Hebron
EVELYN CROSTON
228-9561

The Zoning Board of Appeals granted two requests heard at public hearing recently. Robert Bailey of 243 Church St. has been granted a special exception allowing him to conduct an antique business at his home.

The exception was granted with the following stipulations: There will be no outside storage or display of merchandise, no on-street parking will be allowed, no flea markets or tag sales may be conducted with the business and the business shall be limited to the sale of antiques.

Also, the business is to be conducted only in buildings as shown on the map which accompanied the application. Bailey is allowed a non-illuminated sign no larger than four square feet.

The board granted a variance to Murray Orstrager of Amston allowing the use of a parcel of land less than two acres in size as a building lot.

The parcel is at the intersection of West Valley Rd., Burrows Hill Rd. and Jones St.

Bad luck montage

Friday the 13th is the periodic national holiday for the superstitious to do their thing and the nonsuperstitious to defy the dire fates. Herald chief photographer Reginald Pinto created this montage to embody the horror of a broken mirror and the misfortune that awaits one who dares to walk under a ladder. Missing is a black cat, so watch out for it.

Depletes its treasury Hunger council sends $2,000 to aid earthquake victims

By ALICE EVANS
Herald Reporter

Manchester Council on World Hunger is sending all its funds, amounting to $2,000, to aid the earthquake victims of Guatemala and is asking individuals and organizations in the community to contribute to relief work in the stricken country. This is the first time the council has disbursed funds to an emergency situation, and council members are grateful that they were able to respond to the need with available funds, the Rev. Ronald J. Fournier, chairman of the council's disbursement committee, said.

Long-standing law suit settled in town's favor

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Henry Goldberg, appearing for the town, was Town Counsel Victor Moses and Assistant Counsel Thomas

LeBlanc claimed negligence on the part of the district and town. Citing a statute which spells out acceptance of liability by municipal corporation for actions by a fireman, he claimed the driver of the fire truck was an employee and/or agent of the town. He claimed also there was negligence.

In March 1969 on Tolland Tpk. near Caldor's, an Eighth District fire truck collided with a vehicle being driven by Mrs. Philomena LeBlanc of East Hartford. Her husband and the owner of the vehicle, Iroi LeBlanc, sued the Eighth District and the town for $3,000 each. The district's insurance carrier settled its suit for an undisclosed sum. The suit against the town was settled in favor of the town this week by Hartford Superior Court Judge

Alam. The irony of the entire situation is that the fire call when the March 1969 mishap occurred proved to be a false alarm.

According to Nancy Carr, executive director of Manchester Area Conference of Churches, a certain percentage of clothing and blankets collected in the Church World Service Clothing Appeal and past experience indicates that a lot of material shipped will be held up at U.S. ports and airfields, he said. The need for funds to replenish the disaster funds and to finance disaster teams already on the field is most important, he said.

Grant stores close doors in Manchester, Vernon

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Signs on the windows of the W. T. Grant Store at Tri-City Plaza, Vernon and in the Manchester Parkade, tell customers the stores are closed and to watch their newspapers for further announcements.

Almost 24 per cent of Grant stores were left in trust at CBT by William T. Grant, founder of the firm, who lived in Greenwich, Conn. He died in 1972.

The first Grant Store opened in Lynn, Mass. in 1902 had 21 departments and nothing costing more than 25 cents.

A sign over the time-clock in the Vernon Store, Thursday, was the only notice employees received that they were not to report to work today. In the financially shaky city on solid fiscal footing.

A New York bankruptcy court approved the liquidation request of the chain earlier in the day Thursday. The managers of the Vernon and Manchester stores would not complete their case today.

Rooney hearing is postponed

Shoppers at the Andover Plaza, a market owner there, and political leaders are urging the state Department of Transportation (DOT) for a solution to a dangerous traffic problem at the plaza on Rt. 6, Andover.

A petition bearing 537 signatures is being brought to DOT by Andover First Selectman David Yeomans and State Rep. Aloysius Ahearn.

