Footprints lead police to false alarm arrest

Manchester Police, investigating a false fire alarm at 1:30 a.m. today, followed fresh footprints in the snow and arrested a man who was found at the end of the trail. Daniel W. Edwards, 21, of 689 Main St., was charged with intoxication and falsely reporting an incident. Court date is Feb. 24. Police were notified by town fire fighters when Box 45, Main and Bissell Sts., was pulled at about 1:30 a.m. When police arrived, they found footprints in new snow leading to and from the box alarm. Police followed the tracks north on Main St., east on Brainerd Pl., and to the rear of apartments at 689 Main St. The trail went up steps and into an apartment, police said. Police knocked, went in and found Edwards, officers said. He was taken into custody and held overnight.

Other arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police included: • Carlene Cahill, 41, of 123 Downey Dr., charged Thursday with driving while her license was suspended and speeding, at Center St. and Jarvis Rd. Court date is Feb. 24.

• John W. Buswell, 33, of 24 Prospect St., charged early this morning with disorderly conduct and intoxication, after a disturbance at his home. Court date is Feb. 23. • Gary R. Schmidt, 23, of East Hartford, charged Thursday night with fourth-degree larceny (shoplifting) at King's Department Store, Manchester Shopping Parkade. Court date is Feb. 23.

Thefts reported to police Thursday included: • A five-horsepower electrical generator, stolen from the basement of a Nutmeg Lane house. The generator was valued at $370, police said. • Four women's coats, worth a total of $160, shoplifted by an unidentified man at King's Department Store at the Parkade Thursday night.

VERNON The Special Services Unit of the Vernon Police Department has issued warrants for the arrest of two Vernon men. The warrant has been sent to Brooklyn, N.Y., where the men are being held on other charges. The Vernon warrant charges Roosevelt Walker and Daniel Young of Coldspring Dr. with first-degree promoting prostitution. The Vernon Police received a complaint from a Brooklyn, N.Y. woman that her four-year-old son was being held unlawfully in Vernon. Police went to the Coldspring Dr. home and found no one there and then alerted the New York police concerning the child. Police found the child unharmed and charged the two Vernon men with unlawful restraint.

Vernon Police apprehended a male juvenile in a Park West Dr. apartment Thursday after receiving a complaint from the apartment tenant. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities. Jose Hernandez, 28, of Springfield, was charged Thursday with failure to grant right of way and operating under suspension. Hernandez was involved in a two-car accident at High and Court Sts. The driver of the other car was Reginald Bossey of Hammond St., Rockville. Damage to the cars was minor. No injuries were reported. Hernandez was released on a $200 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, Feb. 25.

Marines sponsor party at children's hospital

A Valentine party is being sponsored for the patients at Newington Children's Hospital Tuesday at 7 p.m. by the Military Order of Devil Dogs, the honor society of the Marine Corps League. Entertainment will be provided by members of the Manchester Pipe Band; the Great Zambino, a magician, and Miss Laurie Osgood with her Dance Center Art Troupe in a "Step in the Past." There also will be four clowns and the Young Marine Brevets participating in the program. Brian Davis, television news reporter for Channel 3, will be the master of ceremonies. Cookies, candies, ice cream and balloons will be provided for the children. Members of the Devil Dogs, Auxiliary and friends are invited to attend the party, said Harold Osgood, state pack smart dog, chairman of the event.

Energy interests suffer sharp setback in House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has given President Ford and the nation's energy interests a sharp setback in their push for an end to federal regulation of natural gas prices. In an emotional and sometimes confusing end to three days' debate on the issue, the House late Thursday approved a compromise by Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, that would extend federal control of major producers into their sales of gas within their own states where it was not previously controlled. At the same time, it would free smaller producers from price controls, to spur them to greater explorations and efforts. The bill will be vetoed if it reaches Ford in that form, Rep. Robert Krueger, D-Tex., predicted. "The President has already indicated there is no way he could sign legislation like this," said Krueger, defeated leader of the deregulation conduct and intoxication, after a disturbance at his home. Court date is Feb. 23. The Senate has passed a combination of wintertime emergency authority for some gas sales outside controls with a long-range permanent lifting of controls. Ford wants total deregulation, in his drive for national energy self-sufficiency. The Federal Power Commission

Opponents lose two rounds in Concorde controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American opponents of the Concorde have lost the first two rounds in their new battle to overturn a federal grant of U.S. landing rights for the controversial Anglo-French supersonic transport. They also have lost an ally, at least temporarily. The Environmental Protection Agency withdrew Thursday its efforts to reverse Transportation Secretary William Coleman Jr.'s approval of 16 months of daily trial SST flights to New York and Washington.

EPA officials say, however, they still favor the adoption of long-range rules banning the SST unless its engines are modified. And other anti-SST forces predict eventual success in getting Congress or the courts to order an outright ban on the needlessly planned flights.

The battle against Concorde is being waged on three fronts — in the courts, in the Senate and before the New York Port Authority, which must endorse Coleman's ruling before the SST can land at JFK Airport. The Senate Commerce Committee Thursday rejected by a narrow 10 to 9 vote an amendment to an airport fun-

State

NEWINGTON — The state Health Department has laid off 173 of its 241 employees at Cedarcrest State Hospital in preparation for its Feb. 20 closing as part of a cost-cutting move. The hospital was ordered closed last November by Gov. Ella T. Grasso because it was losing $2 million a year and the services it offered were available elsewhere.

HARTFORD — Finance Commission Jay O. Tepper says the office of Fiscal Analysis used state figures in forecasting state revenues would fall $10 million below Tepper's revenue projection. He said his figure of $1.68 was based on more recent figures than those used by the legislative arm when it reported Friday revenues would be $1.65 this year.

