Gov. Thompson makes a point

At a meeting Monday of the New England Regional Commission in Bedford, N. H., New Hampshire Gov. Medrim Thompson makes a point while Maine Gov. James Longley and Connecticut Gov. Ella T. Grasso listen. Governors from Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont were in attendance also.

New England commission approves job programs

BEDFORD, N.H. (UPI) — The New England Regional Commission in its most amicable meeting in three years has adopted programs to create jobs by spending $5 million to improve railroads, insulate low-income homes and boost the fishing industry.

The six governors who make up the commission also decided Monday to concentrate on economic development, transportation and energy projects as NERCOM's top priorities, and give each state $100,000 to take care of the host of projects which are small or of less than regional interest which until now have clogged the agenda and caused dissension.

The commission channels federal dollars into projects of regional or state interest.

There was no talk Monday of the north-south split proposed in Washington by Gov. James B. Longley of Maine, who wanted his state, Vermont and New Hampshire split off from Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Gov. Medrim Thomson of New Hampshire, a frequent NERCOM critic who has threatened in the past to pull his state out of the organization, said he and Longley were pleased because Monday's votes were for "action programs, not studies and consultants," and money would be going into the field to create jobs. Gov. Thomas P. Salmon of Vermont said the meeting was one of the most productive he had seen, and the first at which all votes were unanimous.

The commission approved $3.4 million for five railroad bed improvement projects, none of which was scheduled for work under existing federal or state programs.

The NERCOM money would pay workers, while the railroads in question would spend another $4.5 million on materials.

The commission approved $2 million to winterize 11,333 low income homes. It was estimated the project would save five to six million gallons of oil the first year and help low income families avoid spending $2 million to $3 million for fuel. About half a million New England homes are considered not properly insulated to conserve heat.

Gov. Phillip W. Noel, himself a former commercial fisherman, was enthusiastic about establishment of a major task force to revitalize the region's fishing industry in accordance with the 200-mile fishing limit expected to become law shortly. Because it is not yet law, no money was set aside for the project.

Callaway formally quits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Howard H. Callaway has submitted his formal resignation as President Ford's campaign manager, a White House aide said today.

The White House planned to announce later today that Callaway, a former Georgia congressman and Secretary of the Army, has stepped aside and will be replaced by Ford's political counselor, Rogers C.B. Morton, the aide said.

Callaway submitted his resignation after discussing the matter with Ford at the White House for one hour Monday night. "Both agreed it would be best," the aide said.

He said Callaway is convinced his name will be "cleared" of any improper activity in connection with allegations he exerted influence on the U.S. Forest Service in order to expand his Colorado ski resort. But, the aide said, Callaway feels it "will take months to do so."

Hearing set on appropriation of $281,125 for general fund

By SOL R. COHEN

Herald Reporter

Public hearings will be conducted April 6 on appropriating $281,125 additional to Manchester's current General Fund operating budget—the equivalent of 1 mill in the tax rate.

The bulk of the funds would come from 1974-75 surplus—$209,725—and the remainder, $71,400, from revenue sharing funds.

Of the $71,400 from revenue sharing funds, $40,000 would be for a sewage pump station in Green Manor's Manchester Industrial Park, under the town's industrial guidelines; and $31,400 toward the cost of townwide real property revaluation, bringing that cost to date to $132,400.

The $209,725 from available surplus would be split as follows: $73,300 for insurance—fire, liability, etc.; $50,000 for debt service, temporary borrowing; $32,000 for street lighting; $12,500 parks; $11,800 highway department; $10,000 police; $10,000 building department; $8,700 tax collector; $2,600 town manager's office; and $825 town counsel.

Also up for public hearing April 6 is a proposed $18,000 appropriation for a rescue truck for the Town Fire Department. It would be financed from available surplus in the Town Fire District Fund.

Another proposed appropriation from available surplus would be from the Data Processing Fund—$18,000 for a systems analyst to conduct a 6 to 12 month study of the town's data processing system and to recommend future operations. The directors already have given their informal approval for the expenditure.

Other proposed appropriations to be aired April 6 are:

- $20,049 to the Board of Education, for Bentley Fire Code costs, $3,875; and Robertson School Phase II costs, $7,125; with the entire sum to be financed from a state grant.
- $13,848 to Libraries for cataloguing, with the entire sum to be financed by state grants already received.
- $1,000 to the rec department for tennis lessons, with the entire sum to be financed by fees.

The public hearings will be conducted by the Board of Directors—8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Stage set for business tax showdown

By PETER A. BROWN

HARTFORD (UPI) — State

legislators apparently agree business needs a tax break to spur the economy, but their disagreement about the method has set the stage for an expected showdown in the coming weeks.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso's plan to repeal the seven per cent tax on business services has received the endorsement of Democratic leaders, but Sen. Audrey Beck, D-Mansfield, co-chairman of the Finance Committee, has another proposal.

Mrs. Beck, who frequently feuds with Mrs. Grasso, wants to repeal the seven per cent levy on purchases of new business equipment and machinery.

At the heart of the disagreement is which sector of the business community most deserves the tax break— heavy industry or the small businessman.

Under the governor's plan, which received the endorsement of Senate Democratic leaders at a dinner meeting last week, small businessmen could be expected to fare better.

The plan would give them a $25 million tax break.