Robert Crickmore, owner of the Andover Market in the plaza, sparked the action. The petition bears signatures of persons who shop at the center from Andover and about 20 neighboring towns. One person who signed was from East Longmeadow, Mass.

Crickmore said the situation is a definite safety hazard to the people traveling the road, the store owners, and their customers. He said there have been numerous accidents, mostly multiple vehicle ones. Persons entering or leaving the plaza face danger, he said.

The store owner said at one time a state trooper's car got hit in the rear end. He said kids are brought into his store with bloody noses as a result of quick stops. Once there was an accident involving four trucks. "Let's do something before a fatal occurs," he said.

Manchester poorer but not any wiser

By DONNA HOLLAND
Herald Correspondent

Manchester is $5,700 poorer, but no wiser today, the Board of Directors learned this week.

About 18 months ago, the board accepted a recommendation by Town Manager Robert Weiss and approved the $5,700 expenditure. It went to J.P. Clark Associates of Texas and was for an audit of the town's electric bills, including those for street lighting, to determine whether any savings could be effected.

The vote was 8 to 1, with Director Carl Zinsner opposed. Zinsner said the same audit of electric rates could be accomplished at no cost by HELCO. Tuesday curbs, in answer to an inquiry by Zinsner, Weiss said J.P. Clark Associates found no discrepancies in the bills or rates and had no recommendations for saving money in the report.

Weiss said a report on the study and on corollary recommendations is being prepared by Public Works Director Jay Giles.

The problem is compounded by a school bus stop 100 feet from the plaza, a "50 mph" sign a mile away, and no signs telling motorists the plaza is there.

It happens, it happens, but why did it today?

By SOL R. COHEN

Did you awaken this morning thinking something was wrong? Did you bang out the door when she said, "Don't get funny?" Was the ear kind of stutty and the traffic in reason? Were your fights with co-workers without rhyme or reason? Forget it, dear friend, and don't feel unusual. It happens quite often - you'll find on perusal. It's the 13th, a Friday - when some people say, "If it happens, it happens - it was meant that way."

Alcoholism treatment fund bill proposed

By SOL R. COHEN

Manchester State Rep. Ted Cummings, D-12th District, has introduced a bill which proposes an increase in the tax on alcoholic beverages, with the extra proceeds to go for facilities and cures for alcoholics. A similar bill was introduced by Cummings in the 1975 General Assembly and was defeated. It was opposed strongly by liquor interests, including package stores. Cummings is co-chairman of a public health subcommittee on alcohol and drugs.

A state law passed by the 1974 General Assembly declares that as of July 1, 1976 alcoholics no longer may be considered criminals. Instead, police will be required to send them to hospital emergency rooms for preliminary treatment. Following that, the alcoholic must be sent to a detoxification center for treatment and counseling.

"That's where we're in trouble," said Cummings. "The bill is a fine one and the plan is exemplary. However, only minimal funds have been provided - not enough to pay the hospitals, and certainly not enough to establish detoxification centers and to provide counseling services."

He estimates an increase in liquor taxes could raise about $1 million annually - enough to establish 12 statewide detoxification centers.

Under Cummings' proposal, the tax would be raised by 10 cents a barrel on beer, and 10 cents a gallon on wine and liquor, with a proportionate increase tax on quarts, fifths and pints.

Cummings is asking the legislature's insurance committee to consider drafting a bill which would provide group insurance coverage for hospital and medical expense by alcoholics - including out-patient services.

Friday, the 13th no hard luck day for Rockville man

Time to watch the dimes

There is a theory to the effect the state can more efficiently handle some of the programs now handled by the federal government.

This is the theory behind revenue sharing. This is the theory upon which Ronald Reagan would make massive cuts in federal expenditures and it is the theory that provides a basis for President Ford's desire to minimize direct federal intervention in our lives.

What bothers us, though, is the idea the council would be an efficient and effective way of obtaining new federal grants and coordinating state services, has been given a 180-degree turn. Instead, the council has become the justification for the grants rather than the various services performed by the other agencies.

To put it bluntly, the staff of the council is saying that without us you can't get these grants.