WASHINGTON — Watergate Judge John J. Sirica improved so much after his near fatal heart attack Thursday he was taken off the critical list late Friday. Sirica, 71, is being treated at George Washington University Medical Center's coronary care unit which reported he was "alert and resting comfortably."

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — A Chinese plane will land at a California Marine Corps base later this month to pick up Richard Nixon and ferry him to the Peking to mark the fourth anniversary of his visit that changed Sino-American relations.

WASHINGTON — Black Jack, the rideless horse who cantered solemnly behind the coffin of John F. Kennedy among countless others, is dead at the ripe old age of 29.

ROCKPORT, Tex. — Sheriff's officers waited nearly 20 hours for a Warren "Gator" Lymch, 65, to surrender Friday rather than cross an alligator-infested moat on his alligator ranch to try to bring him out by force. Lymch was wanted for violating his probation and was finally talked into surrendering.

More earthquakes strike Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (UPI) — A second earthquake rumbled through Guatemala Friday, setting this torn and battered country reeling from a new round of devastation and death.

Government aid relief officials were unable to estimate the number killed in Friday's quake, but at least 6,000 persons have died since a giant tremor rocked Guatemala and other parts of Central America Wednesday.

The latest jolt shook the capital for 20 to 25 seconds, registering 5.6 on the openended Richter scale, according to the national observatory. Flimsy houses and buildings, already near collapse from the initial quake, caved in on street after street from the new shocks.

The quake dumped about 30 houses into a deep gorge at La Trinidad, about 20 miles from the capital and cracked the walls in the city jail. Males were trucked under heavy guard to prisons outside the city. "Some people died under more rubble," said Dawn Macnab, field representative for the CARE relief organization. "We really don't know how many, but it looks like (the death toll) is going to get worse."

Hospitals and emergency centers already were overflowing with patients from the initial earthquake, which killed an estimated 5,000 to 6,000, according to the government. Ken Brown, acting director of emergency programs for the Catholic Relief Services, said it estimated up to 10,000 deaths.

More than 20 flights from various military bases in the United States and the Panama Canal Zone airlifted relief supplies, including a 100-bed portable hospital.

One woman fainter, and was carried out of the building. Another screamed one man as the lobby emptied. "Calm, calm, please, don't panic!" became hysterical, and started shaking violently.

The streets again were jammed with traffic, and ambulances waited as they drove through the rubble-strewn streets to pick up the dead and wounded. Red Cross officials said they had no estimate of new deaths, but they treated about 15 injured.

Colleagues, friends honor Lee Fracchia

By EARL YOST Herald Sports Editor

"I'm the happiest man in the world," a smiling Lee Fracchia expressed in his humble and sincere manner last night after he had been the center of accolades from a variety of speakers for one hour at Willie's.

The occasion was a testimonial, as well as a thank you from the citizens of Manchester, to Fracchia for a job well done as dog warden for 29 years. Fracchia, who would be more at home with a fishing rod or a hunting gun in his hand or corraling a dog or skunk than making a public speech, regaled the capacity crowd of 250 with some down-to-earth comments.

"Last night (Thursday) I never slept at all. Today was 40 hours long, before 7:30 (when the program started). It gave me everything that I wanted," he added.

The speakers were an impressive list, all friends and close acquaintances of Fracchia over the years. Dr. Richard Olmsted, retired veterinarian, handled the MC role and kept the program moving.

Speakers and several remarks made were: Magr. Edward Reardon — "This is a great tribute to a fine man." Joseph Gill of the State Environmental Protection Department — "Lee was one canine control officer who made the commissioner look good. The record Lee has made over the years in Manchester has been just great."

Mayor Matt Moriarty — "Lee always had kind words for everybody. It will take two men to replace him." Town Manager Robert Weiss — "I hold high esteem for Lee and Emily (his wife). For Lee and Emily special consideration. Of all the people I know, no one was more devoted to his job than Lee. He was enthusiastically loved by the public (his wife, too) served."

Comptroller accused of disregarding law

HARTFORD (UPI) — Comptroller J. Edward Caldwell apparently has disregarded a law requiring him to analyze administration budget projections, according to State Auditor Leo V. Donohue.

The law requires Caldwell to pass judgment on budget data submitted to him by the Finance and Control Department before issuing his monthly report on state finances, Donohue said Friday.

Donohue raised the issue with the legislative Finance Committee, which had asked him to suggest ways of changing the format of the reports to make them more understandable to the public and reporters.

Caldwell could not be immediately reached for comment. Caldwell and Finance and Control Commissioner Jay O. Tepper came under attack last week when Caldwell's September report failed to explain a $20 million rise in projected state savings was not based on fact.

Tepper admitted hiking the projected savings to camouflage an apparent $20 million budget deficit because he lacked firm revenue figures and he did not want to prematurely announce a shortage.

Tepper's report to Caldwell, not released to the public, contained that explanation but Caldwell's report did not.

Finance Committee Chairman Sen. Audrey Beck, D-Mansfield, agreed with Donohue that comptroller's reports should be drafted in a manner easily understood by the public and the news media.

She said the report also should compare projected revenues and expenditures to the budget, to give readers an idea of whether the state is headed for a surplus or a deficit.

News for Senior Citizens

Hello everybody. The first reminder to make is that tomorrow (Sunday) is the final tryout for our Variety Show. Now we must have these tryouts to have an idea of just who is going to be in the show, and just what they would like to do.

In this way Marcy and Roger can figure the amount of time needed for all the individual acts for the first half of the show, and then placing all the talent in the right places as a group for the final part of the show. Therefore, everybody has been asked to show up, and we didn't send out any special invitations to anyone, or any group.

We just feel that if you would like to perform you must show up, and so we are asking you folks out there that can sing, dance, or play an instrument to drop by tomorrow starting at 2:30 p.m. and join us.

