed North America and didn't lose a game, have a record of 10-0-1 in the world's best hockey. Whalers triumph CALGARY (UPI) — Horsetown product Mike Rogers scored two goals Thursday night to lead the New England Whalers to a 4-1 World Hockey Association victory over the Calgary Cowboys.

Rogers opened the scoring at 3:14 of the first period, but the Cowboys rallied to take a 2-1 lead on two goals by center Bob Lettier.

The Whalers evened things early in the second period on Dan And's goal but Calgary gain rallied with four minutes left in the period to take the lead on George Morrison's goal.

Rogers scored again at 1:27 of the third period, but Tom Earl, Rogers and Ralph Backstrom reeled off the next three goals to give New England the victory.

Three hoop contests on schedule tonight

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sportswriter

Crowds at home games have not always been what was expected but nevertheless it will be a fan's dilemma tonight as the three local game entries face opponents within the boundaries of Manchester.

Manchester High, securely in front in the CCHL with a 13-0 record, has a shot of at least clinching a tie for the title against cellar-dwelling Wetherfield at Clarke Arena at 8:15. East Catholic, which got back on the winning track against lowly Prince Tech and is 15-1 for the season, enters HCC foe Xavier High of Middletown at the Eagles' Northeast, Tech, 1-13 in the Charter Oak Conference and 3-13 overall, hosts Coventry. Both titles tap off at 8:15.

In area games, 4-6, 6-11 Rockville High is at 3-7, 4-12 Gastonbury and 7-2, 8-5 Windsor Locks face CVU and 6-9 East Hampton and 8-5, 8-7 Ham High hosts 7-7, 8-7 Bacon Academy in 8:15.

Manchester was won four in a row averaging 72.5 points per game in doing so to list a 3-2 aggregate ledger in the only defeat to East Catholic. Wetherfield battled the St. Towners took and nail in the first meeting before coming, 50-48. But Manchester wasn't mentally prepared for that tilt coming off a one-point overtime loss to East. There should be no doubt, however, that the Indians will be ready for the 2-1, 2-12 visitors this time around.

East Catholic put five performers in double figures in demolishing Prince Tech in their first meeting as Coach Artie Kohn's Xavier Falcons are 6-10 for the season and will be clawing for every win to qualify for

Rookie paces Bruins

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Reece said goodbye to the Boston Bruins Thursday night as he became the Bruins' rookie backup goalie, while Mike Milnes led the only one to elude him.

Dave Forbes, Bobby Schreiner, Braden Dowe and Doug Gibson picked up the Boston goals.

In the other game, Philadelphia's Ilya Bryzgalov, 21, in the World Hockey Association, defeated Quebec, 4-2. Phoenix belted Edmonton, 5-1. New England dropped Calgary, 6-4, and San Diego edged Cleveland, 3-2.

Ross Lonsbery scored twice and Bobby Clarke picked up his 200th NHL career goal to rebuild Philadelphia's first-place lead over the second-place New York Islanders to six points. But the Flyers suffered a big blow in the game when All-Star center Fred MacLean tore knee ligaments and will miss 10 to 12 weeks.

WHA

Al Karlander and Bob Fiala each scored two goals to give Indianapolis its first win of the season over Quebec ... Ron Hutton of the Islanders picked up two goals to single-handedly outscore Edmonton ... and Joe Norris' goal midway through the final period gave San Diego its fourth victory in a row in downing Cleveland.

Basketball

Midlet
Police stopped First Hartford Realty last night at the East Side, 31-19, as Wayne Bray tallied 10 points and Dave McMahon eight. Paul Barry and Steve Gerrick paced the losers with six each.

Eastern Realty stopped the Y as Mike Falowski tossed in 13 points and Paul Collins 11. Skip Moreau, Bob Berday Berdat and Ken Marshall each had eight points in defeat.

Illing jayvee
Closing out his season with a 42-20 win yesterday was the Illing Junior High jayvee team over Johnston Bennett. Ozzie Johnson had 20 points and Bob Halldin had eight rebounds for the winners.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Wrang person
DENVER (UPI) — A bookkeeper's error apparently caused the Professional Rodeo Cowboys' Association to miscalculate winnings awarded to the winner of the wrong prize, a PRCA official said Thursday.

Randy Wittie said the bookkeeper apparently overestimated the winnings of Leo Camarillo, Okladale, Calif., by crediting him with prize money actually won last year by his cousin, Reg Camarillo.

Wittie said an audit of the winnings indicated the all-around cowboy title should have gone to Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., the 1974 all-around champion. The award is based on total season winnings in two or more events.