In exchange for repeal of the levy, Mrs. Grasso wants to increase the state gasoline tax from 10 cents per gallon to 12 cents, which would raise about $29 million.

Mrs. Beck said her committee, which will vote on a tax program in the coming days, can't go along with a gas hike of two cents. However, an increase of one cent was mentioned.

She said her plan to repeal the sales tax on equipment would cost the state about $18 million, which could be covered by a one-cent gas tax hike and higher than projected revenues from the corporate profits tax.

"We see that the big area of the economy that has had the most trouble is manufacturing," said Mrs.

Beck. "We have lost the most jobs there. I'd say they have the highest need."

Finance Commissioner Jay O. Tepper, the chief architect of Mrs. Grasso's financial policy, agreed for "the most part the governor's proposal would help the small businessman."

"We're going to wait and see what the will of the General Assembly is," Tepper said.

Both Senate Majority Leader Joseph Lieberman, D-New Haven, and his House counterpart, Rep.

William O'Neill, D-East Hampton, concede a compromise may result.

"We endorsed the service tax repeal as the preferable method, either is acceptable," said Lieberman. "We're faced with choosing between two worthwhile proposals. Both sections are in need."

"I think we have to help business in general," said O'Neill. "We may have to come up with some type of compromise."

"We cannot give business the overall tax break it needs without overall tax reform," Mrs. Beck said.

"We consider this a first step only and an effort to begin to meet business' needs."

Mrs. Beck, declining to comment on the political ramifications of the split in Democratic ranks that could be caused by her program, said it was the product of months of public hearings.

"Our program is in response to the hearings we've had with the business community," she said. "That's the job of the Finance Committee."

Board delays action on buying-in requests

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Although it acknowledged that approval is non-controversial and automatic, the Manchester Pension Board Monday delayed action on allowing five school board employees to make retroactive payments into the town's pension plan.

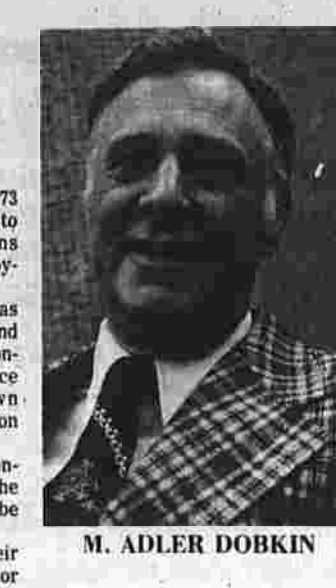

The delay is because Jon Norris, one of the three Pension Board members present, said he'd abstain from the vote "on principle" and until he gets some answers to questions he has asked of the town administration.

Because three affirmative votes are needed for passage of Pension Board business and because only Fred Geyer and Herman Passantelli, plus Norris, attended the meeting, the vote was delayed. Not present were Charles Woodhouse and Town Treasurer Roger Negro.

Norris, who was a town director from 1970 to 1973, said Monday, "Time after time, when I sat on the board and federal and state grants were being appropriated, I asked the same question, 'What will be the cost to the people of Manchester?' Time after time, I got the same reply: 'There is no cost to the people of Manchester.' Yet, here we are, obligated to make pension contributions for these five employees being paid with federal funds."

Norris said he's somewhat dismayed by how much more money the town is spending for fringe benefits for employees whose salaries only are being funded by federal and state grants. He said, even at this late date, he'd like some answers.

The live school system employees are in federally funded attendance programs — four para-professionals, employed since 1970, and a nurse, employed since 1968. All five have

M. ADLER DOBKIN

Dobkin to head Cancer Crusade

M. Adler Dobkin of 153 Shallowbrook Lane will head Manchester's cancer fund drive during April, Crusade Against Cancer month.

Dobkin is president of Rayco Products of Middletown. He is also a director of the Savings Bank of Manchester, an incorporator of the Manchester Memorial Hospital, former chairman of the town planning commission. He has also served on the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee.

Dobkin said Manchester's goal in the cancer fund drive for 1976 is $30,000.

The Manchester Jaycees will soon deliver kits to more than 800 volunteers in Manchester. The VFW Auxiliary will assist the Cancer Society in its door-to-door campaign.

been in the pension plan since 1973 and all five asked permission to make retroactive contributions dating back to their date of employment.

Town Counsel Victor Moses has ruled they are town employees and are eligible for the retroactive contributions. The pension ordinance makes it mandatory for town employees to contribute to the pension plan.

The five employees would contribute about $1,200 combined. The town's matching share would be about $2,000.

In his ruling, Moses said their exclusion from the pension plan prior to 1973 might have been because of a misunderstanding on their status as town employees.

The four para-professionals are Marianne Chambers, Carmela Brennan, Marilyn Miller and Helen Diehl. The school nurse is Marie Girelli.

Geyer, chairman of the Pension Board, said the board is waiting for an evaluation report from its consultant, Martin E. Segal & Co., before it can submit an accurate budget request for 1976-77. Pending that report, said Geyer, it has submitted an estimate based on the last available evaluation. The tentative budget request is $669,552. Town Manager Robert Weiss is recommending $400,000 as the town's pension fund contribution for next fiscal year.

Nutmeggers pay highest federal tax per capita

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Connecticut residents will pay the highest per capita federal taxes in the nation during fiscal 1977, according to a private Washington study group.