Next trip

The next reminder is that this coming Monday morning we will be signing up for the May 18-24 Las Vegas trip. It's a seven day, six nights trip. We fly from Bradley. There is a bus trip for the next five days touring all the beautiful and exciting canyons filled with fascinating sights.

The final day and evening we are back in Las Vegas. Then it's back home with what should prove to be a very memorable trip.

Registration starts at 8 a.m. We are limited to 40 persons, and at this time you must pay at least $100, with the remainder to be paid within the next couple of months. We have flyers explaining the whole trip that will be given out during registration, and we keep signing up for the remainder of the week.

The action starts on Tuesday with our regular square dance lessons in the morning. By the way, we still have room for more dancers, so if you would like to learn how to square dance, or if you already can and would like to join us, you are welcome. Square dancing with our excellent caller Happy "Hall" Pletsche, happens every Tuesday morning from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Oil painting

We started our oil painting class on Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. to noon. Because of the crazy cold slippery weather, we only had a small turnout, so we extend an invitation to all you seniors who think they would like to learn a little about oil painting, or to get a few pointers, to show up this Tuesday. It will be the last chance for any newcomers.

In the afternoon it was ceramics, while at the Parkade Lanes our Senior Bowling League had an extra heavy day as they had to finish last week's partly-canceled bowling because of an electrical failure, and then bowl their regular games. So they were extra busy, and the results will be printed next week.

Pinochle

On Wednesday we had 44 players for pinochle in the morning with the following lucky winners: Felix Jesanis, 600; Al Gates, 599; Violet Dion, 585; Joseph Carlin and Joseph Windsor, 578; Harvey Barrette, 568; Edward Scott, 567; Mary Thrall, 564; Esther Anderson, 560; George Last, 554; and Mary Nackowski, 550.

In the morning also, we started our crewel embroidery class, and we still leave room for a few more. If you would like to learn how to crewel work, or sort of refresh your memory in it, then you are invited to drop by this Wednesday morning from 10 o'clock to noon.

The winners of bridge were: Irene Foisy, 4,670; Marge McLain, 4,410; Nadine Malcom, 4,360; and George Last, 4,160.

Dancing

On Thursday in the morning while two buses took off for the Chateau de Ville for the day, we had our good friends Lee and Beverly Burton on hand for our social dancing. At noon a lunch was served, and in the afternoon it was open card playing and a sing-along.

On Thursday our two hard working program chairladies, Helen Flavel and Eve Warner, have planned a Valentine Party, and asks that everyone attending should bring a Valentine card with them. There will be lots of fun, and laughter, and entertainment, that we know you'll enjoy.

So why not plan on making a full day of it? Come to our social dance lessons either to participate or watch, have a meal at noon with us, and then you'll be here for the Valentine fun.

I guess I should remind you that on Monday, Feb. 16 we will be closed. Uncle George Washington has a birthday and so we will be taking registrations on Tuesday morning around 8 o'clock for the New Orleans jaunt.

Gloria's Corner

Now here are a few words from Gloria as to what she has planned in the way of work around here that will need many helping hands.

Hi! The big event we are all looking forward to, of course, is our Variety Show. Besides the entertainers we need ushers, ticket sellers, publicity persons, and people who will work backstage, people who will help with the sets and with the costumes.

Roger and Marcel, Ken, Manny, Cass and Ruth have been working on

Interviewing techniques

Phyllis Saich, center, public health nurse, is counseling with Joan Smith, right, to get her to quit smoking, among other things, to improve her health. This is a role-playing activity during an in-service workshop shared by the Manchester Public Health Nurses Association with the Glastonbury Visiting Nurses Association. Ms. Smith is a home health aide. Observing the scene and taking notes, are from left, Gayle Kataja, public health nurse; Todd Morris, public health aide; and Carol Delany, public health nurse. This particular program demonstrated mental health interviewing techniques and mental health assessment. One of the main purposes of the mutual cooperation between the two agencies is to make more effective use of the manpower and resources available to both agencies.

Dental Health Week

This is the last in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Manchester Herald, in cooperation with the Manchester Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, February 1-7.

I have seen newspaper articles recently which say that tooth decay will soon be completely eliminated as a disease problem. Is this really true?

It is likely that tooth decay will not be totally eliminated, at least in the foreseeable future. However, it can be prevented in large part even today if you take advantage of proven public health measures, professional treatment, and complete home care.

One of the well-established and most effective decay preventives is fluoridation of public water supplies. Today, more than 100 million people in this nation drink fluoridated water. Many communities have had fluoridated water supplies for more than 20 years.

The experience in these communities has demonstrated that fluoridation reduces the incidence of decay in children by as much as 65 per cent. Its benefits are lifelong.

Fluorides are being used in other ways to prevent decay, especially for people in communities that do not have fluoridation. Chewable fluoride tablets can be beneficial if they are taken every day throughout the entire time teeth are being formed (at least until age 12-14). The American Dental Association recommends the use of fluoride dentifrices, particularly for children. Additionally, fluoride can be applied directly on children's teeth at periodic intervals. And many school districts provide fluoridated water for school children.

None of these alternate uses of fluoride is as effective as fluoridation of community water supplies.

Even today it is possible to reduce decay significantly if you drink fluoridated water, practice good oral hygiene at home, and see your dentist for regular checkups.

Jumping the Bicentennial gun

Americans may be celebrating their Bicentennial 11 years too soon. Important as was the Declaration of Independence, a second and more important American Revolution was the Constitutional Convention of 1787, according to Bower Aly, visiting professor at Kent State University.