Free to bid
NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — The business agent of free agent pitcher Steve Messersmith says the club owners are now free to bid right on his client's services.

Messersmith's agent, Herb Ostrom, said he left the ruling this week by Federal Judge John Oliver in Kansas City would permit any baseball club to contact Messersmith, as well as pitcher Dave McNally, who also became a free agent in the same ruling.

Job offered Restic
FOOTBALL (UPI) — Harvard head coach Bob Restic is close to becoming the new head coach of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles.

"They have offered me the job," Restic said yesterday. "But there are a few more things I would want before I would accept it.

"If they give me what I asked for, then I've got a decision to make. If they don't, then it's all over. I'm staying at Harvard."

Kormann selected
NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Gymnast Peter Kormann of Southern Connecticut State College was the only American qualifier to meet Saturday and Sunday in Toronto. The U.S. team, which competes against Canada in the trial, must compete in one more meet for a chance at qualifying for the Olympics.

Squires to stay
NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association have once again been saved from financial extinction — at least until the end of this season.

The franchise, which early this week announced it would fold unless it could come up with $500,000, was rescued Thursday by the Norfolk City Council and a local bank.

The council agreed to waive the Squires' rent at the Scope Arena for the remainder of the season — estimated at $200,000 — and The Virginia National Bank granted the club an unsecured $250,000 loan.

Rumors dispelled
BOSTON (UPI) — Ohio State may be looking for a "name" to fill its basketball hole for the season — the name will not be John Havlicek.

The Boston Ironman, gunning to become the National Basketball Association's most valuable player, dispelled rumors that he will leave the job.

Havlicek, a 34-year veteran who has just returned from his 11th NBA All-Star game, said, "I'm not interested in coaching college ball. I'm going to play with the Celtics and instructor in base stealing. According to today's Herald-American, I'm going to play next year."

Connors and Laver first round losers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "new" Jimmy Connors and the "old" Rod Laver were both eliminated in the first round of tennis tournaments 700 miles apart Thursday night, and both left the competition painfully.

Connors was forced to default after today's semifinals against Hareon one set to former NCAA champion John Whitinger because of an ankle injury in the $80,000 Independent Players Association tournament at Boca Raton, Fla. Connors, ironically, was injured because of an ankle injury that he suffered last year.

Laver was crushed by Geoff Kitney earlier in the week. Laver withdrew from the consolation tournament at Richmond.

Immediately following his match, Laver was hospitalized at a hospital in San Diego because of a hip injury diagnosed as inflamed bursitis.

Second-seeded Tom Okker crushed Marty Riessen, 6-2, 6-2; third-seeded Raul Ramirez got past Anand Amritraj, 6-4, 6-4; and fourth-seeded Roscoe Tanner was ousted by unseeded Brian Gottfried, 6-3, 6-4. In other first-round matches of the Virginia Slims tennis tournament, third-seeded Phil Dent advanced into the semifinals by defeating unseeded Tommy Okker 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Dent also won the UConn tennis tournament.

Richey won his quarter-final match against Victor Pecci of Paraguay, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1, to qualify for

Gold Medal winner Sheila Young

INNSBRUCK (UPI) — Sheila Young, wearing her skates on her bare feet so she could get the feel of the ice, won the women's 500-meter speed skating title today to become America's first gold medal winner and the first double medalist at the Winter Olympics.

Young, a 25-year-old super athlete from Detroit, won the gold medal with a time of 42.76 seconds after having come up with a silver in Thursday's 1,500-meters.

Palmer shoots 64, ties course record

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — That infectious grin was wide on Arnold Palmer's face and Billy Casper probably was just as happy, although you couldn't tell it from looking at him.

Palmer, who hasn't won an American title since 1972, shot an Eldorado course record-tying 64 Thursday in the second round of the Bob Hope Desert Classic, an event he has won five times, while Casper, who has won 51 tournaments but only once in the last two years, had a 65.

That left Casper at 137, two shots behind pace-setter Brian Alvin with Palmer another shot back at 138 along with Dwight Nelik and Bob Murphy. Jack Nicklaus is at 139 with George Cade while defending champion Johnny Miller is at 140 with Jim Colbert, David Graham, Bill Rogers and John Mahaffey.

"I can't remember the last time I putted as well as I did in this round," said Palmer. "I'm wondering what my score might have been had I made every putt I had a shot at."

(Palmer missed four from under eight feet.)

As it was, Palmer had nine birdies and one bogey on a card of 32-32. Casper shot 36-29, coming back from an eagle and five birdies. In many ways, it was like old times watching Palmer and Casper make all those birdies.