The Tax Foundation Inc. estimates that for every man, woman and child in Connecticut, $2,073 will be paid by state residents in taxes to the federal government.

The study group Monday said Connecticut's per capita share would be $500 more than the national per capita outlay.

Connecticut is now second in the foundation's estimates for fiscal 1976 with Alaska in first place.

The group said it expects Alaska will fall back into third place in fiscal 1977 behind Connecticut and the District of Columbia.

Preliminary balance on revenue sharing

Nearly 2,000 mayors and city officials from around the country descended on Washington the other day to plump for renewal and expansion of federal revenue sharing, and few were the voices heard on Capitol Hill to oppose them. At a joint gathering of the National League of Cities and United States Conference of Mayors, mayor after mayor warned of the consequences of revenue sharing — formally known as the State and Local Assistance Act of 1972 — were not renewed. The legislation is due to expire at the end of this year.

Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind., for example, said his city would have to give up its police and fire departments no less. Mayor Hans G. Tansler Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla., said his city would have to raise taxes by 30 per cent. Mayor John S. Ballard of Akron, Ohio, said that capital improvements in his city would have to be deferred and street maintenance would be seriously impaired.

"Each year," said Ballard in what may be a prophetic statement, "revenue sharing looms as a more critical need for the city."

Even President Gerald Ford, not otherwise renowned as an advocate of big government spending, joined the mayoral chorus and lashed out at Congress' hesitation to extend revenue sharing for another five years and nine months, as he has proposed.

By Dec. 31, 1976, revenue sharing will have paid out $20.2 billion to the 50 states and some 39,000 communities. Under the President's plan, they would receive $39.85 billion more over the next five and three-quarter years.

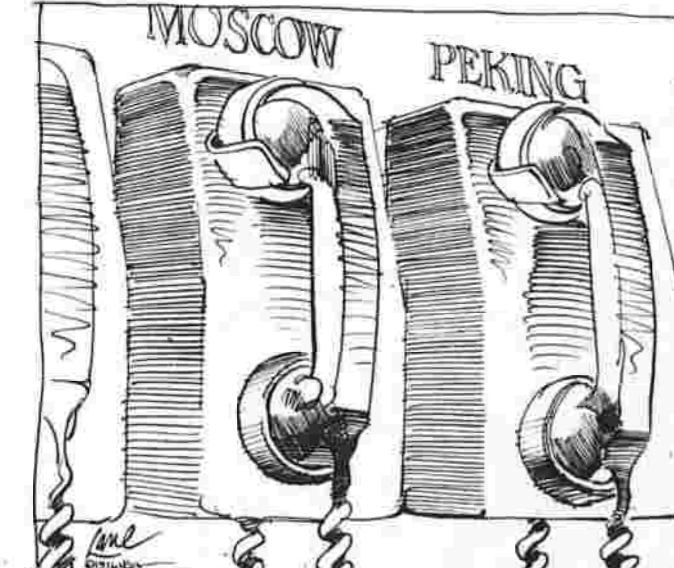

However, a subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations has cut the President's recommendation to three years and nine months, with no increase in funding, and by way of retaining some kind of congressional control over the program, has amended the renewal legislation to provide for year-by-year appropriations.

What has revenue sharing wrought, beside helping the

Ford was too confident in North Carolina

Andrew Tully

RALEIGH, N.C. — Touring a fairish section of North Carolina during the four days preceding the primary election, this instant historian observed that Ronald Reagan, like Avis, was trying harder and that a lot of voters took the hoopla in nonchalant stride. That tipped it for Reagan. When there is a lack of excitement among the electorate, the candidate with the more dedicated supporters has the advantage. Reagan's local organization identified his vote and got it out; Regan did his part by campaigning all or part of 12 days in North Carolina. Ford spent part of two weekends in the state. The President might have won this one had he not taken the state for granted. The voter turnout in areas of his strength was lower than expected, and it is conventional wisdom to blame this on underexposure of the favored candidate. But Reagan's victory margin — 52 per cent to 46 per cent — was impressive. He was, after all, running against an incumbent. There was the rub in Ford's defeat. He and his political gurus were too impressed with his incumbency, and so they had an attack of overconfidence, built upon contested victories over Reagan in New Hampshire, Florida and Illinois. They thought North Carolina was in the bag. Indeed, Ford was so confident when he arrived in the state three days before the primary, he displayed what came very close to being uncharacteristic arrogance. When questioned about attempts by his team to force Reagan out of the race, Ford said he didn't care what Reagan did. That sort of dismissal gives aid and comfort to an underdog opponent.

Yet — assuming he minds his manners and his political tactics — Ford should remain the favorite. North Carolina's conservative Republican voters were fertile ground for Reagan's campaign for a balanced budget, a stronger military defense, and a more nationalistic approach to detente with the Soviet Union.

Wisconsin's primary April 6 will be a good test of Ford's strength. As of the last polls he's heavily favored in that much more liberal state. But Reagan has something going for him there, to wit, the North Carolina collapse of George Wallace — clobbered by Jimmy Carter.

In Wisconsin, voters can "cross over," decide on primary day which party they want to take part in. Some Democratic conservatives undoubtedly will conclude that Wallace's cause is hopeless and cast GOP votes for Reagan. And Reagan has said repeatedly he can give Ford a sound beating in Texas May 1.