MHS students exposed to real-life work situations

The Vocational Information Program (VIP) at Manchester High School is perhaps the most rewarding student-aid ever created by our guidance office. Ironically, it is also one of the least publicized and most underrated programs at the school. Though many students have participated in VIP since its initiation at MHS five years ago, it seems that the vast majority of kids are totally unaware of the fact that such a service is available to them. Hopefully, recent publicity from the guidance department will make more students aware of the VIP's existence.

In case you're one of those unfortunate ones who are still "in the dark" about VIP, this article will attempt to inform you of the project's many benefits. Well, then, just what is the Vocational Information Program? A brochure issued by the guidance department sums it up very nicely: "It is a program whereby the student participates insofar as possible in actual job functions during a typical day on a job in business, industry, or government by means of a planned visitation."

According to Mrs. Patricia Conti, present coordinator of VIP, "The object of this program is to aid students in making career choices. We attempt to place the student with someone actively engaged in his or her field of interest so that the student may get a working knowledge of that particular career possibility." For example, if an MHS'er were interested in becoming a broadcaster, he could arrange, through VIP, to visit a nearby radio station for a day to see how things operate there. Currently, there are about 100 VIP "stations" — companies, businessmen, and other career-holders who have agreed to show interested high school pupils what their occupations have to offer. Thanks to the cooperation of these people and to the efforts of the MHS guidance department, it is now possible for a student to view job opportunities

NHS scholarship nominees

Keith Costa, left, and Jason Dodge, right, are the nominees for the National Honor Society scholarships. Each year the National Honor Society presents 250 scholarships of $1,000 each to outstanding students across the nation. After having been nominated by other members of NHS, Keith and Jason must now fill out applications and write several essays in order to qualify for the competition. (Photo by Stone)

Campus pluses

For the past several years, students at MHS have had several privileges including arriving after the first period, leaving school after the last scheduled class of the day, and leaving the campus during those periods when no classes are scheduled. If parents wish to have their son or daughter assigned to quiet study halls during unscheduled class periods or choose not to avail themselves of the privilege of late arrival and early dismissal, they may contact the student's vice-principal and the matter will be remedied. The student will be scheduled for a quiet study.

However, students have available to them many options for utilizing the time during their "free" periods. They may go to a quiet study hall, the library, an independent study room, the guidance office, an open study hall, or work with a student aide volunteer program in the elementary schools, or take a short-term mini-course or some other special programs when offered, including courses offered in cooperation with officials and agencies in the community. Special areas where students may do independent study or receive extra help are: Language lab, business lab, academic physical sciences, computer room, and physical education facilities. Also, the VIP program is available. It is very popular this year.

The open campus system gives students the opportunity to pursue individual interests and receive extra help in academic areas. In addition, this system affords students the chance to meet with those who can handle their freedom in a mature and responsible way.

FSA visits hospital

On Jan. 15, the Future Secretaries Association departed from Manchester for a field trip to Hartford Hospital. The group consisted of 21 girls and was chaperoned by Mrs. Moriarty, advisor for FSA.

Arriving at Hartford Hospital, they toured the business departments, medical lab, physical and occupational therapy departments as well as the cafeteria.

The group then moved on to the Hartford Civic Center for lunch and a visit to the Civic Center shops. The members of the FSA wish to thank Mrs. Moriarty and the volunteer touring staff of Hartford Hospital for making this trip possible.

FSA plans to have more field trips in the coming months. — Claudette Ruel

Club visits U.N.

Jan. 15, with thoughts of impending mid-years just beginning to nibble at the corners of their minds, 10 senior students from the Current Affairs Club went with their advisor, Elgin Zatursky, to New York City. The purpose of this trip was to visit with the officials of two foreign missions to the United Nations in order to obtain their views on certain foreign issues. The information gained will be used by the students to represent these countries' positions at an upcoming mock U.N. assembly slated for the end of this month.

The trip went reasonably well. It began when the 10 students dragged themselves out of bed and down to MHS at 6 a.m. They then went to Hartford to meet with their counterparts from the regional Current Affairs clubs. In turn, all these people went down to New York together to visit with different foreign missions. Our club's first stop was at the Philippine mission. Here we were

Vie for scholarship

Eight Manchester High seniors and four East Catholic students competed for the National Secretaries Association scholarship on Jan. 28. The sole scholarship of $1,000 will be awarded to a national winner in the spring. Those participating from MHS were Mike O'Brien, Val Borch, Fat Darty, Patty Gonzales, Val Klein, Ann Litrico, Barb McConnell and Linda Sahr.

To be eligible for this scholarship, one must be a member of the Future Secretaries of America and be proficient in a variety of business skills. The competition, which took a minimum five periods to complete, included an interview by a business educator and two business-related people in addition to a three-part test. This evaluation included drills on punctuation, spelling and grammar, a section on secretarial

Profile: Micky Simon

Micky Simon is a fine example of a scholarly student. Not only is he bright and willing to work hard, but he's also a nice person who takes an interest in everybody around him. Everything he does at school seems to reflect his intelligence. For instance, his courses are all hard honors subjects: Calculus, physics, Western civilization, and advanced placement English.

Micky's extracurricular activities are scholastic, too. First of all, he is a member of the Manchester High Math Team; his efforts and skills contribute greatly to the math team's performance. Secondly, he is very involved in government-oriented activities. Last summer, Micky attended Boy's State where he participated in a mock state government.

Micky occupies his time in many other ways. He is currently president of the National Honor Society at MHS and is a member of Civitan Club, Club of Round Table, and Student Assembly. In Student Assembly, Micky has been elected senior representative to the Board of Education. He's very active at this job, as evidenced by his participation in a successful anti-vandalism program completed not long ago. Micky and a few helpers went to local elementary schools to talk about vandalism, impressing the foolishness and waste of it upon the students. The 17-year-old senior is very enthusiastic about the campaign. It was a personally rewarding experience for him. As he put it, "It was very different to be on the teaching end."