But like a lot of theories, it sometimes is hard to apply.

A recent example is Gov. Ella T. Grasso's attempt to make the state government more solvent by trimming some excess staff. She proposed, among other things, eliminating the staff of the state Council on Human Services which was created in 1973 to seek new federal grants for social services and coordinate some existing state services.

State Sen. Robert D. Houley, D-Vernon, expressed it for many of us when he called Mrs. Lang's comment "a threat."

We suspect the council staff assumed the role of "spending supervisor" with federal approval and with tacit state approval. We suspect, too, that despite Mrs. Lang's contentions, this supervisory role need not be permanent.

Mrs. Grasso feels that, in view of the state's current fiscal bind, this function could be performed by other state agencies involved in these programs. As we understand it, the council merely represents a focal point through which programs seek funds and through which funds, once obtained, are funneled back to the proper agency. It is an overhead type of administrative body, or at least this is what the creators intend.

Just because the present grants require the council staff to supervise the spending, we do not believe future grants require it. After all, the state was getting federal grants in these human services areas before the council was created.

In this case, only a five-member staff is involved. Yet, we can only wonder how many other five, ten, or even fifteen member staffs exist in state government solely upon the justification that elimination of them would cost us millions of dollars in federal funds.

It is something to think about next time it is suggested that the bureaucratic bargain of the year is the 10 cent ante that automatically gets 90 per cent off from Uncle.

To paraphrase, if we start watching the dimes, the dollars will make care of themselves.

She may be absolutely correct since it is inevitable that bureaucracy seeks ways and means to make itself indispensable.

ALMANAC

By United Press International Today is Friday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of 1976 with 322 to follow. The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Mercury and Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. Those born on this date are under the sign of Aquarius. French statesman Maurice Talleyrand was born Feb. 13, 1754. On this day in history: In 1838, the oldest public institution in America — the Boston Latin School — was founded. In 1914, the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers was formed. In 1945, Russian troops took Budapest after 49 days of fighting, in which more than 50,000 German troops were killed. In 1974, exiled Russian writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn arrived in West Germany with only the clothes on his back.

In 1975, the White House announced that President Ford would name Carla Anderson Hills as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. A thought for the day: French statesman Maurice Talleyrand said, "Women sometimes forgive a man who forces the opportunity, but never a man who misses one."

Admirable spirit of first primary voter

DIXVILLE NOTCH, N.H. — At one minute past midnight on the 24th of February, 76-year-old Neil Tillotson will deposit his primary ballot in a box normally reserved for the U.S. mail, and become the first American to formally vote in the 1976 presidential elections.

The honor will not come by accident. Dixville Notch is the place name for a frosty New England resort which the millionaire Tillotson owns. The 21 residents here are his employees and he is, quite naturally, their mayor. Partly for the publicity then, the community has since 1960 opened its polling place at the break of every federal election day to cast the nation's initial ballot.

Tillotson will register on the Republican side of this primary, probably for Gerald Ford. But however he decides, he says, it will be for what he considers the best interests of the United States. Glimcrackery aside, Tillotson believes the nation's first voter has a responsibility to light the way for the millions of others, not concerning party or person, but in regards to motives and thought.

In this sense the country is fortunate that Tillotson votes first. Better he than some hot dog performer for the "Guinness Book of Records." Born poor and now rich, Tillotson has been on both sides of the American experience, and has an appreciation for citizenship that comes only from a long view from opposite poles. Thus his vote does not drop lightly, but with care, and, assuredly, hope.

Fundamentally, Tillotson is a constructionist, at least so far as he believes all things are possible through applied individualism. The son of North County hillbillies, he left home at 16, a refugee from rural privation and human stagnation. Eventually he created a process for affixing print to rubber, not an Edison idea, perhaps, but it was enough to establish him as an industrial mogul. Among other things, Tillotson now owns the largest surgical glove producing plant in the world. Not bad for a high school dropout.