Yet, Ford is still President, and he has shown that with a possible exception of his North Carolina campaign — he knows how to use his incumbency. He can give the folks something other than a bridge, a dam, federal funds, appointment to high office. Reagan can only promise future goodies.

Besides, there is every indication the economy is improving and that the rate of inflation will continue to decline. Ford is likable and he is just conservative enough to suit the country's developing mood. He can make it to the nomination if he reminds himself that no candidate is a shoo-in until the votes are counted.

Reason's Manifesto

ti tax laws and restrictive bureaucratic directives, the intended natural system of free and fair trade, that is its own unbearable weight. A system that penalizes the production of our people before their product ever reaches the market place. A system that has littered the landscape from Yachtsville to Yakville with fear, dejection, rejection, apprehension, distrust, crime, arson, delinquency, anarchy, discrimination and in general has succeeded in creating more negatives than positives. The time has come to realize that there is no such thing as excise or corporate taxes. They are a tax on human production and to tax the production of man is to repress and beyond intelligent and moral acceptance.

The time has come to stop protesting and petitioning. It is time to make the decision for a more responsible system and to insist that our representatives in Washington understand we want a free enterprise system that will stand in true agreement with our Constitution and not in defiance of it. It must be a system representative of our Constitution and not a precedent, preferential, privilege system. Don't you remember that the present system is not and has never been other than a defiant of the rights of the majority, we shall have to suffer the consequences of that system's and our own self destruction.

We must move now to have all such taxes that strangle and restrict free enterprise removed and to remove from the Capitol scene all the bureaucrats and tax collectors involved in this national travesty. We must move to institute the only fair, just and equitable tax system. We must examine the premise that it would be more in the interest of material, machine, and labor, without the burden of excise and corporate taxes added to it. The levy of excise and corporate taxes on production adds an inflated cost value and results in inflated wholesale, export and retail prices. Reasoned examination proves that the method to be basically the foundation for the economic inflation that is ravaging the country today. In the achievement of a true product value, a true value can be placed upon the medium of exchange for goods and services. This shall reduce the cost of all our products in domestic and foreign markets, allowing our products to compete with foreign competition and the lower price on products in the domestic market will make it possible for more average citizens to not only pursue happiness, but to have a reasonable chance of catching up to it.

A properly reasoned, legislated

Errors slow up tax refunds

Significant numbers of taxpayers are making errors in their 1975 income tax returns by failing to follow a tax table which continues to a subsequent page, according to the Internal Revenue Service. IRS Acting District Director Albert C. Shuckra said the problem involves taxpayers using the tax tables provided for persons with incomes under $15,000 who do not itemize deductions. Apparently, these persons are overlooking the fact that a tax table may continue to another page.

For example, in the tax tables included in the 1975 Form 1040-A Instructions most of tax table 4 appears on page 12, but the last part of table 4 appears on page 13 along with all of tax table 5. A taxpayer using table 4 with an income between $14,550 and $15,000 would have to consult the top of page 13 to determine his/her tax.

"In skipping to the next page," said Mr. Shuckra, "some taxpayers are overlooking the continuation of the same tax table and are figuring

South Windsor bank had lower earnings

The South Windsor Bank and Trust Co. has reported a decline in earnings, from 77 cents per share in 1974 to 70 cents per share in 1975. Chairman James T. Farrell announced.

Farrell attributed the drop to the general depressed economy, reduction of loan rates and slackening of loan demand in 1975.

The total earnings figures were $164,059 in 1974 and $148,106 in 1975. Assets at the end of 1975 amounted to $18,647,399, Farrell said.

The financial report was given at the bank's recent annual meeting, which also included election of officers.

Paul R. Longchamps was appointed president, succeeding Enoch Peck, who retired as president. Donald R. Page was appointed vice president and treasurer.

Longchamps had been executive vice president and chief executive officer since January 1973. He joined the bank in 1965, was appointed vice president and treasurer in 1971, and became a bank director in 1974. He is a member of several banking organizations and is president-elect of the South Windsor Chamber of Commerce.

Pelton, who reached the bank's mandatory retirement age, will continue as a director and member of the executive committee.

Page, treasurer of the bank since January 1974, first came to the bank in 1969 as a branch manager. He was appointed assistant treasurer in 1970 and assistant vice president in 1973. He is a U.S. Navy veteran, attended the University of Hartford, Williams College and the American Institute of Banking, and is active in the South Windsor Rotary Club.

Did you know that a healthy dose of sodium chloride (common table salt) acts as a preservative by absorbing the moisture present in meat where harmful organisms might flourish. Did you know that the moist dark interior of food can be a breeding ground for harmful bacteria. Pinonians are substances found in decayed food, and were once considered responsible for the effects of food poisoning. It has since been discovered that pinonians are destroyed by the human digestive system and cause no harm. Betty's notebook

By Betty Ryder

Exciting things are happening at my house. Margaret (she's 14) and her mommie are going on a cruise to Nassau, April 16.

Well, that's exciting enough. But, things really started popping when her girlfriend's mother said her girlfriend could go along too.

Needless to say, the telephone has been busy since last Friday and it looks as though I'll have to make an appointment to place a call.