Casper seemed headed for an even-par round after he made the turn in white while playing at Eldorado. Then he suddenly caught fire as he

NEW YORK (UPI) — The longer Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff kept Pistot Pete Maravich on the bench in the fourth period, the fresher his ace would be down the stretch. Pisto decided to insert the Pistot, Van Breda Kolff waited, and waited.

"We were catching up without him," he said. "Fred Boyd hasn't been with us long — was doing a great job."

"If they give me what I asked for, then I've got a decision to make. If they don't, then it's all over. I'm staying at Harvard."

"We were catching up without him," he said. "Fred Boyd hasn't been with us long — was doing a great job."

He was really entertaining. He put on one of the best shows that I've ever seen him have in the five years I've played against him," said Neil Archibald before the first half when the Rockets were shooting better by 60 per cent and running to a 61-47 lead.

Kevin Kanner pulled down 29 points, a season high, in the first half when the Rockets were shooting better by 60 per cent and running to a 61-47 lead.

In other games, Detroit topped Atlanta, 111-108, and Kansas City dropped Los Angeles, 117-109. In the only NBA game, San Antonio defeated New York, 124-116.

Reserve forward Elie Eberhard pumped in two jump shots in the final minutes to give Detroit its rare road victory. Eberhard gave the Pistons the lead, scoring 23 points and 11-16 left lay up. Eberhard was high for the Nets.

Hoop player dies

LESBURG, Va. (UPI) — Owen Brown, a 22-year-old former Maryland basketball star, collapsed and died of a heart attack Wednesday night during a pickup basketball game.

Brown, who was playing for a pickup team at the time, collapsed on the court and died of a heart attack. He was 22 years old and had played basketball for several years. He was a member of the Maryland basketball team in high school. He was a member of the Maryland basketball team in high school.

Five-year pact for Rams' Knox

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams want to keep Chuck Knox as head coach and they've signed him to a five-year contract with mutual options for another five years, owner Carroll Rosenbloom announced Thursday.

"Our agreement," Rosenbloom said, "is tantamount to a 10-year contract, and Chuck knows that he will remain head coach as long as he wishes. Looking to the distant future, we want him to remain a key part of our organization even after he no longer wants to coach."

The Rams signed the 43-year-old Knox to a three-year contract in 1973 and he put together a 44-8 record in those seasons with National Football League Western Division titles each time and a win of the Super Bowl.

No mention of money was made by Rosenbloom but Knox no doubt got a package deal good for well over $300,000 a season including fees for radio and television shows with pride in his

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: Before Christmas my husband phoned me from the office to say he was bringing home a surprise for me and that I should fix a pitcher of martini. I was so sure he was bringing home the earrings I wanted for Christmas that I prepared the martini, got myself all prettied up, minus my clothes, laid down on the living room sofa and waited for him.

DEAR ABBY: My question isn't exactly earth-shaking, but I need an answer. I am a happily married woman and want to have my ears pierced, but my husband has forbidden me to do so. He won't give me a reason; he just says he doesn't want me to do it.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my daughter was married at a church wedding, which was followed by a sit-down dinner and reception.

DEAR ABBY: What's to handle? A gift is a gift - not an obligation. Forget it.

Footprints lead police to false alarm arrest

Manchester Police, investigating a false fire alarm at 1:30 a.m. today, followed fresh footprints in the snow and arrested a man who was found at the end of the trail.
 Daniel W. Edwards, 21, of 689 Main St., was charged with intoxication and falsely reporting an incident. Court date is Feb. 24.
 Police were notified by town fire fighters when Box 45, Main and Bissell Sts., was pulled at about 1:30 a.m. When police arrived, they found footprints in new snow leading to and from the box alarm.
 Police followed the tracks north on Main St., east on Brainard Pl., and to the rear of apartments at 689 Main St. The trail went up steps and into an apartment, police said.
 Police knocked, went in and found Edwards, officers said. He was taken into custody and held overnight.

Other arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police included:

- Carlene Cahill, 41, of 123 Downey Dr., charged Thursday with driving while her license was suspended and speeding, at Center St. and Jarvis Rd. Court date is Feb. 24.
 - John W. Buswell, 33, of 24 Prospect St., charged early this morning with disorderly conduct and intoxication, after a disturbance at his home. Court date is Feb. 23.
 - Gary R. Schmidt, 23, of East Hartford, charged Thursday night with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) at King's Department Store, Manchester Shopping Parkade. Court date is Feb. 23.
- Thefts reported to police Thursday included:
- A five-horsepower electrical generator, stolen from the basement of a Nutmeg Lane house. The generator was valued at $370, police said.
 - Four women's coats, worth a total of $160, shoplifted by an unidentified man at King's Department Store at the Parkade Thursday night.