Micky's Board of Education position allows him to represent MHS at board meetings. He can voice opinions and ask questions, but has no vote. Micky relates to the Student Assembly what the board is doing whenever their actions are relevant to MHS students. It is also his job to keep the board up to date on students' feelings. He believes his job as senior representative to the BOE provides a fine opportunity to learn how to work with people. "I think the board is really great — they listen," Micky explains.

One of the major experiences affecting his life was a trip to Lebanon. Micky lived there for a year with his family. He claims that he profited greatly from the Middle East. With language and culture a really great — they listen," Micky explains.

Micky has applied to Brown College, Cornell University, and the University of Virginia. He plans to major in applied math. I wish him the best of luck in the future. I believe he will succeed through skill and a willingness to apply himself to hard work. — Mark Otter

Lusa sparks Eagle win

What's become somewhat typical, East Catholic came on strong in the second half and dumped Xavier, 77-64, in HCC basketball action last night at the Eagles' Nest.

The win moves East's league-leading mark to 9-1 and aggregate docked to 16-1. Xavier, with the loss falls to 3-4 in the conference and out of the picture for the post-season tournament at 6-11. A team must win 50 per cent of its games to qualify.

Clinching at least a tie for the CCIL basketball title last night was Manchester High with a 78-53 drub over cellar-dwelling Wethersfield at Clarke Arena before a crowd of 700.

The Indians now are 14-0 in the league with Hall High, a 57-46 winner over Fermi last night, the only club with a remote chance of sharing top laurels. Hall is 11-4 in the CCIL followed by Penney at 10-5 and Fermi at 8-5. Eighteen games are on the CCIL schedule.

Manchester has three chances next week to take the crown outright. Monday night the Silk Towners journey to Enfield for a makeup clash with Fermi High and return home for their final appearance at Clarke Arena Tuesday night against Concord High in what's been designated Children's Night. Any child 12 and under and accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

"I never expected us to be 14-0 (in the league)," stated Manchester Coach Doug Pearson, "I thought some other team in the league would beat us. Right now it feels good being at least co-champs and there is no doubt in my mind we'll win it outright."

Early action didn't follow along those lines. Manchester missed its first eight shots before Bruce Ballard jammed home an offensive rebound at the 5:37 mark of the opening period. The Indians held a tenuous 9-5 edge after the first turn hitting three of 14 field goal attempts while the visiting Eagles, now 2-12 in the league and 2-13 over-all, were just as bad going two for 11 along with five turnovers.

The locals righted themselves in the second stanza pumping home three of the first four attempts and with Ballard adding two charity tosses to the stretch led 17-5 at the 6:02 mark. Wethersfield closed the deficit to four points, 17-13, at the 3:53 mark but an 11-point burst moved the advantage to 28-17 at the half.

The Indians were hotter than a fire in the second half hitting 21 of 37 field goal attempts. Six points each by Mike Quessel and Scott Hyde in the third period enabled Manchester to lengthen its lead to 52-33 at the turn. Wethersfield pressed in the final quarter and it botched Manchester somewhat — but not enough to make a difference. Pearson cleared his bench with 1:41 left with the starters getting a standing ovation from the majority of fans in attendance.

Quessel led three Manchester performers in double figures with 16 points along with 13 rebounds and six assists. Ballard had 15 points and 11 rebounds and John Pisch chipped in with 14 points and five assists. Scott Hyde had nine points on four of six from the floor along with eight caroms and Jeff Kiernan totaled 11 rebounds as Manchester won the battle of the boards 32-43. The locals, 14-2 in all games, grabbed 24 offensive caroms which saw considerable body contact which went undetected by the whistle tooters.

Leroy White came off the bench to lead Wethersfield with 11 points with Dave Spencer and Ken Hutchinson each scoring nine markers in the losing effort. The Eagles were 22 for 54 from the floor while Manchester was 31 for 67.

"We played very good defense especially by our guards. They put all kinds of pressure on the ball," Pearson remarked, "And tonight we did miss Mark Denko. He doesn't score much but does a lot of little things very well. I thought Ballard had an excellent game again."

SW gains at least tie for CVC honor

Clinching at least a tie for the Central Valley Conference basketball title last night was South Windsor High with a 51-45 victory over Windsor Locks.

In other area games, Bolton High routed East Hampton, 80-68, and Rockville was trounced by Glastonbury, 91-62.

Mike Fortin had 21 points and Greg Janowski 11 for the Bobcats, 9-2 in conference play but a struggling 9-8 over-all. Windsor Locks is now 5-5, 10-7 after the loss.

Kevin Kovalyshyn netted 26 points, Paul Groves 17 and Kevin Hills 14 to bring Bolton up to the 500 level at 8-8. The Bulldogs are 7-7 in CVC play. East Hampton falls to 5-9 in the conference and 6-10 over-all with the loss.

Mike Munroe had 12 points for Rockville, now 6-12 in all games and 4-7 in the CVC. Doug Smith had 18 points for Glastonbury, now 4-7 in the conference and 5-12 over-all.

Carl Mikolowky, who was elected to the position last December, has submitted his resignation.

None of the move has been placed on the club's bulletin board.

DECA students run store

Just before final exams as a class project in DE (Distributive Education), the DECA members of Manchester High School ran King's Department Store for a day. King's located in the Manchester Parkade, let their regular employees have the day off and students took over their jobs. Senior Tayo Simac was elected manager and supervised the operation.

One of the goals of the day was to increase sales over the same day a year ago...DECA did it! Sales were increased by 9 per cent. An unexpected benefit of the project was the offer of employment made to six outstanding DECA members.

The following day as a reward for all their hard work, Mrs. Grassilli and Mr. Chapman took the DECA members to New York for a field trip. Students toured the U.N. and explored Fifth Avenue stores before returning home.