I had thought just getting two of us ready was hectic enough—but it can be worse and it is.

With two teen-agers planning a wardrobe with such conversations as "You bring the red top and you can borrow my blue skirt," and "I'm just going to bring jeans and a pair of dress-up slacks," I doubt if I'll be able to find room for a toothbrush in the suitcase if all goes as they are planning.

After hearing that her girlfriend, Diane, could join us, Margaret said, "Gee, mom are you gonna be lonesome if Diane goes along?"

I said, "Heaven no, you found a little girl from New Jersey when we went to Bermuda last June and I didn't set eyes on you until we docked in New York."

Besides, I have visions of my basking in the sun on a comfortable deck chair, breathing that nice salt air, and trying desperately to refrain from eating the wonderful food for which the Oceanic is famous.

Time will tell, and in the meanwhile, the clothes are being piled high, the gowns sent out for a quick press, and with all this advanced planning, I bet we'll still be stuffing one more item into a suitcase or handbag the morning we leave.

Donor dinner

Was invited to attend the Hadassah Donor Dinner last week and what a delightful night it was.

The food, prepared under the guidance of Gloria Weiss (the town manager's wife) was terrific. She promised to give me the recipes and I'll pass them along to you soon.

Everyone raved about the food and some questioned the calorie content. Wearing a big smile, Mrs. Weiss said, "This is not a Weight Watchers dinner." She was right—but it was so good.

The Waterbury Hadassah entertained with a bright skit about the advantages of joining Hadassah. It was very artistically presented.

Dollies of the Follies

Lot of exciting things coming up this weekend. The Manchester Senior Citizens will present their annual variety show Friday and Saturday nights at East Catholic High School. Saw them practicing the "Hustle" under the supervision of Lee and Beverly Burton and they really can move.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - Last year's Indiana Hoosiers may have had a more versatile offense, but this year's have a national championship - thanks to Kent Benson and Scott May.

Michigan defense with a vengeance. In addition to providing Indiana with most of its scoring in the second half, Benson and May caused Michigan's Phil Hubbard and Wayman Britt to foul out, enabling the Hoosiers to break open the game near the end.

put together a perfect 32-0 record this season by relying on Benson and May. Key contributions also came from other members of the team, though. Senior guard Quinn Buckner, benched at one point during the season for poor play, scored 16 points and kept Michigan's leading scorer, Ricky Green, from doing too much damage.

Buckner's burden was increased early in the game when Indiana's other starting guard, Bobby Wilkerson, who had grabbed 19 rebounds in the Hoosiers' semifinal victory over 1975 champion UCLA, was carried off the court with a moderate concussion.

Other survivors are two sons, Scott Hills of Rockville and Dean Hills of Ellington, a daughter, Mrs. Kim Griswold of Rockville; two step-brothers, Arthur Galbraith of Somers and Harold Galbraith of Springfield, Mass.; and a step-sister, Mrs. Everett Wright of Somers.

The funeral is private Wednesday at Ladd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville. Burial will be at the convenience of the family.

The junior class at East Catholic High School will sponsor a paper drive April 10. Papers may be brought to the school parking lot from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Anyone wishing pickups may call Jeff at 644-1686 or Bob at 646-3838.

A variety of burglaries reported to Manchester Police Monday included two breaks into local church buildings, a break into a vacant industrial building, and two breaks into homes, authorities said.

ing machine. Taken was about $25 in change. The vacant offices of Allied Building Systems Inc. at 260 Tolland St. were broken into, police learned Monday, but nothing was reported missing.

NEW YORK (UPI) - Fans call him "the late James Silas" because the 6-foot-3 All-Star guard is the man the San Antonio Spurs like to go to in the clutch, late in the game. Familiar face in Milwaukee camp
Hank Aaron takes first swings of season

Sutton unhappy with stories that he'll be sent to Mets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Sutton, one of baseball's leading practical jokers, doesn't appreciate one currently being played on him, but he won't let it affect his performance.

The 29-year-old Sutton, who has won 35 games in the last two seasons for the Los Angeles Dodgers, has been mentioned prominently in trade rumors that will send him to the New York Mets as part of a package deal for Tom Seaver, and he doesn't like it.

"About this story, I don't know," Sutton said Monday after pitching seven innings of one-run ball against the Montreal Expos in a 3-2 loss. "My preference would be to play in Los Angeles for what they say they are willing to pay me in New York, but the Dodgers would have to ask me because I'm a 5-and-10 man."

ABA still has hopes of merger

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The American Basketball Association hopes to merge with the rival National Basketball Association but is still planning on expansion for the 1976-77 season, says ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere.

Two cities have applied for ABA franchises, DeBusschere said Monday, but a court-ordered ban on ABA-NBA merger talks is expected to be lifted as early as next week.

The ABA plan to be in operation next season and will not let merger talks dictate its actions, DeBusschere said, and barring a merger the league will expand to "eight, maybe nine" teams.

"I am optimistic at this time about the future of the ABA. The ABA is poised, ready to go ahead next year regardless of whether there is any accommodation or merger," DeBusschere told a gathering of local government leaders.

The merger would be advantageous to both leagues, DeBusschere said, by eliminating the "bidding war" with the adoption of a common draft and would boost attendance by addition of "the ABA mystique" to the other league, enhancing the possibility of broader network television coverage.