Yet as a dropout who made good, the first voter is concerned about the erosion of the process by which such things are possible in the nation. He says more and more people are cheating on the system. "When I was young, the people worked with their hands, we were farmers and shoemakers and mechanics. We were rewarded for how much we did and how well we did it." Now, he sighs, the idea of success is to sit in an office, not a workshop; dirty fingerprints are for the unfortunate, creating labor because primarily a mental exercise.

The trouble with the modern way, says Tillotson, is that while labor becomes less meaningful, it also becomes less meaningful. "I've nothing against people sitting in of-

OPEN FORUM

They care

To the editor,
 Many years ago, possibly in my impressionable teens, I read a letter in a Connecticut newspaper. "Yes, there is a Santa Claus," it said. "This open letter has been passed along verbally and in writing for years to relatives and friends. Now I want to try to write my own open letter about a subject very close to me."
 Over 22 years ago I began to minister medically to our younger population East of the Connecticut River. I worked hard and was well rewarded. There were many easy cases to solve, some stay-up-all-night ones, and there were a few patients where everything failed.
 There were many frank confrontations when I felt parents were being too permissive with their children and there were heated discussions over whether a tonsillectomy and adenotomomy really needed to be done.
 Some talks I won and some I lost but everyone knew that I cared — that I gave a damn. Essentially all of my colleagues that I know feel the same way and I know feelings that I have been discussing.

 Then, early in January, an acute severe illness struck the writer in the form of a coronary occlusion — which, fortunately, leaves one's senses intact. At first, in the hospital, it was like a distant drum — then it became louder and louder and finally it was a roar — a roar composed of laymen's well-wishes, prayers, little notes, words of encouragement, unrequested favors — and it all added up to "WE CARE, WE GIVE A DAMN."
 I believe this is a mutual message from layman to doctor and from doctor to layman and it should be repeated and repeated — the more you say it, the easier it becomes. Thank you.
 Sincerely,
 Dr. John Malone

Buckland development opposed

To the editor,
 I live in Manchester in the Buckland District. A big developer from New York City plans a huge shopping center, larger than the one we already have at the Parkade. All the land the developer wants to use is either tobacco fields or woodlands.
 The tobacco fields are beautiful in the summer and lay barren in the winter. The woods are full of rabbits, woodchucks, squirrels, chipmunks, pheasants, deer, muskrats, birds, and foxes.
 In the winter, everyone uses the ponds to fish and skate on. There are about eight ponds in the area, where many ducks and mallards use to their young south.
 If that project goes in there will be many consequences. Many animals will be killed, and more of our woodlands in Manchester will be moved down. People in Manchester will have to pay higher taxes, and people living in the area will have to convert to city water and new sewer lines will go in. This means that people living in Buckland will have to pay twice as much as everyone else in town.

 Why do we need this in Manchester?
 I see no reason for it whatsoever. We already have a beautiful shopping mall at the Parkade and we have more than enough shops on Main St. If this goes in, the merchants at the Parkade and Main St. will go broke. Manchester quality will get worse than it already is because the new mall would bring thousands of more cars.
 Please see if someone can do something to block this new shopping mall.
 Very truly yours,
 Bruce Bayles

Crossroads asks help

To the editor,
 It is with mixed emotions that I find myself writing this letter. First and foremost, however, I would like to thank the many Boy Scouts, Scout Leaders, and parents that offered their help with our February 7 fundraising drive. The enthusiasm and dedication of these people was a true joy and their willingness to work goes unmatched. I would also like to thank Fred Annall and the Hartford Road Dairy Queen for recognizing the efforts of the Scouts and rewarding them for their work.