Winter concert Feb. 11

On Feb. 11, at the direction of Mr. Shreeves, will present its annual Winter Concert.

As a tribute to the Bicentennial, many works by American composers will be featured. The "Thunder," a march by John Phillip Sousa, and "First Suite in E Flat for Military Band" are examples of the kind of music to be performed.

This concert will provide a chance for two band members to display their own individual musical talent. Patricia Quale will conduct the "American Folk Rhapsody" while the entire band will perform the "Rhythmic Overture," a piece written by another band member, Jim Robbins.

Another highlight of the concert will be selections played by Rapid Transit, MHS's stage band. A few samples of the music they'll be performing are "Free Spirit," "All About the Blues," and theme from "All in the Family."

A woodwind trio, consisting of Patricia Quale, Jim Robbins, and the Falcons while John Lusa had seven and Gary Carlson four for East.

Quessel continued its fire shooting in the second period but it started to miss some and couldn't get any offensive rebounds against the taller Eagles. East, with Lusa pouring in eight second period points, took a 33-30 halftime advantage.

The locals came out very sharp in the third quarter and executed as a team. The Eagles, however, couldn't break it open despite strong defensive effort as Xavier stayed close, going 4-4-3 going into the final eight minutes of play. Jon Lindberg was the key ingredient for East in the third canto with six of his 10 points.

The fourth quarter saw Xavier press all over the court and double team wherever possible. The Falcons sometimes, however, got too aggressive putting the Eagles on the backboards with Lusa showing the final last time the clubs met but strong defensive pressure by Dumais kept him in check most of the way.

Tech drops 11th straight contest

Placing four performers in double figures, Coventry High toppled Cheney Tech, 75-46, in Charter Valley Conference basketball ball action at the Beaver gym last night. The loss was the 11th in a row for the locals.

The win improves the Patriots' league mark to 11-3 and aggregate ledger to 15-5 while Cheney falls to 1-14 in the CVC and 3-14 over-all. Cheney's next action is Friday night at Rham High in Hebron.

Coventry took an 18-10 lead after the first turn and increased its half-time advantage to 33-18. The Patriots exploded in the third canto and raced to a 58-31 edge going into the final eight minutes of play.

Skip Tomanello had 16 points for Coventry with teammates Rick Gankofski, Bud Edmondson and Joe Fortier adding 15, 12 and 11 points respectively. Paul Strycharz had 15 points and George Prasser 14 for Cheney.

Sullivan award

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tim Shaw, the Long Beach, Calif., swimmer star who holds three world records, is expected to be given the 1975 Sullivan Award as the nation's No. 1 amateur athlete Monday.

Slaw, a freshman at Long Beach State, holds the world records in the 400-meter freestyle at 3:53.4, the 800-meter freestyle at 8:08.8 and the 1,600-meter freestyle at 15:20.9. He won three events at the World Championships last year.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Head Coach Hank Stram of the New Orleans Saints has added former Dallas Cowboys' special teams coach Jim Garrett to his staff, the club said Friday.

Garrett, 45, has 18 years of coaching and scouting experience beginning with his first job as assistant at the Coast Guard Academy in 1967 to a brief tenure as head coach of the Houston entry in the now-defunct World Football League in 1974.

Madlock signs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Madlock, the National League's leading hitter last season, signed his 1976 contract with the Chicago Cubs Friday.

Madlock, who hit .354 last season, got the winning hit in last year's All-Star Game.

Loved in Bahamas

CINCINNATI (UPI) — They may boo him in Boston, but they love him in the Bahamas.

Cincinnati Reds outfielder Ed Armbrister, the Bahama Island native involved in the biggest controversy of last year's World Series against the Boston Red Sox, has been selected "Bahamian of the Year" for 1975.

West interested

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Retired Los Angeles Lakers' superstar Jerry West said Friday that he's interested in returning to basketball in a coaching capacity.

"What I need right now is a challenge," he stated. "And coaching would be a challenge for me."

Post vacated

Anyone want to be president? There's an opening at the Manchester Country Club.

Carl Mikolowky, who was elected to the position last December, has submitted his resignation.

None of the move has been placed on the club's bulletin board.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is being used by his family, only he can't see it.

I work six days a week, and I like to plan something for us to do together on his day off.

Well, three weeks ago, his mother called on his day off and asked if he would take her shopping. He said yes, so there went our plans.

The next week, his sister called and asked if he would help her move on his day off. He said he would, so there went our plans for the day again.

Last week, his brother called and said he needed help to unload a truckload of wood, so my husband, the fool, spent his whole day off helping his brother.

I finally got mad and told him that he was putting his family before me, and he said, "Well, I've known them for 21 years, and I've known you only a year and a half."

When the main course comes, he devours his no time, and then reaches over and starts in on mine. Before I've had three bites, Clyde has eaten everything on my plate!

I don't order dessert anymore because Clyde gobbles his up and mine, too.

What kind of husband do you think he'd make? His hogishness is not only disgusting and embarrassing, it leaves me mad.

HUNGRY

DEAR HUNGRY: Clyde's hogishness isn't your only problem. An appalling lack of communication between two people who "love each other" is just as nefarious.

What's wrong with talking Clyde how you feel about his eating habits? Lo, that, and then you'll know what kind of husband he'd make.

DEAR EVERYBODY: According to the way your husband figures, it will take at least another 20 years.

DEAR ABBY: A man I had always thought was married asked me for a date. I turned him down, saying I do not date married men.

He then told me that he was not really "married" because he is a Catholic and he was married by a justice of the peace, so in the eyes of the Church he is single.

Is that right?

Please let me know because it's against my principles to go out with married men. Thank you.