DeBusschere said he has no merger plan to present to the NBA once the court order is lifted, but would suggest all seven ABA teams be admitted to the NBA.

Town Meeting draws big crowd

BOLTON DONNA HOLLAND
Nearly 300 residents turned out Monday to attend a Town Meeting and public hearing. Due to the crowd, it was adjourned from the Town Hall to Bolton Elementary School.

The elementary school all purpose room had been set up in advance. Catherine Peterson was unanimously elected moderator for the evening.

Although the volume of people was impressive that many people have not been seen at a Town Meeting or public hearing for a long time. The tone of the evening was lively and

Between the Town Hall and the school, several people made the comment that when that many people turn out, it is to express dissatisfaction and government.

Library rejected
Many questions arose and many pertinent facts were brought out before residents voted to 130 to 70 to reject a $4,200 appropriation that would renovate the old library building for use as a nursery school.

Residents questioned whether the timing of the meeting notice was legal to appropriate the funds for renovation and rent the building to the nursery school.

Town Councilman John Mahon said it was legal. The entire item would have to be approved or rejected, he said. It could not be separated.

Mrs. Peterson said the Board of Selectmen has the power to rent the library without Town Meeting approval.

Those at the meeting appeared to favor renovating the building for use by the town for office space.

Despite the Town Meeting vote, First Selectman David Dresely said from funds for renovation will be included in the town's 1976-1977 budget.

Selectmen called to court

ANDOVER
Andover selectmen were individually served complaints from Tolland County Superior Court at their homes late Monday.

The complaints are for a temporary and mandatory injunction requiring a date for a referendum to be held.

The hearing date is April 9 at 10 a.m. at the court.

At the hearing the selectmen will be asked to show just cause why they should not set a referendum date.

The plaintiff on behalf of the Andover Committee For Better Government (ACFBG) is Robert Spofford. Representing him will be Norman Whitney, chairman of the ACFBG.

Yeomans comments
First Selectman David Yeomans

Yeomans said he has written to members of ACFBG asking for a meeting to discuss the matter and work out a solution. No one answered the letter, he said.

Housing work begins

COVENTRY
Chairman Al Bradley of the Housing Authority said this morning his commission has received formal

Bradley said his commission intends to move rapidly to get the project started.

They meet at 7:30 tonight to begin selecting an architect.

Another meeting will be Friday at 10 a.m. with the town manager, the state Department of Community Affairs representative, and the town council to discuss town borrowing.

These funds are to be used to buy land and for architect fees during design phase, and will be reimbursed after bids for construction are let.

The grant is for 30 units at $17,500 per unit for a total of $525,000.

Council reviews budget

VERNON
The Town Council will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Building for the first of a series of meetings to review department budgets.

Mayor Thomas Benoit has asked all department heads and the Board of Education to take another look at their submitted budgets to see if there are any areas where they can be cut.

The general government budget and the school board budget total $14,890,166 and if approved would mean a 9.7% rate hike.

At a press conference last week Mayor Benoit said his highest priority is to avoid laying off any town employee.

He said every department has been reviewed for an over abundance of power and there is none.

The school board's budget committee said that budget cannot be reduced more.

The education budget traditionally comes in for much more criticism than the general budget. Last year it had to be brought to a Town Meeting three times before it was finally approved.

Mayor Benoit said he hopes to avoid anything like this year.

TOWN OF MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT

TO: BOARD OF DIRECTORS
FROM: R.B. WEISS, GENERAL MANAGER
SUBJECT: Tentative Budget and Budget Increase
Fiscal Year Beginning July 1, 1976

The General Fund budget submitted to you reflects an over-all expenditure increase of 8.2% above the current year's level of expenditure. While this appears to be a relatively modest increase in view of the cumulative impact of inflation in recent years, the impact on the tax rate is considerable requiring an increase of 5.98 mills to 56.63.

Unfortunately, revenue from sources other than property taxes appears substantially lower than in the current year. In recent years a major reliance has been placed upon Federal Revenue Sharing for operating costs. At this time the status of Revenue Sharing is uncertain beyond the first three quarters of the new fiscal year.

It should be understood that in developing budget recommendations for next year, with the exception of some modest increases in police services, this is as best a "hold the line" budget. Any budget can be cut and the Board may want to seriously consider reductions in services. A great deal of "risk taking" will be involved in this process but the following areas are suggested for your consideration.

DEFER PENSION CONTRIBUTIONS
This action would merely postpone the inevitable cost for pension benefits but is an option open to the Board at this time. $400,000

NO SALARY INCREASES
In view of the Compulsory Binding Arbitration Law it is unlikely that an arbitrator would deny increases. However, the effect of any increases could possibly be delayed to a future fiscal year by the Town due to delays intrinsic in the Compulsory Binding Arbitration Law procedures. $100,000

FREEZE ALL VACANCIES
This would seriously impair our ability to maintain service levels expected by the public we serve based upon our current year's experience. $52,000

NO IMPROVEMENT IN POLICE SERVICES
With the present crime patterns in Manchester, this could be a self-defeating move. $100,000

PROVIDE FOR ONCE PER WEEK RUBBISH COLLECTION
Based on last year's reaction, strong negative public response could be anticipated. $35,000

Table with columns: Categories, 1975-76, 1976-77, % Increase, % of Total. Rows include Board of Education, Fixed Costs (misc), debt, employ. fringes, town - other.