On a sadder note, however, is the fact that the total amount of money collected in the drive fell far short of the figure needed to meet operating expenses in the current fiscal year. The primary factor in this failure was our inability to adequately canvass the entire town. The young people that were out did a fine job, but with over 15,000 households in Manchester it proved impossible for them to knock on every door on every street.
 It is impractical to repeat a door to door drive in the immediate future, we will be undertaking additional projects to raise the needed funds. These projects will be designed to reach the many civic and religious groups in Manchester and we anticipate a positive response.
 Our success, however, continues to be dependent upon broad based community support and involvement. Therefore, we are asking those persons and families not visited by the Scouts on Feb. 7, to consider sending a contribution to Crossroads, 33 Park Street, Manchester. If we are to continue full programming it is essential that we meet our financial obligations and allow the staff to turn their full attention to counseling and prevention.
 To those that have already contributed we say thank you. To those who may do so in the future, we need your help.
 Sincerely,
 Jim Breitenfeld,
 Director,

Thank you

To the editor,
 To all who have responded so generously to Friends of Children's appeal for aid to the children in earthquake devastated Guatemala — thank you for caring.
 Special appreciation to the Manchester resident who enclosed a modest donation in a card with the note, "For the poor suffering people of Guatemala, I wish it could be more." signed "A Friend." This unselfish act of love is deeply meaningful.
 The personnel needs in Guatemala are sufficient now, but the need for funds for purchase of medical supplies continues and with the setting up of FOC's medical child care facility in Guatemala City, the need is ongoing.
 Tax deductible donations may be sent to Friends of Children, Inc. c/o Mrs. Lois Barnes, 64 Kenneth Drive, Vernon, 06094, or to the headquarters, 14 Brookside Road, Darien, Ct. 06820.

CARNIVAL by Dick Turner

THOUGHT

In our ever-increasing technology and in the midst of the immensity of today's events, it is becoming increasingly easier for individuals to discount their personal value and significance. And yet we find in God's Word that He who created the universe and controls all events placed such a high value of human life that He gave His Son so that we might have life and have it more abundantly. (John 10:10).
 The Apostle Paul, in writing to the Corinthians (1 Cor. 3:21-23) indicates that all things — theology, the world, life, death, everything now present or which is to come — belong to those whose life has been "made new through His saving power. They are God's gifts to those whose life is lived in Christ. With this kind of a relationship possible between man and his Creator, life can become more than what is to often experienced.

Live animal show Feb. 19

Lutz Junior Museum will sponsor a Live Animal Show Feb. 19 as part of its vacation week activities.
 The program will be presented between 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. at Waddell School, Broad St., by Ken Pauley of the Boston Museum of Science.
 Pauley, an experienced lecturer and teacher with the museum for nine years, has appeared on a number of local television shows throughout New England with his live animal collection. He will bring with him about a half dozen live animals such as a porcupine and large snake.
 Anyone interested in more information about this program of mammals and reptiles should contact the museum at 643-0949. Admission fees are 75 cents for museum members and $1.25 for non-members.

Police report

Arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police include:

Based on Road & Track magazine's consideration of hundreds of 1975 automobiles.

You're looking at the best car in the world for under $3500.

There are winners in this world.
 And there are losers.
 The Volkswagen Rabbit is a winner.
 After considering hundreds of 75 cars, the experts at Road & Track named it "the best car for under $3500."
 Toyota didn't make it. The Datsun didn't make it. Vega, Pinto, Honda, Fiat — did not make it.
 Compare the Rabbit on performance. (From 0 to 50, a Datsun B-210 is 60% slower.)
 Compare the Rabbit on roominess. (It has the head and leg room of some mid-size cars.)
 Compare the Rabbit on gas mileage.
 39 mpg on the highway, 25 in the city. These are EPA estimates of what the Rabbit with stick shift gets in 1976 EPA tests. (The mileage you get can vary, depending on how and where you drive, optional equipment, and the condition of your car.)
 No other car will give you the combination of performance, space and economy that you'll find in a Rabbit.
 You owe it to yourself to try the Rabbit, before you settle for something less.

IT'S THE RABBIT.

School health program explained to medical staff

The health program in the Manchester public schools is designed to provide the best health care possible to the students with the cooperation of the families' physicians.

A comprehensive program in school health was explained Tuesday to members of the Manchester Memorial Hospital medical staff during a noon conference, by Mrs. Lynn Gustafson, head school nurse.

There are several sources of lead dust including the yellow, blue and red ink used in the comics which children sometimes put in their mouths, toothpaste tubes, and air pollution.

Mrs. Gustafson emphasized that any school child health problem is relayed to the family with suggestion that the family doctor be consulted, and often a situation is referred directly to the physician.