VERNON
 The Special Services Unit of the Vernon Police Department has issued warrants for the arrest of two Vernon men. The warrants has been sent to Brooklyn, N.Y., where the men are being held on other charges.
 The Vernon warrant charges Roosevelt Walker and Daniel Young of 97 Coldspring Dr. with first-degree promoting prostitution.
 The Vernon Police received a complaint from a Brooklyn, N.Y. woman that her four-year-old son was being held unlawfully in Vernon.
 Police went to the Coldspring Dr. home and found no one there and then alerted the New York police concerning the child. Police found the child unharmed and charged the two Vernon men with unlawful restraint.

Vernon Police apprehended a male juvenile in a Park West Dr. apartment Thursday after receiving a complaint from the apartment tenant. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Jose Hernandez, 28, of Springfield, was charged Thursday with failure to grant right of way and operating under suspension.

Hernandez was involved in a two-car accident at High and Court Sts. The driver of the other car was Reginald Bossey of Hammond St., Rockville. Damage to the cars was minor. No injuries were reported. Hernandez was released on a $200 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, Feb. 25.

Marines sponsor party at children's hospital

A Valentine party is being sponsored for the patients at Newington Children's Hospital Tuesday at 7 p.m. by the Military Order of Devil Dogs, the honor society of the Marine Corps League.
 Entertainment will be provided by members of the Manchester Pipe Band; the Great Zambino, a magician, and Miss Laurie Osgood with her Dance Center Art Troupe in a "Step in the Past."
 There also will be four clowns and the Young Marine Brevets participating in the program. Brad Davis, television news reporter for Channel 3, will be the master of ceremonies.

 Cookies, candies, ice cream and balloons will be provided for the children.
 Members of the Devil Dogs, Auxiliary and friends are invited to attend the party, said Harold Osgood, state pack smart dog, chairman of the event.

Energy interests suffer sharp setback in House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has given President Ford and the nation's energy interests a sharp setback in their push for an end to federal regulation of natural gas prices.
 In an emotional and sometimes confusing end to three days' debate on the issue, the House late Thursday approved a compromise by Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, that would extend federal control of major producers into their sales of gas within their own states where it was not previously controlled.

 At the same time, it would free smaller producers from price controls, to spur them to greater explorations and efforts.
 The bill will be vetoed if it reaches Ford in that form, Rep. Robert Krueger, D-Tex., predicted.
 "The President has already indicated there is no way he could sign legislation like this," said Krueger, defeated leader of the deregulation forces.

 The Senate has passed a combination of wintertime emergency authority for some gas sales outside controls with a long-range permanent lifting of controls.
 Ford wants total deregulation, in his drive for national energy self-sufficiency.
 The Federal Power Commission

controls interstate sales at 52 cents per thousand cubic feet. Sales in the same state as the gas is produced are free of price controls. Smith's bill extends federal control over the large producers to their within-the-state sales. It frees from federal controls approximately 3,500 small producers, defined as companies producing less than 1 billion cubic feet a year.

Opponents lose two rounds in Concorde controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American opponents of the Concorde have lost the first two rounds in their new battle to overturn a federal grant of U.S. landing rights for the controversial Anglo-French supersonic transport.
 They also have lost an ally, at least temporarily. The Environmental Protection Agency withdrew Thursday its efforts to reverse Transportation Secretary William Coleman Jr.'s approval of 16 months of daily trial SST flights to New York and Washington.

EPA officials say, however, they still favor the adoption of long-range rules banning the SST unless its engines are muffled. And other anti-SST forces predict eventual success in getting Congress or the courts to order an outright ban on the needsmost plane.
 The battle against Concorde is being waged on three fronts — in the courts, in the Senate and before the New York Port Authority, which must endorse Coleman's ruling before the SST can land at JFK Airport.

The Senate Commerce Committee Thursday rejected by a narrow 10 to 9 vote an amendment to an airport funding bill, offered by Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., to block all SST landings in the United States except in an emergency.
 The committee also voted 15 to 4 against a substitute amendment from Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., to shorten the trial period in order to measure the plane's noise level.
 Weicker said he will take his bill to the Senate floor later this month.
 "I think when we get to the floor we will have a broad coalition supporting the amendment," an aide told UPI. "So we're pretty hopeful."

HEARING TEST SET FOR MANCHESTER

As a special service to residents of this community, free electronic hearing tests will be given at Manchester Community Center, 79 No. Main Street, Monday, February 9th, 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Specialists (licensed by the State of Connecticut) will perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using modern electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss. Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Especially people now waiting an aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test annually.