PLAYING IT SAFE

DEAR PLAYING: Unless this man obtained a legal divorce, in the eyes of the LAW he is married.

DEAR ABBY: Clyde and I have been dating for eight months. We love each other very much and have talked about getting married. Clyde sets fast. While I'm eating my first course, Clyde eats his, plus his salad; and then he eats my salad, too.

When the main course comes, he devours his no time, and then reaches over and starts in on mine. Before I've had three bites, Clyde has eaten everything on my plate!

I don't order dessert anymore because Clyde gobbles his up and mine, too.

What kind of husband do you think he'd make? His hogishness is not only disgusting and embarrassing, it leaves me mad.

HUNGRY

DEAR HUNGRY: Clyde's hogishness isn't your only problem. An appalling lack of communication between two people who "love each other" is just as nefarious.

What's wrong with talking Clyde how you feel about his eating habits? Lo, that, and then you'll know what kind of husband he'd make.

This was the week of weather

Weather made the news this week with a potpourri of it that made even veteran weather-watcher shake their heads in disbelief.
At 5 a.m. Monday, after a night of driving rain, residents were awakened by sounds of thunder and flashes of lightning. At 5:30 there were freezing rain, at 6 it had turned to sleet and shortly after, it became snow — lots of it.
Accompanied by howling winds of gale-force intensity, with gusts up to 50 miles an hour, it swept out of the northwest, closing schools, stalling an unbelievable number of vehicles and causing some businesses to open late or not at all. The swirling snow made visibility poor to zero, produced traffic jams and created considerable confusion.
When it ended in mid-afternoon and the sun shone brightly, 4 to 7 inches has fallen and with it the temperature, which plummeted from the 40's Sunday night to 0 and below Monday night.
Thursday night, after another 2 to 3 inches fell on Manchester, bringing to about 32 inches the amount of snow this winter to date. Weather forecasters predict the area can expect an additional 15 to 20 inches before winter ends — in about six weeks.

The district question
An equally top event this week was release of the latest chapter in the Buckland fireprotection story.
State Rep. Ted Cummings, D12th District, introduced legislation which seeks to stabilize future boundaries of the Eighth Utilities District and the Town of Manchester.
The bill, actually an amendment to Public Act 200 (which spells out the procedure for expansion of Eighth District boundaries), is scheduled for a public hearing Wednesday by the legislature's government administration and policy committee. It will be at 11 a.m. in Room 411 of the State Capitol. The committee will decide whether to report the bill out for consideration by the House and Senate.
The bill has nothing to do with the present situation, where in the district has expanded into the Buckland area. That issue is scheduled for trial in Hartford County Superior Court for clarification.
Cummings' bill drew fire from Wally Irish Jr., a leader in the movement to expand district lines and Cummings' opponent in 1974 for his Assembly seat.
Irish said the legislation isn't needed, calling it negative legislation. He said town and district officials could stabilize the situation without help from the bill.

Sidwalk funds asked
Thursday, Director of Public Works Jay Giles said he'll ask for $65,000 in additional funds for sidewalk construction, bringing the total since 1973 to about $370,000.

Flu
The flu epidemic may or may not have affected school absenteeism. General reports from the various schools indicated that absenteeism was not much more or less than other years at this time.
At Manchester Memorial Hospital, officials drew strict regulations governing visitors. Only those with absolutely no sign of the flu or respiratory ailments, members of immediate families, and only one visitor at a time are admitted as visitors. No children under 12 are admitted.
In an effort to minimize a flu epidemic within the hospital, the rules will remain in effect until further notice.

Name suggested
Also Tuesday, Nathan Agostinelli, former Manchester mayor and former state comptroller, suggested to the school board that it name the Regional Occupational Training Center after Norman Fendell, a leader in the drive for its construction. Fendell is coordinator of special education for the school system. The $1.4 million center is expected to open in September.

Bridge and budget
Manchester's Board of Education, in wrapping up its workshop sessions on the 1976-77 budget, informally agreed to seek up to $100,000 to solve the crosswalk problem at Bennet Junior High School, either by constructing a bridge or a tunnel across Main St., or taking other steps. School Supt. James Kennedy told the board Manchester could save about $18,000 on school buses in 1976-77 if school hours are staggered and the number of school buses reduced.

Projects shifted
Tuesday night, the Board of Directors reconsidered its Jan. 6 action, when it approved an application for $301,000 in 1976-77 federal Community Development funds, and reiterated that Jan. 6 vote — by approving the projects proposed for spending the $301,000.
In another action, it borrowed $74,000 from the $301,000 it is receiving in this fiscal year, so that two projects of the 1976-77 program may be completed in time for summer — improvements to the Verplanck Swimming Pool and conversion of the Orford School to a day care center.
The $74,000 will be replaced in the 1975-76 program when it is received in 1976-77.

Marijuana seized
Thursday night, Manchester police seized 11 pounds of what they suspect is marijuana and arrested three persons on drug charges. With renewed public concern over drug trafficking, police have stepped up investigations. This week's arrest followed several weeks of surveillance.

Music shell fund musical

"Tall Tom Jefferson," a musical drama presented with the use of slides, dialogue and sketches will be presented to the public Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Iling Junior High School auditorium.

The students and band at Iling will provide a program of Bicentennial historical significance, the proceeds of which will be used to benefit the music shell fund.

The part of Jefferson will be portrayed by Kenneth Leitz. Jefferson's inventions, moods and political contributions will be revealed through dialogue, songs and sketches.

Ninth grader Tony Kaszowski will be the principal narrator.

Others in the cast are Michael Wilson, singing the role of Alexander Hamilton; John Dodge, speaker of the House of Representatives, and other students playing the many voices of the people.