In addition, the Fire Department Special Fund will require a tax rate of 6.65 or an increase of .63 mills. As a result of increased costs, the water rates should be increased by 30% - the first increase since 1970. This compares with a quarterly cost of $15 for the typical Metropolitan District residential customer and $19 for the Hazardville Water Company. Projected increases for these companies are 96 and $13 annually, respectively. This will mean a quarterly increase of $3.35 for the typical residential customer. At the present rate sewer cost would increase $4.02 for the typical residential customer for each quarter. The rate for the Special Tasting District will remain at the present 12 mills.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS - CURRENT
The following capital improvements are recommended to be funded from Revenue Sharing funds. Separate capital improvement budget contains further detailed information.

- 1. Manchester Recreation Center $11,000
2. Highway Equipment 50,000
3. Town Hall Heating System Improvement 12,000
4. Sidewalk Construction 75,000
5. Sidewalk Repairs 25,000
6. Convert Library Basement to Hearing Room 25,000
7. Center Springs Park Pond Dredging 15,000
8. Public Works Road System Improvement 65,000

If Revenue Sharing funds available exceed the above amount, it is recommended that the resurfacing of playground and parking areas at Bowers, Nathan Hale and Wadwell be added to the program as recommended by the Board of Education at a cost of $45,000.

ELIMINATE CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS AND ANTICIPATE THAT FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING WILL CONTINUE AT THE PRESENT LEVEL. This would be very speculative as to funds and would seriously affect several areas of proven need. $222,500

If you decided to chose all of these options, the amount of taxes to be raised would be reduced by $1,009,500 or approximately 3.3 mills.

REVENUE ANALYSIS
The Grand List showed a healthy increase of $1,064,837. At the current tax rate this would produce some $560,000 in extra revenue. However, this is partially offset, as mentioned above, by the revocation of Public Law 45-334 under which certain personal property had been exempted and for which we received $169,000 in the current year in lieu of taxes from the State.

Property tax collections for the current year will probably reach 98 1/2% of estimates compared with an original projection of 99%. A major reason for this shortfall is the elderly tax freeze and circuit breaker tax relief bill - the impact of which had not been fully considered in last year's projections. The deficit (total) we anticipate a collection rate of 98 1/2% which takes the above into consideration.

Estimates from Federal Revenue Sharing are somewhat speculative at this time. We are certain of three Revenue Sharing payments in the new fiscal year but we do not know what the actual payment will be. The continuation of the present rate of quarterly payments - which you will recall are less than for the previous year - is set up for Capital Improvements. Also $25,000 of Revenue Sharing Funds are allotted in this budget to the Fire District which is the estimated portion of Revenue Sharing receipts attributable to the District activities under the Revenue Sharing formula. In summary, Revenue Sharing in the General Fund shows a decrease of $250,022.

The General Fund budget categorically breaks down as follows:

Clergy oppose sex education

South Windsor
Mrs. Patricia Sprengmeyer, opponent of the local human development and health education program, presented a letter to the Board of Education today in which 11 clergymen express concern over the sex education and personality development portions of the curriculum.
The program began March 1 in local schools.
In the letter, the clergy said the areas where Christian faith differs with the teaching of the program are as follows:
• Sex education is not needed in the child's life during every school year. Such methods place undue emphasis upon a matter which God of the Bible views as secondary to man's spiritual life.
• Early sex education presents a very real danger of ending the child into early experimentation besides pre-occupying the mind with sex.
• Man, as viewed in this program, is capable of ruling his own destiny outside of God.
• We view God as very real in life and directly concerned with our lives and decisions," they said.
• The clergy differ with the amount of psychological matter and with the emphasis on self. It is not important, they said, to know and understand ourselves as it is to subject ourselves to God, they said.
The clergy said, "We feel the teachings of this program encroach upon the responsibilities of the parents and church. When God is not brought into moral and ethical matters, teachings can mislead and misdirect the child into error."
The letter was signed by the Rev. Philip Saunders, Fall Gospel Interdenominational Church, Manchester; the Rev. Donald Low-car, St. John's Episcopal Church, South Windsor; the Rev. R. Karl Gurgel, Messiah Lutheran Church, South Windsor; the Rev. R. G. Sand, Full Gospel Church, Rockville; the Rev. Harold R. Mattson, El Bethel Fellowship, Rockville; the Rev. Earl Insawler, Living Waters Fellowship, East Windsor; the Rev. Earl K. Pettibone, Vernon Assembly of God; Pastor Bruce Fox, Seventh Day Adventist Church, Hartford; the Rev. R. Baker, United Pentecostal Church, South Windsor; the Rev. Kenneth L. Gustafson, Calvary Church of Manchester; and the Rev. Harold Richardson, Wapping Community Church, South Windsor.

Former governor to attend fete

Former Rhode Island Gov. Frank Licht will be a guest at the fifth annual installation dance of the Democratic Club of Manchester Saturday.
Gov. Licht, who retired in 1972, will be in the area in his capacity as a visiting ambassador and presidential candidate Jimmy Carter.
He will meet with top Carter backers from statewide towns and cities at the Marlborough Tavern from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday.
Before his governorship, Licht served as a state senator and was appointed as an associate justice of the Rhode Island Superior Court.
The installation dance will begin at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall.
James F. McAuley is the ticket chairman.