Affirmative hiring plan proposed for Vernon

BARBARA RICHMOND A proposed affirmative action plan for Board of Education hiring was presented to the board this week and later referred to the Personnel Policies Committee for review.

The plan was developed by the administrators and explained by Assistant Supt. Albert Kerkin. At present the board employs one black male, two black females and two Asians. Of the total five minority group employees out of 705, or 2.9 per cent. The proposed plan calls for a goal of three per cent.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent, said the three superintendents and all principals and assistant principals are also males. Kerkin said the goal is a "good faith" effort to increase the number of minority group employees by 1980. At present the board employs one black male, two black females and two Asians. The only females holding administrative positions are seven department supervisors. Of the total 6,983 students in the system, the breakdown is: 12 American Indian; 129 Black; 19 Asian; 44 Spanish American; and 6,779 other.

Kerkin said the plan being considered has the basic aspects of what an Affirmative Action Plan should have. It calls for advertising positions in newspapers, educational journals and minority publications; soliciting assistance from interested citizen groups; encouragement of staff members to assist in recruitment; and the mailing of recruitment literature to employment agencies, college placement offices, and appropriate minority agencies.

Error costly to state

HARTFORD (UPI) — The State Treasurer's office needs better management and control if it wants to avert a recurrence of an error that cost it $545,729 in 1974, state auditors said in a report today.

The audit, for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1974, said failure to anticipate cash needs by the Teachers' Pension Fund resulted in the premature sale of 20,180 units of the Connecticut Mutual Fixed Income fund in June, 1974.

The sale from the $208 million fund to raise the cash meant a cash loss of $545,729.17 and a permanent loss of $471,690.69 to the fund's capital, the auditors said.

The loss "would not have occurred with proper cash management," said Republican auditor Henry J. Becker and Democratic auditor Leo V. Donohue.

The auditors also recommended the Treasurer's Cash Management Section should sign formal contracts with the banks which manage its money, specifying penalties for bank errors and the ground rules under which the banks operate as custodians of state funds.

To back up the suggestion, the auditors asked the treasurer to "consider appointing an individual with a well-rounded accounting and investment background" to draw up the new rules and monitor their implementation.

Group plans Hockanum hike

By JUNE TOMPKINS Herald Reporter

A spring hike along the Hockanum River banks is one of the future plans of the linear park committee. In the hopes of regenerating public interest in beautifying and maintaining the area for hiking and recreation, the committee will plan three separate walks on three weekends to cover the area.

Spencer Cain, chairman, would like to focus on National Cleanup Week in April as a time when various civic groups and individuals would volunteer their services to remove trash and debris in the river area from Adams St. to Union Pond. The town would cart away any debris the volunteers bring out.

The Jaycees will contact various civic groups and town officials and invite them to participate in a hike sometime in March at a date to be announced.

The committee suggested that different groups make long-term commitments to clean up and maintain certain sections of the area. Dr. Douglas Smith, committee member, explained his concept of dividing up the area when all easements along the banks are secured.

Boy Scouts from Troop 25 have already done cleanup work in the area and are committed by their charter to the project. The committee also has a plan to suspend a sewer pipe from a bridge over the Hockanum River on New State Rd. Hilliard St. If the pipe is hung too low it might cause flooding as a result of ice and log jamming besides restricting canoeing.

Cain said he would investigate the plan and give the committee's recommendation to the Conservation Commission.

The pipe in question would be part of a project to provide sewer service to nearby apartments which now have septic tanks.

A town spokesman has said the pipe would not hang lower than the existing bridge structure.

The public will be invited to the next meeting of the linear park committee March 11 at 8 p.m. at the town hall to see a slide presentation on the Hockanum River area in Manchester.

Most of the slides were taken by Sylvian Olara, photography instructor at Manchester Community College and former chief of photography at The Herald.

Also, anyone interested in becoming a member of the linear park committee is invited to the next meeting, or to contact Spencer Cain at 649-4828, or Dr. Douglas Smith at 649-5678 evenings, for further information.