Members of the instrumental group accompanying the chorus are Karen Johnson, Sharon Kingsbury and Karen Kechejian, flute; Glenn Thomas and Daniel Thompson, alto saxophone; Leslie Smith, tenor saxophone, and Lori Lumpkin, baritone horn.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets are available at the door.

Baritone, pianist to appear Sunday

A baritone and a pianist will be among the soloists to appear Sunday with the Manchester Civic Orchestra in Bailey Auditorium at 3 p.m.

Richard L. Clarke of Hartford will perform two selections from Mahler's "Songs of a Wayfarer."

A native of New Jersey, he attended Glassboro State College and Rutgers University, both in New Jersey, and he received a master's degree from the Hartt College of Music, University of Hartford. He has sung in Hartt Opera-Theater Productions, most recently appearing in "Carmen" in the role of Zuniga. He has also directed the Children's Opera Chorus at Hartt.

He has sung roles in a chorus musicals and oratorios.

Clarke teaches music at O'Connell Middle School in East Hartford and has the state's only Middle School Opera Chorus.

Douglas Hanson will play the first movement of Brahms' Piano Concerto No. 2 in B flat with the Manchester Civic Orchestra.

Hanson is a native of Omaha, Nebr., and graduated from the University of Nebraska. He is working for his master's degree at University of Connecticut.

Although Hanson started at a young age to study piano, he switched to viola and French horn and composed a flute concerto at the age of 12. In college, he returned to the study of piano. He is in his third year of teaching as a graduate assistant at UConn.

The Manchester Civic Orchestra's second concert of the season will feature other soloists including Paul Suripine, clarinet; Bruce DeLago, French horn; Larry Levine, contrabass; and Peter LaBombard, flute.

In addition, the orchestra will perform the "Rienzi Overture" by Richard Wagner.

The audience is invited to attend a reception after the concert in the high school cafeteria to meet the soloists and members of the orchestra. Tickets are available at the door.

Niven better with age - like quality Scotch

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Like quality Scotch whisky, Scotsman David Niven improves with age.

Forty years ago Niven was the least likely prospect to outlast other promising young actors of the mid-1930s - Cary Grant, Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart, Clark Gable and the rest.

He had dismaying limitations - a thick British accent, foppish mannerisms, roles that ran to japey and a distinctly foreign haircut.

But he also had enormous talent, a rare wit and a survivor's instincts.

Niven is starring in two films, "No Deposit, No Return" for Disney and "Murder By Death" at Columbia. He is also seen in Euan Lloyd's "Paper Tiger."

And were that not enough, the old boy has a best-selling book in the stalls - his second - titled "Bring On the Empty Horses."

"I'm so flushed with success I've decided to write another book," Niven said. "But I doubt I can dredge my memory bank anymore. Perhaps I shall try a novel."

St. Lucia stamps show Revolutionary ships

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

A philatelic issue called "Ships of the Revolutionary Period" is just right for St. Lucia because this little island was a storm center of naval activity during those years. In all, there are eight colorful stamps plus a souvenir sheet.

The two-master pictured here was the first war vessel of the Colonies. In 1775, not long after getting in from the Barbados with a cargo of rum and brown sugar, it was turned over to Capt. Broughton with this letter from George Washington: "You being appointed a Captain in the Army of the United Colonies of North America, are hereby directed to take command of a Detachment of said Army and proceed on Board the schooner Hannah, at Beverly, lately fitted out & equipp'd with Arms, Ammunition and Provisions at the Continental Expense..."

A nine-point program follows, including an order to seize any vessels in the service of the British. Prisoners are to be treated with kindness and humanity. And, "For your own Encouragement and that of the other Officers and Men, to Activity, and Courage...you shall be entitled to one third Part of the Cargo..."

Stamps and coins

The letter closed with a word about not wasting ammunition on salutes.

The second stamp in the row, the 35-cent value above, shows the HMS Serapis. This was the British ship that was captured by John Paul Jones in the battle off the eastern coast of England in 1779. The victory made Jones a legend, celebrated in poems and ballads up and down the British Isles.

His ship was a tired French transport, the Duc de Duras, from the East India service ("no better than a tub"), which was refitted, armed with a few old guns, and called the Bonhomme Richard. (The name was inspired by B. Franklin's Poor Richard Almanac).

Toward the end of that famous night battle off Flamborough Head, the Richard was outgunned, aflame, and slowly sinking.

Jones: "I have just begun to fight!"

At this point grappling irons were holding fast to the Serapis and eventually a hand grenade lobbed into the enemy's hatch blew up the ammunition store and wrecked the starboard battery.

The English captain struck his colors, handed over his sword to Jones, and accompanied him below deck for a glass of wine.

St. Lucia lies between Martinique and St. Vincent in the West Indies. It is quite a bit southward of the island of St. Eustatius mentioned here last week.

Their first stamp came out in 1860. The early ones are costly but a nice collection might be made up starting with the silver Jubilees of 1935.

All of their issues are accepted by Scott's Catalogue — none are banished to those never-never pages along with the Grenadines and the sand-dune countries.

There will be a Crown Agents' booth at the Second Sunday Stamp Show at Meriden tomorrow. With any luck they will have some of the new Revolutionary Ships.

For only $5,000

The state of Bahamas is apparently bidding for a place in the sun of the Guinness world record book. They will soon release a legal tender gold coin weighing a full troy pound. It measures nearly three inches across. The design is attractive with their traditional flamingos and fish rampant. The issue is strictly limited to persons who can come up with $5,000 a throw.

No more smiles

The post office of Smile, Ken., has been closed. Stiff-faced inhabitants of the area may now relax and get their mail from Morehead.

Regular meeting

The Manchester Philatelic Society regular meeting night will be on Tuesday the 10th, at Mott's Community Hall. The doors will be open at 7 p.m.