Census begins Thursday

Tolland
The Tolland School District will begin its annual census of preschool and school-age children Thursday and continue through May 15.
The state requires every home be visited. If the enumerator finds no one at home the family will be contacted by telephone. The census includes all children from birth through age 20.
The enumerators, who will carry IDs, will ask for the name of each child, date of birth, school and grade.

Vehicle pollution check bill given committee approval

HARTFORD (UPI) - Four major bills were approved and two others were killed with little debate as the legislative Transportation Committee met in a hurried session to beat the official deadline for acting on bills.
The bills approved Monday would require annual pollution inspections of all vehicles, repeal the controversial "helmet laws" that put photos on drivers' licenses and issue special license plates to handicapped persons.

Higher tuition rates likely in state's public colleges

HARTFORD (UPI) - deterioration of the higher education system.
Students at Connecticut's public colleges and universities face the likely rise of the fiscal cost of life that we are in financial trouble," said Rep. Robert M. Walsh, D-Coventry, who reluctantly gave near-unanimous approval to a bill that would raise tuition at $190 a year at the University of Connecticut, $105 at the four state colleges and $50 at regional community colleges.

'Cuckoo's Nest' sweeps major Oscar awards

VERNON SCOTT HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" made motion picture history Monday night by becoming the first film in 42 years to win the five top Oscars.

Best Picture, Best Actor, Best Actress, Best Director and Best Screenplay. Jack Nicholson and Louise Fletcher won the major acting awards for their roles as a rebellious asylum inmate and an sympathetic nurse.

Czechoslovakian-born Miles Forman won the award for his role as the combative old vaudevillian in "The Sunshine Boys." Lee Grant was voted Best Supporting Actress for her characterization of a disenchanted and adulterous wife in "Shampoo."

This was the first show in recent memory with all four winning performers on stage to accept their awards.

The winners from "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" clearly were the most popular with the audience at the Music Center, from which the 48th annual ceremonies were telecast nationally and to 42 countries.

The movie, adapted from the novel by Ken Kesey and produced by Saul Zaentz and Michael Douglas, won United Artists, dealer with the humor, pathos and tragedy of inmates in a mental institution.

Barry Lyndon — a Stanley Kubrick film set in 18th century England and France, won five awards in less spectacular categories — Best Achievement in Scoring, Adaptation, Art Direction, Set Direction, Cinematography and Costume Design. "Jaws," the biggest box office hit in motion picture annals, collected but three Oscars — Best Film Editing, Best Original Score and Best Achievement in Sound.

"Dog Day Afternoon" won the Oscar for Best Original Screenplay, by Frank Pierson. "I'm Easy," Keith Carradine's song from the "Nashville," won the award for Best Original Song in a 1976 film.

Russia's Mosfilm Studios production "Dersu Uzala" won the Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film of the year.

The crazy gang from "The greatest show on earth" provided the greatest entertainment and most of the joy of the evening. A grinning Nicholas Taylor, with ruses by fans as he arrived, said after the show, "I was surprised to win because I was a favorite four times before."

As he accepted the Oscar, he said, "I guess this proves there are as many nuts in the academy as anywhere else."

Miss Fletcher provided the evening's most emotional moment when she thanked her dead parents in sign language for the television camera.

"I've never had a proper wedding until now," holding up the Oscar, she added, "And this is it — with him."

After accepting the supporting actor honor Burns said, "It just goes to show you can stay in this business long enough and get old enough you get new again."

Na N. Schwede, Manager and Trustee.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have two children ages 3 and 6. My husband doesn't like to live alone. He says it's too expensive, but I notice he has money for his boat and a stereo room filled with the latest in hunting and fishing equipment.

Any way, the last time we went out for an evening we left our kids overnight with his parents. The next day, our 6-year-old had warts and bruises all over his little body. He told us that his Granddaddy had whipped him with a leather belt for calling a fib.

My husband didn't seem at all upset. He said whoever kids are left with has a right to punish them any way he sees fit. Abby, we have never whipped our kids with a belt, and I say nobody else should, either. Please settle this.

MONTANA MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I agree with you 100 per cent. NEVER leave your children with those grandparents again and tell them why. "Granddaddy" sounds as though he needs a thorough checkup. (Physical and mental). And where was "Grandma" when all this was going on?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is a beautiful, bright young woman who has a mind of her own. For seven years I have been trying to train her not to overdress on her checking account, but without success. Have you any suggestions?

GEORGE A. KELLLOGG

DEAR GEORGE: If after seven years you haven't been able to train her, give up. At this stage of the game, it's obvious that she has YOU trained.

DEAR ABBY: About that woman who was embarrassed by her boyfriend's bad grammar. My glamorous mother was divorced 20 years ago. When she started dating again, she wouldn't even consider dating a man who said "We wasn't" or "He don't."

For the last six months, her constant companion has been a man who says, "We wasn't" and uses "youse" for "you." But he is the sweetest, kindest, most patient man she's ever known. He's a big success financially, too.

If Mom had stuck to her original standards, she would have cheated herself out of plenty. Also, her daughter in law has made her a lot easier to live with.

HER DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Neither glamour nor grammar guarantees a good relationship.