Attending Thursday's meeting besides Cain and Dr. Smith were Ronald Tuttle and Ralph Alexander, both representing the Manchester Jaycees, and John Pelkey.

Manchester area residents win

By EARL YOST Sports Editor

Two Manchester area residents won prizes in Thursday night's weekly state lottery television game show, "Double Play," on Channel 3.

John Kemp of 23 Elro St. won $2,500, and Marjorie Freeland of Tolland, 31,500.

This week's winning number was: 43-yellow-958.

Five men face stolen check charges

Five Hartford men were being held in the state jail at Hartford today on a variety of charges involving an Andover burglary and attempt to cash stolen checks in Manchester, police said.

The men, apprehended at the Manchester Shopping Parkade Thursday afternoon, are being held on $5,000 bonds each. They're to appear in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, today on the Andover charges and in Common Pleas Court 12, East Hartford, on March 1 for the Manchester charges.

Each of the five men was charged with second-degree burglary and third-degree larceny in connection with the break into Burke Tool & Machine Co., Rt. 6, Andover, State Police said. Several checks and a typewriter were taken in the break.

In addition, Manchester Police lodged several charges in connection with attempts to cash the stolen checks at two local businesses: Top Notch Foods and Sears Roebuck & Co.

A Richard Ross, 43, conspiracy to commit third-degree larceny.

John L. Crouch, 22, conspiracy to commit third-degree larceny and attempted third-degree larceny.

William C. Campbell, 23, two counts of first-degree forgery, two counts of attempted third-degree larceny.

James Thomas, 24, conspiracy to commit third-degree larceny.

Joseph Trapp, 22, conspiracy to commit third-degree larceny.

YOU CAN'T BEAT OUR BIRTHDAY VALUES!!!

Dear Abby
 By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have an elderly mother who has been in a nursing home for the last four years. I am one of her three children. (One son and two daughters.) We all live within a 45-minute drive from the nursing home, and all of us contribute equally toward the expenses, but I am the only one who visits her. I go there every day.

My brother goes once in four months. He says, "I just can't take it. That place is so depressing!" Can you believe it? He calls Mamma on the phone maybe once a week and keeps asking her if she "needs" anything. (All she needs is for him to visit once in a while.)

My sister runs over there once a month for five minutes. She doesn't even sit down. She tells me the "riddle" of that place makes her sick. How is that for an excuse?

Although Mamma gets confused once in a while, she is far from senile. I know she's hurt, but there's nothing I can do about it.

Please print this. The shoe will fit both a woman, size 6, and a man, size 10. Let them wear it!

HAD IT IN DETROIT
 DEAR HAD IT: The shoe for this situation has no size. One size fits all.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem and I need help. I have been married for six years, and my husband still acts as though we have been married only a few days. He won't keep his hands off me. We can have marital relations for an hour straight, and he is ready to go again in 15 minutes. I don't ever reach a climax. Should my husband see a doctor, or should I get some energy pills?

MRS. A. IN KILGORE, TEX.

DEAR MRS. A.: Energy pills won't help. You need professional help. (P.S. Too bad your husband wasn't born during Biblical times when a man could have as many wives as he could support.)

DEAR ABBY: I am an 80-year-old man who lost his wife last year. I'm in good health, but I am lonely. I have become attracted to my widowed sister-in-law. (She was my wife's younger sister.) I never thought I would consider marrying again, but lately I am changing my mind because of this lady.

Is it wrong to have romantic feelings about a sister-in-law? She's 74 and a lot of fun, and she reminds me of my beloved wife.

FEELING GUILTY
 DEAR FEELING: When your wife died, her sister ceased being your sister-in-law. She is now as eligible as any other single woman. If the romantic feelings are mutual, proceed without guilt. Neither of you needs parental consent.

DEAR ABBY: I have an elderly mother who has been in a nursing home for the last four years. I am one of her three children. (One son and two daughters.) We all live within a 45-minute drive from the nursing home, and all of us contribute equally toward the expenses, but I am the only one who visits her. I go there every day.
